"Wake Up and Live" To Be Shown at Palace Sun. - Monday

Musical Show Is One of Best in Many Seasons

In "Wake Up and Live," which shows at the Palace Theatre Preview Saturday night, Sunday and Monday, with Walter Winchell, Ben Bernie and Alice Faye in the leading roles, Twentieth Century-Fox believes that it has the sweetest, hottest, most glamorous musical ever turned out by that studio.

Eclipsing such swelegant musicals as "On the Avenue," "One in a Million," and "Sing, Baby, Sing," this new film musical brings the famous Winchell-Bernie feud to the screen in an eye-filling production that lays strong claim to being the hotchpot of them all.

"Wake Up and Live" offers not only the intriguing spectacle of the Winchell-Bernie feuding face to face, but also the singing, dancing and emoting of Alice Faye, lovelier and more affecting than ever; Kelly, Ned Sparks and Jack Haley; and nine smash song hits by those kings of song writing, Gordon and Revel.

The riotous imbroglio involving Winchell and Bernie is the background of "Wake Up and Live," telling the story of a small-time vaudeville performer, Jack Haley, who muffs his big radio opportunity when at an audition he gets "mike fright" and faints away. Grace Bradley, his partner, deserts him for Walter Catlett, a booking agent who gets her a job in a night club.

Haley's sister, Patsy Kelly, is Walter Winchell's "Girl Friday," and through her he gets a job as a uniformed guide at Radio Center. There he meets and pesters Ben Bernie, selling him an occasional "gag" and he also meets there the "Wake Up and Live Girl" of radio, Alice Faye, who sets out to help him overcome his mike fright.

While listening to the Bernie radio program one night, Haley is inspired by the music to step boldly up to a microphone in a deserted control room. He sings alone with the orchestra, unaware that he is on the air, and th estation is deluged with a flood of fan mail from wildly enthusiastic listeners.

By accident, Alice Faye discovers Haley's part in the commotion. But Catlett and Grace Bradley have also suspected, and they kidnap the uncomprehending Phantom. There ensues a whirlwind chase, winding up in a gala floor-show finale at Bernie's night club, where Winchell, in a rapid-fire news broadcast, flashes the hectic developments in the situation to his radio audience as they occur.

"Wake Up and Live" owes a lot to swelegant song hits turned out by

Deanna Durbin's Debut on Screen Here

Barbara Read, Deanna Durbin, and Nan Grey set the laughs whirling in "Three Smart Girls," at the Palace Theatre today and Friday.

"Wake Up and Live" A Show Wow; Is a Howlariou, Swelegant Musical Show

The howlariou culmination of a fast and furious feud, "Wake Up and Live" features Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie with Alice Faye in a musical smashola. With Jack Haley, Patsy Kelly and Ned Sparks also on hand, this Palace Theatre Sunday-Monday feature lets the quips fall where they may.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

By R. M. Hofer
There are many simple things that could be done to reduce automobile accidents.

Recently, I saw a small trailer with lumber in it tear loose from the pleasure car that was towing it. It dashed out into oncoming traffic, then slued around and ran into the bank on the side of the road where it broke loose. It missed oncoming cars by a split second, and came just as near causing a wreck with the car that was following it.

The trailer had been fastened to the pleasure car bumper (which had never been made to haul a trailer) with an insecure bolt that simply jolted out. It was only a miracle that it did not cause serious or fatal accidents. The owner of the trailer refastened it to the bumper with baling wire and started out again.

What excuse is there for laws or regulations governing automobiles, that permit such potential death-dealing contraptions on the highway? A traffic officer would immediately stop such a driver without a license plate. Why should not laws be passed by which a traic officer could stop every car towing a trailer that did not have some form of identification attached showing that it complied with rigid regulations as to its safety, and arrest the driver?

This is merely one potential law to aid in automobile accident prevention, that could be as easily enforced as automobile licensing requirements.

MARY LOUISE LISEBY IS HOSTESS AT DINNER.

Entertaining Monday evening in her home on Hill Street, Miss Mary Louise Lisenby was a delightful hostess at a six o'clock dinner honoring four couples. After the dinner they were joined by several other young people for an enjoyable party.

The three course dinner was served at a lovely table laid with colorful potteryware. A bowl of red roses formed the center piece and red candles burning in crystal holders furnished light. Suckers dressed as dolls held place cards with the following names: Misses Billie Burke Hisey, Helen Hale, Isabelle Campbell and the hostess; Messrs. Elton Garner, John A. Moore, Bill Caraway and Norton Barrett.

Guests arriving at eight o'clock for the party were Misses Frances Morris, Marjorie Burrow, Noema Smith, Callie Fayh Shelton of Lubbock, Ernestine Hale and Lillian Grace Dickson; Messrs. Carl Arthur, Everett Martin, Kelley Marsh, Clifford B. Hunter, Spencer Lisenby and Utlet Parrish.

first recipient of the annual Artaban Award presented by the Artaban Club of the Homemaking Department of Spur High School. The announcement of the winner of the award was made public at the High School Commencement exercises held at the Charles A. Jones Stadium on May 21, 1937. The name of the winner was held in complete secrecy until that time.

The basis for judging the winner of the award was approved by the club in September. Mrs. O. C. Thomas, teacher of homemaking, has checked students by that scoreboard over the year. The scoreboard reads as follows:

1. Honor roll, 5 points per 6 weeks, 30 per cent.
 2. Dependability, Cheerfulness, and Neatness, 30 per cent.
 3. Faithful Performance of Duty as Officer or Committeeman, 5 per cent.
 4. Winner of place in local Rally (tyrot (foods, clothing or exhibit) 10 per cent.
 5. Enter enthusiastically into all Club activities, 15 per cent.
 6. On the Club programs, 5 per cent.
 7. Initiative and originality, 5 per cent.
- Miss Hisey has served faithfully as the Club president for the past two years. Artaban Club regrets losing her very much. The Club, however, wishes her much luck wherever she goes.
- Miss Mary Louise Lisenby fell only a few points behind Miss Hisey in total score. They both have been excellent students in the Homemaking Department.
- The Artaban Award, a silver engraved loving cup, has as its objective the encouragement of the Homemaking Department to produce well rounded, independent, forceful future citizens.
