EASTERN SITUATION CAUSE FOR CONCERN IN GREAT BRITAIN

REFLECTED IN EDITORIAL COLUMNS OF LONDON NEWS-PAPERS.

DECLARE GRAVE CRISIS CONFRONTS THE POWERS

Powers Must Act at Once and in Agreement to Avert the Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The eastern situation is causing considerable concern here. This is reflected in the editorial columns of the morning newspapers, some of which adopt a distinctly alarmist tone. "A grave crisis" confronts the powers, says one, while others declare the situation is driving to the danger point and that "all the elements are present for another flare-up of war" and that "the powers must act at once and in agreement to avert the disaster."

The one sentiment which dominates all is that of agreement, although agreeing to maintenance of the neutrality of Constantinople and the straits of the Dardanelles, may interpret the "ultimate aspirations" of the Turks in such a manner as to prevent the co-operation of Great Britain.

Those powers which are habitually suspicious of France comment strongly on her tenderness for the Turks and insist that the latter should not be allowed to recover Thrace and Adrianople which they believe France is willing to give them. Elsewhere the friendly confidence which is expressed that France eventually will agree to co-operate with Great Britain, which is generally credited with upholding the letter of the treaty of Sevres. Declaration of the French view is expected hourly and awaited with the keenest eagerness.

If the issue regarding the French position is removed, the other fears will be immediately assuaged, but at present they are acute. Turkish military aggression is feared, military activities in the Balkans, the Russian soviet in the troubled area is feared, while behind all is the restless menace of the immense Moslem population of India and the other Musselman communities.

Each day brings fresh reports of the intense feeling aroused in the Mohammedan countries by the Turkish victory in Anatolia with indications of determination to suppress the Turkish claims with whatever means lie at their disposal. Reports from British India especially represent the Moslems there as greatly excited.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE IS NECESSARY FOR PEACE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The impression is growing here that a Turkish victory would be a disaster in a large and international conference in which Russia, Rumania, Bulgaria and the other Balkan states participate. This is based in part upon the renewed expression of Russia's attitude regarding the straits of the Dardanelles, as contained in her note of protest against the allies' attitude in Constantinople.

Tomorrow afternoon the British cabinet will meet in full session to discuss the myriad political phases of the situation brought on by the Turkish victory.

BUREAU ANNOUNCES LARGE INCREASE IN COTTON CONSUMED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Cotton consumed during August amounted to 127,504 bales of lint and 69,526 bales of linters, compared with 125,545 of lint and 55,121 of linters in August last year, the census bureau announced today.

LAWRENCEBURG, TENN., UNVEILS MONUMENT TO DAVID CROCKETT

LAWRENCEBURG, TENN., Sept. 14.—A monument commemorating David Crockett, Tennessee's great hunter and picturesque statesman, who lost his life in the defense of the Alamo at San Antonio, Texas, is being unveiled here today. Lawrenceburg having been the scene of his early political activities.

Bill Hart and Week Old Son Get Acquainted

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Sept. 14.—William S. (Bill) Hart Sr., motion picture actor, and William S. Hart Jr., one week old, met for the first time yesterday. Hart went to the home of his wife, Winifred Westover, actress at Santa Monica, a suburb, and asked to see his son. Mrs. Hart would not allow her baby to be carried downstairs, but asked Bill to come inside.

Afterward the "strong silent man" of the movies declared in answer to a question that the meeting did not mean a reconciliation. He characterized domestic peace as impossible.

Friends who saw the first meeting of Hart and his son say the two at once became the best of friends and passed nearly half an hour together. Before leaving Mrs. Hart requested her husband to write in her baby book the names of the infant's progenitors, so Bill obediently inscribed the various grandfathers on the book and the meeting was over.

"Say!" Hart exclaimed after leaving. "That isn't a baby; that's a man! I'll tell you on the square, he is that long (here Bill extended his arms full length). He looks like my baby. When he gets big he is going to be a long, tall chap like me, too. No one can say he isn't my baby. He's mine through and through."

Tears came to Bill's steel gray eyes and his fists clinched as a queer little crooked smile played over his lips.

Seize a Hundred Cases of Liquor And $56,000 Gold

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The two-masted schooner M. M. Gardner was brought into port today by the navy. Taylor and 100 cases of liquor and $56,000 in gold was taken to the custom house. The Gardner was seized last night off Scotland light. Books containing the names and addresses of hotel keepers at Asbury Park, Atlantic City and Long Beach and a map showing points where motor boats could be met along the coast were found aboard. The Gardner, of British registry, is one of the largest vessels ever taken by the local prohibition navy.

According to Captain Better, she was $275,000 in value when she was seized. Better admitted that his ship had been in the business of carrying liquor for several months. He denied bootlegging on a American shore, however.

The money found aboard the boat, Better said, was to pay for a new load of liquor which he expected to pick up as soon as he reached Nassau.

RESCUE WORKERS MUST TUNNEL 75 FOOT ROCK WALL

JACKSON, CAL., Sept. 14.—A 75-foot wall of solid rock, the final barrier which separates rescue crews from 47 men entombed in the Argonaut mine here for the last 17 days, was being penetrated with added vigor today.

Byron O. Pickard, California representative of the United States bureau of mines, is here in charge of the final work of rescue which includes the establishment of a subterranean emergency hospital in the 1,000 foot level of the Kennedy mine shaft.

There was a growing belief here today that the miners are dead. This came from the announcement of rescue plans which included covering all bodies in canvas sacks before elevating the corpses to the surface.

Man Sentenced To Death Hangs Himself in Cell

SALEM, ORE., Sept. 14.—Dr. Richard M. Brumfield, sentenced to death for the murder of Dennis Russell, committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell at the state penitentiary yesterday. Brumfield twisted strips torn from the sheets and mattress of his cot into ropes with which he bound his limbs and strangled himself to death.

A petition for rehearing of his case was pending. Brumfield's alleged crime was one of the most notable in the criminal annals of Oregon.

In a letter left to Warden Lewis, Brumfield said "I'm a not worth living. I am innocent of murder."

Louisiana Mayor Given Orders to Leave the Town

MONROE, LA., Sept. 14.—Mayor "Bob" Dade of Mer Rouge, La., where a masked band several weeks ago kidnaped five men of that place, two of whom are still missing, has received threatening letters warning him that unless he vacates his office and leaves the town he will face a similar fate, according to the mayor's friends.

The first of these letters, written by an unidentified person, was received several days ago, according to the mayor's friends, and were dated at Bayville, La. Dade is said to have received another letter yesterday in which he was threatened with death unless he vacated his office and left town. Some of these letters, it is said, will be turned over to Governor Parker.

Aged Inmate of Old Folks Home Is Wine Maker

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., Sept. 14.—An 81-year-old inmate of the county old folks home here was elected today by the authorities when they found she had a complete wine making apparatus under her bed, together with several quarts of the completed product.

Officials of the home refused to disclose the woman's name or discuss the case beyond saying that she had stolen grapes from the county farm to use in her manufacturing process.

FIRM IS EXPELLED FROM NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Expulsion from the New York stock exchange of Theodor A. Hellwig and Robert H. Reutter was announced today by President Seymour Cromwell. The two men, with Charles E. Reutter, composed the firm of Hellwig and Reutter, which was admitted to the exchange on May 1, 1914. The firm had offices at 25 Broad street. The firm was charged by the board of governors with "conduct inconsistent with equitable principles of trade" in continuing to sell and clear the bonds of a corporation which it has assisted in the flotation of a $1,000,000 loan at sales at or above par during a period when street sales were made at material concessions under par.

MOTHER! Clean Baby's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

When baby has colic, diarrhoea, food souring, feverish breath, coated tongue; is restless and can't sleep because of clogged bowels, just give a half-teaspoonful of California Fig Syrup. It moves the wind and gas and all the souring food, bile and poison right out of the tender little bowels without cramping or over-sweating and baby usually gets peaceful relief. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs.

Millions of mothers depend upon California Fig Syrup to keep baby's bowels clean, sweet, and regular. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has full directions for infants in arms and children of all ages plainly printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

FRIENDS RECEIVE NEWS DEATH OF JOE GARNETT

Friends here of Joe H. Garnett Jr. of Gainesville, received the news Thursday morning of the death in the Temple sanitarium Wednesday, and are very much grieved over the outcome of his long illness since the war.

Young Garnett, who was a flier in the world war and was badly wounded in France, was discharged several months ago from the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, after being there four years for care and treatment. He came on to Temple and resumed his before-the-war employment, but had to give up recently and enter the Temple sanitarium.

Garnett was well known in this part of the state, and had many friends in Wichita. He was well and sincerely sorry to hear of his death. He will be laid to rest in a Temple cemetery Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and it is understood several from here will go down for the services and interment.

C. C. CRANE LEAVES FOR WACO TO BE MARRIED

Clyde C. Crane, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Crane of 1423 North street, left Thursday morning for Waco, Texas, where he will be married Thursday evening to Miss Floy Smith, member of a prominent Waco family.

Young Crane, who is associated with his father here in the real estate and insurance business, graduated this past spring from A. and M. college at Bryan. He has known Miss Smith for the past three years at College Station, her father being connected with the business department of the college and she herself being in the commandant's office.

The young people will probably return here the last of this week to make their home, expecting to take a wedding trip later. They will be with Mr. and Mrs. Crane Sr. for a few days until a new home is located.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best test for soap is to rub it on the back of your hand. If it leaves a greasy residue, it is too strong for your hair. Use a mild, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulford's coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will last you several months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulford's, only.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS THISTLE-PATCH FAIRY

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Hello, have you seen the donkey?"

After the donkey had run away and left poor Nancy and Nick trying right in the midst of a big field of thorny thistles they searched to their feet and looked around.

"The thorns tore their clothes and pricked their feet and held them back like a hundred huffs," they said. "Our Green Shoes can take us anywhere."

"Let's wish," said Nick quickly. "Our Green Shoes can take us anywhere."

"I believe that had donkey brought us here on purpose and dumped us off," declared Nancy indignantly. "He didn't know how right she was for Hec Haw, the donkey; was flying himself and the very fairy the children were hunting. Yes, sir! He had taken the Fairy Queen's wand."

BRADLEY'S CORNER SCHOOL BURNED EARLY IN WEEK; TO BE REBUILT AT ONCE

Immediate steps for rebuilding the school building at Bradley's Corner, destroyed by fire early in the week, are being taken by the district trustee, County Superintendent Bryant reported Thursday. The building and contents carried $1,800 insurance, which will provide sufficient quarters. The opening of school will be delayed about three weeks.

Attendance is good at practically all rural schools, Mr. Bryant reports, although older pupils are being kept out of some schools on account of cotton picking.

You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."—STELLA NEWTON, R. 8, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure her.

THE FIRST THING NEXT MORNING JACK WAS FEELING BACK TO THE LOOKOUT POST HE HAD BEEN THERE BUT A SHORT TIME WHEN HE SAW A MAN WALKING ALONG THE LEDGE JUST BELOW.

THE MAN GOT DIRECTLY IN FRONT OF JACK, THE LITTLE ADVENTURER TOSSED OUT THE LASSO HE CARRIED AND GAVE HIM AND CROUGHT THE MAN AROUND BY SHOULDERS. IT HELD THE MAN'S ARMS TIGHT.

JACK HAD NEVER SEEN THE MAN BEFORE AND THOUGH HE LOOKED LIKE A FRIENDLY FELLOW, JACK DECIDED TO PLAY SAFE AND TRY TO CAPTURE HIM. HE HAD BEHIND A TREE AT THE MAN CAME NEARER.

MAYBE YOU'RE A FRIEND, JACK, BUT I'M NOT SURE. I WILL HAVE TO TAKE YOU BEFORE THE CHIEF. THE MAN THOUGHT JACK WAS JUST PLAYING SOME TRICK ALONG. CONTINUED IN NEXT CHAPTER.

CALOMEL USERS TAKE AWFUL RISK

Very Best Dose of Frenchman's Drug May Start Terrible Suffering. The next dose of calomel you take may siltate you. It may shock your liver or start bone aches. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crabs the face, sour like dynamite, cramps and sickens you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. If you feel bilious, headachy, congested and all knocked out, just go to your drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take it regularly and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than any calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money. Don't take calomel! It can not be treated any more than a leprosy or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No pills necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and will siltate.—Adv.

ROTARIANS HEAR OF PLAN TO RAISE $15,000 FOR SCOUTS

An interesting and busy session of the Rotary club was held Thursday with a vocal solo by Fred Beck, a report of the Rotary meeting at Galveston by R. E. Shepherd and a radio talk on the Texas-Oklahoma fair by G. M. Verschoyle, as the outstanding features.

Fred Beck's performance went into extra innings, at the urgent demand of his hearers, and he accepted 34 chances without a bobble. It was the first time that most of the Rotarians had any first-hand knowledge that Fred had talents other than first-basing. Paul Larkin was the accompanist. Rotary clubs of Texas are pledged to raise a fund of $15,000 for carrying on of Boy Scout work in Texas. Mr. Shepherd announced, in telling of the Galveston meeting, that the local club will have a quota of about $600. It was stated at Galveston that about 13,000 Texas boys of Scout age, only 13,000 are Scouts.

WORLD WILL FEEL SHOCK WHEN BREAD RIOTS HIT GERMANY IS OPINION OF FRANK A. VANDERLIP

VANDERLIP SAYS—European workers and farmers are sick of war, yet fear it. It is hard not to be a pessimist if one studies Europe. I do not agree with those Americans who say we have no interest in Europe. Allied nations can only pay us in gold or in goods; here begins the vicious circle that makes one almost fear the European problem—is insoluble. America should be represented on the reparations commission. I fear serious trouble in Germany, danger from bread riots.

VANDERLIP

By MILTON BRONNER. LONDON, Sept. 14.—Bread riots are the next great menace in Germany—an explosion that will be felt in America and the rest of the world. That is the gloomy forecast made by Frank A. Vanderlip, famous American banker and student of economics. Vanderlip is on his way home after a five months' tour of Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Hungary, Austria, Roumania and Czechoslovakia, during which he traveled by auto in order to reach rural villages as well as the big cities.

"I fear serious trouble in Germany," Vanderlip said. "Before long you may see some recovery in the price of the German mark, and people will say the trouble is all over. But don't be fooled by this false normalcy. "Next winter when coal is scarce and food is dear, there will be critical times in Germany. The danger will be from bread riots. Sixty-five million of Germany will not take their trouble as quietly as the Austrians have done. "However, I do not look for any attempt at a monarchial coup. The monarchists are too clever for that. They know if they seized power now they would be grabbing a fallow market, they could not bring about cheaper food and greater production and they would be cursed for every ailment existing."

Vanderlip emphasized that his tour of Europe was not as an official or unofficial observer for the United States government but merely a tour of personal study. "People call me a pessimist about Europe," he said. "The plain truth is that it is very easy to be an optimist if one stays in America, and very hard not to be a pessimist if one comes over and studies Europe. "All over Europe I found the plain people—the city workers and the peasant farmers—sick of war, and yet feeling that they haven't got it on any secure terms. "Every time you turn around, you find the situation full of vicious circles. Take the matter of the allied debts to us. I am not one of those who have advocated cancellation of these obligations. "Here begins the vicious circle that makes one almost fear the problem is insoluble—the allied nations can only pay us in gold or in goods; they haven't got the gold and can't get it; and if they seek to pay us with goods, we at once put up a protective tariff wall to shut out these products; if we don't, there is danger that our own factories would be closed and our own workmen thrown out of jobs. "I do not agree with those Americans who say we have no interest in Europe. And I put the economic interest the lowest in the scale. A restored Europe would, of course, buy our surplus cotton and wheat and raw materials and manufactured goods. "But America has more than a dollar and cent interest in Europe. The greatest loss to us and the world would be if Europe crashed and ceased to be a great intellectual, artistic and scientific center of activity. "I think America should be represented on the reparations commission. Entirely apart from our claims to repayment by the allies, we have a very great interest and desire to see Europe restored to real peace."

FIRST CHRISTIAN BIBLE SCHOOL PLANS BARBECUE PICNIC FRIDAY AFTERNOON

For the first several years the First Christian church Bible school has been having an annual picnic; each year the interest has been growing, until it has now gotten to be quite a big affair, and this year, through the courtesy of W. R. Ferguson, the members are to add the barbecue feature. Mr. Ferguson having agreed to furnish the barbecue for the occasion. The picnic is to be held on Friday afternoon, September 14, in the Adolph Freese grove on the Iowa Park road, the same place used by the old settlers in their annual picnic. A great deal of entertainment is being provided by those in charge of the affair, such as ball games, races, etc. The ball game will be played between the boys' class in the intermediate department and the men's class taught by Rev. Mr. Kevel. Another game will be played by the boys' class of the senior department and the men from J. W. Bradley's class. Great interest is being manifested in these two games. Arrangements have been made to furnish cars for the entire membership and owing to the fact that school is now in session, cars will leave the church at 2:30 p. m. taking those children in the lower grades who are fortunate enough to get out at the last recess; other cars will leave at 4 p. m. taking those who have to remain until school is out, and other cars leave shortly after 4 taking the clerks in the stores who are obliged to work until 6 o'clock. Nothing is being spared to make this picnic a real success. The grounds are in splendid condition and there will be plenty of ice water, the ice having been donated by Peoples Ice company. Dan Oates donated 50 loaves of bread, so if seems there is to be plenty to eat. All members and friends of the Sunday school and church are expected to take advantage of this opportunity to have a good time.

PROTEST TRANSPORTATION OF INFLAMMABLE FILMS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Asserting that the department of agriculture and its scientists had "fallen down" in fighting the cotton boll weevil, Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, in the senate today declared proposals for cessation of all cotton planting to kill the weevil impracticable. The farmer he said, still must rely on modern science and investigation of the federal government to curb the pest.

PORTLAND, MAINE, Sept. 14.—Resolutions requesting congress to enact a law prohibiting transportation of inflammable films in interstate commerce, effective January 1, 1924, were passed by the fire-marshall association of North America, in convention here.

Wanted Daughter Put in Institution, Law Finds Her Job

Instead of a sojourn in the girls' institution at Gainesville, a job and a chance to become self-supporting were provided for a 15-year-old girl who came to the attention of Juvenile Officer Yates recently. The girl's father had recommended the trip to Gainesville, but the officer decided otherwise. The girl had left home, where there is a step-mother, because of conditions in the household, and the juvenile officer's investigation put him on the girl's side of the argument. He was successful in finding a place for her to work. The father said she ought to go to Gainesville because he "couldn't do nothing with her."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Love never faileth.—I Corinthians 13:8.

I'm proof against that word "failure." I've seen behind it. The only failure a man ought to fear is failure in cleaving to the purposes he sees to be best.—George Elliot.

Texas-Oklahoma Fair, September 30 to October 4, Wichita Falls

LONG, LONG AGO

Do you ever wonder how modern life compares with long ago in America, when grandpa was a lad? Turn back 85 years and see whether you would exchange places.

Times were hard in 1833. The United States bank having over-extended in cotton, was forced to suspend operations. The failure involved only $2,000,000 in deposits, but it precipitated a financial panic in which over 400 banks were obliged to close, many of them for good.

Congress, as usual, shot off on a tangent and got interested in something else. It raised a cyclone of oratory against the "barbarity" of using a pack of bloodhounds that had been imported from Cuba to track down Seminole Indians in Florida. Before the talking subsided, the dogs were abandoned as inefficient.

The cheer-up crew told the nation that its hope for prosperity was in foreign trade. Great elation when Messrs. Baldwin, Vail & Huffy announced that their Philadelphia plant had received orders for several locomotives for English railroads.

It was in 1833 that Charles Goodyear perfected his process of vulcanizing rubber. Another inventive sensation of the year was furnished by Prof. John William Draper of University of New York, who announced he had made "the first photographic portrait ever taken from life."

W. F. Harnden, Boston plunger, started the first express service in 1833, carrying packages between his city and New York.

The wilderness was far from conquered. In Florida the Indians were on the warpath, a bounty of $200 on their heads.

A row broke out between England and America over the boundary of Maine. Regulars were rushed to the border and after a winter's "persuasion" succeeded in calming the Maine farmers, who had decided to settle the argument with their rifles.

A marvel of 1833 was that the cost of running the national government was less than $35,000,000 for the year. The national debt then was a trifle under $12,000,000.

Otherwise, the year 1833 was uneventful, except for customary trouble with Mexico. Still, there's a certain glamor about those old days, and maybe the reason we moderns sometimes complain that life is dull is because so many sensational things happen that we are becoming jaded.

Life today is a carnival—very interesting at first, then becomes after a while, the spectators wanting to get away where it's quiet. There is such a thing as life being so superinteresting that it's dull. Extremes meet.

A CITY THAT HAS LOW TAXES USUALLY HASN'T MUCH ELSE.

A combined tax rate of almost 35 per cent is not a pleasant thing to contemplate. But before you emit that groan of anguish, ask yourself: If you would be willing, as a Wichita Falls property owner, to do without the streets, parks, sewerage, schools, highways and water supply that account for about two-thirds of your tax bill.

We are squaring ourselves now, as taxpayers, for the comparatively low rates we enjoyed during boom years, when with heavy expenses in all official departments, and heavy demands on all public services, the combined rate was less than half of this year's. In 1917 the combined rate was 23.7%; in 1918, 23.7%; in 1919, 23.12%; in 1920, 23.37%; in 1921, 24.40%; in 1922, 24.85. The average for the six years, 1917 to 1922, inclusive, is 23.81. In the years when a high rate was needed, and when it would not have been so burdensome, taxes were pretty low compared with 1933; now the taxpayer must even things up.

The cheerful feature of the situation is that we have already attained, or contracted for, the essentials to growth, such as ample water, good schools, permanent roads and sewerage. A less cheerful feature is that we cannot reasonably hope for any substantial reduction in taxes in the next few years; yet another unpleasant aspect is that the present rates virtually preclude voting additional bonds for more paved roads or streets, a city auditorium, a sewerage disposal plant and the other things that we ought to have, but can and must get along without.

Instead of stagnating after the boom, Wichita Falls chose to vote bonds and reap full advantage of the growth the boom brought. If the bonds hadn't been voted, it must be admitted that taxes on Wichita Falls property wouldn't be worrying anybody this year. We may think we are hard hit, with a 34.85 tax rate; yet how much better off we are than if we had chosen the route that meant low taxes.

There's a crowd; two's a peeing party.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

AT THE GRAVE OF JOHN BROWN.

About two miles south of Lake Placid, New York, you come upon a stretch of beautiful rolling country, fenced in by a necklace of gray blue mountains. It is in the heart of the Adirondacks, and a part of it is known as "the John Brown farm."

In the center of a rather flat space stands an unpretentious frame building which was for ten years the home of John Brown. It was to this place that he brought his body after he had been hanged by the United States government for his attack upon and seizure of the arsenal at Harper's Ferry, Virginia.

They call this man a fanatic and murderer, but John Brown's own words are offered in his defense: "I pity the poor in bondage that have none to help them. That is why I am here. The cry of distress of the oppressed is my reason, and the only reason that prompted me to come here."

John Brown was shot down by the troops, called out by the state, and so were his sons who fought by his side. A writer in the Atlantic Monthly stated that "John Brown, wounded, haggard, bleeding and defeated, and expecting death with more or less agony as it was more or less near, was the finest specimen of a man that I ever saw." And Governor Wise, of Virginia, said on seeing him: "I can liken his attitude to nothing but a broken-winged hawk, lying upon his back with fearless eyes, and talons set for further fight if need be."

Just before John Brown stepped upon the gallows, he handed this prophetic saying to one of the guards: "I, John Brown, am now quite certain that the crimes of this guilty land will never be washed away except with blood. I had, as I now think, vainly flattered myself that without much bloodshed it might be done."

And here are some words written by John Brown himself in jail before his execution:

Not in vain is the lesson taught—
A great soul's dream
Is a world's new thought,
For a death sublime
Is a Throne ordained
For coming time.

I thought of these last lines as I looked upon the grave of this hero—marked by a great rock with his name cut simply across its top. The flag of the government which hung him floats calmly from a staff at the side of the grave, hovering like a guardian above the natural grave stone and trees at its base. I wiped a few tears from my eyes, that wouldn't stay back, and went away—thinking.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

COLD BOILED HAM.

The greatest friend of woman-kind
Forgot to leave his fame behind;
Today he fills a nameless grave
Despite the treasure which he gave.
Unhonored and unsung he lies,
Perhaps at rest in Paradise,
And yet his helpless slave I am
Whene'er she serves me cold boiled ham.

The man who to the world first told
That ham is edible when cold
Gave woman-kind a tip which she
Has followed up most eagerly;
Here is a meal she can prepare
With little fuss and little care,
She needs but time enough to slay
Upon the table cold boiled ham.

She need not hurry home from town
To cook a meal, or change her gown,
And should the bride game drag a bit
There is no need for her to quit;
Long years ago some soul sublime
Arranged a meal that takes no time,
She will not serve roast beef or lamb,
Tonight she'll give him cold boiled ham.

Oh, what a glorious year he gave,
This man who fills a nameless grave!
All wives and mothers, near and far,
Today his grateful debtors are.
Though husbands suffer now and then,
Who heeds the woes of grumbling men?
The supper's ready, come and cram—
But first give thanks for cold boiled ham!

Only seven more months until the next coal strike.

New York police have dangerous jobs. An actor tried to kiss one.

The woman who loves every hair on her husband's head hates every hair on his shoulder.

It's about equal. Poor dodge autos and rich dodge baby buggies.

Some girls dress for town as if they thought the place deserted.

Truth has it on fiction. The human tongue has only 11 muscles.

While driving autos or bargains it is safer to keep to the right.

When you see a man climbing the ladder to success you can bet a woman is holding it.

Shit sleeves look as if the dressmaker didn't have enough goods.

Since worry makes one bald, what a pity a man can't worry with his face instead of his head.

Beating up a burglar is safe compared to cussing out a waitress.

Better national anthem than "Keep the home fires burning" would be "Darling, I am growing cold."

When the worm turns he is looking for a chestnut.

There seems to be no place like away from home.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEE PAPE

Me and Leroy Shouter was standing next to the lam post and Patsy Simkins sissy cousin Persey started to come up eating a big peach with another one making a bump in his coat pocket, me saying to Leroy, Lets tell him peaches are fassus things to eat, lets tell him theyre libal to kill him or something, he'll believe it, he's so dum he'd believe anything, and then we'll tell him we're not afraid to take a chance and eat them and he'll give us wats left of that one and the one in his pocket.

With we started to do as soon as Persey came up, me saying, Hay Persey, wats the idee eating that peach, havent you heard about peaches this year?

How do you mean, this year? Persey sed, and I sed, You dont you know, this is the year theyre full of jimpain germs.

Sure, wats you bin? Leroy sed, and Persey sed, jimpain germs, wats jimpain germs? and I sed, Youll soon know if yous happened to swallow any already, wont he Leroy?

It round bumps start to come out all over you, he'll soon know all rite, Leroy sed, and I sed, No, his hair will all drop off before the round bumps start to come out on him, dont you remember that fellow we saw that swallowed jimpain germs out of a peach this year?

This rite, he only had 2 hairs left and one of them was loose all red, O well, I dont want any swallowed any yet, he's only took about 3 wites, its a good thing we and Leroy want going to pick any peaches out of the gutter for anybody, and we waked away disgusted, me saying, Aw wats you know about that, some people aint got the sense they was born with and Leroy saying, Some's got less than that.

Both meaning Persey.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY.

Today's word is—malfeasance.

It's pronounced—mal'-fe-zans, with accent on the second syllable.

It means—the doing of an act which a person ought not to do; evil conduct; an illegal deed.

It comes from French "mal-faisant," meaning "injurious" or "doing evil." The term being a combination of the two words "mal," evil, and "faisant," doing.

It's used like this—"A bill has been introduced in congress proposing to broaden the definition of 'malfeasance in office' so as to include the use of such office or its authority in an attempt to deprive any person of his lawful freedom of speech, of press or of assembly."

GRAND JURY EXPECTED TO REPORT ON FRIDAY

VERNON, TEXAS, Sept. 14.—The Wilbarger county grand jury is expected to make its final report Friday morning, and much interest is being manifested in speculating regarding the issues which will be discussed. No hint has been provided by the county or district attorneys concerning investigations by the body. Criminal week will commence in the district court here next Monday.

Quietest place in the world is a laboratory at University of Utrecht, Netherlands. Walls are insulated so that no sound can get in from the outside.

In this absolutely noiseless room, important experiments are being carried on by scientists studying the effect of noise on human nerves and brain.

A person, entering this stillness, has a peculiar sensation in the ears, then a feeling of terror. Noise, which is making a nervous wreck of civilized man, has become such a part of us that its total absence strikes fear to the heart. Deaf people are not affected this way, for the vibrations of sound reach them through their other senses.

FISHING

The head of a deceased brokerage house swears at the bankruptcy proceedings in New York that he went on a fishing trip and returned to find $1,000,000 vanished from his office.

On a smaller scale, hundreds of thousands of men are letting their money and business get away from them while they are on the golf course. Golfers usually run to extremes, often develop their liking of the game into an obsession. Like baseball, it easily becomes a mania.

LETTERS

Every minute of day and night, 22,337 letters are dropped into mail boxes. The total is 1,400,000 an hour.

Small wonder, that a letter occasionally goes astray. Our destructive sense reacts at these isolated delays. It rarely occurs to us to give credit for the vast majority that are delivered on time, for the constructive instinct has not yet conquered the destructive tendency in man's brain. Observing a few isolated cases, we accept them as applying generally. Crime, in particular.

BULLET-PROOF

The bullet-proof jacket, adopted by New York City police, is placed on the market. It costs $60, weighs 12 pounds and, according to claim of the makers, stops a bullet from the .45 army Colt.

Very convenient thing to have had, during the war. But inventors now will turn their attention to a bullet that will pierce any jacket. So much for the permanence of accomplishment.

The world's wheat crop this year will be a whopper, says department of agriculture. It will total 3,219,324,000 bushels. This is about 49,000,000 bushels less than last year, but it's 12,000,000 bushels more than the pre-war average.

Very important figures, to the wheat farmer.

For the rest of us, it means that the world is becoming a calmer place. That is, provided the food is distributed. Unrest does not go with a full stomach. When the mob is hungry, it is a French monarchy, its cry was "Bread!"

CHAPTER IV

Evie de Montalais, and yet . . .

Now he had seen Madame de Montalais another time, and had found that she fitted to the sweetest of all of perfection his ideal of woman.

On the previous afternoon, meeting the ladies of the chateau by arrangement in the bureau of the mayor, Duchemin had sat opposite and watched and listened to Evie de Montalais for upward of two hours.

Posed with consummate elegance in her half-mourning, she had narrated quietly her version of last night's misadventure, an occasional tremor of humor lightening the moving modulations of her voice. A deep and vibrant voice, contralto in quality, hinting at hidden treasures of strength. A fair woman, slim but round, with brown eyes level and calm, a translucent skin of matchless texture, hair the hue of bronze laced with intimations of gold.

Her age, she said, was twenty-nine; her birthplace, the City of New York; her parents, Edmund An-

When she had graciously permitted Duchemin to assist her to a place in the carriage, Madame de Montalais turned immediately to comfort her granddaughter. It was easy to divine an attachment, there would have been no exhibition that she turned out, rightly, the two were betrothed.

But Madame de Montalais was claiming his attention.

Momentarily a hand slender and firm and cool rested in his own. Then, its advent, he felt in the place beside Madame de Montalais and Duchemin clambering up to his on the box.

The road proved quite rough and delectable. Duchemin was grateful for the moonlight—until he remembered that without the moon there would have been no exhibition that night to view the mock ruins of Montpellier by its unearthly light, and consequently no adventure to snare his attention.

Upon this reflection he swore softly but most fervently into his becoming beard. He was well fed up with adventures, thank you, and could have done very well without this latest.

What now of the comfortable pseudonymity of Andre Duchemin? Posed in an inescapable glare of publicity, how long might he hope to escape recognition by some accident, friend or enemy? Heaven knew he had enough of both sorts scattered widely over the face of Europe!

It seemed hard, indeed . . .

At La Roque it was as Duchemin had foreseen. Whereas the motor car was waiting safe and sound outside, the man to act as driver and guide in one, took with all grace the charge that his employe had been in league with the bandits. But this was true on the word of Madame de Montalais; it was their guide, a said, whom Duchemin had driven over the cliff.

And as Duchemin had anticipated, her name alone proved enough to silence the landlord's virtuous protestations.

Seated beside Madame de Montalais, Duchemin watched her operate the car with skillful hands on the road to Nant.

The sweep of night air in his face was sweet and smooth, and stroked his eyelids with touches as bland as caresses of a pretty woman's fingers.

It was good to be alive tonight, alive and weary and not ill-content with self. In a motor car swinging swiftly and silently along a river road in the hills of southern France, with a woman lovely and mysterious at the wheel.

Duchemin was conscience of something like a shock of emotion, a sudden surging of some hunger that had long lain dormant in his being, unsuspected, how long he could not surmise, gaining strength in latency, waiting to be awakened and set free by one careless, sidelong look at a strange woman.

"Evie," he whispered, unheard.

"Evie de Montalais . . ."

CHAPTER V

THEY HAD BEEN TOGETHER

In the upshot, however, legal necessity had nothing to do with the length of time devoted by Monsieur Duchemin to kicking idle heels in the town of Nant; where the civil authorities proved considerate in a degree that gratified and surprised the concerned Parisian.

The driver-guide of La Roque turned out to have been a thorough-paced scamp, well and ill-known to the gendarmerie; the wound sustained by Monsieur d'Aubrac bore testimony to the gravity of the affair, amply excusing Duchemin's interference and its final sequel.

Late in the afternoon of his second day in Nant Duchemin let his vision dwell upon the distant chateau almost as constantly as his thoughts.

He was to dine there that very evening. He had yet to hold one minute of private conversation with

Outdoor Living

By DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Good ventilation in the home is a very important factor in connection with right living, but the air in the best ventilated home is not as good as regular outdoor air.

Those who spend much time in the open enjoy the best health.

It is a great advantage to spend the summer in camp, or living in the country as much as possible.

However, it is not always possible to choose one's own climate. After all, there is fresh air in any locality, to be had for the taking.

The best protection against damp air, greatly exaggerated humidity, dryness of air is advantageous, but out-of-doors air, even though foggy and damp, is better than in-doors air.

Observations have shown that in schools conducted out-of-doors the pupils not only grow more healthy, but learn their lessons more readily. It has even been rumored that tubercular children living in an out-of-door school are cured of their illness, their lessons than more normal children in a badly-ventilated school.

Wherever it is possible outdoor exercise should be given the preference over indoor exercise.

If you are deprived of good fresh air during the day, try at least to get it during the night. A third of our time is spent in bed.

The best ventilated sleeping room is far inferior in healthfulness to an outdoor sleeping porch or open tent.

Living out of doors is prescribed as a remedy for persons suffering from certain diseases, but it is also a means of keeping a well person well.

LOCAL STRIKERS AWAITING OFFICIAL REPORT ON PEACE

NO CHANGE IN SITUATION HERE, THEY REPORT THURSDAY.

MANY EXPECT EARLY RETURN TO THEIR WORK

Generally Hopeful That End of Strike is Near; Railroad Officials Silent.

"No change in the local situation" was the announcement at headquarters of the striking railroad men Thursday morning, with reference to Associated Press reports of an apparent settlement of the strike. It was indicated that word was awaited from the officials of the organization as to the outcome of negotiations, and that the local situation would remain unchanged until that word came.

"We have nothing official as to the settlement," it was stated. "All that we know is what is reported in the papers."

The belief that the strike is soon to end prevails among the shopmen here, in spite of the lack of official word on the matter, and most of those who have been out since the first of July seemed confident Thursday that a settlement would be reached with little delay.

At local railroad offices, no advice as to the settlement had been received.

LOCAL POOLS GAIN IN PRODUCTION BUT DISTRICT FALLS OFF

The week's production report from the north and central Texas district shows an average of 125,500 barrels daily, a loss over 1,800 barrels for the entire district since the figures of the previous week. Wichita county pools show small gains, which were offset by the losses in the Stephens and Young county runs. The latter decreases were due in part to the number of pumping wells shut down for lack of water. Following is the production from the various pools:

Table with 2 columns: Pool Name, Production. Includes: Electra (Barney) 25,400, Durkburnett 23,000, K. M. A. Iowa Park 2,540, Archer county 3,850, Patrolia 1,875, Young county 10,200, Stephens 35,620, Ranger, Eastland county 14,050, Pioneer district, Eastland county 11,600, Bessona 1,025, Corona and Brown 7,580, Coleman and Mitchell 220.

Total for week 125,500. Last week 127,300. Week's loss 1,800.

NEW SHALLOW SAND IS ENCOUNTERED IN TEST NEAR K. M. A.

What promises to open up a new pool in Wichita county is the finding of a sand at 1260 feet by Steel-Smith and Orth in their No. 1 test on the B. Parker tract. McCool survey, located about one and one-half miles southwest of the old Mattie Parker pool and east of the K. M. A. field.

The top of the sand was encountered at 1260 which was penetrated three feet when the fluid started flowing over the top of the casing.

From present indications the well is good for 100 barrels. The company also has two shallow wells on this tract producing from the 120 foot sand but this is the first producer from this depth outside the K. M. A. defined area.

Meers, Steel-Smith and Orth have considerable holdings surrounding the new find and intend to start a thorough development of the same.

RYAN AND DUNCAN TRIP STARTS EARLY FRIDAY AFTERNOON

With two automobile trade trips still on the road, plans were completed Thursday for the week's third excursion of the kind, which will start early Friday afternoon for Ryan and Duncan, Okla., returning late Saturday.

COMMUNITY SONG WILL BE HEARD AT LUNCHEON FRIDAY

A new community song will be sung for the first time in public at the civic revival luncheon scheduled for Friday noon, R. E. Shepherd will do the singing; the song is a local product and is a genuine Wichita Falls song.

Trade trippers scheduled to go to Ryan and Duncan, Okla., Friday will delay their departure until after the luncheon, so that they will not have to be absent.

Reservations continued to reach the chamber of commerce Thursday, and indications pointed to a large attendance.

HEY, THERE! LOOK OUT FOR THOSE STRIPES

Stripes that won't come off.

Years ago there were people who insisted that "zebras" were only white midget mules striped with black paint. No doubt there are persons who still think so. Now and then when some credulous youth hires out to John Patterson, superintendent of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined, shows menagerie, the old fallacy is revived in the nature of a joke. The "stage is set" by one of Patterson's assistants, who hangs a "Fresh Paint" sign over the back of a zebra. Patterson then takes Johnnie Newcomer over to the herd.

He tells him it will be his duty to wash the zebra, but warns him to be very careful to work only between the stripes and not to rub against the paint under penalty of being discharged. Then the stranger begins the job and furnishes much amusement, until he finally comes to realize that all that is black is not necessarily black paint.

The "convicts," as the menagerie caretakers term the zebras, are but one species of the hundreds contained in the great zoo, which has been formed by combining the finest animals of the two famous circuses. To this have been added the dozen troops of trained tigers, lions, leopards, polar bears and other animals that form the personnel of the greatest aggregation of performing wild beasts ever exhibited in America. More than 100 trained horses form another recent acquisition. These include enormous Norman stallions trained to perform many menage tricks.

Every department of the aggregation sets a new record for bigness and innovation. The mammoth introductory program, which opens the main tent program, is of a size and gorgeousness never before attempted. The arctic numbers which follow, introduce hundreds of stars, including the pick of the world's most famous champions. Exhibitions are to be given here Tuesday, September 26.

The Cap that never fits

"No harm can come to me from coffee or tea," is what so many people say. Yet those same people are often quick to note the signs of coffee harm in others.

How familiar the danger signals are—upset digestion, sleepless nights and irritability—all warnings of the nervous breakdown that lurks just a little way ahead. How easy and how delightful the escape—by drinking delicious Instant Postum instead of the beverages that contain the irritant caffeine.

Instant Postum is the tempting cereal drink made from roasted wheat. It is prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Its snappy flavor is not unlike that of coffee. It is safe for everybody in your household including the children, and there's nothing in Postum to keep you awake even if you drink it at midnight.
