MANBAS CITY, Me., Oct. 11,000-EANSAS CITY, Me. Oct. 11. 69.—
The International Farm Congress which opened here yesterday adjourned today to the Sal-a-Bar farms hear Ransas City, to view methods employed there in breeding high class cattle. Harry C. Wal-lece, secretary of agriculture, was on the program for an address there in the afternoon and another at a meeting of the congress in Eansas City tonight.

Sind interest is attached to the address of Secretary Wallace in view of a recent report that the depointment of agriculture had formulated a plan to combat the difficulties which confront American barners and especially wheat farmers, this year.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Editor the Times. Harkl What is the sound that I heart Truly, it is strangs noises that suits the ear. Do we not live in a sand of last? Have we not all been schooled to believe that our government must be always su-prems? Did our teachers no tel-is that where law ends tyramy be-gins? As a people do we not be-lays is gins? As a people do we not be-lieve in a government by law rather than he men? Surely, we do, and we have arranged to have definite and short terms for executives to guard against this becoming a gov-ernment by men rather than by law. Then whence are these strange nounds?

A great oncourse of people have gathered. There is a glant florr cross and a half hundred masked and whiterobed figures are dawdling about in front of it and open

sionally bowing is seeming obeliance to it. There is a speaker hold-ing forth, and the voice sounds like that of a certain well-known Texas preacher who formerly was pastor of a local church. He says something about dragons and wisness and them and them and emperors, and them launches forth in a most remarkable speech. He is saying "there are certain cases which because of their very nature cannot be reached." by the law. Such cases must be dealt with outside the law."

The scene is shifted. Five thouand people have gathered at the bell park in a Texas city. The flary cross and the white robed figures are there. A certain preacher from a nearby town is "key-noter" of the evening. He is saying that his organization is going to place the Elblic in the public school and see that every man's children attends public school and studies it. "But."

he says. "until that time comes that all are sufficiently educated the ig-nerant must be ruled by fear." The scene is changed again. The place is Electra, Texan, and the time, § p. m., Oct. 5th, 1933. A large crowd is gathered to hear "the truth about the hian." The orator had spoken an hour in an endeavor to prove that the country is being dominated by foreigners, with indifferent success. After this he told of the historio instance of a most that masqueraded as Indians and threw a taw bales of tea in Boston harbor. He said. "there is an instance where a masked most acted for America, and we never hear a word against it. We are coming to compare to the said." it. ### State Has Right In Wife Beating . Cases Well As Victim Is Ruling Of Judge Martin In Divorce Case

The state of Tengs has some—and if you will voluntarily come rights in wife beating cases, as well as the wife, whose remedy for herself is a decree of divorce, according to a ruling made Tuesday, evening by Judge P. A. Martin, Judge Martin had just heard a divorce case in which the wife applying for the decree, testified that her husband was in the habit of beating her, contending that the last beating was administered on October 3.

In rendering his decision in the case after having heard the testimony of the applicant, Judge Martin said: "I am going to grant a bis wife in this manner."

Judge Martin stated after the hearing of the case that this case. Wife beating business went out of practice many, many years ago in civilised communities.

"I am going to grant the divorce in this case on condition that you find all wife beating the past several months a number of divorce pstitioners alleged and proved that their husbands had beaten them.

larging the present course to holes and a more satisfactory arrangement for the club house. The present plans provide for a member-ship fee of $35 for the year; a charge of 50 cents will be made for greens fees to players who do not have cards. Membership will entitle the holder to the use of the golf course, gennin courts, swim-ming pool, club house and locker privileges.

This year a fee of only $10 was charged for limited privileges, but this amount was inadequate to furnish the right kind of club house nish the right kind of the er no improvement or construction on the course. It is the opinion of officers of the club that the proposed membership rate will provide for the course and club house facilities mentioned and a surplus for additional holes and improvement of the course.
Present plans call for the club house privileges the year round, with the club house open for parties, dinners and refreshments. Members will be furnished with shower, pool and locker privileges whout additional charge. Lest year an extra charge of $1.50 per month was made for the privileges. The club rate offered for the com-ing year will in reality 56 a reduction from that of this year.

In order to carry out the plane laid at the Wednesday night meet-ing it will be essential that the membership reach at least the 180 mark. The operation of the club on the scale that is promised would become an impossibility with a membership smaller than the one mentioned. A membership committee of 31 of-
