Russians Give Aid To China

Pilots, Planes of Soviet Helping to Push Japanese Back

NANCHANG, Jan. 17 (AP).—Soviet warplanes and pilots aiding China in her fight against the Japanese made this remote capital of the Kiangsi province hum with aerial activity today.

At least 100 Russian planes and more than 100 Soviet pilots and mechanics were operating from here, making raids on Japanese flying fields and military concentrations.

Chinese armies on the northern, central and Kiangsi valley fronts were reported to have pushed back the Japanese in a series of counter attacks.

The Chinese eighth army, organized from once outlawed communist units to challenge Japan's north China conquest, was reported today to have inflicted heavy losses on the Japanese in central Shanxi Province.

Chinese sources said the Japanese attacked 50 miles south of the provincial capital, Taiyuan, but encountered a withering opposition and were forced into a costly retreat.

The strength of the one-time communist irregulars harassing the Japanese in North China has been estimated at 100,000 men, reported now under the command of General Chu Teh, who gained a reputation as a military genius for his leadership of the communists.

Meanwhile, foreign imports in this Japanese-dominated trade gateway to China sought action from their governments to iron out a customs inequality they feared would wreck their markets.

Japanese duty imports are free.

Probable Slash in Proration Figures Is Indicated Today

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 (AP).—Probability that Texas oil production will be slashed was indicated at the monthly proration hearing today as the federal bureau of mines reported 1,365,704 barrels would be required from Texas in February.

The current allowable is approximately 1,405,240 barrels.

LaGuardia Says Relief Necessary During Recession

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Mayor LaGuardia of New York told the senate unemployment committee today that New York "could not have existed" during the business recession without federal aid.

He disclosed New York relief applications mounted from $700 million in September to more than $2,700 million at the present time.

WPA Materials Cost in Texas 7 Million

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17.—Materials, supplies and equipment for use in Works Progress Administration projects in Texas were purchased at a total cost of $7,829,902 during the calendar year of 1937. It was disclosed today by Stearns E. Tucker, deputy state administrator.

Purchase of textiles for use in WPA sewing rooms, cement to be used in construction work, and lumber products were items upon which the largest amounts of money were spent.

All purchases for WPA projects are made through the Procurement Division of the United States Treasury.

$1000 for a Glimpse of Bruno

White-bearded, 89-year-old Amandus Hochmuth is pictured above as he received his $1000 share of the $25,000 Lindbergh kidnaping case reward from Gov. Harold Hoffman of New Jersey, in one of the final acts of the world-stirring tragedy. Aiding greatly in the conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the kidnaper, the aged Hopewell farmer identified the German carpenter as the occupant of a "dirty, green sedan containing a ladder," near the Lindbergh home.

Return Visit Of Thief Asked

Wanted: The thief who broke into the "pigeon hole" in a car parked at 809 W. Louisiana last night and stole some gasoline coupon books to return again tonight.

L. I. Saunders, owner of the ransacked automobile, declared today he was making a second visit by the thief or thieves just as attractive as possible by placing some more coupon books in the car today. And that's not all!

Saunders said that the unwelcome nocturnal visit last night was the fourth he has had in recent weeks and that he is getting "more than a little bit tired of them."

An offer to the thief of some free lead (used in shotgun shells) for possible sale to warring nations was made by Saunders today.

Senator Alleges Office Sacked by Interior Agents

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Senator McCarran, democrat, Nevada, told the public lands committee today that he had received a report interior department investigators had entered his office at night and ransacked his files a year and a half ago.

McCarran asked Louis Glavis, former head of the department's investigation service, whether the report was true.

Glavis replied he left the interior department more than one year ago.

Glavis testified in connection with the public lands committee's consideration of the nomination of E. K. Burley as first assistant secretary of the department.

Fasting Dean Noe Remains Foodless For Fifteenth Day

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 17 (AP).—Dean Israel Harding Noe startled a large congregation at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday, the 15th day of his abstinence from food and water, with the ultimatum that the church needs to offer living proof of man's immorality to bring doubters to its services.

"Unless the Church of Christ in this twentieth century can produce a demonstration of the fact that the whole gospel can be lived here and now, by man, the church will be closed to close its doors and the sooner it closes its doors the better it will be for men," the emaciated clergyman declared.

His voice was husky, much weaker than the voice with which he has exhorted congregations in the past. But it was strong enough to carry through the large cathedral. Some of the members thought he looked stronger than earlier in the week.

The dean's sermon served as a public declaration of his own efforts to prove through abstinence from food, and "taking strength from the divine source," man can "put on the Godhead bodily." But he made no explicit mention of fasting.

An elder said there were "a lot of strange faces" in the congregation this morning. After services, the dean demonstrated his vigor by standing at the door of the cathedral and shaking the hands of several hundred persons, many of whom he called by name.

Chautemps Recalled After Blum Fails to Organize French Cabinet

Roosevelt's Nominee as New Justice

Reed married Winifred Elgin of Maysville, in 1918. The two are shown above examining the pictures of their two sons on a mantel in their home. Reflections of Mr. and Mrs. Reed may be seen in the mirror.

Is Third Choice of President

New Discoveries Of Hidden Arms Made by Officers

PARIS, Jan. 17 (AP).—Camille Chautemps struggled in an anxious atmosphere today to form a new cabinet of ministers to meet France's four-day crisis, precipitated when his own cabinet resigned Friday in the face of financial and labor troubles. President Albert Lebrun summoned the radical-socialist former premier after Leon Blum, socialist leader, failed to gain support for a "national union" government.

The country's restlessness was increased by new discoveries of hidden arms caches in the sure national drive against leftist and rightist revolutionary organizations.

Blum became premier in June, 1936 and held office for a year. He was forced out when the Senate refused him decree powers to deal with a financial crisis.

The same financial crisis, aggravated by labor troubles and attacks on French prestige abroad, brought the downfall of Chautemps, Radical-Socialist head of the second people's front government, early Friday.

Paris was calm under sullen winter skies during the period of anxious waiting for a new government to be formed to meet the manifold problem of the crisis:

1. The end of widespread strikes by bringing capital and labor together on a code of social peace;

2. Strengthening of the failing franc by settling the dispute of the free franc against exchange control.

Senate Seat Offer Refused Today by Jersey City Mayor

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 17 (AP).—Governor-elect Harry Moore offered his United States senate seat to Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City as a "birthday present" today but the mayor turned it down.

Moore, a democrat, will be inaugurated tomorrow.

Hague declined the appointment, saying it would "look too much as if I were running away from a fight."

He is engaged in a verbal battle with the Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Civil Liberties Union, having charged their leaders were communists.

Two Convicts Shot In Attempted Break

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP)—Two convicts were shot and wounded seriously Sunday when a group of five made a break for freedom over the old Joliet prison wall.

The men, working in the prison laundry, overpowered Guard Edward Monahan, used frame clothes hangers as a makeshift ladder, and scaled the wall just as the guard was changing.

As the men raced 100 yards from the laundry to the wall, Guard Thomas Shaw observed them from his watch tower. Using his rifle in the gathering dusk, Shaw picked off Harry Gerken and Donald Loftis and they fell inside the prison yard.

Peter Ristich and William Yoho leaped over the wall and raced down the street as Shaw turned on the prison siren.

His arguments have indicated definite liberalism along with a desire to fit New Deal laws into reasonable constitutional limitations. He has argued the gold clause case, the AAA, the Wagner Act and many other cases, recently with conspicuous success.

No man, except the President, perhaps, has borne a greater strain in the last two years. On the day, for instance, that he appeared before the U. S. Supreme Court to defend the AAA, Reed also argued for the Bankhead cotton law.

BULLETIN

KILGORE, Jan. 17 (AP).—A burning oil well in the heart of the Kilgore district today threatened to ignite a score of buildings here.

Flames shot 50 feet in the air, throwing sparks against the Crane Memorial hospital 25 feet away. Five patients were removed.

The blaze started when blowing gas and oil during drilling operations were ignited from a nearby laundry boiler.

Fire departments rushed here from Longview, Henderson and Overton.

Crop Control Need Said Not Urgent by Capital Leaders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—Administration leaders said Sunday the need for a new production-control program for 1938 crops did not appear so urgent as when President Roosevelt called Congress into special session last fall to consider legislation for it.

They explained that recent developments indicated the threat of excessive agricultural surpluses was not so great as when last year's bumper crops were being harvested.

It was such a threat that caused farm prices to decline during the harvest period, leaders said.

Since, then, however, prices of wheat, corn and, to a lesser extent cotton have advanced. This relieved some of the pressure for immediate congressional action.

A conference committee is attempting to adjust differences between the farm bills passed by the House and Senate.

Agricultural Department officials said these other factors had tended to lessen the need this year of the new program.

Improvement of the export markets which shows signs, because of unexpected grain shortages, elsewhere, of taking American corn and wheat at greater volume than expected last fall.

Moisture shortage and dust storms in the winter and spring wheat areas threatening to cause a smaller yield next summer.

Recent government reports showing a substantial increase in livestock on feed in the corn belt, indicating that more grain will be needed for feeding than anticipated.

Should drought conditions continue in the midwest, only cotton growers, say officials, might need control measures to prevent production of another excessive crop.

Leaders emphasized that they considered need of the legislation as great as ever, however.

"It would be nice to have the legislation on the books," they said "just in case it were needed."

Howard County Is "Dried Up" Sunday

BIG SPRING, Jan. 17 (AP).—Legal liquor had its day of grace here Sunday, but officials announced that dry laws will be in force in Howard county Monday. Validity of an election under which the county went dry was upheld Friday and last night was the fixed deadline on legal sales of liquors and beverages; but Liquor Control Board agents permitted package stores and beer vendors to operate yesterday.

Rulings came from Austin that an appeal on the election contest does not affect the county's dry status, and agents said that dry status must begin Monday.

Half-Billion Navy Budget Approved By Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—The house appropriations committee recommended today $553,266,484 to finance the navy during the coming fiscal year, an increase of $26,723,186 over the current year.

Although the figure was $139,967 less than the budget requested, it would permit the start of construction of 22 new ships, including two battleships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, six submarines and four auxiliary vessels.

Immediate Repeal Of Tax Is Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP).—M. L. Sediman, chairman of the New York board of trade tax committee, today urged the house ways and means committee to approve immediate repeal of the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes as a "stimulant" to business.

He said no tax was more "hated or discredited" or puts such fear in business.

Industry Is Willing to Bet on Future

Amid all of this talk of economic depression and financial difficulty, there is always the danger that the nation may lose sight of the brighter side of the picture.
And there is a brighter side—born not of mere wishful thinking or Pollyanna optimism, but of cold figures revealing the extent to which industry and business have faith in the future.

In the realm of plant construction alone, just six of the many proposed plans of expansion add up to the imposing total of nearly $300,000,000 which is being spent or will be spent during 1938.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., one of the nation's great industrial concerns, has announced plans to spend $38,000,000 on new construction during the coming year.

The Aluminum Company of America is going ahead with a $26,000,000 expansion program begun in 1937 and carried over into the new year, and announces it will maintain production schedules regardless of the volume of orders.

Republic Steel Corporation is proceeding with work on its new $15,000,000 plant in Cleveland, undismayed by the fact that the national steel production rate right now is at the lowest level in years.

Industrial Rayon Corporation is planning to open a new $12,000,000 plant in Painesville, O., in June, and recently announced plans to build another 15,000,000-pound capacity factory to cost between $7,000,000 and $10,000,- 000.

The Ford Motor Company is in the midst of a building and expansion program which eventually will cost $40,000,000.

Floyd L. Carlisle, chairman of Consolidated Edison Company of New York, recently announced that his public utility would undertake an expansion and building program to cost approximately $112,000,000.

Many other companies are planning smaller additions to plant or equipment. And in addition, a recent survey made from Washington showed that construction
and modernization of such buildings as apartment houses, factories and office structures will total $63,000,000 for the entire country during 1938.

All of this does not even mention the millions of dollars being spent by business and industry in developing such fields as pre-fabricated housing, trans-Atlantic and other airplane service, facsimile broadcasting by radio, and others.

Lumped together, the evidence seems conclusive that the nation's business men, although perhaps none too pleased by present conditions, have not lost confidence in the future.

Tung and Soy

The tung tree and the soy bean tell a story.
When most of us learned our geography, the answer to the question, "What do we get from Manchuria?" was always, in part, "Soy beans."

Within the last 10 years soy beans have become almost a major crop in the United States. Soon there will be no need to get them from what the Japanese now call Manchukuo.

The same geography lesson listed among imports
from China "tung oil," an extract prepared from a tree and used in paint-making. Now the Mississippi tung plantations are already in production, and a single company has bought 120,000 acres of land to grow tung trees. Soon we will be producing our own tung oil.

Japan, commonly said to have no petroleum resources,
is now installing through the German Krupps huge plants in Manchukuo to distill oil from coal. Within a few years, the Japanese navy may have all the fuel oil it wants.

It isn't safe to count chickens today even after they're hatched. You have to wait until they're actually on the table.

35,000—Count 'em

Lots of people deplore the fact that this is an age of specialization. They regret that we have doctors who won't operate except on the left ear, lawyers who take only bicycle-accident cases, teachers who spend a lifetime on the ablativ case.

Where are the old-time Jeffersons and Franklins,
they ask, who could do everything and do it pretty well?
Generally speaking, they are gone, lost in the mist
of complexity that surrounds modern life. Just as an illustration: In the early days of motoring, every man was his own mechanic. He had to be, because there weren't any mechanics who knew cars.

But he could be, too. For the early cars were pretty crude and simple. Today's car, it is estimated by manufacturers, has perhaps 35,000 individual parts in the standard four-door sedan.

All the rest of life is like that today. Boy, page us an expert!

Nazi army officials have instituted a campaign of "silence training" to prevent soldiers from giving away military secrets. Presumably they hope other nations will NOT follow suit.

Why worry about the future of China? With Chinese armies destroying everything as they retreat, and Japanese troops finishing the job as they advance, there soon will be no China left to worry about.

The British colonial secretary facetiously suggests perhaps Britain should offer Ireland to Italy for colonization. Well, that would be one way of taking Il Duce down

In Washington

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — The yen of the American people for peace dies hard, and probably will continue to plague Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

That is the most significant aspect of the House vote against consideration of the Ludlow amendment for a popular referendum on war, in which 188 congressmen—pushed on by popular pressure—voted for consideration of the measure, as against 209 members who voted to kill it. The 209 were backed by an extraordinary degree of official and other pressure.

In future dealing with Japan and Germany, and Italy—especially Japan—Roosevelt and Hull want to be in a position to be just as hard-bodied as they think the situation requires.

Hull is fond of saying that if down
in his Tennessee country if a couple of men meet in the woods and have an argument and one man has left his gun 60 paces back and the other only 15 paces, there's no question of who wins the argument.

There is also a strong group represented in the administration as well as in Congress, which seeks a check on executive discretion in foreign affairs, distrusts Roosevelt's fondness for taking chances and making spectacular gestures and deplores official reversion to the "national honor" school of thought.
This group draws much of its strength from the middle west.

STRONG peace sentiment everywhere has caused Roosevelt and Hull to pull their international punches ever since the Chicago
"quarantine" speech. And although defeat of the Ludlow amendment removes a threat to put them in a straitjacket, crystal gazers are analyzing the pro Ludlow vote in the light of the fact that it was cast
under as intense "heat" as the administration ever applied. They deduce that there will be a solid backlog of opposition to official warlike gestures.

Roosevelt, Hull, Speaker Bank-
head, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn and lesser leaders want their full limits to kill the amendment.

Texas University
Exec Preparing for Banquets, Programs

AUSTIN.—Ex-students of the University of Texas are already getting plans under way for their annual March 2 reunion banquets and programs, not only in Texas but throughout the country. It is indicated by communications to the state headquarters of the association here. More enthusiasm than usual is being evidenced, particularly among out-of-state groups, association officials said.

A new group at Shreveport, La.,
is making plans for a March 2 dinner, according to letters from R. F.
Cates, 1922 master of business administration graduate, and Robert S. See, who is now a staff member of Centenary College. Approximately 200 former students of the university now live in Shreveport, ex-
student files show.

Activity in another fresh territory was promised by the recent visit to ex-student headquarters from Mrs.
Margaret S. McManister, who was a student in the college of arts and sciences periodically from 1913 to 1926. She now lives at San Diego, Calif., and is preparing to call the two down "Texas execs" in that city together for a March 2 meeting.

Each year approximately 100 groups, ranging in size from three or four to several thousand, gather on March 2 to talk over old times
at the university and to refresh themselves on happenings on the present campus. Even former students living in foreign countries are known to observe March 2 not only as Texas Independence Day but as a university reunion day.

their memberships and perhaps primarily concerned with keeping their stand-ins with the War Department,
throw all their famous strength
against it.

The great bulk of newspapers denounced the proposal. Members of the House were dragged out of hospitals in wheel chairs to vote
with the administration.

Use Panay Incident.
THE idea was widespread that the Ludlow amendment was a cock-eyed proposal, perhaps as likely to get the country into war as to keep our floor attack cooler on the original, poorly worded Ludlow proposal rather than on the measure
as it would have been "perfected"
by changes. These changes, proposed by Ludlow, would have eliminated referendum requirements in any foreign invasion of this hemisphere.

And finally the administration had been immensely strengthened by the bombing of the Panay, which it had carefully used to bat down
"peace-at-any-price" sentiment.

If there had been no Panay incident the Ludlow amendment would have been voted out to the House floor.

Heaviest Pressure on Bill.
YET there were those 188 votes and they stand as portent. It is never easy to segregate such a vote
as between members who vote from conviction, those influenced by organized lobbies and those responding to vociferous expressions from constituents. Peace organizations showed unexpected strength in bringing pressure to bear and stirring up popular sentiment.

But tens of thousands of persons merely read about the war referendum proposal in the newspapers and were impelled to write their congressmen. Even some anti-amendment members admit there was "more pressure by the people on this than on any bill ever heard of, including the Townsend Plan."

Facilitate who promise to bring the issue into the 1938 elections may get places that way or may not. But they do seem to have been successful in erecting a sign before Mr.
Roosevelt and Mr. Hull which says
"Go Slow!"

Endeavor Studies Second in Series Missionary Lessons

Second in a series of missionary lessons, the intermediate Endeavor studied "Our Missionary Forces" in its regular meeting Sunday.

Jimmie Pickering was program leader for the meeting and presented the opening talk.

Mrs. Glenn Brunson, as guest speaker, spoke on the missionaries in Africa and told of the junior missionaries and their work. These junior missionaries are the children of the missionaries and work in their own sphere.

Additional talks were made by Doris Lynn Pemberton and Charles Reader, after which the meeting was closed with sentence prayers and the Mizpah benediction.

Preceding the program numbers, after two missionary songs were sung, the meeting was turned over to the Endeavor president, Doris Lynn Pemberton, for a business meeting. It was decided to have an Endeavor party at the banquet hall of the church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Present were: Doris Lynn Pemberton, Jimmie Pickering, Charles Reader, Bobbie Park, Mrs. Z. T. Reader, and the guest speaker, Mrs. Glenn Brunson.

Removing Sticky Spots

To remove gum or sticky fly paper from materials, take as much as possible off by scraping, then gasoline, carbon tetrachloride, or alcohol will remove the rest. Rain spots will come out if you sponge with clear cool water or press the material under a cloth wrung out of hot water.

Signs of Good Veal

When you buy veal the next time, be sure of these points: It should have a faint, pink flesh, little or no edge fat, and other fat should be pinkish in tint. Milk fed veal is the best and should be at least four weeks old before it is slaughtered.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

COFFEE TROUBLES HIT BRAZIL

COFFEE, that stimulating little product which got its start in ancient Ethiopia, is growing too fast these days for Brazil.

More than 3,000,000,000 coffee trees, three-fifths of all in the world, are producing along Brazil's highlands, glutting the market and thereby skidding coffee prices to new lows. Already Brazil has burned 52,000,000 bags since 1931 and now it has reduced its export tax on the commodity.

In the last crop year Brazil alone produced 68 per cent of the world's coffee, while 38 other countries and colonies, chiefly Colombia, Netherlands East Indies, Venezuela, Guatemala and Salvador, provide the remainder.

Coffee has come a long way from its humble beginning, on the windy slopes of Ethiopia where the tree has grown wild since primitive times. There is a legend that a priest discovered coffee's stimulating properties when his goats became restless after eating the coffee berries.

From Ethiopia, coffee was taken to Arabia, thence to Java and finally to the Americas, where it found its greatest reception. Arabia and Java were one time its major producers. Liberty holding coffee leaves is shown on a 1927 Brazilian stamp, commemorating the bicentenary of the introduction of the coffee tree there. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Misses Bodiné and English Entertain With Miscellaneous Shower for Bride

Honoring Mrs. Clyde Chandler, who was Miss Frances (Punk) Jones before her marriage during the holiday season, Miss Bonnie English and Miss Laverne Bodiné entertained with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Bodiné, 700 N. Main street, Saturday afternoon from 4 o'clock until six.

A color scheme of pink and green was employed in party appointments with pink and white sweetpeas as the favored flowers.

Miss Vivian Smelley presided at the bride's register which was in pink and green.

The honoree was presented with a white caryanthemum corsage with silver leaves and ribbons sent by her aunt, Mrs. Claudia Duncan. Games for the afternoon were directed by the hostesses and Miss Smelley.

Musical selections included both vocal and instrumental numbers. Mrs. Duncan sang "The One Rose" as a solo. With Miss Marguerite Bivens she presented a duet, "I Love You Truly." Mrs. H. L. Straughan Sr. accompanied for the songs and also was at the piano during the refreshment service hour.

As the climax of the afternoon a large pink and green basket filled with packages was brought in and put before the bride, who opened and displayed the gifts.

The party plate served followed the chosen color motif in its pink and green cake and cocoa topped by marshmallows in the same colors.

Present were: The honor guest, Mmes. W. T. Chandler, C. V. Dale, Charlie Ulmer, Bill Sherrod, Margaret House, Claudia Duncan, L. H. Tiffin, H. L. Straughan Sr., Clint Crouch, Luth Abel, Misses Helen Sheppard, Vivian Smelley, Lucille McMullan, Marguerite Bivens, and the hostesses.

Cox Warns Against Smallpox Epidemic

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 17.—Texas is faced with the probability of local smallpox epidemics if precautions are not immediately employed, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Last year there was not a single death from smallpox in Texas, while last week over thirty cases and two deaths were reported.

"Smallpox epidemics would never occur if everyone, and especially children could be effectively vaccinated. The lack of vaccination causes the present menace of this disease. Modern safeguards have removed every legitimate objection to vaccination. The virus is made from calves and, consequently, is incapable of transmitting human blood diseases.

"A primary vaccination with one successful vaccination will, as a rule, protect throughout life from the milder forms of smallpox, but this is not true in the severer types of this disease. Therefore, be vaccinated and re-vaccinated at least every seven years, so that you will have the greatest protection possible and the least chance of being sick. Revaccination should also be done after each time you have been near a known case of small pox, for you know that the old vaccination protects if the new one fails to 'take'. Vaccination is not to be feared but rather to be sought as the only safe, positively harmless and absolutely certain safeguard against smallpox.

BY HARRY GRAYSON.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. — The American League is approximately four miles ahead of the National in the matter of promotion.

I name that distance because "Batter Up!" is the fourth and finest instructional sound picture put out by the junior circuit. In four years 12,000,000 people have seen these films.

Asked to name the biggest handicap in the development of young ball players, Lou Fonseca, promotional director of the American League, unhesitatingly answers, "Spring football."

"Football in the fall is bad enough," explains the old first baseman, batting champion, and White Sox manager, "but spring practice prevents a boy from playing baseball at all."

"I wouldn't give you a list of the fine prospects lost to baseball because of football," young men who passed up bonuses for signing and 10 years or more of rather important money just to delight rooting sections.

Fifty Per Cent of Players Come From Colleges.

BASEBALL rapidly was being wiped out of football-minded high schools and colleges when Fonseca tackled his present assignment in 1934. To be exact, there were 297 major colleges playing baseball then, the great majority of them in a half-hearted way. In 1938, there will be 415 major colleges rather excited about baseball.

Fifty per cent of major league talent now comes from the colleges.

"The place to catch the young ball player is in high school," says Fonseca. "That's where he chooses his major sport."

This is why the American League plans to conduct an eight week baseball school in six cities this summer, with youngsters from 8 to 17 years of age eligible.

The plan was tried out in Chicago last year, when 40,000 kids attended. Teams were formed, eliminated, and finally the Cubs and Sox Juniors played for the championship. Five members of these clubs signed professional contracts. One of them being to a major league club.

Fonseca Plans National High School Tournament.

FONSECA has organized a high school tournament for the state of Iowa next season, and hopes to make it a national one.

The American League is to conduct clinics in scores of colleges this spring. Classes will be conducted on 10 Saturdays in March and April. High school coaches will be invited.

Fonseca believes that more boys are playing baseball today than ever, but says that they do not play enough of it. Their minds are on automobiles, softball, golf, and other things.

A motion picture hoppy started Fonseca on his present mission, and the American League's initial appropriation for his work was exactly

So it is that these first-string players hope to make this year a family affair. MIAMI, Fla., (U.P.) — Clipper ship passenger traffic in Pan American Airways Eastern division, headquartered at Miami, is topping last year's by nearly 1,000 travelers a month. The figure for 30 days was 4,549 as against 3,633 during the same period a year ago.

Chevrolet Stresses Safety and Comfort

DETROIT. — Modern automobile accessories are designed with three major purposes in mind—comfort, safety, and convenience—and the most important of these is safety, according to M. D. Douglas, manager of Chevrolet's parts and accessories department.

"The motoring public, along with civic-minded organizations throughout the country, is paying more and more attention to safety on the highways," Mr. Douglas declared. "This is largely the result of concerted campaigns which have been sponsored to a large extent by automobile manufacturers themselves."

"While all automobile accessories try to effect improvements to the comfort and convenience of motoring, all are at the same time concerned with increasing motoring safety."

Chevrolet accessories are custom-built, engineered especially to Chevrolet cars. They add to the inherent beauty of the car and they increase driving comfort and convenience. Their primary function, however, is to give Chevrolet drivers the advantages of the latest developments in safety devices.

Mr. Douglas cited the example of the new super deluxe Chevrolet radio for 1938 as a case in point. Ordinarily it would be difficult to understand wherein a car radio could add to the safety of driving, he admitted, but when you consider the elimination of a hazard as a contribution to safety, it is a different question.

The new Chevrolet radio, with its push-button station selector, permits the driver to enjoy his favorite radio program, while at the same time the selection of that program does not distract his attention from the road.

The driver may set his radio to receive the program of any of eight separate stations with the mere touch of a finger. The push of a button automatically tunes in the station he wants.

The attention required to change station is even less than that needed to light a cigarette. The radio itself is the finest available, Mr. Douglas said, embodying all the refinements to be found in the most powerful home radio.

It is toward such improvements that accessory engineers are continually striving. Their work adds beauty. It adds comfort. It adds convenience to motoring. But its most important contribution lies in the field of safety.

"See . . . it's Signed by young Washington"

As early as 1746, the neighbors of young George Washington entrusted the surveying of their fields and forests to the master of Mount Vernon. They could count upon his unswerving honesty. His name upon a map made it an authoritative document.

A good name is no less important today. As you read the advertisements in this newspaper, you see the names of manufacturers and merchants who have builded their business success upon honest products.

The very fact that they advertise speaks for their integrity. The store that stays in business has not only to get customers but to keep them year after year. Your good-will is worth too much to be endangered by inferior, unsatisfactory goods.

Read the advertisements regularly. They will save you minutes and money. They serve as maps of good merchandise—signed with names which, like the name of Washington, have been tested by many and found completely trustworthy.

Government lawyers, previously critical of Reed for his lack of force, were delighted.

Later that day, arguing for the Bankhead Cotton act, Reed collapsed. McReynolds and others had pressed him on a technical issue. The strain of it all, especially the AAA, burst suddenly on the solicitor general and he fainted.

Stanley Reed is the poorest politician and the best lawyer ever to come out of Mason county, his Kentucky neighbors agree. They remember him when he first hung out his shingle in Maysville in 1910. Reed was the only son of a country doctor and was born on December 31, 1884, in Maysville. He graduated with A. B. degrees both from Kentucky Wesleyan, 1902 and Yale, 1906, winning there the coveted Bennett prize. He studied law at the University of Virginia, at Columbia and spent a year at the Sorbonne, University of Paris. Doesn't Toot Own Horn. Reed, a democrat, served in the Kentucky legislature from 1912-16, was first lieutenant in the army in 1918, and in 1922 became counsel for the new Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association. For five years under Reed's leadership the association sold five record crops at record prices. In this work he had become associated with the Federal Farm Board, becoming general counsel under Hoover and in 1932 general counsel for the newly-created RFC. Mason county boasts of Reed as its best lawyer, but old friends there doubted whether he had tooted his own horn enough to reach the supreme court. He is a quiet public servant and not an agitating one, says J. N. Kehoe, president of the Bank of Maysville. Reed married Winifred Elgin of Maysville in 1906. They have two grown sons. Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Hinds left this morning for Childress. They will return by way of Tahoka, reaching Midland Wednesday afternoon.

Two photographs of Tony Galento. One drinking a beer, the other in a training suit. Captions: Tony Galento... his own best customer. Tony Galento... training's no picnic. Tony Galento, the bar-keep of Orange, N. J., whose latest pugilistic triumph was a three-round knockout of Charley Masera, has his own ideas about training. The roly-poly heavy-weight seeking a shot at Joe Louis is shown hoisting a stein of the foamy stuff, and claims there's nothing likt it for a conditioning diet. Once in a while, however, Tony gets out the heavy woollens, and does some training in earnest. Very seldom, though, and so painful.

"Wells Fargo" Now at Yucca

The story of it has been told and retold, but when will it ever stale? wrote Nell C. Wilson in his recent romantic history of the express business in the Far West during the years 1850-1870. And the same may well be said of "Wells Fargo," the motion picture story which opened at the Yucca theatre at 11:15 Saturday night.

Painted on an heroic canvas with bold and colorful strokes of an inspired brush dipped into the fountain heads of history itself, "Wells Fargo" is beautiful, inspiring romance—an important picture both in motion picture history and as a tribute and reminder of America's humble beginnings. It is one of those woefully few pictures which is entertainment for every member of the family, and it is one of those pictures which everybody should see—at least once.

With Joel McCrea, Frances Dee and Bob Burns in the leading roles, "Wells Fargo" is a cavalcade of American history from the discovery of gold in California until the end of the War Between the States. It treats its subject honestly, intelligently and sympathetically. Here is no sentimental clap-trap of the "hooray for our side" variety, which so many producers are unable to resist in making a picture from history, but a living and breathing monument such as only the magic of the motion picture can call into being.

The story commences with the decision of McCrea, an ambitious express employe with vision, to go West and grow with it. On the way he meets Miss Dee, daughter of a wealthy Southerner, and love blooms. The pair is married, only to be separated when McCrea is ordered farther West to establish a trail for the express. These separations continue as the course of empire goes farther West and finally causes a schism in the family.

The fortunes of the family are then traced through 20 years providing as beautiful a romance as has ever graced the screen, played with consummate skill by McCrea and Miss Dee.

The entire cast plays with dignity and real ability. Particularly worthy of note is the performance of Bob Burns, the drawing Arkansas who has heretofore confined his talents to comedy. The role of scout which he plays is his first "straight" role and reveals him as one of the screen's first artists.

Others in the brilliant cast are Lloyd Nolan, Henry O'Neill, Mary Nash, Ralph Morgan, John Mack Brown, Porter Hall, Jack Clark, Clarence Kolb, Robert Cummings and hundreds of others.

The picture was directed with fine feeling by Frank Lloyd from a story by Stuart N. Lake.
