Resent References of Lawyer Patterson In His Speech

HITSON MAKES STATEMENT

SAYS HE WILL REQUEST QUALIFICATION OF OPINION ON PARTS OF ADDRESS.

Constructing the words "peace officers" to mean all officers of the law located in Cisco including city police, and taking exception to allegations contained in a resolution drawn up and presented to a mass meeting of church members, held at the Baptist church last Sunday night when a law enforcement league was organized, and which they accept as a reflection on their past performances in line of duty, members of the Cisco police force expressed resentment at the attitude of the meeting in general and of one speaker in particular and insisted they have always done their duty within the scope of their jurisdiction.

In conversation the police referred principally to B. W. Patterson, local attorney, chief speaker on the program last Sunday, and could see no reason for his statements. Particular exception was taken to the statement credited to Patterson that "if the police here are unable to keep down lawlessness we will call upon the state rangers, and if they fail we will take the law into our own hands."

The resolution paragraph referred to: "Resolved, that we urge our peace officers to enforce all the laws on the statute books, mentioning in particular the laws against Sabbath desecration and most especially the laws against opening, running and exhibiting moving picture shows on the Sabbath day."

Chief Wylie Hitson, in commenting on the resolution, stated he had always been close to the line of duty, at least in his estimation and that he could see no cause for the broad and unqualified use of "peace officers" if the scoring was directed at another.

"When the Judia matter was first called to my attention I arrested him. The second time I went to Judia's place he told me he had already been arrested and was under bond. After that the county officers took the matter completely out of our hands."

"I am not in favor of allowing the violation of any law. I am performing my duty to the best of my ability and taking into account the force at my command."

Chief Hitson stated he would personally meet Patterson to qualify his statement. As an alternative he did not point out any plan.

Mayor Williamson did not take the matter seriously. "Patterson," he said, "has never been in deep sympathy with the administration. He just wanted something out of our hands."

Other officers of the police force also commented.

George Carmichael, patrolman, stated that in his opinion "the matter does not amount to much." "I am not in a position to speak freely," said Carmichael, "but I think there is nothing to it."

J. T. Stamps, assistant to the chief, could not "get" Patterson's viewpoint. "We are doing our best to enforce the laws," he said. "The best is all that can be expected. I will admit Cisco is not a perfect town. But ever since I can remember there has been gambling and other forms of vice in violation of the law and it is likely to be continued, to a certain extent, in spite of the law."

J. R. McKim, patrolman, stated that "it seems as though Mr. Patterson has much sympathy for the Mexicans and crap shooters and gamblers. I think if Mr. Patterson had investigated the matter he would not have scored the police so hard."

OKLAHOMA RATIFIES SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Feb. 25.—Passage of the joint resolution ratifying the federal woman suffrage constitutional amendment with emergency clause attached came at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the house of representatives after nearly six hours of debate on the question. The vote on the emergency clause which would make ratification complete as soon as the senate passes the measure and the governor signs, was taken separately and passed by a vote of 74 to 14, with 12 not voting.

Action on the suffrage resolution is expected to occupy the senate most of tomorrow afternoon while in the house the appropriation bill will be up for consideration.

PACKING BUSINESS DECREE TO AFFECT MANY INDUSTRIES

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Judge John H. Atwood, special assistant to Attorney General Palmer, who has been named to explain the dissolution decree against the five big packers in all sections of the United States, stopped off in Chicago today on his way to Tucson, Ariz., where he will make his first address on March 2 before the Southwestern Cattlemen's association.

"The packing activity is so widely extended that there are few lines of business in the country that are not more or less intimately associated with packing enterprises and which will be affected by this decree," Judge Atwood said.

COLBY IS CHOSEN BY PRESIDENT TO SUCCEED LANSING

FORMER ROOSEVELT CONSTITUENT SELECTED TO HEAD CABINET, WASHINGTON, NO LESS STIRRED THAN BY RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY.

OPPOSITION MAY DEVELOP

Senators Reticent As to Confirmation, Required of Their Body; Colby's Appointment to Shipping Board Was Contested; Supported Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Wilson again stands in the center of official and political Washington today by naming Bainbridge Colby, a New York attorney, who left the republican party with Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, as secretary of state.

The selection caused scarcely less of a sensation than the dismissal of Robert Lansing from the state portfolio two weeks ago, and was received with such undisguised surprise in the senate, where the president's choice must be approved before Mr. Colby can take up the duties of office, that none of the leaders cared to predict when confirmation might be voted.

Not even among those on the inside of the administration circles had there been any expectation that the selection would fall on Mr. Colby, who told inquirers today that he himself had been given only a very brief notice of the president's intention. Summarizing to the White House, he spent an hour with Mr. Wilson, announced that he would accept with a deep appreciation of the responsibility imposed upon him and said he would have no further comment to make until the senate had acted.

A native of St. Louis, 51 years old, Mr. Colby has been engaged in law practice in New York since 1892 except for the 19 months he was a shipping board member. During the latter service he was an American representative in the inter-allied shipping conference at Paris and was active in directing the board's war policy. He resigned in March of last year, saying that the critical war period having passed, he preferred to return to private life.

In his New York practice he has been counsel for several parties, investigating life insurance companies and was associated with Charles Evans Hughes in the reform of the Equitable company. He served in 1901 and 1902 as a member of the New York assembly.

Actively supporting Theodore Roosevelt in the inter-allied shipping conference in Paris and was active in directing the board's war policy. He resigned in March of last year, saying that the critical war period having passed, he preferred to return to private life.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Bainbridge Colby, who was appointed secretary of state today by President Wilson, said in an interview here tonight that he was "thoroughly in accord with the president's views" and that he was "My sympathies have been with the president and his work," said Mr. Colby. "This surely is clearly indicated by my appointment. There can be no other inference drawn from it."

LANE ORDERS OREGON LAND OPENED TO HOMESTEADERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Secretary Lane today ordered the opening today of homestead entry of more than 360,000 acres of land, a portion of which is adapted to cultivation in western Oregon, formerly embraced in the Oregon and California railroad grant.

Settlers residing on the tract since December 1, 1912, and honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines will be given preference rights in the filing of applications, the former being permitted to file between April 12 and May 8, and the latter between May 10 and July 8. Lands not entered on by these two classes will be subject to entry by general homesteaders on and after July 9.

Higher Bank Rate Improbable.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Fears of a higher bank rate which recently depressed gilt-edged securities on the stock exchange and made the discount market unwilling to take bills, were somewhat allayed today. The belief now is expressed that the joint stock bank will be able to regulate credit facilities so that the Bank of England will not have to impose a 7 per cent rate this week. This imposition of this high rate, it was believed, would do much harm to trade generally at the present juncture. Discount concerns took bills more freely yesterday. Today the situation was eased and the feeling generally was less anxious although a higher rate is believed possible toward the end of next month.

Lacked Germans; Cupid Got Him.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—Alfred R. Simpson, who won four war crosses and a recommendation for the congressional medal by his stand before charging Germans on the western front, captured under the attacks of cupid. The Travis county hero was married to Miss Honora Riordan of Austin.

CISCO'S CIVIC PRIDE FINDS A WAY TO COMBAT CENSUS BUGABEE THAT THREATENS CITY'S NAME

Thirty volunteers for active duty on the lagging front of Cisco's census drive, recruited from the ranks of the newly-formed Young Men's Business League and armed with census blanks printed free by the Cisco Printing & Publishing company in the absence of government supplies, began the advance today on the variable army of the un-enumerated, that have been discovered scattered to all sections of the city.

Working singly and under a handicapped the volunteer workers will cover the entire city in the tracks of the census enumerators. At every door they will inquire if the family therein has been included in Uncle Sam's count of his population. Those not formerly tabulated will promptly have their history written.

That is the way Cisco has found to fill the breach and stave off any possible undesirable results of an incomplete although compulsory official census. One of the first matters to be taken up by the new organization at the Tuesday night meeting was the census. Speakers explained the status of affairs—that the lady enumerators had been handicapped by bad weather and ill luck—and promptly there were extemporaneous speeches out of which came the decision to conduct a diligent re-check of the city.

At a morning conference with Miss Helen Williamson, Stewart Williams, acting chairman, distributed the city. The districts were allotted to the workers Wednesday afternoon. Some began work Wednesday but the vanguard starts this morning.

"Patriotism," said one of the workers, "is the prime essential to American citizenship. Next comes civic pride. We don't propose to allow Cisco to be known for the next 10 years as a city with a population less than she deserves. So we're going out to get 'em in!"

RIPE OLIVE DANGERS WILL BE ELIMINATED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The ripe olives which have caused many deaths recently from poisoning may be eaten with safety within a few months as a result of changes being made in preserving methods, Dr. Carl Alsborg, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, stated today.

"Canning methods are being revolutionized," he said, "the packers are cooperating with our bureau in making changes in methods which will remove all dangers of poison from next season's crop."

One of the principal packing changes Dr. Alsborg said, is abandonment of glass containers which prevent proper sterilization. All cases of olive poisoning have originated from olives packed in glass, he said, and none have resulted from olives packed in tin cans or pickled green olives.

Iron River Citizens Buried Liquor in Mines Before Federal Officers Arrived; Failure of Invasion a 'Blow to Dry Law'

IRON RIVER, Mich., Feb. 25.—Thirty-five federal agents and members of the Michigan state constabulary who arrived here last night under Major A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition commissioner for the center states to "clean up" Iron county, were en route back to their home stations, while Major Dalrymple was bound for Washington to confer with Prohibition Commissioner John Kramer.

Major Dalrymple, who led the armed expedition to Iron county in the heart of the upper peninsula iron belt with the avowed purpose of arresting county and village officers on charges of conspiracy to obstruct the enforcement of the prohibition law, was called off by Mr. Kramer, and ordered to meet the opposing side and seek a compromise without legal action.

The worsting of federal agents in the first clash with state officers in the enforcement of the 18th amendment to the constitution, has given a serious blow to the enforcement of the dry law, Major Dalrymple declared before he left for Washington.

Iron river miners worked late tonight at their usual occupation. The "ore" they brought to the surface however, was liquor buried two days ago when word of Major Dalrymple's contemplated "armed invasion" first reached the community.

"We took our supplies out in the woods and buried them," citizens laughingly admitted today.

BANDITS PLUNDER NECESSITY'S BANK

Georgia Nomination Declined by Hoover; Cannot be Democrat

Bold Daylight Robbery Nets $1300 to Two Masked Men.

TAKEN AT BRECKENRIDGE

HEAVILY ARMED POSSE OVERTAKES AND IDENTIFIES TWO FUGITIVES.

Two masked bandits looted the bank at Necessity, an oil town in Stephens county, of $13,000 Wednesday morning and temporarily escaped, according to word received last night by the local police.

Shortly after midnight the local police were advised two men caught at Breckenridge were identified by the posse from Necessity, which had remained hotly on the trail, as the men that robbed the bank.

The bandits, it is said, rode up to the bank on stolen horses shortly after it had opened for the day. One is said to have stood in the doorway to keep open the avenue of escape while the other leveled a revolver at the cashier and commanded him to throw up his hands. There were no patrons in the bank at the time, it is said.

Taking all currency in the cash, the man who was covering the cashier backed out of the bank and the two then jumped into their saddles and rode swiftly southward. A posse of officers, heavily armed, was immediately formed and rode in pursuit.

Cisco police were notified that the bandits were headed toward this city but a search of incoming trains by local officers proved of no avail.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION RECOMMENDS MORE SALARY

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Greatest emphasis was placed on physical education by speakers addressing the branches of the National Education association convention today. Education of the mind without training of the body and strengthening of health is not true education, it was contended.

A committee of the superintendence department tonight was preparing recommendations for a national education program to be presented to the convention Friday. It is understood the platform will recommend readjustment of tax systems to provide better salaries and maintain $1500 for city schools and $1200 for teachers in rural districts will be urged.

The younger Baten is a graduate of the Howard Payne college and stands in the front rank of the younger business men of the middle west. He will henceforward be associated with his father here in the real estate brokerage business. The firm name will now be "A. E. Baten & Son."

Oil men are crowding into the county seat but every effort is being made by the citizens to care for the streams of visitors.

B. Cowell, chairman of the board. This practice of substitution, he continued, will not be allowed in the future.

In certain instances he said the contractors have furnished inferior goods under the plea that the grades they had agreed to supply were not on the market.

BILLY WHISKERS

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Nanny apparently had been bleating in her sleep when Billy Whiskers heard her, for when he peeked through the knot-hole in the partition she was found asleep. As she did not move, Billy concluded to awaken her, so he bleated with a little disgust, for he had only gotten half through his salutation when she jumped up quickly as if she had been touched with an electric wire, and looking around with a frightened stare, said:

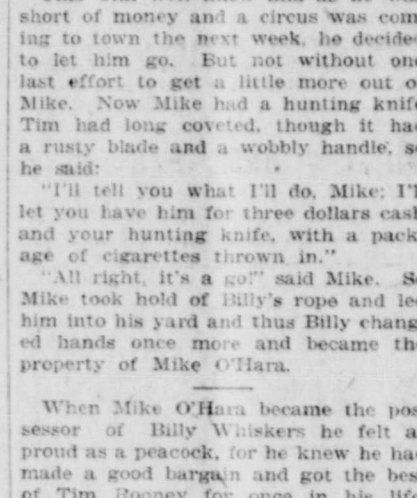

"Good gracious, how you frightened me! Who are you, and where are you, for I see no one?"

"You can't see me, but I am here, all the same, at the other side of the shed, looking at you through the knot hole. My name is Billy Whiskers and I am bound for the same place. Now, tell me your name and the name of the people you are living with."

"Well, open the door and let's see him," said Mike.

So Tim opened the door and there stood Billy Whiskers in all his glory, with his most dignified expression, mixed with a little disgust, for he had not heard himself valued at a dollar and a half—he had brought 20 dollars in his day!

"Tim! Tim! how does three strike you, or keep your goat, for I won't pay any other cent. It costs too much to keep a big goat like that; they eat up every thing in the place."

"This Tim well knew and as he was short of money and a circus was coming to town the next week, he decided to let him go. But not without one last effort to get a little more out of Mike. Now Mike had a hunting knife Tim had long coveted, though it had a rusty blade and a wobbly handle, so he said:

"I'll tell you what I'll do, Mike: I'll let you have him for three dollars cash and your hunting knife, with a package of cigarettes thrown in."

"All right, it's a go!" said Mike. So Mike took hold of Billy's rope and led him into his yard and thus Billy changed hands once more and became the property of Mike O'Hara.

"My name is Nanny O'Hara and I live with a family of the same name, but I belong to their oldest son, Mike."

"And does he treat you good, my fair friend?" asked Billy.

"Oh, yes," answered Nanny, "as well as boys generally do, but he often makes me pull heavy loads and forgets to feed and water me sometimes."

"Oh, the brute," said Billy, "to make anyone as handsome as you pull heavy loads. How I wish I could help you, for I am strong and used to pulling large loads. The next time he makes you do it, just run into a tree and upset his cart, or, better still, run away altogether and find someone else to live with."

"Oh, Mr. Billy, I would not dare do either, I am so timid."

"Hark, here comes some one and we must not let them hear us talking," said Billy. "So ta-ta, I'll see you tomorrow."

Sure enough they had heard some one talking. It was Tim Rooney and his chum, Mike O'Hara, whom he was bringing to show his goat. As they unfastened the door, Billy heard Mike say:

"I tell you, Tim, what I will do if he turns out as fine a goat as you say he is. I'll give you a dollar and a half for him."

"So ye'll give me a dollar and a half, will ye? Well, I like that—a dollar and a half for the finest goat ye ever laid your two eyes on! Not much—what do ye take me for, an idiot? I don't want to sell him but if ye'll offer payments enough I may think about it, for we have no cart or harness fine enough for so handsome a goat as this one."

"Now is my chance!" thought Billy, "to kiss her, and she can't make a fuss before the boys." So up he walked and CUT CUT CUT kissed her straight on the mouth. Nanny was so surprised that, she gave him a startled look, turned her back and walked into the shed again.

"How is that for a cold snub?" said Tim. "Let us harness them together and see what they will do."

"All right," said Mike, "if you will help me make a harness for Billy, I have one for Nanny already."

The two set to work and in an hour had made a harness for Billy out of old leather straps and strings, and then they commenced to harness them to the little cart made out of a packing box set on wheels.

The goats bleated and squirmed, wiggled and bucked, but nothing dismayed the boys and they kept on until the two goats were harnessed up tight and strong to the cart, and then the fun began.

Mike jumped in and took the reins and Tommy followed after, and out of the yard and down the road they went, sending a cloud of dust after them.

From all sides went up the cry: "Look at Mike O'Hara! he has got a new goat!" And from front yard, back yard and sand pile flocked the children to see the fun.

All went well for a quarter of a mile, when Tim, tired of running on behind, jumped in with Mike. Billy felt the additional weight in a minute and he bleated to Nanny that he would be switched if he would let him so cheaply.

"You will have to," said Nanny. "No, I won't," said Billy. "You just watch and see what I will do! But you must promise to do quickly what I tell you to, or I can't do it, because I am hitched up with you; so, Nanny, you will have to follow me and not pull back."

"All right," said Nanny. "I will do whatever you tell me to."

"Very well. Do you see that pond ahead?"

"Yes," answered Nanny.

"Now go slowly untty we get with in 10 feet of it; then take a long breath and run straight into the water as far as you can go. Don't stop or turn to right or left, no matter how hard they pull or scream. Keep right on and we will give Mr. Tim a duking he won't forget. I'll teach him to stay out of any cart I am pulling!"

"You'll learn tomorrow what happened to Tim and Mike."

TO SHIP CATTLE TO P. I.

Texas' Best Range Stock to be Sent To Islands For Breeding Purposes.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 25.—Fifty thousand dollars worth of Texas' best range stock is being assembled in Fort Worth, preparatory to starting for the Philippine Islands, where the stock will be crossed with the native cattle.

The United States government will sponsor the tour and watch the outcome. One hundred bulls and twenty heifers are in the lot. If the introduction of the Texas blood grades up the Philippine herds, more bulls will follow at the expense of Uncle Sam.

From here the cattle will go to San Francisco, where an army transport will be in waiting. Thence they will be conveyed to the Island of Mindanao, which has been picked for the Texas cattle by the government, because it has been freed of plague, the Asiatic cattle plague.

In Mindanao, the 20 Texas heifers will be used as the start of the new herd. One of the Texas bulls will remain with the heifers, the remaining 99 to be distributed to various municipalities and crossed with the native cattle.

The work of collecting the choice Texas stock has been entrusted to Dr. A. S. Shealy of Manila, who is chief of the division of animal husbandry in the government of the islands. He came to the United States last fall and has now completed his visit to the Texas ranges.

Rigid specifications were made out by Dr. Shealy for his Texas purchases. Forty-six of the cattle were bought in this county, 55 in Brown county and 19 in Hill county. Tests of all kinds were applied to the bulls and heifers before being accepted by the government.

LANSING NOT FIRST TO QUIT PORTFOLIO FOLLOWING A ROW

OTHER SECRETARIES OF STATE HAVE LEFT JOBS IN A HUFF. THOMAS JEFFERSON ESTABLISHED THE PRECEDENT.

LONG LIST OF QUITTERS

Some Presidents, However, Had Better Luck Selecting Their Cabinet Heads—Jackson Had Four During His Term of Office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Robert Lansing is not the first secretary of state to resign his portfolio under significant and unusual circumstances. Other heads of the department of state whose sudden departure from the post caused lively comment at the time were Thomas Jefferson, who resigned from Washington's cabinet in 1794; Martin Van Buren, from Jackson's cabinet in 1831; James G. Blaine, from the cabinet of Benjamin Harrison in 1892, on the eve of the national republican convention, and William J. Bryan, who headed his resignation to President Wilson on June 9, 1915, because he was opposed to the United States entering the war.

Since the establishment of the federal government 43 secretaries of state have served under the 28 men who have filled the office of president of the United States.

The first secretary of state was Thomas Jefferson, who served in Washington's cabinet from 1790 to 1794, when he was succeeded by Edmund Randolph of Virginia, who in 1795, was succeeded by Timothy Pickens of Massachusetts. Mr. Pickens continued as head of the department for three years after John Adams became president, being succeeded in 1800 by John Marshall.

Jefferson served two terms as president with one man as secretary of state, and that man was James Madison. Madison as president used two men as secretaries of state—Robert Smith of Maryland and James Monroe of Virginia.

Monroe as president for eight years had only one secretary of state—John Quincy Adams. Adams during his single presidential term had but one secretary of state—Henry Clay.

Jackson had four secretaries of state, who served about two years each. They were Martin Van Buren of New York, Edward Livingston of Louisiana, Louis McLane of Delaware and John Forsyth of Georgia. John Forsyth served under Martin Van Buren's administration as secretary of state for the full term.

Daniel Webster served as secretary of state under William Henry Harrison and on the death of that gentleman continued as secretary of state under president Tyler until 1843. He was succeeded for a brief term by Hugh S. Legare of South Carolina, who gave way to Abel P. Upshur of Virginia, who was succeeded by John C. Calhoun.

Tyler's cabinet was one of quick turn-over chances, for in addition to four secretaries of state, he had four secretaries of the treasury, four secretaries of war, five secretaries of the navy, three attorneys-general and two postmasters-general.

Polk had one secretary of state, James Buchanan of Pennsylvania, and Taylor during his brief term was served by John M. Clayton of Delaware.

Pierce had two secretaries of state, Daniel Webster and Edward Everett. President Pierce was served throughout his term by William L. Marcy of New York, and Buchanan had two secretaries of state, Lewis Cass of Michigan and Jeremiah S. Black of Pennsylvania.

William H. Seward remained secretary of state during the most trying period of the nation's career, and after serving under Lincoln through his time of office held over under President Johnson.

TRIAL COURT UPHOLDS STATE DEPOSITORY ACT

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 25.—Constitutionality of the state depository act was upheld today when the third court of civil appeals affirmed the decision of the trial court in the case of H. S. Lawson vs. the state depository board.

Lawson contended the act violated the state and federal constitutions and he sought an injunction to restrain the board from performing duties delegated to it by the law.

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 25.—The state depository act, which has been in effect for less than a year, replaced a haphazard system of handling state finances, which "just grew" with the development of the state.

The last stage of this growth preceding the depository act was when the state treasury became a member of the Austin clearing house to avoid constant questions of exchange rates. The two following specific cases give an indication of business methods employed in deals of the treasury with the clearing house.

In February of 1918 the legislature authorized the state treasurer to invest surplus funds in short-term United States treasury certificates. In assembling funds to purchase the treasury certificates it developed that the Austin clearing house owed the treasury approximately $1,000,000. Members of the clearing house had to call upon their correspondent banks to replace this money for which the state had received no interest.

Then in February of the following year the state treasurer, anticipating that tax returns would be sufficient to meet needs, made a scholastic appropriation. The tax returns did not come in as soon as they were expected, and the clearing house carried a state overdraft of more than $1,000,000 for a considerable time without interest.

The state depository act replaced this archaic system, and as a result $10,000,000 of state surplus funds, instead of lying idle or being devoted to private purposes, are drawing an average interest rate of 4 1/2 per cent, computed monthly. This produces a monthly revenue of $37,500, or $13,500 more than the annual expense of the state treasury.

Money in state depositories of which there are now 225, is as available as it would be if left in the vaults. The treasurer has made arrangements with the Austin clearing house, whereby state warrants and vouchers are accepted as cash by the clearing house, while the treasury accepts cashiers' checks from the Austin banks as cash. When money is needed to meet current expenses, the treasurer merely draws upon the depository paying the lowest rate of interest and an Austin bank advances the cash upon this draft.

Treasurer John W. Baker has estimated that at high tide this year the surplus in state funds will reach $15,000,000, and depositories to care for that amount have been selected.

Eagerness of banks in the competitive bidding to secure state funds indicates that they are well satisfied with the law. Interest of 4 1/2 per cent on a daily balance is a high rate for this nature of loan, but all classes of banks entered the bidding.

UNIVERSITY ONE OF MOST DEMOCRATIC SCHOOLS OF NATION

EDUCATORS SAY ITS DEMOCRACY ATTRACTS STUDENTS FROM ALL OVER THE NATION AND FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

MANY EARN WAY THROUGH

Boys and Girls Find Employment to Pay Expenses and Get Education in Spite of Many Financial and Other Scholastic Handicaps.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—The gross income of Texas is one of the most democratic educational institutions in the United States, its heads say, and this democracy has attracted students from practically every section of the union.

Many of the students here are earning their expenses, in whole or in part, by such work as washing dishes, waiting on tables, cleaning yards, carrying newspaper routes, etc., and their social standing is not affected thereby.

A survey of the engineering department by its dean, T. U. Taylor, disclosed that more than 100 students in that department are working their way through the university. With one exception, Mr. Taylor says, these students are carrying full work and are making passing grades in everything.

One sophomore works 18 hours a week waiting on tables for his meals. He carried a full course last term and stood in the first 10 per cent best graders. Another sophomore receives $48 a month for working 40 hours a week in drug stores. He also took a full course and made the honor roll.

Dean Taylor also discovered that several girls are working more than 20 hours a week as stenographers and keeping up their school work.

Babies Born February 30 on 108th Meridian Escape Anniversary.

From the Manchester Guardian.

It is possible for a baby born this year never again to have a birthday. For this is leap year, and a baby born on the right spot at the right time will almost certainly have no birthdays to keep. This has actually happened to a baby who was born during the voyage from Yokohama to San Francisco on the last day of February, 1904.

It is well known that in order to make the actual number of sunrises and sunsets experienced during a voyage round the world correspond with the calendar an extra day must be intercalated or "thrown overboard," according to the direction traveled. This adjustment is made at the moment of crossing the 180th meridian, which runs to the west of the midway point between Japan and California.

IS THE INDIAN COMING BACK?

There Are 22,972 Red Men Here Than in 1916, Statistics Show.

From the Omaha News.

Sam Fern, last survivor of the Calapooia Indian tribe, died recently at Cottage Grove, Ore.

The extinction of this tribe will start much talk about the rapidly vanishing original Americans. For years we have been told that firewater and tuberculosis are rapidly exterminating the Indians. It has become popular belief. Medical men have written learned treatise on it.

Yet here comes Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs, with an annual report showing 232,195 pureblood Indians and 101,506 halfbloods in the United States. This is 22,972 more purebloods than in 1916 and $2,086 more than were counted in the census of 1910.

The Indian is coming back. Has the idea, that his is a vanishing race, always been somewhat of an illusion? Many authorities who have spent a lifetime investigating the subject say that we have almost as many Indians now as in the days of Columbus.

WACO TO GET SET OF CHIMES.

WACO, Feb. 25.—Waco university's senior class has announced that it will present a set of chimes to the university in connection with the diamond jubilee celebration next June. The chimes will be installed at the school at an estimated cost of $1500. The chimes will announce each hour, and will be used for other special occasions.

The Japanese government is wise in deciding to stop issuing passports to the picture brides. Its action seems indicative of a real desire to eliminate friction between the two countries. It will be welcome by all Americans.—Elmira Star-Gazette.

Dallas Will Sing.

DALLAS, Feb. 25.—Plans have been made here for a Dallas municipal chorus of from 400 to 500 voices. Seventy-five aspirants turned out for the first practice, including many locally prominent singers.

TOY STREET CARS IN COURT.

Other Miniature Vehicles Also Used in Visualizing Accidents.

Miniature street cars, motor cars, wagons, trucks and other toy vehicles which were used in the District of Columbia branch of the Washington police court to illustrate a traffic accident, will be disposed of.

The miniature vehicles were put into action on a diagram which showed the intersection of streets where an accident occurred. They have been used for some time in the office of the assistant corporation counsel in getting the facts in cases before filing information. They are credited with keeping out of court hundreds of cases that had no merit for prosecution.

The little waiting-room, close to the stage, for the use of actors during intervals, was originally colored green as being restful to the eyes after the glare of the stage. And so it became known as the green room.

MAKING CISCO.

CISCO is divided today, as never before in the history of its rapid progress towards a metropolis. There is a division so marked that it is dangerous to the future of the community. That division will hamper Cisco, and until it is settled, one way or the other, the best for the city cannot be accomplished. Bickering in a small-town way is the usual way to kill a big town. More good towns have been wrecked by a lack of vision, a lack of understanding—magnifying of small things—making mountains of mole hills—than by any disaster that can be named.

The bankers of Cisco, the business men, the bakers, the candlestick makers, the butchers—even the printers—should be competitors, but still be organized where the good of the community is involved.

The situation is critical. Unless we have better understanding, and reach a determination to go ahead, despite the handicap of this division, the good that can be done here in 1920 will be minimized. Cisco's future is too important to have a wrench thrown into the wheels of progress by any faction or friction.

A majority should and will have its way. If a project is endorsed by a major portion of the population of this city, whether it be a scheme to put over a county fair, a municipal convention hall, a base ball team, a patriotic celebration, an automobile show or a new whistle on the fire engine, every good citizen should put on his harness and help pull the load. His judgment may be different, and he should fight for what he thinks is the correct thing to do; but, once he's licked, must acknowledge it—and get into the work to be done, with his whole heart and soul.

It is entirely up to Cisco as individuals, whether Cisco will be a city, or just a fair little town. It seems to The Morning News to be entirely up to the citizens collectively. They can, if they will. But it will take a little plain talk and much hard thinking—and sweat.

CISCO DOLLARS.

"MAKING Cisco dollars work for Cisco" is the motto or slogan of the American National Bank. It's a dandy slogan, and if it means what it says, then it doubly important. Under the glass, the slogan stands out as a foundation upon which Cisco can build. But it must be lived up to by all Cisco, or it's a failure.

For instance, every dollar spent by bankers for printing could be paid to men of Cisco, employed in the local print shops and would be deposited back in the banks on Monday mornings, if the bankers who buy stationery would insist on a Cisco label on their deposit slips, checks, blanks and other printing requirements. Only the dollars necessary to buy the raw material would leave the city.

This is true of other lines of merchandise. A dollar spent with a Cisco merchant travels through the banks over and over, and local citizens get a bit of it in every transaction. But once it is carried out of town, it is gone forever. It's up to the farmer or the producer to bring it back.

The printing industry is used as an example in this case, because it seems to be very vital to The Morning News organization. Something like $1,500 a week is paid to printers here. They draw their pay check every week, pay their living expenses, and deposit the surplus in the local banks. The money travels in a circle, and within a few hours after it is paid to these employees, it is back in Cisco banks, ready to "work for Cisco" again.

It's a dandy slogan, isn't it?

WHAT ARE YOU?

ARE you willing to admit that you are not as good as other people in democratic America? Do you agree that there is a strata above you, as well as below you?

If so, the middle class union, recently formed in New York will welcome you with open arms—provided you are not a capitalist profiteer or a member of a labor union.

The middle class union has for its object the protection of the interests of what it terms the middle class—the lawyers, doctors, teachers, and all others who are not capitalists or affiliated with labor unions. It maintains that this great class is at the mercy of both capital and organized labor, and is further trimmed by the profiteers in other lines. Emancipation is its object.

The object is a worthy one, and organization is needed among these people. It may in time grow to respectable and even formidable proportions—after a new name has been selected.

The average American likes to think that he is just as good as any other man—that the self-styled American aristocracy are just a bunch of scheming, unscrupulous, profiteering financial buccaneers, moral degenerates, aping the ways of the old world.

Middle class?

Not on your life. Every man is seated serenely on the top of the ladder—at least in his own estimation.

Did you notice how many really important people go to Dallas and never get their name in the Dallas News?

"I've noticed that all traveling men are single," remarked the lady with the brown hair, who waits on us at the cafe.

Speaking of low shoes, we notice the rumor that women are wearing cotton stockings this spring is only half true.

"Any mail for me?" asked a driller at a Cisco post office window recently. The lady clerk studied a pile of letters and answered in the negative. The driller registered disappointment then:

"Say, lady," he said. "Shuffle that deck again and let me 'cut' myself a letter, will you?"

The girl on West Broadway says that until she drank a cup of coffee prescribed by a menu in a Cisco cafe, she was under the impression that demitasse was a brand of talcum powder.

About the only way you can find out a girl's real complexion now days is to look at her hands.

Bill Swayback says that if he could ever find out who does the half-sooling on the pies at the local restaurants he would know where to take his old shoes.

INSIDE INFORMATION

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

Recent reports state almost positively that Lord Reading will be the next ambassador from Great Britain to the United States. Lord Grey, sent to the U. S. as ambassador at the close of the war, is in England now and will not return in that capacity, it is said. Lord Grey's appointment was known to be temporary at the time, as he has been troubled with weak eyes. He was asked to serve because of important diplomatic matters pending as an outgrowth of the war.

DINNER STORIES

"You can't feaze an Indian," said Indian Commissioner Malcolm McDowell. "You can't ruffle an Indian's calm dignity."

"I once had the satisfaction to point out to an Indian chief an airplane sailing across the sky. It was the first airplane he'd ever seen, and I had fond hopes that he'd show some excitement. "There!" I said. "There! What do you think of it? Isn't it extraordinary?" "The chief looked up at the airplane calmly; and then he looked calmly at me."

"But it was built to do that, wasn't it?" he said.

A Yankee passenger in a train the other day was wearying his fellow passengers with tall stories and remarked: "We can start with a 12-story hotel this month, and have it finished by next." "This was too much for the burly Yorkshireman who sat next to him: "Man, that's nowt," he said. "I've seen 'em in Yorkshre when I've been going to work just laying the foundation stone and when I've been com home at meet, they've been putting the folk out for back rent."

The chaplain came plodding along the road, coming back from the front lines several hours after the infantry had gone over the top.

"How are things going up there?" inquired an artillery lieutenant. "Fine, fine," said the chaplain. "We're knocking them for a goal."

"Haven't seen many prisoners," said the lieutenant, skeptically. "No, and I guess you won't," replied the chaplain: "our machine guns haven't jammed all morning."

Every resident in India must, under penalty of fine, have his name written up at the entrance of his house.

This odd wish is commonly expressed at Japanese festivals: "May you live to such an age that your back is as bent as a lobster's."

WOMAN'S WORLD AND WORK

THE NEWS' SPECIAL PAGE DEVOTED TO THE INTEREST OF WOMEN READERS

Marion Wilkenson of Comanche spent Wednesday in Cisco.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Finley and daughter, Miss Gladys, who have been visiting in Houston, returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. J. O. Hawkins was hostess to the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a social gathering. A number of ladies were present. Mesdames George Winston, Joe Wilson, D. C. Sadler and Roy Keathley, the committee for the bazaar work for the year had charge of the meeting. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ellen Turner, James Gardner and Mrs. Hawkins.

A WOMAN THINKS

THE PAINTED LADY.

By Edith E. Moriarty.

How much the very self-righteous person is to be pitied! How much of the worth while things in life are missed by the intolerant and how plain sinners and complacencies are written upon each face. A little drama enacted in a crowded street car the other day plainly showed to the pharisaical woman in her true light.

In fact you could almost see her nose turn up as she caught whiffs of the perfume of the Painted Lady. Then a daughter of sunny Italy, tired and cold, weighted down with a ragged little youngster and a market basket bounded the car and stood tottering in front of the Painted Lady and the Self-Righteous One. The little tot was tired and could scarcely stand up. Swaying about on his mother's hand, he brushed against the Self-Righteous One with every lurch of the car.

Just the same. Add celery and onions cut fine, add one-half cup hot water and let cook slowly. Add seasoning half hour before done. Before taking from fire add the remaining one-half tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Cook two hours. Do not add any much water as the celery and water draw onions.

FOR THE TABLE

Pour boiling water on them, scald well, then scrape until no bristles remain and they are nice and white. Then boil them, using plenty of water. See that they don't stick on bottom of kettle while cooking. Boil until bones will come out easily. Let cool, take out bones, wash meat if you haven't a hash knife use baking powder box; season with pepper and salt. Put in a jar, pour the liquor it was boiled in over it and stir. It might help to boil the bones ten minutes and use that too. Slice it. Use cold meat. Some like vinegar on it at the table.

Three pounds of fat one-third beef, one-third pork, on third veal twelve large onions, three bunches celery, one and one-half tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon pepper. Cut meat in small pieces, fry in hot lard three minutes, add one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, if Chinese sauce cannot be obtained, the results will be very lazy and refuses to give me a dollar for food. My oldest daughter helps me as much as possible.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When a boy is calling and the girl thinks it is time for him to go, how should she give him a hint? ... BLUE EYES. A young man should leave at 10 or 10:30. If he does not the girl should tell him the hour and say that she cannot have company any later.

very lazy and refuses to give me a dollar for food. My oldest daughter helps me as much as possible. I am in poor health and have been for some time. I went to the city and tried to make things meet, but it was absolutely impossible, and so I went back to the country. Where can I go with my two small children, ages 16 and 19? I cannot live with my husband any longer on account of cruel treatment and non-support. I have no funds and no respectable clothing to wear.

Among the Turks bath-money forms an item in every marriage contract, the husband engaging to allow his wife a certain sum for bathing purposes. The legal position of a married woman in Spain is today so low that her husband has absolute control over her person and property, as in the middle ages. Commissioner Weimert Says Enforcement of Weights and Measures Law to be Rigid.

AUSTIN, Feb. 25.—Contentions that widespread and general fraud by the use of short weights and measures existed in Texas, which were made by F. C. Weimert, commissioner of weights and measures, when he began enforcement of the new weights and measures law last June, are being supported by reports of his inspectors who are now working in various cities of the state.

Inspector Stbvaal, who is one of the four men at work in Houston, found 42.4 per cent of the bins were inaccurate. Of 54 measures inspected, 33 were found so bad that they were confiscated.

Scales ran 30 per cent bad—156 were found correct; 39 were ordered repaired and 27 were confiscated. Weights showed a bad percentage of only 7.08. Dry measures were 17.56 per cent bad. Liquid measures were better with only .82 per cent of them being off.

The inspector reported that very few boxes of candy examined contained the weights they were supposed to hold, and that two candy dealers were convicted of violating the net container act.

Milk bottles were not molested, but the department has notified dairymen to buy no more one-third quart bottles, as it is expected that the use of these "little pints" will be forbidden soon.

Signs for Cisco Streets to be in Place This Week

New signs for the purpose of designating the various streets in Cisco are now prepared and ready to be located. It is expected the signs will be in place before expiration of the present week.

Although the entire city is not to be labeled in this manner, there are enough signs to care for the entire business district and East and West Broadway, according to Mayor J. M. Williamson.

The commission is meeting here this week in connection with the session of the Educational association of the M. E. church, south.

THE MARRIED AN AVERAGE MAN

I can scarcely eat or sleep, thinking about this New York plan. No one knows how I long to go East. Mother and dad are wedded in Centerville. But I can never remember a day when I didn't dream some wild dream of getting away from it.

There is nothing more terrible than a woman's battle between love and self-respect. I lived in Jim's house for a week hardly speaking to him, never seeing him save at meals. He worked at the office every evening and I have bottled up my wretchedness until I am well nigh mad. I have told no one of our estrangement; not even my mother, who insists I am ill and worries about me, poor darling.

I am ill. My very soul is sick. If I could bring myself to put my arms around Jim's neck and say: "I forgive you," I should be well again. But Jim is utterly cold and forbidding. He freezes me. Yet I am right, and he is wrong.

A curious thing happened just now. The postman brought a letter with a foreign stamp and a blur of postmarks. It bore in pencil my maiden name and my father's home address, which dad has crossed out and carefully written over. It is from Eric Sands, dated from the military hospital at Vichy. He has not received the letter I wrote him, telling him of my marriage. Here is what he has written:

"Dear Girl in America: I have come back from the outposts of eternity. As I lie here, breathing precious sunshine into my ragged lungs, my mind swings backward to the days six years ago when you were in my England.

I fancy we were both too young to foresee life and death. Certainly I never dreamed of what horrors heard on horrors result when the human animal wallows in war.

"To live at all I forced myself to think of you. I saw you in your cheery American home, the freelight on your glistening copper hair. Cleanliness, order and quiet all about you and flowers, perhaps, and sweet fresh air! Oh, I hope you are happy.

"Forgive me, Ann, if I seem silly. The wounds have left me weak of body and 'nerves' have got my brain. All of us are touched with it. Some go mad. Some die of it. But enough of this.

"A sweet French nun just brought me a dish of fruit and the paper and pencil with which I scribble this. Write to your sweetheart," she said. "It will do you good."

The rest of the letter doesn't matter much. I laid my face upon the poor, cheap paper that the good nun had brought him and cried until I could cry no more. The question forced itself into my mind: "Could this man treat me as Jim is doing?" And the answer my heart gave frightened me.

I am getting unnerved and desperate. Something must end this dangerous situation or I shall do what I shall be sorry for.

It is 11 o'clock and Jim has not come home. There's his key in the lock now! Will he come to me—or pass my door silently and go to his own room? (To be continued.)

ton, too. And I shall have a definite understanding with Jim about my allowance.

There is no reason on earth, come to think of it, why my services in keeping a satisfactory home, should not be re- outside the home.

MANY BABIES BORN OUT OF WEDLOCK IN AMERICA ANNUALLY

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR REPORTS SHOW STEADY GROWTH OF ILLEGITIMACY IN UNITED STATES—PRESENTS SERIOUS PROBLEM.

MORTALITY RATE IS HIGH

Startling Figures Show that Only About 70 Per Cent of the Children Survive First Year—Bureau Cares For Them.

At least 322,000 white children are born out of wedlock in the United States each year, and probably not more than 70 per cent of these children survive the first year of life, says a report on "Illegitimacy as a Child Welfare Problem," just issued by the Children's Bureau, U. S. department of labor. This report, which contains a general treatment of the prevalence and significance of the problem in this and other countries, was written as an introduction to a more exhaustive study of the problem, to be published in the near future.

American cities was three times as high. The children who do survive infancy are likely to be deprived of normal home life and a mother's care. Rarely do they receive the support from their father to which they should be entitled. In a large proportion of cases the public must assume the burden of the support of these children.

The report emphasizes the special need for care and protection of these children, and points out ways in which a number of foreign countries and few American states have attempted to reduce the infant mortality and combat the various handicaps incident to birth out of wedlock.

In an effort to determine the principles that may be found practical in American legislation for the protection of these children, the Children's Bureau is calling two regional conferences for the discussion of the problem from the legal, judicial and social points of approach. These conferences, to which a limited number of leading social workers, judges and others from a number of states have been invited, are to be held in Chicago and New York.

KILBANE OUTPOINTED IN EIGHT ROUND GO

BULLETIN. NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 25.—John Kilbane, world's featherweight boxing champion, was outpointed by Benny Valger of New York in an 8-round "no decision" bout here tonight. Valger had the better of every round except the first, which was even. A forfeit of $1,000 put up by Valger under an agreement to weigh 124 pounds or under at three o'clock this afternoon, was claimed by the titleholder when his opponent tipped round over the mark, it was announced. Kilbane, who was not forced to make the weight, weighed 125 1-2 pounds. The start of the contest was delayed when it was found that Kilbane would have to have his hands on his hands, which referee "Slim" Brennan ordered removed. The champion gave a disappointing exhibition, seldom taking the aggressive and frequently resorting to clinches, hissing and wrestling. Valger sent in five left jabs to the stomach without a return in the first round but Kilbane later uncovered a sharp attack which made him even. In all the succeeding sessions Valger forced the pace. When able to get into close quarters, he landed lefts to the wind and short right up-chances. The champion favored exchanges at longer range. In the second round, Valger came out the better in a rapid exchange of blows. Kilbane sent across several lefts and a right to the head in the fourth but received considerable punishment in return. In the sixth, Valger rushed into a straight left which landed on the point of his nose. The blow failed to stop him from forcing in. Valger hammered the titleholder about the body in the seventh and shot to Kilbane's mouth, cutting his lip. The champion was content to clinch or block in the closing round.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Feb. 25.—Ignace Paderewski, who recently resigned as premier of Poland, will return to America soon and resume his musical tours according to William Hemphill, manager of Paderewski's ranch and other properties at Paso Robles.

Fourier Will Report

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 25.—Jacques Fourier, first baseman recently obtained by the St. Louis National from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League, today telegraphed officials of the Cardinals that he would report for training. Doubt had existed whether he would sign up with the local club.

A single pound of the finest spider webs would reach round the world.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

If, as delvers into the ancient history of golf assert, the tee or sand or dirt on which the player places his ball for the drive originated in the desire to save the turf of the putting greens, which were used as teeing grounds in the olden days, there may come a demand as the game progresses that the ball be laid flat on the turf for the drive without any teeing up whatsoever. The argument for this would be that the change would be more in keeping with the spirit of the game, that of playing the ball where it lies. Again, it will be argued that as leading amateurs and pros play round after round without missing their drive it would render the game more interesting to make the drive harder and less monotonous. Alexander Smith, the Wykeley professional, after a visit to England in the summer, came back with the report that he had played with Harry Vardon nearly every day for two months and that Vardon had missed his drive only twice. In view of such hancouracy of hitting the ball when it is raised on a mound of sand or dirt, the question naturally arises whether the best interests of the game would not be subserved by doing away with the tee and compelling the ball to be played from the grass, now that the original reason for a tee has passed. To claim that the pros make only a low tee is no argument against the advisability of the change since, whether it is low or high, it is a raising of the ball off the grass and to that extent makes the driving easier. Historians of the game say that in the old days, after a hole out the players drove off the putting green in the play of the next hole. Naturally, after a few drives, it was found that the turf was cut up. Consequently players were told to use sand or dirt to raise the ball off the grass so that the club would not hurt the turf. This method prevailed until one day a Scotchman conceived the idea of having a teeing ground independent of the putting green. When this innovation was adopted the tee of sand or dirt followed with it as a matter of course. However, in this day and age, when the tendency is toward making the game easier, there is very little chance of this idea rising to a higher dignity than a mere suggestion. Winning a 24 hour tandem paced bicycle race nine times running is a feat well worthy of mention. Leon Georget, a well known French rider, recently accomplished the feat in Paris. The event was staged on the indoor track at the Velodrome d'Anvers. In the 24 hours Georget rode the remarkable distance of 5741.2 miles at an average speed of nearly 24 miles per hour. Marcel Godivier finished second and Edward Leonard took third place. These around the clock long distance races and time trials have always been more popular in Europe than in our own country, although American racing men went in for this form of endurance speed riding some years ago. The sanding American 24 hour record is credited to John Lawson, who covered 528 miles and 325 yards at Los Angeles in June, 1900. Lawson was paced by motorcyclists, while Georget was paced by riders on tandem bicycles, which makes his a much more creditable performance. According to W. T. Farwell, Jr., of the Cycle Trades of America—who has complete track and road racing records back to the very beginnings of racing in the late 60's, the earliest attempt at the 24 hour record was made in England in 1870, by F. V. T. Honeywell. The machine ridden by Honeywell was of the ancient Bone-shaker type then in vogue and there were no pacemakers. This racer covered 105 miles on the road within the 24 hours.

NEW YORK COTTON SETS NEW RECORD

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—There was a sharp advance in the cotton market today with March contracts making a new high record of 37.63 for the season while later months made new high ground for the movement. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 45 to 75 points.

The market opened steady at an advance in response to relatively firm cables and after some little irregularity turned firmer on Liverpool buying, selling by domestic spinners and covering by Wall street or local shorts.

Speculations under realising and scattered southern selling followed, but the offerings were readily absorbed and the highest levels of the day were reached in the late trading. The close was a few points off from the best under realising. Reports that some of the smaller European countries were making some progress with arrangements to finance importations of cotton, and the steadier ruling of foreign exchange since the break of yesterday morning may have been factors on the advance.

Local brokers, however, attributed the buying chiefly to covering by Liverpool and speculative shorts. Very few spot advices were received from the belt but there were one or two wires in reporting an improved demand and Liverpool said the late advance there was due to Manchester buying or trade calling.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON CLOSES WITH GAINS

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 25—Strong advances in the cotton market in the early trading of today went well maintained, although there were periods of profit taking during the middle stage of the session. Highest prices were reached late in the day. The close was at net gains of 61 to 75 points.

Better Liverpool cables than due and cold and wet weather in the belt were back of the initial upward swing and a little later buying increased on the advances in foreign exchange rates. A better feeling in the spot department and reports that southwestern spot interests were taking hold of contracts in a large way increased bullish sentiment. Realizing by early buyers carried the market from the highest in the early afternoon, but later new buying appeared on favorable rumors regarding the peace treaty.

Spots were marked up 25 to 40 cents for middling.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—There was a little more interest displayed in the local raw market today and while prices were unchanged the undertone seemed to be a little steadier. There were sales of 18,000 bags of San Domingo and Venezuela sugars at 9 1/2 to C. I. F. to Canada and 7,500 bags of Cubas in port at 9 1/2 cents cost and freight to Canada. There were no sales to local refiners, who continue to hold off, pending a more adequate movement of refined. The close was steady at 9 1/2 for Cubas cost and freight, equal to 10 1/2 for Centrifugal duty paid.

There was nothing new in refined. Prices were unchanged at 15 to 16 cents for fine granulated.

The market for sugar futures was full with no transactions reported. Closing prices were unchanged to 3 points net higher.

SUGAR PRICE UNCHANGED; GRANULATED, 15 TO 16 CENTS.

There was nothing new in refined. Prices were unchanged at 15 to 16 cents for fine granulated.

The market for sugar futures was full with no transactions reported. Closing prices were unchanged to 3 points net higher.

CREDIT CONTRACTIONS BECOMING WORLD WIDE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Indications that contraction of credits is becoming world wide and that future estimates of values will have to attenuate themselves to this condition cause further liquidation of securities on the stock exchange today.

Speculative shares recorded additional losses of two to ten points, or a total of 25 to 120 points from the best quotations of the early weeks of the year. Seasoned or standard stocks were from 15 to 40 points lower for that period.

The bond market was affected in relative degree. Investment rails extended their steady depreciation of the past few months, while Liberty bonds and Victory notes established lowest quotations in their history.

The feature of that branch of the bond market was the Liberty three and one-half, the first of this government's war underwritings. That issue was freely sold throughout the active session down to $94.50 which exceeds its previous low record by exactly 1 1/2 per cent.

BROADER CORN TRADE WITH RULES REMOVED

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—Corn trading broadened out noticeably in volume today owing to withdrawal of a rule which during the last ten months has required that any individual interest in deliveries further off than the current month should not exceed 200,000 bushels. Business consisted largely of spreads, the simultaneous buying of May. Prices were firm at the same as yesterday's with two cents higher, with May $1.35 7/8 to $1.36 and July $1.30 7/8 to $1.31. Cuts finished 1/2 to 1/4 advance. Provisions scored net gains of 12 to 17c. Although price changes were more lively of late, a tendency of the market most of the time was upward, especially for the nearby months. Closing prices were at the top level of the session.

Profit taking sales on all bulges prevented the oats market from showing much sympathy with corn strength. Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to provisions.

To Hear Rice Suggestions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Suggestions of those interested in the production and milling of rice as to grades for milled rice will be received by the chief of the bureau of markets of the department of agriculture at hearings beginning at Charleston, S. C., May 10. The decision to establish official standards already has been reached but to determine the details it was decided to consult rice growers, millers, handlers and others connected with the industry.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 25—

Rough rice no sales. Receipts 1,345 sacks, millers, receipts 1,345 sacks. Clean rice: No sales; no receipts.

SUNDAY MOVIES OPPOSED.

Baltimore Prelate Opposes a Bill Featuring Effect on Sunday Law.

From Chicago Evening Examiner. BALTIMORE—Cardinal Gibbons is opposed to motion picture performances on Sunday, although he is an advocate of Sunday recreational sports.

His views on Sunday shows were elicited by a bill now before the legislature of New York, which would permit motion pictures to be shown on Sunday.

"I would be extremely sorry to see such a bill passed," said he, "because it commercializes Sunday.

"Proprietors of moving picture parlors have six days in the week to earn a livelihood. Why should they wish to make use of the only day of the week that is God's day?

"Grant this privilege and who will prevent the legitimate theatre from opening their doors on Sunday? Such a privilege will only be the entering wedge to other amusements of a commercial and pernicious character. It be imparted in the Sunday school.

"Again the children receive no religious instructions in the public schools on week days. They can receive little or none at all on Sundays in the home. "The only place where religion can Throw open the moving picture parlor on Sunday and you will virtually close the Sunday school. Thus will the rising generation be helped on to paganism."
