M. C. Golding, Pres. C. of C. Calls Meeting

The Spur Chamber of Commerce held an open house Tuesday night in the basement of the Bryant-Link Company store. The big feature of the evening was an oyster fry which, with the association of the evening, was worth the average price of annual dues paid. M. C. Golding, the president, was in charge of the meeting, and while he has not been publishing matters to the world, the Chamber of Commerce has actually been doing things.

Mr. Golding asked O. C. Arthur to give an outline of the Commerce work done the past six months. He stated that April 1, the Chamber of Commerce was revived, and since that time many things have been brought to pass. He stated that the Swenson Park north of town is largely the result of the Chamber of Commerce. That at this time they have the assurance from the County that the road from the East Ward school to the cemetery will be made wider and put up in better condition. The Chamber of Commerce is still paying for the office of the County Home Demonstrator, the WPA office and the Resettlement office.

One thing mentioned that is going to be of great worth and that is a traffic light to be installed at the end of Burlington Avenue at Highway 18, and another traffic light at the intersection of Burlington and Sixth Street at the City Light plant. The lights have been received and the city will put them in soon.

Mr. Arthur announced that the (Continued on Page 8)

Subscription Drive Contestants Making Good Showing

We would like to say to our contestants that you have friends who will help you, and the best thing you can do is to get in touch with them at once and give them an opportunity. It is doubtful that they will seek you out, but your name is before them now, and when you approach them they will be ready to assist you.

Some of the contestants are just getting started and their showing is not so good at this time, but they will have a good report for next week. The standing is printed in the large advertisement and some of them have not been able to make reports since they were nominated.

It is hoped people will give them a favorable reception and assist them all you can. Every one is going to be paid for their efforts, but some will accomplish more than others probably. Clip out the coupon votes in the Times each week and send it in for your favorite contestant. It counts 25 votes and costs you nothing to vote.

No Samples Copies After This Week

We want to announce to those readers in Spur who have been reading the Dickens County Times through courtesy of this office that after this week you will not receive the Times. As our news boys were distributing the paper to our regular subscribers we requested them to throw a copy on your gallery in order that you might become acquainted with the Times and know about its scope of news. Our subscription drive is on at this time and we are making the Times to you for only $1.00 per year, the lowest rate of any weekly newspaper in West Texas. If you have enjoyed the paper we are glad and hope you will arrange with one of our solicitors to keep it in your home. The bargain prices in the Spur merchants advertisements will save you the price of the subscription many times in any year.

Spur Bulldogs Rest This Week

The Spur Bulldogs will rest from their labors this week end. At least they will play no game either at home or abroad, but it dimes to doughnuts that they will be getting themselves into good condition to take on those Paducah Dragons Armistice Day.

According to arrangements one year ago, the local Legionnaires will be guests of the Paducah Post and all celebrate Armistice Day together. The Bulldogs will play their conference game with the Paducah team Thursday afternoon of next week, and it is expected to be a hot game. People of Spur are expecting to close business for the day and will go to Paducah to boost for the Bulldogs to win.

The schedule of conference games for District 4-B this week is:
Paducah will play at Floydada.
Matador will play at Flomot.
Estelline will play at Turkey.
Silvertown at Lockney.
Spur and Quitaque will rest this week.

Flomot, Floydada, Estelline, Paducah and Spur have lost one conference game each during the season. If the Bulldogs can pull down the next three games, then it will be up to the District Committee to select the conference team, Paducah or Floydada will be on the two game loss this week end, and it might be possible that Matador would win over Flomot which would give them a two game loss.

The conference standing is liable to terminate in a muddle and the executive committee may have to select a conference team from general records rather than on games.

Senior Class Play Friday Night

The Senior Class of the Spur High School will present "The Heart Exchange" at the East Ward auditorium Friday evening. Curtains will be pulled about eight o'clock and the program started. This is a 3-act farcical comedy with plenty of fun for the audience.

In the characterization Bill Gruben represents a diligent student at Lamport College and will be known as Arthur Princeton. Alton Barker, as Ralph Dartmore, is another Lamport student, and Mary Jo Collier as Harriet Hockett is the maid at the Heart Exchange. Joseph Thurston, characterized by T. J. Horner, is Ralph's uncle and is mild-mannered. Miriam Reed as Martha Kellogg, is the stenographer and very attractive and resourceful, and is in contrast to Louise Millard, represented by Opal McGlathery, who is engaged to Ralph. Thomas Penn played by Billie Louise Powell, is very aristocratic, about fifty, and very conservative.

Hartley Decker—Maurice Costolow—a very smooth mannered personage and knows he is in the play and prominent customer at the Heart Exchange. Daisy Meadows certainly enjoys her gum, serving as waitress at the Heart Exchange and is impersonated by LaNelle Fallis. George Walters, the stuttering mental genius, is represented by Carl Arthur, "Socker", Quigly is the important prize fighter and is characterized by Ainsworth Gates. Then last, but not least, is Matilda Goggenlocker, who is the "bossy" old-maid school teacher, and that part is played by Wynell McClure.

Miss Thelma Logan and Mr. Sis-to are the co-directors of the play, and the characters say they are going to make it the best one the Senior Class has ever exhibited.

DISPLAY FLAGS ARMISTICE DAY

While there will be no Armistice Day program here next week by virtue of a former agreement with Paducah, yet the American Legion boys hope that people will display flags for the day. In the event your flag is dingy and looks unkept, please have it cleaned. It is hoped people will go to Paducah and help the Bulldogs win over the Dragons that day. This arrangement was made one year ago.

Worker Gets Hand Badly Mangled

J. J. Cato, who had been working at the Swift Gin, received a bad laceration of his right hand Thursday. One of the seed conveyors became clogged and threw a belt. Mr. Cato with two other workers started in to get the conveyor started. They had been working at one section where Mr. Cato had requested the other two men to turn the conveyor by the pulley. He went to another section where he placed his hand in the conveyor to ascertain the amount of clogging and some of the men turn it on his hand.

His hand was caught about the wrist and cut in a V-shape. Then the flesh was stripped from the back of his hand down to the knuckles, the cut being so deep that most of the metacarpals were exposed. No bones were broken and a few scratches on the fingers.

He went to Nichols Sanitarium where the wound was treated and he seems to be getting along very well. He stated Monday that he suffers quite a lot of pain in his hand.

County Ginnings Running Ahead

According to reports made by Milton R. McDonald, special agent, Dickens County reported 7,877 bales of 1937 cotton crop ginned. This was greatly in excess of the amount the same date in 1936 which was 4,224 bales. This report was released by the federal government October 28.

COTTON RUNNING LOW IN PRICE; SEED UP

Spur ginnings reported 8,650 bales of the present cotton crop has been ginned at Spur at seven o'clock Wednesday evening. All six gins were running at full capacity and every yard had bales waiting to be ginned.

Cotton was slow on the market. Some reported paying a range of $5.50 to $7.85. Not much was selling as it seemed to be difficult to foretell the outcome of the market. Seed was bringing $18.00 per ton.

All gins were turning out good samples and were taking care of the farmers as they came in very nicely. None were having to wait very long.

Red Cross Membership Drive Started

A growing, tangible consciousness of the need for more experts in administering first aid has resulted in the training of an unusual number of persons during the past fiscal year, according to the chairman of the Dickens County Red Cross Chapter.

It is possible to note unmistakable signs of progress in making the country first-aid conscious. This is not from statistics alone, but from the obvious interest that is being aroused among children in schools, employees of large industrial companies, owners of isolated farms, and parents as well.

This interest last year led 256,884 persons to take specialized courses in first aid, certificates being awarded in classes varying from three to as many as fifty.

The immediate treatment of those injured on the highways is one of the chief needs in the elimination of deaths and permanent injuries from automobile accidents it has been pointed out. We have found the greatest danger spots to be those in rural rather than in urban areas, and to combat this danger we have inaugurated, and are rapidly expanding our system of first aid stations along the highways from Maine to California, by way of Texas and Dickens County.

We are informed that the American (Continued on Page 8)

crank
Let's get down to Cases

To keep your car from growing old too soon... to make it run with that wonderful smoothness and pep it used to have when it was new... pay a lot of attention to the crankcase. That's where a motor's hardening-of-the-arteries starts.

So drain the crankcase—NOT your pocketbook, by refilling with Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It is Phillips finest, made from a costlier 100% paraffin base crude.

It meets the higher requirements of today's modern motors because it has high-degree oiliness. Refined into it by Phillips painstaking modern process. Besides, it is extra clean and extra thrifty. No wasteful light parts to cook out or burn out. Hence the film is tougher and longer-lasting.

Next time, drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It's concentrated!... This year's big value in car lubrication. Look for the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Horace Mann Honored By Schools

O. C. Thomas, Supt. Spur Schools

If American men and women were asked to name five truly great American leaders they probably would include George Washington, our first president; Thomas Jefferson, who led the people to adopt a democratic form of government; Abraham Lincoln, who saved the union; Susan B. Anthony, who opened new doors of opportunity for women; and Horace Mann, the "Father of Public-School Education."

During 1937 the United States is celebrating the Centennial of Horace Mann's service. American Education week, November 7-13, is the climax of this year-long observance. On November 9, "Horace Mann Day," citizens will honor his memory and read the story of how he gave us schools.

To understand this story, we must go back over a hundred years to the beginning of Horace Mann's service with the Massachusetts Board of Education. At this time the people were hard at work building up the country after the long years of the Revolutionary War. The Constitution had been adopted but many people could not even read it! Over half the children of the nation had no chance to attend school. Most people accepted the view that education was the privilege of the wealthy. They saw no need to educate citizens to take part in the government. Indeed some people said: "The right to vote ought not to be given to everyone. Only the wisest should govern and the rest of the people should follow the advice of those who know best."

Horace Mann differed with them. He said: "The theory of our government is, not that all men, however unfit, shall be voters, but that every man, by the power of reason and the sense of duty shall become fit to be a voter." He began to study conditions. He talked with the people and was shocked at the large number who could neither read nor write. What chance had they of becoming good citizens?

"We must have free schools, open to all," he reflected, "for poor as well as rich." He came to believe that the future of the country depended on the schools. He laid everything else aside, gave up a career in the law, and devoted the best years of his life to building up the schools.

Horace Mann, the father of our public schools, was born May 4, 1796, on a farm just outside of Franklin, Massachusetts. The death of his father when Horace was but thirteen brought him face to face with the serious side of life. His mother and five children struggled on with the farm. At night he braided straw for the nearby hat factory, to add a few pennies to the family income.

Earlier than most boys, Horace learned to face sorrow, to take responsibility, to help about the home, to stick to his tasks until they were finished. He said, "Even my play-hours—not play-days, for I never had any—were earned by extra exertion, finishing tasks early to gain a little leisure for boyish sports."

Early in his life Horace Mann began to plan his future. He hoped to do good for others. He later said: "All my boyish castles in the air had reference to doing something for mankind." One of his teachers influenced him to go to college. He had no money and college education was unheard of except for the wealthy. He had to study night and day to learn in six months what other students would require several years to learn. At the age of 20 he entered Brown University and graduated in 1819 at the head of his class.

A few years later he graduated from Judge Gould's law school and opened a law office at Dedham. His rule was "Never espouse the wrong side of a cause knowingly." As a result the people trusted him and elected him to represent them in the state legislature. The death of his beautiful young wife, Charlotte Mann, daughter of President Messer of Brown University, who died suddenly after they had been married only two years, turned him to his lifelong motive—to do something for mankind. Thru his influence the first insane asylum in the United States was established.

In a few years he became president of the Massachusetts State Senate. In April, 1837, a law was passed by the Massachusetts legislature creating a state board of education. It was said of the common schools of Massachusetts that "any hovel would do for a schoolhouse; any primer would do for a textbook; any farmer's apprentice was competent to keep school." Mann and others hoped to make the state board of education responsible for improving these schools.

Mann was invited to become the first secretary. Should he give up his comfortable, good salary, and good position for an obscure post at a small salary? Most of his friends urged him not to accept. They told him he would be opposed by ignorant parents, sordid politicians, sectarian preachers, and unprogressive school men.

But the idea of helping the children whom he loved appealed so strongly to Horace Mann that he made the great decision. He said: "My law-books are for sale. Let the next generation be my client."

What did Horace Mann propose to do as secretary? First, he wanted to rebuild the schoolhouses and make them comfortable. Most of these in Massachusetts were "old, squalid, wigwam structures." Second, he was eager to banish cruel and harsh punishment from every schoolroom. Third, he resolved to found special schools where young people could learn to be good teachers. Next, he hoped to enrich the course of study by adding music, hygiene, drawing, and other subjects.

During the 12 years of his secretaryship better schoolhouses were built; appropriations for pub-

Demonstrates How To Make Mattress

The Home Supervisor of the Farm Security Administration held a mattress demonstration at the old Chamber of Commerce office Friday at which time a very beautiful mattress was manufactured. The object of this work is to teach ladies how to make their own mattresses in their homes and not be forced to send out to be worked over.

The method demonstrated was the same as has been outlined by the Extension Department, and the work performed Friday proved very complete and neat in results. The purpose of the demonstration Friday was to teach a number of ladies in various communities to be demonstrators of the work. These ladies in return will assist their neighbors and the work will be extended to all communities and in practically every home in the county.

The work was supervised by Mrs. Stella Winston, local home supervisor. Among those who witnessed the work with a view of becoming demonstrators were: Mrs. E. W. Dean, Mrs. Dickson Thornton, and Mrs. Earl Martin of Ralls, Mrs. E. O. Webb, Mrs. Mancel Hinson, Mrs. Lester English and Mrs. Maude Cross of Dickens County. Mrs. Virginia Holmes, the home supervisor at Ralls was present and assisted with the work.

The work of the Farm Security Administration is to give people instruction in regard to work that can be done in the home. There are a great number of articles which are purchased as a manufactured product, that could be made right in the home if the home owners only knew about the work. This work is expected to be extended to include a number of types of home necessities.

ARTABAN CLUB MEETS

Artaban Club met in regular session in the basement of the home Frances Gibson on October 26. Halloween decorations and candlelight made the unfurnished basement quite spooky.

As a part of the regular program, Bonnie Campbell discussed the Why of Halloween customs and Winifred Lee related some ideas on Halloween—a relic of Pagan Times.

As soon as the program was over the affair was turned over to Iris Nelson, Wynell Watters, Mary Louise McCombs, Nelma Spraberry, Peggy Ensey, and Laverne Burks, who were hostesses to a hilarious Halloween Party. After games and fortune telling, hot cocoa, sandwiches and candies were served to the following: Mary Beth Mallory, Nellie McClellan, Del Marie Nelson, Edith Spraberry, Nell Lollar, Margie Bell, Virginia Ann Johnson, Betty Jo Boothe, Nelma Boothe, Winifred Lee, Loretta Cruce, Thelma Hale, Naomi Franklin, Margaret Berry, Jean Engleman, Belva Swan, Bonnie Campbell, Ida V. Ellis, Dorothy Calvert, Margaret Mae Weaver, Opal Jean Lavery, Helen Lollar, Marcelle Stinnett, Charlene Applegate, Ruth Cowan, Vera Jo Bane, Joyce Collier, Ilaeae Pickens, May Barnette Johnson, Grace Foster, Frances Gibson, Mrs. O. C. Arthur and Mrs. O. C. Thomas.

Sewing Club Met With Mrs. G. J. Lane

The Sewing Club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. G. J. Lane. Current events were given as the roll was called. Sewing was the diversion of the afternoon. Mrs. Lane served a delicious plate, consisting of sandwiches, olives, devil food cake and orange punch.

The guest list included Mmes. Roy Stovall, P. C. Nichols, Chas. Taylor, A. A. McKimney, Jas. B. Reed, Thurmond Moore and the hostess.

Public schools doubled; teachers' salaries were increased; and school terms were lengthened. Above all, the people came to see that strong public schools are necessities to the success of self government.

The results of Horace Mann's work for public schools was recognized at home and abroad. His ideas were carried forward in other states—in New York, in the West and South-west. The British Parliament reprinted by special vote part of his works on education. Sarmiento, the "school-master statesman" of South America advised his government to scatter copies of Mann's writings in every city and village.

The following tribute paid Horace Mann by Laboulaye of France is typical of his fame abroad: "It is the schools that will regenerate the world, and a day will come when it will be felt that Horace Mann is a truly great man and has been more useful to humanity than all the Caesars."

"IT'S A GOOD OLD WORLD"

(By Mrs. W. B. Bennett)

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath never within him burned,
As homeward footsteps he has turned?"
"If such there breathe, go mark him well."
"There is no place like home," sang the poet, and we heartily agree with him, but our vocabulary is far too limited to describe to you just how glad we were to get back home, and how glad we were to see just anybody who ever lived in the "Great Spur Country," as editor McClure used to say in the Texas Spur. We used to think he bragged too much about Dickens County, when it wouldn't rain and the sandstorms howled, but we agree with him now, it is a Great Spur Country, and it is also a "Good Old World," as Mr. Geo. S. Link has said so many times in his editorials in the Dickens County Times. While in the Hospital, friends tried to comfort us, "Be glad you are not here," they wrote, "for the sandstorms are the worst we have ever seen," but we were so homesick—though the people there were so good to us, we longed still more for the sandstorms of Dickens County, where the youngsters, well and hearty, braved them the year round unafraid, where the people keep on keeping on, no matter what happens, and best of all, where they give the helping hand to a fellow when he is down. They do not say,

"Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled!" They show their faith by their works, and do something about it.

In everybody's life there comes the crisis. Let us hope that the crisis in our life has passed, and that never again will we have to undergo the suffering, grief and despair which neither tongue nor pen can express. Let the curtain fall.

Those dark and indescribable days and months have passed away, and we have been made to know that "All things work together for good to them who love God, to them who are called according to His purpose." And "If we hope for things which we see not, then do we with patience wait for it." We are at home now, among friends and loved-ones, whose prayers have been heard, for we firmly believe that "Brother Bennett" is with us today, because the Christian people prayed for him, not only "Back home" but word came from Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Louisiana, as well as many churches in Texas that he was being prayed for continually, and it is prayer that raised him up. But the victory is not yet won. Though he is slowly improving, he is still an invalid, so we beg you to keep on praying for him (me too) so that he will, if it is God's will, be restored to health. Help us pray.

God performed a miracle in bringing him back, pray that He will restore him to his work that he loves better than life, preaching the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In conclusion we want to thank everyone who wrote letters and cards to us while in the hospital, because it is impossible under the circumstances, to answer them, for they were legion, but they helped us more than words can express to bear our trials, just to know that you cared! Also we thank the First Baptist Church of Spur, for their generous offering while we were in the hospital at Mansfield, Louisiana, and we are likewise thankful for the "poundings" given us by the Spur WMU, the Duck Creek community and the Duncan Flat Church, besides the many individual gifts that have been so kindly bestowed upon us in our unavoidable unemployment. We feel that it is God's way of answering our prayers, though we did not expect it to come in this way. "Every good and perfect gift is from above, and cometh from the Father of light, in whom there is no variableness, neither shadow or turning." And as long as God dwells in the hearts of His people, even though poverty and affliction may come, "It's a good old world."

Sunday Meeting Here

The Fifth Sunday meeting of the Dickens County Baptist Association was entertained by the First Baptist Church of Spur Saturday and Sunday. The session was called to order at ten o'clock Saturday morning, the devotional services being conducted by Edwin Denton. Victor Crabtree discussed the origin of the church. A. P. Stokes spoke on the "Bride of Christ at His Coming," and W. F. Markham discussed the mission of the church. These subjects took up the morning and the session dismissed at twelve o'clock for dinner which was served in the basement of the church.

The afternoon session was equally as interesting. Wayne Grizzle was unable to be present and his subject, the teaching service of the church, was discussed by Ray Stephens. The training service of the church was well handled by B. B. Huckabay and the W. M. S. was discussed by Mrs. Victor Crabtree.

The business session was short but a number of things discussed. At the evening session O. C. Payne, of Ralls, spoke on the State mission work. The evening message was brought by Rev. J. V. Bilberry, who is a pioneer minister of West Texas. He stated in his opening remarks that he had been preaching in West Texas 38 years.

The Sunday morning session consisted of Sunday School at the regular hour. Rev. A. A. Brian, Missionary for District No. 9, brought the message at the eleven o'clock hour.

The entire session was conducted by C. R. Joyner, new pastor for the Spur church.

The Workers meeting for November will be held at Afton.

Mrs. Arrington discussed the needs for the club room.

The Home Economics room was decorated with bats, witches, black cats, and yellow moons pleasingly arranged. On the table was a centerpiece of golden autumn leaves with two huge bats.

The hostesses passed all-day suckers dressed with Hallowe'en napkins.

Represents Salvation Army Interest Here

W. D. Pedigo, field representative of the Salvation Army, spent the last of the week in Dickens County working for the interests of the organization. This is the time of the year when Mr. Pedigo makes the annual solicitation for funds for the organization. He comes but once each year in the financial drive, because he says if people are willing to give to the cause, that they will do so once each year and then they know what the organization will have to work with to help people in need.

Mr. Pedigo has an advisory committee composed of F. W. Jennings, E. S. Lee and Henry Alexander of Spur, and Fred Arrington and Judge Formby of Dickens. The purpose of this committee is simple to assist people in knowing who they are giving their money to. Mr. Pedigo stated that he is the only authorized person to solicit funds for the Salvation Army in Dickens County. He has 86 counties in Texas and is kept quite busy in his territory.

He stated that Salvation Army people coming into this county to hold religious services occasionally may accept small voluntary contributions, but this is not to be considered the annual drive for funds and is not to interfere with the annual appeal.

Occasionally Mr. Pedigo sends out reports of what his organization is doing. However, he is very conservative in his statements because he says if the organization does more than he reports then it has something to its credit extra.

The Salvation Army is doing a great work, and many unfortunate people are given assistance by it that might not be assisted from any other source.

New Diseases of Stock Transferred to Humans

Undulant fever or Malta fever, a disease contracted from cattle, goats or sheep which are infected with contagious abortion, is being reported sporadically throughout Texas and the nation, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. This indicates malta fever to be a public health problem and the attendant need of more general recognition by the public to the disease.

Undulant fever is so called because of the wave-like variations in temperature. The symptoms include rise in temperature, loss of weight and strength, chills, sweats and joint pains. The disease has rather a low mortality rate, but important because symptoms may persist for a number of weeks and even months before normal health and strength are restored.

In Texas, the goat, horse and cows are the usual spreaders of this disease. The germs of undulant fever enter the body through the mouth or skin. Therefore, care should be used in handling animals known to be infected and dairy products from the same sources should be pasteurized, if used. More men acquire this disease than women and adults seem more likely to have it than children. More cases are found in the rural areas than in the cities.

The true prevention of undulant fever is based upon the detection of the disease in livestock and the elimination of infected stock from the herds. Dairy herds should be tested for Bacillus abortus. This is a task that cannot be accomplished in a short time. Pasturization of milk will prevent the spread from this source.

Cleaners and Dyers Meet In Lubbock

Cleaners and Dyers from almost every town and city in Texas and eastern New Mexico will gather in Lubbock November 15 and 16 to attend the annual convention of the Texas Cleaners and Dyers Association.

As announced by Reub R. Berry of Fort Worth, president of the association, and W. B. LaCava, secretary-treasurer, expert technicians will appear on the program to discuss the vexing problems that confront those engaged in the cleaning and dyeing industry. Interesting and educational exhibits will be displayed in order that attending delegates may readily comprehend the solution whereby these handicaps may be overcome.

An elaborate entertainment program has already been planned and the Lubbock committee in charge of arrangements promises a full two day session, including the annual get-together the night of November 14.

Headquarters have been established at the Hilton Hotel where reservations are already being made.

1938 Chevrolet Prices Announced

New York, Nov. 4.—Simultaneously with the announcement of its new 1938 passenger cars, now being displayed in 9,600 dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Chevrolet today made public its new prices. They represent an increase ranging from 2 1/2 per cent to 5 per cent, or in dollars, of $26 to $34 per model.

The popular sedan in the Master DeLuxe series shows an increase of $26, from $770 to $796. The increase in the case of seven models is less than $30, and in the case of the other five is between $30 and $34, the latter figure applying to the Master Sport Sedan.

These new prices now include the S.A.E. group of accessories such as front and rear bumpers, spare tire and tube, radiator ornament, and in addition, on the DeLuxe models, the right hand tail lamp, all of which were not heretofore included in the total prices listed but were sold at an extra charge to the buyer.

The increase bears out the statement made by M. E. Coyle, General Manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors, before the company's National Sales Convention last month. Addressing the field wholesale organization, Mr. Coyle asserted that the forthcoming new models would be introduced at an increase in price due to the steady advance in manufacturing costs.

Following are the new prices: Master Series: Sedan, $730; Coach, $668; Coupe, $648; Cabriolet, $755; Town Sedan, 689; Sport Sedan, $750.

Master DeLuxe Series: Sedan $796; Coach, $730; Coupe, $714; Sport Coupe, $750; Town Sedan, $750; Sport Sedan, $817.

The prices quoted are the delivered prices at Flint, Mich. exclusive of state and local taxes.

EXTRA! Bob Taylor Sings!

Robert Taylor has become a full fledged musical comedy star, for he not only acts and dances in "Broadway Melody of 1938," playing at the Palace preview Saturday night Sunday and Monday, but he also sings.

While "kidding" on the set with Eleanor Powell, who was rehearsing the song, "Yours and Mine," Taylor joined in for a chorus and was heard by Jack Cummings, the producer, and Roy Del Ruth, the director.

As if they were still "kidding," they asked Taylor to sing again and while he was doing it they signaled the sound man to record his effort. The next day they heard the recordings and decided that they had a new singing find.

Rush McLaughlin, of the McAdo community, was among the business visitors in Spur Friday.

McAdoo school begun their classes again Monday after a three week's turn out for cotton picking. The first week of the three was bad weather and the children had only two weeks to work, but perhaps that was long enough to pick to suit the boys and girls. However a number of pupils will have to remain out in order to gather as much of the cotton as possible. Some of the late cotton is just now ready to pick and there still remains a scarcity of pickers.

Old Sol poured down burning hot rays last week onto cotton and grain fields, which was more like spring weather than fall. This clear, sunshine weather assisted bolls in opening more rapidly. The percentage of late cotton is quite large, which is ready to be picked now.

As a result of pretty weather gins were having plenty of cotton to keep them going both night and day. Call for more pickers continues to be heard.

With the rush of gathering crops people seem to forget that Sunday comes during the week. If it were not for the calendar it would be impossible to tell which day is Sunday, judging from the way people continue to work. This last Sunday pickers continued to pick, farmers sowed wheat, gins were ginning, hauling was being done, stores were open, buying and selling continued, streets were being paved, pickers were packing, loading and moving. People rushing, rushing and forgetting to keep the Sabbath Day holy after being blessed by God with a bountiful crop.

Says Maize Root Rot Is Serious
R. E. Karper, of College Station, was in Spur country the first of the week inspecting the condition of milo maize crops. He stated that this year the maize root rot had cost Texas farmers a million dollars in crop loss. He said that this disease had spread until it is difficult to find a real first class field of milo maize any more.
He did not make any suggestions as to how the disease might be handled. The A. & M. College is working on the disease and is hoping to find some way whereby it may be controlled and probably destroyed.

Spur completed pass for first down and were on the visitor's 21-yard line. Spur failed on two passes, then made goal with an end run. Converted making the score 34 to 0.

The visitors received and were on their 24-yard line. Spur took a 15-yard penalty and Quitaque completed pass for nine yards. They made first down, and then completed pass for six yards. The next trial Quitaque, lost 20 yards and punted to Spur's 26-yard line. Spur made one trial and then went to the visitor's 48-yard line. The visitors intercepted a pass and landed at Spur's 44-yard line and then punted to Spur's ten yard line. Spur made first down and then took a 5-yard penalty. They made the next four first downs, and the whistle blew with the ball on the visitor's 7-yard line.

can Red Cross had already established approximately 1,800 of these emergency highway first aid stations, and training an adequate number of persons in the immediate vicinity or connected with the filling station or inn sponsoring the projects in order to keep them manned constantly.

Through the past year the Red Cross has also been concentrating on the establishment of mobile units in first aid. Several thousand trucks belonging to utility companies, highway police patrols, shipping concerns, and state highway departments are being equipped with first aid kits, while their drivers and other workers are being trained in the administration of first aid to care for accident victims until a doctor's care is available.

Red Cross first aid is not intended to replace regular medical attention, but rather to render only first aid during emergencies—when such care can be considered a safeguard until competent medical care can be given victims of crashes or other accidents.

Better employment conditions have brought increased demands for first aid training in the industries. Our own local chapter of the Red Cross, as well as the resources and the teaching staff of the national organization is concentrating on reaching an increasingly large number of persons in order to spread the teaching of first aid as widely as possible.

It is a deplorable fact, that accidents on highways are increasing rather than decreasing. While we are doing all possible to cut these accidents down, we must recognize the fact that many of them seem to be inevitable, and our task is to prepare as many persons as possible to cope with them.

Consistent with the facts the Dickens County chapter hopes to establish a First Aid station at Dickens within the coming year. It is the hope of those who are interested in this that such plans will not be postponed because of financial inability. Our campaign begins on Nov. 12th. JOIN THE RED CROSS.

Fred I. Carnes, Chairman Dickens County Chapter.
