MANY AMERICANS WANT U. S. ACTION IN TURKISH CRISIS

HARDING ISOLATION POLICY CAUSES INCREASED DISSENT... CHURCH ORGANIZATIONS ARE TAKING AN INTEREST

By MARK SULLIVAN National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The administration is being made aware that there is an impressive body of sentiment in America which demands more than a mere "wait and see" attitude.

A resolution adopted by the national association of local Methodist churches "protests against the continuance of Turkish government under present and past executive administrations and that either the league of nations end at once such administration or the nation of the world take the matter of force under proper supervision and make a new human Turkey or wipe it forever off the map of the world."

This is typical of the sort of thing that is being said formally and informally by all sorts of church organizations here by all sorts of persons. The bear east is what the country is interested in, and the politicians in both parties know it.

OLYMPIA Four Days Commencing Next Wednesday HAROLD LLOYD "Grandma's Boy" "His Nibs" AN EXCEPTIONAL PICTURE

There is material for a real political issue. Both parties, however, are disposed to dodge it. The democrats, after a few tentative motions, decided it would be better not to raise the issue of our foreign relations in the present campaign.

There need not be much doubt that if Woodrow Wilson were in good health the near east crisis would be thrown into the campaign and the question of our foreign relations as a whole would become the chief issue.

The foreign policy of the administration is being made aware that there is an impressive body of sentiment in America which demands more than a mere "wait and see" attitude.

A resolution adopted by the national association of local Methodist churches "protests against the continuance of Turkish government under present and past executive administrations and that either the league of nations end at once such administration or the nation of the world take the matter of force under proper supervision and make a new human Turkey or wipe it forever off the map of the world."

It is always possible to take refuge in the reply that these demands are vague as well as violent and that the church organizations who make these resolutions are not as fully informed of the facts as our state department is.

FORMAL MURDER CHARGE PLACED AGAINST NEGRESS

COURT OF INQUIRY HELD BEFORE JUSTICE OF PEACE GWINN THURSDAY.

SISTER OF DEAD WOMAN TESTIFIES TO COURT

Two incidents leading up to shooting; defendant did not testify.

A formal charge of murder was filed Thursday afternoon against Rosa Allen, who it is alleged shot and killed another negroess, Laura Floyd, and injured Beale Floyd, a sister of the dead woman, Wednesday afternoon.

A court of inquiry was held before Justice of the Peace J. V. Gwinn Thursday afternoon. The sister of the dead negroess took the stand and told of the incidents leading up to the shooting.

The defendant was called to the stand. She was given the statutory warning with reference to making a statement. She asked whether her lawyer was present. When informed that he was not she stated that she did not believe she wanted to say anything in her own defense. She was taken back to jail.

Beale Floyd, the negroess who was shot in the foot, told of an incident at the lake a week ago when some misunderstanding was had. At that time she said the defendant told her she didn't want her. Beale, talking to Kirtz, the husband of the defendant.

At 11 o'clock Thursday morning the witness said while she was at her sister's house at the lake, she saw the defendant walking towards the car line on Taylor street. She testified that she went to the car and had a conversation with her.

She related that during the course of the conversation, which reverted to the incident at the lake, she saw the witness shake her finger in the defendant's face. She said that the defendant at that time told her not to shake her finger in her face.

The conversation grew rather heated, she said, and her sister, the one who was shot, called her to come back to the house.

At 12 o'clock on a short time thereafter she told the court that the defendant came to the door of her sister's house, where she and her sister were and called to them. The witness testified that she asked the defendant to come in the house. The defendant refused, she said, and asked them to come out of the house.

Her sister came out of the door first, she said, and followed the defendant around the corner of the house to the alley.

"The first thing I knew the Allen woman started shooting," the witness said. When asked about a knife the witness said "I didn't see my sister have any knife and if she did, I didn't see her use it."

G. J. Thomason of 1730 Collins street testified that he saw the defendant at the door of the servant's house and call out: "You niggers come on out here. I'm not coming in the house."

He said that he saw all three of them start across the alley and heard five shots fired. A neighbor, he said, picked up a red handed knife near the spot where the defendant woman fell dead.

The knife, a red handed one with three and a half inch blade was turned over to the state.

TO ADMIT PATIENTS TO NEW HOSPITAL ON NEXT SATURDAY

Members of the county commission and the city council, in company with Dr. M. M. Walker, president of the hospital board, and consultants for the various departments inspected the General Hospital Thursday morning with the view of accepting the building in behalf of the city and county.

The new building, modern and up to date in every respect, will furnish citizens of this county with an institution that will rank creditably with any infirmary in the southwest. There is space in the new building to care for 125 patients, and if the occasion demands the capacity can be increased to 145.

With the additional story and wing the capacity of the building was more than doubled. It is now a four-story structure without the basement.

Dr. Walker showed the commission the various features. With the exception of some minor finishing and plumbing details the building is ready for occupancy.

The work is being rushed and two floors will probably be ready to receive patients Saturday. All the spare equipment is being moved from Call field and put in place in the new building.

Dr. Walker stated Thursday morning that the hospital was being completed at an opportune time since there was not room at Call field to accommodate another patient.

City and county officials seemed well pleased with the appearance of the hospital and were all of the opinion that it was money well spent. Some improvements in the grounds and driveway was discussed and will be taken up in the near future.

UPHOLDS VALIDITY OF RESTRICTED AREA IN FLORAL HEIGHTS

The building restriction originally placed on a number of lots west of Buchanan street in Floral Heights is still in force and, according to a decision rendered Wednesday by the state supreme court in the case of W. S. Currie vs. M. D. Walker et al. The case has been pending in the court for a number of months.

That portion of Floral Heights between Buchanan and 51st streets and from Ninth street to Avenue H is under a restriction contained in the original deed, whereby only one house may be constructed on each two lots; the restriction also provides that no house costing less than $1,000 may be erected, that being enough money for an unusually good home in 1908, when the addition was opened.

The injunction suit resulted from the effort of the Wichita Lumber and Building company to erect a house with only one lot as a site. The company succeeded in getting the injunction dissolved in the trial court here, but abandoned its effort to erect the house. The supreme court held that the trial court erred in dissolving the injunction.

Judge W. N. Bonner, attorney for Mr. Currie, said Thursday that the case had no precedent in Texas jurisprudence, and the decision is of exceptional interest for that reason. The ruling is accepted here as removing all doubt as to the validity of restrictions prevailing in some other additions to his city.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Wash your face before you put away the evil of your doings from before my eyes; cleanse your hands from all unrighteousness...

—Lady Macbeth.

LAW, ORDER AND PUBLIC OPINION

Waves of sentiment, often coming as the result of some stress or incident are often responsible for the enactment of laws that would not be enacted under normal conditions.

The Houston Chronicle enumerates some of them: "Prize-fighting is a felony in Texas, and has been for more than a quarter of a century."

"There is a city ordinance declaring that trees must be kept trimmed to a height seven feet above the sidewalk."

"Every Sunday our movies are open, and our soda fountains, and our cigar shops."

"There is a federal statute against whitecapping. It is a felony to kill Indians in Texas."

"One must get a permit to chase mustangs on the prairie, according to our statutes."

"We have quite a number of statutes that are not commonly enforced."

"What is the reason?" "Is laxity in this respect attributable to our officials?"

"Have grand juries refused to return indictments when and where the proper evidence was placed before them?"

"Have county and district attorneys refused to prosecute?"

"What part has public sentiment in the rise and lapse of laws, and why?"

"What part will it continue to play, and how far is it to be trusted?"

"They have water-tight Sundays in Canada and New England. Are they much better or much worse off than we are?"

"In some places they permit baseball games on Sunday, while in others they do not. Such games are contrary to law in most places."

"At one time or another, when we have become sufficiently excited, a law has been passed to prohibit, or regulate, most everything."

"The excitement has subsided, a decline, generally by giving way to a newer and more interesting subject, but the law remains."

"Thus we come to an ever-increasing jangle between law and sentiment, to periods when certain statutes are permitted to go to sleep, sometimes never to be aroused."

"Consistency demands one of two things—either they should be repealed, or enforced."

"We are not going to have a pleasant time trying to create order with laws which do not conform to sentiment, or with sentiments which do not conform to law."

MAN'S RIVAL

A shipment of iron telegraph poles goes to South Africa. Wood is abundant and cheap, but it would be quickly destroyed by the powerful jaws of the terrible white ants.

In Ceylon black army ants march on the war-path. A scientist counts them, finds 300,000 soldiers in one army, marching in companies, about 20 abreast, with officers running up and down the line and keeping order.

These and other marvels of the insect world are described in Professor J. Arthur Thomson's fascinating "Outline of Science," a four-volume education without a headache.

Thomson tells about the burying beetles. When a corpse is to be buried, one of these insect grave-diggers rounds up a squad of helpers instead of tackling the job alone.

Among locusts the wingless young form a living bridge over a stream until their brothers and sisters cross overhead. They change places, relieving the bridge when fatigued, so that few drown.

Certain bees remain in the hive as housekeepers, receive honey as workers bring it in, then store it in the comb-cells. Other bees do their share by standing patiently, fanning the air with their wings to ventilate the hive.

All these manifestations of "animal aid" or the "social instinct" have the rudiments of definite civilizations.

While insects work by instinct and man by intelligence, the two methods are strikingly similar. Man, with his instinct largely because it does not please his vanity to wish any creature except himself with intelligence. If the insects are intelligent and can communicate with each other, no doubt they have observed the civilization of man and contemptuously referred to it as "instinct."

"WORK is the only road to success," writes one successful man and blasts many a hope.

In Elon City, a man has a way to make shoes last 10 years. Going barefoot is another.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

DON'T CLUTTER. You rarely find a true executive's desk cluttered up. For an executive is one who keeps getting things done.

Like a good traffic officer, he keeps things moving and thus enables great tasks to be performed. A cluttered desk in an office is almost always evidence of a lack of ability to keep things moving toward a worth while, definite end.

Please don't clutter! It is surprising how few things in a desk are needed, when one comes to cleaning it out. The modern business man long ago realized the error of a "roll top desk."

Too many workers could leave their day's work incomplete by merely pulling down the top of a "roll top desk. And so the flat top desk became and remains the popular type of office furniture. It is an incentive to order and accomplishment.

Ann Phillips, the beloved wife of the great orator, Wendell Phillips, used to say to him when he left for a lecture tour: "Wendell, don't shilly-shally!" Meaning that she wanted him to speak out plain, leaving no excuses behind.

In like manner, we should say to ourselves as we enter our day: "Don't clutter!"

I went through a famous printing office not long ago. I never viewed finer order of arrangement and system. No wonder, I thought, that this is such a monumental business. I was told that the partners made money from the very start. I thought of the scores of other shops I had visited where disorder seemed to be the prevailing plan; and where complaints of poor business originate so often.

Don't clutter. Clean up as you go. It is a fact seldom thought about, that each of us is his own best influence. We are inspired by our own effectiveness or are discouraged by our own lack of effort and will.

Complete the job at hand and then move on to the next—until you have a clean slate. Then you may go home to happy associations and enjoy your heritage of restful sleep and delicious dreams!

JUST FOLKS

THE LETTER. The postman whistled down the street and seemed to walk on lighter feet. And as he stepped inside her gate he knew he carried precious freight; He knew that day he carried joy— He had the letter from her boy.

Day after day he'd kept his pace And seen her sorrow, gentle face. She watched for him to come and took The papers with an anxious look. But disappointment followed hope— She missed the one glad envelope.

He stopped to chat with her awhile And saw the sadness of her smile. He fancied he could hear her sigh The morning that he traveled by. He knew that when tomorrow came She would be waiting just the same.

The boy who was so far away Could never hear her gently say: "Well, have you brought good news to me?" Her message face he could not see. Or note the lines of anxious care As every day she waited there.

But when he wrote, on lighter feet The happy postman walked the street; "Well, here it is, at last," he'd shout. "To and the worry and the doubt." The robin on the maple limb Began to sing: "She's heard from him."

Her eyes with joy began to glow. The neighbors round her seemed to know That with the postman at the door Sweet peace had come to her once more. When letters bring so much delight, Why do the sons forget to write? (Copyright, 1932, by Edgar A. Guest)

DRAWN. Sydney, Australia, claims it is the healthiest city in the world. Last year its death rate was only 19 out of each 1000 inhabitants.

However, there is no occasion to rush over the Pacific. Only 14 out of each 1000 Americans die yearly. That is not seven above the world's healthiest city. And our death rate is 10 times so sadly.

DR. MENNER. Menner's fame is world-wide in Germany. The dealers at the Leipzig fair refuse to accept them in payment for goods to be exported. They demand foreign money.

PERSONALITY. Ohio produces 40 per cent of the nation's rubber output of rubber goods, says department of commerce. There is no logical reason why Ohio should lead in this line, except that Ohio produces a great deal of opportunity. Personality is the greatest force in business. And opportunity is where we make it, not far off over the hills.

CHAPTER IV. When State Trooper Stormont came out on the edge of Owl Marsh, the girl was kneeling by the water, washing her face and drying her hair.

"What are you doing here?" she inquired, looking up over her shoulder at the trooper who was standing, sun-tanned fingers.

"Just having a look around," he said pleasantly. "That's a nice fat back you have there."

"Yes, he's nice," said Stormont. "You shot him?" she inquired, smilingly. She pointed her fingers again and stood up, swinging her arms to dry her hair.

"Stormont smiled too, then became grave. "Who else was here with you?" he asked quietly.

"The girl's features were expressionless. The passive, sullen beauty of her troubled the trooper.

News Summary

Supply of Currency. BERLIN—New currency issued during the last week in September totaled $4,294,500,000 paper marks, it is announced.

Announce Price Increase. NEW YORK—Price increases up to 7 1/2 cents a yard in clothing fabrics were announced by the American Woolen company, based upon September wool costs. As the clothiers already have placed the bulk of their orders, only a small portion of the season's production is affected.

Marie Brooks Report. LEXINGTON, KY.—Peter Manning, Irving Diamond's wonder horse, was again gained a place in the annual of trotting races such as it held by Man O'War and Morvich in running race circuits. He broke his own record of 1:17 for the mile made at the Columbus meeting. His new mark is 1:15 1/2.

Addition to Printers' News. COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.—With the construction of a $125,000 addition to the Union Printers' home, authorized by the board of trustees in session here this week, the home will be enabled to care for sufficient numbers of blind, paralyzed and like ailments. Superintendent John C. Daly of the home announced.

Search For Bandits. REGINA, SASK.—Saskatchewan and North Dakota authorities are searching for six bandits who yesterday killed Paul Matoff, a liquor dealer, escaped from provincial police, hurried to the international boundary at Loyal, N. D., and robbed a truck of the liquor for which Matoff is said to have received $4,000. The $4,000 was taken from Matoff's pocket by the bandits.

Address Is Postponed. LONDON.—Reginald McKenna's address before the American Bankers' association convention is given prominent display in London newspapers and is the subject of much editorial comment, mostly appreciative. The Daily Telegraph thinks the former chancellor's statement will smooth the path for Herbert Home, present chancellor of the exchequer, when he arrives in America to discuss the question of inter-allied debts with American treasury officials and the debt funding commission.

Issues Before Legion. NEW ORLEANS.—Proper hospitalization of veterans of the world war and return to the government of millions of dollars which the American legion contends were stolen during and after the war by "privileges" will be foremost among the issues to be brought before the American legion at its national convention here October 14-20, officers indicated. A request for the removal of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer from the position of co-chairman of the federal board of hospitalization, because of his alleged interference with the hospitalization program of the legion, also is expected to be considered.

BILLY EVANS AND TOM SIMS WRITE ON THE OPENING GAME

Failure to Sacrifice In Ninth Inning Cost Yanks A Win in First Contest

By BILLY EVANS
POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Yankees defied baseball tradition in the opening game of the world series by electing to play to win. A double play required the Yankees to sacrifice in the ninth inning with the score standing 2 to 3 in favor of the Giants. Pipp opened the ninth with a single, straight baseball pitched for Messel.

What would the Yankees do in the big pinch of the seventh? Pipp elected to play to win. A double play required the Yankees to sacrifice in the ninth inning with the score standing 2 to 3 in favor of the Giants. Pipp opened the ninth with a single, straight baseball pitched for Messel.

Yankees Tipped Mitt. A play that came up in the fourth inning easily was a key to the Yankee system; it forecasted the events that took place. For three innings the two teams had been held scoreless. Dupree started the fourth with a safe drive to left. Would the Yanks play for a run? With Ruth up, the sacrifice was passed up for the hit and run. Ruth tapped to Frisch and Dupree was forced at second.

Defeat can usually be charged to some slip in the play. The opening game proved no exception to the rule. The defeat of the Yanks and the passing of Bush can be attributed to a slip on the part of the Yankee star. It was a physical and a mental error. For six innings Bush had pitched wonderful ball. When the Yanks gave him a margin of one run in the sixth, and he handled the ball he slipped and the ground, Kelly, who would have been retired by fifteen feet, was safe at first, credited with a shabby hit. Stengel and Snyder followed with hits, filling the bases. It was a trying situation that Bush faced. A base hit meant two runs, tying up the game.

Smith was substituted as a pinch hitter for Bush. Bush pitched his heart out working on Smith. Then he got a break, Smith hitting into a double play, retiring the side and ending the Giants' rally. When Bush slipped fielding Kelly's tap, he dug a hole for himself that caused him to spend his ebbing energy in order to get out.

Bush Loses Steer. He went to the firing line in the eighth with grim determination, but lacked his stuff. The first four men to face him were out, but two were over and men on first and third when Hoyt was called to the rescue.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—The worm must turn some time and I look for him to do his best today," said Manager Bill Killefer as he gathered his brain charges about him in preparation for the second clash with the White Sox for the city championship.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Renewed uncertainty regarding activities by the Turks led to higher prices for wheat today in the first part of the board of trade session. Besides, an unexpected rise in Liverpool quotations was construed as indicating that yesterday's report of a probable quick peaceful settlement between the Turks and the allies had been more or less premature.

DECISIONS OF LIFE IS SUNDAY SUBJECT OF DR. PITTINGER

"The man that labors through life only to lay up wealth is not a free man," declared Dr. T. S. Pittenger, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday night, and the most unhappy man I ever saw was the man that closed out mortgages on the farms of poor people that they became wealthy.

"The third thing to which I want to call your attention is to the moral integrity and no one can be safe as long as he is uncertain about the right or wrong of his life and business dealings and customs."

"When a great financial ambassador spoke of Washington, he said Washington was a partisan of one standard of honesty and morality."

ELECTRA MAN IN RIOT DRAWS FINE OF $500 AT TRIAL

Mutt Holcomb, who went on trial Wednesday afternoon in the county court at law on a charge of unlawful assembly of a mob with intent to commit an assault, was given the maximum penalty under the law by a jury which returned a verdict of guilty at 8 o'clock.

A fine of $350 and a 12-month jail sentence was the penalty assessed Wednesday afternoon, by a jury in the county court at law in a petty theft case.

The mayor of Electra, who assisted materially in stopping the disturbance, testified that he saw the defendant in the mob.
