WASHINGTON, May 29.—The shipping board will investigate thoroughly the offer of more than $1,000,000,000 received yesterday for the entire government merchant fleet. Chairman Lasker said today, and if the bidders back up their proposal, "there can be no doubt the board will make the award to them."

The offer was presented by John W. Black, president of the Columbia Postal Supply Company, of Silver Creek, N. Y. It proposed to pay $1,000,000,000 for all ships, active and inactive and all other property of the United States shipping board, real, personal and mixed. An initial payment of $50,000,000 would be made on October 1, 1923, and $50,000,000 yearly thereafter until the entire sum had been paid.

Chairman Lasker emphasized that the bid was not for any other official would estimate what would be a fair valuation of the other assets of the board, such as office equipment, organization and the good will of the eighteen established routes.

The board has not disclosed anything as to his connections or worth, save what is included in the letter. Mr. Lasker said the board constantly receives offers similar to this, but when investigated nothing has come of them.

Of course it would be difficult, if not impossible, to bid to be benefited. If so there can be no doubt the board will make the award to this bidder.

RECALLS SPLENDOR OF SACRIFICES OF WAR DEAD OF U. S.

PROCLAMATION URGES THAT NATION PAY HOMAGE TO ITS HEROES.

ISSUED BY COMMANDER OF AMERICAN LEGION

Sacred Privilege to Enshrine Heroes in Heart of America and World.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29. (AP)—The splendor of the sacrifices of America's war dead were recalled today by Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion in a proclamation urging the nation to pay homage to its heroes in a fitting commemoration of memorial day.

Commander Owsley said: "The world is wrecked by the quibbling of nations over the spoils of war, but the sublime faith in the achievement of the world struggle is still in the minds of the men and women of America, who cherish a belief in righteousness of the cause."

"Brave Americans in the pursuit of the conflict's grim course become imbued with the fires of ambition which carried them on the war's objective—the destruction of an unrighteous power."

"The ideals of our citizen soldiery found expression in the defense of humanity. To have fought for the flag in the great conflict was to have maintained the cause of right in the words of one soldier who wrote to his mother on the eve of a battle, 'for myself I would have you believe that whatever end I meet, I met it with an even mind, constant in the conviction that I would rather die than live with the cause of wrong.'"

"It was in such spirit that the men of this great nation died. It has that unalterable pride in the defense of humanity's rights that led them to give their all. Theirs was the realization of the spirit of America."

"Our sacred privilege is to enshrine them in the heart of America and the world. Hallows tombs of our dead lie in the poppy covered fields of Flanders and in the home-land. We, their comrades of the American Legion, shall not forget their deeds."

"On the annual recurrence of memorial day in devotion and reverence, we turn to consecrate the resting place of these, our heroic dead. We must bow to the splendor of the sacrifice, the heroism of their lives, the glory of their belief in America and her institutions."

"As national commander of the American Legion I implore every man, woman and child of our mighty nation to pay homage to the memory of these brave men of every race, class and creed of every war. Let us consecrate their resting places as shrines of free America; rededicating our lives to the furtherance of the ideals for which they died."

My complexion is the envy of countless young girls, and the marvel of millions of women.

It is found that only rare clays—certain mineral-laden clays—bring the desired results. Modern science refines that clay—removes the useless mud. Then the clay is white and clean and dainty. Experts also find that certain added factors give it multiplied effect.

My White Youth Clay will be a revelation to you, as it was to me. I thought I knew all that clay can do, but I did not know one-tenth.

It brings a new complexion, and quickly. Blackheads and blemishes disappear before it. Dull skins gain a rosy bloom. Wrinkles become smooth. Many women, in 20 minutes, seem to drop 10 years.

My Gift to Women

Now I have arranged so that all who wish may get this perfect clay, exactly as I use it. And I am taking time in my busy life to urge them to employ it.

Youth Clay does more for youth and beauty than anything I know. The results will amaze and delight you. When you know them, nothing could induce you to go back.

My White Youth Clay is sold at all toilet counters. Also my Youth Cream, which should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair.

My Beauty Book comes with each. For your own sake—please—learn what this clay can do.

Wednesday's Cyclone Had Four Tails, Got Away With a Pair of Trousers, Says Grandfield Report of Storm

The cyclone which savored across Wichita county last Wednesday, causing a maximum of excitement and a minimum of damage, got in its worst licks on farms near Grandfield, Okla. The Grandfield Enterprise, describing the twister, records that it had four tails.

The following account of the cyclone is from the Enterprise: Grandfield was excited to the highest pitch Wednesday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock when whistles were blown and shot guns fired, calling attention to an unusual happening. About this time someone shrieked "cyclone," and then real interest was manifested.

A snake-like spindly was seen in the west about five or six miles from Grandfield and could be seen to rise and fall throwing up a cloud of dust and other matter as it struck. The main cloud was about midway in the heavens and where the spindly was the cloud was very small, and the horizon was perfectly clear, making it possible for the twister to be clearly and easily seen. In fact, it was almost too close for one to appreciate.

It is said the twister started from a whirlwind on the river about five miles to the southwest of Grandfield, and as it gathered momentum and was sucked high into the air, a spindly, from a funnel-shaped cloud was seen to dip and connect with the whirlwind, then it dipped to the ground in a black streak and immediately spread the tail of the spindly playing over the ground like a huge top and as it moved northeastwardly it resembled the trunk of an elephant playing to and fro.

The first place where it dipped was on the H. H. Nelson farm, striking a hen house and taking it up in the air, picking chickens and throwing lumber and feathers in its path until it reached a point about three miles west and one and one-half miles south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Morton, whose house on the Bailey farm was destroyed, were eating dinner when they happened to look out the window and saw the twister coming toward their house. It must have been nearly a half mile from them when they noticed it, grabbing the children and ran to the cave.

The snake-like spindly was traveling slow and Mr. Morton started to the barn to untie eight head of mules, but when he had traveled about half the distance the cyclone was too close. It struck the barn, tearing part of it away, but none of the mules were hurt, even though a portion of the barn fell upon two of them.

Mr. Morton then turned and ran to the cave and as he jumped into the door he heard the house crash. In a second it was over him and he opened the cave door and stepped out, yet the point of the twister was still in his yard.

The house faced the east and after the cyclone it was facing nearly due north, nearly turning it completely around. The kitchen, which was to the west was nearly due south. This showed the greatest damage and also showed the way the house was turned. Mr. Morton says that the twister did not hit the house, but that the suction from it drew and dragged the about 100 feet about forty feet. The same thing, he said, occurred when it passed close to a straw stack. He said that it was at least 50 feet from the straw, yet the straw was attracted to it in great bundles.

There were found playing about during the few minutes this one was on the ground. One played to the south and east on the river, traveling east. Another one was due east and still another north. All of them seemed to head in a white cloud shaped like a large tooth and while the spindly touched the ground north of town on Deep Red, no damage was done outside of timber being blown over. This rose after a few minutes and while it looked as if it was going to descend again, all of them passed from sight and seemed to have broken up.

The real damage was done on the Barton place, where a windmill beyond repair, while wagon wheels were torn apart and the spokes scattered all over the country.

On the Barton farm, Mr. and Mrs. Crockett were holding an outside door as the twister passed near the house and in some manner the side partition door was pulled from its hinges and sucked out through a window. However, none of the family were injured.

There were some peculiar capers performed by the twister. Mr. Morton had two mules tied to a post in the barn and a tub was nearby where he had been feeding. The spindly came across within a few feet of the mules, sagged and splashed the sides of the mules as nicely as a plasterer could smear "mud" on a wall. The post where they were tied was not molested, but the mules were so frightened that they were pulled out and had not been found late Wednesday. The tub was torn apart.

The house was dragged, as can be seen by the deep furrows. It was broken apart into a large box would burst at the corners if lifted to a great height and dropped. Different pieces of furniture, such as chairs were taken from the inside of the house and carried away. Partition walls and ceiling dropped to the inside of the rooms.

Mr. Morton said that he had pulled off a pair of trousers Sunday and placed them on a bed. All that he has been able to find since was a silver belt buckle picked up in a nearby wheat field.

He had been digging a post hole that morning and had a large hole standing in the hole. The two points were bolted together by a half inch bolt, yet he had not noticed anything in the house and another across the field. A brand new wagon box was lifted from a low-wheeled wagon and not a trace of it could be found.

Chickens were to be seen hanging to the barbed wire fence, and several were found with their heads pulled off.

The point was plainly visible from town and many saw it when it partly demolished the house, while others saw it strike the straw stack. Mr. Morton said that it wasn't on the ground all the time, but that it would touch the ground, when jump as high as a man's head for twenty or thirty feet and then strike again.

By the time it had spent itself, or rather had risen, it was on the north edge of the town, striking for a moment at the Twin-Six Refinery, where it overtook the filling station building.

It then traveled over the Maricle farm adjoining the city on the north and some say that houses and other timber were dropped in the field. A black hat was picked up, but Mr. Morton said that it did not belong to him.

However, north of town, a torrential rain fell, about two inches falling in the G. W. Randall neighborhood. While a few hail stones fell here, yet we have not learned of any damage being done, but it is likely that in the hardest country some damage was done as the storm was headed in that direction.

This was the first time anything like it was ever seen in this section, especially by the newcomers, and it is safe to predict that cave builders will do a land office business in the future.

A. C. Potts said that he never saw the one west of town, but that his attention was directed to Deep Red when he saw a mass of steam rising from the timbers and heard the crashing of trees. He doesn't believe it ever reached the ground but was playing just far enough above the trees to cause them to crash and nearly bend to the ground.

In a telephone report from Wichita Falls, Texas, Wednesday night, it was stated that the twister could be plainly seen from that city and that residents there were becoming alarmed for fear the twister would strike the city as it looked as though they were in the path of the storm. A terrific down-pour of rain, accompanied by a heavy hail was reported from that section.

A subscription was taken up Wednesday for the benefit of Mr. and Mrs. Morton, as practically everything in the house was destroyed and he is not in the best financial condition. The house was owned by H. Bailey and was covered by insurance while the furniture was not.

Thousands and thousands of dollars have been expended for this work. Two big tractors, graders and other implements having been purchased and they are in constant use, the commissioners doing the work with gangs of men daily, so that Archer county now has some excellent roads.

John Ghab of the Federal Life Insurance Co. Wichita Falls office, was transacting business here today.

KIRKLAND HIGH SCHOOL HAS TWELVE GRADUATES

KIRKLAND, TEXAS, May 29.—The Kirkland high school is closing a very successful year with 12 graduates—nine young men and three girls. Rev. C. E. Lancaster of Chillicothe delivered the baccalaureate address Sunday night. The graduating address was delivered Monday night, the junior play was delivered Friday night, and the intermediate play Saturday night to the largest crowd ever gathered at Kirkland.

I am the maker of GOOD BUTTER

It is a far cry from the wooden-dash churn that I used to help mother with on the farm, to these huge, shining, white monsters that every day turn out the tons and tons of Mistletoe Butter that are needed to butter the bread of the Southwest.

Not the least of my success is due to my equipment. Butter to be at its best must be clean and pure. I exercise every care known to common sense and science to protect the cleanliness and purity of the butter I make.

It is a far cry from the happy-go-lucky method that mother used to use to the carefully checked and tested processes which we use here at the Mistletoe creameries.

Live steam and boiling-hot water are as important parts of my life work as good, well pasteurized cream, smooth-running churns, even temperatures and careful attention.

And by the same token, it is a long way from the sometimes good and sometimes bad butter mother made to the uniformly smooth, even texture and rich, delicious flavor of this golden butter that I almost hourly take from these great churns that are at once my greatest pride and most pressing care.

The very first thing I learned on coming into this modern creamery was that cleanliness came first. No matter how heavy the day's work—no matter the time left after the cream and butter leave each machine, steam and boiling-hot water must be applied to everything—machines, containers and floors.

I am a maker of good butter but mine can be only a limited pride for the excellence of the butter I make is the result of a co-operative effort that starts back on the farm where the cream is produced and carries clear along the line up to the time when the rich cream and salt go into my churn.

Every nook and corner must shine and glisten. This is one reason we are always proud to have visitors come to the Mistletoe Creameries, at any hour of the day to see how far we go toward practicing what we preach.

With the onward progress of the cities, the cows have been forced further and further away. First, to the outskirts of the village and then miles beyond. And with increasing population comes an increasing demand for dairy products, especially butter, that boon companion of the staff of life.

Forced to depend upon their own immediate dairying facilities, large Southwestern cities would face a butter famine six months in every year. To meet this need, the Mistletoe Creameries have grown with the territory they serve. Cream is gathered from surrounding territory to make butter for the Southwestern states.

The story of this is being told in a series of advertisements of which this is the third. Watch for the man learn something of the industry that butters the bread of the Southwest.

SUN COMPANY PLANS DIAMOND CORE TEST IN ARCHER COUNTY

MEGARCEL, TEXAS, May 28.—A diamond core test is to be made by the Sun Company in southwestern Archer county, according to Mack Caudell, field superintendent of the company. Machinery probably will be sent here this week. Four or five separate locations will be tested. The first will be a 600 foot test somewhere north of the Farmer No. 1 well, which for one year produced 40 barrels of oil a day on the pump and was lost when the hole was deepened in an effort to find deeper producing strata. This well was on the Farmer ranch, six miles northeast of Megarcel on the Bell county school land survey. It is believed that when the geologic work with the cores has been completed so as to disclose structural conditions a number of wells will be put down. The company holds leases on about 19,000 acres in this section and is interested in the Swastika field. The Kover No. 1, one half mile northwest of the discovery well of the field, has an excellent chance of being a larger producer than any present well in the field as a core showing a rich oil sand was taken Sunday. Oil men already have expressed much interest in the forthcoming tests as diamond core drilling is something new to this part of the county, the diamond having been used almost exclusively in mining operations.

TEXHOMA TO DRILL ON WILSON RANCH IN NEW DISTRICT

ARCHER CITY, May 28.—The Texhoma Oil and Drilling Company is hauling derrick timbers for their test to be drilled in section 1, G. H. H. survey, Wilson ranch. The company owns considerable acreage in the block. A. D. Robinson has derrick timbers on the ground for test to be drilled in section 10, H. T. and B. railroad survey, Fisher tract. This will be the first well on the lease. Much activity is looked for southeast of the Freeman-Hampton pool. Staley and Wynne have erected a derrick on the Riggs lease which they recently purchased. Mrs. Clara Phillips Offered and Declines to Accept Freedom and Promises to Tell of Her Escape

By CLARA PHILLIPS. Copyright 1923 by Los Angeles Examiner and Universal Service. Wireless Dispatch. ABOARD S. S. COPAN, ENROUTE Puerto Cortes, Honduras to New Orleans, May 23.—I am innocent of the awful crime of which I was convicted. I am not the "hammer slayer" nor did I ever strike a single blow with a hammer. God willing, the truth of this whole terrible tragedy will come out. And that truth will make me free—free of prison cells, as well as the horrible shadow that darkens my life. I have had a chance since my arrest to exchange my honor for my freedom. That chance I refused as others can testify. Though it may sound strange for me to say so, I am very glad to be going back to Los Angeles. I want the opportunity to clear my name and prove that I am not the terrible woman that I have been painted. The facts have not been given to the public in my case. Vivid imaginations have pictured me as a cold blooded brute slayer. There is no vestige of truth in that impression. And I am determined to correct all the false ideas of me that have been given to the world since this trouble began. My escape from the Los Angeles county jail was not effected by any underworld rings. I don't know any men or women in that stratum of life. I cried when I read the newspaper reports that I was frequenting low dives and "dope" dens in Mexico. Those stories hurt me so I wanted to surrender then and tell people the whole truth about myself. But a convicted person like myself, with all the "world" against her, has little chance of getting a fair hearing. I hope to get one now, however, with God's help. As I have already said, Carren was the only person who actually aided in my escape. He got on the jail roof and saved the bars of my cell. It took him more than an hour. He knew the inner and outer parts of the prison perfectly. He got his knowledge of the roof and the location of my cell through hours of close observation from the will be a short distance south of the Haynes-Arzt No. 1, which is accented with making the barrels. The Artox Oil Company's test on the Carter land, lot 11, block 23, American Tribune lands survey, which picked up sand at 1275 feet believed to be the Peterson sand, is regarded as a mystery well. Geologists are of the opinion the well will bear watching.

By MORRIS LAVINE. Special Correspondent of Universal Service. (Copyright 1923, by Los Angeles Examiner and Universal Service. Wireless Dispatch.) ABOARD S. S. COPAN, ENROUTE from Puerto Cortes, Honduras, to New Orleans, May 28.—Within a few hours Clara Phillips, "hammer slayer" will be on American soil. She is returning voluntarily to pay the penalty for the murder of Alberta Meadows, having refused at the last moment to accept her freedom in Honduras. Every pound of steam in the Copan's boilers is being used in an attempt to reach the quarantine station, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, before midnight tonight, so the journey to New Orleans may be resumed early tomorrow morning. In case the vessel puts in after midnight, the arrival at the Louisiana port will be delayed until noon. Aboard this ship, a Cuximal Fruit Company boat, is the entire Los Angeles party, composed of Clara Phillips, her "baby sister" Mrs. Edna M. SCOTT AT NINTH

iff Walter Hunter and the Universal Service correspondent. Only Jesse Carren, the erstwhile "protector" of the fugitive slayer, was left behind. He is in the penitentiary at Tegucigalpa, under investigation involving alleged revolutionary plots against the Honduran government. Dramatic in its every phase, was the departure of the "civvies woman" and her American guards from Puerto Cortes Saturday morning. For twenty-four hours before the actual embarkation it appeared as if the 10,000 mile trip for Clara was doomed to end in complete failure. Freedom was in the fugitive's grasp had she cared to take it. But, believing that she will be able to convince the people of the United States—and the California courts—that she was unjustly convicted, Clara is coming back of her own free will to begin a desperate battle for liberty and vindication. Just before her departure from Puerto Cortes, Clara signed an affidavit saying that she waived extradition proceedings and was willing to return to the United States of her own volition. The affidavit was sworn to before American Consul George F. Shaw. This action was the climax of 24 hours of heart-breaking anxiety for the Los Angeles officers, who knew that Clara had been offered her freedom. Now that we are out of Honduras, facts can be revealed that were impossible to tell before on account of the strict government censorship over my dispatches. It is now possible to disclose how Clara, according to her own statements, preferred to return to her native country and face a life term in San Quentin penitentiary rather than remain in Honduras as the mistress of a high Honduras official who fell in love with her. So influential was this man that at the very last moment, when the party was boarding a launch to be taken to the steamer Copan, she small boat was held up while Clara was given a last opportunity to remain behind. Free woman, a native police officer, with several guards, delivered the message and told the fugitive that the order for her release issued by the Honduras supreme court was in his possession. While the rest of us waited in almost agonizing suspense for Clara's decision, the prisoner herself fought by that brief moment, one of the sternest battles of her life. Finally, she said, in a voice choking with emotion: "I'll never—that I thank him—but I will not sacrifice my honor for my freedom. I'm going back to the United States and fight myself in the eyes of the world." That was all. Clara took her place in the little boat with her sister's arms around her, and nothing more was said until we reached the deck of the Copan. Plans for colonizing irrigated lands in the Wichita River valley will be considered Wednesday at a meeting of the chamber of commerce committee on colonization. The committee, of which A. H. Brittain is chairman, will meet at luncheon at the Wichita Club. It consists of A. H. Brittain, J. M. McFall, J. C. Hunt, C. E. McCutchen, C. H. Clark, J. F. Boyd of Iowa Park and Herbert Griffin of Dumas. With the voting of the north side canal bonds, and the starting of preparations for construction work, it is felt that the time has arrived for formulating some definite plan for settling up the irrigated lands. Considerable trading in these lands, some of it largely speculative, is already reported. Eyes tested: Faith Optical Co. Adv.

If You Are Seeking Beauty Just Keep on Playing Make-Believe, Advises Southern Prize-Winner

EDITH WING PEACOCK

By NEA Service.
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, May 18. When you were little you loved to play make-believe, didn't you? Keep it up if you want to stay young and beautiful, advises Edith Wing Peacock, psychologist and famous southern beauty. She believes that psychology reveals more avenues to beauty than any beauty shop.

"Here's what keeps me young," she said, pointing to a photograph of a beautiful girl in an old-fashioned frock.

"Myself—at 18," she explained. "I keep this always with me and it is the picture of myself that I keep in my mind. People are as old as they think. I think of 18, not 70."

Mrs. Peacock thinks autosuggestion keeps her looking like her young daughter instead of a mother.

Walk as though you were young, she advises. "Don't allow yourself to slump. When you are too tired to sit up or stand up, then go to bed, not to the sick, but to relax. Take time every day to meditate on the beautiful."

"If you are too plump, roll and exercise. If you are thin, stop worrying and spend much time out of doors, but all the time keep before you the mental image of what you want to be instead of what you are afraid you may be."

Here's Recipe
This mental care must of course be supplemented by attention to physical needs.

Here's an old southern recipe she says is keeping the face smooth and unlined.

"Dip a piece of cotton into the white of an egg and use it to go over the face and neck. In two minutes this will harden into a mask better than any expensive beauty clay. Leave it on for five minutes, then bathe the face with warm water to remove the mask. Rinse with ice water. Apply your favorite astringent cream to the face, and powder and rouge—and smile."

Song Belts
The extremely low and rather snugly drawn-in belt line is appearing in increasing numbers, according to talk of its becoming the dominant style note in fall frocks for children.

I sometimes wonder if the gay little Marquis whose love letters used to lie in this receptacle, ever found one that made her very sad. Some way the ones that I place here today only record an unhappiness of some kind.

I can write my joys and my pleasures to my friends, but it is only to you, Leslie Prescott, that I may tell the things that bother me, that grieve me.

For you see I have perhaps a peculiar idea that no woman should find fault with her husband to any other person. Not even to her mother should she voice the slightest criticism of him unless things become so bad that she finds she cannot live with him any more.

Dear old Jack has not reached that place yet—many a mile but it does take a long time of get to the place of understanding. I love him much and I know that he loves me, but love is a jealous little god and he just won't be made to go in with the other Lares and Penates. He wants it all or nothing.

When Jack is away from me, he is nothing else but perfect and I dream of him as he is at times when he comes in with that gay laugh of his and waits me around the room and kisses me on my eyes, my lips and my throat and tells me I am the sweetest thing he has ever known.

I always think he is going to be like this when he comes home and I am so disappointed when he comes in looking gloom and unhappy. Then I know that things have gone wrong at the office and I don't dare ask him about it because I know he

The Tangle

Letter from Leslie Prescott to Leslie Prescott, Care of the Secret Drawer.

Jack did not look across at all the other night when Mabel Locke congratulated him on his latest advertising campaign which is now spread all over the papers and magazines of the country. The first night I saw it, I was so happy about it and tried to tell him so.

"But he said impatiently, 'Oh, let's don't talk about it. I'm so tired. I never want to hear of the thing again. It's done for. I start something new tomorrow.'"

Some way the every day cares and responsibilities of married life push all the sentiment out of it Jack thinks I am awfully sentimental but to me a man or woman without an ideal—without sympathy—without soul, and I would almost give up Jack's love rather than the sentimental part of my nature. It makes me able to appreciate to the fullest all that his love brings into my life.

This isn't such an unhappy letter after all. I started to write something very different and yet I don't know whether it is your influence, dear little Marquis, but I can only think just now of my great big splendid husband who in spite of his lapses and idiosyncrasies, little faults and follies, has made me happier than I have ever been before. Here he comes. LESLIE.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

In the day of prosperity, be joyful; but in the day of adversity consider; God shall hate the one who is against the other, and that man should find nothing after him.—Eccl. 7:14.

SAM'S CUSTOMERS.

Your pocketbook eventually may be affected by this very important business development: The tide of foreign trade has turned and the "balance of trade" has swung against the United States.

In March, the latest month fully reported by the government, our exports totaled about $41 million dollars.

This means that we are "out" 61 million dollars for March foreign trade.

Our excess of imports over exports will soon become a political bone of controversy if it continues.

Nothing pleases the average national politician more than to be able to shadow-box with the tariff.

To reason accurately on the subject, we must remember this:

Since the beginning of the war, we have loaned foreign countries, particularly Europe, billions of dollars.

Any child with a fair knowledge of simple arithmetic can see, therefore, that the only way we can get back the money we loaned to foreign countries is to let them pay us in goods—materials—import more than we export.

It's a simple matter of merchandising. And any crossroads storekeeper knows that it doesn't do him any good to have an enormous business unless he gets paid for it.

Shall we go ahead doing foreign business on credit and supplying customers with money to buy from us? Or should we be content to import more than we export, as the only possible way to get paid for what we have already sold? Talk about being between the devil and the deep sea!

THE PRODUCTION TAX.

As this is written, it does not seem probable that the gross production tax on oil will be passed at above two per cent; the efforts of those who would levy three to five per cent on production have apparently failed, and while operators will pay an increased tax, it will be materially less than seemed possible when the legislature convened.

Even among oil men themselves there are to be found advocates of a modern production tax as one of the fairest means of obtaining revenue, if it is the only way in which the oil industry were required to contribute.

That is Oklahoma's plan. Ad valorem taxes on oil leases, on drilling rigs and on equipment, are lightly assessed. The operator who drills and misses has little to pay. In Texas the operator who drills a dry hole is taxed on the leasehold, on the rig, on everything possible.

That is Oklahoma's plan. Ad valorem taxes on oil leases, on drilling rigs and on equipment, are lightly assessed.

Nothing makes you see things in a different light like a full moon.

MR. MAN.

The word "Chinaman" suggests a very definite picture to you—yellow skin, slant eyes, expressionless poker face, slow walk, dragging feet, inscrutable eye expression, easy-going placidity.

You can, with equal ease, picture the typical Japanese. Other races come less clearly. Americans? We haven't developed a typical American. He'll come later, when our country ages and the melting pot finishes its work.

Sometimes you marvel that there can be so many millions of people on earth, each different from all the others—excepting doubles. Yet, after all, we are very much alike in at least nine-tenths of our make-ups.

This similarity makes us do most of the things of life in much the same way as all others. Physical actions, thinking also.

Humanity as a whole—or, at least the people of a country or geographical district—are so much alike that they act collectively like a gigantic individual.

A nation at war acts about the same as the average individual conducts himself in a rage.

Analyze, for instance, the American people, and you can picture them congealed together into a great giant. Through this giant (nation) runs waves of emotion—religious revivals, dancing epidemics, etc.

At times the giant is languid. Again he has a spurt of energy. Today he may manifest sudden interest in science or other things intellectual; tomorrow, off on an emotional debauch, brain drowsy. You can remember periods when the whole nation was gloomy, also periods of light-hearted joy.

Europe, by the way, has been acting like a man recovering from delirium tremens. Weak, shaky, irritable.

Psychologists recognize two distinct kinds of mind—the mind of the individual and the social mind that seems to be possessed in common by all the people.

The social mind, it is at work whenever we operate in groups—lynching mobs, wars, radio crazes, sudden interest in spiritualism, dancing epidemics, and so on.

All this, of course, you have observed. While each of us is a separate being, we seem to be sprouts or branches from a common tree. That is, we draw our current out of the same high tension wires as other people.

Somewhere we are connected together—in the mysterious regions of the subconscious or psychic, and possibly out in the fourth dimension. Having so much in common, it's a wonder that there isn't more brotherhood of man, a more intense spirit of working for the common good of humanity (the giant) instead of for self.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BEHIND.

"Behind the dim unknown, standeth God within the shadow!"

So wrote Lowell as he thought of the scaffold that snuffed out the heroic in life—those who dared and were not afraid, the John Browns, the Garrisons, and the Altons.

Look far enough behind the thought of a man and you will have the picture of all that he is or may be. Look behind the furrowed face of the mother and you shall see a garden of beautiful flowers—each one giving out its fragrance to the entire world.

Look behind the fading beauty of the physical face and you shall see colorings of greater glory than any sunset, no matter how gorgeous—if those eyes have learned to see beauty, those lips to utter beautiful words, and that mouth to smile through the densest sadness of the soul.

Just remember that God never walks out in front. He stays behind—to watch, to wait, to be ready, to help.

Behind the silent look may bloom acreages of flowered love—too beautiful and poignant for show, yet scenting the air of the world with the rarest, most delicate perfume.

When you can't understand the one you most love, just look behind a little way. When your best pal seems to misunderstand you most, be kind, and just—look behind. Maybe an unusually heavy heart has closed the door of speech and utterance.

There is always a solution for every problem, no matter how difficult.

If you can see far behind, you will always be able to look far, far ahead. And so much of your happiness depends upon just this.

TODAY

What their heads need. Munsey's three forties. The ice is coming. Lion and fawn.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1933, The Star Co.)

Look around. You will see 1,000 young men, each with a new straw hat. How many of these young men have bought a new book recently? Thirty buy a serious book, perhaps, for a thousand that buy a straw hat.

Sir Arthur Keith, British scientist back from studying gorillas and Gibbons in Africa, says the brains of human beings are used only to one-half capacity.

Most of us have more brains than we know what to do with. The neglected brain crop is the greatest loss in modern civilization, but the straw hat crop is doing well.

Frank Munsey, who is to newspaper what Herod was to babies, has bought the New York Globe. If you love that little paper, tremble, its days probably are numbered. Some time Mr. Munsey keeps a paper for a while, then kills it.

Some of the world's great men are gigantic successes. About the globe, he is uncertain. He may kill it, combining it with the Evening Star, or he may let it go for a while. Just now he is saying "tenny munny munny" to decide its fate.

Whether he makes a thing go magnificently, or slaughters it because it refuses to go at all, Munsey makes a thing go. He is able to tell his life history in six words: "Forty years, forty failures, forty millions."

He has worked the forty years and he has had the forty failures and more; he has got the forty millions and more. The last statement answers everything in this land of the free.

A new glacial period is coming. The MacMillan expedition in the Arctic will melt the ice and tell how fast it is creeping down to spread over half the fertile fields of Europe and the United States a few years hence.

You needn't hurry to sell your real estate, like those who gave their land away in the year 1,000, for the new world is coming.

But it is coming to repeat the visit that has marked the world's ancient days, with the swinging of the pendulum. The world is coming.

Some time, when men become real rulers of this earth, they will use the heat of the equator to keep the ice in its place, and the cold from the north temper equatorial heat. But this is still beyond us. We're only squatters, not earth conquerors.

Political strategists hope to solve the perplexed political situation by persuading Hiram Johnson to run for Republican vice president.

It's a nice program. You could solve the problem of the jungle if the lion would walk meekly behind the bleating fawn and the black leopard follow the little lamb. But those wild animals don't always follow the program you map out for them.

In Germany there is great revival of the name Jacques Rousseau, writes the Great Voltairer, who lived with Frederick at Potsdam, and tried, without success, to teach Frederick to be a Frenchman.

Voltaire was many witty letters to Frederick the Great when they were friends, and carved him cleverly when they became enemies, but he never wrote him as good a letter as Rousseau's.

De Valera officially notifies the army of the Irish republic that the fight is over. They are beaten and must give in. Aiken, the army's chief of staff, confirms the news, and says: "We are beaten."

This does not necessarily mean peace. As long as there is one dissatisfied Irishman, there is apt to be one Irishman fighting. This announcement, however, will probably mean an end to the Free State.

ELECTRA, TEXAS, May 28.—Loading and unloading must be done in the alleys, according to ordinance passed at this week's meeting of the city commission. Heretofore, trucks and delivery wagons have in most cases been unloading in front of the stores, as well as taking on their goods in front. As a result traffic has been badly congested. This ordinance applies to express wagons, as well as to commercial vehicles.

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my household work, and I had other troubles from weak nerves. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it, it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. HELEN SEVICK, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

UNIVERSITY CLUB STAGES DISCUSSION OF CIVIC PROBLEMS

No real program was arranged at the University club meeting Tuesday at the Y. W. C. A. and the hour was spent in a round table discussion of club and civic problems. The question of disbanding for the summer months was brought up for discussion but no action was taken. A special meeting of the club will be held next Tuesday and matters of importance to every member of the club will be brought up.

Hubert Harrison, secretary of the chamber of commerce, will speak to the club at the next meeting on the decision handed down by Judge Nelson Phillips of the supreme court which takes away from municipalities any power which they had in regulating building and building codes. Mr. Harrison has made a thorough study of the situation as it affects Texas cities and will present it to the University club at the next meeting.

Decrease in Earnings
NEW YORK, May 28.—The decrease in gross earnings of the Pacific Oil Company for 1933 is attributed to reduction in the market price of oil due to over-production in the California field in the company's annual report made public today. Gross earnings totaled $21,412,803 compared with $23,552,257 in 1932.

Protest Forwarded

CRISIS IN REACHED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—A crisis has been reached in the campaign for a sober world the social service committee of the Northern Baptist convention reported today. The report stated that three factors contributed to the serious hour of prohibitionists: "The situation in some of the states where public officials are desecrated, the anti-prohibition propaganda spread by some newspapers, and third the most serious, the apathy of church people."

URGE RESTRICTIONS ON KIWANIS MEMBERSHIP

ATLANTA, GA., May 28.—Robert N. Young of Salt Lake City, presenting a report on classification at the convention of Kiwanis clubs, internal, today urged closer restrictions on membership. The report contended against what was described as a growing practice of permitting more than two representatives of any profession or business to become members of local clubs.

Public activities of a national or international character were brought out in the report on public affairs by Harry E. Karr of Baltimore. Discussing tax exempt securities the report declared "any man who deliberately attempts to escape taxation is not a good citizen, as he has no sense of loyalty to or interest in the government under which he lives. Any system of taxation which leads men to attempt to escape taxation who are otherwise above reproach in their business lives should be given the serious thought of Kiwanis as good citizens."

Y. W. C. A. COMMITTEE WILL MEET THURSDAY MORNING

SPUDDERS PILE UP EARLY LEAD THAT DOWNS CRABS 9 TO 4

Salms Are Billed in First Twin Program of the Season Wednesday With Beaumont Exporters on Hand

It was well that the Spudders lit into "Parson" Ferryman in the first two rounds and continued to delight in the offerings of Joe Kiefer in the second, for the last named was soon to be a Spudders man on the second. However, Pat Newman pulled said Mr. Kiefer out of his bag of pitchers too late and the Salms' nine runs made in the first two seasons stood for a 9 to 4 victory Monday afternoon in the second game of the series.

The Spudders will spring their first double-header of the season Wednesday, Memorial Day, with the Beaumont Exporters providing the opposition—or it might be lack of opposition. The bargain feature is billed to start at 3 o'clock, and one of the season's biggest crowds is expected to turn out.

Big Ed Stauffer finally got some help from his teammates in the nature of base hits and runs and he won his first game as the home crowd after having been charged with three losses. Big Ed was given nine runs in the first two frames and he took things easy from then on, giving up quite a few hits and just as many passes as the law allows, but he managed to hold the Crabs when his season runs.

Ferryman, making his second start of the season for the Crabs, failed to offer anything baffling to the Spudders and they charged him from the game shortly after the second inning opened. Kiefer was pounded just as hard as was Ferryman in the second, but after that the former Sully League star was almost unhit. A single by Buddy Tanner with two gone in the eighth was the only hit the Spudders collected after the second inning. Kiefer's numerous passes put the Spuds in scoring position, but he hit to produce the markers were not forthcoming.

Salms Put It on Ice: A little did it matter whether or no the Spuds could wallop the apple after the second for the damage already had been done. Beaumont opened the Spudder first with a hit to center, ordinarily good for two bases, but Bob made it to third when Cotter played the bounce off the fence poorly. Coombs slammed a single to center and Beacher came in. Tanner hoisted to Oestergard, but Cotter's sacrifice bunt, sending Coombs, and took third, the throw in got by Wittry. Grigsby turned one over the first flight walk for the circuit, accounting for the third and fourth runs of the inning.

Stauffer and Beacher opened up, on Ferryman with singles to start the second and Kiefer called the second. Coombs met the new-comer with a slashing bingle to left and Stauffer counted. Coombs took second and Beacher third on Newman's error. Tanner walked, filling the bases. Cotter went out on a high one to Dielst, but White emptied his bag, with a double down the third base line. That constituted the day's work for our hopefuls as far as runs were concerned.

Cubs Count Early: Stauffer was off to a bad start and the Crabs got one in the first. Little opened with a double to center and was forced by Dielst. Oestergard was an out, but Connolly's triple to center scored Dielst. Westerner followed with a double just inside third base that scored Connolly.

Oestergard's single, Connolly's out and a single by Westerner scored another in the third. T. Oestergard's two-infield outs and Oestergard's two-base knock were good for the fourth marks in the sixth.

A neat bit of fielding on Stauffer's part worked the Spuds out of a bad situation in the eighth. The Crabs led the sacks with none and on Kiefer's double that tied the score. Stauffer took Oestergard's tap in his hand, tossed to Beacher and a double play was completed at first.

Beacher robbed Westerner of an extra base slam in the ninth when he pulled in Texas' long drive off the fence in one hand.

The Lookout

Big Ed Stauffer finally was given some runs to go with and the big boy did the rest. It was basically the poorest performance that Stauffer has ever had, which, however, doesn't mean that Ed failed to pitch a good game. It's just a fact that the game he has lost has been exceeding well pitched contests.

Now, he didn't have to bear down with a seven-run lead after the second round. It was well that his mates did make it easy for him, because he had tolled seven innings with just one day's rest, and may have had a hot to do with his apparent easing up.

Joe Kiefer, who set the Spudders down so regularly after the second inning, is another of those pitiable, less spittable. The Spuds have two of them in tow. Heinie Meine and Hal Carlson both are listed as spittable flingers, but as yet neither of them has served up a moist ball. It does not appear to be necessary, Meine has won four straight and Carlson his only start without recording the aid of his salivary glands. Why meddle with well enough?

Courtesy-walkers have been asked on George Whitman, veteran Spudder outfielder, who was signed to be the agent for the Spudders this spring. If the Texas league clubs are willing to let George out of the league, he plans to cast his lot in the International League or the Pacific Coast League. He is likely to catch on with Toronto, an old friend of his, before he came to the Texas League.

In the passing of Whitey the Texas League will lose a player, and one who could be of help to almost any club in the league, because a real good fellow. The first Texas club to waive on George, it is likely to be the Spudders, for he has been a regular through last places for him, but simply to do him a favor, that he might play where he wishes. Here's hoping that Whitey catches on to suit his own and adds another valuable ten years to the game.

Here's the batting marks of former Texas League stars in the Southern League for games through last week: Rhine Williams, 37; Jake Miller, 14; Fred Beck, 10; Brock Harford, 35; Danny Clark, 33; Robertson, 28; Art Ewald, 27; Bob Davis, 23; John Van, 17; Johnny Brock, 14. The pitchers are performing as follows: Slim McGraw has won 3 and lost none, Abe Bowman has won 3 and lost 1, Red Bird has won 4 and lost 2.

The usual squaking that precedes heavyweight title bouts has started in earnest. Says Tom Gibbons to the public at large: "I'm gonna knock that big bum for a row of petrified oysters." The heavyweights are performing as follows: Slim McGraw has won 3 and lost none, Abe Bowman has won 3 and lost 1, Red Bird has won 4 and lost 2.

The municipal tournament is a handicap that will put them on an even basis at the start with the boys who shoot 'em in the eighties. The life in the money club is easily more numerous than the 90 shooters, and 24-handicap men will have nothing to be ashamed of. They will have plenty of company.

The tournament committee has held up the start week longer than more entries might be received. And now is the time for everybody to get in on the tourney. Every player has an even chance to win at the start, but even if that were not the case, every player should enter, for a big turnout is the first competitive play will be a great boost for the public course.

The municipal course is a peach of a nine-hole links and hard enough for anybody. Tommy Cochran has a rough for the better. Tommy says he wouldn't like to wager a lot that he could do the nine holes in 21. And he turned in a pair of 21s on the country club course Sunday.

The Spudder Attack: Monday night, while Dempsey slept at his camp in Great Falls Park, Gibbons gave an exhibition in a theater here. The challenger was advertised to demonstrate the blows he will use "when he wins from Dempsey."

O'CONNELL'S TWO HOMERS IN LAST TWO GAMES MAY PROVE TURNING POINT IN CAREER

By THOMAS L. CUMMISKEY, Universal Service Sports Editor. NEW YORK, May 28.—Since Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 buy, came to the Giants this spring, he had not been hitting with much success—until recently.

Monday he made his second home run in two days, a real out, dispatched at high speed into the right field stands, a place that resounded often to Babe Ruth's slams until the Yankees got a new home.

Now two homers may not indicate a rampage of much hitting or hard hitting in general, any more than the well known swallow in flight, a place that resounded often to Babe Ruth's slams until the Yankees got a new home.

Just suppose these things: You are twenty-two years old, and your home and kin are 'way out in the country. You are going to make good on decidedly foreign, not to say, hostile fields in the big league.

Day after day, in the presence of thousands who know how much to do and how you are expected, to do big things, you go out with your bat and swing strongly and freely—and hit balls most of the time on a hard line right in opposition to the pitcher.

On the bench are Bill Cunningham, a clever fielder, a chap who has hit better than 400 in 14 games.

may abandon his contemplated trip to Alberta, Canada, it was said, and leave Tuesday for St. Paul, returning at once to establish his training camp at Shelby June 6.

CARPENTER GIVES BUT TWO SAFETIES AND BAKERS WIN

Carpenter let the Floral Heights Methodists down with a brace of safe hits Monday afternoon and Nafziger Baking Company gained a 5 to 1 decision in a Twilight League contest. The game was a playoff of a postponement.

The Methodist got to Carpenter for a run in the opening round, but the Nafziger hurler was airtight throughout the remainder of the game. The Nafzigers turned in one of the few perfectly fielded games of the season and accorded their pitcher a stonewall defense.

Kallman pitched well for the Methodists, but five errors by his colleagues proved costly. Ray hit for the circuit for the winners.

MUNY GOLF TOURNAMENT IS POSTPONED UNTIL SATURDAY

The first handicap tournament of the Wichita Falls Municipal Golf Club for the Nafziger trophy has been postponed a week, and it is expected that everything will be in readiness for first round play Saturday, according to I. E. Sheldon, chairman of the tournament committee.

The tournament was due to have been started last week, but members have been slow in turning in their entrance cards and it was decided to postpone the start a week, in order that everybody would be given a chance to fall in line for the club's first competitive event.

Entrance cards have been mailed to all members, but many of them have not been heard from. Mr. Sheldon declares there still is plenty of time for members to enter, if the cards are mailed in within the next day or two.

The new course is being gradually improved and the nine holes now are in the best of condition. Work on the three tennis courts being constructed at the club has been halted for the past ten days, allowing the court bases to become settled. It probably will be at least another thirty days before the courts will be ready for play.

There is just one way that we can see to it that rightful box holders will always have their boxes. Mr. Gray declares, "To occupy season boxes guests of the box owners must have the ticket issued with each season box or a written order from the owner. To insure the best service to our season patrons, we must carry out this policy, and iron-clad orders have been issued to let no one into the boxes without a ticket or written order."
