Property Loss Caused by the Earthquake in Valparaiso Is $200,000,000

By Associated Press.

VALPARAISO, Aug. 25.—The minister of the interior sent the following dispatch to President Riesco at Santiago: "Business is being resumed here. All classes of population are taking part in the work of repairing the damage. All committees are accomplishing their tasks with the greatest zeal. If the provisions run short I shall cause the frozen meat from Magellans to be sold. Many of the homeless people are in need of clothing. Provisions are running short at Iquique because supplies have been retained here."

More Riots Feared

President Riesco continues to receive telegrams of condolence from foreign governments. Newspaper buildings are not so badly damaged as at first supposed. All the newspapers will be ready tomorrow. There were some slight earthquake shocks at 8:15 yesterday but no further damage was done.

No Passenger Service

Many bridges, fences and telegraph and telephone posts have been thrown down. No passenger trains have arrived here from Valparaiso since Aug. 14. It is insisted the terrific disaster in number of deaths and amount of property destroyed will probably be greater than the case of San Francisco.

Valparaiso is the great seaport of the republic and its commerce exceeds that of any Pacific port except San Francisco.

The entire lower part of the city is completely destroyed and the loss of life throughout Chile, because all parts of the country are represented there. Heavy rains are still falling at Valparaiso, making the city still greater. Donations for the relief of the sufferers are arriving here from all parts of the world. Some $100,000 of the state of affairs existing can be learned from the fact that a man who on horseback from Valparaiso to Santiago, a distance of eighty miles, could not obtain food or drink.

Loss $200,000,000

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 25.—A conservative estimate places the property loss at Valparaiso as the result of the earthquake and fires at $200,000,000. The loss in the rural districts will be immense, as not only residences and landed properties but huts of laborers have been completely destroyed.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 25.—The United States cruiser Charleston with Secretary Root and a detachment of United States Marines on the Strait of Magellan. The Charleston will reach Punta Arenas on the Strait of Magellan, three hundred miles from Santiago, Aug. 23, where Secretary Root will be received by the Chilean foreign minister and the American minister, Mr. Hicks.

SPELLING REFORM BITTERLY SCORED

England Pokes Fun at President's New Departure

Special to The Telegram.

ROOSEVELT, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Roosevelt's mail is already heavy with comments on the sensational spelling reform announcement. Many messages were quite bitter, others full of praise. Public Printer Stillings wrote praising the new order and indicating that he had already taken steps to make it effective.

England Angry

LONDON, Aug. 25.—A loud howl of disapproval is England's comment on Roosevelt's spelling order. Some of the newspaper handle the subject humorously. Many poke fun at the President, still others condemn with editorial gravity what they call Andrew Carnegie Jarson.

Special to The Telegram.

DUBLIN, Texas, Aug. 25.—The cotton crop of this community is exceptionally fine. The stalks are large and very full of bolls. It is estimated that the yield will be about a half bale to the acre. There are a few boll weevils, but no harm is feared from them now.

Has No Fear for Cuba

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Expressing the belief that England is in the hands of the insurgent forces have been exaggerated, Y. Zabrado, governor of the province of Pinar del Rio, last night declared that he has no fear of the rebel forces that are now rising and that he would be quickly suppressed by President Palma.

Rebel Plan on Big Scale

The increased reticence of the government justifies alarm as to the situation. The rumor that the rebels are planning a big scale rebellion is being widely spread. The rebels are fighting for a cause, and not for one man. They are willing to accept any president who is legally elected, even Estrada Palma. The senator is willing to add his name to the list of 200 Cuban born men in New York, who purpose to ask President Roosevelt to send a commission to see that an honest election is held and that the man elected is seated.

Neither Side Can Win

Neither the government nor the rebels can win. The rumor that the rural guards were killed General Bandera, who was helplessly wounded, is sure to inflame the rebels, who are to the present have been making no American intervention; however, is not inevitable.

U. S. Troops No Solution

If President Roosevelt should order the appointment of an investigating committee, President Palma may say that the American minister would be acceptable.

An Independent senator commenting on the above statement says that by appointment of such a commission by President Roosevelt is impossible, as it would wound Cuban independence. The parties must settle the matter between themselves. The sending of two armies themselves.

President Hamill of Temple Not Discouraged by Waco Decision

Special to The Telegram.

TEMPLE, Texas, Aug. 25.—Mayor F. Hamill, president of the Temple Baseball Association, is very indignant over the press reports sent out from Waco to the effect that the decision of Judge Suratt, rendered at Waco on August 22, denying the application for a receiver for the Texas Baseball League, "ends the litigation which has been pending for some weeks." Mayor Hamill says that the fight has only begun and the decision of Judge Suratt had no bearing on the merits of the case, the judge simply denying the application for receiver and injunction and defining the status of the league.

PALMA'S DILEMMA

Insurgents Have Larger Number in Field Than Cuban Government

By Associated Press.

HAVANA, Aug. 25.—The Stars and Stripes are flying conspicuously from points of vantage on American owned properties throughout the disturbed districts. Scrupulously respected by both the government forces and the roving bands of insurrectionists alike, the emblem of liberty is exerting a moral influence over Cubans.

Senator Morna Campos Marquet, liberal, who has espoused the cause of the insurgents, has publicly advocated the appointment by President Roosevelt of a commission to investigate the charges of fraud in connection with the last elections. Other prominent men endorse the idea.

Guerrilla Well Equipped

Today's early advices from Pinar del Rio and vicinity indicate that the outcome of the expected battle between the government troops and the insurgents under Pino Guerrera is more in doubt than the officials at the palace are willing to admit. Another source believed to have nearly or quite 2,000 men who can be depended upon. They are reported to be well equipped with arms and ammunition.

Ruse Seen

It is suspected that the insurgent leader's withdrawal from San Luis and San Juan was a ruse to attract the government troops from their base at Pinar del Rio. A sudden descent upon Pinar del Rio in the event that Palma's troops do not take an early offensive would not surprise those seemingly well informed. They bear in mind that 1,000 armed defenders and the strength of the civilian loyalty is in doubt.

Situation Not Reassuring

So far there has been no serious disaffection in the cities, but in the surrounding districts, where the people are less in touch with the government, the situation so far as can be learned, is not reassuring.

Government agents are selling today for the United States to purchase horses.

Malt is a food, half digested. Hops are a tonic. A little alcohol—there is but a trifle in beer—is an aid to digestion.

DOWIE TO MEXICO

Prophet May Establish New Colony in Southern Republic

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25.—The impression prevails among some of the local followers of John Alexander Dowie that Overseer Vollva has been the victor in his attack on the administration of the self-styled Elijah II, and that the breach in Zion's affairs may result in the withdrawal of the founder and the attempted establishment of another colony of apostles elsewhere.

According to one of his followers here, Mr. Dowie will spend the winter in Mexico and will pass through San Antonio, possibly next month, on his way to the republic. This is the program, it is said, provided Dr. Dowie's health warrants his traveling. He is very low, suffering both from the infirmities of age and the reaction on his nervous system of the trouble he has had in the last few months. Considering his condition, Dr. Dowie's Mexican trip is only a probability.

THE END OF THE WORLD of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of General Debility." Chickasaw Says His Nation Will Go Democratic ARDMORE, I. T., Aug. 21.—J. Wesley Parker, a full-blood Chickasaw Indian, whose home is at Sulphur, was here today, transacting business with the land office. Mr. Parker has held every election since the gift of his title from county office to president of the senate.

He was chairman of the first committee which was sent out to meet the Dawes commission and was a member of the board that adjusted the property interests between the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations. For ten years he has been chairman of the campaign committee of the national party and has never allowed his candidacy to be defeated at the polls.

Mr. Parker is an enthusiastic democrat and says that he indorses every word of the interview recently given out by Green McCurtain, principal chief of the Choctaws. He is firmly of the opinion that the Chickasaw nation is as strong democratic hold as the state of Texas. Almost every Indian will vote the democratic ticket.

QUAKE DESTROYS CRUSOE'S ISLAND

Juan Fernandez Reported Destroyed by Violent Shocks

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A report reached this city today from Valparaiso that the earthquake of Aug. 16 destroyed the historic island of Juan Fernandez, better known as "Robinson Crusoe's island."

Juan Fernandez is, or was, 400 miles off the Chilean coast. The island is long to Chile. But once Alexander Selkirk, a Scotch seaman, was its sole inhabitant.

How De Foe Moved It

It was Alexander Selkirk's story that formed the basis of De Foe's immortal romance, "Robinson Crusoe." De Foe, as everybody knows, picked up the island as a convict settlement, and in the walls of the cliff are to be found hundreds of dungeons hewn by the prisoners themselves in the heart of the rock. But the distance from the mainland, as well as the difficulty of keeping the garrison provisioned and recruited, led to several outbreaks of the prisoners, in which they massacred the warden and troops. The Chilean government decided to abandon Juan Fernandez as a convict settlement.

Selkirk Really Lived There

It was in 1704 that Alexander Selkirk, the Scotch seaman, was cast away here and remained four years before he was picked up by a British ship and taken back to his own country. Many are the experiences which the island has undergone since then. In the early part of this century it was used for a time as a convict settlement, and in the walls of the cliff are to be found hundreds of dungeons hewn by the prisoners themselves in the heart of the rock. But the distance from the mainland, as well as the difficulty of keeping the garrison provisioned and recruited, led to several outbreaks of the prisoners, in which they massacred the warden and troops. The Chilean government decided to abandon Juan Fernandez as a convict settlement.

Swiss Hermit With Money

It was not until 1873 that the island was again inhabited. Then it was leased for a term of years by a Swiss patriot named Baron von Rodt. He had served in the Austrian cavalry and received wounds that disabled him for army life. Converting his fortune into money he left Europe and went to Valparaiso. Having a hermit's disposition, he established himself on the remote island of Juan Fernandez. Finding the lobster and other kinds of fisheries could be made profitable, he leased the island from the Chilean government and conducted this industry, as well as fruit raising, on a large and profitable scale. The war with Peru at length occurred, and his business was broken up.

von Rodt returned to Europe, but found himself so little adapted for civilized life after his island experience, and so homesick for his ocean home, that he set sail again for Juan Fernandez, this time taking with him a bride to share his lot. There on the green tropical shore, the most imposing of the dozen villas was his home for many years.

MARRIED BY PHONE

Man and Woman United by Minister by Use of Telephone

Special to The Telegram.

JACKSONVILLE, Texas, Aug. 25.—Last night a minister here was called from out of town and requested to come forthwith for the purpose of marrying a couple. He had just returned from conducting a funeral in the country and did not like making the trip, so he notified the couple of his inability to go. The young people were determined to get married and finally succeeded in persuading the minister to marry them by phone. The license was read to the minister by a third party, after which each contracting party made a statement by phone with the minister and each obligated separately. "Join your right hands," said the minister, and then after a few words the ceremony was closed with, "I pronounce you man and wife." "What do I owe you?" inquired the groom. "Just send up what you think is right," replied the preacher. So far as known this is the first couple ever married in Texas over a phone.

Scientist Says Horse Flesh Better Food Than Cattle

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A special to the Herald from New Haven, Conn., says: Professor W. H. Brewer, professor of emeritus in Sheffield Scientific school of Yale University, in a brief speech at the banquet of the American Veterinary Medical Association last night, advocated horse flesh as food. Professor Brewer said that horses are less liable to disease than bovines and cattle that are now eaten for food and the only thing which prevents the use of the flesh in this country is prejudice and lack of knowledge of its wholesomeness.

COCKRELL WANTS UNIFORM SCHEDULE

By bringing about the enforcement of an old provision of the law authorizing the interstate commerce commission to prescribe a special form of rate schedules, Commissioner F. M. Cockrell of Missouri has taken a step which is regarded as supremely important in preparing for the enforcement of the new railroad rate law enacted by congress last June. In 1890 congress amended the interstate commerce act of 1887 and gave the commission power to specify the form of rate schedules. The schedules include all freight tariffs of the railroads. These freight sheets now go to the commission, but are submitted in the form of railroad preferences. The power to prescribe a form has never been used.

It is believed by Commissioner Cockrell—and the commission as a whole now takes the same view—that a system of uniform rate schedules, besides being an important step toward the effectual enforcement of the new law, will also assist materially in stopping railway abuses, such as manipulation of rates in favor of special shippers.

The old plan of allowing the railroads to submit their rates in any form they pleased led to confusion. It could not be positively told just what service was covered by the tariffs set forth. Room was left to juggle rates.

Commissioner Cockrell has remained in Washington all summer, preparing for the enforcement of the new rate law. To insure adequate railroad regulation under it, he felt convinced that a definite system as to railroad freight schedules, accounts and freight classifications had to be worked out. Professor Adams, statistician of the commission, has taken a house in Washington and is working on a uniform system of keeping books. It is expected that a bookkeeping system will be decided upon at an early date, and all railroads will be compelled to use the system. This will afford the commission means of tracing any railroad transaction when it is called into question by a shipper's complaint to the commission.

CORTELYOU BACKING THE REBELS

The republican party seems hopelessly split in this state, and there is much speculation as to the result of the sloughing off that has developed into what is designated as the "Reorganized Republicans." This brand of Texas republicanism has put President F. H. R. Green of the Texas Midland railway to the front as governor, and Candidate Green is now in Vermont in close conference with his mother, who is said to be delighted with the great honor that has come to her son. It is possible that Candidate Green will come back from Vermont well fortified in the matter of ability to spend that $50,000 he is alleged to have promised for the defeat of Chairman Cecil Lyon. Green has never forgiven the undoing he received at the hands of Lyon, and he will spend a barrel of money in an effort to go before the next national republican convention with a greater show of strength than Lyon can command. If Green can show the "reorganized" element is the strongest in Texas it bodes ill for Chairman Cecil Lyon, and that is just what Green intends to do if money can bring about the desired result. The fight between the two wings of republicanism in Texas promises to be one of the most interesting events seen in the state for a number of years.

The most interesting thing about this revolt against Chairman Lyon is that the storm center of the disturbance is in Washington, and the Republican League Club in Texas is but a club in the hands of Postmaster General Cortelyou and Congressman Acheson, both of whom are after Lyon's scalp. It is alleged that while President Roosevelt was engaged in upholding the hands of Lyon here in Texas, the postmaster general was endeavoring to give effect to his program of making the merit system count for something in the matter of postmaster selection. In at least a half dozen instances this merit system and the upholding of Chairman Lyon clashed, and in practically each case Colonel Lyon won out. The principal exception to this rule was the appointment of Postmaster Acheson at Denison. That appointment gave Cortelyou and Congressman Acheson the entering wedge, and how well they have used it is demonstrated by the progress made by the Republican Union League. Cortelyou is remaining discreetly in the background, but it is clearly evident that he is backing the reorganization, the main object of the movement is the political discomfiture of Chairman Lyon.

The republican party is greatly alarmed over the outlook for the congressional elections, and the indications seem ample to justify a first-class panic. This is going to be democratic year from one end of the country to the other.

THE BLANKET PRIMARY

Now that the blanket primary is a democratic platform demand and will be injected into the election law by the next legislature, it is well to explain what the blanket primary really is. It simply means that the vote cast at the polls by the sovereign voters of Texas shall decide the result without any regard to convention action. A blanket primary may be based on either plurality or majority. Here in Tarrant county we have the plurality rule—the man who gets the most votes is always the party nominee.

The blanket primary has its objections and there are dangers that even under this system the will of the people may be defeated. Various suggestions have been made for remedying the situation, but it is a problem that will probably be worked out by the satisfaction of all concerned by the next state legislature. That honorable body has a task before it in the revision and perfection of the state election law, and there is such a diversity of opinion as to what should be done and how it must be accomplished that the prospect is good for lively times at Austin next January.

The Telegram believes that steps should be taken to greatly simplify the election law and reduce it to the proportions where it can easily be comprehended by the average voter. The Terrell law is not without its advantages, and those advantages should be perpetuated. It is the portion of the law that contributes to ambiguity and seeks to make the political party the master of the people that should be eliminated, and this will no doubt be done.

REAL ATHLETICISM

An English athletic authority says that 35 is the maximum age for a good athlete. Perhaps most people have noticed that professional athletes wear themselves out young. Prize fighters, sprinters and circus performers quit in early prime.

But are these the real athletes? How much more true an athlete is the well-preserved farmer, who, at 65, can pitch as much hay as his son or grandson!

The best athleticism is that which holds through the ripe years and enables a man to sit his horse as erectly at 80 as at 20.

Samuel Sloan, the New York financier, has announced his theory that his good health at the age of 88 is due to his policy of mixing work with play.

Russell Sage, who was nearly 90, passed practically his whole life in unremittent labor with no vacations. John D. Rockefeller, who is 87 and hale and hearty, gives much time to golf and other exercises.

J. P. Morgan, who is 69 and shows no signs of retiring, is seldom idle. Andrew Carnegie at 69 is about as lively a specimen of humanity as could be imagined, and has a wide variety of diversions.

Hetty Green is 71, sticks close to work and is just entering upon a new and important career as the successor to Russell Sage as the great money lender of Wall street.

Surely here are sufficient notable instances of strenuous athleticism at advanced age to prove that 35 years is not the maximum.

Multimillionaires are given as examples because that is the class of people the American pay most attention to, and for the further reason that all of them have led very busy lives.

Taken collectively, they present important evidence of the value of toil and temperance.

of skill in mere spectacular accomplishment. The proof of real athleticism is health and activity in old age. Healthful and happy old age is the final proof of right living.

And the farmer at 65 who does as much work as he did at 30, and with as keen zest, is as good an example as the liveliest millionaire.

There need be no uneasiness over the slight outbreak of yellow fever in the state of Louisiana. All necessary precautions have been taken to prevent any spread of the disease, and the effective manner in which it was wiped out in New Orleans last year shows that intelligent and concerted action can always be depended upon to produce the desired results.

The republican party is greatly alarmed over the outlook for the congressional elections, and the indications seem ample to justify a first-class panic. This is going to be democratic year from one end of the country to the other.

It now develops that negro troops were sent to Texas because they were not wanted elsewhere. And this, in the face of the fact that the old idea that anything was good enough for Texas has long since been scientifically exploded.

General Quentin Bandera, the negro revolutionist in Cuba, engaged in just one too many revolutionary movements. He is now a good revolutionary, having been shot and killed at the head of a little bunch of insurrectionists by a party of loyal soldiers.

It really makes no difference as to which is the regular republican party in Texas. The result of the November election will be just the same and the hope is just as forlorn as if no division had occurred.

Fort Worth leads all Texas cities in progress and development. There is always something good along these lines in the metropolises of the southwest.

It was all a mistake about Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, running for governor of Georgia. Clark never did get out of a brisk walk.

William J. Bryan will land in New York in a few days and discover just how big a man he has grown to be since he left us for foreign parts.

The Telegram and the Texas Press

Cone Johnson's Candidacy The friends of Hon. Cone Johnson of Tyler are grooming him for United States senator to make the race against Charles C. Johnson, the senior senator from Texas. Johnson is a strong supporter of Colonel T. M. Campbell of Palestine, and it is thought that Culberson's endorsement of Brooks' candidacy has had something to do with Mr. Johnson's senatorial aspirations.—Pilot Point Signal.

There is going to be tremendous political activity in Texas during the next four years, but the idea of Cone Johnson as Charles Culberson's successor is preposterous.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The idea at this stage of the game of his succeeding any other senator do not look like a "preposterouser."—Bonham Herald.

Those Telegram Cartoons

The Fort Worth Telegram is running a series of cartoons depicting a man who is determined to see a baseball game in peace. The cartoons tell more every day than could be told in 2,000 words.—Mineral Wells Index.

Pointed Paragraphs

Many a boy on mischief bent goes straight to the bad.

A few hard cases are apt to make a lawyer case-hardened.

It's a wise dentist who is able to draw his own conclusions.

A wife's pointed remarks may keep her husband out of his neighbors.

Burglars who raid a dressmaker's establishment may be train robbers.

Some people make a specialty of answering questions before they are asked.

Any fool can write poetry, but it takes a genius to foot an editor with it.

Among the Exchanges

The strongest inducement for more factories to locate in Texas is the fact that those already there are being successfully operated and are receiving the patronage of the people of the town in which they are located.—Denison Herald.

Factory building and patronizing home industry is a procedure that must go hand in hand. No factory can properly succeed that is not recognized and sustained by its home people.

In obedience to platform demand the next legislature will give us the blanket primary and possibly plurality nominations. This will put the people out of the reckoning save in the matter of choosing the least evil. Party organizations will pass to the hands of a few political bosses and the constitutional democratic party will be Richard Coke and his compatriots organized will have become an historic relic.—Vaco Times-Herald.

But the people have demanded the blanket primary, and the voice of the people is omnipotent in matters of this kind.

The fact that the republicans of Texas endorsed Roosevelt, a cheerer for Taft recalls the peculiarities of the Texas democrats in endorsing both Culberson and Bailey when they are on opposite sides of the rate question.—Austin Statesman.

Texas democrats also noted Lanham and then endorsed him, slaughtered Williams for opposing Bryan and lauded Joe Bailey to the skies when his opposition to Bryan was more fierce than that of any public man in Texas.

Since the Texas republicans have placed two tickets in the field, there is no reason to believe that democratic supremacy in Texas is threatened. Of course, if either republican faction is active or if a compromise be patched up it may be that Campbell's plurality will be kept and that about 200,000.—Houston Post.

The Texas republicans are badly split up this year, but that fact does not carry with it the satisfaction that would come from such a condition of affairs in Iowa or Illinois. There are too many democrats in Texas for republican rows to be of general interest.

Some of the papers that were ardent advocates of other candidates for governor are now busy in their efforts to fill their columns with praises of Mr. Campbell and minute details of his home life. As he reads these glowing articles and thinks over the recent past no doubt the negro smiles and thinks a little.—Corsicana Sun.

There is a difference between Colonel Campbell as a candidate and Colonel Campbell as the nominee of the democratic party. It is now the duty of every democratic newspaper to give him a loyal support, and it is being done cheerfully.

One thing is certain: Bailey stock went down at least 50 per cent before the close of the Dallas convention. Every democratic newspaper in the United States senate six years more, but after that time he must have something more than hot air to command him before he receives further honors. The people are taking a sober second thought about the records of this politician, and they are not so easily deceived as he ever originated or pushed through congress a single measure of public interest. Williams, of course, has been built on his gift of gab.—Granbury News.

Senator Bailey is receiving some very caustic criticism for his action at the Dallas convention, and he is going to have serious future opposition. That fact is already apparent. Men no longer are afraid to speak their honest convictions concerning Senator Bailey.

The Tribune is glad to see nearly all the papers desire and condemn the cruel treatment accorded Governor Lanham by the convention last week. It was a disgrace to put on the body of Texas democracy that a champion of the party should so humiliate the last Confederate soldier who served as governor of the state.—Waco Tribune.

It must have been the young and thoughtless element of democracy that humiliated Governor Lanham and the party at Dallas. Surely, none of the men who have grown gray in the party could have been guilty of such a heartless act.

While the country is so absorbed with its pro and con opinions about the peck-a-bow shirt waist, when will it pause to give a genuine term to the body of Texas democracy that a champion of the party should so humiliate the last Confederate soldier who served as governor of the state.—Waco Tribune.

STRANGE DOUBLE PLAY SAVES A BALL GAME

"One of the most remarkable double plays ever saw" said Pitcher Claude Elliott, "developed from a base hit. The game was a tie at the end of the tenth inning—3 to 2. In the eleventh our side had men on second and third. With only one out when a pop fly was knocked back of third base—one of the kind that neither the third baseman, shortstop nor left fielder can reach. The man at third hesitated, fearing the ball might be caught, but the runner at second, who could see the ball was a base hit, kept running, and he touched both men out. It was one of the most remarkable plays I ever saw."

PANTHERS GIVEN A HARD RUBBING

Giants Win Last Game of the Series by Score of 11 to 1

Revenge for the double defeat of Thursday was handed to the Champions at Dallas Friday, when the Giants won by a score of 11 to 1.

Six errors helped Dallas to the victory, while Farris' pitching also contributed. The Champions got but seven hits, and their only score was secured in the seventh, when Boles drove the ball into a crack in the left field fence, where it lodged until he made the circuit.

The Champions are at home against Waco this afternoon and Sunday. Friday's score:

Vigilance Committee May Look After Lawlessness in Oil Field

Special to The Telegram.

TULSA, I. T., Aug. 25.—So lawless has become the situation in the Glenn oil field that there is strong talk of organizing a vigilance committee to rid the oil colony of gamblers and thugs, which are much in evidence. One man was murdered, a machine was stolen, and a number of men were injured as the result of a quarrel over a gambling game, and fights are of frequent occurrence. To combat this situation, now the talk of the oil operators, and it will doubtless be a case of "skidoo" to the undesirable.

Richard Plater, a stock and bond broker of Goldfield, Nev.—that magic city of the American desert—is in Fort Worth in interest of some mining property, and relates many interesting incidents of the far west.

He is located at Goldfield, which two years ago was not on the map, but which now is a city of some 20,000 souls, and each soul intent upon acquiring a fortune.

Mr. Plater followed the admonition of Horace Greely years ago and went west, and today has no cause to regret it.

There is a most interesting story in connection with the discovery of Goldfield, which is conceded to be the richest strike ever made in the west. Over $40,000,000 in gold is the output of a mine there.

According to Mr. Plater two gamblers went on a spree in Tonopah, Nev., one night and decided to take an automobile ride. A machine was secured and equipped for a long trip and turned loose on the American desert.

The driver of the machine was a gambler of today. The men did not know whether they were bound, and seemed to care less, but when the gasoline ran out they were at Rabbit Springs.

One of the men got out of the car, and, in walking around, turned over a small stone that lay nearby. He was surprised to see a piece of free gold underneath, but picked it up.

Three weeks later there were between 2,000 and 3,000 persons rushing for the big strike, and today there are 20,000 persons in search of wealth that lies hidden in the earth.

The town of Goldfield boasts of twenty-five "home-made" millionaires, and many times that number who would amply. The place has fifty-seven saloons, and gambling houses are everywhere. It is known as a wealthy camp, and in consequence of its wealth and liberality a purse of $30,000 has been arranged for the fistic encounter of Joe Gans and "Battling" Nelson for September.

A huge auditorium with a seating capacity of 30,000 being under construction for the mill.

In Heart of Desert

The town of Goldfield is in the very heart of the great American desert, and its natural environment are not calculated to hold the admiration of a landscape painter for any length of time.

He is about the same happy-go-lucky who like the place and are content to live where drinking water sells for 15c per gallon, and where water for cooking purposes is sold for 10c a gallon.

Two railroads have already penetrated the desert for the ore handling traffic.

The scarcity of water makes the operation of machinery for mining purposes by steam a very costly venture, and as a result there is only one smoke stack to be seen in the city, and that was abandoned as soon as the electric current was brought in. The electricity is brought into Goldfield from a big plant over in the Sierra Nevada, 190 miles away, and is used for all mining and lightning purposes.

Special to The Telegram.

CLARKSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 25.—Wiley Whitaker, a highly respected citizen who lives near Detroit, reported to Constable Harris of this place yesterday that a negro entered the bedroom of his two daughters the night before. The elder girl, who saw him, and who is about 18 years old, says she was awakened about 11 o'clock by a noise under the bed, and struck a match by which she saw a negro's foot sticking out from under the bed, when she called to her father, who was in the adjoining room. The negro made his escape, but was immediately made and a pair of shoes were found near the back door, which were evidently the property of the negro. No arrests have so far been made.

The driver of the machine was a gambler of today. The men did not know whether they were bound, and seemed to care less, but when the gasoline ran out they were at Rabbit Springs.

One of the men got out of the car, and, in walking around, turned over a small stone that lay nearby. He was surprised to see a piece of free gold underneath, but picked it up.

Three weeks later there were between 2,000 and 3,000 persons rushing for the big strike, and today there are 20,000 persons in search of wealth that lies hidden in the earth.

The town of Goldfield boasts of twenty-five "home-made" millionaires, and many times that number who would amply. The place has fifty-seven saloons, and gambling houses are everywhere. It is known as a wealthy camp, and in consequence of its wealth and liberality a purse of $30,000 has been arranged for the fistic encounter of Joe Gans and "Battling" Nelson for September.

A huge auditorium with a seating capacity of 30,000 being under construction for the mill.

In Heart of Desert

The town of Goldfield is in the very heart of the great American desert, and its natural environment are not calculated to hold the admiration of a landscape painter for any length of time.

He is about the same happy-go-lucky who like the place and are content to live where drinking water sells for 15c per gallon, and where water for cooking purposes is sold for 10c a gallon.

Two railroads have already penetrated the desert for the ore handling traffic.

The scarcity of water makes the operation of machinery for mining purposes by steam a very costly venture, and as a result there is only one smoke stack to be seen in the city, and that was abandoned as soon as the electric current was brought in. The electricity is brought into Goldfield from a big plant over in the Sierra Nevada, 190 miles away, and is used for all mining and lightning purposes.

Deputy Sheriff Hargett was on the scene in ten minutes, and within an hour had secured bloodhounds, but these only kept the trail for a short distance, losing it in one of the local railway yards.

Negro Under Bed

Special to The Telegram.

CLARKSVILLE, Texas, Aug. 25.—Wiley Whitaker, a highly respected citizen who lives near Detroit, reported to Constable Harris of this place yesterday that a negro entered the bedroom of his two daughters the night before. The elder girl, who saw him, and who is about 18 years old, says she was awakened about 11 o'clock by a noise under the bed, and struck a match by which she saw a negro's foot sticking out from under the bed, when she called to her father, who was in the adjoining room. The negro made his escape, but was immediately made and a pair of shoes were found near the back door, which were evidently the property of the negro. No arrests have so far been made.

Rebels Outnumber Loyalists and Boldly Approach the Capital City

Special to The Telegram.

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 25.—Insurgents commanding General Guerra, chief of the Pinar del Rio, raiding Pinar del Rio, almost within sight of the capital. They raided two towns within nine miles of the capital, looting the stores and the inhabitants, rode away with grain attacked.

The proximity of the rebel thrown Havana into a fever of excitement which the efforts of the government are unable to allay. The rebels are constantly hurried to the city, and are so far lacking confidence that little confidence in them by the people, who are becoming more and more convinced that the government is tottering.

Situation Growing Worse

Even the news that a large shipment of rifle fire arms and munition left New York to the troops has not reassured the people. Aside from the dashing hero, Rio, which is growing worse, grave fears are felt of the lack of news from the provinces. The dashing hero of disaffection and the negro, in a state of unrest for several days. Insurgents in Great Number given out in the palace today of liberation, had sent Palma that he was ready to fight, but not more than that. He tried to aid in suppressing the rebellion.

Guerra Puzzles Enemy

The center of interest is in Pinar del Rio, where a battle in the government forces command Colonel Estrampes and the rebel General Guerra. General Guerra is believed to have three thousand men with him. The government forces opposed at not more than half that number. The latter are demoralized by defeat yesterday and pursue the rebels, who have been driven and in the most unexpected manner.

Captures Many Towns

He seems to be avoiding an engagement and is harassing the province, capturing towns and burning the houses, supplies and arms and rations, where he runs off captured horses. In nearly every case with the rebels, the rebels have had the best of it and their loss believed to be much greater than that of the government. It is that in the fighting, more than a dozen killed probably twice that number were killed.

A civil war who were close scene of fighting at the time Havana today and declared that the rebels were completely at the first charge of the rebels broke and ran; it was a fore from start to finish and some soldiers have not been seen. This probably of the rebels report that a large number had killed.

Word comes from the west that the rebel forces are concentrating in the vicinity of San Juan, and that they are a greater force than they are believed by the government. Supply constantly reaching them from the coast, where they are to be seen from steamers sent from the States.

Many Towns Raided

In Santa Clara a band of 500 revolutionists are raising the banner in all directions and are many additions to their number. The rebels have captured many towns and plantations on the coast.

The same condition of affairs exists in Matanzas, where the hands have been charged with the time, evidently moving to common point of concentration.

News Suppressed

There is every evidence that the government is suppressing the news. They have established a rigid censorship and are refusing to give information concerning the movements of the troops. It is an assured fact that for volunteers has been with the response that was expected. The front are a disappointing Palms' advisers. Nearly all are men, not fitted for the role of a campaign.

Talk of Compromise

There has been talk here of an effort on the part of Palma to compromise with General Guerra, but no definite conclusion has been reached in the matter. It is believed that Guerra will lay his arms and demand his men be shipped or the administration out of office.
