

RAILROAD VALUATION CONFERENCE MEETS; LAFOLLETTE SPEAKER

SAYS MEETING CALLED TO PLAN PROTECTION OF PUBLIC INTEREST.

DECLARES COMMISSION MUST ABIDE BY LAW

More Than Three Hundred, Including Union Leaders, Are In Attendance.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, addressing a railroad valuation conference called by himself and other "progressives" of the United States senate and house of representatives...

The senator added that the conference proposed to organize in such way "as may be necessary" to accomplish the foregoing aims.

On the speaker's program were Senator La Follette, Mayor Hyman of New York, Mayor Dever of Chicago, Warren R. Stone, grand president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Governor Sweet of Colorado.

Others here for the conference include William Jennings Bryan, H. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, and Donald H. Richberg, attorney for the ship owners in the litigation in connection with the shipmen's strike last year.

Mayor John P. Hyman, in addressing the delegates declared that if the federal government permits the establishment by an official body of a base of valuation of railroad property which will result in an appraisal of more than ten million dollars in excess of what independent railroad appraisers have estimated, the consequences will be a burden of more than a half billion dollars annually, and a total burden of not less than $1,500,000,000 a year with all that this entails in brotting industry, stifling agriculture and imposing higher cost of living upon the one hundred and ten millions of consuming Americans.

CLARKSVILLE, May 25.—Work has begun on the construction of Clarksville's new market place. The market is being constructed by the city and will be completed early this summer.

LITTLE ROCK, May 25.—William J. Simmons, emperor of the Ku Klux Klan today was on his way back to Atlanta after establishing here a branch of the Kamella, the women's organization which he founded and he described in speech to approximately 1,000 persons last night as the "sister order" of the Ku Klux Klan.

Mr. Simmons left Little Rock without issuing a statement or indicating "his" plans regarding a $100,000 suit for damages filed yesterday against him by H. W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Klan, for alleged defamation of character.

He has 20 days in which to file an answer. Emperor Simmons told the audience last night that the organization of the Ku Klux Klan was but one phase of an idea he had nurtured for five years and that the organization of the Kamella was the completion of his idea.

2 PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES HERE SOLD TO DALLAS GROCER

C. S. WYATT PAYS $35,000 FOR LOCAL CHAIN STORE PROPERTY.

ADDITIONAL STORES MAY BE OPENED HERE

No Material Changes to Be Made in Management, New Owner Says.

C. S. Wyatt, of Dallas, announced Friday morning that he had purchased the two local stores of Piggly-Wiggly, incorporated, for a consideration of $35,000. The establishments were bought directly from Piggly-Wiggly stores, incorporated, and will be operated under the firm name of Piggly-Wiggly Wichita Falls Company. A bonus of $10,000 was paid on the two establishments. Mr. Wyatt has been associated with the Piggly-Wiggly stores since the venture was in its infancy. For a number of years he was associated with the Dallas stores and was later made district manager of Piggly-Wiggly Stores in Chicago. He was also a director in the company of Piggly-Wiggly Stores, incorporated. Plans at present are to incorporate the local stores under the name of Piggly-Wiggly Wichita Falls Company. Mr. Wyatt will be president of the firm and J. R. Moore secretary and treasurer. Headquarters for the firm will remain at the Ohio Avenue store. No material changes will be made in the management of the two stores. Mr. Wyatt said H. W. Smith, manager of the Ohio Avenue store, and E. H. Crocker, manager of the store on Indiana Avenue, will continue to have charge. The plan on which the establishments are run will also remain the same. Two new stores will be opened here by the local company as soon as plans can be completed. Mr. Wyatt said. No definite announcement has been made concerning the location of the new stores but it is known that they will be opened at an early date.

CITY TAX VALUES FOR YEAR EXPECTED SAME AS FOR 1922

June 15 is the day set by H. J. Anderson, city tax assessor and collector for winding up the work of the city equalization board. The work thus far has been carried on rapidly and splendid progress has been made. It is hoped that the actual task of equalizing will be finished on June 8, eighteen days from the date of starting. Plans at present call for only two days for hearing from property owners. Indications at present are that the valuations for 1923 will be kept up to the figure set during the previous year. In 1922 the total valuation amounted to approximately $15,000,000. It is possible that a slight reduction in the tax rate will be called for in the 1923 city tax ordinance. The ordinance will be drawn up and ready for passage at the first meeting night following the adjournment of the equalization board.

BURKBURNETT MAN JAILED; DAUGHTER SIGNED COMPLAINT

Louis Glass of Burkburnett was arrested Thursday afternoon by Constable H. L. White and lodged in the county jail at 7 o'clock in the evening. The warrant upon which the arrest was made by the officer charged two separate offenses alleged to have grown out of the same act. The complaints were signed by a daughter of the defendant. An early hearing will be had on the case, officials stated Friday morning after making an investigation of the affair. The defendant told the arresting officer that a serious mistake had been made somewhere.

DISCOVERS THIEF DRIVING CAR AWAY TOO LATE TO STOP

In broad daylight, and before the eyes of its owner, the Dodge coupe of Dr. L. D. Parnell was stolen late Thursday evening. Dr. Parnell saw the car moving away from the curb, but thought his brother, who often borrowed the machine, was driving it. The car was parked on Eighth street by the Staley building, and Dr. Parnell, coming out of that building at seven o'clock, saw the machine being maneuvered to get away from the curb. Thinking his brother was driving, he paid no particular attention, being back of the car and now in view of the driver's seat. As the thief backed the car to where Dr. Parnell could see the wheel, he noted that a negro was driving. Before he could interfere, the negro had shot the car forward and was gone. The belief that the machine was taken by some dope user who hoped to find some narcotics in the doctor's bag was expressed by Dr. Parnell. Not long ago his car was looted and some cocaine taken by unknown parties.

NORTH SIDE CANAL FATE AT STAKE IN ELECTION SATURDAY

TAXPAYERS WILL VOTE ON $1,750,000 BOND ISSUE.

THREE POLLING PLACES PROVIDED FOR VOTERS

Little Opposition to Issue is Expected to Manifest Itself.

Resident tax payers of Water Improvement District No. 3 will decide Saturday whether the irrigation system shall be extended north of the Wichita River. They will vote Saturday on a bond issue of $1,750,000, which represents their portion of the project if the ditch is built. Little opposition is expected at the election. Whatever opposition there may be to the ditch had an opportunity to manifest itself last Saturday when the ratification of the contract was voted, unanimously.

schoolhouses will be voting boxes in the election. District No. 1, which includes Wichita Falls, does not vote on the bonds and there will be no election in this city.

PLAINTIFF WINS SUIT IN AUTOMOBILE CONTROVERSY

The plaintiff in the case of Neese Automobile Company against O. L. Birchfield, tried in the 75th district court, was awarded a judgment. Judge E. W. Napier gave an instructed verdict to the plaintiff in his action for judgment on a note which it was alleged represented the balance due on the purchase price of a Willa Sainte Claire automobile. The jury found for the plaintiff on the defendant's cross in which he sought damages on grounds of failure to carry out a contract.

NORTH BREEZE HITS THIS SECTION AND MERCURY TUMBLES

Coats were cheerfully donned Friday morning as a north wind swooped down on the city. Those who were expecting summer time were disappointed as the mercury dropped to a point reminiscent of early spring.

Over the entire surrounding district the weather was reported the same for Thursday night and Friday morning, part cloudy with the wind from the north. No rain was reported.

In spite of the fact that the clouds early Thursday morning predicted calm and general bad weather, these were driven away before the forenoon had well begun, and it turned out to be one of the most beautiful spring days seen this year. The temperature registered 33 as the maximum Thursday afternoon, and 67 as the minimum early Friday morning.

GARY PLEADS FOR GREATER TURNING TOWARD RELIGION

VIGOROUSLY DEFENDS BIBLE AGAINST MODERN ATTACKS.

SUGGESTS HUGHES FOR ARBITRATOR IN EUROPE

Says He is Man to Settle Differences Between France, Belgium and Germany.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Fresh from a Mediterranean cruise which took him among other places to the shrine of the Holy Land, Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, pleaded for a greater turning toward the Christian religion as a cure for the world's ills, in his address today opening the annual meeting of the American Iron Steel Institute.

Disclaiming any intention to "preach a sermon," Mr. Gary declared religion was "simple, plain business sense."

"It is in accordance with our instincts and judgment," he said, "to frequently proclaim, to say 'I have a nation of individuals to follow a Christian course.'"

Mr. Gary in his analysis of conditions in the steel industry, asserted optimistically that there is nothing in sight to indicate that there will be a substantial diminution of the demand for finished steel in this country during the next six months, to say the least.

He warned steel manufacturers, however, not to permit prices to go above a level which is "fair and reasonable."

Toucing on the Ruhr situation, which he declared was unsettling all Europe, he suggested that Secretary of State Hughes be named as an impartial arbitrator to settle the international differences between France and Belgium and Germany.

Defending the Bible, Mr. Gary said he scarcely started with a description of his foreign tour when, mentioning the Holy Land, he launched into a vigorous defense of the Bible against its modernist attackers and urged a broader application of Christian principles.

"The moral and religious principles of the Bible, both the New and Old Testaments," he said, "have never been and can never be successfully combated. Since the preservation of history commences, there has never been anything approaching the Holy Bible as a literary production of a more proper and desirable human conduct, and as a foundation for future hopes."

"If any here should believe this is an exaggeration, which is not probable, read again this book and you will be surprised to find Palestine in the light of and under the inspiration of the Bible. The more we read and study, the more we must be convinced of the absolute reliability of the Book of books.

Defining the Bible, Mr. Gary said: "One who reads or personally witnesses evidence of the rise and fall of great nations and communities and cities is led to believe that an overruling God determined their destinies. Such nations as the United States, even, or Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, China, Germany, Austria, Russia, will do well to constantly bear in mind the history of the past and the possibilities of the future. Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

"We should, if possible, avoid ill-natured controversies, international, national, state, municipal, public, private, political, secretarian, economic, or otherwise. They are numerous at present; indeed, they seem to be fashionable. Where or in whom the blame lies, that is without sin, let him first cast a stone. Let us diligently search our hearts."

Outlook Is Good. Of conditions in the United States, Mr. Gary said that the present business outlook is good.

"All this is said in the face of very heavy burdens of taxation, unnecessary and oppressive political and social agitators precipitated by those who have nothing to contribute to the nation's progress, and the unfortunate troubles pending in foreign countries and the bugbear of politics," he added.

Suspension and cancellation of building projects because of extraordinary high wages and strikes, unnecessary and oppressive political and social agitators precipitated by those who have nothing to contribute to the nation's progress, and the unfortunate troubles pending in foreign countries and the bugbear of politics," he added.

Mrs. Stillman Expresses Hope That Mrs. Leeds Will Win In Controversy With Stillman for Support of Son

NEW YORK, May 25.—Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman hopes that Mrs. Florence Leeds will win in her controversy with James A. Stillman for support of the son born to Mr. Stillman and Mrs. Leeds, says a dispatch to the New York Times from Grande Anne, Quebec, today.

For Mrs. Leeds, the dispatch adds, Mrs. Stillman has "nothing more than pity."

Mrs. Stillman added a sensational angle to the case by charging that Fred K. Beauvais, the Indian guide named as correspondent by Mr. Stillman and charged with the paternity of Guy Stillman, had been annoying her. Her attorney has warned Beauvais to desist, she declared, and added that Fowler McCormick, son of Harold McCormick of Chicago, a friend of the family, is remaining at the lodge with her and her children as a protector.

Mrs. Stillman said she knew that Mrs. Leeds was not the cause of her break with her husband and divorce, and other suits which grew out of it, but that another woman was responsible. She said Mrs. Leeds had been replaced in Mr. Stillman's affection by a New York society woman whom she has heard he may marry if he is divorced.

About a month ago, Mrs. Stillman explained, she was informed that Mr. Stillman had broken with Mrs. Leeds and that the latter was contemplating a suit against the banker.

Mrs. Stillman appeared far from her usual health. For two years during the court battle she postponed an operation to conserve her energy, but three weeks ago it was performed, she said, and she has not fully recovered.

"I really did not make a direct offer to Mrs. Leeds to adopt Jay (Mrs. Leeds' son)," she said, "but would be glad to make such an offer for any day. He is my son's half brother, and if Mr. Stillman does not accept any responsibility for him, we do. If Jay Leeds' father is not a gentleman, my sons are gentlemen."

Mrs. Stillman said that if Mrs. Leeds "had any sense at all" she would fight like a tiger. "I hope that above all," she added, "she will not sit still. I hope that she will not let things slide by hoping that they will take care of themselves. She has taken care of that. That doesn't gain anything with people like Stillman."

JURY ANSWERS ISSUES IN CASE CONCERNING STOCK

BOSTON, May 25.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The wool market is still drifting more or less, except for the finer grades of worsted wools, which are steady. Carded wools descriptions are easier. The manufacturing situation, however, seems to be clearing a bit as regards cancellations. Further exports, chiefly of low wools, are being made. The foreign markets are generally steady with hardly anything available in the primary markets."

YAY LEEDS 'FORTUNE' IS ALSO SAID HIS MOTHER

NEW YORK, May 25.—Jay Leeds, alleged illegitimate son of James A. Stillman, today has a total fortune of $1,500,000 in a penny bank, according to his mother.

His mother, Flo Leeds, former chorus girl, in a telegram from Atlantic City, addressed to the Associated Press, challenged the statement of Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, the banker's wife who has asserted her willingness to take Jay into her own nursery that the former New York banker settled $200,000 on "the other woman" and her son, in trust funds.

This statement appeared in an affidavit submitted by Mrs. Stillman in winning yesterday from the appellate division of the supreme court confirmation of her award of $20,000 a year alimony and $15,000 counsel fees.

Mrs. Leeds, in her telegram said: "Just saw papers. Boy's wealth today comprises one dollar ninety cents in penny bank. It records show what papers say they are positively false."

Mrs. Leeds who withdrew from the city after threatening to sue Stillman for non-support of her child, did not indicate whether she would follow the advice given her yesterday in Canada by Mrs. Stillman, "to fight like a tiger."

NOTARIES URGED TO SEND NAMES IN TO REPRESENTATIVE

All persons wishing to be appointed notaries public for the next two years should immediately communicate with Representative E. H. Gipson, at Austin, according to a letter from Mr. Gipson to Mrs. Miller, county clerk.

Mr. Gipson thinks that the clerical force in the senate, in copying the former list, omitted some of the names for Wichita county, and for that reason he urges that all seeking appointments as notaries send him their names at once so that action may be taken during the called session.

"Buying in the west has been somewhat irregular this week. It is estimated that fully half of the territory wools have been sold and that easily three quarters of the fine wools have been moved. Mohair has been fairly disposed of in Texas. In this market there has been little business in the staple, although prices are firm."

Johnson-Wisdom Wedding Thursday Afternoon, Floral Heights M. E.

The marriage of Grover C. Johnson to Miss August Wisdom, daughter of Mrs. Mary Wisdom of this city, was solemnized in a very beautiful ceremony at the Floral Heights Methodist church Thursday afternoon, Rev. S. A. Barnes saying the ceremony.

The wedding was witnessed by members of the family and friends of the young people, both of whom are well known in Wichita Falls. A bridal arbor formed of palms and ferns, with clusters of gladioli, furnished a beautiful floral setting for the nuptial ceremony.

FIRST CHURCH WESLEY GIRLS HAVE BEAUTIFUL PARTY MRS. BULLINGTON'S

The First Church Wesley Girls enjoyed a beautiful party at the home of Mrs. Grover Bullington Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Bullington was assisted by Mrs. J. N. McManis and the members of the section in making several hours' past delightfully.

The living room and dining room were beautifully decorated with palms and baskets of roses, and Victrola music was enjoyed throughout the evening as the players progressed. The hostess served a delicious luncheon on the tables. In the games Mrs. Jason Walker tied with Mrs. Chandler Brown for high score among the ladies and Mrs. Brown was most fortunate in the cut, receiving a beautiful satin finished bud vase. Mrs. A. L. Proctor was crowned for low with a pretty powder puff. Among the winners Mr. Proctor and Jason Walker cut for high. Mr. Proctor winning and receiving a satin finished smoking tray. Mr. Schreck and Tom Martin cut for low. Mr. Martin winning.

He received a linen handkerchief. The hostess served brick ice cream and angel food cake to the following: Messrs. and Mesdames A. L. Proctor, Herbert Brown, Chandler Brown, E. G. Schreck, Jason Walker, Tom Martin, Clyde Tittle and W. T. Wade and Messrs. Collins and Hays.

In the afternoon the members held open house. Those who were present included Mesdames H. H. Matis, O. W. Harvey, T. L. McGee, H. H. Harris, J. J. Deberry, S. E. Hobbins, J. T. Carter, S. L. Conn, L. P. Ambrose, Ross Carter, H. W. Akin, Jr., Ira Craig and A. L. Wiseman and Mr. Ledford, with the hostesses.

A smart little hostess of blue and white with a white blouse and large white buttons from collar to belt is worn with a skirt of large blue and white plaids.

Beta Delphians Close Year With Spend-day Party With Mrs. Akin

The Beta Delphians celebrated their spring disbursing with a delightful spend-day entertainment at the home of Mrs. J. W. Akin Thursday, which began with an elaborate—but strictly healthful—11 o'clock breakfast in the morning.

Mesdames Akin, Paul Barnett and R. T. Burgess were hostesses for the affair, and while they were busy with the last preparations for breakfast, the members and their guests enjoyed an especially interesting talk on "Contagious and Infectious Diseases" by Dr. Henry Ledford, local child specialist.

A group of Campfire Girls were very happy assistants when breakfast was ready for the table, serving it with graceful skill. These included Mabel Quinn, Juanita and Zona Bachman, and Margaret and Jewel Rose Akin. After dinner the group sang Campfire songs and were joined by Miss Jo Pisk, who sang several songs for her own accompaniment on the guitar. The breakfast menu was very interesting—cream, blackberries and cream, mock eggs (artificial in whipped cream), hard birds, radishes, peas in patty shells and brick ice cream.

The place cards were most for the week, tied with the club colors of yellow and brown. The individual set tables were centered with baskets of roses, and were most attractive.

In the afternoon the members held open house. Those who were present included Mesdames H. H. Matis, O. W. Harvey, T. L. McGee, H. H. Harris, J. J. Deberry, S. E. Hobbins, J. T. Carter, S. L. Conn, L. P. Ambrose, Ross Carter, H. W. Akin, Jr., Ira Craig and A. L. Wiseman and Mr. Ledford, with the hostesses.

Mrs. R. P. Brotherton won the club cut remembrance, a novelty candlestick, and Mrs. Rogers was awarded the prize for the month's high score, receiving a beautiful blue acid-stained candy jar. Mrs. John Craws was presented the guest's cut prize. The hostess served banana split, angel food cake and iced tea.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB
On Thursday evening Mrs. Harrison E. Bachman entertained the members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club and their husbands with a number of extra guests, her sisters, Mrs. Wilson Swint and Mrs. O. T. Ehrhart of Nashville, Tenn., being special honorees at the party. Bridge was enjoyed during the evening in the beautifully decorated reception suite, pink Dorothy Perkins roses in baskets tied with pink tulle accomplished the very lovely effect.

In the games the high score among the club members was won by Mrs. John E. Stephen, who was presented an embroidered linen towel, and Mrs. R. L. Eckert was high among the guests and was given two hand-made linen handkerchiefs. The hostess presented the honorees with Rookwood rose bowls. Mr. Stanley McGregor won high score for the men and was given 100,000 of cards. In lieu of prize Mrs. W. B. McClain was most fortunate and was presented a lovely hand-made handkerchief.

After the games, the hostess served an ice course of pineapple, individual pink and lavender cakes and mints to the following: Mrs. O. T. Ehrhart and Wilson Swint of Nashville, Tenn., Tom Martin, sister of Mrs. C. E. Rodgers of Hampton, Messrs. and Mesdames Adair of Tulsa, Okla., C. U. Danfield, Ross Corlett, John Davenport, O. R. A pure vegetable shortening that you will enjoy using

MRS. TUCKER'S Shortening is bringing a new delight in cooking good things to thousands of women. Cakes, muffins, pie-crusts, hot biscuits, in fact, everything in which you use shortening, can be made lighter and flakier with Mrs. Tucker's. For Mrs. Tucker's is a pure vegetable shortening, with all the richness of butter, but with none of the heavy greasiness of lard.

Once you try it, we believe you will like it better than any other. And one of the nicest things about Mrs. Tucker's is that it is less expensive than lard and goes farther. And it is made right here in the South.

BUSINESS COUNCIL HEARS REPORTS ON WEST TEXAS C. OF C.

MOTION TO AFFILIATE TABLED AFTER MUCH DISCUSSION.

SAN ANGELO MEETING DESCRIBED BY DELEGATES

Gathering Believed to Have Been Greatest Affair of Kind Held in U. S.

Reports on the recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting at San Angelo, made by the delegation which attended from this city, featured the weekly meeting of the business council Friday, and precipitated a lengthy discussion of the Wichita Falls' duty toward the West Texas organization.

A motion that the local chamber of commerce affiliate with the West Texas body was finally tabled; it was brought out that, although this city's individual members contribute more to the organization than any other city save one, the Wichita Falls chamber of commerce is not affiliated with it.

A. H. Brittain of the directors' position in the matter. Judge Brittain pointed out that Wichita Falls had been opposed on several important matters by the West Texas body, which had apparently favored other cities more than this city. The directors had not wanted to align the local chamber of commerce, Judge Brittain said, with a body that it might be unable to work in harmony with.

ARRANGE PROGRAM OF INTEREST FOR LAWYERS MEETING

A very interesting program has been arranged for by the committee in charge for the bar banquet to be given Saturday night at 7 o'clock at the Wichita Club. Members of the court of civil appeals at Fort Worth and Amarillo and the federal judges have been invited to be present.

Spoonful for a Penny Brings Quick Relief

Proves splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Phonograph records are asking themselves, "When can I find a worthy laundress that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy. Write me where to send it. Address: Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 115 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-months old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The result will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

be spent in Wichita Falls. Each should be kept in Wichita Falls to circulate for the benefit of all.

A Wichita Falls dollar which goes away from this city to purchase goods elsewhere that can be bought here, weakens the resources of Wichita Falls and gives the other city the advantage that the purchasing power of a dollar shows.

Benefits that citizens of Wichita Falls enjoy in the way of good streets, good schools, fire and police protection, street lighting—as well as the comfort and pleasure of life—are contributed to in a large way by our own merchants.

If we spend our money away from our own community, we are providing funds for the merchants of that city to contribute to their city—which, of course, is without benefit to Wichita Falls.

The merchants of Wichita Falls are working together for its expansion and we owe them support in the measure that they are deserving of it.

"Bill" Dollar left the office of the Wichita Times on May 24 for his trip among the merchants and workers of Wichita Falls. He carries his own record with him, showing every place in which he was spent.

Every merchant who received him got his legitimate profit, and no matter how far or how fast he travels within the buying radius of this city he will be doing good for Wichita Falls. This is the time to make a good resolution. If anyone has been sending out of town to buy goods that can be bought in Wichita Falls, now is the time to resolve that we will, in future, buy everything in the city and keep "Bill" Dollar and his brothers at home to work for Wichita Falls.

"He profits most who spends his dollars at home."

TODAY

Up, instead of down. We like strange things. Our Philippians gift. Busy specialists.

By AMBER BRISBANE. (Copyright, 1933, The Star Co.)

Something happened in the stock market yesterday, and this morning the bears are sad. No particular good news, yet the stocks suddenly changed their mind and went up, instead of down.

It is always dangerous to sell this country short. Morgan said this is also dangerous to "go long" just at present. The wise man invests, but doesn't gamble. As one wise advertiser put it last night, "There is a difference between making a fortune and building a fortune."

Strange things interest us more than things important. This will interest many. Chloroform is used to put people to sleep during operations. When they have been chloroformed, roses plants think they have gone through a winter's sleep and start producing buds and flowers again. Plants, like the animals, are our humble brothers and sisters. They grow and enjoy as we do, to a less extent.

As you read of roses influenced by their winter sleep, they will remember the report of the Philadelphia penitentiary. A disgrace to the city and state, the prison at Millville, Pa. In that prison the drug business is well organized. So in the making of whiskey within the prison, Chloroform makes the roses think it has been asleep. Miserable human beings long for the imitation sleep that is given.

Mrs. Medall McCormick, wife of the Senator, daughter of Mark Hanna, is the inventor of the chloroform rose idea. That will also interest you.

If the Philippines break loose from the United States they will take some good things with them.

In the Philippines Islands are 5,174 schools, including 7,641 public schools. The rest are school maintenance at private expense. The Catholics, as usual, provide most of the money for the schools.

1,094,473 young Filipinos attend the public schools, taught by 24,375 teachers. All that means progress.

German Socialists demand that Germany be paid in gold, as the result of the war. The gold is the result of their friend, the ruble.

Socialists will have to be content with something else, Germany will not pay in gold. There isn't any. We have it.

Two of the ablest American Sociologists, Hillquit of New York, and Herold of Chicago, are at the convention in Germany are, as Mr. Morgan would put it, "as busy as a one-eyed dog in the command of a blind man."

Once they had nothing to attack and defeat Karl Marx's old enemy, "capital." Now they must attack the command of a blind man, who decides how capital can be pulled down.

On their European travels Messrs. Berger and Hillquit will not go to Russia, for that nation which would adore Karl Marx, would probably put them to death.

"Old capital" finds his comfort in the fact that where a few of his enemies are gathered together they advise him to be a socialist, and he, in turn, and by hating each other much more than they hate him.

The world is surprised to hear that the first chapter of the twenty-eighth volume of the "Capital" is a chapter on the "Russian Revolution."

"Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and inquire of her." And his servants said to him, "Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at En-Dor."

The lady at En-Dor, when she found that Saul, whom she recognized, was not laying a trap for her, brought up Samuel, and she and Saul had a conversation.

Alexander the Great went a long way into the desert, trying to find that same witch, supposed to be immortal. The wisest of us are only a few centuries removed from belief in witches and witch doctors, and trouble we go back to the old ideas.

Hunger is a dictator that will be obeyed. While the allies are wondering what they can do for Germany, hunger is stirring up a red revolution. German police are shot by German workmen at Essen. And that German newspaper is edited by an imitation of the Russian situation—which would mean that the amount of "gold" which is "in gold" would be exactly zero.

The heathen Chinese are still full of faith; at least foreign diplomats in China think so. They say that high Chinese officials planned the kidnapping of American and British subjects by means of a probable part of a political plot. But it would take a Chinaman to understand that plot.

"You are a brave child, and I admire your courage," Gray declared. "But I'm not. I'm afraid of everything that other girls are afraid of." UNJUST DISCRIMINATION

By Morris

There was a stir among the Indianapolis speculators the man for whom Stoner was writing a check inquired: "What's the idea? Why not a dollar and a half now?"

Stoner and McWade exchanged a meaningful glance—it was not lost upon their attentive audience—but the latter shrugged and smiled provocatively. "That's our business," he declared lightly. "You ghost dancers want your money back and we're giving it to you. You're letting up a holler that you were robbed, so come and get it. The faster you come the better 'til our Scorpion stock will close at a dollar and a half or better tomorrow night."

"Bluff!" somebody growled. "Stoner finished his signature with a flourish, blotted it, then he heaved. He flung down his pen and turned indignantly upon his partner, crying: "This ain't fair to these men, Mac. They've sacrificed of ears and we owe 'em the chance to make a killing. It's up to us to tell 'em the truth."

McWade was angry. His indignation flamed. Vigorously he denied the charge of unfairness. A spirited argument ensued and the two men were out of the room.

CHAPTER XII. Four Against One. If Gray cherished any lingering doubts as to the loyalty of Mallow, Herold and the rest of the gang, he was a matter of fact, the readiness with the enthusiasm with which they fell in with his schemes convinced him that they had acted wisely in yielding to an impulse to trust them.

At their first council of war Gray gave each of them a number of definite things to do or to have done while he sought certain facts; when they assembled for a second time to compare, to tabulate, and to consider an amount of information concerning the activities of Henry Nelson that would have struck a blow at the confidence of the public.

For some time longer the conspiracy of business men and Gray was beginning to feel some satisfaction at his rate of progress when an incident of the form of a call from a group of highly excited and indignant purchasers of stock in the Motion Picture Scorpion Company, that profited in the sale of Gray's stock, had assisted on the morning of Gray's arrival.

"I've been sold, victimized, flimflammed, skinned, the scorpion film struck them and the poison was boiling in their veins." Briefly, the twiddle was this: investigation had shown that the land owned by the Desert Scorpion was not where it had been represented to be. But more than a mile distant therefore, Chance alone had brought forth the truth: the hour of vengeance had struck.

Calvin Gray withdrew quietly from the hubbub and asked Mallow, "Can that be true?" The eminent scientist shrugged, out of the corner of his mouth he murmured: "Why not? It all looks like a matter of fact."

McWade and Stoner were not in the least dismayed by this amazing intelligence; as a matter of fact, they were interested. "Absolutely right," they were victimized, we're tickled to death to rectify the error. Mighty fortune mistake, a matter of fact, the scorpion film struck them and the poison was boiling in their veins."

"Right you are, men! Absolutely right. We were victimized, we're tickled to death to rectify the error. Mighty fortune mistake, a matter of fact, the scorpion film struck them and the poison was boiling in their veins."

YOU AND I. By ALBERT APFEL. ROSEN. Ontario, Canadian province, has prohibition of the same kind, we have except that doctors can prescribe a whole lot of things that new is having "poor business."

But if they crossed the border into "the States" they'd find things booming in a dry country. Liquor hasn't anything to do with it, one way or the other. It's merely human nature to make one's pet peeve the alibi for everything disagreeable. What has become of the old-fashioned man who predicted that prohibition would wreck the nation by throwing millions of bartenders and brewers and distilling crews out of jobs?

(Maybe there are as many bootleggers as used to be legitimately employed by John Barleycorn and his cousins.)

Such lists are rather futile. You cannot select the 12 greatest living women with finality, because the qualities that make women truly great keep them too busy to get into the limelight. Our list would be the 12 best mothers, if such a list could be compiled, which it couldn't.

SPEEDIES. Speed maniacs are saving up to go to the yearly International 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

This race is not much more sensible than endurance dancing, except that it is of advertising value to the car makers. The speeders will not be killed, largely because the cars will be driven by men, not women. Most of the audience will attend with the subconscious hope of seeing some one killed. They probably will not be disappointed.

UNCANNY. The Spanish boy, son of Marquis Santa Casa, demonstrates to scientists his alleged psychic power of seeing through metals. He is said to be able to read large newspaper type enclosed in a cigar case. You have noticed that these remarkable things always happen a great many miles distant or years ago, never nearby.

If he isn't faking, the Spanish lad has something like what science calls "confusion of the senses," and is on record of a boy who could see with his fingertips—great advantage for a knothole at a ball game.

Elected Wellesley's May Queen, She Elopes Instead

"Darling June"
Passed Up the Floral Crown for Orange Blossoms, and in So Doing Set the Pace for an Epidemic of College Marrying---In Spite of Faculty Bans and Expulsions.

WHEN dainty June Scheffler, "prettiest freshman at Wellesley," wafted right away from college on the eve of the May fete at which she was to act as queen, and eloped with Charles Arrot, a young chap from Princeton University, old grads sat up and gasped.

"My goodness me!" they cried, or perhaps they made it even stronger. "Whatever is the world coming to? In my time, the May Queen would never have dared to do such a thing! In fact, girls didn't get married while they were still in college. Oh, for the good old days!"

Though today's mothers and grandmothers are apt to forget just how spiffily they behaved when they were yesterday's belles, yet it may be that the old grads are right. Either campus moons shine brighter now, or campus laws are not so strict, or campus hearts are just naturally beating faster. At any rate, never have American colleges known so many romances.

Young Mrs. Arrot's elopement from Wellesley is only a sweet sample of what's happening in college towns throughout the country. Not only has spring seen the young man's fancy lightly turning to thoughts of love, but the fancies of any number of "co-eds." Not so lightly, either. Witness Mrs. Arrot, who was serious enough to exchange the greatest honor in the gift of her charms for the chance to wash her own dishes.

The daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Bryan of New York, lovely Mrs. Arrot, was one of the most popular girls in her class. But popularity didn't prevent her from listening to Charlie Arrot's pleadings—and yielding to them. Now "darling June," as her classmates call her, is to sail for Europe with her young husband, while Wellesley had to name a new May Queen. She was Elizabeth Smith, president of the freshman class. The King was Jane Harvey, senior president.

What happened at Wellesley is typical of what is happening at women's colleges and co-educational schools everywhere. There is, for example, Northwestern University at Chicago. There no less than six girl juniors and seniors have announced their engagements. Count 'em:

to the Rev. Leland Hobart Danforth; Ramona Thompson, senior, to Grant Bullis, of Leland, Ill., her childhood sweetheart; Ernestine Smith, senior, to Howard L. Hayward, of Evanston; Margaret Patterson, football star of Northwestern, to William White, of the University of Illinois, and Louise McDonald, senior, and Grace Ferris, junior, to young men whose identity they are thus far concealing.

The moon is just as soul-stirring in California as it is on Lake Michigan. Long before commencement at the University of California, four co-eds announced their engagements to as many fortunate youths. They were: Vivian Forsman, senior, to Harry Seems, a 1922 graduate; Eva Wulgen, of San Francisco, to William Tomlinson, a business man in her home town; Eleanor Richard, senior, of Salt Lake City, to Lt. John Stuart, Annapolis graduate, and Marguerite Cheever, of Los Angeles, to Alvin Hamby, class of 1918.

In the East apparently the young Lochinvars and their chieftains are not resting content with mere betrothals. The moon must shine brightest of all there, for the youngsters go direct from their classrooms to the altar—or rather, to the nearest "Gretna Green" and justice of the peace.

Thus, Wellesley had not recovered from the shock of the May Queen's elopement before it was reading of the sudden marriage of Abigail Matilda Gluck, one of its most charming sophomores, to Frank Delmas Clark, of New Orleans, himself a student at the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale. The bride is the daughter of Mme. Alma Gluck, the famous singer.

And, from fashionable St. Mary's School at Peekskill-on-the-Hudson, ran away pretty little Elizabeth Peltz, of Philadelphia, to marry youthful Egerton Warburton, the grandson of the late John Wanamaker. They're on their way to Paris for a honeymoon.

Syracuse University, which is also in New York state, got so troubled for the hearts and hands of its fair maids and daring gallants that the chancellor, Dr. Wesley Flint, posted rules: "Marriage by any undergraduate will mean immediate expulsion."

Did it work? Not a bit of it. An elopement followed within ten days. Even the faculty must have felt a touch of spring fever. For the lecturer in law spoke right out in class and told his students that, if they got married and then were expelled, they could sue the university for damages. Dr. Flint faced a mutiny of his colleagues unless he repealed the rule.

Other colleges took the hint. In Pittsburgh four of them—Duquesne, Carnegie Tech, University of Pittsburgh and Western Theological Seminary—announced that they had no rules against student marriages. In fact, the authorities strongly hinted that young love was encouraged. Married students, they declared, were among the best on the roster.

"Let the young things spon on if they want to!" declared Miss Delphine Davenport, retiring president of the Women's Self-Governing Association of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. "Most girls spon and—like to. You take a moonlight night and other favorable conditions and the most strait-laced girl in the world is apt to indulge, within reasonable limits. Furthermore, most girls nowadays make no bones about it."

Syracuse found itself in the "throes of heated discussion." Questions submitted to the student body resulted in the discovery that many of the co-eds and the men students not only approved of "college marriages," but looked upon college as the ideal place for husband or wife hunting.

"The best type of men attend colleges all over the world," declared Harry J. Cool, freshman. "It is only natural for the women to seek that kind. Therefore, they go to college as the best place to form suitable marriages."

"The women go through college, but the college doesn't go through them," asserted Ralph Walker, sophomore. "They attend college for good times and to grab good men."

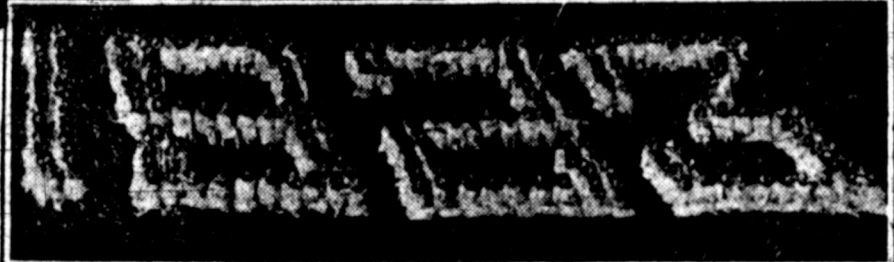

"Only the abnormal woman whose talents supersede her maternal instincts attends college to study," said E. Nutting, psychology student. "The normal woman's niche in life is that of wife and mother, even as the man's position is that of husband and provider."

"Co-eds come to college to dance and spend the fellows' money," was the naive offering of Albert Roberts, junior. "They're willing to marry after four years of good times, though."

The president of Bryn Mawr, a famous woman's college, agreed with the men students so far as to say that, "Marriage is the college girl's aim." But co-eds of Syracuse themselves indignantly denied it.

"Girls come to college to gain the superiority due them, and not to learn how to get married by studying the square root of a trisected triangle," snapped Miss Ethel Bedell, of the physical education course.

"If a girl wants to get married, she doesn't go to college for four years," said Miss Carrie Rivoli, freshman. "A girl's ultimate aim may be marriage, but while she's in college, she doesn't think of it."

"If I came to college to get married, I wouldn't be taking a seven-year course in medicine," was the brief statement of Irene Engst, junior.

And so they went. Even Miss Frances Dunmeyer, athletic star among the freshmen, while declaring that the presence of girls helped to spur on the men in their athletic events, "like women at the Roman games," yet agreed that the cheering section didn't want to marry the athletes so much as they wanted to see them lick the other side.

In the midst of all the argument, which, once begun, spread to embrace the subjects of whether "sponing" was universal or not and whether "petting parties" led to more marriages or to more broken hearts, Syracuse and its "sister" colleges reported just as many elopements as ever.

And the demon statisticians who were correlating figures on petting and spooning declared that from 50 to 75 per cent. of the students at Ohio State University indulged and admitted it.

The influence of the college marriages and petting parties was strongly felt in the high schools throughout the country, too, and there have been several clashes between students and elders recently over early marriages and the attitude of the young toward life and love. This came to a head at the Piedmont, Cal., High School, where the Dads' Club, an organization of male parents of the students, appointed a committee to draw up a code of ethics for the youngsters.

The code provided that:
Thou shalt not drink.
Thou shalt not smoke.

Thou shalt not attend dances after 11:30 P. M.
Thou shalt not go out on petting parties.
Thou shalt not go out with girls under 18 unless properly chaperoned.

The boys agreed to all the rules of the code, except the one on petting parties. "Petting," their spokesman said, "is the normal preliminary to marriage." And from the students at the nearby University of California came a shout of agreement. But the collegians who had already reached the married state refused to be drawn into the controversy.

"Really, I'm not interested in the subject of college marriages and spooning parties at all," declared one 17-year-old bride. "I'm not interested in anything right this minute but Jimmy. He's a darling!"

And that seemed to sum up the attitude of those most concerned, the students who are doing the marrying.

College presidents may denounce spooning. College faculties may debate the subject of early marriages for hours. But meantime the moon shines bright, the trees whisper, the long white road leads to Gretna Green, and in May-time and in June-time romance wins in the bout with books.

READ THIS AD CAREFULLY IT SOLD THE LUMBER

WHY DID THIS AD GET RESULTS?

First: Because the description at once announces to the prospect that it is a real bargain.

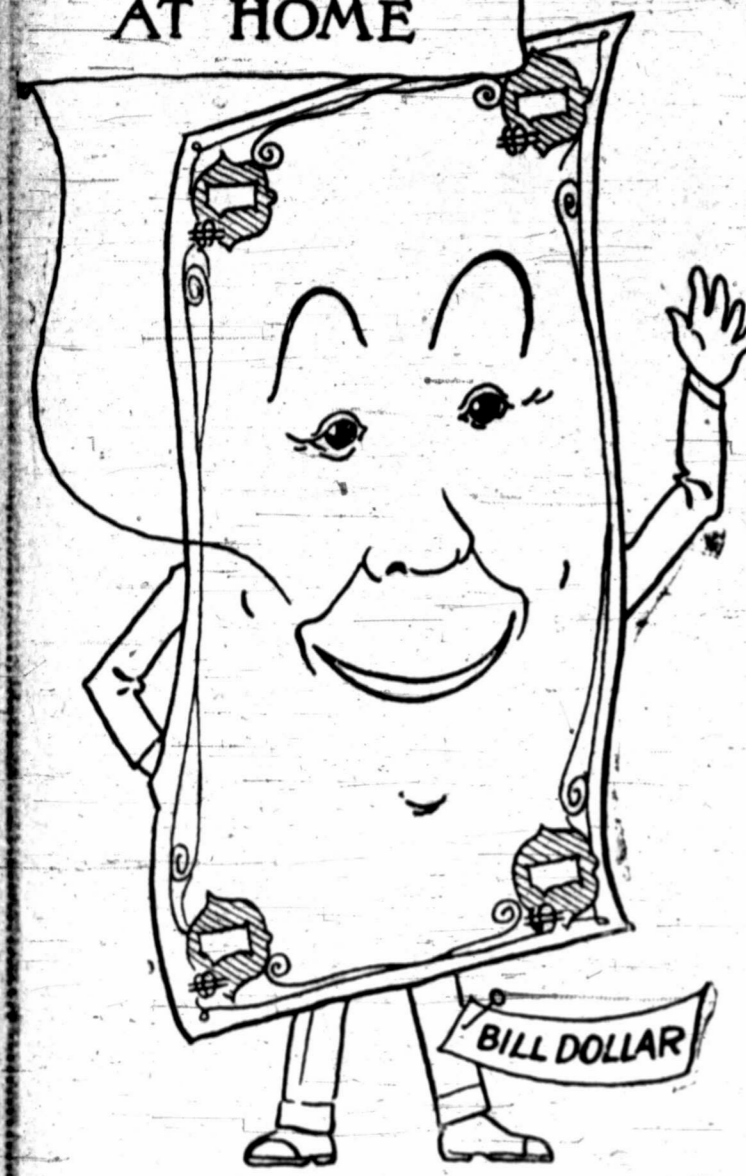

Second: The price and terms were right, and most important of all, it was advertised to the greater number of prospects through

"If every dollar earned in Wichita Falls were spent in Wichita Falls," said "Bill" Dollar, "this would be the most prosperous city in the country. Money would be instantly available for every civic need, and every just request would be immediately satisfied."

"Bill" Dollar was born in Wichita Falls on May 24, 1923. He was immediately adopted by The Daily Times, and because he was full grown at birth and worth 100 cents, he was started out to meet the people of Wichita Falls to acquaint them with his loyalty to the city of his adoption.

"Bill" Dollar is attached to a sheet of paper so that he is easily distinguished from his many brothers who are speeding back and forth through the city. Every person who gets him profits by his call and signs his name to the attached sheet and then spends the "Bill" with some other merchant in Wichita Falls for Wichita Falls handled goods, so that many merchants as possible may feel his influence.

Wichita Falls "Bill" Dollar was started on his travels by Rhea Howard, business manager of the Times. Mr. Howard took "Bill" as part of his salary and spent him with other dollars for a suit of Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes at Perkins-Timberlake Company. R. D. Kennedy then bought some porch furniture at W. A. Frazier Furniture Co.

B. A. Statton then took "Bill" to P. B. M. Company to make a purchase. Mr. Barnard went to Kimberlin-Smith Company to show that he keeps all of the dollars that he gets working in Wichita Falls. Mr. Kimberlin then spent "Bill" with Anderson's and Mr. Anderson used "Bill" to pay his dues in the Retail Merchants Association.

John W. Thomas, the secretary, then deposited "Bill" in the Security National Bank, and later he was started on his way again by being spent by Mr. Cabiness with the Wichita Hardware Company.

"Bill" Dollar is still on the go in Wichita Falls. He is going to visit every one that he possibly can. When he comes to you don't retain him too long. Keep him circulating among your friends and neighbors. Help him to help them. If you want to know more about "Bill," call The Daily Times.

After having made 10 calls on Wichita Falls merchants, "Bill" Dollar said, "I'll tell you who the Wichita Falls merchant is."

"He is the fellow who gives you credit when you are financially broke and carries your account for you."

"He is the fellow who makes you back your money or gives you exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought."

"He is the fellow who stands behind his guaranty and makes real."

"He is the fellow who meets you at the door with a handshake and lets you out again with a real come-again goodby."

"He is the fellow who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs."

"He is the fellow who pays heavy taxes to help support Wichita Falls schools and build Wichita Falls streets and maintain Wichita Falls police and fire departments, and parks and lighting and water service."

"He is the fellow who helps support Wichita Falls churches and hospitals and lodges, and talks for Wichita Falls and boosts for Wichita Falls every day in the year."

"He is the fellow who visits you when you are sick and sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body as far as human feet can travel with the dead."

"He is the Wichita Falls merchant—your neighbor—your friend your helper in time of need."

Don't you know that every dollar you spend out of Wichita Falls for groceries and supplies of any kind is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar in Wichita Falls, to men who would not trust you for a box of matches?

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Wichita Falls, and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods.

You know that the growth and prosperity of Wichita Falls depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of Wichita Falls merchants!

Out of town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants.

"I hope," said "Bill" in conclusion, "that I won't fall into the hands of

O. K. S. MEMBERS ENJOY PICNIC AT HAVEN PARK

Wichita Falls chapter No. 237 Order of the Eastern Star held their annual picnic at Haven Park Thursday evening. Seventy-five were present. All brought well filled baskets which were spread out on the tables provided at the park. The occasion was in honor of the retiring worthy matron, Mabel Spitzer, and proved a most enjoyable occasion.

Care enough were provided to take all who cared to go. Leaving Masonic hall at 6:30 p. m., the cars went direct to the park, and supper was served at 7:30 p. m. After the supper hour a social time was enjoyed by all.

The picnic this year was the largest and best that the chapter has ever held. Plans are under way for many pleasant features during the coming year under the new matron, Sister Estelle Karrenbrock.

HOME ON KEMP BOULEVARD IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Fire of undetermined origin, which originated in a clothes closet shortly after 8:00 o'clock Thursday night damaged the home occupied by Mrs. Clemmie Montgomery at 1604 Kemp boulevard. Mrs. Montgomery was away from home at the time the fire occurred and the alarm was turned in by neighbors. The residence was owned by J. F. Montgomery of Dallas. Damage on the home and furniture is estimated at about $500; the loss was covered by insurance.
