Much Oil Activity in This Section—Field Has Bright Prospect—Many Wells Now Going Down

Mike Mikels came in last week from Long Beach, Calif., to arrange to start work on the Garrett Hall No. 1, again. Work had been delayed on this well again for some reason, and Mr. Mikels was tied up in business in California and could not get here in time to look after the work. In conversation with him this week, he said: "I am going to take charge of the work myself and stay with it until it is completed. I expect to have supervision of everything and expect to shove the work through as rapidly as possible with safety."

The well is down now 409 feet and is in a heavy red sand. This well is also located in a district where other companies had looked out locations and probably had thought of making a test some time in the future. But Mr. Mikels just got to the field before they did.

Since Mr. Mikels started this test there has been much activity in the oil industry in this country. The Texas Company is drilling on the 24 Ranch southwest of Spur; the Deep Rock Oil Company are in operation in the West Pasture about twenty miles southwest of Spur; the Standard Oil Company is busy with a test north of the Mikels well; the Hoffer Oil Company are engaged in a test north and east of the Mikels test; the Mayers Company is making a test on the 4-6 Ranch east of the Mikels test, and there is much agitation for the renewal of the test on the Davis lease about six miles northeast of Spur.

All of these tests are now in progress in some form and there is not much doubt that in taking the step in the summer Mr. Mikels has been the means of stimulating a great deal of interest in this industry. Again there must be a very good showing for oil in this section as there are so many different companies making tests. There is evidently an excellent surface showing here for oil and there is no doubt that before many months more will have passed that the field which is now a dream to these companies and to the people will be a reality. There is no people anywhere that will give the oil industry a greater welcome than the people of Spur and Dickens County will give. And when the Garrett Hall No. 1 is completed it will be a great day in this country to see the golden stream flowing from it. And no one will have a broader smile than that shown on the face of Mike, as his friends call him.

R. H. Grant, M. A. Moore and I. Helgeson, of the Ranger field are here this week and Wednesday signed a contract to complete the Mikels test. They went out to the field and looked conditions over and then came back satisfied to start to work. They will start the drill just as soon as they can make proper arrangements in the rigging and other machinery.

Dr. Hunt Spoke Twice Here Sunday

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND CHRISTIAN COLLEGS IS THEME

Dr. J. W. Hunt, President of McMurry College at Abilene, made two addresses at the Methodist Church here Sunday. Dr. Hunt spoke on the merits of McMurry College and of Christian Education at the morning hour. This was a very inspiring address as he stated many reasons why Christian Colleges should be kept up.

In the evening his address was of an evangelistic nature, bringing a great spiritual inspiration to his audience.

No one need doubt Dr. Hunt's attitude on the question of organic evolution. In the course of his morning address he stated that man had always been God's creation as man. He made it plain that there was no monkey business in the game when man was created. He said: "There may be some people who are headed back toward the Monkey family, but they did not come from that source."

M. L. Jones Announces FOR Re-Election

M. L. Jones, present Sheriff and Tax Collector of Dickens County, places his name before the people of Dickens County for re-election for second term in these offices. He has served the people the past two years and served them faithfully in the capacity of the duty of his trust. He desires to state he appreciates the confidence placed in him in the first election and desires their support in the campaign for a second term. We feel that Mr. Jones will not betray any confidence placed in him in these offices and that the people will make no mistake in giving him this honor again.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

Fred S. Reynolds, County Agricultural Agent, has heard from a number of people who want to buy feed in carload lots. Mr. Reynolds cannot make prices to these people because he does not know what the farmers here are holding their feed at. If you have feed to sell see Mr. Reynolds at once and help him to get lined up on prices.

C. C. Hale, who has been attending a meeting of Mutual Life Insurance Agents at Sweetwater, has returned. He reports a very enjoyable and profitable meeting.

Dickens - Guthrie Highway is O. K.

OFFICIALS GO OVER ROAD AND PRONOUNCE IT ALRIGHT

County Clerk O. C. Arthur tells us that the Highway Department has inspected the road between Dickens and Guthrie and has pronounced it all right. The representative has sent in a recommendation to the State Highway Commission to the effect that it should be taken over and looked after by the State Department.

This is the result of an agreement between our County Commissioners Court and the State Department some time ago that if our county would do a certain amount of work on this road that the Department would declare it a State Highway and assume control of it. This is one of the best dirt roads in the West and will no doubt be a great thoroughfare leading to the Great Plains.

Bryant-Link Company

Let's tune in on something big for 1926. Now we are willing to confess 1925 was not all we hoped it would be, but it is now past; we cannot change its history. You know when we listen in on the Radio we try to tune in on the very best stations in the air. Just so, we should now set our ideals for 1926 on the very best that is possible for us to hope to reach with the talents and opportunities that are ours. If every man of us will set down and figure out his own problems for the year and then work them out, the old machine will get in mesh and move on as smoothly as though nothing had ever happened.

You know we have a good government, but the function of the government are not to support the subjects, but, we, its subjects, must support the government and at the same time work out our individual problems.

We are counting on a good year. We have cut down our expenses and are going to be more economical in our living this year. We think economy should be practiced by most of us this year, especially should the boys and girls be taught something of the value of time and money and the fact that we are not judged by the clothes we wear, but by the lives we live. Some of our young men seem to think the wider the pants bottom, the greater the man; and some girls seem to think the shorter the skirt and thicker the paint, the greater the woman, but we are going to venture to say that modesty in women is still considered virtue. And the young man whose clothes are in harmony with his income and who is trying to put something in his head and the bank is the young man the business and social world are looking for.

Business thus far in 1926 has been better than we expected. We are receiving new merchandise in our Ladies Department. New spring hats, coats and dresses.

Our Grocery Department is still continuing the Big Grocery Specials and many people are taking advantage of this opportunity. Come on with the crowds, who have learned the real values we are offering daily. You will find our grocery stock clean and fresh and you will get merchandise of high standard, full weight and measure at prices that will help you make bolly cotton pay your bills. See Lewis, Jamison or Albin, the grocery men.

Come on, lets tune in on something big in 1926.

The worry cow would have lived until now

If she had only held her breath.

She was afraid the hay wouldn't last all day,

So she choked herself to death.

Come on with the crowds and bring the children.

Bryant-Link Company County Court Met In Special Session

There was a special session of the County Court Monday to discuss certain highway propositions. There were a number of questions taken up Monday and Tuesday and disposed of.

Judge B. P. Vardiman Died This Week

HAD LIVED IN KENT CO. MANY YEARS—AT ONE TIME CO. JUDGE

Many people in this country will be grieved to learn of the death of Judge B. P. Vardiman, which happened at the home of a Mr. Jones about six miles south of Spur Monday night. Mr. Vardiman, while much advanced in age, yet was in very good health until he suffered a stroke of paralysis which caused his death.

The body was shipped to Clairmont for funeral services, Rev. I. A. Smith, pastor of the Methodist church here, conducted the funeral services. A very large number of people attended these last sad rites in respect to the man who was so well known and possessed a wide range of friends.

Mr. Vardiman was in his 74th year at the time of his demise. He had at one time served his county as county judge in which trust he was faithful.

Interment was made at the Clairmont cemetery.

Santa Fe Surveying Camp Moved to Guthrie

The surveying camp of the Santa Fe Railroad Company, which has been located at Dickens for the past several weeks, was moved to Guthrie the last of the week. The engineers are surveying the country between Dickens and Guthrie and are now about twenty to twenty-five miles east of Dickens. They are to continue the work through Guthrie to Benjamin and Seymour and from there to get a route to Fort Worth.

There have been two routes surveyed from Dickens to the Plains. One going via Crosbyton to Lubbock and the other going to Floydada. These two surveys intersect just east of Dickens. The sixty pound steel track between Crosbyton and Lubbock is being taken up and replaced with the 90 pound standard steel. The rail from Floydada to Plainview is already laid with 90 pound steel.

From all indications it looks like Dickens County will lie in the path of a great trunk line road leading from coast to coast. This line will intersect with other lines of the Santa Fe Company, and will give Dickens County the best outlet east, west, north and south of any county in the State. This will give better marketing advantages for the products in this country.

Let's have the new road and be quick about it.

Mrs. J. Robinett, of Watson, was in our city Wednesday on account of the illness of Mr. Evans, who recently underwent an operation at the Nichols Sanitarium.

Dr. M. L. Nichols Breaks Up Ring of Car Thieves—Secures Confessions and Returns Cars to Owners

Dr. M. L. Nichols, local constable, returned the last of the week, after having returned his eleventh stolen car for the week. Dr. Nichols has been at work looking after a certain line of men who had been making it their business to take a car in one city or town, driving it to some other city or town and leaving it, stealing another car and going on until there had been eleven cars stolen in Texas towns and driven to different parts of this state and into other states.

In this round-up of crime, Dr. Nichols landed six men, and has secured the written confession of two of them. It is thought the others will make confessions before the proper authorities in the near future, and by this means show their willingness to do the right thing by the state after having carried on their line of crime so long. By this means the courts would be more favorable to giving light sentences for the law violations committed. At least the men will show an excellent attitude toward the State by coming clean.

It is understood that the men implicated in these crimes had made decision to give up the work and submit to whatever punishment the State felt they should receive.

It was these men, or some of them, who sometime ago took a car at Floydada and drove it to Spur, leaving it in the mesquite thicket south of town. They took off the wheels and disposed of them to D. G. Simmons for a very meager sum. It was also this line of men who broke in to the Spur Service Station and the High School Filling Station about two weeks ago.

The crimes committed consists of breaking into filling stations, gasoline pumps, drug stores, etc., from which cash and certain lines of merchandise were taken.

Dr. Nichols has been very skillful in securing confessions from the men. In no manner has he taken any advantage of them, but has treated them with the greatest respect, warning them beforehand that these confessions would be used in court against them. They confessed just the same. There has been no violence used in

C. R. Miller Writes From Oklahoma

IS NOW LOCATED IN PONCA CITY, A LARGE OIL TOWN

This week we received a letter from C. R. Miller, who has been in Ponca City, Okla., for several weeks. He is with the Santa Fe Railroad Company, being an old time railroad employee, and no doubt he is rendering the company efficient service. He has the following to say about the town in which he is located:

"Ponca City is located in Kay County and in the heart of the northern Oklahoma Oil Field. The town has a population of about 16,000 people, having two big refineries—the Marland Company, who is making a four million dollar addition to their plant in order to double the capacity, and the Empire Company, who is adding one and one half million equipment to their plant. The Santa Fe Railway has appropriated $13,000 for improvement and addition to their freight house and offices in this city. The Rock Island Company is also securing right of way into this city from Enid preparatory to building a line from that point and establishing a yard and junction connection with the Santa Fe here.

"The Glenn L. Wigton Motor Company, dealers in Ford Cars, formally opened their sales rooms at Central and Second Street this week with a big dance on Monday night and another one on Friday night. They have a building completed which cost $125,000. They are receiving programs via radio from New York of the entertainments given by the Ford Orchestra and Quartette every night this week. The program for Friday night will be broadcasted via remote Control through Oklahoma City."

H. H. House and Cecil Speck, of Bryant-Link Company, of Ralls, were guests of friends in our City Sunday. Mr. House was formerly a citizen of our town.

Soviet Russia Now Plans Bigger Wool Production

A Russian family of the prosperous farming peasant class.

The visit to the United States, at this time, of Michael S. Pereferkovitch, manager of the live-stock department of the Soviet Russian government, Prof. Michel F. Ivanoff of a Moscow agricultural university, and N. N. Klebnik, official interpreter, carries with it all the significance of a step to progressive and modern methods in the new Russia.

According to these three representatives of the Soviet government, Russia now has about 80,000,000 sheep and hundreds of millions of head of other live stock.

Rambouillet rams have been purchased by them, not to increase the number of sheep, but to improve quality. It is expected that a better grade of wool will be produced by crossing of breeds. In this connection, sheep shearing machinery was bought to supplant the old-time hand blades. This in itself is expected to increase the wool crop about 7%, not because the machine shears closer than hand blades, but because it removes the wool evenly and in an unbroken blanket, leaving no ridges on the sheep.

Russia is anxious to enlarge its textile business with a view to producing its own wool for manufacturing purposes. Another committee from that country has been studying textile mills in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

Admittedly, there is great need in Russia for farming implements as the Russian farmer now has practically all the land he wants, but is unable to develop all of his ground because of lack of farm machinery.

Another great need is dairy machinery such as milking machines, cream separators, pasteurizing machinery, horse and cow clipping machines and butter-making machinery.

M. Pereferkovitch said he intended to buy more than 5,000 sheep, but owing to misinformation as to the best buying season, he arrived in this country too late to get all he wished, and so expects that next year as many as twenty men will be sent to this country to make these purchases.

Russia is doing everything possible to improve farming and dairying methods. Graduates of agricultural schools are teaching farmers and dairymen modern methods and the use of modern machinery.

Many things point to Russia as one of the world's great future sources of dairy products.

REVENUE LAW FEAR ISTWO AMERICAN HANGED CAUSE OF BOY'S DEATH IN CANADA FOR KILLING

San Francisco.—On Nov. 27th Vancouver, B. C.—Owen B. Baker, Gisako U. Watanabe, Japanese house of Tacoma, Washington, and Harry boy, received a simple little notice F. Sowash, of Seattle, were hanged from the Department of Internal Revenue Thursday for killing William G. Gilvnu, indicating that he might have had a high income tax on the $6,000 he in a highjacking raid Sept. 15, 1924, had saved to return to Japan and live there. He immediately jumped into the bay and was dead when picked up.

It was explained in the Superior Court today in a probate action over the $6,000 that the boy feared the Government was going to take the whole amount from him. It developed that wasn't even a cent of income tax due.

Profits Will Result if This Poultry Plan is Used

Egg prices are good now and it would be fine for the producer if that inevitable drop didn't come next spring and continue through the summer. The producer can partially prevent the drop and do so by a method of management which will at the same time improve the flock average egg production.

If good prices are wanted next summer you will have to produce and deliver infertile eggs. And if you do not prepare now to do that very thing it may be difficult for you next summer. Here is the way to make it easy for yourself.

Select your breeding pen now; mate your best cock with 12 or 15 hens. These hens to be the best layers you have. If you haven't a good male bird, buy one. Save all hatching eggs from this mating. These 12 or 15 hens will provide enough hatching eggs for your use and from this mating you will get a bunch of pullets that will lay about 50 per cent more eggs on the average than your present flock. That alone will pay you big.

Then since you are getting all your hatching eggs from one pen, you have no business with the other old roosters on the place. Sell them now. They will bring more than they will next summer. Fact is, they will bring enough to build a good pen for mating. This means you have only one rooster left to dispose of or bother with next summer. So your infertile egg problem is solved by solving your rooster problem now; and it is automatically solved by adopting a practical method of flock improvement within your flock.

Then hatch early so all cockerels can be disposed of early when prices are high. This is good business and good poultry management. Returns come quickly. There! you have solved your rooster problem. So with all rooster out of the way, you have nothing but infertile eggs which are in much greater demand and bring from 5 to 7 cents per dozen more throughout the summer. Furthermore, you sell all eggs at good prices instead of selling part of them at a poor price. Simple, isn't it?

Method

1. Sell all roosters now, except the best one. Mate him with the 12 best hens.

2. Hatch early and sell all cockerels and broilers at a good price.

Results

1. Sell all eggs produced in the summer at a good price without any candling out, and no roosters to bother with or dispose of next summer.

2. Flock egg production greatly increased in one year.

Signed,

M. B. OATES,

Agricultural Agent, Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad.

Note—Mr. Reynolds, County Agent, is ready to assist any one in the county who desires to follow the above plan, and heartily recommends as being one of the best plans for quick and inexpensive flock improvement. Anyone desiring help fill in the dotted line and mail to the County Agents, Spur, Texas. Please come to my farm during the week of _____ month _____ day _____ to _____ day. PANHANDLE GIRL RAPS CRITICS IN SCHOOL ROW

Amarillo.—Miss Rachel Dunaway, of Amarillo, formerly University of Texas student and now student of Columbia University of New York, arrived home yesterday indignant at press reports concerning her part in a debate concerning southern representation on the American Student Federation recently formed at Princeton.

Miss Dunaway, who was quoted as having defended the proposition to have a negro girl represent both the white and negro schools of the South, declared that she fought on the floor of the session for white representation of white schools and negro representation of negro schools.

"I had considerable opposition from northern delegates who believed that in retroacting the election of the negro girl who had been named on the executive board on the federation from the South, they would indicate the federation was countenancing race prejudice," said Miss Dunaway.—The Lubbock Journal.

Of course, little else could be expected of northern delegates, who sit at the same table, ride in the same railroad coaches and meet the negro on an equal footing, even going so far as allowing intermarriage between the races and their highest courts up holding such. Of course, we reckon they are excusable on the grounds that it is born and bred in them—they just simply don't know any better. They go out on the streets and it is impossible for them to tell color—and we reckon morals—of any kind for the black cats in their best places, his children mix and and mingle with their children and even, in some instances the black gallant is seen escorting the white damsel about, and should said black be possessed of the little God Gold her family and friends will look forward to a speedy marriage and say what a well suited couple, and how well Jane has done in making her catch, and we guess according to the standards that are set she has made a "swell" catch.

What a few northerners need is a moving to East Texas or Alabama where the black buck and his frow can be found in their natural environment. What a few of our norther people need is to come south and live among the "colored gentlemen and ladies" of this fair land. It teaches a great object lesson, and even has the power of changing the mind that has saturated with this equality stuff from the cradle. The negro, as the north say is a fine specimen, but we add, in his place, and when taken out of his place, become a blot on the white race and cloud over the nation. Give the North equality if they want it, but they call race prejudice keeping the negro in his place, why we say give us gobs and gobs of it. You know the idea of being represented by a person of off color don't appeal to a Southerner, and it is things like t his that cause his ire to rise and want to raise a howl and get his trusty rifle in action, and we don't blame him for the blood that courses through our veins comes from the Noblest people of God's creation—the great Southland.

A very whimsical coquette is the fair and lovely France. Fascinating in pulchritude and mood, she possesses a verity of inducements which keep an endless throng of pleasure seekers at her beck and call. As our train sped through the early freshness of the morning I noticed the artistic touch of the French people, displayed even in their most unpretentious farms. The vegetable were planted with painstaking care—each variety all to itself in orderly squares—looking for all the world like little handkerchiefs laid out in the sun to dry. Then Paris at last. Though it was yet early the buzz of the great metropolis permeated the air. According to continental custom, the baggage was handed through the windows to the blue coated porters below and off we started through the famous Gar de Nord. "Have you made reservations, dear est?" I asked Curtiss when the chauffeur asked in French where we would like to go. "No, I didn't think it was necessary this time of year, so we will go to the Grand. It's central you know. Tell him, will you dear?" I gave my direction in my none too perfect French, but the taxi started and after a drive through the streets with familiar names, we arrived in front of a building which was the Grand. "I'll be right back," Curtiss flung over his shoulder to me as he entered the hotel. But it was more than fifteen minutes before he returned. "Nothing doing there," he declared shaking his head. "And what's worse luck there not a room in a decent hotel in Paris to be had. It's my fault for not wiring ahead, but I figured by August the crowd would be going home." "Have they tried everywhere?" I broke in, "the Claridge, the Edward the Seventh, the Meurice," I enumerated places which will know names. "No use," Curtiss declared, "the concierge phoned all of them and they are crowded to their doors." I thought for a moment. What should we do? It certainly was a forlorn reception to receive in the gayest city in the world. Curtiss remained standing on the sidewalk looking at the numerous pieces of luggage which crowded the space on top and overflowed into the driver's seat below. The chauffeur began to grow restless and demanded his next directions from me. "Well, there's only one thing I can think to do," I finally said, "I have a card with Ellen Daniels address on it given me by Barrington Pierce. Right at the moment she is the only person I can think of who has enough influence to get us in some hotel. Suppose we go there." "I have several good friends over here, but it's too early to hunt them up as I will have to get their addresses from the American Express, so, as much as I dislike the idea, I guess you Ellen Daniel's bunch is the best bet after all." "Quarante, Rue de Lille," I gave the driver the address and after a long and circuitous route, we arrived in front of charming old house whose side balconies of wrought iron overlooked the miniature park. "I have tons and tons of room," she added in answer to my protest, "besides you are friends of Barry's and that alone gives you access to my home and heart. Please." I hesitated. Why shouldn't we accept her hospitality for so short a time? We could certainly find accommodation somewhere later on. Besides there was nothing else to do. She insisted all over again, and there was nothing to do but to say row we appreciated her kindness and that I would call Curtiss from the car. "Yes, do," she exclaimed, "and we will have a bite of breakfast. I know you are most starved after dinner on a French train last night. I'll send Etienne for the bags. Come right back with your husband and I'll have the coffee piping hot." I carried the picture she had made on my mind's eye as I returned to the car. First of all she was unspoiled American girl. She wasn't beautiful as the world counts beauty, but there was a sparkling quality about her that is more than mere beauty of face. She exhaled charm and her dark lumous eyes flashed with frank enthusiasm of ambitious work. Ellie had said that she was in love with Barrington Pierce. If she were, how could he help from being in love with her? Perhaps Ellie had exaggerated after all, as was usually the case, and maybe it Barrington Pierce who was in love with her. At first Curtiss flatly refused and then he compromised by saying that he would go in and thank her, and then call another car, Etienne having already carried in the first of the bags, being unable to understand Curtiss' protest to wait. That our hostess was no ordinary person was demonstrated by the witty and graceful manner in which she greeted Curtiss at the door. "So you defied fate and came on the P. L. M. They have had so many accidents lately that someone has given their line a new name. We now call it, 'Por La Mort' which means, you see, 'To the Death.'" We both appreciated the joke, as we had heard the unfortunate number of casualties of this particular line discussed all over France. We also felt sure she was the originator of the clever story, which after the habit of gifter people she had accredited to some one else. "Jove, she's a peach," whispered Curtiss, as she preceded us out to the little balcony which gave on the park. I was delighted with his approval for now there was a possibility of him being persuaded to be Miss Daniel's guest, and I couldn't imagine anything more enchanting than living in the celebrated singer's home.

(To Be Continued.)

Most of us can accomplish an awful lot when we have to. If we weren't afraid of seeming poor we might all get rich. After the ball is over—what a relief it is to get out of the starched shirt. Some men are like dogs—pat 'em on the head and they'll put their feet in your lap. Every man longs for an opportunity to display himself—that's the reason it is easy to get men to march in a parade. If Christmas toys become any more complicated we'll soon have professional mechanics advertising day and night service.

ROARING SPRINGS, TEXAS

Carl Wester who has been spending his holidays at Sulphur Springs, returned Monday to take up his duties at the Spur Drug Store. We are glad to have him back with us as he is a real booster for our town.

Woolworth Heiress
Little Barbara Hutton, thirteen year old grand-daughter of the late Frank W. Woolworth whose 50,000 shares of 5 and 10 cent store stock sold for $10,000,000. She still has $40,000,000 worth left. Don't faint folks.

WEST TEXAS HAPPENINGS

O. V. Vernon, for the past four years manager of the City Board of Development of Amarillo, has resigned and will enter private business there. Mr. Vernon is vice president of the Texas Commercial Executives Association and director in the Texas Association of Fairs.

Texas must do everything possible to validate the Highway Bonds in the past is the opinion of R. Q. Lee, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He declares that the honor and credit of the State is at stake and must be protected.

An intensive campaign is being put on at Midland in preparation for the District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce which meets there January 26. A new feature will be a contest among the high school boys with a substantial cash prize offered to the boy who makes the best five minute address on "My Town."

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce is in process of organization at Stanton. A temporary organization has been effected with C. Wedgeworth as secretary. A meeting is to be held there Thursday night January 21.

Fertilization pays handsome dividends when properly carried out. This fact was proven by experiments conducted in Eastland County and which were closely checked by R. H. Bush, County Agent. Several carloads of commercial fertilizer were used during the past year and the results showed that fertilization more than doubled the yield in almost every case.

Huge mountain type engines have been put on the Big Springs Division by the T-P Railway to pull the fast passenger trains. There are said to be the most powerful locomotives in existence. The big 600 type freight engines have been put on the division to handle freight shipments.

Cotton burs are of great value as fertilizer and have great value as feed. This fact has been recently discovered by Childress farmers. Formerly the gins there had to hire the burs cleaned from the cotton hauled away from the gins and were put to considerable expense. Now, however, farmers eagerly pounce on all burs expelled from the gin and declare they are of great value. One authority declares the farmers will soon be grinding these burs and selling them as feed. He points out that a comparatively few years ago cotton seed were considered a nuisance at gins and farmers were stopped by law from dumping the seed in the creeks.

A movement has been launched to perpetuate as a park the famed Goodnight Buffalo and Cattalo Park at Goodnight. The park and the herd presents the last opportunity for Texas to perpetuate the Buffalo which formerly ranged the Texas plains in countless herds and Mrs. Phebe K. Warner is leading the move to take the historical old place as a park.

A commercial hatchery is to be situated at Shamrock at once. The poultry industry is expanding rapidly in Wheeler County and the hatchery has become a necessity. Col. R. Q. Lee, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, started the movement for a hatchery there when he delivered an address last August.

Plans to go after the next West Texas Chamber of Commerce, district meeting, have been perfected by Merkel, who will send a big delegation to Midland on January 26 to the district convention there. It is planned to take the Simmons Cow-Boy Band of Simmons University to help land the next meet.

A meeting of all towns along the route of the proposed extension of the Denver road will be held at Lockney in the near future. The meeting is for the purpose of urging hast on the application of the Denver to make the extension.

BAPTIST W. M. S. TO ENTERTAIN

The W. M. S. of the Baptist church will entertain the members with an Anniversary Social the 12th of February in the basement of the Baptist church. All Baptist ladies and their husbands have a special invitation to attend.

Malone Urges More Friendship

My friends, I say my friends because we should all be friends, and we are, the New Year (after having such a seige with the freeze) must bring in doing good for and with our fellows. It is necessary that friendly, unselfish and unstinted cooperation be practiced and demanded to achieve and execute the fullest measure of good. And if we are not friends, malice and connivance are conceived and developed into fighting hatred. Where the intolerance of hatred reign there is no community incentive of expansion and progress.

In all life there is either advancement and improvement, or deterioration and decline. The life of a community is no exception, there must be growth or decadence. A town imbued with the spirit of friendliness and good will is a fertile field for accomplishment, and prosperity abounds. Strife and antagonism harbored within the heart of man maketh of him an undesirable townsman, and usually a parasitic sore eating out the heart of good fellowship and cooperation.

What we need, and what we must have in Spur to make our town more attractive is more Friendship, Harmony and mutual effort in working for the general good of the town. Not only self interest, but we must invite suggestions and recommendations from our friends. In turn we can greatly satisfy some of our needy causes by aiding and assisting our Farmer Friends in warding the wolf from the door in times of depression and drouth.

Some will say how can we do that? By helping him to gain an education in the better methods of diversified farming; the raising of more and better poultry, at least two or three swines to the farm, and the one great industry for which our country (Dickens County) is well suited, dairying. With the growing season from two to three months longer than the northern States, land adapted to the production of feedstuffs necessary to profitable dairying, and the rapidly increasing population and the demand of our country for butter and milk.

Why not sponsor a business that will help us all?

Even now our town is in dire need of more milk and butter, the dairy here is not sufficient here to supply the demand, a small dairy properly managed would pay a profit far in excess of any one-horse farm cultivated in the ordinary haphazard hit-or-miss method.

The time has come, when if the townsman and farmer do not cooperate to promote better conditions of both in a mutual way, unfavorable circumstances will overshadow prosperity and the progressive, ambitious men of the community will hunt new fields where the soil is no richer but the inducement are greater and more lucrative.

W. M. MALONE.

A young man drove up to the Pen-ant Service Station Monday evening and asked J. P. Simmons about buying an inner tube. He had a check which he told Mr. Simmons he would endorse over to him for the tube. Mr. Simmons sold the tube and gave the young man some change, but after the customer left he felt there might be something wrong. He went to the City National Bank and made inquiry and was told that the check was a fake.

Mr. Simmons immediately called M. L. Nichols who got busy and found the young man in Jayton. He was placed under arrest and brought back to Spur where he made a statement in writing that he had forged the check. Dr. Nichols holds the statement in writing waiting the action of the court.

Attorney J. L. Sullivan, formerly of Hamlin, is now a resident of our county, having moved here this week. Mr. Sullivan has been associated with the law firm of Brooks, Smith, Robinson & Sullivan at Hamlin, but being at one time a resident of Jayton says there is something about this county that lures a man back to it. He once served Kent County in the capacity as county attorney, having to his credit a very favorable record while in that office.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan are storing their furniture and are boarding until they can get located.

Play

Friday night, January 29th, at the High School Auditorium, the people of Spur will be given the opportunity to see a 3-act drama entitled "One Must Marry." This play is being given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association, and is pronounced an excellent entertainment where people have been privileged to see it.

The play is under direction of Mrs. E. E. White of Lubbock, who formerly lived in Spur. There are four characters from the Texas Tech in this play, and with this assistance makes the characterization a good one. See this play.

T. S. Lambert Painfully Burned

T. S. Lambert, for many years a citizen of the Wichita Community, was badly burned last Friday evening by an accident with a Coleman lamp. Mr. Lambert was working with the lamp while it was still burning, and it flashed up very suddenly. Mr. Lambert started to carry the lamp out of the room and in some manner caught his foot against one of the legs of the table on which the lamp was resting, which threw him down. He pulled the table over and the lamp with it fell on his chest, saturating his clothing with gasoline from the lamp. This quickly ignited which made the condition very dangerous. He fought the flames with his hands which caused them to be burned very severely, and the saturated clothing on his body produced painful burns there. The flames were extinguished by the assistance of members of the family and it is thought that Mr. Lambert escaped inhaling any of the fumes or the heated air.

The room was ignited and only with great effort the home was saved. Mr. Lambert assisted with this work, not realizing that he was so seriously burned. However, after the home was saved his realized his condition. He was brought to the Nichols Sanitarium here immediately where he received medical and surgical treatment. Unless some complications set up he will recover, and at present seems to be getting along fine.

SPUR NATIONAL BANK
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS $125,000.00
Spur, Texas

Dear Customers and Friends:

The Saving Department that was opened here December 15, 1924, for your benefit, has been growing very rapidly and satisfactorily. On December 31, 1925, we had 565 customers in the Department with deposits aggregating $60,920.44, and new accounts are being added daily.

This department was opened at considerable expense, solely for the encouragement of thrift and economy, which is resulting in direct benefit to those of our customers who are taking advantage of this special service.

It will perhaps be of interest to you to know that the Spur National Bank has the largest Saving Department of any bank between Wichita Falls, Texas, and Roswell, New Mexico. This speaks well for the thriftiness and progressiveness of Dickens County folks.

On December 31, 1925, we paid $1,054.74 to our saving depositors interest on their deposits—were you in this fortunate list? If not we heartily solicit your account—if you are already a customer we want to urge you to add to your account regularly so that your next interest check, June 30, 1926, will be larger than ever before.

Those of our saving depositors who have not turned in pass books for interest credits as of December 31st, WILL PLEASE DO SO PROMPTLY, SO THAT THESE INTEREST CREDITS WILL ALSO BEAR INTEREST.

Yours Very Truly,
THE SPUR NATIONAL BANK.

P. S. We are still pooling low grade cotton—if you want to leave your tickets, we shall be very glad to handle the sales free of charge.—S. N. B.

It looks like Dr. Nichols possess some very fine qualities for a sheriff, and sometime in the future if the people should decide on him for that office they will make no mistake in electing him. He has been very loyal to the trust committed to him, and the sixty days that he has been in office he has secured and returned sixteen stolen cars.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Elkins were guests of friends in Lubbock Tuesday.

H. O. Allen, another one of our good farmers, of the Dry Lake community, was shaking hands with friends in Spur Tuesday. Mr. Allen is one of our farmers who has made a success of the farming business, he knowing just the treatment that our productive soil has to have to make it produce the most, and do best under all circumstances. He is among those who consult their best interest by trading with Spur merchants.

R. H. Parnall, of the Prairie Chapel community, was buying the things from our merchants Tuesday to fill a depleted larder.
