Conditions Pitiable The condition of the survivors is pitiable. They were half frozen and practically unconscious from exposure. The raft was sighted about 12 o'clock. A terrible sea was running. One minute the raft was poised on the top of a wave and the next it would be lost from view in the gulley formed by the mountainous breakers. The eighteen men huddled together on the frail support and battled bravely with a pair of oars to reach the City of Topeka, which, owing to the dangerous coast, could not run any closer to them. Within half a mile from the raft a boat was lowered from the City of Topeka, in charge of Second Mate Burke, who, with much difficulty, succeeded in making fast a line to the raft. The spectators on the City of Topeka watched the struggle of the gallant seamen breathlessly. One minute they were high in the air and the next lost to sight. At last they succeeded bringing the raft to the side of the steamer. The sight of the poor creatures on the raft brought tears to the eyes of the sailors on the vessel. In the stern of the raft sat an old man, his snow-white hair and pallid features creased and torn by the flying spray, but the instinct of life was strong in him and he held on bravely to his place. Three others were lying in a senseless heap in the rear, washed by every swell and retained solely by the bodies of other men who were closely packed.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 25.-In an interview at Bamfield Creek last night, Boatswain McCarthy told the first detailed story of the Valencia wreck. He said the steamer had been going by dead reckening and overran her distance. Soundings had been made three and four times an hour. The steamer struck at 1::45 p. m. Monday night, about midships, the first officer, quartermaster and a seaman engaged in sounding having, ten minutes before,

Instantly the passengers crowded to the rail and overcrowded the boats. During the excitement they seized whatever lines they could lay hands on. The davits broke about the same time the lines were cut and both boats were smashed at the sides of the vessel, capsizing the passengers and crews in them. The crew threw lines out and by means of "Jacob's ladders" succeeded in getting about six of the passengers thrown out of the boats on board again. The boats when lost were mostly fiiled with women and children. A Sad Incident

One very sad incident was witnessed. A lady and gentleman with a little girl tried to get in one boat. The father succeeded and the mother tried. to pass the child, but a wave struck her and washed the child from her arms. The child was lost before her

One life raft was also lowered, but it was dashed to pieces. After this four boats succeeded in getting away from the ship, all full of passengers. This left one boat and two life rafts. The captain, after consulting with the mate, asked Boatswain McCarthy to take charge, which he did, and called for volunteers, and the five sailors who reached shore in safety responded. The captain instructed them to pull along the beach and find a place to get ashore. They landed at 1:10 p m. Tuesday and made Cape Beale light house at 3 p. m. Before making Cape Beale they fried to get back to the vessel by the beach, but could not do so. During the excitement Captain Johnson was very cool and calm and all the crew were at their sta-

JOINT STATEHOOD BILL PASSES IN HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Cannon's Ironclad Machine Crushes Its Way to Victory Over Demoralized Opposition of Scattered Insurgents - Vote of Today But Emphasises Yesterday's Rout

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, 3:30 p. m.—The Hamilton joint statehood bill, known as the omnibus bill, passed the house this afternoon by a vote of 194 to 150, as forecast in these dispatches yesterday afternoon. The crack of Speaker Cannon's whip and the fear of punishment at the hands of the administration again won the victory this afternoon in the passage of the bill which proposes to admit Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one state and Arizona and New Mexico as the other state.

WHEELER HAS LITTLE CHANCE

Fatal Explosion Caused by Cavalry Leader of Two Wars on His Deathbed

ADMINISTER

All His Daughters Surround Dying Hero - Conscious and Brave to Last

Bu Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 25.-Brigadier General Joseph Wheeler, U. S. A. (retired), soldier, statesman and author, is dying at the home of his sister in this city. This morning the physicians said that the end could not long be delayed. The members of the family who remain within easy call of the sick chamber refused to abandon hope, but realize the gravity of the veteran's condition.

Six days ago, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sterling Smith, at No. 176 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, where he has recently lived, General Wheeler contracted a severe cold, which developed into pleurisy and pneumonia. From the first the warrier's 69 years told against him and when yesterday the disease was found to have affected both lungs, it was feared that a fatal termination was inevitable. Late last night Dr. A. J. McCorkle, the attending physician, said that there was practically no hope of recovery At midnight a sinking spell caused the family to be summoned to the bedside. There were in addition to Mrs. Smith, Major Joseph Wheeler Jr., U. S. A., now stationed at West Point, and the four daughters of General Wheeler, Mrs. W. J. Harris and the Misses Anna, Lucille and Carrie

Wheeler. The daughters had come on from the south on Tuesday and yes-Conscious and with his mind apparently active, the general seemed to know that death was approaching, and, too weak to speak, he tried with characteristic fortitude, to nod encouragement to his children. Dr. McCorkle and Dr. Janeway were in constant attendance and held frequent consultations during the night, but they could offer no hope to the stricken family. Later the general sank into a peaceful slumber and at the earnest wish of the physicians, the members of the family who had been summoned to the bedside returned to their rooms. This morning there was no perceptible change. The patient remained apparently comfortable, but death appeared to be a matter of hours only Major Wheeler said that the condition of his father was such that the family was prepared for the worst. Dr. Mc-Corkle, who, with Dr. Janeway, remained close by the patient throughout the night, said that in the case of a young or middle-aged patient, a crisis might be expected at the end of a week. With one of General Wheeler's years, however, the end might come suddenly at any time. The attention of the physicians during the night was given chiefly to the fluctuating temperature of the patient. HAD FIGHTING CHANCE Oxygen Being Administered to Keep Him Alive

The patient was only half conscious at that time, and he believed death might ensue at any moment. Oxygen was administered to the patient this morning for the first time. Dr. McCorkle said shortly before 10 o'clock: "General Wheeler has one chance in twenty of recovery. His condition is very low, and his strength is being kept up on stimulants, but nevertheless he has a fighting chance."

REBELS HAVE PARTLY FAILED

Revolutionists of Ecuador Not Wholly Successful

By Associated Press. GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Jan. 8 .- The first day of the year 1906 was chosen by the followers of General Alfaro, the former president, to raise the standard of revolution. The rebels intended rising in all the republic the same day, but their plans were discovered and partly failed.

The revolution commenced with an attack on the Rio Bamba barracks by Colonel Emilio Maria Teran, with several young Rio Bambanos (natives of Rio Bamba). One of these young men killed the sentinel with a dagger. Some of the soldiers of the Quito battalion, whose barracks were attacked, were in sympathy with the rebels, and a severe fight took place within the barracks, between the rebels and the loyal troops. Many were killed or wounded on both sides.

The rebels occupied Rio Bamba until Jan. 4, when they were attacked by government forces from Quayaquil under Colonel Manuel Andrade. Guaranda, capital of the province of Bolivar, was next occupied by the rebels.

Regulars Join the Rebels As soon as the news of the rebeellion reached Quito, the capital, Colonel Larrea, secretary of war and navy, left with the Pichincha and the Carchi battalions and some pieces of artillery. These battalions later joined the rebels and Colonel Larrea returned to Quito with part of the artillery. The news of these desertions was concealed from the public for four days. Meanwhile the authorities of Guay 1quil sent the Sucre battalien of artillery under Colonel Manuel Andrade to attack the rebels. Besides the artillery the authorities sent to the front

a force of policemen and a number of recruits. These forces under Andrade during the morning of Jan. 4 attacked and defeated the rebels under Teran, who occupied San Juan near Gatazo. War Secretary Larrea, whose troops were expected to take part in this action, was that morning returning to Quite, having joined the rebels with all his troops. Captain Olmedo Alfaro, son of General Don Alfaro, was for some years at the West Point military academy, New York, and afterward at St Cyr, the French military academy. He

Yellow Fever, Too After the fighting at Gatazo or San Juan, the rebels were reinforced by the troops which deserted from Colonei Larrea, and the government troops under Andrade avoided a battle and retreated to Alausi. Besides the calamity of the revolution, yellow fever is spreading here. There were twentytwo cases today at the government

Hardy Citizens of Nolan County Seek to Prove That

TEXAS IS GREAT STATE

As Result of Their Independence the City Thrives With Steady Growth

SWEETWATER, Texas, Jan. 25 .water creek, according to a pioneer in having one was a few years ago, when the Colorado Valley railroad was projected and built for a few miles south of the town. Then the town was incorporated, but although the railroad project died, the town still retains its corporation, and it is said that much of the old railroad grade will be used by the Orient railroad on its course south of the town. Today Sweetwater has from 1,800 to 2,000 inhabitants. The town is situated on an easy slope, at an elevation of over twenty-one hundred feet above sea level, and has excellent natural drainage. Most of the business houses are of brick or stone, nearly all two stories in height and of modern architecture. The town's sidewalks are a source of pride, many being made of concrete. A promising sign of the spirit of progress which prevails is the fact that all the old frame buildings which marked the townsite have either been torn down or are in process of being wrecked to make a place for more modern structures. J. A. J. Bradford, who came to Sweetwater in 1882 and who has lived here ever since, tells an interesting story of the town's progress. "I came here in 1882," said Mr. Bradford, "for A. J. Roe of Fort Worth, by whom I lan then for judicial purposes and work on the court house here was just being commenced. There wasn't a fence in Nolan county and most of the land was leased or owned by cattlemen of that early day. Sweetwater ! was the only postoffice in Nolan or Fisher counties. There wasn't a school nor a church. A frame house at Sweetwater was used both for a school and as a church by all denominations. "The Baptists put up the first church building in 1888, just after the close of the great period of depression after the drouth of 1886. In 1890 a large number of farmers settled in Fisher county and have been there ever since. "What Sweetwater is today is the result of a steady growth. It has grown to its present stage because it has been forced to enlarge to meet the demands of settlers. There is now not a rent house to be had and men who are coming here to live are building their own homes." Has Medicinal Wells The fact that the shops of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad probably will be opened soon in Sweetwater promises an influx of population. The town also expects to have a large summer population hereafter as a result of the development of its medicinal wells, which are already drawing many health seekers. Sweetwater has electric lights, a telephone system, two cotton gins and a flour mill, which is expected to be soon put in operation by a local stock company. It has also a large cotton oil mill owned by a stock company and erected at a cost of $60,000. South of the townsite there is a tannery which turns out an excellent quality of leather. The town is anxious to secure a water works and an ice plant. A number of years ago a large lake was constructed near the townsite and several thousand feet of pipe purchased. Property valuation in the town, however, is only about $500,000 and a bond issue large enough to pay for the cost of constructing a system could not be floated. The city has offered liberal inducements to private capital which will provide a water works system. It

The Sweetwater public school system is the only one between Abilene and El Paso affiliated with the state university. The school building was erected at a cost of $15,000, is of brick and is three stories high. In addition to a course carrying the pupils through eleven grades, there are departments of elocution and music. Citizens of Sweetwater, interested wholly in town property, say that the fact that practically all the country about the townsite is held by ranchmen in large pastures operates against the development of the surrounding territory and that when these ranches are cut into smaller tracts and sold the town will experience a rapid growth. There is a hustling energy among the citizens of Sweetwater greatly similar to that noticeable in Fort Worth. Common laborers are almost impossible to obtain and the result is that many business men are forced to perform menial tasks. Not an idle man is to be seen on the streets and a tramp would have hard work trying to avoid a dozen opportunities for employment.

BIGGEST AMERICAN FARM

Chicagoan Raises 300,000 Bushels of Corn Annually on Place Special to The Telegram.

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, Jan. 25 .-The largest farm in Iowa, and no doubt the largest farm in the world where corn is grown almost exclusively, is the big Adams place of 15,000 acres, near Odebolt. The 105 men who have been employed steadily on this farm for the last year have just finished husking the greatest cornfield in the United States. It is estimated that more than 300,000 bushels of corn were raised there this year. The crop is all cut and husked from the shock. The stocks will be shredded for the fat cattle before spring. Thirty-seven double stalk cutters were used to bind the corn in the field this fall. Mules were employed almost everywhere to do the heavy draft work on the farm and there are over 200 of these faithful animals kept there constantly. Mr. and Mrs. Adams and family are at present at their winter home in Chicago, and the farm is in the hands of its manager.

Sulpician Monastery Divided Over Biblical Criticism

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 .- The Tribune today says:

Rev. Francis Gigot, professor of biblical criticism and research in Dunwoodie Seminary, resigned from the Sulpician order several days ago rather than submit to what he believed a too zealous criticism of his biblical works on the part of his French superiors, and took with him not only the president' of the institution, Rev. James Driscoll, but four other priests, who have been in the order for years. Father Gigot, it appears, is supported by the archbishop of New York. Not only has the archbishop reappointed Dr. Driscoll president of the seminary, but has granted Father Gigot's wish to retire from active duties at the seminary to finish his biblical work. Father Gigot is now chapplain at St. Angela's.

An Acknowledged Leader Father Gigot is acknowledged one of the Catholic church's greatest biblical scholars. His works are the standard authority on the bible and biblical criticism in every Catholic institution of higher learning in the English-speaking world. It is understood that the superior general ordered Father Gigot to eliminate some statements and modify others in the work he is now preparing, and later forbade the printing of the

The order for suppression came through the Rev. Dr. Dyer, rector of St. Mary's Seminary, in Baltimore, one of the largest institutions in charge of the Sulpicians. Dr. Dyer is said to have been the first to find fault with Father Gigot's work.

Those who followed Dr. Driscoll and Father Gigot were the Rev. Richard K. Wakeham, Father Holland and the Rev. Dr. Mahoney. Dr. Driscoll refused last night to speak, except to admit that he and the others named had seceded from the order. The Sulpician order was founded in 1641 by Jean Jacques Oliver to educate. candidates for the priesthood.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 25 .- At th instance of Senator Reed Smoot and George Sutherland, President Roosevelt today appointed William Spry, a former Mormon missionary, as United States marshal for Utah. DATES ARE

ANNOUNCED

Billiard Tournament Begins in April at New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.-The dates and entries are announced today for the international billiard tournament to be played at Madison Square Garden in April. The tournament will begin on Monday, April 9, and will continue afternoons and evenings until finished. Play will be at eighteeninch balk line, two shots in, for the world's championship. The entries to date are Louis Cure, Paris; George Sutton, Chicago and Paris; Willie Hoppe, New York; Jacob Schaefer, Chicago: Albert C. Cutler, Boston; George F. Slosson, New York, and Ora Morningstar, New York and Paris' Maurice Vignaux may decide to enter, but it is considered doubtful.

Ten Days at Least The seven entries which are assured mean that twenty-one games will be played, which will require ten days, without making allowance for the play-off of possible ties. The games will be 500 points and up, and the winner will receive a gold and silver trophy, worth $1,000; emblematic of the world's champtonship at 18.2 billiards. There will, in addition, be cash prizes to the value of $2,500, which will be divided, 50 per cent to the winner and 35 and 15 per cent to the second and third, respectively. Following the tournament here for the championship, all the contestants have agreed to go to Chicago and engage in a second tournament. The players who have entered are the greatest living exponents of billiards, and the tournament promises to be the best ever held in this city.

Slosson vs. Hoppe George F. Slosson is the first in he field, with a challenge to Willie Hoppe, to play for the world's champlonship at 18.2 balk line. This is the title which Hoppe wrested from Maurice Vignaux last week in Paris.

Slosson has deposited $250 as a forfelt, and Hoppe will have to cover the deposit within ten days. The challenge was issued on Jan. 23. This must not be confounded with the 18.2 balk line game at which the international tournament will be played. Hoppe, it s said, will probably accept the chalenge of Slosson, and the plan now is to have the match played in some pubie hall in this city in March. The match will be 500 points up, and will be played in one night. The conditions will be the same of those which governed the Hoppe-Vignaux match. Hoppe sailed for this country yester-

MYSTERY IN CLAY COUNTY DEATH

Further Particulars in Death of G. W. Thornton

Special to The Telegram.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Jan. 25 .- G. W. Thornton, whose body was found on the banks of the river four miles south of Charlie, this county, was 61 years of age. He was born in Virginia and came to Clay county from Kentucky eleven years ago. For four years he resided on the Widow Glassgow farm. He was well liked and so far as known had no particular ene-

Thornton left the house about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, saying that he was going to the timber to kill a mess of squirrels, and that dinner should not be waited for him, saying that he would be home some time in the afternoon.

The family became alarmed at dusk when he did not return, and the oldest son went in search of him. Two hunting dogs that had been with Mr. Thornton came back to the house alone, and this fact gave further alarm to the family. Some neighbors were notified and the dogs piloted the hunting party to the spot where the body was found in a patch of green briars. The entire upper part of the face was shot away. His pipe was lying at his feet. His gun, with both barrels empty, was standing up against a tree a few yards distant, and seemed to be in a position indicating careful placing. The entire affair is wrapped in mystery, some friends believing that Thornton's death was accidental, and others think otherwise. The dead man's clothing was burned entirely off the left arm, breast and neck, indicating that the shot was fired at very close range. How Thornton could have accidentally killed himself is hard to explain in the light of the position of the gun. There is absolutely no reason why

Thornton should have committed suicide, which idea is scouted, anyway.

COLLIER'S TRIAL IS SENSATIONAL

Tells of Mann's Slam at Miss Alice Roosevelt

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 .- When the proceedings were opened again today in the trial of Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly, on the charge of criminal libel, a statement was put into court record in behalf of Mrs.

Clement C. Moore. E. M. Shepard, counsel for the defense, said that Charles S. Wayne, formerly managing editor of Town Topics, had testified that Coleman. ditor of that publication, told him that he had written Mrs. Moore for photographs and autographs of society people, and that she had refused to furnish them. A statement was made as "It is absolutely untrue that Mrs. Moore was a contributor Topics. Coleman sent to her and wrote to her for autographs of various prominent society people for Fads and Fancles, but she refused to give them. Her husband became a subscriber to Fads and Fancies, and summarily dismissed the visitors that called on him." Robert J. Collier, manager and publisher of Collier's Weekly, was the first witness. To Mr. Shepard he said: "In October, 1904, a copy of Town Topics was delivered at my house, and I saw in it an article referring to Miss Alice Roosevelt only by her first name. When I went down to the office I called Hapgood's attention to that article, and I told him I thought it the vilest article ever printed in any newspaper and suggested he write something about it

"He did, and so an editorial headed

'The Most Degraded Paper in the United States' appeared. Hapgood, in this article, however, did not name the paper. But when I read the proof I wrote in the name 'Town Topics,' telling Hapgood at the same time that my action would doubtless involve us in

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty Nearly everybody knows that charcoal

is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic It absorbs the injurious gases which cellect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Swart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antisepties in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possble harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. DRY WEATHER MAP ISSUED

Less Than Inch of Rainfall in Entire Country

The weather map this morning shows that there is little weather change. The map from a view of prominent features, is almost entirely bare. The one prominent feature, however, is the fact that there is but one rain marked on it, and that only of .08 of an inch, at Jacksonville. It is a rare day that the map issued at this city does not include at least one place with Elroy, lot 12, block A, Bellevue Hill rain. The amount for the map Thursday is one of the smallest that has been recorded for some time.

Warmer weather is promised for this city tonight and Friday. The thermometerat 7 o'clock Thursday morning stood at 36 degrees, in place of the 25 degrees of Wednesday morning. The minimum temperature for the past three maps has always occurred at or hear the hour of observation at o'clock in the morning, and has shown an increase each day. Tuesday it was 17 degrees, Wednesday, 25 degrees, and Thursday morning 36 degrees. Throughout the territory covered by the Fort Worth and Denver road, as reported at the general offices this morning, was fair and clear. temperature all through the Panhandle was about freezing this morning at

Official statement of conditions as reported in the weather bureau map

"A low barometer area is central over Florida, causing rain from Jacksonville to Wilmington. "The extreme southwest and northwest have minor 'low' areas, but without energy of note. The remainder of the country is dominated by high barometer conditions, one area central over the lake regions, another over Wyoming, causing fair cold weather. "The freezing line extends to Fort Smith and El Paso as a southern boundary. Huron, S. D., reports the

GOULDS TO SPEND MONEY IN TEXAS

President of Cotton Belt Makes Announcement

Edwin Gould, president of the St. Louis Southwestern Railroad Company, arrived in Fort Worth at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, accompanied by a party of officials. The party was met at the station here by a number of railroad men and prominent citizens.

Mr. Gould was interviewed by a Telegram reporter shortly after his arrival, and he gave out information which will be good news to Texas. "We intend spending a very large sum of money in Texas," said Mr. Gould, "and these expenditures will cover a period of years. The work now in progress between Mt. Pleasant and Texarkana will be extended to Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco and the Lufkin branch. This work consists of cutting away grades, improving the road beds and placing heavy steel rails wherever there are now light ones. Have Confidence in Future "We intend also to purchase additional passenger equipment, and we have arranged to build additional freight equipment. The freight cars will be built at Pine Bluff, Ark. I have been very much pleased with the evidences of prosperity which I have observed in Texas during my visit, and the fact that the company proposes to expend a large sum of ey here indicates our confidence of the future development of Texas." When asked if his present visit had to do with the building of an extension of the road from Gatesville to Hamilton, Mr. Gould said that he did not know yet what would be done about that.

"My present visit," said Mr. Gould, 'is simply one of my regular business trips over the road for the purpose of ascertaining what has been done and what should be done that has not yet been accomplished, in the way of improving the conditions of the property of the company." Asked if there was to be a conference in Waco relative to the proposed extension, Mr. Gould said that he did not know of such a conference, but that he would visit Waco Thursday night and remain there during the night, leaving Friday morning for Galveston. Mr. Gould said that he desired to see the work of improvement being done at Galveston in the way of raising the grade of the city. Whether the people of Galveston may not be able to connect his visit with a rail-

Told Awful Tales The survivers told terrible tales of the wreck of the Valencia. When they left the ship there were about ninety people on board, most of them clinging to the rigging. Men, women and children were being swept overboard by every sea. As soon as the men got aboard, Dr. Whiting assisted by two nurses and two members of the crew, administered imulants and put them to bed. After picking up the raft, the steamer went in search of another raft, which the rescued men said had left the ship earlier in the day. The vessel ran fully twenty miles on the other side, looking for the raft, but no sign of it was to be seen.

NEWS FROM THE ALPINE COUNTRY

Brewster County People Farm on Big Scale

ALPINE, Texas, Jan. 25.-Quite a umber of Brewster county people are preparing to farm this year on quite an extensive scale. We have the finest soil in west Texas and water is quite shallow, besides the numerous canyons afford excellent reservoirs by damming, and climatic conditions seem to have changed, so there seems to be no reason why farming as well as stock raising cannot be done in this part of the world. Of course, this only applies to the valley lands, as nothing on earth could be produced on the steep poulder-covered mountains. The pea vine and weeds of all kinds are beginning to appear since the heavy snow ten days ago. While it is conceded that the pea vine puts tallow on an animal, it also caused the death of a good many last year, as it seems to affect them very much like alfalfa when eaten green—that is, they bloat and die.

welfare of the passenger business in Sentence of Tom Young Is Commended

SAYS THE COURT

GEORGETOWN, Texas, Jan. 25 .-The news from Dallas today that the court of criminal appeals had affirmed the death penalty given to Tom Young, alias Jack Wade, of Travis county, for the brutal murder of the orphan girl, Lena Reece, near Florence, last May, was generally commended here. There is no more atrocious crime on the pages of the history of the state than the details of the continual beatings administered to the girl by Tom Young, the pardoned state convict.

Five Hundred Bruises When the dying girl was found by officers there were no less than 500 bruises found on her body made by chains, sticks, hoe handles and whips. When Tom Young was given the death penalty at the July term, the crowd cheered, and Young only smiled, telling his weeping relatives that he would beat the case. Pardoned by Sayers

Young served nearly fifteen years in the penitentiary from Travis county for horse theft and other crimes, and was pardoned by Governor Sayer.s He went to Waco and got Lena Reece, and was going back to Austin when the murder and outrage took place at Florence, Williamson county. District court is now in session, and Young's execution is not far off.

WHY RAILWAYS ISSUE PASSES

question in the columns of the press all over the country, as a result of the failure of the various lines of railway to dig up the customary number of passes this year. Those politicians and members of the state legislature who have been denied the soothing touch of the seductive and magical bit of pasteboard are beginning to talk just a little of the ingratitude of the railways and the sordid nature exhibited by railway managers generally. And there will later be more talk of recrimination and reprisals, through the medium of adverse state, county and municipal legislation, but the railway people should not pay one bit of attention to the frothings of the various politicians. The people, News-Tribune's platform, patronize home industry.not the politicians, control this country of ours, and Austin News-Tribune. the people want the contaminating and debasing influence of the free pass removed from the immediate vicinity of their public servants. The great railway managers of the country are aware of this fact, and It serves to explain the existing dearth of annual passes. In the current issue of the Railway Age, the general manager of one of the great southwestern lines thus expresses himself on the free pass question:

tinuing the issuance of passes is a move in the right | not believe the people demand him to close his mouth direction, and similar action should be taken by all on public questions because he is a judge. The roads in the United States whenever the time is pro- | judge is right. We had one lock-jawed candidate and pittous to do it. The leaven is working.

Nothing is more erroneous than the general impression that the chief reason why railroads give passes is to get favors; on the contrary, to state it plainly, the chief reason why railroads issue passes is to be let alone. An attempt to discontinue the issuance of passes, in many of the states, at the present time, would be followed by the introduction of obnoxious bills in the state legislatures and harassing ordinances, manager makes the request for the reason, as he says, in many municipalities. Less talk and more action about a "square deal" would hasten this condition.

The Telegram thinks the time has come when there should be unity of action on the part of the railways and the people on the free pass question. The railways are showing their desire to meet the demand that comes up from the people for the abrogation of free passes by discontinuing the custom, and the people should show their appreciation of the action | Index. taken by extending the proper protection. As the railways are making an effort to abrogate free passes, the people should reciprocate by eliminating the pass seeking politician. The men who attempt to push through | development of her great live stock industry. And any form of retaliation against the railways are working as much against the people as against the railways. The railway managers are showing their desire to protect the people and themselves by cutting out the passes, and that removes one of the greatest impediments that has stood in the path of attempted

When the people have tried to handle this free pass question in the past it has been in the face of almost great opening in Texas for the practice of his proinsurmountable obstacles. The politicians were too fession should take due warning. Texas has passed eager to receive and the railways too anxious to give. That is the combination that has prevented the will of the people from being carried out in the past, and now that the railways have changed front in the matter, it is up to the people to see that they are protected in what they are trying to do. With a clear cut understanding in regard to the matter there can be no doubt as to the result. The free pass is rapidly going out of business.

The reason advanced by the railways for the issuance of passes is very humiliating when considered in the light of true manhood and the proper citizenship.

They say they have been compelled to submit to this iniquitous imposition in order to be let alone. In other words, they have issued passes as a means of purchasing immunity from obnoxious and vicious legislation, and have submitted to this bleeding process from the belief that they were not in position to make a fight for their rights. This is a humiliating statement, and the conditions complained of should be no longer tolerated in the state of Texas. Let the people of this state assure the railways that if they are sincere and will take care of the free pass problem, then the people will be equally as kind and undertake to take the necessary care of the politicians.

Uneasy lies the postoffice head that has been decorated with a Green or Hawley crown.

More sidewalks and better sidewalks is the popular demand, and the citizen who will not voluntarily fall into line with this progressive idea should be com-

Joint statehood is the latest news that comes from Washington, and while it will be disappointing to a large number of people who wanted single statehood for each of the four territories, it must be conceded that as an abstract proposition it beats no statehood at all.

It is said the prohibitionists in Texas are just on the verge of a big row among themselves over the question as to whom they will unitedly support for governor. And the fact that they are beginning to row over the proposition already serves to show how improbable unanimous indorsement really is in the interest of any candidate.

All over Texas the festive candidate is now beginling to make hay, and the columns of the country press are beginning to groan under the burden of the usual announcements. DEPEW, "VANDERBILT'S MAN" IN THE SENATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.-The art of a national legislator most gratefully appreciated by the financial feudalism which he may represent at Washington is that of conducting himself so that he does not make a mess of it. The Honorable Chauncey Mitchell

Depew, LL. D., junior senator from New York, in his six years' service in the higher branch of the national legislative body, had phenomenal success, until recently, in avoiding "messes." "Laugh and the world laughs with

"Vanderbilt's Man"

The whole country knows whose particular man he is in the senate. Depew has made no mystery of it in the way many of his colleagues in their cases attempt to do. The legislature that sent him to Washington knew that he was Vanderbilt's man. Vanderbilt's man, by the very nature of things, is Morgan's man and Harriman's man and Rockefeller's manindeed the man of the royal house of money lords.

Senator Depew's New York business address is the office of the New York Central railroad company. It has been a grand joke.

has always been more the agent or attorney for the money power than a financial magnate himself.

In his senatorial history he has never stood for any measure which has had for its purpose the advancement of the conditions of the many as against the advancement to greater gains of the few. His official record is a sickening disappointment. Pensions? Yes, many of them. Special appropriations? Yes, many. Any great general measures to help us all on our way? NO!

Not a Patrick Henry

They tell of Depew's first appearance as an orator in the senate. It was a lively year. The law grinding machinery was clogged with business. Depew was scheduled to make his first speech. At last, said Washington, the accomplished after dinner wit is to speak seriously. The gallery was filled. Women came in droves. Every senator was at his desk. The press gallery was crowded. Depew spoke. He read statistics and followed with generalities. He said little. From that day he has never had what they call a full gal-

Depew could not be excelled for "defensive purposes." Even with a knowledge of his real mission in Washington, newspaper men have always been inclined to spare him. It was human for the reporters to do so. He never "turned them down." It seems mean, even now, to question the motives of the man who with that cheery smile would

Everyone knows how Depew, as a young lawyer, became the confident of Commodore Vanderbilt and how his position continued in the Vanderbilt family and descended to the sons of that famous house. The protection of inherited wealth has been Depew's trade and business in life.

In the equitable Depew was James, Hazen Hyde's friend. He recommended that Hyde's salary be increased to $100,000. Depew was likewise Harriman's friend. The smiling senator has never clearly shown what extraordinary service he gave to the Equitable that he should receive a retainer of $20,000 a year.

THE BEAUTY OF TIDINESS

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, SENATOR FROM NEW YORK.

Depew has a fine residence at 27 West Fifty-fourth street, the scene of many royal entertainments. While in New York his time is mainly spent at the Grand Central offices where, until recently, when he was shorn of this power, he dispensed free railroad passes among his friends and the huma cogs of the great outside wheel. He has never released his active control of the great variety of interests which demand his attention. He is rated as a multi-millionaire.

The question is: Does he represent 80,000,000 Americans, or his seventythree corporations?

Torncally Announces Candidacy for Congress

Hon. James W. Swayne makes formal announcement of his candidacy for congress in this issue of The Telegram, subject to the action of the democratic primaries of the Twelfth congressional district, and this announcement will cause much pleasure to the large number of his friends throughout the district who have been so anxious that he should make this announcement and enter the race. Strong solicitations from every portion of the district have been pouring in upon Senator Swayne for some time, and after giving the matter mature consideration, he has yielded to the importunities, and is now a full-fledged candidate. Jim Swayne needs no introduction to the readers of The Telegram. His record in county and state politics is one that can be well pointed to with pride, for he has been faithful to every trust, and holds a warm place in the affections of his people. As county attorney, his career was one that won unqualified admiration, and he gave Tarrant county an administration of the county attorney's office that has never been surpassed in the annals of the county. As a member of the lower house of the state legislature his work was brilliant and always in the interest of the people, and when raised to the dignity of a state senator he proved himself equal to the demands of the situation and became the administration leader in that branch of the state legislature.

During the Hogg administration Senator Swayne was a conspicuous figure, being regarded as the ablest lieutenant of the Storm-Tossed One in the field, ever ready to champion the cause of the people and fight their battles to the very last ditch. It is a generally conceded proposition that the fight made by Swayne for the Hogg policies had much to do with their final adoption and the engrafting of some very wholesome legislation upon the statute books of the state. That Swayne will be a very strong man in the race is already an established fact, and his friends-looking back at his winning record in the past, are confident he will land the nomination. Should he be made the - choice of the people there can be no questioning the fact that the Twelfth district will be ably and suitably represented. Speaking of his candidacy, the Sulphur Springs Democrat says: "Hon James W. Swayne of Fort Worth is a candidate for congress from that district, and the Democrat hopes he will be elected. He is one of the Old Guard of Texas democracy, has been one of the staunchest friends of Fort Worth and his section Texas that ever lived within its borders, and besides all that, he is a man of pre-eminent ability and able to cope with the ablest representatives in the halls of congress. The trustees of the New York State Hospital for Incipier Pulmonary Tuberculosis in the Adirondacks have issued their completed statistics for the first year, which is as follows: There were admitted 207 patients, more than half of whom were incipients. There were no deaths. Of the sos patients discharged, fifty-two were apparently recovered. Twenty-six arrested cases are reported. Sixteen improved, while eleven left without any improvement. The treatment consists mainly of outdoor air, wholesome food and rest. Patients have three full meals and two or three luncheons a day, and 90 of the 105 gained an average of 10.57 pounds each. This is certainly most encouraging and shows that incipient consumptives at least can be cured. There is another treatment perhaps almost as good. Stay home, use cold baths in the morning, get as

Man Prevents the Intention of Provi-

On the contrary, the joys of each day should make us look forward with pleasant anticipations to the coming of the next; without health this is im-

We have, to an extent, the power to command that health. A lady writing from Meadville, Pa, savs that for 20 years she was a great sufferer from headaches (which were frequent, and confined her to her bed for 24 hours at a time) and kidney troubles: that she employed numerous physicians from time to time and took much medicine, but got no heip; that one doctor said her spine was afflicted, another that her sufferings came from female weakness, a third that her eyes brought it all on her, etc., etc., but that when the truth was reached it was found that her coffeedrinking habit was alone responsiblethat she was 'cofee poisoned.' So the good Samaritan told her about Postum Food Coffee and she determined to quit using the old kind and see what the new would do for her. She consigned the medicine bottles to the trash barrel along with the coffee canister and began to drink Postum. "At first I did not like it," she says, "but when I learned how to prepare it I found it a most agreeable and refreshing beverage. I soon began to Crowley, secretary; Miss Julia Chrisfeel better, the headache grew less and less frequent and severe, my sleep became natural and restful, and now, after two years' use all my troubles have disappeared, including the affection of the kidneys, of which I was at one time most apprehensive.

Tentative Admission in Roosevelt Club Circular

A letter has been sent out to members of the Roosevelt Central Republican Club, urging the members to pay their poll taxes, in view of the fact that there will probably be republican state and county tickets in the field. No reference is made as to a city republican ticket for the spring election, and the absence of it is declared to show that the republicans will not be in the field this time.

A prominent republican stated to a Telegram reporter this morning that he was sure there would be no city ticket, as almost all of the republicans had voted at the democratic primaries and were therefore pledged to support the primary candidate. No official action has been taken on the matter as yet, and it is probable that none will be The republican club is planning to hold a banquet or entertainment of every republican especially should be ready for any emergency. "The time has come when republicans should stand by their guns as an organization.

WHY CARPENTERS ASK AN ADVANCE

Standard of Living Has Been Improved

"Economic conditions in Texas have changed greatly during the past five years; this change has greatly affected the standard of living of the laboring man," is the way members of the Carpenters' Union sum up the causes leading to an increase in wages that is to be asked April 1. "Three years ago the carpenters of Fort Worth were getting the same daily wages, $3, they are receiving today, said a prominent member of the organization. "The cost of living three years ago was at least fifty per cent less than it is today. This increased cost of living has forced us to ask for an increase in wages."

Though no formal scale can be secured, it is understood that the increase asked is one of 71/2 cents an hour, or 60 cents a day, making $3.60 per day instead of the present wage of $3. Carpenters estimate that they cannot average more than two-thirds time on account of weather and other conditions. This would make their average pay amount to about $2 per day for

There are ten of these wonderful gowns, made for the most part in the empress or princess styles, as the most becoming to the youthful bride, and lending themselves the more readily to the rich Oriental weaves, of which nearly all of the trousseau is made. For these gowns Miss Roosevelt has chosen the rare fabrics of China and Japan, gifts from the dowager empress, from the mikado and Japanese princes, not to speak of the filmy materials of the Philippines, embroidered inens from Canton and rare brocades. Then there are European silks of exquisite design and texture.

The bridal gown is of fine satin, woven in Paterson, N. J., secretly, a pattern that has been destroyed to prevent its being duplicated. Of Pure Lily White

The material combines the stiffness and flexible quality so long striven for by weavers of satin. It is of a pure lily white, without a suggestion of cream or ivory tinting. The luster can only be likened to that produced by moonlight shining upon new snow. There are twenty-six yards of material in this wedding gown, over which will fall a full court train to consist of a like number of yards of brocaded satin in a graceful lily design, exquisite in texture, and one of the many sumptuous pieces of brocaded and embroidered satin presented to chided me for my deceit.

"Ah! mademoiselle," I muttered. "If is true that I deceived him, but when I did so I was penniless and starving. I pray you from my soul that you will not bid me leave you, nor inform Sir William Dagmar of my sin." "You do not wish to go?"

"Mademoiselle!" I cried, "not though it were to Paradise assured!" She blushed deeply, nevertheless her eyes hardened and she frowned. She was doubtless thinking—
"He has had his opportunity. His fate henceforth must be upon his own head. I wash my hands of it!" I dreamed she was offended at my too ardent gaze. I lowered by eyes at once in sad humility. "Stay, then!" she said, and her voice assumed a tone of witching tender-I looked up in quick delight to meet a dazzling smile. With such a smile Judith lured Holofernes to destruction, But it needed not that with me, I was destroyed already.

COSTER GIRL HERE BY WHIM

Miss Lily Seville Tells Why She Came

Three months ago a young woman singing in London music halls did not know, except in a general way, that there was such a state as Texas, and knew nothing at all of such a place as Fort Worth. Today she is singing here and getting encores each time she sings. And it was all because of a feminine

Miss Lily Seville is the name she uses for stage purposes, and we may as well let it go at that. She chose the name and therefore it ought to be a better one than was given her at a time when she had nothing to do with the choice. She is a handsome blonde -and "handsome" in this case means more than it usually means, as attendants at The Majestic theater will athletic build that looks English-the kind that DuMaurier made famous; and she has the big white teeth that DuMaurier found and specified so charmingly as an attribute of the imnortal Trilby.

Miss Seville has a "coster" song specialty. The London "coster" is the British synonym for the Bowery tough. Presentation on the stage of such a part depends for its success on the capability of the actor. Miss Seville is capable. And those who understand that there is such a peculiar type as the "coster" appreclate her

"I didn't know I was coming to the United States," said Miss Seville, "until I was almost here. I had a disagreement in London-really it isn't anbody's business what it was about or with whom it was, and I'll not say any more than it was family troublethe next thing I knew I was on a teamer bound for New York. Soon fter I got there I was engaged by the nterstate Amusement Company, and I have been with them ever since. I have enough other engagements to keep me in America until April, and then I expect to go back to London. The disagreement? O, well-you know isagreements sometimes come to an

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Political affairs hold the boards at the big county building at the head of Main street, and impromptu caucuses are held there every day in the week and almost every hour in the day. Court business is rather slack, and the heads of departments, except in the collector's office, where the rush to pay poll taxes still continues, have a good chance and plenty of time to get out in the corridors and brush up against the people from the country precincts. And right now it is the country vote for which the candidates are casting a line. If there is an office in the county building that does not hold a man who is a candidate for a county office, no placard to that effect has been hung on the door, and all who are candidates are working like beavers among the sovereigns who will settle aspirations in the July primaries. Nobody neglects business to talk politics, but it looks as if new business is adjusting itself to suit political conditions, and is not coming in as rapidly as it did a short time ago. In the county clerk's office business is still on the rush, it is true; but in the district clerk's office, the two justices' offices and other offices there is a decided lull. But few new suits are filed and from the docket barometers it would appear that the people of the county are on their good behavior in order to give the officers a chance to put in a few good licks. The political temperature at the court house is gradually rising, and it will not be long until it is at fever

SYSTEM OFFICES TO BE REDUCED

Rock Island-Frisco Begins an Economy Plan

St. Louis advices are to the effect that Vice President Biddle of the Rock Island-Frisco lines, who recently succeeded A. S. Dodge, has commenced the work of reorganization of the freight and passenger traffic departments of the two systems, with the plan of consolidation. Many changes are expected to be announced during the next few months.

It is understood that the agent of neither system is to have precedence over the other. In some cases the Frisco official will be given joint duties and others the Rock Island official will be succeeded. The movement is an economical one, and it will be the idea to reduce the force as much as is consistent with effective service.

New Line Projected Special to The Telegram, CLEBURNE, Texas, Jan. 25 .- Cleburne has received a proposition from D. Alexander Kelly of Waco, in which it is proposed to give Cleburne a railway terminal. The new road projected will extend east from Cleburne and pass through a hitherto undeveloped country. The writer asks $25,000 as a bonus from Cleburne and depot and terminal facilities. The proposed line is to go through Cleburne, Glen Rose, Stephenville, Dublin and Hamilton and the southern outlet, it is stated, will be on the Gulf. Mr. Kelly has made his proposition through the medium of the Morning Review and states that if the people of Cleburne want the road he will give further details.

Pay Car Here The Texas and Pacific pay car that went east from Fort Worth Jan. 15 to pay December salaries has completed e circuit to New Orleans and back, arriving in Fort Worth Wednesday afternoon. From this place it starts west Thursday and will finish up paying to El Paso this week.

Slowest Train Found George Irade, writing in the French Journal Les Sports, claims that after a long and conscientious search he has run to earth the slowest ordinary passenger train in the world. This recordholder is chronicled on page 773 of the Guide Chaix and performs in Spain, a country in which twelve miles an hour is by no means an uncommon rate of speed on the railway between Soto Del Rey and Ciano Santa Ana. This line is thirteen and three-quarters miles long and it has one station en route, viz. Sama, which is twelve miles from Soto Del Rey and one and three-quarters miles from Ciano Santa Ana. Leaving the last named place at 6:25 a. m., the train reaches Sama at 6:55 and Soto Del Rey at 8:20. Thus the average rate of speed of the train is under seven miles an hour, while from Ciano Santa Ana to Sama the speed is only three and three-quarters miles

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25.-The United States leads the world both in the present mileage and the recent growth of its railways. This is shown a report on "The Transportation Routes and Systems of the World," issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. JENNINGS AVENUE WANTS PAVING

Residents Declare It Gateway to South Side

Another street on the south side seeking improvement in the line of pavement is Jennings avenue. Jennings avenue is one of the most important streets in that part of the city and probably has more travel upon it than any other street on the south side, with the possible exception of South Main street, on account of the fact that it leads to the viaduct. Many travelers and teams are first headed for South Jennings avenue, and then as soon as the street is reached they continue on it until after the viaduct is crossed.

South Jennings avenue residents declare it is the gateway of the south side, and a paved street there would be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number of people than any street on the south side could give. The steps taken for the paving of the street have not been definite yet, as many citizens wish to know just what is to become of the improvement district plan. They have stated that if the plan can be worked they would go ahead with it sooner than with any Judge W. R. Booth stated at the meeting of the committee with the mayor last week that if the mayor's suggestion of appropriating $10,000 for the building of crosswalks is adopted by the city council, he would promise two miles of continuous sidewalks on South Jennings avenue within four

Market Meets with Further Liquidation-General List Weakens-B. R. T. Notable Exception

Special to The Telegram NEW YORK, Jan. 25 .- There was further liquidation during the early trading and the market exhibited a weak undertone. There were some strong spots noted, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Colorado Fuel and Iron being the most noticeable. Both of these issues advanced over a point in the initial trading. Lawyers Are Unable to Agree as to the Case

Bu Associated Press. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 25 .- Efforts of lawyers in the packers' cases to reach an agreement upon the facts in the cases were fruitless up to noon today, but the conference is still in progress. At one time this morning the attorneys filed into the court and informed Judge Humphrey that it would be impossible for them to come to an agreement. The court advised them to make another effort and they agreed to do this. The packers base their claim for immunity from prosecution on the fact that they were compelled by Commissioner Garfield to testify against them-

Attorneys for the packers offered today to agree that no promise of immunity had ever been made to them by Commissioner Garfield and that such promise, if made, could not have had any bearing on the case. This offer was declined by the government

Wheat Prices Make Partial Recovery. Corn Weak-Oats Shade Lower. Provisions Close Higher

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 25.—The wheat market was rather nervous and unsettled today. As a result of the continuous decline of the past two days there was some liquidation of short holdings during the initial trading and prices worked up to a net gain of 4c to %c. The advance brought on renewed selling and the market weakened, prices breaking %c to %c from the earlier high point. A recovery was effected in the afternoon trading and closing prices were at a net gain of Corn Corn was fairly active and prices were weaker under selling pressure. The close showed a net loss of 1/4 c.

Oats Oats were affected by the weakness of wheat and corn and under a moderate volume of selling prices declined %c to 1/2c, but final figures showed a net loss of only 1/8c

Provisions Provisions showed further weakness today. The trading was only fair in volume and mostly for short account. Rather short buying in the final trading caused a reaction from the low point and closing prices were unchanged to 7c higher.

DEMOCRATS NOT BOUGHT Lloyd of Missouri Says Absent Mem-

By Associated Press WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25 .-With twenty members in their places, the house at 11 o'clock today took up its special order on statehood. The debate is to run until 3 o'clock, when the vote on the bill will be taken. As an echo of yesterday's battle, Mr. Lloyd (Mo.), democratic "whip," made an explanation regarding the thirteen democrats who were absent when the vote was taken on the statehood rules. "A report is current," he said, "to the effect that some democrats got away without voting yesterday and did so corruptly." He then proceeded to give the cause of the absence of the members in question. Three reasons, "business," "politics" and "sickness," covered all cases. Those absent included Bell (Ga.). Broussard (La.), Byrd (Miss.), Cochran (N. Y.), Hearst (N. Y.), Hill (Miss.). Little (Ark.), McDermott (N. J.), Patterson (Tenn.), Southall (Va.), Sullivan (N. Y.), Vanduser (Nev.) and Shot His Wife and Paramour.

Special to The Telegram. GAINESVILLE, Ga., Jan. 25 .- For the first time in the history of Hall county a husband has been found guilty of murder for avenging his honor. That record was made when the jury convicted Henry O'Shields on the charge of killing his wife and wounding Milton Emmett.

O'Shields was a prominent merchant here, and Emmett was his head clerk. Emmett boarded with O'Shields, who had a young and handsome wife. O'Shields suspected his wife and Emmett. Two months ago he said he was going to Atlanta for two days on business. At 12 o'clock that night shots were heard in O'Shield's home, and when neighbors rushed in they found Mrs. O'Shields dead from a bullet wound and Emmett badly wounded. O'Shields was standing by with a pistol. He claimed he had returned unexpectedly and found his wife and Emmett together and shot them.

The Cudahy Packing Company of Kansas City was on the market today for smooth hogs weighing around 200 pounds. The Cudahy buyer captured séveral bunches, and it was noticeable that as soon as he began bidding the market took on a stronger tone. The feature of the steer trade on yesterday's market was the large run of South Texas grassers. J. J. Welder of Sinton had five loads that he sold to Cudahy of Kansas City at $3.85, they averaging 1,078, and W. H. Ford of Aquilares disposed of eleven cars,

253 head, to a local packer at the same figure. These steers averaged slightly less than the others-1,059. J. J. Stevens of Floresville sold a load of very heavy hogs on yesterday's market. They numbered fifty-seven, averaged 270 pounds, and brought $5.50. Mr. Stevens is feeding 600 head of steers at Floresville on corn, and these hogs have been following the cattle. Tarrant county shippers had some good hogs on the market yesterday. J. M. Bock of Arlington, who always sends good hogs to market, sold eighty-three of 221 pounds average, at $5.50, and the Mansfield Elevator Company sold 104 hogs averaging 156 pounds at $5.35, while Starr & Wall of Grapevine marketed fifty-six of 212

Livestock Locals

Conditions Out West S. F. Lagow, whose ranch interests are in Nolan county, two miles southwest of Roscoe, which town is his postoffice, was here Tuesday, and was pleased to talk of the good things that his country can furnish at this time for stock farmers and cowmen.

"As to the range," Mr. Lagow said, 'you know that Nolan county has about as much as any other county out west, and it is excellent. Grass has not been better for years than it is now and, while the tops are brown, the under parts are green and afford good feed for stock. Our grass is mostly of the mesquite variety, as it has about crowded out all sage grass, as is its customary habit. With good grass you know what cattle will be at this time of year when the winter has been mild-in good flesh and almost fit for market. "I am breeding Red Polled Durham cattle, and find them most excellent stock. I got my start from Peter Roper, at Cedar Hill, Dallas county, buying forty-two head from him and moving them to Nolan county. I have now 400 head on my ranch of eight sections, and sell as calves. My bulls are readily disposed of in our country at $20 a head when weaned. These cattle are good feeders and feed close together, like a herd of sheep.

"My herd is all first-class and registered stock; they're good rustlers, and make good beef; although I don't have many in the steer class. "Roscoe is located on the Texas and Pacific, ten miles west of Sweetwater, on a level praire that extends south about twelve miles and north to the neighborhood of Snyder, Scurry county, and every foot of it is not only good grass lands, but excellent farming lands also. I have 5,120 acres in my place; 150 acres in cultivation, on which I raise roughness for my cattle. I do not plant any corn or cotton, but do plant lots of Kaffir corn and milo maize, which is the best feed for stock and yields tremendous crops. I cut and tie in bundles; stack and then haul to feeding ground on the range. I do not plant cotton, because it takes so much time to cultivate and harvest. I can buy the seed, meal and hulls cheaper than I can raise them. "There are a good many stockmen following my example, who are raising the Red Polled cattle. Lands in the rough can be bought on an average now for from $8 to $12 per acre, and most of the big ranches west of us are being cut up, as it does not pay to raise cattle exclusively upon such high-priced land. "My father moved to Houston county from Illinois in 1845, and I was born there in 1867. My parents moved to Dallas county when I was 10 years old, and I have lived out west for the past fifteen years. We have plenty of water, which is secured by boring wells to the depth of about 150 feet, and our soil, having a clay foundation, makes

"Roscoe is improving very rapidly. and we are proud of our country and its people. I have a car of bulls and cows on the market, and am feeding more on cotton seed cake and hulls."

Breeding Red Polls
B. W. Landrum of the firm of Landrum & Alter of Williamson county, down is that carried out in a western was in Fort Worth Tuesday, and on the market. The firm are breeders and feeders and have their headquarters at Georgetown. "My ranch is nine miles west of Georgetown," said Mr. Landrum, "and besides having a range of good mesquite grass, I have ample protection for my stock in the post oak and black jack thickets that prevail in the western part of Williamson county. I am Manufacturers prefer not to buy, all raising Red Poll cattle, and find them the equal, if not better than any other kind. Cattle are scarce with us and there are not many feeders to be had. Land is worth, that is ranch lands. from $5 to $10, and farm lands from $40 to $80, and these high priced lands are being bought up by Swedes and Bohemians, who are old settlers, and who are getting control of the whole county. The Swede is a good citizen. and readily adjusts himself and his family to the American ways. One reason these people succeed is that where any of them are straight the others all help him, and this is one thing that Americans never do. "All the prairie granches east of Georgetown are farms now except an isolated case here and there. Stock farming is coming into fashion. 1 have 200 acres in cultivation and raise feed for my stock. I do not think that we have had quite as much rain as you have, but we have had enough and to spare. "I was born in Polk county, Texas, but left when I was a small boy, and have no very pleasant recollections of that part of the state, as I never got rid of the chills until I struck the prairie country. "I forget to say that I have 600 acres of hog proof fence and shall add this branch of the business to my other stock interests. I feed them a little each day and blow a horn to let them know that it is time for grub." Panhandle Conditions

"The manager of my Panhandle ranch," said Sterling Clark, "has just informed me that everything was in tip-top shape and cattle doing well. My place is near the west line of Hemphill county, and five miles from a railroad. I have a herd of strictly registered Hereford cattle, and my stock cattle of high-grade white-faced. Hemphill and the adjoining counties are very excellent agricultural and stock raising counties-none better. We raise corn, wheat, oats and alfalfa. in addition to the usual additional crops that are raised in all the plains country. I mean Kaffir corn, milo maize, cotton and vine crops. When I say we raise these things I do not mean that we plant them and then wait to gather just about the seed we put in, but crops. This last year I gathered from eighteen to thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre, and I told my friends that I could raise thirty bushels average to the acre on $3 land up there and three bushels to the acre on $30 land down here. While there is good range, still I rough feed the stock cattle and they had the wheat straw stacks to work on at any time. I am feeding for market some 325 steers, and they will be in fine fix soon. There is no better water anywhere than we have in Hemphill. Cotten is being cultivated more and more up our way, and this year there were 5,000 bales ginned at Mobeetie, Wheel-H. Louchhelmer and Sons vs. G. Y. er county, just south of us. I have 6,400 acres of land, four sections state school land and the balance patent, and it is all good. Stock farming will be my aim and I have already in cultivation 200 acres and will put in 300 more this year and raise roughness formy cattle, There is no brush in that country, and the land has no mesquite or other timber upon it. Plowing is easily done, and with a "disk" one man can break out a lot of land in Likes West Texas J. Calloway, who was in the market yesterday, lives at present in Mineola, Texas, but has been and still claims to be a resident of west Texas. Mr. Calloway, in conversation with a reporter, said: "I have a brother who is in the stock business in Wood county, and his ranch is in the forks of the Sabine and Lake Ford, and his cattle have free range and grass. There are plenty of cattle in that country, but they are thin and Louisiana people are buying them up and shipping them to that state to be fed. The range with us is open, and the bottoms are good range and grass is fine; but, of course, not the equal of mesquite for putting flesh on cattle. "My brother is L. T. Calloway. J. A. Calloway is my father, and my home is with him on his ranch in Howard county, on the line of Borden, twenty-two miles north of Big Springs. That is the cow country right, and the stuff that can be raised out there can't be beat for stock farming. Father's place is inside of Bush & Tiller's big ranch, and he raises Herefords and shorthorns crossed. This makes a fine animal, with all the good looks and fine points of the shorthorn and the rustling range qualities of the Hereford, and the cross can't be beat. That is, we think so. "Lands are changing hands rapidly. Bush & Tiller are getting rid of theirs at a rapid rate. Land can be had out there at from $1.50 to $3 per acre, but will not stay at that price long."

Cattle in Bad Shape W. L. Lott, a citizen of Freestone county, and to whom Uncle Sam delivers mail at Fairfield, the county seat, was put forward by George W. Saunders Commission Company to talk for his section.

"Cattle in our county," said he, "are in very poor condition, and in fact chere are no cattle that are fit to ship to market. The grass in our county is sage and that is not a good winter grass except when a warm spell comes like this and the grass begins to sprout out at the roots, when the cattle gladly devour it. I am feeding some 300 head on cotton seed to keep them up.

I find that to every wagon load of seed one-half a sack of salt well mixed is a great help and makes the cattle take to their feed more heartily. All the eastern part of our county is open range and free grass, but there are no cattle on it through the winter. We find the fields with crab grass, 7. etc., the best for cattle to range on in the fall and pick up a lot. Alfalfa has not proved a success with us, although it has been several times tried. but it may be that we are unskilled in planting it. Bermuda is the best grass for all purposes, but as yet there is not enough to keep our stock. We have been troubled with a disease among young cattle - 2-year-olds. mainly-that swells them under the jaw and makes them very poor, and many have died. Some people think that it is caused by stomach worms, but no one seems to know exactly. I have a hundred head of steers that I would like to sell this spring to any party who would wish to fatten them. They are 3s and 4s. Our cattle are common brush cattle, but there are some stockmen who have graded stock. We raise peas, peanuts, sorghum and Johnson grass for roughnness, and cotton and corn. I take The Telegram and think it a frist class paper in every respect. Holleran Stock Sold At the request of A. M. McElwee, administrator of the estate of the late Tom Holleran and of his widow, Mrs. Holleran, W. D. Davis, better known all stockmen as Bill Davis, on Wednesday last went out to the Holleran ranch, eighteen miles from Fort Worth, to dispose of the stock, consisting of horses, mules and cattle. Mr. Davis was accompanied by R. A. Horn. The sale proved in every way satisfactory, the animals all bringing good prices. The horses and mules were sold at auction, but the cattle were disposed of in lots to various parties, 👟 Hayes McFarland being the purchaser of the largest bunch, all steers, 2 years old coming. The cattle were thin in flesh, but brought $20.80 average. The sale is considered wonderfully good, considering the distance the ranch is from town, the conditions under which the sale was made, and the thinness of the stock. The horses and mules brought about what their class would ordinarily bring at Cook & Simmons'

yards. Mr. Davis is to be congratulated upon his success.

GILMORE PLEADS TO LARGER JURY

Popular Actor Trained for Life of Lawyer

Chance or fate or whatever may be called that "destiny which shapes our ends, rough hew them as we may," has brought many a man to his proper calling after he has struggled valiantly to pursue another course. The stage has won many a star through sheer force of this intangible and irresistible

Paul Gilmore, who reached Fort Worth Thursday, is a striking example of the man dragged to the footlights it might almost be said, in spite of himself. He is reticent about himself, but this much of his history was gleaned today:

He was intended by his parents for the law, and he himself was not averse to following the legal profession. The Gilmore home was in Milwaukee, and the father of the coming actor was publisher of the Milwaukee Magazine. Merely as an investment the elder Gilmore bought the Grand Opera House in that city. The son saw all the plays that were presented at this theater and became a member of the Student Amateur Dramatic Club. Even though he took part in the public entertainments of the latter, it never seriously occured to him that he might adopt the stage for life.

Jacob Litt Responsible But Jacob Litt, who then lived in Milwaukee, chanced to see Mr. Gilmore at one of these performances. Some time later, when Mr. Litt had become a New York manager and he was preparing to stage "The Ensign," he remembered the black-haired young man in that amateur matinee in Milwaukee and he sent him an offer to join the

If Mr. Litt had not dropped in at that performance for a few moments, the brilliant star of "Captain Debonnaire" might be a staid practitioner at the Milwaukee bar today, because, although he accepted the manager's offer, it was in the spirit of a lark. Mr. Gilmore intended remaining with "The Ensign" for a few weeks, simply for the experience. But, once in the real stage atmosphere, the inevitable fascination of the footlights held him there.

So well did the beginner do in "The Ensign," Mr. Litt gave him the hero's part in "In Old Kentucky" the next season. Mr. Gilmore remained with that great old melodrama through its initial success and then became leading man with one of Charles Frohman's road companies presenting "The Wife," "The Charity Ball" and other society plays. His success in those productions led Mr. Gilmore naturally into stardom. His first production at the head of his own company was ne Three Musketeers, and in this he found his proper field-the romantic drama. Then he had a suckind, "Under the Red Robe," Next Mr. Gilmore played King Charles to Henrietta Crosman's Nell Gwynne in that actress' celebrated production of "Mistress Nell." While in that role Mr. Gilmore attracted the attention of Manager Jules Murry, with whom he signed a ten years' starring agreement. Mr. Murry put him forward in that beautiful society comedy, "The Tyranny of Tears." His splendid success in that play and in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" is fresh in public memory. Now in "Captain Debonnaire" Mr. Gilmore is back in the class of drama that he most likes and in which he has won greatest praise.

BIG CONTRAST IN WATER SERVICE

Appreciation of Regular Supply Is Aroused

Fort Worth can sympathize with Dallas. All Wednesday and Thursday river water has been flowing through artesian water-the sort the city is accustomed to use-supplants the Trinity flavor, according to the announcement from the water works office.

"How did we ever drink it?" was the expression on every tongue, the change from the fine water usually supplied being so great.

"I never knew before how great a man Mayor Powell is," said a citizen of a few months, as he lifted a glass of the river fluid, only to put it down again. "Why, if he did nothing else but secure the usual supply of water the city has he should have a monument in every ward of the city." On all sides expressions contrasting the supplies were to be heard, with a

is a large valve at the point where the two mains make a Y, and this valve is used to cut off either main if it is necessary to stop using one of The break which occurred Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock is in this valve and therefore it is impossible to cut off one main and use the other, consequently it was necessary to shut down the entire plant. It was because of this that the water works department was forced to steam up the old pumping plant, put out the street lights and begin pumping from the old

The only source of supply of the old plant is the west fork of the Trinity. There are several reasons why it is necessary to keep water in the mains, and the most important is that fire protection must be had. Another is there are a large number of small manufacturing plants in the city which must have water for their boilers. The department could not allow these customers to go without a supply if it was possible to get one. Therefore the resort to river water.

As soon as the break occurred force of twenty-eight men was put to work in an effort to repair it. That force of men has been at work continuously since Tuesday and will continue until the repairs are complete.

AMUSEMENTS

Greenwall's opera house was crowded Wednesday afternoon and evening, nearly every seat being taken, because of the double show that was given. The conflict in dates which left the double bill was evidently well to the liking of a large number of people. On account of the extra length of the show, arrangements had been made with the street car company for the holding of cars on all lines for the end of the night performance. The show was not over until 11:45 o'clock.

The evening started with an installment of pictures and then "Dora Thorne" was given by that company. moving pictures being given between the acts. The pictures were among the best that have been seen here. The lantern worked with hardly a flicker. The pictures of the peace conference were popular.

"Dora Thorne," the play, is altered slightly from the book, in order to make it presentable. Several of the alterations, however, have tended to put the play on the basis of a melodrama without being of vital importance to the show itself. Melodrama too cannot be put on with sufficient dash and go unless supported by a large company and good scenery. Tonight Paul Gilmore opens his engagement here in "Captain Debon-naire."

"Captain Debonnaire," With Paul Gil-

A cavalier of France, who finds adventure and a wife in America, is the hero of Paul Gilmore's new and stirring spectacular comedy romance. "Captain Debonnaire," which will have its first presentation in this city at Greenwall's opera house tonight and rrow matinee and night tole is eminently suited to Mr. Gilmore's personality and methods, and es, in "Under the Red Robe" and "The Three Musketeers." "Captain Debonnaire" has a charm not possessed by either of these older plays. It comes from placing the French gallant in American surroundings. The first and last acts are laid in Quebec and the second and third in New York. The time is the end of the seventeenth century-a period revelling in romance. The play naturally demands elaborate costuming and scenery, both of which have been supplied magnificently by Manager Jules Murry. Never before worthy of his talents. The five scenes. present gorgeous pictures and the costumes are glowing reminders of the prodigality of that day. The cast also is on an unusually large scale.

Kyrle Bellew

Kyrle Bellew, the famous Englist actor, is, of course, well known in romantic roles, but he is something of a novelty in the up-to-date dress of modern play such as "Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman," in which he will be seen at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 27 His friends, however, have found him just as graceful, just as handsome and just as magnetic in the conventional dress coat of the twentieth century as he was in the cloak and buskins of the fifteenth or sixteenth. Of his play it need only be said that it is one of the best of its class, if not the very best that has yet been seen, full of thrilling episodes, appealing sentiment and clever comedy. Next to Mr. Bellew himself, E. M. Holland, as the detective, holds the interest of the au-

"The Fortune Teller" "The Fortune Teller" will appear at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Jan. 30, with Grace Orr Meyers as the star.

Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers."
