

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS BEFORE ANNAPOLIS GRADUATING CLASS

DIPLOMAS ARE PRESENTED TO MORE THAN 400 MIDSHIPMEN.

CAREER NOT ONLY SEA, BUT IS PUBLIC SERVICE

Probably the Largest Class That Will Be Commissioned For Years to Come.

ANNAPOLIS, June 2.—Members of the naval academy graduating class again today were presented their diplomas by a Roosevelt. Today it was Theodore Roosevelt, son of the late president, who, acting secretary of the pay, due to the absence of Secretary Denby, welcomed the more than 400 midshipmen of the class of 1922 to places in the permanent navy establishment of the United States. In doing so, Mr. Roosevelt impressed upon the members of the class—probably the largest class to be commissioned in years to come—that they were starting on a life service.

"Your career is the sea," he told them, "but your career is not simply the sea—for your career is the sea and public service. We speak of the men in the navy as being in the service. These simple little words convey in themselves volumes. They constitute a tacit recognition of the fact that our navy men are public servants. In embracing the naval profession men dedicate themselves to a life, not of a few years."

Nature Loves Bright Colors

We see the truth of this statement in the variegated flowers, the vivid sunsets, the birds of brilliant plumage. But we never see it exemplified more attractively than in the person of a splendidly healthy woman. How does nature paint this health? Why in many instances the rosy cheeks and the rounded red lips of such a woman? And she molds it in firm flesh and rounded contours. The alluring woman is deficient in natural coloring and she does not even attempt to advantage in clothes that would set off her more attractive sister. Many women who long for glowing health will find that they, too, can have these charms if they will give a trial to that remedy which brings strength to frail women—Lydia E. gain but of service. I know of no higher resolution than this." Although congress has shown indications of "letting down the side of the graduating classes at Annapolis, Secretary Roosevelt foresaw no time when navies would be abandoned.

Past Grand Goblin New King Kleagle To Quit the Klan

LOS ANGELES, June 2.—William A. Coburn, recently removed from the office of grand goblin of the Pacific domain of the Ku Klux Klan and made king kleagle for California by the supreme officers of that organization at Atlanta, Ga., will sever his connection with the klan Saturday, according to a telegram from him received by W. G. Price, former king kleagle in this state.

POPE PIUS DISREGARDS CUSTOMS OF CENTURIES USES HIS OLD SERVANT

ROME, June 2.—Pope Pius has disregarded the conventions of centuries by installing his old servant, Signorina Linda, within the precincts of his apartment, appointing her his housekeeper and wardrobe maid, says the Giornale d'Italia. She has been with the Ratti family for 40 years.

Since this was the first time a woman has been admitted to such a position, some of the conservatives in the vatican made remonstrances. They were received by the pope, who gave his customary tranquil decision, saying "it is our will." He added that the papal life of sacrifice, labor and responsibility made more than ever necessary the comfort of old habits and accustomed service.

SECRETARY AMERICAN MASONIC FEDERATION TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, June 2.—Developments in the case of the grand lodge officers of the American Masonic federation alleged recently in the United States district court, took a new turn yesterday when William C. Mason, acting grand secretary general of the order, was taken into custody by a deputy United States marshal. As in the cases of Matthew McBlain Thomson, grand president, Dominic Berggren, grand treasurer, and Thomas Perrot, former grand secretary general, who were convicted by a jury, Mason is charged with using the mails to defraud. The acts upon which the charges against Mason are based are alleged to have been perpetrated since the conviction of the other three officials of the federation. The specific charge is that he used the mails in securing a $1 subscription to the Universal Free Mason, a publication issued by the federation, from Dr. George S. Brelling of Portland, Ore., a member of the order. The receipt for it, alleged to have been addressed by Mason to the Portland man, was dropped in the mails here on Wednesday, according to the complaint.

PETERSBURG, W. VA., June 2.—"I've been making whiskey for nigh on 40 years and this is the first time I know there was any law agin it," said Henry Hours, a venerable of the Smoke Hole district, located in Grant and Pendleton counties, when he was visited by state police and arrested today.

A native of the district proffered information to the troopers that "Old Man" Hours was running a still and had done so ever since he could remember.

Corporal Briner, who led the state policemen, said that the episode was the beginning of an educational campaign in the Smoke Hole region.

RESOLUTION DEMANDING WAR FRAUD INQUIRY IS NOT FINALLY DISPOSED OF

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The republican resolution proposing an investigation by the house of the lack of the government prosecution of alleged war gratters, although regarded as buried by the action of the rules committee in recommending its decision to give it right of way, was believed today to be far from dead as a vehicle for further debate on the issue. The walls of the house chamber were still echoing today with turmoil of political debate which followed on the heels of the committee's action yesterday.

Thrown into an uproar by the charges of Chairman Campbell of the committee in a "word to democrats" that by attacking Attorney General Daugherty they were using the only means they could to "serve war crooks," the house rarely subsided from that state during the exchange that followed.

DESPOTIC POLICY OF MERKULOV DENOUNCED

TOKYO, June 2.—The constituent assembly at Vladivostok, which deposed and arrested President Merkulov yesterday, denounced today the "despotic policy of Merkulov as head of the Vladivostok government," according to word from the Siberian port.

FEAR BONUS WILL INCREASE FEDERAL TAXES NOW HIGH

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS SEE LITTLE HOPE OF CUTTING TAX BURDENS.

WILL TAKE YEARS TO RELIEVE THE SITUATION

Output From Treasury in 1923 Will Be $3,500,000,000—Expenses Cut to Bone.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times.

(Copyright, 1922 by the New York Evening Post, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, June 2.—No doubt nearly everybody goes along comfortably with the idea that next year his taxes will be lower than they are this year.

A good many persons, including some careful business men, are guiding their affairs on this basis. They are refraining from selling property this year, in the hope that through postponing the sale a year or two they will not have to pay the government so large a portion of the profit as they would if they sold this year.

Having just had a rather depressing conversation with one of the two or three men who know more about this than anybody else, it is necessary to say that the men who are in positions to have authoritative information do not see how the national taxes can be reduced for a good many years to come. The appropriations for the year 1923 are down to the bare bones. The output from the national treasury in 1923 will be $3,500,000,000.

As a matter of fact, the running expense of the government has been brought down to a point that is astonishingly low. This can be shown by the briefest analysis of this $3,500,000,000 which will be netted out next year. Of this sum, $2,000,000,000 goes out for three purposes—namely, the interest on the national debt, the sinking fund and the veterans who must be cared for. No one of these items is apt to be less than it now is in any year during the next five years. On the contrary, the expense of caring for the veterans is likely to go up rather than down.

Normal Running Expenses. Granting, then, that no reduction can be made in this $2,000,000,000, let us turn to the rest of it. The other $1,500,000,000 is the normal running expense of the government.

This sum cannot be reduced any more readily than the others. The fact is that even before the war the normal running expenses of the government were anywhere from $1,000,000,000 to $1,250,000,000. In 1916, the year before America entered the war, the normal running expenses of the government were $1,250,000,000.

Now, if you compare the billion and a quarter dollars which it cost to run the government in 1916 with the billion and a half dollars which it is going to cost to run the government in 1923, you will realize that the increase in cost is not, as things go, very much. In dollars, the increase is a quarter of a billion. In percentage the increase is only 20 percent. In other words, the cost of running the government in 1923 has been pared down through the budget system and by the intense effort of those who have charge of the government expenditure, to a point where it is only 20 per cent greater than the pre-war cost.

It is doubtful if any private business or any private family is doing better than this. It would be difficult to find any business concern or any household whose expenses for 1923 are only 20 percent more than they were in 1916. In point of fact, the showing is really better than this because of the $250,000,000 which is added to the cost of running the government for 1923 over what the cost was in 1916, fully $150,000,000 is caused by the increased volume of business in the postal service.

It is not possible to foresee how any further considerable reduction can be made for many years to come. The contrary is more likely to be the case. Congress is likely to yield to the temptation to do costly things than to pare down the appropriations beyond where they now are. This thing so, it is likely that the government is going to be able to get along with any less taxation than we now endure.

All these remarks, it is needless to say, have a bearing on the subject of the soldiers' bonus, which would necessarily represent so much additional taxation. To anyone who replies that America will get a lot of money out of her European debtors there are two answers: The first is that America is not likely to get as much out of them as the politicians have led the more trusting of us to expect. The second answer is that whatever America does get out of European debtors should be applied to the reduction of the national debt and not to the running expenses of the government.

der and to have expressed fear for the safety of Londonderry. By Associated Press. BELFAST, June 2.—Heavy firing between Irish republican army forces and Ulster special constables occurred during the night at Dun-gooley Cross on the Louth-Armagh border. It lasted seven hours and it is believed three of the specials were killed. The inhabitants along the border in the vicinity have fled to Dundalk.

Firing also occurred at Culliville, going on for several hours. In Irish republican army quarters, it was stated that the republican forces suffered no casualties in either clash.

By Associated Press. LONDON, June 2.—The government has completed arrangements to pay during the coming fall interest amounting to $2,000,000 pounds on the British debt to the United States.

It has not been decided whether a special mission will be sent to Washington to discuss the debt with the American government.

It is stated in British quarters that the feeling in the United States is believed to favor negotiations for the funding of the allied debts be undertaken first with Great Britain which is the principal debtor. A model would thus be supplied for subsequent negotiations with other countries.

Headache of St. Louis Says Taniae Entirely Overcame Her Indigestion Headache and Distress Are Things of the Past.

"Taniae has made me well and strong and I shall always be grateful," said Mrs. J. Lammert, 4518 A. Oakland St., St. Louis, Mo. "My stomach was so badly out of order I could hardly eat and digest enough to keep me going. What little I did eat caused a heavy feeling like lead with almost unbearable pains in the pit of my stomach. I was subject to awful headaches and dizzy spells and had such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely bend over and straighten up."

"Taniae helped me from the very first day I began taking it. Now I can eat just anything and never have a touch of indigestion or any other trouble. I am feeling fine and sleep peacefully too highly. Taniae is sold by all good druggists—adv.

Theford's Black-Draught Liver Medicine Praised by the Head of a Lake Charles Family

Lake Charles, La.—"I don't know what we would have done had we not had Black-Draught. It sure is one of the best medicines made, and am sure the best liver medicine in this city."

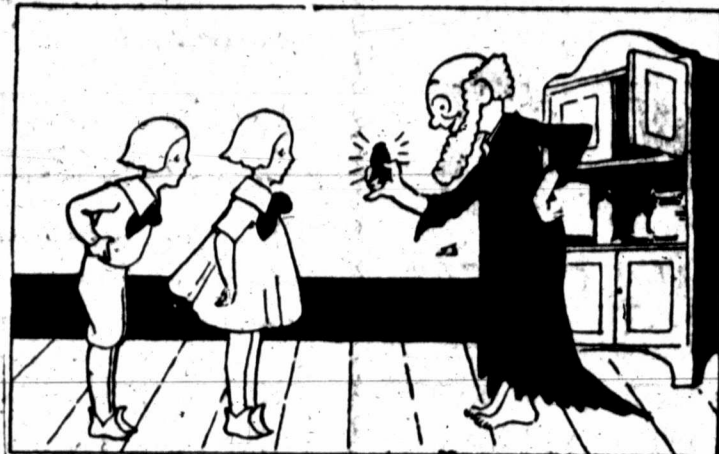

"My whole family uses it," continued Mr. Garrett. "My wife says she believes she kept off the 'flu' by taking doses of Black-Draught regularly."

"I myself, use Black-Draught for indigestion, and it is fine. We used pills and tablets and other laxatives, but they never seemed to do us good, but the Black-Draught sure has, and it has come to our house to stay. We give it to our daughter for headache and torpid liver."

"I am glad to recommend anything that has been the help to my family that Black-Draught has. My present health is good. Have two boxes of Black-Draught in the house now."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS MAGIC POWDER WILL SHOW COMET-LEGS SOMETHING

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Oh," gasped Nancy, "how beautiful."

"What do you want us to do?" asked Nancy, when Mr. Peerabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, had finished telling them about his enemy, old Comet-Legs.

"Well," said Mr. Peerabout, getting up from the floor where he had been sitting and going over to this old cupboard—the one where he kept his ruby salt-shaker with the magic powder. "I want you and Nick to go and find him—find him myself. I have to stay here and look after the moon."

"Is he hard to catch?" asked Nick excitedly.

"Hard!" exclaimed Mr. Peerabout, turning suddenly and throwing up his hands. "Hard! As he rides a shooting star you may judge that for yourselves. Grinned lightning in a slow freight train beside him, my dear. Yes, if you want to catch him, you'll have to hurry."

"But," protested Nancy, "our magic green shoes only go a hundred miles a minute. Mr. Peerabout, we'll never catch him."

"Ha!" winked old Peerabout, laying his finger beside his nose in a comical manner. "Just you wait. He turned again to his cupboard, and reaching in, brought out another shaker like the ruby one, only this one was blue instead of red, and sparkled like frost on diamonds."

"Oh," gasped Nancy, "how beautiful!"

"My!" declared Nick. "Isn't that fine?"

"Humph!" said Mr. Peerabout, squinting one eye. "This old thing! Why, it's just made out of an old sapphire that I picked up one day in the Golden Forest."

The twins then remembered that valuable things weren't much thought of in that queer place. And that things were things are worthless moon-people prize highly.

"The real value of this is in the inside," said Mr. Peerabout, tapping the blue shaker proudly. "It contains another kind of magic powder, the kind that straightens crooked things. If a little of this would touch Comet-Legs his legs would straighten and he could never ride his shooting star again."

OUR FIRST YEAR

CHAPTER LIII—IMPORTANT PURCHASE

In preparation for the motor trip I invested in a darling new electrical sewing machine. It wasn't so very expensive because I only had to pay a small sum down and $6 a month. For the first payment I gave my check.

Jack agreed that I needed a sewing machine. All economical wives had sewing machines. And he was sorry that I had to use my allowance for the down payment.

Jack so often in worried nowadays when we discuss our finances that I have learned to make our conversations about money as short as possible.

I set out to make my dresses this summer because Mary Smith says they are straight, there's not much fit to them, they're hard to put together, Mary says, and so I decided to try.

I've discovered that people of leisure who don't want to do things themselves are quite ingenious about getting me to do things for them.

Mrs. Dalemar was continually asking me to attend to her orphan proteges, and Mrs. Arnold thinks she is doing me a great favor when she asks me to give a week's time to her remade toy department of the children's summer camp. Certainly it's a splendid idea to reconstruct the discarded toys of fortunate babies, and sterilize them.

The paper patterns looked easy to follow, and perhaps if I had had time to be industrious I could have finished one of the dresses. But I was interrupted daily by certain people of importance.

One morning, Frank Brown, a friend of course I was properly thankful. He said he'd hold something I wasn't clear 'till, until Jack fixed my account.

COMMUNITY PLAY PROVES PLEASING TO BIG AUDIENCE

In the presence of a large and appreciative audience, the Community Players Thursday night undertook the ambitious task of presenting "A Midsummer Night's Dream," a production which has been attempted by amateur casts for several centuries, usually with results that might have been expected to cause the writer to kick the football out of his grave. The performance Thursday night might be called an amateur one in that none of those participating in it follow the stage as a profession, but in no other sense could the adjective be applied to it. It was staged and costumed to a perfection, and the parts, from the least important to the most difficult, were portrayed accurately and pleasingly. Whoever had selected the cast had shown rare judgment in the choosing and there was not a hitch, not a bobble, from one end of the long production to the finish. The production was considered as reflecting rare credit upon its directors and actors and upon the Community Players as a whole. The second performance is scheduled for Friday night.

URGE EMPLOYMENT OF DEMONSTRATION AGENT IN COUNTY

BUSINESS COUNCIL TAKES ACTION AT LUNCHEON FRIDAY.

FINAL REPORT MADE ON TRADE TRIP PLANS

Buy-at-Home Speaker Says Much Auditing Work Not Given to Local Firms.

Employment of a home demonstration agent for this county will be urged upon the commissioners' court shortly by a committee of local business women, it was decided at the weekly luncheon of the business council Friday.

The council recommended to the chamber of commerce directors that the organization share in the cost of a car, so as to encourage the move. The action was taken after Miss Maude Thomas, a member of the council, reported that the demonstration agent could be obtained here for $200, in which expense the state and U. M. college will share. It is felt that with the coming of irrigation and the increased interest in farming in this section, a home demonstration agent's services are needed in this county.

Discussion of another phase of the "buy-at-home" move was indulged in by the council after T. E. Allday had spoken on the subject from the standpoint of local accounting and auditing forms. Mr. Allday reported that approximately $100,000 is spent by local business men annually, in employing auditors from other cities. The matter was referred to the special committee.

A final report on the trade trip was presented, showing everything in readings for next Tuesday's excursion. R. J. Bean, general chairman, urged that all participants turn out promptly at all stops, so as to make the best appearance possible.

Hubert Harrison gave a report for the information of the members, on a recent case of misuse of chamber-of-commerce membership, and his action in the matter was voted approval.

NEAR EAST DRIVE PLAN INDORSED AT MEETING THURSDAY

Opening with the second called session of the local Pastors' association in the same week—a meeting distinguished by the fact that every member in the city was present—the committee conference for the Near East fund and old clothing campaign met Thursday afternoon at Kemp hotel and planned the details of a rousing campaign to be held here next week.

R. B. Shepherd was elected general chairman for the funds campaign. W. M. McGregor, treasurer, and Mrs. G. Clint Wood, chairman of the Old Clothing drive. The pastors' meeting was called at 4 o'clock and every pastor in the city was in attendance, while those out of town had representatives there. The meeting was characterized by an apparent determination to put the campaign over, and several talks were made by the pastors. A clipping from a recent issue of the Literary Digest, in which that national periodical departed from an established custom and made a strong and unusual appeal on behalf of the starving children in Armenia, was read. At the close of the meeting the pastors adopted unanimously the following resolutions:

"Whereas, we know with great grief of the desolation and starvation of tens of thousands of helpless humans in the Bible lands, called the Near East; and whereas, all committees over the United States are joining in campaigns for the relief of those pitiful folks; and whereas, Wichita Falls has never failed and will never fail to do all her generous duty; "Be it therefore resolved, that

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

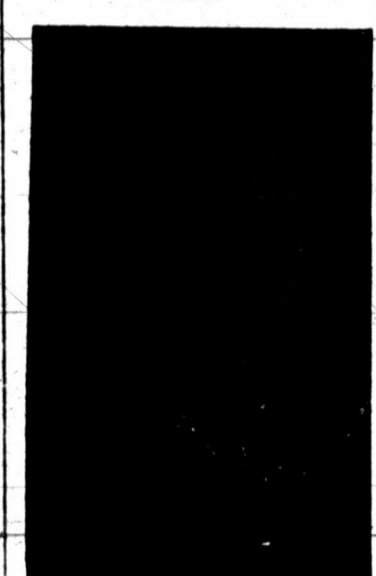

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Place a standing order with your grocer.

ROB HOUSE WHILE OCCUPANT VISITS NEIGHBOR'S HOME

While Mrs. L. I. Lyons, 1419 Bluff street, sat on the front porch of a neighbor's home early Thursday evening a thief entered her own residence, ransacked a trunk and escaped with a diamond cluster ring, a plain gold band ring, a pearl necklace and a ladies wrist watch, the jewelry representing a total valuation of several hundred dollars.

The robbery took place about 6 o'clock and is attributed to a negro servant that had been employed in the Lyons home on several recent occasions. The woman, according to Mrs. Lyons, passed the house shortly before the theft was discovered and it is considered likely that she was responsible. Entrance was gained through a rear door.

Police searched for several hours Thursday night in a vain attempt to locate the suspect.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence there is fullness of joy; at Thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore.—Psalm 16:11.

One step beyond life's work-day things,
One more beat of the soul's broad wings,
One deep sorrow sometimes brings
The spirit into that great vast
Where neither future is nor past;
None knoweth how he entered there,
But waking, finds his spirit where
He thought an angel could not soar.
And when he called false dreams before,
The very air about his door.
—James Russell Lowell.

THE AUTO POUND.

A new use has been found for an old institution—the pound.

We can imagine that the pound dates far back into the history of the Anglo-Saxon race. It probably came into existence with tribal government with the right of ownership in animals and herds and in fields and pastures.

A stock law with provision for a public pound is usually one of the first steps in organized local government. Some of the first elections held in Wichita county were upon the adoption of the "stock law."

Of later years, since fewer people own cows and horses and since private fields and pastures have become fenced and better protected the pound has lost its importance in the community. Very few people in Wichita Falls know where the pound is located, if there is one.

But if the example of Houston is followed by Wichita Falls, its pound will become a place of general resort and will become once more a center of interest.

Houston has adopted an ordinance for impounding automobiles. Hereafter when a Houston traffic officer finds a car wrongly parked or standing on the streets longer than permitted or upon streets on which no parking is permitted he will drive it around to the pound where the owner can redeem it by paying a fee of three dollars. The old institution, which it seemed was about to become obsolete and defunct through our changing habits of living, will therefore take on new life and importance simply through the adoption of old laws and practices to a new condition.

Similarly there is a growing disposition to assess severer penalties for auto theft. There was a time in Texas when horses were the easiest property in Texas that could be stolen and converted into cash. Horse theft became the most common crime. Severe penalties were provided in new legislation and juries everywhere imposed the limit of these penalties. Horse theft was lessened. We are going through the same experience with automobiles and automobile thefts.

ANIMAL WARS.

Carveth Wells, explorer, tells about the whale-killer. It's a big fish, about as long as a Pullman car, living in the ocean around the South Pole country.

As many as 16 seals have been found in the whale-killer's stomach. But the whale-killers are not satisfied with merely getting enough to eat. They want luxuries—delicacies.

So a gang of them get together and attack a sperm whale until they make it open its mouth. Then they tear out its tongue. That's mob attack—warfare.

Cynics point to this as an illustration that war is a natural state, that war is being waged constantly all through nature. So, they reason, human war can never be ended. There's something to be said on the other side.

Up north, the timber wolves are pairing off in couples, peacefully sneaking away into caves to raise their young.

Next winter, when food will be scarce and hard to catch against a white snow background, the wolves will begin running in packs—their combinations for warfare.

It is all a matter of food. Wolves never attack humans unless driven to it by starvation.

Of all creatures in nature, ants are the most like humans. Ants maintain standing armies, scientifically organized, with officers in charge of regiments and battalions.

These ant armies, however, are for defense. Occasionally the ant armies line up and march off to attack another colony of ants. Sometimes this is for the purpose of capturing neighbor ants and turning them into slaves.

But 39 times out of 100, ants do not go to war until their food supply gives out and they must conquer a new one or starve.

The so-called constant warfare in nature is a simple struggle for existence—to obtain food. As soon as food is obtained, war stops.

Nature makes food scarce in the animal world because the constant warfare strengthens the fighters, kills off the weak and inefficient, and permits survival only of the fittest.

"Here we come excuse, in the natural sense, for men warring in the days when it was nip-and-tuck with starvation.

But today agriculture, mechanical production and the system of distribution are developed to the point where there would be more than enough food for every person on earth if equitably divided. That destroys the basic excuse for war. Anything interfering with the free flow of food is a dynamic generator of war.

WHERE THE BLOW FALLS HARDEST.

The Times a few days ago pointed to the example of a young man who was "beating back" to a useful life after a career as a burglar and who was making restitution to those from whom he had stolen. The young man had been placed in a bad environment when his parents were divorced. He took the downward path but faced about after having served his country in France.

It is too often children who are altogether innocent who are the real victims in divorce cases. Attend divorce court almost any day and you can see them there and you can see ahead of them real tragedy through the misconduct of one or the other of their parents and probably both.

It is a sad thing that many regard their marriage vows lightly. It is tragedy for their children.

"DAD" CLINTON IS DEAD.

Another link connecting the old West with the new has been broken. John J. Clinton, Confederate veteran, government scout and Indian fighter and for thirty-seven years chief of police and head of the fire department at Abilene, is dead. He was one of the very few survivors of the romantic days in Texas history. "Dad" Clinton, as he was known by many throughout the Southwest, was a worthy example of the fine manhood for which his day was noted. Lustre to his memory and peace to his ashes.

Why is it that some small colleges turn out so large a number of big, useful men, and others, larger in numbers of students and more powerful in endowment, are scarcely commented upon as the years roll by?

Why is it that in some offices you feel the very atmosphere of the place the minute you step in? Why is it that you are attracted to one town and want to live there, and others make you feel as though you never wanted to visit them again? It's because you feel the spirit of the college, the office, the town.

What is this spirit anyway? Well, it is difficult to define, exactly. But I will try. It's that something that comes of the combined association of things—which seek to think and work for the good and happiness of the whole.

You who once attended college know what class and college spirit is—and how you felt bound to give and to sacrifice when called upon, in order to uphold this spirit.

And you who work in offices where every success of the firm spurs your own spirit of work and loyalty, know it also.

I go to a town and find fine parks and playgrounds and well kept streets and many owned homes, and I am at once impressed with the fact that here is a place every inhabitant would gladly strive to make more happy and livable.

And there is a spirit in friendly association and mind contact.

How many there are who stimulate and inspire us—and how we, in turn, are made to desire also to give of what we are.

We are all followers in some way or other. We walk alone into the valley and up the mountain, and we rest beside clear waters that ripple their stories to us, on huge rocks that recite hundreds of years of history to us—while we live in spirit and feeling the expression of them all.

Spirit is movement—that entertains and feeds the soul.

MORAL COURAGE
There's a courage that is greater than the test of fire and sword.

There's a greater proof of mettle than the battle-fields afford.

And I would that I might teach it to that boy of mine today.

So that he may never weaken as he goes along his way.

It's the courage of conviction that can stand the cruel gaff.

And dare to do the right thing when his thoughtless playmates laugh.

I want to have him sturdy, and I hope he'll never show the pale cheek of the coward when he has to take a blow.

I hope he will not whimper and too bitterly complain when his wish is disappointed and a dream he falls to gain.

But above this outward courage and beyond this sign of fear,

I hope he'll stand undaunted when his thoughtless fellows sneer.

When his gang is all against him—that's the time I want him true.

When his playmates urge upon him what he knows is wrong to do,

When he's taunted with derision, then I want him at his best.

For, spite all that he must cope with, this is boyhood's hardest test,

And the greatest proof of courage is to stand and take the gaff.

And dare to do the right thing when his thoughtless playmates laugh.

YOU AND I

By ALBERT APPLE

FAKERS. Blackmailers, quacks and charlatans who live by their wits are invading the psychological field.

Wanda's good fortune that this is one of the easiest grades since gypsies invented palm reading.

Legitimate psycho-analysis is everything but a scam. All of us have fakers. Getting evidence is unsteady hard.

Dr. A. A. Brill, who wrote the best American book on the psychology of the mind, points out that victims of blackmailers cannot make charges without revealing the secret which subjects them to blackmail.

If taking up psycho-analysis, be careful with whom you deal.

SPORT. The exit of athletic heroes is a possibility suggested by Carl L. Schrader, head of physical education in Massachusetts.

He thinks that in future schools the physical instructor will serve all instead of confining his efforts to a few stars.

"We have had the wrong objective in physical education up to the present, inasmuch as a victory in our games was our only goal and defeat considered a disgrace."

Schrader's theory is sound. But attention will concentrate on victors as long as they only want to be a victor. And that, apparently, will be forever.

SNUFFLES

By DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Be sure your child doesn't develop a case of constant snuffles. Snuffles, or colds, are the most common ailments of children.

It comes on itself, or it accompanies many diseases, such as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, mumps and the like, and then the nasal discharges are "catching."

The child may at the outset suffer from chilliness and headache, and give evidence of being out of sorts.

Then the nose "runs," a watery secretion appearing; with this the nose gets clogged up, and the child snuffles, breathes with difficulty, and has to keep his mouth open to breathe at all.

The obstruction is worse when the child is lying on its back, causing much discomfort at night; in infants, indeed, attacks of suffocation may result and breast feeding be interrupted.

After a time the watery secretion increases and at the end of a day or two becomes considerable in quantity, the swelling of the mucous membrane of the nose at the same time lessening, so that the nose breathing becomes easier.

Recurring colds must be treated in quantity, becomes also thicker, and finally dries up altogether after a week or two.

The child is at first languid and unfit for any exertion, but brightens up somewhat after the first two or three days.

There is a great tendency for the catarrh to pass on to the bronchial tubes and the lungs, and this constitutes the chief danger of nasal catarrh in childhood.

Recurring colds must therefore not be treated lightly; they may lead to bronchitis or pneumonia.

A cause must be carefully sought in nursing, ventilation, and overheat in colds, in stomach troubles, in colds, in indolence, in exposure. And the discovered cause must be removed before any treatment will avail.

I was getting on Mary Watkins' front-step talking to her, and so was Puds Simkins, and we started to talk about getting married and the kind of wife I would marry and the kind we would want, and Puds both hinting we would marry Mary Watkins without actually saying so.

Well I never expect to get married, but in case I ever do I know exactly what kind of a man it will be, and that's the only kind it will be.

My, you do you mean, what kind? I see. Thinking, G. I wonder if she's thinking of me.

Well, in the first place I don't care how rich he is as long as he's handsome, and Mary Watkins.

Me thinking, G. she jest looked at me, I bet that's who she means. And I started to feel grate, and Mary Watkins said, and in the 2nd place he has to be brave and noble and wonderful and strong as everybody else will be jellies of me and wish they'd thawt of marrying him ferst.

And I started to feel grate and greater, and Mary Watkins said, and in the 3rd place he has to be a perfect dancer and a beautiful singer and have a lovely disposition.

Me thinking, I bet I could dance and sing all the while I tried. With I bet could, and jest then Puds said, Well would it make any difference if he was fat?

I couldn't care, as long as he present too fat, Mary Watkins said.

TUCKER TESTIFIES IN OWN BEHALF IN TRIAL FOR ASSAULT

EVIDENCE IN CASE IS COMPLETED EARLY FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

TELLS OF SHOOTING BY PROSECUTRIX LATER ON

Story of Complaining Witness is Contradicted in Several Particulars.

All the evidence in the case against Mike Tucker, charged with criminally assaulting Ethel Ellidge is before the jury. The case closed at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The defendant took the stand at 11:40 o'clock Friday morning and told his version of the affair.

He testified as to various engagements he had had with the prosecutrix before the day on which it is charged the assault was committed.

His story of the proceedings at the home of Mrs. Berry on that Sunday afternoon coincided with Mrs. Berry's testimony.

That evening after supper before the prosecutrix started out for a ride he had gone into the house and brought a whiskey bottle out with him and placed it in the seat between him and the girl, he testified.

While out riding that evening he asked her if she wanted a drink.

"I'll take one if you do," he said the girl replied.

"Three each were taken by them he said. When they arrived at a road along the Valley railroad tracks southeast of the city, he said the girl sat still, waiting and wanted to rest.

He had told of the affection that had been displayed. He testified that the prosecutrix got out of the car by herself.

There was no struggle, he testified. The girl made an outcry he told the jury and he emphatically stated that he did not assault her as charged.

"She acted like her feelings were hurt," he testified. "I was born in Texas. I don't know just where."

Mrs. Berry testified that she had seen Tucker at the home of Mrs. Berry on Sunday afternoon. She had never met the girl before, she testified, until that night when she saw Tucker and herself ride to the lake in Tucker's Ford roadster.

Coming back to town Miss Ellidge and the girl were very affectionate. "Did Miss Ellidge repel Tucker's love making?" the witness was asked.

"No, it looked like the love making was mutual," Mrs. Berry testified.

Coming back to town Miss Ellidge sat in Tucker's lap all the way, the witness said. "Mr. Shubert and I both told her several times not to be forward, especially in the afternoon, when so many cars were passing and also told her not to be so loud," the witness said.

"Mr. Shubert also reproached her for her conduct when they passed his sister's house, the witness told.

In testifying of the incident at the lake, he said, "I drove to the side of the house and entered the kitchen door. Some ice cream was left and the bottle of whiskey was standing on the kitchen table. Miss Ellidge seated herself and Mr. Tucker mixed the ice cream and the whiskey in her presence."

"After the cream and whiskey were mixed, Mr. Tucker sat down on the chair and Miss Ellidge sat in his lap with one arm around his neck."

"Mr. Tucker fed Miss Ellidge, he taking a spoonful and then feeding her one. Miss Ellidge said that it didn't taste quite right and I suggested to her that she put some more sugar in it. She said that wasn't what was wrong with it, it was not strong enough."

The witness then testified that Miss Ellidge picked up the whiskey bottle and poured some more whiskey into the glass. She said after tasting it that the prosecutrix said, "It isn't strong enough yet," and then poured some more whiskey into the glass. She said after Mrs. Berry said she admonished assault, Judge F. A. Martin gave the defense 15 minutes for consultation.

Mrs. Edith Berry, who had accompanied the prosecutrix, the defendant and Mr. Shubert in an automobile ride to the lake and in whose home Miss Ellidge had testified she had eaten the ice cream mixed with whiskey, was the first witness called by the defense. Her testimony was largely in conflict with the testimony of the prosecutrix.

Miss Ellidge occupied the witness stand from 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon until dismissal and resumed her seat Friday morning for three-quarters of an hour.

In relating the occurrence of the afternoon and evening on which the alleged offense is charged to have been committed Miss Ellidge kept her hand to her face. She told of the ride to the lake but denied on cross examination that she had been reprimanded for her conduct while on the ride. She also denied having poured any more whiskey into the glass at Mrs. Berry's home.

She testified that she had eaten all but a few spoonfuls of the ice cream and whiskey at the home of Mrs. Berry after returning from the lake on Sunday afternoon, February 19. She said after that she went to a lady friend's home on Cleveland street where she had supper and after supper she said she went riding with Mike Tucker, the defendant.

While out riding she testified she started feeling dizzy and that Tucker had driven out on a dark street and stopped the car. Before she knew what was happening she told of her dazed condition, which she attributed to the whiskey. Tucker had lifted her out of the car. He had been sobbing she told of what she remembers of the occurrences of the next few minutes. She testified that her clothing was torn from her. She told that she cried and had told Tucker that he would pay for this.

To this she testified he replied that "if that is the way you feel about it I'll lay you back there."

She then told of her visit to Dr. Walker the following morning, and that Dr. Walker had prescribed medicine for her several days after that.

Dr. Walker told of the visit of the prosecutrix to his office and said that she was in a high excited condition of mind and nervous. He made a physical examination and testified that the girl had been assaulted.

The prosecutrix on cross examination was asked twice where she was born.

To this question by Attorney Francis she replied, "I was born in Texas. I don't know just where."

Mrs. Berry testified that she had seen Tucker at the home of Mrs. Berry on Sunday afternoon. She had never met the girl before, she testified, until that night when she saw Tucker and herself ride to the lake in Tucker's Ford roadster.

Coming back to town Miss Ellidge and the girl were very affectionate. "Did Miss Ellidge repel Tucker's love making?" the witness was asked.

"No, it looked like the love making was mutual," Mrs. Berry testified.

Coming back to town Miss Ellidge sat in Tucker's lap all the way, the witness said. "Mr. Shubert and I both told her several times not to be forward, especially in the afternoon, when so many cars were passing and also told her not to be so loud," the witness said.

"Mr. Shubert also reproached her for her conduct when they passed his sister's house, the witness told.

In testifying of the incident at the lake, he said, "I drove to the side of the house and entered the kitchen door. Some ice cream was left and the bottle of whiskey was standing on the kitchen table. Miss Ellidge seated herself and Mr. Tucker mixed the ice cream and the whiskey in her presence."

COBB HAS LUCK AS WELL AS ABILITY

Makes Most of His Chances, That's Why Fortune Always Seems To Smile On Him.

By Cobb as a ball player, holds many records.

In order to make or break records one must be favored by the break in luck.

In making many of his records Cobb naturally had a certain share of luck.

A considerable amount was made of the fact that Cobb was willing to take chances.

Now, as a major league manager, Cobb proceeds to establish records of a different sort.

In making these records Cobb is again favored by the break in luck.

When a pinch hitter comes through, staying off inevitable defeat, it is regarded as something out of the ordinary in baseball.

It is getting the break. The pinch hitters on three successive days to avert defeat is something of a record.

That is what Cobb pulled in a recent series with the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Tigers lost the first game of the series, 6 to 1.

In the second game of the series, when the Tigers went to bat in the first half of the ninth, the score was 5 to 3 in favor of the Athletics.

The first man up hit safely. Cobb then sent in Fothergill to pinch hit.

He hit safely, sending the runner on first to second.

Then Danny Clark was sent in to pinch hit.

Clark did not hit, but he did pass the first on four straight balls.

Blue followed with a triple, Cobb with a single, and the Tigers had two runs, enough to win the game, 6 to 5.

Each's base on balls as a pinch hitter had made possible the tying run.

In the fourth game of the series, with the score standing 4 to 4 in favor of the Athletics, and one down in the first of the eighth, Cobb sent Flagstead to bat in a pinch.

Flagstead responded with a home run into left field bleachers, tying the score.

Detroit made two more runs before the inning was over, winning 4 to 5.

Once more a pinch hitter had saved the day. Thus, on three successive days pinch hitting, coming through, first with a home run, at base on balls and then another home run, saved the Tigers from defeat.

It is questionable if the break in luck ever happened before in a four-game series of baseball.

HOW TO PLAY BALL

Pitching, and Outguessing the Batter, by Billy Evans

By BILLY EVANS, American League umpire and Sporting Editor of NEA Service.

To become a great pitcher one must first have the ambition. In baseball one doesn't get very far unless he sets for himself a lofty goal and then works his head off to achieve it.

Never be satisfied with good enough. No matter how well you are succeeding as a pitcher, always work on the theory that you can improve your standard.

Control seldom comes natural to a pitcher. Any young pitcher, no matter how wild he is, can attain control if he possesses the proper determination.

Control comes from constant pitching practice. It is not acquired by mere haphazard throwing of the ball to some other player.

RACING EXPECTED TO DIE IN LOUISIANA

Passage of Anti-Gambling Bill Deals Severe Blow.

BATON ROUGE, La., June 2.—A severe blow was dealt to the sporting element of New Orleans and other cities in the state yesterday when the Louisiana senate by a vote of 22 to 18 passed a bill ordered by Senator Robert D. Butler of Terre Bonne parish, prohibiting betting in any form at all licensed horse racing meets in the state.

Supporters in the Butler bill declared that the senate's action spells the death of racing in New Orleans and Shreveport in Jefferson parish.

A similar bill introduced by Representative Shattuck of Calcasieu parish is pending before the house ways and means committee. It is expected that the house will take some action on the measure within the next few days.

The Butler bill declares as illegal the operating of races in Louisiana for profit or betting on them. Horse races at parish fairs, which do not run over 10 days a year, are permitted.

The Louisiana supreme court recently held as legal and oral system of betting on horse races, which has been in vogue here and at other tracks in the state for the past ten years.

BOY MEETS DEATH WHEN LOOSE WIRE STRIKES HIS BODY

Coming in contact with a live wire while picking wild flowers near his home in Call Field, Chester, five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Morgan, was instantly killed Thursday afternoon at 4:15.

In company with the little son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Moon, neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, the child was playing in the field, the two being engaged in gathering wild flowers. As Charles stooped to pick a flower, he touched the wire, received the full force of the shock and fell across the wire. His companion ran to the Morgan home, about 50 yards away, where Mr. Moon and Mrs. Morgan were sitting.

"Come quick, something's burning Charles," he said. The two youngsters rushed to the scene. Smoke was rising profusely from where the boy lay, as the wire burned his clothing. Mrs. Morgan seized the boy, removing a severe shock as she did so, but she wrenched his body free from the wire and ran to the Call Field hospital nearby. There first aid measures were applied, but the little body had received the full force of the current, and was beyond help. There were severe lacerations on his body and one arm had been almost severed by the wire.

Near where the body was picked up was a handful of flowers that the child had gathered. The accident cast gloom over both the Call Field community and the Call Field offices, in both of which the child was a great favorite.

Funeral arrangements had not been perfected at noon Friday. Relatives from Indianapolis are en route here.

The wire which caused the boy's death was said Friday to have been a piece of iron telephone wire which had come in contact with the power wire that serves Call Field. The telephone wire is thought to have been one that was left on the ground by the government when it abandoned the aviation post; electric wires were being made Friday to fix the responsibility for the wire's presence.

Only a few hours before the tragedy according to residents of Call Field, the telephone company had been notified that the wire was loose and had promised to fix it. It is said that smoke had been seen issuing from the point where the wire came in contact with the power wire. It is thought that a recent storm blew down the telephone wire which, having at one time led into a building that had been removed, came in contact with the power wire without the short being discovered promptly.

An early morning fire that for a time threatened to develop into a conflagration rivaling that of Indiana avenue last week was checked by firemen in the block between 4th and 5th streets at 4:00 a. m. Friday. Three business establishments were damaged to the extent of approximately $2,000, while seven more were endangered by the blaze.

The Bell Tailoring company, 610 Seventh street, was the heaviest loser. Fire, smoke and water damage at this place will total between $2,500 and $3,000, estimates made Friday indicate. Practically all the wearing apparel in the shop was damaged, if not ruined, and some expensive pressing and cleaning equipment also suffered from fire and water. The business was owned and operated by Roy Rhodes, who stated Friday that his loss was entirely covered by insurance.

Housed in the same building with the tailor shop was the Star Barber where the fire is thought to have originated. The flames, it is believed, broke out in the rear of the room occupied by the barber and spread to the tailor shop after cutting through a heavier board partition separating the two. Firemen confined the loss to the barber's parlor to $100. No insurance was carried on this, it was reported.

Just west of the building in which the flames took their heaviest toll of property is the Hub Clothing store. Slight smoke damage to the stock was sustained here but firemen are of the opinion that this will reach only a negligible figure. No fire or water loss was suffered at the Hub.

The origin of the blaze is a mystery. A few minutes after midnight Friday firemen from the central station answered a still alarm from a small cafe in the block between 4th and 5th streets. An assortment of pastry left in a lighted oven filled the room with smoke and attracted the attention of a passerby. No damage was occasioned here.

The Shamrock Oil company's No. 1 on the Waggoner tract in the Gibson survey was drilled in late Thursday and is reported good for 400 barrels. The top of the pay was encountered at 1240 feet and was penetrated five feet when it began to flow by itself. The well is located southwest a short distance from the Planet Petroleum company's lease on the Burnett and west of the Gulf Production company's Collett lease.

MONTHLY TRADE DAY AT ELECTRA ON SATURDAY

ELECTRA, TEXAS, June 2.—Saturday will be the fourth of a series of monthly trades days inaugurated by the mercantile bureau of the local chamber of commerce and agriculture for the purpose of making this the trading point for persons living within trading distance of Electra. A feature of the day is the community auction held at 2:00 o'clock the afternoon of trades day.

It was intended that this should be a day for selling anything of value, the only proviso being that no one living in Electra could offer articles for sale at the auction. In practice live stock is about the only thing offered. Saturday a number of high grade Jersey cows, a red poll male, a number of Duroc sows, barrows and a male, all subject to registration, are listed. The sale is advertised with trades day and the persons having something to sell pay two per cent of their receipts, which goes toward defraying the expense of securing auctioneers.
