Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher is a bit Johnson-grass farm on the Bayou, discusses foreign policy this week, which is out of his field.

Dear editor: All during the Congressional Campaigns throughout the past few weeks I've been reading indignant statements by different people saying we ought to keep our foreign policy out of politics, and I wish to say that if foreign policy has been injected into politics, I didn't do it. I don't even know what our foreign policy is.

Announcement of the lease of 30 acres of land at Port Mansfield by the State Parks Board is much more important to Texas' recreation program than the size of the property might indicate.

for years. But during the last year more people have come to know about it than for all the rest of the time it has been there.

Located at the end of a farm to market road, 25 miles east of Raymondville, it is one of the best fishing spots on the Texas coast. It can be reached over U. S. Highway 77 through Kingsville, south of Raymondville; or over U. S. Highway 181, south of Falfurrias to San Manuel, thence due east until paved State Highway 186 leads to the Gulf.

To give you a better idea, Port Mansfield is just 325 miles from Austin. For a long time Port Mansfield has been a good fishing spot. But, it was hard to get to and had practically no accommodations. Today Port Mansfield has more covered modern boat stalls and better launching ramps than perhaps any other spot on the Texas coast. The boat stalls are on a basin provided by the Willacy County Navigation District.

Another important feature of going to Port Mansfield is the motel accommodations. Latest model is by Sid Wheeler, who built the famous Bar-K ranch near Austin. He has just constructed a modern motel on the banks of the bay waters. It is a place where the entire family can go. It has comfortable beds, nice rooms, a good eating place and is less than one hundred feet from the water.

Recently a group of Texas newspaper men spent the week end at Wheeler's Red Fish Motel. It was just after the democratic convention. Their nerves were on edge and they wanted to get away from it all. So Wheeler invited them to come to Port Mansfield and fish for a few days.

Usually the best time to go fishing anywhere is just before you get there or just after you left. This case was the exception, however.

The scribes hit two wonderful days of fishing. Everyone hauled away an ice box filled with some of the most beautiful trout you ever saw. Out there in the waters of Laguna Madre they were so busy playing with skipjacks that they were able to forget completely for a few hours the political squabbles they had been sitting through for several weeks.

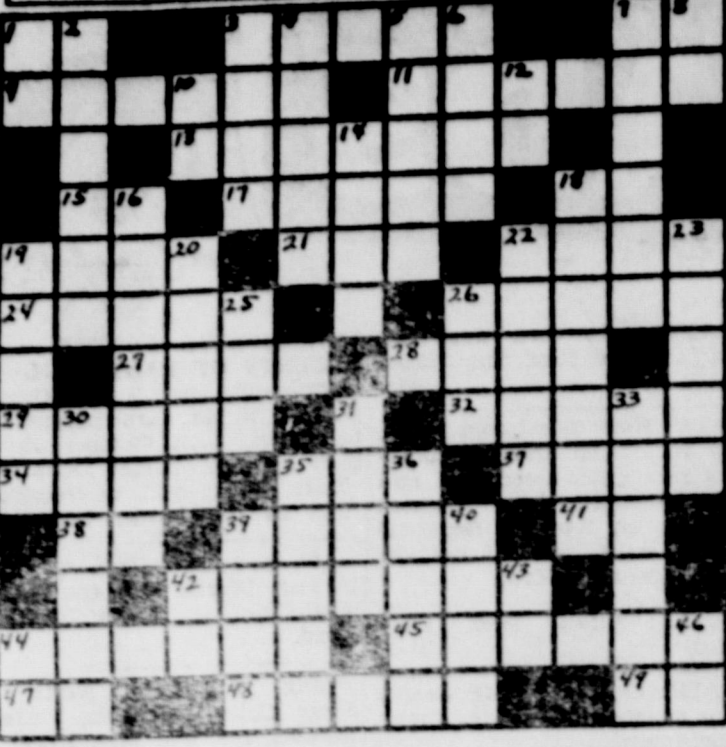

Whether had several good boats. Some of the Valley people brought other boats, to provide ample boating facilities. The Raymondville Chamber of Commerce gave a barbecue on Saturday night. There the people of Raymondville, who have been promoting the port project, told of their hopes and dreams of developing a real port at this location on the Texas coast.

People of Willacy County already have spent $2,500,000 on the project. This includes the dredging of a cut through Padre Island, to connect the Gulf of Mexico with the mainland. Unfortunately, the cut was completed last year just before a tropical disturbance hit, causing the cut to fill up too much for large boats.

Fishing boats still can go through the cut, however, to just about the finest fishing to be found anywhere. Most of the fishing done by the newsmen was in Laguna Madre, only a short distance from the motel. Practically all the fish were caught by following the gulls.

There were two or three men to the boat. They would ride along the intracoastal canal and watch for the birds. When they saw a flock of gulls working the water, they would speed to the location and start plugging. For the gulls were the signal that large fish, foraging in Laguna Madre, were chasing bait fish or shrimp. The attacking fish would push the smaller fish to the surface. Gulls then would dive down and grab up the small fish, or shrimp. So the writers went after the big ones. It was fabulous fishing. On almost every cast you'd bring in a nice trout.

Most of our fishing was done on light tackle. I was using a Mitchell light action rod and an Ambassador reel. Another fellow in the boat with me had the same equipment, while the third was using a Mitchell 300. I am just mentioning this to show the type of equipment we had for this fast fishing.

Most of us were using either 8 or 10 pound monofilament line. It stood up well and we lost very few lures.

The specs hit on anything. One of our party had a home-made jig he used exclusively. Before we went out he offered to sell one to the lucky buyer for $5. "After I get started fishing the price will double," he said. He looked at a Bingo that L. A. Wilke was using and announced that Wilke couldn't catch a spec on it. But he did. Then he went to a Pico perch. It brought in a nice trout. Then he tried one of those Hump salt water lures. It landed a fish.

By this time Wilke (who is an expert fisherman) wanted to find out what they wouldn't hit on. So he opened his tackle box and offered practically everything in it. Finally he settled on the Dixie Jet. He let it sink to the bottom to get away from the skipjacks. Then he'd jiggle it a little, about like fishing for sandies, and the next thing he knew he had a trout.

We quit fishing about 10:30 each morning and rested until mid-afternoon. Billy Disch, Austin marine dealer who fishes a lot, came in the second morning and announced that he had caught so many fish he never cared to catch another. He did, however, that very afternoon. It was too tempting to resist.

Also fishing with the newspaper men were Dave Hawk, who has won more championships this year than any other fisherman in Texas; Doug English, who makes the Old English lures; and Earl Humphries of El Campo, who makes the Hump lures. English and Hawk both live in Corpus Christi.

With this sort of fishing you can bet that the State Parks Board's new park will bring many other people to Port Mansfield.

It's a beautiful drive. You see wild deer, turkey and javelina along the highway before you get there. And at the end of the road you find fabulous fishing.

TWO RIFLES IN ONE—New dual-purpose "all around" rifles that handle either small game or deer, are attracting today's hunters. Savage 110, for example, is made for the versatile new .243 and 308 cartridges—as well as the long established 30-06 and 270. These new rifles are shorter, handier, lighter—yet pack slammung power, high accuracy and long range performance.

Spooks, hob-goblins, boys and girls will be roaming the streets tomorrow night, says the Texas Safety Association. Motorists should be extra careful to avoid these little goblins, so as not to make ghosts of them before their time.

Oat Pastures Can Be Better By Using Nitrogen Fertilizer

The application of nitrogen fertilizer at seeding time in the fall will increase the grazing value of small grains and step up their forage production during the fall and winter months. Too, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, the quality of their forage will be improved.

Nitrogen needs will vary, points out the chemist. Some soils will require no additional nitrogen while others will need from 20 to 40 pounds an acre.

Phosphorus is another plant food that is often needed by fall sown small grain. The amount may vary from none to 40 pounds an acre. On sandy, light textured soils, potash may also be needed, says Bennett.

If fall seeded small grains are to be used for grain production and not grazed, Bennett says nitrogen should not be applied at seeding time in the areas north of Waco, because of the possibility of winter killing. An early spring application of nitrogen is recommended for these areas.

In order to determine the fertilizer needs for a particular field, Bennett recommends that take soil samples and prepare for mailing to a soil-testing laboratory may be obtained from county agents, he says.

Among Cross Plains residents attending the Hardin-Simmons University-Wichita Saturday game in Abilene Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spivey and Mrs. Jack McCarty, Rev. Walters, A. J. McCurtain, Glover and James Apple.

Mrs. Jewel Ridley of Oklahoma City, Okla., visited a few days past week with her brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery of this city, and visited at May with her mother, Mrs. Mary Montgomery.

As Texas' "Battle of the years" on toward the 1959 almost every week brings a statement on the probable size of the state deficit. Usually worse than the last one.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Legislative Budget Director Vernon A. McGee combined to present a frankly pessimistic picture for the Texas Research League meeting in Austin.

WHY A PHARMACIST?

Your doctor knows the correct drugs for you, but he can't stock all the modern drugs.

Most modern pharmacies are required to carry several thousand dollars worth of prescription medications in stock. It is impossible for your doctor to carry all the drugs he has to use in modern practice, therefore, he prescribes most all of his medications, which he depends on your pharmacist to have in stock. This enables him not to have to limit his medications to the very few products he could carry himself.

PHARMACY IS A PROFESSION

several hundred leaders in Texas business and professions whose private contributions support research in the interest of governmental efficiency. Much of the League staff's time during the past year has been devoted to assisting the State Tax Study Commission in a mammoth survey of Texas' revenue and tax problems.

CAN DO—Gov. Price Daniel took a "we can lick this thing" attitude in a press conference on taxes.

Daniel said he felt the deficit could be erased and new revenue needs met without a general sales tax or income tax. Taxes we have presently could be raised to the maximum level used in other states, said the governor. And other taxes—not sales or income—could be added.

Daniel also indicated that he was not fully convinced that the gap between income and needs would be as large as the $154,000,000 mentioned by the comptroller.

He would not definitely say now, said the governor, that he would or would not veto sales or income tax bills if passed by the Legislature. But he made it clear that he did not favor them, and that he thought there were better possibilities.

Daniel praised state agencies who reduced their budget requests a total of $1,490,631. Overall, the budget requests had run $272,000,000 higher than for the present biennium.

Hospital Spending Axed—Possibility of more drastic cutting loomed when the Legislative Budget Board voted to reject some appropriations being sought by the State Hospital System.

It voted to lop $8,000,000 off the system's request operating fund and disapprove spending $5,500,000 for a new mental hospital in the Gulf Coast area.

Budget Board recommended a slight increase in money for the Texas Youth Council. But it voiced a "thumbs down" attitude toward setting up a state-supported paid parole system for juvenile delinquents.

Legislative Budget Board is made up of five members from the House and five from the Senate who, with staff assistance, screen appropriation requests in advance and make recommendations to the Legislature.

PULLING UP—Two state agencies who've gotten black marks in past years got basically good report cards in the summaries given by analyst for the Texas Research League meeting.

State Insurance Department has made many improvements in the year since its reorganization, said one researcher. He predicts that an ear of better regulation would result in saving to policyholders and fewer company failures.

State Welfare Department was described as "basically well-administered" in comparison to some years ago when it was the source of dissatisfaction.

In the welfare field, the League was told, Texas can expect increased spending in the future. Texas now spends 18 per cent of its tax money or $173,000,000 a year on welfare. But other states are "more generous," observed the researcher.

Salary Formula—Budget Board also is giving attention to drawing up a bill setting up a salary schedule for state employees.

Its purpose would be to guarantee "like pay for like work" throughout state departments. It would be based on a job classification study recently made by the Texas Employment Commission.

Public school and college teachers and persons in executive positions would not be included.

Budget Board members commented that in some departments a person doing stenographic work may be called on "administrative assistant" and get much more money than a person doing stenographic work in another dept.

Anti-Crime Laws—New laws and institutions to deal with crime may be a major topic for the next Legislature.

County and district attorneys meeting in Austin were asked by Governor Daniel to help in the job of strengthening and plugging the loopholes in Texas' law enforcement structure. Daniel said that at the present rate Texas will have a 28 per cent increase in crime in three years.

Too often, said the governor, criminals escape punishments through hairline technicalities in the laws. He also urged (1) state-paid parole supervisors for juveniles, (2) a second boys training school to those for whom there is more hope, and (3) stricter narcotics laws.

Don't Cut Off Nose—U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough is urging Texas liberal Democrats not to scratch Gov. Price Daniel's name on the general election ballot regardless of how they may feel about him.

Senator Yarborough warned delegates to the State AFL-CIO convention that each precinct gets one delegate for every 25 votes cast for the party's gubernatorial nominee. If a liberal area casts a small vote for governor, it will have small delegation to the next party convention and less chance of gaining control.

If you scratch the governor's name, said Yarborough, who has been at odds with Daniel for years, "you'll be cutting off your nose to spite your face."

He's No Help—Texas Democratic Party leaders said National Chairman Paul Butler is deliberately destroying party unity efforts by stirring up integration issue.

Butler's statement: "There will be no compromise on the integration problem. The people of the South who are not deeply dedicated to the philosophy of the Democratic Party will have to go their own way."

Said Governor Daniel: "We have been doing our best to settle these conflicts within the party and keep it big and strong enough to include people who do not share the same view." Statements like Butler's, said the governor, "will make the task more difficult."

Wildlife Aid Included In Conservation Reserve

Conservation practices which provide habitat and protection for wildlife qualify for assistance under the conservation reserve phase of the Soil Bank program. Up to 80 per cent of the cost of putting crop land into wildlife habitat plus an annual rental each year the land is under contract, will be paid by the Soil Bank program, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

Under the program, Cooper says farmers have a choice of five or ten-year contracts for planting trees or shrubs on conservation reserve acres. Cost share payments for such plantings cover land preparation, planting, mulching and, in some cases, cost of necessary soil-building elements. Also included are food plot plantings to attract and hold quail, doves, deer and wild turkeys. Food plots located adjacent to protective cover or water may include domestic grains as well as natural foods, says Cooper.

Water habitat for ducks, geese and fur-bearing animals are also included under the program. In addition to the restoration of former marsh lands by plugging drains, ditches may be dug or a series of shallow water areas may be provided on reserve acreage.

For those interested in fishing, the conservation reserve program includes the construction of ponds. Cost-share payments are available for the construction of fish ponds and annual rental payments are made under five- and 10-year contracts at the choice of the farmer. Details of the wildlife practices under the conservation reserve program are available at all county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) offices.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hargrove and Mrs. Hargrove's sister, Mrs. A. J. Hurst of Putnam, visited in Baird Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Thate of Coleman were visiting in the Doyle Burchfield home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Holdridge were in Abilene Sunday afternoon visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mack Holdridge.

BUFFS DEFEAT CLYDE—

Hargrove picked up 31 yards in four carries, Audrey Gary totaled 24 yards in four trips and Jim Fleming got 16 in two attempts.
The next time the Buffs took possession of the pigskin, they drove 80 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Fullback Gary capped the drive with a three yard blast into the "land of plenty." Right half Fleming banged his way over right tackle for the two points after touchdown. With less than one minute gone in the fourth quarter the score read Cross Plains 14 and Clyde 6.

Three times the Buffs threatened in the final canto without hitting paydirt. The first drive covered 33 yards only to bog down on the visitor's one foot line and the second threat was put down on the Bulldog's 5. One the next to last play of the game Fleming swiped the pighide from the arm of Clyde's quarterback Cook. Fleming lost his balance as he brushed Cook and was downed on the Clyde 10. Gary got one yard and time ran out.

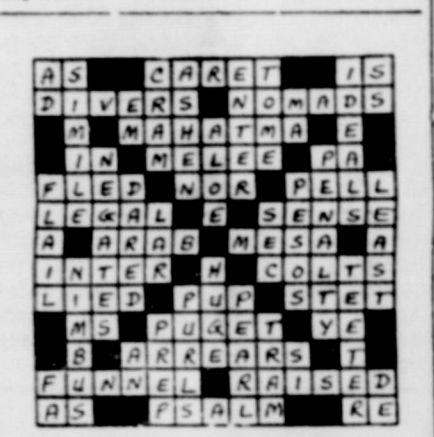

Clyde was bottled up in their own territory most of the second half. Only once did they penetrate into Buffalo territory in the third quarter, this drive coming immediately before the Buffs first scoring drive, carried from their own 26 to the Buffalo 29.

Buff Standouts
Audrey Gary, Don Hargrove and Jim Fleming all ran hard with the pigskin, and Claude Beeler executed the plays in fine fashion from his quarterback slot. Perry Jennings played outstanding defensive ball along with Paul Whitton, Jim Fleming, Doyle Oliver and Alvin Hutchins.

Merkel Next For
The Merkel Badgers will invade Buffalo Field Friday for an important conference game. Merkel has one win against no losses in conference play while the Buffs will try to stay in contention for the district crown. The Buffs conference record is one win and one loss. Merkel is rated, at the present time, as the number two team in the district. The Badgers rested last week, but they blanked Clyde 40-0 week before last for their first conference win.
Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. at Buffalo Stadium.
