Mid-Season Clothes Put Wearer One Jump Ahead Of The Fashion Parade

Paquin uses Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs for a festive gown. The swinging skirt is hemmed with silver fox and is belted in rust red suede. The print is in rust red, white and beige on black. Suitable for wear as a formal afternoon or informal dinner dress, the details of the silhouette are accepted in Paris as forecasts of the next season's mode.

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE, NEA Service Staff Correspondent. PARIS. — This is the time of year when a new evening gown or a formal afternoon dress ought to be just a little ahead of current styles—the sort of thing that reflects spring trends.

Interesting and new as the New Year are silk prints created by Colombeau reproducing the characters of Walt Disney's film "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Paquin has used this very effectively in a formal afternoon dress which could also do duty as an informal dinner dress. The print is in subdued tones of rust red, white and beige on a black background.

The dress is made on simple lines with a full, swinging skirt edged with a deep band of silver fox. The fulness is distributed all around from the waistline with the fur acting as a restraining influence at the hem. The bodice shows a full front and easy fitting back, long sleeves and a high neckline. A high waist-belt of soft red suede stresses the small waist. All the features in this model may be accepted as a fashion forecast for next spring.

Another Version. Ardans uses another Walt Disney print in a different manner. The same design is shown on a red background and the dress is cut on simple, straight lines. Long, bell-shaped sleeves in white silk jersey with the new wide armholes which Ardans launched for the mid-season are encrusted with the little figures of the print scattered here and there and a deep hem of the same jersey on the skirt.

If it is a practical afternoon dress you need, nothing could be smarter and newer than the soft kid embroideries that Francavanni shows right at the moment. She uses this to match the color of the dress—in navy, corinth red and black—in the form of complicated arabesques forming a plastron on the bodice and sometimes to retain a front godet on the skirt.

The newest evening gowns offer the widest diversity of styles. The wide-skirted ones have the fulness gathered into the waistline, or attached to a long-waisted bodice that covers the hips. Others show fulness concentrated either in front or at the back, and detached apron panels are a new fashion feature. Corset belts, encrusted or separate, will continue well on into the spring, so will the swathed hipline launched by Maggy Rouff and the fitted, thigh-length tunics of Mainbocher.

Bouses Freshen Wardrobe. One of these tunic blouses, by the way, would be a very elegant addition to any wardrobe and would help eke out a winter suit or long coat. This can be made of satin, crepe or jersey, in black or navy blue to match the suit or in a directly contrasting color.

Again, a tunic will give new life to a tired evening dress, provided the skirt is cut on long, slim lines. Hemmed with silver or mink it becomes something extremely elegant, yet easy to wear. One thing to bear in mind, however, is that so far as style goes, the tunic should fit through the diaphragm and thighs like "the paper on the wall" with soft touches of shirring or drapery emphasizing the bustline.

The practical two-time evening ensemble is an almost indispensable number, especially for the limited pocketbook. These consist of a dress and jacket to match. The dress can be worn alone and is de-collete for more formal occasions. Worn with the jacket, it is good for the theater, for dinner and all other functions where full evening dress is not called for. The jacket is usually trimmed with glittering embroideries on the lapels, cuffs or fronts. Gold, silver or shaded embroidery effects are newer than multi-colored paillettes and will date less.

BELL UNIQUE IN U. S. HISTORY.

MILFORD, N. H. (U.P.)—Hanging in the Town House is a 135-year-old bell that has sounded a death knell for every President but George Washington. Cast in 1802 by Paul Revere, it remains mellow-toned and uncracked, tolling the hours daily.

Cunningham and San Romani Renew Struggle for Supremacy in Mile

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD,
NEA Service Sports Writer.
NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — As the nation's track and field stars launch themselves into another indoor season, it becomes apparent that the loudest noise of all will be made by the pounding feet of Glenn Cunningham and Archie San Romani.

There are those who claim that the shorter, quicker-striding San Romani is destined to become the new king of American milers. Cunningham has gone along year after year turning in super-performances in his specialty, and it would seem that it merely is a matter of time before his younger rival picks up where he leaves off.

The other afternoon in the Sugar Bowl of New Orleans, there was nothing to indicate that this is the year for the Cunningham fadeout, however.

Beaten by San Romani a year ago on the same cinders, Cunningham started the new year right by repelling not only his foremost rival but Don Lash and Charley Penske as well. His 4:13.2 lowered the southern record by eight-tenths of a second.

Cunningham, too, was the only 1936 champion to successfully defend his crown in the 1937 National A. A. U. meet.

The world indoor and outdoor marks are 4:08.4 and 4:06.5, respectively, and it is the hope of both San Romani and Lash — the latter supreme at two miles — that some fine day this will carve out a 4:06 mile. It's more than a hope with San Romani. It's a burning ambition.

Kansans' Careers Strangely Parallel.
Although the barrel-chested Cunningham breezed home in front of San Romani in the Sugar Bowl mile, they'll be closer than a couple of eyelashes, once the athletes get into their fully-conditioned swing. The spectacular careers of Cunningham and San Romani are strangely parallel. Both are natives of Kansas and now compete under the banner of the New York Curb Exchange. Both suffered such severe leg injuries in childhood that it was feared they would not walk again. Little San Romani patterned himself after his illustrious neighbor.

The indoor season starts in Flatbush, Jan. 8, with the Brooklyn Columbus Council K. C. meet, but not until next month will the bigger and star-studded gatherings get under way.

Cunningham and San Romani will not collide in the Brooklyn affair, the former once more preferring to open on the board at 800 meters. San Romani, who in the past hasn't been fond of such a distance, is to battle Lash at 3000 meters.

ARCHIE SAN ROMANI AND GLENN CUNNINGHAM,
GREATEST OF MILERS, NOW RESUME THEIR DUELS INDOORS...
LITTLE SAN ROMANI PATTERNED HIMSELF AFTER CUNNINGHAM... THEY NOW RUN UNDER THE BANNER OF THE NEW YORK CURB EXCHANGE...

The Millrose Games will be held at Madison Square Garden Feb. 6; the Senior Metropolitan Feb. 14; the New York A. C. Feb. 19; the National A. A. U. championships, climax of the entire indoor season, Feb. 26; the Intercollegiate A. A. U. championships, March 5 and the New York K. C. Games, March 12.

Boards and Records Due for Pounding.
Cunningham, San Romani, and Lash are not the only attractions who will be on display. Penske of Wisconsin is a younger star threatening all three.

John Woodruff of Pitt, who has no peer among the world's half-milers, will be around again with his 10-foot stride, with Elroy Robinson, Olympic Club runner, and Charley Beetham, former Ohio Stater, to chase him.

Bill Sefton and Earle Meadows, former Southern California ace, again will flirt with the 15-foot mark in the pole vault, but their efforts will depend on their ability to train as business-men athletes instead of the college variety.

Forrest Towns of Georgia and Alan Tolmich of Wayne University will take up their duel in the hurdles.

A great quartet of Negro athletes—Mel Walker and Dave Albritton of Ohio State, Ed Burke of Marquette, and Cornelius Johnson, formerly of Compton Junior College—will vie for supremacy in the high jump. The world record of 6 feet 10 3/8 inches currently is held by Walker.

It looks like "another big year" with both the boards and records due for a beating.

Aggies Will Meet Razorback Quartet in 2-Game Series

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Jan. 7. — Primed for conference action by two victories and two losses in pre-circuit games, the Texas Aggie cagers are looking forward anxiously to their tilt with the Arkansas Razorbacks on the floor of Memorial Gymnasium here Friday and Saturday nights, Jan. 7-8.

His style cramped by lack of experienced reserve material, Coach H. R. (Hub) McQuillian has been putting in long hours and hard sessions with his squad in an effort to develop some of the embryo stars of his squad numbering 18 men, eight of them came out for the team with experience on freshman teams, three are junior college transfers, one is a squadman, four are lettermen and one has no past experience at all. It is from these candidates that "Hub" hopes to work out winning combinations.

Bright spot on the horizon is mid-term when several more candidates will become eligible and add strength to the team.

Capt. Virgil (Buddy) Harris, Mineola, forward, has led the scoring to date. In the four games played he accounted for 45 of the 125 points made by the 11 players who have participated in those tilts.

Right behind him is Everett (Jim) Clark, Deyers, forward, with 26 points scored, while Louie Loebl, Fredreger, Point, center, has made 24 points, the trio accounting for a total of 104 points.

These three, with the addition of Walter (Banjo) Robert, Crockett, and Sam (Sammy) Dwyer, El Paso, at guards, will probably be the starting lineup for the Aggies Friday night.

Starting for the Razorbacks probably will be Capt. Don Lockard, Batesville, Ark. and Harold Brady, Weibers Falls, Okla. at forwards; Ray Hamilton, Sheridan, Ark. at center; and Jack Robinson, Little Rock, Ark., and Lendon Chambers, Stuttgart, Ark., as guards.

The Arkansas squad, running true to past form, is composed almost entirely of players standing six feet or taller. Only two of the nineteen-man squad are under the size.

Following the two-game series with Arkansas here this week-end, the Aggies may schedule another tilt where they play Rice, Saturday, Jan. 15.

Sardine Fishermen Hit By Spanish Cork Scarcity

SEATTLE (AP)—The Spanish war is being felt keenly by sardine fishermen of the Pacific Coast, Capt. Henry C. Fox, superintendent of the Salmon Bay terminals, said as fishermen outfitted sardine craft for opening of the season.

"All cork used in outfitting the sardiners comes from Spain, and the men are beginning to feel the effects of the war in that country," Fox said.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jackie, a chimpanzee at the zoo, had a toothache. Several of his companions tried to pull the aching molar with their fingers, but were unsuccessful.

Zoo attendants then gave Jackie a pair of pliers, and after a little experimentation he clamped them around the tooth and yanked it out. The other chimpanzees then pounced the tooth, shrieking in pre-ecstasy.

Explains One-Handed Shot.
"People wonder why I shoot one-handed," he explains. "The answer is simple. It isn't showmanship as many suspect. It's merely a matter of efficiency. I don't have to take time to get set when I shoot one-handed. That saves a half second. I can shoot while in motion, and what probably is most important of all, I can shoot with more accuracy."

There'll be no professional basketball for young Luisetti when he graduates in June. He's majoring in economics, and when he leaves the Stanford campus he'll step right into a job with a large oil company.

He is working his way through school, Hank says yes, very emphatically. He waits on table for his brothers at the Duke house, and during the football season toils in the athletic publicity office.

Basketball is his chief love, although in his sophomore year he made his varsity letter as a high jumper. Since then he has stuck to the cage sport exclusively.

But Angelo (Hank) Luisetti isn't one to take all the credit for his deeds.

"I have the good fortune to be playing with the greatest guys in the world," he asserts. "They'd rather have me shoot than anything else. And don't forget, too, that John Bunn made me the high-scoring I am."

Hunters Elude Warden By Hiking 15 Miles

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Two Pueblo men who were found hunting by Warden Leo Broux near Mustang walked 15 miles to save $25 and avoid arrest.

While Warden Broux was examining the license of their companion, the two men, who were some distance away, set out across the field for the highway. After 15 miles of travel, they emerged on a highway and one of the men phoned his wife to come and get them.

The companion waited at his car until dark for them to return.

AN ORDINANCE MAKING MANDATORY THE GRADING AND LABELING OF MILK AND CERTAIN MILK PRODUCTS SOLD OR OFFERED FOR SALE WITHIN THE CORPORATE LIMITS OF THE CITY OF MIDLAND, TEXAS; PROHIBITING THE SALE OF ADULTERATED, MISBRANDED, OR UNGRADED MILK, AND MILK PRODUCTS; REQUIRING AND PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUING AND REVOKING OF PERMITS FOR THE SALE OF MILK AND MILK PRODUCTS; AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE CITY HEALTH OFFICER TO RECEIVE APPLICATIONS FOR, INSPECT DAIRIES AND MILK PLANTS AND GRANT OR REVOKE PERMITS TO PERSONS, FIRMS AND CORPORATIONS TO SELL OR OFFER FOR SALE GRADED MILK AND MILK PRODUCTS WITHIN THE CITY; PROVIDING FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF FUTURE DAIRIES AND MILK PLANTS; ADOPTING THE PROVISIONS OF SENATE BILL 83 PASSED BY THE REGULAR SESSION OF THE 45TH LEGISLATURE, 1937; PROVIDING FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THIS ORDINANCE; AND THE FIXING OF PENALTIES, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Regular Session of the 45th Legislature, 1937, passed an Act known as Senate Bill 83, relative to the grading and labeling of milk and milk products and authorizing the governing bodies of cities to make mandatory the grading and grade labeling of milk and milk products sold and offered for sale within the corporate limits of such cities, and

WHEREAS, it is necessary to regulate the sale of milk and milk products within the City of Midland, for the promotion of health, the governing body of said City desires to require permits for the sale of milk and milk products and to make mandatory the grading and labeling of milk and milk products sold and offered for sale within the corporate limits of the City of Midland, Texas, now therefore,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MIDLAND, TEXAS:

Section 1. That hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell or offer for sale any milk or milk products within the corporate limits of the City of Midland, without such person, firm or corporation first makes application to and receives a permit from the City Health Officer to sell such milk or milk products. The City Health Officer shall issue or revoke such permits in accordance with the requirements and conditions hereinafter set forth; provided he may revoke or refuse to issue a permit, if in his judgment any milk is unfit for human consumption.

Section 2. The City Health Officer of the City of Midland is hereby authorized and directed to receive applications for, and grant permits to persons, firms and corporations desiring to sell or offer for sale milk and milk products within the City; provided said Health Officer shall inspect the equipment and sanitation of the dairies and milk plants and grade the milk according to the provisions of Senate Bill 83, passed by the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, and in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by the State Health Officer pursuant thereto. The grading and labeling of milk and milk products sold and offered for sale within the corporate limits according to definition (P), Section 1 of the said Senate Bill 83, for grades "A", "B", "C" and "D" raw milk and milk products, and definition (Q) for grades "A", "B" and "C" pasteurized milk and milk products, is hereby made mandatory. These specifications are on file with the City Clerk for public examination.

Section 3. Adulterated, Misbranded, or Ungraded Milk or Milk Products Prohibited.
No person shall within the City of Midland or its police jurisdiction, produce, sell, offer or expose for sale, or have in possession with intent to sell any milk or milk product which is adulterated, misbranded, or ungraded within the meaning of and under the penalty of the aforesaid Senate Bill 83. Violation of this Section shall be sufficient cause for revocation of permits for the sale of milk or milk products.

Section 4. All pasteurized milk and milk products shall be placed in their final delivery containers in the plant in which they are pasteurized, and all raw milk and milk products sold for consumption in the raw state shall be placed in their final delivery containers at the farm at which they are produced.

Section 5. All future dairies and milk plants from which milk or milk products are supplied to the City of Midland which are hereafter constructed, reconstructed, or extensively altered shall conform in their construction to the grade A requirements of this ordinance.

Section 6. Enforcement interpretation. This ordinance shall be enforced by the City Health Officer in accordance with the interpretations thereof contained in the 1936 edition of the U. S. Public Health Service Milk code and aforesaid Senate Bill 83.

Section 7. 12 months from the effective date of this ordinance, no milk or milk products shall be sold except grade A and B pasteurized, certified, and grade A raw; provided lower grades may be sold during degrading periods as determined by the City Health Officer.

Section 8. Repeal and Date of Effect. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed; and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect immediately upon its adoption and its publication, as provided by law.

Section 9. Unconstitutionality clause. Should any section, paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of said ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 10. Any person, firm, corporation or association of persons who shall sell, offer for sale, or possess for the purpose of sale any milk or milk product within the City of Midland, without having a permit, authorizing the sale of same, issued by the City Health Officer of the City of Midland, Texas, or who shall sell or possess for the purpose of sale any milk or milk product after a permit has been revoked or suspended shall be fined in a sum not exceeding One Hundred Dollars, and each separate sale, or possession for sale, will constitute a separate offense.

Section 11. Where violations of this ordinance and the provisions of said Senate Bill 83 are found, the City Health Officer, his agents or any other city officer having jurisdiction, shall file complaint or complaints in some court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 12. The fact that there are not proper health and safety guards to the health and general welfare of our people in the production, grading, labeling, distribution and sale of milk and/or milk products in the City creates an emergency and a public necessity that the rule requiring ordinances to be read on several successive dates be suspended, and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication, and it is so ordained.

Passed and approved this 4th day of January, 1938.

M. C. ULMER,
Mayor.

Luisetti Orders Stanford Mates To Quit Feeding Him

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD,
NEA Service Sports Writer.
Angelo Luisetti didn't realize he was shattering the world's scoring record for a single basketball game until it suddenly dawned on him that the stream of substitutes coming in from the Cardinal bench were performing in a rather strange manner.

Stanford was playing Duquesne in Cleveland in the last game of its eastern trip, and was enjoying a healthy lead of some 50 points. Angelo, who is known more familiarly as Hank, knew that he had tossed quite a few field goals. Just how many he didn't know.

Then it was that Captain Hank noticed that replacements were trying to pass the ball to him at every opportunity. In fact they tried too hard. They found themselves lightened up. Passes went wild. Captain Hank took time out to find out why, and sheepishly, they told him.

Luisetti tossed 35 points in the first half, and the world record for a single game was 41.

So Coach John Bunn gave orders to feed the lanky sharpshooter until he had racked up all the points he could get. But Hank was too much of a team player for that. He ordered his mates to shoot whenever they got an open shot. Orders is hardly the word. He screamed at them. Fairly pleaded with them.

Yet when the evening's work was done, Luisetti had scored the amazing total of 50 points, as Stanford routed the Dukes, 92-27.

Luisetti Perfectly Balanced.
There is little doubt that Luisetti is the greatest college player ever developed. Bunn, who has seen plenty of basketball in his day, would rave for hours about the slim Italian youth of San Francisco, but he finds words can't describe him.

"He's perfectly balanced," says Bunn. "His co-ordination is fabulous. He never makes a false move. That one-handed shot of his can't be stopped by anyone, and he lets it fly from anywhere on the floor. What's more, he's a great team leader, and a marvelous floor man. He could play on our team if he never scored a point."

Luisetti frankly admits he established no reputation at all, as a high school player.

"I was just a big, skinny kid, and if I made six points a game I considered myself hot. It wasn't until I got to Stanford that I developed my scoring eye."

His "scoring eye" incidentally enabled him to sink 416 points in his sophomore year, and 410 points

vociferous in their protests. But in this case the motorist was being singled out as the chief victim of a hastily conceived economy move. Apparently the fact that the motorist of the United States was paying into the federal treasury far more than was being returned in road aid was disregarded and no substantial effort was made to ascertain the highway need of the nation or determine how they would be affected by the proposal.

"There should be no lessening of highway activity unless there is a corresponding decrease in other enterprises and unless there is a decrease in the heavy taxes the motorist is being called upon to pay. On the basis of equity, the government should pull back into highways at least the amount it derives in special taxes on the motor vehicle and highway usage.

"Highway construction ranks among the leaders in providing employment. During the past five years in Texas an average of 22,176 workers have been employed daily directly on highway work. For each man engaged actively in operations on the highway it is calculated an equal number will be engaged in supporting lines. Thus roughly 45,000 persons are directly dependent on Texas highway construction. It also is reasonable to assume that all but a negligible portion of these workers are men with families.

"Using the accepted average of five persons per family we find that 225,000 persons in Texas look to highway construction for their bread and butter.

From official reports of the Texas Highway Department we find that 2,387 of the 21,113 miles that comprise the state highway system is classified as "unimproved." The reports disclose further that 350 miles of roads now carried on the maps as "paved" are badly in need of rebuilding. This will cost the sum of $17,000,000. Another 1,600 miles of the state system must be widened at a cost of $24,000,000. Another very important item is that of mileage that must be replaced and, therefore, reconstructed through out. To bring the 3,900 miles of roads in this classification to a first class condition will cost $133,000,000. The construction of 354 major bridge structures is involved at a total of $10,200,000. To complete the "unimproved" mileage will cost $82,845,000. Add these figures together and $277,045,000 is needed to place the existing state highway system in first class shape. This does not take into consideration the need for expansion of the state system to include several hundred miles of highly important roads that must eventually be designated and constructed.

"Neither does this figure include the staggering sums that are needed for farm-to-market road construction, a phase that is becoming increasingly important in the highway picture. In Texas it is estimated there are between 180,000 and 200,000 miles of roads that fall in this category.

"There is an intangible loss that the public will sustain which reaches staggering proportions. The saving of money and time that would accrue to one motorist as a result of good roads may be insignificant. At a saving of two cents a mile on the basis of 1,400,000 vehicles operating daily in Texas the sum is a figure that cannot be tossed aside lightly.

"Figured on any basis, highway construction is the most beneficial of all public works. It provides the public with facilities that will be used for years almost to the day. The saving of money and time that would accrue to one motorist as a result of good roads may be insignificant. At a saving of two cents a mile on the basis of 1,400,000 vehicles operating daily in Texas the sum is a figure that cannot be tossed aside lightly.

"When the waters subsided and refugees returned to their homes to view the havoc and misery wrought by the flood, feeling ran high. From one end of the valley to the other was echoed the cry: "It must never happen again."

Newspaper and speakers took up the cry. Mass meetings were held, and orators called for "immediate action."

When the clean up work began, anti-flood conferences were in full swing in virtually every city. Resolutions were adopted calling upon congress to act immediately.

And then the conferees went back home, to try to rehabilitate themselves, their families and their businesses. River towns began to take on their old appearances, and life returned to its usual, placid routine.

Ohio Valley Lacks Protection Year After Devastating Flood In The Area

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 7 (AP)—It has been almost a year since the "great flood" swept through the Ohio Valley, drove half a million persons from their homes and destroyed $400,000,000 worth of property, but the first anniversary finds little done to prevent a repetition of the disaster.

An airplane observer, flying over this quiet and fertile region today, would find the landscape little changed. A survey of flood area indicates that public indifference, legal difficulties and vanity probably are the chief causes of the failure to take action.

Many residents of valley towns have grown accustomed to floods of varying intensity and seem to accept them as a part of their fate.

One old "river rat" at Marietta, where the last flood caused $1,500,000 damage, said it was "the curse of Satan."

Many cities have refused to apply for any federal flood funds or to vote local funds because the people believe walls and other protective works would be "unsightly."

Cost Thwart Projects.
Others contended the cost of the projects would far exceed the value of the property they were designed to protect.

In response to the urgent demands that poured into Washington following the disaster, congress set aside about $25,000,000 in WPA funds for flood projects. Under WPA rulings, 70 per cent of the grant had to be used for labor with only 30 per cent for materials. The cities themselves were to purchase the rights-of-way.

City officials and engineers contend flood projects cannot be built on this basis.
