JOIN THE BEDROOM TOURS

A tour of the bedrooms of the 4-H demonstrators will be made Wednesday, June 21. The group making the tour will leave the Chamber of Commerce office at 1:30 going to see the room of the first place winner, Pauline Hutto, in Dry Lake, planning to leave there about 2:00. The next stop will be at Neva Harris', who is one of the cooperators in the Dry Lake Club. Nadine Foreman's room in Espeuela will be the next one visited, the group will probably arrive there about 2:30. Nadine is third place winner. Wanda Taylor, demonstrator for the Dickens girls will be the next to welcome the motorcade about 3:00.

The group will cross Croton breaks and visit Mildred Bradley in Croton. From there they will go to Prairie Chapel to see the second place room, that of Irene Blasingame reaching there about 4:30. The last stop will be at the home of Evelyn Ham, bedroom demonstrator for the Afton girls.

DEMONSTRATOR BELIEVES IN IMPROVING HOME

"My big problem in improving the bedroom was to create orderliness since we have such a small house," said Mrs. J. T. Oakes, in telling the story of her bedroom improvement in the achievement day program of the Dry Lake Club. "The house was smoked and dirty so the first thing to do was to clean it thoroughly."

"Then we made a clothes closet using card board for the walls. The closet has a storage space for quilts above and the lower part has hanging rods, shelves and shoe rack."

"The wall paper has a design of pink, blue, and green on a cream background. The woodwork is painted a light green made by mixing a pint each of dark green and yellow paint that Mrs. Hutto gave me."

"I used unbleached muslin for window shades tacking them on some old rollers. Then I traded two pair of window curtains that were not suitable for this room for three pair that were."

Espuela Church Dedicated

The dedication services for the Espuela Baptist Church were held Saturday and Sunday. There were a number of speakers who had been assigned places on the program and all speakers were present. A very large number of people attended the services, and much interest in church work was developed. Espuela is a very fine community, and the people there work together for the benefit of the community.

Four patrols were organized as follows: The Buffalo Patrol with Johnnie Nichols as leader and Norton Barrett as assistant leader.

The Silver Fox Patrol with Bill Koone as leader and John A. Moore, Jr., as assistant leader.

Earl Russell was elected Senior Patrol Leader for the troop. Meetings will be held every Monday night at the Methodist Church. Old members will permit new members to use their Scout hand books. Be at the Methodist Church next Monday evening and enjoy the Scout meeting.

COUNTY EQUALIZATION BOARD IN SESSION

The county judge and commissioners met Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday as board of tax equalization for the county. Adjustment of assessment and hearing of complaints took place three days. Every effort was made to give the taxpayers a comparative equal assessment. The rate for this year will probably be set the second Monday in August, depending on the action of the state bond board.

The property valuation for Dickens County last year was five and a half million dollars and it is thought the assessments will be near that figure this year because of the bonded indebtedness of the county.

OFF TO EAST FOR VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Elkins, of the Red Front Drug Store, left Monday for the East to be gone sometime on a vacation and visit. They first will go to Chicago where they will be met by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elkins. A few days will be spent enjoying the scene at the Century of Progress. After that they will go to New York City where they will enjoy visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elkins. Mr. Elkins is to represent the Rotary Club at the annual convention of Rotary International in Boston. They expect to be away some four or five weeks.

Mrs. Elkins is just recuperating from an operation and Mr. Elkins is building up from a long illness last fall. They feel the trip east will do both of them much good, and at the same time they will be enjoying a great many things that probably they will not have another opportunity to enjoy soon again.

S. T. Johnson, of Dickens, was attending to business matters in our city Thursday.

W. D. Blair, east of Spur, was brought to the hospital Monday for X-ray and treatment. Mr. Blair was injured in a runaway accident. He had both radius and ulna of left arm completely broken, six ribs fractured (three on either side). There was scalp injuries and other minor injuries.

A. & M. Short Course Features

There will be more of doing and less of listening at the A and M College Short Course for farm and ranch folks the week of July 24th than at any of the previous 23 short courses held on the A and M campus. There will be more action and less sitting still, more demonstrations and fewer lectures, more initiation into the tricks of many rural trades and not so much theory, however practical that theory has been in the past. It will be in short, an extension short course.

Dickens County has been set a quota of 12 farmers for this year's Short Course. Seven have tentatively signed up to go, according to County Agent G. J. Lane. W. R. Terry, local ginmer, has agreed to take a big truck placing an old school bus body on it and take as many as the truck will hold, thereby making the trip cost the lowest possible minimum. Farmers interested and who think that they would like to attend should see Mr. Lane as early as possible and discuss the proposition with him. It will be well worth the time and effort you put forth to go to College Station this year for the Short Course.

The present program calls for inspirational talks from 8 to 9 in the morning, from 9:30 to 12 each morning are scheduled subject matter talks and discussions in a wide variety of rural fields, including home making, dairying, poultry raising, livestock production, farm crops, farm engineering and fruit and truck raising.

After lunch and lasting until nearly supper time, visitors will engage in making things or in doing things of a practical nature such as home dairy-manufacture, meat cutting and curing, tanning hides, grading cotton, making syrup, making grape juice, pickling and boning chickens, learning concrete silo construction, controlling nests, making rugs, dyeing lamb skins, standardization of food products, installing garden sub-irrigation system—to mention only part.

Dairying is playing a larger part in the life of the farmer and farm families of Dickens County. At the Short Course, every morning from 9:30 to 10:30 dairy and livestock programs will be the same and will include: animal nutrition—contagious abortion—pastures—care of work stock. The remainder of the mornings will take up: the dairy situation—diseases of dairy cattle—silos and silage—dairy cattle judging contest and herd classification. In addition to the dairy manufacture work every afternoon, those interested primarily in production will study testing and records as part of a breeding program, barn sanitation on a visit to the F & B Station, and feeding in connection with a tour of farm pastures and silos.

It will be syrup making time in Dickens and adjoining counties, shortly after the Short Course is over. The syrup makers' course is scheduled two hours every afternoon in charge of C. F. Walton of the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, Washington, assisted by College, Experiment Station and Extension Service specialists. Monday: Making syrup from variety No. 1 cane raised on Experiment Station farm—diastase and lime treatment used to counteract acidity—demonstration in building chimney and fire box.

Tuesday: Making syrup from variety No. 2 cane raised on Experiment Station Farm—extracting juice—settling and clarifying juice—use of test glasses.

Wednesday: Making syrup from variety No. 3—demonstration of entire operation from extracting juice to treatment of finished syrup—syrup will be put up in various kinds of containers.

Thursday: Syrup making from variety No. 4—making syrup products as peanut brittle, syrup-coated pop corn and pull candy.

Friday: Open house to all visitors—different varieties will be scored and judged.

POULTRY SPECIALIST HERE

E. N. Holmgreen, poultry specialist of A. & M. College was in our county the last of the week working with County Agent Lane inspecting the poultry flocks. They made a special inspection of the flock of Mrs. C. H. Jackson at Dickens and Elmer Rogers at Croton.

They report there is a lack of green feeds for baby chicks. A small part of sudan grass or barley will help this point, or use fresh alfalfa hay, moistening it the evening before and giving it to the flock next morning. Also, Mr. Holmgreen stated there is some tapeworm infection among some flocks due to the great quantity of flies in the country. Flies serve as carriers for tapeworm eggs. There are commercial medicines which will take care of the condition. Ask the county agent about them.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts met at the scout house Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and followed the trail to the experiment farm where we spread a picnic lunch. —Reporter.

Wichita School Holds Closing Exercises

Last Thursday evening the school in Wichita community held the closing exercises for the year. There were eleven graduates in the school who will go into high school work next year. Wichita has an elementary school completing seventh grade work. All students of high school classification are transferred to other schools for high school work.

The exercises in the evening were characterized by a nice program prepared by the students and directed by Miss Dowell, the primary teacher. This was a very interesting program and everybody enjoyed it. W. D. Starcher, of the Dickens County Times, addressed the class, using as his subject, "Believing You Can."

Then Mr. Bullington, the principal, gave a short talk about the progress of the school. He emphasized the co-operation of the parents and students in the progress of the school and said he was leaving the school in one hundred per cent better condition than he found it.

Miss Dowell presented a number of certificates of awards for various types of accomplishments on the part of the students. In addition to these, she made a present of the promotion certificates to the eleven fine boys and girls who are to go into high school next year. However, these students had taken the examinations before the county superintendent and had been awarded elementary school diplomas from the county superintendent's office, Miss Dowell explaining that she thought it would be nice for the school to award a diploma, or promotion certificate to these students. Hence, she furnished these as a present to the class.

People at Wichita are glad of the work done by the students the past term and for the excellent direction given their children by the teachers. They have nothing but praise for their school and are looking forward next year for another good school.

"42nd Street" Music By Ace Song Writers

Two of Broadway's ace song writers were imported from New York to do the songs and lyrics for "42nd Street," Warner Bros.' mammoth show dealing with the backstage life of the theatre, which comes to the Palace Theatre on Sunday.

They are Al Dubin, who writes lyrics, and Harry Warren, who composes the music. Dubin has been writing his lyrics for fifteen years. Warren his songs for twelve. Both believe their songs for "42nd Street" the best they've yet done and both appear in the picture as song writers.

Dubin wrote the lyrics for the songs in "The Gold Diggers of Broadway," "Hold Everything" for "Sally," for "The Crooner" and for "Blessed Event." Two of his songs from "Blessed Event" are "Too Many Tears" and "How Can You Say No."

Harry Warren's songs are just as well known as Dubin's lyrics. He wrote all of the music for "The Laugh Parade," Ed Wynn's latest hit, including the popular "You're My Everything." He wrote the music for "Crazy Quilt" which includes the lyrical "Million Dollar Baby in a Ten Cent Store."

The entire score for "Forty Second Street," written and composed by Dubin and Warren, includes "You're Getting To Be A Habit With Me," "I'm Young and Healthy," "Shuffle Off to Buffalo," and the title piece, "42nd Street."

DICKENS WINS ANOTHER

Dickens defeated Girard baseball team at Girard last Sunday afternoon 17 to 7.

Highway Meeting Held At Jayton

A number of business men along Highway 18 held a meeting at Jayton Tuesday night to discuss plans of securing funds to finance construction work on this highway. L. F. Wade acting as temporary chairman, called the meeting to order and stated the purpose. Clifford B. Jones was selected as permanent chairman and gave a short history of highway progress in West Texas, stating that Highway No. 18 was among the first in the state. L. F. Wade was selected as secretary of the meeting and recorded the proceedings.

There was some discussion in regard to the method of procedure that should be used. It was decided that the quickest and most effective method would be through the work of a central committee. A motion carried to this effect and the representatives of each town were asked to submit the name of one person who should serve on this committee. Jayton asked the privilege of selecting two persons with the understanding that each town should be entitled to but one vote on the committee. This was approved.

The following is the committee selected: Peacock, C. B. Marlowe; Aspermont Judge Westfall; Jayton, W. J. Garrott and W. F. Gilbert; Girard, G. P. Rucker; Spur, F. H. Miller, Judge Brannon, of Aspermont, was elected permanent chairman of the committee. It was further ordered that the chairman would extend privileges to other towns along the line to have representation on the committee. It was further voted by the meeting that each town should bear the expenses of its own individual committeeman.

There were 25 delegates at the meeting representing a population of about 20,000 people direct, and the wishes of probably 150,000 citizens in West Texas who were represented, but who are directly concerned about the location of the gap on Highway 18. Judge Westfall made a short talk emphasizing that the State Highway Commissioners are vitally concerned in serving the people fairly and properly. He stated further that in the person of Judge Ely West Texas has a wonderful man on the Highway Commission. Judge Westfall stated that Judge Ely wants to see West Texas secure more highways, and wherever he feels that cause is just that Judge Ely will recommend highway construction.

Jayton citizens fostered a luncheon for the visitors and were accorded a vote of thanks. Also, L. F. Wade, who was responsible for the meeting, was given a rising vote of appreciation for his devoted interest to this cause.

IN GOOD TIMES AND BAD

The following article is being reproduced from the Texas Outlook. I wish to say here that the American people owe a debt they can never pay to the teachers of our country who number more than one million. To them the depression has always been present. There has been a continuous battle in the years of prosperity ending with 1929. Their field found no one hundred thousand dollar salaries that were not unusual in the business and industrial world.

mony void of sanctity. At this wedding the minister of the family officiated, the ceremony being in the home of the bride, and that minister brought a message that was not formal, but out of his heart he emphasized the importance and sacredness of the institution that has meant more to humanity than all others because it was the plan of the Divine Creator.

Another reason it might be called an old fashioned wedding was because the contracting parties had time to greet all the guests present before they got off on their honeymoon trip up in the mountains of New Mexico, and when they left the fond memory of a rice shower was with them.

AN OLD FASHIONED WEDDING

The writer and his better half had the pleasure Sunday of witnessing an old fashioned wedding. We call it an old fashioned wedding because it was a home wedding where mother, brothers and many friends were given the privilege and honor of being witnesses and guests; a wedding where two young people had taken time to learn about each other and then decided they would be life partners; a wedding where love was dominant and the contracting parties had fully decided they could make a success together, and were not ashamed for those who are near and dear to them knowing they were going to be life partners.

Another reason we might call it an old fashioned wedding is that it was not characterized by a "fly-by-night" courtship and then a marriage cere-

The contracting parties to this old fashioned wedding were Mr. J. Riley Ham, of Austin, and Miss Faye Aline Hunt, of Lubbock. They come from pioneer families of the refined type who believe in doing the right thing open and above board. These young people have started out to make a success in life, and this should be the serious consideration of every young couple who bow at the holy altar and solemnize their right to start a home. It always has been our opinion that girls should marry at home in the presence of their parents and there determine that they will make the union a life proposition.

FARMERS, CAN YOU DO IT?

Another question might be asked, Can you afford not to do it? The Farmers Short Course at A and M College will be on the last week in July. Provisions are being made whereby any farmer in Dickens County may attend this short course for about $7.50 and this includes your transportation there and back, your room and meals for five days after arriving at the college.

If farmers expect to accomplish the most in their business it is going to be necessary for them to keep up with the latest methods of farming and learn more about the foundation principles of farming. You will get man ythings at the Short Course.

It is said that the course in cotton classing is worth more than the expense of the whole course. What you learn about the farm stock you use year by year will save you more than many times the cost of the trip. Then, again, it will be worth much to you to get away and get other people's ideas about farming.

It will be fine if about thirty to fifty farmers will attend the short course the last of July. Don't worry about the rain—if you stay at home it will not cause the rain to come more abundantly. Go to the short course and the rain will mean more to you.

THEN AND NOW

I wouldn't mind to be 'Bout thirty now, Nor forty, if no more; It seems I'd be just Right to hoe and plow And do other jobs galore.

I think I'd rise at Break of day, my clothes And shoes to don, And feed 'em mules their Grain and hay, and Put the harness on.

I think I'd milk my Jersey cows and feed my Porker pigs, and take The swill out to the Sows and watch them Take their swigs.

But since I'm sixty now And more, and gettin' Sharply gray; It seems that three Score years and four is Long gone on life's way.

Instead of looking out on Future's road and Planning things ahead; It seems I'm stopped neath Lighter loads that Somehow bring a dread.

I take a retrospective View of things That's long gone by. I do not care for Something new, or Modern means to try.

I guess I must be Getting old, (I know Not what to say) I hope when all my Cares are o'er, I'll Gain that blissful day.

KEEP YOUR MIND WOUND

A man's mind is like a watch, it must be wound every day. Your interest in life and your enthusiasm over life's responsibilities depends upon some playful expectation or some daring dream of achievement. The power behind your mind is the interest you take in some expected pleasure or some enthusiastic purpose. The moment we let our enthusiasm die down or entertain no more thought of some expected pleasure or profit,—the moment you lose interest in some future opportunity, that moment your mental machinery begins to slow down. We must keep interested or our hands will stop like a watch not wound. Get interested in your work, your business, your profession and new ideas will follow. Get interested and right results will reward your enthusiastic efforts."

"Keep interested and more enthusiasm will come." Some men are old at forty, some are young at seventy, the reason: the man of seventy is still interested in things and is trying to add to his store of knowledge; the man of forty quit thinking, lost interest in his line of endeavor. It is hard sometimes to keep interested, but we can if we try. The happy man is the busy man, who sees something new to add to his line of business. The housewife sometimes changes the location of all the furniture in the house to make it different and attract interest. Sometimes we may need to move the furniture of our minds to new locations. May'be we haven't been thinking right. May'be there are some cobwebs clogging the old think box. May'be we have decided there is no use, that all opportunities are gone, that our fathers lived in the day of opportunity, but to us there is nothing left but try to survive in a meager way hoping that something might happen to clearly show us what to do. We learn to do by doing. We learn to think by thinking. We learn to live by living. No we cannot be on the mountain top all the time, we must go down in the valley and help to till the fields, build the temples, help the helpless. This world is a world of itself in place. We too must keep moving for mind and body action that whirls through space and by its movements keeps will atrophy and decay if we stop, except for the short periods allotted for rest.

We owe a debt to this world for the opportunities we have. Are we trying to pay the debt? We owe much to the Christian institutions, called by various names. They have given us all the great reforms and institutions of helpfulness the world now enjoys. Are we doing our part by these great organizations or do we accept the blessings they have brought as the hog eats the acorns from one of God's trees and grunts on, never looking up even to see from where they come. My opinion is that every man should help support some church whether a member or not. You wouldn't live in a churchless country. And the reason men do not support these institutions more wholeheartedly is because they don't think unselfishly.

Soon we are going to have an opportunity to vote for open saloons again, and I'm hoping the people think before they vote. I remember the saloon days. One of the main sources of income for the small town lads was selling empty whiskey bottles. They would bring them in to saloons and drug stores by the thousands, and the country roadsides were lined with empty flasks. My opinion is there was ten times the whiskey drunk in saloon days. And look out folks nobody knows what will happen with open saloons now. Many good people are going to vote for whiskey, because they have listened to the propaganda of the brewers. Some women claim to be for whiskey. Better be careful, "Think" you boy and your girl will have a perfect right to drink th poison if you say it is a legal drink and if they make drunkards, you can only have regrets. We should think we should stand for some things. Laws have always been broken but what would the condition be without laws. Even the savage had some kind of laws to help govern his tribe. The old cow men of the early days had laws against cow stealing and often the offenders body dangled from a lone tree, and it didn't entirely stop cow stealing. Yes we must have prohibitory laws, and enforce them as best we can. We cannot let the bars down to criminals. We must protect those who think rightly and live to make the world better.

The Economic Conference now in session in London I believe will do some things to improve the world's condition. When sixty six nations get together, all wanting to do something, it will be done. May'be not just to suit our notions, but I'm looking for results.

It's a good old world, true there are thorns, but there are roses too.

Your friend, GEO. S. LINK.

With exception of a brief business session Saturday afternoon, June 17, the Plains Panhandle Singing Convention here June 17 and 18, will be strictly a singing convention with everything except the invocation in song. LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS

We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high.

But we do sell a high quality car at a low price.

Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference.

The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy.

But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years.

Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality:

1. Volume Production
2. Taking only one profit

First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales.

Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy.

There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car.

Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy.

Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one.

It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide:

"Section 3 (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within and a favorable majority of votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder, or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and/or County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In case of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers of this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and/or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified voters cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified voters cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provisions therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were imposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are, or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

city Charter provisions affected therein shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof one county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or any amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purpose hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

The proceeds of the sale of such bonds to be used in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment, but to be fairly distributed over the State and upon such terms and conditions as may be provided by law and the Legislature shall make such appropriations as are necessary to pay the interest and principal of such bonds as the same become due. The power hereby granted to the Legislature to issue bonds hereunder is expressly limited to the amount stated and to two years from and after the adoption of this grant of power by the people. Provided that the Legislature shall provide for the payment of the interest and redemption of any bonds issued under the terms hereof from some source other than a tax on real property and the indebtedness as evidenced by such bonds shall never become a charge against or lien upon any property, real or personal, within this State.

Your Opportunity Is In Radio

We wish it were possible to portray in cold type the opportunities offered in the field of Radio. Someone has very appropriately said it is the second largest industry in the world, being excluded only by the automobile industry.

To the mechanically inclined youngster, to the youngster who has the desire to "tinker" with electricity, will find in radio the ideal type of work and a most interesting study.

Colonel Lindberg has said many times that the shortest route to aviation is through the radio class room. Radio likewise offers so many avenues for improvement in business conditions might be worked out in many a "dead" town; as a rule this condition exists because a few men are permitted to run everything until they get fed up on praise and then lose interest.

This doesn't apply to our town, for it is not one of the "dead" ones. There's a rare opportunity right now to forget wash day and everything concerned with it. It doesn't require much effort to bundle up your wash and phone us to call. This summer will be more attractive and restful if you let us do your wash the family way. Our charge is invitingly insignificant.

Scenes At Fastest 500-Mile Race In World's History

The 21st International Sweepstakes at Indianapolis May 30, fastest and most thrilling 500 mile automobile race in world history, brought the highest honor of racing to Louis Meyer, winner in 1928 and the only one except Tommy Milton to win the great race twice. He was driving the Tydol Special.

The race set the amazing record of 104,162 miles per hour average, despite the fact that the cars carried two men and were limited to 15 gallons gasoline carriage, necessitating several stops. This average required terrific speeds on parts of the 2 1-2 mile oval—speeds that are said to go as high as 170 miles per hour.

"The fact that I had no tire trouble enabled me to set the new speed record," Louis Meyer said at the close of the race. "I want to express my appreciation for the building of tires ismishment." He was using tires built that stand up under the terrible punishment of Firestone—which were equipment chosen by all those who placed in this race, and have been on the winning cars for 14 years.

At the Speedway the "pits" where the cars are serviced are a center of activity and interest. The lower picture is a pit scene before the race showing tires being mounted on one of the five Studebakers—three of which finished in the money with the other two close behind. Firestone engineers see that the tires are properly mounted on the wheels, ready to withstand the burning speeds, the grinding curves, and the hours of relentless pounding over the brick track under the blazing sun—supreme tests of safety an endurance which have made better tires available to all motorists.

"It saved his life,"
the doctor said...

A Texas farmer was chopping wood one morning. The ax glanced off a hickory log and deeply gashed his foot.
His wife telephoned the doctor—"Come as fast as you can!"
"Tie a cord tightly around his leg below the knee. I'll be there at once," a voice flashed back along the wires.
Later, the doctor said: "Those brief directions by telephone saved that man's life. Even then, he was very weak when I arrived."

but I had also hung or pinned on the walls about twenty pictures from magazines and tablets.

One of the first things I did was to take down all those pictures. Then the color. The woodwork was painted a walls were calcimined a dark cream rich brown. Then I hung a group of three pictures on one wall and one over the bed. We had a very good clothes closet except that it did not have a place for shoes and hats. Then we put in another shelf for linens and underwear. We made a rack for shoes too.

We made a stain for the floor using burnt lubricating oil and gasoline. It made a very nice stain and helps the floor so much.

We made window curtains from brown domestic trimmed in some of the material dyed rose. We made a dressing table out of an old broken dresser; it has the cream and rose drapes too.

There was a tall phonograph record stand that was too high for the room we sawed it in two leaving a nice size record case and stand for the portable phonograph and made two stools from the one that was sawed off.

When we finished the bedroom we decided we would have to do the 'too. So we papered the kitchen walls, painted the furniture and wood work and stained the floor. We are so proud of our improved rooms.

Make Perfect Coffee . . . EVERY TIME . . . with These Automatic "Electrical Servants"

Authorities agree that the only perfect coffee is real French Drip Coffee. This is because a perfect brew requires three very definite things. First, that coffee grounds and water should come in contact but once. . . . Second, that the contact should be of about 3 1/2 minutes duration. . . . Third, that the water used in coffee-making should not be boiled, but maintained at a temperature about 16 degrees below the boiling point. When these three definite things are done, the result is a smooth, rich flavor . . . a clear, sparkling amber color . . . and an intriguing, appetite-awakening aroma.

Here are two appliances that enable you to make perfect coffee EVERY TIME! The Manning-Bowman French Drip Coffee Urn, and the Hotpoint Coffee-Maker automatically assure the perfection of all your coffee. No embarrassing failures . . . no disgusting "dishwater" coffee . . . none that would "float an egg." You'll have perfect coffee every time through the automatic perfection of these modern "Electrical Servants."

Specially priced, for a limited time only, you'll find one of these modern appliances an absolute necessity in your home. Like all electrical appliances, too, they may save money for you—for this modern way requires less coffee to produce a wonderful brew. Ask any employe for a demonstration TODAY. Convenient, if desired!

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
