

Waiting for the Prince and the Democrats

By WILL ROGERS

Well, we had quite a few Notables into our Tavern of Beauty last week. Our constant audience was Will Hays (ex Man of Letters) but now engaged in the lucrative position of making the movies appear at least outwardly respectable, and he has done wonderful work. He has a good chance to get into a good shape. Of course, the President has no money. But I tell you, it's a big source of satisfaction, while looking at the picture, to be able to say, "Well, that was a terrible picture but Will Hays has certainly got those players' Morale looking better."

Well, Will brought in as his guest among various other Notables, Mr. George Harvey, the Late Ambassador to the Kingdom of Italy, and a good chance to relate to the audience a few little personal characteristics and say, he sure did prove himself a good fellow. I introduced him to the audience and he stood up and, after impatient applause, he thanked them. And he pulled a real gag which placed him with objects foreign to him. Not been before. But I tell you, it's a big source of satisfaction, while looking at the picture, to be able to say, "Well, that was a terrible picture but Will Hays has certainly got those players' Morale looking better."

In the show, Mr. Brandon Tynan, a splendid Legitimate Actor, gives an imitation of a notable character. The description is remarkable. Well, Mr. Harvey said, "I hope I am as good an imitation of an Ambassador as Mr. Brandon Tynan gave of another notable."

Now, that is what I call quick thinking. Or I should say on account of his first returning from England—that was "unofficially Reported."

I told him that on account of his carrying such little trade with Foreign Countries, I was very much interested in his Ambassador over here. He told me that he had been in the White House but was just a little disappointed that he did not have on his Knee Breaches. All of which he took in the very best of spirit. Well, naturally, he would, as a Diplomat's job is to make something appear what it isn't.

You think I say something bad about these prominent men. You ought to hear what he used to say about them in that Paper he had, called Harvey's Weekly.

Why, he got so bad he had offers from both Political sides to buy the paper. Of course, he would not do it on account of this Ambassadorship to offer, as of course, the Ambassador had nothing to offer him. They didn't have anything for themselves. So now they have got to keep him in work or he will revive that Paper again.

Of course, you must always remember, before Harvey and I say anything about these men, we have the goods on them. They can't sue me. The only thing they can do is to buy me off. So I am just going to string along and wait till the Democrats get in. Perhaps by then the Prince of Wales will have learned to ride horseback and he may be able to get married so of course they will need a Representative over there again. So I, after various remarks, will probably accept.

Now, all I have to wait for is the Prince to learn to ride and the Democrats to get in, both seemingly impossible feats.

And, Girls hold your breath, sitting there with the Ambassadors. Mr. Howard Chandler Christy who I also introduced. He had just finished a wonderful picture for the Steamship Leviathan of Mr. Harding. I told the audience that he would have painted Men's Pictures. You know I know it because I was at Will Hays' House one time and I saw one he painted of Will. So I knew then he was slumming in Art. And what a beautiful Wife Christy has!

Well, Mr. A. I. Smith of New York signed the Bill as I predicted to you all the time he would. He knew what he was going to do. He had his hands to get all these people up there to make up his mind for him. We still see now whether he lands in the White House or the Ash heap. Sentiment in this Country is overwhelmingly wet. But the Votes in this Country are overwhelmingly dry.

Now, he matter who you are or what business you are in, you appreciate Brains and a man that uses and succeeds by his Brains, no matter how you get it. Like Prize Fighting. Well, the audience last week gave a big reception to the Little 118 pound Featherweight Champion of the World, Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland.

He came up in my dressing room to see me—a little Gray-headed gentleman who would talk to a Banker or a Business man. He apologized to me for his laughing during the show. He said she would get to laughing and he wasn't able, on account of her size, to stop her. I wanted to tell him that he was trying to stop anybody from laughing in a show. We got it so seldom.

Well, since that night, he has lost the Championship. He was knocked out by a War-scarred French Politician and the reason I am writing this is that he said, "I lost fat and square and I am going to quit and go home to the Farm." No sense, no Alibis, no nothing. He had held the Championship in his class longer than any man ever did. So what's a pretty finish to a career that was based on brains? And the fellow you bring your wife to a show I am to Johnny, you let her laugh if she will. If you don't, I will jump down there and manly you myself, now that I see it can be done.

New York is in the midst of what they call a Silver Jubilee. It's celebrating the 75th anniversary of something, nobody can find out just what. There is no record in the past 75 years and stars celebrating it. But I think the reason was that this was as far back as any of us connected with the City could remember.

Personally, I think it is to celebrate the starting of the Man-Stealing privilege, which originated here and has been copied successfully throughout the world but never with the finesse that it has in the Mother Land here.

Or, on account of being called a Silver Jubilee. It may be celebrated.

You will arrive just as his widow is coming out of the church with the next husband counting the insurance money.

ing the passing away of all Silver Coins, as that small denomination has vanished entirely here.

They have an exhibit representing Progress, showing how much faster we cross the street compared to what we used to. Now it's a run, and if you don't make it, and the probabilities are you won't, they show how quickly they can get you to the Hospital, so you can die there instead of on route, as you used to.

Then they show the Modern Hearnes, which go so fast they have killed more people than they carried. You know we don't stop to breathe it now, but in the old days it was nothing for a man to be hit in his own funeral. But now, if you are going to a friend's funeral and happen to be held up in a traffic jam a few minutes, you will arrive there just as his widow is coming out of the Church with the next Husband, counting the insurance money.

Also, in this exhibition of progress of 25 years, they show the old Balloon where you had to walk to the Corner to even get a drink. With the modern method it's brought right to your home.

It showed how the City's Money was spent for City Government. Not all of it, of course, but the 50 percent which is spent for the City.

It showed Police methods years ago compared to now. In the old days they had to hunt till they found the Crook. With Modern methods they have his Finger prints. So what's the use getting him, if you know who he is? Then, if he ever surrenders, you know it is telling the truth or not.

It shows the advancement of the Art of Ticket Speculating. An Irishman named Louis Cohen was the only one in Town 25 years ago. Now there are hundreds of them in offices where a stranger in the City can go and buy the last row, without going near the Box Office.

It showed 25 years ago they still had a few Street cars pulled by Horses, but they were up on the level of the ground and were very sanitary—had air and everything. Now it shows you how you can be in a nice tunnel under the ground where the Air is good. You know it's good because there have been hundreds using it before you got a cold.

Then, if you get stuck in the back you had to walk to get another car. But now you can stay right under there, sometimes all day, and read over somebody's shoulder and get out of it all. Or, I tell you things do move.

Then they show a Parade. Everything nowadays has to come with a Parade. They gave all the City employees a day off without pay and all they had to do was to march like mules.

M'LEAN TO HAVE CELEBRATION ON FOURTH OF JULY

MELBAE, TEXAS, June 16.—The Melbae community chamber of commerce is fostering a big celebration to be held here July 4, honoring the men and women who have worked for the promotion of the city and its civic improvement during the past year. This will include special dances to be given by the city council, the Gantt-Bater Construction Company of Oklahoma City and the various contractors and committees that furnished material for the many civic improvements which have been completed recently.

Plans are now being devised for the events of the day more than that able speaker will be secured and that an evening fireworks display will be shown in the city and will be one of the best that has been shown in the Pacific.

CHARGE HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASSERS THRIVING AT EXPENSE OF MERCHANTS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 15.—(AP) Means of curtailing the increasing number of house-to-house canvassers who, retail merchants say, are driving out of business, has been adopted by the National Association of Retail Merchants convention here today.

Sam Finley of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce spoke on the desirability of an occupational tax on canvassers for merchants.

LOCAL ROTARIAN NAMED AS ONE OF OFFICIALS OF INTERNATIONAL MEET

A. A. ROGERS, Immediate past president of the Rotary Club of Wichita Falls, has been appointed one of the assistant secretaries of the International Rotary convention which opens at St. Louis Monday. Mr. Rogers, President W. D. China, Vice President Morris Marcus and John Gould, secretary, are now en route to the St. Louis convention as representatives from the local club. Among the matters to come up at the convention will be a revival of the effort to "divide Texas," that is, to make two Rotary districts out of the one which now comprises all of the state except El Paso, and which is in area, population and number of Rotary clubs by far the largest in the Rotary international organization. The present district cannot be divided if the Texas club oppose division which they have consistently done heretofore, but which they probably would not do again.

Rotarians from all over the world will attend the St. Louis meeting. Delegates from the clubs in New England will have to travel for approximately three months, going and returning in order to be at the meeting. Mexico City is an active claimant for the privilege of entertaining the 1922 convention.

The Wichita Falls delegation will be guests at the St. Louis home of a friend of one of their number, John Hingston of Washington, district governor, will also be a guest at that home.

CANADA TAKES RAP AT SHIPPING BOARD SALE

OTTAWA, Ont., June 14.—(AP)—A provision that no vessel purchased from foreign subjects or corporations shall be registered in this country if the bill of sale imposes any number of continued conditions, was passed by the Canadian House of Commons yesterday. This was an amendment to the Canadian shipping act that obtained committee recommendation in the House of Commons yesterday.

It was intended to hit sales of vessels made by the United States Shipping Board.

BITES ANOTHER'S THUMB; ASSAULT CHARGE FOLLOWS

A certain local professional man, who drives an automobile, is nursing a thumb which he says was nearly bitten off. Another man, who it is charged did the biting, says an aggravated assault case in the county court at law.

A man's disposition gave all necessary for him to get up and down the street for about 10 minutes unable to find a parking space and then suddenly luck comes his way. He sees a spot where an car is parked and he drives in.

Another man's disposition gets in about the time he is in the street. He forces continually to tell automobile drivers to keep away from a space along the curb where he sells goods. So when Mr. Professional Man drives up and parked where he had hoped for a space to get in for 10 minutes, the man who sells goods got behind him. The man who sells goods followed by a fight accepter in which the automobile driver's thumb got behind between a set of upper and lower teeth.

PYTHIANS HOLD ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICE HERE

It has been announced by the officers of the Pythians here that their annual memorial services will be held Sunday night at the First Methodist Church, south, and Dr. C. M. Simpson will deliver the memorial sermon. It is expected that both the Knights and Pythian Siblings will meet at their hall, corner Ninth and Travis, at 7:30 to march in a body to the church for the services.

Invitations have been extended to all of the Pythians of this city, as well as to those of the neighboring cities. The Pythians are also planning a big Dokey banquet at the Christian Church Thursday night, June 22, where they expect to have plenty to eat and lots of good music. After the banquet a Dokey club will be organized, which will be affiliated with the local organization to retain a part of their annual dues paid to Asotex Temple. A big crowd and lots of fun is expected. Any Dokey banquet will be subject to a fine of not less than one nor more than five dollars, according to the by-laws of the organization. John P. Marrs.

ARCHER CITY PLANS RODEO AND ROUNDUP FOR JULY 4 AND 5

LIBERAL PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED FOR VARIOUS EVENTS.

FREE BARBECUE WILL BE AN ATTRACTION ON FOURTH

Numerous Contests to Be Staged
With Baseball Games and Dances at Night.

ARCHER CITY, TEXAS, June 16. Plans for the third annual rodeo and cowboy contests were made here yesterday. The dates are July 4 and 5 at the ball park and rodeo grounds, two big days, full of thrills and exciting events. Last year the city had a real rodeo and roundup and this year is promised a bigger and better time than ever.

The program is under the direct supervision of Red Lyons, whose famous string of bucking horses and steers will be brought here for this occasion, and Jumbo, the King of the Ring, will also be here. This 1600 pounds of bucking steer great will be ridden by some of the most famous riders of the state and a big special prize will be given to the cowboy who can stay on the required number of minutes.

Liberal prizes will be given in all events, in steer riding, bronco riding, side riding, goat roping, calf roping, and a special event of wild cow milking is billed for the amusement of the multitude who will attend this rodeo.

Archer City is planning to entertain thousands of these two big days. Extra beds, cots, tents and other conveniences will be provided and everything done to make this one of the biggest events in this part of Texas this year. List of prizes and rules of the contests furnished upon request by E. H. Beard, Archer City, on or before July 2. Good orchestra music for big dance both nights. Baseball games each afternoon, and a free barbecue July 4.

Farm Sewing Circle.
The young ladies of Archer City have formed a sewing circle which meets with various members twice weekly and they all do some splendid work as well as enjoy a social hour at the homes, serving delicious lunches after the work has passed.

Meeting with Mildred Wilcox Friday afternoon, a splendid time was had by all.

Improve Public Square.
Archer City now has one of the finest public squares in the state as far as roads and looks are concerned, and the work is still being carried on. Graveling the entire business section is rapidly showing its value. Trucks and teams are "pouring it on" and many loads of fine gravel are being spread around the city each day.

Ernest Jones of Wichita Falls was making arrangements here yesterday to drill an offset to the Hazens and Art well to the north of this city, which is steadily pumping 25 barrels daily. Mr. Jones is to drill on the northwest corner of lot 14, to the south of the 34th and 35th streets. Seven locations have been made around this well.

Personal Mention.
Jno. P. Fleming returned from Dallas Wednesday accompanied by his father, W. C. Fleming, of Wichita, City, who will spend several days visiting his son and family.

O. M. Smith, Ernest Brown and Neal Wilborn of McFarland visited here yesterday.

Mrs. Ann Moore left Saturday for a visit to relatives and friends in Ada, Okla.

Misses Bees and Elma Herron are attending the State Normal School at Alpine, Texas, for a three months course.

Joe E. Langley and R. M. Smetten were business visitors in Fort Worth the first of the week.

C. W. Hogan and two children of Birchville, Ok., are visiting the former's brother, Geo. M. Hogan, Sr.

W. Goodwin of Stephenville, Texas is here on a business visit in connection with his proprietorship investments in oil lands and leases. L. A. Valentine of the Shreve Tank Manufacturing Co., Wichita Falls, was transacting business here and in the Swastika field this week. Louie reports the last business looking up.

Dr. R. G. Anderson, dentist, of Wichita Falls, attended a specialty number of patients here at the office of Dr. T. J. Strong Saturday.

Mrs. M. G. Norval, daughter, of Francis and son, M. G. Jr. of Marietta, Okla., were visitors of Mrs. C. E. Goodwin, a sister, and brothers, Chas. and Ed.

Jack Crosslin is a patient in the general hospital at Wichita Falls, where he underwent a minor operation this week.

W. H. Griffith, son and daughter, Ralph and June, have returned from a trip to Santa Anna.

Miss Grace Talbot has returned from Wesley College, where she was a student this term, and won high honors in reading.

Hopeful of a favorable decision by the interstate commerce commission, Frank Kell, one of the owners of the San Antonio & Mexican Railway, returned Saturday afternoon from Austin, where he represented that railroad in a hearing before the state railroad commission, which body acted in the capacity of examiner for the interstate commerce commission, to take testimony regarding the application of Mr. Kell's line, formerly the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf, and that of the San Antonio Southern Railway Company, for certificates of public necessity and convenience for extensions into the far southwestern border of Texas, with connections into Mexico.

Both roads are seeking to tap the magic valley of the Rio Grande and the interstate commerce commission will base its decisions upon the question of the public requirement for either or both extensions applicable for.

The San Antonio Southern requests permission to extend its rails from Chisos to Rio Grande City, or possibly San Fordyce, in the Rio Grande valley, an addition of approximately 170 miles. Testimony offered by representatives of the Gulf Coast Lines, which now virtually control the greater part of the traffic in the valley, was strongly opposed to the granting of this application, on the ground that there is insufficient tonnage to justify a second railroad in that section.

The San Antonio Southern upheld the contrary viewpoint and dwelt upon the great area of virgin territory south of San Antonio which would be opened to traffic and more rapid development by means of such an extension.

The San Antonio & Mexican Railway Company is seeking to extend its line to connect with the Texas Mexican near Haysville, with tracks rights into Laredo, where there are direct connections to Mexico City, and which is the point from which the Mirando oil fields in Webb county are served. No opposition to this application was offered by the Gulf Coast Lines.

Whatever recommendation the Texas Railroad Commission makes to the interstate commerce commission will very possibly decide the fate of these two applications, which are said to be the only two extensive pieces of new mileage now proposed in this state. The recently adopted policy of the national commission is to refer all such applications to the railroad commission of the state in which a preponderance of the contemplated mileage lies for a hearing and recommendations, which would ordinarily be followed, although the interstate commission reserves the right to refuse to follow the suggestion of the state body.

R. A. Thompson accompanied Mr. Kell to the hearing, as a representative of the San Antonio & Mexican Railway Company.

BIG EMBANKMENT OF STORAGE DAM NEAR COMPLETION

DREDGING COMPANY TO COMPLETE WORK BEFORE JULY 15.

OTHER FEATURES REQUIRE SEVERAL MORE WEEKS

Work resumed at Diversion Dam Friday Following Delay Due to High Water.

Three weeks more of work on the storage dam will witness the completion of the big embankment. It was stated at construction company offices Saturday. The embankment is now within 13 feet of the total height, and as it is no longer necessary to fill the core-wall, much more rapid time can be made.

The dredging company is getting ready to close its offices here July 15 and expects to be through at the dam several days earlier.

It will require probably a month or six weeks, after the dredge finishes, to complete other features of the dam. The service spillway will be completed at about the same time as the embankment, but the rip-rap work and other features will require a few weeks longer.

Work was resumed at the diversion dam Friday, after over a week's delay due to high water. The damaged bridge was repaired Thursday. Pouring of concrete on the diversion spillway will start before the end of the month, and the dam will be completed in about a month.

Both flood gates are still open at the storage dam, and the channel stream is 14 feet deep at the diversion dam, but causing no inconvenience. The gates will remain open several days longer.

Surveying parties are finishing preliminary matters in connection with the north side canal, so that work can be started promptly whenever the contract is let. It is not known yet just when the contract will be awarded, as it may be necessary to advertise for bids.

TIMES IDEAL HOME BEAUTIFUL TO BE OPENED ON JUNE 24

The Times Ideal Home Beautiful will be closed again this Sunday. Due to the nature of the interior work now in progress. The floors are wet with finish and other interior work is in a condition demanding protection.

It is expected to open the house to the inspection of the public Sunday afternoon. At that time, which it will be entirely furnished to all details.

PLANS SHAPING FOR COMMUNITY PICNIC ON JULY FOURTH

Plans are being made by the Civic League for real picnic to be held on the Fourth of July at Scotland Park.

The cooperation and attendance of the entire citizenry at Lake Wichita Falls is asked and every effort will be made to make this occasion the most that communities enjoyed in the "good old days," with basket dinner, stunts, contests, a band and a happy and care free time for young and old.

Plans are being made for a children's drill and a splendid speaker has been engaged for the occasion. Mrs. F. C. Barron, chairman of arrangements, stated.

Permitting was obtained from the city council last week for the use of the park and Mrs. Barron will go before the men's club of the city this week asking their cooperation in making the occasion a success.

FREE CONCERT AND HIGH DIVING ACT AT LAKE SUNDAY

A free band concert and a high class high diving act will be the attractive features at Lake Wichita Sunday. The high divers will give a free exhibition Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and another immediately after the band concert, which begins at 7:30 p. m.

Robert Young and William Wallace, who have put on exhibitions at Walveston, Waco, Houston and San Antonio, will provide the thrills in the high diving exhibition. An additional 35 feet of tower was erected Saturday at the bathing pool, from which the two men will dive a distance of 35 feet into right and left water.

Tuesday night at the pool Red Hutchinson and Deane will do some diving, including a 35-foot dive into the water. One of his diving stunts is to dive 35 feet into water covered with floating cactuses. This is called a "Mrs. dive."

The program for the band concert beginning at 7:30 o'clock follows:

1. March, "The Bridal Rose"
2. Chorus, "Dear Old Folks"
3. Selection from "Piano"
4. Overture, "The Bridal Rose"
5. March, "The Old Folks"
6. Selection from "The Old Folks"
7. Selection from "The Old Folks"
8. Selection from "The Old Folks"
9. Selection from "The Old Folks"
10. Selection from "The Old Folks"

CUSSES JUST LIKE A LAWYER; JUDGE ASSESSES $1 FINE

Sometimes even an attorney gets stumped, but there is always a key of relief to the situation. The words "That's all" waive the witness aside and the tense moment is over.

An illustration of this occurred during the past week when a woman was on trial for disturbing the peace. It being alleged that she used profane and abusive language. A neighbor of the defendant was on the stand.

"Have you ever heard the defendant utter" state's attorney inquired.

"I must certainly have," the witness tersely replied.

"Well, how does she curse?" "Oh, terrible."

"Just how terrible?" was the next interrogatory.

"Oh, awful. Why, she curses just like a lawyer."

Except for a snicker here and there, silence prevailed. After a few seconds' thought, the state's attorney said "That's all."

The judge fined the defendant $1 and costs.

FORMER LEGISLATOR FROM WICHITA COUNTY VISITS HIS RELATIVES HERE

Rev. Patrick Henry, for several years a resident of Wichita Falls and a former member of the state legislature from Wichita county, now pastor at one of the Christian churches in San Antonio, is in the city with his family, visiting Mrs. Henry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Butta, 703 Harrison street.

QUANAH PLANS FOR GREAT CELEBRATION ON FOURTH OF JULY

MORE THAN FORTY BEEVES HAVE BEEN SECURED FOR OCCASION.

PARADE IS TO BE STAGED DOWNTOWN BEFORE NOON

Streets and Buildings of the City Will Be Decorated in National Colors.

QUANAH, TEXAS, June 11.—Final preparations were made and the workers delegated for the actual carrying out of the big, free Fourth of July celebration to be staged here by the Y. M. C. A. Independence Day at a meeting of the organization in the county court room here last night.

All possessions and the entire performance will be handled, it was brought out, by the young men composing this organization of business men.

Everything on the grounds is to be free with the exception of the soda water, ice cream, pop corn and peanuts.

The beef committee was organized last night, as chairman reported having secured more than 40 beefs for the occasion and the finance committee has gotten together more than a thousand dollars. The committees are expected to bring in a good amount, thus putting the affair over without the organization having to go in debt.

All of committees are at work now and the publicity committee was

GRAND JURY OF 30TH DISTRICT CONVENES MONDAY

The grand jury for the June term of the 30th district court will convene Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Judge H. R. Wilson will preside and instruct the investigating body. Approximately fifty witnesses have been subpoenaed by the state to report and testify before the grand jury. It is not believed that the jury will be in session any longer than one week, as only a small number of cases appear on the list for investigation.

The first week of the 30th district court term will be utilized in calling the civil docket and the trial of such cases as are ready for disposition.

Several cases involving the state's attorney will make a detour from New York on a buying trip to cover a period of several weeks.

Mrs. W. E. Davis, head of the Perkins-Timberlake Company's ready-to-wear department, left Friday afternoon for New York on a buying trip to cover a period of several weeks.

Mrs. Davis is well informed as to the wants of Wichita Falls women and will select merchandise with their needs and desires first in her mind, it was stated.

It has been computed that the average male's weight is 150 pounds in the course of a year.

RAIL OFFICIALS ANNOUNCE KLAN TRAIN TO MUNDAY

Definite announcement that a special train would be run from Wichita Falls to Munday on next Tuesday on account of the Ku Klux celebration there, was made by officials of the Wichita Valley Saturday evening.

The train will leave Wichita Falls at 5 p. m. Tuesday. It is said a number of reservations have already been made. The train will return from Munday late Tuesday night.

WHEAT HARVEST IN WICHITA COUNTY IS GOING STRONG

Thriving throughout the county was reported Friday morning by not less than half a dozen outfits, the grain having dried out sufficiently to make threshing possible.

A survey of the county Friday afternoon showed that harvesting was again on in full swing after a delay of four or five days.

Wichita county has been out and checked, but around the Byers and Charles district. County Agent Guy R. Jones found approximately 10 per cent of the grain still uncut.

The ground also indicated that it would be impossible to harvest this grain by at least four more days, as in the majority of instances the water is still standing in the furrows.

Any more reports on the yield of wheat fields but it is believed that the wheat, as a whole in Wichita county will average seven or eight bushels to the acre.

ROAD CONTRACTORS VISIT WITH FRIENDS IN CITY

Robert J. Potts and W. H. Proctor, of the firm of Potts and Proctor, road contractors who passed the middle of highway in this county, spent Saturday with friends in this city. The two men had been to Waco county on business and made the extra trip to Wichita Falls to renew friendship. They returned to their homes in Waco Saturday night.

STOP STRUTTING, GET BACK TO BUSINESS, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

CAN HAVE NO STABLE GERMANY UNTIL REPARATIONS IS SETTLED FIRST ESSENTIAL PRELIMINARY

By THE RIGHT HONORABLE DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, O. M., M. P. (Former British Premier.)

Copyright, 1923, by United Feature Syndicate. Copyright in Great Britain by London Chronicle. Copyright in Australia by Australian Press Association. Exclusive World Rights Held by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited. All rights reserved.

LONDON, June 16.—The Germans have tried another note, inasmuch as all the allied press, without exception, is agreed in describing it as a great improvement over the first, it is hardly worth while taking up time and space to demonstrate how the essentials of this more favored document were contained in its reprobated predecessor. Psychologically, it is a decided advance on the first note. It is crisp and condensed, and does not indulge in irritating processes of argument. You should never attempt to argue with an angry man who is brandishing a bludgeon. The second German note avoids this provocation.

It also suggests a number of substantial guarantees for payment of loans to be raised for reparation purposes. I cannot pretend to assess the value that will be attached to these "gags" by prospective borrowers. I have no doubt they would add materially to the security of the investment. But this array of securities standing alone will not entice an investor to risk his money on a German reparation loan. He will look at Germany as a whole, and not in parts. He will want to know what is likely to happen to that great country during coming years, and to its industry, its finance, its politics and its people. A railway which collects its rates and fares in a corrupt currency is of no use as security for any loan—a customs revenue collected in a fugitive coin is equally worthless.

The only reliable basis for a loan is a stable Germany. You can have no stable Germany until you settle reparation. That is, therefore, the first essential preliminary to all discussions on "gags." It is "product" or otherwise. Hence the propositions that really matter in the German note are not those which give a schedule of guarantees, but those which bear on the fixation of the amount which Germany is to be called upon to pay. On this question the note does not increase the sum which the first note estimated as the limit of German capacity. But it reaffirms the readiness of the German government to pay to an impartial tribunal what is necessary to enable it to arrive at a just conclusion.

It proceeds to suggest that all further discussion on the subject of the amount of the loan should be postponed until the amount of the loan has been determined by an impartial tribunal. It offers to place at the disposal of this body all material which is necessary to enable it to arrive at a just conclusion. It proceeds to suggest that all further discussion on the subject of the amount of the loan should be postponed until the amount of the loan has been determined by an impartial tribunal. It offers to place at the disposal of this body all material which is necessary to enable it to arrive at a just conclusion.

What are the objections to the French proposal? Up to the date of writing this article the French government have not officially expressed their views on the German note. But one may safely assume from past experience that the particular jurists consulted by Dr. O'Ryan before writing their critical articles. The first is that the French government will discuss no proposals emanating from Germany until the latter withdraws its passive resistance to the French and Belgian exploitation of the Ruhr. What does this exactly mean? It is important as a preliminary condition to a conference or consideration of terms—acquiescence by Germany in the occupation and exploitation by France and Belgium of the Ruhr Valley until reparations are fully paid, then the position is hopeless. A German government may submit to such an occupation because it has no force at its command to offer resistance. But a German government can give assent to such an invasion of its territories. A note signed on such terms would

Stop Strutting, Get Back to Business, Lloyd George Tells Allies, Discussing German Offer

"A debtor (Germany) on whose restored health and nerve payment entirely depends has been violently pushed down several flights of stairs. It will take him a long time to recover from the bruises, shake and loss of blood. What an achievement in scientific debt collecting!"

"If reparations are ever to be paid, the Allies must reduce their claims—left around a table, I feel assured that the common sense of most will in the end prevail. We shall never get back what has been lost during 1918-22, but we shall get something that will help. It will take some time to set up tackle for hoisting the mark out of the crevasse, and some to do winding. But the sooner a start is made the less winding there will be to do. So, for everybody's sake, stop the strutting and get back to business."

"What are the objections to accepting the method put forward in the German note for these two questions (a conference to discuss annuities and guarantees). It is not the German method—it is the American method adopted by the German government; a conference with an impartial tribunal. If the conference fails, I know of no other way except to resort to blind force."

"It is unreasonable to propose that this question, which involves most assiduous examination into German assets, should be referred to a tribunal which would be capable of giving it calm and judicial consideration? And what objection can there be to discussing the matter at a conference where Germany as well as all the Allies would be represented? If this were a business or trade dispute, these two proposals would be regarded as eminently sensible and fair, and the party that rejected them would be condemned by public opinion."

"An array of securities standing alone will not entice an investor to risk his money on a German reparation loan. He will look at Germany as a whole, and not in parts. He will want to know what is likely to happen to that great country during coming years, and to its industry, its finance, its politics and its people. A railway which collects its rates and fares in a corrupt currency is of no use as security for any loan—a customs revenue collected in a fugitive coin is equally worthless."

that satisfactory progress was being made towards a comprehensive settlement when the conferees were scattered by a bomb. It is too early to estimate the loss which would be entailed to Europe through that explosion. But all idea of discussion between parties has since been forfeited, and petulantly dismissed as an exhibition of poisonous weakness. What has been substituted for it? For twelve months we had

My Powders

The kind they use in Movieland

By Edna Wallace Hopper

In person and in print I am telling millions of women how I multiplied my beauty and retained my youth. And I am supplying to all who wish the very helps I use. Not as a heavy expert or a maker of cosmetics I am neither. I am simply having experts make up the formulas for which I searched the world, and place them at your call. These beauty helps made me my famous Youth. And they have kept me looking like a girl of 19, after 22 years as a stage star.

a rather ridiculous display of feather rattling about the farmyard to inspire terror. Threatening speeches full of ominous hints of impending action were delivered at intervals in different parts of France. These produced nothing but increased confusion and incapacity to pay. Every speech cost France millions in postponed reparations. French opinion not unreasonably insisted on some action being taken. Hence this rash invasion.

At Cannes a two year moratorium would have been accepted as settlement. Already a year and a half of that period would by now have elapsed. German finances would, under strict allied supervision which was conceded, by now have been restored to soundness—the mark would have been stabilized and a loan could have been negotiated which would have provided

GREAT GERMAN ELECTRIC PLANT EMPLOYS 95,000 WORK MEN

CARPENTER INTERVIEWS HEAD BIG MANUFACTURING CONCERN; SHIPS GOODS ALL OVER WORLD

The German Peril Versus the Yellow Peril—Why the Captains of Industry Object to the New Eight-Hour Day—They Say Germany Must Work Overtime or Twenty Millions Must Starve—The War's Greatest Loss, Efficient Brain Power—They Call Poincare the Archfiend of Industrial Destruction—What They Want of America—Talks with the Head of Europe's Biggest Electrical Establishment and with the Director of the Union of German Industries.

(Copyright, 1933, Carpenter's World Travels)
SIEMENSSTADT.—Germany is the Samson of the commercial and industrial world. Before the great war he was conquering his competitors, capturing markets from Peking to Paris, from Berlin to Bagdad, and from the Rio Grande to the Straits of Magellan. He has as many antics as the Samson of old and his dumping policies injured the trade of his enemies. His 300,000 troops with the firebrands tied to their tails when they burst up the corn of the Philistines. He overcame them with the cunning of a fox rather than the new jawbone of an ass, and by his organization and unscrupulous methods was everywhere victorious when he was opposed by the Dallah of Military Ambition. He went in unto her and slept on her knees and she shaved his hair to the scalp. Now his strength is gone for the time, and the French by taking the Ruhr has pulled down the pillars of Dagon and involve the industry of all other nations in ruin.

The German Peril
I must confess I am afraid of the German. They are indomitable workers, and keep on conquering every under conditions which would light the fires of revolution in France, bring bolshevism to England, and overturn everything in the United States. There are millions now employed in the factories at wages which do not equal more than 10 cents gold per day. They are as skilled as we are. They are almost as good plants, and they work with modern machinery. We worry about the "Yellow Peril," consisting of 100,000,000 Chinese who work with their hands. It is a poor machine that does not multiply the product ten-fold. On that basis these 100,000,000 of Germans are equal to 1,000,000,000 of the Chinese, and just now the wages are not far apart. I do not know the average factory worker in the United States. One of our millionaires who makes cheap automobiles pays his men 10 or 12 cents an hour. I venture the average American gets at least 42 for his every eight hours of work. These Germans are doing the same kind of labor at three cents per hour, and they are making goods to compete with ours in the markets of the world. There is a great difference between 25 cents and 12, and I will create a difference between these cents an hour and the 12 to 13 an hour of certain American machines, and this difference will show in the price at which the goods can be made. The cost of manufacturing today is in the labor required to produce, and it will be long before we can pass our tariff walls. The goods that come out German goods when conditions again become stable. The wages will rise, but the difference between 12 cents and 13 is so great that the possible damage is almost beyond computation.

Europe's Greatest Electric Plant
The above is by way of introduction to some visits I have made and am making to the chief industrial plants of this country and to talk with their highest officials as to present and future conditions. I shall first take you to Siemensstadt, an electrical city within 25 minutes of the heart of Berlin in a high-powered automobile. It is a place comparable in extent with the Westinghouse works at Pittsburgh or those of the General Electric Company at Schenectady. It is the home of a firm which has 55,000 employees working in its great establishments here and in other parts of the world. It has about 15,000 in Nuremberg; it has electric installations in every city in Europe. In its same is shown wherever electricity is used. In the general offices at Siemensstadt there are about 10,000 employees, and the factories cover many acres, being divided up into units each making a certain kind of electrical goods, and some of the units employing more than 1,000 men. The homes of the workmen constitute a city within the neighborhood of 120,000 population. In the center of which is the office building where the general manager and given every facility for examining the plant.

From the Clock Tower
I was first taken by an electric elevator to the roof of a square tower which rises over the main office building. It has an electric clock on each side, the face of which would cover the floor of your parlor, and the roof serves as a view of the plant. It stretches far and wide on every side—great buildings of steel, iron and concrete of five or six stories. Each building is built on a special distance away from the others, and all are humming with some special industry. One, for instance, is making automobiles, another electric light machines, and others portable heating apparatus or telegraph instruments, including the tickers from which brokers read their stock market reports. There are great shops making poles and fire signals, factories making electric fans, acres of works devoted to dynamos, and smaller establishments where they turn out the most delicate apparatus for scientific, surgical and dental.

Coming down out of the tower I strolled about from one great building to another, stopping here to watch them make electric motors for house industries and farming, going through plants where they including sliding pump motors and electric rock drills, and then to the great turbo-generators of which they have several. They are with a total output of 24,000 kilowatts. I saw, also, the machines which were working on the street railway plants, and on the cables for the transmission lines which are now being established in Norway, Sweden, and elsewhere. They are making also, assembling machines which are rapidly coming into use in some of the countries of Europe.

Everywhere the sign and the work was as good as that in our great United States establishments. Five O'clock on Night Hours
I made some inquiries as to wages, and was informed that twenty-five cents is high for the average man at the machine. One of my guides, the head of a department which employs six thousand men, told me he is getting only about ten dollars a month, and that notwithstanding the fact that before the war he made four thousand three men straining as they carried a machine weighing several hundred pounds from one side of the room to the other. I asked their wages. The reply was 12 marks, and it equaled less than 10 cents per hour. The elevator man inside the lower said his wage was fifty cents per week and that it took one-fourth of all he made to pay for the milk for his five months' old baby. The head of the department of whom I have spoken, only occasionally has meat on his table, and he is still wearing the clothing he bought during the war.

Germany's Electrical Industry
These are the wages in an industry which has been the envy of all nations in all parts of the world. The Germans have always stood high in electrical matters. In 1892 their electrical output was valued at $2,000,000. Germany was then exporting more than 100,000 light bulbs per annum, and of these it exported $1,000,000. There is another electric city here which is about equal to Siemensstadt. It is known as the Allgemeine Electricitat, and was founded before the war. It had a capital of almost $40,000,000 and was making a profit of $1,000,000 per annum. The plant was then valued at $1,000,000 and the shares were then quoted at 212. The company here is the Siemens-Halske and Siemens-Schuckert, and it has probably done equally well. It is one of the oldest of the electrical companies, having been founded more than 100 years ago. It was the first to build telegraph apparatus. Siemens discovered the dynamo-electric principle, and his inventions have kept this company far in the lead. In twenty years ago the Siemens Company was combined with Schuckert and Company and since then it has been in the front ranks of the electrical industry, and when the mark became stabilized it was a big export than ever.

A Talk With the Director
During my stay at Siemensstadt I had the honor of being introduced to the chairman of the board of directors, as to the business situation present and future. He says Germany can do no real progress until conditions are settled and the nation has a stabilized mark. To answer the chairman of the board, I know Siemens. We have a combine with him. We all want stable conditions and we must have them.

lately cannot do so if we are to be treated as slaves rather than men." The Loss of the Colonies.

"We were getting on fairly well before the war came," continued Dr. Buscher. "We had finished the yards of the nation and were trying to supply them. We had large colonial possessions which we had begun to develop. They gave us much of our raw materials, and were gradually furnishing markets. Now these colonies have been taken away. We have lost the greater part of our capital, and an enormous number of our most valuable men—our laborers, and thousands of students, doctors, scientists, and other industrial scientists. We had one regiment of three thousand men which was made up of intellectuals, including experts of all kinds. Not one came back. We lost fifteen hundred such men during the battles of Ypres, and we were losing specialists all the time. The building up of our factories and the re-education of our industries, when conditions become normal, can be accomplished; but it will be a generation or more before we can get back the brains and power of the intelligence, and the skill embodied in the educated among our best soldiers.

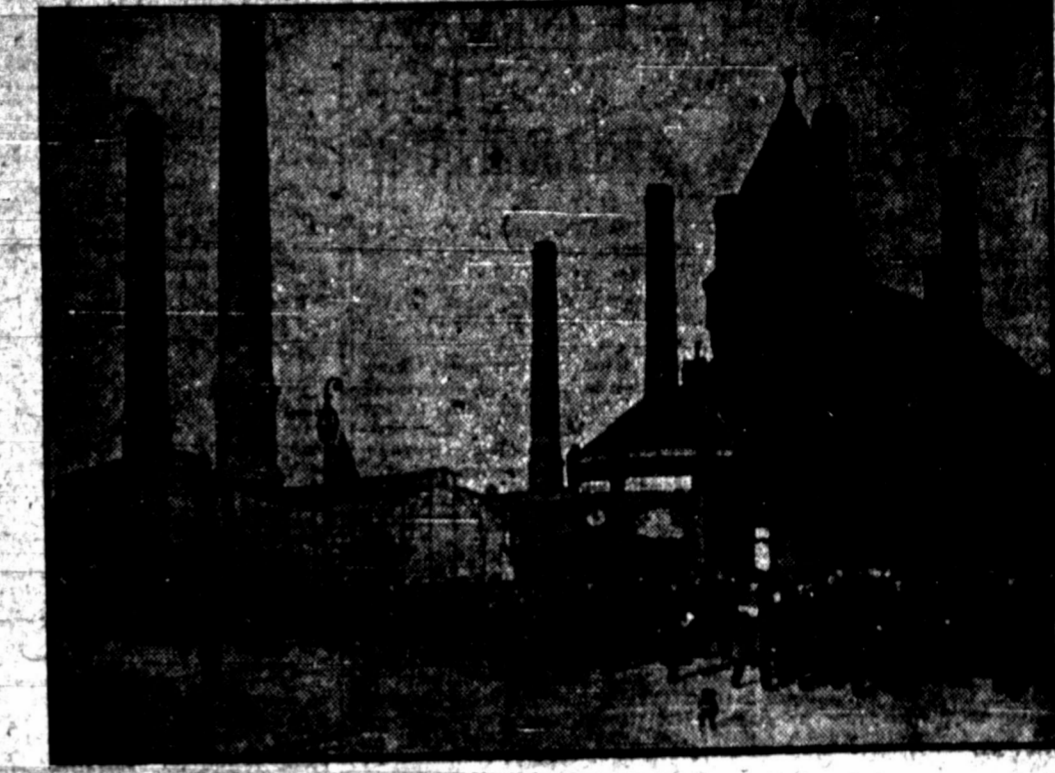

A New World of Industry.
"As to America, and the part in Europe? Dr. Buscher continued. "I do not see how you can keep out. Modern wants and modern communications have made the world one vast whole. Distance has been annihilated and a block struck in Paris or Berlin is felt the next moment in Peking or Bagdad. America is only six days from Europe, and the wireless and cable bring the whole world to one's eyes. The diplomatic changes in conditions need international understanding for the business of today and the future. Bankers, kings and diplomats have passed away and we have in their place a business world that must be managed in a different line as to supply the wants of all the people. We should all work together, and this I believe will be the condition of the world in the future."

OKLAHOMA IS NOW LEADING PRODUCING COMPANY IN DISTRICT

PETERS-KEMP NO. 2 OUTSTANDING EVENT IN OLNEY DISTRICT

OWNERS CONFIDENT WELL IS BETTER THAN THEIR DISCOVERY.

TWO WELLS COMPLETED IN NEW SWASTIKA FIELD

Number of Wildcats Are Making Good Progress in Archer Territory.

By W. H. SHUFFLER
OLNEY, TEXAS, June 16.—The outstanding event of the week in the oil fields around Olney was the finding of the Peters-Kemp No. 2, five miles southwest of town Thursday evening. They only scratched the sand, which was picked up at 1,000 feet, ten feet higher than in the discovery, but in spite of the fact that they had 700 feet of mud and water in the hole, "struck" sand at 1,000 feet of the top, and it was showing a quantity of gas. The owners are confident that they have a much better well than their discovery, and one of the interesting features about it is the fact that it was completed in less than 10 days. It is a star rig. Rough estimates of production when completed range from 100 to 150 barrels, and it is expected to complete in 10 days. The pump is Saturday night. This well shows a true sand, somewhat different from the discovery, and opinion has held all along that the first well was an edge well, and this last tends to prove that theory.

Swastika District
 In the Swastika district an outside observer would be tempted to call it a dull week. It takes a long time to drill in, standardize and place a well on the pump, and this routine has occupied the operators almost exclusively for the week. Two wells have been completed and rigged to pump. The Sun Company and American Refining Company, but they are only being pumped a few hours each day as storage is limited and the pipe line has not yet reached the well. The American Refining Company being as good or better. While running tubing early in the week, both of these wells flowed gas, and the American Refining Company being as good or better. While running tubing early in the week, both of these wells flowed gas, and the American Refining Company being as good or better.

Drilling Cement Plug
 Texas Company is drilling the cement plug today. The core they took shows this to be one of the best strikes in the field. Eagle Creek is standardizing and the well will be put on the pump in about a week. The well has been completely plugged and has been flowing a small stream into the storage tanks for the past three days. It shows lots of gas, and is believed to be good for a hundred barrels, and is not showing any water.

Getting away from the field
 Taylor at Olney, McClure, the one-half mile east of the field, are drilling around 1,300, and should tell its story by Sunday night. The owners are confident of getting a well with 100 barrels a day, and the distance between the Sun Company and the Eagle Creek producers and the distance between the Sun Company and the Eagle Creek producers and the distance between the Sun Company and the Eagle Creek producers.

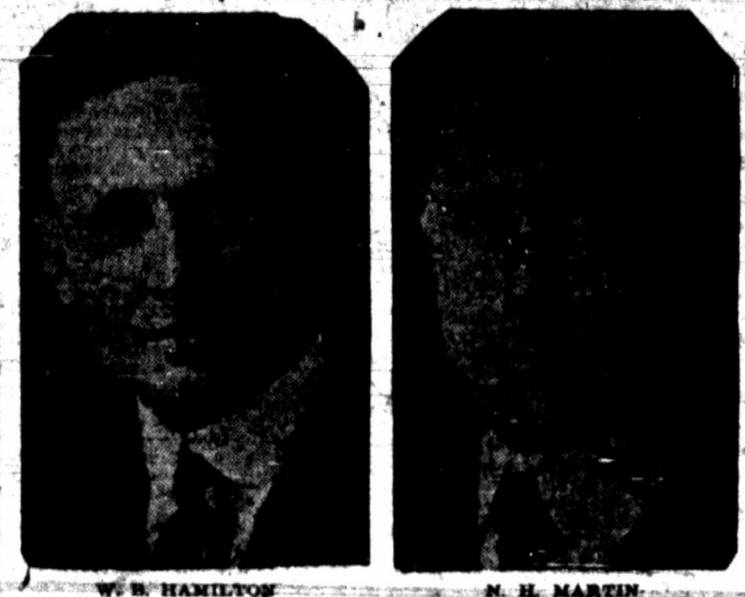

Have Fishing Job
 Featherston and Ray have a fishing job on the Morrison No. 1, two miles east of Olney. They are getting a fish tail bit, and it has gotten upside down in the hole. It is considered doubtful if they recover it, and they will accept another test as their contract calls for 1,000 feet and this test is only about 1,000.

Between this test and McClure
 Norton & King spudded in an O'Donnell tract Wednesday with Star machines. The wildcats are all making good progress, and it is expected that some of these will uncover another shallow pool somewhere in this section in the next few test days. La Nave and O'Neill are drilling around 600 on the Hawkins; Ballard, Donohoe et al spudded in the Logan farm, two miles north of Kemp test; Featherston, Ray and Hobbs are drilling below 700 on the C. H. Sanford farm five miles southeast of Olney. DeArmitt is rigging up on the Benson lease, seven miles east of town; Simms Oil Company rigging up on Bear Rigger farm, seven miles west, near Rigger school house and Whitehead rigging up on Kunkel, a mile and a half north of this city.

Swastika Progress Back
 Lee Wilson's Eureka is plugging back and looks good for a nice small producer of 25 to 40 barrels. United Royalties drilled out cement plug and failed to find the pay, so they are drilling deeper. It is reported they hit the sand again yesterday at 1,375. They set casing the first time at 1,325, and considering the dip in formations, this was higher than the pay should have been expected. Still, they had a showing of sand at that depth, but it was not enough to make a well. If they really have the sand now it is an extension of more than a mile to the proven area.

Swastika Syndicate's No. 2A
 150 barrels in storage in 10 hours yesterday. The well was drilled with a 2 1/2 pump, and with the pump shut down it flowed a full two-inch stream for nearly an hour yesterday. This company runs better than any other in the district. The well was drilled with a 2 1/2 pump, and with the pump shut down it flowed a full two-inch stream for nearly an hour yesterday. LOCAL CONCERN, WITH OVER 8000 BARRELS DAILY, PASSES OLDER AND LARGER COMPANIES HERE

W. H. HAMILTON
N. H. MARSH
 From one shallow producer, with a daily output of less than 100 barrels, to the biggest producing company in northwestern Texas, with a daily average of over 8,000 barrels, is the record of the Texoma Oil and Refining Company, which within the past two weeks has stepped into first place among the producing companies in the Wichita Falls territory.

Drilling Increases In Archer Big Extension By Green-Keys Well Many Producers Freeman-Hampton

Archer County during the week failed to show any falling in activity in the various pools. Instead of the expected curtailment, an increase in the number of tests was noticeable. Especially in the case of a number of wildcats that have been shut down due to a good looking sand at 1,617 feet, which was cored into a few feet, showing plenty of oil. Casing was set and the sand will be tested in the next few days.

Southwest of the Langford producers in the Kemp-Kemp land block 41, Murchison & Paine have passed through the usual 1,600 foot pay, which showed only slight traces of oil and water. They are in an effort to pick up the other M. A. sand in the neighborhood of 1,750 feet.

W. E. Langford, who brought in the discovery well in this district a few weeks ago, has completed his No. 4 well in the sand at 1,600 feet and is swabbing around 150 barrels daily. The well offsets the Kimball-Dillard producers to the south. T. O. Shappel No. 5 Kemp-Kemp offsetting the Kleeden well in the tract, started drilling this week and is down 400 feet.

A number of other tests are drilling in the various wildcat sections of the county, but so far have not shown any thing outside the usual drilling, having not yet reached any interesting stages in their development.

Slight Gain in Pipe Line Run for Wichita District
 The pipeline runs from the Wichita Falls district for the week ended Saturday, June 16, showed an average of 1,528 barrels daily, a slight increase over the previous week's figures.

WICHITA COUNTY HAS QUIET WEEK IN OIL DEVELOPMENT

MANY GOOD COMPLETIONS AND WILDCAT EXPANSION REPORTED.

ELECTRA DRILLING AIDED BY RAINS OF LAST WEEK

Carter Test Shows For 300 Barrels and Stimulates Drilling in Southern Part.

Last week in the oil industry of Wichita county, despite the bringing in of a number of good completions and the adding of a stretch of wildcat territory to the producing areas by the showing in the Rogers-Carter well in the extreme south part, was declared by oil men to be one of the quietest weeks experienced by the industry since the start of the year.

In the Electra pool, where a great many tests were shut down for the past few weeks due to the shortage of water, rigs are being prepared to resume drilling, as the heavy rains of the week have replenished the supply in all eastern sections and filled the creeks and river banks full, which assures a plentiful supply for all purposes for the next months or more.

A number of new locations were made in the proven fields to the east and south of Electra, and the Texoma Refining Company will put down a test on section 1, Burdett, about 1 1/2 miles south of Fowler's station in wildcat territory. Northwest of Electra, six miles, covering the small acreage line drilling commenced on the Magnolia Petroleum Company's trap test on the Littlefield farm, and the drill is down 400 feet.

The wildcat test of Lake and associates to the north of Electra, the Mrs. A. Wray tract in the Wagoner colony lands encountered a water sand at 1370 feet and is shut down temporarily. Day after day of the same town J. I. Staley and associates have built a derrick and will put down a test on the same section, other locations have been made but are awaiting an advance in the price of crude before starting drilling operations.

What promises to stimulate drilling activity in the south part of the county is the prospect of a three hundred barrel well in the Roy L. Carter test in block 35, Wichita Valley lands. The well is down 1,750 feet, and is now standardizing with the producers of the county.

To the northwest of the well J. I. Staley and associates have built a derrick and will put down a test on the same section, other locations have been made but are awaiting an advance in the price of crude before starting drilling operations.

Oklahoma's First Producer In River Bed Since Release of Land From Federal Receivership

(Cut used through courtesy of Grandfield Enterprises)

The above is a photograph of the Oklahoma-Texas Company's No. 1 well in the bed of Red River which came in last week flowing at the rate of 200 barrels. The well was drilled to 1854 feet, made several flows and is now standardizing at the rate of 200 barrels. The well was drilled to 1854 feet, made several flows and is now standardizing at the rate of 200 barrels.

Just south of Clara the rotary test of Brown-McAllister and Adams is drilling in the neighborhood of 1,900 feet. The wildcat test of Carter-Yates on the Smith tract northwest of Iowa Park is going down rapidly and is expected to be completed in a few days. Activity in the northeast and Burkhardt townships shows very little drilling, the only work going on at present being the cleaning up of the older wells and re-plugging others in an effort to keep up their production.

South of town in the shallow fields a number of wells are drilling to the various sands, with several hearing completion. The Camp Oil and Gas Company on the W. J. Hides farm has built a derrick and is rigging up for its No. 2 test, and on the same farm Lanning and Moninger lost the casing seat at 1,245 feet and are trying to reseat.

On the roller lease the Magnolia Petroleum Company is shut down at 1,245 feet, waiting on a boiler being used having accidentally blown up.

SEVERAL LOCATIONS BEING MADE NEAR ARCHER CITY
ARCHER CITY, TEXAS, June 16.—Lanning and Moninger have made location for their F. J. Hays No. 2 test on the east side of division No. 4. This test, according to geologists, is an structure mapped out several years ago by U. S. Geological survey.

SOUTH BEND'S BIG GASSER BRINGS NEW ACTIVITY IN FIELD

SOUTH BEND, TEXAS, June 16.—The town is still wrought up with excitement over the big 14,000,000 foot gasser that blew in Monday evening on the Scott land just south of town. The well, which is known as No. 10, is owned by the North American Refining Company, and is the closest to town of that company's big string of producers.

No. 10, like nearly all of the others, has been a consistent producer from the 2300 foot sand for a long time, but was recently sent down in quest of a deeper oil bearing formation. Several good showings were passed on until a depth of 1225 feet was reached, when with a roar that could be heard a mile away, a stream of oil, mud and rocks shot high into the air. The well was then blown far up in the hole. The gauge showed 14,000,000 feet of pressure gas and after three days' effort a control head was fastened down and the well shut in. As the bit was barely touched the sandy lime formation oil operators were here of the opinion that the well will soon drill itself into a sensational producer.

In referring to the well today M. R. Hemphill, one of the most successful of the independent operators of this district, expressed himself as follows: "South Bend is yet to see its best days as an oil producing area. Some wonderful wells about to be brought in from a depth of around 4,000 feet and I firmly believe that when the No. 10 of North American is finally drilled in the production will be figured in thousands instead of hundreds of barrels. In my opinion the South Bend field is finally showing a strong drilling campaign and big wells from deep oil bearing formations will surely result.

The test being put down on the Harrell tract near the South Bend depot by J. A. Meyer for himself and California associates, is now making good progress. The 2300 foot mark has been passed and with fair luck the 2300 foot Del-Tex sand should be tapped within the next few weeks. This test is nearly a mile northeast of town and a good producer here would start considerable drilling.

The Seaboard Oil and Gas Company test on the old Mid-Texas property on the Graham farm two miles west of town has reached a depth of 1400 feet. It is after the rich 2300 foot Graham sand, which produced several big wells two years ago.

The South Bend field with 10 true sands has produced oil to the value of $20,000,000 and the family alone has received a million dollars in royalty. This is considered a wonderful record.

BAILING INTERRUPTED IN GREEN-KEYS WELL WHICH MADE BIG EXTENSION
 Bailing has been interrupted in the Green-Keys well which is nearly a mile northeast of town and a good producer here would start considerable drilling.

SHALLOW WELL AT MORAN MAKING 10 BARRELS PER HOUR

MORAN, June 16.—A well that is probably the best producer from the 430 foot sands ever drilled in this field has just been completed by H. R. Ibach on the Headfoot tract near Hedrick. The well was completed in 10 days, and is making 10 barrels every hour, flowing natural. It is making no water, and is considered from the fact that the depth that has been brought in its gravity is 28.5.

Another important completion in the Magnolia pool on the D. E. George tract in section 26 B. A. lands, leading the deep test pay in a northerly direction, toward Moran. The pay was touched at about 1,800 feet, and with the bit only 100 feet in the sand at 410 feet, making 40 barrels daily.

G. W. Stough, drilling for the 2100 foot sands on the Terry farm about four miles west of Moran, has drilled the 10-inch casing at 1150 feet and is drilling below 1200 feet.

Lance Brothers, another 1200 foot test, on the Miller tract, about four and one-half miles southwest of Moran, has drilled to set ten-inch casing at one mile west of present development.

Chamness & Looftborough, in section 29 L. A. lands, on the English tract, have completed No. 1 and No. 2 at 410 feet, making 10 barrels. The same company has recently purchased at once by the new owners, acres in block 19, L. A. lands, on which there is one well now producing. Another well will be commenced at once by the new owners.

The H. Y. Company, on the Owing tract, near Hedrick, has completed No. 1 in the sand at 410 feet, making 40 barrels.

Rube Powell, on the Dennis tract near Hedrick, has completed No. 1 well at 230 feet, making 20 barrels. Polak & Ribbitt, on the Pruitt tract, block 227, T. E. & L. survey, has completed No. 1 at 410 feet, making 10 barrels. No. 2 is drilling.

TEXAS COMPANY'S COMPLETION BEST IN ELECTRA POOL

The Texas Company Friday completed their No. 215 Wagoner in the south Electra pool, which will make the best turned in from the district for the week. The top of the pay was picked up at 1435 feet and when penetrated a few feet made several flows. The well is now on the swab and is good for between 400 and 450 barrels daily.

The wildcat test of Carter-Yates on the Smith tract northwest of Iowa Park is going down rapidly and is expected to be completed in a few days.

Activity in the northeast and Burkhardt townships shows very little drilling, the only work going on at present being the cleaning up of the older wells and re-plugging others in an effort to keep up their production.

ANOTHER DEEP TEST FOR ARCHER COUNTY

The Derrick is up for a deep test to be put down on the Carter land, to be located 3448 feet north and 150 feet west of the southeast corner of block 93, A. T. N. C. L. survey in Archer county. Drilling will be started at once.

William Jennings Bryan's Weekly Bible Talk The Bible as a Book for Children

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Since Easter we have been surveying the lives of the great men and women of the Old Testament. Next week we shall begin a survey of the lives of some of the great men and women of the New Testament. Today's sermon furnishes a fitting occasion for the presentation of a piece of information which will surprise the Christians who read these Bible talks.

A few months ago a joint committee of two prominent national organizations collaborating in selecting and recommending to the libraries of the country books suitable for children. Twenty books were recommended, covering a wide range. The list is as follows:

"First place among the books in the new shelf goes to Louis M. Alcott's 'Little Women'; with Lewis Carroll's 'Alice in Wonderland'; second, Mark Twain's 'Tom Sawyer'; third, Mark Twain's 'Huckleberry Finn'; and R. L. Stevenson's 'Treasure Island'; fifth, 'The other books, in the order named, are: Nicolay's 'Boy's Life of Abraham Lincoln'; Kipling's 'Jungle Book'; Anderson's 'Fairy Tales'; 'Aesop's Fables'; Stevenson's 'Garden of Verse'; Fyle's 'Merry Adventures of Robin Hood'; Lamb's 'Tales from Shakespeare'; Mallory's 'Boy's King Arthur'; Van Loon's 'Story of Mankind'; Wiggins' 'Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm'; Burton's 'The Boy's Home Book of Verse for Young Folks'; Dickens' 'Christmas Carol'; Irving's 'Rip Van Winkle'; 'Mother Goose'; Dodge's 'Hans Brinker'; Hagdon's 'Boy's Life of Theodore Roosevelt'; Hawthorne's 'Wonder Book'; Seton's 'Wild Animals I Have Known'; and 'Arabian Nights'."

Why No Bible Stories?

A reading of the list reveals the fact that no Bible story books are included. Why? If those who made the selection left out all of the Bible story books because they did not think them worthy of the children's shelves, such a decision will startle church-going people who teach the Bible to their children.

To put Robinson Crusoe above the prophets, "Tom Sawyer" above the patriarchs, and "Little Women" above the big women of the Bible, is a concrete illustration of the insidious attacks that are being made upon the Bible.

If the Bible is true, then the characters which it depicts are the greatest and most interesting in the world. If on the other hand, the Bible can be convicted as being an impostor and condemned as a fraud, then it sinks below the level of man-made books.

If it is guilty of false pretense when it claims to be the Word of God—a divinely inspired Book—then the odium of its guilt will sink it out of sight. If it had laid no claim to infallibility it would have surpassed all other books, measured solely by its literary merit, but literary merit will not save the Bible from oblivion if once it is deluged, robbed of its authority and put in the class with man-made books.

Who will estimate the value of Samuel's early entrance upon God's service? Where in all that man has written can the young men of America find so much of inspiration as in the experience of the prodigal son?

Ruth teaches a lesson of fidelity for the young women, and Queen Esther furnishes an example to the women who have an opportunity to do a great work if only they are animated by a great purpose.

It is easy to see how the "Adventures of Robin Hood," "Aesop's Fables," "The Arabian Nights," and "Mother Goose" may be considered superior to the Bible if the Bible really is, as some now teach, but a "collection of myths."

Occasionally, there is a spasmodic outburst of indignation and the character-unsuspected-of-objectionable books, but the work is only half done when harmful books are kept out—beneficial books must be brought in.

The children will read whatever is placed before them; it is not their fault, therefore, but the fault of parents, teachers and librarians if they are not supplied with the best thing to read.

Let these sources of information and inspiration be carefully guarded so that those who visit them may be strengthened for the tasks that fill our days—tasks which, when well performed, determine the success of our lives.

Humphrey-Dale Wedding Thursday In Henrietta Claims Attention Of Many Wichita Falls Friends

HENRIETTA, TEXAS, June 16.—One of the most beautiful weddings of the year, and one that formed a common interest for hundreds of friends of the popular young bride throughout Northwest Texas, was that of Miss Sara Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dale, to Mr. Fred M. Humphrey, of San Diego, Cal., solemnized Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church.

The impressive ring ceremony was said by Rev. Finis Crutchfield, of Dallas, an old and close friend of the Dale family, who was assisted in the ceremony by Rev. Guy F. Jones, the local pastor.

The Methodist church was a bower of palm and fern, with the lovely greenery offsetting great baskets of pink gladioli tied with pink and white tulle, while festoons of trailing vines marked a marriage arch and altar for the wedding party.

The bride and her attendants entered to the strains of the Lohengrin procession, beautifully played by Miss Walsh, at the piano, and Mrs. C. B. McDonald, Dorothy McDonald, Maurice Mount and Rachel Brown, violinists. The string quartette also played the Salut D'Amour during the ceremony.

The entry of the wedding party formed an exceptionally lovely scene. Miss Grace Hapgood of Dallas, Miss Catherine Noble of Henrietta, Miss Frances Harris of Snyder, Miss Madeline Mackechny and Miss Mattie Lee Strauss and Miss Josephine Mayfield of Wichita Falls, were the maids, with Miss Dorothy Bear maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dale, sister of the bride, junior maid of honor, and Master John Talley Dale, little Miss Evelyn Taylor, and little Miss Margaret Dale the youngest attendants.

Miss Dale entered with her brother, Jack B. Dale, and met the bridesmaid and her best man, Mr. A. F. Luden of Wichita Falls, at the altar. The other attendants, who had preceded them, completed the wedding group, and the ceremony was said.

The bride was very lovely in her afternoon Harry Collins model of beige chiffon with real lace, an orchid hat with deeper shaded flowers, and gray velvet shoes. Miss Noble wore a handsome gown of green and white with a wide white sash. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue and white with a wide white sash. The junior maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dale, wore a gown of blue and white with a wide white sash. The other attendants wore gowns of various colors and styles.

In the Pictures

Miss Elizabeth Miller, prominent member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, and popular young business woman of this city, leaves this week for Chicago where she will have charge of the books and assist in the management of a big cafeteria being run under the direction of Miss Dunham, former director of the local Y. W. C. A. cafeteria. Miss Miller is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Miller, of Mangum, Okla., formerly of Wichita Falls.

Little Helen Sylvia Lebonson is a baby member of the dancing "fraternity" whose feet are as light as thistle-down. Helen Sylvia, who is sumptuous with her mother at a resort near New York, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lebonson. And they say her sunny smile is just like her dad's.

Miss Dorothy Bear was maid of honor to Miss Sara Dale in the recent Humphrey-Dale wedding in Henrietta, and is a popular visitor in Wichita Falls.

Miss Marguerite Fisher recently arrived home from Ward-Belmont, where she graduated in expression this year, to spend part of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher. Marguerite, who is an attractive member of Miss Helen Snider's Ward-Belmont house party, was president of her special class, in which she made the highest average for the whole year's work of any member of the class, receiving all A's. She took the part of "Rosalind" in the class presentation of "As You Like It" at the close of the year.

Little Miss Sylvia Marie Riner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Riner, is one of this week's two Sunshine babies. Would you dispute it?

Mrs. C. J. Shumake Jr. recently arrived with her husband to make their home in the new cottage recently built by Mr. Shumake on Avenue J. Mrs. Shumake was Miss Jewel Hales, of Sherman, daughter of Mrs. N. J. Hales and member of a well known family there.

Miss Hazelle Turnig, of Waurika, Okla., is the attractive guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hogner, on Filmore.

Miss Pearl Smith, who was recently presented in expression recital by Miss Knickerbocker, is a well known local reader. Her interpretation of "Polly of the Circus" was given very high praise by local critics who attended the entertainment.

Miss Estelley Allday, a birthday hostess Tuesday evening on the occasion of her fourteenth anniversary, was a jolly crowd of young friends made several hours pass delightfully.

The party was at the Allday home on Polk street, where the young people enjoyed games and contests. In the latter of which Misses Reva Ray Brown and Hattie Broday won pretty prizes. The birthday cake, appropriately lighted with candles, was served with other daily refreshments to Misses Dorothy Shumaker, Lamar Johnson, Margaret Fox, Fairie Murphy, Emily Mitcham, Frances Boyd, Wilton Wade, Glory Davis, Mary Louise Cox, Louise Henny, and Hattie Broday; Willie Colbertson, Willis Clark, Garnet Parker, Jack Amman, Cyrus Lett, Billy Hood, Harry Cottle, and Claude Simpson Jr. and the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. N. E. Roberts, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Knight, her uncle and aunt.

MRS. WHITE ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE ON FRIDAY HONORING HOUSE GUESTS

Mrs. F. E. White was a delightful hostess at bridge Friday afternoon at her home on Lake Wichita, when she complimented her daughters, Mrs. John F. Davis of College Station and Mrs. F. J. White of New Braunfels.

Her tables were arranged for the games in the attractively decorated living room suite, where gaily colored wild flowers made the room bright. In the play Mrs. E. E. Whitman won high score and received a handsome Japanese sweetmeat box while Mrs. Preston Cobb, who held low, was consoling with a guest room novelty. Each honoree was presented with a dainty vanity.

The hostess served a two-course luncheon to the following: Messdames W. H. Worthington, Fred Gates, F. T. Dawson, Miller, M. Walker, Fred Cooper, L. E. Whitman, Carter McGregor, W. E. Maxson, F. E. McDonald, Hunter, J. C. Straub, Blair, Robbins, Daisy Almond, Allen, Nat. L. Inge, J. M. Hammond, Mollie McKroy, H. F. Weston, Mrs. E. E. White, Mrs. J. M. Davis, who will remain for several weeks of the summer with her mother, is the wife of Captain Davis of the Olympic Theater, with refreshments at a local confectionery.

Parties Thursday.—The first entertainment honoring the house party was that given by Miss Marguerite Fisher Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fisher on Collins Ave., where nine tables of guests enjoyed bridge.

A color scheme of green, gold and white was presented in the decorations and refreshments, and the players enjoyed spiced almonds and bon-bons during the afternoon. In the games, Miss Virginia Miller won high score and was presented a hand made rose gold vanity. Miss Elizabeth Carrigan, who played low, received a gold vanity, and Miss Louise Packard, who won high score during the afternoon, received a hand made wax beads. A delightful refreshment plate of strawberry ice cream and angel food cake, with spiced almonds and mints, was served to Messdames C. F. Green, Jimmie Collins, A. L. Procter, W. G. Simmons, John Dobbs, W. C. Russell, Noel Hays, W. E. Carlton, Dork, Clyde Tuttle and Fulton.

Mrs. T. L. Cadie, hostess Thursday afternoon to the Thursday Bridge Club members with Mrs. H. L. Thompson of San Antonio a special guest.

Many Young Hostesses Contribute To Pleasure of Visitors in Miss Helen Snider's Party This Week

Many hostesses are contributing to the pleasure of the girls in Helen Snider's delightful house party, and if there has been a dull moment for the hostess young guests the past week it would be like hunting the proverbial "needle in the haystack" to find it.

From Tuesday to Saturday there have been lovely parties, with just a breathing space Tuesday night minus the special formality of an invitation affair. The calendar has been an interesting one—(theater parties, teas, dances, luncheons and just "parties"), and the two guests who had to make their adieux—Louise Packard of Pittsburgh, and Virginia Hill of McKinney—must certainly have done so with more than the conventional regrets.

The party has included, besides the two girls named, Misses Gertrude Melst of Fort Worth, Florence Meyers of Birmingham, Marjorie Steele of Sulphur Springs, Faye Boyd, Elvia Killingsworth, Marguerite Fisher, Josephine Tucker, and Gertrude Hines of Wichita Falls, all Ward-Belmont girls of the past year.

Wednesday afternoon the girls were guests of Helen, Josephine Tucker, and Elvia Killingsworth at the Olympic Theater, with refreshments at a local confectionery.

Thursday afternoon Miss Marguerite Fisher entertained for the house party with a beautifully planned informal tea at the Golf Club house. Decorations were in rose and silver, colors which the hostess had chosen to coordinate with the evening. With a buffet luncheon service from 10 o'clock until midnight. The guest list included, besides the house party members, the following: Misses Josephine Tucker, Gertrude Hines, Lucille Wiley, Lena Fisher, Georgia B. Leath, Lucie Benson, Gertrude Hines, Betty Hull, Cecil McCurdy, Josephine Mayfield, Frances Harris of Snyder, Marie Lee Strauss, Madeline Mackechny, Helen Grisham, Grace I. Shumaker, Catherine Moore, Letta Jo McCallister, Ethel Moran, Helen Knotts, Frankie Adickes, Sadie Adickes, Mildred Martin, Louise Jenkins, Marguerite Duncan, Ruth Bernard, Bibb Kell, Christine Waggoner, Beatrice Eppinger, Bernice Cross, Lucie Larkin, Faye Boyd, Marguerite Fisher, Nancy Jane Harding, Helen Dea Rogers, Ellen Brooks of Fortney, Tucker, Ward Myers, L. H. Cullum, W. J. Grisham and F. P. Langford, and Mrs. Bonnie Hunt; Donald, W. P. Killingsworth, J. F. Boyd, Fred Gates, Maple, Sanders-Walker, Mary Smith, Faye Boyd, Lucie Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, Fred Gates, Maple, Sanders-Walker, Mary Smith, Faye Boyd, Lucie Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, W. J. Grisham and F. P. Langford, and Mrs. Bonnie Hunt; Donald, W. P. Killingsworth, J. F. Boyd, Fred Gates, Maple, Sanders-Walker, Mary Smith, Faye Boyd, Lucie Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, W. J. Grisham and F. P. Langford, and Mrs. Bonnie Hunt.

which Helen was assisted president for the coming year. Refreshments of chicken salad, olives, loaf, tea, buttered rolls, and strawberry sandwiches were served. The guests, who included only the members of the house party.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Snider and Miss Snider entertained with a formal and very lovely reception at the Golf Club, followed by a dance for the young people. Helen was assisted in her duties as hostess by Messdames Killingsworth, Faye Boyd, and Marguerite Fisher, and Mr. and Mrs. Snider were assisted by Messdames J. C. A. Guest, N. H. Martin, Frank Timberlake, Walter Priddy, J. L. Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, Fred Gates, Maple, Sanders-Walker, Mary Smith, Faye Boyd, Lucie Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, W. J. Grisham and F. P. Langford, and Mrs. Bonnie Hunt; Donald, W. P. Killingsworth, J. F. Boyd, Fred Gates, Maple, Sanders-Walker, Mary Smith, Faye Boyd, Lucie Jackson, T. B. Noble, J. A. Kemp, W. J. Grisham and F. P. Langford, and Mrs. Bonnie Hunt.

Take The Baby You Know Every. You may think little blind as but little eye with but a few strands of hair and a few strands of skin do know that, too?

Dear Syd: Leslie is the little girl who has been playing with the baby. I don't like it. I don't like it. I don't like it. I don't like it. I don't like it.

Take Care of Your Baby This Summer—Household Helps—Good Cooking

The Baby's Bath; Maybe You Think You Know About it, But Do You? Every Detail of Utmost Importance

You may think, of course, that you know all about a baby's bath. But every year in America hundreds of babies grow up in total or partial blindness, because some younger mothers neglected to cleanse the little eyes with boracic acid solution.

Another Sunshine Baby. Little Miss Martha Jean Haggerty, six months old, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Haggerty of 1114 1/2 N. E. 10th street.

Of course, you may, but your may be an ordinarily well-informed young mother and not know and realize the great importance of all the details attending upon baby's bath.

You know hundreds of babies that have grown up into apparently healthy children that you know had no such meticulous care bestowed upon them every single day.

Yet how many out of that hundred are perfect children—physically? Maybe one or two. You'd rather your baby didn't have to take care of them.

The first thing you should do is to clean the baby's body thoroughly. Then place him in the bath holding him with his left forearm under the neck and shoulder, the left hand under the arm, and lifting his feet and legs with the right hand.

Before baby is undressed, everything should be ready in a small tub or wicker basket. This basket should be filled with clean towels and clean rolling should also be ready.

Before putting baby into the tub, wrap him in a small blanket or large towel and wash his head, hands and feet.

FRENCH BEHIND GOVERNMENT IN REPARATIONS DEMANDS

COUNTRY NOT MILITARISTIC BUT REMEMBERS GERMAN HISTORY; IS NOT WORRIED ABOUT DETAILS

By MARK SULLIVAN
 Political Correspondent
 The New York Tribune and Wichita Daily Times
 Copyright, 1923, N. Y. Tribune, Inc.

When I am copying from Paris I fall into the trap—or at least I did before I learned to avoid it—of saying "the French," in a sense in which when the average person at home in America reads the dispatch, is seriously misled.

I talk, let us say, to a French authority, and he tells me that the official intention of the present French government is—to take a hypothetical example—to oppose America's efforts for the reduction of armament. Thereupon I say—and most other writers do the same—that "France will oppose limitation of armament."

Yet in truth, the fact may be that the bulk of the French people may dislike conscriptions as heartily as Americans do. But, being without information, the French people feel obliged to follow their government—although, in fact, they may be, and often are, far from having complete faith in it. Meantime the American reader has pictured the forty millions of French people as being militaristic.

This sort of thing happens a dozen times every day. We used to say "Germany," or "the Germans," was doing this, that or the other, whereas, in fact, it was the Kaiser. And right now, every week, it happens that something important occurs in the relations between France and Britain. We newspaper writers say that "France" or "the French" did this and "Britain" or "the British" did the other. Whereas, in truth, not more than a few people in each country had any connection with it or any knowledge of it until after it had happened.

The separation in European cognitions between the people and what ever at the time happens to compose the government is greater than can be realized by the average American. Because in our country the administration is aware of the constitutional checks upon it, and, since the knowledge of these checks is infinitely more widespread among our people.

The same distinction is applicable to newspapers. Every day or so the cables say that "French public opinion" takes this position or that. Now, in fact, if we were aware of exactly what happened we would know it was something like this: We would know that one man in Paris, being confronted with the hour for giving his daily instalment of copy to the printer, takes this position or that. In fact, if we were aware of exactly what happened we would know it was something like this: We would know that one man in Paris, being confronted with the hour for giving his daily instalment of copy to the printer, takes this position or that.

Again, the French government spends some hundreds of millions of francs on establishing and maintaining its armament. It is so large that it is necessary to borrow money from abroad to pay for it. The French people are not aware of this. They are not aware of the fact that the French government is spending more money on armament than it is on education, health, and other social services. They are not aware of the fact that the French government is spending more money on armament than it is on education, health, and other social services.

There would be a considerable addition to accuracy in the understanding of international relations if the American newspapers would insist on their entire willingness always to pay the difference in cable news between each of the "France" or "the French" and the other hand, such less condensed news more accurate phrases as "a man who is connected with the present French government" or "a man who happens at the moment to be a writer on a Paris newspaper." At the Paris Conference, and before it and since it, a good many things which have happened and given deep concern to the American people have been done in the name of "France" or were done by one individual or a group of individuals, chiefly Parisians, or, at least, with the help of Parisian capital.

Now, one should avoid making an incorrect inference. As regards the large aspect of French policy which is now in the front, namely, reparations, there is no material discrepancy between the attitude of the French government and that of the French people. At least, there is no discrepancy on the fundamental question that Germany should pay—whatever the French people might think of some of the angles and complexities of that situation which are introduced into it by some French business and some French politicians.

The French people want Germany to pay. They want that money. They have no statistics about the cost of restoring devastated France or about the capacity of Germany to pay. To the French peasant, it is that is astronomical. But what the French peasant does know and remember—remembers only a single people can remember who tell old stories by the fireside and pass ancient tales down from father to son; a people who don't read newspapers or go to the movies, whose whole dramatic emotion is fed by fireside tales of their own experience—what is remembered by the French peasant is that in 1871 Germany made France pay. Germany, on the occasion when she was conqueror and had France down, named a sum it suited her to exact, named it without any argument, and kept her army in France until the French people dug the earth out of their stockings and paid it.

That is what the French people remember. That is why they now stand solidly behind their government in the demand that Germany should pay. On the plea that it is necessary to make Germany pay the French government can get its people to support practically any measure that the government sees fit to take.

But on the other aspect of the policy of the present French government there might be a good deal less unanimity of support from the French people if the people had access to all the facts.

The French government tells the French people that Germany is still a menace, that the Germans may any day come marching over the border again. On that plea the French government can frighten the French people into enduring concessions and in little shops here in Brittany and elsewhere I was a foreigner who was known to have been in Paris not long before—could I assure them there was no danger of a general mobilization. "In their politics both the local papers are even more irresponsibly patriotic than the great Paris papers. Their Paris editors shove up the news and views that are communicated to them from official sources each day with a patriotic rectitude that leaves nothing to be desired. There is no better way of reaching the official attitude in Paris than to study these carefully edited bulletins in the provincial press.

"On the question of the Ruhr they have faithfully reflected each phase of the evolution of M. Poincaré's policy. "And the country people—really believed that the Ruhr would rise at last. "But if it is meant that the present French government is militaristic, or if it is meant that there is a powerful military clique of generals and what-not who want to maintain the French military tradition, then that is another matter. Even in this restricted sense the charge is disputed by many Frenchmen in some of the towns. But a class has already been demobilized and the panic fear of mobilization has passed away. The franc has been brought back by government manipulation. "The French government has done its window-dressing with skill. "It is a frequent charge that "the French have become militaristic." That France has set out on a post-war course of setting herself up perpetually as the dominant power of Europe, after the manner of the Napoleons. If by "the French" is meant the French people, the charge is not true. The French people are as sick of war as the rest of us.

It is hard to be just. It is hard to draw the line between the honest motive and the specious one. It is not readily conceivable that the French government or the French military leaders or the French munition manufacturers are sincere when they say—as Betand said at the Washington Conference when he wanted to justify his refusal to discuss land disarmament—that Germany might attack France again tomorrow. At the same time, you can readily understand that these leaders honestly approached that Germany might fight again twenty years from now and might believe most earnestly that it is indispensable for them to maintain the military tradition among the French people and the willingness to maintain conscription, even if it is necessary to score the French people with the fear that Germany may fight again tomorrow.

In any event, all talk about the word "militaristic" and the whole question of motive is splitting hairs. The fact is that France is not only keeping up its army, manufacturing munitions far beyond its needs, building an air fleet equal to all the other air forces of the world combined; not only is France con-scripting its own white man power, it is arming the blacks of Africa in a way that causes the gravest concern to every person who has a thought about the future. Still further, the French government and the French military leaders are stimulating Poland and some other countries to follow the French example. For the armies of those little countries France is providing French officers, French munitions and French money. The other day General Foch, inspecting the Polish army and making a triumphal tour through that country, looked upon the Polish babies in the schools and expressed gratification over the high birth rate. It is not very elevating to put your imagination on what must have been in Foch's head, the satisfied exulting over little Polish babies who twenty years from now are to provide the cannon fodder for another war, the commendation of the more simple Polish women for having the large families that French mothers refuse to have.

Also, even if the present motive of these French leaders is merely one of defense for France, every body knows the day will come, the circumstances will arise, when that motive will become aggressive. The psychology which comes with having a gun when no one else has one is inevitable. America believes powerfully in the limitation of armament. Our people hold that belief, our leaders express it. Our leaders expressed it when they called the Washington conference for the limitation of armament. To that purpose the French government made not one contribution, either of sympathy or of act. On the contrary, the French government tried to wreck it. They nearly did wreck it entirely; they actually did prevent the discussion of land armament, they actually did prevent the limitation of submarines which the others in the conference acutely wished for.

For this action of the French government there was a disposition in America to express disapproval of the French people, to express it by withdrawing the aid that has been flowing from every American village to the French people in the shape of some of our sort or another. Yet it might have been a good way to call the attention of the French people forcibly to what its government is doing, to put the French people on inquiry, to make them understand the feeling of the American people. If our people believe in the limitation of armament, if they support Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes in the purpose for which the Washington conference was called, if our people have their hearts in that purpose, they should stand up to it. One wishes there was some way to speak to the French people over the heads of their government and over the head of their government-inspired press. One man, Wilson, once had the power to talk over the heads of governments to the peoples of the world, but he lost it. Lacking any single voice like that, anything the American people can do to express their disapproval of militarism will be useful and justified. One way will be to insist on the payment of the money France owes us. To a France that will help us in our purpose to limit armament it would be harmless and even humane and becoming to remit the Germany's old role of peace-setter in competitive armaments, merely to enable that government to go further in a course in which we profoundly disbelieve.

PART TWO

Gripping Screen Play Produced by Marshall Neilan

Marshall Neilan, now producing his pictures in association with the Goldwyn organization, is a young producer-director who has gone steadily on from triumph to triumph. His latest picture, "The Stranger's Banquet," made at the Goldwyn studios and released by that firm, is declared by fellow producers, directors, by many famous stars and film reviewers who have seen it privately screened to surpass "The River's End," "Fool's Fire," "Penrod," "Go and Get It" or any other of his productions. "The Stranger's Banquet" is coming to the Strand theatre on Thursday for four days. It shows a new Neilan—a director who is seeking only big themes in his productions and developing them on a spectacular scale.

Mr. Neilan purchased the screen rights to this novel by Donn Byrne several years ago, but held up production until he should have ample resources at his call for doing it the way he desired. It should be done. His recent affiliation with Goldwyn Pictures Corporation gave him the unlimited resources and studio facilities of that big producing corporation and the superb feature "The Stranger's Banquet" is the result.

Much of the action of Mr. Byrne's story is located in the office and yards of a great shipbuilding concern. Mr. Neilan arranged with the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Company for the use of their premises after working hours for three or four weeks. Many of the workers in the great plant participate in the strike and riot scenes of the picture. The men are seen at work at various stages in the building of a great modern ship. Location, atmosphere and action are most realistic in all the shipyard scenes. This romantic background has a direct influence upon the entire story and the picture Mr. Neilan has made from it.

Shane Butler Keogh made a big fortune out of his shipyard and when he came to die, left the yard and his fortune to his daughter, Derith, and his son, John. So much money in the hands of youth brought the inevitable strangers who hoped to feast upon this bonanza of gold. Jean McPherson, beautiful, a spender, with dubious antecedents, seduces John and carries him off to New York where her life is finally snuffed out in her mad pursuit of love and pleasure. Derith tries to escape the shipyard with the aid of Angus Campbell, son of her father's old friend, and superintendent of the plant. He loves Derith but they are not brought together until when the workers have been led into a strike and consequent riots by a "red" agitator. Angus calls Derith back from New York, where she has gone for a round of gaiety. Rescued from marriage with a certain Comte Epernay, attracted by her millions, Derith resigns the direction of the plant to Angus and promises to marry him.

Claire Windsor has the leading role in the photoplay and does the most luscious and brilliant acting of her career as Derith. Elliott Dexter in the role of Shane Keogh. Rockcliffe Fellowes is the Angus Campbell while Nigel Harris plays the part of the young John Keogh. Other famous players in the great cast, which numbers forty, are Claude Gillingwater, Tom Holding, Ford Sterling, Eleanor Boardman, Stuart Holmes, Margaret Loomis, Tom Quine, Lillian Langdon, William Humphrey, Edward McWade, Lorraine Johnson, James Marcus, Jack Curtis, Brinsley Shaw, Arthur Hoyt, Allen Pringle, Virginia Hughes, Cyril Chadwick, Pike McCallough, Jean Hersholt, Lucille Rickson, Dagmar Godowsky, Mayford Hobbs and Violet Shipway.

"The Stranger's Banquet" should rank with the greatest of American photoplays. It has drama and comedy, pathos and mirth, romance and adventure—all mingled and given direction by Marshall Neilan.

SKINNINGROVE, ENG., June 14. Robert Edder has been awarded a bronze medal by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals because he went down into a deserted pit, 65 feet deep, and rescued a cat that was marooned there.

"Old Sweetheart of Mine" Coming to Strand Monday

James Whitcomb Riley's immortal poem "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" has been pictured for Metro and is coming to the Strand Monday and Tuesday. This charming lyric of the great Hoosier poet is called "perhaps America's most popular poem" by Marcus Dickey in his book "Youth of James Whitcomb Riley," and it deserves popularity, because it contains the essence of life and love. In it is the pure sentiment, the wistfulness, the pathos and the joy that characterizes the best work of the poet.

The photoplay retains all the human appeal of the poem. It is the poem itself made to live before our eyes. And the dramatic interest is sharpened by a beautiful and thrilling story which fits admirably the spirit of the lyric. Where the original poem suggests, the picture amplifies. It is a simple lyrical melody, orchestrated and expanded into a powerful and beautiful photoplay symphony.

One feels, in the picture, that the great poet would have been proud to have his word music made into a picture harmony of such rare charm.

The photoplay begins with the love of John Craig and his boyhood sweetheart, with its youthful trials and joys. This love develops through young manhood and finally flowers into undying devotion. The story is filled with details and rapid action. There are conflicts and perils. It is a picture that will hold the interest at every moment.

The selection of Elliott Dexter for the leading male role was particularly fortunate. He can portray power and tenderness with equal ability. And Helen Jerome Eddy, as the girl, creates, with rare charm, a novel type of heroine. The whole cast is of the highest excellence.

The screen play was made by Louis Duryea Lighton. The picture is a Harry Garson production and photographed by J. William O'Connell. It was edited by Violet Blair. The lighting effects were executed by Harry Collins, and Joseph Wright as art director.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR LAST WEEK TOTALED $32,990

Building in the city climbed to its normal figure during the past week after a decided slump the previous week, when nine permits involving an expenditure of $12,939 were issued from the office of the city clerk.

Noticeable among the buildings under construction is the new brick home of C. J. Barnard at 1501 Tilden, being constructed at a cost of $13,000.

Four new residences are included in the permits for the week; the other five were granted for improvements and additions to property. Permits were granted to the following:

C. J. Barnard, 1501 Tilden, 2-story brick residence, $13,000.

W. J. Elbert, 1705 Tilden, 5-room residence, $2,000.

Bruce Brooks, 1607 Taylor, repairs to residence, $250.

Wylie Wyatt, 516 Indiana, new roof to business building, $1,000.

City Meat Market, 717 Ohio, smoke house, $10.

Dan Bellamy, 3108 Travis, asbestos garage, $400.

Harold Murph, 2913 Jones, 6-room residence, $100.

T. E. Williams, 2502 Grant, porch to residence, $100.

J. A. Wallace, 2414 Avenue J, 8-room residence, $1,000.

Total, $32,990.

WHEAT IN BYERS DISTRICT GIVES EXCELLENT YIELD

FIFTEEN BUSHELS TO ACRE WILL BE CONSERVATIVE FIGURE.

BUMPER CORN CROP IS ALSO INDICATED

Web Worm Destroys One 40-Acre Field of Wheat Within Few Days.

Farmers in the Byers and Petrolia districts are jubilant over the excellent showing made by the wheat crop this year. According to a business man of Byers, indications are given that a yield of 15 bushels to the acre on an average is a conservative figure.

Crops in general in this section of the state are exceedingly good this year and an exceptionally large corn crop is in the making. Corn in this part of the country has reached a height of four and five feet and ears will soon give up its palatable ears.

Fruit trees in general, peaches, pears, apricots and apples are loaded to the breaking down point. In many instances peaches have been put in use to assist the trees in holding the burden. Peaches and apricots are ripening and several farmers have brought ripe fruit to the market.

The web worm has found its way into this district, however, and has already exacted damages in several instances. One farmer lost a 40-acre field of wheat from this cause and a half dozen other fields have been attacked.

This worm lives on the leaves of the wheat, stripping the stalk clean and then weaving a web around the stem. It took the worms just a week to make a clean sweep of the 40-acre field.

TIGHT WIRE WALKER ENTERTAINS LARGE AUDIENCE FRIDAY

Edward LeRoy, tight wire performer, who is appearing in this city under the auspices of the American Legion, started and amused between two and three thousand spectators Friday night when he walked a 75-foot tight line stretched 100 feet above the pavement from the top of the First National Building to the seventh floor of the Staley Building.

Crowds began to gather at 7:00 and were patient with the performer until nearly 9 o'clock, when he repaid them fully for the long wait by walking the full length of the wire twice. With the assistance of a 25-pound pipe, which he balanced himself, LeRoy was at perfect ease through the entire performance and caused his audience to gasp several times by stopping to sneeze, step over the pipe, or some other equally breath-taking antics.

LeRoy is engaged in an advertising stunt for a Texas chewing gum concern and following the exhibition distributed his samples and passed the hat for the benefit of Pat Carrigan Post, about $100 was collected from the crowd. The performance will be repeated Saturday night with a promise of even more exciting stunts than those of the first exhibition.

Lloyd George Accepts. PONTTPOOL, WALES, June 16.—David Lloyd George, former British premier, has accepted an invitation to be an adjudicator at the Royal Welsh National Eisteddfod here in 1924.

FAIR AND WARMER IS WEATHER MENU FOR THE PRESENT

A general calm has settled over the district, and reports from the various points in this vicinity indicate warm settled weather. There has been no trace of rain for the past three days, nor any indication of snow, and it is evident that fair weather will be enjoyed.

Provided that there are no disturbances, Sunday will be ushered in with an unusual number of picnics, swimming parties and fishing parties. Many will go to Medicine Park, in Oklahoma, for the weekend, while hundreds will patronize the local pleasure resorts that attract the biggest crowds on Sundays.

Saturday the mercury was rising on a steady line. Following a warm evening, when the temperature remained around 80 degrees, the day blossomed into a real summertime. The highest point that was reached on the thermometer Friday afternoon was 87 degrees. Only light breezes were reported over the surrounding district, and Saturday a cool wind from the southwest was blowing, making comfortable an otherwise hot day.

TRADE TRIPPERS FROM AMARILLO ARRIVE JUNE 26

Wichita Falls will again be invaded by a tribe of trade trippers, this time from Amarillo. On June 26, the Pashandie excursionists will show their wares in the city, coming via the M. K. & T. from Elk City.

According to railroad officials, the train is to consist of five standard sleepers, and will go from Amarillo to Elk City over the Rock Island. The Amarillo traders will be the first to come to this locality in over a year.

FORT WORTH MAN HELD AS FUGITIVE IN OIL PROMOTION

NEW YORK, June 16.—Joseph H. Reed, chief of the Texas Securities Company of this city, was arraigned before a federal commissioner today, charged with being a fugitive from justice at Fort Worth, Texas, where he, with Colonel Bernard M. Hatfield and others, was indicted for using the mails to defraud in the sale of Texas-Mexico drilling syndicate stock. He was held in $10,000 bail for examination next Wednesday.

The federal indictments in Texas copies of which were produced at Saul's arrest, charged that Saul in selling stock represented Hatfield, the sole trustee of the syndicate, as a super-oil miner and the unchallenged dividend payer of the business and claimed that investors were receiving 150 per cent dividends a year.

FIRST NEW WHEAT SINCE HEAVY RAINS ARRIVED FRIDAY

Two or three loads of new wheat was brought in to local grain elevators Friday, the first since the recent rains throughout the district. Other wheat was expected Saturday, and a large supply of new wheat, both wagon and ear, will begin to arrive Monday or Tuesday.

With the resumption of the work in the harvest fields, which will be general over the entire district by Monday, wheat and oats should be coming into the markets soon in larger supplies. The market on grain remained the same Saturday as it has been for several days. No change in price will be made until later in the season.

KELL MILLING CO. AT VERNON HOST TO SEVERAL THOUSAND

KEEP OPEN HOUSE FOR VISITORS TO SPLENDID PLANT.

BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED; MUSIC IS FURNISHED

Guests Are Shown Through and See Wheat Converted to Bells of Vernon.

VERNON, TEXAS, June 16.—Several thousand Vernon people visited the Kell mill on Friday evening at their open house. G. D. Ashenburt and other employees of the Kell Milling Company welcomed the guests and they were escorted through the entire mill. The Vernon orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Hundreds of children were among the visitors and they as well as the grown ups saw the wheat as it was changed from the grain to the finished bell of Vernon flour. The beautiful $150,000 Kell mill building was brilliantly lighted from the ground to the top floor and on each floor the workings showed the great throng of visitors the different stages in the making of the Kell Milling Company's Bell of Vernon flour.

Girls Enjoy Camp
One hundred girls from different parts of Wabarger county are the guests of Vernon at the Allentown Park, where they are camped under the direction of Miss Eula Good-fellow the county demonstration agent for the women's work. The girls were taken for a tour of Vernon by the Rotarians on Friday morning. They first visited the Kell Milling Company and the bird cage exhibit of H. L. Moore and after driving over the residence part of the city, they were taken to the country club. Later in the afternoon Friday they were taken to the city lake for a swimming party.

Mutual Insurance Company
H. D. Hooker has organized the Vernon Mutual Fire Insurance Company for the purpose of insuring automobiles on the same plan as the mutual companies. W. N. Stokes was elected president, G. O. Morris, vice president, and H. D. Hooker, secretary-treasurer. Jack Collier is one of the other directors. The company has already opened for business and have written a number of policies. Each owner of a policy pays into the secretary a stated sum when each car is burned. Those holding larger policies pay a larger amount than those holding smaller policies. Each party having a $100 policy is in one class and each $1,000 is in another class and so on.

Merry Wedding Party
The membership of Vernon's Hill Crest Country Club had a morning party at the club on Thursday. About 15 members took part in the social occasion. Some went swimming and others enjoyed other sports. Mrs. J. N. Grimes served breakfast at 7 a. m. to the crowd.

Off of Vernon's Young men
R. M. Hampton, was married on Thursday to Miss Lucile Shank at Vernon, Texas. Mr. Hampton is a partner in the Hampton Plumbing Company of Vernon, and the bride was a former domestic science teacher in the Vernon schools. After the wedding at the home of the bride's parents at Wagon, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Shanks, the young couple left for a trip to relatives of Mr. Hampton at Corpus Christi. They will make their home in Vernon.

Spencer New Club
The Home Science Club is sponsoring a new club which will be known as the Social Art Club. The membership will be limited to 25. The following are the members: Misses Vera Thompson, Louise Smith, Dorothy and Audrey Cook, Charlie Mae Northcraft, Doris Thelma Smith, Francis Collins, Thelma Copeland, Alene Ashenburt, Anne Bennett, Vera Soles, Thelma Tull, Anna Joe Pendleton, Dorothy Hicks, George Castlebury, Francis Greener, Ida Lutz, Ruth Bachelor, Charlie Ruth Pickens, Birds Hitt, Charles Mae Northcraft, Doris Boger, Ida Edwards, Ida Mae Nabors, Mary Belle Nabors, and Miss Winne Jewell Norwood, and Mesdames Daj-Love Sowers, Harold Parsley, Early King, Frank Hood, Gladner Young, Chas. Blackwood, Innes McCarty, Harry Robinson, Walter Blatstein, Roy Antle, Ben. Lauwryer, Gary Scott, D. Etes, Claud Hardison, Iver Carney, and G. O. McCurdy. The work of the club for the summer will be devoted to social affairs. During the winter months beginning in October the club will have a study course.

Morning Bridge Party
Carl King entertained with a morning bridge party on Wednesday honoring Mrs. Lon Brown of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Robert Wilson of Clarendon. Mrs. Hub Colley was the winner of the high score. The refreshments were a salad course with ice tea. The following guests were present: Mesdames E. M. Haney, Y. H. Babson, W. R. Moore, R. E. Gibson, R. D. L. Killough, Fred Thompson, Hub Colley, W. J. Stuekier, R. L. Coffey, Moss Lovelace, Hugh Conner, Homer E. Rogers, E. A. McGraw, H. Y. Pitt, W. W. Bennett, Ray Abbott, J. T. Glover, A. B. Garland, Harry Robinson, Toy Marie, J. G. Sherman, R. E. McCoinke, Mrs. Leon Brown and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

CANTWELL TO ADDRESS KIWANIS LUNCH MONDAY. VISITORS ARE INVITED
J. W. Cantwell, recently elected superintendent of city schools, is scheduled as the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Kell hotel Monday. Grover Bullington is in charge of the musical program and has announced several numbers of unusual merit.

Kiwanians who are in the city as delegates to the convention of the Kiwanis Waterworks Association will be the special guests of the club Monday. Gabo Golden will give the attendance price, the silent host of the club, furnished by Secretary Frank Quiesler.

IS COMPILING TAX RECORDS OF COUNTY FROM 1885 TO 1922

STUPENDOUS TASK IS BEGUN BY COUNTY TAX COLLECTOR GUY RALEY.

WILL BE CONDENSED INTO ONE LARGE BOOK

When Completed Will Effect Great Saving in Time and Money.

The stupendous task of compiling tax records of Wichita county for the years 1885 to 1922, inclusive, has been begun by County Tax Collector Guy Raley and his force of deputies. It will require several months' time to complete this work.

An effort will be made to condense all these records into one large book and check all of them so that there will be no error whatsoever in tax records on any one single piece of property in the entire county.

It so happens that this is the year when the tax collector is required to make a compilation of the records for the past two years, but

RECEIVERSHIP MAY END LATE IN YEAR DELANO INDICATES

REPORT OF BOUNDARY COMMISSION TO BE ONE OF FINAL FORMALITIES.

DELANO HAS PART IN NEW YORK CITY PLAN

Will Go to Dallas to Meet City Planners There Before Returning.

Before returning to New York Mr. Delano will go to Dallas to meet with the city plan commission of that city, at its invitation. City planning is something of a hobby with Mr. Delano, he being interested in activities of the kind in Chicago, Washington and New York City. In New York city he is chairman of the local committee which is at work on a general development plan which comprises all of Greater New York and the surrounding country within a radius of 50 miles from the city hall.

In this area there are 400 cities, towns and villages, and 5,000,000 people, and the committee of which Mr. Delano is the head is endeavoring to map out a sort of "city plan" which will coordinate the growth and civic development of the area as a whole, seeking to prevent congestion, endeavoring to direct growth and industrial activities in such ways as will make for convenience and comfort. The plan is unique both in its scope and its object, and Mr. Delano is greatly interested in it.

Swimming And Fishing Are Good At Lake Wichita; Big Fireworks Display Night of July Fourth

Swimming and fishing are two sports that are now in full blast at Lake Wichita.

Is H. Franka, field man for Kemp and Kell, landed a channel catfish last week which he asserts tipped the scales at eight pounds and no ounces.

Many trout lines have been set out every Sunday afternoon. There will be no admission charge at the gates July 4. Mr. Cogburn announced. The fireworks entertainment will be absolutely free, he stated. Other special attractions are being arranged for the afternoon of the Fourth.

It is also planned to have concerts by the municipal band at the lake every Sunday afternoon.

A large and varied assortment of fine woolen bathing suits, of many patterns and hose and guaranteed to fit everyone from the youngest to the oldest, the shortest to the tallest and the leanest to the fattest, was received at the Lake Wichita swimming pool Saturday. The management believe that the most exciting of the fair bathers can now

Breaks in Fuel Economy Test

All previous records for fuel economy were shattered in the seventh annual Los Angeles to Park City, Yosemite National Park Economy run—the thrilling yearly classic of the Pacific coast.

The Oakland again duplicated its feat of last year in scoring a double victory—taking the coveted average stake honors and also winning in its individual class, but with even better records.

In fact the Oakland set up three new records for this 260 mile run over mountains and valley. It set a new mark for low gasoline consumption for the average stake with 34.32 miles per gallon of gasoline, the highest mileage of any car in the race regardless of numbers of cylinders or weight and the highest mileage ever made in the contest.

But one pint of oil and one pint of water were used. Harry Neville, who drove the winning Oakland last year, again piloted the Oakland. Ideal weather prevailed during the two days of the run, which gave every car a real advantage.

Every weight an equal advantage. Every road condition imaginable was encountered as the route ran from sea level to 4,000 feet in elevation, with sudden drops in the course, averaging off in one place 2,000 feet within a very short distance.

That the performance of the Oakland Six has been consistent in the National Parks To Have Millions Of Visitors, 1929

With the advent of the 1929 summer camping season the prediction is being made that more than 12,000,000 people will visit the national parks and city camp sites throughout the country, according to G. H. Penney, general sales manager of the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Mich.

Last year, according to Penney, 2,292,800 persons visited the national forest reservations; 656,800 persons visited the national parks and at least six million more spent some time at the various camping sites throughout the country.

Dealers and distributors report to the Olds Motor Works, Mr. Penney says, "that many purchasers of cars are coming to the country for advice relative to touring this summer. This is particularly true of the city apartment dwellers."

"An investigation has shown us that many of these people are going to turn tent dwellers for the summer to escape the high rents charged in some sections."

ANNOUNCING THE PACKARD SINGLE-EIGHT

Packard Motor Car Company announces the Single-Eight to succeed the famous Twin-Six.

The Single-Eight emphatically surpasses, we believe, any car on the market, in speed, acceleration, braking, steering, smoothness of operation, ease of control, riding qualities, and beauty and distinction of appearance.

Packard Single-Eight accomplishes these superiorities over all previous motor car practices—

First, by beauty and dominance of appearance which unmistakably forecast exceptional brilliance of performance.

Second, by the complete elimination in the Single-Eight motor of the vibration inherent in previous eight-cylinder motor practice.

Third, by the embodiment in the Single-Eight of new engineering principles which result in a wealth of flexible power heretofore unknown.

Fourth, by the provision of braking, steering and control mechanisms of such simplicity and ease of operation as to be revolutionary.

Mechanical and operative perfection, coupled with compelling beauty of design and brilliance of finish, have produced a car nothing short of phenomenal.

It is our confident expectation that the Single-Eight will duplicate the distinction already accorded its companion car—the Single-Six that of being the most distinguished exponent of its type.

THE SINGLE-EIGHT WILL BE ON DISPLAY IN OUR SHOWROOMS BY JULY 1ST.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM W. STEWART, JR.

Notes Department—Have a list of what should be done before you start a motor car. It would be a list of check sheets providing a road test that was made on a car. Could you advise me? P. K.

There are several good check sheets on the market, but this department cannot recommend any particular one as being the best.

Notes Department—Will you kindly inform me whether retiners are beneficial in new tires in regard to punctures, blow-outs and wearing ability? G. W. C.

Retiners will not prevent blow-outs or punctures in a new tire, where there is much speed work. Retiners will augment overheating of the tire and also reduce its resiliency. Worn or stonied-brained tires, however, may be benefited by the use of retiners and the service of the tire prolonged.

Notes Department—How can I make a paint for motor car rims which will prevent rust? H. L.

Remove the rust from the rims by scraping and sandpapering. Clean thoroughly, and then apply a coat of ordinary shellac, mixed with some graphite. When this has dried, thoroughly apply another coat. Some people use an aluminum paint to advantage.

Notes Department—I have been reading with a great deal of interest your article regarding automobiles. Please inform me the cause of the squeaking noise which I notice when the wheels are on a rough road. It seems that when the wheels reach a certain position the noise is noticed. Any one can locate this trouble will be very much appreciated. Reader.

A noise such as you suggest usually arises from the demountable rim and the lugs securing it to the wheel; these should be screwed up tight. You may find it necessary to install some new lugs in order to properly wedge the rim.

Notes Department—Other things being equal, which engine would give the most power, "T," "L" or "H" kind? Please give me the advantages and disadvantages of the three types. Novice.

This is an entirely secondary matter in purchasing a car. Look for such matters as accessibility, fuel economy, smoothness of operation, simplicity, etc. Even the different types. The "T" type is claimed to have a better admission and exhaust, the "L" type to have a more even expansion, and the "H" type to be more accessible as all the important parts are on the same side. But all these statements are open to question.

Notes Department—Please let me know what the following terms refer to on an automobile—inter-convertible, toggle joint, starting-box, idler gear? Reader.

The universal joint is at one end of the drive shaft or at both ends if there are two. It allows the shaft to drive at a varying angle, due to the fact that the frame moves up and down as the car is tilted. This joint is sometimes called the toggle joint. The stuffing box surrounds the pump shaft and is filled with soft packing, such as graphite asbestos packing, to prevent leakage. If some leaks one simply tightens the stuffing-box until the packing is used up when it is repacked. An idler gear connects the motor to change its direction and does not change its speed. The reverse pinion in the gear set is an example.

Notes Department—Please let me know what is the essential difference between an magnet and a dynamo? Are they both used for ignition, are they interchangeable? Novice.

They both make electric current but the magnet has permanent magnets and gives a hot spark instantly. The dynamo uses electromagnets that take a few seconds to build up to full strength. It requires a storage battery to carry the ignition at low engine speeds so they are not interchangeable.

Notes Department—My engine misfires and I thought that the spark plugs were old, so I set in all new ones, but it misfires just the same. I thought also the magnets was wrong so I switched it on the battery. It does not misfire. The magnets is not old, only used about 12,000 miles. READER.

The misfiring is evidently caused by the magnets. This may not be serious. If the circuit breaker points are not adjusted once in a while you will experience this trouble. The circuit breaker box should be cleaned and the points adjusted. If this does not remedy the trouble then perhaps the magnets are weak and need remagnetizing.

Notes Department—Please let me know the gap required in a magnet circuit breaker. My car is equipped with Bosch ignition. Please accept my thanks for valuable information received from this department in the past. H. K.

The proper opening of circuit breaker points is fifteen-thousandths of an inch. The Bosch Company will send you a wrench to be used in adjusting the gap. It carries a piece of steel which is just the right thickness. The points should be adjusted until the gauge can just pass through touching both sides of the gap.

Notes Department—At times I have trouble shifting gears and making them stay in place. Quite make sure their speedometers are accurate. Connecticut will be particularly strict this year in the matter of licensing non-resident tourists who fail to take out a license when oversteering their limit.

Massachusetts, a favorite touring center, is already enforcing the law with respect to tail lights which in this particular state, must comply with certain definite regulations.

Also word comes from motorists touring New York state that the practice of "holding down" the tourist on false charges is again rampant.

HELPFUL HINTS
Occasionally you should open the drain at the bottom of carburetor before starting engine. Water or any foreign matter will be drawn off and possibly trouble anticipated.

Miscellaneous connections will corrode. Sometimes when you find the horn will give quicker and better service if all the connections are clean.

Go over your supply of spare parts and see that all items are supplied. Such small parts as the patches, repair cement, valve plungers and caps are soon used up, and these are not there when wanted.

Occasionally you should clean the strainer of the fuel line and fuel tank. It is easier to do this at your leisure when prepared than to experience the necessity when unprepared, possibly in the rain and dark.

Some socket wrenches are so deep that a small screw sticks all the way into the socket. Place a couple of nuts of the right size in the socket and they will act as shims to loosen the trouble.

N. W. A. Secretary Gives Advice to Motor Tourists

That motor tourists will do well to be on their guard this summer against more rigid enforcement of motor laws and various injustices on the part of petty officials, is the keynote of a statement issued by Executive Secretary Fred Casey of the National Motorists' Association at the close of a tour of a number of states in the interests of the N. M. A.

To insure the trip against trouble, motorists are urged to allow a safe margin by seeing to it that they carry their license certificates with them, that they use headlight lenses universally approved, and that they

World's Greatest Motoring Season Is Now Opening

AKRON, OHIO, June 16.—Akron automobile tire manufacturers are convinced now that June will see the opening of the greatest motoring season in the world's history. Not only do they base this upon the fact that there are naturally more new automobiles registered in the United States than ever before, but also upon the fact that for the first time in three years the population as a whole has managed to spend for vacationing, and in addition to this after they have gone through what business men and workers of the United States have for the past two years they are earnestly seeking a vacation, and they will undoubtedly take it in the automobile. As a result the automobile tire factories here are only reflecting what every dealer in the United States will soon be experiencing, namely, the best market for tires that the country has ever seen.

The dealers generally are reported to be stocked up for from 30 to 60 days, but there need be no fear for a shortage of tires because the tire industry is going into this year with more than 2,000,000 tires above the normal surplus, and for that reason the "starvation" for castings will be supplied by the automobile factories.

This does not only mean prosperity to the tire dealer, but it means prosperity to the accessory dealer, the gasoline stations, the service stations, hotels and road houses all over the United States.

It is not unlikely that the tire factories may be compelled to again push their production to the peak, although during the past month a reduction of from 7 to 10 per cent has been registered in the tire business as a whole in the Akron district. The output is now in the neighborhood of 160,000 tires a day.

During the past few days it has been revealed that the tire manufacturers are seriously considering the production of new tires especially adapted for bus purposes. The greatest problem meeting the bus owner and bus operator at the present time is the development of heat in the present tires.

The tires now on the market were designed for heavy loads as are carried in busses, but were not designed to meet the speed conditions under which the busses operate. As a result hundreds and thousands of perfectly good tires which were thoroughly tested have burned up after being applied to busses, and this condition has become so general that the industry here looks upon it as one of the problems which must be solved in order to give bus owners the greatest possible service.

Details as to how this will be done are not known, but it is a well known fact in the rubber industry that the heavier a tire is built and the larger the number of layers of fabric used in its construction, the more easily heat is developed, while adversely the smaller the number of layers used the greater the load that can be carried at a high speed. For this reason it is a lightning of the tire, which will probably be used as a affiliated clubs as to what new requirements are imposed upon the states you expect to travel through and by making investments, as seem necessary, the success of the summer tour need not be hindered by official interference.

Lack of uniformity of state laws is a deplorable condition and one that is largely responsible for the formation of the National Motorists' Association, which numbers today over 100,000 motorists comprising the majority of the larger automobile clubs throughout the country. Hereafter the voice of the motorist has been rarely heard in the legislative halls of the various state general assemblies. This has resulted in all kinds of individualistic forms of regulation and taxation.

What is needed, according to the N. M. A. officials, is a careful survey of all existing statutes, correlated and revised in classifications and then a model state highway traffic law prepared covering all features relating to the speed, the weights of vehicles, widths of tires, speeds in congested areas of cities, in outskirts of incorporated municipalities, uniform headlight requirements, uniform certificates of title laws, uniform sign posting, uniform parking regulations, and uniform reciprocity.

It is pointed out that 24 states have limited registration reciprocity of 10 days, 15 days, 30 days, 60 days and 90 days. The National Motorists' Association is advocating the entire elimination of state statutes that restrict in any way full reciprocity between states.

Business Conditions Better Especially in The South Says Captain Rickenbacker

"Conditions are better, and business is in a more healthy state than for many months past," declared Captain Rickenbacker on his return to Detroit from a recent trip through the southern states, including Texas.

The Victory Motor Company has recently added the Rickenbacker car to its line and is pleased with the securing of the agency for this popular and high class car.

Captain Rickenbacker is vice-president and director of sales of the automobile company which bears his name, and is a close student of economics. His predictions of the past have been so accurate that his words of cheer will be listened to with respect by business men generally.

"I started with the southeastern states, then traveled through the entire south into Texas and made very important stops in the south-east. I found a stabilizing process going on that augurs well for the future, and which I consider most satisfactory for the immediate present.

"True, this very toning down does mean that we must work harder to do business, but the business is here to be had as our own demand is steadily growing.

"I have a liking for boom conditions, but I prefer a condition of long continued prosperity. It seems to me the signs all point to that.

"The wild buying and building that a few months ago, threatened to precipitate another condition such as that which American industry passed through in 1921, is slowing down to a sane basis.

"Far-sighted business men have been a little anxious during the past few months, for we were surely headed for trouble.

"Captains of industry—much despised by bankers and financiers—were building wisely and without regard to cost. Labor took advantage of this condition.

"Accepting the false logic of radical leaders, labor adopted the same foolish policy in 1921, seeming to forget the terrible penalty that the great mass of the people paid for that same folly.

"They not only demanded higher wages but also gave less and less of a day's work for the day's pay.

"Materials also went to impossible prices.

"I say who stopped to consider, must have realized that this meant one of two things. Either the capital invested in such buildings could not earn a fair return—or, next, they were to go still higher than they are.

"Ultimately the weight of the load must fall on the very class who had brought this condition about.

"But, just when the danger was greatest, building suddenly stopped.

"The people of each city know that building of all kinds suddenly stopped up. Only one who has traveled all over America, however, realizes that it stopped off everywhere simultaneously.

"This means that by a tacit, if not an actual agreement, financiers refused to advance any more money for building projects until conditions settle down to normal.

"Another wise move is that of the government in curbing work on projects already under way and deferring other work so as not to compete with private industry in material and labor markets.

"Federal, state and municipal governments have generally adopted this far-sighted policy and are putting off the construction of dams, docks, harbors, roads, schools and street improvements until a more propitious time.

"This will serve to level off the peaks and fill in the valleys of supply and demand.

"Momentarily, of course, that decreases the buying power of the country. But I for one consider that the best thing that could happen right now.

"To allow the other condition to go to its (illogical) conclusion would mean that a valley of non-demand.

"We would have again, as we had in 1920, the very peak of high wages and high prices and then have been precipitated into an abyss of non-employment for the laboring man and a tremendous loss to industry generally.

"Nor would labor alone have been at fault."

"Men who work with their hands are not the only ones who are short-sighted in this regard.

"Men in business sometimes prosper and some of them give short weight too, when their own intelligence should show them that a reaction is bound to follow such methods.

"Take our own industry: Some weeks ago I predicted that if things continued to go as they were going, prices of automobiles would have to go up.

"I predicted that on the knowledge that a few manufacturers were even then feebly offering premiums to supply houses for preferred delivery of materials, parts and accessories.

"If workmen in the shops were also getting no more unreasonable, but outrageous, in their demands. And, as always happens, when there is more work than men to do it, they were less industrious and less careful in their work.

McFall Brothers Hold Sales and Service Meeting

Tuesday night McFall Brothers held the semi-monthly sales and service meeting which has been instituted as a regular affair with this company.

A musical program was enjoyed at this meeting before the taking up of the regular business of the evening.

Vernon and Electra are included in these meetings, which are for the purpose of improving conditions and giving better service to automobile owners, according to L. M. Cregar, general manager of the company.

At each meeting a chairman for the coming meeting is appointed who is responsible for the program and arrangements of the meeting. After the program, several of which have been featured by outside

Ajax Tire Agency Held By Lockhart Chevrolet Co.

The Lockhart Chevrolet Company announces that it now holds the agency for the Ajax tires, which is one of the oldest tire manufacturers.

F. C. Allen, factory representative for this line from Dallas, was in the city the past week closing the contract with the local dealer. The Lockhart company has already received the first shipment of these tires, it was stated.

The Ajax tire has set high standards in mileage, good looks and non-skid security, and is one of the best medium priced tires on the market. The Cadillac, Buick, Oakland and Dodge are among the cars now using Ajax equipment.

Mr. Lorenz of the Lockhart company stated that prospects in the automobile business are better than at the same time last month, during which the business of the company was 200 per cent better than for the same month of 1933.

White Trucks Are Popular In New York City

Frank Quiesler, Overland sales manager, offers the following example of the growing popularity of the White motor truck which is handled locally through the Overland company:

The city of New York has placed another large order for motor trucks with the White Company, the contract calling for 100 two-ton power dumping units. Since the first of the year the city has also purchased 21 Whites of other models. The latest order of 100 trucks will go into the service of the street cleaning department, and as they will be used mainly for the collection of rubbish will be equipped with unusually large bodies. The bodies, which will be of a combination steel and wood panel type, will have a capacity of 14 cubic yards. The complete order of 100 trucks will be delivered within 150 days.

The new orders recall the record purchase of 212 White five-ton power dumping trucks in 1933 and the subsequent purchase in 1931 of 128 more Whites of the same type. New York City is by far the largest user of motor trucks among municipalities, the city's White fleet alone totaling 551 trucks.

Although most of the northern part of the United States was once covered with glacial ice, there is an ice-free area in Kentucky in Artie Greenland, which never has been covered with glaciers.

Motor Car Production In June Expected to Set High Record For That Month

By ROY C. HAYES, Universal Service Special Correspondent. DETROIT, June 16.—With excellent weather stimulating motor car sales, all manufacturers are confident that June will set a new high production mark for the month, although it will not nearly equal the remarkable May record of 444,992 cars and trucks.

The record set this week as it marks the twentieth birthday of the company. The Ford Motor Company is twenty years old today. The record set this week as it marks the twentieth birthday of the company. The Ford Motor Company is twenty years old today.

Flint Contests With Detroit for Greatest Producer

DETROIT, MICH., June 16.—The claim of the Flint chamber of commerce that Flint leads Detroit as an automobile-producing city has been received here with mingled surprise and interest, many in Flint, however, with a tinge of resentment.

The position taken in Flint is that Detroit is not entitled to credit for production of either Ford or Dodge, the former's main plant being located in Highland Park and the latter in Hamtramck, neither of which is included in the corporate limits of Detroit.

Strictly within the boundaries of Detroit there are fourteen automobile factories, including most of the leaders excepting Ford, Chevrolet and Dodge, while in Flint there are but four factories. Yet the production of two of these, the main plants of Buick and Chevrolet, was so great during the first quarter of 1928 that the total exceeded by a liberal margin the fourteen Detroit plants.

It is stated that in value of the three months' output, Buick led Chevrolet by approximately $7,000,000 and Ford by $1,000,000.

A group of prominent automobile men, discussing the Flint claim at the Detroit Athletic Club, agreed that while it was justified on the ground that neither Ford nor Dodge pays taxes to the city of Detroit, it gives rather the supremacy of Highland Park than of Flint. This was questioned upon grounds that presents another interesting phase.

"How much of the Ford production is Highland Park entitled to claim?" It is well known that Ford cars are assembled in twenty-eight plants situated at different points throughout the United States and that in computing Highland Park production, the output of the twenty-seven subsidiary plants is not fairly considered. Therefore the argument resolved itself into whether Flint or Highland Park is entitled to the honor of first place. At any rate, it was conceded that Detroit is third as an automobile center instead of first, as popularly supposed.

Four Passenger Speedster Latest Marmon Design

The latest thing in motorism, so far as the Marmon factory is concerned, is the new four-passenger speedster which is built as a "car of the particular type which will make an appeal to those who have motoring for a hobby."

The car, according to D. L. Fritz, local dealer, embodies all of the characteristic Marmon features, but in its design greater stress has been laid upon flowing, horizontal lines. It includes a special collapsible top with natural wood bows, polished protection bars at rear, trunk rack, trunk and cover, tire carrier forward on running board and motor.

HENRY TOUSSAINT CASE SCHEDULED AT ANSON JUNE 20

Henry J. Toussaint, self-confessed patriot, will face trial at Anson, Jones county, Wednesday morning, June 20. A special venire has been ordered to report at this time and it is quite likely that the first day will be consumed in the selection of men who will occupy the jury box and determine whether Toussaint was or was not insane at the time he killed his father in this city.

State witnesses who were subpoenaed to report to the 8th district court in April, when the case was set down for trial and at which time a change of venue was granted, still under process and must report at Anson.

It is reported that the defense has summoned an exceedingly long list of witnesses, including an array of medical talent and brain specialists from various parts of the state.

Indications point, however, to the fact that the testimony at the trial at Anson will be practically the same as given at the first trial, when the fourth venire was summoned by the jury. This contention, however, was refuted by the appellate court on grounds of misconduct of the trial jury.

James V. Alfred will assist in prosecuting the case.

FLORAL HEIGHTS CHURCH ADDS TWO WORKERS

Two additions were made to the corps of workers at Floral Heights Methodist church during the past week. Val D. Crosby of Santa Anna, Texas, arrived Wednesday to assume his duties as assistant pastor of the church here. Mr. Crosby is a graduate of Southern Methodist University at Dallas and of Capital City Business college and was for some time instructor in Wesley college at Greenville. He was assistant pastor of the First Methodist church of Brownwood during the summer months of last year. He will take up his work here as assistant to Rev. B. A. Barnes, pastor of the church at once.

The congregation was also fortunate in securing the services of Miss Pearl Curry of San Antonio, who will take up her duties as choir director at Floral Heights. Miss Curry is a talented musician of much experience, having taught voice in a number of the leading cities in Texas and Kansas and been engaged for the past three years in Jerusalem and chautauque work. For two years Miss Curry studied abroad, finishing her musical education. She is expected to assume her duties here July 1 and will have entire charge of the musical services of the church.

Building Up a Great State

Few people give much consideration to the part natural gas has played in building up the great state of Texas. Yet the best of all fuels has made possible many of the wonderful strides made by this commonwealth.

Great Saving

First and foremost, it has saved the people of Texas many millions of dollars they have put into other development work. While the bill for fuel outside the gas belt averages about five per cent of the family income, in the gas belt it is less than two per cent. That enables millions to be used for other purposes.

Adds Comfort and Wealth

Then there is the time saving—a great aggregate of earning time that has contributed in no small measure to the comfort and wealth of the people of the Lone Star state.

Finally, consider also the healthfulness and cleanliness of natural gas—two factors that have kept down expenses, made the cities clean and more beautiful, and reduced the work of housekeeping greatly.

Surely natural gas may be counted among the great factors that have helped in building up this great state.

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX TOURING CAR

A Real Achievement in Dollar-for-dollar Value

The thousands of Studebaker Light-Sixes in daily use are the best possible assurance of what may be expected next year—or several years hence—of the Light-Six you buy today.

For after all, the best way to judge a new motor car is by what it has done—how it has stood up in service—the satisfaction it has delivered.

We sincerely believe that the Light-Six Touring Car, with its improved all-steel body, is the sturdiest, handsomest, most comfortable, most dependable and economical low-priced car built.

The machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its practical absence of vibration, is a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and is found only on a few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light-Six.

The one-piece, rain-proof windshield with parking lights set in the base, is a joy to the driver—nothing to mar his view of the road ahead. Deep, fat cushions are upholstered in genuine leather. Curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with the doors and provide closed car coziness in bad weather.

The most seasoned driver will find a new thrill in the smooth, quiet, steady performance of the Light-Six—and in its ease of handling, and in the way it performs in high gear at low speeds—eliminating constant gear shifting.

The same Studebaker has stood for high grade transportation, quality, value and integrity for 71 years.
