JOHN J. GRAY.

The best investment I ever made in my life was when I bought Tanlac. I have not only recovered my health but I have also gained twenty-five pounds in weight and feel just like a new man.

When I began taking Tanlac I had been in failing health for some time as a result of stomach trouble and indigestion. I missed many meals rather than suffer the discomfort of sleeplessness.

Since Tanlac toned up my stomach I am like a new man in every way and eat, sleep, work and feel better than I ever.

"RELIGION IS THE WAY YOU FEEL INSIDE" IS JUDGE KAY'S DEFINITION TO HIS CLASS

A discussion of some of the vital elements of religion featured Judge John C. Kay's lecture before his Sunday school class of one M. D. church, south, Sunday. He said: "Men have often debated religion, but there is nothing about it to debate. I want you to remember that and keep on remembering it because religion does not stand in the world and hold its place. The world because it is a right philosophy. Religion can only go along and prosper and grow and blossom as I say, only because men are particular that it is good for them. The arithmetic is right, so is the church. Every problem you could work out in right, but you have to be a man and have to persuade yourself that religion is something more than right. It is not only right, but it is vital, necessary to the welfare of men. Astronomy is right; it is the most exquisitely right of all the sciences, but not particularly useful to you and to me.

Religion can never get anywhere when presented to men as a theory; it can never get anywhere when it is presented to men as a doctrine; it can never get anywhere when it is presented to men as a naked dry, logical, scientific, philosophical, must be, put up to men and you must put it up to men and yourself as a vital philosophy of well being. In other words, it is the best thing for living men and the best thing for dying men and the only safety for them. That is the reason I never worry about the subtle questions, obscure questions in the Bible.

I do not know much about the Bible. I do not know much about religious doctrines; it is not given to me to know them. It is enough that I should know that you should know that it is good for you and the best thing for you. Now if you miss that view you miss everything. Here is a great doctrine of the best thing and everybody, that is his religion.

Now this lesson this morning is not about one man, Brother Eagle; it is about a collection of men. You want to remember when you think about your religion, that it is not a story your life would be if it was written that you to do men, it is another man in relation to yourself and another man in relation to all the men about you talking about them collectively here in this lesson; He does not say one man did this or one man did that, but it is the most difficult thing for me to live up to all there is in the book. I believe I could build a raft and help you, but I have always been foolish enough to think I could work my way out of any hole as a community man. What is my relation to other men?

Now religion is a very serious thing. Religious people are peculiar people. That is what they used to be called. They come out from among the evil ones and are separate. Now what was the matter with these Jews? Nothing, except that they tried to associate with, as the old time lawyers used to say, hominoids with the beasts. They just got out, they are dead. That is not important to us; but can you and I undertake to associate with the heathen, with the heathen, with the burning of incense to strange gods and still be clean.

There is a lizard down in Africa that changes his color from minute to minute, but he always takes the color of the bush that he crawls on, and a man is like that; he cannot help but be like it. If he seeks the society of good men; if he thinks good thoughts; if he is clean minded, with high aspirations he is going to be that kind of a man. If he has evil associates; if he laughs and listens at the corruption of his community; if he is an inevitable part of that community and loses his soul with the majority, and with the crowd.

This is not available when the airship is resting on the water, however, and the new system calls for equipment of planes with kites to be flown from the crippled machine carrying special wire for communication purposes. A special system for generating electric current for radio work by means of the air stream from a slowly turning motor also is provided.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS UNDER THE QUICKSAND

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Just then Mr. Pim Pim held up his fiery lantern. It didn't look like quicksand, the ground below the Glass Mountain looked as nice and smooth and firm as the sand along the seashore. Nancy and Nick, still clutching the phonograph record, stepped off the Glass Mountain to the plain below, never suspecting a thing. But instantly they sank into it up to their knees, for under the top it was as thin and as sticky as mud. Before they could move, almost, it was up to their necks, and in another wick-like it had quite closed over the tops of their heads. Then something odd happened. Instead of choking they found they could breathe nicely, and instead of being wet and muddy, they were surrounded by dry, warm air. But it was dark! They hadn't an idea where they were.

FANNIE PATTERSON

Of Gordon County, Georgia Over 101 Years Old.

THIS wonderful old lady was born in South Carolina and moved to Georgia in her early years. Her husband was a member of the Home Guards, during the Civil War, being too old for the Confederate Army. Mrs. Patterson, despite her years, is still happy, active, and well. To a visitor at her home, not long ago, Mrs. Patterson said: "I have used Theodor's Black-Draught... and have kept it in the house as a family medicine, handing it down from generation to generation, as a laxative and liver tonic... I use it. My daughter uses it; my granddaughter uses it, and my great-granddaughter uses it and gives it to her daughter, who is 18."

A COMPLETE DIAGRAM OF Mrs. Fannie Patterson's family tree recently was compiled. In which it was shown that she had 19 grandchildren, 49 great-grandchildren, and 6 great-great-grandchildren living in Georgia, Alabama, Texas and Arizona. Mrs. Patterson now resides near Adairville, Ga., with one of her daughters, Mrs. Sarah Belcher, aged 66. The old lady still owns the farm near Adairville, Ga., which her husband, Edward S. Patterson, acquired 25 years ago, shortly after he had moved from South Carolina with his young wife and little daughter (now Mrs. Mary E. Moore, aged 80, of Home, Ga.). Thousands of people in the South have enjoyed seeing the "movie" at their local theatres, in which Mrs. Patterson and her son, Bob, were pictured on the old Patterson home place.

WHEN Mrs. Patterson was a child, many of her neighbors were Indians, and from them she learned to understand the Cherokee language. Questions in the tongue frequently may be heard in stories she tells of the long ago. Her life has been full of interesting incidents—thrills—incidents, though mostly spent close at home in Gordon and Barrow Counties, Georgia, where her children were born, educated and married. Mrs. Patterson's strong character, keen wit, and hospitality have brought her the friendship of people for many miles around her home. The good use of Cardui—the woman's tonic—by younger women members of Mrs. Patterson's remarkable family is briefly described above, as related by the ladies themselves and given us for publication in order that other women may read of how Cardui has proved valuable in these cases.

Mrs. Myrtle Belcher: "I was run down, listless and weak. I got a bottle of Cardui and took it. I began to improve from the first. I'm as well as I can be, now, and I like it more, like it did."

Mrs. Elda Burns: "About 4 years ago, I was run down and had the backache all the time. I took bottles of Cardui and it did me a lot of good. I have taken one since I married and it helped me."

Mrs. Nell Maize Blalock: "A friend of mine told me about Cardui. I was not able to be on my feet when I first began to take Cardui. My health has been good ever since I took the Cardui."

Mrs. Eva Patterson: "I took Cardui a year ago. My father bought it for me. I was very run down and my aunt told me that Cardui was the best thing I could take. I took one bottle and improved so much."

Mrs. Nellie Scott: "I suffered with pain in my back. Cardui relieved this. After my second baby came I was weak and run down, so I took Cardui again. Now I am taking Cardui to build me up, and it is doing it."

Mrs. Esther Lewis: "I have a little baby, and after she was born I started to have a terrible pain in my back. It is a fine tonic. Since she has been taking this medicine she has gained weight. My health is good."

Mrs. Sarah Belcher: "I was wasting away, and too weak to do my housework. When I heard about Cardui, I had given up hope of ever being well again. I took Cardui. It brought me through this critical time."

Mrs. Lillian Hates: "Cardui is a splendid medicine for women. My mother has taken it, and she told me about it. I have suffered... but Cardui has done me more good than anything. I would like to recommend it."

Mrs. Lucile Belcher: "My mother has been giving me Cardui for some time. I could hardly do my housework. After my second baby came I was weak and run down, so I took Cardui again. Now I am taking Cardui to build me up, and it is doing it."

Mrs. Luoma Belcher: "I was feeling run down and to very poor health. I got 4 bottles of Cardui. Now I feel like a different woman. It just looked like I could not drag another step."

Mrs. Montha Maize: "I have used Black-Draught off and on for 15 years. My mother has used it, too, and found it very beneficial."

BRITISH FLAG FLIES AT WRANGEL ISLAND RESULT EXPEDITION

CLAIMED FOR GREAT BRITAIN ON SEPTEMBER 21 BY STEFANSON. WRANGEL IS ABOUT THE SIZE OF JAMAICA

Three Americans Are Connected With the Expedition Through Love of Adventure.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Wrangel island, one of the most important lands in the Arctic regions, has been claimed for Great Britain by a party of three Americans, a Canadian and four Eskimos, it became known last night through Vladimir Stefansson, Arctic explorer of the expedition. Mr. Stefansson said the British flag had been planted on the island September 21 last. Stefansson, a British subject, said his fifth and latest Arctic expedition was sent by him into the northern wastes for the express purpose of claiming Wrangel island for the British.

Wrangel island is about the size of Jamaica, lying 100 miles off the northeastern coast of Siberia and 400 miles west of Behring straits. Strategically the island dominates northeastern Siberia. Mr. Stefansson said only the leader of the party, Allen Crawford, knew of the mission of the expedition. The expedition, he said, became connected with the expedition through love of adventure. Although Stefansson said he knew the expedition's success the day following the Wrangel island landing, he had just made the fact public. He said he intended sailing this spring for England to present Britain's new possession to the British prime minister.

MUST FACE A SECOND TRIAL

MRS. MADALYNNE OBECHAIN

OBECHAIN JURY IS RELEASED BY JUDGE; IS UNABLE TO AGREE

REPORT NINE TO THREE VOTED FOR CONVICTION ON EVERY BALLOT.

TWO WOMEN FAVORED CONVICTION OF WOMAN

Case Will Be Called Tuesday and Time Set For Beginning Second Trial.

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—In her cell in the county jail again facing a jury trial for the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy, Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, in whose case a jury last night disagreed and was discharged, today was resignedly waiting for tomorrow when it was expected her second trial would be set. The foreman reported the jury was "hopelessly divided" and after each of the nine men and three women who composed it had been asked separately and had confirmed the foreman's report, Judge Sidney N. Reeve discharged them.

The foreman, Frank W. Crockett, a retired attorney of Pasadena, told the court the division was 9 to 3, and had stood from the first to the fifth and final ballot.

After the court had dismissed them, some of the jurors told newspapermen the nine, including two of the women jurors, favored conviction, while the three, including one woman, had voted for acquittal.

STATE CHARGES REVENGE OF A WOMAN SCORNED

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—The revenge of a woman scorned was the motive the prosecution sought to establish in the trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with murder in connection with the slaying of J. Belmont Kennedy on August 4, 1921, about two months before this time, according to testimony.

Kennedy failed to meet her, however, and she came to Los Angeles. There were frequent meetings between the couple during July and Mrs. Obenchain wrote some letters to Kennedy, introduced in evidence some of which expressed ardent affection, others deep resentment. On one occasion Mrs. Obenchain took Kennedy to a fortune-teller whom she had asked to "talk favorable" to the young man, according to testimony. Finally Mrs. Obenchain wrote to Kennedy that she was through with him, and on the same day telegraphed to Arthur C. Burch, an old schoolmate, living in Los Angeles, saying she needed him and the friend I had last summer.

LONGHORNS PREPARE FOR THE WHITE SOX

Rather Frigid. The coldest game of the season. Sweaters in Order. Even the players wore sweaters on the field.

Not Much Action. They didn't even have a chance to get warm on the Spudder. Epudere had to stand around and wait for passes, while the Indians didn't get on often enough to warm up.

Knicker's Improvement. Knicker exhibited the best control since he has been a Spudder and he had his saliva ball working in great shape. He must realize that the hurlers have got to know something more about the game as back if they care to stick.

Indians Are Weak. Oklahoma City may have a third place Western league club but they couldn't make the first division in the Texas league.

The Axe Swings Some More. Skipper Sam handed Pitcher Graham his walking papers yesterday and another one is due for the front today.

Rematch Competition Here. Danny Clerk didn't need to go to Augusta to fight for a berth. He has plenty on his hands right here.

"Holly" to Return. Well founded rumors still persist that Jack Holly will be sent back here before the season starts.

After a Southpaw. The Spudder boss is said to have opened negotiations with a AA club for a portlander and may close the deal this week.

Have Edge So Far. The first comparison of the season between the Spudders and Panthers can be made this week-end.

Light Practice Monday Morning. The regulars and Yankigans can generally be seen talking to the day now.

Becher's Contract. Though the rumor could not be verified Monday morning, the players in the club have been talking about Bob Becher's return.

The Utility Bech. Art Flesher of the Panthers was generally regarded as the best utility man in the Texas league last year.

Bill Burns is the only holdout on the Spudder roster now, and his failure to sign is not worrying the local moguls in the least.

BISHOP ASKS FOR GENERAL PRACTICE OF KIWANIS CREED

A stirring plea that the Kiwanis principle of service to mankind be more extensively made the basis of a short but pertinent address given Monday noon by Bishop E. D. Mounson to the Kiwanis club members.

The speaker, who is himself a Kiwanian, sketched the ideals and principles of Kiwanis and from these pointed out the value of applying one's self to serving others rather than striving for personal attainment.

The fallacy of existing for self alone was illustrated by Bishop Mounson in several varied and interesting methods. Taking nature as an example he pointed out that nothing in this great scheme of things existed merely for itself.

Later selling by local houses particularly based on the grain heaviness due to the weather, the market advanced to 17.25, or 3/4 under the previous close but little attention was given to the fact that there was a big business with the eastern markets and the volume of outside orders was very large.

NEW ORLEANS, March 20.—Expectations on the long side of the cotton market were fully met today by the request of Ben Neal, president of the first half hour of the market, which was 16.40, or 1/8 up from 16.30.

"COMPENSATIONS" SERMON SUBJECT OF DR. PITTENGER

Taking his text from Matt. 20:27, Dr. Pittenger Sunday night spoke on the "Compensations of Life." The pastor declared that there were some small things that teach great lessons.

"Some of the things that seem small turn out to be great things. God does not forget men when He leads them, though the way be rugged and steep. His prophecies always contain a goal, a way to reach that goal, and have in mind the good of others," he said.

"When God told the young man in the lesson story to go and sell his goods, I do not think He meant to impoverish him any more than was necessary to make a man of him. The words are not lifted close to the heart of God by men because they were wealthy, but by men that were willing to take Him as their leader, Peter had left all he had for making a living to follow Christ, while the young man had accumulated his wealth and was unwilling to leave anything that he had to follow Christ simply to follow Christ, while the young man had accumulated his wealth and was unwilling to leave anything that he had to follow Christ simply to follow Christ.

WIND LOSES ITS ZIP AND WARMER WEATHER ON WAY

Boreas and Zephyr held a competition match Saturday night and Sunday and it is hard to judge which one exhibited the more strength. Saturday night Zephyr tried his best to blind everyone with dust that he picked up somewhere west of the city. Late Saturday night and all day Sunday Zephyr put forth his efforts to freeze everyone. Both did well.

Monday morning the competition match was over and all agents on all railroads leading into the city reported calm and clear weather. Although the north winds of Saturday night and Sunday reached a high velocity no material damages of any nature were reported. All telegraph lines stood the test and no inconvenience was experienced in this direction.

The minimum temperatures as reported by railroad agents were: Forgan, 28; Woodward, 26; Textile, 24; Amarillo, 38; Childers, 41; Abilene, 46; Fort Worth, 44. Locally the lowest temperature for the night was 43.

TRIAL OF CRIMINAL CASES GETS UNDER WAY IN 89TH COURT

Trial of criminal cases got under way in the 89th district court Monday morning, when Judge P. C. Martin refused to pass the case of Anderson Lancaster over for several days. This was the first case called and counsel asked for several days time, stating that he had not had sufficient time to consult with the defendant. The court in not granting the request stated that the case had been set down for the past two weeks.

Lancaster is charged with the theft of two boxes of cotton, the alleged act having occurred in April, 1921, at El Centro. The case was tried once before, resulting in a hung jury. The cases of Ed Byers and H. F. Serlentine were set for trial for Wednesday morning. The following cases were set for trial in the order named upon the completion of the Lancaster case: Ralph Parry, charged with violation of the state prohibition laws; Walter Brown, burglary; F. S. Samples, theft of property over the value of $50; and Oscar Bethel, forgery.

The revival services now being held at the Floral Heights Methodist church disrupted the Friday night meetings of troops 9 and 11. Practically all the boys were on hand, however, and after roll call were dismissed.

Boy Scout News

Two new scout masters have been secured during the past week and both are making a big success of their work thus far. J. T. Hamilton of the Florin Oil company has taken over the direction of troop 1, while W. McMillan, an instructor in the junior high school, is in charge of troop 7.

The camp committee expects to make a report shortly on the week-end camping site. A report will also be made regarding the summer camp, it is understood.

A number of boy scouts have become members of the Rotary Knott-holme gang.

THE MERRY JOURNEYS OF MARY JANE

Monty took a big bite and put it in his left cheek, then he took another bite and put it in his right cheek.

MONTY GIAMMARINARO had a steady job wearing a red soldier coat and hat, and collecting pennies for old Joe Giammarinaro. Old Joe used to come round with a hand organ every little while. Well, one day Mary Jane was just starting for school, when Joe and Monty came along, and they played a tune. Mary Jane sat down to hear the music, and she put her lunch basket right alongside of her. Finally Mary Jane gave Monty two cents, which he put in his little pocket. Then Monty came over and said, "Mary Jane, I bet I can hold a bigger bite in my mouth than you can." Mary Jane said she bet he couldn't. And Monty said he bet he could.

So Mary Jane opened her lunch basket and took out a great big piece of bread, with lots of rich Mary Jane Syrup on it. She broke off a piece, and gave it to Monty, and took a piece just like it for herself.

Monty took a big bite, and he put it in his left cheek, then he took another bite, and he put it in his right cheek. It made him look very fat and sassy. Then he took another bite. He kept this right in the middle of his mouth, and he chewed it all up.

Long before Mary Jane had finished with one bite Monty had eaten his 3 bites. And then Mary Jane found that she hadn't any Mary Jane "spread" for lunch, and she had to run for school, or she'd be late. For the school bell was just starting to ring. Monty waved his hand at her, and said "Next time I tell you anything, Mary Jane, you'll believe me."
