MR. ANDERSON IS RIGHT.

H. M. ANDERSON, head of the offices of the Texas Company here and vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, says that the only way this city will ever be any larger than it is, without some phenomenal uncovering of oil, is for it to awaken from its Midian dreams of high rents and high food prices and get down to some reasonable basis upon which to do business with the outside world.

If Cisco wants to show any individualism and be different from the neighboring oil towns of this section, Mr. Anderson thinks the quickest way of doing it is to advertise this city far and wide as the one community in this section of the country that has not sacrificed its future in an immediate scramble for dollars and as the cheapest place in the oil fields with the best living conditions.

The News not only sees Mr. Anderson's point but believes that his theory is correct. The only question is who will make the initial sacrifice for the sake of the community.

Mr. Anderson says that the rents in the business section are too high, and supplements this statement by the observation that if all the stores would quit trying to locate on Main street and some would start up a few of the side streets, there would not be many others follow suit, but it would break the back of the high Main street rents. This city is not so large but what the shoppers will be able to find where they can get the best goods cheapest regardless of what street the store is on.

This also is a good workable theory.

Mr. Anderson also believes that it is folly in its purest form to invite people and concerns to come to this city and have no place for them to live. You can't expect people to put up their own houses in a strange town and complete them before moving to that town.

Plainly, we should either provide guest rooms, figuratively speaking, or stop inviting guests.

Cisco has a water supply large enough to care for the needs of all West Texas indefinitely. She has miles of paved streets and sewer mains. "Everything is substantial and permanent, but unless we can offer newcomers food and shelter at some less price than our neighboring cities, there is really no occasion for them to live here in preference to anywhere else.

Bitter publicity, perhaps, but better a little disillusionment than to proceed with the killing of the goose that lays the golden egg.

UP in Fate, Texas, there is a little woman who believes that thrift is the good management of the business of living. Every two months she goes to the postoffice and salts away her savings in a $100 registered treasury savings certificate. She believes that working and saving is a pretty good combination.

MOVEMENT TOWARDS RETRENCHMENT.
THE movement towards retrenchment now sweeping the country has been the subject of comment from bankers and financiers, as well as from the press in the financial centers. The New York World comes forward with the following timely advice:

"Restricted credit, freight congestion, car shortage, strikes in progress or threatened, scarcity of labor and suggestions of embargoes on exports—these are conditions seriously affecting finance, commerce and industry which the Federal Reserve Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission are trying to meet in summary ways.

"By increasing rediscount rates the Federal Reserve Banking System has forced sharp liquidation in Wall street. It will now apply the same process to loans on commodities, especially non-essentials and those obviously held speculatively. By the use of its new powers the Interstate Commerce Commission will so supervise and correlate the operation of railroads as to relieve congestion and give priority to the passage of necessities. The assumption is that these measures, in connection with the prospective readjustment of railroad wages and freight rates, will go far toward restoring normal activity in production, transportation and trade, and so relieve the financial situation as to remove the clouds that now hang over it. No doubt much can be accomplished by these methods if judiciously applied, but another force is at work. Throughout the whole country price reductions are in progress, and their impelling cause is to be found in a power greater than that of government or statute law.

"The orgy of extravagance and speculation has been checked by the people themselves. Whether they have simply wearied of it or are no longer able to keep it up does not matter. Prices are beginning to count once more. Those who would sell must consider the purchaser's ability or willingness to pay. It was the halt in buying that brought about the bargain sales. It is the restoration of sanity on the part of the individual that will gradually put production and business of every kind once more upon a legitimate basis.

"Government may help some, but the one sure cure for present ills must be honest service and honest goods, at honest prices, with everybody intent upon giving as well as receiving the full worth of his money."

LET us hope, with the completion of the paving now under way, all of Cisco's business streets will be thoroughly swept and washed every 24 hours. Clean streets are city assets, both in health and in sightliness.

PEACE OFFICERS HERE TO RIGIDLY ENFORCE STATE TRAFFIC LAWS

Apparently the police department and the constable's office have linked these two arms of the law and are going after the motor regulation violators again.

It was announced from the police station that Policeman F. B. Matthews, former traffic officer, will be back at the intersection of Main and Sixth streets bright and early today to wave the mit of authority at passing vehicles, and simultaneously it was announced by Justice of the Peace Z. M. Taylor that he would run traffic violators to the ground without mercy and show them no quarter.

Matthews was formerly Cisco's first and only traffic cop. He became so well known that in order to catch violators of the motor laws he felt impelled to disguise himself by shaving off his mustache. About the time he had traffic pretty well regulated on Main street he was offered a position as a watchman at Humboldt and resigned from the police force here to accept it.

Now he is back again on the job and speeders will have a hard time making a track of Main street hereafter.

Justice Taylor also on the war path against speed wagon crews. The following is an extract from the revised state laws relating to the use of the public highways of Texas, which Justice Taylor says he will enforce to the last letter:

Speed Limits.
"Every person operating or driving a motor or other vehicle on the public highways of this state shall operate or drive the same in a careful and prudent manner, and at a rate of speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard to the traffic and use of the highway, and no person shall operate or pass a motor or other vehicle on a public highway at such rate of speed as to endanger the life or limb of any person or the safety of any property; provided, that it shall be unlawful to drive at a rate of speed in excess of twenty-five miles per hour, and provided, further, that in any event no person shall operate or drive a motor or other vehicle on any public highway where the territory contiguous thereto is closely built up, at a greater rate of speed than eighteen miles per hour or in the business district of any town or incorporated city at a greater rate of speed than fifteen miles per hour in cities of less than 4,000 population, nor at a greater speed than ten miles per hour in the business district of cities of more than 4,000 population; provided, that the regulations with regard to speed as set forth in this section shall not be held to apply to fire patrols or motor vehicles operated by the fire department in responding to fire calls nor to police patrol or Red Cross ambulances, nor to physicians responding to emergency calls."

Justice Taylor says: Any person violating this act is subject to one hundred dollars fine and this law is being enforced every day, as reports are coming to me daily, that motorists are being arrested, nor to physicians responding to emergency calls."

"It shall also be unlawful for any person to operate an automobile, motor cycle, or bicycle, upon the public highways of this state, at night time, whose front lamps shall project forward a light of such glare and brilliancy as to seriously interfere with the sight of, or temporarily blind the vision of, the driver of a vehicle approaching from an opposite direction.

"There will be men placed at different points and this law rigidly enforced."

NEW JUDIA TO HAVE ORCHESTRA OF FIVE UNDER NEW MANAGER

A five-piece orchestra is the outstanding feature of a radical program of changes in personnel and material which the New Judia theatre on Main street is now undergoing.

This orchestra, composed of high professional talent, will play its opening number at the New Judia next Sunday, according to E. J. Lewis of Eastland, who has succeeded F. K. Davis as manager of the show house.

"I want the people here to be able to hear real orchestral music when they attend our performances," says Lewis. "I believe that a film can either be made or marred by the right or wrong accompaniment of music."

The new manager also intends to install a huge Wurlitzer Hope-Jones organ for use when the orchestra is not on duty. Just when the organ will be put in has not been announced definitely, but it is said that it will be quite soon.

"The most skilled organist I can find will play this instrument," says Lewis. "There is no use paying $5000 or $10,000 for an organ to put into the hands of a man who doesn't know his business or who is not as fine a musician as the organ is an instrument."

Lewis says he hopes to procure a much finer and higher class of pictures for the New Judia than have been run heretofore.

Besides his duties as manager of the local show house, Lewis is likewise manager of the Majestic picture theatre and the Alhambra vaudeville, both at Eastland. He has been secretary of the Elks of that city since the inception of that lodge last August.

Lewis announces that the New Judia annex use of that space was not intimated by him, however. The interior of the present New Judia is to be changed somewhat and the front lobby and entrance will undergo a complete remodeling, giving it a better appearance and position for attracting its crowds.

TWO TRAINS ON KATY ARE DISCONTINUED BY R R COMMISSION RULE

Cisco will not have a train on the M. K. & T. at 10:10 a. m. coming from Waco any more.

Neither will Cisco have a train on the same road at 3:50 p. m. going to Stamford.

A telegram Monday from Katy officials in Waco to C. H. Dent, local M. K. & T. agent, stated that these changes would go into effect at once, and Dent was advised to change all his bulletin boards in compliance with a recent ruling of the railroad commission authorizing the discontinuance of these trains.

There will still be four daily trains on the M. K. & T. through Cisco, however. Numbers 35 and 37 West bound leave here at 3:40 a. m. and 3:35 p. m. respectively. Trains number 36 and 38 East bound, leave Cisco at 12:15 p. m. and 3:25 a. m. respectively.

A. G. HAYES DROPS DEAD WEST OF CITY SATURDAY

Hayes leaves a wife and six children. He was well known here and had many friends among Cisco people.

PLANTING DELAY HAS BULL EFFECT ON CORN

CHICAGO, May 24.—Reports of planting delays throughout important sections had a decided bullish influence today on the corn market. The close was nervous, 3/4c to 5/8c net higher, with July $1.61 to 3/4c and September $1.50 3/4c to $1.51 1/2c.

RAW SUGAR QUIET. NO NEW BUSINESS

NEW YORK, May 24.—The local market for raw sugar was quiet again today with no fresh business reported. There were buyers at 2 1/2c, for Cuban cost and freight, equal to 25.57 for Centrifugal but holders were asking above this level and showed no inclination to lower their ideas.

DOWNWARD MOVEMENT IN COTTON FOLLOWS GAINS

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 24.—A decided downward movement developed in the cotton market today following gains around the opening. Early steady prices were due to unfavourable crop reports while the selling later had its start in the favorable weather map and prospects of continued favorable weather for the great part of the belt and was continued on rumors of unfavorable conditions in Germany.

STOCK EXCHANGE IS DEVOID OF FEATURES

NEW YORK, May 24.—The session of the stock exchange today was devoid of special feature, aside from the superficial character of the trading. Financial, industrial and commercial development over the week-end seemed to offer little immediate relief from recent unsettled conditions.

Cisco Scouts Lose Game to Ranger by Drubbing of 12 to 0

RANGER, May 24.—The Cisco Scouts with several men bugged up on account of sore muscles and Charlie horses, lost today's game against the Ranger Nitros, 12 to 0.

Bowers, who did the pitching for the Nitros, hurled a wonderful game. He allowed the Cisco team only one hit, and kept things in his control all the time.

The Nitros added to Bowers' mastery by hitting the ball hard, and this combination made the victory overwhelming. Mooney was the star slugger of the day. He connected for a single, a triple and a home run out of five times to the rubber.

GIL'S GLEANINGS

Phillips, one of the pitchers recently signed by the Scouts, came back to Cisco Monday all crippled up and walking on crutches. He sprained his ankle at Mineral Wells Sunday and the accident was so serious that the new hurler was sent home to recuperate.

This man Bowers that the Nitros used yesterday must be somewhat of a pitcher. Rabbit Wasserman was the only Scout that made a clean hit off him. The Cisco boys are working under a handicap, however, as their pitching staff is full of cripples and sore arms and for the last few days men have been compelled to play in places other than their regular positions. Three pitchers were used in the line-up. Kotzelnick played first base and Harding was in right.

Gomez Hill of the Eagles stopped the heavy hitting Buddies at Gorman Sunday. He allowed them only four hits, and it is said that two of them were of the scratch variety. The way this boy has been going lately, we wouldn't care if Ablene would leave him alone when the Eagles come to Scoutville.

Ebbe Ruth is out to show his admirers that he can duplicate his feat of last year. He added another whale of a home run to his list Sunday, when he knocked the ball clear over the right field stands at the Polo grounds.

There were plays made in the All Stars-Headliners game at Harrell park Sunday that no ball game ever saw before. The All Stars first baseman couldn't find the bag once when a ball was thrown to him, and the Headliner reached the first station safely. The first baseman finally located the sack when he looked down between his feet.

The Headliners have contested the game on the grounds that the All Stars made only two runs the first inning, although they were chalked up with three in the correct score would have necessitated extra innings.

Joe Cullinan on second for the All Stars performed in a manner that had Germany Schaefer outclassed in the old comical Dutchman's best days. As a second sacker Joe is quite a debater. During his spare time around second, he advised the umpire how to call the balls. Joe's million dollar smile had the opposing pitcher baffled, and it is rumored that this was the direct reason for the Headliners' defeat.

New Headliners Are Beaten by All-Stars In Comedy Play 10-9

The Cisco News-Headliners lost to Spud Murphy's All-Stars at Harrell park Sunday by the close count of 10 to 9. The game was full of thrills and surprises on the parts of both the spectators and the players, and was hotly contested during every moment of play.

The feature of the game were many, but the ones that brought the most laughter were a diving scoop for a long fly in center field by "Kid McCoy" Kazmarek of the Headliners. It was a sensational catch in every respect, but when the "Kid" reached his feet after the tumble, he found that he didn't have the ball, but a handful of turf, instead; a play at first by Toby of the All-Stars, who caught a peg from Cullinan, but missed getting the runner at the bag, when the big first sacker couldn't find the canvas to put his foot on. He finally discovered, however, that the socks was between his legs, which he had been pushing in every direction to get them in connection with first base; and a play by Nich of the Headliners, who made a hit and was so excited that he started running to third base, but corrected himself in time to make first base.

The Headliners have put in a protest and declare that the game must be played over, as they claim that the All-Stars made only two runs in the first inning, instead of three.

The fans who attended the game were kept in an uproar all during the battle, which was for blood all the way.

Another fiery fray will be held by these two teams, the first Sunday that the Scouts are away again. In the meantime, players of both sides will bury the hatchet and fight for the Scouts.

Score by innings— R H E
All-Stars 10, Headliners 9.
