AF SERGEANT PREDICTS PROMOTIONS; METHOD UNIQUE

MARCH AFB, CALIF. — An Air Force Sergeant at March Air Force Base can, with the aid of his wife, actually predict when his next promotion will be — his system is unique, he asks his wife when their next baby is due!

Staff Sergeant Michael P. Bellino, who is married to the former Ellen Sharpe of Clyde, began his occult dealings on May 1, 1967. He sewed on his fourth stripe, and his wife Ellen presented their fourth child, Samantha.

Now, May 1970, Sergeant Bellino is on the promotion roster for his fifth stripe and his wife is awaiting the arrival of their fifth child.

Sergeant Bellino quipped, "Making the next stripe is a natural!" When queried regarding his first three children in coincidence with his first three stripes, he added, "My first three children were born before the implementation of the WAPS promotion system, henceforth; they were on schedule but my promotions were irregular."

Sergeant Bellino is a B-52 gunner assigned to the Second Bomb Squadron. The Bellino family consisting of Pamela, age 12; Nichola, age 9; Michael Jr., age 7 and Samantha, age 3, reside at 13421 Barber St., Edgemont, Calif.

UNION COMMUNITY HAS FOGGY MORNING LAST WEEK

Hi, neighbor! How are you this foggy Monday? The fog is clearing away now, it is most ten o'clock.

It has been a sad weekend as one of our Putnam boys was drowned last Wednesday while on the Junior-Senior trip to the Coast, Bob Shirley of Putnam. His funeral was Sunday afternoon in the church of Christ at Baird. Bob was only 17 years of age. Our deepest sympathy to the family.

Lucille Kelley spent the weekend with Ollie Burnam. Lucille lives in Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Burette Ramsey went to Jacksboro Friday night to attend the graduation of a granddaughter, Regena Collins-worth. We are sorry to say that Mrs. Ruby Pruet is seriously ill in Hendrick Memorial Hospital. She suffered a heart attack Sunday morning.

We are glad to say Walter Francisco, who was taken to Houston two weeks ago and had serious surgery, is getting along pretty well and may get to come home some time next week.

We had some rain last week. Roma spent from Thursday until Sunday about noon in the Eastland Hospital. He is feeling much better and is back home.

This cool weather and showers kinda slowed up the grain ripening a little.

Bro. David Claxton and family had Sunday dinner with the Burette Ramseys.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Grady Pruet has been hospitalized about 10 days. Don't exactly know her trouble.

Ollie Burnam and Johnny May Ramsey spent Tuesday in Abilene shopping.

I wish someone would tell me how or what to do to my grass in my yard to keep the smoot, (or however you spell it) off the grass. It gets terrible, ruins your shoes and hose every time you get in it.

I must tell all of you who did not go to the Adult Camp at Lueders the past week really missed a great blessing, as well as a good time. The dining room has been remodeled - it was nice as it was, but now it is so beautiful, and there is a Prayer Garden just now completed and it is so great. We met there every morning at 7 and had services. Mrs. Armes of Dallas was our leader and speaker and the place is so beautiful it seems like a little corner of heaven. I hope everyone can go to the Encampment next year. Mrs. Gladys Thames and I went.

Don't know anything, so guess I better get to work. Hope to see you next week.

Pecan Producers Should Watch For Casebearer Moth

BAIRD — Callahan County pecan producers should be on the lookout for emergence of the pecan nut casebearer moth, advises Gregory Gerngross, Co. Agricultural Agent. Moth emergence in neighboring counties indicate spraying dates from May 29 - June 2 for Callahan County.

Female adults deposit their eggs on the tips of young nuts and are greenish-white when deposited, but later assume a reddish appearance. First generation larvae hatch from eggs in 4-5 days and migrate to buds below the nuts to feed. After a day or two they enter the nuts, usually at the base, and feed - each larvae frequently destroying an entire cluster. Upon reaching maturity, larvae pupate in nuts and emerge as adults in June and early July. Timing of the application is of utmost importance. Spraying should begin as soon as eggs are found on the nutlets. Information on recommended insecticides and rate of application may be found in Leaflet 245.

"Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Diseases on Fruits and Nuts," which is available from County Agent's office in the Courthouse. Producers who have experienced problems with the Rosette can add zinc sulfate at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 gallons of spray mixture when spraying for pecan nut casebearer to control zinc Rosette.

Clyde Hawks Need Help!

CLYDE — The Hawks are in need of two more players and have decided that they will issue one more call for Clyde baseball players, ages 16-18, to sign up for the team. Unless they receive two local players they may be pressed into allowing someone from a neighboring town to play. The reason for the need is that they have two substitutes, and in the event of unavoidable absence from a league by more than two players would mean they would have to forfeit the game, and that would be a heart-breaking way to lose a game. Any interested boy, 16-18, should contact Knox Waggoner by Monday, June 1.

The Hawks have done well for themselves in two practice games. They have defeated Cross Plains 9-0 in a nine inning game at Clyde, and the Abilene Jets 4-1 Tuesday night.

In the Cross Plains game, David Everett, Wilbur Nettleton and Jim Newman combined for 22 strikeouts in the nine innings. Wilbur led the Hawk hitters with two doubles.

Tuesday night in Abilene the gallant Hawks defeated the Jets 4-1 on another nine inning two hitter. Wilbur Nettleton started the game and Ken Rogers, a coach, relieved him. The Hawks scored two runs in the 1st inning and allowed the Jets their only two runs in the bottom of the 1st, on 4 throwing errors. But the Hawks came back in the 2nd with two more and closed out the scoring for the night.

This was a real encouraging win for the Hawks because the jets are a semi-pro team and have won the district semi-pro tournament the past two years.

The Hawks play either Merkel at Clyde Friday night or at Cross Plains. They will start league play Tuesday night, June 2nd, at Clyde against Albany. Support these boys, they deserve it.

CRACKS IN AN ANCIENT FOUNDATION

By STERLING TUCKER

The earth quakes along some ancient fault and people stand in awe and fear at the spectacle. Buildings tremble and are shaken from their foundation. Whole cities are damaged or destroyed. Great masses of land are pushed upward, while other masses sink. The surface of the earth is changed, not by forces from without but by violent turmoil deep within the core. Now the Roman Catholic Church, like the earth itself, quakes along some ancient fault, and the very foundations of that mighty bastion of Christian religion cracks under the strain. A Church that was noted for its rigid discipline and conformity is now being torn by descent and rebellion. Priest and Nuns and laymen openly defy the Pope and his decrees. The Pope, the Good Shepherd, is having difficulty holding his flock together. The Church is not being assaulted from without, but like an earthquake, it is being torn asunder by turmoil within, and we view this spectacle as we view an earthquake - with fear and awe.

To me, an outsider, the Catholic Church has always been like the Rock of Gibraltar, the North Star or the tides. They were something I didn't fully understand, or know very much about, by they were always there, unchanged and I assumed they would always be there, unchanged. For the Roman Catholic Church saw the Caesars come and go, witnessed the collapse of the Roman Empire, survived the Dark Ages and helped to bring on the dawn of the Renaissance. It has seen dynasties and empires start and end, and has survived all manner of assault from without. Century after century, the Church remained unchanged, untouched, unmoved by the world around it. It was an island of order in this sea of confusion. To a non-Catholic, like me, that mightiest of institutions, trembles and quakes and I fear for its safety, and mine.

Pope John the 23rd, said he wanted to open the windows of the Vatican and let in some fresh air. He opened his windows, but what he let in was a hurricane of change and dissent. This was not his intention: to start a revolution with his church. Pope John was a sensitive and compassionate man who sought only to make a better life for Catholics and all of the human race. In order to do this, he reasoned, he must end the conservative and dogmatic rules that had governed the church for centuries. He set about to liberalize the College of Cardinals, the American Cardinals set on his high, governing body for the first time in history. Pope John wanted to make the Church and religion more relevant to the people's everyday life. He promised great and wonderful changes, and had he lived, I think he could have made good on those promises. But the untimely death of John caused the leadership of the Church to pass to Paul the 6th, who, seemingly, can not cope with the changes that John set in motion.

It is said that all things will pass. And so this period of turmoil within the Catholic Church will pass. But I fear that the Church will not remain unmoved, untouched this time. It quakes along an ancient fault, and although the quake itself with subside, the cracks in the foundation will still remain.

The Catholic Church will survive this adversity as it has always survived, but it will never again be that unchanging pillar of strength that it once was. And I think we are all a little weaker, a little sadder, now.

Low Income Families May Seek Financial Help In Home Buying

AUSTIN — Many families are eligible to buy a new three or four bedroom home with a down payment of only $200.00, but are not taking advantage of this opportunity because they are not aware of the provisions of Section 392 of the National Housing Act.

"Financial help is available to enable low income families to buy their own home," according to Tom Yager, president of the Lumberman's Association of Texas, "but many are not familiar with this program. To get complete details on the provisions of this section of the National Housing Act," Yager advised, "see your local lumber dealer."

The program offers assistance in the form of monthly payments by the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the lending institutions to reduce interest cost on a market rate home mortgage insured by FHA if a homeowner cannot afford to make a conventional loan.
