ANNOUNCING THE

GRAND OPENING

Downtown Discount Center

'Where Inflation Is A Dirty Word'

Friday and Saturday, October 25 & 26

For those of you who can't get out to the "suburbs" we are opening at a more convenient location. Located next door south of Western Auto, we will feature the same type inventory as Cross Plains Discount Center on West Highway 36, and the same Low Prices, too. We invite you to come in and visit our new store, but don't forget the old one. We had expanded all we could at Cross Plains Discount, and we had to have somewhere to display our Christmas assortment, so another store seemed to be the answer.

Manager of Downtown Discount Center will be our daughter, Paula Rogers. She is experienced in this business and will be happy to assist you.

Family Seeks Grave Of Civil War Vet

The family of a Civil War veteran is seeking the location

Thomas L. Nordyke, Sr., 4508 Beech St., Bellaire, Texas 77401, grandson of the Civil War vetspread the word of the search for the grave of Adin Johnson Nordyke.

The veteran died Jan. 22, 1912, in Cottonwood and was buried in the Old Cottonwood Cemetery. He explained that the government will put a marker on the grave if it can be located. He also pointed out that the family has talked to many people, but exact site of the grave has not been found. Thomas Nordyke asks that if that to all segments of the society, infation is the major problem of the times.

But it is perhaps most unlikely to expect that the problem can be solved overnight.

The reason for this is that inflation in the United States was carefully nurtured by government policies over three or four decades. For example, the huge for-

AS HEARD BY HEARD

There seems little question | cotton, and other basic commodities are bid up by these dollars looking for a home.

> For example, in Oregon and Washington independent ply. wood mills are being forced to close, throwing people out of work. The big reason is that the Japanese have so many excess dollars that they bid up the prices of logs to such a level that domestic producers cannot meet the price.

This, in turn, has resulted in the big slump in the home eign give away programs the big slump i > Recently President Ford said he would have inflation licked by July 4th, 1976.

> This is in many respects a strange statement.

Just how it is possible in less than 24 months to not only which in most instances have stop, but reverse a trend that has been going on for at least 450 months is something that kind of boggles the mind.

> The course of inflation is not like traffic signals.

There are not "stop" and "go" time of the November hustlings draws close, the voters would do well to bear in mind that when any candidate flatly declares he or she will stop inflation if elected, the question should be asked as just what the candidates plan may be.
