WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 21.—Supported by information in an affidavit by a witness to the murder of the Rev. Edward Whelan, Hall, pastor of the Episcopal church of St. John the Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Beauchamp Mills, authorities today appeared confident that the mystery soon is to be solved.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

With guards keeping leading characters in the drama under constant surveillance no fear was felt that suspects' persons might be tampered with. Detectives were engaged in running down details considered by the officials essential before making an arrest.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

Reports of the discovery of a witness to the double shooting, a woman of reputable character, were confirmed officially.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

In a statement given out at his home in La Vallée, N. J., Henry Frank, clerk, who was witness to the slaying, discussed the killing.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

"There is no blood on my hands," he declared, "if I had guilty knowledge of this awful thing my conscience would accuse me without ceasing."

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

He said he had no opinion as to who killed Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, but had an impression that black-mail was the motive.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

"It is my impression," he said, "that some of the evil characters who live in certain sections of New Brunswick, no doubt more than one person, was involved, and one of them might have been a criminal, inclined woman who had heard of the town gossip that associated the names of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills."

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

He thought telephone calls might have been part of a plot to lure the pair where they could be joined by an assassin, he said.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

Mr. Clyne said he would make his demand in a formal motion before Judge Carpenter, in whose court the investigation originated.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

The charges in brief were that "no-bills" were returned when a proper presentation of evidence would have resulted in indictments; that cases were not pressed and dismissed when they should have been tried; and that there had been a systematic and protected traffic in liquor.

WELLS SEARCHED FOR WEAPONS

The Times political correspondent says that when it comes to parliamentary action there is scarcely a word which will not directly oppose the elections and with which they may cooperate to a certain extent afterward.

McQuinn's Commodores Meet Whiteaker's Eleven in Fair Park Stadium at Dallas.

DALLAS, TEXAS, Oct. 21.—Before tonight's first of two hitherto unopposed football games, the Texas University Longhorns and the Vanderbilt University Commodores...

The Commodores, playing on Texas soil today, executed a scoreless tie from the Michigan Wolverines last Saturday at Nashville. The Vanderbilt team, with the experienced Shupe center, Morrow at guard, and Bonar and Bradford at tackles, stopped the furious line drives of the smashing Wolverine backs.

Experienced material in the Commodore backfield includes "Doc" Kuhn at quarter and Captain Neely, fullback. Wakefield, Freddie Meier, capable of playing either quarter or half. Quarterback Rosmore, and a long list of other veteran players.

The Oklahoma Aggie game last Saturday resulted in injuries to three Texas guards. Archie Gray, regular variety guard, Leon Gray, and Tom Jones, which left the Texas team rather hard hit today.

The public today sees in action for the first time the Texas Cowboys, a new organization of Texas players, which is attracting much attention among university students and alumni and elsewhere.

The following telegrams were received by Coach Jones this morning, all addressed to the Wichita Falls High school football team.

LELAND PARKIN Has Coach Howard Jones of Iowa unearthed another Aubrey Devine in Leland Parkin? When Devine, who captained the Iowa champions of last year, and who was an all-American selection, was graduated in June it seemed Iowa suffered a blow from which it would take more than a year to recover.

Since football training started Devine has paid particular attention to Parkin. He has instructed the Iowa quarter in every trick of the trade to which Devine resorted. It seems that Parkin has proved an apt pupil.

"GOOD READIN'."

In 1940 the world will celebrate the 500th anniversary of the invention of movable type.

Before this invention, printing was done by carving an entire page on a solid block of wood or metal.

In the 60 years after the first movable type was brought out by Coater or Gutenberg, 40,000 books were printed.

Men rapidly developed the appetite for reading.

Research men in England, with more time than they know what to do with, have been checking up.

They estimate that about 16,500,000 separate books have been printed, in all countries combined, since the invention of movable type.

Nearly 800,000 new books are turned loose on the world each year. And the flood steadily grows larger.

In addition, is the tremendous output of newspapers, magazines, trade papers, folders, booklets, etc.

Small wonder, that most of us are perplexed when it comes to deciding what to read. We are like flies, facing a mountain of sugar, and unable to eat more than one grain at a time.

Rather a discouraging outlook for young writers. George Ade once said that the chief trouble with the writing business is that there is so much competition with dead men.

Even a rapid reader, reading all day and far into the night, would be unable to peruse more than 1 in 1,000 of the new books issued yearly throughout the world.

Life is short. We are caged in by the limits of time.

As with books, so with knowledge. The most brilliant brain finds life too short to acquire more than a tiny fraction of the vast fund of knowledge accumulated and passed on through the centuries by millions of inquiring minds.

Knowledge is a circus with a million rings, all going at once, no man able to grasp the whole show. The choice is to watch one ring intently (specialize) or wander up and down the tent, picking up a smattering about all rings in general and none in particular.

French writers seem to grasp the idea. It is not unusual for one of them to devote a lifetime of research to writing the history of one article—such as the pin, glove or sparrow.

Greatest of all books is the never-ending serial story, the Book of Life. You see it mirrored in the newspapers.

LASKER SAYS "DRY" RULING IS BLOW TO MERCHANT MARINE

CHAIRMAN SHIPPING BOARD SPEAKER AT BANQUET IN CHICAGO.

FOREIGNERS WILL NOT SUBSCRIBE TO THEORY

Says Daugherty is Greatest Lawmaker; Moses Only Made Red Sea Dry.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Across a banquet hall last night A. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board, told the United States Attorney Daugherty and the other bankers that the attorney general's recent ruling that all ships entering American waters must be "dry" was the greatest blow that could have happened to the American merchant marine.

"I can prove," said Mr. Lasker, who with the attorney general, spoke before the audit bureau of circulation and its guests, "that Mr. Daugherty is the greatest lawmaker of all. Moses only made a Red sea dry."

Mr. Lasker said that while he personally was anti-alcohol, he spoke neither as a wet nor dry but from the standpoint of the shipping board.

"I have seen in the press," said Mr. Lasker, "statements that he made his decision to conform to political expediency to aid the merchant marine bill. I never knew what the decision was until the president announced it. As to the attorney general who is such a good politician, if he felt he was helping American ships, he did it without advising with me. I want foreign ships to come in, as is their right, wet."

"Forty per cent of the passengers are foreigners and will not subscribe to our views.

"When we are in international business we only deceive ourselves to think that America rules the world.

The principal profits of ships coming to American shores is the emigrant traffic, he said. The emigrants regard wine and beer as much as food as they do bread and water, he asserted. Liquor bearing ships can obtain this traffic and upon approaching American waters can throw overboard such liquors as may be left, although he said they could figure to a barrel just how much liquor would be required by their passengers.
