

RED CROSS OFFICIAL HIGHLY COMMENDS LOCAL ORGANIZATION

Emphatic praise of the work of the local Red Cross chapter was given Saturday by Mrs. Andrew...

The work of Wichita county in its nursing service under the leadership of Mrs. Milton Glover ranks high, she said.

In establishing public health nursing on a county basis Wichita county is playing a part in a great public health movement which is bringing to the rural child equal health rights with that of the city child.

There are more than 10 million school children in the United States, and three-fifths of that number are in the rural schools.

Investigation extending over a period of years has proved that health of the country child is not so good as that of his city cousin.

Why? Chiefly because the city child has realized that it must surround itself with protection against all possible city ills.

In prolonging life, the habit which is being established through radio broadcasts, is taking a big part in the movement which is making health rather than disease contagious.

Farmer's get $604 more per farm by Kanred wheat seed. M. B. Oates, agricultural agent of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railroad company, has compiled figures which show that on an average farmers received $604 more per farm by the use of Kanred wheat than from other varieties.

Farmer's who grew Kanred wheat in a test with other well established varieties made an average of 7.3 bushels more per acre on Kanred than on the other varieties.

Farmer's who grew Kanred and Turkey Red were both grown the Kanred averaged 23.8 bushels and the Turkey Red averaged 13 bushels less than Kanred.

In this article and in previous articles the figures on yields and test have been given as reported in writing by the growers themselves.

PART OF THE WICHITA FALLS OF 1922 WAS A WATERMELON PATCH IN 1891

The land between the court house and Wichita river, now occupied by thickly built cottages, was an immense watermelon patch in 1891.

The picture was received by the chamber of commerce from Dr. E. S. Brown, whose address, unfortunately, was not decipherable.

to drought and rust and that it stood more freely than other wheats. That probably explains its remarkable showing this year.

than during the past season. Growers should not gamble on seven to ten bushels extra per acre from Kanred, but it does seem reasonable to expect about three or four bushels more per acre.

By ERIC G. SCHROEDER. VERNON, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—"A little bit of heaven" is the inevitable comment of the visitor as he passes at the entrance to Hill Crest Country club in Vernon, before him and sees in the distance the substantial club house where it commands its view of the wooded lake and the prairie for miles around.

One of the most pleasing attractions secured for the Texas-Oklahoma fair will be Al Sweet and his Singing Hussar Band. This band consists of 11 men, everyone of whom has had military training, and most of them have served their country overseas.

Plans were immediately considered for the building of a club house and the building of a golf course. Today both stand as mute evidences of the determination and resourcefulness of the directors. The home of the members was erected at a pre-war cost of $27,000, and has been completed since the spring of 1921.

CITY NATIONAL BANK of COMMERCE EIGHTH & SCOTT WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

TOTAL OF 550 MEN NOW EMPLOYED ON IRRIGATION PROJECT

CONDUITS AT STORAGE DAM FURNISHED, ALL READY FOR DREDGE.

WORK TO START SOON UPON BIG SPILLWAY

Consistent Roadway Being Made On Nearly All Phases of Project.

With the completion of the six seven-foot conduits at the storage dam, things are now in readiness for the starting of operations by the dredge, which is scheduled to start work September 1.

It was estimated Saturday that 550 men are now employed on all phases of irrigation work. The date is contingent, however, upon wet weather in the interval, as the river has ceased to flow at the dam site and is a mere sandy waste with only an occasional pool of water. In the meantime, the dredge is virtually ready to start. The power line will be tested out Monday. The long tentacles of pipe, through which sand and mud will be discharged into the embankment are being laid. The wooden revetments which will serve as temporary barriers for the discharge are under construction.

The immense gates on the conduits have been installed, and work is under way on the tower in which will be installed the motors and machinery for raising and lowering them. The two permanent conduits have bronze gates which can be readily moved by the machinery; there also is equipment for moving them by hand winches, an operation which it is estimated would require 42 hours.

Preparations are getting under way for construction of the main spillway near the north end of the dam. This spillway, which will be of concrete, will describe an immense arc swinging down from the main embankment and will discharge flood waters into a ravine which empties into the main stream. The paving of the upstream side of the dam with large stones has also started, this work being planned to prevent attrition by the lake's waves.

Although the lake will start forming as soon as the embankment is completed across the river, it will be several years before maximum capacity is attained. The water will be kept at low level for two reasons; first, there will be no need for a full lake until irrigation is under way on an extensive scale, which will hardly be before 1925; second, by letting the lake fill up gradually, the safety and permanency of the dam and structures can be made more certain.

Two of the most important of the canal structures, are now building. The Camp creek window is just getting under way, while that on Blackberry creek is practically completed.

A radio receiving set is being installed at the storage dam for the use of the force at work there, and will be in operation shortly. Progress at the diversion dam has been comparatively slow, the work consisting mainly of puddling operations in the core-wall trench.

The north side surveying party, now working out of Thorberry, has kept on laying out the canal route down the river and is now several miles below Wichita Falls with this work.

PREPARATIONS FOR SCHOOL REOPENING PROGRESS RAPID

Preparations for the opening of schools on September 11 are going forward steadily in Wichita Falls. Most of the teachers have been appointed, and other preliminaries given attention.

Neither of the new school buildings on the north and south sides will be ready for occupancy when school opens, but will be completed some time in October, when they will be put into service.

The board is expecting a visit shortly from W. B. Ittner of St. Louis, architect for the new high school, and will probably give final approval to the high school plans at that time. It is expected that bids will be opened about October 1, as some time will be required for contractors to prepare the figures.

BUILDING PERMITS REACH OVER $15000 DURING PAST WEEK

TONN HAYES' BOND SET AT $1,000 IN FEDERAL COURT

Tom Hayes, who was arrested by Constable Frank Morgan and his deputies Friday night on a charge of possession of five gallons of whiskey, was turned over to federal authorities and his bond set at $1,000. 10,552 CRIMINAL AND CIVIL PAPERS SERVED DURING THE YEAR 1921

During the year 1921 Sheriff Fred K. Smith and his deputies served a total of 10,552 criminal and civil papers, a portion of which are done free gratis. Among the papers for which the sheriff receives no fees is the summoning of witnesses before the grand jury.

During the past current year the sheriff handled 280 criminal cases in the district court in which instances an average of seven and two-thirds witnesses were served in each case. In the county court an average of three witnesses were served in each of the 512 cases and in the justice of peace examining trials an average of three witnesses were served in the 184 cases.

This makes a total of 4,174 witnesses served in criminal cases in addition to the 460 witnesses subpoenaed before the grand jury, making a total of 4,634.

During the same time 1,708 civil cases were filed in the county while in 254 cases which were filed outside of Wichita county the sheriff was called upon to serve citations. The average number of persons served in civil suits per case is three, making a total of 5,978 persons served. In one instance over 100 people were served in one civil suit.

In the county court at law 813 cases were filed of which number 215 were returned. The sheriff's office receives no fees, except in cases where convictions are gotten.

In cases where complaints are made and the defendant is outside the county or state, and expense is incurred by the sheriff on bringing the defendant back to the county, and if the complaint is dropped for any reason, the sheriff is out of his own pocket the amount of money expended in bringing the man back.

The sheriff must rely on the judgment of the district attorney's office and this explains why in some instances the prosecution refuses to take a complaint because they do not believe the evidence is sufficient to warrant a conviction.

BRANCH HOSPITAL BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD TUESDAY

PROPERTY OWNERS TO DECIDE WHETHER TOWNS SHALL HAVE HOSPITALS.

PROPOSED ISSUE IS FOR SUM OF $150,000

Each of Three Towns Will Share in Proceeds Of Issue—Bonds Carried Over Before.

Next Tuesday each and every one of the 23 voting box precincts in county will be opened at which time the $150,000 branch hospital bond issue will be decided. Iowa Park, Durkummet and Electra are each seeking a part of this total sum with which to erect a branch hospital. All property owners and property tax payers are eligible to vote at this election and although very little enthusiasm has been shown on the issue it is believed that a big vote will be polled in the county.

This same matter was voted upon once before by the tax payers of the county. This occurred over a year ago but the attorney general ruled that inasmuch as a bond issue had been voted during that year that another one could not be held and therefore held the election void and illegal.

county with the understanding that the city of Wichita Falls, where the building was to be located would supply an amount equal to that voted by the county.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2

No one is useless in the world who lightens the burden of it for anyone else.—Charles Dickens.

Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 30 to October 4, Wichita Falls

ONE PLATFORM ON WHICH WE CAN ALL STAND.

One of the reasons why Wichita Falls has gone ahead as it has from a prairie village to a fine little city is that its people have always been ready to lay aside their differences and work together for the common good.

We wonder sometimes if the spirit of partisanship, intolerance and bickering will ever grow strong enough to destroy what we have been pleased to call the Wichita Falls spirit—a spirit of liberality and co-operation that is equalled in few communities. Let us hope that it never will for when it does Wichita Falls will sink back among the commonplace communities.

Houston is one of the great and progressive cities of Texas, yet the elements of its citizenship had drifted apart and had fallen into factional groups until leaders in the city felt that the future of Houston was endangered. They called a mass meeting of all elements and at this meeting a non-partisan, non-factional committee was named to bring all the citizens of Houston back under the same banner of co-operation and progress. It is reported the committee is finding the job a whole lot easier than they had expected.

Commenting upon the experience of Houston the Denton Record-Chronicle says:

"There are not a few Texas towns and cities which would advantage from emulating Houston's example. The town in which factions thrive is sorely handicapped; continuance of factional conditions will prevent the permanent growth of any town or city, however fortunate it may be in natural advantages.

"Without calling any names one has only to take a cursory view over Texas cities to spot those which with few or no aids from natural conditions have outstripped others which have been blessed in many ways—surrounded by rich territory, well watered, desirably located. One has in mind a city—it has been only a short time since it was a town no larger than Denton—that is almost wholly man-made. Dozens of towns had the advantage of it in age, in location, in surrounding territory; but these dozens have remained towns while that town has gone forward into the city class simply because it was peopled by men with vision and with ability to discern that in the avoidance of factions so the whole town could pull together was the way leading to prosperity for all and the permanent growth of the city.

"Another Texas city comes to mind which with every natural advantage and with a long start towards a city before some other Texas cities that since have outstripped it came into being has fallen far behind simply because it is now and has always been faction-ridden. All with any knowledge of conditions in Texas towns will find it easy to recognize these two extremes. There are dozens of less typical instances in the state that many will call to mind.

"The lesson, however, seems generally not to take the hold it deserves to take. In many towns—in all of those which are falling behind in the race for growth and prosperity—there are men who would contribute $100 for the advancement of their faction who wouldn't give a penny to any public-spirited purpose. They will give freely of their time and thought and energy to acquiring a temporary advantage over 'other' faction, but haven't a moment of time, a bit of thought or an ounce of energy to devote to the common good derivable from the up-building of their community. Not infrequently they are men of ability, fitted for leadership. Too frequently they demonstrate that ability and exercise their qualifications of leadership by 'knocking' movements started by others. Nearly always they are long on destructive and woefully short on constructive criticism or of initiating things that are for the common good.

"The city where they predominate is the city of standstill; where they are a strong minority is the city that moves slowly if at all forward; where they are not, is the city of steady progress and constant growth."

WICHITA FALLS TURN TO HELP NOW.

An election will be held on August 22 for the purpose of voting on the issuance of $150,000 bonds for the building of hospitals at Iowa Park, Electra and Burkburnett.

It is hoped that Wichita Falls will give a good majority for this bond issue, for aside from the need of the hospitals at these points Wichita Falls is pledged to support this bond issue.

It will be remembered that this bond issue was submitted and voted at the same time with the bond issue for the addition to the Wichita General Hospital which is now being built, but that a defect in the order made it necessary to hold another election. This is the election that is to be held on August 22. The Electra, Burkburnett and Iowa Park communities supported the bond issue by which the addition to the General Hospital is being built and it is nothing more than right and fair that Wichita Falls should now support the bond issue for hospitals at those points which was carried in the first election.

There is no question as to the need of these hospitals. General Hospital is certain to be filled to its capacity at the start. The smaller hospitals at these centers throughout the county will perform a service that could not be so satisfactorily performed by the larger but more distant hospital and will give Wichita county a hospital equipment that will be equalled by few communities anywhere.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE CITY ADMINISTRATION.

The Times believes the great majority of citizens and taxpayers of Wichita Falls will applaud the determination of Mayor Frank Collier and the city commissioners to keep the city's expenditures within its income, even if this means the paring of departmental budgets, to the very bone. Any other course would lead to taxes that would be unbearable or bankruptcy for the city.

The first thing that Mayor Collier and the city commissioners did was to find where they were at, then to make a conservative estimate of the city's revenues and to plan a budget that would hold expenditures within the funds available. It has taken courage to do this and it was necessary to cut deep in departmental appropriations but the administration has done the necessary thing, and having known Mayor Collier for a number of years we are confident that he will lead the city council in a determined course to keep the city government within its income.

Expenses are always a rarin' in municipal government and it takes men of rather exceptional determination and ability to hold them down. We believe we've got that kind.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

MY FRIEND—THE TREE.

I love you, Tree, because the first thought that comes to me when I see you is that you have something that you want to give away—beauty, strength, shade. And also you benefit everything about you.

The town must have you, the country must have you—the world was made with you in mind to help make it a real world.

The birds love you and make their homes in your arms. The squirrels wouldn't know what to do without you.

Wherever you are, there beauty is enthroned! The brook, the river, the lake—how barren without you around. You give to nature her most gorgeous dress. And we owe to your past life the lovely settings of furnitures that make our homes beautiful and comfortable. We owe our books and newspapers to you.

But you are greatest where you belong—growing out of Mother Earth's heart, there to cheer the passerby and to shade and shelter those who seek you.

How often I sit alone or with friends and listen to the soft rustle of your garments. How soothing and how pregnant of calm and order.

We are sad when you are leafless and asleep—but our memories are of your greens and then of your browns, golds and purples. And we remember when you so noiselessly dropped your leaves to the ground, there to have them melt into the earth and later spring to life again as future nourishment for the very trees from which they fell during the autumn time.

I look about my study and hardly a picture but shows the beauty of the tree. What kind of a landscape would it be, anyway, without at least one tree?

I have an unpublished book in the library of my heart. I call it "My Book of Trees." And when I need special inspiration, I finger its pages and call to name the many different varieties of trees that have become my friends from travel throughout the land.

A big storm came to my town not long ago and on my way to work I viewed great trees that had fallen before the fury of this storm. It made me very sad. The world seemed lonely with the thought that these givers of beauty had had to go.

I like the idea of school children being taught to love and care for trees, and to plant them wherever possible, and never to harm them.

I love you, Tree, because you are so silent, so beautiful, and because you live to give!

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

STRANGERS.

Strangers very often greet you just as though they're glad to meet you; smile the way the home-folk do; shake your hand and talk to you; now and then they'll walk beside you. In a friendly way they'll guide you. But they've passed along the way. At the ending of the day.

Each of us who plays the ranger is to all he meets a stranger. But the cheery voice and smile vanish in a little while; and although kind hands assist us, as a stranger they shall list us. We have met and gone our way, travelers of a summer day.

Favors many they will show us, but they never come to know us, and they're different from the few good old loyal friends and true who have known us through the years. Shared our laughter and our tears; bright the smile and kind the deed, but it's friendship that we need.

Though ten thousand strangers cheer us, wait upon us and stand near us, smile and comfort and are kind, still the old friends left behind will be calling, day by day, and along the dusty way.

We shall yearn, wherever we roam, for the smiles of those at home.

Kind though strangers are and cheery, of them all we soon grow weary. And our steps we would retrace to the old, familiar place.

Where the smiles and all their brightness are not merely men's politeness. It's upon the old-time friends that our happiness depends.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is—pedoo.

It's pronounced "pu-do", with accents on the "ee" and "oo". It means—false, counterfeit, pretended.

It comes from a Greek word which means "to counterfeit".

It's used like this: "Official estimates place the proportion of pedoo pharmacies, in reality controlled by bootlegging interests, at 75 per cent of the entire number of so-called drug stores in greater New York."

MOLES AND WARTS

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

Does that mole or wart on your face bother you every time you look in the mirror?

If you are young, a wart or mole will not harm you, except as an unsightly blemish. In advanced age, however, it may turn into a malignant growth, a cancer sometimes manifests itself in the form of a wart or mole.

It is for this reason, perhaps more than because they are beauty spoiling marks that people have them removed.

The electric needle is used to remove small moles. For the larger ones the X-ray, radium and "dioxido snow" have been successfully employed.

For a large mole an operation which is not as bad as it sounds is that of carefully cutting out the blemish and drawing the edges together.

Sometimes a wart may be removed by use of salicylic acid.

Cleanliness has often been found useful in getting rid of warts. An abundance of soap and water, followed by the use of a powder, such as boracic acid or alum, often will do where other things are of no use.

YOU AND I

By ALBERT APFEL

YOUNGERS

More than 1,000,000 American children between the ages of 14 and 15 work for a living. The census shows this.

You reflect that it is rather a black eye for civilization. But don't be discouraged. The wind is blowing in the right direction. The number of child laborers is decreasing. In 1918, for instance, only 1,000,000 children between 10 and 15 are employed for each 100 children 16 years of age.

HORSEHOES

Horsehoes pitching now has 1,000,000 players, says B. G. Leighton, head of this sport's national association.

This and the increasing popularity of golf indicate a gradual drift away from baseball.

Back of that is a national psychological wave, a general desire to get actual exercise out of sport instead of sitting comfortably in a grandstand and watching others exercise. That's an important and valuable change.

REPORTS

Bad weather conditions have cut into this year's harvests in Europe, according to government trade reports.

This means a better export market for American grain. An uncanal luck seems to be dogging America, which right now is the garden spot of the world. The worse things get in a country the better they seem to become here.

SAUNDY

There seems to be a lot of sense in this Mahatma Gandhi. Serving a prison sentence in India, he has become an expert spinner. He takes his loom and spins naturally and spins scientifically on oranges, goat's milk, raisins and toast.

Beware of that kind of agitator. He knows where he is going; also how. He is too wise to pose by hunger striking.

SLAW

A national organization to fight the Ku Klux Klan is being formed in Chicago.

Back of this movement you recognize the natural law that every action has an equal and contrary reverse action. No sooner does a "society for" get powerful than a "society against" springs up. A wise Providence works all things scientifically balanced. That's why life is a never ending turmoil of disagreements.

TRANSPORTATION

If railroad transportation gets paralyzed, 325 motor trucks transport lines are ready for service, reports Charles Clifton, president of national automobile chamber of commerce.

These could "prevent acute shortage in essential supplies for 60 days." Railroad service is not as indispensable as formerly.

SLAYER OF PHELAN YET TO BE FOUND, 5 FREED SATURDAY

MURDER CASE AT JOLLY AP- PARENTLY HAS OFFICERS SAFFLED.

SUSPECTS ARE RELEASED AT HEARING SATURDAY

Four Men and Woman Held in Connection With Affair Es- tablish Innocence.

Special to The Times.
HENRIETTA, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—
Clay county's most mysterious murder is yet to be solved.

The party or parties who took the life of Ed Phelan, aged 16 years, near Jolly on the night of July 9
are still at large.

Following a preliminary hearing held here Saturday, all five of the people against whom murder charges had been filed were released as to the murder case. They were still held however on charges of violation of the prohibition law.

Each one of the four men and the one woman, against whom the state attempted to fix the charge proved to the satisfaction of the court that their hands were clear of taking the life of the young man whose father operates a store at Jolly.

Those who faced the charge in the justice of peace court Saturday morning were M. T. Niles, G. S.
Fuller, Jess Williams, Mattie Claiburn and Pink Rhodes. The latter was only arrested Friday night.

The other four, however, have been in custody since the day that the murder was discovered.

According to the evidence advanced at the hearing here Saturday, a party had been given near the road camp on the road leading from Wichita Falls to Henrietta. The members of the party were the five people charged, Mrs. M. T. Niles, her daughter, Mrs. G. S. Fuller, and Ed Phelan, the murdered man. The dead man's father was also a member of the party earlier in the night.

Some time after midnight, the time cannot be fixed definitely, Ed Phelan and Mrs. Fuller were seen starting across the railroad tracks.
This was the last seen of the pair.

Sunday noon a party of tourists on their way to Wichita Falls picked up Mrs. Fuller in a semiconscious condition alongside of the road. She was able to tell that Phelan was dead and pointed in the general direction where his body was later found.

The body of the dead man was found in a pool of blood some two miles from the road, 200 yards from where two small streams unite. Six bullet holes were in the body. A ladies' watch, which it is said Phelan carried in his trouser's watch pocket was found on the banks of one of the small streams shattered into bits. It was the contention of officers that one of the bullets struck the watch.

According to the testimony given by Detective Jack Miller and Special Investigator George Hawkins, the condition of the body was found where the body was found gave evidence that there had ensued a lively struggle. The body of the man was found with one shoe and one sock off and his other clothing torn.

Several pools of blood were found from where the watch bits were discovered to where the body was found which gives rise to the belief that Phelan ran fully 200 yards after being shot the first time.

Mrs. Fuller who accompanied Phelan on the trip that led to his death has just been discharged as a patient from the hospital. She gave evidence of fear and inhuman treatment at the time she was found.

Her story was to the effect that she and Phelan had started down the railroad tracks in the direction of Wichita Falls. They had progressed only a few hundred feet, she said, when they were accosted by a stranger, a white man, neatly dressed. The man ordered them to proceed across the public road and into the pasture. She said he marched them at the point of a gun to the spot where officers found the lady's watch.

Here, she said, the stranger ordered Phelan to hand over his money. To this order, Phelan reluctantly complied the told. She was then ordered to turn her head, she said. She obeyed the order and stood there motionless in fear of her life.

Presently she heard a few words between Phelan and the stranger, she told. Within a half minute she heard a shot, then another and still another. Each shot seemed to be farther away she testified. In all she said she heard five or six shots.

When the stranger returned he grabbed her by the arm, and said,
"Well, I guess he's all right now."
She was led by the arm down the course of the main stream to where it spreads into a small tank, she said. He asked if she wanted to drink, to which she replied that she did not. The man stooped over the water's edge and drank she said.

She then testified that she was led several hundred feet from the tank to a spot in the pasture where she was accorded most inhumane treatment. Then she was beat into insensibility with the butt end of a revolver.

She regained consciousness early Sunday morning and found herself gagged and bound. She was able to loose the bonds around her feet and to remove the handkerchief over her mouth. She started to arise but found that she could not use one of her legs. She then crawled to the Phelan's side where the tourists found her.

THANKS SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENT FOR FAVORS EXTENDED

A letter was received by a member of the sheriff's department Saturday morning from Victor Webb at Cambridge, Mass., who took occasion to thank the officers and Wichita county as a whole for the things that had been done for him.

The young man served a term in the Cambridge school and shortly after he was released he found his parents whom he had not seen since he was a boy seven years of age.
They reside in Cambridge and he went home six weeks ago.

In his letter he points out that the training he received at the school was now serving him as a means to earn his livelihood. He took the plumbing trade while in Cambridge and stated that he had a job that was paying him a dollar an hour.

In his letter he commented on the fact that he was accorded wonderful treatment here at the hands of the officers, considering the circumstances.

STRIKE OF BIG FOUR ON COAST LINES OF THE SANTA FE IS OVER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 19.—The strike of the big four brotherhoods on the coast lines of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railway system, has been called off and freight and passenger service will be resumed immediately, it was announced today by L. I. Hibbard, general manager of the Santa Fe.

General Manager Hibbard announced he received word from Needles, Cal., the center of the trouble on the coast line, that the brotherhood representatives there had reached the decision that the trainmen will return to work. The walkout of the trainmen on the Santa Fe was limited to the coast lines and the return will restore service to normal throughout the system, he said.

The return of the big four brotherhood men will effect no change in the situation of the striking shop craftsmen. General Manager Hibbard said. No terms have been made with the shopmen and the conference dealt solely with the operating trainmen.

KLAN ISSUE TO BE DOMINANT IN NEXT SATURDAY'S RUN-OFF

Wichita county, politically speaking, is quiet. With the run-off primary only a week ahead, but very little interest seems to be taken by the voter.

At least, if there is any interest it is all an undercurrent. Several of the office seekers who have traversed
the county during the past week for the fact that the undercurrent is strong and that in all probability the vote next Saturday will exceed the one of four weeks ago by at least 1,000 votes.

"The voters have practically all made up their mind how they will vote next Saturday," one man stated, "and for that reason there is very little talk."

The past week, however, served to arouse more interest for the time being than at any other time during the campaign. Rallies were held in Wichita Falls in the interest of the senatorial race and the pitch of the addresses invoked considerable interest at the time, but it soon died out on the surface.

With women against women in the county clerk's race and man against man in the sheriff's race, both have settled down to what is believed will be a nip and tuck contest.

"The Ku Klux Klan issue," stated
a man who has stamped the county,
"will be the deciding factor in the senatorial race at least. As I view the situation, the K. K. K. members of the county, as well as a few others, will vote solidly for Hayfield, while the anti-klans, including organized labor, will put up a solid front for Pergerson."

"There is little indication given in the county races," he concluded

DE MOLAY CHAPTER TO INITIATE LARGE CLASS SEPTEMBER 5

William K. McClure, master councilor of Hope chapter, Order of De Molay boys, has announced a special meeting for September 5, at which time a large class of candidates will be initiated. The meeting will be held at the Shrine auditorium at Call Field at 7:30 p. m., and all the degrees, including the third, under the direction of Albert Bliss, will be conferred. Mr. Mc-Clure states that this meeting has been arranged in the evening to give every Mason in this section of the country an opportunity to attend.

The De Molay boys entertained the Shriners at their last ceremonial with a tableau from the De Molay degree. This made a great impression on the Shriners and many of them have indicated that they would like to have an opportunity to see the work put on. This opportunity will be afforded them on September 5.

George Rose, the scribe of the order, advises that he has more than 60 petitions on file now and it is expected that the number will exceed 100 by September 1.

The Order of De Molay is a Junior fraternal order for boys between the ages of 12 and 18 years who are the sons of Master Masons or the grandsons of such. The order, although young, has a very large membership in all parts of the United States.

FARM AND CATTLE WENT TO PAY BACK $156,000 LOAN

FERGUSON MAKES REFERENCE TO ITEM IN SPEECH AT BRECKENRIDGE.

VOICES OPPOSITION TO KU KLUX KLAN

Declares Mayfield is Member and Refers to Him as "Crown Prince."

BRECKENRIDGE, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—Opening his address here this afternoon in behalf of his candidacy for United States senator, former Governor James H. Ferguson declared that he "has entered the race poor in purse but undaunted in spirit." He had been heavily indebted, he said.

"I had owed an item of $156,000 which some said I got from the kaiser and some said I got from the farmer, but by giving up my little farm and my cattle I have paid it back."

"Today, although broke, I am the greatest piece of k— that ever came down the pike and before this campaign is over I am going to put so much high-life on this political chicken, who is running against me, that before August 20 he will wish he had never entered the race against a broke man."

Mr. Ferguson devoted a part of his speech to talking against the Ku Klux Klan. He declared that his opponent, Earle B. Mayfield, is a member, referring to him as "the crown prince." He further characterized Mr. Mayfield as a "blow-down sucker."

He also spoke of his platform issues, giving special emphasis to his favoring the closed shop and union labor and his view against the federal reserve bank.

FERGUSON RALLIES TO BE HELD AT 2 POINTS IN COUNTY

Two rallies will be held during the coming week in the county, according to the interest of the candidacy of James H. Ferguson.

Dwight L. J. Davis of Dallas will be the speaker at both meetings, according to the announcement made by Ferguson B. Holcomb, chairman of the Ferguson club.

On Tuesday night a rally will be held at Burk Burnett and on Thursday night a meeting has been scheduled at Iowa Park.

It is possible that several other meetings will be arranged but nothing definite could be announced Saturday night.

ABILENE FAIR PARK DAMAGED BY WIND

ABILENE, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—A high wind accompanied by a shower of rain this afternoon blew the roof off the grandstand at West Texas fair park here and also demolished some cattle sheds there. Apparently the rain was very heavy north of here.

The damage at fair park which was the only place struck, was estimated at $10,000. The grandstand was blown into an adjoining pasture, barely missing a party of campers, and several large trees were uprooted. The twister was described as one of the worst ever seen in this section.

KENTUCKY OIL COMPANY GETS 150-BARRELS ON TAYLOR LEASE IN ARCHER

The Kentucky Oil company Saturday finished its No. 4 Taylor in the Oklahoma district in Archer county, extending the proved area a short distance northeastward.

The well, which is estimated at 150 barrels, is from a sand encountered at 820 feet.

RUMORED ANNE BURNETT TO WED GUY WAGGONER

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., Aug. 19.—So far as could be learned tonight Miss Anne Burnett, heiress to the Burk Burnett millions, and Guy Waggoner, Fort Worth, Texas, had not been married in Colorado Springs, despite rumors they were wed today.

No marriage license has been issued to them, it was learned.

Both Miss Burnett and Waggoner are in Colorado Springs but refused to be interviewed.

ADDITIONAL TRAMS IN CONSTRUCTION OF DAM CHILDRESS, Aug. 19.—Twenty-five additional teams have been impressed into service in the construction of the dam across H-K canyon for the formation of Lake Childress, the future water supply of the city. The contractor says that with a rain he will put on an additional 100 teams. Work will be expedited so that the big lake can be applicable to the needs of the city within the contract limit.

ALL BUT 1900 FEET OF BURKBURNETT ROAD IS OPENED FOR TRAFFIC

Sunday automobile pleasure parties will find that they can travel all the way into Burk Burnett on a solid concrete pavement with the exception of 1900 feet, just behind the cemetery about three miles from Burk Burnett.

The pavement was uncovered Saturday afternoon and the road opened with the exception of the last strip of pavement, 1900 feet, which will be opened some time during the coming week.

Work on paving the Burk Burnett-Claire road will begin Tuesday morning, Potts & Pringle announced Saturday.

A sufficient amount of material is on hand to insure at least six days' work.

The McCullum Construction company has been closed down since last Tuesday on account of lack of cement and for the reason only a small amount of the road out of cement was paved during the week.

This company still has 4,999 feet of the original five miles to pave. The paving of gravel on the road from Iowa Park toward K. M. A. is progressing rapidly and all the machinery necessary for the work has been installed.

HARVEY WELL NEAR ALANREED ATTRACTS MUCH INTEREST

MELEN, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—While the blowing in of a million and a half cubic feet of gas and a slight showing of oil in the Smith No. 1 of the Harvey Oil company, located one mile north of the city of Alanreed, the eyes of the oil world are turned to a new section of the panhandle and, indeed, the probability that a new oil field is about to be brought in is very eminent.

This new field is located sixty miles east of the producing wells in Carson county and fifty miles west of the producing well at Sayre, Oklahoma. An indication of the opinion of the large companies, concerning the probability of the oil in this section, might be shown in the fact that a strip of land about twenty-three miles wide and extending from Carson county on the west through Gray and Wheeler counties, on through to the Osage mountains is almost entirely owned by the larger companies and syndicates. Geologists declare these wells to be on the direct cross-folds of the Arkadelphia uplift.

The Tipson well, located north and west of the Smith No. 1, blew in a good showing of gas a few days ago. The well, too, is in the strip just mentioned.

The Smith well is the first to show indication of oil in Gray county, although a large number of other wells are now being drilled and a large number have already been abandoned.

Very few leases around Alanreed, such as the Smith No. 1, show the discovery of gas, some of them have sold for as much as fifteen dollars, but for the most part the owners of the land are hesitant about setting a price on leases just at this time.

The Campbell No. 1, located on the Y. O. U. ranch, eight miles southeast of this city resumed drilling last Thursday. Preparations are being made to resume the drilling of the Hatchcoffer well within the next few days.

LAWYER MISTAKEN FOR ANOTHER HANDLED ROUGHLY BY MASKED MEN

TULSA, OKLA., Aug. 19.—A case of mistaken identity cost Ben C. Axley, a Sand Springs lawyer, a great deal of concern for a while last night and, nearly, made him the victim of rough handling by a masked band of men.

Mr. Axley, who had a headache and was wearing a bandage over his forehead similar to that effected by Ben Hill, also of Sand Springs, who had been slightly injured late Wednesday night when presumably the same band of men unsuccessfully attempted to abduct him, charging that he had mistreated his young wife.

It came about when Axley issued forth from a drug store, the bandage binding tightly to his forehead, a mass of crushed ice. Suddenly he was pounced upon by several masked men and bundled without ceremony into an automobile.

FERGUSON GIVEN ENDORSEMENT BY LOCAL UNION MEN

HIS AND OTHER CANDIDACIES ARE RECOMMENDED TO LABOR VOTERS.

SMITH AND MRS. MILLER ARE URGED IN COUNTY

Selections Are Made in All Races in Which There Are Run-Off Contests.

At a largely attended open meeting of the Trades and Labor council Friday night the attitude toward organized labor of the various candidates in the run-off primary on August 25 was discussed at length by members present and plans were made for bringing to the attention of the friends of Mr. Ferguson the conclusions reached by those in attendance.

Following the discussion recommendations were made as to the choice and candidates were endorsed by the council. It is reported that with one or two exceptions the recommendations were made by a unanimous vote and that in these instances only one or two negative votes were cast.

Those present at the meeting included delegates from the various organizations of the city, the railroad council, it is reported, the leading unions and a number of prominent citizens.

Following are candidates endorsed by the council: United States senator, James E. Ferguson; Lieutenant governor, T. W. Davidson; State treasurer, George E. Garrett; State auditor, J. M. N. Marrs; Representative place No. 1, J. D. Parnell; Sheriff, Fred E. Smith; County clerk, Mrs. R. L. Miller; Justice of the peace, place No. 2, C. J. Arrington.

Electra News Budget

Electra, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—Deputy J. B. Goode arrested two men Friday and is holding them on a charge of theft. Three others seen in their company and thought to have been accomplices were not taken into custody.

The men decline to talk and refuse to divulge their names. They are believed to be members of a gang of chicken thieves operating in this section for several weeks.

Officers advance the theory that the gang takes chickens stolen in this county across Red river to Frederick, Okla., for sale, and probably bring the results of their raids in Oklahoma to towns in this section.

Tim Hawkins and Joe Mathis, negroes, were taken into custody on the charge of selling liquor. A 50-gallon barrel of chow beer was found in the former's home, and Mathis was in possession of a 6-gallon jug of the same concoction when arrested. He escaped from the officers.

Seven hundred and seventy-five dollars has been pledged by local business men for equipping the high school football team. The athletic club closed its last year's work with a surplus of $400. A committee composed of E. R. Brown, J. F. Davis, C. P. Engelking, E. V. Hallow, and H. Y. Newsum canvassed the merchants for funds.

At least seven of last year's team are expected to report for training September 4. Coach C. M. Eden will have charge of the men this year, as he has for two years past, and will be assisted by Superintendent E. D. Dinsmore.

Mayor W. W. Calvert and his subordinates are waging relentless warfare on traffic violators and more than a score of charges have been filed this week against drivers of automobiles who ignored the ordinance requiring cars to be parked parallel to and within 18 inches of the curb on Cleveland avenue, on Main and Waggoner streets cars to be parked at an angle of 45 degrees to the curb.

Mayor Calvert insists that he is going to make the streets of Electra safe for pedestrians as well as persons driving automobiles. While the officers decline any intention of persecuting violators of the ordinance, they are enforcing it rigidly.

Resolutions of regret have been passed by the chamber because of Mr. Friend's resignation. With the community live stock sale and fair only a month away, the new president will be overwhelmed with work.

Mr. Friend also sold his stock and resigned as manager of the Farmers Elevator here. He expects to continue as resident of Electra.

Despite the cut in price of crude oil and a suspension of drilling due to water shortage in the South Electra field new homes continue to be built in Electra. Eight or ten modern homes are now under construction at a cost of from $1,500 to $2,000 each.

Work started yesterday on the new building which Lawrence A. McDavid is erecting for the local Dodge agency of McFall Bros. A delay of two weeks was encountered in getting material.

OKLAHOMA TROOPS MOBILIZED READY TO GO TO SHAWNEE

I. W. W. REPORTED ACTIVE THERE AND USE OF BOMBS IS FEARED.

MAYOR WARNS MARTIAL LAW MAY FOLLOW

Federal, State and County Officials Trying to Prevent Outbreaks.

SHAWNEE, OKLA., Aug. 19.—With state troops mobilized at Oklahoma City ready to be rushed here federal, county and state officers were taking every precaution tonight to prevent possible outbreaks here in connection with the strike of railroad shopmen.

Thirty deputies under the direction of United States Marshal Alva McDonald patrolled the streets around the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific shops where firing took place early Friday morning. About thirty shots were fired into the shops by unknown persons.

Federal officers let it be known that they feared attempts to bomb the railroad property. Several members of the I. W. W. are said to have come here recently to stir up trouble.

Warning was given to the citizens of Shawnee in a statement issued tonight by Mayor George B. Caruth that unless all persons co-operated with the federal and county officers in keeping the peace and stilling agitation the city would be placed under martial law.

SHOP WORKER SHOTS TWO MEMBERS OF MOB

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 19.—A near riot here tonight culminated in the shooting of two striking shopmen after a mob pursued F. Smith, strike breaker.

Lloyd Leathers was wounded in the arm and Arley Osborn was shot in the right leg when Smith opened fire.

Smith in a statement made after his arrest declared he was pursued by a mob of strike sympathizers who hemmed him and became menacing. He fired three shots into the ground, the statement, and when the mob failed to stop he opened fire on those in the front ranks. Leathers and Osborn were wounded. Arley Osborn prevented further outbreaks.

TWO GIVEN FINES AND JAIL SENTENCES

SHREVEPORT, Aug. 19.—R. L. Donovan, E. C. Hight and F. E. Orra, found guilty in the federal court here today of contempt of court by assault on David K. Greenberg, an employe of the Missouri Pacific railway at Ferriday, La., in violation of an injunction granted in an equity suit brought by the railroad against striking shopmen, were sentenced to serve six months each in jail and to pay fines of $150 and costs.

Bier Oasis Only Mirage At Johnstowne

JOHNSTOWNE, PA., Aug. 19.—The Johnstowne oasis was only a mirage and tonight Mayor Joseph Cauffman said he was satisfied with the "action" which followed his edict to saloon keepers and brewers that they could make and sell real beer.

The mayor was dissatisfied with the dry enforcement machinery and last night he issued his order and promised not to prosecute any dispenser of pure beer. He said it was his idea to rid the town of bootleggers and sellers of poisonous liquors.

The "action" which the mayor tonight said pleased him, was the arrival here of additional dry agents and the dismissal of O. R. Stiffler, chief federal prohibition agent in this district. Agent G. A. Spragg was placed in temporary charge.

Johnstowne's saloons, as a whole, failed to offer their patrons beer of illegal alcoholic contents. But some took advantage of the offer for a short time and did a rushing business.

Efforts to close saloons through police power, the mayor said tonight, "were not very successful, so I decided something drastic was necessary. Next week there will be a thousand men in Johnstowne attending a convention, and with the trash that they sell in the saloons here, one third of them would go home poisoned. Yes, I got action."

Bowie News

Bowie Receives First Bale.
The first bale of cotton of the 1922 crop was received in Bowie Wednesday evening of this week and was bought by Aaron Miller for the account of E. Daube & Co. The bale was raised by W. E. Nichols, 15 miles west of Bowie and in Clay county, and was ginned in Bellevue. Mr. Nichols states that the boll weevil is not bothering him in the least, only the dry weather and that he will make 50 bales of cotton.

A Birthday Party.

Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary.
Mrs. Robert Meyer was hostess to the women's auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Zwick.

The Bible study from the tenth chapter of Acts was made very interesting by the leader, Mrs. F. Montgomery, and after short song service and devotionals the meeting as turned over to the hostess for a social hour. Each guest had brought a little party gift. Mrs. R. Prealey, who has been a most faithful member for many years, and is now preparing to move to Dallas. This part of the program planned by Mrs. Meyer was a complete surprise to Mrs. Prealey, who appreciated very much the love and attention of her many friends. The pastor and his wife seemed to enjoy the surprise visit and will doubtless think sweet thoughts of the girls each morning at breakfast as they sample the various sweets.

Good Showing in Wells.
Considerable excitement prevails among Bowie citizens as well as the oil men this week. It was first brought about by the Potter well, three miles north of Bowie, striking the oil at 1200 feet, and when tested out was found to be a high grade of oil, but not sufficient for commercial purposes.

The Bowie Chief, four miles west of town, encountered a fine gas sand at 1202 feet. Eight and three-quarter inch casing is in the ground and will be set in cement at once, and after setting 15 days, the well will be drilled in. Plenty of cement will be used to insure a water shut-off. Everyone who has seen the well is confident it will be a big one.

This well was spudded in April 30 by C. W. Johnson, manager and trustee for the company, and sands were encountered at 615, 1269 and 1502 feet.

This well is visited every day by scores of oil men from all over the state. All agree that it will be a great gas well, and they are exhibiting their faith by purchasing acreage all around this lease.

The Summerour well, six miles south, is drilling around 1500 feet with a fine showing for oil. The manager, J. H. Hartwell, expects to strike plenty of oil in paying quantities within a week. Oil scouts from all sections are visiting all these wells every day, and don't hesitate to predict some big wells here soon.

Mrs. Clarke, representing the division, presented a silver pen-icil to Mrs. W. T. Willis, who is leaving to spend the winter in Washington. The hostesses served Russian salad and cinnamon sticks to the following: Mesdames T. F. Courtney, W. E. Spitzer, D. A. Wilcoxson, F. M. DeWitt, L. E. Bradley of Bowie, J. D. White, Lee Clark, J. E. Strong, J. W. Parker, J. C. Clayton, R. H. Stocks, W. T. Willis and J. C. Davis, Paul Pond and Cummins, guests.

The husband and six children survive.

The body was brought to Wichita Falls and forwarded by the Hines Undertaking company to Maude, Texas, for burial.

Kosse, Newest Oil Town, Mecca Of Thousands

KOSSE, TEX., Aug. 19.—With ten thousand visitors seeking a place to sleep after thronging the streets of this new oil field center, Kosse resembled a small boy with his father's big boots on, as one of the old times put it.

The Humphrey-Jones grusher, which unexpectedly came in Friday morning, was brought under control late Saturday after 18 hours of unrelenting flow over the derrick, and conservative estimates place the production at 15,000 barrels, with some estimates running as high as 20,000.

The price of leases shot upwards today. Some acreage about three-fourths of a mile from the Pioneer well brought $2,500 an acre. More rigs have been ordered. New locations will be made early next week.

Kosse is realizing it is entirely too small. The community has been getting along with cisterns and wells for its water. Automobiles brought many new citizens to the little town today, and sanitary conditions will be the first consideration of commercial organizations when they take up their problems Monday.

Wheeler Has Indian Sign on Buffs And Spudders Win Again

HOUSTON, Aug. 19.—Floyd Wheeler held the Buffs in the hollow of his hand here today and led the Spudders to a 4 to 0 victory in the second game of the series. The Spudders flinger allowed nine hits, but kept them well scattered while he failed to pass or hit an opposing batsman. The victory enabled the Buffs to maintain their one full game lead over the Panthers who were taking the Crabs to a cleaning in Galveston. It was Wheeler's twelfth consecutive win as a pitcher. Through the home clan turned in seven errors, only two were responsible for runs. The Wichlans scored twice on clean hits. The visitors, on the other hand, played a flawless defensive game. In fact the support scored Wheeler bordered on the sensational at times. "Bat" Summa led the day's onslaught with three hits, duplicating his performance of Friday. Two of them drove in runs and his sixth work was responsible for another tallie to sew up the contest as the score shows. The Spudders lost no time in breaking into the run column. They scored once in the opening round on a pass to Becher, two infield outs, Adams' steal of second base and Summa's timely blow. Again in the second, they pushed a run over on White's single and steal of second when they drove in runs with a wild throw by Bricek, the ball going through Whitman's center field. Then, in the seventh, they scored after taking third on Adams' sacrifice, counted on Summa's second pinch blow. Bailey put the visitors in a position to score their last run in the eighth when he fumbled Dicochiff's grounder. In the seventh, Bailey to second and he crossed the plate when Doyle threw Becher's hit too high to Denovilla. Wheeler pitched from a tight ball in the first when the first two men to face him singled, but the next three hitters were easy out. Whitman going out via the strike-out route. The first two Houston hitters in the sixth also hit safely and reached third and second before the second man was out, but one of them was sniped at the plate while the third man failed to Miller, in every other inning. Wheeler's complete mastery of the situation.

WOOD AND RUSSELL GOOD EXAMPLES OF COMEBACKS

By BILLY EVANS. "They never come back" was once an accepted slogan in the sport world. "They seldom come back" would be perhaps a more accurate one, for every now and then some athlete regarded as a has-been finds the expert.

After Joe Wood, once a star twirler of the American league, was pronounced through as a pitcher he showed enough hitting and fielding ability to win him a berth as a big league outfielder. Wood has been through as a pitcher for six or seven years, but he still is drawing salary as an outfielder with the Cleveland club. Perhaps the latest example of the theory that they do come back occasionally is "Reb" Russell. His second rise to big league honors might be labeled from the "garage to the majors."

Hitler Like Sixty. The former star pitcher of the Chicago White Sox is now playing a brilliant outfield for the Pittsburgh team and hitting them "a la" Cobb, Sisler or Hornsby.

With thirty games to go, Homer Summa of Wichita Falls has to average a hit a game to tie the Texas league lead. He has been average in the season set last year by Clarence Kraft. Through Wednesday's games Summa's super-hitter held his league leadership with a figure of .362.

Ezzell of Shreveport was but one short of the number of stolen bases with which Fred Heffly led the loop last season, the Gasser having pilfered 51. Kraft has apparently hung up on the 23 mark in home runs and tops the circuit in batting in runs.

MANN PASSES BUCK TO JUDGE LANDIS

Cardinal Player Prefers to Let Commissioner Give Out Statement.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—Leslie Mann of the St. Louis Nationals named by "Shufflin" Phil Douglas as the player to whom he wrote offering to desert the New York Giants, when pressed for a supplementary statement this afternoon, stated he preferred to have Commissioner Landis announce to whom the letter was sent. Triana emphatically denied, however, that he had had a telephone conversation with Douglas, as claimed by the latter.

Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals said he had no comment to make on the statement of Douglas.

Mann has been in major league baseball since 1915 when he joined the Boston Nationals, after having been with Nebraska City, Buffalo and Seattle. Subsequently he played with the Chicago Cubs before coming to St. Louis in 1921, as a teammate of Douglas. Mann, in the winter, is assistant director of athletics at Indiana University and formerly held similar position at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas.

Bill Daniels and E. V. Leslie tied for the weekly trophy at the weekly shoot last Friday with 48 breaks out of a possible 60. It has been several weeks since Joe Pate, Al Deatherage and others were knocked out of first place. It has been several weeks since Joe Pate, Al Deatherage and Leslie were in rare form as is testified by the fact that they dropped only two birds. The shoot was a registered event. Joe Pate led the field in the doubles with 42 out of 24 pairs.

"Doc" London beat Kiddy out for the trophy of two weeks ago by two birds, breaking 42 out of 50. The following scores were made Friday: Daniels 48, Leslie 48, Pate 47, Deatherage 46, Greenberg 44, Dempsey 43, Baker 42, Cooper 42, Grooms 42, Nabb 41, Bowen 41, London 41, L. St. Louis Still Holds Monopoly On Hitting Honors In the Majors

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Charley Hill, pitcher, captain of the Chicago Cubs, has struck a batting stride which has swung his teammates in line with the hustling little shortstop, and as a result the club, picked by a majority of experts to finish fourth in the second division, is up in third place and battling the leaders, according to the averages released today and which include Wednesday's game. SEVERAL MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF RAIN FALLS HERE

COMES IN TIME TO SAVE MUCH OF COTTON CROP IN THIS VICINITY.

BREAKS DROUGHT OF SIX WEEKS DURATION

More Than Inch of Precipitation is Recorded over Wide Section.

Several million dollars' worth of rain fell in Wichita Falls and vicinity Saturday.

Valued in terms of the 21-cent cotton it saved, the live stock for which it prepared the ground for plowing and the oil whose production it made possible, the rainfall's value to Wichita Falls was well up in the millions.

The Wichitans who had, earlier in the day, seen the mercury venture to the 103 degree mark, would have welcomed the rain no less cheerfully if its cash valuation had been negligible.

The rain broke a six weeks' drought in Wichita Falls, except for one nominal shower; the country around, however, especially to the south, had seen several showers recently that missed Wichita Falls.

While some of the cotton in this vicinity had already succumbed to the dry weather, the rain was in time to make a big part of the crop.

The storm moved in from the southeast shortly after 6 o'clock and after the first part passed over the city a strong wind set in from the southwest and blew with it several other storms that had been hanging in that horizon during the afternoon.

The southwest wind brought in a cloud of dust that gave the entire sky a sick yellowish complexion. It was but a few minutes, however, until the dust had been beaten down by the big heavy drops that fell during the first ten minutes.

According to reports received by local railroad dispatchers, the rain was general throughout the district. The K. & T. as well as the telephone and telegraph companies lost several wires during the storm, which brought with it quite an electrical disturbance.

The M. & T. railroad company had one wire through as far as Alton and agents along the line reported rain. The K. & T. as well as the telephone and telegraph companies lost several wires during the storm, which brought with it quite an electrical disturbance.

The rain Saturday night was the first good rain in six weeks. The last rain had come after a long dry spell so that the ground was very dry and was welcomed by everyone.

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS 2 COUNTIES TO HOLD PARTY

REYNOLDS, TEXAS, Aug. 19.—A "Get Acquainted-Coming Out Party" will be held on Beaver creek in the north part of Baylor county on August 22 and 23 by the women of the Home Demonstration clubs of Baylor and Wilbarger counties and some interesting things have been planned for the occasion. This joint meeting has been arranged by home demonstration agents, Miss Halsey of Baylor county and Miss Goodfellow of Wilbarger county.

Specialists from the extension service of the A. and M. college will be present and take part in the program, and Mrs. Ruby M. Warren of Claude will also assist in the entertaining features of the occasion.

While the clubs were arranging the meet which is to be entirely informal, every one is invited, each group bringing its own camping outfit. Those going from Baylor county should meet at the W. F. Woodrum ranch, two miles north of Seymour, early Friday morning of the 25th, and campers from Broken Bow should meet at the home of Mrs. J. W. Woodrum on Saturday morning so that all visitors in attendance may return to their respective homes in time to vote in the run-off primary elections.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people were getting in look and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuzated Iron for two weeks; the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many persons who started this "restoration or money back" offer on Nuzated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money.

DEMOCRATS LACKING IN LEADERSHIP TO MAKE MOST OF OPPORTUNITIES

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, August 19.—Two weeks ago the writer of these articles talked about the present lack of leadership in the republican party. For that purpose he used as his text certain old letters of Mark Hanna's recently published. This week it is the purpose to talk about the lack of leadership in the democratic party.

As for this week's purpose also, the text is to be found in certain letters recently published. The letters in the present case are by no means old. They are the letters of a democrat, Franklin Lane, who was a member of Wilson's cabinet. Mr. Lane's correspondence is now being published in the current numbers of the World's Work magazine. Some of those quoted here are as recent as last year, 1921.

Before quoting or considering Mr. Lane's more specific allusions to democratic leadership, it is interesting to pick out one sentence in which he alludes, not to a democrat, but to one who is today a member of President Harding's republican cabinet, namely, Mr. Hoover. Lane, in one of his letters, had been talking about the defeat of Clemenceau, and the lack of constructive statesmanship in Europe. Turning to America, he said: "I can see no evidence of constructive statesmanship on this side the water, excepting in Hoover."

This allusion to Hoover will occasion wide range of emotion among democrats who ponder on what might have been. Up to March 1, 1921, the democrats thought Hoover was their man. From the fact that he had been a member of the Wilson administration, they looked for greater things. From the fact that he was a democrat, and made some extremely important calculations based on that assumption, it is not too much to say that if Hoover, on the date mentioned, had not made that famous announcement that he was a republican, but had either announced himself a democrat, or remained silent on the subject, in that event it is not too much to say Hoover might have been the democratic nominee for the presidency instead of Coolidge. In that event, indeed, there would have been some possibility of Hoover being the present president of the United States, and a decidedly greater possibility—very real possibility, indeed—of his being the next president of the United States.

However, so far as the leadership for the democratic party is concerned, that is all over the dam. A good many democrats wish it were not over the dam. Still, other democrats couple their emotions of regret with emotions of a more violent character, and the individual who made that regret inevitable, namely, Hoover himself. When the democrats reflect on what they might have been able to do, if they had Hoover, their emotions are entertaining, even if not especially consistent with a Christian spirit. Someone the other day said that the democrats ought to do something about it—ought to do something in the way of a lawsuit, something in the way of a suit against the stolen property—a replevin suit, or some sort of search and seizure process of law, or possibly a suit against the republicans for seduction or alienation of affections. A whimsical person might suggest that a good democratic lawyer to manage such a suit would be Jim Reed of Missouri.

However, to come more directly to what Mr. Lane said, and to the additional things that can be said, about democratic leadership, or rather about the lack of democratic leadership:

"It is a disheartening time," Lane wrote. "Wilson a wreck and beaten, Clemenceau beaten and out, and now Venezuela gone. And little men take their places."

Leaving the broad question of world leadership and coming directly to the question of leadership for the democratic party here in America, Lane, writing with the frankness of a private letter, said:

"Look over the nation and see how short was (the democratic party) are of talent of any kind. It (the democratic party) may be an opposition party, but it has no force, no will, no self-confidence. It hopes for a miracle, vainly hopes. It cannot gather twenty first-rate minds in the nation to make a program for the party. I tried it the other day—men interested in political affairs, outside congress—Dory it yourself. Get twenty big enough to draft a national program of legislation for the party."

In a letter written to Frank Cobb, editor of the New York World, Lane said:

Look Just Plain Brains. "This morning you chide the republicans for not having a program. Good God, man, why so particular? What program have they? Will we just oppose vote 'nay' to all they propose? That way insures 20 years as 'outs'—and we won't give a list of what we would do, just plain brains. We have a slushy, sentimental democracy, but don't have men who can concretely feel and feel policy, if you know what that means."

This idea of getting together a group of eminent democrats for the purpose of supplying the lack of individual personal leadership, and for the purpose of making the party program, stood in Lane's head. In a letter written to the editor of the World's Work magazine, he said:

At the head of his list Mr. Lane put Charles W. Eliot, the venerable ex-president of Harvard university. Doubtless Mr. Eliot will be a little surprised to find himself named in a list of "democratic leaders" or even in a list of men to be brought together to lay down a program for the democratic party. Doubtless Mr. Eliot, as a believer in the league of nations, voted for Cox in 1920, but he would probably hesitate to permit himself to be classified as a "democratic leader." However, Dr. Eliot as he stands today, at the age of eighty-seven, with the fruits of his long experience garnered and stored away and with his power of reflection and expression at its best, is prominently and indisputably one of the greatest figures now on the surface of the earth. If he could be got to "sit in" with any gathering, to lay down a program for any political party whatever, it would be such an asset as no other political party in any country whatever has.

The next man on Mr. Lane's list was Benjamin Ide Wheeler, editor of the University of California.

From these two men of thought, Mr. Lane passed to persons more actively identified with the party. His next name was Colonel House, whose appointment is easily obvious.

The next was Frank Cobb, editor of the New York World, whom Lane wanted in for his writing ability. To contribute to the list, Lane named John W. Davis. To contribute "conservative democracy," he named ex-Secretary of State Robert Lansing. Two others in the list were named, he said, "for cleverness." One of these was Van Lear Black, the owner of the Baltimore Sun, and the other, George McNab, who is one of the democratic leaders in California. When Lane said that he wanted these two in the group "for cleverness," he doubtless had in mind Mr. Black's resourcefulness in the carrying out of large ideas, and Mr. McNab's energy in political campaigns. In the campaign of 1916, in which Wilson carried California (and thereby won the election) and even carried Washington, and came within six thousand votes of carrying Oregon—in that campaign, McNab was the democratic manager for the Pacific coast.

Another name on Lane's list was that of Governor John M. Parker of Louisiana. Lane wanted Parker, he said, "for progressiveness." Parker was one of Roosevelt's principal assistants in the old progressive party. Other names on Lane's list were E. Walton Moore, congressman from Virginia; James D. Phelan, at that time senator from California; Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana; Richard Hooper, editor of the Springfield Republican.

Lane put this list, and his suggestion for a program to be made out by these men, up to George White, who was then (last year) chairman of the democratic party. White, for some reason, never acted on it. Doubtless Lane thought that White was not sufficiently energetic, and thereafter Lane predicted—truthfully, as it turned out—that "George White will be eaten up first thing he knows, unless he moves."

Suggestion Good Today. "It was only last year—in January 1921—that Lane wrote the letters and made this suggestion. The suggestion is as good today as it was then, and the need is even greater. The democrats are in a position of looking in a constructive program now as they were before the present session of congress began. And this lack of a program is the more serious because the party is within three months of the time when they will ask the country to turn the government over to them—and they haven't yet given the country any program or any other reason for taking the government away from the republicans. About the only thing the democrats have presented to the country is the thing which Lane predicted—and deplored—as their probable course, namely, opposition merely. Opposition is not a sufficient program for any party. As Lane said in his letter of advice to Cox, shortly after the latter was nominated, "Chiefly, be for things."

So that the nation can visualize some leading in a contest between constructive forces and the destructive critical forces, the nation is crying out for leadership, not pussy-footing nor pandering. Be wrong strongly if you must be wrong, rather than be rightly weakly."

It is in his letters to Lane, in a more facetious mood, departed from his serious reflections about the need of a program and the need of leadership, in the present case, and talked of another need, which is just as important, namely, the need of an organizer. On this point Lane, putting it into the form of a want ad, wrote:

"Wanted—A miracle man who can overcome a majority of seven million votes with a hearty handshake and a warm brow, a man who must be a hypnotist who can make the people forget a few things and believe a few things that are not true. He must be a man who can give a list of the names of the poets to make the cunning capitalist see that he is safer in the hands of the democrats than elsewhere, and at the same time make the worker by a pass of the hand to know that it is decent to stay bought. Must have received the gift of democracy from the east coast, so as to talk Yiddish in New York; Portuguese and Gaelic in Massachusetts; Russian and German in Chicago; and a knowledge of the north-west, cotton and Calhoun in the south; John Brown and wheat in Kansas; gold and Murphy on the coast; and Jesus and transi- Jesus; Christ into bolshevism, individualism, capitalism, Lodgeism, Wilsonism; must be as honest as old Grover and as clear of purpose as Abraham Lincoln."

In all seriousness, there was never such a need as the democratic party has for one good, active organizer of the sort mentioned, described by Mr. Lane in the preceding program, and in addition, one good leader in the world of thought, of the sort mentioned by Mr. Wilson was. And it is not merely a need for the democratic party, but a need for the country as well. It is quite possible that for the democrats to take control of congress away from the republicans at the coming November elections; but to take control of the whole government, including the presidency, two years from now, that latter is quite within the possibilities is easily evident to anyone who has knowledge of the country's political situation. It is not merely a need for the country as well, but a need for the country as well. THE HUSBAND SPEAKS Think of me, love, as one who aye is right; I'll know the opposite with all my might; But never, always right, I'd surely be; Were I convinced you fully trusted me.

Think of me, dear, as one who cannot fail; As one whose strength and wisdom meet prevail; Though all my human weaknesses I know, Much farther plus your confidence I'd go.

Believe in me; your loving faith I need; To help me win for you your glorious meed; I know my faults, your faith cannot deceive; But trust me, sweet; I need that you believe.

KATHLEEN NORRIS Woman to Woman Talks

WOULD YOU MARRY YOUR HUSBAND OVER AGAIN? By KATHLEEN NORRIS "America's Most Popular Woman's Writer for Women"

"Let us suppose," said my friend, "that the government declared every marriage that has taken place in America in the last twenty years invalid, and forbid any re-marrying for three months. How many women do you think would go back to the same husband?"

We had been talking of marriage and divorce a subject upon which I have been having some unusually grave thoughts since an article of mine about marriage was printed several weeks ago. The fact had been of letters about that article, most of them from unhappy wives. The letters have come from every state in the union, except one. It makes me feel extremely serious, this mass of mail. I wonder what the percentage of completely happy marriages is, anyway? I know there is no such thing as a completely happy marriage, but how many are eighty per cent. successful?

Because, of course, no life is a hundred per cent. perfect. We have only to look about us to begin with the "bats" and the "rats" and find us all in, in this singularly bewildering world.

There is no Perfect Husband. "They're tremendously rich, but," of course, she has everything, but," "we'd be completely satisfied. How they pile up, and how often, obscuring the lives of the rich, the successful, the fortunate and beautiful women we know, we often women say truthfully: "But I don't change places with her for anything in the world."

As a matter of fact, the more you learn about such women the less you are apt to envy them. Their maids don't envy them, their lawyers and doctors and trained nurses don't envy them.

"You never know any one so utterly wretched," say these confidential advisers frankly, "ever since her deafness has been coming on; ever since she divorced; ever since they lost that lovely child."

Or they tell us of the terrible nervous disease bred of too much ease and idleness, the jealousies, the wretched fancies, the empty days and aimless brains, and my goodness, tell us, the newspapers do, or the old widow worth a million and the young actress in the height of her success, all as themselves, we often say it is perhaps a waste of time to look for the perfect marriage, the perfect husband, the perfect home. Some women merely approach the ideal more nearly than others, that is all. Some may safely on the side of success; hundreds and thousands of others frankly fail.

Some Appalling Facts. However, when I read these letters, I wonder if marriage, by the very nature of its law, isn't a little more predestined to failure than almost any other human institution. There are some facts that indicate that it is.

There are, to begin with, the appalling figures of our divorce courts; one marriage in seven reaches the divorce courts.

Then there is, for every divorced woman, at least one other woman who for secondary reasons will not ask for a divorce and prefers to sacrifice her life rather than pay the price of freedom.

Then there are the countless women whose religion make divorce a solution only to be considered at almost any other human institution. The divorced, for certain grave causes, but never remarried, but it is extremely rare for a Catholic woman to ask for release from marriage vows. And there are many women who believe that, as Catholics, they should be married, and who seem to have brought the same of the sacredness of marriage down through the ages—as a legacy, perhaps from the days when all the Christian world was Catholic.

Why Many Women Divorce Marriage? And then there are working women and professional women—a group, alas! that is growing enormously and steadily larger—who simply evade marriage because the sight of all the wreckage of married love about them appeals to them as well it may.

I know one woman in this class and if she were the only one, yet I would feel the world infinitely poorer for the loss of this ideal wife and mother.

"No," she said to me a few weeks ago, when we were considering the claims of one of the finest of men, "I don't dare. I'm happy now, but my apartment, and my summer camp, and my friends, I won't marry except with the hope of children and how dare I risk finding myself in a few years with children, the independence gone, perhaps my health and nerves temporarily gone." And she began to recount the list of troubles of her friends. The

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR ALFRED BOOTH THURSDAY

Alfred Booth Jr. was about the happiest little fellow in town yesterday evening when a number of his little friends met at his home to wish him his third birthday. The children were each given a paper hat when they arrived, and favors of duck balloons to be blown up were presented to the older ones and rubber dolls to the tiny tots. Games were played on the lawn. In the donkey game Jane Clayton won the girl's prize, a pretty fan, while Frank Quinlan, the lucky boy, winning a pop gun.

The birthday cake with its three lighted candles was then cut and served with ice cream to Billy Kemp, Barbara Bernard, Martha Frances, Walter Horn, Robert Priddy, Jack Quinlan, Myra McManan, Harold Spence, Joe Hoffman, Elmer and Catherine Smith, Betty and Catherine Kelley, Margaret and Elsie Ruth Ross, David Langston, Camp May, Charlotte Mear, John Robins, Billy and Dan Maxson, Billy and John Thomas, Jane Sue Joyce, Frank Quinlan, J. L. Jackson Jr., Kitty Ruth Jackson, and Elizabeth Constance Booth and Alfred Booth.

There are relations to this and story of failure, of course. But the main cause of it is economic. The wife is debarred at home, she has no means of self-expression...

These are reasons for all this, of course. For generations the wife has been only an appendage to the husband's possessions—her life at best merely a sort of auxiliary and reflection of his, her pleasure only what he allowed her, and her money a child's spending money...

What is the answer? Women of America, what is the answer? Given our mortal stupidity and imperfections, what better can we do? Surely, surely, we can go on this way, letting our friends, and our code, and worst of all, the children of the nation, pay for our mistakes.

One mistake we make, I think, is in believing that anything else in the world is so important as children, homes and husbands. Our affection has run a little slant-wise on these points, and we are moving along with our customary rapidity, but not quite toward the real goal.

KATHLEEN MORRIS SAYS Let us suppose that the government declared every marriage that had taken place in America in the last twenty years invalid, and forbade any remarriage for three months...

It is a wonder of time to look for the perfect marriage, the perfect husband, the perfect home. Some women merely approach the ideal more nearly than others, that is all. Some stay safely on the side of success, hundreds and thousands of others flounder.

For generations the wife has been only an appendage of the husband's possessions—her life at best merely a sort of auxiliary and reflection of his, her pleasure only what he allowed her, and her money a child's spending money...

It is astonishing, all the strains of soul and body considered, that women, exercising from four to five years of marriage disillusioned, abandoned, heartbroken, and even more looking about her for her own work, her own place, her own individual right to happiness and service!

to outline a few experiments that could be made very simply in some of our towns and villages, and that would, I do truly believe, go a long way toward solving the problem of seven-tenths of our unhappy marriages. And it would be the supremely advantageous solution for the small children, too.

This is one of a series of Women to Woman Talks on present day family and social problems that Mrs. Morris, America's best loved and most popular woman writer, is writing especially for this newspaper. Another talk will be printed next Sunday.

MOVIE CALENDAR FOR THE WEEK AT LOCAL THEATRES

All Star Cast in 7-Reel Comedy Strand Monday

"Too Much Business," which will be shown at the Strand theater on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday is an adaptation of the Saturday Evening Post story by Earl Derr Biggers, author of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and other Broadway successes. He is also the author of the George Arliss picture "The Ruling Passion" and "Fifty Candles."

The cast includes such well known players as Edward Morton, who makes his first appearance upon the screen after a long and successful run in dramatic stock. He has a big following in Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Portland, Me., Portland, Ore., Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Elmira and Los Angeles, where he is appearing in stock.

Edith Gray Terry plays opposite Mr. Morton. She was born in Oakland, California, and educated in Boston. Her stage career consists of an engagement with Belasco in "The Lily," and two seasons as lead in "The Smouldering Flame," and "The Penalty," "Habit," and "The Breaking Point." Other noted actors appear in the cast.

"Nanook of the North," Here is a picture that defies classification and beggars description. "Nanook of the North" is the latest photoplay, what water is to parched, feverish lips. It can revive the steepest interest, so full is it of vitality, beauty and truth.

"Nanook of the North," which comes to the Strand Thursday for three days is a story from life, not the hectic nightmare of a scenario writer. It is set in the glacial wastes of the North, a background of studio sets. There are no artificialities and no untruths for "Nanook of the North" was produced and photographed by Robert J. Flaherty, explorer, discoverer and engineer, at the top of the world, or more exactly, 800 miles North of the last road, on the East coast of Hudson Bay.

It is a stark, starting disclosure of the only life and love known to the Eskimo, a race of people that endures the greatest hardships known only the rigorous climate and has the least of any in the world—and yet is the happiest!

Added to the interest that is compelled by the fortitude and skill of the Eskimo and the real drama in their life, is awe and admiration for the beauty of the scenery and Mr. Flaherty's remarkable snow photography. "Nanook of the North" is not one of those films seen and forgotten. It can be seen twice and remembered always.

May McAvoy Is Coming to the Empress Monday
There are several big gulps in the throat in "Through a Glass Window," a Realart picture starring May McAvoy, which comes to the Empress Monday and Tuesday, but perhaps the biggest one comes when the little heroine works all night to make paper flowers and transforms for a sick mother a scolded tenement backyard into a semblance of country beauty.

And then comes a laugh when the mother, happily recovered, makes one of a party which dwells in a vegetable wagon for a day at the beach with roller coasters, merry-go-rounds, and similar concomitants.

So it goes through the entire picture, a May McAvoy starring vehicle for Famous Players-Lasky. There is a delightful interlarded of pathos and comedy, smiling through tears, so to speak. Miss McAvoy sustains her reputation and she is assisted by a capable cast including Raymond McKee, Fannie Midgley, Burwell Hamrick, Fred Turner, Corrie Clark Ward, Wade Boteler and Russ Powell. Otto Pustalan wrote the story while Maurice Campbell directed.

"The Truthful Lie," Appearing in a decidedly different characterization from those in which she has achieved prominence as a star, Wanda Hawley works heavily in "The Truthful Lie," her latest Realart picture distributed by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, which comes to the Empress Wednesday and Thursday.

STRAND STARTING MONDAY

SCENE FROM "TOO MUCH BUSINESS"
"Too Much Business" is a delightful comedy of business and babies. One of the most amusing features of the whole piece is the group of children who appear in some of the most humorous bits. These little tots entered into the spirit of the play and proved to be admirable comedians. Above, several of them are shown besieging Ames Camby, played by the famous character actor Tully Marshall, who is largely responsible for the fact that "Too Much Business" stands out as one of the funniest comedies of the year.

Connie Talmadge Is Attraction at Olympic Monday

Constance Talmadge has as many roles as a female impersonator in her latest First National attraction, "Polly of the Follies," which is coming to the Olympic Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. In the fast moving story the action carries the star from one phase of life to another with such rapidity that her different costumes almost resemble a composite of the world's latest fashion moods, with one exception. The exception is in the opening scenes which show Miss Talmadge as a gingham gowned country girl. From that unassuming opening she rapidly becomes a star of amateur theatricals wearing the gowns of Broadway's latest creations with calm nonchalance. From the Broadway accoutrements she drifts to a lurid colored creation of silk and satin that mark society's standard in the fashionable benefit given for charity.

With her introduction to Mr. Bio Biogard and his beauty cheer, Miss Talmadge reverts to her gorgeous costumes of Cleopatra, supported by 50 pounds of beads and a magnificent headpiece of jewels and ornaments. The barbaric splendor of the costume is accentuated by the glittering arm bands and ank bracelets.

"Polly of the Follies" was prepared for production with Constance Talmadge as the star by John Emerson and Anita Loos and is said to be one of the liveliest comedies that the popular screen artist has ever had. The cast included Kenneth Harlan, who has been Miss Talmadge's leading man in several of her recent pictures and George Fawcett, noted character actor.

"If You Believe It, It's So" The story that George Loane Tucker was working on when he died, and which he had hoped would be a successor to "The Miracle Man," is Tom Meighan's new Paramount picture, "If You Believe It, It's So," which will be shown at the Olympic Thursday to Saturday.

The purchase of this story was in line with Paramount's policy of getting only the biggest stories and plays for Mr. Meighan. Tom Forman directed "If You Believe It, It's So," and George Loane Tucker had selected this story as his next production.

MONDAY AT THE OLYMPIC

Constance Talmadge and Kenneth Harlan in "Polly of the Follies"

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" at the Gem Wednesday

Seventy years have passed since "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was given to the world in book form, and in those 70 years the theme has been converted into plays, which have been seen all over the world by many millions of people. Probably "Ten Nights in a Barroom" is more familiar to the general public than any other book or play, with the possible exception of the Bible, and so the L. Case Russell photographic version of the drama, which will be seen at the Gem theater on Wednesday, is certain to attract enormous audiences. Everybody who has seen it will see it and they ought to. Counting heads, at least a quarter of the population of Providence, R. I., Woonsocket, Pawtucket, Lawrence, Mass., not to mention Reading, Pa.; Newark, N. J.; Boston, Altona, Utica, Toronto, Philadelphia, and it's quite fair to estimate that at least that number will see this picture.

Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 24 to October 4, Wichita Falls.—Adv.

Marie Prevost at Majestic Monday, Gloria Wednesday

"Don't Get Personal," is of the sparkling quality that is bound to make it popular with any audience, and then the star Marie Prevost is one of the most attractive young women on the screen, as well as one of the most talented. Miss Prevost has the same genuine magnetism that prevails in the personality of Gloria Swanson, plus a mischievous smile that makes her always on the verge of a flirtation.

The story of this production is very interesting, partly from the nature of its plot, which causes the pretty heroine to take pity on a less charming sister, and fight a vaup with the deadliest of vauping weapons, that the other may retain her lover unharmed.

Miss Prevost will be seen in "Don't Get Personal" at Majestic theatre Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday, Gloria Swanson will be seen in "Station Content," which is positively a first run production in Wichita Falls, and one of the most thrilling railroad stories ever screened and is packed with thrills. Miss Swanson never worked harder in her career than in this picture, and all her admirers will be pleased with her part, and those who love railroad stories, where the heroine saves the limited train from running into the burning trestle, and other thrills that go with a good railroad drama, will be swept out of their seats with this one.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

SIGNS WILL APPEAR ON NEW IDEAL HIGHWAY

The newest ideas in road building equipment are to be embodied in restricted section of the Lincoln highway as a model for future construction. The Lincoln highway commission sent out 4,000 questionnaires to highway engineers, geologists, botanists, landscape architects, and landscape engineers, asking for suggestions. From the volume of advice thus obtained, a section has been planned, to be one and a half miles in length, thirty-two miles south of Chicago. The section will be 100 feet wide, affording ample room for four lanes of travel, an average of 15,000 passenger automobiles every 24 hours. The speed will be 35 miles an hour, and also will be accommodation for 4,000 motor trucks at ten miles an hour. It will be provided for foot paths.

The show place on the highway will be paved with concrete to a thickness of 10 inches. It is to be artistically drained, the courses submerged. There is much difference of opinion among engineers as to the plan of lighting the way at night, but it has been decided to light this part adequately. Throughout the section there will be no grade crossing. All crossing it will be carried underground.

This section is to be laid out as straight as possible. No curve will be permitted with a radius of less than 1,000 feet. The sign which is to serve as a model for the rest of the highway and of all in general will have no advertising signs displayed along its border.

There will be adequate signs giving direction along this section and in turn will be carefully designed and standardized. It also is planned to establish camp sites for motorists. These will be supplied with water, with shelters, running water and equipment for cooking, after the best models.

An automobile shaft lock prevents the automobile from rolling back on grades.

Clearance is necessary between the stem and the rocker arm or adjusting screw so that when the cam relates to the position where the valve is supposed to be closed, it is actually closed firmly and tightly by the valve spring.

OAKLAND AVERAGES 21.76 MILES PER GALLON ON TRIP

The Oakland car covered the total 2,111 miles in the recent Michigan Pike association tour around Lake Michigan on 97 gallons of gasoline or an average of 21.76 miles per gallon. This information is contained in a report of the entire trip by W. W. Lyons of the Oakland Motor Car company.

"At the end of the first 1,000 miles, I drained the oil from the crankcase," reads the report in part. "Before draining I measured the amount in the crankcase and was unable to add any to bring it to the level mark. In other words, the level gauge showed full at the end of 1,000 miles. At the end of trip I measured the oil and was unable to add any. The gauge registered full."

"During the entire trip it was not necessary to add any water, and, in fact, I did not have the radiator cap off during the entire trip until the finish, at which time I was able to add three bins of water to the radiator."

"It was not necessary at any time to make any mechanical adjustment on the motor or tighten any part of the chassis or car."

The pace maker on the tour set a pace of 35 miles an hour when the roads permitted. As the Oakland was the 18th car in line it was necessary to run above 45 miles an hour at all times. At some places the Oakland ran from 55 to 58 miles an hour to keep in line. Many rough roads were encountered, particularly the 75 mile stretch between Marquette and St. Ignace composed of heavy sand, which often came as high as the running board.

Stops were made at 27 different towns, which did not include the regular stops for meals and for the night. The Oakland encountered no tire trouble during the entire trip and the only work done on the car was the lubrication of universal joints, front and rear wheel bearings, distributor and generator.

"It was not necessary at any time to make any mechanical adjustment on the motor or tighten any part of the chassis or car."

REDUCING AIR PRESSURE AS PRESCRIBED LEADS TO EARLY TIRE FAILURE

A motorist can easily settle for himself the question whether he should equip his car with oversize pneumatic tires. Only two considerations are involved and the problem is by no means a difficult one. One of the elements for consideration is the weight the tires are called on to carry and the other relates to the degree of inflation at which the motorist prefers to use his tires.

Car manufacturers usually apply as original equipment tires of a size sufficiently large to meet the load weights when equipped with standard accessories and carrying a full complement of passengers. To support this load, however, it is necessary to maintain the full inflation pressure as recommended for the size of tire used.

With respect to the weight of the load, it is surprising how rapidly extra car equipment such as spare tires, bumpers and other accessories run up the load the tire is called on to carry.

With this added weight and the addition of an extra passenger or two occasionally, the tires are soon carrying a load that is much in excess of the load the car manufacturer originally figured on when he determined the original tire size to be used.

On the subject of inflation it has been found that car owners in their desire for greater riding comfort are prone to reduce the air pressure in their tires, running them much below the pressure recommended by the tire manufacturer, a practice which leads to early tire failure.

If a car is subject to frequent overloading, oversize tires should be used, according to the technical service department of the United States Tire company. Moreover to do away with the operation of underinflated tires and to enable the car owner to gain the maximum comfort possible consistent with good tire mileage, it is necessary to use oversize tires that are capable of carrying the car load at a lower proportional pressure.

It is clear that if it were not possible for the car owner to obtain a lower size tire to fit the size of rim with which his car is equipped, his problem of tire mileage would be a serious one. The tire manufacturer has recognized this problem and has produced an oversize tire for each size of rim, thus enabling him to equip his car with oversize tires for the extra load.

Caution exists where the single oversize of tires is not sufficient to meet the extra loads. In that case

IT IS NECESSARY THAT HE EITHER REDUCE HIS LOAD OR CHANGE HIS WHEELS AND RIMS TO MAKE POSSIBLE THE DOUBLE OVERSIZING OF HIS TIRES.

As to the use of oversize tires for Ford and cars of that class, it is exceedingly important that oversize tires be used, for these cars operate very close to the maximum capacity of the sizes furnished as original equipment. A change from fabric to cord tires will usually meet the need of oversizing in this class.

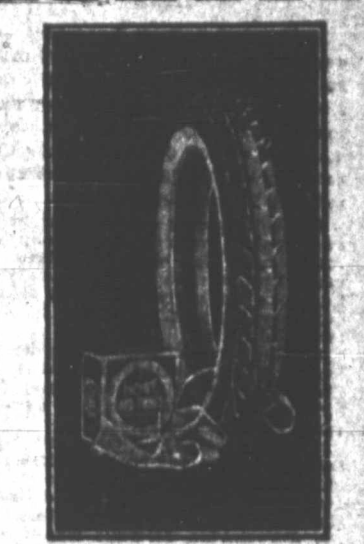

The car owner who intends to do any repainting work will do well to see that all exposed, all holes are stuffed with felt or waste to prevent their being painted over and becoming choked. The latter condition will result in the failure of the oil to reach the bearings when the car is again being run.

WE'RE TRAVELING FAST AND FURIOUS IN MODERN AGES

How to keep three important engagements in one day—one of them at a distance of 200 miles by rail from the other two—was a problem that W. R. Tracy, assistant sales manager of the Oakland Motor Car company of Pontiac, was called upon to solve Wednesday August 23.

He had planned engagements with two dealers who were already en route from far distant points to meet him at the factory at Pontiac, one to arrive early Wednesday morning and the other late in the afternoon.

In the meantime, he received word from the Oakland branch in Cleveland that it was necessary for him to be in Cleveland to sign a lease on Wednesday.

And he solved it. He met the dealer who arrived early Wednesday morning, traveled by automobile to Detroit where he just made connections on the Buckeye Airplane of the Akron-Cleveland Airways which left at 9:00 o'clock for Cleveland. He arrived back in Detroit on an airplane of the same company at 8:20 p. m. and having wired ahead to have the dealer wait at Pontiac for him, transacted business with him that evening.

NEW REO PHAETON DISTINGUISHED BY STYLISH DESIGN

Definitely the new Reo phaeton assumes a commanding position among the motor cars," says Mr. Fritz of the Fritz Motor company. "Stylish it is to a high degree, yet with a style designed to the dictates of every-day good taste rather than the conspicuousness of the show room. It is a car exactly suited to the fancy that rebels at the Henry, but seeks distinguished refinement."

"A study of the new phaeton reveals lower and narrower lines of design; finer upholstering and fitting; a range of equipment including with the most advanced requirements. No detail of comfort and convenience has been overlooked in this superb model."

"Motor car performance begins with the motor. The phaeton is powered by the great-running Reo six-cylinder motor—the best known engine of its size and for its purpose in the world. It will maintain same speed desired, quickly and easily. It will climb the grades and pull through the heavy spots without overhauling. And it will draw from trouble longer than most engines, especially the common troubles due to carbon."

"Good qualities in this new Reo phaeton are more than skin deep. Underneath the handsome exterior is the famous Reo chassis stoutly made and with an inner extra firm to tilt it is one of the most important of the recent price changes as it establishes a new low mark for fine six-cylinder cars, such as the Chalmers has always been," says a Dealer of Bemrod Auto Supply company.

"The policy of the organization now producing the Chalmers Six has been to make the car an outstanding value. Under the conditions that have prevailed for the past year, the value of the Chalmers has been very pronounced."

"But the new price puts it practically in a class by itself. It is the lowest price that has ever been placed on a car at all to be compared with the Chalmers Six. The Chalmers has been developed greatly in the past year and in its six-cylinder possibilities have been brought to new heights of performance."

"This coupled with its extraordinary good looks have won it an ever-widening circle of admirers. The new price makes it available to a still greater number of people who appreciate a really fine six-cylinder car."

CHALMERS SIX IS REDUCED TO $1185

KNOWLEDGE FOR CAR OWNERS

Interesting and Important Facts That Every Motorist Should Know.

To get a clearance will cause the engine to become noisy. Running on stired car tracks is injurious to tires and will soon break them down.

The quickest way to clean a motor is by spraying it with gasoline or preferably kerosene.

Greasy deposits that have accumulated on brass castings can be cleaned off by boiling in lye or potash.

Rewindy springs should be soaked in gasoline before oil is inserted between the leaves to get the best results.

Pipeclay acts as a preservative of rubber and makes one of the best mediums for treating rubber maul used in the automobile.

In gravity feed gasoline systems, air must enter the tank to replace the gasoline as it is used.

When it is impossible to locate the trouble with a heating engine, look to the hose and see that it is in good condition, as in time the hose conditions collapse.

Valve tappets should be carefully adjusted at least once a season using a feeler gauge and setting the clearance exact.

When replacing a tube on the road, extreme care should be taken to keep it out of the dust, as small particles of dust will cling to the rubber, which in time will cause the tube to go into fine pin holes, due to the sand rubbing against the casing.

In filling the radiator of the car allow enough water to pass in to bring the level over the end of the vent pipe. If the pipe is clean, as it always should be, the fact will be indicated by the overflowing of the water through it. If it is not clean, the water will overflow the filler cap and not through the vent pipe, which should be attended to at once.

Short pieces of brass or copper tubing may be easily made into wire terminals, such as are used on the ends of spark plug wires. The tubing is first heated and then dropped into cold water, which softens it. The ends of the tube are then flattened in a vise and drilled, which forms a neat, strong terminal.

Hub bearings are best lubricated by means of hub grease, which is far more effective than engine oil. If you want the bearing to be as quiet as possible, it can be squirted into the bearing by means of an ordinary oil squirt can, without resorting to a grease gun.

It is a good plan to put a washer to the nut that locks the pulley in position. If the nut should work loose, a tremendous strain would be put on the bearings, and in a mile or two there would be trouble.

Nine times out of ten a leaky joint between cylinder and crankcase is the cause of a falling off in power in a two-stroke engine. An oily crankcase should be the top to remove the cylinder and carefully re-make the job, packing it with a carefully cut brown paper washer will assist.

A hole drilled into the induction pipe and stopped with one of those spring-capped lubricators will allow the little bit of extra air many of us now feel the need for. Be sure the indicator doesn't allow air to leak through when closed, though; otherwise difficulty in starting may be experienced.

WOMAN MOTORIST NOW MORE COMMON THAN EVER

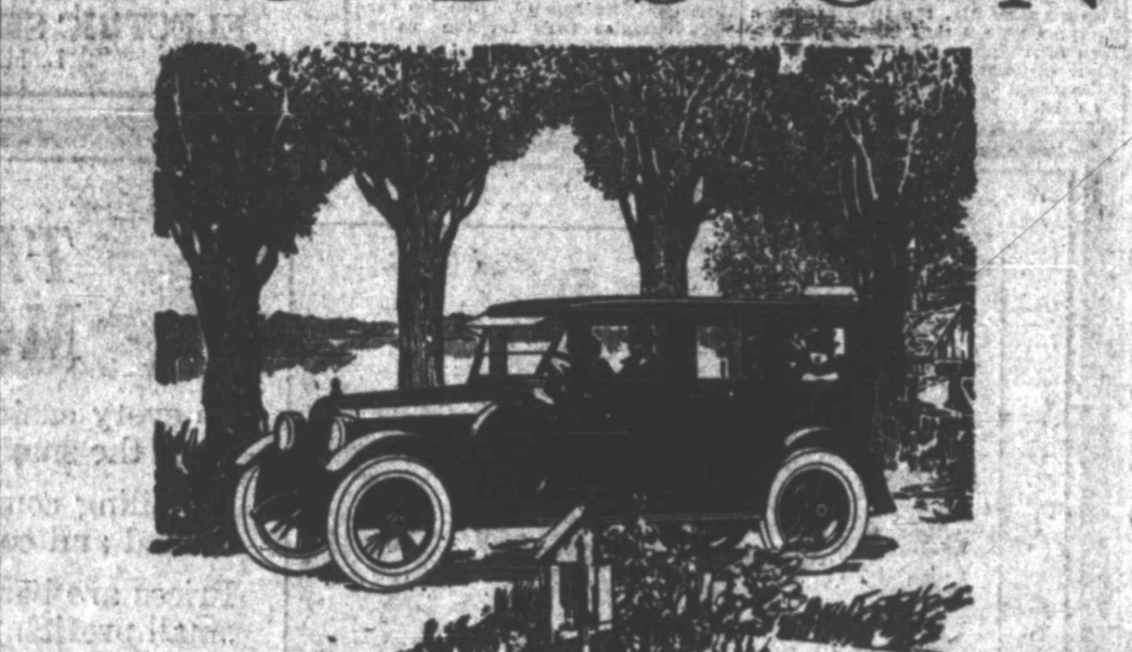

The number of women driving cars these days may be counted by the score. The female of the sex, even is projecting into the ranks of jitneys and bus drivers and the hand that rocks the cradle is proving as steady at the wheel.

Women may also be found in the automobile school, learning all about crank shafts, ignition and other details. An interesting fact in this connection is brought out by a recent summary compiled by the Firestone company. It shows that women are much less often called into court for disregarding motor ordinances or speed laws and the figures prove that lady chauffeurs meet with far less accidents than do men.

During the past two weeks the Franklin company has been installing men on at the rate of one hundred and fifty a week and it is expected that this rate of hiring will be continued for some time. ENGLAND MAY LEAVE SPEED LIMIT LAWS According to a Firestone representative in England, that country is preparing to abolish all her speed laws for drivers of all types of motor vehicles. These laws will be replaced by a rigid enforcement of the regulations for dangerous driving, with increased penalties. Pick your own speed, seems to be the idea, but mind you are mighty careful.

The car's long-established reputation for faithful, low-cost service has not influenced Dodge Brothers in their constant seeking after betterments.

A semi-floating rear-axle is now provided, embodying the latest ideas in rear axle design. The main housing is 75 per cent stronger. One large Timken bearing at the hub replaces two small bearings and gives 100 per cent greater carrying capacity. Larger ring gear and drive pinion make possible a new tooth shape, giving quiet operation and 45 per cent increase in strength. THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM G. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: Will you please tell me a good method of re-arranging the spark wires on a motor car with a small leak which is annoying.—N. N.

The best way to stop the leak is to have the part soldered. The first you speak of are probably those which facilitate radiation, but do not carry water. Radiators differ in construction, but the ones with fins are usually of the tube type.

Motor Department: When the engine of my Ford has been running while the throttle is suddenly opened wide it chokes and sputters for a few seconds until it gets over and then it runs perfectly. The ignition is good and it acts this way no matter how the carburetor is set. What is the reason of this?—N. N.

Any engine may choke if the throttle is opened too suddenly. Under ordinary conditions choking of the engine is due to a worn needle valve which allows too rich a mixture to be fed at low engine speeds and the correct mixture after the engine gains speed.

Motor Department: What is the best method to tell the weak cylinder on a Ford? When I look for weak compression I look for the spark around the spark plug. A friend of mine takes out all the other plugs and then shifts plugs from one cylinder to the other. Is there a better method?—N. N.

Crank engine and watch one inlet valve. When that closes the cylinder is on compression stroke. Watch each inlet valve in turn and the weak cylinder will be discovered.

Motor Department: The valve action of my Buick car has become sluggish, the valves sticking, with the result that the motor does not respond quickly or even as well as when new. Kindly advise how I may overcome this trouble.—N. N.

The defective valve action is due either to carbon lodging in the valve guides or from warping due to heat. If the fault is carbon, kerosene poured into the engine while it is running will loosen the deposit and improve the condition of the engine, but if the valves have warped it may necessitate the fitting of new valves.

Motor Department: I have a Chevrolet. I am having trouble with my blower carburetor. The float is all right, but when stopped I have to shove the needle down. If I don't do this it won't start the gas off. I have cleaned the carburetor. Please suggest a remedy.—N. N.

If the float cover does not fit securely and properly, it will cause the needle to stick. See that the needle is free to move up and down. The slightest friction may prevent the float from moving. Make sure that the stem is not bent and that there is no burr on the collar or guide.

Motor Department: Please tell me how I can protect my car against theft while it is standing at the curb. Some ignition systems have locks and keys, but mine has not. Is there any simple way to prevent the engine from being started?—Reader.

Remove distributor head and put distributor cap on. If the cap is off, using a high-tension magneto remove rod from collector brush to distributor. Locks can be broken and lock switches may easily be cut out of circuit, but a thief seldom carries the parts mentioned.

Motor Department: What is the remedy for end play knocks in the crank shaft? My engine knocks every time the crank shafts, so I suspect it is an end play knock. What can cause a knock in this transmission? What is the best way to remove paint before repainting?—N. N.

If you are sure that there is end play in the crank shaft it can easily be removed by fitting new bearings. A knock in the transmission might be traced to the universal joint. Paint should be burned off, but may be removed by using a prepared solution which you can purchase at most any paint store.

Motor Department: My delivery wagon has been run about 1500 miles. Lately I had it overhauled, and since then have had trouble with overheating. The exhaust pipe gets red hot and the water boils after running a few miles. What do you suppose is the trouble?—N. N.

Either the valves are timed late or the spark is timed wrong. If the valves are timed properly and the spark is set right the engine should not overheat, as you state. The condition of the exhaust manifold suggests either valve or ignition timing.

Motor Department: Will you please tell me through Motor Department what causes spark coil to get hot when the engine is running? I have had serious ignition trouble ever since I noticed spark coil getting hot. Have put on two in last three days with same results.—Reader.

Undoubtedly defective wiring is causing your trouble. Would suggest that you have the wiring checked.

HELEN KELLER HAS MARMON; GIVES DESCRIPTION OF IT

It has remained for Helen Keller, deprived of those senses which, to most of us, are so absolutely essential to touring pleasure, to give, what critics agree, is one of the most unusual and beautiful descriptions of a motor ride that has been written. Nothing escaped her, whether it be the car itself or the country through which she is passing. She is even more keenly alive to it all than the average person, who though seeing, is yet unseeing.

The first thing I did on my return home the other day was to take a long ride in my new 'Marmion' and I am to tell you how delighted I am with it. It is indeed a beauty. I am glad it is blue, for I love that color. To my touch the workmanship seems perfect. Borne along on deep, springy cushions, you find a long drive lulling and alluring. The 'Marmion' does not require you to hold on to keep your balance. No, it asks you to enjoy it, invites you to regard the landscape from its comfortable observatory. I knew we were in the Catskill mountains by the atmosphere and the keen colors peculiar to high altitudes, but to my 'Marmion' all roads were level. In my long four across the country I have ridden in many automobiles, and I have almost always been keenly conscious of curves, but in this car I hardly know when we turn a sharp corner. You will see from all this that I am perfectly satisfied with my new car.

"You call it 'the foremost fine car,'" and I think you are right. Anyway, if there is a finer car, I have no longing for it. I have compared mine with a car which cost three times as much, and I would not trade."

The last classification is a large one as it includes wear or looseness of all moving parts of an engine. The principal knocks are main bearing, connecting rod, wrist pin, piston slap, loose flywheel, etc.

Carbon knock is caused by red hot carbon in cylinder head setting fire to the mixture when the gas has been compressed to a certain point. Remove a spark plug and look in cylinders for presence of carbon.

Overheating causes a knock by firing the gas before the piston reaches upper dead center on the compression stroke. The exploding gas expanding meets the piston going up and makes a knock. Overheating may be noted by steam at radiator.

Carbon knock is caused by red hot carbon in cylinder head setting fire to the mixture when the gas has been compressed to a certain point. Remove a spark plug and look in cylinders for presence of carbon.

The following article was awarded first prize in a recent "Knocker's Contest" conducted by the Syracuse Journal:

I knock the nut motorist. He leaves the curb without signal—stops suddenly in traffic without warning. He uses his horn instead of his brakes in a street filled with playing children. He steals places in traffic and "cuts in" regardless. He overtakes and passes another car near the brow of a hill, or on a curve. Stops his car on a curve in the road without getting out of the road way.

men, and new equipment is being installed. This being a home concern, Messrs. Fowler and Sanders are looking forward to this being one of the most important manufacturing enterprises in the city.

EXPRESSES BELIEF THAT $200,000 IS BEING THROWN AWAY

COMMISSIONER JACKSON SAYS THIS MUCH STATE AID IS WASTED.

PRECINCT ONE GETTING NONE OF LAST $600,000

States He Would Have Voted to Pay Seymour Road Regardless Precinct Lines.

Commissioner J. F. Jackson of precinct No. 1 expresses the belief that the county is wasting $200,000 by not paying the Seymour road.

He states that this amount of aid could have been secured but that under the plans now being put into execution this aid has been disregarded.

He further states that Precinct No. 1 is not receiving any of the last $600,000 of the special road fund.

The commissioner also states that he advocated the paving of the Seymour road upon which state and federal aid would have been secured.

His action in this respect, he said, was not a selfish motive but he said he would have voted for the paving of that road regardless of precinct lines.

In speaking on the matter, Mr. Jackson said: "It has been rumored that the Wichita county special road money is being wasted. I cannot say that it has been directly wasted but indirectly it may have been."

When the original road contract was completed, which included the Harjetta, lake, Iowa Park, Electric and six miles on the Burk Burnett road, amounting to 4 1/2 miles, there was a saving of $500,000 which was not anticipated at the time the original contract was made.

"This saving was brought about by some changes in the contract and cheaper labor and also some reduction in freight rates. When it was discovered that this money would be available, a new contract was let with Perkins & Prantico to complete the Burk Burnett road to Red river.

This should have been done, because the Burk Burnett road as well as a large part of the roads that are now being built.

"The Seymour road is the only remaining designated highway that has not been improved. If this road would have been in any other of the three precincts I would have voted to improve it or the money that this $200,000 was worth something to the people of the county."

"Precinct No. 1 has not received a dime of the $600,000 as the Seymour road was included in the original contract. It has not been my disposition to take any part of this money from other precincts only to spend it where we could derive the greatest benefit for the entire county."

WASTEFUL ECONOMIC GAS LIGHTING

Lighting with natural gas can be done as effectively and more economically than with any other means.

Properly installed fixtures afford a beautiful, mellow light that floods the rooms and is not trying on the eyes.

Use Mantles

Natural gas for lighting should always be used with mantles. Careful regulation of the air intake will insure a brilliant white mantle and a fine light.

Because natural gas is so low priced in this community many burners are left going when the light is not needed. Such practices cost money in both gas and mantles.

Turn off your lights when you can. Matches cost less than gas.
