

BELIEVE DECLINATION RED CROSS OFFICIALS OF ARMENIA MANDATE MEET HERE AND PLAN BY U. S. IS CERTAIN FOR COUNTY ACTIVITY

Senate Committee Votes Against Granting President Wilson Power to Act Which He Asked.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Declination of an American mandate over Armenia was regarded by leaders of both parties in congress as certain as the result of adverse action taken today by the senate foreign relations committee.

In response to President Wilson's request of congress for authority to assume for the United States a mandate over Armenia, the senate committee today by a vote of 11 to 4 reported a resolution declaring that "congress respectfully declines to grant to the executive the power" asked.

Solid republican support given the resolution in the committee is expected by leaders to continue in the senate. One democrat on the committee, Senator Shields of Tennessee, also opposed the mandate. Of the four democrats who opposed the resolution—Senators Hitchcock, Nebraska; Williams, Mississippi; Smith, Arizona; and Putnam, Nevada—only one, Mr. Williams, was said to favor the mandate. The other three democrats opposed the resolution on other grounds, and were said to oppose the president's request on principle.

Red Cross Service Institute to Open at State University

AUSTIN, Tex., May 27.—A "Red Cross service institute" which will train young men and women to fill the positions of executive secretaries to Red Cross chapters, will open Monday, June 7, at the University of Texas, at Austin. The course lasts eight weeks, closing July 31.

The university is co-operating with the Red Cross in the project and members of the faculty will be among the principal lecturers. Experts in special phases of Red Cross work will be sent from Southwestern divisional headquarters in St. Louis to give supplementary talks.

The field work, which is akin to actual experience, will be conducted by Ivan G. Wright of the university faculty, who has conducted previous Red Cross institutes. The course is designed to prepare executive secretaries to lead their communities in all forms of Red Cross service.

It includes study of such subjects as health, child welfare, recreation, community needs and social case work. The candidates will learn the fundamentals of carrying on the community affairs of a Red Cross chapter. They will be taught what each community should do, if possible, toward maintaining its health, safeguarding its children and caring for its unfortunate. Persons who cannot afford the expense of attending may be sent under Red Cross scholarships. Details of which are obtainable at their local Red Cross chapters.

PROJECT DIRIGIBLE AIRSHIP LINE BETWEEN NEW YORK AND SAN FRANCISCO FOR WAR USE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 27.—A dirigible airship line to engage in regular passenger service between New York and San Francisco is a project in which war department officials would like to interest capital with a view to having an air fleet immediately available in case of war, according to Prof. Harvey N. Davis of Harvard University.

Prof. Davis is engaged in expert work on helium gas for the department and is designing a plant to be built at Langley field, Va., where the expensive gas, after use in the military lighter-than-air craft may be washed free of impurities and used again. Estimates by Col. William N. Hensley of the war department indicate that it will be possible for passengers to go by airship overland at a cost of about five cents a mile at a speed of 88 to 70 miles an hour.

"The advent of the airship as a regular passenger carrier is much nearer than many people in this country realize," said Mr. Davis. "It shall be surprised if the coming summer does not see a line of airships in operation by an English firm between the United States and the British Isles and I have no doubt whatever that a year from now will see regular weekly sailings."

"By the use of helium, all danger of disaster from explosions such as have wrecked big balloons filled with hydrogen, will be averted. There will be no fear of ignition of the gas by bullets, lightning or sparks from the engine. In fact, it is pointed out that the engines may be placed inside the outer shell of the dirigible and that except for observation purposes no car need be carried outside the big bag."

While the present cost of producing helium is about 10 times that of hydrogen, Prof. Davis believes that development of its manufacture will result in a cheaper product. Helium will be used to furnish the lifting power in the $2,500,000 dirigible which the navy department expects to obtain from an English manufacturer soon.

Prince Charged With Larceny. NEW YORK, May 27.—Prince Michael Muras, at whose Paris home President and Mrs. Wilson resided during the peace conference, today was indicted by the grand jury, charged with grand larceny in the first degree on complaint of a Manhattan fur dealer who alleges he lost $1,000 through a check transaction during the prince's visit here last June.

Packing Profit Four Million

CHICAGO, Ill., May 27.—A profit of $4,000,000 for the year ending May 1, was made by Liberty, McNeill and Mackers, according to the annual report given out tonight.

The executive board of the Eastland county branch of the American Red Cross, was called together in a meeting at the city hall Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Philip Pettit, county chairman, for the purpose of discussing with Mrs. Andrew Ashbaugh, division representative of the American Red Cross, whose headquarters are at St. Louis, and who is on an advisory tour of this section, a general plan of action for the county.

A plan was adopted, upon the advice of Mrs. Ashbaugh, to hold a community study of Eastland county. In this study will be included a survey of the sanitary state; a determination of the existing health conditions; a search for ex-service men and families who are in need of financial and other assistance; and an examination of the social conditions.

It was decided to ask permission from the national Red Cross headquarters that this chapter be placed on a peace time basis, instead of remaining on a war time program. Mrs. Ashbaugh explained that the war basis provided that the Red Cross confine its work to meeting the needs and helping solve the problems encountered by service men and their families only; while the peace basis provides for the helping of disadvantaged families, and relief work in general.

During the discussion the question of a county public health nurse arose. It was pointed out by Mrs. Ashbaugh that the health program could not be better started than to begin with the appointment of a nurse of this kind, "who will be one of her most important duties, make regular examinations of the health of school children, and who will be very helpful in removing the small physical defects of pupils which are often responsible for the sickness with which many school boys and girls advance in their studies. Other duties of the nurse will be to make visits to families that are in need of her services. She will of course be under the supervision of the county health officer."

J. J. Godbey, superintendent of schools, was asked to give his opinion of the wisdom in employing a public health nurse, and he emphatically expressed his desire that such a plan be carried out. Godbey said, "It is only recently that we have awakened to the importance of a conservation of the health of our school children. One of the prime causes for children not making the normal advances in school work is the presence of slight physical defects which are neglected or overlooked entirely, such as adenoids, eye, ear, and throat troubles. In many cases these minor ailments of the boys and girls could be easily detected by a nurse and removed or taken care of. A public nurse could make a regular inspection of the health of the pupils, make suggestions for treatment if a disease is found, and advise parents how health defects could be remedied. The public nurse could also assist in hygienic instruction. We could save thousands of dollars if we had a nurse of this kind. Of course we cannot compute the value of an eye or an ear by money standards; but whenever we confine ourselves to the development of the mind, and overlook the physical body, we are doing the same as building a home on sand."

J. J. Jenkins, representative for the Ranger chapter, brought out the necessity of improving the social conditions of the cities in Eastland county. Jenkins says he spent considerable time in study among the poor and illiterate English and Italian people of the tenement districts of New York city, and believes he could use the knowledge obtained there to good advantage.

It was decided to hold another meeting of the executive board soon. Those in attendance at the conference were: Mrs. Andrew Ashbaugh, St. Louis; Mrs. J. D. Reed, Eastland; Mrs. Grace K. Harman, Ranger; Mrs. H. O. Hawkins, Cisco; Mrs. Phillip Pettit, (chairman) Cisco; J. J. Jenkins, Jr., Ranger; Bert E. McClammy, Gorman.

BILL BEING PREPARED WITHOUT NON-COTTON ZONE, DESPITE ADVICE

AUSTIN, Texas, May 27.—Despite the warning given the Texas legislature today by Secretary of Agriculture Meredith that a quarantine may be established against the so-called pink boll-worm infested area in southwest Texas unless a non-cotton zone is established, a bill is now being prepared by Attorney General G. M. Curreton at the request of a sub-committee of the pink boll-worm committee and a committee of representatives from the infested territory, which does not propose a non-cotton zone, according to General J. F. Wolters of counsel for the cotton growers. This bill, General Wolters said, will be submitted for approval of the pink boll-worm investigating committee and if approved, will be introduced in the legislature. It proposes rigid regulations in the so-called infested territory, and for the destruction of individual fields where the pest is found. The farmers in such fields, whose cotton is destroyed to be compensated by the state.

It is not likely, Dr. Charles L. Marshall, chairman of the federal horticultural board, will give approval to this measure. The governor submitted 26 additional subjects to the legislature today including a bill placing gas pipelines under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

THREE REBEL FORCES SENT INTO MOUNTAINS IN PURSUIT OF VILLA

Bandit Chief Reported Still Waiting for Answer to Demand That He Succeed Escobar.

EL PASO, Texas, May 27.—The de facto government of Mexico has begun its threatened campaign against Francisco Villa, advices today indicate that at least three commands have been sent into the mountains of the Parral district to hunt down the bandit and that Villa has ahead of him the fastest dodging of his career if he is to escape the cordon of troops closing in on his bands.

With forces under Generals Ignacio Enriquez and Marcelo Caraveo already in the field, it is reported that General J. Gonzales Escobar, newly appointed military commander of the state of Chihuahua, started toward El Valle from Jimenez last night with one thousand men. At last reports Villa was waiting at El Valle for final word from General P. Elias Calles on his demand that he be appointed to replace Escobar.

Between Escobar and Villa the bitterest enmity exists. The former was one of the jury which passed a sentence of death on General Felipe Angeles, Villa's military idol, and the bandit has sworn he must pay with his own life.

In a dispatch to the de facto commercial agent here disclaiming knowledge of the reported kidnaping by Villa forces of Homer Carr, examining engineer for the American Smelting and Refining company, supposed to have taken a train at Jimenez Tuesday, General Enriquez said he had concluded an unsatisfactory telegraphic conference with Villa and was convinced the government had no choice but to fight him.

Friends of Carr were reassured at the same time by a wire from W. M. Drury, manager of the American Smelting and Refining company's mining department, who said there was "nothing to" the kidnaping report. Operations of the Alvarado Mining and Milling company have been suspended since May 22 because of the company's refusal to pay a $50,000 "protection tax to Villa," according to an announcement today by T. G. Hawkins.

ELEVEN INDICTED ON RAIL STRIKE CHARGE

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—Eleven men who took part in the recent railway strike in New Jersey were indicted by a federal grand jury today, charged with "retarding, obstructing and interfering with interstate commerce." It was previously erroneously reported that ten leaders of the strike had been indicted.

LEADERS OF COALITION IN GERMANY FIGHT TO CONTROL COUNTRY AT NEXT ELECTION

BERLIN, May 27.—(By Mail)—Leaders of the coalition of three parties now in control of the German government profess confidence that these parties, the majority socialist, German democrats and Christian People's party, or clericals, will continue in control as a result of the general election to be held June 4. This election will choose the members of the first regular national assembly under the republican constitution.

These leaders concur in saying that probably the majority socialists, who now have 165 seats, will lose one-third of these to the independent socialists, who are expected to emerge from the bolting with 70 members of the assembly, instead of 22 which they now have. The political leaders say the communists probably will have five representatives in the new parliament, as the German behelvests are well supplied with money, although their party organization is not wholly intact.

The ultra right expect to benefit through the recent rioting in the Ruhr and Saxon districts, while the democratic and clerical leaders say they expect to retain their present representation.

There is a strong effort being made by the conservative clericals in the direction of inducing the national liberals to join the coalition en bloc not only for the purpose of fortifying it numerically as set off to the losses expected to be incurred by the majority socialists, but also because the clericals feel the need of moral support in new quarters for their church-school policies in defense of which they are virtually deserted by the democrats and basically opposed by the majority socialists.

One of the most influential of the clerical leaders is making overtures to Gustav Stresemann, the national liberal leader to induce him to pool issues with the coalition block.

Miners Will Arbitrate

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 27.—Declaring that "class legislation" had made it almost humanly impossible to wage a successful strike, anthracite mine workers in their tri-district convention here today accepted the plan of President Wilson to settle their wage dispute by an arbitration commission. Pending award of the presidential commission, the hard coal miners will remain at work "under the retroactive understanding agreed to between operators and miners which will protect the mine workers in wage increases as from April 1."

JOHNSON WINS IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., May 27.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson received the Oregon presidential preference vote by a plurality of 2,129 over Major General Leonard Wood, his nearest rival, according to a tabulation prepared today by the Portland Telegram from complete but partly unofficial returns.

The same tabulation showed Sanford MacDonald, Senator Johnson's campaign manager in Oregon, and a candidate for delegate-at-large to the republican national convention, had been defeated by 1,409 votes.

WESTERN RAILROADS ASK TWENTY-FOUR PER CENT RAISE IN FREIGHT RATE

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Opening the case of western railroads requesting a 24 per cent increase in freight rates, M. Felton, president of the Chicago & Great Western railway, told the interstate commerce commission today that additional returns were needed by the carriers to keep pace with business and serve the public welfare.

Final testimony for the railways of the eastern and southern territories was presented today, and it is expected the carriers will conclude their direct statement tomorrow. The hearings will adjourn a week then to enable shippers to prepare for cross examination.

Are You A Slave to Housework?

ARE you manacled to drudgery—sentenced to hard housework labor; to be oppressed by summer heat; submitting your self to the arduous duties of house work like women still living in the dark ages of servility? WITH the government selling Thrift Stamps for 25 cents and War Savings Stamps for less than $5.00, there is no excuse for any one not to save. To get ahead one must get a head and use it.

CLEAN streets as well as paved streets are a good drawing card for any city. The Cisco city commission has decreed that a permanent force will be put on to keep the business streets spotless.

THE savage has gumption enough to provide for today. But he never thinks about tomorrow. That's the difference between the civilized man and the savage. In thinking about your tomorrows, don't forget to bring War Savings Stamps into your calculations.

ANOTHER opportunity is now knocking at Cisco's door. It is interurban connection with Cleburne, thereby linking this city and the oil belt area with Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, and other central and north Texas cities. This project will be discussed at Stephenville on June 4. Cisco should be there strong.

JAMES J. HILL once said: "Do you want to know if you are going to be a success or a failure in life? You can easily find out. Are you able to save money? If not, drop out. You will fail as sure as you live." James J. Hill made a fortune following his own advice. Why not make a trip to the bank or postoffice today and get that other war savings stamp?

INSTEAD of a league of nations and world peace, secret experiments for the application of science to warfare are still being made in Europe, declares Professor Frederick Soddy of the University museum, Oxford, England. "Results far in advance of those at the time of the armistice have been obtained," he says, "and the study of scientific destruction is still proceeding behind closed doors."

CISCOANS are beginning to view "Little Mexico," in front of the passenger depot, as do visitors and passers—a blight on Cisco's otherwise civic attractiveness. Plans for a new location for this needed population may be worked out soon. With this unsightly quarters removed, the way is clearing up for the beautification of this natural park site. Cisco teamworkers are thinking along this line now; and thinking brings action. Investment in this sort of civic improvement is an advertisement worth many-fold the cost.

WHILE the department of justice is searching for profiteers and combatting the high cost of living, Herbert Myrick, editor of Farm and Home, predicts higher food prices—and even a food famine in the United States, in the event of unfavorable weather and poor crops. He estimates that "butter will sell at $2 a pound, eggs at $3 a dozen, potatoes at $15 a bushel and flour at $40 a barrel next winter, unless there is maximum production on the farms this summer."

WHERE DID ADAM GET HIS RAZOR? DID he use a "safety," and where did Adam get his razor? This is a query, in the light of the dictum of M. Teray, director of the Hungarian national art museum, at Budapest. "Adam did not wear a beard," he says; and he has had eliminated the hirsute of this great ancestor in restoring Jordan's famous picture, "Adam and Eve." He claims that examination of the canvas shows that the beard was not a part of the original picture but was painted in during the last century, when beards were popular. So in the restored work Adam is shown clean shaven.

WHY NOT A Y. M. C. A. BUILDING? MUCH has been accomplished in Cisco during the past two years. The citizenship has been busy inducing new enterprises to become a part of the business life of the community.

With these new enterprises have come a vast multitude of young men, some with families and some without. In a number of cases the families of some of these new citizens are left behind. The single man and the man away from his family naturally seek a place to spend their idle hours.

At no distant date Cisco will be called on to erect a modern and up-to-date Y. M. C. A. building, where this element of its population can enjoy the pleasures of the late books and magazines; where they can get acquainted with the new citizens and the old mix pleasure with profit.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

MODERN EFFICIENCY. An ancient Greek philosopher. Thaumastocles by name. Once drank a hemlock highball. And then, they say, died game. Of course, this lad was brainy. But his style was rather crude: For now they drink wood alcohol. And kick off while they're stewed. —Lou Akerstrom.

We are glad to see that the government is going to begin coining two-cent pieces. We used to use the nickel for certain purposes, but it seems that the nickel has grown so weak that it can't travel alone and get anywhere. The two-cent piece will be a sort of crutch or traveling companion as it were. Added to a nickel, one of the new two-cent pieces ought to buy at least three cents' worth of almost anything.

DRY BALLADS. I cannot sing the old songs. I do not care for them. They don't sound like they used to. At 1 or 2 a. m.

Some of the presidential candidates profess to have no capital behind them, but several of them have large corporations in front of them.

Don't blame the ice man if he misses his aim and shoots your cake of ice through your plate glass window instead of through the cellar doorway. His mind is not on his work. He is endeavoring to uplift the stage. He is working on the third act of his play.

If the plumber has been down cellar all morning and you haven't heard the tap of a hammer, he is writing. Don't disturb him. His heroism is hanging over the edge of the precipice waiting for the hero. It is a tense moment, a crisis in his play. Let him alone and give him time to think it out.

A man can make a lot of money with his pen—if it happens to be a pig pen. We are not particular who gets it just so long as it is Hi Johnson or Cal Coolidge, or maybe Len Wood.

Charreuse of Spinach. Pick over and wash thoroughly one-half peck of spinach. Cook covered with just enough water to prevent it from burning; cook until tender. Drain thoroughly and chop fine. Season with one tablespoon of butter, teaspoon of salt and red heat.

A Too-Much-Salt Remedy. When cooking vegetables, or even meats, if too much salt is added it can easily be remedied by dropping a pared raw potato into the kettle and cooking it with the over-salted food. Potatoes will take salt more readily than other vegetables and thereby the salt cooks into the potato.

HAMPSON GARY. Hampson Gary, the new U. S. minister to Switzerland, occupied the difficult and delicate post of diplomatic agent and consul general at Cairo for three years just preceding his recent appointment.

Mr. Gary went to Washington in 1914 as a special agent of the department of state, and was later attached to the office of solicitor of the department. While diplomatic agent at Cairo he also handled diplomatic matters for this country in Syria and in Palestine.

Gary is a native of Tyler, Texas, where he was born in 1873. After his graduation from the University of Virginia he was admitted to the bar in 1894. He has taken an active interest in politics for more than 20 years and was a member of the Texas house of representatives, 1901-2. In 1905 he was one of the Texas delegates to the democratic national convention at Denver.

Oliver Herford sat next to a soulful poetess at dinner one night, and that dreamy one turned her sad eyes upon him. "Have you no other ambition, Mr. Herford," she demanded, "than to force people to degrade themselves by laughter?"

Yes, Herford had an ambition—a whole lot of ambition. Some day he hoped to gratify it.

The woman rested her elbows on the table and propped her face in her long, sad hands and gazed into Mr. Herford's eyes. "Oh, Mr. Herford," she said, "Oliver! Tell me about it."

"I want to throw an egg into an electric fan," said Herford.

Alice is an eight-year-old youngster from the southern part of the state, and her uncle recently brought her to the capital to see the monument and other places of interest. The morning after his arrival he took her down to the office of a friend and introduced her.

"So you came to see Indianapolis," remarked one of the men. "I suppose you're anxious to begin. Which do you want most to see—the state house or the mbument?"

Alice looked at him and then spoke truthfully: "Oh, I want to see both of them," she told him, "but most of all I want to go to one of those stores where you get an ice cream sandwich for a nickel."

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR TURNS ON HIGHWAYMAN. OMAHA, Neb., May 27.—E. E. Harrington, a street car conductor, confronted at the end of his run by an armed highwayman, surrendered $25 but resisted when the robber demanded that he give up a watch that had belonged to his dead wife. He took away the man's pistol and, with it, beat him into insensibility.

For his act, Harrington will receive $500 from the street railway company which sometime ago offered such rewards for the capture of street car highwaymen.

Henry Smitz, the robber, said he decided to "rob other people" after he had been charged $5 cents, in a local restaurant, for a cut of pie and some coffee.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: When I was 22 I was very popular and went everywhere. One young man especially cared so much for me that it made him crazy when I went out with others. His love for me was so great that I promised to marry him.

After my marriage my husband was called out of town because of business and so we moved to another state. I am an only child and so I missed my parents terribly. My husband still loved me, but he had won me and that seemed all that was necessary. He never took me anywhere, but he did try to relieve my loneliness by giving me animals. He bought two Angora kittens because both were so cute he could not choose.

I stood life away from home two years and then I became so desperately homesick that my father secured a position for my husband in our home town. I was certainly glad to get back, only one thing is different—my husband is not like the husbands of my former friends. He is growing stouter every day and he is lazy, while their husbands are alert young men.

When I am alone with my husband I love him. He loves me, too, and is very kind if it does not take any effort on his part. It hurts me to say so, but when I am out with our old friends I am ashamed to think I married the man I did. He is not a success in business or in anything, because he will not exert himself.

Would you advise me to get a divorce before we have children?—Unhappy.

No, I would not advise divorce. It is evident that your husband loves you. Probably you love him, too, more than you realize. If divorced you would want him back again.

You can do much to help your husband and to inspire ambition. You and he ought to read at least two nights a week. I believe you would find books and articles on salesmanship a great help.

Your husband really ought to take you somewhere once in a while. Everyone has faults, however, and if this is your husband's, there is little to be done. Be thankful, that he is kind to you in other ways.

Tell him that you would be happier if he went somewhere with you occasionally. He may want to please you enough to take you.

I would not advise stretching machines. The treatments would be expensive and would not increase your height enough to pay for the trouble.

A WOMAN THINKS

PREPAREDNESS. By Edith E. Moriarty. At least one city is going to profit by the terrible experience of two winters of influenza without an adequate force of trained nurses. There is scarcely a family which at some time during the past two winters has not felt the shortage of trained medical aid.

Chicago, however, is now taking steps to prevent the recurrence of such a thing. A home nursing hospital, sponsored by the Chicago health department to train women of the city to cope with epidemics, has been opened. Three hundred and fifty women are starting the course. The women will be given a three months' course under a physician and then they will do the nursing in the new hospital and will be given an additional three months' intensive training.

There are two excellent features about this new hospital—no charge is made to patients, and the course is open to all women. The need for free medical aid and treatment needs no comment, for it is evident everywhere. The greatest thing about this new hospital, however, is the fact that training in home nursing will be within the reach of every woman.

This will benefit the community, not only in time of epidemics, but at all times. It will mean that the family health will be properly and more efficiently cared for. It will mean more towards the prevention of illness and epidemics than any other single idea which has been brought forth. The ideal achievement would be some one in every household who had taken this training course, a home nurse experienced in first aid, and general nursing, which is an excellent idea, but it sounds like just another job for the already overworked mother.

Reports from the conference stated that "American elementary schools are facing a net loss of 80,000 teachers for next year; there will be 110,000 to 150,000 vacancies and only 30,000 graduates of teacher training institutes to fill them. Every state shows a serious teacher shortage. Ohio will be short about 3000 next September, California 1700 and Arkansas reports that the situation there could not be worse."

We have pitied the poor school teacher; we have even urged her to rebel and now that the situation is being remedied, let us hope that the school trustees will pity our children and avert the awful catastrophe of closed schools.

Cisco Scouts Wallop Buddies 8 to 3 and Drive Out Baldrige

GORMAN, May 27.—The Cisco Scouts went at the Buddies with a vengeance today, and walloped them into submission by a score of 8 to 3. Baldrige, star twirler for the Gormans, started in fine form, but the Scouts proceeded to show him the way to the showers, and his successors didn't do much better. Kotzelnick, on the other hand, was performing in his usual steady fashion, and allowed the Buddies only four hits.

'Well, we got started right at Gorman yesterday. The Buddies needn't thank just because they are higher up in the percentage column that we are afraid of their old ball club. They'll have to produce the best baseball they know every time we meet, to take our measure.

Tim Griesbeck showed his class yesterday, when he sped down towards first to be ready to stop the ball in case an overthrow was made. There was one made all right, and Tim was there to collar it. The runner kept on going to second, but he died when the husky Scout backstop threw him out. That kind of playing is what makes the difference between a mediocre catcher and a real topnotcher. Tim, you're on your way up, boy, and we're all for you.

Kotzelnick kept the Buddies down to the usual number of hits he allows yesterday. When they piled up four, he decided that was enough.

Say, have you noticed the way King has been coming through lately? Hardly a day goes by that the elongated outfielder doesn't help considerably in the Cisco run getting.

Babe Ruth decided to show his old friends at Boston yesterday, that he could still hit the old ball, and the champion little home run getter only patted out two of his favorite variety, circus clouts. He has ten to date.

This man Supina, third sacker for Mineral Wells, knows how to break up ball games himself. He put the ball over the fence in the tenth yesterday against Abilene, and the blow counted for the only run of the game.

Boyer, new hurler for Ranger, has allowed only five hits in the last two games he has pitched. If he keeps up that kind of work, Jim Gallaway and his tribe of Nitros will soon be out of the cellar.

New York 6; Boston 1.

BOSTON, Mass., May 27.—An assault upon Umpire Hilderbrand by Pitcher Shawkey of New York, in the fourth inning, resulting in Shawkey receiving a scalp wound from the umpire's mask, created excitement in the first game of the series with the Red Sox today which New York Babe Ruth made two home runs, sending the ball once into the right field bleachers and once over the left center field fence, giving him a season total of ten. New York players protested strongly when Hilderbrand enabled Boston to make its only run in the fourth by sending Schang to first on his tenth strike, full force, forcing in a run. After Harper, the next man up, had been called out on strikes, Shawkey approached the umpire, bowed and doffed his cap in mock thanks. Hilderbrand ordered Shawkey off the grounds whereupon he rushed at the umpire and struck him several times about the head. Hilderbrand defended himself with his mask and opened a wound on Shawkey's head. Umpire Evans and Captain Hooper of the Red Sox separated the men and Shawkey was conducted from the field, Mays finishing the game.

New Benny Leonard's friends are shouting that Georges Papin, French lightweight champ, now in the U. S., must tackle some of the contenders and show his worth before asking for a fight with Leonard. This is fine stuff. Would Leonard consent to do the same thing if he went to France?

In the good old days the champ was looking for invaders like Papin—was willing to fight anyone and didn't need to have a chance to get the dope on them at somebody else's expense. From Papin's viewpoint there is no logical reason why he, champion of one republic, should be forced to fight second-raters in another country to prove that he is a champion.

Every time we think of or discuss the attitude of Benny Leonard and Jack Dempsey toward the game that made them, we get that sour taste in our mouths that comes from drinking too much near-beer.

Oh, yes, they're panning Carpenter because he won't meet anyone in the U. S. before tackling Dempsey. Same story.

WITH COL. ROOSEVELT IN THE YELLOWSTONE

Of the few out-of-season visits to the Yellowstone, that of Col. Roosevelt, who, when president spent 24 days of the late winter of 1903 there, is the most prominent page in the annals of the spread eagle rangers.

He found the scouts, then serving as chaprains for luckless cavalry troops and doing their own work besides, to be men after his own heart and did not hesitate to say so. Before he had been in the park a week every ranger was swearing by him.

"Anybody know the whereabouts of one William Jones?" was one of the Colonel's early inquiries. Jim McBride, the present chief ranger, who was then assistant chief of the park scouts under the late Buffalo Jones, knew a Bill Jones, wood chopper and ne'er-do-well, chiefly remarkable for an insatiable thirst and a knack of ministering to it in a bone dry park. He was about the last man in the Rockies for whom a President of the United States would be expected to inquire.

"Bill put me into office once," said Roosevelt. "I want to see him, drunk or sober."

He further explained that the derelict had been sheriff during his own days as a ranchman and had made him a deputy in a horse thief posse.

"I took three days to find that old horned toad and bring him in," said McBride, in recalling the incident, "but just to listen in at the Colonel's hearty greeting of that down and outer was pay in full."

Colonel Roosevelt didn't partake, but he did spend the best part of an hour swapping yarns of the days when Bill was a "white man" and sheriff of his county. The woodchopper tried to buck up after his talk with the President, but it wasn't to be done. The next winter we found him dead in the brush over Bear Creek.

The Colonel was enthusiastic over the sport of ski running and was something of a performer on the slabs himself, for a novice. He strapped his feet into them as often as opportunity offered. One morning on a slide near the Canyon Hotel he broke one ski and came a heavy cropper.

"The government has fallen at last," he cried with a molar showing grin, as he coasted down to help untangle a living President and a pair of dead sticks.

"He was looking at the wreck he had made of the hickory slabs when Captain John Pritchard of the First Cavalry, then in command of the park, arrived.

"Have you plenty of these?" he said. "Only a few pairs and they are the property of the interior department," replied the officer.

"In less than three weeks there came a rush shipment of 100 pairs."

"Next afternoon the President challenged me to a race on snow shoes from Canyon to Mammoth, a distance of 81 miles. Those with him decided that the trip would be an unwise strain upon him and began to argue against his attempting it. He got me to one side after a while and whispered:

"We'll let them talk, McBride. Just you stick around until midnight. They will be asleep then and we'll hit the trail!"

"It took Harry W. Child and Captain Pritchard two hours to talk him out of that. He wasn't at all pleased at having to veto his own plan for a secret departure."—Ethel and James, Dorrance in Munsey's Magazine.

Dallas Is Facing Another Gasless Winter, Says Mayor

DALLAS, May 27.—Dallas will face another winter with a low gas supply unless the board of city commissioners acts on the increase in gas rates asked by the gas company to enable that company to extend its lines to other gas fields, so Mayor Frank Wozencraft declared.

Mayor Wozencraft made this announcement in a warning to the people of this city to lay in a supply of wood and coal for the winter, as the controversy between the board of commissioners and the gas company looked anything but promising.

That a gas shortage equal if not worse than that of the past two years will be evident in Dallas this winter was emphasized in Mayor Wozencraft's words.

Practically all homes and many large industrial plants depend entirely upon gas as a fuel. Many of the downtown cafes have installed temporarily coal-burning cook stoves for emergency use and many Dallas homes saw the installation of coal and wood heating stoves last winter.

Several local business men have launched a campaign to form a corporation for the purpose of buying boats and barges which would ply along the Trinity river and transport cord wood to Dallas.

MARKETS

Cotton Livestock Financial Produce Stocks-Bonds

EARLY COTTON REACTION FOLLOWED BY FIRMNES

NEW YORK, May 27.—Today's private reports were a little more favorable, but early reactions were followed by renewed firmness in the cotton market. The general market closed easy net unchanged to 32 points higher.

The market opened steady and soon turned easy under realizing or scattering liquidation. A southwestern report placing the condition of the crop at 63.9 seemed a disappointment to people who had bought on a report of 62.8 earlier in the week, and was also considered responsible for a break in the Liverpool market.

Unfavorable reports from the goods trade encouraged reactionary sentiment after the advances of the past two or three days, but even the higher crop condition figures still compared very favorably with previous years, and the market rallied later on reduced covering. This was stimulated during the middle of the afternoon by reports of gold imports and the firmer ruling of the stock market.

Two other private reports were issued, one of them making the condition 65.4 and the other 66.5, while a canvass of local exchange members showed that a government report of around 65.9 was expected on the average.

One of today's reports said the acreage was about the same as last year, while another pointed to an increase of one per cent.

Port receipts today 7,936. United States port stocks 1,073,430. Exports 9,345, making 5,981,933 so far this season.

TREND IN COTTON IS HIGHER AND BULLISH

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 27.—The trend was higher in the cotton market today although bullish operations were, to some extent, restricted by the better weather prevailing in the belt. Buying was mainly done on the continued very low condition figures from private reporting bureaus. After a rise of 11 to 15 points around the opening the market declined under selling, due chiefly to the good weather map. A little later, the real buying movement of the day set in on the market during the last half of the session and it was stimulated by the nearness of the memorial day holiday and bureau day. Just before the close, offerings from satisfied longs became rather liberal, causing recessions. Sellers could not make headway against the private condition reports of which there were four; one of 62.8, the same figure as the report of yesterday that caused a flurry in the bull camp; another of 65.4, one of 66.5, and one of 68.9.

PROFESSOR FINDS "BOOZE" IS A LEGITIMATE WORD

CLEVELAND, O., May 27.—"Booze" has had its ancient and honorable ancestry in the English language uncovered by Prof. Hulme of the Western Reserve University. Labeled for generations as an etymological outlaw and branded as such with quotation marks, Prof. Hulme finds "booze" has a pedigree longer than that of most kings. Its earliest spelling, according to Prof. Hulme, was "bowse." Later writings show it was "boose" and finally "booze."

"Both as a noun and verb the word," Prof. Hulme said, "written 'bowse' in middle English literature as far back as 1300, had the meaning 'to drink to excess.' About 1600 the word lost the honorable character it had and became a slang word. The particular 'housing' is recorded as early as the year 1520, and 'booser' was used in English in 1611."

Prof. Hulme is a member of the department of English in the College for Women of the University. He dealt with "booze" as a word in a paper on "Some phases of Modern Slang." His discoveries, local writers remark, come late to do "booze" much good.

BRINGS BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT AGAINST FORMER HUSBY

OMAHA, Neb., May 27.—Breach of promise is charged against her former husband by Mrs. Marie C. Hazen in a suit filed here. Mr. and Mrs. Hazen were married, lived together six years, and were divorced. Recently, says Mrs. Hazen, Mr. Hazen sought to renew their matrimonial bonds and furnished a home into which Mrs. Hazen moved in advance of the wedding. Then his rejuvenated affections cooled. Mrs. Hazen alleges, therefore, she asks $25,000 damages.

BUENOS AIRES URGES PEOPLE TO COLONIZE PUBLIC LANDS

BUENOS AIRES, May 1 (By Mail)—Argentina, like the United States, has difficulty in keeping the people on the farms and out of the cities. To combat the tendency toward city life, the minister of the Interior, Ramon Gomez, has asked all the governors of the provinces and territories to urge people to colonize the public lands.

Under a new law, colonists are enabled to borrow from the National Mortgage bank up to 80 per cent of the value on land they have purchased and under the homestead law the government is permitted to give to colonists small lots of land in some districts.

BELIEVES THAT ENGLAND AND U. S. WILL PULL TOGETHER

LEEDS, Eng., May 9 (By Mail)—Sir Arthur Shiley Benn, who was head of the British mission to the International Trade conference at Atlantic City last fall, has just told the members of the Luncheon club that he believed the United States and Great Britain would continue to "pull together." If so, he said, he thought they and their allies would be able to reconstitute Europe and get back to former conditions of trade.

A great many people had said there was no chance of Great Britain and the United States pulling together, because they were too much alike—too impetuous and aggressive. He did not believe it. He had known America since 1877 and had never known a better feeling to exist between England and America than exists today among the people who counted. There were in America, he said, pro-Germans, Sinn Feiners and others "wild men who were trying to uproot the whole American constitution." There were people who were working with pro-Germans and Sinn Feiners. But they would not succeed, England. The class of people in America who were descended from Anglo-Saxon stock were not going to give up the government of the country to any "mixed cosmopolitan body of people like the bolsheviks and their class who were making the trouble in America today."

The bulk of the people of the United States, he declared, had the most absolute faith in the honesty, courage and determination of John Bull. Great Britain, he said, owed America a big debt, but the allies owed this country a larger one.

When Mrs. Amy Bosarth, of Dallas, found that the freight congestion interfered with her plans to buy an automobile she went to Detroit, bought the motor car at the factory and drove it to her Texas home, making the trip in less than a week.

DAYS PROJECTED WATERWAY WILL DISTRIBUTE LABOR

CALUMET, Mich., May 27.—A more even distribution of labor coming to the United States from Europe is seen here as one of the prospective benefits of the projected waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

O. F. Bailey, employment manager of the Calumet and Hecla Mining company, told the joint international waterways commission at Marquette that copper officials could hardly compete with eastern manufacturers in securing labor through New York and other eastern ports.

"The men don't want to pay $50 or more to get up in northern Michigan, when they can get jobs in the east that pay a dollar or less to reach," Bailey declared. "And can you blame them?"

He saw in the waterway project a solution of the mine labor problem in the copper country.

ROD AND GUN CLUB TO HOLD SHOOT AT LAKE BERNIE THIS FRIDAY

The Cisco Rod and Gun club will hold a "shoot" at their club grounds, at Lake Bernie, at 4:30 o'clock this (Friday) afternoon.

Ernest Fairless, expert trap shooter, is here to take a leading part in the contest. He has just returned from the Amarelle registered tournament of trap shooting, where he won first honors. The score there stood:

W. E. Fairless of Cisco, 250 out of 300.
 C. N. Ray of Vicksburg, Miss., 272 out of 300.
 Geo. Craig of New Orleans, 270 out of 300.
 A. V. Cocke of Wellington, Texas, 278 out of 300.
 A. V. Francis of Drumright, Okla., 259 out of 300.

This Cisco "shoot" will consume about one thousand clay pigeons. It is the first shoot held here this season, and much interest and a full club attendance is anticipated. The shooting is announced to start at 4:30 sharp.

Fairless, who is a traveling salesman for the Peters Cartridge company, is spending a few days at home, and with others, will seek to organize and revivify interest in this sport at Cisco.

All members are urged to be at this first shoot and take part. It is planned to conduct these shoots weekly for the remainder of the season.

DARE-DEVIL PERFORMS FROM TOP OF NEW JUDIA

Many Cisco citizens witnessed the daredevil performance of Ralph Miller, at the Judia theatre Thursday at one o'clock, and again at seven o'clock.

From the top of the Audia building a projecting timber was fastened, and to this a rope was attached, with a block and tackle at the lower end. Two husky oil derrick men volunteered, and bound Miller in a straight jacket, such as is used in subduing extremely insane people or the unruly criminal. His feet were then fastened to the rod at the lower end of the rope, and he was drawn to the top with his head downward. He was so released himself in three minutes, but in a little more than two minutes from the time he began twisting and writhing in the jacket he had extricated himself and dropped the jacket to the ground. Then righting himself he coasted to the walkway.

Watchers hardly had time to gasp an amazement before the daredevil was among them on foot.

It is said that Miller can release himself from shackles and handcuffs while under water, and those who watched his feat Thursday would scarcely doubt it.

GIVE BIRTHDAY DINNER TO AGED LOCAL PIONEER

On his seventy-first natal day, Mrs. J. T. Scott, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Walter Clements, honored their father, S. G. Blount, with a noon dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Scott, in south Cisco.

When the invitations were issued to Dr. Kimsay Scott and his wife, with their young son; Walter Clements and wife and three children; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Blount with their families, it was requested that each should bring penicils to the amount of the number of years this man had lived. When the summing up of penicils came at the close of the dinner hour it was found there were 1074 penicils for the good father that had been so highly honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Blount are living a retired life in the Park addition in a quiet little home, and the days will pass more pleasantly by being remembered with a "penicil shower" to mark the passing of the tale stone that all are loth to leave behind. They have lived in Cisco many years and have many friends.

STEPHENS COUNTY ACTIVELY AT WORK ON SYSTEM HIGHWAYS

BRECKENRIDGE, TEXAS, May 27.—Stephens county is now beginning active operation in the construction of her $4,000,000 system of highways. Three and a half million dollars were voted by the people by an overwhelming vote on November 5, 1919, and the county has been allotted $200,000 federal aid by the state highway commission, and additional aid will be granted as progress is made in developing the system.

Messrs. Nagle, Witt, Rollins, and Quarles are the county's engineers in charge of the work. They have established an engineering camp in the west part of Breckenridge with a force of 20 men, at present giving their entire time to the completion of the engineering work. They have made all preliminary surveys and are now engaged in making locations of the roads, after which they will prepare the plans and estimates for the approval of the court, which will take 30 to 60 days.

A magnificent concrete viaduct will be constructed over Gonzales creek, at the foot of Walker street, on the eastern edge of the city limits. The plans for this structure will be definitely decided upon at the June meeting of the commissioners' court. Highway No. 1, east and west from county line to county line, will be the first road constructed, and all federal aid so far granted will be available for this road. The type of construction has tentatively been agreed upon as an eighteen foot concrete road, but on account of short- age of cement in the Texas mills, it may be necessary to either go to Oklahoma for this material, or change the type of construction to a brick pavement or a bituminous surface road. It is the plan of the commissioners' court of Stephens county in the expenditure of this vast sum, to connect up with the high class roads of Eastland county where an expenditure of $5,000,000 for good roads will be made. The bad roads in this portion of the oil fields have become notorious during the rainy season on account of the tremendous amount of burden they have had to bear in carrying supplies to the 100 oil wells, and to build up the rapidly growing city of Breckenridge, and the smaller towns throughout the county.

It is estimated that there is required more than 150 wagon or truck loads of material to supply each completed well, and each load is estimated to be a ton and a half. For the one item alone of supplies the necessary material for all the oil wells in the county, not including the weight of the vehicle or teams, the burden the traffic has had to bear is a million and a half tons. It would not be a violent estimate, that for this period of time, these bad roads have had to carry a burden in all kinds of weather as much as 5,000,000 tons. Notwithstanding these roads have been bad at different seasons, the travel is continuous and seldom interrupted to any extent. The county has been without railroad facilities heretofore, but with the advent of the railroads, the highways will be relieved of a considerable burden.

SEYMOUR TO PARTICIPATE IN NATIONAL PUBLICITY

STAMFORD, May 27.—In the national publicity campaign which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will wage throughout the north, east and south during the summer and fall by airplane and auto truck, Seymour will participate. It subscribed $1500 for the $4,000 fund required to make the campaign a success.

Other towns which have recently signified a willingness to be represented in the proposed publicity crusade are Rising Star for $1000 and DeLeon for $1000. Up to the present time about $12,000 has been actually subscribed, with a large number of other towns and communities yet to be approached on the subject. Ranger and Eastland both have come in for a large share of the participation.

Immediately that the fund has been raised, cinematograph operators with machines will be sent to all the communities represented and thousands of feet of film produced to carry on the trip. Two large airplanes have been ordered and a large truck from Wichita Falls will be held specially for the occasion. A history of West Texas, together with advertising matter, will be arranged shortly, including special writeups of the towns which have made possible the campaign through their liberality of money and attention to the campaign.

EASTLAND SCHOOL BOARD DISPOSES OF $40,000 BONDS

EASTLAND, Tex., May 27.—The Eastland school board last night sold $40,000 of school bonds to the Meriman school district. This will enable Eastland to speedily complete and equip the two large ward school buildings, one in the southern and the other in the western portion of the city. The prospects for the school for another session are very promising.

Faculty Suppresses School Journal.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 27.—Because it objected to some of the articles recently appearing in the DePaul Daily, a student publication of the DePaul university here, the university faculty has suppressed publication of the daily for the remainder of the school year.

Student editors objected when the faculty announced that next year the paper would appear as a weekly or semi-weekly and would be under strict supervision of the department of journalism.

EASTLAND, May 27.—The grand jury concluded another sitting on Wednesday afternoon, returning 20 indictments, and took a recess to a future date. Among those indicted and now in custody are the following:

Wallace Moore, alias J. E. Gilbert, charged with forgery of a $500 check on the Bank of Ranger on May 10.

Ernest Ackers, charged with aggravated assault on Jack Petty and W. F. Mills, and by such assault and with a pistol took from him $58.

Johnny Nicholson, charged with aggravated assault on Jack Petty and W. F. Mills, and with fraudulently taking from them $58 in money.

Pardon Advisers Recommend Release Twenty-two Convicts

AUSTIN, May 27.—Twenty-two pardons have been recommended by the board of pardon advisers for poor and friendless convicts in the state penitentiary, as a result of the recent trip taken by the board, with hearings conducted at El Paso, San Antonio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston and Houston. Approximately 3000 persons appeared before the board during the trip, and supplied a report filed by F. R. Smith, chairman of the board with the governor.

In most instances, pardons were recommended for convicts whose cases had never been brought to the attention of the board and the report gives some pitiful cases of misery and hardship discovered by the board during its investigations.

They visited the home of a mother of seven small children, whose husband was serving a term of five years for theft. They found that she was doing her best to support her family by taking in washing, but we could see way down in the eyes of this little woman and her children the lack of necessities of life and the lack of food to give them sufficient strength with which to combat life," said the report of the board.

Visits were received from several ex-convicts, according to the report, who wanted their citizenship restored, and in many cases the change in manner and appearance of the applicants was so marked that the board had difficulty in believing they were ex-convicts. The expenses of the trip to the state were $291.55, according to the report.

SILVER-ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. LAMB HERE

Thursday, May 27th, Mr. and Mrs. Morant Lamb celebrated the silver anniversary of their marriage in a very artistic way. This couple live in the rural district on a little farm as happily as any can live, in the modest little home fitted for two, as there has never been but two in the family.

Early Thursday morning they finished their day's work and came to town to meet their old-time friends, and talk over the days of the past 25 years.

Many old friends were notified that this was their anniversary, and as many responded to the notice, so when the time came for them to depart for their little home again to start out on another quarter of a century of married life, they found many packages to untie and many useful articles added to their home.

This couple are favored by all who know them.

OHIO FACTIONS COMPARE EFFECTS OF PROHIBITION

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 27.—Ohio has had one year of prohibition today. Both wets and drys have issued formal statements on the effects of prohibition in the 12 months.

Says J. A. White, superintendent of the Ohio anti saloon league:

The benefits of prohibition are on every hand fewer men in jail, more personal liberty, commitments to the Ohio penitentiary have decreased, Cincinnati will close workhouse the first of June; Columbus workhouse farm is leased; workhouse in Toledo to be diverted to other purposes. Arrests for drunkenness have decreased more than 50 per cent. Savings accounts increasing everywhere. Business men benefited by purchase of legitimate supplies for the home and merchant's accounts paid more promptly. Children being better supplied with the necessities of life and wives made happier.

"All these benefits have accrued to the state, notwithstanding the enforcement code is being held up by wets to a referendum and state is compelled to depend largely on the national government for enforcement of prohibition, with efforts of the wets to buy every official whose oath of office is for sale."

Says William F. Hess, secretary of the Ohio Brewers' association, speaking both for that organization and the Ohio Home Rule organization:

"One year's prohibition in Ohio has aggravated financial deficits in the cities and increased general taxation burdens to replace the loss of liquor revenue and to enforce an unpopular law, to the detriment of efficiency, forwents discontent among labor deprived of the milder beverages; has promoted emigration of needed unskilled labor; has been productive of the drinking and use of concoctions and drugs dangerous to health and life; has caused the manufacture of home brews, to the detriment of the state, as the same plans as the illegal still and subject to oppressive search and seizure.

"Prohibition, as promised, has not lessened divorce or any of the major crimes; has not benefited the inebriate and has only operated to deprive the temperate drinker of an enjoyment he believes himself entitled to under free institutions."

EASTLAND, May 27.—W. H. Burden of Ranger has filed suit against the Ranger-Stephens Production company, a joint stock association on a note for $5200, and asked to have the affairs of the defendant company placed in the hands of a receiver. The plaintiff alleges that he has a lien on some personal property of the defendant that is subject to rapid deterioration.

After a hearing in open court the court appointed Lionel Moise, an attorney of Ranger, as receiver of the defendant company, who will wind up the affairs of the company under the direction of the court.

Associated Oil Co. Buys 5,000 Acre Tract North of Eastland

EASTLAND, Tex., May 27.—James Hutcherson, manager of the Eastland properties of the Associated Oil Company, of California, announces that his company has purchased about 5,000 acres of land in Eastland county, and on a tract recently purchased from Senator H. P. Brelsford, lying just to the north and northwest of Eastland, north of the Gulf Production Co. buildings, will erect a large office and warehouse building. The company is capitalized at $50,000,000.

CISCO RAILROAD WILL COMPLETE BIG BRIDGE BEYOND LEERAY TODAY

The big cut, on "mile twenty" of the roadway of the Cisco and Northeastern, has been completed, according to reports from there Thursday. The big bridge, four miles northeast of Leeray, the report says, is to be completed today (Friday).

These are the two obstacles that have been retarding track-laying on this road. The grading is practically finished into Breckenridge, and now the track-laying will be run into that city in a very short while. Soon it will be heard at the Cisco depot: "All aboard for Breckenridge!"
