The liberal deviseth liberal things; and by liberal things shall he stand,--isa. 32:8.

Men of the noblest dispositions think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.-Duncan.

CUT AND DRIED.

We're well on our way to a civilization of canned food, canned muric, canned drama and canned thought. This idea is set forward by Count Rya Tolstoy, son of the Russian writer.

Well, yes. We buy food canned in a tin, music canned in the phonograph and radio, and drama canned in movie form so half a dozen shows can be carried around in a suitease full of film reels. The idea, that our thoughts also are reaching us in canned form, is true though few of us ever sized it up that way. Propagandists, of course, are the chief canners. One consolation is that a variety of cans of thought are handed to us, and we can take

Is it a good thing that our thoughts are reaching us in canned form? Why not? It's merely a process of delegating our thinking to an endless procession of experts.

The man who thinks entirely for himself is a mental Jack-of-all-trades-and-master-of-none. Each question that comes up, he concentrates on as if it were the most important thing in the universe. Waste of

WHAT YOU LIKE.

A New York clerk is sent to the penitentiary for the fourth time and for the same old offense-stealing dictionaries. His fourth stiempt to increase his vocabulary took place in a department store where he saw the king-pin of dictionaries $13,50 which, being a clerk of modest house, he couldn't afford. You will read a good many days before you find anything stranger than this in the news.

Three times he had stolen dictionaries and gone to prison for it. You'd think he had learned his leson. Not so. Back he came a fourth time.

Here you see the workings of a curious brain kink or abnormality that is also characteristic of the thronic criminal. What most of them need is expert medical attention by brain specialists.

Off to prison the fourth time, the old man (he's 5, with white hair) who can't resist dictionaries, boasts that his vocabulary now includes 100,000 words. The reporter describes him as having a scholarly brow."

Too bad some rich man didn't catch him early in the game and "cure" him by gythe him all new dic-tionaries as fast as they came from the presses.

Difficult to understand him and his peculiar craving? Well, after all, isn't it just as sane as some of he cravings the rest of as have? We know many a man who is "craster" about golf, salted peanuts or a collection of cancelled stamps than this pitiful old character braving jail in his quest for knowledge.

FOR BETTER REGULATION OF MATERNITY HOMES.

Dr. W. H. Bearley, state health officer, is advomore stringent laws regulating maternity There is now little regulating of these homes nd the babies born in them are bartered and hawked out much like pet animals and it is feared they ion't always get as good treatment as such animals. recent case at Fort Worth has served to bring o public attention some of the methods practiced in nee "homes."

Society looks with scorn upon the unfortunate others of these poor babies. With that attitude sternity "homes" and the evils growing out of follow as a natural consequence. Perhaps it much to hope for a change in the attitude of ety in general toward the unfortunate mother. ut we can, by law, regulate the conduct of maternity and the the disposal of babies born in them t is time we were doing something in Texas.

REMEMBER, PECANS ARE PROPERTY.

In Dallas county the other day a man was fined five dollars on a charge of theft. His offense was the taking of pecane from a tree without the owner's consent.

Pecans are property and pretty valuable property at that. Any one who trespasses on another's land without the owner's consent and takes pecans can be prosecuted for theft. Indeed, a number of such cases are prosecuted every year. But some folks who would not think of stealing a farmer's wheat or his hogs or cattle will trespass and take pecans. That is why we are calling attention to the case in Dallas county,

JUSTEDGAR A. GUEST

GIVERS.

Who gives the best of givers three? The calculating, thoughtful mind, Remembering all that lies behind And seeing much to fear and dread Beyond the curve which lies ahead. Must wait before a care 'twill lift, To make a flawless, shining gift.

The second giver, like the first, Weighs well the gift he would bestow; He must be sure, however slow, That men his offering shall prize, Find naught in it to criticise, And checks the swift impulse to give Until he knows his gift will live.

The third gives out from day to day Whatever coins his purse may hold; Gives copper, lacking shining gold, No question asks of right or wrong, But, like the robin with his song, Scatters his talents far and near, Even unworthy breasts to cheer.

Perhaps, as wise men often say, The noblest gifts by time are wrought, Jewels must feel the wheel of thought, And yet the heart is often kind When coldly selfish is the mind, And God may like them best who give Not asking that their wifts shall live (Copyright, 1928, by Sogar A. Guest)

THAT OVERFAITH.

None of us is able to transfer his exact meaning. teeling, purpose, desire to an uncaring world.

We are each of us listened to and some of the bits of us are picked up and given over to the nourishment of others far akin to us-but the enthusiasm of our faith and our hope and our impassioned soul falls mostly upon deadened ears.

The speaker comes out upon his stage and utters his message. In his heart it is a flame of fire. But who else can measure the importance of his words or his desire to carry them on?

It is "that overfaith" which has put flavor and throbbing pulse into every onward movement since

Who else than a prophet or poet would roam his own beloved town or country, unappreciated or misunderstood?

There is a relative value to this overfaith of ours. It was Luther who once said that "God Himself cannot do without wise men."

And none of us can do without that overfaith of ours to keep lifting us higher and giving us just a little further reach toward the finer things of life. It was Emerson who wrote in his essay "Tantalus" that "Our music, our poetry, our language, are

The aplitting up of Germany especially the cutting off of Catholic South Germany from Protestant North Germany, is the plan devised by Marshat Foch, described in this column two years ago. It is an ingenius plan, for if Germany can be divided by the combined hatreds of religion and civil war, France. free from a German menace, may rule Europe for many years.

OLD

Through Remainder Of This Year.

By BROADAN WALL Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK. Oct. 22 .- The new week opens with a large short inweek's trading was featured by ilquidation in the tire issues, betause of the approach of cold weather which should tend to some degree to a slackening of pleasure trips. Reduction in the price of tires may mean that the big companies desire to reduce stocks for the winter months. A large amount the winter months. A large amount of tires were produced in the first quarter of the year as was the case quarter of the year as was the case in oil and copper. Overproduction of oil has been reflected the last week in crude and gasoline price cuts, another indication of a desire to reduce atorage holdings. In copper the situation is complicated by a large increase in red metal important of the when foreign countries. ports at a time when foreign countries are not in the market for nar-mal amounts of the product.

The opinion of the big market opinions on the outlook favors higher prices because of the large amount of shorts. Business is expected to continue good through the remainder of this year par-ticularly the retail trade where buying : generally stimulated during the holiday period. The department store business and mail order house frade are reporting larger sales, particularly the latter.

The proposed reduction in freight rates on wheat is another factor rates on wheat is another factor making for lower costs to the wheat grower. On the other hand some of the roads may lose a little money on a reduction, but the view is ex-bressed in some quarters that Prasipressed in some quarters that President Coolidge would not favor any clan that would dig deep in railroad

Steel business is still favorable, in view of an industrialist. Unfilled steel orders have shown a failing off, but bookings this month, ac-cording to trade reports, are likely to show an improvement over last month. One development has been that the automobile companies are placing more orders at this time of the year than usual.

A large amount of money seeking investment is reported by bankers, particularly in tax exempt securities. This was evident, it was pointed out, by the quick sales of federal land bank bonds, and the state of Illinois issue.

Easier money rates would mean a slackening in business which is not looked for by certain captains of industry who are now predicting good business for next spring. Con-struction has fallen off a little in September and any reduction in steel prices it is held would stimu-late the demand for construction steel and railroad equipment.

LONDON MARKET INFLUENCED BY EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

LONDON, Oct. 22.-Business in the stock market the past week was distinctively influenced by the government's announcement of its in tention to spend 50,000,000 pounds on public works to give employ-ment to the idle, and the definite disavowal of a policy of gradual inflation of currency to stimulate

The announcement was generally approved as the rumor of the pro shief to British credit abroad. Industrials generally were bene-fited by the government's an-acunced intentions. Foreign securities despite the opinion of the city that the Franco-German situation appeared to be going from bad to worse, were generally firm with further recovery in Chinese and sapanese bonds.

#apanese bonds.

The gilt edge market saw one of the few flascos of modern times, the underwriters being left with $2 per cent of the new Nigerian four per cent loan issued at $8. A seincidence was that the same fate evertook the East African Light and Power preference issue.

The market remained steady, only the slightest reaction following the the slightest reaction following the commonwealth loan and even mak-ing slight premiums.

British rails were steady with few features, undergrounds attract-ing attention and registering rises. Argentine rails continued under the influence of exchange conditions, prices rallying at midweek on the improvement of the peso. United Havanas rose a point, but Leopoidians and San Paulos suffered on a methack of the Milreis.

Iron, coal and steel all hanefited by the government announcements well as the companies providing well as the companies providing building materials, prices improv-ing throughout the list. Textiles were dull as were also

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 .- The Zev-Papyrus race was exactly what the

The travesty was not so much in the race itself, however, as in the manner of its making. The whole thing amounted to giving the owners of Zev a neat little present of $80,000 and a gold

This would have been all right had the Jockey Club announced in the beginning that the race was being arranged to make the owners of Zev the beneficiaries of the wining or losing end.

But the Jockey Club gave the im-pression that it was a sporting event, that America's representa-tive three-year-old was to race

Then, for some inscrutiable rea-son, the Jockey Club permitted the owners of Zev to dodge a match race with Admiral Graggeon's My Own, a race that would have de-termed America's representative three-year-old.

One is forced to the conclusion that the Jockey Club either prefere the owner of Zey to Admiral Grayson, one of the finest gentlemen in the land, or that the Jockey Club is dominated by internal interests that favor the owners of Zev.

Certainly at the time the com-mittee of the Jockey Club made its selection of the American color bearer in the match ruce, there still existed sufficient uncertainty as to whether Zev or My Own were the committee's choice most doubt-As it turned out, of course, the muddy going made the selection of the wise choice. hy Own does not run well in the mud.

At the last minute, when it looked as if Zev might be incapaci-tated they requested Admiral Gray-son to ship My Own to New York, Now the average man, 'rested, as Admiral Grayson had been treated, wend probably have had a sharp retort to the request but Admiral Grayson seems to be singularly patient, singularly good natured. He shipped My Own to Belmont Park, only to be completely ignored

The writer is not saying My Own During the period he produced braska of the Missouri valley as better horse than Zev.

He merely says that with the many and Anderson and other him to be the first than Zev. was entried to a fair ecision. The only manner in which such a decision could be reached is by a race under proper conditions, not under conditions peculiarly suited to Zev and the own of Zev. Admiral Grayson passed up a large amount of money in stake races that were at the mercy of his horse to put My Own in competition with Zev. He had My Own at the lock and call of the Jockey Club. For his pains he asn't received much as a "thank you."

The sporting thing for the owners of Zev to do now would be to take their horse to England and race it against Papyrus under condition that would give the English horse a fair chance.
