Legislation Doubtful On Peanut Program In '74

Following is a note of interest to Cross Plains area peanut farmers concerning congressional action on a peanut program.

Walter Jones, Democrat of Georgia, as HR 15757 on July 2. A second bill very similar in many respects was also introduced by Representative

Walter Jones, Democrat of North Carolina, on July 2. The Mathis bill, HR 15757, referred to as the grower's bill for continuing legislation, provides and assessment concept to stabilize costs and provides support at not more than $50 per ton penalty for peanut with A flauvis and freeze damage. The Oilseeds and Rice Subcommittee chaired by Representative

Walter Jones had scheduled hearings on both bills for July 9. However, developments that occurred on Monday, July 8 in Washington on July 8 according to Ross Wilson, secretary of Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association.

National Peanut Group Steering Committee in Washington the morning of July 9 in preparation for legislative scheduled by the House Agriculture Committee.

Following several months of negotiations with USDA the grower group had been successful in agreeing on general legislative principles. There was also agreement between the growers and USDA on many points but a few key differences are yet to be dissolved. Under these circumstances a bill embodying principles acceptable to growers was introduced by Congressman Dawson Mathis, Democrat of Georgia, as HR 15757 on July 2.

On both Friday and Saturday mornings a Discipleship Hour is planned beginning at 10 a.m. That service will be pointed toward youth in the community, it was explained.

ATENDS PEANUT MEETING—Raymond Franke of Cross Plains, Chairman of the Callahan-Shackelford County Farm Bureau Peanut Advisory Committee, represented this county at a meeting June 27 in Brwnwood to discuss organizing a peanut division in the Texas Farm Bureau. He is shown with J. T. (Red) Woodson of Gober, President of the Texas Farm Bureau, and Seelye Lodwick of Washington, D. C., Director of Governmental Affairs for the American Farm Bureau Federation. Lodwick discussed current legislative issues affecting peanut producers. One purpose of the meeting was to surface problems of peanut producers so that these matters could be incorporated in the Farm Bureau policy development process at the county level. There are now 15 peanut-producing counties in Texas which have peanut divisions at the county level. The Texas Farm Bureau presently has state commodity divisions for rice and cotton. L.L. Play-Off Game Set In Clyde Friday

Cross Plains Little League All-Star team and Clyde Little League All-Star squad will battle in the play-off game at Clyde Friday, July 19. The contest will be held at the Little League diamond at Clyde Community Park, just north of Interstate 20 at Clyde.

It was explained by Skeet Walker, local Little League president, that the teams will warm up beginning at 7 p.m. Friday, and that will be followed by pre-game ceremonies at which time members and coaches of each team will be introduced and players will be given all-star pins.

Game time is scheduled at about 7:45 p.m.

Cross Plains players have been practicing for some time under the coaching of Mike McClure, who managed the Cats to the local baseball championship, and Buck Brown, who managed the Beadels to the runner-up position.

The 14-member Cross Plains team will be composed of the following 11 and 12-year-olds. In alphabetical order, they are: Richard Allen, Robby Bailey, Tommy Brown, Dennis Dickson, Tan Flippin, Duane Hutchins, David Illingworth, Richard King, Tommy Kitchens, Keith Lawrence, Danny Lewis, Mike McClure, Jr., Joe Neeb and Ronny Purvis.

Alternates, who will see action only if one or more of the primary team members are unable to play are, in numerical order: Joe Holland, Tommy Phillips, Ervin Clark, Eric Robertson, Gaylon Jackson and Russell Reese.

Winner of the playoff game will advance to a tournament, but site and dates were not immediately learned by the Review.

Cross Plains and Clyde will share duties of officiating the game, forming the rules committee and scorekeeping. Representing Cross Plains, other than the president will be Betty Lewis, Billy King, Noel King, Tom Illingworth and Edwin Schafer.

It was noted that if the contest happened to be rained out on Friday, the tilt will be played Saturday.

School To Offer New Vocational Program

Students at Cross Plains High School will have the opportunity this year to take part in a program which mixes classroom education and on-the-job training in a variety of occupations.

Classes in Home Economics Cooperative Education have been added to the curriculum for junior and senior students, Franke E. Rundell, superintendent of schools has announced.

Supt. Rundell said that practical work experience will be provided for students through part-time employment at cooperating businesses within the city.

Typical occupations in the program are art and craft aide, bridal consultant, child care aide, companion to the elderly, clothing assistant, consumer aide, fabric coordinator, fashion coordinator, floral designer, food caterer, food service employee, home furnishing aide, housekeeping management assistant, physical fitness assistant, and tester of foods, equipment or textiles.

The course is set up for one or two years and carries two credits each year. Mrs. Odom, teacher-coordinator of the program said. Students will receive pay comparable to that paid beginning workers in the same occupations it was explained.

"The addition of this type of program will do much to provide the youth of any town with a well-rounded educational program that will fulfill the need for practical and useful training," said Mrs. Odom.

Mrs. Odom said it was hoped that the program will enable a large portion of our students who desire to become occupationally competent to enter full-time employment upon graduation from high school.

Mr. Rundell said that an advisory committee of local business people will be established to assist Mrs. Odom with the program.

Mrs. Odom will be responsible for the selection and placement of students and will correlate the classroom and practical education.

All students signed up for the H.E.C.E. program are asked to please see Mrs. Odom or call her between 9 and 11 a.m. on Monday, July 22. Mrs. Odom may be contacted at the school.

Shower Friday Dumps .22 Of Inch On City

A brief rain shower Friday afternoon yielded .22 of an inch of rain on Cross Plains. Other near by communities reported up to a half an inch, and some only a trace.

The shower cooled the air, but benefited vegetation little. Area crops and pastures are needing moisture badly, and stock and water for domestic use are termed critical in some areas.

Putnam faces hauling city water if it doesn't rain in the very near future.

Some area peanut crops are being irrigated, but other dry-land crops are suffering because of the lack of moisture.

Thus far in July Cross Plains has received .32 of an inch of moisture, which boosted the year's total to 8.86 inches, far below normal.

Office Supplies At Review

There is no admission charge for the musicale, and following usual custom the Cottonwood ladies will have refreshments available.

All lovers of country music are invited to attend.

City Water Usage, Pumping About Even

City office reported Tuesday morning that water use and pumpings are about even. Billy Dillard, city employee, noted that Cross Plains residents are using between 250,000 and 300,000 gallons daily and he explained that pumpings were averaging about the same.

No official word had been learned of water rationing here, although it was reported that Putnam is in critical short supply, and it was also reported that Rising Star had limited city water use this week.

A rain would alleviate pressure on city wells and pumping facilities, however, clouds were scattered and temperature was edging toward the century mark here shortly after noon on Tuesday.

To report fire in Cross Plains Call 725-6234.

Over 3 Million Gets S.S. Disability Pay

Over three and one-half million disabled workers and their families are getting monthly payments as the social security disability program begins its 17th year this month, according to Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene. "Only disabled workers between 50 and 65 were eligible when the first social security disability benefits were paid in July 1957," Hammons said. "Today, workers of any age under 65 as well as dependent members of their families can have the protection of disability insurance," he said. "Since July of last year, Medicare health insurance has been available to disabled people if they've been entitled to social security disability payments 24 or more consecutive months," he continued.

An insured worker becomes eligible for payments if he suffers a severe disability expected to keep him from working a year or longer. Payment begins for the sixth full month of disability. Generally, a worker who becomes disabled in 1974 must have worked five and three-fourths years in employment covered by social security to be insured. Five years of the work must have been during the 10-year period before disability began. Young workers, however, may be eligible for disability payments with as little as one and one-half years of work, depending on their age and when they become disabled.

When applying for social security disability payments, a worker submits medical evidence to establish disability. Physicians and other disability experts in the Disability Determination Unit in Austin decide whether the worker is disabled under the social security law.

In selected cases, social security helps pay for vocational rehabilitation services, which can include job training and physical therapy. Social security disability benefits are paid to over two million disabled workers and over one and one-half million dependents. The average payment is $205 a month.

About 1.8 million people getting social security disability payments have Medicare coverage, according to Hammons.

Rowden Sector News

By Mrs. N. V. Gibbs

Clouds have been gathering all around us Monday and getting our hopes up for rain. A Baird relative was heard to say that if the trees were not green, this country would pass as a desert.

Young crops are still green but farmers are wondering how long they will last with out moisture.

The community is planning a work hour or two Saturday at the center. Come in your work clothes and be prepared to scrape paint off the outside of the building. Meet at 7 p.m. and supper will be served when you want it, either before the work or after. We hope to see all of you at this meeting.

The community thanks Mrs. Ray Boen for her donation of twenty dollars to the center fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Price, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dye and Mrs. Cozette Patterson were in Ciseman last Wednesday for the rodeo parade.

Mrs. Leila Gibbs, Raymond Gibbs and Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Gibbs attended the funeral of Norman Coffey in Cross Plains Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Ray Boen visited Mrs. Alton Hornsby one day last week.

HINTS FOR ADVERTISERS

When you next call The Review, 725-3571, to place a classified ad, remember that words are your business. Words properly put together in an ad mean more phone calls and more sales for you. Follow the rules below and get more and faster results.

1. Put in the address

Many out-of-town readers will write you, but will not spend money for a long distance call.

2. Put in the phone number

Many readers will call you but will not find it convenient to come to your home or business.

3. Avoid use of blind boxes

Avoid them if possible. They are difficult to answer and people prefer to deal directly.

4. Put in the price, by all means

Surveys show that many people will not answer an ad unless the price is given.

5. Keep the readers from guessing

On important details it is better to include them if they are relevant to a sale.

6. Be available

If you advertise your phone and address, be sure you are not absent when the ad appears so as to accommodate the reader.

Words are your tools in advertising. Competent sales help is available to assist you in writing the proper ad.

Writer At Cottonwood Laments Mr. Coffey's Death

By Mrs. Wayne Brown

Words can not express our feelings in the loss of our friend, neighbor and local merchant, Norman Coffey. Norman has managed the local country store, one of the few land marks left in Cottonwood from its booming days, for the past twenty years supplying the community with groceries, farm supplies, gasoline and other commodities. We will always remember his concern for Cottonwood, his happiness in watching its growth these past several years, his interesting and informative talks of the by-gone days and the town's history and our daily gab sessions at the store. We will never forget Norman's love for his fellowman. Our heartfelt sympathy is expressed to his wife, Dixie and to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Anderson of Abilene and Mrs. Vanda Harris and Blandye of Clarendon were here over the week end with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Anderson. Oil Production In Texas Drops Despite Effort

Despite 12 months of production at 100 per cent of the maximum effective recovery rate in most Texas fields, a drop of nearly 6.3-million barrels of crude oil from the state's all-time record high production year of 1972 occurred last year.

Texas production in 1973 amounted to almost 1.3 billion barrels, tops among the nation's oil producing states and representing 38.6 per cent of total U. S. production, according to statistics compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In 84 years of recorded production, Texas oil fields have produced some 38 billion barrels of oil, approximately 36 per cent of the U. S. total.

"The decline in production indicates the basic task of the state's oil men—the more extensive development of Texas fields," said the association's president, Sherman Hunt, a Dallas independent producer. "But if Congress will adopt economic policies to encourage the search for new fields, we feel this trend can be changed."

Despite the drop in production, the oil that was produced last year in 203 of the state's 254 counties was valued at some $5 billion, an increase of approximately $500 million over the value of oil produced in 1972. This increase partially reflects the increased prices paid for some Texas crude oil during the latter part of 1973.

In addition to larger payments to royalty owners, the higher prices also have been reflected in the state comptroller's reports of increased severance taxes paid by the oil men of Texas.

Callahan County ranks third among the four-county quadrangle composed of Callahan, Coleman, Brown and Eastland counties in the amount of crude produced since oil was first discovered in the counties. This county ranks first among those in total production during 1973.

Callahan, which has had recorded production since 1923, has yielded 61,379,773 barrels of crude. Last year wells in this county produced 739,913 barrels of black gold, an average of about 2,003 barrels per day.

Total production leader is Eastland County with an aggregate of 123,396,839 barrels since recorded discovery of oil in 1917. Current production, last year, has dwindled to 739 barrels per day or a total of 269,866 barrels during 1973.

Coleman County is runner-up to Callahan in barrels produced daily last year with 1,517. The year's aggregate was reported at 533,550 barrels which boosted the total for 72 years, since oil production was first recorded there, to 72,838,569 barrels.

In 1973, some 33 counties produced more than 10-million barrels of crude oil, with Borden County being added to the list. The top half-dozen, all with production in excess of 50-million barrels, remain the same as the year previous. They are: Scurry 91.8 million barrels, Ector 72.6, Yoakum 66.0, Gaines 61.3, Andrews 60.4, Gregg 53.2.

Gregg County, the only Texas county to produce more than two billion barrels of oil in the history of recorded production, remains the all-time leader with a cumulative production total through 1973 of almost 2.4 billion barrels. Other counties with cumulative production in excess of one billion barrels are:

Ector 1.9, Andrews 1.6, Rusk 1.5, Harris 1.1, Crane 1.1 and Scurry 1.1.

Peanut Legislation

On July 8, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz met with House Agriculture Chairman W. R. Poage and the two officials agreed to defer action on peanut legislation until late this year or early 1975. Mr. Poage reported to the Subcommittee that Secretary Buttz indicated that USDA could not unreservedly support either of the peanut bills at this time. Peanut Congressmen agreed that they could not proceed with any peanut legislation under these circumstances. Mr. Poage reported that he and Secretary Buttz discussed the desirability of resuming grower-USDA negotiations this fall in an attempt to have a bill ready early next year. Mr. Poage stated he made it clear to the Secretary that neither the peanut growers nor the Congressional committees were backing up on their earlier commitment to secure legislation.

Statements made by Congressmen at the Subcommittee session without exception were sincere pleas for growers to continue to try to work out satisfactory legislation with USDA. They pointed out the real dangers of losing the entire peanut program and used as an example the episode regarding the Peyser amendment on June 21. They stressed that unless USDA and industry are in total agreement and totally committed to a bill legislation cannot be passed. Without USDA support, they said, we will not only lose Republican votes but will lose city Democrats as well.

It is expected that meetings will be resumed between the National Peanut Growers Group

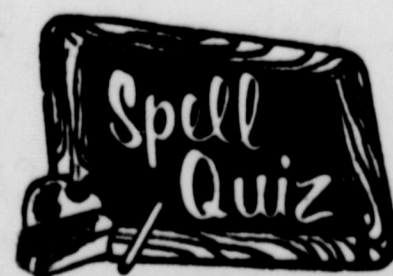

Steering Committee, peanut area Congressmen and USDA within the next few weeks. Mr. Emmett Reynolds, NPGG Chairman, stated in answer to questions from Subcommittee members during the July 9 session that growers were completely willing to continue discussions in an effort to arrive at a sufficient degree of compromise to enable the enactment of legislation.
