Brisk Gun Battle In Mexico Result Klan Controversy

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The editorial rooms of the newspaper Excelsior were the scene of a brisk gun battle last night between members of the editorial staff and two men believed to be members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Shortly before midnight the pair, clad in black robes, forced entrance into the office. Their arrival was heralded by an alarm bell and the editor, who was in his study, rushed out with a gun to repel them.

One of the visitors advanced toward Jose Campos, editor in chief, while the other took a first-aid kit from the office. The editor made a dash to capture the first of the black robed figures, the man on guard fired, precipitating a lively scuffle in the courtyard in which the assistant of Campos fell with a broken arm and a bullet wound in the stomach. He gave his name as Joaquin Hernandez, a former officer of the Silverway.

The second visitor fled when his comrade dropped, jumped into an automobile and was hurried away with his friends in the car stood with revolvers fixed to the attempted pursuit of the editorial staff.

A dispatch from Mexico City yesterday said that Jose Campos was kidnapped Saturday night by a band of masked men and held captive for four hours in the courtyard of the Excelsior newspaper building.

The article admitting the existence of the Ku Klux Klan in Mexico, The Excelsior, the dispatch adds, has published articles denouncing the Klan and denying its presence in the country.

Announcement of the revocation of the parole, Governor Walton said, had been withheld until Lockhart's arrest. Lockhart was arrested Sunday night at Balliaw, the governor said he had been informed.

But it was discovered last night by inquiring newspaper men that Lockhart wasn't back in the penitentiary and that so far as any official knew was not on his way to the state.

Officials of the penitentiary admitted they were waiting for the man's bandit, but said he had failed to show up. They said they had instructed Sheriff Johnson of Sequoyah county Sunday afternoon to arrest Lockhart and return him to the penitentiary.

Lockhart Johnson said he received the instructions and instituted a search for the man. He said he had gone after his release from prison, according to the sheriff.

NOTED OKLAHOMA BANDIT MISSING; PAROLE REVOKED

RELEASED FROM PRISON BECAUSE OF DESTITUTE CONDITION AT HOME. SENTENCE TWENTY YEARS HAD SERVED FEW MONTHS

Sheriff Reports He is Unable to Find Lockhart at Balliaw, His Home.

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Ed Lockhart, famous eastern Oklahoma bank robber, who has been well waiting for him at the Oklahoma penitentiary here and who would be gladly received at several jails in Arkansas, was officially missing today.

Lockhart was released from prison here last Thursday on a 90-day parole granted by Governor C. Walton, the parole having been issued, according to the reports, because of the destitute conditions of the prisoner's former residence.

Then the next day the governor changed his mind about the parole and the parole was revoked. This was revealed by the executive yesterday at Oklahoma City, with the announcement that Lockhart was on the way back to the penitentiary in custody of officers. "New facts had developed," which caused the withdrawal of executive clemency, Governor Walton said.

CHANGE IN PRESIDENCY BASIS FOR EXPECTANCY

Recent Visits of Party Leaders Have Served to Clear Up Misunderstandings.

By MARK SULLIVAN

Political Correspondent of the New York Tribune and Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Every one is in a hurry to get a notion that there is to be some change in the relations to that continent in America at all times there are persons who do not realize how definite the change is.

One of the occasions when Europe had a sudden expectation that the change was the transition of the presidency from Harding to Coolidge.

It is a third reason that our government has lately been made the beneficiary of first hand views of Europe from several men like Secretary Mellon, who have recently been in Europe.

As it happens the views of all these returned travelers point in the same direction and confirm Mr. Hughes' policy.

It is not up to him to do anything. The proposal is in the custody of the senate. Nothing in the official definition of the president's duties under the constitution.

Of course it Coolidge should look upon himself officially as the responsible head of the Republican party.

As we have advocated this principle when nothing concrete was in existence and that to remain silent on it when the proposal is in its present form would put the party in a position of absurdity.

As yet the process of arriving at some sort of declaration on this point is going to be full of embarrassments for the Republicans.

Legion Head Outlines Program to Be Submitted to Next Congress; Demand Justice for War Veterans

By ALVIN OWLEY, National Commander American Legion. (Written for NEA Service and The Wichita Daily Times.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—The American Legion will present to the next congress a program of legislation formulated to obtain justice for those who fought in the world war and to stimulate a spirit of patriotism and higher citizenship in this country.

The Legion's first interest is the welfare of disabled veterans and their dependents. We shall ask for legislation amending the war risk insurance act to extend the scope of hospitalization benefits.

The Legion will urge that aid be extended only to those veterans who receive assistance for all war fighters will be pushed by the Legion and there is very little doubt that it will be passed in the next session of congress.

It is our plan to minimize the cash option of compensation and to place special emphasis upon the land settlement and farm aid features.

As a definite means of furthering world peace and justice to all, we shall ask congress to adopt legislation providing for a universal draft of capital, labor and industry in all future wars.

Believing that the safety of our institutions and democratic principles are threatened by unrestricted immigration, the Legion will ask congress to declare an immigration holiday of five years.

Further that this is a practically universal universal principle in Republican circles that Senator Hiram Johnson will oppose any endorsement by the Republican party of the international convention and that he will see any apparent approval of the course on the part of President Coolidge as his excuse for throwing his own weight into the opposition.

BURGLARS MAKE BIGGEST HAUL FROM SWIFT & CO.

OFFICE SAFE BURST OPEN AND STRONG BOX IS CARRIED AWAY.

BOX CONTAINED $200 IN CASH AND MANY CHECKS

Second Time Place Has Been Entered During Series of Burglaries.

Burglars continue to operate in Wichita Falls. Monday night witnessed the biggest haul made by the burglars since they launched their attack on safe and cash drawers in the city two months ago.

The large office safe of Swift & company at 1208 Ohio street was burst open and the 200-pound strong box in which the money and checks are always kept was carried away bodily. Officials of Swift & company stated Tuesday morning shortly after the burglary was discovered that the box contained $200 in currency and approximately the same amount in checks.

This is the second time that this new piece of business has been entered since the safe cracking program was instituted two months ago. On their first visit the burglars were successful in carrying away several choice items but were not rewarded with any money for their efforts.

Entrance to the building was gained by breaking open one of the rear doors. The large office safe was broken open in the same manner as all other safes that have been burglarized during the safe cracking spree begun in the city. The combination dial was broken off which gave the burglars access to the mechanism inside the door and by use of chisels or bars the tumblers were placed in position so that the bolts could be pushed back.

In Monday night's burglary, evidently it was impossible to make the strong box slide up its treadmill and therefore the box was placed on a small hand truck and wheeled to the platform of the building and loaded in an automobile.

Tracks alongside the platform Tuesday morning were plainly visible and it is believed they were made by the burglar who left with their treasure box. Late Tuesday morning no trace of the strong box had been found, but officials stated that without doubt the use of explosives would be necessary to open it.

Effort to Escape Adversity Causes Death of Woman

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 21 (AP)—A desperate effort to escape adversity which had beset her cost Mrs. Violet Kashko, 31, her life. Mrs. Kashko fell beneath the wheels of a freight train on which she sought to "bum" her way to Granger, Wyo., where her brother lived. Her legs and right hand were severed and she died in a hospital early today.

Mrs. Kashko sought aid of the Southwestern Railway for her two children but without success. Mrs. M. A. Priest, a mission worker, asserted Mrs. Kashko said that her husband had deserted her and produced a bottle of poison which she said she had purchased with the only money she had. Neighbors who dragged Mrs. Kashko from beneath the wheels of the train, asserted that she had tried to strangle her, but when she failed, accompanied her to the railroad yards and had her good-byes, as she crawled beneath a car. The car started suddenly, William said. Mrs. Kashko's children, William, 3 years old, and Pauline, 4, have been taken into private homes.

PROMISE OF LEGAL PROTECTION AGAINST FAKES IN BUSINESS

MADE IN ADDRESS BY ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL OF U.S.

CRITICIZES PARTIES WHO PROMOTE FAKE STOCKS

Discusses Fluctuating Prices of Gasoline in the Various States.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 21 (AP)—A promise of legal protection for the American public against dishonest business was made here today by Assistant Attorney General Seymour.

Mr. Seymour criticized severely those who speculate in foodstuffs, promoters of fake stocks and other securities and trade associations operating to increase commodity prices or decrease competition. "The problem of curbing speculation in the necessities of life is receiving the most careful attention of federal officials," said Mr. Seymour. "To make such exchanges legitimate and useful enterprises those transactions must be eliminated which are fictitious and which reflect arbitrary and artificial prices."

Discussing the fluctuating price of gasoline in various states Mr. Seymour said that the oil industry as a whole is a subject for continuous observation by federal authorities and furnishes one of the most important subjects of investigation by the department of justice. He referred to plans of midwestern oil refineries to close down this month because of over-production of oil and asked why the effects of this condition in industry should not be passed along to the consumer.

"It is important," he said, "that every local instrumentality for regulating and distributing should be carefully watched in order that state governments may discharge their duties in punishing crimes or preventing illegal practices which tend to deny the people free and full enjoyment of national resources."

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 21 (AP)—Mississippi Democrats went to the polls today to cast their ballots for the high men who emerged from the first primary August 7, with interest centered in the race between H. L. Whitfield and Theodore G. Bilbo for the gubernatorial nomination.

Three other state positions and several county offices were also to be decided. In view of the unexpected showing of Mr. Bilbo in the first primary when he was second man in a field of five, no one seemed willing to forecast today's result. Although the managers of both Bilbo and Whitfield predicted his man would win. In the first primary Whitfield polled 61,225 and Bilbo 61,178 votes. The other candidates polled a total of 194,426.

I am the Protector of Good BUTTER

DAD says, "The hardest battles a girl has to fight are those away from home," and I think it is the same with butter. No matter how much care all the boys back in the plant take to make good butter, you won't believe it unless the butter is good when it reaches your table.

It is my job at the Mistletoe Creamery to protect Mistletoe Butter by so wrapping and packing it that when it reaches the more than One Hundred Thousand Tables, every meal, every day, because of its freshness, taste and texture folks will realize how very careful we are in protecting its good name.

After the cream comes to the receiving platform and is tested so that only that which is fine enough to make Mistletoe Butter is selected, it goes to the big white churns. From there the butter goes to big refrigerators, all snowy-white inside with their coils of pipe covered with ice crystals.

Then it comes out through the automatic machines that cut it into pound, half pound and quarter pound prints. These prints are delivered to us at the wrapping table. All of us are dressed in snow-white uniforms and wear neat white caps over our hair. One of the strict rules at the Mistletoe plant is that we must always be scrupulously neat and clean.

When the prints of butter reach us we put on the parchment paper and then slip the protected prints of butter into the paraffin carton which keeps good flavor and quality in until the butter reaches your table fresh and sweet. The small cartons are then packed in clean board boxes and these are sealed. This is still another protection to guard Mistletoe Butter on its way by express car and truck until it reaches your refrigerator—a real "Aristocrat of the Dining Table."

I am sure if more folks realized the very great care that is taken to have Mistletoe Butter reach their tables fresh and sweet they would in turn take more care to protect it.

Butter if removed from the parchment wrapping and paraffin carton should be kept in a tightly covered dish in the refrigerator. By all means it should be kept away from foods and vegetables that put off odors easy for it to pick up.

With the onward progress of the cities, the cows have been forced further and further away. First, to the outskirts of the village and then miles beyond. And with increasing population comes an increasing demand for dairy products, especially butter, that boon companion of the staff of life.

Forced to depend upon their own immediate dairying facilities, large Southwestern cities would face a butter famine six months in every year. To meet this need, the Mistletoe Creameries have grown with the territory they serve. Cream is gathered from surrounding territory to make butter for the Southwestern states.

The story of this is being told in a series of advertisements of which this is the fifth. Watch for them and learn something of the industry that butters the bread of the Southwest.

FIRPO STORY WILL PROVIDE MASTERPIECE IN FUTURE YEARS

Readers of Next Generation Will Wonder Long at Tales Told of the Strange "Wild Bull of the Pampas"

By DAMON KUNTON.
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 25.—Many years from now, industrious young sports writers, poring over the history of boxing to find something to "rehash" for their readers, will come across a strangely interesting story.

It may be the most interesting story in all the long history of the game.

It will be the story of a strange looking giant with flying hair, called "the Wild Bull of the Pampas," who came up suddenly, almost mysteriously, out of South America, and chased his way to a match for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The present reader may say: "Why, that is the story that is being written now—I know all about that."

So it is, and so you do.

Firpo's Record Here.

But many years from now it will appear as a legend, like fiction to the young men who read it in history.

The very reason of the thing you know is gospel truth will cause them to suspect its veracity.

They will wonder how that giant, swarthy, solemn, first rode to America in the steamer, shabby, broken down, and how he made his preliminary efforts were so pitifully crude he was laughed at by the experts.

They will read how he was defeated because of his appearance, his "rubber" collar, his baggy trousers, because he was scuffling with his money.

Then they will read how he made over one American heavyweight, who was a champion, beating them down by the weight of his fists, until he came to the match with the pugilistic peer of the world, Jack Dempsey.

Of course, they will also read what the present reader cannot read just now, the fact that whether "the Wild Bull of the Pampas" was quickly subdued by the Manassa Mauler, or whether he crushed Dempsey as he had crushed all other opponents.

We live too close to the story to see his real prominence.

There is the feature passed over by us all, unimportant, but which may be the feature of the tale of a writer for history, that the strange man from the Argentine didn't want the match with the champion at the time it was made.

The young men of the future will read how he signed a contract for a five-day fight with Dempsey, a contract no vaguer in the light of the South American's pugilistic obscurity than the famed title of the champion.

They will read how he was finally called upon by the man who had the champion's name, asking a year's delay, and how he finally agreed to go through with it on the singular promise that he would wear his hair.

It is to be hoped the historians will leave out nothing of the curious manner in which "the Wild Bull of the Pampas" trained for this bout.

Now at the top wave of his success, he was surrounded by American trainers and advisers, and trained according to instruction transmitted daily over thousands of miles of wire by a millionaire who perhaps had seen few real prize fighters who worked his ideas over his own men.

SPIDERS OPEN IN GALVESTON TUESDAY DOUBLE-HEADER DUE

The spiders, after being idle Monday, open a four-game series at Galveston Tuesday, the series of contests being scheduled into three days.

Monday's off-day was caused by the double-header Sunday at Beaumont, the postponement of both teams pending to the double bill, rather than playing games Sunday and Monday.

Bill Wagner is due to reach the opener at Galveston, while he will be followed by Hal Cooper, if Manager DeJong keeps his regular working in their regular terms.

Another for Hall of Fame

By MEA Service.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 27.—A real pitching find!

John Salada, rookie twirler for the Kansas City Blues, is building up that reputation all over the American Association circuit.

And so wonder!

He has won all games Manager Bill Good has started him in this season. There are seven of 'em to his credit so far.

"Some record for a greenhorn," says Good.

With Salada hurling victory after victory, the Blues' chances for the pennant are excellent.

Now the team is leading St. Paul. It's only got an edge by a small margin, but Bill Good has fond hopes.

And he banks on John to bring about their realization.

FIRPO CONFIDENT BUT WILL MAKE NO BOLD PREDICTION

Universal Service.
ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 25.—"I am confident, but I never make any predictions," said Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentinean heavyweight, Tuesday when asked what he thought of his fight with Jack Dempsey.

"I will fight, I'll do my best, whatever the outcome," he added.

"Horatio Lavelle, the challenger's manager, grew angry when he was told that some sport followers were charging that the fight was a 'set-up' for Dempsey.

"Firpo has a record that speaks for itself," Lavelle said. "He will be 17 years old next October 11. He has been fighting four years. He lost his first fight on a knock-out. Since then he has had 24 battles. Of these he won every one, 22 by the knockout route and four on decisions. He is a match for Dempsey at Dempsey's best."

Eddie Kennedy, formerly a head-hurser in the welterweight division, quipped differently.

"This chap will be apple pie, and if not apple pie, just plain duck soup for Dempsey," was Eddie's comment after he saw the South American do his stuff at the dog track this afternoon.

There was a sprinkling of celebrities in the small Monday crowd that saw the Firpo workout Monday. Mrs. H. R. Ogden, a Philadelphia society patron, presented the Argentinean with a silver four-leaf clover which he promised to wear during the fight.

Former Governor Frank L. Dempsey of Arizona, a hunting companion of the late President Roosevelt and former Governor Charles Miller of Delaware, were among the spectators.

Pirpo punched the bag, shadow boxed and went through two full rounds with Joe McCann, Jeff Clarke and Frankie Kobbie.

This is what the sparring partners had to say:

McCann: "Firpo is faster than ever before."

Kobbie: "He is not nearly so easy to reach, and has a far better eye than when he started training here."

Clark: "Mating Firpo is just like hitting a home with no rebound."

Dempsey is off on a short fishing trip.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—To escape the irritating confinement of his training camp, Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, left Tuesday on a fishing trip. He will resume the training grind Thursday.

Because of the crowds of curious spectators hanging over the fence surrounding his four-room cottage on the shores of Saratoga Lake, Dempsey has found it necessary to remain indoors except while hitting the Philites a victory over the Cardinals.

Whenever the champion comes out of his cottage crowds of amateur photographers immediately surround him, standing

The upset of the day was the 94 of Mrs. Dave Gust, of Memphis, who took 7 on the par 5 first, which Mrs. Jones qualified for the women's western golf championship.

RYAN UNDERTAKING AMBITIOUS FIGHT PROGRAM IN 6 DAYS

Provided Dago Ryan can come through unharmed in his bout at Burkhardt Tuesday night, Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion, of Fort Worth, Texas, Thursday night-one of the best bouts yet to be staged here.

Ryan is scheduled to meet Willie Jackson of Lawton, Okla., Tuesday night at Burke, and Billy Ross of Sapulpa, Okla., Thursday night in the main event of the fight card here.

In their previous showing here, Ryan and Ryan have appeared to be the cleverest scrappers of the entire lot that has been set out in many bouts. The 10-round main event promises all the fans are looking for, if Ryan can come through his bout at Burkhardt without injuries.

THE LOOKOUT by Al Parker

Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion, has been giving the fans some real fight shows, the kind of shows that a majority of fans like to see.

There has been plenty of fighting and punching. The boys who have taken part in the shows don't know so much about the game, but they have been willing. And that is the reason the shows have been good.

Nothing can be so good that it cannot be overdone. These in charge of the shows are in a fair way of having the game stopped as it has been stopped in nearly every Texas city.

DEMPSEY IS OFF ON SHORT FISHING TRIP

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—To escape the irritating confinement of his training camp, Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, left Tuesday on a fishing trip. He will resume the training grind Thursday.

Because of the crowds of curious spectators hanging over the fence surrounding his four-room cottage on the shores of Saratoga Lake, Dempsey has found it necessary to remain indoors except while hitting the Philites a victory over the Cardinals.

Whenever the champion comes out of his cottage crowds of amateur photographers immediately surround him, standing
