By VERN SANFORD

Right now most of us are putting our rifles away for a long time. We've been through a successful big game season, with more deer, antelope and javelinas killed in Texas than for many years. All have been in good condition.

Chances are you have a big bore rifle. It may be an ordinary lever action, a converted military model or a new model bolt or semi-automatic. Whatever it is, it deserves the best treatment you can give it.

If you've already sacked it away without a good cleaning job, then for your gun's sake, stop reading right now and clean that fowling piece.

While it is true that today's ammunition is loaded with non-corrosive primers, there still is residue in the barrel, and sweat marks on the outside. All must be removed. Run a good oil patch through the barrel, then give the gun a rubdown with a good gun oil, like Hoppe's, or with a silicon cloth.

If you store your gun in a case, be sure there is no moisture in the case, or that no sweating is possible. Otherwise you may come up with a ruined gun. Finding rust flecks on a favorite gun isn't a comfortable feeling.

Store for Safety
Storage of your gun is just as important. Every man would like to have a good metal or even a knotty pine gun cabinet. But not every man can. Some keep their guns behind the bedroom door. Others keep them sitting in the corner. But mostly they are stored in closets.

All this is dangerous, especially where there are children.

If you are one who keeps a gun in your closet, then be sure it is cased, and that no ammunition is left around. A child simply cannot resist the temptation of playing with a gun, or trying to insert cartridges in one.

For safety's sake, it is best to give your child a good gun education. Take him (or her) out into the hills or onto the target range and let him learn just exactly what a gun is for and what it can do. Explain that children must not handle a gun themselves until they have had enough experience. Most children, taken into your confidence, will respect your wishes.

There are thousands of homes where guns sit around the house or are thrown around in automobiles, and children pay little or no attention to them. Generally speaking, however, a little gun education for the child is very wise.

Crow Shooting Is Fun
Ever try crow shooting? This is fine sport after the regular hunting season is over. These black rascals do lots of harm both in the field and to the young bird and animal life. They prowl and destroy more pecans and peanuts every year than are eaten by people.

There are many interesting forms of crow shooting. One of the simplest is to hide in the brush around a known crow area, with a call. A good call can be bought for a dollar or so and very little practice is required to lure in the crows, fighting mad. As they soar in, blast away.

This is a mighty good way to use up old ammunition. Most hunters have a box or two of old shotgun shells. Why not burn yours up on crows this year?

Get a group of kindred souls together and contact some farmer who is pestered with crows. He'll be glad to let you shoot crows in the woods at the edge of his field. That is, if you'll assure him you won't shoot his livestock.

Many hunters like to kill off crows with scope-fitted, high speed rifles. This is fun. "Also dangerous. Extreme care should be used in this type of shooting. These high-speed bullets fly to pieces easily upon contact with anything. But if they don't happen to hit the target at the right time, they may continue on to hit something they shouldn't.

Anyway, help the farmers get rid of crows this year with your spare ammunition. It's really fun. If you don't know where to find them, ask your game warden.

Game Warden Can Help You
Incidentally, the game warden is a good friend of the outdoorsman. He can be of great help to you in finding good places to hunt and fish.

Usually he and your county agent will know landowners who don't object to reasonable shooting. They'll even let you fish on their places if you ask them the right way.

These game wardens are very human persons. They are good citizens of your community and will be glad to help you every way they can.

You can help them, too. If you know someone who is killing game illegally, tip off the warden. If you have a question about the game laws, talk with him about it. That way there will be a much better understanding all around.

Time for Trolines
If you are a catfisherman, now's the time to begin getting your lines ready.

If your line was used much during the last season, it may be pretty rotten by now. More than likely most of your stageons have become rust rotted. Perhaps your hooks also are dull or rusted. Clean them up, and put on new stageons.

There are now many new ways of attaching hooks to your trolines. You may want to check on some of these. Anyway, get the

"EVERYTHING IS DANGEROUS TO HIM THAT IS AFRAID OF IT"

There is now no good reason why anyone should worry about a possible disease they think they might have. Medical Science is rapidly learning the answer to many formerly unsolvable problems.

No one should be afraid that they might have an incurable disease because there are now none that cannot be helped if the diagnosis is made early. If you have any continuously recurring symptoms, just let your physician find out the answer. The odds are he will quickly prove they are not dangerous if you follow his advice.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles on Social Security compiled by C. M. Vaden, Jr., Field Representative of the Abilene Social Security office. The articles are designed to give you a better understanding of your Social Security. If you pick up with this article and read each of the succeeding articles, you should have a good general knowledge of the Social Security program.

What is Social Security? This is the logical place to begin any series of articles on Social Security. Social Security is basic financial protection against income loss due to old age, disability, or death. It is insurance—based on the same general principle as private insurance, but it is not a contract agreement. It is a social insurance program, the idea being that you make small payments during your working life and when you are faced with an emergency such as disability or death, or when you reach old age and retire, you and your family or your survivors get the payments.

I would like to emphasize that Social Security is Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. A lot of people have the idea that Social Security pays only retirement benefits. Actually it provides protection against three risks—loss of earnings in old age, loss of earnings due to death of the bread-winner of the family, and loss of earnings due to a disability.

So Social Security is actually three kinds of insurance—disability insurance, life insurance and old-age insurance.

I would like to point out that Social Security should not be confused with Old-Age Assistance or Unemployment Insurance. Social Security is Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance. The Old-Age Assistance program is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare. Unemployment Insurance is administered by the Texas Employment Commission. Neither of these two programs is connected with your Social Security tax.

Should you want more information on Social Security, write the Social Security Administration, P. O. Box 1641, Abilene, Texas, and ask for a free copy of the booklet, "Your Social Security."

Baptist YWA News

The Winona Treadwell Young Womens Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church met Monday afternoon at the church for the program observing the week of prayer for home missions.

Anita Baugh presided during the business meeting when Janie Schaffner read the minutes and Joan McNutt gave the treasurer's report.

Vondean Walters, program chairman, introduced the program, "Faith Working Through Love." The devotional was given by Anita Baugh, as a picture of the Statue of Liberty was shown. The group joined in singing "America" and a solo, "Speak to My Heart," was sung by Vondean Walters. Those having parts on the program were Mary Gary, Joan McNutt, Betty Wyatt and Janie Schaffner.

Mrs. Lindsey Tyson, counselor, had charge of the program periods which followed the meditations given by the program leader. Following the closing prayer for the missionaries, listed on the prayer calendar, the group sang "Something for Thee."

The next regular meeting will be held Monday afternoon, March 10, at the church at which time the Annie Armstrong offering for home missions will be taken.

GA's Holding Meeting

The Jackie Short Junior G. A. met at the First Baptist Church Monday afternoon for the special home missions prayer program.

The theme was "Faith Plus Love Equals Action." Prayer chairman, Delores Falkner, led the program and each girl taking part pinned a red heart on the home mission map in the particular area she told about. The home mission offering was given, and exceeded the goal which had been set the week before.

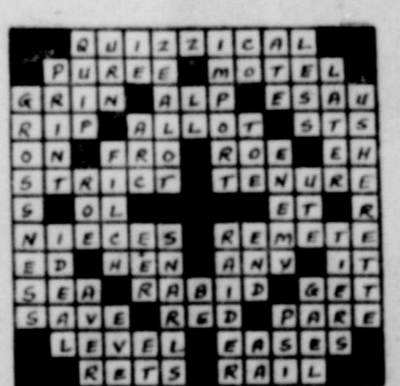

Mission study chairman, Kathleen Cowan, announced that we would study the book "The Cherry Children" at our next meeting, which will be held in the home of the counselor, Mrs. Kenneth Holt, next Monday, March 10.

Attending the meeting were Becky Baird, Linda Bodine, Kathleen Cowan, Deloris Falkner, Martha Foster, Jackie Holt, Elaine Parker, Marsha Petty, Dianna Purvis, Linda Purvis, Eugene Walters, Mrs. Kenneth Holt and Mrs. Donald Baird.

AUSTIN, Tex.—What will happen to Texas without a sure flow of oil money to grease the wheels of government and business?
March oil allowable was set at 2,517,249 barrels a day (a drop of 513,814 barrels a day from February) with only nine producing days. Railroad Commission said the cut-back to lowest level since pre-World War II days was necessitated by excess stocks.
Over-supply developed this way, according to officials: Texas production was shown to record highs a year ago to supply Europe while the Suez Canal was closed. Then Suez re-opened, Middle East oil flowed to Europe again and Texas was left holding unwanted surplus. Further aggravating the situation was the gush of foreign oil into the U. S., taking part of the market from Texas production.
Digging into causes and effects is Governor Price Daniel's Oil Imports Study Commission. At first-round hearings in Austin these views were presented:
BY GOV. DANIEL—Texas is facing its most serious economic threat in 25 years. "Mandatory federal controls" are apparently the only way to stop excessive importing.
BY STATE COMPTROLLER ROBERT S. CALVERT—Constitution of the present oil production pattern for another 90 days would put the state $20,000,000 further in the red by the end of the current fiscal period. This would mean a $22,000,000 shortage rather than the $12,000,000 deficit estimated earlier.

BY MAURICE ACERS, TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION — Employment in the Texas oil industry has declined 8,000 since last July. A drop of five per cent in oil employment takes $50,000,000 in wages from the Texas economy.
BY A. T. MULLINS, GENERAL LAND OFFICE—One company has said it will stop seeking oil from state-owned lands, and others have said they will, unless the state reduces lease prices.
BY J. WARREN HITT, TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY—Approximately 31.3 per cent of state school money comes from the oil and gas industry.
BY MARSHALL FORMBY, TEXAS HIGHWAY COMMISSION CHAIRMAN—Reduced oil production would eventually cut back construction of highways.
BY JOHN H. WINTERS, COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WELFARE—Loss of oil revenue could reduce payments to the aged, the blind and dependent children.
BY REP. MAX SMITH, HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS CHAIRMAN—Next Legislature faces a prospect of spending money it doesn't have or finding new sources of taxation.
DR. PHILIP E. COLDWELL, DALLAS FEDERAL RESERVE BANK—Imports are only partly to blame for Texas oil troubles. Problem of oversupply is world-wide and likely will continue for some time.
French Robertson of Abilene is chairman of the Study Commis-

Gov. Daniel called hearings held to date "very successful." Next meeting is to be March 18 in Abilene.
Meantime, the governor has wired governors of 20 other states asking them to join in the effort to get federal government action limiting imports.
SEARCH FOR NEW INDUSTRY
—Long dormant Texas Industrial Commission has new members and a new job.
Gov. Daniel named E. B. Germany of Dallas chairman and gave the commission the task of enticing new industries to Texas to help relieve unemployment.
Originally designed to study labor-management troubles, the commission has been inactive for some years. Its new industry-attracting work is to be financed by private contributions and conducted co-operatively with chambers of commerce and other local groups.
Members are Houston Harte, San Angelo Standard-Times publisher; A. O. McNeese Jr., banker and lawyer, Houston; George T. Hinson, former state representative, Mineola; Chester C. Wine, power company employe, Laredo.
NEW RECEIVER — James M. Williamson succeeds J. D. Wheeler in the often-spotlighted job as liquidator for the State Board of Insurance. Williamson is a former district judge in Laredo and prior to his appointment was attorney for several Fort Worth insurance companies.
State liquidator has responsibility for winding up affairs of insurance companies that go broke. For some years the office has been caught in the middle of a struggle between an Austin district court and the State Insurance Board as to which was authority to appoint receivership attorneys for the bankrupt companies.
PRISON FARM COTTON CUT — Texas taxpayers face an extra burden unless the Prison System can get a more favorable cotton acreage allotment, says Gen. Mgr. O. E. Ellis.
Ellis protested to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture that acreage for prison farms has been cut disproportionately, costing the system $2,500,000 in income. No chance for improvement is seen this year since U.S.D.A. refused to interfere with locally set quotas. Court action is planned, but could not bring help before the '56 planting season.
Texas Prison System is heavily dependent on income from inmate-run industry and agriculture to foot the upkeep bills.
CREDIT ORDER HOLDS — Credit insurance rates in Texas will be slashed by about 50 per cent beginning May 1—despite howls of protest from affected companies.
State Board of Insurance first issued an order cutting credit insurance rates last December. Order with withdrawn for re-study after companies declared it would ruin their business.
New order is only slightly changed. Estimates are that it will cut income from credit insurance from $16,500,000 to $8,000,000 annually. Only possible roadblock would be the resuming of a suit filed earlier to halt enforcement of the December order.
SHORT SNORTS — Dr. Robert Strain, associate professor of insurance at the University of Texas, has been named to the State Board of Insurance to replace Joe P. Gibbs of Seguin, who has resigned.
Building construction authorized during January was up five per cent from December, but ran 15 per cent short of the January, 1957, level. Total for state this January was $63,191,000. . . It's okay for the State Board to use funds from a private organization (the H. E. Butt Foundation) to supplement the salary of an executive director, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled. State-set pay is $15,000 annually. Board chairman said
