The Sun well is 1900 feet north-west, and the American well 900 feet northeast, of the discovery well, the two new ones being about half a mile apart, and providing a sizeable triangular stretch of country. PAPERS FEATURING PROMOTIONS MAY LOSE PRIVILEGES

GOVERNMENT MAY WITHDRAW SECOND CLASS CONCESSION.

INFORMATION SENT TO POSTAL DEPARTMENT

Trustees of General Lee Company to Be Placed on Trial Monday.

By United Press. PORT WORTH, May 26.—With the government making final preparations tonight for the first court test of mail fraud charges brought here against 22 oil stock promoters, another step by the postoffice department in the war on fraudulent stock promoters was reported under way.

Withdrawal of second class mail privileges from a dozen or more "fake" newspapers that specialize in oil stock advertising was believed contemplated. This would require these papers to pay a much higher postage.

Information tending to show that such papers are purely promotion organs and "house organs" of promoters and brokerage houses was said to have been forwarded to Washington.

Charles Sherwin, H. H. Schwarz and R. A. Lee, "trustees" of the General Lee development interests, will be placed on trial Monday before Federal Judge Ben F. Bledsoe of Los Angeles, especially assigned to try oil fraud cases.

Attorneys for the three men announced they would plead not guilty.

In the sale of oil stock, the "trustees" are alleged to have sought to capitalize southern patriotism. Sherwin and Schwarz put Lee up as one of the "Lions of Virginia," styling him "General" and a "miraculous man of geology."

Government agents charge Lee is an impostor and was paid $50 per month by Sherwin and Schwarz for the use of his name. The American and Confederate flags, the prosecution is expected to charge, were displayed in the concern's stock selling literature.

Letters and circulars describing the quick wealth could be had from small investments will be introduced at the trial, it is understood.

MANY BINDERS AT WORK IN HARVEST FIELDS SATURDAY

OATS AND BARLEY BEING CUT AND WHEAT IS RIPENING RAPIDLY.

STORY OF WHEAT CROP SAD ONE SAYS AGENT

Oats, However, Promised to Give Profitable Return From Acreage.

Harvesting season in Wichita county began during the past week. County Agent Guy R. Jones found not less than a dozen binders at work during the last three days of the week in various sections of the county and Saturday this number had grown fourfold.

By the middle of the coming week Mr. Jones is of the opinion that a binder will be seen in every wheat field in the county as the wheat is ripening rapidly. During the past week some few fields of wheat were harvested, but the majority of grain cut was fall oats and barley.

Spring oats is also rounding into shape in short order. In speaking of the oats crop Mr. Jones stated that an examination of many fields in the county led him to believe that the yield would be a profitable one, but said that the story of the wheat crop in the county was a sad one because of the thin stand.

The wheat straw is very short this year, but the heads that have formed are filled and rounded out. A shortage of harvest hands will

BE EXPERIENCED THIS SEASON, IS THE OPINION OF THE COUNTY AGENT.

RIO GRANDE VALLEY HAIL STORM DOES EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, May 26.—A hail storm this afternoon, declared by residents to be the worst ever to hit the Rio Grande valley, pierced the tops of automobiles, and dented the fenders and destroyed considerable cotton and many fruit trees in northern Cameron county.

The county's agricultural agent's office had reports of damage in northern Cameron county, but the agent could not say to what extent, as many wires were down. The worst damage was reported in the vicinity of La Feria, but little hail was reported in other parts of the valley. Cameron county is the most southerly one in the United States.

ELECTRA SOON TO HAVE NEW HOME FOR POSTOFFICE

PRESIDENT FIRST NATIONAL BANK TO PROVIDE BUILDING.

LOUIE MOAD HAS BEEN NAMED SCOUTMASTER

Drive Will Be Made to Increase Membership of the Organization.

ELECTRA, TEXAS, May 26.—Edward Schaffke, president of the First National Bank in Electra, has taken the contract to furnish a new home for the local postoffice about September 1. The building is being erected on Waggoner street, two blocks north of the present location on Cleveland avenue. It is brick, 60x75 feet, and two stories high. The present quarters are only 25 feet wide, and it is necessary to go down a long narrow corridor to get mail. As a result there is congestion practically all day long. The office has been in this location since 1914, and during that time the population of Electra has increased from fewer than 3,000 to more than 8,000 people. A. N. Richardson, postmaster, says that the local office is handling mail for more than 15,000 people, including those in the oil fields.

New Scoutmaster.
Louie Moad has been named scoutmaster for Electra, and as soon as his authorization papers have been received, it is proposed to invite every body in the community to join. Electra Lions voted this week to sponsor the boy scouts as their special undertaking. A committee in charge of the work is composed of F. N. McDowell, Carl Caba and John Houser.

The Lions have also offered to cooperate with the mayor and city commission in securing parking of the Denver railroad accounts west of the depot.
Leon J. C. Shaw, manager of the local office of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, has offered the club for use as a jungle the big Magnolia lake west of town on the Sumner lease.

Pupils Give Recital.
Pupils of Miss Lela Wear and Mrs. Lillian Jones gave Friday night a recital in LeBus hall. This is the conclusion of work for the present year. The program included: "Rosa"

Still a Girl
In bloom and beauty—due to clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 22 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19. My complexion is as soft and rosy as a debutante's. My skin is as smooth and youthful as 40 years ago.

All women marvel at my looks when they see me play young girls' parts. But my same methods brought like results to scores of my beautiful friends. So I am convinced that most women today are out-of-date. Multiply their beauty and preserve their bloom.

Now I have arranged so all who wish may employ the methods which did so much for me.

White New-Type Clay
The chief essential in complexion. Famous beauties have for ages used it. No woman can without it look her best. The users of facial clay stand out in any crowd.

French experts introduced clay to me some 20 years ago. But clay since then have been very much improved. The crude and muddy clays so many used today are out-of-date. Able scientists have been studying clays for 20 years and over. They have found that a certain mineral-laden clay brings maximum results. They have learned how to refine it by removing the useless matter. The clay I use—my Youth Clay—is white and clean and dainty. They have found some added factors which bring multiplied results.

'BILL DOLLAR' HAS REST OVER SUNDAY AFTER ACTIVE DAY

Copyright, 1923, F. W. Mozart.

"This is my first Sunday in Wichita Falls," said "Bill" Dollar, "and I want to have a good rest for I have had a strenuous time and there is every indication that the coming week will tax my strength because I am making so many friends."

"I have visited many different establishments in our city," said "Bill," "and it is too bad that every person in this city was not with me, for they would have had a new idea of this wonderful stocks of goods carried in our stores and the courteous clerks who deliver real values in merchandise."

"Once during my travels from store to store I got a bad fright, immediately sized up the grade of for as I way lying in a cash register talking to a brother 'Bill' who had just arrived from Chicago. We peeked out and saw a fellow who was looking at some of the goods on the shelves, and Chicago 'Bill' said to me, 'I hope that man doesn't get hold of either one of us because he buys nearly everything that he uses from a house in Chicago. The last time I was in Wichita Falls he got me when he changed a five dollar bill and that night I was on my way to Chicago to buy a small outfit that he advertised in one of the mail order catalogues."

Memorial Day.
Memorial day will be observed by the American Legion and the legion auxiliary if by no others in Electra. The auxiliary will decorate the graves of all soldiers in the local cemetery. An abundance of flowers have been asked, and persons having them to donate should call No. 114 before Tuesday.

All ex-service men are requested to meet in front of the postoffice at 10 o'clock Memorial day to march to the cemetery. They are asked to come in uniform if one is available.

but the truth of the matter is that the large sized machine that the customer wanted to trade for could have been bought right here in the store where he went to make the exchange, for 50 cents less than the smaller machine which came all the way from Chicago."

"You are right," said Houston "Bill," "and there is only one way to get the goods right in the first place, and that is to look through the Wichita Falls stores liable to have the ones you want, whether it be toys or anything else, and then if you can't get what you want, send away for it if you must, but how much nicer it would be to place the order with our Wichita Falls merchants and let them make what the out-of-town store gets and keeps. Every citizen owes something to the city that he calls home."

"Now here is where the caller of the man showed itself," continued Chicago Bill, "you would naturally suppose that having bought the engine in Chicago he would send it back again to have the mistake rectified, but not he. 'So he bundled the machine up and took it down to one of our local dealers and wanted to swap it for a larger size. The dealer immediately sized up the grade of machine that his customer (?) was trying to palm off, and knowing something of the man and his attitude towards the home merchants, asked him where he got it and the man told him."

"Naturally the merchant was disgusted with him, but wanting to know more about the proposition, asked him what he could do in case the trade was made. His answer was that he would take it without any trouble."

"Well, to shorten the story," said Bill from Chicago, "it is well to record that the trade was not made."

EL PASO, May 26. (P)—C. P. Shearman and sons, Neill T. and John, were acquitted by a jury in federal court today on a charge of having resisted S. E. Beckett, a federal prohibition agent in March 1931.

"I am going at my own expense," volunteered Mrs. Adkins. "We have plenty of money. We are in the hay and feed business. Hay and feed mean a lot in Oklahoma."

Mrs. Adkins, who was accompanied by her son, Eugene, and his wife, reiterated her previous statements that she had known Mrs. Croker since she was a child and that at the time she was alleged to have been married to another man she was teaching school in Muskogee and living in the Adkins home. BOY SCOUTS WILL LEAVE MONDAY FOR CAMP IN OKLAHOMA

FIFTY TO MAKE THE TRIP TO CRATERVILLE PARK FOR TWO WEEKS STAY.

TRUCKS WILL CONVEY THEM TO CAMPSITE

Several Scoutmasters to Accompany Boys in Addition to Scout Executive.

Over 50 local scouts will leave here Monday morning for Craterville Park in the Wichita Mountains to attend the annual Boy Scout summer camp.

Chester Powell, scout executive, with a group of local scouts, George Hollis, Carlton Bowman and Wade Bartlett left Friday afternoon for the camp site by way of truck and carried tents and other provisions to have everything in readiness when the scouts arrive Monday.

Scouts who expect to make the trip will meet on the Moore & Richolt lot at Ninth and Indiana at 6:30 Monday morning. Trucks will be furnished by the Texas, Oklahoma and Wichita Falls Electric companies to convey the scouts to the campsite.

All provisions for the two weeks camp will be furnished but each scout will be expected to bring his own blankets, a change of clothing, bathing suit, towels and his scouting equipment. Tents are being furnished by the local unit of the national guards.

Craterville Park is located 65 miles north of this city in the Wich-its mountain, near the government reserve makes the place uncommonly desirable from an educational standpoint; the scouts will be able to become familiar with all kinds of wild game. Cache creek, supplied by springs from the mountains furnishes ideal bathing and one of the purposes of the camp will be to give every boy instructions in swimming. Regular instructions in scout craft will be given daily. Several scoutmasters will accompany the boys and assist Mr. Powell in taking care of the scouts.

Every scout will be given a physical examination at the beginning of the camp; he will be examined for weight, height and general physical condition. A similar examination will be given the boys who made the trip when they return and the figures compared with those of the previous examination. Every effort will be made to make the camp beneficial from a physical as well as an educational standpoint, Mr. Powell said. No parent need feel uneasy about the boys who are making the trip because they will be under the strictest care during the entire two weeks, he added.

The raw material will be originated overnight and the two aircraft will come to Washington from New Bedford the next morning with a cargo of completed Masonic aprons for distribution at Bolling Field to the visiting Shriners.

Youth Who Tries to Be Kind to Chickens Learns Better When an Officer Stops Good Samaritan Act

Jimmy Dash, who is 12, and who has a different name in the books of Juvenile Officer W. G. Bralley, has been restored to the loving arms of his father and mother while Biddy, the big Plymouth Rock hen is again dusting her feathers in the vicinity of her familiar haunts.

Now Biddy dusts her feathers in a most peculiar manner and has a way all her own in making her comb appear red and bright. In fact Biddy is a very peculiar member of the barnyard fowl family.

Her peculiarities, however, served the purpose of getting Jimmy in bad. If Biddy hadn't been out strolling down a lonesome alley an hour and a half after sun down Friday night, then hadn't acted so queer as though she was about to die of colic or some other dreadful disease, she would never have attracted his attention.

The junior member of the Dash family had come to town with his papa and mama just 10 days ago having spent all the days of his youth on the farm where chickens and ducks and everything just strolled around in easy fashion and wherever Jimmy saw a chicken on his dad's place he could say, "That's ours."

Friday night after the last little sunbeam had disappeared in the west and the shadows had an opportunity to deepen for fully an hour and a half, Jimmy chanced to see Biddy strolling leisurely down the alley. Now Jimmy knew that it was time for all good chickens to be asleep and as he drew nearer he saw that Biddy's wings were dragging the ground and her comb was pale.

The sympathetic nature of the little fellow was aroused so he proceeded to do the act of the good Samaritan, at least so he told the officer later. Biddy was about to die, Jimmy said he knew at if he hadn't picked her up that she would have long ago joined those of her family who long ago had absented themselves forever from this planet. Jimmy says he administered first aid to which the old Plymouth Rock hen responded wonderfully. In fact the transition from a sick being to that of one perfectly well was so sudden that Biddy squawked out a half dozen times in expression of sincere appreciation as well as happiness.

New Biddy's real master told officer: he saw the transaction, too. He and Jimmy differ slightly in their opinion on certain details. One of the questions on which there is a slight variance is just where does the alley begin and where does a man's lot set off?

Now Jimmy tells he saw no fence but the man told officer that there was a fence which should mark the boundary between the alley and his lot and that unless he is the victim of an optical illusion the picket fence on the alley was between Jimmy and the alley.

Another difference arises as to the cause of Biddy letting out her series of squawks? However that it a minor affair and was left without judgment being pronounced on it.

Great big men with wide brimmed hats loomed into Jimmy's world not less than five minutes after he had restored Biddy's health. Very tenderly Jimmy carried the big old fat hen to the police station and later before Juvenile Officer W. G. Bralley. Father Dash heard the story. A half hour later Jimmy lay across his bed on his stomach, having chosen that position because of some more tender feelings, looking out into a cold, dark and fear-stained world and reasoned out that the Good Book in the parable of the Good Samaritan meant that such should be the action of man toward mankind and that chickens and the like were not included.

FIFTY NAMES ON GRAND JURY LIST ARE STRICKEN OFF

Fifty names of property owners in Wichita county which would in all probability have appeared on a list to be handed to the next grand jury as men who had refused to make a rendition of their property for taxation were stricken off during the week. More than fifty renditions were received by County Tax Assessor Trvin Deaton.

Mr. Deaton stated Saturday that although the limit had long ago expired, that he would not turn down anyone who desired to make a rendition of his property before the board of equalization disbanded.

The board has one more day of work before it completes its first task of reviewing all assessments and renditions and making such changes as it may see fit. It will convene for the purpose of hearing objections on June 12, 13 and 14.

Father in Jail on Serious Charge While His Four Children Await the Opening of Orphans' Home Portals

The father heard the clank of the cell door while his four little children have heard the knock on the portals of an orphans' home and await the swinging open of the gates so that they may enter. The mother? Officers told her she could go back to the town where the children were found. She went. The father was arrested and lodged in jail on a most serious charge, the complaint having been filed by his fifteen-year-old daughter. Officers who investigated the case found the family living in a dirty filthy place with no one to take care of the meager establishment except the 15-year-old girl. The mother had left four weeks ago. The daughter told that she was attacked a few nights after her mother had run away. Upon the information furnished by the girl the man was arrested. He has demanded no hearing in the matter. Saturday morning Juvenile Officer H. G. Bralley investigated conditions and came to the conclusion with other officials that the only proper thing to do was to send the four children, including the prostitute to an orphan's home. Steps were taken Saturday to find an institution in which the four little parent castoffs can find shelter.

Carey ASFALTSLATE SHINGLES

"The Shingle that Never Curls"

THE extra-heavy, long-fibred, felt base in Carey Shingles is the shingle "skeleton." It carries extra quantity of the asphalt water-proofing and supports the tempered asphalt compound that gives Carey Asfaltslate Shingles a stiff body that never curls.

This makes a thoroughly weather-proof, long wearing roof covering. The crushed slate surface makes it spark-proof.

For beauty, Carey Shingles are made in three colors—Indian Red, Sage Green, and the beautiful Blue-Black, fadeless and permanent, never requiring painting.

We advise builders to specify Carey Asfaltslate Shingles instead of shingles that merely look like Carey's. Ask our prices.

ORNATE PIECES SUIT THESE DUPLEX HOMES

Decorative Furniture is in Keeping With Their Architecture.

By MARIAN MOORE

A house with a white stucco exterior, ornate entrances, side drives and pergola portecocheres, may have furnishings showing the Italian or Spanish influence, suites of exquisite French furniture, and a nest of massive pieces which would be out of place in the tiny bungalow or the stately Colonial home.

The large living room in these homes offers an opportunity for rather sumptuous treatment. The selection of furniture in the style of the Italian Renaissance, with a few English chairs of no particular period, would be the wisest choice.

The color scheme should be green and gray, with accents of Italian blue. The davenport and several chairs should be upholstered in tapestry of the greenish-gray hue, and like the davenport table, should have the floor runners, and show the scroll outlines and colonnade effects peculiar to Italian furniture.

Other chairs in the room might be of the English club variety, upholstered in dull red leather. If the davenport-before-the-fire arrangement is not desired, a bench upholstered with tapestry can be secured to match the Italian suite.

The hangings for a room of this kind should be heavy drapery silk, with an elaborate valance over the windows. A large tapestry would be an excellent wall decoration, and the mantel decorations should include tall candlesticks on each side of a small Italian table, with the quaint red bonnet of the Italian girl.

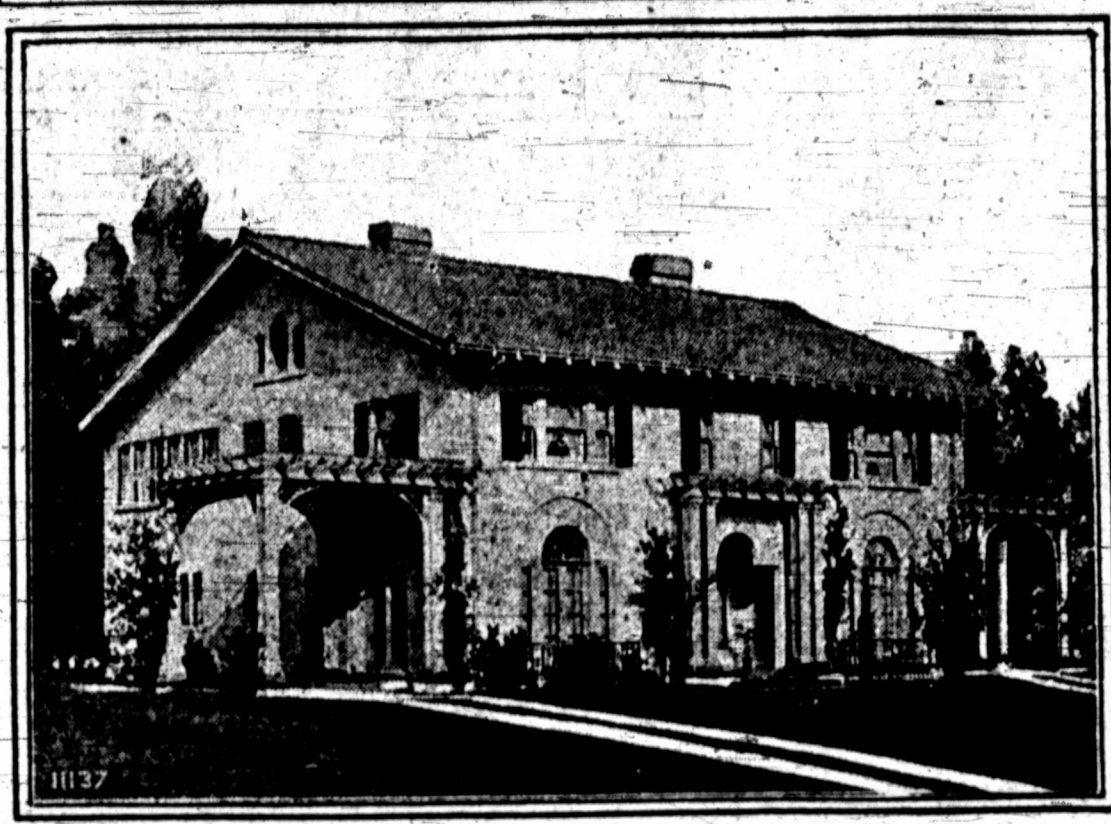

In the den, the space-saving bed takes up most of the space when it is opened, so the furniture should be scant, with a table that folds against the wall.

A good selection of furniture for the dining room is a Jacobean period suite. It has a wealth of ornate carving which is not out of place in a room opening into the long table is particularly well suited to the size of the dining room, while the long sideboard, the cabinets and the linen cabinet peculiar to Jacobean suites, are suitable only to rooms of greater dimensions than are found in the small bungalow.

The coarse carving, the arched crests, and the pediment make a Jacobean suite particularly attractive, and even the chairs, with tapestry backs and seats padded with brass balls, are handsome enough to be used singly as decorative pieces.

The bedrooms upstairs should be furnished to suit the individual tastes of the owners, but even the bedrooms may carry out a theme

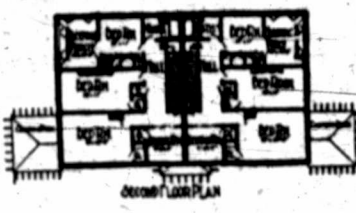

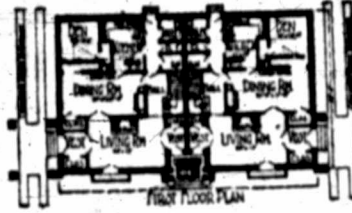

A Disguised Duplex House

To all outward appearances the home shown in the illustration is an elaborate home of the Colonial type. However, it is a double house, containing two eight-room homes. The dimensions of the building are 67 by 47 feet, 6 inches, so that, with six-foot driveways on either side the house would fit nicely on a 100-foot lot, with considerable side yard.

The exterior view of the building shows a handsome house in the Colonial type. It is rectangular in shape, with a low-pitched roof, with exposed rafters, giving a pergola effect. The pergolas adjoining both houses over the driveways add to the exterior beauty of the building.

Eight rooms are shown on the floor plans, which accompany the perspective of the double house. Two doors at the front entrance lead into the homes. First there is a vestibule with coat closet. To the right through double doors is the living room, 20 by 13 feet. At the far end of the living room is a second vestibule, with a door that opens to the driveway. The living room contains an open fire place, while at the front French doors open to the small balcony. Back of the living room is the dining room, 21 feet, 6 inches by 11 feet, while further back to the left is the kitchen. To the rear and right of the dining room is a den, in which a space-saving bed has been installed. The hall leading out of the living room towards the rear of the house has the stairs to the second floor leading out of it, while at the end is a lavatory. Upstairs there are three good bedrooms, a sleeping porch and the bathroom, besides a sewing room. With this description and a study of the floor plans the reader will see that two modern, comfortable and conveniently arranged homes have been included in the double design. The building from the outside is imposing and has the appearance of being a fine, large home.

(Any reader interested in this plan can obtain an exact estimate of its cost at the present time from any responsible architect, contractor or lumber dealer, who can obtain complete working drawings and specifications at a reasonable cost by communicating with this paper.)

smallest of the three, could have furniture of the Louis XVI style, showing distinct modern influence. The bed, dressing table, dresser and chiffonette, with a chest before the window, would be ample furnishings, since the sleeping porch is a portion of this room and will probably be in use most of the time.

WHAT IS A WANT AD?

A WANT AD is an instrument for seeking out a single buyer from the city's thousands; for telling him the story of your offer; for telling him how he can find you in order to effect the transaction.

Consider what happens when you insert a Want Ad in The Sunday Times. The complete story of what you have to sell (or what you want to buy or exchange) is printed in more than 12,000 copies of the Sunday Times and distributed broadcast over not only the city of Wichita Falls but the entire trade territory.

Your sales story is carefully classified in that section of The Times where a prospect can turn to it without delay. He glances down a column of similar offers (say, "House for Sale"), reading each Want Ad to find the one that checks up exactly with the kind of a house he desires to buy.

Remember, when a man starts out to buy a house he has a very definite mental image of what he wants. First of all, he wants a house located in a certain section of the city or suburbs. So upon receiving his Sunday Times he turns to the Want Ad Section, looks, finds the caption "Real Estate." He reads these Ads and phones or writes the parties whose offers come nearest to his demands. The next step is to see the property. An appointment is made and if the house measures up to the buyer's requirements and price and terms can be agreed on, the deal is made.

In this manner hundreds of transactions are effected after every issue of the Sunday Times Want Ad Section. It is by far the quickest, easiest, most economical way of finding someone who wants to buy what you have to sell, or who desires to sell what you want to buy. The Times Want Ad Section is a huge mart where people who want to sell, print their offers and people who want to buy read them.

In no other way can sellers reach such a huge audience of intelligent, prosperous buyers throughout the entire trade territory so economically and so easily. Merely write the story of your ad, and call The Times, 4391 and ask for an Adtaker and read the ad to her. If you have a phone, your credit is good. Don't forget the number—4391 —Adtaker.

"—and then the acquaintance tank ran dry—"

A Real Estate company is either a substantial, growing business or an exceedingly precarious one in proportion to the methods employed in building it.

One man jerks along, depending largely on personal acquaintanceship, advertising spasmodically, making little or no effort to establish a name or to widen, in a big but healthy manner, his acquaintance.

Other real estate men build more solidly. They do not rely on the chimeras of "I know him better than I know you." They make sure of tomorrow! Consistent advertising, in sufficient volume, in efficient media, steadily broadens the field of activity. Hundreds of thousands of people are made familiar with the firm name (a priceless factor)! And year by year, a steady, healthy growth is maintained—because the thirty prospect file is kept brimming with leads.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before; Five Brides for Next Eight Days Enjoying Pre-nuptial Parties

Five brides-elect—each one either a member of a prominent local family or a popular adopted daughter—have been enjoying their pre-nuptial parties the past week or two, and the coming eight days will be as full of lovely brides and their affairs as pillows are of feathers!

Sunday evening (this) Miss Estelle Keovil, daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. Lem Keovil, will be given in marriage to Joseph William Tyson, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Tyson, at the Keovil home at about 9 o'clock.

The wedding is to be a very quiet, home affair, for which no invitations have been issued. Despite this, however, the bride-elect has been the honoree at three pre-nuptial parties the past week, at each of which her friends presented her with showers of beautiful gifts.

Estelle is very much loved and esteemed among her girl and older friends, and is a very valued member of the First Christian church organization, working with the young people and the little folks of the beginners department. She was a member of the graduating class of '22, and this past year has been private secretary to Superintendent Lee Clark of the public schools. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Tyson will go to their home at Tyson Lake, four miles from town, where they will receive their friends during the coming weeks.

Randolph-Raney.

Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock Miss Ethel Raney, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Raney, of 1315 Broad, will be united in marriage to Lester A. Randolph, of Pittsburgh, Penn., the marriage to be solemnized by Dr. O. L. Powers, at the First Baptist Church.

No invitations have been issued for this marriage, either, but the bride, who is a member of an old and well known family here, has been surprised with one or two beautiful affairs the past week, at a shower and party at the home of Mrs. Edith Pittsburgh, on Tenth street given by Mrs. Fitzhugh and Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff. Three tables were arranged for games in the rose-decorated living room, and a very delightful afternoon spent by a score of close friends of the bride-elect. Place cards were kept, and little Kay's brides on the refreshment plate were favors, while twin hearts on the plates bore both names. Many lovely gifts for her new home.

Next Sunday.

The coming Sunday Miss Winnie Murray, of Dallas, was recently announced at a bridge luncheon given by several of her close friends at the home of Mrs. L. H. Ferham, on Tenth street, will be married in Dallas, at the home of her brother, Hooper, and Miss Myrtle Bowman, two popular young people of the First Methodist Church, will be united in marriage. This ceremony will take place immediately after the Epworth League meeting, both Mr. Hooper and Miss Bowman having for several years been leaders in that organization. Miss Davis left recently for her home in Denton, where her friends are planning parties for her.

Change the Words.

So we'll have to change the wording of the famous march a little—"Here come the brides!"—parties, showers, weddings, honeymoons in everything.

What Folks Are Doing and Will Do

Miss Lorene Wales left Saturday morning for a two weeks' visit in Frederick, Okla. Lorene is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Downs, and was a member of the '23 graduating class.

Girls to Meridian, Miss.

Misses Louise and Penelope Scott, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Scott of 1716 Pearl street, left Sunday morning for Meridian, Miss., where they will spend the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lot Parker. The Scott family is from Meridian here, and both girls will probably have in the time of their young lives back among their old friends and the friends of their family. Louise is going to "recuperate" from her work this past year by just playing, but Penelope will study music in the Hart Conservatory in Meridian.

Mrs. Robert Goodfellow has returned from San Angelo, where she acted as chaperon for Miss Eula Goodfellow of Vernon, who was "Lady Vernon" at the Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting.

May Fate at Oklahoma U.

Mrs. Leonard Grayson and little son, Jack Lee and Dick, have returned from an extended visit in Norman, Okla., Blanchard and Oklahoma City. In Norman Mrs. Grayson was the guest of Mrs. T. L. Van Meter for two or three weeks, and was most delightful time with old friends at the commencement exercises at the university. These included the annual May Fete and crowning of the May queen, which is the big social and college feature of the Norman commencement.

Mrs. M. R. Georison left Tuesday for Battle Creek sanitarium in Michigan, accompanying her mother, Mrs. Dixie Mathis, whose condition for the past several months has been a source of much anxiety to her friends. Mrs. Mathis was accompanied by her trained nurse, also, who will remain with her through the summer at Battle Creek.

Leads Final Ball at V. M. I.

Mrs. Peyton Gwynn and Miss Gay leave the first of next week, immediately following the Cranfill-Owen wedding, for an extended visit in the east. Stopping first in Lexington, Virginia, Miss Gay will lead the final ball at Virginia Military Institute, with Sterling Udyke of Little Rock, Ark., which event will be the beginning of a very happy six weeks for her. From Lexington, after the commencement social activities are over, she will go on to Richmond, Virginia, to be a member of a house party; from there to Glen Cove, and then to Garden City, in which places she will attend house parties and be the guest of her school friends of Garden City school. Mrs. Gwynn will go straight to New York City, where Miss Gay will join her later for the summer.

Mrs. H. O. Newton and family, accompanied by Misses Anna Belle and Flossie Farquhar, motored over to Medicine Park Friday for four or five days' fishing.

Mrs. Fred Barron, over whose expected move to Electra her many friends are already worrying, and two beautiful movers at Electra Thursday night at the annual opening meeting of the Wednesday Morning Music Club. "The cycle, 'Moods,' by Ashford, and an encore comprised her program. Miss Faye Fisher also was a program guest at the open meeting and gave Leoschitzky's 'Etude in Octaves' as a piano solo, playing the number beautifully.

Miss Hazelie Dean left last week for Fort Worth, from where she will accompany her uncle to Galveston to attend the Texas Grain Dealers convention. From there she will go to Houston to visit friends.

Miss Mary Bingham of Raton, New Mexico, was the guest of Mrs. John Kay this week-end, stopping over on route to a summer visit in San Antonio. Miss Bingham was the

Mrs. Grover C. Johnson, top row, left, whose marriage was one of the social features of the past week, taking place on Thursday afternoon at the Floral Heights Methodist church, is now with her husband on the first "lap" of a wedding trip East. The Johnsons will visit in Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, New York City and other places of interest, and on their return here will be at home at 2710 Tenth street. As Miss August Wisdom, Mrs. Johnson was for several years before her marriage a popular member of the public schools teaching force, and was very much loved and respected by the parents and children of the San Jacinto school district, where she did splendid work.

Miss Louise Scott, third photo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Scott, of 1716 Pearl, is one of this year's Wichita High graduates of whom the whole city recently had occasion to be especially proud. Louise won first honors in declamation at the state intercollegiate meet in Austin last month.

Little Miss Constance Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clark, of 1640 Lucile street, is one of the most adorable little readers in the confines of the city. Constance played the part of little Miss "Lady Bug" in Miss Knickerbocker's recital last Tuesday night, and gave one or two other numbers. The recital at the Kemp, where half a hundred young folks ranging from three to thirteen or so were presented, was one of the most attractive events of the week, with hundreds of appreciative listeners in the audiences for both programs. In fact, for the first program, when the "teeny weeny little fellows" were presented, even standing room was at a premium. A receiving line of twenty-five or thirty of the mothers of the children assisted Miss Knickerbocker in the entertainment.

Miss Ella Merle Mathis, inset photo, is another of the talented local readers who expect to spend at least a part of the summer continuing her studies. Ella Merle gave a delightful reading, "Here Comes the Bride," a cutting from "Mary Carey," at an entertainment at the Y. W. C. A. Friday evening. She is very much in demand at all times, and is always gracious with her responses.

Floyd Ard, through some whim of the engraver's to disregard instructions, is presented in the smallest cut on the page, though right at present the brilliant young pianist looms pretty large in the public estimation. Floyd, who is the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ard, was presented in piano recital Thursday evening at Kemp hall by his teacher, Ernest Katz, and held his musical audience literally enthralled from the moment his flexible young fingers swept the keys in the opening of Bach's four-part Inventions until they played with the same skill of technique, grace and marvelous sweetness of touch, the three beautiful concluding numbers by Grieg, Chopin and Mendelssohn. An exquisite group by Godowski, the brilliant American Polonaise by Carpenier, and the E Flat Sonata by Haydn were interpreted with a masterful understanding, and with the ease of a born musician. Musical folks are finding that Floyd already shows the unmistakable marks of genius, and many of his friends and admirers among this group are already terming him a second Paderewski.

Miss Marjorie Woolsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Woolsey, was one of the "dope" team which brought back first honors in the state debate meet in Austin last month. Miss Woolsey and Miss Stella Winters were the team. Both girls were popular members of the '23 graduating class.

Miss Lucile Blackwell, of Amarillo, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. B. Morton, at 1493 Britain Street.

Miss Alzada Knickerbocker leaves Friday of this week for Dallas for a two-weeks' visit with Dr. and Mrs. Knickerbocker, expecting to leave on the 11th for a short visit in Galveston. From there she will go to New York City for the rest of the summer, joining her brother and his wife and Miss Beryl Knickerbocker, who has been there the past year studying music. Alzada left Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Housewright for Medicine Park to spend the week-end.

Mrs. Ruth Petawell of Sacramento, Cal., who has been the house guest of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walker, leaves for her home the first of this week. Miss Knickerbocker, suggested in her introduction that while Miss Smith, who has been heard frequently on local programs, needed

GIVE THE MINISTERS INSURANCE—NOT PENSIONS

By WILL ROGERS

Just reading in this morning's paper the outcome of an election held in Indianapolis by a Presbyterian Conference for Moderator. It read like old times. W. J. Bryan was defeated by the Rev. Dr. Wishart of Wooster, Ohio. You can't beat these Ohioans for office. Like all Conventions, the man that goes in with the most votes never gets it. Bryan had the most votes by far; then they stamped the convention in favor of the Rev. Dr.

Now Mr. Bryan can appreciate how Mr. Champ Clark must have felt in Baltimore years ago, before Article X became our National Argument. So, you see, political methods prevail in spiritual proceedings as well as in Politics.

Bryan said, before his defeat, he had two speeches prepared, one in case of defeat and the other in case of Victory. The great team of Black faced Comedians, McIntyre and Heath, used to have a line as follows: Heath after taking McIntyre away from a good job in a livery stable where he sat regular, promised him everything on the road with a show. He even taught him table manners to use when they got out on the road. They are later broke and haven't eaten in two days when McIntyre says to Heath, "You promised me everything; you even had me practicing eating with a knife and fork. That's one trade I learned I ain't never worked at." That's W. J. That speech of Victory is one speech he prepared he ain't never worked at. Of course, they claim what beat him was all his talk about us not evolving from a Monkey.

Church people all over the country are divided and arguing over where we come from. Never mind where we come from. Neighbor, Women living next door to you will find out where you come from, and all about you, better than Bryan and all the Preachers. Just let the Preachers make it their Business where you are going, when you leave here.

Just think what a difference it a wonderful personality like Bryan with a tremendous following had used his influence to stop beating prisoners in his home State, instead of waiting for one paper to shame them into it. That would have gotten him further than all the Monkey talk and half-one-percent arguments in the world.

I have beat my way on trains but the personal danger and hardships endured by everybody while doing it more than paid our fares. Bryan and every prominent man in that state have beat their way. They need to issue passes to every political fellow with any kind of pull. If they didn't, politically, give the Railroad back something in return, they beat their way.

Now, at this year's Conference of Ministers my friend Will Hays made quite an impassioned speech in favor of a drive to raise a Pension Fund for Preachers. Now, that is a real Cause. The Ministry in all denominations are the poorest paid workers in the world. They would form a Union and demand more pay, but they don't get enough to pay dues into a Union, so they can't form one. They can't demand regular hours for they don't know what hour some of their constituents may need a christening or a wedding ceremony. They have to be respectable and the high cost of living advance is nothing in comparison to the high cost of respectability. Why, I can remember when a man would be considered respectable without belonging to a Golf Club.

Now, I have a plan that I would like to suggest instead of Will Hays' pension fund. Not ask for more pay, as that is what made them poor now—asking for more pay. They haven't got a chance to get more salary out of their Congregations. They will only pay so much for their souls being saved. They want to save up everything else first. Then they charge what they do give off on their Income Tax at the end of the year as bad debts. Of course, you got to take into consideration why some of these people don't pay their Preachers any more to save their souls ain't worth any more to be saved.

Here is my scheme. Make every Minister carry an Endowment Policy, say, payable at the end of 20 years, to be paid at maturity to him in monthly installments for life. Every Church is made to pay the yearly Premium. As they are all taken out for the same amount, in case of a change, why, they pay for whoever is at their Church that year.

Now, the insurance Company collects direct from the Church, and if they don't pay, it's advertised that such and such a Congregation are delinquent in their Minister's insurance. Then, if they don't pay, threaten them with Publicity. That's one thing a lot of the Deacons and Elders can't stand, especially if it's personal Publicity.

Now, that would give every Minister something to look forward to in his old age and not be dependent on some Charity Drive for a Pension Fund. Look at the protection in case of death for their Wives and Children. For, as it is now, a Wife can't subsist very long and raise a Family on a swallow tail coat that is already worn sick. You know that Parsonage she occupies, rent free. When he stops preaching, she has to start moving, and our charity brethren soon forget that she was once the Wife of our respected Clergyman.

Then you have in there a sick and disability clause. For, on account of not being paid enough to dress comfortably, they are more susceptible to colds than most of their Clients. Now, what is the matter with my scheme? What Church is so poor that they couldn't support an insurance Premium? The rate should not be high, unless on account of their scarcity of sufficient food they would be classed as hazardous risks.

I think the improvement in the grade of Sermons you would get would pay you good dividend on your investment. For the minute you relieve his mind of the physical outcome of the future, you will give him more time to devote to his sermons. I know, because if there is something worrying you, you can't do a good act, and after all our occupations are similar—we both have to amuse. They have to instruct, also, but in their instruction they have to amuse with it or it would be too tedious and dry. No audience will listen to all instruction.

"When he stops preaching, she starts moving."

But the most sensible suggestion I have to offer is, make each Congregation, when their Minister has an increase in his Family, raise his salary on a Pro Rata basis and so on for each Child. Why should a man, preaching and trying to support 8 Children, be paid no more than a single one with only the upkeep of a Tennis Racket to worry about? Besides, he can live cheaper; somebody is always asking him out to dinner. But whoever asked a Preacher with a Wife and 10 kids out to dinner? No, unfortunately, our Christian spirit hasn't reached that far yet.

Now, before we start in regulating the affairs of all the world and all our neighbors, let's do a little humanity work right under our nose. I am going to do some missionary work, for it looks like a fertile field. Who will be the first congregation, no matter what Denomination, (only the House of David barred)?

Who will be the first one to insure your Preacher, who will raise his salary on the arrival of each future Child? Now, get busy and let me know and I will see that you get deserved publicity and proper thanks through the more than 100 Papers I write for. Now, come on, what are you going to be, a Humanitarian or just a Church Member?

SEATTLE LABOR COUNCIL IS CONSIDERING DEMAND

SEATTLE, WASH., May 26 (AP)—The Seattle Labor Council, which has under consideration a demand by the American Federation of Labor that it change its ways or leave the federation, will continue to oppose the legalization of beer and wine says a statement by James A. Duncan, secretary of the council, who declared this was one point on which the policies of the federation and the council clashed. The statement declared that when the council urged recognition of the Russian republic it did not approve the soviet dictatorship or communism, and asserted that the council had always been antagonistic to the industrial workers of the world. The council will ask to be allowed to continue to send observers to world conventions of radicals, so as to learn their nature, according to the statement.

The Ring Eternal

Several times, at least, during the ceremony every eye will have gazed at the bride's wedding ring. For many months thereafter admiring eyes of friends will rest upon the thin gold band, and it is with you whether the bride is to be proud of it or not. It is, therefore, fitting that it should be as tasty and becoming as the bride's attire itself.

The "Lucky Wedding Rings" have become the custom during the last few years; rings of white gold, set with diamonds, and mounted in platinum. Our stock of these has been carefully selected and only the very best is to be found here. Each and every box is stamped with the name of Halton & Friedly, thereby assuring you of the bride's confidence when it is placed on her finger.

These rings are made to fit the purse of all. They range from $25.00 and up and each one carries our personal guarantee.

FAMOUS FILM STARS APPEAR IN "SOULS FOR SALE" AT STRAND

Rupert Hughes' Latest Photoplay Picturization of Hollywood Novel Comes to Strand Next Wednesday

Rupert Hughes and the Goldwyn casting department were not consciously trying to write a "Who's Who in Screenland" when they selected the players for Mr. Hughes' latest picture, "Souls for Sale," which will be the attraction at the Strand Theatre for four days, beginning Wednesday, but they came very near doing it. The cast sheet of this story of the film colony in Hollywood might easily be mistaken for a directory of the colony.

There's Eleanor Boardman in the leading role, that of Remember Steddon, the daughter of a minister, who fell into a motion picture career. Miss Boardman a year ago was unknown to the silver screen, but so well did she acquit herself in Mr. Hughes' previous picture, "Limbo," and then in Marshall Neilan's "Strangers' Banquet" and Hugo Ballin's "Vanity Fair" that Goldwyn gave her a long-term contract and awarded her the lead in "Souls for Sale."

Richard Dix, who distinguished himself in "The Christian," and who has appeared in such big Goldwyn productions as "Dangerous Curve Ahead," "Poverty Stricken," "Telling Men and Girls," has the role of Claymore, the motion picture director, and again gives a most excellent account of himself.

Miss Busch, also a member of "The Christian" cast who made a new reputation for herself by her acting in that film, appears as Robina Taine, screen leading lady. Miss Busch was recently given a long-term contract by Goldwyn and is now a member of its permanent stock company.

Barbara La Marr was especially engaged for the role of the film vampire, Leva LaMaire. She has been seen in many important productions of late, "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Trifling Women," "Quincy

Simple Charm of Seacoast Seen in "Rose o' the Sea"

The simple charm of the seacoast and the luxurious haunts of Broadway blend in the harmonious story of "Rose o' the Sea" which will be the First National attraction of starring Anita Stewart to open a two-day run at the Olympic Theatre commencing Monday. Adapted from Countess Barcynaska's novel of the same name, "Rose o' the Sea" offers an opportunity for a colorful production and a sharp contrast of emotional appeal and various walks of life which, according to advance reports, Director Fred Niblo has taken full advantage of.

The theme of a simple country girl cast into the arms of an unknown guardian by reason of a shipwreck and later forced to fight her own way as a salerady in a Fifth Avenue florist shop is one for which admirers of Anita Stewart declare that this publicist star is especially well adapted. With a forte for delineating unsophisticated girls and the simpler emotional appeals she has developed a strong following by her convincing acting in the everyday elements of life.

Tasteful settings and social functions add picture to the story, a passing interest. One of the big scenes in the picture rotate around a week-end house party given by the descendants of Father Kalkreuth's department at such affairs demands unusual and even eccentric behavior according to the ideas of the younger generations. Some vein of comedy in addition to the admittedly serious and fascinating side of the picture, is shown in the adoption of shopgirl customs to the rigorous demands of Kalkreuth's tradition.

Florence Vidor Is Attraction at Strand Monday

It doesn't seem possible, but Florence Vidor is more delightful than ever in her newest Associated Exhibitors feature, "Conquering the Woman," which comes to the Strand Monday and Tuesday. Miss Vidor's ability to charm afresh with each new picture is no doubt due to a personality that is so scintillating as to always seem different. We never see her twice alike except for that wonderful womanliness that invests her like an aura. We have had many pictures in which wilful women have been lamed—namely "The Sheik," but never one that devised such a novel method or went about the taming in a more amusing manner. It's a serious proposition, without a doubt, trying to take the snobbery out of a girl who was considered over-cultured by a father who thought politeness could be overdone and who didn't want to see his daughter throw herself away on a fortune-hunting nobleman. But as it is handled in "Conquering the Woman," it is decidedly a laughing proposition.

Wild horses could not drag from us the outcome of this story, but if you like good entertainment, and of course you like Miss Vidor, you'll not miss the program at the Strand Theatre.

BUILDING PERMITS LIGHT DURING WEEK WITH $7420 TOTAL

Building permits for the week ending May 26 were still at a low ebb and failed to show any material increase over the low figure of the year set last week. Only seven permits were issued from the office of the city clerk; the total expenditure involved in the seven permits amounted to only $7,420. Summer weather has brought about a demand for improvements on the way of sleeping porches and the majority of permits granted during the week were in this direction. Permits were granted to the following: Mrs. Mabel A. Pross, 1302 Harrison, sleeping porch, $400; Harvey Harris, 1714 Eleventh sleeping porch, $200; Mrs. A. Jim Pryor, who was sentenced to thirty years in the state penitentiary on charges of highway robbery stated upon departing for Huntsville that he had a brother at that institution doing a 25-year term. Jim said the only thing he hated about it was that his brother would beat him out by several years. It has so occurred that his brother, Charles, beat him out by nearly thirty years. The sheriff's department was advised Saturday that Charles Pryor, doing a 20-year term for murder had escaped from the institution Thursday.

Crude or Refined?

As a user of natural gas, you want a clean product. You cannot use gas mixed with water or other liquids.

Gas coming out of the earth is mixed with other vapors. In days gone by these condensed in the pipe lines and formed a liquid that obstructed the lines and had to be drained out at frequent intervals.

Destructive and Expensive

This liquid contained a considerable amount of gasoline, and it destroyed the rubber gaskets in pipe lines, adding greatly to the loss by leakage, increasing the expenses of operation and decreasing the quality of service.

But with the recent great demand, it has been possible to save this gasoline instead of wasting it. Now it and other liquids are taken from the gas before gas is delivered to you.

The result is a cleaner gas, with no appreciable loss of heating power, that does not gum up the burners and clog the pipes.

HAPPY WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

We can believe that William Jennings Bryan is happy in his defeat for moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly at Indianapolis last week.

Mr. Bryan is a fundamentalist in his religious thinking. He believes in the Bible literally. He believes the Bible story of the creation is opposed to the theory of evolution.

Legislators cashing warrants for their salaries at Austin last week did so at a discount of two per cent, because the appropriation for their pay was not yet available.

This two per cent is very small, indeed, compared with the discount that will be charged for cashing state warrants within the next two years unless the legislature does something to bring appropriations and revenues to the same level.

If the legislature fails in its duty we can expect to see warrants of the state of Texas discounted all the way from fifteen to fifty per cent with consequent demoralization in the state government that may be much more costly than the discount loss to those holding state warrants.

The duty of the legislature is plain enough. It must pass appropriations so that they will not exceed revenues already provided for or it must provide new taxes. Perhaps a little of both would solve the problem.

The people of Texas do not in any event want to see their state discredited by failing to pay its bills. It would be much better to repeal appropriation than to do this.

Members of the legislature should get together and work out this problem without further delay, and adjourn.

Fear of Being Thought Insane As a Possible Cure for Folly

By THOMAS R. MARSHALL, Former Vice-President of the United States.

You may tell a man he is distinctly bad, and he will laugh and make good natured retort that he has plenty of congenial company; you may call a man a fool, and he will turn the joke by reminding you that you are the fool, not he; but you can "get" almost any man by seriously suggesting that he is insane.

Obtaining an labeling of the proposed proceedings, the woman became alarmed and volunteered promises that she would cease her gossiping, and forever desist and refrain from making any further allusion to the incident.

Even now, we are creating our knights. The primary purpose of the holy oil of consecration upon the acolyte and the general election raises him to the rank of a monarch.

Men dressed with a little brief authority are quite likely to cut such capers before high heavens as to make the angels weep. I knew a governor who rebuked his former law partner for addressing him by use of his first name.

Why Not Lock Up the Cars and Give the Speeders Six Months as Pedestrians?—The Brooklyn Eagle.

The Ten Commandments also were recently revised. Occasionally someone decides he can improve the Bible.

In this iconoclastic age, it would not surprise us to witness some morning and find that a convention of some sort has voted to amend the law of gravity.

Wisconsin boys in a French prison, sentenced not to see a human face for five years. Food and so on are passed into his dungeon cell through a small window near the ceiling.

The reaction on him will depend on his temperament. A hermit would consider such a sentence not half bad. How long could you stand it? How long can you be alone without getting tired of yourself—nervous to be near another man—animal?

Sambo Jackson, great public benefactor, invented ice cream by accident about a century ago. If he had patented his discovery and the patent could have run 100 years, he would be a rich man.

It is doubtful whether anyone ever really "got his fill" of Sambo's delicious discovery. With one exception. The exception is W. L. Barton, young farm hand. He recently walked into a drug store at London, Ohio, and on a hot-ate 23 sandwiches.

The Lovell Frayer has been revised to remove the thought of death," announces Miss Bertha Laine, official of the Religious Education Council of Ontario, Canada.

We do queer things on the brink of the grave, but not any queerer than when going ahead. "If he leaving we shall live forever. All our troubles are inside our skulls."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

AN EVENING PRAYER. Another day has folded itself away. At this gate of night and dreams, dear Lord, I come for a renewal of strength and honest power.

I asked for a cleansed heart. I implore forgiveness for any act of word or thought which may have hurt or harmed someone—wherever.

I unload the pack of the day. I want shelter for the night within your house of love. I am cold—for there have been chilly winds during this day of toil.

What movement there was to this day, God! What a scurrying for place and power. What numbers of sad faces I passed. I guess these people missed seeing you, God. Maybe you will go to their homes tonight and talk to them silently—and make them happy, as you have done me so many times.

I appreciate my opportunity at life, dear Father, and pray most that I may know the depths of beauty behind and underneath every planted touch of love in this world.

Every time I see a beautiful flower, every time someone says something that makes me happy, every time I hear the voice of a bird, every time I see love or beauty worked out—whether through a lovely act or thought, or through some touch of nature, or some written word—I shall look up and see you, God!

Rest this body of mine tonight. And while I am adventuring through the silent souls of the stars, arrange my thoughts anew so that when the morning comes again, I may face the new day in better heart than ever before.

Take my love to those I love tonight. Teach me to give. Touch the lids of these eyes. Soften the noises of the air without. Put out each garish light. Now I am ready for sleep.

That's all, God. Goodnight!

SUGGEST NAME LAKE FAITH FOR IRRIGATION STORAGE DAM

Editor Wichita Times: As the big storage lake has not been named, I wish to suggest name of "Lake Faith."

I feel the name is unusual, appropriate and has a direct significance to the city that built it. While the dam itself stands for faith, it is easy to remember and will always have a meaning.

RECEIVERSHIP ON RED RIVER DUE TO CONTINUE TO 1924

NOT BELIEVED IT CAN BE WOUND UP BEFORE THAT TIME.

BOUNDARY COMMISSION IS NOW IN BIG BEND

Frederic A. Delano, Receiver, Due to Visit Wichita Falls Early in June.

No early termination of the Red River federal receivership is now expected, owing to the fact that the supreme court is scheduled to adjourn for the summer on June 13, by which time the boundary commission will not have completed its work. This means that the commission's report will not be considered by the court until October, and the formalities necessary to winding up the receivership will require some weeks after that. It is believed that the receivership will continue in force until at least January 1, 1924. The boundary commission was understood Saturday to have started work in the Big Bend district itself. Earlier work had been south of this area, and of a preliminary nature. The commission's work in the oil districts is of chief interest, as comparatively little value attaches to the remainder of the river-bed country. Frederick A. Delano, federal receiver, is scheduled to make one of his periodical visits to the area early in June. You don't have to buy an Electric Cleaner or Steam Cooker from a stranger. SOME EVIDENCE OF DECLINE IN AUTO PRODUCTION SEEN, BUT DEMAND IS STILL ABNORMAL

By ROY C. HAYES
Universal Service Special Correspondent

DETROIT, May 26.—Evidence of a small decline in automobile production was noted during the week. Although demand continues in excess of supply, manufacturers are generally tapering off their factory schedules to slightly lower levels than will be maintained right through the summer, according to present prospects.

From the first of the year production has soared steadily upward until the middle of the present month when it reached the peak. The usual seasonal slowing down takes place about May 1 but the instant call for cars this year compelled manufacturers to push production to the utmost at that time instead of tapering off.

The slight slowing of production in the majority of Detroit plants does not mean that there is any slowing up in the demand for cars. Strange to say the increasing demand for cars is rather one of the reasons why motor car makers are applying a slight pressure on the brakes.

As one of Detroit's best known automobile executives told me Wednesday, "the reason for the slowing down of the moment, is the result of a deliberate attempt to stabilize things for the future rather than allow the present boom conditions to run wild."

"The entire country is now more than ever impressed with the necessity of individual transportation. The average man can well afford an automobile and realizing the manifold advantages of owning a car, is 'doing it now' when the less active intellect 'would put it off until tomorrow.' Nearly every man owns a car or is planning on buying one."

More than one-third of Detroit automobile factories plan no change

TURN OF A KNOB LIETS CAR

Buyers are showing a marked preference for closed cars. Coming into production for some time, even the reduced schedules which some factories are installing will be considerably greater than those in vogue at this time last year when records were set.

Headlight Tests Show Very Few to Be Up to Standard

Are your lights adequate and safe?

In a recent free headlight test in Washington it was found that very few were perfect. The following report is made of the test.

A total of 415 car owners availed themselves of the free headlight tests offered by the bureau of standards in Washington from May 1 to May 7. Only a very small percentage of these cars had lights which were adequate for the driver and safe for other users of the road, despite the fact that the owners were naturally people who were interested in having good lights on their cars.

About two thirds of the cars tested had devices rated among the best but in the great majority of cases these were out of focus or wrongly put in so that the driver was not getting the distribution of light intended by the manufacturer of the device. The actual figures were: out of focus 72.4 per cent; dirty lenses, 52.8 per cent; lamps not correctly tilted 46.7 per cent; reflectors dirty, rusty, or coated 40 per cent; lens twisted in headlamp 35.8 per cent.

Many cars had all the above defects at once. Others had various combinations. Very few were perfect. It was interesting to watch the tests in progress. A car would drive in and the young men conducting the tests would signal it on to one of the wooden runways which were used to insure the car being in the proper position with regard to the testing screen. The lights shining on the screen revealed a very bad state of affairs.

Dealer Tells of Triplex Springs Used on Overland

"Triplex springs on the Overland car are a specially patented device with a great many superior qualifications," declared Frank Quieser of the Overland Motors last week.

"They are a unique method adopted by Overland engineers in mounting the springs so that the load of the car is carried as if cradled between the two extreme points of the car. The ends of the springs are 130 inches apart and the body rests on them just as if on a hammock.

"Every one has at some time seen a man trying to push a wheel barrow up over a curbstone. The wheel barrow wouldn't go so the man turned around and pulled it over, which demonstrates that what the man could not do by pushing could be done by pulling. The same principle applies to Overland triplex springs. They extend from the extreme front end of the car down to the front axle and continually pull the front wheels over any and all obstacles and obstructions in the road.

"The weight of each Overland spring is about 20 pounds, and are made of chrome vanadium steel, carefully heat treated, so designed and assembled in the chassis that all road shocks are absorbed with minimum discomfort to the occupants of the car. These springs are allied at one end only and in a very accessible location.

"A feature of the Overland triplex springs is the apron covering the front springs which extends far enough forward to protect the radiator from the mud and dust and at

Personal Pride Is Bigger Factor in Car Selection

"Personal pride is an important element in motor car buying today," says Carl Waelder, local Moon and Franklin dealer.

"In the early days of the automotive industry, the most important question the automobile salesman had to answer pertained to the practicability and performance of the car, and the actual demonstration was always an important factor.

"Comparatively few motor car sales hinge upon demonstrations these days," says Mr. Waelder "because the practicability of motor cars and the dependability of motor transportation is well established. The name and reputation of the manufacturer and the advance made in automotive engineering, assures the buyer that the car he purchases is mechanically practical and dependable.

"Today personal pride, appearance, design and equipment of the car influence decisions. The remarkable popularity of our Victory model proves that individuality, personal pride and the prestige of the manufacturer play an important part in the purchase of automobiles.

"These factors are the same as those which influence a woman's selection of a hat, or a man's selection of his ties, or the family's choice of a home. Personal pride and the inborn human desire to choose and to express individuality are important factors in automobile selling today."

Producing Fords At Rate of One Every 4 Seconds

Daily production of FORD cars and trucks went over the 6,000 mark on Wednesday, May 23. It is just another record through the Ford News.

The production on that day was 6,415, exceeding by 25 the last highest day, Friday, May 4, when a record of 6,240 was established.

The twenty-eight assembly plants of the Ford Motor Co. throughout the country operate on an eight-hour basis, and the turning out of 6,415 completed cars and trucks in a day means that they were run off the assembly lines at the rate of one every four seconds.

To make this enormous output possible, the tremendous manufacturing facilities of the company, embracing the great Highland Park and River Rouge plants and other factory units, are operating on a twenty-four hour day of three eight-hour shifts, employing more than 100,000 men.

Ford high quality standards are consistently maintained in every operation entering into the construction of these popular cars.

Do not neglect the under side of your car. It picks up dirt and so is not a pleasant place to inspect. But there are many parts there which need inspection and oiling, so it should not be neglected.

LOCAL DELEGATES CHOSEN FOR STATE DEALERS MEETING

Don F. Safford of the Dallas Automobile Dealers' Association attended the local dealers' luncheon here last Tuesday, spending the day in the city.

Mr. Safford was here in the interest of the state organization of Texas automobile dealers' association and urged local members to attend the annual state convention to be held at Corpus Christi Monday, May 28.

Special effort will be made at this meeting to contract legislative measures unfavorable to the automobile industry. Mr. Safford stated. Efforts are being made to bring about the passage of bills in connection with automobile taxation which would very materially hinder the development of the automobile business and it will take strong and concerted action on the part of the dealers of the state to defeat this attempt. It was stated.

W. S. Langford, J. M. McFall and L. E. Dixon were named as delegates to represent the local association at the state convention. It is hoped that other members will be able to attend also. The delegates will leave Wichita Falls Saturday night.

Lockhart Makes Some Additions to Sales Personnel

With the improvements taking place in connection with their quarters, the Lockhart Chevrolet Automobile Company has made several valuable additions to the personnel of the force.

J. W. Lomax, well known in Wichita Falls as an automobile man, having been engaged in the business here for several years, has been secured as sales manager. Mr. Lomax's previous experience and wide acquaintance in this city, particularly fit him for this position.

John M. Finch, who has been in the automobile business in Dallas for the past year or more, has accepted a place on the sales force. Mr. Finch formerly lived in Wichita Falls and is well known here.

J. A. Goodloe, who has been with the Victory Motor Company for the past 18 months, will have charge of the parts department which has been greatly enlarged and will be located just back of the display space and in full view of the sales force.

With splendidly arranged and equipped quarters and an unusually good force of men connected with the company, Mr. Lockhart declares that he looks forward to a mighty prosperous and satisfactory year.

Few people realize that oil deteriorates under heat and that the spoiled oil in the crank case thickens, accumulating carbon from the cylinders and making a thick pasty mass that will not pass through the piston.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: The carburetor on my Dost leaks and has been doing so for a day or two. What causes this and what is the remedy? Had the car at a garage yesterday and they took the carburetor all apart, but failed to locate the trouble. It was still leaking this morning. Please answer.—READER.

The float may be too heavy or the float valve needs grinding. Try the valve with the tongue. If it leaks air it must be ground, using fine sand and oil. A piece of dirt in the valve is the only other cause, and that probably does not apply in your case.

Motor Department: After overhauling my car I am having trouble with the motor backfiring in the morning. The garage man said it was due to a lean mixture, so after having the carburetor adjusted with no improvement, I have purchased a new carburetor, but still have the same trouble. Your advice will be greatly appreciated.—O.W.K.

The causes which may bring about backfiring in the carburetor other than a defective adjustment, are faulty valve closing, which permits the flame to reach the carburetor, or the short-circuiting of one of the primary wires, which causes the firing of any one of the cylinders on a wrong stroke. It may be well to examine the tension wires, and watch whether the valves close properly before making any further adjustment of the carburetor.

Motor Department: Will you kindly tell me through your valuable Motoring Column what causes chattering or grabbing of the linings in the Ford transmission? Give me, if any. Thanking you, I am, N. O.

The trouble may be due to reverse band being set up too tight. Try loosening it to see if improvement is made. If not, tighten up adjustment as many times as it was loosened. When the lining of the bands is badly worn they will chatter. New lining should overcome the trouble, providing the drums are not worn uneven.

Motor Department: I have been reading the problems which you solve for automobilists and I am very much interested in them. I would like to install an ammeter in my car, which is a Hudson with Delco system. How can I do so? K. N.

Connect positive terminal of ammeter to generator output wire. Connect negative side of ammeter to negative of battery. Instead of running a long wire to battery, you can connect same to negative side of starter switch.

Motor Department: The batteries in my Saxon four are continually dying down. On test the amperes remain the same, while the voltage is reducing. I have the Atwater-Kent ignition system. I disconnect the batteries when not in use. I would very much appreciate your advice. C. K.

There is a short circuit on some part of your wiring or one of the negative terminals is touching another. Go over the wiring carefully taping or replacing any part that seems defective.

Motor Department: Can you tell me the reason for the electric bulbs in my lamps burning out so soon?

I have bought three or four sets of bulbs and each has not lasted more than a month. I have come to the conclusion that something must be wrong. H. O.

The voltage from the source of current is too high for the lamps used. Try using bulbs of greater voltage capacity. One volt increase will probably eliminate the trouble.

Motor Department: Could you tell me how to speed up a Buick engine of 2,000 H. P. M. to 2,400 H. P. M. K. S.

Would advise communicating with manufacturer regarding any contemplated change and get their approval before going ahead.

Motor Department: My car was washed at a garage with water that had a distillate in it. The petrol looks dead. What shall I do to clean it and restore the bright appearance? H. W.

Would advise application of a good body polish. There are several good wax preparations which can be purchased at any accessory supply store. If the application of any of the above does not bring back the lustre would suggest that you consult a good body painter.

Motor Department: I have a Dodge car, the engine is O. K. on the starter, but cannot crank it over without any result. Kindly advise me what is wrong. K. T.

If the starter will crank the engine there is no good reason why you cannot crank it by hand. Are you sure that the crank handle is free to turn and properly engage the dog on the crank shaft?

Motor Department: I find my engine carbonizes very often. Please tell me what causes it and how to prevent it from fouling. O.W.N.E.T.

Carbon is caused by rich mixture, excess of oil, poor grade of oil, etc. Scored cylinders or imperfect rings will allow oil to be sucked up and so carbonize the cylinders. To help prevent it from accumulating have engine hot and pour small quantity of kerosene into each cylinder and let stand over night. Do this once a week. There is no way to eliminate it altogether.

Keim Installing Ladies' Rest Room As Added Feature

The Keim-Motor Company has taken out one of the drives at their location on Scott street, and is putting in a ladies' rest room and accessories display room.

The rest room will be all that the name implies, Mr. Keim declares, with comfortable chairs, a table and so on. It will be attractive and well equipped, it was stated.

The accessories department has been maintained in connection with the parts department in the past. This has not been satisfactory in view of the fact that a man and his wife often want to select the accessories for a car and it will be much more convenient and pleasant to have this department adjoining the sales rooms.

The increase in business has demanded an added amount of room, Mr. Keim stated, to the extent that it has been necessary to discontinue the storage accommodations, thus making available much extra space.

When necessary to change the oil, say every thousand miles, it should be drained out carefully. Some of the muck remains and mixes with the fresh oil, reducing its lubricating qualities. This is unavoidable unless the crank case is removed for cleaning.

Make sure your breathing tube screen is not clogged. Hold your hand over it while the engine is running and see if air is sucked out. If not, investigate and clean out the obstruction. If allowed to remain it will put a harmful back-pressure on the pistons which will cut down the power of the engine.

New State Fees For Trucks to Be Effective June 15

Although the new motor vehicle fee and highway act adopted at the last session of the legislature will not become effective with regard to the collection of new fees on passenger cars until January 1, 1924, the provisions of the act with regard to all other classes of motor vehicles go into effect June 15, 1923.

The provisions of the bill placing the control of designated state highways under that state highway department will not become effective until next year, but other provisions go in effect June 15, 1923.

William Jennings Bryan's Weekly Bible Talk Jeremiah's Dramatic Temperance Lesson

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

We pause today in our survey of the lives of the great men and women of the Old Testament to present an incident in the life of Jeremiah, the prophet, which is intended to emphasize the evils of alcohol.

It is especially appropriate at this time when the opponents of prohibition are attempting to defend the use of what they call liquor, wine and beer, although they do not specify the percentage of alcohol which would, in their judgment, be necessary to rob the beverages of their intoxicating quality.

Alcohol is the objectionable element in intoxicating beverages and the whole controversy therefore revolves about the percentage. Whisky contains a larger percentage of alcohol than either wine or beer, therefore it is more intoxicating. The prohibition law does not forbid the use of alcohol; it merely prescribes the amount of water which must be used to dilute the alcohol. It has been decided that a beverage containing less than one-half of one per cent is harmless.

The Drink That Masters. If one drinks a beverage containing enough alcohol to intoxicate, he not only feels the immediate effect of it, but cultivates a craving for it which, in time, may no master him but he becomes a drunkard. If, however, the alcoholic content is not more than one-half of one per cent of the total, the water taken with the alcohol neutralizes the effect and he acquires the water habit instead of the alcohol habit.

His experience heretofore proves that a pint of alcohol taken in connection with a hundred and ninety-nine parts of water, is injurious, the percentage of alcohol can be still further decreased—and will be. It is interesting to know that the present percentage permitted, namely, one-half of one per cent, was fixed by the government at the request of the liquor sellers.

When the retailers of intoxicating beverages were required to pay a license fee, they soon sought protection from unlicensed competitors. They asked that a line be drawn between the "soft drinks" and the liquor sold at the saloons. One of the conditions was finally agreed upon for the protection of the saloonkeepers, their unlicensed competitors being forbidden to sell drinks containing more than one pint of alcohol in one-half of one per cent.

JEREMIAH'S DRAMATIC TEMPERANCE LESSON, TEXT OF TODAY'S TALK BY MR. BRYAN (Jeremiah 35:1-14)

And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and said unto them, Drink ye. But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever. Neither shall ye build houses, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any; but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; for ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers.

Thus have we obedience voices of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we our wives, our sons, nor our daughters. Nor build houses for us to dwell in; neither have we vineyard, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any.

But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us. And it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, let us go to Jerusalem, for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians: so we dwelt at Jerusalem.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Go and tell the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the Lord. For ye have said, We will not drink wine, nor will we sow seed, nor will we plant vineyard, nor will we build houses: for we will dwell in tents, for we will obey the voice of the Lord our God.

Therefore saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel: Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever. Some of the churches and Sunday schools have recently opened pledge books, and the pastor, officers, and members joining in the promise not to use intoxicating liquors as a beverage. My own church at Miami, Florida, was one of the first.

Some of our institutions of learning are opening pledge books. Professor Pezall, of the Pennsylvania State University, has invited the students to join with him in a total abstinence pledge and was rewarded by having 275 of the 400 students sign with him. The most conspicuous example was that of a prominent student, A. A. Murphree of the University of Florida.
