BIG CAMPAIGN CLOSES SATURDAY NIGHT DECEMBER 9TH

Candidates Are All Neck and Neck in Last Days of Big Effort to Increase Times Circulation

There are only three more days of the Big Circulation Campaign, and the last week is always the most critical time of a campaign. Our candidates are all close in their voting strength and just a little negligence on the part of anyone could make quite a change in the final count. If there is a time during a campaign a candidate should work it is the last few days, and if there ever was a time when a friend should rally to their favorite it is that last few days. If you feel your favorite is not leading now is the time to pay your subscription and help her. The prizes will be awarded at the Times office on Saturday evening, December 9th. The balloting will close at six o'clock, at which time the judges will have charge of the ballot box. We hope to make the awards by seven thirty or eight o'clock, and please understand the Harley Sadler Show has promised to postpone their show one-half hour in order that all may attend the show after the awarding of prizes.

Merchants Plan For Holidays

The merchants of Spur went into session Tuesday afternoon to plan for the sales week for Christmas holidays. It is hoped that many people will try to make their holiday purchases in the early part of the week of December 18 to 23 as the stocks will be more complete the first of the week than on the last of the week. Holiday merchandise must be sold in its season, or it is not sold.

The merchants voted unanimously to suspend the rule of closing at six o'clock that week and remain open as long as people come to make purchases each day, or night. It is thought most merchants will close each evening about nine o'clock. But it is hoped everybody will do much of their Christmas shopping the first part of the week while there is more merchandise for selection.

CAR TURNED OVER;

MAN HURT

About six o'clock Wednesday evening M. C. Jackson hit the second bridge two miles east of town and turned his car over. He cut every banister off the right side of the bridge, which caused the car to turn over.

Mr. Jackson received bruises and cuts about the face, and hard laceration on the right side of his chest. One leg was bruised. He was knocked unconscious for a short time but soon recovered himself and was able to drive his car into town.

He stated he did not know what caused the accident unless he momentarily dropped off to sleep. He was coming to Spur to be with his wife who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marsh, and probably was driving a little speedier than he thought. Some damage was done the Ford car.

RAILROAD RATES REDUCED IN TEXAS

A passenger rate of two cents per mile is now effective on all lines in Texas. The right to reduce rates was granted by the Railroad Commission recently and all lines made the rates effective as early as possible.

Any one can ride the train to Stamford and return now cheaper than they can buy gas and oil to run an automobile. The fare to Stamford under the new rate is only $1.65.

Miss Johnnie Colvin, of Anson, is with the La Favorite Beauty Shop at Mrs. Gilbert's home. She is an expert operator. Also, this shop has installed a new Sunshine Dryette machine.

Harley Sadler Here For The Week

Harley Sadler, West Texas' famous show man, is here again with his smiles and hand shakes with his many friends. Harley always brings good cheer and a line of the best plays to be found anywhere. He has a new tent, much larger than he has ever owned before, and so far he has had a full house and part of the time has had to turn people away. Monday night some 500 people could not get into the tent and had to leave, missing a good play.

Saturday afternoon there will be a merchants matinee, and any one may secure tickets free to this matinee by simply asking for them at the various stores represented on the banners at the front of the show.

Harley has one play that any one who appreciates truthfulness in life will appreciate. This play is entitled "The Old Soak" and is a dandy feature. The vaudeville acts in Harley's shows are far above that of any other show on the road at this time in this country. You will enjoy every program of the entire week.

Buddy Bostwick, of Moody, is with the show this week. He is a singer and uses as his selection the old cowboy ballads. Also, he plays a guitar exceedingly well for a boy of 12 years of age. You will enjoy his selections this week.

VISIT HERE FROM FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones, of Fort Worth, spent a few days here the last of the week visiting their parents, C. A. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Barber. In speaking of the Public Works Program, of which Mr. Jones is administrator for District 12, he said there had been a number of projects approved and sent to Washington for final approval. In inaugurating this work in Texas he said it is going to mean employment for many thousands of people in the state during the year and would mean much improvement in a business way. One thing he mentioned in particular was the pleasant attitude of those with whom he and the committee has to deal. He stated he appreciated this very much.

Merchants To Give Away 30 Turkeys

The Retail Merchants Association is arranging to give away 30 turkeys on Tuesday, December 19, at about noon time. These turkeys will be turned loose from the tops of buildings and the persons who catch them get to take them home for Christmas dinner. There has never been a turkey scramble in our town before, and it is hoped this one will be a fun maker for everybody.

These turkeys will be nice ones and will be ready for market should any one desire to sell them. However, it is hoped by the merchants that whoever gets them will take them home.

Wanted A Couple To Get Married

Some couple in Spur Trade Territory is wanted by the merchants of Spur to consent to be married on the streets of Spur the week before Christmas. The merchants of Spur will donate many practical and useful presents to the couple who will agree to have their wedding ceremony performed on the main street of Spur, Monday afternoon, December 18. Any couple interested may report to the office of the Chamber of Commerce, or to Bryant-Link Company who will report the name to the Chamber of Commerce.

If you are going to get married, well—get married in Spur on Monday, December 18, and get the presents, too. You will appreciate every one of them. It is no trick, no camouflage, but a straight forward, honest affair on the part of the merchants of the town. Possibly the County Clerk will issue you the license free, and probably some minister will perform the ceremony free. At least, report either to the Chamber of Commerce or Bryant-Link Company and give your consent to be married on the above date and the particulars will be explained to you.

Boy Makes Parachute Jump Here Monday

Bobby Poole, 18, made a successful parachute jump from a bi-plane here Monday afternoon and secured a safe landing.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bernard, who were here giving pleasure flights, carried the young adventurer to a height of 3,000 feet over the city from which point he made his jump. For a distance of several hundred feet he dropped like a rock before the chute spread. Then he drifted down like a feather. A high wind caused Poole to be carried over the hill and he came down in a pasture near Dockum creek.

In speaking of making parachute jumps Mr. Poole stated that he had been doing that work for nearly two years. He made his first jump shortly after he was sixteen years of age and had followed the work successfully ever since. Many people in Spur Monday stated they had never seen a jump of this type before.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard spent Sunday and Monday in our city taking people for joy rides in the air. They are real folk, and believe in airplanes, stating that before many years people would be using airplanes universally.

They plan to be at Aspermoet Saturday and Sunday of this week where they hope to give many people the thrill of their first flight.

You are extended a special invitation by these young people to see this melodrama Friday evening.

There are so many places he is wanted at this time, that Spur has asked for him to be here on Wednesday, December 20. He will fly over town and drop presents down for people, then he will jump from the plane and come down in a parachute.

Santa Claus is the most up-to-date character known, and in coming to Spur where there rarely is any snow at Christmas time, he finds it more practical to come by airplane. He wants all the children to meet him here for he expects to drive down main street and throw candy to you. ## PLENTY OF MATERIAL FOR GOVERNOR IN SIGHT

With the announcement of Governor Ferguson that she would not be a candidate for re-election there loomed on the political horizon a number of persons seeking gubernatorial honors.

It has been understood all the time that Tom F. Hunter of Wichita Falls, would be in the race this year. He is an able lawyer and advocates reduction of government expenses in order to relieve the people of the heavy tax burden. C. C. McDonald, another attorney of Wichita Falls, has already made his announcement as a candidate for Governor. He is a right hand man of the Fergusons and probably will receive much of their support.

James V. Allred, Attorney General has made no announcement yet, but it is generally understood that he will be a candidate. Coke Stephenson, present Speaker of the House of Representatives, is a possible candidate and his friends are urging him strongly to pitch his hat into the ring. Senator Clint Small, of Amarillo, made his announcement the last of the week. It will be remembered that he was in the race in 1930 and was eliminated in the first primary by only 32,000 votes.

Friends of Lieut. Governor Edgar Witt, of Waco, are urging him to get in. It is not settled yet that he will, but he has a great number of friends who have a great deal of confidence in him. It is thought Maury Hughes, of Dallas, will be a candidate and will make his announcement in the near future.

With three candidates already announced and with four more in view, it looks as though there will be plenty of material for the voters of the Lone Star State from which to make a selection next year for the highest office within the gift of the people of this state. However, it has been the history of the state that there have been plenty of candidates for the office of Governor.

BUY NOT, EAT NOT

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Sometimes we have to go against our training or go broke. Sometimes what we have always believed to be a rule of virtuous conduct proves fatal in practice. For instance, we have grown up in the belief, fostered by our parents and teachers and enforced by our government, that we have no right to take or use the property of another person without his consent, but if the property in question happens to be a blackjack that the other person is about to bring down on my head I shall have a better chance of surviving if I perceive, in time, the unwisdom of clinging unalterably to old convictions. That is, there are times of emergency when clinging to an old conviction will be ruinous. Let us consider the present time in its relation to our old conviction in favor of thrift.

People of pioneer stock are often spoken of as the "backbone of the country," and probably they are. Pioneers are thrifty or they don't survive. If the wood pile is used too freely in the autumn it may not last through the winter, and the Midland child learned thrift at its grandmother's knee. Moreover, we've been taught for several generations that it isn't what a man earns that counts and takes care of him in his old age; it's what he saves. We've always believed that thrift is a virtue, that spending is risky and that squandering is suicidal. We demand thrift from our government, vote against political candidates proven unthrifty, and we investigate, and often relegate to private life, officials shown to be carelessly lavish with public funds. The value of thrift, indeed, is one of our strongest convictions. No one doubts that it is a right and useful conviction or that it would be dangerous to unsettle it; but here is the United States government coming to us now, asking us to buy, buy, buy, advising us to spend our money rather than to save it, and generally appearing to set itself strongly in opposition to that old principle of thriftiness in which we were trained. There seems to be a contradiction somewhere.

Moreover, the government asks us to spend at a time when we have the least to spare, at a time when the Federal government itself, as well as our State, county and city governments, are taking heavily from us in taxes and in that way lessening our power to spend. Worse still, our government, through the N.R.A., asks us to spend at a moment of great financial uncertainty in our lives, at a moment when we don't know whether we're emerging from the depression or going deeper into it, and when we aren't sure whether we're less afraid of the future than we were a year ago, or more so. The curious thing about the government's exhortation to us to spend is that the exhorters know how we feel and how we're situated; they know our old conviction in favor of thriftiness and they agree with that conviction—and yet these same exhorters ask us to buy, buy, buy!

What's the answer? Money is a means of trade. If you had a cord of wood and no food, and your neighbor had a cellar full of potatoes and no fuel, and if neither of you were willing to trade, he'd have raw potatoes to eat but he'd freeze to death, and you'd have heat enough perhaps, but you'd starve to death. Thrift is indeed a virtue; but this is a time of emergency during which it's necessary to buy goods so that somebody'll have money enough to pay us for what we produce. If it's hard for us to get rich by washing one another's shirts, it's certainly impossible for us to make a living by washing our own. It seems wiser to live by spending than to perish by saving.

FRUIT CAKE TIME IS HERE

'Tis fruit cake time again. Now is the time to prepare the raisiny, nutty, spicy cake for the Christmas season. Any fruit cake is better if it is allowed to stand a few weeks before using. In this way the fruits and spices "ripen". There are many ingredients in the holiday cake and all of them should be carefully prepared. Why not let the family help prepare the ingredients some evening, the family will appreciate the cake and all the more and it will lighten the work on the housewife.

"This is a good fruit cake and not expensive," exclaim club women after using the following recipe: 1 lb. raisins, 1 lb. currants, 1-4 lb. citron, 1-2 lb. butter, 1 cup chopped nuts; 4 cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 1-2 cup fruit juice, 1-2 cup tart jelly, 1-2 cup sour cream 1-2 teaspoon each soda and salt, 1 cup molasses, 5 eggs, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg.

Prepare all the fruit before mixing

it. Cut the citron into very small pieces. Cream the butter and sugar. Separate the eggs and add the yolks after the butter and sugar are creamed. Add the liquids. Mix and add half the dry ingredients add the remainder to the fruit and nuts. Add the whites of the eggs last. If the fruit is well covered with flour, it will be scattered through the cake and will not settle to the bottom.

Bake the cake in a tube or loaf lined with greased paper in a slow oven. A low fire allows the heat to penetrate the cake mixture slowly and does not dry it out or burn the crust.

"I find it is much better to cook the cake mixture slowly and does not dry it out or burn the crust."

"I find it is much better to cook the cake in the steam pressure cooker rather than bake it for so long," says Mrs. Bird Hight of Spur. "I cook mine by directions sent out by the Extension Service at A and M. College as follows: Cover top of pans with heavy brown wrapping paper which has been oiled. Place the pans in the cooker and pour boiling water into cooker half way up on the pans. Place the top on cooker but do not fasten clamps. Keep at boiling point for 55 minutes. After that clamp the lid securely on cooker, close pet cock and raise pressure to 15 pounds for 15 minutes. This insures cooking the cake to the center of the pan. Remove from cooker, take off paper covers and place in the oven for 15 minutes to dry out the crust."

DID you ever think of your eyes as doing work—and pretty heavy work at that?

To scientists, "work" does not mean what it does for most of us. To most people it means labor, some job to do that requires activity of some kind. But a scientist thinks of work as the units of energy required to perform something; a ton of coal has a certain amount of "work" stored up in it, and a copper wire is "important" because a certain capacity for "work" in the form of electricity can be sent along it as through a channel.

The human body itself is a kind of power house to take raw materials, transform them into energy, and transmit the energy to all the parts of the body which require it both to live and to perform their functions.

The controls of this power house are the nerves and some idea of the amount of work performed by an organism and its complexity can be gained by the system of nerves which serves it. There are twelve sets of nerves in the head; six of them serve the eyes, which is a certain indication not only of the importance of the eyes to the whole human mechanism; but of the intricacy of the eyes themselves. More than half of the total energy required for all of the five senses is used up by the eyes.

At certain times of the day a power house is required to deliver more energy than at other times. Usually, during these peak loads, additional units are called upon to pour energy into the lines. But the human body cannot be treated in exactly the same way. The only thing to do is to provide the working parts with special equipment, if we can, during the heaviest work, and see that they rest and recuperate after it. In the case of eyes, we must see to it that there we have special glasses to aid them to do special work, such as sewing or reading or fine drawing.

The consequences if we fail to do this are obvious. Since there is only a certain amount of nervous energy available for the body if the eyes take more than their share, some other organ will suffer. If the stomach, say, takes up its normal amount of energy so that the eyes do not have enough to get through some unusual job, the eyes will suffer.

Often we feel the strain both in our eyes and in other parts of our body as well; all of the delicate muscles are kept strained and overworked beyond what should be expected of them, and the results are felt too in impaired digestion, even in backaches and a general run-down condition. Glasses will help, because they lessen the work of the many eye muscles, but even they are not enough if we do not rest the eyes frequently during the hardest work by looking up every so often, and after the work by plenty of sleep.

Here is a century of progress as exemplified by bicycles. Miss Bee Standley, of Chicago, is seen at left with an all-wood-and-iron model built one hundred years ago. Sister Dorothy is all set for a spin on a 1933 model, and it's a safe bet the big balloon tires will give her the better ride.

This family together with your own cold cooked meats is more than willing and able to help you plan quick and easy meals for hot days. In the ready-to-eat sausage family are the various ham, beef and tongue bolognas, liverwurst, luncheon specialties and the dry sausages, cervelat (with no garlic) and salami (with garlic). Other well-known members of the family are head cheese and blood sausage. Baked, baked and spiced sliced ham are also economical ready-to-eat meats.

Jellies and preserves are delicious with cold plates. Use them and peanut butter for the children's sandwiches. Peaches, plums and cantaloupes are good and reasonable this week and there are plenty of lemons for cooling drinks.

COMMITTEE PLANS YEARBOOK FOR 1934

The yearbook committee of the county home demonstration Council met Tuesday morning to complete plans for the 1934 yearbook for the home demonstration clubs of the county. The demonstrations to be followed next year are the same as this year, namely, farm food supply, wardrobe, and bedroom improvement. All of the programs are based on two thoughts: making a living in the country and making a life in the country. More programs are to be based on child psychology, one on Texas history, and one on first aid in the home.

"Our people know the fundamentals now," said Mrs. W. M. Hunter, chairman of the committee, "and are ready for those things that bring us a greater appreciation of life and beauty."

Those serving on the committee beside the chairman were Mrs. J. W. Carlisle and Mrs. F. B. Crockett, the retiring council chairman and the chairman for 1934. The yearbooks will be ready for distribution by the later part of December.

Fashion Follows Health Lead

On smart tables everywhere, a new appetizer—the pineapple cup—is making its appearance following recent revelations that Hawaii's golden fruit has, in addition to its luscious flavor, definite health values. These include, according to reports of a comprehensive study, a generous supply of vitamins A, B and C and five essential minerals. In addition, it was found to be an aid to the digestion of proteins such as meat and eggs thus giving it a definite place on a menu which these are included. The pineapple cup is simple to prepare. It is made from crushed pineapple tidbits, chilled and served in the cocktail glasses.

FOOD FACTS

SO many persons, after lunch, feel lazy and uncomfortable. They feel "loggy" until lunch has digested.

Extensive research, recently reported, shows that canned pineapple facilitates the digestion of meals of which it is a part.

Canned pineapple makes more readily available the energy of other foods with which it is eaten.

It is particularly effective in the digestion of proteins such as eggs, meats and beans. Research indicates that no other fruit in common use compares with canned pineapple in its stimulating effect on digestion.

Now we know that canned pineapple helps to maintain a normal balance of alkalinity in the blood.

Workbook in Louisville Herald Post

The body's most complex mechanism

DID you ever think what a busy place your eye must be? A small spherical body lever more than an inch and a quarter in diameter, it is perhaps the busiest spot—and the most complicated in the whole body.

Four-fifths of its surface is covered with an opaque substance which is white on the outside, and is known to us commonly as the "white of the eye." A fifth, or less, of the surface is taken up by a circular, transparent window, called the cornea, which serves no other function than to let through the beams of light and protect the delicate interior which does all the work.

Now pretend that you are seated on a light wave, and one of half a trillion which enter the eye each second. You have just been bounced off an object, such as a chair, from some such light source as the sun; you are traveling with the speed of light and happen to pass within someone's eye. First you pass through the cornea, then through a transparent fluid called the aqueous humor, which helps to feed certain parts of the eye and maintains enough pressure to keep the cornea from caving in. Then you pass through a small circular opening, called the pupil of the eye, which is controlled by a colored band of muscles which can expand or contract the opening according to the amount of light required by the eye to see. This is called the iris (the Greek word for rainbow), and its color determines whether a person is brown-eyed, blue-eyed and so on.

Next, your path takes you through the lens of the eye, immediately behind the iris. This also is transparent, but because the surface is curved, your path is changed, and it is changed just enough so that you and the other rays of light that entered with you will fall in a distinct pattern on the back wall of the eye. This back wall is a very sensitive area, much more sensitive than the film of a camera, and the job with which you laid on it sends an impulse along a fiber of the optic nerve clear on back to your brain.

This may not sound complicated, but all along your path muscles are adjusting themselves, nerve impulses are scurrying back and forth, food reduced to a transparent form is being sent to the working parts to keep them alive, and little lubricating glands are hard at work to keep them in operating order. A thousand things are happening at once; there are at least eight different specialized parts in the eye not found elsewhere in the human body, and they are all working together so that several hundred million light waves a second can carry their impressions and register themselves in your eye—in other words, so that you can see.

You can understand, then, why the eye deserves a good deal of respect, and why, in former times, it was even worshipped as a marvel. Many consider it man's greatest single possession—and protect it as such.

FOOD FACTS

A NEW report of exhaustive research reveals these facts about canned pineapple:

High in vitamins A, B, and C. These vitamins build up the resistance of the body against infections such as colds, promote normal growth, help form strong teeth and bones.

Canned pineapple contains five essential minerals in a form easily assimilated by the body. Three of these minerals are essential in preventing nutritional anemia. The others contribute to formation and maintenance of strong bones and teeth.

Canned pineapple stimulates gastric digestion of meals of which it is a part.

It helps prevent and relieve fatigue. Pineapple is the only known fruit or vegetable that is a stimulant to the kidney function.

It makes readily available the energy of other foods with which it is eaten and helps to prevent and relieve acidosis.

Helps prevent and relieve nutritional anemia.

Helps build up the body's resistance to disease.

Helps make reducing diets safe.

us in the campaign. We have accepted the hospitality of their Christian home, we have done everything in our power to give them a good, clean campaign and we feel we are leaving them as our friends. To Mr. Craig and Mr. Bland, of the mechanical department of the Times, you have our sincere thanks for the painstaking way in which you have handled the advertising for the campaign, and for your courteous and considerate treatment while with you in your department.

We have spent the day (Wednesday) in the mechanical department assisting in the press work for the Times and we watched the counting machine for the number of papers printed, and to our surprise there were 2480 papers actually printed. This is due, in a large way, to the circulation campaign we are just finishing.

Up to last Saturday night the campaign had added 576 new names to the list of the Times and we are expecting at least 300 more new names when the ballot box is opened Saturday night.

Harley Sadler is now showing in Spur, and we would just like to say we have known Harley personally since he has been in the show business and we consider Harley in a class by himself as a show man. He is the most conscientious man in the show business we have ever seen. And if you want to attend one of the cleanest and most wholesome shows of your life don't fail to make his show a visit. Harley is a West Texan and we have never heard a word of disapproval of he or his show, because he is loved by the entire citizenship of West Texas; Harley has issued passes to candidates to his show.

We would be ungrateful if we did not thank the merchants of Spur for their full cooperation in donating weekly prizes to our candidates; there were twenty merchants who participated in this feature and by far the greatest number we have ever had in any of our campaigns.

And by the way just here we doff our hat to Mr. H. O. Everts, manager of the Palace Theatre for the courtesy of the use of his stage in the awarding of our weekly prizes, and also for his loyalty to the Times in donating passes to our many candidates.

We wish to pass our appreciation to the Spur Motor Company, inasmuch as they sold us the new Chevrolet at a great discount; also the Spur Hardware and Furniture Company for giving us the discount on the bedroom suite and set of springs we are awarding as a prize; also to the Spur Mattress Company, from which we purchased the mattress which will be awarded with the bedroom suite.

Your Campaign Manager is always interested in the business accorded the newspapers for whom we operate circulation campaigns, and we wish to say in this respect that Mr. and Mrs. Starcher have much cause for thankfulness that their paper carries even one hundred different advertisements in this issue. We do not believe there is a single newspaper in the West that will carry that many advertisements in one issue.

HENRY ALEXANDER & CO.

The Campaign Manager Says

The Big Circulation Campaign will come to a close Saturday night and the Campaign Manager feels it has been a very successful campaign, inasmuch as the managers of the Dickens County Times have expressed themselves as being well pleased with the results obtained.

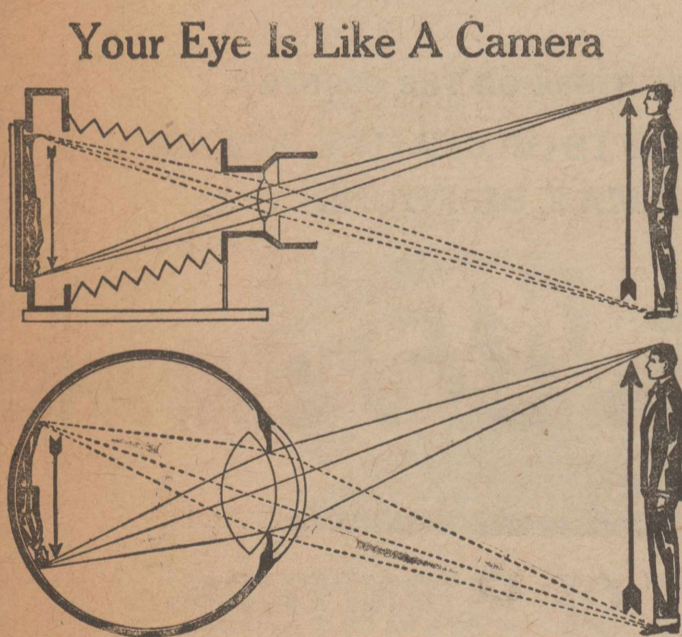

We regret indeed we have been unable to spend our entire time with the campaign, but having campaigns in other West Texas towns made it impossible. We have had some of the greatest workers in this campaign of our experience and we appreciate their efforts.

We invite the public to attend the awarding of the prizes Saturday night at the Dickens County Times office. The campaign will close at six o'clock and as soon as the ballots can be counted by experts the announcement of the winners will be made.

The Campaign Manager would rather scatter a few rose petals along the path of friends than plant full bouquets on their graves, and we would like to say a few words before leaving Spur about our short sojourn in your city. To Mr. and Mrs. Starcher we appreciate the many courtesies extended us during our stay and the wonderful cooperation accorded

The EYE and how we see

Your Eye is Like A Camera

THE camera is patterned after the human eye. Both have a lens and a sensitive receiving area, a film in the case of the camera and the retina in the case of the eye. Both have a diaphragm to "stop down" the amount of light which enters, for the iris of the eye can expand and contract like a diaphragm, making larger or smaller the little hole which in a camera is called the aperture and in the eye, the pupil and both have a dark chamber behind the lens.

An image of anything is made up of rays of light of varying sorts reflected by the object. When the camera is pointed at a man, for example, the reflected light rays from the man pass through the lens of the camera. If this lens were plain glass, the rays would need a film the size of the man in order to take his picture. But when they pass through the curved surfaces of the lens, they are bent or "refracted," in such a way that a small image of the man is made, up side down, on the film. The image is up side down because the lens bends the light rays so that they cross before they reach the film.

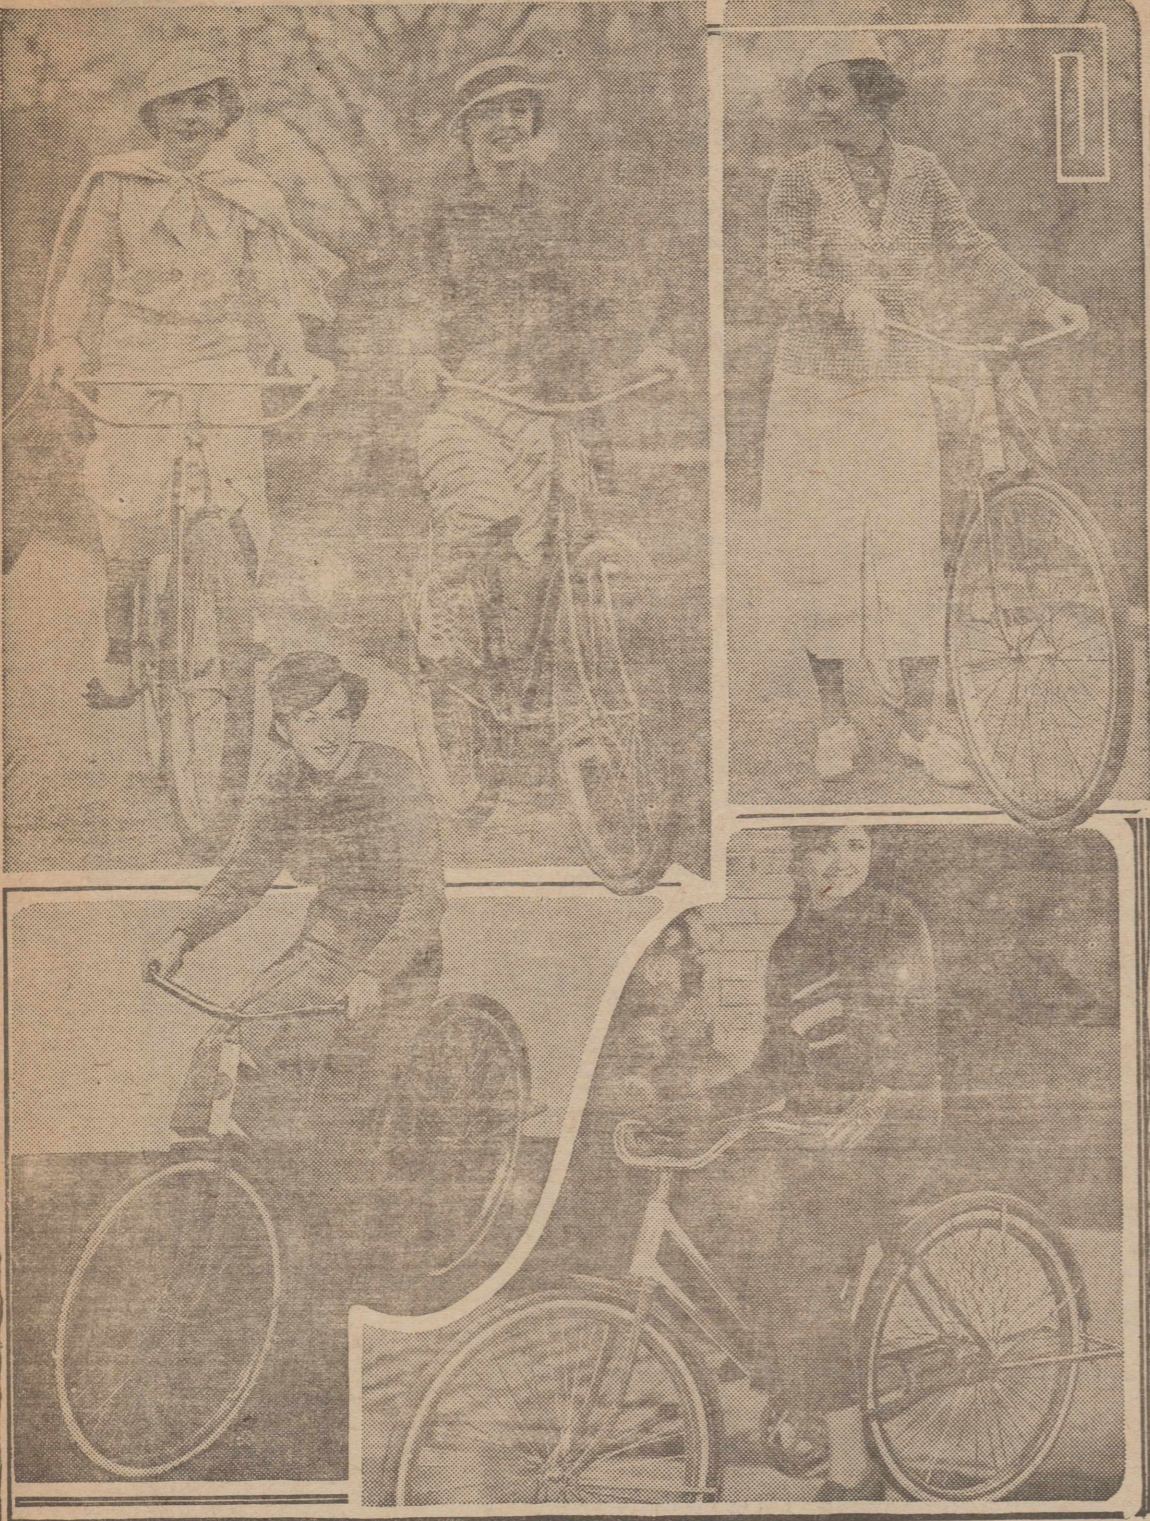

With the camera, if the image of the person whose picture we are taking is not clear and sharp

(that is, if it is out of focus), we can move the lens nearer or farther away from the film until it is just right. This cannot be done in the human eye, for the lens is at a fixed distance from the retina.

But the lens of the eye is far more wonderful, for it can adjust the focus by changing its own thickness. It can become thick to focus on objects near at hand, or thin to focus on distant objects, and it does so thousands of times a day. The time required for the human lens to adjust its focus is on the average two-tenths of a second.

One other great difference between the eye and the camera is that the film of the camera can take but one picture, while the retina of the eye can receive hundreds of thousands of pictures an hour and pass them on to the brain and be ready for more. But the retina as well as the lens of the eye must be rested by sleep, and if they are imperfect they must not be expected to strain themselves long without the aid of correction lenses to ease their work. This perhaps is the fundamental difference between the eye and the camera, for the eye is a living mechanism and demands periodic care and protection.

AN OLD TIMERS WEDDING

In an early day the County Judge or Justice of the Peace performed so many wedding ceremonies that it became a custom. This custom was established not because people did not believe in the ministry, but there were very few ministers in the country.

Last Saturday afternoon a wedding of the old time custom was performed by Judge T. M. Green, of the Justice Court at Dickens. The contracting parties were Mrs. Dora Mooneyhan and Mr. S. R. Peak, both of Afton community. The ceremony was held in the presence of a few friends about three o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Peak returned to their home on the Forbis Ranch near Afton just after the ceremony. Mr. Peak owns a farm just east of Afton but will not manage it this year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Peak have children by former marriages. Both of them came from the State of Tennessee but did not know each other there.

At the noon hour Sunday they enjoyed a fine dinner in honor of their recent marriage, having all their children present with them for the day and also a number of friends.

They are fine people and both of them have a good standing in the community where they live. Their many friends join in wishing them much success in their career together.

PIKE NICHOLS MARRIES

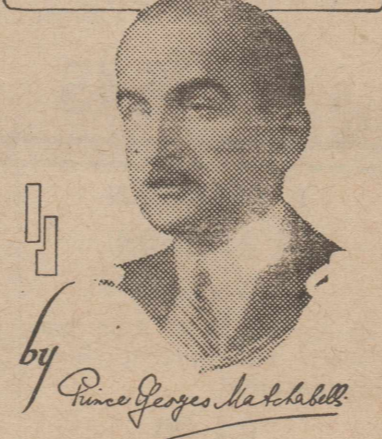

Pike Nichols, of Spur, and Miss Lillian Grisham of Abilene, were married in that city last Thursday morning. Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Abilene, read the ceremony in the presence of a few friends.

The bride is an only daughter of Judge and Mrs. J. H. Grisham of Abilene, a family that is much respected.

The groom is the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. P. C. Nichols of Spur, and is a very popular young man of our city. He is a graduate of Abilene High School, and at present is a student in the University of Texas.

After spending a day or two with friends in Abilene Mr. and Mrs. Nichols left for Austin where he will continue his work in the University.

As Man sees Woman

(Prince Georges Matchabelli.)

PERFUME chooses women—women don't choose perfume. This should always be borne in mind when picking out a perfume to suit your personality. Smell, it, yes—but do not stop there. Let it try you and see what the verdict will be. The true test is its reaction to your physical makeup. It should always be rubbed into the skin—the alcohol then evaporates and the bodily heat will bring out the real fragrance.

One skin may kill a valuable perfume and another show off its utmost allure. The same perfume on the wrists of six different women may obtain six different effects. The scent may fade out almost immediately, it may remain but take on a disturbing and possibly disagreeable quality, and again it may blend in with the skin so beautifully as to cause a superfragrance.

Just as a rouge can look bright orange in its box and a soft clear red on the cheeks, so a perfume can be pleasing to the nostrils until applied to the skin. Physical chemistry should always be taken into consideration. Outward effects may often cause a discrepancy. In general, light, flowery odors are more suitable for blondes and the heavier, exotic types for brunettes.

Keeping Down the Waistline - - - With Myrtle Miller

Keeping the waistline slim and trim involves but a few minutes work each morning as demonstrated by Miss Myrtle Miller, formerly a featured dancer with the Ziegfeld Follies and a dancing star of many Broadway successes. The three exercises pictured above are not difficult and should form a regular habit upon arising, just as important as washing your face or brushing your teeth. By doing them conscientiously every morning, your figure will retain its slim youthfulness, and physically you will feel "in the pink of good health." Be sure to follow the exercises with a brisk rub-down with your favorite table salt and a refreshing shower in order to obtain the utmost of exhilarating tonic value.

Hubby's Cooking Lacks Variety But Seasoning Helps Greatly

BY EMILY BANKS
 Worcester Salt Institute

"My wife's Gone to the Country, Hooray! Hooray!" is a grand spirit... for the first week. But after a week or two of his own cooking, that first enthusiasm of the summer bachelor wears down a bit. Usually a man's cooking repertoire is very limited, and unless the dishes he knows are prepared very well indeed they have a way of becoming very, very uninteresting.

There is no reason, however, for a man letting a small detail like cooking mar the enjoyment of his temporary freedom. There are tricks in making the old standbys really interesting. Good old dependable Hamburger may be much improved if instead of frying in lard or butter, the bottom of the skillet is covered with salt. If mixed with an egg and chopped onion and cooked in this manner, Hamburger retains its juices and becomes both more interesting and more digestible.

To get the thrill of being a master cook with the minimum of experience and effort, sliced ham baked with potatoes is just the thing for a "summer bachelor" dinner, constituting an almost entire meal in itself.

SLICED HAM BAKED WITH POTATOES

1 large slice ham, about 1-2 inch thick.
 4 or 5 medium sized potatoes.
 Wash and pare potatoes. Slice very thin into baking dish and lay slice of ham on top of potatoes. Cover all with milk. Put lid on baking dish and bake slowly in oven for an hour or until potatoes and ham are tender. Season with Worcester salt to bring out full flavor.
 And if you want to go in for some real impressive cooking, baked salmon au gratin would be fine, and not too difficult.

BAKED SALMON AU GRATIN

Open can pink salmon and remove all skin and bones. Break salmon up with fork, in juice from can.
 Arrange a layer of salmon in a baking dish, season with salt and pepper, and cover generously with finely shaved or grated American cheese. Repeat with another layer of salmon and cheese, and so on. Bake until cheese is melted and top is well browned.

Rights of Women In Colombia Increased

First lady of Colombia, Mrs. Enrique Olaya Herrera, wife of the President.

BOGOTA, Colombia, S. A.—By act of the present Congress, the civil code of Colombia has been so amended that a wife can alienate and administer or manage her own property during marriage.

President Olaya of Colombia has steadfastly worked in the interest of greater recognition for the rights of women in his country, since his election two years ago.

For eight years previous to his election, President and Mrs. Olaya resided in Washington where he represented Colombia as its Minister to the United States.

Mrs. Olaya is leading the activities of the women of her country in the work of the Red Cross.

COOPERATOR FILLS CANNING BUDGET

"I have every jar and can on the place filled. I even traded a dozen jars of plums for a dozen empty jars. One of the newer products I have canned this year and which we like so much is green tomato sandwich spread," said Mrs. John D. Huffstедler, club woman in the Highway community.

"I have added 20 feet of shelving in my pantry in order to better arrange my products. I have 100 quarts leafy vegetables, 75 quarts starchy vegetables, 30 quarts other vegetables, 100 quarts fruits, 28 quarts tomatoes, 75 quarts meats, 82 quarts pickles and relishes, 50 quarts preserves and jellies, and 23 quarts sandwich spread and other miscellaneous products. That is 563 quarts valued at $147.70. Since there are only two of us in the family we have about doubled our canning budget. I have some more apples to can this week and I am going to make mincemeat," continued Mrs. Huffstедler.

You're The Loser

WHEN you allow Headache, Neuralgia, Muscular, Rheumatic, Sciatic or Periodic Pains to keep you from work or pleasure. You can't go places and do things when you are suffering—and the work or good times won't wait for you.

Why allow Pain to rob you of Health, Friends, Happiness, Money?

DR. MILES ANTI-PAIN PILLS have been used for the relief of pain for more than forty years. They taste good, act quickly, do not upset the stomach, nor cause constipation, leave no dull, depressed feeling.

Thousands have used them for twenty, thirty, forty years, and still find that nothing else relieves pain so promptly and effectively.

Why don't you try them? Once you know how pleasant they are to take, how quickly and effectively they relieve, you won't want to go back to disagreeable, slow acting medicines.

You too may find quick relief. Why wait forty minutes for relief when Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills will relieve you in ten to twenty minutes?

As a household remedy I have never found anything that equalled Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills.

I never found anything that was so good to stop pain as Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. I have told many about them and I find they are all using them.

I have been using Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills for years. I keep them on hand all the time. I can certainly recommend them for pain.

Miss Audra Seybold, 2417 W. 2nd St., Dayton, Ohio

Your Anti-Pain Pills have been a wonderful help to me. I have used them for three years and always keep them on hand.

I have used quite a lot of Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. They are fine pills to stop pain.

able price for hogs, you are doing some thinking on how you are going to come out.

During the last four months hog marketings have run 20 per cent greater than during the same months last year, and 5 per cent greater than any previous records for these months. Now it looks as if we were going to have the biggest fall farrowing for any year since 1923.

Why not join the hog growers of the nation and accept the plan which the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has developed to meet the present situation? The marketing premium offered by the Federal Government for pigs and sows will pay you well if you choose to sell your pigs now instead of fattening them out.

Figure it out for yourself. I have the plans for marketing during this emergency which gives the prices and differentials. The problem of big prices is tied up with the control of production. The plan is a good start in that direction.

Call me up, or look me up at the office. I'll be mighty glad to give you all the information on this plan I can.

County Agricultural Agent.

Another View

It is fine to cooperate with the government in every way in order to restore the business pendulum to the proper position. We are for the government in every way, but considering the dearth of hogs in Dickens County and the present low prices of hogs and the high prices of meat, would the above mentioned movements be sane or not? Why should the hog raiser sell hogs at five cents and see his neighbor pay 25 cents for ham, why not make a deal with the neighbor, trade him a hog for some other article, or sell him a hog at the price the government is offering to pay and let the neighbor grow his meat, let him use his feed in the production of that meat. Any one knows there are not half enough hogs in the county, if evenly distributed, to supply the consumption of meat here. Then why ship them to the packers to be used in profiteering when the people right at home need these hogs and can save big money by using them? Let's be sensible in the program of reconstruction.

To Dickens County Farmers

Dear Mr. Hog Grower:

You may feel like the old trapper who had the well known bear by the tail and couldn't let go. If you are short of feed, and cannot buy feed for your pigs and your sows to farrow soon, the problem may be a hard one for you to solve.

But there is a way out. Sell your pigs, light hogs, and some of your sows due to farrow this fall. "At present prices?" you ask. No! Sell them at prices well above prevailing market prices. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has worked out a way for you to do this. Take advantage of that plan now. The Adjustment Administration will not offer such a plan again.

I have a brief outline of the plan. This should look mighty good to anyone without feed just now. Call me up, or look me up at the office, and I will gladly give you any information you might want.

Yours for higher prices through production control.

County Agricultural Agent.

Dear Mr. Hog Grower:
