(An Editorial)

The responsibility of public schools is to educate for well-rounded citizenship. That responsibility should not preclude training in moral precepts and allegiance to Christianity. To do so is to denounce the heritage from heroic patriots, who founded for us the most ideal government and the best way-of-life mankind ever enjoyed.

There are, nevertheless, countless obstacles being thrown before public schools, all of which seem to impede dedicated teachers, administrators and trustees from offering a balanced instructional program. At first it was the Supreme Court of the United States outlawing prayer in the classroom, and now a ruling of the Texas Interscholastic League has struck another blow.

The TIL, which is the high tribunal for intermural athletics in this state, has penalized Bonham High School for an act which George Washington, Thomas Jefferson or Abraham Lincoln would have warmly applauded.

Bonham's football team won't be allowed to compete for district honors this year and will be held under the stigma of probation for two years after that. It all came about because players on last Fall's district championship team accepted a book, entitled "Play Ball," from a minister in their home town. The book is a collection of testimonies of outstanding athletes, explaining what Jesus Christ has meant to each of them personally. Its cost of $2.95 per copy boosted to $17.95 the amount of gifts received by each boy on the Bonham squad. They had previously been awarded $15 letter jackets and TIL rules specify that no youth may receive gifts totaling more than $15 within a given year.

Undeniably, the TIL has been a potent force in preventing professionalism among schoolboy athletics and most of its services have been good and useful. The latest ruling, though, is not in keeping with the main objective of public schools and is certainly not within the spirit of an acceptable code intended only to promote fair play among competing Texas schools. If it is, some drastic changes should be made rapidly. Unless, however, there is strong, vigorous protest from parents and patrons nothing will be done. Corrective action cannot be left entirely within the hands of school executives. Most of them were opposed to sanctions against Bonham in the beginning and obviously their voice is too faint and influence too weak to bear sufficient weight with TIL heads in Austin.

Old Buildings at Fort Richardson by E. M. Schiwetz

FORT RICHARDSON ... a long time between paydays!

Across the western face of Texas, the brooding ruins of forts . . . here and there a restored barracks or hospital bring back a bloody page in history. A history that tells of marauding redskins thundering southward from Indian Territory, killing in their wake, pushing on to the Mexican border. A history that tells too of the hard and lonely life of the U.S. Army troopers who manned these strategic forts.

Fort Richardson, near Jacksboro, was one of the more important of these outposts. Here Kiowa Chieftains Satanta and Big Tree were incarcerated before their trial for a bloody massacre. But life in all frontier posts was much the same . . . best expressed by the soldiers themselves, "a long time between paydays."

BUT IT ISN'T SO FAR BETWEEN PAYDAYS NOW ... with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Today, there can also be a long time between paydays for those who have not established the thrift habit. But through the U.S. Savings Bonds program you can take care of this situation quickly and effectively.

For example, with as little as 63¢ a day you can buy an $18.75 Savings Bond every month. Keep this up for 40 months and you'll own a stack of Bonds worth $1,000, at maturity, which cost you only $750 in easy installments.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds every payday automatically through the payroll savings plan.
