CHICAGO CAMPAIGN MARKED BY LACK OF USUAL MUDSLINGING

CHICAGO, April 3.—The city voters today select their mayor for the next four years, after a campaign marked by a lack of mudslinging from the candidates. Arthur C. Lueder, Republican standard bearer and former postmaster; Judge William E. Dever, Democrat nominee, and William A. Cunneen, socialist candidate, all three made a business administration the keynote of their campaign, each promising to end what each said was a wasteful and shameful waste of the city's funds.

Throughout the campaign Mayor William Hale Thompson, twice elected mayor by the Republican party, remained in the background, taking no part, at least publicly, in his party's program.

The last day's campaigning brought out the religious issue, the Democrats connecting the Ku Klux Klan with the Republican campaign and some of Mr. Lueder's supporters, it was charged, stressing the fact that Judge Dever is a member of the Roman Catholic church.

Twenty aldermen of Chicago's 50 wards under the new plan will be elected today. The 50 others received the required majority in the February primary.

The late congressman, James R. Mann's seat in the second Illinois district will be filled today. The major party candidates are Morton H. Hull, Republican, former state senator, and Harriet O'Hara, Democrat, former lieutenant governor.

OLD GUARD WILL TRY AND PREVENT TARIFF TINKERING

PLANS FOR CONGRESS DO NOT INCLUDE TAX REVISION.

STATEMENT IS MADE BY SENATOR WATSON

Leaders Are Afraid of What Might Happen Should Change Be Proposed.

By JAMES H. ROUSE, University Editor, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—There will be no tinkering with the tariff and tax laws at the next session of congress if the old guard Republican leaders can prevent it.

Announcement of the effect was made today by Senator Watson, of Indiana, who was at the capital for a few hours enroute to New York, having just come from Cuba.

Senator Watson said the plans of the Republican leaders for the next session do not include any amendatory measures with reference to changing tax rates, nor revision of the income or surtax rates. Neither is it planned, he said, to bring the tariff law up for amendment.

Coming upon the heels of the announcement made yesterday by Representative Frost of Wisconsin, of the plans agreed upon by the progressive bloc to cut down the tax rates, Senator Watson's statement is full of significance. It means that the old guard leaders will do all in their power to prevent the progressives from any attempt to carry out their program.

The best way to accomplish this end is to keep the tax law and the tariff law where they are and not allow either of them to be brought into the Senate or House for amendment.

Leaders Are Afraid.—The plain truth is that the conservative Republican leaders are afraid of what might happen to the revenue system now in force or to the tariff law if either measure were permitted to run the gauntlet of progressive attack in either House.

For if either measure were submitted for changes which might be favored by the old guard, this very act would make the entire measure open to general amendment. The consequence might be that the whole tax raising system and the tariff law would be ridden by the combined votes of the progressive bloc and the Democrats, a combination which could easily outvote the old guard.

Senator Watson's announcement represents a complete about face.

MAN IN HOSPITAL RESULT FLOGGING; HEAD IS GASHED

TAYLOR, TEXAS, April 3.—R. W. Burleson, of Wear, Texas, a small town between Taylor and Georgetown, Williamson county, was in a hospital here today, recovering from the effects of a flogging received Sunday night. His head was gashed and shoulders were bruised.

He was taken from an automobile Sunday afternoon by a band of unmasked men, driven to a point near the San Gabriel river, whipped and beaten on the head with pistols, then brought to Taylor, and chained to a tree on the north side of the city hall, where three buckets of creosote dip were poured on him, according to the story told the police.

Burleson was said by doctors to be well on the road to recovery today. No arrest had been reported this morning, and the police apparently were without a clue, although they expressed unconfirmed belief of the assailants having been from some nearby community.

County officers at Georgetown today had in their possession the heavy chain which had been locked about Burleson's neck by his assailants and which was sawed off yesterday.

Representatives of the Ku Klux Klan here today strongly denied any connection with the whipping.

According to Burleson, the police said, he had been notified that an attack was to be made on him by a Baptist preacher, who handed him a card bearing the name of "Ku Klux Klan, No. 176, of Georgetown," and that he was told he must quit going with a certain woman.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN MICHIGAN VOTE ON STATE OFFICES

DETROIT, April 3.—Republican voters of Michigan " swung back into line" and "made a splendid start for the presidential campaign," said D. Cady, chairman of the state Republican central committee, declared today in discussing yesterday's election in which the entire Republican ticket of minor state officers was victorious.

The outcome, Chairman Cady declared, was gratifying to Republicans, as gratifying to the state Republican leaders, following the split of last November, when the Democrats were able to elect Woodbridge N. Ferris to the United States senate.

Mr. Ferris was the first Democrat sent to the senate from Michigan since the Civil war.

While Democrats found some encouragement in the election of Frank E. Doremus, former congressman, as mayor of Detroit, the Republicans pointed out that the mayoralty election was non-partisan and that Doremus, always a strong candidate here, had been virtually conceded the office. Doremus won over James W. Innes, former police commissioner, by about two votes to one.

The Republican candidates for state offices early today continued to lead their Democratic opponents by approximately three to one.

Eight Candidates in Burkburnett Election.

BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, April 3.—Eight men have certified their names as candidates for the office of aldermen to be voted on at the city election to be held today. W. S. Duval, P. B. Browning, A. R. Thomas, Will Dickson, W. W. Gilbert, W. E. Miller, C. W. Copeland and Wm. Burroughs are the contestants. The election only calls for four aldermen to be elected. The contest bids fair to be a hot one as early activities among candidates and their friends today would indicate.

RED CROSS WILL TERMINATE RELIEF WORK NEAR EAST

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The American Red Cross will terminate next June 30 its emergency relief work among the refugees in Greece evacuated from Turkish territory after the fall of Smyrna about five months ago. The state department has so informed the British and French, Italian and Greek governments in identical notes stating that the solution of the near east relief problem "can hardly lie in measures of temporary relief alone," and suggesting some "constructive plan" of cooperation among the nations interested in dealing with the problem.

The near east relief also was said to be anxious to terminate at the earliest possible moment its emergency relief now being extended to approximately 100,000 adult refugees in Turkish territory. The latter organization, however, is prepared to continue its child welfare work in the Caucasus, Greece, Syria and elsewhere. Secretary Hughes said, including the support of 65,000 wholly dependent orphans.

ONE MAN IS DEAD ANOTHER IS DYING THIRD IS WOUNDED

CLEVELAND, OHIO, April 3.—One man was dead, another was said to be dying and a third was less seriously wounded today as a result of a shooting affray at a meeting of local union number 47, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers here last night. The slayer had not been apprehended early today.

Ferb, Bowen, 42, former business agent of the union, was instantly killed.

John O'Brien, 50, secretary of the union, was taken to a hospital in a critical condition with a bullet wound through the throat.

John R. Burnell, 55, received a flesh wound through the chest.

Discussion of a clause in the union rules, which provides that any member who becomes a contractor and employer of labor should be forced to resign or be fined, led up to the shooting.

Taking offense at remarks from a worker, O'Brien struck the man in the face with his fist. The two grappled and fell to the floor. O'Brien landed on top. The man underneath drew a revolver and fired, shooting O'Brien through the body.

He then fired two more shots, the bullets, which believe were intended for O'Brien, striking the women and Burnell. Approximately 300 members were in the hall at the time.

Indictment of Negro Presents an Unusual Case.

WACO, April 3.—Grand jury indictments against Roy Mitchell, charging him with the murder of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barker and 32 year old Homer Turk, at Concord, near Waco, in February of last year, presents an unusual legal aspect, according to attorneys.

Cooper Johnson and Benny Young, negroes, were arrested, indicted and convicted of the triple murder after having made written confessions. Cooper Johnson was given the death penalty while Benny Young was given a life sentence. On appeal both cases were affirmed and a rehearing denied.

Roy Mitchell, given the death penalty in five murder cases during the past two weeks, has made a written confession that he committed the triple murder. The confessions in these cases are complete as to detail as to how the murders were committed.

The indictment against Mitchell now number sixteen, believed to be a record in the state. Eight of these are for murder, while the other eight are for offenses ranging from criminal assault to assault to murder.

Mitchell remains in his cell, apparently unrepentant as to developments. Officials are undecided as to whether or not he will be sentenced to the electric chair, or await the trial of the cases on the grand jury indictments returned late Monday evening.

Roy Grundy Acquitted in Aggravated Assault Case.

Roy Grundy, who was tried in the county court at law Monday afternoon on a charge of aggravated assault, was acquitted of the charge by a verdict of the jury returned at 3:30 o'clock. Grundy was charged with having drawn a pistol on his divorced wife while out riding. The jury held that the defendant did not hurt the prosecuting witness, had not touched her and showed no intent because of his failure to do her any physical injury.

Have Dismissed Charge of Criminal Libel.

AUSTIN, April 3.—Charges of criminal libel filed in the county court here last week against Coob and David Lutzer, former students of the University of Texas, as a result of the publication of the "Blunder" scandal sheet, were dismissed late yesterday at the request of Dr. Robert E. Vinson, president of that university. Dismissal of the charges followed an agreement by which circulation of the publication was suppressed.

Margaret Anglin Is Attraction at Palace Theater Monday, April 9 Presenting 'The Woman of Bronze'

MARGARET ANGLIN

There is nothing quite so stirring in life as emotion coupled with intelligence. This has been granted to Margaret Anglin in "The Woman of Bronze," coming to the Palace Theater Monday, April 9, and recognized by 25 weeks of thunderous applause.

Depicting a woman whose brain is as powerful as her emotions, Margaret Anglin portrays in the character of Vivian Hunt, the famous sculptor's wife, caught up in the tangled threads of a domestic problem, not only a woman, but a woman who is as powerful as her emotions, Margaret Anglin portrays in the character of Vivian Hunt, the famous sculptor's wife, caught up in the tangled threads of a domestic problem, not only a woman, but a woman who is as powerful as her emotions...

You can make good things even better with Mrs. Tucker's. So many women tell us of the improvement Mrs. Tucker's Shortening has made in their cooking and baking, that we believe you would be glad to hear about it, too.

Mrs. Tucker's, you know, is a pure vegetable shortening. It is as light and fluffy as whipped cream, with all the richness of butter, but with none of the heavy greasiness of lard. For frying, baking or vegetables, for making hot breads or pastry, Mrs. Tucker's is ideal. It cannot possibly injure the delicate flavor of any food. Just try one nail of Mrs. Tucker's. You will like it. It is made right here in the South, and comes to you always fresh.

Be sure to get the full story with Mrs. Tucker's picture on it.

masters? That's all twaddle. Men stop running from anything that suggests mystery in women.

"I believe more men are influenced unconsciously by a woman's clothes than they are by her face. But I don't believe in black clothes with 'vampire' tacked on in large letters ever proved alluring to any man. They give away the plot, on the screen, of course. I still see per directions but at home I wear full skirts and feminine draperies."

While Madame Goudal believes that a woman's clothes are the most important thing, she believes that a woman's face is well as well as her clothes. "They give away the plot, on the screen, of course. I still see per directions but at home I wear full skirts and feminine draperies."

LORD ROBERT CECIL URGES IMPORTANCE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

CLASS "ARMAMENT MANIACS" WITH THE DRUG AD-DICTS.

FOR INTERNATIONAL CONCERTED ACTION

Says Nations' Must Have Some Alternative Security to Justify Disarmament.

By Universal Service. NEW YORK, April 3.—Classing the "armament maniacs" with morphine and cocaine addicts, Lord Robert Cecil, secretary of the League of Nations, declared in an address to the Foreign Policy Association last night that "the only way to be safe until something or another they are cured."

"It all comes down to one single thing—international fear and suspicion. One nation fears another," he said.

This remedy followed by Lord Robert was as follows: "Some plan of international concerted action through an international agency—the league of nations."

"We have got to get a new spirit among the nations of the world. We have got to turn their minds from force as the only remedy. We have got to teach them that per-sonal, public opinion, these agencies are of far greater potency than are physical conclusions."

"Taking up the question of disarmament, he said before the audience of about 1,000 persons could be persuaded to dis-continue their arms."

"We can say to them," he said, "if you will disarm, your neighbors will protect you from attack."

The Washington treaties on armament limitation, Lord Robert said, "are a great step forward in the cause of peace—but only a step."

He asked if his auditors believed that America could remain on the outside if there were another great European war, and continued:

"Any such anticipation would surely be gambling with the future of your country. And if that be so, if it really were that even on this side of the Atlantic there is no certain-ty of avoiding the worst of all entanglements—participation in war—is it really so unrea-sonable to suggest that it is an American interest to have guards against the outbreak of war in any part of the world?"

"When we hear another break out no one can tell how far it will spread."

"An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions (Helps to Beautify)

Here is a simple, unflattering way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs: With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about ten minutes wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished. 17500 People Hear Galli-Curci in Crowded Auditorium; Young Singer Takes Audience by Storm Monday

Fifteen hundred listeners were taken literally by storm Monday evening by the voice and personality of Amelita Galli-Curci, when that noted soprano sang her first program in Wichita Falls. The Palace was crowded, with the seating capacity extending to the stage and about one hundred and fifty people grouped there. And apparently without exception the exquisite voice of America's first singer, with the winning personal-ity of a very lovely young woman, took its toll of hearts. The applau-se was a spontaneous and pro-longed one after each number, and at the close of the program, when there are always a restless few ready to be released, not a single member of the audience moved from a chair.

Madame Galli-Curci responded very graciously to the last encore, which threatened to continue in-cessantly by an encore of "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" were touched on the piano the audience recognized the coming song with another wave of applause. During the latter part of the program, she sang several other very much loved songs, including "Suave Ribber," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Silver Threads More Ready to Be Released," and "Home, Each of which took on an ex-quisite and satisfying new beauty for those who had never heard them sung before by so adequate and lovely a voice.

The program was not long, seven or eight minutes, but it included numbers which presented the exceptional sweetness, control, range and fluency of the singer's voice.

MRS. ELLA LITTLE HERE TO INSPECT DISTRICT SCHOOLS

Mrs. Ella Little of the state department of education, rural school division, arrived in this city Tuesday afternoon. She has made a trip to this city in order to inspect a number of the district rural schools which have applied for state aid. The rural schools of Wichita county have attracted state wide attention due to the wonderful progress shown during the past two or three years.

Mrs. Little will make a strict inspection of the schools which have applied for aid and will also in all probability visit some of the other schools in the county. Superintendent of schools, Earl Bryant, will accompany Mrs. Little on her inspection tour.

Collegiate Women Are Questioned About 'Spooning'

NEW YORK, April 3.—Collegiate women throughout the country have been asked by the Bureau of Social Hygiene, Inc., founded by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to answer an unusually frank questionnaire concerning love, it was learned today. Questions put to unmarried women include: "How old were you when you first began to spoon?" "What effect, as you estimate it, now, did spooning have upon the quality of your character?" "What things are most stimulating to you?"

Married women and widows were asked these questions: "Has your married life been a happy one? If not, why not?" "Were you strongly attracted toward young men?" "If so, how would you describe their attractions?" "Did you indulge, with one or more young men, in the intimacies usually embraced in the term 'spooning'?"

It is believed that the information must come out of the life experience of sensible and intelligent women who can be relied upon to furnish thoughtful and frank statements.

A study of the first 1,000 answers has been nearly completed.

Robertson has been in training with the Austin college club and was in good condition to begin playing.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it; if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it will utterly be condemned.—Solomon 8:7.

The objects that we have known in better days are the main props that sustain the weight of our affections, and give us strength to await our future lot.—William Hazlitt.

THAT QUESTION OF GUN ELEVATION.

Congress appropriated some millions of dollars for the purpose of making changes in the elevation of guns on American ships to give them equal range with the guns on British ships. The appropriation was voted upon the assumption that changes had been made on the British ships since the ratification of the naval treaty. This has been officially denied by the British government.

But according to the Army and Navy Journal the guns of the British fleet do outrange those of the American fleet. Here is what the Army and Navy Journal says on this point:

"The original designs of the British fleet gave it a range of 3,000 yards in excess of the American fleet. This is a little less than two shore miles. Such a difference in the range of the two fleets is the real basis for a demand for the modernization of the American fleet. The British navy has one capital ship with a range of 30,000 yards, but twenty-one ships with a range of 24,000 yards. The United States navy has five ships with a range of 20,000 yards, but thirteen ships with only a range of 21,000 yards. The twenty-one ships in the British navy with 24,000 yards range fix the range of the British fleet at 24,000 yards. The thirteen ships in the American navy with 21,000 yards range fix the range of the American fleet at 21,000 yards."

It is well known that greater gun range gives the fleet possessing it great advantages over a fleet with guns of lesser range. This was demonstrated most conspicuously in the World War when in the battle for Jutland the German squadron with guns of greater range destroyed the British squadron off the coast of Chille. The German ships stood without the range of the British guns and escaped practically harmless.

That's what might happen in event the American and British navies would clash. British guns would outrange American, and American ships would be at the same disadvantage that the British were with the German ships off the coast of Chile. It isn't a pleasant possibility for Americans to contemplate.

Then why not go ahead and make the changes in the mountings of American guns that will give them equal range with the British? Here's the rub there. In the naval treaty that was so hopefully and solemnly entered into with Great Britain and Japan is a clause that provides that "no alterations in side armor, in caliber, numbers or general type of mounting of main armament shall be permitted."

This provision may or may not debar the United States from making the changes in the mountings of the guns on American ships that will give them greater range, but it most certainly does raise a question on this point. It is a matter of great importance and one which our government ought to take up with the British and Japanese governments for revision of the treaty if necessary to permit the United States to place its fleet upon the same footing as the British in the matter of gun range.

This naval treaty, it will be remembered, was our party. It was entered into on a basis of 5-3 naval strength for the United States, Great Britain and Japan. Somebody on the American side overlooked this important matter of gun elevation. If Japanese or British representatives say it they failed to call attention to it. It's an awkward situation in which we find ourselves, but perhaps we will find both Great Britain and Japan ready to agree to the changes proposed.

YOUR DOUBLE.

Have you ever met your double? Somewhere, walking the earth at this very moment, is a person who is such an exact duplicate of you that, brought together, few could tell you apart.

Occasionally your attention is called to the law of duplicates, when newspapers discover and print pictures of the doubles of famous politicians, movie stars and so on.

You, of course, have had the experience of a stranger mistaking you for some one living at a distance. Sometimes the resemblance is so striking that the stranger thinks you are joshing when you inform him that he is mistaken.

The real you—that mysterious and indefinable inner something that includes thought and character and emotion—is never duplicated exactly, though occasionally each of us meets a person whose viewpoint is so strikingly similar to ours that it bewilders us.

An extraordinary case of mistaken identity was exposed the other day in England. Arthur Collins, arrested by Scotland Yard detectives on the charge of being an army deserter, was found to be the double of the same man, lived on the same street, followed the same trade in civilian life, and joined the army on the same day. Their fingerprints differ.

The "long arm of coincidence," in this case, operated to an extent never equaled in fiction, even "The Prisoner of Zenda."

We not only have living duplicates but we are duplicates of people who lived in the past. Old settlers have often observed this—how a boy or girl is almost an exact double of some ancestor of a few generations since.

Photography is a comparatively recent invention, so few of us can check back and find our double of long ago. In families where oil paintings have been preserved for several generations, the recurrence of "looks" is almost universally recognized.

It would be great sport, to turn the clock back a few centuries and come face to face with the man or woman whose features, build and mannerisms have cropped out in us.

Even more fascinating would be to turn the clock the other way and see the persons of the distant future who will be doubles of us who are living today.

This recurrence of doubles, generation after generation, probably is what started the oriental belief in reincarnation.

TAX SPECIAL SESSION.

Governor Neff has announced that he will call a special session of the legislature to convene on April 16 and has given notice of his intention to do so in advance of the session in order that the members of the legislature may be preparing themselves to attend.

A special session is made necessary at this time because of the deficiency in the state treasury. New taxes must be imposed in order that there may be sufficient revenues to meet expenditures for which appropriations have already been made. Some estimates place the deficiency to be met as high as ten millions of dollars. It is absolutely necessary that taxation be found to provide the revenues to meet this deficiency.

In the matter of taxation the legislature can know pretty well just how much will be required and its work therefore will be a choice of methods. All sorts of measures have been proposed including a tax upon the intangible values of firms and corporations. This tax is being strongly opposed in principle, but the factor that may prevent its enactment may be that too long a time would be required to set up the machinery to impose and collect it and the fact that it would almost certainly be fought through the courts so that there would be delay in collecting it at best and a possibility that it might not be collected at all.

The legislature must look for certain and sure sources of revenue and they will probably be found by increasing special taxes already imposed rather than in creating new methods of taxation.

Among things looking better going than coming are troubles and trousers which bag at the knees.

Time is contrary. When you want it to hesitate it speeds and when you want it to speed it stops.

Germans discovered the X-ray; but can't see through the French.

A cereal is a brain food. That is food for thought.

Silence isn't golden, it is platinum.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NEW WAYS TO LIVE.

As the years accumulate, we learn new things about ourselves and new things about life. And although this is a perfectly natural process, still are we often taken back by the simplest of revelations. It takes time to bury many of our fondest illusions.

But as we do put them to their last rest, we walk out into a freer world than ever. We enter upon new ways to live, for we see new things to work for—and, in most cases, better things.

It is possible for anyone to choose his method of growth, whether by a series of happy or unhappy events.

I know that it is customary to believe otherwise. But custom doesn't pick men out of the ordinary and raise them to high stations of originality and power. He grows most who faces the largest number of new ways to live.

Each day should find us all facing a new world and a new chance.

Who is there who has not known sorrow to its flood gate? And how often have we withdrawn alone to some quiet place, there to contemplate upon the strangeness of human frailty and our own numberless lacks.

But if we only come back to the crowd of moving men and women again with rebuilt resolves and washed out hearts, we need have no fear of our fate. No matter how hard or far you may have fallen—get up! There is always a new way to live. And the chances are that the new way will be better than the old.

Only he who has truly suffered has really learned. (Copyright, 1923, George Matthew Adams.)

Girls in the well.

Losing doesn't pay.
Death, dreams, religion.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1923)

In Yucatan is found a city of the Mayan, 1,400 years old, situated in a mountainous region. It is a well 100 feet in diameter, 700 feet deep, into which beautiful girls were thrown alive to please the rain gods in time of drought.

There were sacrifices also for the great God Kukulcan, the Feathered Serpent. He would not eat, he told the priests hurling young girls into the well. "This can't last; this will not go on forever," they would have laughed at you or more probably, would have thrown you in after the beautiful ladies.

If you stand before the high priests of finance today and tell them that you are a poor man, you are not thrown into a well, but you are apt to be thrown into a convenient jail "for seeking to upset the government."

When we uncover ancient cities, find the skeletons of men who are living victims was ripped open, that his beating heart might be offered to the gods in sacrifice, we tell ourselves that we are highly civilized.

But what does the news tell us? At the races in Paris they are wearing "glove shoes"—made to pull on like gloves and Turkishbath hats. And the minds are on that.

In New York a girl dances 27 hours without stopping, wearing out six partners and eclipsing the record of the strongest French male dancer. We admire that.

The United States government, sending abroad the magnificent fleet of battleships owned by the people, engages a Hippodrome director to produce theatrical performances, changed every trip, in which young girls will dance and sing.

The hope is that passengers on the American boat will accept the dancing young ladies in place of an active larron. They went.

Mr. Canfield, the new prohibition man in New York, says he will look after the rum fleet "with a flock of fixing machines." This will make it uncomfortable for the so-called "bootleg pliers" that work between the shore and the fleet.

That ought to solve that problem, unless the bootleg pirate can operate submarines.

Bulgaria sentenced to life imprisonment the government minister held responsible for dragging Bulgaria into the war.

If Germans, Bulgarians, Turks and Austrians had won that war, those seven million people living in palaces and later would have monuments put up for them.

It doesn't pay to lose.

The "Sonic depth finder" has enabled the United States Hydrographic office to make an accurate map of the "floor" of the Pacific Ocean. This is a gain of civilization, inasmuch as it is a means of detecting submarines, goldpans, sugar swindlers, etc.

The Reverend John Haynes Holman, surprised by his congregation, "I don't know," said he, "which is worse, the myth of heaven or the myth of hell."

If both are myths, what becomes of old fashioned religion?

The reverend gentleman also said "funerals are relics of barbarism." He denounced fear of death, saying "it is just the other side of death or what, if anything, there is in the life after death." That's all very puzzling.

He was mistaken. He said, "religious beliefs are largely responsible for the terror and fear of death." It is just the other side of death, according to scientists, in terror, fear of death, strange dreams at night, the early religious of barbarism got their start.

The sleeping savage, seeing his grandfather in his dream, said to himself, "my grandfather isn't dead after all. There is something after death." Then a gleam of insight came, in front of which he could hang his head on the ground, reproaching himself for eating his neighbor, or for not eating him.

Mr. Dickinson, once counsel general of the United States in Egypt, is back, gloomy. He doesn't think Egypt will know how to use the "liberty" the English gave them after the war. And he foresees serious trouble coming in Palestine.

The Arabs, outnumbering others 10 to one, resent control of Palestine by the Zionists, he says, and he suggests the possibility of a massacre.

There won't be any "massacre," although there may be a fight.

The 60,000 Jews in Palestine are armed with modern weapons. Anybody seeking to "massacre" them must meet with a surprise.

However, there was an interesting bit of news. The Arabs are content, they say, and the Jews understanding each other thoroughly. Time will tell about that.

Michael Sayre continued. "You were just in time," he said. "That was a wonderful jump."

"I have been wood in the hand by this time and gripping my hand."

"My good fellow," he exclaimed, "you have done a great day's work for yourself! For God's sake, say that you understand English."

"I have never heard of Devonshire," I told him. "Speak English or French, which you will."

"My name," he announced, "is Louis Kinderley. You will never regret this day's work."

I made some attempt to descend, but he held me in his place. "I will reward you handsomely, but we cannot be left here. You must get up and get out of the car again."

"Where are you going to?" I inquired. "To Bologna," the girl answered. "I will drive you to Bologna. I shall be glad to give me that young man's livery and papers, and recompense my comrades there for my absence. They will have to engage another woodman."

"It is agreed," he declared eagerly. "We shall not quarrel about terms. Follow me."

"During the whole of our four days' journey, the girl who sat by my side all the time, remained as if she were asleep. She thought and spoke to me only after long intervals."

"How is it that you, a woodman, are driving a motor car?" was her first question. "I have not always been a woodman," I answered. "I was a woodman when I was a young man."

"Why did you want that boy's papers?" she asked. "Because I wished to reach England and I needed a passport of my own," I admitted.

"On the following day, after a prolonged silence, she again adopted an interrogative tone. "Why did you risk your life for me?" she asked. "I was curious about your abruptness, toward the close of a long day's run."

"Because I admired the way you were doing what seemed to be certain death," I told her. "It is true," she went on, "that some of the most frequent robbers whom we have met with accidents while motorizing."

"Quite true," I admitted. "They have even been known to contribute to the accidents. I have done it myself. I wish you would not tell me those things," she said reproachfully. "It is the truth," I assured her. "We rather thought of wrecking your car, but I watched you coming down the hill, and afterward I only thought of saving you."

CHARGE SO-CALLED PEACE SOCIETIES MENACE TO NATION

WAR DEPARTMENT PLANS TO ISSUE STATEMENT IN FEW DAYS.

SOCIETIES ARE ALSO ORGANIZING 'WARFARE'

Controversy Promises To Develop Something of a Sensation.

BY GEORGE M. PATTEE, JR. Universal Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, April 2.—The war department will issue a strong statement in a few days declaring that certain so-called peace societies are a menace to the country, it was learned today.

One of these societies, the National Council for the Prevention of War, is so close to the war department building that a miniature war will be waged against the street.

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, a branch of the above organization, will come into consideration of the war department's epistolary warfare because of its activities, which army officials consider misguided and dangerous.

These societies are planning some "warfare" of their own, Fred J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council, declared.

"We welcome any facts the war department may have and hope a wide distribution will be given them. We say let the people have the facts, and they can judge."

The department has a good reason for getting its data together. The showing will include charts and a comparison of the military establishments of this country and the countries of militaristic Europe and Japan, population comparisons, and other pertinent matters.

Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, delivered a speech Sunday night in Baltimore, Md., in which he attacked the peace societies.

Secretary of War Woodrow Wilson, in his Baltimore speech, Fries is alleged to have said that the Women's International League of Peace and Freedom exacted the following oath of members:

"Believing that true peace can only be secured through reconciliation and good will, and that no cause justifies the organized destruction of human life, I hereby pledge myself to the maintenance of peace and the universal disarmament and promise never to aid in any way the prosecution of war."

The women's league has asked Fries a demand for retraction of these sentiments and he is requested to retract when he next speaks, tonight in Congress, it is claimed that this clause was adopted in another form by the Women's Peace Society of New York.

This society is said to be a smaller organization independent of the other two. The clause quoted, it was further stated, was voted down in the recent convention of the National Council.

Fries is the army officer chosen to lay a barrage of oratory around the pacifist group. The controversy promises to develop in the near future, since it has been simmering under the surface a long time.

JACKSONBO COMMANDERY GUESTS OF GRAHAM MANSONS. GRAHAM TEXAS, April 2.—The Jacksonboro commandery held its regular annual Easter service at Graham, Tex., Sunday night.

The meeting was staged in the First Methodist church where he main auditorium and galleries were crowded to the limit, hundreds of chairs being placed in available space, while many remained standing through the entire service.

The delegation came in over the Rock Island on a special train of five coaches, arriving in the city at 9 o'clock. The knights Templars were met at the station by a escort from the Graham lodge where they formed in procession and marched to the Masonic temple, thence to the church. The ladies of the knights were met by a delegation of ladies from the Eastern Star, who escorted them to the church.

The knights and the ladies were banqueted in the spacious basement of the Methodist church, more than 200 partaking of the spread, which was followed by after dinner speeches and special musical program which continued until the departure of the train at 4 o'clock.

TOWN OF ROBY TO VOTE ON WATERWORKS BONDS

ROBY, TEXAS, April 3.—The commission of the town of Roby has ordered an election to be held April 14 to determine whether or not the town of Roby shall issue waterworks bonds in the sum of $40,000 for the purpose of putting in a municipal water system in the town.

At a mass meeting at the courthouse the proposed plans were outlined by Mayor Hopson and the engineer who made the survey of the town. The commission proposes to sink one large well of 24 inches diameter near the springs on Cottonwood creek in the southeastern part of town and install two separate pumping units to pump against breakdown.

The main business and residence part of town will be covered with six inch and eight inch water mains and fire plugs. The lateral pipes to be supplied by two inch mains.

The proposition to sink the wells was accepted upon by the commission and it was determined to be impractical to secure a fresh water supply by damming up the Cottonwood creek southwest of town.

VERNON COMMANDERY HOLDS EASTER SERVICE AT ELECTRA

VERNON, TEXAS, April 3.—Vernon Commandery No. 22, held its Easter service at Electra Sunday. A large delegation of knights were present from Vernon, Crowell, Chillicothe and Quanah. The visitors were entertained at the Masonic hall and were served a dinner at the Springs club. Many of the visitors brought their wives.

The sermon was preached by Sir Knight R. H. Curry, pastor of the Methodist church at Electra. Sir Knight R. D. L. Kilbough, and Excellent Prelate Sir Knight Wallace Higgins occupied seats of honor. The Methodist choir of Electra rendered an excellent musical program.

LAMONT GIVES OUT STATEMENT AS TO MEXICAN FINANCES

NEW YORK, April 3.—Thomas W. Lamont, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., chairman of the international committee of bankers on Mexico, gave out the following statement tonight relative to Mexican finances:

"Because of numerous inquiries made as to April 1st interest payments upon Mexican governments the international committee states that favorable warrants have been made by the commission recently appointed by Finance Commissioner de la Huerta to pass upon the details of the plan of readjustment, but the exact date upon which bondholders will be invited to deposit their bonds under plan has not yet been fixed, and until the call has been issued and sufficient bonds have been deposited to enable the committee to declare the plan effective actual interest payments cannot begin."

"It should, however, be noted that if and when the plan of adjustment becomes effective, the bonds, when returned to the holders, will have attached thereto warrants calling for the immediate collection of the cash payments which may have accrued subsequent to January 1st, 1922, this being in accordance with the provisions of the plan with respect to such interest."

"Sufficient funds have already been made available in New York by the Mexican government to cover cash payments to the bond holders as provided for in the plan, and agreement, during a considerable part of the present year."

"Deposits will be accepted in England, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and Germany, as well as in the United States."

THE STATE OF OKLAHOMA, Complainant Vs. THE STATE OF TEXAS, Defendant THE UNITED STATES, Intervener

RECEIVER'S NOTICE WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS, March 31, 1923.

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE RED RIVER RECEIVERSHIP, GREETINGS:

WHEREAS, by the supplement of March 12, 1923, to the partial decree of June 5, 1922, in the above entitled cause it was provided: On consideration of the several stipulations, suggestions and supporting briefs relating to the entry of a further decree to supplement the partial decree entered June 5, 1922, under the opinion delivered May 1, 1922. It is ordered, adjudged, and decreed:

- 1. This supplemental decree relates only to the bed of the Red River, and to lands bordering on the north side of the same, between the 98th meridian of west longitude and the mouth of the North Fork.
2. The several interveners who, under patents or Indian allotments by the United States, own lands bordering on the north side of the river are severally the owners of so much of the bed of the river as lies in front of their lands and north of the medial line of the river, except as is otherwise stated herein.
3. Where, under grants from the United States, the state of Oklahoma owns lands bordering on the north side of the river the state has the same riparian rights in the river bed that an individual owning the same lands under a patent or Indian allotment would have.
4. The full title and ownership of so much of the bed of the river as lies south of its medial line are in the United States.
5. In the sense intended herein, the medial line of the river is a line drawn midway between the northerly and southerly banks of the river, commonly called cut banks, save that, under a stipulation between the parties affected, to which full effect must be given, this line, in so far as it reaches and is in contact with patented or allotted tracts which are within what is now the bed of the river, shall be regarded and treated as falling no farther north than the southerly line of such tracts as the same were represented by the official survey according to which they were patented or allotted.
6. Where tracts on the north side of the river, which were not riparian when surveyed, were patented or allotted after they had become riparian, such disposals carried the title to the medial line of the river, unless other tracts between them and that line had

PLANS FOR CONGRESS DO NOT INCLUDE TAX REVISION

STATEMENT IS MADE BY SENATOR WATSON

Leaders Are Afraid of What Might Happen Should Change Be Proposed

By JAMES R. NOURSE, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—There will be no tinkering with the tariff tax laws at the next session of congress if the old guard Republican leaders can prevent it.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, who was at the capitol a few hours enroute to New York, having just come from Cuba.

Senator Watson said the plans of the Republican leaders for the next session do not include any amendatory measures with reference to existing tax rates, nor revision of the income or estate rates. Neither is it planned, he said, to bring the tariff law up for amendment.

Coming upon the heels of the announcement made yesterday by Representative Frank W. Woodcock of the plans agreed upon by the progressive bloc to cut down the tariff rates, Senator Watson's statement is full of significance. It means that the old guard leaders will do all in their power to prevent the progressive bloc from attempting to carry out their program.

The chief way to accomplish this end is to keep the tax law and the tariff just where they are and not allow either of them to be brought into the senate or house for amendment.

Leaders are afraid.

The plain truth is that the conservative Republican leaders are afraid of what might happen to the revenue system if the tariff law is permitted to run the gauntlet of progressive attack in either house.

For if either measure were submitted for changes which might be favored by the old guard, this very act would make the entire measure open to general amendment.

The consequence might be that the whole tax raising system and the tariff also would be riddled by the combined votes of the progressive bloc and the Democrats, a combination which could easily outvote the old guard.

Senator Watson's announcement represents a complete assurance.

MAN IN HOSPITAL RESULT FLOGGING; HEAD IS CASHED

TAYLOR, TEXAS, April 2.—M. W. Burison, of Wear, Texas, a small town between Taylor and Georgetown, Williamson county, was in a hospital here today, recovering from the effects of a flogging received Sunday night. His head was cashed and shoulers were bruised.

He was taken from an automobile Sunday afternoon by a band of unmasked men, driven to a point near the San Gabriel river, whipped and beaten on the head with pistols, then brought to Taylor, and chained to a tree on the north side of the city hall, where three buckets of crocodile dip were poured on him, according to the story, told the police.

Burison was said by doctors to be well on the road to recovery today. No arrest had been reported this morning and the police apparently were without a clue, although they expressed unconfirmed belief of the assault having been from some nearby community.

County officers at Georgetown today had in their possession the heavy chain which had been locked about Burison's neck by his assailants and which was saved off yesterday.

Representatives of the Ku Klux Klan here today strongly denied any connection with the whipping.

According to Burison, the police said he had been notified that an attack was to be made on him by a Baptist preacher, who handed him a card bearing the name of "Ku Klux Klan, No. 318, of Georgetown," and that he was told he must quit going with a certain woman.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN MICHIGAN VOTE ON STATE OFFICES

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The American Red Cross will terminate next June its emergency relief work among the refugees in Greece evacuated from Turkish territory after the fall of Smyrna about five months ago.

The state department has so informed the British and French, Italian and Greek governments in identical notes stating that the solution of the near east relief problem "can hardly lie in measures of temporary relief alone," and suggesting some "constructive plan" of cooperation among the nations interested for dealing with the problems.

The near east relief also was said to be anxious to terminate at the earliest possible moment the emergency relief now being extended to approximately 160,000 British and French refugees in Turkish territory. The latter organization, however, is prepared to continue its child welfare work in the Caucasus, Greece, Syria and elsewhere, Secretary Hughes said, including the support of 65,000 wholly dependent orphans.

Personal Social Service Features Discussion at Baptist Auxiliaries

Personal social service was a topic which featured the discussions at both the First Baptist and Floral Heights Baptist church auxiliary meetings Monday.

Both auxiliaries held their regular all-day sessions, with luncheon served at 12 o'clock, and music and reading numbers on the program at each were very much enjoyed.

At the First Baptist church an executive board meeting was held at 10:30 in the morning, at which Mrs. J. L. Jackson, president, presided.

The morning's study was opened with a devotional service by Mrs. W. H. Davis, who discussed the "Resurrection." Several songs were sung by the assembly, after which luncheon was announced. Members of Circle Four of the Auxiliary delighted as hosts and served a luncheon Mrs. J. L. Jackson presided over. During the luncheon Mrs. J. L. Jackson played a piano number, Miss Thelma Scott read two numbers, "Ripah," and "So Was I," and little Miss Joyce Craft read "Davy's Prayer" and "I'm Lotted," both very much to the delight of the diners.

In the afternoon Mrs. Bert King led the study meeting, which was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. L. Jackson. The study was given, including some splendid social service work. Mrs. Compere led the devotional, taking for her study "The Resurrection." Difficulties through faith," and made a most inspirational talk. Mrs. Harrison sang a song, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," which was very beautifully done and much appreciated. Completing the study Mrs. King Carter discussed "Christian Schools." Mrs. W. E. Miller, "The Light That Liveth" and Mrs. H. Willis gave a very delightful and original version of "Personal Service in the Good Will Center." Mrs. King closed the meeting with a prayer.

The Bible study at the Floral Heights Auxiliary meeting was opened with a devotional by Mrs. J. W. Lovine. The discussion following centered on the "matter of overcoming difficulties." Mrs. Robert Farmer led the prayer. Mrs. Deegs discussed "Personal Service Transforming 'Meady' Lives." Mrs. J. J. Phillips, "When the Door of the Schoolhouse Opened in America." Mrs. George Smoot, "The Little Red Schoolhouse." Mrs. Robert Farmer, "Woman in Education" and Mrs. John Gibbs, "On the Wrong Side of the School Door."

A study which was very much enjoyed was sung by Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Smoot, after which Mrs. White discussed "Who is to Blame?" Mrs. O. Adams talked of "The Open School Door in Foreign Lands," and Mrs. Farmer, "The Light That Liveth." Luncheon was served by Mrs. J. W. Lovine. After luncheon Dr. Lovine made a splendid talk of the auxiliary members on the Second Coming of Christ. Mrs. T. A. Hicks gave a sketch of "Aunt Jane of Kentucky," and Mrs. Basham made a talk on "Such as I Have, I Give."

A brief business session concluded the meeting.

TWO AGES OF WOMEN NOW LIVING

One, in America, Modern, Progressive, Free Other, in India, Ancient, Ignorant, Social Slave

MISS ELIZABETH DENNISON

By NEA Service.

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., April 2.—A millionaire's daughter with cultured hands!

A millionaire's daughter working for a living and liking it!

A millionaire's daughter striving to bring happiness to the lives of the workers employed by that millionaire!

A millionaire's daughter who practices from her own experience.

The millionaire is Henry S. Dennison of Framingham, Mass., whose name is gummed labels and torn what the Smith Brothers' pictures are to cough drops.

The daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dennison, who instead of going to a finishing school as many of her girl friends are, is attending democratic Antioch College here.

She alternately goes to school five weeks and works five weeks in a factory working girls in a Dayton factory.

She doesn't do this for fun, either. Her intention asserts, she is doing a pleasure from her work, she admits, but the greater benefit comes from her association with the factory girls.

"They're wonderful," she says. "I never knew girls before who were so real. They just don't fool themselves into thinking they're something they aren't. They're themselves and they don't care who knows it. We get along very nicely because I work hard and I don't get peevish. And besides, I sing for them one day a week. I sing for them and one day at noon I gave them a vaudeville show."

Miss Dennison's work is hard, she admits, but she takes it in good spirits. She simply holds out her gallant hands and remarks:

"That is what the wife did. They were pretty sore at first, but they got used to it. They just don't fool themselves into thinking they're something they aren't. They're themselves and they don't care who knows it. We get along very nicely because I work hard and I don't get peevish. And besides, I sing for them one day a week. I sing for them and one day at noon I gave them a vaudeville show."

MISS ETHEL CUTLER

By MARION HALE

NEW YORK, April 2.—Do you, Mister Man, sometimes think you would like to get away from the factory, the modern woman, the bachelor girl and the rest of them? If so, there is a retreat for you—India.

"Here you find the real old-fashioned woman, old-fashioned for centuries," says Ethel Cutler, who has just returned from a five months' visit there where she made a survey of education for the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.

"The Indian woman's freedom is more limited than the pedestrian's. She doesn't do this for fun, either. Her intention asserts, she is doing a pleasure from her work, she admits, but the greater benefit comes from her association with the factory girls."

"Neither of the girls, nor their parents, can choose their clothes. A woman's caste decides that for her. Her friends are not of her own choice. A girl of one caste, who would sit down for a cup of tea or a bit of rice with girls of a different caste, would immediately be ostracized by her own family."

"Possibly one woman out of a hundred in India can write her own name, but scarcely one in a thousand has more than two years of schooling. And out of 150,000,000 women not more than a thousand go to schools higher than our high schools."

"So you see the progressive woman in the minority there. Yet there have been indications of unrest among the women of India. But with so many illiterate women, their expression is retarded."

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON, TEACHER, TO HIS SON, GALEK FRIEND, JOHN ALDEN PRESSCOTT.

I hope you have been more successful than I, Jack, old man. I think, however, you made a mistake in going back to obtain those letters. I'm almost sure that the old man, Leslie's father, suspects that there is a hole somewhere in the importance of that business proposition. He will be sure some day to find out. Right here, let me tell you that I have hard work to keep Leslie from writing a letter to your firm, telling them she didn't think you were going to send for him. If she had done this the fat would have been in the fire.

Somewhere I have an indistinct recollection of someone saying we weave very tangled webs when we begin the ugly pattern of deception. I think you're all wrong about the matter. I mean going back to get those letters. In the first place, she will attach a great deal more importance to them than you do. I like you Leslie, John, and I believe if I were standing in your shoes I would promptly go down on my knees and telling her the whole story, ask her to forgive me, and Women like to forgive, John; it is about the only time in a woman's life that she can exercise the absolutely super-human quality of magnanimity. It is a virtue that practically never comes to a woman, but when she does, it is a virtue that she should be proud of.

With all deference to you, my boy, I cannot understand why Miss Hamilton took you instead of Karl Whitney. That man Whitney is pure gold. Rich, handsome, a real man. Some girl is going to get a jewel when she marries him. Being only an outsider, I cannot understand why she passed Whitney over and took you. I do not believe that Whitney has ever thought of another woman in all his life. Don't say to me perhaps that in the reason why she took you. I do not believe that womanlike experience in men any more than men like it in women.

Any way I'll be sorry for you if the time ever comes when she finds out that you have lied to her about your youthful perigolds and contras with the splendid "one woman's man" that I already know Karl Whitney is.

You are probably wondering why I'm telling you all this. It doesn't do a middle-class woman, doesn't it? But the other night at the fancy dress party my mask had become rather uncomfortable and because I wanted to smoke, so taking it off I sat myself in a darkened corner just outside the conservatory behind a great screen of roses. This screen was so dense and fragrant that I thought the smoke from my cigar would neither penetrate the nostrils or be seen by any passerby. I did not dream that any two people would seat themselves on the other side of it for a confidential chat and when, to my consternation

Noted Dietician Addresses Women of First Christian Mission Monday

Dr. J. M. Martin, noted dietician, addressed the members of the First Christian Mission Society at their regular monthly business and social meeting at the church Monday afternoon.

The talk was the feature of the afternoon's entertainment and instruction, and was very much enjoyed. The homogenized exponent of proper diet discussed health from his favorite standpoint—that of the diet—and made some telling points in his suggestions. Dr. Martin was the special guest of the Health and Efficiency Club members, who brought him to the meeting Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. R. Ferguson, presided over the business meeting, when reports from the various departments were given. Mrs. O. G. Hamlin gave the world call report, the secretary and treasurer reported and there was an interesting program of talks. An invitation to the meeting of the Mission Federation Thursday was extended by a representative of that organization, to which many of the Mission members belonged. An expected treat was the singing of a solo by Mrs. W. J. Whiddon of Grandfield, house guest of Mrs. W. R. Ferguson.

The division leaders' reports showed three visitors and one new member, with 23 new members in the Little Light Beaters' division. Mrs. Claude Hall directed the program, opening it with a devotional and prayer, followed by the talks.

Disquiet is simply another name for good behavior. The child who is taught to behave properly can be relied upon, almost instinctively, to meet every circumstance in later life with proper courtesy. Prohibition

1. A well-bred man does not nudge, grasp or slap another man on the back, and certainly does not so much as lay his finger-tips on a woman's arm.
2. A gentleman never borrows money from a woman, whether she is a friend, a social acquaintance or a relative.
3. No well-bred man or woman speaks of money outside of business.
4. One never should reprove a child, a servant, or any other person, for anything whatsoever, in the presence of others, even one's immediate family.
5. No well-bred man or woman displays temper, anger, fear, embarrassment or any other emotion in public, thus saving the sensibilities of others.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I received your little letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, and my husband is doing his share. I think it remarkable, as I had not had to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine I would not be here today as I am. LORD ROBERT CECIL URGES IMPORTANCE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

CLASS "ARMAMENT MANIACS" WITH THE DRUG ADICTS.

FOR INTERNATIONAL CONCERTED ACTION

Says Nations Must Have Some Alternative Security to Justify Disarmament.

By Universal Service. NEW YORK, April 3.—Classing the "armament maniacs" with morphine and cocaine addicts, Lord Robert Cecil, secretary of the League of Nations, declared in an address to the Foreign Policy Association last night that "humility will not be safe until somehow or another they are cured."

"It all comes down to one single evil—international fear and suspicion," Cecil said. "One nation tears another."

The remedy offered by Lord Robert was as follows: "Some plan of international concerted action through an international agency—the league of nations."

"We have got to get a new spirit among the nations of the world. We have got to turn their minds from force as the only remedy. We have got to teach them that persuasion, public opinion, these agencies of international agency that are physical conclusions."

Taking up the question of disarmament, he asserted that the league should be persuaded to disarm. "You must be given some alternative security."

"If you will disarm, your neighbors will protect you from attack," he said. "The Washington treaties on armament limitation, which Robert called a 'very great step forward in the cause of peace—but only a step.'"

He asked if his auditors believed that America could remain on the outside if there were another great European war, and continued: "Any such anticipation would surely be gambling with the future of your country, and that is not if it really true that even on this side of the Atlantic there is no certainty that this nation can avoid the worst of all entanglements—participation in war—is it really so unreasonable to suggest that it is an American interest to erect safeguards against the outbreak of war in any part of the world?"

"For when war once breaks out no one can tell how far it will spread."

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions (Helps to Beauty) Here is a simple, unflattering way to rid the skin of objectionable hair. With some powdered talc and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface, apply and in about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and dry. The hairy hair has vanished. This is quite harmless, but to avoid disappointment be sure to get the delay in an original package and mix fresh as wanted—adv.

1500 People Hear Galli-Curci in Crowded Auditorium; Young Singer Takes Audience by Storm Monday

Fifteen hundred listeners were taken literally by storm Monday evening by the voice and personality of Amelia Galli-Curci, when that noted soprano sang her first program in Wichita Falls.

The Falls crowd, with the seating capacity extending to the stage and about one hundred and fifty people crowded there, and apparently without exception, the exquisite voice of America's first songbird, with the winning personality of a very lovely young woman, took its toll of hearts.

The applause was a spontaneous and prolonged tribute after each number, and at the close of the program, when there are always a restless few ready to be released, not a single member of the audience moved from a chair.

Madame Galli-Curci responded very graciously to the last encore, which threatened to continue indefinitely, as she had to several other songs from the first set of "Believe Me, If All Those Endearing Young Charms" were touched on the piano; the audience recognized the program and the singer gave other very much loved songs, including "Sunset Ribber," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "Home, Sweet Home."

The program was not long; seven songs, divided by an intermission, and the program was presented with the exceptional sweetness, control, range and fluency of the singer's voice.

Hamilton in the Travis county district court today. Taking testimony began at 11 o'clock when Foster Bell, 7-year-old, was called as the first witness.

The trial was held in the courtroom of the Travis county district court, which is located in Austin.

MICHIGAN SEEKS TO DISBAN THE HOUSE OF DAVID

By Associated Press. LANSING, Mich., April 3.—Two warrant proceedings to compel officials of the House of David colony to show cause why the organization should not be disbanded, were instituted in Ingham county circuit court here today by the state of Michigan.

The proceedings follow closely upon the hearing last week at Grand Rapids of the suit for an accounting brought against the colony by John Hansel and wife of Nashville, Tenn. At this hearing the charges of fraud and illegality were made by the plaintiffs. The quo warranto in effect is a demand upon the heads of the cult that they appear to defend their activities and show that it has not been conducting an organization in violation of the state laws, and offer to be placed in the charge of the state that it should be disbanded and put out of business so far as its establishments in Michigan is concerned. If officials of the cult wish to offer a defense, it will necessitate their appearance in court, including it is believed Benjamin Pursell, head of the organization, himself.

College Women Are Questioned About 'Spooning'

NEW YORK, April 3.—College women throughout the country have been asked by the Bureau of Social Hygiene, Inc., founded by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to answer a unusually frank questionnaire concerning love, it was learned today. Questions put to unmarried women include:

"How old were you when you first began to spoon?"

"What effect, as you estimate it now, did spooning have upon the quality of your character?"

"Will you give the reason why you have not married?"

"What things are most stimulating to you?"

"If you were to marry, would you be a happy one? If not, why not?"

"Were you strongly attracted to young men?"

"If so, how would you describe this attraction?"

"Did you indulge with one or more young men in the intimacies usually embraced in the term spooning?"

"If so, how far did you go in spooning?"

"The purpose of the questionnaire is to aid in solving the vexing problem of education and hygiene. We must have more information about the average women in order to furnish the proper guidance in the training of our girls and boys. The introductory statement reads: 'This needs information covering items of personal tendency, personal experience and personal opinion. To be of real value much information of this kind is needed. The experience of sensible and intelligent women who can be relied upon to furnish thoughtful and frank statements.'"

A study of the first 1,000 answers has been nearly completed.

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years. Since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875, I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and theories, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with vegetable aromatic. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic physics. Calomel, a mercurial that salivates and loosens teeth, has been revived; salt waters and powders that draw needed constituents from the blood; coal tar dispensed in candy form that causes skin eruptions; and a host of other things. I have never seen any reason for their use when a medicine like Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without gripping, and without shock to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It lowers your strength 25 per cent, hardens the arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope but go to a druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a generous-size bottle. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will be well. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, our and crampy stomach, piles, indigestion, loss of appetite, sleep and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe those three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

CHARGE SO-CALLED PEACE SOCIETIES MENACE TO NATION

WAR DEPARTMENT PLANS TO ISSUE STATEMENT IN FEW DAYS

SOCIETIES ARE ALSO ORGANIZING 'WARFARE'

Controversy Promises to Develop Something of a Sensation

BY GEORGE M. BATTERY, JR. Universal Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The war department will issue a strong statement in a few days declaring that certain so-called peace societies are a menace to the country, it was learned today.

One of these societies, the National Council for the Prevention of War, is so close to the war department building that a miniature war will be waged across the street.

The Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, a branch of the above organization, will come in for considerable of the war department's epistolary darts, because of its activities, which army officials consider misguided and dangerous.

These societies are planning some "warfare" of their own. Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of National Council, declared.

"We welcome any facts the war department may have, and hope a wide distribution will be given them. We say let the people have the facts, and they can judge."

The department, it is understood, is getting its data together. The showing will include charts and a comparison of the military establishments of this country and the countries of militaristic Europe, and Japan, population comparisons and other pertinent matters.

Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, delivered a speech Sunday night in Baltimore, by which he added fuel to the smoldering embers in this situation. The national council sent a letter recently to secretary of War Weeks protesting against speeches made by Fries in which he charged that the council was the vehicle of communism in America. Secretary Weeks replied that he could not undertake to censor the opinions of army officers, deliver a unofficially.

In his Baltimore speech Fries is alleged to have charged that the Women's International League of Peace and Freedom exacted the following oath of members:

"Believing that true peace can only be secured through reconciliation and good will, and that no cause justifies the organized destruction of human life, I urge immediate and universal disarmament and promise never to aid in any way the prosecution of war."

The women's league has sent to Fries a demand for retraction of these sentiments, and he is requested to retract when he next speaks, tonight in Connecticut. It claims that this clause was adopted in another form by the Women's Peace Society of New York. This society is said to be a smaller organization independent of the other two. The clause quoted, it was further stated, was voted down in the recent convention of the National Council.

Fries is the army officer chosen to lay a barrage of oratory around the pacifist group. The controversy promises to develop a sensation, since it has been simmering under the surface long time.

JACKSON COMMANDERY GUESTS OF GRAHAM MASONS GRAHAM, TEXAS, April 2.—The Jackson commandery held its regular annual Easter service at Graham. The meeting was staged in the First Methodist church where the main auditorium and galleries were crowded to the limit, hundreds of chairs being placed in available space, while many remained standing through the entire service.

The delegation came in over the Rock Island on a special train of five coaches, arriving in the city at 10 o'clock. The Knights Templars were met at the station by an escort from the Graham blue lodge, which accompanied them in procession and marched to the Masonic temple, thence to the church. The ladies of the knights were met by a delegation of ladies from the Eastern Star, who escorted them to the church.

The knights and their ladies were banqueted in the grand ballroom of the Methodist church, more than 300 partaking of the spread which was followed by after-dinner speeches and special musical program which continued until the departure of the train at 10 o'clock.

TOWN OF ROBY TO VOTE ON WATERWORKS BONDS

ROBY, TEXAS, April 2.—The commission of the town of Roby has ordered an election to be held April 14 to determine whether or not the town of Roby shall issue waterworks bonds in the sum of $40,000 for the purpose of putting in a municipal water system in the town. At a mass meeting at the courthouse the proposed plans were outlined by Mayor Hopson and the engineer who made the survey of the town. The commission proposes to sink one large well or two small ones near the springs on Cottonwood creek in the "south-eastern part of town and install two separate pumping units to guard against breakdowns. The main business and residence part of town will be covered with six inch and eight inch water mains and fire plugs; the lateral streets to be supplied by two inch mains.

The proposition to sink the wells was agreed upon by the commission after it was determined to be impractical to secure a fresh water supply by damming up the Cottonwood creek southwest of town.

LAMONT GIVES OUT STATEMENT AS TO MEXICAN FINANCES

NEW YORK, April 2.—Thomas W. Lamont, of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., chairman of the international committee of bankers on Mexico, gave out the following statement tonight relative to Mexican finances:

"Because of numerous inquiries made as to April 1st interest payments upon Mexican governments the international committee states that favorable progress has been made by the commission recently appointed by Finance Commissioner de la Huerta to pass upon the details of the plan of readjustment, but the exact date upon which bondholders will be invited to deposit their bonds under flag has not yet been fixed, and until the call has been issued and sufficient bonds have been deposited to enable the committee to declare the respective actual interest payments cannot begin.

"It should, however, be noted that if and when the plan of adjustment becomes effective, the bonds, when returned to the holders, will have attached thereto warrants calling for the immediate collection of the cash payments which may have accrued subsequent to January third, 1922, this being in accordance with the provisions of the plan with respect to such interest.

"Sufficient funds have already been made available in New York by the Mexican government to cover cash payments to the bond holders as provided for in the plan and agreement, during a considerable part of the present year.

"Deposits will be accepted in England, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and Germany, as well as in the United States."
