Witness Speaks Up For Osorio

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A former colleague of John Osorio at National Bankers Life Insurance Co. knew of no personal benefits by Osorio involving transactions with the assets of the company's pension fund, he testified today.

Sam Stock of Dallas, once a defendant in this trial also said that Houston promoter Frank Sharp dictated company policies and was active in all its investments.

Osorio, 50, a former president of NBL, is accused of conspiracy and embezzlement of NBL pension funds during the decline of Sharp's financial dynasty.

"Do you know of your own knowledge that Mr. Osorio ever benefited from those transactions?" Stock was asked on cross examination by defense lawyer Emmett Colvin Jr. of Dallas.

"No sir," Stock replied. "Did Mr. Osorio ever ask you to hide or conceal anything connected with the pension plan?" Colvin asked.

"Not that I recall," Stock said.

Evidence Appears Stronger That Cease-Fire Is Nearing

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. met for the first time tonight with President Nixon's special envoy Nguyen Van Thieu to discuss a possible draft of a peace agreement.

Haig had waited in the wings all day while Thieu met for 7 1/2 hours with his National Security Council and four military corps commanders at Independence Palace reportedly to discuss what steps South Vietnam would take to protect the territory and people it now controls, once a cease-fire goes into effect.

Spokesmen would not say whether Haig would meet with Thieu again or when he would leave Saigon.

Haig also is scheduled to confer with the leaders of Cambodia, Thailand and Laos.

Asian diplomatic sources in Washington said they believe an agreement ending the war is very near. They anticipated that Nixon, in his inaugural address Saturday, would propose postwar rehabilitation of the economies of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos through continuing economic and military assistance.

This Washington report said there also is expectation that the Soviet Union, Communist China and other major powers will join the United States in guaranteeing the cease-fire.

South Vietnamese officials said Thieu's lengthy conference with his key advisers also dealt with modifications of the protocol to the agreement that spell out how it will be carried out, such as the size of the international force to supervise a cease-fire and the method by which prisoners of war will be freed.

South Vietnamese sources said on Tuesday that Nixon and Thieu planned to declare a unilateral cease-fire on the 20th.

Weather Leaves City Streets Needing $50,000 In Repairs

By LARRY HOWELL

The 150 consecutive hours of freezing weather in Midland last week left city streets in immediate need of approximately $50,000 in repairs.

Fred Baker, director of public works, said this morning the estimated cost for repairing the damage to the paving surfaces was reached following a study by the street division.

Baker explained that the bulk of the pavement damage caused by freezing water occurred along large sections of Midkiff Road from Grafa Park south to Interstate 20 and to part of the road on the northern edge of the city.

"There is other damage on many streets," Baker said, "but in addition to Midkiff most of the more serious cracks in the surfaces and potholes are located on Garfield, A, and Illinois streets."

Baker pointed out that the long period of freezing rain and intermittent light snow also did critical damage to Midland streets maintained by the State Highway Department.

Russell Neal, district maintenance engineer for the highway department, estimated today that it will take "several thousand dollars" to repair the state highways running through Midland mainly on Wall and Big Spring streets.

Neal said the exact cost of the repairs will not be known until the project is almost completed, and he added that parts of the street repair situation in Midland does not appear to be as serious as in some other cities which experienced the same freezing weather.

South Breezes Push Moisture From Gulf Toward Basin Area

Steady south breezes herded moist air ashore from the Gulf of Mexico today, warning of light showers here and there.

In Midland, considerable cloudiness — but no precipitation — was forecast for tonight by the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal. Thursday should be clear and slightly cooler.

Today's high was expected to be near 70 following an overnight low of 36. Tonight's low should be in the upper 30s, with Thursday's high in the mid-60s. Tuesday's high was 68.

At the same time, however, forecasters extended through the day an air stagnation advisory for extreme Southwest Texas along with Central and Western New Mexico, taking in the Rio Grande Valley from Albuquerque southward past El Paso. They blamed a lack of wind for failing to disperse carbon monoxide fumes from automobiles.

Already springlike weather became even balmy across the eastern two-thirds of the state. Clouds thickened and showers dotted areas from Victoria to Dallas.

Heating Oil Crisis Soon To Be Eased

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will lift all restrictions on the importation of home heating oil from overseas to meet the widening fuel shortage, Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., said today.

Conte, a congressional leader in pressing Nixon to lift the import quotas, quoted White House officials as saying the barriers to foreign oil would be dropped for four months.

Gen. George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, has scheduled a news conference later today to talk about import quotas.

In a telephone interview, Conte said the lifting of the quotas applies only to No. 2 oil, used in the refining of home heating oil and in some electric power generating plants.

The shortage of oil has affected large parts of the Midwest and this week began spreading eastward into the Mid-Atlantic and New England states.

Police Officer Testifies On Search Of Watergate Suspects' Hotel Rooms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A police officer testified today that a search of the hotel rooms occupied by some of the Watergate political espionage and burglary defendants produced a personal telephone directory with numbers at the White House and the Executive Office Building.

Officer Robert G. Denell said the rooms were searched after hotel keys were found in the pockets of five men captured inside Democratic party headquarters last June.

Denell said he found in a dresser drawer a flip-up phone of some of the men arrested in the case. He also expected to testify today that he found a telephone directory with numbers at the White House and the number 202-234-4355, Asst. U.S. Attorney Earl J. Silbert said today before taking on his espionage role, is expected to be the government's key witness against the two remaining defendants arrested in connection with the break-in and bugging at Democratic party headquarters last summer.

On trial are G. Gordon Liddy, former counsel to Nixon's campaign finance committee, and James W. McCord Jr., who was campaign security chief at the time of the break-in.

Five other defendants have pleaded guilty and await sentencing.

RULING ON TEXAS CASE—

Court Says Fathers Can Be Forced To Support Illegitimate Offspring

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fathers of illegitimate children can be compelled by the state to provide support for them, the Supreme Court ruled 7 to 2 today.

The decision, in behalf of a San Antonio woman, directly concerns illegitimate children in Texas and, indirectly, in Wyoming.

In the 48 other states fathers already could be required to support their offspring.

"A state may not invidiously discriminate against illegitimate children by denying them substantial benefits accorded children generally," said an unsigned opinion.

The Bexar County Legal Aid Association, speaking for Linda Gomez, 24, had contended in an appeal that Texas was violating the Constitution by denying the "equal protection of the laws" to her illegitimate daughter.

Fathers of legitimate children in Texas can be required to give support.

The nub of the ruling was that no state could put children in two different categories, depending upon whether they are legitimate.

Once a state gives its courts the power to force natural fathers to support their offspring "there is no constitutionally sufficient justification for denying such an essential right to a child simply because her natural father has not married her mother," the decision said.

Justices Potter Stewart and William H. Rehnquist dissented. They said the court should have dismissed the appeal because lawyers for the state and for the mother failed to provide a sufficient understanding of Texas law on common law marriage, support obligations and the way children may be legitimized. In 1969, the Texas Legislature rejected a bill to compel fathers of illegitimate children to support them.

LUM IS 'MYSTERY GUEST' — Lum Medlin, Midland County's first settler, showed up today for the official opening of the Senior Citizens Center in First Christian Church. Tall City Student, Parents To Attend Nixon Inauguration

Kelly Innerarity, an honors government student at Midland High School, left by plane this afternoon for Washington, D.C., where he will attend various activities in connection with the Saturday inauguration of President Nixon.

Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Innerarity, 2300 N. L. St., who are accompanying him on the trip.

Innerarity was elected president of the Junior Class at MHS this fall, and is serving as speaker at the annual banquet of the Midland Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 1.

Flying back to Washington from New York later Thursday, the Inneraritys will attend the reception honoring Vice President and Mrs. Agnew, and later a "Salute To The States" to be presented in the John F. Kennedy Memorial Center for the Performing Arts.

Friday's schedule includes attendance at "A Salute To America's Heritage" in the Smithsonian Institution of Natural History; 1973 Inaugural Concerts; "American Music Concert," and "Youth Concert," all by special invitation.

The Inauguration Ceremony, Inaugural Parade, luncheon with Congressman Mahon, and the Inaugural Youth Ball will keep the young Midlander well occupied Saturday.

Long Hair Given Boost By Group

DALLAS (AP) — The U.S. Office of Civil Rights has backed the contention of two male pupils in the Justin F. Kimball High School Band that it would be discriminatory and a violation of federal law to force them to cut their hair.

Dr. Don M. Vernon, southern coordinator of the education division of the Office of Civil Rights in Washington, warned the Dallas School District it could face withdrawal of federal funds if it continues applying hair regulations "to members of one sex only," according to a letter received by Dr. K. M. Cole Jr., father of the two boys.

The bandmen, Ron and Pat Cole, have remained out of the band since they were told last October that they had to cut their hair or leave it.

"The boys were told to cut their hair to keep it from hanging out of their hats," said Dr. Cole. "But the rule doesn't apply to girls."

He filed suit in federal court, claiming that his sons were discriminated against on the basis of sex, but the case was dismissed. It is now being appealed to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Inflation No Bull

MADRID (AP) — Inflation, along with other things, is bringing a deflation to bullfighting in Spain. Last year was the managers' worst in a decade, with an indicated drop of 15-20 per cent in box office receipts.

A 10 per cent rise in cost of living is believed to have kept many Spaniards from the bull ring. Other influences are a lack of big stars and of artful fighters, this latter perhaps the biggest sin of all in the fan's eyes.

The prospects for 1973 are brighter but not shining.

Manuel Benitez, "El Cordobes," the country's No. 1 draw before he retired in 1972, is flirting with a comeback. So is solemn-faced Santiago Martin, "El Vitti," another favorite who missed 1972.

A law promulgated by the directorate general of health goes into effect this year requiring all bulls in first-class rings to be at least 4 years old. This is expected to bring on tougher, smarter bulls that are less likely to fall down and can stand the required three "pics" or lance jabs.

But raising the bull's fighting ability may also slow down some of the more flamboyant types.

"This year you won't see very many fighters making 40 or 50 passes in an afternoon," says a Madrid bullfight critic.

He will assume duties Feb. 1 as chairman of the Faculty of Earth Science with UTPB's College of Science and Engineering.

No stranger to the Permian Basin, Toomey was in Midland from 1953 to 1956, serving as stratigrapher with Shell Oil Co. He later held the position of research geologist with Shell Development Co. in Houston from 1956 to 1964, and has been with Amoco Production in Tulsa, Okla., since 1964.

Food Labeling Rules Tough

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration today served up a 12-course banquet of regulations designed to tell consumers what is and what isn't in the food they buy and eat.

One of the new rules requires listing either on the label or in advertising the amount of calories, proteins, carbohydrates, fats and seven important vitamins or minerals per serving of any food for which a nutritional claim is made, and any food to which extra nutrients have been added.

That includes diet drinks and foods, enriched bread and flour, and fortified milk and fruit juices.

Another rule lays down guidelines for labeling cholesterol and fat content in all foods for the benefit of consumers concerned about heart disease.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards said the regulations, some final and some proposed, implement virtually all the labeling recommendations of the 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, and resolve issued that have simmered for more than a decade.

Edwards called it "the beginning of a new era in providing consumers with complete, concise and informative food labeling."

Although not fully effective for two years, the dozen regulations constitute an enormous change in labeling requirements.

The FDA urged manufacturers and distributors to list all ingredients on labels and served notice that it will seek legal authority to require total listing.

Tentative orders, usually meaning little change is expected, were issued for special dietary foods and dietary supplements.

A proposed standard of identity for multiple vitamins and minerals would govern both their quality, and quantity, and reclassify extra potent combinations as drugs.

Other proposals, some technical in nature, would specify labeling for natural and artificial flavors, govern use of the word "imitation" on foods, and establish standards of identity for two frozen desserts—mellorine and parevine—and prohibit their promotion as ice cream.

Peter B. Hutt, FDA general counsel, said that before July 1 the agency will issue several other regulations on low-calorie foods, nutritional quality guidelines for frozen dinners, and others.

The industry's initial reaction varied.

"Thank God they're finally out," said George W. Koch, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America representing 150 companies.

But he expressed dismay at FDA's plan to make nutritional labeling mandatory if a product's label or advertising mentions calories, protein, fat or carbohydrates.

"The name of the game is to bring about as much nutritional information as possible," Koch said. "The more barriers they throw up, especially surprise barriers, the more I draw back. How many people is this going to take out of the ballpark?"

will be presented to the Odessa City Council on Saturday.

In Midland, Baker said three types of repair operations will be used to return the Tall City streets as close to normal as possible.

"We'll do some hand patching," Baker said, "where potholes have appeared."

Where Midland streets have cracked but did not "blow up," Baker said his department will apply a sealcoat mixture to prevent further deterioration.

Along Midkiff Road and in a few other sections of the city where the frozen subsurface and heavy traffic caused the roadway to buckle, Baker said the pavement will be removed, replaced by another compact base and then covered with a hot mix by an independent highway contractor.

which are not structurally capable of handling the traffic loads now imposed upon them."

He explained that most of the street division's repair efforts have been concentrated on the areas of the city where the engineering report indicated sealcoating and other minor repairs were likely to significantly prolong the life of the street.

Miss, Mrs. Or Ms.?

AUSTIN (AP) — What do you call a woman legislator—Mrs., Miss, Ms.? Or does it make any difference?

The answers given Tuesday by the six women lawmakers varied as widely as their political philosophies and backgrounds.

Sen. Betty Andujar of Fort Worth, a Republican, said she prefers that newsmen call her Mrs. Andujar in second and subsequent references in their stories.

"I don't use Ms. at all. I don't object to other people using it," Mrs. Andujar said.

Rep. Kay Bailey of Houston, the only Republican woman representative, said either "Miss" or "Rep." would be fine with her.

"Anything But Ms."

"Anything but Ms.," Miss Bailey said. "I just don't see any reason for it—belaboring a point that is not worth belaboring."

Reps. Eddie Bernice Johnson of Dallas and Senfonia Thompson of Houston both said they did not care what form of address was used in second reference but indicated "Mrs." was acceptable.

Opting for "Ms." were Reps. Sarah Weddington of Austin and Chris Miller of Fort Worth.

Ms. Miller, a divorcee, said the standard "Mrs." often puts her in what she said was an "embarrassing" position of receiving invitations addressed to "Rep. Chris Miller and husband."

Gavia Entitled To New Trial

Crésensio Gavia, a Midlander given 25 years in prison for murder, will stand trial again, according to a Texas Court of Criminal Appeals action this morning at Austin.

Gavia was convicted by a 142nd District Court jury here June 8, 1968, in the shooting death of Jesse Martinez.

The appeals court overturned the conviction Nov. 29 and ordered another trial for him in Midland.

The district attorney's office moved for a rehearing on that ruling. The motion was denied by the appeals court this morning.

The appeals court overruled Gavia's conviction because it said the Midland trial court did not put into its charge to the jury the law regarding self-defense as it is applied to a case where a person is not afraid of being killed or seriously hurt.

Perry D. Pickett, 142nd District Court judge, said the case will be placed on the criminal docket and retried.

Midland attorney Bill Smith represents Gavia.

Pecos County Escapee Caught In California

FORT STOCKTON — Jerry Fitch, one of six men to escape from Pecos County Jail here Thursday night, was arrested this morning at Santa Barbara, Calif.

Sherril Gene Austell, the only escapee still at large, is in Texas, according to a statement made by Fitch to the California Highway Patrol.

The other four men who escaped were arrested shortly after the jail break, and all six have been charged with escape.

Fitch was arrested after highway patrolmen stopped the vehicle he was in for speeding, an officer said.

Another man in the pickup truck was arrested on a charge of being in a stolen vehicle but the officer said that charge may be dismissed if it is determined that the truck was not stolen.

The truck, owned by Coastal States Gas Producing Co., had Texas license plates on it but they were not registered to this truck, he said.

The arrest was made about 5 a.m. and Sheriff Pete Ten Eyck was notified about 8 a.m.

Ten Eyck said he will not go to California until he knows whether Fitch will waive extradition procedures.

Guerrillas Kidnap Wealthy Spaniard

PAMPLONA, Spain (AP) — Basque guerrillas broke into the country home of industrialist Felipe Huarte and kidnaped him early today, police sources reported.

The sources said three armed men tied up members of Huarte's family, locked them in the cellar and then fled in the darkness with Huarte captive in his own car.

The car was found about 20 miles from Pamplona near the French border, police informants said.

In the kidnapping was the third in two years blamed on ETA, the underground movement whose goal is independence for the Basque provinces in northwest Spain.

Midlander's Life Sentence Affirmed

The life sentence of Midlander Cruz De Lao, handed down in 1971, was affirmed this morning by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

De Lao was convicted as an habitual criminal following a trial for heroin possession. He had six previous felony convictions spanning a 17-year period.

De Lao's trial in 142nd District Court took two days and on Oct. 12, 1971, he was convicted and the penalty was assessed.

He was sentenced Nov. 5, 1971, and gave notice of appeal at that time.

Assistant Dist. Atty. Jerry Buckner and Bill Griffin prosecuted the case, and Midland attorneys Randolph Hurt and Merritt Hines represented the defense.

The Presidential Palace issued a denial of a Columbia Broadcasting System report quoting palace sources as saying South Vietnam and the United States were ready to declare a cease-fire. But it was not clear whether the statement was intended to deny the cease-fire report or to deny that the report originated at Thieu's palace.

One senior U.S. official noted earlier, however, that it was possible that the story was leaked deliberately to CBS because of objections by the Saigon government to some conditions it feels Nixon is imposing on it.

Kermit Chamber Names Director

KERMIT — Ann Laquita Hancock is a new member of the board of directors of the Kermit Chamber of Commerce. She was recently appointed to replace Don Michel, who resigned from the board because of inability to devote the necessary time to the post.

Mrs. Hancock is the first woman to serve on the chamber board in recent years. Guerrillas Kidnap Wealthy Spaniard PAMPLONA, Spain (AP) — Basque guerrillas broke into the country home of industrialist Felipe Huarte and kidnaped him early today, police sources reported.

The sources said three armed men tied up members of Huarte's family, locked them in the cellar and then fled in the darkness with Huarte captive in his own car.

The car was found about 20 miles from Pamplona near the French border, police informants said.

In the kidnapping was the third in two years blamed on ETA, the underground movement whose goal is independence for the Basque provinces in northwest Spain.

Governor Speaks Out On Crime

our compassion for those whose weaknesses have embroiled them in this awful existence," he said.

Revision of penalties for marijuana possession should be considered only along with the complete revision of all Texas drug laws, he said.

"After we have a complete revision of our drug laws—after we have acted to cut-off the drug supplies—after we have agreed on effective methods of dealing with pushers in the harshest way we can — then, and only then, should we consider a reduction of the penalty for first possession of a small amount of marijuana," Briscoe said.

He said that "in the near future" he would submit legislation that would "strengthen efforts to expunge the pusher from society and remove the users of heroin and other dangerous drugs from the streets and to place them in confinement or in hospitals where rehabilitation can be tried."

Penalties, he said, should be "structured to hinder, rather than encourage, the traditional climbing of the ladder from marijuana and other less dangerous substances to the hard drugs."

Ethics legislation, he said, should be clear, contain appropriate penalties and be administered within the framework of judicial discretion and must not be subject to subversion by those interested in either personal or partisan politics.

He said he would present later a series of bills to make vocational education "a full partner in the educational system of Texas." Briscoe also said he would propose specific legislation on poverty, transportation, consumer protection and to give the governor improved methods of managing state spending.

Briscoe promised lawmakers he would cooperate with them and their presiding officers and work hard for passage of his program.

"I tell you today that the most persistent lobbyist you will see this session is the governor of Texas," he said.

Tuesday's inauguration, also gave the Senate a new presiding officer, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who succeeded Ben Barnes.

In the House, hearings were scheduled today on the nine "reform" bills that constitute most of the platform on which Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty was elected speaker.

An afternoon hearing was set by the Rules Committee on measures restricting the power of House-Senate conference committees; limiting speakers to a single term each; requiring speaker candidates to report their campaign finances; and prohibiting legislative promises and threats by speaker candidates and their backers.

The State Affairs Committee planned a night hearing on Daniel's bills revising state laws on public officials' ethics, lobby control, political campaign finances, open meetings and open public records.

The required five-day notice was posted Tuesday of a House Rules Committee hearing next Monday on three resolutions setting up a special commission to study the Texas Constitution and report to the legislature Nov. 1, two months before the lawmakers assemble as a constitutional convention.

Quick action in establishing the commission has been urged by several officials because of the large amount of work that must be done in only 9 1/2 months.

Her attorneys here declined to comment on the ground the actress' U.S. lawyers had said she wanted no publicity.

Miss Fonda, who has been active in the antiwar movement, has announced plans to marry Tom Hayden, another U.S. antiwar militant.

Marcos Ends U.S.-Style Philippines Government

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos officially ended 26 years of U.S.-style government in the Philippines today and signed into law a new constitution providing for a parliamentary system some day.

He said his action was an expression of the "peoples' will." The 55-year-old chief executive assumed the powers of president, prime minister and the legislature under the new charter. He also announced he was continuing martial law indefinitely "to protect the people and the republic."

Marcos signed his new decrees before some 4,000 members of a Peoples' Congress that was formed hastily during the weekend in the wake of some 32,000 citizens' assemblies held throughout the country.

The government said 15 million of the 40 million Filipinos raised their hands in the open public meetings to express their approval of Marcos' martial-law rule.

The president also announced he had canceled a secret-ballot plebiscite on the new constitution that he had promised previously and was accepting the informal vote of the assemblies as official ratification of it.

In six days of voting, the government said, the assemblies indicated "overwhelming approval" of continuation of martial law, adoption of the new constitution, cancellation of the scheduled flight departures for the next six or seven years.

General elections had been scheduled for this fall under the old constitution, and Marcos' second term of office was to expire at midnight Dec. 31. The old constitution barred him from a third term.

The new constitution also provides for Marcos to continue to rule by decree until he decides to call a parliamentary election, and there is no time limit.

Outstanding Young Man Will Be Named Thursday

The Midland Jaycees will reveal the Outstanding Young Man of 1972 at their annual DSA-Bosses Night Banquet at 7 p.m. Thursday in Ranchland Hills Country Club.

Nominations for the Distinguished Service Award were taken from the public and the selection was made by a committee headed by last year's DSA winner, Dist. Atty. James Mashburn. Others on the selection panel are Judge Joseph H. Mims, Robert L. Pendleton, George H. O'Brien Jr., Audrey L. Gill, the Rev. Ronald Marlow and Frank Nall.

The winner's identity will be kept secret until the presentation Thursday night.

The Jaycees also will honor the Boss of the Year at the banquet. This award annually goes to the employer of a Jaycee who has rendered outstanding service to the community and meritorious support for the Jaycees.

The banquet will highlight the observance here of Jaycee Week.

Speaker for the event will be Judge Tom Reavley, an associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

U.S. Aircraft Keep Busy Despite Cease-Fire Talk

SAIGON (AP) — Despite reports that a cease-fire may be near, U.S. B-52s and other warplanes pounded North Vietnamese positions in South Vietnam Tuesday and today with the heaviest strikes in more than a month, the U.S. command announced.

With the bombing halted over all of North Vietnam, more American strikes were being carried out across South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, U.S. officials said.

Raids by fighter-bombers increased by more than one-third to 311 in South Vietnam during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. the command said.

U.S. B-52 bombers launched about 90 strikes across South Vietnam during the same period, dropping up to 2,700 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations, staging areas and supply caches.

The aim of the raids apparently is to prevent a big North Vietnamese supply buildup prior to a cease-fire.

The bulk of the air strikes were in Quang Tri Province just below the demilitarized zone and in the Saigon River corridor northwest of the capital. Both are major infiltration corridors and staging areas.

A substantial North Vietnamese buildup has been reported along the river corridor in an area 35 to 50 miles northwest of Saigon. About one-third of the B-52 raids were concentrated in this region, although no major fighting was reported there.

Twenty 122mm rockets hit Da Nang Air Base and an adjoining village before dawn, wounding one Vietnamese and damaging six buildings and one aircraft, the Saigon command said. No U.S. casualties were reported.

On the far northern front, four South Vietnamese marines were reported killed and 15 wounded when North Vietnamese gunners slammed 350 artillery and mortar shells into their positions 15 miles below the DMZ and followed with a ground attack. Eleven North Vietnamese soldiers were killed, the Saigon command reported.

U.S. fighter-bombers and 7th Fleet destroyers supporting the South Vietnamese just below the DMZ reported knocking out two North Vietnamese tanks north of Quang Tri City. Several supply trucks and water supply craft also were reported destroyed.

LONDON (AP) — A London member of Parliament reports that he received an official government letter with House of Commons written on the envelope. Beside the lettering was stamped the postmark: "Visit London Zoo, any time of the year."

Corona Jury Now Reportedly 11-1

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — After five days of deliberation, the jury in the mass-murder trial of Juan V. Corona says it has progressed from a 8-4 to an 11-1 deadlock.

Judge Richard E. Patton ordered the jury not to reveal whether the majority of 11 favored conviction or acquittal.

Defense attorney Richard Hawk told newsmen he was sure that the jury's announcement Tuesday meant 11 jurors favored an innocent verdict for Corona, who is accused slaying 25 migrant farm laborers.

Prosecutors G. Dave Teja and Bart Williams walked swiftly from the courthouse and refused to talk to newsmen. The jury had asked that the court reconvene for a rereading of the legal definition of "reasonable doubt," referring to the requirement that a defendant cannot be found guilty unless the prosecution has proven guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

The panel of 10 men and two women then was ordered into further deliberations. The jurors met about one more hour, then recessed for the night. They reconvened today.

The jury has been ordered to return 25 separate verdicts, one for each of the bodies found buried in a peach orchard north of Yuba City in the spring of 1971. Deliberations started after a trial lasting 14 weeks.

Hawk said Corona, a 38-year-old Mexican national who is a farm labor contractor, was "really nervous but he looked really happy after he heard the count had gone to 11-1."

Corona, who had been recuperating from chest pains suffered last Friday night, walked into court unaided on Tuesday.

On Monday, his illness required that the jury be transported to the state medical facility in nearby Vacaville, where Corona has been confined, to make its announcement that it was deadlocked 8-4.

President John L. Ingle in a letter to stockholders said government officials made it clear that projects already in the works would provide almost as many Housing and Urban Development programs in 1973 as in 1972.

Burglars Take Juke Box Money
Burglars got about $30 from a juke box at the Do Drop Inn, 1202 E. Industrial St., Tuesday, police said.

The coin box of the juke box had been pried off, according to police.

The offense occurred between midnight and 10:30 a.m. officers reported.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Cracked Freezer Part Repair Or Replace?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — We have a well-known make of upright freezer which cost a pretty good price when purchased. Even though we have had it a few years it still looks like new. When stocking it with frozen meat my husband dropped one package that hit the bottom under the door. This knocked out a chunk and for the first time we realized this part was plastic. We can still close the door and it probably keeps the weather out pretty good but is no longer airtight. Is there any way we can fix this or buy a new part to have set in? We cannot consult with the store where the freezer was bought. It has gone out of business.—MRS. D. S.
DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those manufacturers who only put one pocket on a shirt. Most men would prefer having two, but they are so hard to find and it cannot be that much more expensive to add one more pocket.—BERTHA

DEAR POLLY — Ruth Ann wanted to know how one decides what to charge for hand-knitted and crocheted items. A friend of mine who belongs to an area club says they figure the price of the materials and then double that for the selling price. They make all sorts of handmade things but it does seem to me that more should be asked for larger things.—BONNIE
DEAR POLLY — and Ruth Ann — I think the correct price to charge for handmade things is the cost of the materials times three. If the yarn costs seven dollars the price would be 21 dollars.—MRS. P. H. M.
DEAR GIRLS — A person who deals with handmade things told me that doubling the price is fair to her but when the work is exceptionally nice and a bit difficult to do, three times the cost of the materials is not out of line. Also the place where one lives will have something to do with this, as in cities the asking price might be more than in a small town where more people may do the same type work.—POLLY

Dear Abby

Husband Takes The Term 'Close Relatives' Seriously

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is, uncle will be in Dutch for fooling around with minors.

with my husband, age 32, and his two nieces, ages 16 and 17. (They are sisters.)

We went to an all-night roadhouse inn to have breakfast at 2 a.m., and my husband disappeared with the 17-year-old for two hours. They said they were upstairs looking at the view.

When they came back I didn't say anything, but I was plenty mad. Whenever my husband and I take these two nieces out, he takes turns dancing with them and leaves me sitting. It's gotten so he never takes me out alone. He's always got these girls with us. He has fixed them up with dates with some of his friends who are his age, and for all I know my husband could be seeing them himself. He has disappeared for whole nights and comes home with lipstick on his shirts.

I have told the girls' mother about this and she says I am silly to worry, but I don't think I am because there was a lot of talk about incest in their family between my husband's younger brother and his older sister.

When my husband says good-bye to these nieces, he kisses them on the mouth. My question? Is this healthy?

JEALOUS IN COLORADO

DEAR JEALOUS: It's not healthy, and neither is the relationship between your husband and his young nieces. Set this swinger down and talk to him like a Dutch Uncle, or that

DEAR ABBY: About two months ago my doctor took in a partner. The problem is that when I go to my doctor's office, the nurse tells me I have to have the partner.

I like my original doctor, and since I am paying the bill I feel I am entitled to get the doctor of my choice.

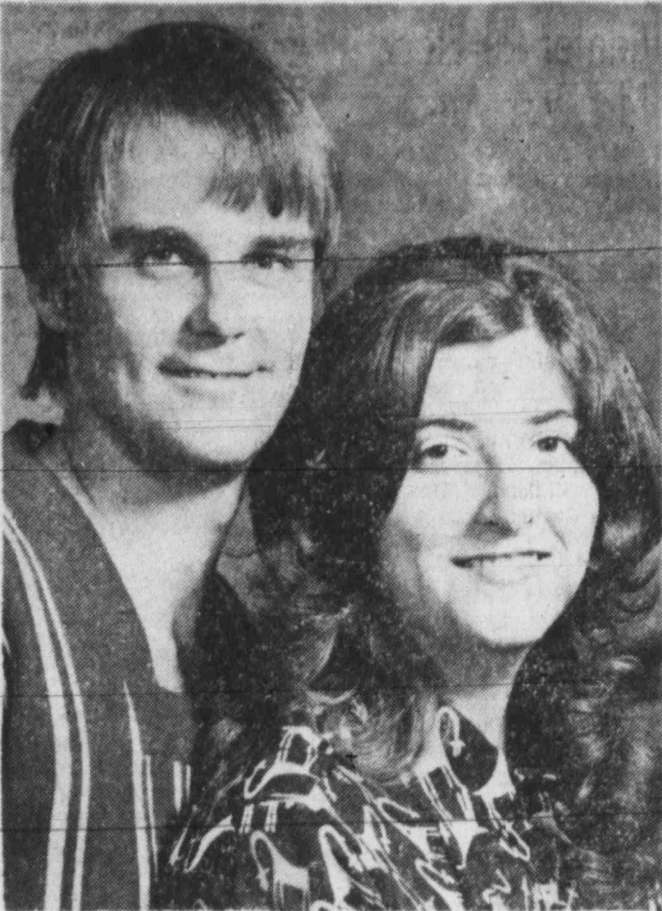

I am told the new doctor is "just as good," but I still prefer my old doctor.

Please tell me what I can do about this. I don't want to make a trip to the doctor's office, and then go home without seeing a doctor because my own doctor won't see me, which is what I intend to do if this happens again. Please advise me.

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: The next time you want an appointment, tell your doctor's secretary which doctor you want to see, and make it clear that you will see no other! It is common practice for a doctor to have his partner (or some colleague) substitute for him while he is on vacation or in an emergency, but no ethical doctor will arbitrarily transfer a patient to his partner without the consent and approval of the patient.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

MARCH DATE SET — The engagement of Debbie Lynn Price, employed in Lubbock by the Northwest Area Parole Office, to David Owen Wood, son of Col. and Mrs. R. L. Wood of LaFayette, La., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Price, 2600 Boeing St. The wedding is planned for 11 a.m. March 3 in the chapel of the First Baptist Church. Miss Price attended Texas Tech University. Her fiancé, employed in Lubbock by W. D. Wilkins, attended Schreiner Institute.

Pyraacantha Garden Club Has Election And Program

New officers were elected and a program given on "Stepping Stones to Winter Wizardry," when the Pyraacantha Garden Club met Tuesday in the Midland Woman's Club.

Mrs. David Schweitzer presided and led the invocation.

New officers named were Mrs. Schweitzer, president; Mrs. John E. Roberts and Mrs. J. A. VanAuker, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Hugh Schmidt and Mrs. J. Melvin Little, recording and corresponding secretaries; Mrs. Frank B. Stahl, treasurer; Mrs. E. G. Allison, reporter; and Mrs. H. H. Lanford, historian.

Mrs. J. K. Somerville, national flower show judge and member of Texas Garden Club, was introduced as the guest speaker by Mrs. VanAuker.

The speaker's topic centered on potted plants. The Greeks were growing citrus plants inside as early as the 16th century, she related. Potted plants make a house a home and lend themselves well to apartment and city dwellers, she told the group.

Hardy plants should be chosen and special attention given to proper placement, humidity, soil, water and fertilizer, she told the group. Plants suggested for indoor growing included fiddle leaf fig, philodendron, aspidistra, sansevieria, dieffenbachia, scheffleria, as well as plants from the pineapple family, dwarf citrus, Norfolk pine and croton.

Committee reports were given. Mrs. VanAuker, finance chairman, reminded members she is still taking orders for note paper for the club's state project.

Mrs. E. V. Mitchell reported on meetings of the boards of Lancaster Garden Center and Midland Woman's Club. Members were invited to attend a luncheon-program Thursday at MWC. A Midland Woman's Club benefit bridge-canasta day will be held from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Jan. 23, she reported, with an invitation to garden club members and their guests to participate.

Mrs. Schmidt and Mrs. Allison are the club's volunteers for work at the center the first and fourth Wednesday, it was announced.

Newspapers and magazines will be picked up twice a month by Mrs. W. S. Friskine, conservation and litter-control chairman, and Mrs. Roberts, assistant, for recycling to benefit the garden center.

A history of Arbor Day was given by Mrs. O. W. Orson from the "National Gardener." As an Arbor Day observance the Pyraacantha Club will make two monetary contributions. One will be to W. E. Shipp, president of the Midland Rose Society, for assistance to the rose garden being established at the garden center by the society. Charles Koch, president will receive the club's contribution for landscaping on the grounds of the new building for the City of Midland Swim Team.

Mrs. Fred Zoellar of Boerne and Mrs. Clark Storm were guests. Mrs. Bill Snody was introduced as a new member.

Sensible Spending Plans

By BETTY CANARY

During one of my attempts at Better Living, I tried out a tip given me by a friend. After listening to complaints about how money slips through our fingers, she told me how her family manages money.

If a child wants something extra, the required amount of money along with a dated note is placed in a lacquered box on top of the piano. Exactly four weeks from the day the list was placed inside the box, if the child wants the article, he is permitted to buy it.

The practice dates from my friend's childhood and she says it works.

It teaches children to spend money "properly" and not frivolously. Sometimes, after four weeks, they have forgotten the ceramic frog in the drugstore or the window, the yellow plaid knee-socks, the book they so desperately wanted — "How To Make Your Own Samurai Sword from Juice Cans."

The lesson saves adults from countless bargains, she tells me.

Family Treasures Enhance Program

"Down Memory Lane" was the program theme Tuesday when Kappa Delta Alumnae Association met with Mrs. James Dodson, 1004 Stanolind St.

Mrs. Dodson was wearing a 72-year-old, long black dress, which belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. D. K. McMullan of San Angelo, and a string of black beads that had belonged to her great-grandmother, in keeping with "Reflections of Preserving Memories."

On display were personal keepsakes and heirlooms framed in shadow boxes belonging to the late Mrs. Harry J. Friend, grandmother of the hostess. A prized heirloom is the family Bible dating back to the 1840s. New and special keepsakes are items brought from last summer's Olympics in Munich by Mr. Dodson.

Mrs. Paul King, president, conducted a business session at the beginning of the meeting. Guests attending were Mrs. Grady Jenkins, Mrs. Paul Scherzer, Mrs. Bill Faudree, Mrs. Douglas Rice and Mrs. George Voltin.

The family next door to us has five children. The mother hasn't spent a night at home since last January. The father works but he comes in and then leaves until 2 in the morning. The kids are noisy and throw trash into our yard. They don't go to school regularly. Isn't there a law to force children to go to school, and isn't there a law about delinquent children?—Mrs. M.D.T.

Yes, there are laws concerning the well being of children. The Texas Education Code provides for compulsory school attendance between the ages of 7 and 17. A child must attend 165 days of school out of 181 school days per year.

School principals of elementary grades and assistant principals of upper grades are responsible for initiating action concerning children who do not attend school. If actions are carried to the full limit of the law, the county attorney at the request of the school can file a juvenile petition for a hearing. At such time, a child may be found delinquent and put on probation under the supervision of a juvenile officer.

The law dealing with dependent and neglected children states, "The term dependent child or neglected child includes any child under 18 years old who is dependent upon the public for support or who is destitute, homeless or abandoned; or who has no proper parental care or guardianship."

The child Welfare Division of the State Department of Public Welfare has been consulted and a caseworker is in touch with this situation.

Why is it that someone can steal your property on Saturday and you can't get anything done about it until Monday? The Midland Police and Sheriff both refused aid and assistance. I even supplied the name and whereabouts of the thief and stolen property.—A disgusted citizen.

Your letter didn't give us enough information to get a satisfactory answer from the proper authorities, since circumstances of each case have a bearing on what action is taken.

But Det. Capt. Jim Maynard of the Midland Police Department invites you to call him personally regarding procedures by which the arrest and charging of a suspect can be carried out. Capt. Maynard said the procedure depends completely on the type of crime and its classification.

Is there any place here a woman can learn elementary car mechanics?

Gulls, Egrets Stir Miami 'Bird Alerts'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When the seagulls and the egrets flock, officials at Miami International Airport post a "bird alert."

It warns pilots to be on the lookout for feathered fliers that can bring down the mightiest of jumbo jets.

Last December, a flock of birds was sucked into the engine of a Northwest Airlines Boeing 747 jetliner, forcing the plane to make an emergency landing.

The jet skidded off the runway, and four of the 160 persons aboard received minor injuries while evacuating the plane. Officials haven't determined what kind of birds were involved.

To Employ Experts

In the wake of that incident and complaints from pilots, Dade County Port Authority Director Richard Judy said he plans to hire a Canadian airport expert and University of Miami ornithologists to find out how to control the bird population.

Seagulls wintering in this area are attracted to the airport by the warm pavement, the wide-open spaces and four nearby garbage dumps. Egrets flock in from the Everglades, and pigeons are ever present.

"It's a serious problem," said Capt. Phillip G. Perry, a regional vice president of the Airline Pilots Association (ALPA). "The turbine engine is really susceptible to ingesting foreign objects such as birds."

He said the ALPA has urged federal officials to require stringent bird control before certifi-

Spanish Course Set By Academy

A one-week school in conversational Spanish will be offered area law enforcement officers through the Permian Basin Law Enforcement Academy.

Classes begin Monday at the Odessa Police Department with instruction by Paul Brooks from the West Texas Education Center.

The school is funded by the Criminal Justice Council through a grant to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, according to Lt. Mickey Browne, coordinator of the academy.

Midland Student Receives Honor

ROSWELL, N.M. — A Midland, Tex., youth was among the 70 New Mexico Military Institute cadets authorized to wear either the Military Science Academic Achievement Award Ribbon in recognition of their first semester academic standing.

Among those named to the PMS's Academic Achievement list was Cadet Anthony D. Shaw, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw Jr., of Midland.

Hoestenbach Will Push UTPB Four-Year Status

ODESSA — State Rep. John Hoestenbach announced Tuesday he will introduce two bills in the House later this week which would convert The University of Texas at the Permian Basin from an upper level into a four-year institution.

One bill would switch only UTPB, while another would convert both UTPB and The University of Texas at Dallas into four-year institutions, Hoestenbach said.

"I have chatted informally with the Dallas delegation and with many members of the House, and the joint bill has the support of some of the Dallas delegation," Hoestenbach told one newsmen.

The freshman representative said State Sen. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock, whose district includes Ector County, would push the four-year proposal in the Senate.

Both UTPB and UT-Dallas were created in 1969 with authority to offer only junior, senior and graduate level instruction.

Hoestenbach's bills, being drafted by the Texas Legislative Council to be introduced in both the House and Senate, would add freshman and sophomore level instruction to UTPB — in competition with area junior colleges at Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder.

The chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, repeatedly has said he does not believe the state should approve four-year status for the eight upper level institutions in Texas.

UTPB is scheduled to open classes next fall, and UTPB President Dr. B. H. Amstead — who has made it a point to stay out of "politics" concerning whether UTPB should change to four-year status — told a Stanton banquet Monday night the university apparently may draw more enrollment as an upper level institution than originally projected.

Meanwhile, Gov. Preston Smith recently proposed a state budget including only about half the $7 million per year requested by UTPB for operations in 1974 and 1975, but university officials expressed hope the legislature would up the UTPB appropriation.

State Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos, whose district includes part of Ector County, is vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

And Rep. Hoestenbach has been appointed to the House Education Committee.

The House passed a four-year UTPB bill in 1971, but it died for lack of a vote in the Senate.

Some observers say the four-year bill does not have as much a chance of passage now as it did in 1971 in light of the current push by state officials for economy and the recent passage of junior college construction bond issues in Midland and Snyder.

Grover To Attend Inaugural Event

Henry C. "Hank" Grover, former state senator and the 1972 Republican gubernatorial nominee from Houston, will be among GOP leaders attending the Midland County Republican Party's Inaugural Ball here Saturday at Midland Country Club.

Mrs. Grover also will attend, according to county GOP chairman Bob Monaghan.

Tickets for the ball are available at $15 per couple through Mrs. Don Sparks, ticket committee chairman.

It will commence at 9 p.m. Music will be by the Kingsmen Orchestra.

Monaghan said a television set will be available at the ball to watch portions of the inaugural celebrations televised from Washington.

Sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association's Committee on Hospital Personnel Problems, the meeting attracted hospital administrators and personnel directors from throughout the Permian Basin.

Program personalities include Len Jones, representing the Texas Hospital Association, and Alva D. Helcock, administrator of the Longview Hospital in Longview.

IF PEACE TALKS FAIL— House Antiwar Forces Plan Bill To Cut Off War Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — House antiwar forces say they will introduce a bill to cut off funds for the Vietnam war—just in case the current round of peace talks fail to produce settlement.

"Obviously the steam would go out of it if a peace agreement is announced," Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., said Tuesday, "and I would like to see that happen."

Hamilton said the bill will be introduced Thursday despite President Nixon's hopes that the current Paris talks will lead to a settlement "in the event the peace talks don't succeed and the war continues."

The bill embodies the antiwar language approved by House Democrats, 154 to 75, two weeks ago and is the one antiwar lobby including Common Cause say they will support.

It would prohibit expenditure of any funds "for U.S. military combat operations in or over Indochina" and require that "such operations be terminated immediately" provided arrangements have been made for release of all American POWs, safe withdrawal of U.S. forces, and an accounting of Americans missing in enemy territory.

The 154 House Democratic Caucus votes for the language Jan. 2 indicated the House—which had rejected all Senate war-deadline measures in the past—still was not ready to approve one by itself.

Sixty-four Republicans would need to join Democrats for the measure to pass. That is three times the 23 votes House antiwar Republicans cast last year.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Hugh Scott said over the weekend, before Nixon announced peace progress and the halt of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, that they doubt Congress could legislate an end to the war.

They said they doubt Congress could muster the two-thirds vote necessary to override Nixon's veto—even if there were enough votes to send a cutoff measure to him in the first place.

But Hamilton, who also led the organized lobby for a House antiwar vote last year, said he believes House sentiment is gaining for Congress to halt the Vietnam, that they doubt Congress could legislate an end to the war.

Vietnam Can Never Be The Same

By RICHARD BLYSTONE
SAIGON (AP) — Girls in snack bars wear Rolling Stones
T-shirts. A slender young man speaks English like a Pentagon memo. A middle-aged woman drives a bulldozer. A rice farmer watches cowboy movies on television.

All this and more since the Americans came.
It has been a blitz. One year there were 16,000 Americans.
Four years later, there were more than half a million — 10 times as many as the French colonialists ever numbered.

The Americans paid a week's wages for a taxi ride, built an airport in two weeks and blasted an acre of jungle into compost on the chance of killing one Viet Cong. A Vietnamese could make a fortune just picking up after them.

"With the French, it was an infiltration system," says a Vietnamese professor, "with the Americans, a shock treatment."

Most of the Americans have gone, but South Vietnam still is reeling. A society that was once simple and orderly has grown new classes and new appetites.

The U.S. military needed people to wash clothes and lug boxes, so it hired them. U.S. agencies and contractors needed people to type, lay bricks, cook and fix air conditioners, so they trained them.
The Americans needed Vietnamese experts for "nation building," so they sent them to school.

To keep inflation down and morale up, television sets, wrist watches and a million motor-bikes were imported to sop up the incoming dollars.

English supplanted
French as the most popular foreign language in secondary schools. Employment of Vietnamese in the "U.S. sector" peaked at more than 160,000 in 1969. The average employe of the Americans earned two to four times the average income, creating pockets of affluence.

The Sears Roebuck "wish book" is popular reading in magazine-stalls. Vietnamese officers' jeeps become family cars by night.

Civil servants rely on graft and military men on black marketeering to provide luxuries. No government program has succeeded in stopping them.

Millions Displaced
The war displaced an estimated seven million South Vietnamese at one time or another and started a great migration to the cities. Officials hoped that, when peace came, the uprooted would drift back to the land, but they have changed their minds.

Nguyen Van Anh, vice minister of national planning and development, foresees an even greater influx into the cities as South Vietnam's million-man armed forces are demobilized.

It is not all bad, says Anh, because, "by bringing people into the army, we have given them a glimpse of the world outside their villages and we have opened their minds. Without the war, this process might have taken most of a century."

Impact On Family
The war also has had an incalculable impact on the Vietnamese family. Children have grown up with fathers gone.
Working wives frequently earn more than soldier husbands.
Before the war, less than one-fourth of the university students were women, but now the percentage of coeds is well over one-third.

The draft and the high cost of setting up housekeeping caused registered marriages in Saigon to drop although the city was growing. The marital age rose by four years for both sexes, and the latest statistics show women initiated 960 of 1,140 divorces.

Hundreds of women have paid a month's salary or more for cosmetic surgeons to sew Caucasian-style folds into their eyelids or make their noses thinner and straighter.

are ornamented with cement

there is no trace of French or Chinese discipline.

"Experimentation?" a Vietnamese homeowner was asked.
"Dislocation," he answered.

American music is popular among Vietnamese teen-agers, but it is not theirs. A people with every reason to sing the blues can't get the hang of the sound made by black Americans.

"The most significant of our shortcomings," an American Don't the Vietnamese already official wrote recently, "has been that we have failed to provide a dream... At no time have we attempted to tell the people what is at the end of the rainbow. What is the great aspiration which can make their suffering tolerable and their sacrifices worthwhile?"

And it is peace that may put to live before they die."

Yes, say many Vietnamese.
When asked to describe it, they talk simply of prosperity and peace.

At this point, many Vietnamese seem not quite sure what they are and what they want to be.

Vietnam's culture to its toughest test yet.
"The war has opened the people's minds, but it has had bad effects on young people," says Anh. "Live and love and die—that is their slogan. They don't want to think about building the future. They just want to live before they die."

Street Damage Heavy

The big, long-lasting freeze of January 1973 will be remembered for many reasons... but the City of Midland undoubtedly will remember it primarily for the street damage it caused.

Those persons who have traversed city thoroughfares will agree that the lasting memory will be justified.

And the tremendous cost of repairing—and perhaps even repaving—some of the streets will tend to make memory of the big freeze even more long-lasting.

City officials are in the process of assessing the amount of damage inflicted on streets following the bitter cold, wet spell, which was longer lasting by far than most freezing spells in these parts.

It has been explained that most of the damage was caused by the freezing of moisture beneath the pavement surface. The expanding ice caused the pavement on some of the streets to buckle, and then to break up with the following thawing conditions.

Traffic brought about a general deterioration in many instances, with chug holes developing. Further crumbling will follow unless repairs are made promptly.

The municipality is faced with a big job, which cannot be accomplished overnight. And it will be expensive! This may be the place where City Council members will invest the Revenue Sharing funds received from Uncle Sam.

Government Is Ready

"In some dim beginning, man created the institution of government as a convenience for himself. And ever since that time, government has been doing its best to become an inconvenience."

These are the words of Gov. Ronald Reagan of California... and they are as true as can be. But the big question remains, why in the world has man permitted government to take the turn which it has.

Reagan explains it this way: "Government bureaus and agencies take on a life and a purpose of their own. But I wonder if it happens because so many of us—all of us probably—read and hear, and just repeat what we think is a truism—that when a public problem develops, government is forced to step in. This is utter nonsense. Government hardly can wait to step in. As a matter of fact, government is in the position of the fellow who will make a speech at the drop of a hat."

How About A Fresh Deck!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Chief Justice Warren Burger not one to be trifled with.

WASHINGTON — From his flowing white mane to the gold carpet he insists upon trodding when he enters the Supreme Court chamber, Warren Burger is a distinguished chief justice who will suffer no indignities to the institution for which he stands.

He solemnly rejected a request, therefore, from Columbia Pictures producer Gerald Ayres to shoot a three-minute segment showing drunken sailors cavorting on the front steps of the Supreme Court.

Nor was the chief justice appeased by an offer to change the script and sober up the sailors. A press spokesman admitted the revised segment would not be "disrespectful to the Supreme Court."

Nicholson has had the effrontery to call for the impeachment of President Nixon who appointed Burger to the high court. Of course, Nicholson's role in the movie is nonpolitical. He plays a fun-loving Navy petty officer who is assigned with another sailor to accompany a prisoner from the Norfolk Naval Station to a naval prison in New Hampshire.

The odyssey takes the zany trio through Washington where the script calls for them to get lost and drunk among the imposing government buildings.

The chief justice, however, would have no part of Nicholson drunk or sober. Producer Ayres, therefore, began making arrangements to shoot the segment in front of the National Art Gallery, whose architecture is as stately as that of the Supreme Court.

Although he was advised there would be "no problem," the gallery a week later abruptly turned down his request. Not until then did the flabbergasted Ayres learn that Chief Justice Burger was chairman, too, of the gallery's board of trustees.

Indeed, a friend inside the government, who tried to help Ayres find a site for his three minutes of filming, wrote to him on November 10: "It appears that a request to use any of the government buildings that would be suitable is going to be coordinated with the Supreme Court, and that's a closed door. Considering the circumstances, I don't think any further effort will be productive."

Nevertheless, Ayres finally found one government building that didn't come under Burger's sway. The producer convinced officials at the National Archives that his intentions were innocent and last week was able to film the three-minute segment that took three months to arrange.

Footnote: The eminent chief justice is not one to be trifled with. When a fellow passenger blew cigar smoke in his face aboard the Washington-New York Metroliner, Burger wrote an indignant letter to Transportation Secretary John Volpe and put a stop to cigar smoking on the train. Another time, a from us. "I am not at liberty to comment," he barked.

Antipoverty Junket—In anticipation that the antipoverty budget would be cut, one regional antipoverty director took off two weeks ago for a rush trip to the South Sea islands while he still had government travel money to spend.

Nixon's Notes — President Nixon is spending most of his time by himself these days working on his inaugural, state of the union and other messages. He writes down his ideas laboriously in longhand on legal-length, lined yellow paper, then dictates from these notes to his personal secretary, Rose Mary Woods. His preliminary notes, according to our White House sources, are hard hitting. He will make it perfectly clear that he is going to run the country for the next four years the way he believes it should be run, and he isn't going to be deterred by his critics.

Secret Numbers — The FBI has been busy distributing secret telephone numbers to street people who, in return for a suitable reward, might be willing to confide what the radicals are planning during the presidential inaugural. The potential informers are promised cash, educational opportunities, even permanent paid informant status. The hush-hush numbers have fallen into our hands and we couldn't resist the temptation to dial one. We wound up talking with Agent Harry Willis who was dismayed to hear

RAY CROMLEY— Fire The Deadwood And Save $2 Billion A Year

By RAY CROMLEY (First of two related articles)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There is a way to save $1 billion a year in defense without decreasing our military strength.

Similar cuts percentage-wise could be made in the budgets of most other major departments in the federal government with no decrease in efficiency.

The savings would add up to more than $2 billion a year.

Administrators say these results could be achieved by selectively cutting civilian employees by 10 per cent. Some administrators would put the figure much higher.

Every key administrator in the government surveyed by this reporter agrees there is this much deadwood.

In most instances the experts estimate that with this 10 per cent gone the efficiency of the offices involved would actually increase substantially — without the remaining 90 per cent having more work to do. In some cases, the 90 per cent remaining would have less to do.

The paradox is simple to explain. The 10 per cent are bottlenecks. They slow the work. They delight in red tape. They snafu projects. And they hold down good men and good ideas.

This is not to suggest most government employees are deadheads. The number of able, efficient government workers is extraordinarily large. The problem is that it is next to impossible to remove inefficient, mediocre workers in the numbers necessary for efficient operation.

Outgoing Defense Secretary Melvin Laird explained the problem vividly in a talk with this reporter. As things are now, he says, when you cut a tenth of your civilian personnel, you don't remove the bureaucrats you want to eliminate. What results is that you fire too many of the new young able people you have brought in most recently in order to beef up your department for the future. It is a losing game.

The problem in defense (and in most other agencies of the federal government) is the system called bumping. In most cases, when you remove a man from his job (for incompetence or whatever), he then usually has the right to bump (take over the job of) someone with less seniority in his line of work.

The bumped man then has the right to bump the next level down, and so on through the system. Thus the man you want to fire isn't fired. Someone somewhere down below him loses his job instead.

The men and women leaving, therefore, may be some of the ablest workers in your shop. Thus, under present regulations, a 10 per cent cut in civilians could result in a serious decline in efficiency.

This need not be if Congress will change the laws.

CROSSROADS REPORT

By D. E. SCOTT

Dear Editor: I see where some outfit called the Twentieth Century Fund is going to appoint a committee to monitor the fairness and accuracy of printed and broadcast news stories.

If any confidence is going to be placed in this new assemblage of monitors, it will be necessary to get up another board of monitors to monitor the monitors.

Then the monitor-monitors will have to be monitored, and the monitor-monitoring monitors, ad inf. And everybody will continue to hold his own opinion about news fairness and accuracy.

Consumer Prices Simply Will Not Stay Down!

By CARLTON SMITH

NEW YORK (NEA) — Don't hold your breath waiting for inflation to subside to that level below three per cent which they keep seeing just around the corner, they say, in Washington, D.C.

That seems to be the admonition in the latest figures from the Bureau of Labor Statistics which show that the rate of price increases speeded up in last year's third quarter.

Food prices took a big jump — up to an annual rate of seven per cent, equivalent to inflation at its worst in the latter half of the '60s.

In the year's last quarter, the wholesale price index showed a sharp rise, which is almost always a guarantee of higher consumer prices to follow. All the indications suggest that consumers had better keep a tight string on their purses. They'll doubtless need more of what's in those purses to pay for the necessities in 1973.

Both the Consumer Price Index and the Wholesale Price Index rose at accelerated rates during 1972's third quarter. Consumer prices were climbing at the equivalent of a 4.6 per cent annual rate.

The administration's wage and price controls evidently haven't had quite the desired effect, so far as prices are concerned. Excluding the first three months when most prices were frozen, the period of controls produced in the first 13 months a rise in the C. P. I. of 3.5 per cent, compared to the 3.8 per cent rate for 1971 preceding the freeze.

Looking only at the food prices included in the general price index, the rise there was 4.9 per cent — about the same as before controls.

The one component of the index that did show a decline was the cost of services — down 22 per cent — suggesting that the control of wages has been more effective than the control of prices.

To make the consumer dollar go farther, a Cornell University study indicates, head for the discount department stores.

Although inflation raised the stores' cost of doing business 6.5 per cent in the year covered by the study the spread between cost of merchandise and the price paid by consumers rose only 1.7 per cent.

Increases of four to six times as much were common in most other segments of the economy, the study noted.

Trout Old Hand At Inauguration

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — On March 4, 1933, a nervous young man named Robert Trout covered the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

On Saturday, as President Nixon is sworn in for four more years, Trout will be back behind the microphone, covering his 11th consecutive presidential inauguration for the CBS Radio network.

It's a broadcasting record.

But Trout was an old hand at inauguration-watching even before he became a reporter.

He grew up in Washington, D.C., and recalls that "every four years school was let out so we could watch the show. It was sort of like the circus coming to town."

"We went to see the parade. We were great connoisseurs of parades. We were kind of upset at Harding's inauguration because he rode in an automobile instead of a horse and carriage."

Now 63 and semiretired, Trout remembers the Washington of his youth as completely unlike today's highly security-conscious model. It was a freer, far less-suspicious era.

If you were up early, he said, you might have seen Herbert Hoover or Calvin Coolidge out for a stroll on the streets of the city the morning of their respective inaugurations.

In President Woodrow Wilson's day, he said, the White House even held a public reception each New Year's Day.

"If you wanted to, you could line up at the White House — and it was a long, long line — and go in and shake the hand of President Wilson," he said.

Trout began his broadcasting career in 1931 as an announcer for WJVS, a Northern Virginia station. He joined CBS a year later.

He took to the roof of the old Willard Hotel in Washington to report on the ceremonies at Roosevelt's first inauguration; his ground-level colleagues were Ted Husing and Norman Brokenshire.

He recalled the day as blustery "and cold as hell." The mood of official Washington was grim.

"Things were pretty rough with the Depression, and some people were talking revolution," he said. "It was pretty tense."

"But then Roosevelt made that speech in which he said 'the only thing we have to fear is fear itself.' And he rode down the avenue with this big smile and everybody was sort of reassured."

"It sounds silly, but it was really quite a psychological thing, quite a lift he gave the country in that one afternoon. It was amazing."

"He seemed so confident, so healthy and so vigorous and absolutely unafraid of anything. And everybody said, 'My God, maybe it's going to be all right after all.'"

Massive antiwar demonstrations are scheduled to be held in Washington during Nixon's inauguration Saturday. Were there any demonstrations during Roosevelt's inaugural ceremonies?

"Lord, no," Trout said. "It never would have been thought of. The country was really quite different then. Everyone would have been profoundly shocked at something like that."

Kids Gather Early For Rolling Stones

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — "the fastest-selling concert we've ever had." Fourteen-year-old Merrie Lawson said she saved her babysitting money for weeks and used it to buy a $25 ticket.

"I was saving up for something big, and this is it," she said. "The Rolling Stones are No. 1."

Like a handful of others with no place to stay, Mary was camped by an outside wall of the Inglewood Forum and determined to endure the rain and chilly winds until the performance Thursday evening.

Mostly young and wearing everything from fancy bell bottoms to Army surplus fatigues, thousands of fans showed up to pay from $10 to $100 for a ticket to see the British group widely regarded as No. 1 in the world of rock music.

A sellout — which seemed certain — of all 18,699 seats would raise a gross of $516,810. The net proceeds are intended for the victims of last month's earthquake at Managua, Nicaragua.

Bianca Jagger, wife of the Rolling Stones' lead singer, Mick, is a Nicaraguan.

Tickets went on sale early Tuesday morning; and, by late Tuesday, only a few $25 and $100 tickets were left. Forum manager Jim Appell called it "a paedia Britannica."

Lamesa Chamber Adopts Budget

LAMESA — Chamber of Commerce directors here have formally adopted a $40,251 budget for 1973, which includes $3,500 for redecorating and recarpeting the chamber offices.

Treasurer Nelson Hogg presented the budget for the year. Chamber offices were last redecorated in 1963. A committee headed by Jim Norris was appointed several months ago to recommend needed repairs to the office and to seek cost estimates. Exclusive of the redecorating costs, the Chamber budget is down slightly from the basic budget of 1972.

WHOOOPS — Steve Cromwell (44) drops ball during heated action for Lee Rebels as Odessa Permian's Gary Bond (22) and Andy Burk (24) watch play. Lee stormed to its 20th straight victory by posting an easy 70-50 victory over the Panthers before a packed house in the Lee Gymnasium Tuesday night.

Rebels Storm Past Permian

Cromwell, Bradley Pace Lee To 20th Straight

By BOB DILLON

The Midland Lee Rebels stormed to their 20th consecutive basketball victory at the expense of the outclassed Odessa Permian Panthers, 70-50, Tuesday night before more than 2,000 delirious fans in the Lee Gymnasium.

Coach Paul Stueckler's sweeping for the evening taking a 54-46 victory in the sophomore game over Permian and then an easy 55-35 win in the junior varsity game, breaking open a 34-30 game with a 21-point outburst in the final period to Permian's five points.

Terry Carpenter and Terry Schultz scored 14 points each to pace the Lee sophomores to their win while Hyde paced Permian with 20 points.

Milton Jones and Willard Floyd tallied 13 and 10 points for the Lee JV while Permian didn't have anybody in the double figures.

It was a tremendous victory for the Rebels who employed their usual tough full-court press to full advantage over the slower Odessans. Cromwell, a 6-6 senior, flipped in 23 points and Bradley 21 and both played well on defense, shutting 6-6 David Nelson out from the basket, especially in the first half. Nelson finally wound up with eight points, four in each half.

Not only was the satisfying win Lee's 20th straight, but gives the talented Tall City five a 22-1 season mark while Permian is now 13-8 on the season.

It was close only in the opening period with Lee taking a 14-11 lead going into the second period. Permian scored first on a layup by 6-4 senior Gary Bond, who netted 20 points for the Panthers. Lee came right back to tie it 22 on a driving layup by Bradley and Cromwell's bucket made it 4-2 and the Rebels never trailed after that although Permian did pull to within eight points—38 to 30 late in the third period.

Joining Bond in the double figures was 6-0 senior Jack Wood with 14 points, but the Panthers only managed to connect on 12 of 22 free tosses while Lee hit 12 of 17 charity tosses.

It was one of Lee's hottest nights from the floor with the Rebs hitting 29 of 53 shots while Permian managed 19 of 44 shots.

Bradley went on a spree in the second period, hitting four out of seven shots taken to give Lee a 32-22 lead at halftime. It was 44-32 going into the final period and the Rebels led the game with a 26-point outburst in the final stanza.

The game was never in doubt after midway in the third quarter when the pressing Rebels forced numerous turnovers. Both teams were guilty of a number of mistakes in the early going, but Lee seemed to gain its composure as the game moved along.

Bradley put some moves on opposing Permian players that were unreal to get free on his patent jump shots and driving layups.

Lee entertains Abilene, 44-43 loser to San Angelo at the buzzer, in its next outing Friday night. Then comes the big showdown with the Midland Bulldogs next Tuesday in the MHS Gymnasium.

The Rebels made it a clean

Bulldogs Whip Bronchos, 71-42

By TED BATTLES

ODESSA — Coach James Cagle was worried before Midland High's 71-42 win over Odessa High at ancient OHS gym, one of the oldest athletic arenas in District 5-4A and still one of the best, and he was still worried after the game.

And all the fans who had taken off their shoes and socks to keep track of the Bulldogs' high point man crowded around the scorer's table after it was over to pepper statisticians with questions.

Who was high? Goony (Ronald Taylor), Mike Tillman or Kenneth Ray?

As it turned out they were all wrong. None of the usual glamor guys was high. That honor belonged to Randall Hunt, a slender 6-foot mace of arms and legs, who not only scored 15 points, but didn't miss a shot all night.

Hunt pumped in seven of seven from the floor and converted his lone free throw attempt.

Taylor, who carried a 24.0 point district average, scored only 12 points, which sounds as though he took the night off. Not quite, his domineering 6-10 presence under the defensive boards was intimidating and his value showed up in the eight point totals for

Hunt Sparks Balanced Attack

6-5 Carl Campbell and 6-2 Terry Been, who were averaging 15.5 and 14.5 points, respectively.

Campbell had just four points going into the final quarter and one of those was a half-length-of-the-court desperation shot as the third period buzzer sounded.

Cagle didn't have to worry for long about the Bronchos. Six-four James Herrington slipped behind the Midland press three times in the early going to keep the Bronchos locked at 6-6 with the Purple Pack and then the roof fell in.

Hunt hit three baskets and Tillman, who wound up with 12 points, tossed in two goals as Midland jumped in front 16-6 and the Pack made it 20-6 before Johnny Smith scored to end a four-minute 25-second drought. Before the Bronchos scored again it was 30-8 midway through the second quarter. This dry spell lasted five minutes and 31 seconds.

As for Cagle's post game worries, the Bulldog mentor was dreading Friday night's trip to Abilene to face Cooper. "We beat them down there by one in 1970, got out with a two-point win in 1971 and last year it was six points."

Although the Bulldogs are 19-2 for the season, they are only 4-1 in district and need a win at Cooper to remain in striking distance of pace-setting Midland Lee, which looms up next Tuesday, the final game of the first half.

As a result of the loss, Odessa slipped to 2-3 in district. After leading at half Midland went without a point for 3:24 of the third period before Hunt zeroed in from the corner, but Odessa managed just one basket during that spell. Within the next few minutes, once Hunt broke the ice, Midland raised its lead to 52-23.

Midland's JV, 16-4 and 5-0, rolled over Odessa JV, 68-59, although short-changed one basket. The Bullpups broke open a close game at half, 34-28, and led 52-34 at one point in the third quarter.

Michael Cobb led the scorers with 24 points and Alan Buonasera hit nine of 14 from the field, all outside shots, to wind up with 20 for the night.

Midland's Sophs, who play Lamesa JV in the Seminole JV Tournament Thursday, defeated Odessa, 47-41, in the first game.

Bobcats, Steers Post Victories

The San Angelo Bobcats stunned the Abilene Eagles, 44-43, and the Big Spring Steers upset the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 68-59, Tuesday night in District 5-4A basketball action.

John Elder and Sandy Lawrence paced the Bobcats to their third loop victory in five games with 16 and 13 points as San Angelo continued to surprise. High point man for the Warbirds was Larry Wiley with 14 points.

The victory gives the Concho Cats a season mark of 9-12 while Abilene is now 11-10 and in loop play is 1-4.

John Thomas Smith flipped in 18 points for the Steers as they won their first loop game against three losses. He was the only Big Spring player in the double figures while Reggie Leffall and Ron Thomas paced the Cougar attack with 11 and 13 points. Big Spring stands 12-11 on the year and Cooper is now 13-8 on the season.

In games Friday, Midland Lee (5-0) takes on Abilene (1-4) in Midland while Midland's Bulldogs (4-1) play Cooper (1-4) in the Key City; Odessa Permian (2-2) is at San Angelo (3-2) and Odessa (2-3) entertains the Steers (1-3) in loop action.

Midland and Lee are headed for a big showdown battle next Tuesday in the Midland gymnasium with a turnover crowd expected.

Gophers Top Marquette By 64-53

By ALEX SACHARE

Associated Press Sports Writer

When the crowd in Minneapolis' Williams Arena starts hollering "Brew," that means Minnesota's Jim Brewer is at it again.

Brewer did his thing—tight, hard-nosed defense and rugged rebounding—against Larry McNeill and the Marquette Warriors Tuesday night, and the result was a 64-53 victory for sixth-ranked Minnesota, 11-1.

For seventh-ranked Marquette, it was the second loss in a row after a string of 11 victories. The Warriors hit just 23 of 77 shots from the field—29.9 per cent—and McNeill, their 6-foot-9 star forward, connected on only six of 25 tries.

A big reason was Brewer. The strong, 6-9 senior forward, who played on the U.S. Olympic team at Munich last summer, scored 10 points, sinking all four of his field goal attempts and both his tries from the foul line. But it wasn't the scoring that had the fans shouting, it was the rest of Brewer's game.

He crashed the boards for 10 rebounds as Minnesota out-rebounded Marquette 48-38. He blocked three Warrior shots. And he hounded McNeill all night long.

Marquette Coach Al McGuire, who drew a pair of technical fouls for his outburst on the bench during the game, was considerably calmer afterwards.

"They were just too physical for us," the dapper McGuire said. "I don't think any good team ever shoots 29 per cent."

"I think Minnesota is better than we are... at least tonight they were."

Clyde Turner provided the offensive punch with 20 points for the Gophers in the game played before a crowd of 17,987 plus 4,022 more who watched a closed-circuit telecast in a next-door hockey arena.

In the only other game involving a team in the top 20, 12th-rated Houston sank 63 per cent of its shots from the field in whipping crosstown rival Rice 96-77.

The Cougars sank 10 of their first 12 shots in building a 22-14 lead after seven minutes and never trailed. Dwight Jones scored 29 points and Louis Dunbar 28 for Houston, now 12-2.

Oral Roberts, playing without star guard Richie Fuqua, managed to beat South Dakota 92-79 as David Vaughn scored 20 points and grabbed 16 rebounds and Al Boswell tallied 22.

Fuqua sat out the game with a bruised right knee, it was the 50th consecutive victory at home for the Titans.

Coahoma Blasts Ozona, 63-49

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs panted Ozona 63-49 here Tuesday night in a District 7-AA contest.

Coahoma is now 11-5 on the season and 2-1 in district play while Ozona is 14-6 and 1-2.

Troy Kerby pumped in 16 points for the Bulldogs while teammates Joe Elmore, Terry Shafer and Jody Bennett managed 12, 11 and 10 points respectively. Randy Crawford posted 10 points for Ozona.

Reagan County from making a serious bid.

Rick Wilson provided the scoring power for the Buffs in the third period when he connected for 10 of his 13 points on the night, and by the time the third stanza had rolled to conclusion, the Buffs held a comfortable 11-point lead at 51-40.

With 2:13 left in the game, Deavenport connected on a key basket to give the Buffs their largest lead of the night, a 16-point spread at 68-52.

Quebec Stuns Ottawa, 5-4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Quebec stung Ottawa 5-4 with Michel Harvey's goal 48 seconds into overtime deciding the issue. Alberta topped Los Angeles 6-5 on a goal by Bob Falkenberg only 66 seconds into the extra period.

In other WHA action, Winnipeg topped Minnesota 3-1 and Cleveland edged Philadelphia 4-3.

In the only National Hockey League game played, Minnesota tagged the New York Islanders with their 12th consecutive loss, 1-0, and Vancouver roared from behind with four third period goals to beat Toronto 6-4.

Ronald Leclerc tied Quebec's game against Ottawa with his second goal of the night on a third period penalty shot and then Harvey wasted little time in winning it in sudden death.

The Nordiques, down 3-1 early in the game, closed the gap to 4-3 going into the final period. Then Leclerc was pulled down from behind by defenseman Brian Gibbons and converted the penalty shot against goalie Gilles Wheatton. In the overtime, Harvey's first WHA goal gave the Nordiques the victory. Alberta, down by three goals early in the third period, battled back to lead 5-4. But Mike Byers' goal with 90 seconds left forced the overtime. Then Falkenberg decided it with his second goal of the year. Cleveland scored goals on its first two shots of the game against Philadelphia goalie Bernie Parent but then needed a late third period goal by Dick Pumble to beat the Blazers. In the NHL, goalie Gilles Gilbert blocked 29 shots and shut out the Islanders for the second time this season. The only goal of the game was scored in the first period by Minnesota's Jude Drouin. "This can't keep up," said Islander Coach Phil Goyette, whose team has won only once in the last 28 games. "Something's got to change sooner or later." Things changed fast for Toronto against Vancouver. The Maple Leafs charged to a 4-0 lead and then saw the Canucks bounce from behind.

Lamesa Raps Dunbar Five

LUBBOCK — Four players soared into double figures here Tuesday night as the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes downed Lubbock Dunbar 81-47 to clinch at least a tie for the first half District 3-AAA title.

The win gave the Tors a sparkling 19-3 season reading and an unblemished 5-0 district mark while Dunbar fell to 8-11 and 2-2.

Junior Kent McCurley tossed in 28 points to lead the Tor scoring parade and brother Harry McCurley contributed 20 in the winning cause. Greg Cannady and Jim Roberts tossed in 12 and 10 points respectively.

Lamesa outscored the Panthers 24-8 in the second quarter and then ran away with the important victory. Lamesa also won the junior varsity game 50-39.

The Tors host Lake View Friday, and a Lamesa victory would give them the undisputed first half championship. Lake View is winless in five district outings.

IT'S MINE — Harry Korthauger (53), Rebel center, takes ball from Permian's Daryl Hunt (42) in second period of Lee-Panther game Tuesday night. Lee won the District 5-4A tilt, 70-50 to remain undefeated in five loop games.

McCAMEY — The McCamey Badgers came from 18 points back in the fourth quarter here Tuesday night to pull out a 75-72 victory over Crane's Golden Cranes in a District 7-AA basketball game.

The Badgers are now 12-9 on the year and 2-1 in district play while Crane fell to a 5-17 and 0-3 mark.

In junior varsity action, Crane took a 66-62 win in the boys' action while McCamey captured an easy 70-36 win in the girls' contest.

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Montana State Coach Hank Anderson notched his 300th collegiate basketball victory in his 22 years of coaching on Tuesday night and said: "I enjoy the game more now than I did 10 years ago."

Anderson hit the plateau with a 70-65 decision over arch-rival University of Montana and longtime friend Jud Heathcote.

Pacers Cop ABA Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — "My arm," admitted Billy Keller, "is a little tired."

The 5-foot-10 Indiana guard pumped in a career high 38 points—including an American Basketball Association record-setting six three-point goals—as the Pacers beat Denver 130-113 Tuesday night for only the second time in seven meetings this season and moved into a tie with the Rockets for second place in the western division four games behind Utah.

In the only other ABA action, Julius Erving poured in 46 points as the Virginia Squires rallied to defeat the Memphis Tams 127-122.

Keller hit his first four attempts from three-point range and apparently had one in the final second that would have given him the record by himself, but the referee ruled he was inches inside the three-point line.

"We put it together," Keller said. "We ran and rebounded. This was a ballgame the guys were up for. Playing them six times and getting beat five times, we were due. I think this was one of my best ballgames. Every guy on the court was giving me the ball."

Keller was backed up by Mel Daniels with 23 points, George McGinnis with 22 and Darnell Hillman with 21. Ralph Simpson topped Denver with 31 and lanky Dave Robisch added 28.

Mrs. Cook recorded a 93 for low gross honors while Mrs. Troupe managed a 77 for low net honors in the A flight.

In the B flight, Wilma Dillard of Ranchland Hills won low gross with a 98 while Eleanor Neilson of Ranchland Hills fired a 75 for low net honors.

In the C flight, Velma Price of Ranchland Hills recorded a 99 to win low gross while Alice Coombes had a 76 for low net.

HOUSTON (AP)—Arrests of two men in McAllen, Tex., and the confiscation of 714 pounds of marijuana was announced here Tuesday by U.S. Treasury agents.

Deputy special agent William D. Kilman said Angelo Lopez Delgado, 22, of Mission and Jesus Carrillo Barraza, 26, a Mexican national living in Mission, were arrested at a McAllen Motel.

Agents also seized a car and a two-and-a-half-ton truck, Kilman said. Bond for Carrillo was set at $50,000 and for Lopez at $25,000.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—George Jacobs, the San Antonio policeman who died Sunday of a gunshot wound, will be buried today with a police honor guard in attendance.

Two men have been charged with the killing of the 32-year-old officer. They are John L. Harris, 26, and Robert M. Applewhite, 22. Bond was set at $50,000 for each man.

Harris was arrested last Friday and charged with the robbery of a service station only minutes before Jacobs was shot. The patrolman died Monday. Applewhite was arrested Tuesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, police pressed the search for the death weapon.

A reward fund for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Jacobs' assailants last Wednesday night stood at $3,200 when Harris and Applewhite were charged.

Houston To Have New $200-Million Medical Complex

HOUSTON (AP)—A $200-million medical development next to the present Texas Medical Center was announced Tuesday by K. S. "Bud" Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers in the National Football League and of Ada Oil Co.

Dr. Edward R. Annis, a past president of the American Medical Association, was on hand for the announcement and said the proposed center would contain "a truly revolutionary" outpatient department to provide minor surgical and diagnostic services and keep persons out of expensive hospitals.

The privately funded project will start with a 26-story professional building which will have a surgical center for outpatients and a full range of supportive services.

Adams said the professional those assessed the building should be completed by early next year at a cost of $18 million.

Proposed Legislation Would Shake Up Texas Marriage Laws

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Men could marry at age 18 without parental consent under a bill submitted by Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood.

Nabers' bill would lower the age from the present 19. The Texas Family Code already allows young women to marry at 18 without their parents' approval.

Marriage Petitions
The measure also would allow boys of 16 and girls of 14 to petition a court in their own names for permission to marry if their parents refused to consent. A judge could give this permission if he found marriage would be in the couple's best interests.

Nabers' measure also would change provisions in the code to provide that "a man and a woman" instead of "persons" must appear before a county clerk to obtain a marriage license. There have been recent instances in which homosexual couples sought marriage licenses, but the late Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled they were not entitled to receive the licenses.

Another provision of the bill would enable parents to obtain a court order to prevent their children from marrying.

annulments of marriages between boys under 16 and girls under 14.

A suit would have to be filed within 90 days after the parents learned of the marriage and within 90 days after the boy's 16th birthday or the girl's 14th birthday.

The bill was filed with House Chief Clerk Dorothy Hallman for formal introduction and reference to committee later.

Sen. Jack Ogg of Houston filed a bill in the Senate providing the death penalty for several categories of murder, including the slaying of policemen, firemen or prison guards; murder for hire; assassination of public officials, and killings during the course of a rape, robbery or other crime.

Rep. Joe Salem of Corpus Christi filed a bill requiring registration of one's party affiliation at least 30 days before voting in a party primary election.

He said his bill, if passed, would reduce the amount of cross-over voting in primaries, when an individual voted in the primary of one political party, then voted in the general election for the nominees of the other political parties.

Other bills filed Tuesday included these measures:

—HB105 by Rep. A. L. Dramberger of San Antonio, giving county commissioners power to regulate land use outside of cities.

—HB106 by Rep. Charles Tupper of El Paso, allowing cars to turn right on red lights.

—HB97 by Rep. Jim Kaster of El Paso, changing the composition of the State Board of Morticians to put public members on it. The board now consists of six undertakers.

But, according to Dr. Thomas Salter, HCJC president, only those courses drawing enough enrollment will be taught here. Tuition will be $12 per course, at $4 per semester hour, with a $5 minimum charge.

Students also will pay a general fee of $9 per course ($3 per semester hour), not to exceed $18.

Amtrak To Launch Fort Worth-Laredo Train Runs Jan. 27

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Railroad Passenger Corp. (Amtrak) has announced that train service from Fort Worth to Laredo, in South Texas, will begin Jan. 27.

The new train, the Inter-American, will operate through Austin and San Antonio.

The train will connect as closely as possible with the National Railways of Mexico train, the Aztec Eagle, which provides service between Nuevo Laredo and Mexico City.

Connections between the Amtrak and Mexican trains will be provided by chartered bus across the Rio Grande. Schedules will allow sufficient time for U.S. Customs inspections.

International Service
Last June, the Congress directed Amtrak to start international service to Canada and Mexico. Canadian service started July 17 at Vancouver, B.C., and Sept. 29 at Montreal.

Initially, the Inter-American will operate southbound on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and northbound on Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays.

It will leave Fort Worth at 6 a.m. and will arrive at Laredo at 5:05 p.m. There will be stops at McGregor at 7:45 a.m., Temple 8:20 a.m., Austin 10:50 a.m., San Marcos 11:45 a.m., and San Antonio at 12:55 p.m.

The Aztec Eagle leaves Nuevo Laredo daily at 6:25 p.m., arriving in Mexico City at 5:21 p.m. the next day. Northbound the Aztec Eagle leaves Mexico City at 10:05 a.m. and reaches Nuevo Laredo at 6:25 a.m. the following day.

The Inter-American departs Laredo at 9:30 a.m. It stops in San Antonio at 1:20 p.m., San Marcos at 2:55, Austin 3:37, Temple 6:20, and McGregor at 6:55, with arrival at Fort Worth at 8:50 p.m.

For the present, connections at Fort Worth with the Chicago-

OCAW Threatens Walkout At Shell's Pasadena Plant

HOUSTON (AP) — Workers at the Pasadena plant of Shell Oil Co. represented by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union (OCAW) will walk off the job at noon Thursday unless a new contract is worked out, a union official said Tuesday.

The plant employs about 1,500 workers represented by Local 4-367. Their contract expired along with those of 415 other bargaining units at midnight Dec. 31, and they are seeking a new two-year pact.

Workers continued strikes, meanwhile, at the Mobil Oil Co. plant in Beaumont and the British Petroleum Co. plant in Port Arthur.

Denver headquarters of the OCAW announced Tuesday that wages and the health and safety issue had been settled with Mobil but union negotiator Billy G. Turner in Beaumont said the strike would continue there until local issues were resolved.

W. L. Moody Bank Ordered To Open Books To Tax Men

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A federal judge has told the receiver of W. L. Moody and Co. Bankers, Unincorporated, to allow the Internal Revenue Service to inspect the bank's books.

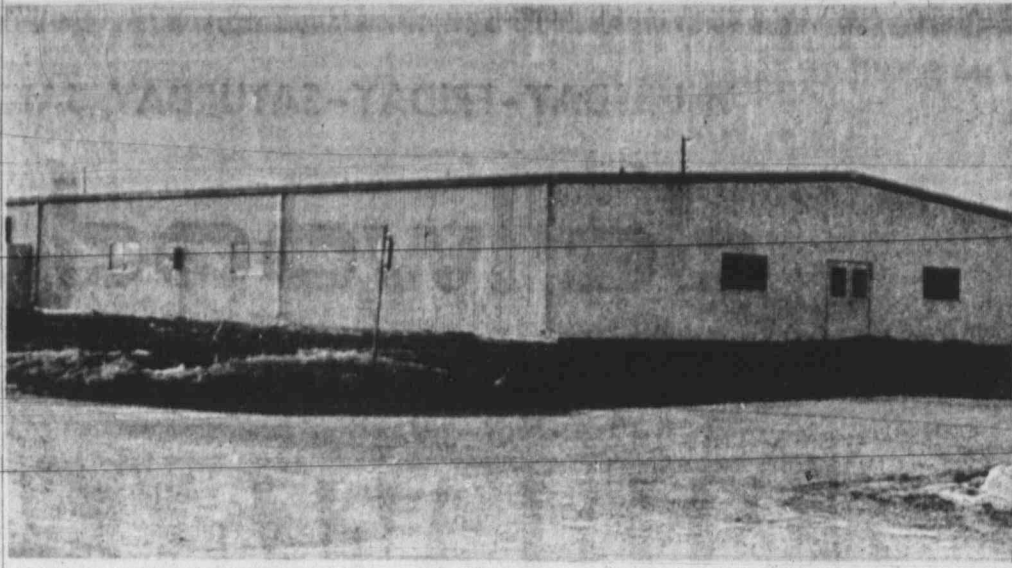

The order was signed Tuesday by U.S. District Court Judge James Noel and directed to E. O. Buck, appointed by Judge Noel last year to take over operations of the bank after the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission filed suit against the bank's owner, Shearn Moody Jr., over the sale of certificates of deposit in the private bank.

The IRS is investigating Moody's tax liability for 1969, 1970 and 1971.

Southmost Seeks Four-Year Status

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas Southmost College would become a four-year college if plans are approved by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System.

Pan American University President Dr. Ralph Schilling said Tuesday plans are under way to establish an upper-level two-year program at the junior college.

NEW COMMUNITY CENTER — Workmen are putting finishing touches this week on the $53,000 Martin County Center, which is ready just in time for the Martin County Junior Livestock Show scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Climate To Be Under Control At Martin Livestock Show

STANTON — More than 300 entries are expected for what promises to be one of the biggest and best Martin County Junior Livestock Show competitions ever — and this time it will unrel in climate-controlled comfort.

Chamber of commerce agriculture committee chairman Chuck Elmore said the latter point is worth emphasizing since many Martin County residents recall watching or participating in the show last year in 12-degree temperatures — inside and out — at the old stock barn.

But Martin County Community Center is being completed this week — heater, air conditioner and all — just in time to house the show which will commence at 2 p.m. Thursday with weigh-ins, according to Martin

Optometrists Open National Conference

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The American Optometric Association says it will introduce an expanded continuing education program at its national conference week, which began here today.

The meeting, which is called National Optometric Conference week, will be held through Sunday.

County Agent Billy Reagar. Lamb judging will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday, barrows at 2 p.m. Friday and steers at 9 a.m. Saturday.

A 2 p.m. Saturday sale will top off the event.

Judges will be Lamb County Agent Buddy Logston for steers; Glasscock County Agent Oliver Weerst for lambs, and Howard County assistant agent Ronnie Wood for barrows. Howard County Agent Bruce Griffith will judge showmanship.

Show superintendents are Bruce Brandenburger for steers; Bill Stone for lambs, and Jimmy Robertson, assisted by Butch Howard, for barrows.

Flexibility To Mark Phase 3 Voluntary Wage-Price System

By BILL NEIKIRK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's voluntary wage-price standards will be flexibly enforced but will be applied more strictly to the nation's largest companies and industries, say top officials of the Cost of Living Council.

The council will exercise a vast amount of discretion in deciding when to use the government's standby authority to order a pay or price increase rolled back, these officials added.

As yet, they said, no one at the council know how often the standby authority will have to be used. "It is a thing that will evolve over time," said one.

Voluntary Guidelines
"Hopefully, we won't have to do it very often."

Nixon abolished most mandatory wage-price controls last week, leaving only those in the food, health and construction industries, and substituted a system of voluntary wage-price guidelines.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said the government will move quickly to force price and wage rollbacks if any company or unions gets "way out of line" with the standards, but he didn't elaborate.

Council officials say flexibility creates uncertainty over how the government will move. And the uncertainty, in turn, helps to hold down wage-price increases.

They hinted that if a large company posts a highly visible price increase, such as in the automobile industry, under the impression that it isn't in violation of the standard, the government probably will conduct an audit to make sure the company's claims are true.

And a price boost with a big inflationary impact would be a more likely target for legal action than would a larger increase with lesser economic impact, the officials said.

The price standard calls on companies to justify price boosts by legitimate costs, such as wage increases or material costs. Firms are asked to obey a profit-margin restraint, using the best two profit years since 1969 as the base.

The wage standard is now 5.5 per cent, but may be rewritten soon by a Labor-Management Advisory Committee. Some council officials speculate that the new standard will be so flexible that the figure will be eliminated.

Certainty Ended
In a nutshell, they said, the certainty of Phase 2 is over. Under Phase 3, a company or union can only guess at what sort of wage-price behavior is excess of the standards would trigger government reaction.

Because the council is holding out the threat of enforcement action, its efforts to persuade companies to roll back price increases—known as "jawboning"—will work more effectively, the council officials said.

With big labor contracts up for negotiation this year, the council will be forced to concentrate on "pacesetter" industries, they said.

Senator Would Abolish Bureaucrat Limousines

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator who runs to work wants to let the air out of the tires of one of the capital's most coveted prestige symbols—the chauffeur-driven limousine.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has told heads of a dozen agencies whose budgets are reviewed by his Appropriations subcommittee to expect all funds for chauffeurs and limousines to be cut off.

"In view of the stringent fiscal straits in which we find ourselves, the cutbacks for low-income housing and programs to aid low-income farmers, and the controls placed on the wages of American workers,"

Proxmire said he served notice of his plans to the following departments and agencies reviewed by his subcommittee: The Department of Housing and Urban Development, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, National Science Foundation, Veterans Administration, Securities and Exchange Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Service Administration, Federal Home Loan Bank Board and the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

Chrysler Recalls 6,263 '73 Models

DETROIT (AP) — Possible defects in steering systems or transmission assemblies have led to the recall of 6,263 Chrysler Corp. passenger cars.

Chrysler said Tuesday that about 10 per cent of the 5,512 recalled 1973 Plymouth Satellites and Dodge Coronets and Chargers are suspected of having lower control arm pivot shafts which may have been heat-treated improperly.

Failure to have the condition corrected could lead to a failure of the pivot shaft and loss of steering control, Chrysler said.

The recall of 751 1973 Plymouth Fury and Dodge Polara and Monaco models involves a possibly badly attached automatic transmission throttle linkage clip on cars equipped with 318 cubic inch V-8 engines and automatic transmissions.

The badly attached clip, suspected in 5 per cent of the recalled cars, could let the throttle slip wide open, Chrysler said.

The auto firm said it had received no reports of accidents caused by either problem.

Sands FFA Sets Livestock Show
ACKERLY — The Sands High School Future Farmers of America will sponsor a steer, lamb and barrow show here Friday, with judging by Dr. Edwin Dubose of Abilene Christian College scheduled for 1 p.m.

The show will be conducted at the Sands ag barn, and lunch will be available there beginning at 1 p.m., sponsors said.

Bombs, Shootings Mark North Ireland Violence

BELFAST (AP) — Three masked gunmen kidnaped a police reservist on the outskirts of Belfast Tuesday night and stripped him of his uniform and revolver. But, when two of the gunmen walked away for a moment, the reservist ran.

The gunman fired three shots, hitting the policeman once in the leg. Limping, he made his way to a house and was reported only slightly wounded.

Army headquarters said bombs were hurled at a patrol in Londonderry during the night, and one bounced off an armored car before exploding. A short time later, a 5-year-old boy came up and handed the troops another bomb. Officers said it probably had been among those thrown at the soldiers earlier.

"The little boy was very lucky," an army spokesman said. "There was a very short fuse on the bomb, and it could have gone off at any time. It was a miracle it didn't."

Earlier in the night, police found the body of a 22-year-old Protestant militiaman in the trunk of a car on the edge of a Roman Catholic district in Belfast. Authorities believe he was killed Monday by guerrillas who hijacked his car for a bomb raid in the center of the city.

He was the 26th militiaman to die and the 688th known fatality in 3½ years of violence in Northern Ireland.

Panel Okays Richardson, Clements

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has approved President Nixon's top defense and intelligence nominations, but it appears the President will be sworn in Saturday without full Senate approval of his new Cabinet.

Ignoring the request of one of its members for a delay, the committee Tuesday approved the appointment of Elliot L. Richardson as secretary of Defense, William P. Clements Jr. as deputy Defense secretary and James P. Schlesinger as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, who wants the Senate to delay action on the three nominees until after the inauguration as a protest against the Vietnam war, voted "present" in committee on the motions to approve them. All other committee members voted for the nominations.

Earlier Hughes withdrew his demand for open hearings on the financial holdings of Richardson and Clements after Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., committee chairman, agreed to release their financial affairs while the two are in office.

Stennis said he would be ready to proceed on the Senate floor Friday.

With Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird formally leaving, Stennis said it would be

Midland Police Arrest Suspect
Dewey Roger Stewart, wanted in Ector and Andrews counties and in Monroe, La., for forgery and passing a forged instrument, was arrested in Midland Tuesday afternoon.

Stewart, 31, whose wife told police they currently are living at 914 N. Loraine St., was picked up by Midland detectives shortly before 6 p.m. in front of the D & D Corral, 411 Air Park Drive, the officers said.

He was arrested on the Ector County warrant and Justice of the Peace Robert Pine set a $25,000 bond. Later police learned of the Andrews County and Monroe warrants.

The Andrews County Sheriff's Department was to pick up Stewart at the city jail this morning.

Louisiana Murder, Robbery Suspect Arrested In Texas

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP) — A 27-year-old man wanted on a murder charge in Louisiana was arrested downtown here after being surrounded by city, county and state law enforcement officers late Tuesday night.

The man was identified as Harold Joe Layne, who told Nueces County Sheriff's deputies that he was from Dallas. A 38-year-old woman with Layne was taken into custody but had not been charged late Tuesday night.

Layne was being sought throughout the state on a warrant charging him with the Christmas Day killing of another man in Bastrop, La.

Dallas police said Layne was seen there earlier Tuesday. Layne also was being sought in connection with a bank robbery in Louisiana.

night was the formal invitation, black-tie ball at the Austin Municipal Auditorium. Couples supposedly paid $20 to get in.

The new governor and Mrs. Briscoe were first down the ramp for the grand march. Mrs. Briscoe wore a gown by Paris designer Pauline Trigiere—manadarian in neck, three-quarter sleeves, gently fitted with iridescent paillettes.

Briscoe wore a tuxedo, but refused to give up his brightly shined cowboy boots.

Mrs. Hobby wore a high neck creation of navy blue chiffon over navy blue fitted silk. With it she wore a string of white pearls.

Hobby wore a tuxedo suit with a blue ruffled shirt.

Also in the grand march were the Briscoe and Hobby children, top Senate and House leaders, the justices of the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, and various other inauguration officials.

Three other inauguration dances were informal and free. Those with tastes for the low-down and country style music carried on long and loud at the city coliseum to the strains of Faron Young and his band. Jack Thorp and the Powerglide provided rock and roll for the more youthful at Gregory Gymnasium at the University of Texas, and there was "candlelight dancing" at the Terrace Square Ballroom.

Texas High Court Upholds Compulsory Immunization Law

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court today upheld the constitutionality of a new state law requiring school children to be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox, red measles and German measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Itz, parents of two children attending Fredericksburg public schools, contended that the 1971 compulsory immunization law unconstitutionally interfered with their rights as parents.

A local district court ruled against them, and they carried their appeal directly to the Supreme Court.

In their suit, the Itzs contended that inoculation was "nothing short of an assault" upon one's body by "invidious impregnation with bacteria."

The couple also contended immunization was "cruel and unusual punishment," interfered with parental control and decisions relating to their children's health and disturbed their children's constitutional right to a public free education.

"Vaccination by compulsion is one of the greatest crimes today, and it is being committed by the legislature of the state of Texas," they said.

"A much more enlightened view of the necessity for immunization of students attending elementary and secondary schools and institutions of higher education in order to lessen the spread of communicable diseases has been adopted by the legislatures and approved by the courts of Texas and a majority of the other states during the past half century," the high court said.

Writing for the unanimous court, Associate Justice Price Daniel said a long line of decisions have upheld compulsory immunization laws as "proper exercises of the police power for the protection of the health and safety of the citizenry."

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor

Mrs. Taylor Dies; Services Pending

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 95, a Midland resident since 1960, died Sunday in a hospital here after a two-month illness. She resided at 2005 Hughes St.

Funeral arrangements still were incomplete at noon today at Newmie W. Ellis Chapel here.

Mrs. Taylor, born Feb. 3, 1877, in Sherman County, grew up in Missouri and was married to the late Frank A. Taylor on Sept. 6, 1902, at St. Louis. She was a former school teacher.

Since moving to Midland, Mrs. Taylor had been active in the Golden Agers Club. She was a member of First United Methodist Church.

Surviving are two sons, James W. Taylor of Midland and Frank A. Taylor of Orcutt, Calif.; a brother, Roy Martin of Cuba, Missouri; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The family has requested that memorials be directed to the Golden Agers Club or to one's favorite charity.

IT'S LIVESTOCK SHOW TIME — Midland Future Farmers of America members and their entries in the Midland County Livestock Show are, from left, Linden Hodges, Terry Thomas and Sid Wilson. Wetbacks Ruled Eligible For Workmen's Benefits

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Illegal aliens from Mexico, commonly known as "wetbacks" have the same right as American citizens to collect workmen's compensation benefits if they are injured at work, the Texas Supreme Court ruled today.

Without writing an opinion of its own, the high court said it could find "no reversible error" in a decision of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

An Odessa district court entered a $1,011 judgment against Commercial Standard Fire & Marine Co., workmen's compensation carrier for Border Road Construction Co. of Odessa. The El Paso court upheld the judgment.

Henry C. Galindo, a Mexican national and admitted illegal alien, was injured June 18, 1970, while working for the construction firm.

"Are you what is known as a wetback?" Galindo was asked at the trial of his case to recover workmen's compensation benefits.

"Yes," he replied.

Commercial Standard claimed illegal aliens were not entitled to workmen's compensation.

Saying that this apparently was the first case to raise the issue, the El Paso court disagreed with the insurance company.

Laryngectomee Addresses Midland Downtown Lions

Bert Belcher, prominent Sea-graves businessman and a laryngectomee since 1969, was the speaker at the meeting of the Midland Downtown Lions Club today noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Belcher, a past governor of District 2-72, Lions International, said there is no minimizing the emotional shock which comes from losing one's voice, but this can be overcome, as proved by his own individual case.

"Having a hole in your throat is better than being in a hole in the ground," he said.

He traced the history of his case, a form of cancer which doctors claim is 90 per cent curable. Belcher's larynx—or voice box — was removed in 1969. He said he at first thought his voice was lost, but he later discovered it was "only misplaced."

It took months of hard work with a fellow laryngectomee in Midland, he said, to utter a sound and then finally to put sounds together into words.

He explained that along with the joy of rejoining life came a feeling of responsibility to new laryngectomees. He since has traveled extensively in helping others. Many of his contacts come through Lions International.

He said there are approximately 27,000 laryngectomees in America.

Belcher was introduced by Duke Jimerson of the Downtown club, who also is a past district governor.

Past presidents of the club in an inch in length, has 14 vertebrae. The giraffe with its eight-foot-long neck has only seven vertebrae.

Mrs. Talbot, 74, Dies At Odessa

IMPERIAL — Mrs. Lealor Talbot, 74, of Imperial died Tuesday in an Odessa hospital. She had undergone surgery at the hospital on Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church at Imperial with interment in the East Hills Cemetery at Fort Stockton, directed by the Fort Stockton Funeral Home.

Survivors are her husband, three daughters, including Mrs. Rex R. Perkins of Midland, six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

U.N. Council Accepts Bid To Meet In Panama

By WILLIAM N. OATIS UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The Security Council has accepted Panama's invitation to meet there in March despite a U.S. contention that the nation's aim is to influence negotiations for a new Panama Canal treaty.

The 15-nation council agreed without a vote late Tuesday to hold the session March 15-21 on Latin American problems in general. It asked its committee of the whole to recommend detailed plans by the end of next week.

Ambassador Aquilino E. Boyd said that while meeting in Panama City, the council should seek to "eliminate the causes" of Panamanian-U.S. conflict. He said Panama wanted a "genuinely just and equitable" treaty concerning the canal.

Boyd called the Canal Zone a colonialist enclave and said he hoped the council would realize that it was a dangerous and explosive "hotbed of international tension." The United States denied this.

Boyd also complained that "the industrial states" for centuries had dominated the natural wealth of Latin America and still were trying to "maintain a condition of colonial underdevelopment" there. He said the council should "intensity its efforts" to solve Latin American problems linked with colonialism, sovereignty over natural resources, disarmament and denuclearization.

Some diplomats on the sidelines said they expect the Panama City session to produce attacks on the United States not only concerning the canal but also in connection with its Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba, fishing boats in waters claimed by Ecuador and suits by Kennecott Copper to get compensation from Chile for nationalized properties.

U.S. Ambassador George Bush said that, to make a positive contribution, the meeting should "not be conceived as a means for bringing pressure on bilateral issues not currently before the council."

Elmer Hensley, Big Spring, Dies

BIG SPRING — Elmer Hensley, 58, was discovered dead in his home at Big Spring Monday night. Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena ruled death was due to natural causes.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. Bill Odell, associate pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Hensley, a long-time Big Spring resident, was born Feb. 25, 1914. He married Dorothy Bruton at Big Spring Jan. 19, 1938. He was a member of the Eagle Lodge and the Berea Baptist Church.

Survivors include the widow; three daughters, Mrs. Danny Walling of Big Spring, Mrs. Celose Record of California and Mrs. Mary Lou Partlow of Lakewood, Calif.; a son, Jimmy Hensley of McCamey; and 12 grandchildren.

Lord Funeral Services Set

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in Newmie W. Ellis Chapel for William B. Lord, 67, who died at noon Tuesday in a hospital here. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Lord, a native of Regency, was born Oct. 25, 1905. He was reared at Seminole. A Midland resident 46 years, he had been associated with various clothing establishments, including Grammer-Murphy, Wilson's, Dunlap's and Wadley Co.

Survivors include his widow, Katherine; a son, Bill Lord of Austin; a daughter, Mrs. Katherine Fitzgerald of Odessa; a brother, Frank E. Lord of Midland; five sisters, Mrs. J. E. Harwell, Mrs. A. E. Murr and Mrs. J. T. Baker, all of Midland; Mrs. David Allen of Marathonton and Mrs. H. V. Black of Moss Lake, Wash.; and two daughters; and two grandsons grandchildren.

A. C. Brigrance, 91, Dies At Plainview

PLAINVIEW — A. C. Brigrance, 91, a former Howard County resident, died Monday in a Plainview hospital. Services were to be at 3 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church at Olton, with interment in Olton Cemetery.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Todd of Big Spring and a brother, J. W. Brigrance of Olton.

Hodge To Head Up Heart Fund Drive

Sanford Hodge has been appointed campaign director for the 1973 Heart Fund drive in Midland, it was announced today by Charles Sutton, president of the Midland County Chapter of the American Heart Association.

The Heart Fund drive will be conducted in February, with February 25 designated Heart Sunday. Hodge said a list of division chairmen will be appointed and announced later this month. He also acknowledged the cooperation of the news media in communicating the Heart Association story to the public.

Further, Smith's proposals were $800 million below state agency requests, the report said, and "Most of these requests will be restated before the legislative appropriations committees." In 1971, the final appropriations bill was $400 million higher than the budget board recommended.

In addition, a U.S. Supreme Court decision forcing Texas to adopt a new system of school finance would impose new state spending burdens. A Senate study committee's proposal, which would boost state public school expenditures by $300 million per year "may be one of the most conservative which will be advanced," the report said.

"Prudence," the league concluded, "would seem to dictate that every effort should be made to reserve any surplus funds which may be available for use in attempting to resolve the school finance problem."

Report Chills No-New-Tax Hopes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Research League splashed some icy water Tuesday on hopes for getting through 1973 without new state taxes.

In a brief report, the league noted that outgoing Gov. Preston Smith left behind a budget calling for $890 million in new spending from "key funds" and leaving a $300-million surplus.

The Legislative Budget Board also has recommended a two-year general appropriations bill that would fall within anticipated revenue from present taxes and federal aid.

"Watch Out For Curves" — Comptroller Robert S. Calvert boosted his estimate of revenue to key funds by $108.4 million. But "watch out for curves," the report said.

For one thing, the comptroller's estimate was "very optimistic compared to past practice," the league remarked.

"The legislature has become accustomed to making spending plans on the assumption that the comptroller's early session predictions will be increased late in the year. That prospect for the 1973 session seems highly unlikely."

million higher than the budget board recommended.

Predictions of a no-new-taxes budget are based largely on an expected $316 million in revenue sharing through the end of the coming fiscal period, Aug. 31, 1975. The amount includes Texas' allocation for 1972 and the first eight months of 1973.

"The revenue-sharing windfall for the next biennium will include three years of income for two years of spending. Commitments made on the basis of that level of income would be difficult to sustain in the future. In other words, the state will have to find about $100 million in replacement funds to start fiscal 1976-77 if all of the revenue-sharing funds available this year are committed to continuing programs," the league said.

Northeast Texas Counties Warned Gas Rates To Rise

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Officials from cities in nine Northeast Texas counties were told here Tuesday night that gas rate increases for commercial, residential and industrial customers will be necessary to insure adequate supplies of natural gas in the future.

The announcement came from district officials of Lone Star Gas Co. during a meeting with city officials from Hunt, Kaufman, Fannin, Collin, Hopkins, Lamar, Red River and Wood counties.

Company spokesmen said the hike is directly related to the "energy crisis" created by the harsh winter.

However, no specific increase in current natural gas rates was mentioned at the meeting.

NOTICE TO TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

We are planning increases in the rates for some out-of-state calls.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has filed a new schedule of interstate rates with the Federal Communications Commission which increases charges for some customer-dialed calls during weekday business hours, for some operator-assisted calls, for some person-to-person calls, and for WATS (Wide Area Telecommunications Service).

All rates for interstate Long Distance calls you dial yourself without operator assistance in the evenings, at night, and on weekends will remain unchanged.

The new rates for Long Distance calls become effective on January 22, 1973. The new rates for WATS become effective on March 13, 1973, unless suspended by the FCC.

Here are the provisions of the new interstate rates:

- Some of the rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
- Some of the rates in all time periods for operator-assisted station-to-station calls (that includes credit-card, collect, third-number, hotel-guest, and coin telephone calls) will be increased five cents for the first three minutes.
- Some rates for person-to-person calls in all time periods will be increased five cents or 10 cents for the first three minutes.
- The rates for each additional minute on some calls in all time periods will be raised in a range from one cent to five cents.
- Interstate WATS rates will be increased about two percent.
- Rates for station-to-station calls you dial yourself without operator assistance during evenings, nights, or weekends will remain the same.

Interim rates and supporting data have been filed with the Federal Communications Commission. The increases for Long Distance calls have been authorized by the FCC on an interim basis to be effective January 22, 1973. The FCC will conduct additional hearings on the lawfulness of the rates, and FCC rules permit any interested persons to appear and participate.

This will be only the second general increase in interstate Long Distance rate levels in almost 20 years. During this period, in spite of inflation, interstate Long Distance rates have been reduced repeatedly. Even with this increase, the level of the new rates will still be below the 1953 level. Yet in those 20 intervening years, the cost of living has gone up more than 50 percent. The new rates are designed to increase total revenues from interstate service by about two percent.
