"There are still several hundred thousand Christians in Smyrna and the interior whose lives are in peril for the time limit of the evacuation has expired," she said. Women stand waist deep in the water holding their babies aloft to save them from drowning. Turkish soldiers are systematically robbing the men and wrenching rings from women's fingers. EUGENE MEYER JR. DELIVERS ADDRESS TO STATE BANKERS

URGES CLOSER AND MORE HARMONIOUS UNIT IN BANKING CIRCLES.

THIRTY PER CENT OUTSIDE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

Charges This Condition Responsible in Part For Recent Difficulties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The financial policy of the nation should not be directed toward further development of the federal reserve system...

The fact that two-thirds of the country's banks, representing 20 per cent of its total banking resources, are outside of the federal reserve system was "undoubtedly responsible, in part, at least, for some of our recent difficulties," Mr. Meyer said.

"We have reached a time where we must decide whether we shall continue the more or less haphazard development of our banking machinery or whether our actions shall proceed along lines based upon a comprehensive view of the needs of the country."

The fact that state banking laws frequently permit practices in which the national banks cannot legally engage, Mr. Meyer said, has created a condition of competition between the two systems which may lead to a gradual weakening of both.

Agricultural financing, Mr. Meyer declared, "must be based, first of all, upon the fundamental facts of America's agriculture, and second, upon the existing economic and financial structure of the country."

President Cleveland strongly opposed consolidation of any part of the foreign debt owing to the United States.

ting the Right Perspective for Interior Decorating; Woman Expert Gives Some Interesting Suggestions

By MARIAN HALE.

Women have demonstrated their ability as interior decorators. Mrs. Emmet Buel has gone a step further and is now designing stages.

Latest efforts in this direction have been in "Pools Errant," a play production. The interior design assigned here was a most charming one with so little apparent effort, such balance and simplicity, and a fine impulse to do more than we get such effects in most.

It is not to be said that Mrs. Buel is full of antiques and bits of tapestries all over the place and put the question to her, "Is it not easier to get beautiful effects in a home than on the stage?" "It is not you spend, but how you spend it makes a successful room."

Study Room First. In decorating a study the carefully and form a mental picture of how the place should be a whole and build it as a unit when necessary. That's the secret.

A first thing to consider in a study is the color. Dark or those facing on a court, to be decorated in bright colors—yellow, bright blue, or white with yellow-pink. Sunny colors need to be softened with white.

In walls are by far the most important. Do not work with paneled walls. Do not be tempted without most carefully planned. Use a low ceiling, one should drop ceilings, wide moldings, and break the lines away from the simple.

One has these defects they be remedied by keeping the wall and molding all the same color.

One has very ugly furniture sometimes we do have—this may be rendered less obvious by the use of a very lovely or in a figured pattern that draws attention to its own beauty and keep one's eyes away from the badly designed chair.

A room where much figured material is being used and where there are many colorful objects to be seen should be of an inconspicuous color and the hangings should be of a color that is in harmony with the room.

Along the Milky Way came Light Fingers in the Fairy Queen's automobile. He had stolen it, you know, and was taking a ride. He was very happy and was singing this song: "A dicky bird sat on a Juniper tree, Tum dum, to tum dum, to tum dum!"

It wasn't a wonderful song, but it showed Light Fingers was happy, whistling along the Milky Way so smoothly 'n' all.

"NATURAL BEAUTY COUNTS MOST," SAYS NATION'S PRETTIEST GIRL

Mary Katherine Campbell, recently crowned "Miss America" in the national beauty contest at Atlantic City, brings into prominence a new type of beauty—the natural beauty—a type so rare that it attracted immediate attention.

Her glorious auburn locks are the color nature intended them to be. The flush in her cheeks comes from exercise and health, not artifice.

For this very reason she triumphed over all other professional and amateur beauties, representing all parts of the country.

She will give her ideas on beauty to readers of The Times in three articles. The first is printed today.

school of facial art, and make up for a common pattern, doesn't it seem reasonable to assume that they lose their individuality and become mere copies?

This is my objection to makeup, that it destroys individuality and that beauty lies in individuality.

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition"

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city, "it was a run-down in health I could hardly go."

"I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself or any one else. I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart. This nervous condition was worse than pain. Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it. After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep and grew stronger and was soon well. I have never found anything better for a run-down condition. If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, it is reasonable to suppose that you, too, will find Cardui helpful for your troubles, as thousands of women have. Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Bankruptcy for Former Wife of Film Comedian

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—Mildred Harris, motion picture actress, now on a vaudeville tour, says she received only $5,000 from her former husband, Charles Chaplin, after the lawyers had been paid, and she is about to go into bankruptcy, according to a letter received from her which the Los Angeles Times printed today.

Miss Harris' financial condition was brought about by two long illnesses and by being out of work for many months, the letter said. "I have been hounded for months by my creditors and have been paying most of my salary out to them," the letter said. "Mother and I have been nearly crazy for weeks."

"Besides this, an ex-producer of mine is suing me for a large amount that he has no right to do, as he is the one who two years ago sent me east to buy clothes for three pictures and then canceled my contract on account of my divorce. Mr. Chaplin would not stand for me on the same program with him."

"I believe I told you of losing my home and furniture through my illness last year. Mother and I had put everything we had into it. We lived nearly a year on the money Charles gave me which was about $5,000 after the lawyers were paid. "So my only way out is bankruptcy. I have fought it for over a year, but there is nothing I can do. I shall do what is right by those who are deserving when I can. I am not trying to cheat anyone."

Several Upsets Occur In Majors as Result Of Concluding Games

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The pennant-winning New York Giants and Yankees marshaled their boards of strategy today for the opening Wednesday at of the grounds of the second straight contest for the world's series championship. The series this year will be for the best four out of seven instead of five out of nine, as a year ago.

Saturday's victory for the Yankees over the Red Sox in the final game of the season proved to be the margin by which the Yankees held the lead when the season closed yesterday. They dropped the final game when Washington hammered them 5 to 1 and the St. Louis Browns won 2 to 1. The Yankees concluded the season with their straight triumph over Chicago, 2 to 1.

With the National League pennant decided in favor of the Giants the first of last week, chief interest in the National League concluding games was the battle for second place: Cincinnati, under the leadership of Pat Moran, ousted Pittsburgh from the runner-up position in the final day by twice trimming the Pirates, 4 and 5-1. The double setback left the Pirates in third place with the St. Louis Cardinals, who wound up their season by defeating Chicago, 7-1.

Cleveland also upset the standings in the American League on the final day, crowding Chicago out of fourth place by defeating Detroit, 6 to 1, while the Tigers held third place by but a single game.

The Giants regularly playing here were blanked in the first game of a double header by Tim Lincecum, college rookie, who pitched a brilliant game, substituting aggression for the bluffs of the regular pitcher, who was blanked in the second contest with Neph, McQuillan and Baker, who wound up their season with 3 to 0. McQuillan's victory was his second in a row by breaking the Yankees' streak of 11 straight wins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Game 7, Cubs 1, St. Louis 1. St. Louis tied Pittsburgh for third place in the National League pennant race today by defeating Chicago 7 to 1, in the last game of the season, while Cincinnati defeated the Pirates in both games of a double header, Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals finished the season with an average of .461, the first time that average has been established since 1899.

1922 HOME RUN KING

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 2.—Babe Ruth, star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, with 45 home runs to his credit this season, has succeeded "Babe" Ruth of the New York Giants as the home run king of the American League.

Ruth, who started playing this season at a late date owing to a sore throat, ranked fourth among the major league sluggers, having 36 home runs.

Ruth's 1922 home run record fell 17 short of equalling the record breaking total of 54 four base hits batted out by Ruth in 1921.

THREE OUT OF FOUR IN LAST GAME PUTS HORNSBY ABOVE .400

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 2.—Rogers Hornsby, besides hitting himself into baseball's hall of fame as the first National leaguer to finish with a mark over .400 in 22 years, has succeeded Babe Ruth as home run king.

Hornsby finished the season with 37 home runs, 11 behind Ruth's record of 45. The Cardinals' slugger, who finished third place with 37 and the former monarch, Ruth, registered 44 home runs.

Ruth, after a late start, was unable to gain on Hornsby from the time he rejoined the Yankees on May 28. The Cardinal club had six runs when the babe was stored to good standing and finished the season seven ahead of his Yankee rival.

CLEVELAND, OHIO, Oct. 2.—Leslie Nunamaker, veteran American league catcher, yesterday was unconditionally released by the Cleveland Indians to become manager of the Chattanooga team of the Southern association next year.

PRETTY SOFT FOR HUGHIE WHEN HE'S HOME LOAFING

By DUDLEY SIDDALL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Hugh Jennings, assistant manager of the New York Giants, cuts lots of ice on the ball field at home, he doesn't even cut the grass!

Occasionally his wife can get him into the yard to do his stuff on the weeds. But mostly he exceedingly spoiled husband contently himself with exercising the family easy chairs during his hours away from the Polo Grounds.

For the summer, Mr. and Mrs. Jennings have rented a furnished house in New Rochelle—"forty-five minutes from Broadway." It might as well be 4,000 miles from Broadway for all they care. The important thing to them is that the air is pure, that golf links and bathing beaches are near, and that New Rochelle is within easy motoring distance of the Polo Grounds.

Wife is Mrs. Hobbs.

Van Owen, the mascot photographer, was on getting a schedule of Jennings engaged at his favorite hobby. For once the resourceful Hughie was stopped. He couldn't think of a single solitary hobby outside of baseball.

Jennings has a hobby nevertheless. Anybody who a photographer could see it, too. His hobby is Mrs. Jennings.

And he's hers!

Mrs. Jennings was brought up in a large family in Scranton, Pa. As a girl she got the habit of taking care of brothers and sisters—and for the last 13 years the lucky Hughie has been getting all the attention that she used to spread around the whole flock.

Now he likes it!

And, oh, how he likes it! He sat there at breakfast and fairly beamed his way through the meal while the toilet in the bathroom applied with thick cream, the coffee, and the rest of the ammunition a husky ball player needs to start the day.

Not content with looking after all the domestic duties—the maid for the capable Mrs. Jennings—she drives him to the Polo Grounds every morning when the club is in town. She goes to all the games. And when, manlike, Hughie wants to talk shop she is perfectly able to discuss plays and players as far back as he cares to go.

But this was supposed to have been a story about Hughie Jennings, not Mrs. Jennings.

However, a truthful and accurate reporter couldn't help but overlook him entirely when talking about his home life. All he does in New Rochelle is to soak up the happiness and comforts that she provides in abundance.

Though Jennings is a lawyer, a Cornell graduate, he devotes little time to the law, as his managerial

AGGIES NOT WORRIED OVER RECENT DEFEAT

Errors by Secondary Defense Responsible for Loss of First Game.

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—The unexpected setback received by the Texas Aggies Friday in their defeat by Howard Payne, 13 to 7, is not regarded by north Texas alumni of the college as any cause for concern, the ultimate caliber of the Farmer lineup. The Aggies, with a new makeup and apparently not yet thoroughly drilled in the play, the team will use this season, wait down fighting hard and lost on the breaks, that make football a game that has been rated highly as an aggressive fighting machine ever since Arnold Kirkpatrick took over the job.

The fact that the Brownwooders were able to score but two first downs on the Aggies lends more comfort to their supporters than even a victory might have done, as it evidenced the fact that the defensive character of the game is already pretty well along. Secondary defense errors permitted the costly defeat, and these can be eradicated before the schedule gets well under way.

Tea Days Until Next Game.

Bible's men have ten days now in front of them before their next game. This is the opening big gun of the schedule, the battle with the University of Tulsa eleven scheduled at Fair Park stadium on Tuesday, October 10, Dallas day at the State fair. Advances from College Station indicate that the Aggies have settled down to intensive preparation for this contest, which marks the first meeting between the two victors since they were defeated at Fair Park stadium on Tuesday, October 10, Dallas day at the State fair. Sport Shots

Not Touted Yet.

The high school gridder has already rolled up a total of 25 points in two games without resorting to any trick or fancy plays. Just what the Wichitans will be able to do under fire is not known. Thus far they have not been forced to extend themselves. Burk threw a brief scare into them Saturday when they scored and went into a one-point lead. The Burk touchdown was just what was needed to make the Red and Black fight, but Wichita's touch-down came so easily thereafter that Coach Jones's charges loafed through the latter part of the contest. Once again Electrica scouts were on hand, but they saw little other than straight formations and plays.

Claim Seed-For Title.

Manager D. M. Wofford's Wichita Falls All-Stars believe they have a just claim to the county semi-pro baseball title. They claim their victory over Electrica a week ago clinched it. The Wichitans have beaten Iowa Falls twice, but have not met the Magnolia team of Burk. These two wins were supposed to be the strongest in this section, but Electrica, however, gained a decision over the Magnolia team of Burk. The Magnolia team several times, but the two clubs never have been able to get together.

Yankee League Predicted.

The city basketball league this season promises to be faster by far than it was last year. With the exception of the Viner brothers and a few members of the high school team, practically every 1921 player will be in uniform again, though several have signified their intention of playing with other organizations. Several experienced men who failed to get into uniform last year and others who have come to town, practically every 1921 player will be in uniform again, though several have signified their intention of playing with other organizations. JOE IS TEMPERAMENTAL, BUT HE KNOWS EXACTLY HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

By BILLY EVANS.

If the New York Yankees win the American League pennant much credit is due to Joe Judge. The trade that brought Dugan from the Boston Red Sox to New York pitched up the one weak spot in the Yankee machine.

Frank Baker can hit 'em, but Baker's weak underpinning slowed up his fielding and made him unfit for regular duty. Mike McNally did a good job in the field, but left something to be desired as to hitting.

Yes, third base was the weak spot in the machine. The coming of Joe Judge supplied the much needed strengthening.

Dugan Up by Mack.

Dugan was dug up by Connie Mack at Holy Cross. The tall leader of the Athletics developed him. Joe showed great natural ability from the start, but was inclined to be temperamental. When things didn't suit him, Joe often would grab a rattler for that dear old home town which, in his case, happens to be New Haven, Conn.

During the winter Mack gave up trying to cure Joe's temperament and sold him to the Boston Red Sox. Then followed the deal which brought him to New York, just before the time limit expired on the sale or trading of players.

It Wasn't Inspiring.

At Philadelphia there was little to be gathered from the fact that he had boosted his average about 50 points since becoming a Yankee.

Unquestionably Joe Dugan has supplied the very punch that the Yankees needed to keep them up in the race.

Dugan started his career as a Yankee in St. Louis in the first game played on the last western trip. The Yankees won 11 and lost only four on that trip, one of the best invasions—a New York American league club has ever made in the west.

TULSA AND MOBILE SHIFT TO DALLAS

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—The Tulsa club, Western association champion, and Mobile, the Southern association pennant winner, stopped over in Dallas today to play the fourth game of the post-season series for Class A championship of the south and west. The game was arranged here to break the long feud between Tulsa and Mobile. Mobile won the third game yesterday at Tulsa by a score of 10 to 0. Tulsa won the first two games, making the count stand two to one for the Western leaguers. The teams will leave Dallas tonight. The fifth game will be played at Mobile Wednesday. Today's contest was to start at 2 p. m. Bikes were parked on the street today, but the forecast was for generally fair weather.

C. L. BASS DISCUSSES PLEDGE AND ISSUE INVOLVED IN RACE BETWEEN MAYFIELD AND PEDDY

To the Editor: Wise men have come to know that each member of a given society can properly most often every other member or superior. From this profound social truth, it necessarily follows that it is the highest duty of each member of society to act in those ways that he, in good conscience, believes will increase and not decrease the prosperity of all members.

Certainly a voter's pledge to a political party is not as binding as his duties to his government, and his duty to his government is not as binding as his duty to society.

Yet blind allegiance to government in disregard of the citizen's highest duty to society, would have left the world barren of the results of the American Revolution. Those results were embodied in the Declaration of Independence, and in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States. The sum of these instruments is that the prosperity of each person, that is, the public welfare, is best achieved by the maintenance of those equal conditions under which each member of society may live, act, think, etc. These are nature's inalienable conditions, conformity to which alone will bring the greatest prosperity and happiness to a people. Clearly the promotion of the public welfare as far as may be, is the supreme duty of every citizen, even though to attain that end it may require the abolition of his government, by peaceful means if possible, but by force if necessary. Who will question the good faith of the American Revolutionists in deciding that their allegiance to the mother country was no longer binding, because of that government's series of failures of duty to the colonists, as recited in that Declaration? If conditions have arisen in which this supreme law has justified citizens in casting off and disregarding their allegiance to their government, then certainly conditions may arise in which it may justify citizens in casting off less stringent obligations to political parties.

Why do voters organize political parties? To elect public officials, who, guided by certain principles, will administer office so as to promote the public welfare more than would other principles, if elected. But if any party member believes that his party's candidate, if elected, would not administer the office in such a way as to promote the public welfare as much as, or more than, would some other candidate, if elected, then the question arises as to whether such member is bound by any pledge to support his party's candidate in preference to the other candidate in the general election? Certainly not! To say otherwise is to put his party's success above the whole people's success. To say otherwise is either to mistake what is true, or to evidence a lack of understanding of the lessons of history. To say otherwise, is to fail to distinguish the substance from the form of a pledge, or to be mental slaves to the opinions of those differing with him. To say otherwise, is equivalent to saying that a law being one of the sixty-eight thousand former democrats who voted for the American party candidate, he had not since become a democrat. If he had not become a democrat, he would not be qualified to become a candidate in the democratic primary. It follows from these views, that those members of the state democratic executive committee who authorized Ferguson's name to appear upon the primary ballot as a candidate for United States senator, thereby caused the other candidates for that office not only to receive less votes than they would otherwise have received, but to be denied their right to have two of them receive the highest number of votes, and to enter the second primary. And it further more follows under these views, that voters for candidates other than Ferguson and Mayfield were thereby excluded out of the right of their votes. It is no answer to say that they knew of these fraudulent conditions when they entered their votes in the primary, and that their highest duty as citizens and as democrats was to enter the primary and attempt to elect their votes to defeat Ferguson in the first primary, and thereby render the fraud nugatory. But if they had done so and failed, the fraud would have left them unbound by any pledge.

On the other hand, however, if James E. Ferguson was qualified to be a candidate for United States senator in the first democratic primary, it follows that it was because he was a democrat and had a right to vote in the primary. If he is a democrat and had that right, then every other one of the sixty-eight thousand persons who voted for the American party in the primary, as a democrat and had the right to vote in that primary. But, for the first time in party history, the majority of the state democratic executive committee arrogated to themselves the arbitrary power of declaring that white persons who had always affiliated with the party, except in one election, should be barred from its future primaries. The fundamentals of the democratic party were violated when a democratic state executive committee declared that there should be no exceptions in it of white people who had previously belonged to another party.

Ferguson and his supporters were doubly wronged; firstly, by having some of the sixty-eight thousand voters kept out of the election by the moral effect of the state committee's orders, and secondly, by having those remaining lawfully excluded by the election officers. If that sixty-eight thousand had voted for Ferguson, their votes would have wiped out Mayfield's majority and nominated Ferguson. Thus were the voters supporting Ferguson in the second primary defrauded out of the effect of their votes and denied the right to support Ferguson as a nominee.

It is no reply to say that Ferguson can contest the result. His cause is not contest. His remedy is inadequate. The cost is prohibitive. There is but one remedy—the remedy of a party revolt. Practically all of the Ferguson supporters believe that the state democratic executive committee who ordered the exclusion of the sixty-eight thousand voters are unworthy of party trust.

In view of the facts above related, the majority of those who

This social bids fair to be very entertaining; the fine arts building has been chosen as the place to give it.

BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE FEATURE OF THE FAIR PROGRAM IS COMPLETE

With the arrival late Sunday of the remainder of the big-time vaudeville acts, that feature of the fair entered into its rightful place among the attractions.

Al Sweet's, singing Hussars, an aggregation as unusual and entertaining as it is spectacular and impressive in appearance, which is saying something, made an instantaneous hit at its first appearance. The 18 good looking youths wear the uniform of the Russian military band and present a program that sometimes instrumental and vocal selections most agreeable, and of remarkable ability, whose popularity and classic selections found most favor.

A comedy acrobatic act that is both daring and clever is offered by the Himpson, a man and woman, who pull a rapid-fire assortment of rough stuff, tumbling and comedy stunts that was the joy of the children and that the older folks wouldn't care to miss either.

A graceful and pleasing performance is that of the Haines trio, who specialize in acrobatic numbers and feats of strength. The act is complete with thrills and sensational features.

Just fans get a careful, and then some, when the Thomas Bayonette gets started going. It is a suspenseful act that puts both pen and melody into its raptures in a way that makes it hard to keep the feet still.

With the addition of these five acts to the program, the three previously arrived and the fireworks and the band, make up a ten-act program that is costing the fair association more than $10,000. It had been planned to make this a free feature, but the association has changed its idea about that, and will charge 35 cents admission in the afternoon and 50 cents at night; children will be admitted for 15 cents in the afternoon and 25 cents at night. It is reported that the fireworks display alone usually calls for a 50-cent admission charge at the state fair.

"The Scraping of the Navy" will be the special fireworks feature for Monday night; it is described as one of the most spectacular and pleasing of the program.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF AFRICA'S MANY PRESENT PROBLEMS

DISEASE AND IGNORANCE IN MIDST OF GREAT POTENTIAL WEALTH.

SPEAKS SUNDAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Money, Men and Prayers Are Chief Needs of Dark Continent, He Tells Hearers.

By FRANK S. REID.

Inclement weather retarded many from attending the services of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, thereby causing them to miss a splendid talk on "The Needs of Africa," by Dr. J. H. Evans, missionary pastor, whose assistance the Presbyterian church gives in his chosen work in the dark places of Africa.

While he spoke particularly of the spiritual needs of Africa, yet he told something of the commercial and physical conditions and in these he alluded briefly. In speaking of the size of Africa, he could best speak of it from facts contained in a little pamphlet he referred to, which mentions that the whole of the United States, China, India, Italy, Germany, the British Isles, Argentine Republic, France, Norway and Sweden could be put into the continent of Africa. Twenty-two and six-tenths per cent of the total land area of the world is to be found in Africa. Dr. Evans spoke of his particular territory, saying it covered an area of 116 miles one way by 250 miles the other, and he said we try and cover this territory with our limited means of travel.

"Africa is a land of great possibilities of development," said Dr. Evans. "It has the great river systems of the Niger, the Zambesia flowing on down through Egypt and into the Mediterranean with wonderful water falls capable of so much development. They welcome the introduction of the useful things we have here in America in a great advertisement for these products, but we American people are asking such a high profit on manufactured products, said Dr. Evans, that these poor people can't afford them. What we need to do is to get our goods into Africa and get in return some of their valuable products by means of the thousand shipping board boats now lying idle on our Atlantic ports. In speaking of the "price of articles," he referred to the fact that it took two months' work for a person to earn enough to buy even the poorest piece of cloth for a garment that would last but two or three weeks.

In speaking of the languages spoken, he said their languages were very limited, having been handed down from generation to generation from hand to mouth. Before the missionaries went into the country, the people only knew how to count up to ten. There is no written language. "Then," said Dr. Evans, "they shun a great responsibility in making an intelligent community."

"They have a great responsibility, too, in Christianizing a community. We cannot separate the four points I have mentioned—the religion, health, industry and intelligence," Dr. Evans said they had no form of religion, they had no idea of the mission-aries went in there that God was a creature. While they thought He was just a man, He is a God who went westward. Their idea of God has no bearing at all upon their personal conduct. Why? Because God has gone away and superstitions have come in and are to be found everywhere. They believe that God is in the church, and is coming back from the west.

In his closing remarks he said money, men and prayers are needed for the advancement of the Kingdom of God in Africa. Consistent living in America by church people reflects in Africa. Those people in America, and if we are doing it, they do so. Who is going to meet these things? It is the church's business, and it is why the church was organized. If it is not their business and they make it such, they will die and will not work die. It is the business of the church to make salvation known to Africa. If we have something for Africa, it is our moral obligation to let it be known.

"Making the community healthy, then, is one of the church's great works—the native churches must evangelize Africa."

Dr. Evans spoke of a great hospital being erected in his community where the study of these terrible diseases will be carried on. It is located on a 300-acre piece of land donated by the French government and being near a waterfall hydro-power will be used to light the buildings with electricity and furnish electricity for the other needs of the hospital and urgent request is made for young doctors and surgeons coming out of training, to go there and apply their wonderful education and experience to combating the terrible diseases which are inflicted upon the people of that continent.

Dr. Evans referred to industry in a community as a healthful means. He said the next is a very important work to make a community industrious. He said the people don't know how to work, and the climate naturally made them lazy. He said the people know nothing about agriculture, and they have employed an expert to assist the people. He said the people are in no physical condition to work. Continuous sickness offers no incentive to work. They have a great desire

NORTH WIND WITH HALF INCH RAIN LOWERS MERCURY

An unrelenting north wind that struck the city at 9 o'clock Sunday morning following an extremely warm and sultry day Saturday brought the showers that during the day netted a total of a half inch of rainfall. It was the first good rain had here in nearly two months.

The shower early Sunday morning netted two-tenths of an inch and the storm Sunday night at 9 o'clock netted three-tenths of an inch. A general storm had settled over the entire district touched by railroads Monday morning and it was evident that the rain had not all fallen as yet.

A small shower fell Monday morning at 8 o'clock and continued for nearly an hour. The temperature Sunday night fell down to the 40 degree mark and the wind direction Monday morning continued from the north although it had turned slightly towards the east.

JUDGE WILSON OPENS TERM OF COURT AT ARCHER CITY

Judge H. R. Wilson, Monday morning opened the term of the 20th district court at Archer City. The term at Graham closed Saturday night after a busy session throughout the term. The docket at Graham are crowded and many criminal and civil cases had to be continued until the next term of court.

Joe Campbell, negro, who was charged with embezzling in the county court at law, proved to the satisfaction of the court that the check which had been turned down as a "hot one" was merely an error as to the name of the bank. He proved that in another bank he had an account of $146.

Dr. Evans spoke of a great hospital being erected in his community where the study of these terrible diseases will be carried on. It is located on a 300-acre piece of land donated by the French government and being near a waterfall hydro-power will be used to light the buildings with electricity and furnish electricity for the other needs of the hospital and urgent request is made for young doctors and surgeons coming out of training, to go there and apply their wonderful education and experience to combating the terrible diseases which are inflicted upon the people of that continent.

FIRST HONORS IN TAX PAYING GOES TO HUFF FAMILY

The honors for the first payment of taxes goes to the Huff family. R. E. Huff secured the first exemption certificate Monday morning and Mrs. R. E. Huff was the first voter out of over 10,000 in the county to pay a poll tax.

Mr. Huff has made it a rule to secure either the first exemption or poll tax or both for many years, and Monday morning when County Tax Collector M. L. Little opened his office, he was filling out these two certificates. Only a few property taxpayers paid their annual tax Monday, the opening day of the tax paying period, which will end January 1.

Buttermilk is served free to all who call at their booth in the industries building, and up to Sunday night more than 6,000 folks had availed themselves of the privilege.

The booth is one of the most attractive in the building; it is of pure white, putting over the idea of purity and cleanliness that the company stresses, the white being set off by attractive green plants. The company's chief product, butter, is effectively and elaborately displayed, and the booth has created a great deal of favorable comment.

But the offenders will be given another day of suspense; another day before they receive the gentle news of "ten and coat." SPEAKS SUNDAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Money, Men and Prayers Are Chief Needs of Dark Continent, He Tells Hearers.

By FRANK S. REID.

Inclement weather retarded many from attending the services of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday.

While he spoke particularly of the spiritual needs of Africa, yet his story told something of the commercial and physical conditions and to these he alluded briefly.

In speaking of the size of Africa, he could best speak of it from facts contained in a little pamphlet, he referred to, which mentions that the whole of the United States, China, India, Italy, Germany, the British Isles, Argentina, Republic of France, Norway and Sweden could be put into the continent of Africa.

Twenty-two and six-tenths per cent of the total land area of the world is to be found in Africa. Dr. Evans spoke of his particular territory, saying it covered a space of 149 miles one way by 239 miles the other, and he said we try and cover this territory with our limited means of travel, etc.

"Africa is a land of great possibilities of development," said Dr. Evans. "It has the great river systems of the Niger, the Zambezi flowing on down through Egypt and into the Mediterranean with wonderful water-falls capable of so much development.

He went on to state that Africa is capable of producing food enough to sustain the population of the world. They can produce two crops a year, and with its food possibilities should be the granary of the world.

Again as to its natural resources, Africa has rivers of palm oil. It is the most valuable vegetable oil and the most nourishing oil in the world.

Getting down to the spiritual needs of Africa, Dr. Evans said: "The authority of the church in Africa is four-fold: first, to make the community healthy; to make it industrious; to make it intelligent and to Christianize it."

Referring to his first suggestion, he said that Africa is a land of suffering, sickness and death. He finally is the breeding place for man's diseases. Diseases carried by mosquitoes and other insects producing malaria, typhoid, hookworm disease, etc.

Many of us are inclined to the belief that the population of Africa is decreasing. It is stated on good authority that the population of children born die before they are two years old. Three out of every five die before they are two years old.

Practically every individual in Africa has the hookworm. No wonder death is on the rampage from birth to old age. Only the strongest survive. Practically all the people in Africa have malaria.

In his closing remarks he said money, men and prayers are needed for the advancement of the mission in Africa. Consistent living in America by church people reflects in Africa.

"It is not their business and they make it such, they will die and so will our work die. It is the business of the church to make salvation known to Africa. If we have something to let it be known."

"Making the community healthy, then, is one of the churches' great works—the native churches must evangelize Africa."

Dr. Evans spoke of a great hospital being erected in his community where the study of these terrible diseases will be carried on. It is located on a 300-acre piece of land donated by the French government, and being near a waterfall hydro-power will be used to light the buildings with electricity and furnish electricity for the other needs of the hospital and urgent request is made for young doctors and surgeons coming out of training.

He said it was a part of a missionary's work to make a community industrious. He said the people didn't know how to work and the climate naturally made them lazy.

He said the people know nothing about agriculture, and they have employed an expert to teach the people. He said the people are in no physical condition to work. Continuous sickness offers no incentive to work. They have a great desire to learn and to see things, and to respond to teaching. They welcome modern inventions. The introduction of the useful things we have here in America is a great encouragement for these people, but we American people are asking such a high price on manufactured products, said Dr. Evans, that these poor people can't afford them. What we need to do is to get our goods into Africa and get in return some of their valuable products by means of the thousand shipping board boats now lying idle on our Atlantic ports.

In speaking of the languages spoken, he said their language was very limited, having been handed down from generation to generation from hand to mouth. Before the missionaries came to the continent, the people only knew how to count up to ten. There is no written language. Then, said Dr. Evans, the church has a great responsibility in making an intelligent community.

"They have a great responsibility, too, in Christianizing a community. We cannot separate the four points I have mentioned. We can't have Christianity unless there is health, industry and intelligence."

Dr. Evans said they had no form of religion, they had no idea of God. They had a belief in a great spirit who went in and out of their bodies. While they thought He was just a creature, He finally came with bearing at all upon their personal conduct. Why? Because God has been giving and supporting throughout the term. The clocks at Graham are crowded and many criminal and civil cases had to be continued until the next term of court.

JUDGE WILSON OPENS TERM OF COURT AT ARCHER CITY

Judge H. E. Wilson, Monday morning opened the term of the 20th district court at Archer City. The term at Graham closes Saturday night after a busy session throughout the term. The clocks at Graham are crowded and many criminal and civil cases had to be continued until the next term of court.

He had a number of cases to hear. A small shower fell Monday morning at 6 o'clock and continued for nearly an hour. The temperature Sunday night fell down to the 59 degree mark and the wind direction Monday morning continued from the north although it had turned slightly towards the east.

NORTH WIND WITH HALF INCH RAIN LOWERS MERCURY

An ungraded north wind that struck the city at 9 o'clock Sunday morning following an extremely warm and sultry day Saturday brought relief to the city. During the day a total of a half inch of rainfall. It was the first good rain had here in nearly two months.

The shower early Sunday morning netted two-tenths of an inch and the storm Sunday night at 9 o'clock netted three-tenths of an inch. A general storm had settled over the entire district touched by rain Sunday morning and it was evident that the rain had not all fallen as yet.

A small shower fell Monday morning at 6 o'clock and continued for nearly an hour.

Mistletoe Booth's Free Buttermilk Hailed by Thirsty

Thirsty Fair visitors have been liberally taking advantage of the opportunity to relieve the dryness with buttermilk through the generosity of the Mistletoe Creameries.

Buttermilk is served free to all who call at their booth in the industries building, and up to Sunday night more than 6,000 folks had availed themselves of the privilege.

The booth is one of the most attractive in the building; it is of pure white, putting over the idea of purity and cleanliness that the company stresses, the white being set off by attractive green plants. The company's chief product, butter, is effectively and elaborately displayed, and the booth has created a great deal of favorable comment.

SATURDAY NIGHT AND SUNDAY NETS TWELVE ARRESTS

Sunday was the usual holiday for violators of the law and the police station experienced the usual week-end rush. Twelve arrests were made Saturday night and Sunday; the ever present gamblers, vagrants, peace disturbers and drunks appeared for trial Monday morning. But the offenders will be given another day of suspense; another day before they receive the gentle news of "ten and cost." Judge Aiken and Chief Francis, prosecuting attorney, who were to begin their duties in the corporate court Monday morning, failed to appear. The cases will be heard Tuesday.
