Spur Chamber of Commerce Assists In Helping Finance School Lunch Room

M. C. Golding, president of the Spur Chamber of Commerce, advanced the idea that the organization and other business men of town ast with the lunch room at the East rd School. It was learned that he extra funds are needed at this time to keep this work going as there are more than 70 children who are being furnished with hot lunches in addition to a number of others who are taking lunches at the lunch room. Lunches are being furnished at fifteen cents per meal, and the Chamber of Commerce feel they should cooperate with the WPA in this work. Not all business firms were visited this week because President Golding and his committee could not give any more time just then. Contributions from other business firm will be appreciated, and they can save time to the Chamber of Commerce officers by leaving their contributions with either Secretary H. P. Gibson, or the President, M. C. Golding. The sum of Merchant, who has taken much in-RED MUD DEEP TEST OIL WELL $127.00 was raised Monday for the work.

Farmers Hold

The Dickens County Agriculture Association held a meeting in the District Court room at Dickens Friday at two o'clock, P. M. County Texas. Agent Lane served as temporary chairman and then turned the meeting over to acting president R. R. Wooten who made 2 few statements relative to the object of the organization. Mr. Wooten introduced Wm. G. Kennedy, of Levelland who made a very fine talk on the merits of farmers organizing. He stated that the farmers of America are the most important factors of all American industries, and if the farmers are brought under a condition of oppression the entire country suffers. But he stated the few who term themselves as capitalists would bring the farmers and all other classes under oppression for their own selfish gain if it became necessary.

Mr. Kennedy stated that he is not so optimistic about the agricultural conditions of our country now as he was one year ago. He spoke of foreign conditions and stated that the export trade which had been the haven of the American farmers is now Selling Whole Milk cut off. Foreign countries are pro-ducing what the American farmer once sold to them, and in addition in many instances those products are being shipped back into our country in competition to the farmers. He stated that it is necessary that our farmers get into 2 srong organization whereby they can exercise some

At that time the chances for buying a pound of good butter in Spur was not always assured, but after the creamery was installed, the farmers had an outlet for all the good cream they could produce and many of them since that time have paid the overhead expenses of the farms with cream, To handle cream requires more time and labor than is required to handle the milk for a cheese factory. When the milk has gone through the filtering process and placed in the can it is ready for market. Wolverines are made ONLY of SHELL HORSEHIDE - from just that section of the hide over the horse's hips containing the tough inner-shell. Leading leather authorities have long considered it the toughest - strongest of leathers. Wolverine's secret triple-tanning process tans this shell leather so it is soft, pliable as buckskin, yet re-tains all its extra strength and wearing qualities. And soaking after soaking, it always dries out soft — and stays soft. Only Wolverines are made of this shellleather, in both soles and uppers. Cost less to wear in the long run. Birds of America, prepared under the auspices of the University Society.

"The most beautifully illustrated and competently written book on the subject of the birds of this country ever published. Every picture and every word of text is the work or a recognized authority. Designed both for study and for leisure reading, its gorgeous color-plates are particularly attractive to young readers and help make this not only the most lovely and complete book on the subject but also the one of the most universal appeal."

The Book of Old Ships, by Henry B. Culver and Gordon Grant.

"This book, first published in a limited and highly priced edition several years ago, has already achieved extraordinary fame among all lovers of sailing ships. The early customs and superstitions of sea faring folk, strange fragmentary records of lost ships, and curious details of life on the rolling waters of many seas are added to the mass of informative material that makes this the comprehensive and facinating record it is."
