July Fourth Will Be Full Holiday Here

Following their usual custom, business firms of Cross Plains will observe Friday, July 4, as a full holiday and, no doubt, many local residents will take Saturday to give them a long holiday week end when they can take a trip, go fishing or do any one of a number of things they would like to do.

With virtually everyone working a five-day week in the cities, many local families are expecting relatives to visit them here over the week end.

Independence Day is one of six national holidays observed by local firms. Others are New Year's Day, Labor Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Herman Keith Receives Four-Year Scholarship

Herman Keith, popular and studious Hillsboro High School senior, has been awarded a "Thomas J. Watson Memorial Scholarship" in nuclear physics by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Seventeen-year-old Herman received the scholarship after taking two merit tests, completing against approximately 17 per cent of the nation's senior high school enrollment.

The first test was given at Hillsboro High School in the fall of 1957. Herman scored well on this two-hour test, qualifying him to advance to the finals in scholarship competition.

Another examination, the final and crucial three-hour test, was given at Baylor University in Waco in January. Herman's grade in this examination earned him a four-year scholarship to attend Rice Institute at Houston.

Herman's parents, Herman and Elizabeth Alred Keith, are deceased. He resided in Cross Plains five years ago with his late mother and attended Cross Plains school in the eighth grade, and after moving away has visited here often with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Adair. He resides with his grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Alred in Hillsboro.

'Million Dollar' Rain Blankets This Area Saturday; Local Gauge Totals 1.50 Inches

A "million dollar" rain fell over the Cross Plains area Saturday afternoon of last week, measuring 1.50 inches on the Official U. S. Weather Bureau gauge kept here by S. P. "Fos" Bond.

The rain started shortly after noon and a hard downpour dumped .95 inches of moisture in about an hour, with another .55 inch falling gently in intermittent showers during the afternoon.

With most of the bumper grain crop harvest completed, the rain was welcomed by nearly everyone and will go along way in making a feed crop in this section. Most growers had their peanuts planted and were anxiously waiting the moisture to give them a good healthy stand. Other row crops were in need of moisture and the rain has been hailed as "just what the doctor ordered."

Gauges in this area reveal that the rain was general, with some communities measuring much more. Reports from the Cross Cut sector state that some parts of that area received over three inches.

Turkey Creek was bankful late Saturday afternoon and residents along the stream were worried for a while, because another rain would have it swirling into lowlands along the watershed where many valuable acres of row crops show promise of a bountiful harvest this year.

The Cross Plains Buffalo Band will hold a rehearsal in the band hall Tuesday night, July 1, at 7:30 p.m. according to director Roy T. Flournoy.

Flournoy urges all band members to attend as it will be the first meeting of the band for the coming school year, and some organization will be done at this meeting.

As the tank was being lowered into the pit with the use of a tractor mounted hoist, the tractor began to roll forward. As Dillard attempted to escape from the pit, he was knocked back into it, and pinned by the tractor.

He was carried to the Overall Hospital in Coleman and later was moved to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene where he underwent surgery. He suffered several breaks in the pelvis bone and other injuries.

DPS Predicts 28 Deaths In Holiday Crashes

The Texas Department of Public Safety issued a reminder to Texas motorists today that the July 4 holiday is a time when the state's highway death toll normally carries with it a tragic thing called highway death. In going so, the DPS predicted 28 motorcyclists will occur in this forthcoming three-day holiday.

The department's Operation Deathwatch covering all forms of violent deaths will be held from 12:01 a.m. July 4 through 11:59 p.m. July 6. This includes the full July 4th weekend.

In making the announcement, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said that an intense effort will be made throughout the state by enforcement officers under his command to make our highways safe for Fourth of July drivers.

"We will make every available effort to remove the dangerous driver from our highways. Patrolmen in three of this department's law enforcement services—Highway Patrol, License and Weight and Motor Vehicle Inspection—will use every available enforcement aid to apprehend the accident-prone driver.

"The Patrolmen would appreciate your help during this high accident period. We ask that you drive safely: don't drive too fast or too long, and follow our traffic laws to the letter. Your help in driving correctly and safely will be the best deterrent to traffic accidents."

The prediction of 28 motorcyclists for the three-day period came from N. K. Woerner, DPS statistician, who originated the idea of estimating the state's holiday death toll in 1940. The veteran statistician, who very closely predicts holiday motorcyclists, said the all-time toll for a three-day July 4th was in 1954 when 33 persons were killed in 26 fatal accidents. Twenty-eight were killed in a similar three-day period in 1953, and 29 died during the three-day July 4th holiday of 1952.

The Operation Deathwatch to be held by the DPS includes a count of all violent deaths in Texas during the predicted period. No estimate was made of homicides, suicides and accidental non-traffic deaths. The predicted 28 covers only those killed in traffic accidents.

Garrison urged Texans to do their celebrating in a sensible manner. Deaths, he said, caused by drownings, food poisoning and accidental shootings will not occur if precautionary measures are taken in advance of the tragedies.

During the one-day July 4th curfew 1957 eight accidental deaths occurred, two homicides and suicides were recorded, and 15 persons became traffic fatalities.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Hargrove Jr., and Buster Gary visited in Fort Worth Thursday night of last week with Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hendrick and visited in Dallas Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ramey and son of San Angelo spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson. Jerry Ramey accompanied his parents home after a week's visit with his grandparents.

The Mikeska family will reside in the McClellan home on North Ave. D.

Arrangements have been made by Dr. Mikeska to use the facilities of the Rising Star Hospital for his patients needing hospitalization.

PHILOSOPHER WANTS TO BE SHOWERED WITH GIFTS TO SEE IF THEY INFLUENCE HIM

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou probably is in the wrong location for the test he proposes this week, but that's his lookout, not ours.

Dear editor:

Me and some of my neighbors were sitting around here yesterday afternoon discussing the grave matter of gifts and whether or not a man can accept 'em without obligating himself to return the favor.

One of my neighbors said it was impossible for a man in public office to accept a gift without developing a warm spot for the man who did the giving, and another said it was, while a third said it might be possible, but he wasn't sure he wanted to deal with a man who could accept a present from you and still be just as cold toward you as he was before.

"Who wants even a dog that won't wag his tail when you throw him a bone?" he wanted to know.

Well, now, I'll tell you. As I understand it, the problem of gifts to public officials has been both giving public servants ever since somebody sent George Washington a can of powder for his wig, and I have decided it's time to put the thing to a test. It's time to pit a man's character against a batch of gifts, and if nobody else wants the job, I'll take it on. I don't mean there aren't a lot of public officials who don't want the job, or who haven't already got it, but I mean somebody who wants to take on the job out in public. Accepting a gift that doesn't come to light unless a Congressional investigating committee stumbles on it is one thing, but what I'm talking about is accepting it in broad daylight.

Now right off I'd like to say that I don't have much use for a vicuna coat, don't believe it'd be practical to plow in, and a $2,400 rug would be wasted in my house until I get the roof fixed, and while I intend to get it fixed, I haven't gotten around to it yet and don't know when I will, as I figure that's my business. It's a man's job to provide a roof for his family, all right, but there's nothing in the contract that says it has to be leak-proof.

However, I could use a few things, like a new tractor, a set of spark plugs, two new tires, some new fences—provided they're installed, just as soon have an oriental rug as a bunch of wire and posts I have to put up myself—and a few sides of bacon, a television set, and any number of other things, and if my friends want to shower any of these on me, I will accept them and keep a close check on my reactions to see if a man can accept gifts without being influenced one way or the other.

Before I start though, I'd like to point out that it has been my observation that when people start sending gifts to Washington, everybody else howls in protest, but when Washington starts sending gifts to the people, let's change the subject.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity, but to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subduced and more or less served on a platter in homes and business where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch. In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

Washington
"As It Looks From Here"
OMAR BURLISON
Congressman 17th District

Washington, D.C.—A fundamental and continuing issue is before the American people. It is not a political issue in the sense of candidates or party. It is one from which most want to shy away.

It is the matter of so-called grant-in-aid to states, cities and individuals. It involves 105 different programs. For the fiscal year 1957, it amounted to 6 1/2 billion dollars.

On several occasions in recent years the Supreme Court has said, in effect, that the Federal Government may control that to which it contributes. The decisions do not say the Federal Government must control, but that it may control.

The issue is: Should the Federal Government tax its citizens and return to them in the form of grants, some of the money collected, or should it collect less money by lower taxes, leaving the local governments to collect the taxes and provide the programs it wants?

Should the Federal Government tax the people, decide what the needs are and the degree of control to be placed over the programs by the bureaus, commissions or departments administering the programs?

Grants increased 25 per cent from 1956 to 1957. It is estimated that in the coming fiscal year these grants will exceed 8 billion dollars. In 1953, soon after President Eisenhower took office, he suggested to the Governors of the States that a Joint Federal-State Action Committee be set up to study this question.

The most the committee did was to recommend a reduction of the Federal excise tax on local telephone service from 10 to 6 per cent, and that the states levy the tax instead, to finance programs costing about 106 million dollars a year. This sum would be supposed to take care of vocational education, municipal waste treatment plants, advance planning for slum clearing projects and disaster relief for damage to public facilities.

All of this is a drop in the bucket compared to total grants, and besides, it deals with a tax on communications which was supposed to be a temporary wartime tax.

The mayors of all the big cities, with one or two exceptions, opposed reductions in Federal grants. So do the State Governors.

How does our State of Texas fare under the state allocations of grants-in-aid?

Texas was second only to California in the amount received in 1957. Texas received $463,969,000. Based on a population of a little over 9 million, this amounts to $50 per person. Incidentally, this compares with $38 per capita for the nation as a whole. Our State paid $2,567,739,000 in total taxes, or 3.2 per cent of the total taxes into the United States Treasury during 1957, and received 7 per cent of all grants made by the Federal Government.

Everyone is for states' rights, but we must wonder how long it will be before all states and local governments have sold these rights to the Federal Government. Remember what the highest courts in the land have said—"The Federal Government has the right and may control that to which it contributes."

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Holland of Los Angeles, Calif., visited Mrs. Sam Barr the past week.

Larry Zunker of San Antonio is spending two weeks with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Barton, at Pioneer.

Mrs. Jack Arrington and children are here from Denton for a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Barnard.

Henry Ring is spending the summer in Alice with the George Barnard Jr. family.

Department of Safety Preparing for Deathwatch

Major Wilson E. Speir, Regional Commander of Region No. 4, Department of Public Safety announced this week that Operation Deathwatch for the three day July 4th Holiday Period will run from 12:01 a.m. July 4th through 11:59 p.m. July 6th. A total of 28 motorcycles have been predicted for this period.

Major Speir said that all uniformed enforcement personnel of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, License and Weight Service and Highway Patrol Service of the Department of Public Safety would be assigned traffic duties during this period. All holidays and days off have been cancelled. Patrolmen will operate radar extensively during this holiday period in an effort to reduce the death toll.

Speed and DWI violations will be the primary targets of Patrolmen during this period as these two violations contribute to traffic deaths more than any other violations.

Motorists are urged to cooperate in the reduction effort by observing all traffic laws, drive defensively, don't gamble your life and that of your loved ones on a few seconds you might gain by driving at excessive speeds.

"Let's commemorate the 4th of July in the proper spirit and live for others to come," Speir said.

Baird Firm Is Distributor For New Type Fertilizer

News of interest to farmers and ranchers of Callahan County and adjoining counties, is the announcement made this week by the Callahan County Fertilizer Distributor Corporation, Inc., located at 227 Market Street, in Baird, Texas, stating that the new firm is now set up and handling a completely new type of fertilizer known as Andryous Ammonia Liquid Fertilizer.

The firm is equipped to furnish and apply the fertilizer to local crops. This liquid fertilizer is the type which has been so highly recommended and publicized in all the leading farm magazines recently.

In speaking of the new fertilizer, W. L. (Bill) Lawrence, president of the firm stated, "We now have our storage system filled with Andryous Ammonia and also have the equipment to put it on the land with, together with a string of nurse tanks used to transport the product to the farmer's field. We have already pre-planted this fertilizer for field crops and also side-dressed several crops of corn, cotton, peanuts and grain sorghums, and these crops are showing an excellent response."

"This type of fertilizer may be applied to a crop and within 24 to 36 hours it has gone to work and the plant is getting the benefit of it. This fertilizer is 82 per cent nitrogen, and if you figure the amount of nitrogen the different crops take out of the soil, you will readily see how and why a plant responds to this type of fertilizer so rapidly," he said.

The firm also handles all types of commercial fertilizers. For further information on this fertilizer and its application, you may see any one of the three men who own and operate the corporation. Lawrence is president, A. H. Turner is vice-president, and Edward R. Koneczak is secretary. Mr. Turner and Mr. Koneczak are businessmen in Baird and Lawrence is Your Farm Bureau Agent in Callahan County and stock farmer in the Rowden community. —Paid Advertisement.

TAX-MAN SAM SEZ:

Even though farmers have been covered by the Federal Social Security Law for several years, a lot of farmers still need additional information on paying self-employment tax. The rate of the self-employment tax is 3 3/8 per cent. Farmers and other self-employed taxpayers are required to pay self-employment tax if their net earnings from self-employment amount to $400 or more for the year. No more than $4,200 of self-employed taxpayers' earnings is subject to tax. The self-employment tax is in addition to income tax. If you were self-employed, you must have a social security account number. You can get an application blank, Form SS-5, at your Post Office. Use this blank to apply for your Social Security number. You pay your tax for the entire year along with your income tax return.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

Right now bass fishermen are winding up the top-water season. This is the type of fishing we dream of. Unfortunately, however, few of us get out often enough to enjoy it to the fullest.

There is a lot of luck to bass fishing. A lot of science too! The secret of success is in using the right plug in the right place. True, there are times when an old bass will hit on anything. But, there are other times when it seems he will hit on nothing. Did you say that that usually is the time you go fishing? I feel the same way too—and far too often.

While many fish are caught for some reason or another, the man who comes in with a good stringer of big fish usually does it because he knew what he was doing.

A good example of what occurred recently when a group of fishing tackle salesmen beat the brush in Lake Whitney. They came up with more five pound bass in one afternoon than any of the old timers who were there, ever remembered seeing in any one day.

Naturally these salesmen were experts in casting. However, they also knew how to study the lay of the land. It couldn't be said that any one plug was better than another, because each rep was using his own particular brand, and all paid off. The two fishermen who came in for the top prizes were Dave Hawk of Corpus Christi and Ray Bellinger of San Antonio. Dave makes Pico lures and Ray sells Silaflex rods and Langley reels.

Both are wonders in the use of rod and reel. So were all the other reps. But the big payoff came for this team because they picked out places that were natural for bass.

They not only worked the points and the pockets. They worked water where it was evident that a fault line lay beneath. For instance if a rock ledge protrudes into the water, study its range. If there is a known drop-off beneath the surface, fish parallel to this reef, not across it. In that way you'll attract the big bass on the deep side as well as the yearlings that might be playing near the surface.

If there is a little drainage cut entering the lake, where water from the country side flows in to make a sandbar, that usually is a good place, too. Food particles enter the lakes at such places. Small fish feed on this plankton. Big fish feed on the little ones.

Some people fish with top water lures almost all the time. They get fish. It is known that a bass will dash 20 feet to take a lure if he wants it.

Top-water fishing follows the same general pattern, even through a good top-water fisherman works according to his own experience.

For the beginner, top water fishing is much easier. He can watch his plug work. He is less likely to get hung and lose a plug. And he can have plenty of fun when a bass hits.

Working along the shore line the man in the back of the boat takes the close-in water; the man in the front, however, always should be careful not to disturb all the waters which will affect the fishing of the man in the back of the boat.

Pick your spots. Lay your plug in where there is likely to be a bass. Twitch it, jerk it or chug it, according to the make of lure you are using. Wind in a couple of times, and then do it again.

Sometimes when you are fishing in brush waters, or in moss pockets, it pays to leave your plug where it falls, for 30 seconds or more. Give it a slight twitch occasionally. Some bass finally get curious.

In brush fishing, you'll hang your plug many times. But you'll also get bass. The fellow who never hangs a plug doesn't usually get the most bass.

You can go on and on about the methods of top-water fishing. It is good on quiet, still water, in the early morning or late evening. It is a wonderful way to catch bass around lily pads, moss beds, rocky shorelines, in the brush, or among the tree stumps.

Cane Pole Fishing
Long the favorite system of thousands has been cane pole fishing. It may be the lazy way to catch fish, but it also contributes a great deal to the contentment of many thousands of fishermen.

Go anywhere and you'll find pole fishermen. Usually they are wearing flop hats or blue bonnets. But, it also is pretty certain that there'll be a stringer of mixed fish hanging in the water nearby.

Now comes South Bend with a new rod for jig and pan fishing. It is called the Lazy Day. It is a 10-foot telescoping glass rod with a wooden handle. Some of these rods are equipped with line keepers so that the lines can be wound on the keepers when the rod is closed.

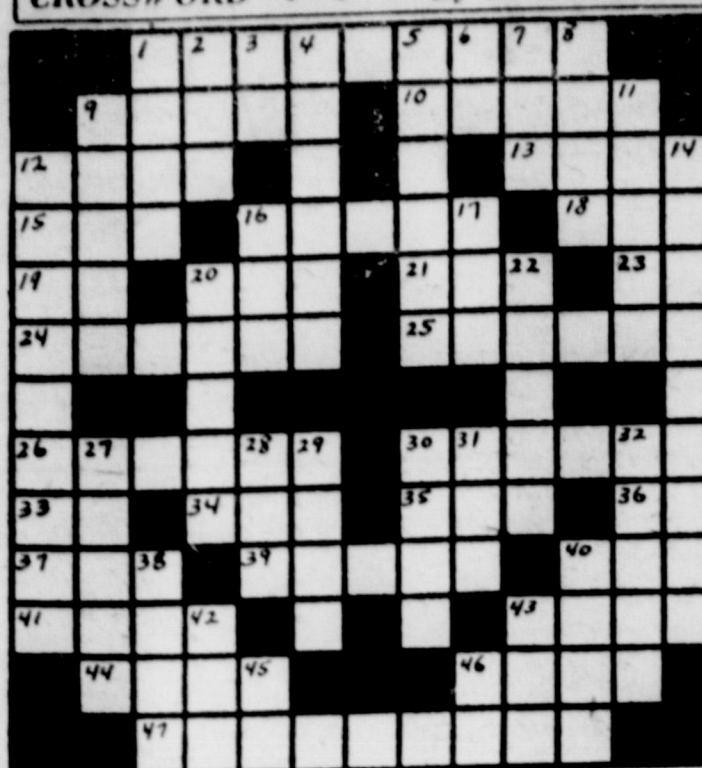

The combination costs more than a cane pole ($7.95 to $11.95), but it also has many worthwhile features to recommend it. For instance a 10-foot rod closes to approximately half its length, and can be carried in the back of an automobile without any trouble.

There's a big day coming for these extension type rods.

A Word of Caution
Here's a piece of advice that might save you a lot of money before the summer is over. Check your trailers. Most of us run our trailers trip after trip without paying too much attention to them. Then when something happens we are, invariably, a long, long way from home.

now. If we take good care of them, they will give us many miles of trouble free use.

Here are some suggestions from Gator Boat Trailer Co., which are good for any boat trailer: (1) Clean and repack wheels and check bearings; (2) Thoroughly lubricate all moving parts; (3) Remove rust spots and repaint them; (4) Check cradle and bunker padding for boat protection; (5) Check coupler carefully. If it is out of line you'll bring home undue wear on your tires; (6) Tighten all bolts and (7) Replace winch-rope if it shows signs of fraying.

To these suggestions we might add—be sure and check your tail light and license number plate. Remember also that your tie-downs must be efficient and capable of holding your boat in place.

Take these precautions and you'll have a minimum of trailer trouble. Trailing boats is getting to be more of a problem every day, because of inadequate launching facilities and storage areas. Some boat owners are very thoughtless, too. They'll put their boats in the water and then leave their trailers in the way of others who want to launch their own boats.

Remember, fellows—after you launch your boat, remove your trailer. Get it out of the way, so that the next fellow will have plenty of room to turn and launch. It could save you money in the long run as some of us are not too good at this trailer backing—and you might be rammed.

Preparing Food for Camping Trips

For a camping trip, a picnic or a meal in the backyard, food cooked in aluminum foil is delicious and easy to do. You can bake and serve in the foil and save on dish-washing.

Vegetables, meats and fruits can be "pressure cooked" in their own juices this way, with only a bit of seasoning, shortening, butter or bacon added for flavor and moisture.

For best results, extension foods and nutrition specialists offer these suggestions.

Wrap carefully—the piece of foil should be large enough to allow for drug store wrap. Place food in center. Add butter or fat and seasonings. Fold edges until tight on food. Double the layer around the food by repeating the process with another piece of foil.

Place package directly on a bed of hot coals. Never use a flaming fire (except when using a reflector oven). Cooking time will vary with type of firewood, wind strength and other factors. Recipes can give only approximate time. Turn food package at approximately half its cooking time.

Serve contents directly from the wrap, doing away with a dish or plate.

Details on foil cookery are given in the bulletin on "Food for Camp." Get a copy from your local county extension agent's office.

crews to spray hatching grounds along roadways. State Agriculture Department, Highway Department, National Guard and Defense and Disaster Relief Office are cooperating in the battle. Aim is to try to kill the insects before they leave the hatching grounds and start chewing their way into crops for which farmers had high hopes this year.

Another threat is fund shortage. At a cost of some $3,000 a day for spraying crews, Texas Agriculture Department's emergency funds dwindled fast.

Governor Daniel expressed hope that some federal assistance might be obtained.

Cox Appeal Denied.—Ex-Rep. J. E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two-year prison sentence.

Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left—filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeals court recesses June 28, this could not be considered until it reconvenes next October.

Cox's troubles rocked the state last Spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, one-time head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to shake down Harmon in return for killing an anti-naturapath bill which Cox had introduced in the legislature.

Judge's Opponent Out.—One election contest has already been settled, some six weeks before election day.

Texas Supreme Court ruled District Judge Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls not eligible to run for the Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge K. K. Woodley. Reason: Judge Purcell has had only nine years experience as a lawyer and judge.

An amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualification as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1945 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case.

Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic renomination for another six-year term.

Line-Jumping Threat.—Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenson Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big D" voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election. Presumably, unless conservatives are on hand to vote, Cantrell's friends might scratch GOP-favorite Alger in his own primary.

But it's a two-edged sword that applies equally to Dallas liberals. If they go to the Republican primary to help Cantrell, they can't vote for liberal Democratic contenders for state office nor fight conservatives for Democratic precinct control.

Like A Jury?—Defending the State Board of Health's closed door meetings, Comm. Henry H. Holle said:

"The Board is like a jury. You get the verdict, but you can't get in on their comments."

State Health Board has authority to allocate federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act to match local funds for hospital building. Its policy has been to announce names of hospitals to receive funds, but not those rejected or why.

Newsmen had been openly critical of the Board for barring the press from its meetings. Holle said minutes of Board meetings were available to the public after formal approval at the next meetings—three months later.

More Money for Land.—Texas Veterans Land Board has made its third $12,500,000 sale of bonds to finance land purchases by veterans.

This brings to $37,500,000 the bonds sold since last December. Land Office spokesmen say it gives the program enough money to carry it until August, 1958. A total of $200,000,000 in bond issues was authorized by voters in a recent constitutional amendment.

For a time the program was at a standstill because the Board was unable to find bond buyers who would accept the three per cent or less in interest which the state is allowed under the constitution to pay.

Try, Try Again.—Texas Supreme Court is again being asked to referee the battle of appointments that has brought the state insurance liquidation to "utter chaos."

Latest deadlock developed when Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison fired Liquidator James M. Williamson (in office only 10 weeks) and replaced him with C. M. Landeau, formerly first deputy. But Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts, one of the three Austin judges handling insurance receivership cases, refused to accept Landeau as receiver for the cases in his court. He named another attorney. Other two judges accepted Landeau.

On behalf of the Insurance Department, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has petitioned the Supreme Court for permission to file a writ of mandamus voiding Betts' action. His petition charges Betts with usurping powers assigned the Insurance Department. It says the "divided responsibility" of two receivers in one office "creates utter chaos."

In a previous effort to get a ruling that would unsnarl authority over liquidation, the high court held the judge could appoint a receiver if the Insurance Department failed to do so.

HEALTH NOTES

The advent of penicillin and other so-called "wonder drugs" has revolutionized modern medical practices. These new drugs—called "antibiotics"—have caught the public's fancy, and have given physicians powerful weapons in their conquest against disease.

But into this symphony of praise has crept a sour note. Cases of incorrect dosage and self-prescription are becoming common; raising the danger of serious reactions.

It is a waste of time to run for a shot of penicillin for an oncoming cold. The drug is ineffective against the viral diseases, including common colds, flu, measles, and mumps. Taking penicillin in lozenges or other forms for scratchy throats, for upset stomachs, or a variety of mild illnesses which would quickly run their courses anyway, is unwise unless prescribed by a physician.

A common pattern of self-prescription goes like this: The doctor prescribes an antibiotic for a sick patient. Some of the pills are left over after the patient gets well. Several weeks later, the patient again feels bad and—on his own initiative—takes the left-over pills.

There are at least five good reasons why drugs should not be taken without prescription:

1. When improperly used, they may prevent or retard action of the body's natural immunity. This sometimes happens because drugs work on germs while the natural defense mechanism remains inactive.

2. Germs vary in strength and ability to cause disease. Stronger ones may become resistant to drugs, just as some insects have become resistant to DDT. They multiply and produce new generations also capable of resisting antibiotics. Recent outbreaks of infection in hospitals are proof of this.

3. Some diseases call for massive doses of drugs for prolonged periods. Taking small quantities on your own initiative might mean germs you are trying to kill may actually flourish.

4. Some people are allergic to drugs. One person in 25 is allergic to penicillin, and one in ten may develop allergic reactions after repeated doses.

5. Self-administration of antibiotics can often mask a really serious illness by obscuring symptoms, thus making an accurate diagnosis difficult or impossible.

Increasing use of wonder drugs have shown up their limitations. A most appropriate rule of thumb to follow in the use of any drug is never to take them without a physician's recommendation.
