

BUSINESS COUNCIL STARTS MOVE FOR 4 BIG CONVENTIONS

HOPE TO BRING STATE GATHERINGS OF ASSOCIATIONS HERE IN 1922.

STAYTON RESIGNS AS ORGANIZATION CHAIRMAN

Wants to Devote Time to Council Duties—Thomas Talks On "Buy at Home."

A move to bring four big state conventions here in 1922 was launched by the business council of the chamber of commerce at its weekly luncheon Friday. The annual conventions of the state associations of the physicians, lumbermen, retail merchants and clothing are the ones to be sought, it being stated that this city stood an excellent chance in each instance.

The convention matter was the principal topic of discussion at the luncheon. Burton Stayton, chairman of the council, tendered his resignation on account of his desire to devote all possible time to his duties as public utilities commissioner, and a nominating committee was appointed to suggest the name of his successor at the next meeting.

The first of the talks in connection with the "buy-at-home" campaign was delivered by John W. Thomas, ninth hitting for R. E. Fenick. Mr. Thomas gave it as his opinion that it is no fault of local merchants that some Wichitans go out of town to do their buying, declaring that neither in price nor in quality have other cities any advantage. Two classes of shoppers are prone to buy elsewhere, the speaker said, one being those who consider the price alone, regardless of quality, and the other being the "high-faluting" folk who think they must go elsewhere to satisfy their wants.

W. N. Maer and "Foghorn" Ciancy presented the rodeo matter, reporting that most of the $2,000 desired had been raised. Mr. Ciancy said that in 1921 the Wichita Falls rodeo surpassed any other in the country, not even exciting those at Pendleton and Cheyenne, and that it was expected to have a better show than ever this year. Very few merchants or business men had failed to help, he said.

Dr. O. W. Wilson, American Legion commander, announced the legion's aerial show for this month, and said the promoter thereof had promised "to kill at least one man a day" during the exhibition.

Will Omit 'Obey' From Ceremony of Episcopal Church

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Edward L. Parsons, a bishop coadjutor of the San Francisco diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church and one of the members of the commission to revise the Book of Common Prayer, said today the reason it is proposed to omit the "obey" from the marriage ceremony is because it is antiquated.

JUDGE OF COUNTY COURT AT HOUSTON IS DEAD

HOUSTON, April 7.—Judge John W. Lewis, 54, judge of county court at law No. 1, died this morning following an operation which he underwent two days ago. One of the most popular officials at the court house, Judge Lewis had a varied career. For years he was a railroad engineer at Conroe and Willis. Later he worked his way through the University of Texas and 12 years ago began the practice of law here. He was unmarried.

DEATHRAGE HIGH AT WEEKLY SHOOT

Gun Club President Leads Field in Both Singles and Doubles Events.

Local nimrods evidently missed their mid-week practice shot this week as the scores chalked up at the regular weekly event Friday morning were way below par. Deathrage being the only one to show anything like his usual form. The gun club president smashed 43 out of his 50 shots, and then led the field in doubles by breaking 32 out of a possible 48, thereby winning the club trophy.

After blazing away at their first 24 birds in the doubles, neither Deathrage nor Adams were satisfied with their scores and they went back after 24 more, together with J. L. Nabb, with a little something on the side to shoot at. Adams got away to an excellent start, but weakened toward the end when Deathrage crept up on him by smashing 39, Thornberg 29, Morrow 27, Boardman 24, Carter 25, Kellogg 23, Kimmell 18, Dillard 15.

25 Singles.
Deathrage 43, Landon 40, Adams 39, Adrian 39, Nabb 38, Dempsey 34, Goetner 30, Thornberg 29, Morrow 27, Boardman 24, Carter 25, Kellogg 23, Kimmell 18, Dillard 15.

48 Doubles.
Deathrage 32, Adams 30, Nabb 18, Goetner 17, Morrison 14, Daniels 10.

JUDGE IS REQUESTED TO TURN OVER REPLY REPORT TO FISCAL AUTHORITIES

SAN JUAN, P. R., April 7.—District Judge Foote has been asked by the grand jury to turn over to the fiscal authorities the report presented by the jury Wednesday on its invitation to the administration of Governor E. Mont Rely and other officials. The grand jury stated it desired to have its report proceeded with according to law.

The report was submitted to Judge Foote Wednesday. He refused to receive it, declaring it was the duty of the grand jury either to indict or not to indict, and that the court had no jurisdiction otherwise on any complaint contained in the report. When the jury insisted on delivering the report, Judge Foote again refused to receive it as a public document, but put it aside in a sealed envelope.

The report has not yet been made public.

100 Family Washings Wanted

There are some families in Wichita Falls who are still holding back buying.

Not because they cannot afford to spend, but rather because their memories are still clogged with visions of 1919 prices. The heaviest reductions in years haven't washed that sin away.

Today we're bidding to do this washing — by quoting now in this stock prices that compare with 1913 — and by showing in examples of staple goods that this store is giving better value today than you have ever purchased or had offered you in Wichita Falls.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS THE RAVELING By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Have you all gone crazy?" demanded Nancy a little while there was a scattering of earth and gravel as they dug a larger opening for the return of the "thingie!"

"Oh, goodie!" cried Nancy. "I'm so obliged to you, Mr. Jinks. You've no idea how precious this thingie is!"

"Hm? What's that?" asked Mr. Jinks suddenly. "Who are you and who am I, and what are you talking about?"

The Twins thought he had suddenly taken leave of his senses. "Does he get this way very often?" asked Nick of the others.

"What way?" asked a blue-satin fairy. "And who are you? We never saw you before. And what's this black thing doing here?"

"Have you all gone crazy?" demanded Nancy.

"Crazy? What's crazy? We forget everything," they answered.

Suddenly Nancy spied a raveling wrapped about them and she knew The Cloth of Dreams was still making trouble. The raveling had been sticking to the record and the fairies had touched it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS RAISED $335 FOR BOX TO ORPHANS THIS WEEK

Getting behind the scenes in the local Sunday school classes is an interesting and eye-opening adventure.

Mrs. T. T. Reese's class of grown women had a party at the First Christian church Thursday afternoon.

"Party" some mere man or other outsider might sniff. "What's that got to do with Sunday school and religion? Tea fighting!"

It was a social affair—one of those get-together kind that bind the interests and social service structures of an organization to the end that they work in perfect harmony.

And incidentally, during the business session, the secretary made a brief mention of the fact that the class contributed $335 in cash donations to the shipment of canned goods (200 cases) sent to the Juliette Fowler orphanage in Dallas the first of this week. The $335 isn't a misprint either, and the class has less than 100 members.

The church parlor was attractively decorated in lavender and white for the social meeting, in which Mrs. Rock Wilcoxson's division members were hostesses, including Mrs. A. Wilcoxson, Mesdames A. A. Young, Harry Marshall, E. F. Nix, J. H. Terrell, William E. Danforth, Porter Oakes, John G. Clark, C. H. Parker, T. T. Reese, Swindler, Ray Morgan, Kouiter and Miss Addie Woodhouse.

About forty members of the class were present, and an original and entertaining "ice" contest was enjoyed early in the evening. Mrs. G. F. Gentry winning the prize, a bottle of "Dudda" toilet water, and Mrs. C. E. Darrough, a special guest, being consoling with an Easter noddy for least success. Late in the afternoon the class members were invited into the dining room, where at tables beautifully decorated with sweet peas, potted flowers and greenery, a refreshment course of pineapple salad with coffee cream, salted almonds and other delicacies, with plate favors of Easter rabbits, to the following: Mesdames J. H. Terrell, Ray Morgan, R. E. Hilburn, T. T. Reese, Bone, T. H. Correy, J. M. Isbell, C. E. Darrough, Gary Jameson, John G. Clark, E. F. Nix, S. L. Conn, J. E. Strong, E. L. Patton, M. D. OUR FIRST YEAR CHAPTER VIII—KITCHEN CATASTROPHE

What's Already Happened. Jack and his new wife are trying to keep their individual liberty in spite of marriage. As this chapter opens they had both been out of their company.

Jack puts on the kettle each morning while I dress. I make the coffee while he bathes and shaves.

We slept late the morning following our first night out. Not until I heard a whistle of distress from the kitchen did I remember that I had left it in awful confusion.

I rushed to help my husband. "Can't find anything. Pegging" explained my bewildered spouse.

"Go and shave! You're late, dear!" I pushed Jack toward the door. "Fix things." Then to myself, "Goodness gracious! What will he think of me as a housekeeper? Never have I seen a kitchen in such a state."

In my hurry the night before I had forgotten to put the food away. Cold baked potatoes adorned my pantry shelf. Lettuce and mayonnaise decorated the sink. The smell of cauliflower was all over it. My kitchen was hot and close for I had left the broiling burner turned on all night.

On the table, my expensive tenderloin steak had turned from a pink hard surface to something flabby, dull red and unappetizing. The heat had done it. It was unfit to eat.

And I couldn't afford it in the first place. And if I'd stayed at home and attended to my business as a wife it wouldn't have happened. And if my housekeeping was going to turn out like that—

I began to sob softly. Dear old Jack heard and came to me.

I pointed to the spoiled beef and sobbed the harder because I could sob in his arms.

"I hope you'll never have anything more important to weep about," my husband whispered. "We'll live on rice until we've made up for it."

Because my kitchen was in disorder and because I had cried so long, my breakfast was late. Jack couldn't take time to eat what he required. But he didn't complain.

As he kissed me goodbye he gave his wrist watch a quick glance, then terminated our embrace and, "I'm late," he said. "I'll be back in five minutes."

Later he phoned to me to come down town for luncheon. I needed cheering, he averred. And he had a surprise for me.

Jack took me to his bank and opened a checking account in my name! One hundred dollars to open it and fifty for me to "feed" any time. My first checking account! A coveted dignity was added to my married state.

It never had earned any money. After my father and mother had parted, Daddy continued to send me a small allowance monthly. Only in order to make it last me a month, daddy paid it in waddy installments.

My own checking account! Jack was a generous and thoughtful husband. That night he gave me a lesson in making out checks and in keeping the stubs in the check book.

And he laughed a good deal at some of my questions.

She echoed the word. "War?"
"Yes, declared war."
He was breathless, panting. She said, "Good gracious! Whatever will happen? Have you brought an evening paper? Do you know the papers didn't come this morning?"
He could not hear her out. "No, I didn't wait. I simply rushed away."
He was close to her. He took her hands. "I say, Mabel, it's war." His emotions were tumultuous and extraordinary. He wanted to draw her to him and kiss her. They had not kissed for longer than he could remember, but now he held her hands hard and strained to kiss her. "I say, it's war."
She gave her sudden burst of laughter. "You are excited. I've never seen you so excited. Your collar's undone."
He dropped her hands. He said rather stupidly, "Well, it's war, you know." She turned to her dressing table. "Well, I do wish you'd stayed for a paper."
Lying awake, he thought of Nona. He had not written the letter to her. The appointed day was past and he had not written. He would have said, during that unutterable darkness in which he had awaited it, that not the turning of the world upside down would have prevented him writing; but the world had turned upside down—it was not a board Pike's men had swung around in that appalling moment when he had watched them appear on the balcony. It was the accustomed and imponderable world, awfully unbalanced. Nona would understand. Nona always understood everything. He wondered how she had maintained this terrific day. He was assured that he knew. She would have felt just as he had felt. He thought, with a most passionate longing for her, that he would have given anything to have been able to turn to her when he had exclaimed, "My God, war," and to have caught her hands and looked into her beautiful face. Tomorrow he would send the letter. Tomorrow? Why, yes, today, like all today in the removed and placid light of all tomorrow's, would be shown needlessly hectic. Ten to one something would have happened in the night to make today look foolish.

When he went down into Tidborough in the morning it was to know at once that this tomorrow gave no lie to its precedent day. It intensified it. The previous day foreshadowed war. The new day presented it. He went into the office. The afternoon post had brought letters to his desk. He turned them over without interest, then caught up one—from Nona. Marko, this frightful war! I have thanked God on my knees for you that last week you prevented me. If I had done it with this! Tony has rejoined the Guards, he was in the Reserve Officers. And you see that whatever has been, and is, dear, he's my man to stand by in this. Marko, it would have been too awful if I couldn't, and I thank you for you, again and again and again—Nona.

Doo-da! Doo-da! Day!
Gwine to run all night.
I bet my money on the hob-tail nag. Somebody bet on the bay!

He never in his life had experienced anything so utterly frightful or imagined that anything could be so utterly frightful. His throat felt bursting. His eyes were filled. They were awing past him, file by file. "Doo-da! Doo-da! Day!" He scarcely could see them. They were marching at ease, their rifles slung. They seemed to be appallingly laden with stupendous packs and multitudinous equipment. A tin mug and God knows what else besides swung and rattled about their thighs. The women with them were running to keep up, and dragging children, and stretching hands into the ranks, and crying—all crying.

He thought, "Damn that infernal music!" He wiped his eyes. This was impossible to bear. "Doo-da! Doo-da! Doo-da!" A most frightful thing happened. A boy broke out of the ranks and came running, all rattling and jingling with awing accoutrements, to the old woman beside Sabre, put his arms around her and cried in a most frightful voice, "Mother! Mother!" And a sergeant also rattling and clanking, dashed up and bawled with astounding ferocity, "Get back into the bloody ranks!" And the boy ran on, rattling. And the old woman collapsed prone upon the pavement. And the sergeant, as though his amazing ferocity had been the buttress of some other emotion, bent over the old woman and patted her, rattling, and said, "That's all right, Mother. That's all right. I'll look after him. I'll bring him back. That's all right."

The column passed and was gone. He could do nothing now. Four o'clock in the morning. But he must do something now. He followed to the station. The men were entraining. Presently his opportunity came in a sight of Colonel Rattray, who commanded the depot and who followed to the station for a minute alone. Sabre said, feeling extraordinarily embarrassed, "I say, Colonel, I want to get into this."

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE IS URGED IN REPORT

AUSTIN, April 7.—A special session of the legislature for the purpose of apportioning sufficient funds to maintain the schools of Texas next year, is urged in a report made by H. D. Fillers, superintendent of the public schools at Corsicana, as chairman of a committee which made a financial survey of the state of Texas. The report was made to M. H. Moore, president of the Texas State Teachers' association, and was received recently at the state department of education. The two other members of the committee were Miss Mamie Eastman of Houston and J. A. Hill of Canyon.

The report: "The public schools of Texas cannot weather the storms of the biennial year 1922-23 with the revenues now in sight. The situation is so serious as to demand immediate attention. Overcrowded schools, unfinished buildings, terms shortened by two or three months mean disaster for the children of the state.

"The urgent and imperative need of the hour is a special session of the legislature for the distinct and specific purpose of appropriating sufficient funds to maintain our public schools next year. The three million dollar appropriation which was made for this year must be duplicated or exceeded.

"The conditions which confront us without this special session of the legislature can be enumerated as follows:

"The state apportionment will be lowered from $15 to $10.

"The terms of schools will be shortened by two or three months.

"The schools will become more crowded because reduced funds will automatically decrease the number of teachers engaged by the school boards, and because the present economic conditions will cause more children to attend school.

"School building throughout the state will stand unfinished because the state will be unable to complete the payment of bonds.

"Many districts will be unable to get a bond made for the depository of school funds.

"There will be a general lowering of standards of the teaching profession and a large turnover of the teaching force, which will lower the efficiency of instruction in the schools.

"The schools throughout the state will be crippled by a lowering of teachers' salaries because this policy will result in the election of poorly prepared and inexperienced teachers.

"There will be an inevitable reduction which will mean a state-wide decrease in the income for the support of the schools."

PROHIBITION HAVING A BENEFICIAL EFFECT LARGE CITIES REPORT

CHICAGO, April 7.—Prohibition is having a beneficial effect in the cities, according to answers to a questionnaire sent to the mayors of some of the largest cities in the country by the Union Signal, official publication of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which asserts that returns so far show 95 per cent favorable to prohibition.

IMMENSE OIL CONCESSIONS IN EAST AFRICA OBTAINED BY SINCLAIR OIL INTERESTS

Immense concession in Angola, in Portuguese West Africa, have been granted the Sinclair oil interests, for development and exploitation, according to telegraphic information received Thursday by D. O. Long, local agent of the Sinclair company, from New York.

The Sinclair gets an exclusive concession on a strip of land 600 miles long and 80 miles wide, under very favorable conditions, according to the telegram from the New York office, which says:

"The Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation has received cable advice that the Portuguese government has published a decree which grants permanent oil rights in Portuguese West Africa, known as Angola to the Companhia do Petroleo de Angola, a Portuguese company financed by the Sinclair corporation and operated under Sinclair management. Negotiations have been under way for about two years.

"The area covered by the decree is almost 70,000 square miles or approximately the size of the state of Oklahoma. Experienced oil men familiar with all the hazards of exploration are of the opinion that this is quite likely to prove one of the most important petroleum developments of the world. If that expression is only partly realized something equalling if not surpassing Mexico or Persia may speedily grow out of this concession. In point of distance and transportation costs this province is nearer western Europe and the eastern half of America than either Mexico or Persia.

"Dr. A. C. Veatch, formerly geologist for the United States geological survey, and for seven years active in the petroleum industry, states that the structure and conditions are ideal for the accumulation of oil in large quantities, in short all the conditions now known point to this as one of the world's most important oil regions.

"Several wells are in process of drilling, a base camp has been established near Loanda, a large quantity of drilling and other equipment has been accumulated and development work is now being pressed with the utmost speed.

"The original concession was granted the Angola company several years ago, but owing to lack of capital and inability to obtain material during the war little progress was made. The Angola company became affiliated with the Sinclair Consolidated oil corporation in Sept. 1919. Under the permanent and consolidated concessions which has just been formally promulgated by the Portuguese government the Angola company has the exclusive right to select without limit within the original boundaries of the concession all lands that geological studies or further prospecting shall indicate are probable oil fields.

"The company has the right to exploit such lands for an unlimited time and to remove them from all oil and gas that they may yield. Selections must be made before 1924.

"All the oil rights of the province are the property of the government and not of private owners, so that the company's arrangement with the government gives it exclusive rights without conflict with private ownership of lands. The company is free from all burdensome taxes

COMPANY K, 36TH IS RECOMMENDED FOR FEDERAL RECOGNITION

WINNSBORO, TEXAS, April 7.—Company K of the 36th division, Texas national guard, has been recommended for federal recognition by Maj. W. L. Culbertson of the regular army, who is on duty as instructor with the 26th division and recently inspected company K. The company will be known unofficially as the "Jim Hogg Rifles" to perpetuate the famous old Texas guard organizations.

Major Culbertson also recommended companies at Commerce and Henderson for federal recognition following his inspection of them. All three companies will be in the 144th infantry.

The company at Winsboro is under the command of Capt. Bruce W. Edwards. The company at Commerce will be the service company of the regiment and is commanded by Capt. Dudley C. Jernigan, who served with the 90th division during the war. His company will include the regimental band.

The company at Henderson will be one of the battalion headquarters companies and is under the command of First Lieut. James F. Alexander, who served in France with the 81st division.

The 144th infantry now is completed, with the exception of five units, all of which are nearly completed.

ACTION OF CONGRESS TO REDUCE THE ARMY DEPLORED BY SPEAKERS

SUCCESSFUL RABBIT DRIVE NORTHWEST OF SEYMOUR

SEYMOUR, TEXAS, April 7.—A highly enjoyable rabbit drive was conducted Thursday in the Plainview community about five miles northwest of Seymour, in which about 25 men participated, about half of whom were sportsmen from Seymour. At the noon hour an elaborate luncheon was served by the ladies of that community at the home of Mrs. L. C. Harrison. The weather being ideal the sport was enjoyed by all participants. More than 400 rabbits were killed.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY
For even that which was made glorious hath no glory in this respect by reason of the glory that excelleth.—2 Corinthians 4:10.
No man perhaps suspects how large and important the region of the unconscious in him is, what a vast unknown territory lies there back of his conscious will and purpose and which is really the controlling power of his life.—John Burroughs.

LET'S GET BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS.
The first eleven amendments to the federal constitution have been called the bill of rights. Reference was made to them by Hon. Clarence Ousley when he addressed the University club here recently. Mr. Ousley rightly said that this was a time to recall these guarantees of the constitution for a number of them were being violated daily. He had particular reference to the First, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Articles which are herewith reproduced:

Article I—Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

Article IV—The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

Article V—No person shall be held to answer for a capital or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

Article VI—In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

These fundamental rights of the people and of citizens are being violated every day in this country of ours, sometimes by agents of the very government to which we look to protect them and in numerous instances by masked persons who set themselves up as accusers, judges and executioners.

We cannot have confidence in our government and there cannot be that respect for its laws that there ought until the people are better protected in these fundamental rights.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY WOULD COST $52,000,000.
In reply to a question from Representative Davis, of Tennessee, Chairman Lasker of the shipping board has estimated that the ship subsidy advocated by the administration would cost $52,000,000 annually. This is a pretty big sum to add to the tax burden of the people and to bestow upon the ship owners.

Instead of this why not adopt a policy that would increase, rather than restrict foreign trade and give the ships more tonnage? That policy would help others beside the ship owners. It would help the American farmers, especially the cotton growers and the wheat raisers. It would help many others. It would help restore both domestic and foreign markets. It would improve exchange. It would help in the political rehabilitation of Europe and throughout the world. Instead of adding to the tax burden of the American people it would tend to lighten this burden.

MR. BOWLEY DOESN'T PUSYFOOT.
While some have questioned the definiteness of Governor Neff's answers to questions relative to the Ku Klux Klan, there can be no such doubt about the position of R. V. Bowley of Kemp, Texas, who several weeks ago announced himself as a candidate for governor.

Answering inquiries as to his position, Mr. Bowley has issued a statement in which he says: "In reply to these inquiries, I wish to say that if I am elected governor my first official act will be to abolish forever all kinds of mobs and masked violations of the law. By the aid of the legislature I shall make laws that will put behind the bars any man who is caught either in a private or public place with a mask on that I will not be a pusyfoot governor. Neither will I try to carry water on both shoulders. The people of Texas will always know where and how I stand."

TODAY'S TALK
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A NAME.
What's in a name? Well, among other things, honor, happiness, struggle, success, failure, backache, discouragement, loneliness—everything that you are in your name!
It was Solomon's opinion that a good name amounted to much more than great wealth.
What a name for merchants to look up to is that of Marshall Field. And among inventors, that of Edison. How the very name of Abraham Lincoln softens the hard spots of our natures and inspires us to be kind and to have "charity for all."
I was in a strange city and wanted to buy a certain product handled by many in that town. I asked the best place to go to. My informant immediately referred me to one name above all others. "What he says he will give you, he will give you," said my friend. "He doesn't sell you one thing and then send you another. His word is right."
I have observed that it doesn't take the public long to find out what there is in a name when it comes to buy.
How many times I have seen a person leave a store upon being informed that a certain named article was not handled.
Immediately upon the mention of a name, all the best or worst that it represents is pictured in one's mind.
And once established, how difficult it is to mar the reputation back of a good name.
Every day you add to or take away from your name, as far as value is concerned. And what you eventually become will be no more nor less than what your name spells out.
It is never too late to start building a name! And the simpler you live and the more sincerely you use in all that you do, the bigger and greater will be your name.
And the longer it will last!

THE WASTER.
We used to wonder why God let him live, and why so many useful, better men must die.
Lazy he was unto the last degree.
If ever lived a waster, it was he.
"Even the worm does something," Parson said.
"But 'twould be better if that man were dead."
He broke his mother's heart, and sick with shame His people were, who also bore his name.
"No good on earth!" on that we all agreed,
And then one day he did one decent deed.
He who was worthless, drunken, wholly bad,
Plunged in the lake and saved a drowning lad.
He only heard the little fellow cry
The last faint call as he was passing by—
He, who had done no useful thing before,
Battled the waves and brought the boy to shore.
Then went his way, back to his life of sin,
Until at last Death's bugle called him in.

The boy has grown to manhood and his name is now resplendent with the light of fame.
Brilliant his mind, with gifts of learning stored,
He holds high place, respected and adored;
In difficult and dangerous days like this,
That boy is one the world would sadly miss.
Long years have passed and now we understand
How very wisely all men's lives are planned.
The worthless fellow, drunken and depraved,
Unto the world a golden genius saved—
But for the wreck from whom all turned aside,
One whom we sorely needed would have died.

SUCCESS.
Henry Ford was 49 years old when he organized his auto company. It took him that long to "get onto the curves" of the spitalball success.
Some people would never do as well if they lived forever. It all depends on the person, his brain and the environment into which he is rolled as one of fate's dice.
Andrew Carnegie was only moderately successful at 35. He was 66 when he consolidated the United States Steel corporation and retired.
An exception was John D. Rockefeller, who owned an oil refinery when he was 26 and founded the Standard Oil Company when he was 31.
Age means nothing. What counts most is how much you cram into that most important year—when opportunity knocks.
ACCIDENTS.
A good many congressmen privately admit they expect to be re-elected to the lumbago at the next election. They were political accidents, washed up in the great tidal wave of 1920 from democratic districts.
You see the same accident process among some of the men who made skyrocket fortunes during the boom and now are nearing their last cent.
It doesn't always require ability to attain success. It does require ability to hold it. Time is constantly sorting us out, over and over, casting out the unfit.
CRIME.
Eighty-six per cent of crime in America during the last six months was committed by new offenders.
This is shown by an analysis of official prison records, according to E. E. Dudding, president of the relief society.
Dudding says, "About as you will admit the ex-convict, he is better than you give him credit for being; and that only the slim chance he has when he is released from the correctional institution."

Last night I was going to Sid Hunts birthday party and ma gave me the money to buy him a boy scout hatchet for a birthday present, only it wasn't rapped up on account of me having wrapped it this afternoon to practice with it out in our back yard, so I took it in the setting-room where ma and pop was, saying, 'Ma, will you rapp this up, I don't want Sid to know its bin unrapp or he'll think I bin using it.'

Facial Neuralgia Danger Signal
By DR. R. H. BISHOP.

If we understood the real nature of facial neuralgia, we should be deeply concerned, ma saying. Regard it as a danger signal—it may be one of the first signs that something is radically wrong with the body.
Facial neuralgia is due to irritation of the facial nerves. This can be brought about by any one of a number of causes.
The source may be a diseased tooth, an inflamed ear canal, a congested nose or inflammation in one of the cavities of the face.
Such diseases as diabetes or malaria will cause facial neuralgia or sometimes it is merely the result of exposure to cold or an injury.
Be Examined.
A thorough examination is necessary to establish unmistakably the real seat of the trouble.
Errors in refraction in the eyes have been known to cause neuralgia as has also inflammation of the eyelids.
For immediate relief of facial neuralgia a hot water bottle may be placed over the affected nerve or tender spot. When the heat removed the face should be protected by dry wool.
Drugs and electricity are useful sometimes in treating this ailment, but they should be administered by a physician.
Regulate Diet.
Regulation of the diet must be made. Then people should take plenty of milk, cream and butter. Gouty people should confine themselves to a vegetarian and fruit diet.
Plenty of fresh air and carefully regulated exercises are necessary in overcoming the pain of this ailment. In long-standing cases, massage is often beneficial.
Most cases clear up promptly when the original source is discovered and treated.

EXTEND THE WORK OF THE POSTOFFICE WELFARE COUNCILS

TO INCLUDE RURAL CARRIERS AND FOURTH CLASS POSTMASTERS.

COUNTY COUNCILS WILL RESULT FROM THE PLAN

Instructions Approving Extension Are Issued By the Postmaster General.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Postmaster General Work, in instructions sent out today, has extended the work of the welfare department to include rural carriers and fourth class postmasters, who have not heretofore had councils of their own. There are now about 700 welfare councils organized in that many postoffices which are composed of representatives of clerks, carriers and other employees. Under the extension the rural carriers and fourth class postmasters will be permitted to organize county councils, and rural carriers are sufficient to justify the organization of a council.

In the instructions approving this extension of the welfare work, Postmaster General Work says:

"This plan will provide for a gradual extension of the organized efforts of the postoffice department to see that all the conditions under which men and women of the postal department work are such as to make possible their most active, intelligent and interested service. I hope for the continuation of the active cooperation of all welfare councils through which so many improvements in local conditions have already been gained. But even where councils cannot be organized I do not want the fundamental policies of good management to be overlooked in any degree. Men to do their maximum of service must be in good physical condition, must know thoroughly well what they are to do and why, and must want earnestly and continuously to do it and to do it well.

Postmasters and their assistants will always realize that the whole department is built up of individual men and women; its accomplishment is the sum total of their individual accomplishments. The individual is the unit. The energy, the good sense and the good will of each one is necessary to the best total result. When men are without a keen sense of the separate personalities of each unit, bad management reaps its harvest.

In all parts of the service I want the workers to fare well and to carry well their share of the great load. Properly carried on, the welfare work of the department will make of every one of us a better and more enthusiastic servant of the United States.

The object of these councils as stated in the constitution is:

"To improve working conditions in postoffices, and to effect closer cooperation and better understanding among the public, the postmasters and employees of the postal service."

The constitution of the welfare council provides that grievances may be considered by the council in its advisory capacity if presented in writing by the member representing the complainant. The council may at its discretion permit the complainant to appear in person and produce witnesses. The views of the council as expressed in a majority vote shall be transmitted to the national welfare council for its consideration. Similarly, the council may consider suggestions and recommendations for the betterment of the service, and in a similar fashion, shall transmit these as approved by the council on a majority vote for the consideration of the national welfare council.

In discussing the matter of grievances Postmaster General Work said that he desires that all the postal workers should feel free to present their grievances. He believes that the best way to prevent grievances is to provide means for considering them and to bring about fullest discussion of them among the postal workers themselves.

WOMAN IN RACE FOR SENATE DEFIES EFFORTS OF THE MEN TO BLOCK HER

Miss Belle Kearney, candidate for the United States senate from Mississippi, and some of the reforms she asks.

THE KEARNEY PLATFORM

Here are the planks in the platform on which Miss Belle Kearney, candidate for United States senator, is running, defying attempts of men to get her to withdraw from the race:

Disarmament and entry of the United States into the league of nations.

Legislation toward making the United States a nation of home owners rather than that of renters.

Strict enforcement of the Volstead act.

Protective legislation for women in industry.

Restricted immigration.

Laws to enforce social morality.

Advocacy of a federal department of education with secretary in the cabinet.

A more vigorous public health policy.

Reduced taxation, federal aid for farmers, progressive labor legislation.

ballot for women. I am not easily eliminated," she said.

"Men have been so in the habit of eliminating or effacing women that it is only natural for them to run true to form.

"But they forget they are faced by a new situation that looms like a stone wall—the enfranchisement of women.

"As a citizen of Mississippi I shall fight for my rights and the rights of every woman of the land if I have to battle alone without a campaign manager and without a campaign fund."

Will Stump State.

Miss Kearney started her active senatorial campaign as soon as it was established that Senator John S. Williams would not run for reelection.

With a brief platform she is now planning to stump every county in the state.

Having started her career as a school teacher, Miss Kearney early turned to uplift work. She became one of the best lecturers and organizers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

She toured every state in the interest of this organization before Federal prohibition legislation was passed. She also was an ardent suffrage worker.

In the world war she went to France at her own expense and engaged in relief work.

While several other candidates may enter the race, Miss Kearney's only possible opponent now is ex-Senator James K. Vardaman.

FLORENCE, KAN., April 7.—Joe Collins, negro, is in the county jail at Marion and this town is quiet today following arrest of Collins yesterday charged with attempted criminal assault on a 13-year-old school girl.

Good Firm Flesh—

Increased Weight, Strength and Energy—Amazing New Food Factor.

Thousands who have always been complaining about being weak, thin, emaciated and run-down may now find in Yeast Vitamins when used in connection with Nuxated Iron the very thing which will often quickly help them to put on good firm flesh, round out face and figure and increase their strength, energy and endurance, provided their blood contains a sufficient quantity of oxygenated organic iron to enable them to assimilate their food properly. Without organic iron both food and Vitamins are absolutely useless, as your body needs the power to transform lifeless food matter into living cells, flesh, muscle and tissue, therefore your food never passes through your body without doing you good.

It therefore appears that in practically all cases where Vitamins are necessary, organic iron is also necessary, and the combination of these two valuable substances, arranged in the form of a large dollar pack, gives you a LARGE DOLLAR PACK, AGE OF GENUINE YEAST VITAMINE TABLETS ABSOLUTELY FREE, with your purchase of a bottle of organic Nuxated Iron. Take your Vitamins Tablets before meals and organic Nuxated Iron after meals. Weigh yourself before you start and again after ten days and see how much you have increased in weight, also in strength, vigor and energy. If you are not perfectly satisfied with your weight increase and the general results obtained, the manufacturer will promptly refund your money. IMPORTANT: We recommend that you do not take Vitamins unless you wish your weight increased—if you merely wish greater strength, energy, physical and mental vigor, we recommend that you take Nuxated Iron only.

Marriage and Divorce

Hear This Sermon Lecture at the Christian Church Revival TONIGHT BY Dr. S. M. Martin OF SEATTLE

This is one of the outstanding lectures of the day. You are either married or expect to be; divorced or likely to be.

Evangelist S. M. Martin lectured last night to a tremendous audience on "Marriage and Divorce." No one who has heard this gifted orator denies that he is an advanced thinker, an intellectual giant, and possesses rare powers of speech and expression. But last night he excelled all his previous efforts. The lecture was one of the most interesting, instructive, amusing and impressive ever delivered in this city.—Jacksonville (Fla.) Metropolis.

ALL THE NEWS OF ALL THE SPORTS ALL THE TIME

DOCTOR SAYS IDOL OF FANS IS ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

By BILLY EVANS

How is Christy Mathewson getting along?

That question is put to me more often than any other one relating to baseball.

There never was a greater baseball idol than Christy Mathewson. He is beloved by fans the country over.

Now that Matty is making a stern fight against the great white plague at Saranac Lake every bit of news relative to his condition is of much interest.

From time to time the wires have carried various bits of news about his progress. One would say that he was gradually recovering as his health slowly came back and another report would have him sinking rapidly.

Recently I attended the Block 8 dinner given in honor of the star athlete at Syracuse university. It was my very great pleasure to talk before the student body on baseball and athletics, generally. I incidentally had the honor of conferring the college letter on each winner of the much prized K.

BIG LEAGUE RECRUITS

Who'll fill Babe Ruth's shoes until his sentence expires?

Camp Skinner!

That's the answer and we'll admit that hole made in the Yankee lineup because of Ruth's absence will take something just about the size of an army "camp" to plug up.

Well, this Camp Skinner isn't exactly an army camp, but believe us, this particular Camp will fill a whole lot of that gap.

Of course there is more than one sort of gap created by the Babe's absence. Take the box office receipts, for instance. Skinner won't be able to plug that gap by a long shot.

SPORTS SPOTS

by Paul W. Barkin

Danny Clark.

The faint hope entertained by local fans that Danny Clark might eventually be returned to Wichita Falls was made still fainter the other day when it was announced that Ty Cobb had asked for waivers on "Pop" Young.

In the "hurry" spring Detroit scribes lauded Young to the skies and declared that there wasn't a chance for anyone to land his berth. But Young slipped from day to day until Tyrus finally came to the conclusion that he couldn't fill the bill.

George Cutshaw, the infielder obtained from Pittsburgh by the waiver route, as the logical man for that berth. It has been noted from time to time that Danny might hold on due to his bat and good opportunity to stay as a utility man.

WICHITA FALLS MEN ELECTED TO OFFICE

"Doc" Landon and Claude Woods Honored at Field Trials Meeting in Dallas.

L. O. "Doc" Landon and Claude B. Woods of Wichita Falls were elected to office in the Oil Belt Field Trials association this week at a meeting of the prominent bird dog fanciers in Dallas. The meeting was called to definitely organize the association, which operated at Bowie this spring with practically no organization of any kind. Now, however, the Oil Belt Field Trials association is a permanent organization with regular officers and officials.

The organization work and election of officers was all that was accomplished at the meeting, though there was considerable discussion as to the location of the trials next year. Bowie was favorably considered again, but no conclusion was reached.

The following officers were elected: James C. Foster Jr. of Fort Worth, president; Dr. David L. Bettison of Dallas, vice president; J. L. Reader of Peoria, secretary; L. O. Landon, treasurer and field secretary. These officers, together with Mr. E. S. Armstrong will serve as a board of governors while the advisory board includes E. T. Cole of Ferris, Texas, chairman, Claude B. Woods of Wichita Falls, Dr. A. L. Corcoran of Peoria, A. E. Potter of Oklahoma City, Dr. Hedges of Dallas, H. V. Lee of Fort Worth, W. T. Hall of Houston, E. W. Williams and Bob Kennedy of Bowie.

The king of Toro, Africa, is probably the only monarch who wears a false beard.

Billy Evans says

Pitching is unquestionably the best asset of a ball team.

Without good pitching a ball club doesn't get very far these days.

Base-running also has its place. Of course there are other things besides baseball aside from pitching.

A batting offensive is very necessary. Fielding is a consideration, but it has its place.

However, one feature that enters into the makeup of every successful ball club usually receives little or no consideration when discussing a team's strength.

In baseball there is a phrase used which tells what I mean. "It's a matter of ball club" is the way players refer to teams that are quick to take advantage of opportunities.

Base-running also has its place. Of course there are other things besides baseball aside from pitching.

A batting offensive is very necessary. Fielding is a consideration, but it has its place.

However, one feature that enters into the makeup of every successful ball club usually receives little or no consideration when discussing a team's strength.

TIMES DAILY MARKETS

COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK COTTON. April 7.—An opening advance of 3 to 7 points in the cotton market today was in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables and some buying was encouraged by reports of continued strength in the stock market. The weather map, however, was considered fairly favorable and the market became unsettled after the call owing to renewed liquidation of May contracts. Spot house brokers said that position against purchases of July while there was scattering liquidation of May contracts. The market was held by buying in early new crop months, with the result that the near month premium over the July position soon narrowed from 50 points at the close yesterday to about 44 points. May sold off to 17.75, or 6 points net lower, while October held around 17.10, or about net unchanged.

Private cables said Manchester was less active but that Liverpool had been sustained by a fair spot demand and trade calling.

There were some recurring spurts of May liquidation which kept the market nervous and unsettled today and after having declined to 17.75 May rallied to 17.80, while October advanced to 17.15. The market then steadied up from the lowest but not below 17.10, or about net unchanged.

Rather bearish week-end statistics were without apparent influence on the market, but were offset perhaps by storm warnings for the Texas coast and the market was very quiet during the middle of the afternoon. Prices ruled around 17.75 for May and 17.10 for October, or about 3 to 6 points net lower.

Month	High	Low	Close
May	17.80	17.75	17.75
July	17.75	17.70	17.70
October	17.15	17.10	17.10
December	17.10	17.05	17.05

New Orleans Cotton. April 7.—Continued favorable weather over the belt caused a decline in the price of the May position around the opening of the cotton market today, but other factors caused resistance to selling pressure and soon after the opening the entire list moved upward on the basis of a report that the government had apparently stimulated by expectations of favorable week-end statistics. At the end of the first half hour of trading prices were 2 to 11 points higher than the close of yesterday. May first fell off to 16.55 and then rose to 16.65.

Smaller mill takings than expected for the week, 122,000 bales against 172,000 this week last year, caused moderate selling in the market which prices edged in a small way, standing at noon unchanged to 2 points down compared with the close of yesterday. May traded down to 16.55.

Small sales were made in the afternoon, the market getting no support from any source, not even from the storm warnings issued for the coast of Texas. At 1:30 prices were 3 to 7 points under the close of yesterday. May first fell off to 16.55 and then rose to 16.65.

Cotton closed steady at 1 point down to 4 points net.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK. April 7.—There was no letup to the broad dealings of the preceding sessions of the week at the active opening of today's stock market and the trend of prices again was upward. The only notable exception was on the part of chemicals which made an initial decline of 21 points. Interest in rails, especially steel, was on the increase. Reading and Lehigh Valley displaying marked strength, while Baltimore and Ohio and Pittsburgh and West Virginia made moderate gains. Latest developments in the local traction situation resulted in a gain of 44 points for Manhattan Elevated and 24 for the city streetcar. Consolidated preferred.

The market continued to give a broad demonstration of special confidence in the early afternoon. Shares which had been under pressure earlier rebounded strongly and further high levels were made by many representative issues. Buying of high class railroad stocks gave tone to the entire list and notable advances were achieved by Famous Players, Stromberg Carborator, Brooklyn Transit and New York Dock preferred. The closing was strong. Sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO. April 7.—Moderate upturns in wheat today resulted from comparative quietness at Liverpool. Another factor which tended to make offerings light was uncertainty over the government report due this afternoon. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 1¢ higher, with May 1.20 to 1.20 1/2 and July 1.19 to 1.19 1/2, was followed by a steady advance all round to well above yesterday's finish.

Further offers of wheat shipments from Omaha to Chicago together with additional sales of wheat to go to the market caused the market somewhat in the late dealings. Prices closed unsettled, 1¢ to 1¢ net higher, with May $1.19 to $1.20 and July $1.19 to $1.20.

Corn and oats sympathized with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1¢ higher, July 52 1/2 to 52 1/2, corn closed slightly higher, with May 52 1/2 to 52 1/2 and July 52 1/2 to 52 1/2.

Reports of shutting down of corn products manufacturers had some bearish influence later. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1¢ higher, July 62 1/2.

Provisions were a little lower.

Confidence Game Worked on Grocer To Tune of $6,000

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., April 7.—M. Freeman, 50, grocer of Denver, Colo., last night told local police of a confidence game worked which he said cost him $6,000. He lost the sum, he said, in a fake transaction on the "grain exchange" and had no idea he had been victimized until he went to police headquarters asking help in finding the institution which does not exist.

Freeman said two men won his confidence and through telling him of winning large sums "in the market" had obtained his money, which he made a special trip from Arkansas to Denver to bring them. The $6,000 represented his life savings, he said.

ROSE COGHLAN IS OFFERED A HOME AND AUTOMOBILE

ALAMEDA, CAL., April 7.—Rose Coghlan, adored comedy star of two decades ago, who feared that "nobody in the world wants me" because of the tragic role of penury that fate recently has cast for her, may know now that there is a home for her. This was the message that Mrs. Tom Dolphin appealed to the Associated Press, whose wires this morning carried the story of Mrs. Coghlan's plight, to send to the actress:

"Please tell Miss Coghlan that she is wanted right here," said Mrs. Dolphin. "There is a big home here to which she is welcome and a car we'd like to take her in."

Mrs. Dolphin's husband, manager of an automobile repair agency, occurred in his wife's request. Neither Mrs. Dolphin nor her husband ever saw Miss Coghlan on the stage.

LOCAL REFINERIES PREPARE TO FIGHT RECENT TAX RULING

WOULD REQUIRE PAYMENT OF 2 PER CENT ON ALL SALES SINCE 1907.

OLD LAW PROVIDES TAX ON WHOLESALERS

Attorney General Holds That Refineries Are Wholesalers and Subject to Tax.

Local refinery men are getting ready to wage a vigorous fight against a ruling recently promulgated by the state attorney general which, if made effective, would tax Texas refineries many millions of dollars.

The ruling holds that refineries are subject to payment of a two per cent gross receipts tax on all refined products sold since 1907.

In 1907 the state legislature enacted a law providing a two per cent gross receipts tax on wholesalers of all refined products.

Recently the state controller raised the question whether refineries were not wholesalers in view of the fact that they "sold refined products to be sold again."

The attorney general's department ruled that a refinery is a wholesaler and therefore subject to the tax.

In the 15 years since this law was passed Texas refineries have sold hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of refined products, and to have to dig up two per cent of their gross receipts now would mean that the state would have to go into the refinery business, according to local oil men.

The latter point out that the greater part of the refined products were sold to dealers who paid the tax, and recognized wholesalers, so that the state has collected its revenue just the same.

The chief attack on the ruling, however, will be on the ground that the law recognizes a distinction between a manufacturer and a wholesaler.

Local oil men have already held several conferences on the matter and will join with state organizations in combating the enforcement of the ruling.

EARLY MORNING SHOWER NETS BUT LITTLE RAINFALL

The early morning shower that visited Wichita Falls and vicinity netted but little rainfall. Light rains were reported at Stamford and Seymour and intervening points Friday morning while at Woodward the agent reported heavy rains between 3 and 4 o'clock.

From Elk City north an early Friday morning agents reported clouded skies and unsettled conditions. A light north wind sprang up at Fort Worth in the early morning, but had little effect on the temperature.

High minimum temperatures were reported from all points on the railroads for Thursday night. The lowest point reached locally was 72 degrees while Thursday afternoon the mercury mounted to the 85 degree point.

Woodward reported a low mark of the night of 55 degrees. The Childress agent stated that it had remained warm throughout the night with the lowest point at 67.

Corn Is Corn, But Some Kinds Are Worth All of $3

No one could be found around the city hall Friday who would claim any knowledge of the following incident, and Chief of Police Morgan declared that all his "boys" were too intelligent to fall for such a gag, but a well defined rumor was being circulated to the effect that some cop was out $3 as the result of over zealousness in attempting to incriminate a bootlegger.

The officer, so the story goes, while attired in plainclothes recently was accosted on a street corner by a stranger. The latter opened conversation and, at the propitious moment, questioned: "Would you like to get a little corn at a reasonable figure?"

The cop, with visions of ample evidence before his eyes, evinced gratifying interest and the result was that he contracted for a pint of "corn," to be delivered at such and such a place on payment of $3 in advance.

In due course of time a pint flask was delivered to him. He opened it and found six grains of yellow corn in the bottom.

The "bootlegger" has not been seen since.

Parents of Tatum Children Settle Their Difference

The parents of Elizabeth and Clifford Tatum, late Thursday evening settled their differences after consultation with county officials and left happily on their way to Denison, they said. They said they were going to leave the scene of their troubles and begin life anew.

W. H. Tatum and the family sprang into the public search light last Monday when the two children who had been taken into custody disappeared from the offices of the juvenile officer, Mr. Yates had taken the children after the father had sworn out a complaint alleging that the mother was incapable of supporting them.

Tatum and the little boy were apprehended at Ringgold and returned. Charges of kidnapping that were placed against him were dismissed Tuesday, and two hours later he again appeared at the house on Lee street and disappeared with the boy.

Wednesday the officers were informed that Tatum was in consultation with an attorney and the little four-year-old boy and the girl were then placed in the hands of the county for safe keeping until the matter was settled.

Drillers Make Progress on West Vernon Well

VERNON, TEXAS, April 7.—Drillers on the West Vernon well have reached in the neighborhood of 2,600 feet, and continue to make steady progress. Operations were suspended early in the week in order to set a new shoe in place of one which had collapsed under the last string of casing put in the hole. Much local interest is centered on the operations on the West Vernon location.

Yet Another Gas Sand Is Struck in Gulf Burnett Well

The Gulf Production company's No. 1 well on the Burnett tract in Carson county, at present the biggest gas well in the world, Thursday encountered another sand addition, and continued to make steady progress. Operations were suspended early in the week in order to set a new shoe in place of one which had collapsed under the last string of casing put in the hole. Much local interest is centered on the operations on the West Vernon location.

The well had a showing of oil early last week at 3,094 feet, but continued drilling when between 3,100 and 3,130, the bit penetrated this new gas, which is to be shut off and drilling operations carried on to the oil bearing stratum. The total gas production shut in at present is 145,000,000 cubic feet.

The Humble Oil Refining company's No. 2 test northwest of the Gulf well on the Burnett land struck a gas bearing sand at 2,470 feet with a pressure of 30,000,000 feet, which has been mudded off and drilling continued.

Decorative Service and WALL PAPERS

YOU'D LIKE to have your home the most attractive in the city, wouldn't you? Providing, of course, that it wouldn't involve too great an expense. It's possible and perhaps easier than you think, if you select the right wall paper.

Many people used to select wall paper without regard to the room it was intended to decorate; they allowed their individual color preferences to run away with them. Those days are gone.

The thoughtful ones now take into consideration the light, exposure, height of ceiling, etc., and then try to get wall paper designs and colors which bring about the desired result. Our experience and large stocks make this a pleasure. May we help you?
