STARVES WHILE SON WANDERS

Chicago Mother Seeks Trace of Lost Boy

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 .- If the mother of John Killeen can prove that her son is dead she will fall heir to a fortune.

John Killeen left Chicago for Texas five years ago. No trace of his present whereabouts can be found by his parents. No letters have been received from him for years. Somewhere within the borders of Texas it is believed that he rests beneath the sod, but this cannot be proven. Until it can be proven, the fortune which was left him since his departure by an aged and wealthy relative will remain tied up in the hands of the law. The will which bequeathed this considerable sum to Killeen provides also that on his death the money shall go to his mother. If he could be found alive he would doubtless return to Chicago and take care of his destitute mother. But now the fortune is hanging between heaven and earth, and the Efforts have been made by friends and relatives of the boy to locate him, or to trace his wanderings, but so far without effect. Appeals have been made to the bureau of vital statistics at Austin, but Captain E. E. Walker, chief clerk of the department, has advised that since the last legislature created the bureau but neglected to provide funds for its maintenance, no records have been kept.

A concerted effort is therefore to be made. Letters will be addressed to all the larger cities of Texas, appealing to the health officials and the police authorities to find some trace of the vanished heir. Meanwhile the state of the family is said to be desperate.

ROOM BETTER THAN THEIR COMPANY

OPPOSE CHANGE

Want Nc Extension of Car Unloading Time

ADDRESS COMMISSION

Letter Sent to Austin to Be Presented at the Hearing Called Tuesday

The Texas Grain Dealers' Association will oppose the extension of time for unloading cars, a matter that will come before the railroad commission of Texas Tuesday. The extension will come up in a proposition to amend circular No. 1756, which embodies rules and regulations prescribed by the commission and governing in the matter of assessing and collecting of car service or demurrage by adding a provision substantially as follows: "Cars containing over 40,000 pounds of freight shall be entitled to twenty-four hours of extra time for unloading." Ties Up Cars

H. B. Dorsey, secretary of the Texas Grain Dealers' Association, has been in communication with the members of the association and has ascertained that nine-tenths of the shippers are opposed to an extension on the ground that it is in a measure a menace to the grain dealers or any other business as tending to further tie up car equipment and is unfair and unjust to those who have put money into proper equipment for handling such business. The main reason they urge is the danger of crippling commerce by tieing up equipment for a longer time than is really necessary. A letter was sent out to the members of the Grain Dealers' Association by the secretary last week and replies were requested by Sunday so that a communication could be sent to the commission which would present the position of the association at the hearing Tuesday. The association will depend on this letter, being represented at the meeting by a special delegate. Letter to Members

The letter which was sent out by Secretary Dorsey to the members of the association after the matter had been presented to the executive board and passed upon as a matter which the association should oppose was as "I presume many of you noticed the published statement some time ago that the railroad commission would, Jan. 16, take up and consider the proposition to allow twenty-four hours' additional time for unloading cars containing more than 40,000 pounds. It is claimed by some that as the railroad companies are increasing the capacity of their cars, and on shipments from out the state, shippers are required to load to capacity, that more time should be given for unloading such cars. The contention is made by some that where parties have sufficient or ample facilities for handling their business, that forty-eight hours is time enough for loading or unloading cars of any capacity, and to grant more time for handling such cars would work a hardship on those who have facilities for handling such business, as it would tie up the equipment of the roads for a longer time than necessary and would in a measure prevent them from getting cars when they should have them, and that those who have gone to the expense of providing facilities for handling business should not be thus affected on account of others not having the necessary facilities to handle their business.

"I have submitted this matter to the executive committee for instructions as to whether or not we shall take any stand in the premises, but have concluded to submit it to our members, and I will thank each of you who feel an interest in the matter to write me fully by Saturday or Sunday's mail, and while the railroad commission did not in the circular issued mention the question of giving extra time to load on that point also. If you desire to express yourself on this question it will be necessary to take prompt ac-

Replies received in response to this letter were by large majority opposed to the granting of an extension of time.

Burglar Operates in Main Street Sunday Night

BANK BUILDING SCENE

$45 Worth of Fine Smokes Taken in Plain View of

A bold burglary was committed Sunday night in the Fort Worth National bank building. The burglary was effected where the burglar must have been within three feet of the sldewalk and with nothing but a glass door and a glass eigar case between, so that he could have been in plain view of any passerby. This together with the fact that it was in Main street, where there are always people passing day and night and also with the fact that it was the entrance of a building occupied by men who might have occasion to drop in any time, gives the burglary a degree of boldness seldom

All this outlay of nerve and risk of danger was incurred where the booty could have been but comparatively small. The total amount secured was estimated at about $45 worth of fine Key West cigars, which were taken from H. B. McGar, the proprietor of the cigar stand near the elevator in the bank building. Mr. McGar was at his stand about 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the robbery must have taken place between that hour and 8 o'clock Monday morning. The door leading from the street to the elevator is of glass and the cigar cases are also of glass, so the burglar who prized the case open by breaking the ock could have been easily observed. had any one chanced to look into the building even from the street, while he was engaged in his work. He was evidently a connoisoeur, as he took only the best grades of cigars. The cheaper-grades were not disturbed. Mr. McGar has notifie the police.

WEEK EXPECTED DULL IN CONGRESS

Schedule of Two Houses Shows Little Promise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 .- The expectation is that the first part of this week in congress will be rather dull and uninteresting. In the senate there does not appear to be any great determination on the part of the sages to bring either the marine or the pure food bill to a head. The former holds the boards by assignment in each day's routine after 2 o'clock, while the pure food measure takes up the greater part of the morning sessions. Many senators are expected to come forward with voluminous amendments to the pure food bill and Senator Lodge has suggested about four.

Among other things to be heard are the following: Santo Domingo resolution-Senator

LAND CLEAR IN ENVELOPE CASE

Proprietor of Mohawk Hotel Released From Bail

Ed M. Jackson, charged with theft by bailee of cash and securities valued at $18,000 from M. C. McGraw, has been allowed bail in the sum of $250 by Justice John L. Terrell, pending a completion of the investigation. A similar case against W. H. Land, proprietor of the Mohawk hotel, where Jackson was clerk, was dismissed and Land released from his bond.

The case was called by Justice Terrell at 10 o'clock this morning and both McGraw, the complaining witness, and Jackson, the defendant, testified. McGraw testified in substance to the statements heretofore published, that there was $250 in money in the packages he gave to Jackson for safe keeping, while Jackson swore that there was not a cent of money in the packages when he received them. Justice Terrell said that before he decided whether or not he would hold the prisoner for the grand jury he wanted to investigate the matter further and pending that investigation he would allow bail in the sum of $250. BOND FORFEITED

Because John S. Jeffries Jr., charged vith swindling under $50, did not appear in the Seventeenth district court room at the time the case against him was set for trial, his bond for $1,000 with R. L. Carlock as security was declared forfeited and an alias caplas for the defendant ordered, the note made on the docket being that in the absence of good cause of absence not being shown the judgment would be made final at the next term of the court. A few minutes after this order had been made Jeffries appeared in court, ready to answer, but as the case had been passed no further order was made at the time. A motion will be made to reset the case for this term of the court and to have the order of forfeiture set aside.

SHOALS OF IMMIGRANTS 7,000,000 Acres Put on Market Bringing Hosts of Settlers

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 15 .- Land Commissioner Terrell will within a short time make public a statement concerning the 7,000,000 acres of land which was put on the market several months ago. It will be remembered that the first list embraced about 6,-000,000 acres and the second 1,000,000 acres. A great deal of this land has been sold and has brought to the state much more under the present system than would have been otherwise possible. It has also stimulated a strong immigration movement for Texas from the older states as well as from the north. The result is that a vast section of fine land will soon be under cultivation by thrifty farmers, who will make Texas their future

STRIKERS SHOW MUCH CONFIDENCE

Machinists on the Santa Fe Sure of Winning Out

Special to The Telegram. TEMPLE, Texas, Jan. 15. That the striking machinists on the Santa Fe railway are still hopeful of winning their long drawn out contest with the railway company in fuil or in part is evinced by the remarks of J. D. Buckalew of Topeka, Ran, third vice president of the machinists' union, who was here yesterday conferring with local members of that organization. He professes confidence that the strike is nearer a settlement at this time than at any previous moment since it commenced.

The strikers make the usual claims that the motive power of the company is in a bad way owing to the employment of inferior and incompetent machinists and say that this point is telling in their favor.

There are a number of non-union machinists employed in the company shops at Temple and no attempt is ever made to molest them in any manner on the part of the union men. The strike is not felt very much in Temple, as so few men are involved. Mr. Buckalew is visiting all Santa Fe division points in Texas and left here today for Silsbee. It is said that a member of the secret service department of the railway company is paying the labor leader marked attention and closely observes all his move-

INTRINSIC MERIT

Says Druggist Anderson, Is What Makes Vinol Popular "The intrinsic merit of this new cod liver oil preparation, Vinol," said Mr.

Anderson, "is beginning to be realized by the people of Fort Worth. Of course in my position as a druggist, I have seen innumerable medicines and proprietary articles introduced, but never in my long experience have I ever known or heard of a medicine that would produce more beneficial results than Vinol "I attribute this to the fact that

Vinol contains in a concentrated form all the medicinal elements contained in cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil or grease to nauseate and upset the stomach, and it contains no sickening drugs.

A prominent physician writes: 'Vinol is the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil known to medicine. It is of untold value to create strength and build up the general system for old people, weak women and children, and it has no equal for hard colds, bronchial and all lung affections. "There are hundreds of people right here in Fort Worth who can testify that there is nothing equal to Vinol to make rich, red blood, to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the rundown, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs, colds and build up the convalescent. "We freely offer to return your money in every case where Vinol fails.

Try it on this guarantee." R. A. An-

LEAGUE MAGNATES MEET WEDNESDAY

Schedule to Be Arranged at Session in This City-Umpires to Be Named

Wednesday afternoon the next meeting of the Texas league officials will be held in this city at 2:30 o'clock. At the meeting the matter of a schedule for the coming season will be taken up and probably arranged. It is the custom of the league now to have all the managers represented at the time of arranging the schedule. The coming season will start on April 25 and will close on Labor Day, Sept. 3. There will be 120 games in all with twelve off days, on which it is proposed to play postponed games or those with independent teams.

The Sunday games will be played largely in Fort Worth, Dallas and Waco as these towns secure the best attendance. These cities will also probably get the Fourth of July and Labor Day games as the entire proceeds of holidays are pooled and then divided equally. Another matter_which will be taken up by the meeting Wednesday will be the election of four trustees for the league who were authorized at the last meeting in Waco. This board is to be elected by the franchise holders and will virtually control the affairs of the league. The umpires of the league for the coming season have not been announced as yet and it is probable that the selection will be announced at the coming meeting or at least some announcement be made concerning umpires. The new by-laws provide that no umpire shall remain in one city

longer than two series. FORT WORTH TEAM GETTING IN SHAPE

Announcement of Club Players to Be Made When Full Quota is Signed The management of the Fort Worth baseball club is not yet ready to announce the team for the coming season. The local team will be composed of experienced players only. Men of ability are the only ones being signed by the management. Other teams are signing many youngsters, new players, but Fort Worth will only try out a few new men in the box. Fewer men will be signed at the opening of the season by the Panthers than by any other club. It is the determination of those in charge of the local team to sign men for particular positions and thus avoid the trying out, sifting process which generally prevents getting the real team together until the season is well advanced. Several famous players who played in Southern leagues last season are now in communication with the local management. As soon as these players are signed the team will be an-

Agar Hume, a young, impoverished actor, takes employment as valet to

Sir William Dagmar, who is member of a secret society of consumptives.

Serving a banquet at one of the reguar monthly meetings of the club,

Brown, as Sir William has decided to call his valet, tells his master, in answer to a question, that he cannot understand French. The conversation being in French, Brown learns that the society sustains a hospital where, later, disguised as Sir William, he sees a

It soon clears the system of all impurities, purges the blood of all Catarrhal matter and poisons, and effectually checks the progress of this dangerous and farreaching disease. S. S. PROPER ADVERTISING METHODS

The Merchants' Association of McKeesport, Pa., has just adopted a resolution to the effect that hereafter none of its members will do any advertising except in the newspapers. Wealthy and successful business men made the public statement that they had tried every form of advertising and found the newspapers the only legitimate and effective medium. Program, circular, ticket and hotel register advertising was denounced by these business men as petty grafting schemes that brought no return whatever to the advertiser.

The merchants of Los Angeles, one of the liveliest cities on the Pacific coast, decided more than a year ago that they would confine their advertising wholly to the newspapers. The fact that they are still doing so is ample evidence that they have found the plan just what they wanted.

The men who spend advertising money are entitled to results. There is no reason in the world why any business man should be compelled to regard the money spent in advertising his business as so much of a contribution to charity. No self-respecting newspaper man wants business from the advertiser on that kind of basis. He wants the advertiser to get value, and at the same time realize that he is getting value.

In this day and time there are all kinds of cheap advertising schemes afloat, the prime object of which is to make a little loose pocket change for their impecunious promoters. In many instances small favors are extended, more to get rid of the annoyance than anything else, but in the end the money that is frittered away in this manner is charged up to the legitimate advertising account, and too many business men are constrained to remark as an abstract principle that advertising does not pay.

The Telegram has given close study to this advertising business, for it is a part of The Telegram's business to do so. And The Telegram will venture the assertion that there is not a legitimate advertiser In its columns-and they are all legitimate-who is handling his advertising in the proper manner, and not making good money on his advertising investment. The Telegram is the Fort Worth paper that goes into the homes It is the one paper that is read by the business man and the mechanic after the day's toil. Its advertising columns are scanned as closely as its news columns, and advertising intelligently conducted in The Telegram has never yet failed to bring

And the business men of Fort Worth, in making their advertising appropriation for the current year should bear in mind the suggestion as to confining their patronage to plain newspaper advertising, and let the fake schemes severely alone. There is no sense In spending good money on these schemes that have never yet failed to turn out fakes of the purest ray serene. Give your advertising to the newspapersthe legitimate advertising mediums of the country, and let the fakirs seek greener pastures.

Advertising can always be made profitable if it is conducted along these lines. It is the man who suffers himself to be roped in on schemes that are not legitimate that finds his advertising investments unsatisfactory. Get in line with the new idea, and you will be pleased with results.

THE AWAKENING OF CHINA

It was the Little Corsican-Napoleon Bonapartewho admonished the world that China was a sleeping tion, and it was best to let the animal continue its lumbers unbroken. And those words of the famous First Consul have ruly proven prophetic. China was a sleeping lion and wholly unconscious of her own strength until the guns of her neighbor, Japan, in the destruction of Russian 1rmies and Russian war fleets, taught her something of the story of her own great strength. This Chinese lion is not yet fully awake. The ... mists of the night still hang over the slumberous eyes that were so long closed to what was transpiring in the busy world without, but in the fitful breaks that have . ome, the great yellow lion has seen enough to cause profound determination to see and comprehend more. There has been a snarl in the direction of the United States, for the reason that we have seen fit to restrict Chinese immigration. That snarl has been accompanied by a boycott that is making itself felt in many of our leading industries. The yellow beast is sufficiently awake to comprehend the best method of

The hate of foreigners is aflame again from one end of the empire to the other, accompanied by the determination that all shall be driven out. One of these days the pastime of killing missionaries is going to give place to one horrible butchery of all foreigners resident in that country, and the attempt to close the door to all future comers. Blood is going to flow like water, and foreign government will be compelled to take action.

The success that has come to Japan will incite more national feeling and more patriotism in the Chinese breast than anything that has happened in the history of the world. If Japan can do things with its small population, China can do more with its hordes of half-savage heathens. Japan has awakened the sleeping Chinese lion, and one of these days the whole civilized world is going to be startled with the magnitude of the roar that is to come out of the east. And it is a roar that bodes much trouble for human civilization.

Better had Napoleon's ideas prevailed, and the mighty Chinese lion been permitted to rest in unbroken slumber.

A BADGE OF HONOR

The Fort Worth Telegram is pressing the "elder statesman" idea.

"So long as we are prone to believe," says The Telegram, "that the best legislative material we have in the state cannot be induced to serve for the existing stipend and content ourselves with the other kind, just so long may we expect the other kind to continue to answer roll call at Austin."

The point is well taken. If the people want a legislature that will reflect their highest wisdom and their best patriotism, they must bestir themselvesmust make good on the old democratic rule that the office should seek the man and not the man the

Le's make it a badge of honor to serve in the legislature of this great commonwealth.-Waco Times-

The people of the great state of Texas now have the opportunity to make the legislative office just exactly what it should be. There has been sufficient agitation of the elder statesmen idea to educate the people of the state up to the idea of just exactly what is involved, and to bring forth expressions from the right kind of men who are killing to serve as members of the legislature. It is true that certain papers have made light of the movement and pretended to see in it a motive intended to bring to the surface a lot of old political hacks and all around disreputes, but they have signally failed in their purpose. The people know that the movement has been inspired by a genuine desire to better existing conditions by restoring to the legislative office in this state the honor and dignity that legitimately belongs to it.

There is no valid reason why this should not be done. About the only objection raised has been that men of proper caliber will refuse to accept nomination and election on account of the smallness of the legislative salary. Sight is lost of the fact that the men selected must not only be men of unquestioned ability, but patriots as well. They must be men who are willing to make personal sacrifice for the sake of the common weal, and the state is fortunate enough to possess sufficient patriots and men of brains combined to answer the great demand.

Put the intelligence and patriotism of Texas squarely up against this proposition and the people will get what they desire. Membership in the state legislature will also become a real badge of honor.

The governor of New Jersey has granted a respite to Mrs. Tolla. Now, let him get out of the Vermont class by at least giving her a commutation of sentence.

Better sidewalks are very necessary in Fort Worth, and the campaign that has been inaugurated in that direction should enlist the hearty co-operation of every progressive citizen.

If you intend to pay your poll tax it is high time you were getting a move on yourself. Only a few days now remain during which you can qualify yourself to exercise the right of suffrage.

Congressman Sheppard of Texas has introduced a bill in congress to reduce the mileage of members from 20 cents to 6 cents per mile. It is needless to add the Sheppard bill will never become a law.

Three deaths in Fort Worth since the holidays canbe traced directly to the toy pistol, and with this fact staring us in the face, it is clear that the mature hogleg is not the only kind of a shooting fron that should be compelled to go.

But a short time now remains for you to pay your poll tax, and if you defer action much longer you are going to lose your privilege of exercising the right of suffrage. Great diffidence in this respect is reported from all sections of the state.

Reports from South Texas indicate that James S. Hogg is still far from being a well man, and his friends throughout the state are gradually coming to a realization of the fact that he will probably never again be a factor in the politics of the state.

Those big fines imposed on lottery men at San Antonio by a federal judge have already put two Mexican lottery companies out of business. When Uncle Sam strikes a blow in matters of this kind it usually produces a jolt that has a telling effect.

The belief is prevalent in Washington that the sending of additional troops to the Philippines at this time is not on account of impending trouble in China but that there is a hen on in the islands, likely to hatch some kind of diabolical plot against this government on short notice.

Colonel Cecil Lyon has gone on a hasty trip to Washington; and it is surmised that the appointment of a postmaster at San Antonio is the animus for the journey. In the meantime, the esteemed Express wonders why on earth the man from Sherman should be permitted to dictate an Alamo City appointment.

Colonel Abe Harris of Fort Worth, president of the Association of Mexican War Veterans, believes the pensions of Mxeican war veterans will be increased at the present session of congress from $12 to $30 per month.-Sherman Democrat.

And there could be no reasonable objection raised to such procedure. The survivors of the war with Mexico deserve proper recognition at the hands of the government. . . . . METHODIST AMMUNITION

The Rev. Edward Lloyd Jones, a Methodist (Eng.) minister, tells a story of his experience in Fenian days. He was traveling from a Welsh village to Brecon and had with him a strong wooden box filled with heavy theological books. At Shrewsbury the detectives, who were on the lookout for explosive machines and the like, suspected this heavy box and word was sent on to Brecon. When the young minister stepped out of the train he was astonished to find a sergeant and several constables awaiting him. "I think you have a box with you," said the sergeant. "Quite right," said the preacher, who began to scent a joke. Out came the box, and its weight excited fresh suspicion about its contents. "This is your box?" "Yes." "It contains ammunition?" "It does." "Very well, consider yourself in charge. Open the box." The company stood away while the lid was cautiously taken off. When the sergeant found it contained nothing more explosive than Adam Clarke's "Theology" he expressed his indignation freely to the minister. All that he got back was the soft answer: "Why, bless my soul, man, you asked if the box contained ammunition, That is my ammunition. I'm a Methodist parson, and that's what I shoot with."

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

It has suddenly been discovered by the organs of other candidates that Messrs. So far as noted, this demand is confined strictly to the partisans and organs of other candidates .-

In the light of democratic precedent it would be wrong for the gentlemen referred to to resign. In the light of the real proprieties of the occasion, they should turn loose.

PUBLIC OPINION

The New York Tribune, continuing its review of the principal events of the year 1905, says.

In more than one of these things, including the greatest of them, the United States has been directly concerned in a manner which added new lustre to the American name. There are few passages in our history more gratifying than those which tell of our dealings with Japan, from the "opening" of that counto the world to our friendly mediation at Portsmouth, whereby the greatest war of our time was ended and its substantial results were secured. Nor has America in this field last year failed to exercise a beneficent influence in the affairs of Russia, of China and of its. neighbors in our western tropics. Amid the great deeds of the year America has borne a part worthy of a great power, and of a power as great for peace as for war, and as strong in altruism as in selfishness, Whatever the new year and the other years to come may bring, the record of 1905 is assured to us one upon which the world may look with satisfaction as a record of progress in the essentials of humane civilization, and upon which Americans may look with an honest and not vainglorious pride.

Commenting on a recent order to the local police for the enforcement of a certain law to which it had been urged, the Washington Star says: It is an unwise plan to throw the initiative upon the eitizen in these days of supposedly efficient municipal organization. The individual thereby acquires a contempt for administrative authority which operates unwholesomely in the long run. Better far is the attitude of the citizen who, finding the little details of municipal housekeeping scrupulously attended to through the established agencies, feels that government grants him a full return for his taxes. It is not in the city's interest that the individual citizen should be forced for his own safety and comfort continually to protest and complain and demand redress of grievances. Too often the individual becomes under these conditions a chronic kicker and a demoralizing factor in the community, spreading discontent and suspicion.

EXPRESS FRANKS ARE DISCONTINUED

Packages No Longer to Be Sent Free of Charge

Express companies began Monday declining to carry "deadhead" matter for any but employes and officials of railroads over which they operate. Agent Davis of the United States, Agent Belden of the Pacific and Agent White of the American have already received their notices and each states that he will comply with the order to the letter. Agent McGinnis of the Wells-Fargo had not received his notice at noon Monday, and while he has nothing to say except that he will comply with orders, the other agents think that the failure of this notice is due to a delay in getting out the circulars, as the Wells-Fargo is said to be a party to the agreement cutting

Naturally all of the agents are a little reticent in talking of the extent to which the dead franks have been used here, but it is freely admitted that the prevalence of the custom in the larger cities has been something enormous. In St. Louis it is stated that one express office keeps one man busy all the time writing headhead franks and that 1,000 were issued in one day during the recent Christmas off the deadheads.

"Originating in a matter of courtesy, the franking system now has grown to such an extent that patrons of the companies have accepted it as right to which they are entitled," said and employe of one company. "Shippers have come to look upon it much in the nature of a rebate, although so far as the companies are concerned it has never been regarded in that light."

Large patrons are said to have been in the habit of "working" the campanies not only for their own personal interests, but also to the benefit of relatives, friends and their customers. Claim Privilege Is Abused

The "free" list has grown to such proportions, it is declared, that it became difficult for the express officials

An abuse of the "free" list of which the companies complain is the methods pursued by politicians and public officials particularly congressmen. "The express companies would not object to franking a small amount of matter for an official, provided it were in the nature of a courtesy," said a lecal agent, "but when it comes to franking their cows and household furniture they had to draw the line." In Fort Worth the franks are issued chiefly to large shippers and while it just what I cannot say." It is stated that some merchants here | Magnolia and St. Louis avenues. have been accustomed to offering two packages for shipment by express with the understanding that one was to go deadhead, the other to be paid for, and that this offer has frequently been taken up. The agents will not give estimates of the amount of revenue which the express companies have lost here during the year from this cause and prefer to talk of the amount lost elsewhere and to the extent to which it has prevailed among other companies than their own. It has been a constant source of disturbance and loss, however, and has grown to be looked upon here as elsewhere as a nuisance. The agents here seem pleased that this source of annoyance, contentien and loss will hereafter be re-

High temperatures were general throughout the state Sunday, the highest being at Abilene, where a maximum of 76 degrees was recorded. The temperature at Abilene was the highest in the country. Fort Worth stood second, while Corpus Christi, San Antonio and New Orleans also reported temperatures of 70 degrees or over. Quite a little wind storm was also stirred up in this city on Sunday night. The maximum velocity of the wind arrived at 8:30 o'clock, when it was blowing through the streets at the rate of thirty miles an hour. Amarillo also reported a high wind velocity, the recorder there getting up to the fortytwo mile an hour mark. Snow was falling at the time the observations were taken for the weather map in Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota and over the Great Lakes, and also in Kansas. Missouri was having a rain storm in place of the sunny south weather that is prevalent in the vicinity of Fort Worth. Traders Continue to Liquidate-Failures Affect Market Adversely. Close Easy Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Jan. 15 .- Sentiment on the street seemed to favor the bull side of the market, owing to the favorable character of Saturday's bank statement and the optimistic tone of the financial reviews. London cables reported a firm market for Americans. The local opening was steady with a inajority of issues showing fractional gains, while Illinois Central was 11/2 points above Saturday's closing price and St. Paul showed a gain of 1 point. Profit-taking during the initial trading caused some irregularity. The Steel shares were firm, United States Steel in particular. This stock sold during the morning at a net gain of 11/2 points. Colorado Fuel and Iron developed remarkable strength early in the day and advanced steadily, at one time touching 64%, a net gain of 3% points from Saturday's finals. Smelter was also very active, at one time touching 169. Sales to noon were 786,-200 shares. There were several failures reported on the floor during the day. This had a rather depressing influence, with the result that in the afternoon profit-taking became more a feature. But the general list received good support. However, all issues sold off from the early high point. The closing was easy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This preparation is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza and has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world.

It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take.

It not only cures colds and influenza, (grip) but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia.

It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given to a baby as confidently as to an adult.

Lackey's Liver Lifters

Shortly after opening this store, nearly three years ago, we began putting up a capsule to meet the demand for "something good for the liver." This capsule proved to be a winner, and steady demand was created, and yet no name. People merely called for some of those "liver" capsules. A name became necessary, and because of their being so good to give the liver a lift, we call them "Lackey's Liver Lifters." A box a quarter. To be had only at

IDEAS OF JESUS DECLARED WRONG

Rev. D. C. Limbaugh Declares Christ Was No Weakling

"The Teachings of Jesus Rational, Modern and Scientific" was the subject of the discourse by the Rev. D. C. Limbaugh at the services of the Unitarian church held at the Temple, in Taylor street, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The minister read from the Sermon on the Mount the words: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly of heart and you shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." After explaining that he used these words as a text without the theological significance which ecclesiastics had forced into that noble utterance, the minister said: Jesus was an Oriental, with the warm imagination and glowing modes thinker. He spoke in hyperbole—a fact which must never be forgotten in reading His utterances; as when He said, "If a man smite thee on one cheek of expression common to the eastern turn to him the other also," by which He meant, not that we should follow the suggestion literally, but merely that we should not harbor resentment and should cultivate magnanimity and forbearance to those who wrong us. When we remember this trait of the man, then, though we realize fully that He shared our human liability to error of thought and action, we recognize in His parables and beatitudes the grandest body of ethical teaching known to Jesus probed to the root of human human philosophy! conduct and feeling, and required not merely that a man refrain from wrongful outward action, but that his thoughts be right. The man, He declared, who looks upon a woman to lust after her has already committed adultery with her in his heart, and the man who says to his brother "Thou fcol," and hateth him, has already committed murder in his heart. That the heart should be right is the burden of Jesus' teaching. Ever and again, he insists that love to all mankind is the key to the heavenly kingdom-a kingdom not afar off and to be enjoyed at the close of earthly life, but 'at hand" and "within us." He did not proclaim, as do the ancient creeds which misrepresent Him, that there is any need for an Atoning Savior who should shed His blood that mankind might be saved from the wrath of a revengeful God, nor did He teach that the heart of the All-Father could only be reached through the medium of a church or priest. On the contrary, he taught that they who worship God ruly worship Him in spirit and in truth, refraining from loud prayer where they can be seen of men and communing with the Infinite in the secrecy of their own closets: and He emphasizes again and again that those in whom the Lord delights are not the plous ones who say, "Lord, Lord," in the sanctuaries, but those who give the cup of water, who reach forth the helping hand, who feed the hungry and minister to the fatherless. many respects, especially her concern While we are yet groping amid superstition and darkness, Jesus was teaching two thousand years ago the grandly simple faith which shall be the creed of the future-the faith that we are all a part of that universe of which one God is the All-loving Father, and that all the Universal Parent expects of us is that we love each other and be kind and patient and forbearing. No wonder the man was persecuted who dared to teach this simple faith in an age reeking with ecclesiasticism. Were He to return to earth in our own time He could not find among the orthodox churches a single one which was giving forth His teachings in their primitive beauty and simplicity. Well might he say, "Come unto me ye who labor and are heavyladen and learn of me," for He is still thousand years ahead of us. And Jesus had the courage of His convictions. He was not the shrinking, namby-pamby creature taught in the sickly creeds of the older churches. On the contrary, He dared to thundrer forth His Indignation against the 'hypocrites," "liars" and "robbers" in high places who bound burdens upon men's backs grievous to be borne or who turned His Father's temple into "den of thieves." While yet a youth He stood forth boldly in the sacred places telling the doctors of the law that they erred, and even when He realized that death would be the inevitable result of His brave crusade He remained still loyal to the grand religious and ethical ideal which He taught with such fervor and spirit. The dogmas and superstitions of orthodox religion have hidden from view this heroic side of Jesus' character, and only when we tear away the wrappages of theology do we see it in all its strength and grandeur. He was a brave and loving man-a man who could and did feel our temptations, a man who could and did err as we err, because he was a man and not a God! EFFORTS OF JEWS PRAISED BY RECTOR

Rev. Robert Hammond Cotton, in the introduction to his Sunday morning sermon referred to the expressions recently made by Rabbi Joseph Jasin. The subject of his sermon was "Behold an Israelite Indeed in Whom

There Is no Guile." Rev. Dr. Cotton quoted Rabbi Jasin in speaking of the way that a gang of hoodlum boys had been rebuked for snowballing a pedler and stated that he was much pleased with the way that the rebuke had been made and that one of the boys, a ringleader, had had the grace to drop his snowball. He emphasized the fact that the Jews are not to be found among the class of idle tramps who go from door to door, impudently demanding money and speaking of a refusal as a want of charity and then, when it is given, spending it for drink. "The Jew as a rule never begs," said Rev. Dr. Cotton. "The Jewish peo-

e are examples to us Christians in the way in which they raise their families and relieve the poor." Mr. Cotton said further: "The anti-Semitism, which unfortunately seems to be inbred in the classical races is a thing to be deeply deplored; and when we remember that the Russian persecutors of the Jews are professing Christians-and belong to the church whose near affinity, if not identity-with our own was practically recognized during the late peace conference at Portsmouth, we cannot but feel deeply humiliated and ashamed. As the good rabbi says, 'There are many poor Jews in this country who are stinting themselves in every possible way for the sole purpose of enabling as many of their dear ones as possible to escape from a living hell Russia.' If we Christians cannot help in this good work do not let us hinder. Let us give them as warm a welcome as we can when they come over, that they may indeed realize practically that this is verily 'a land of the free and a home of the brave."
