General Association Oil Co. of Texas, operating from Odessa, has completed No. 1 Doss as a Siluro-Devonian discovery in Southeast Galena County.

The 74-hour flowing potential that produced 246.6 barrels of 32.7-gravity oil, through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 12,844-12,858 feet, natural. Gas-oil ratio measured 4-1.

Kelly bushing elevation is 3,118 feet. The following log tops were reported: Yates, 2,738; Pennsylvania, 10,592; and Siluro-Devonian, 12,840 feet.

Location is 600 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block 308, Lynn CSL survey, 18 miles east of Seminole.

Application to drill the well originally was filed by General American as No. 1 Texas Land & Mortgage-Doss.

Wildcats Set In Sterling, Mitchell Area

Wildcat sites have been staked in Sterling and Mitchell counties.

CRK Petroleum, Inc., Midwest, has filed application to drill No. 1 Conger, an 8,500-foot searcher for gas in Sterling, 1/2 mile northwest of the No. 1 C. F. Conger, planned 8,500-foot test in the same section.

It spots 1,200 feet from north and west lines of section 20, block 20, H&TC survey, situated 2041, 2/3 mile northwest of Conger gas production in the Conger multiphase field.

Mitchell try

Mullins Oil Co., Lubbock, plans to drill No. 2 Barkley, a 4,500-foot venture in Mitchell, one location west of the discovery in the abandoned Dixon (Strawn) field.

Location is 500 feet from south and 700 feet from east lines of section 1, block 12, H&TC survey, 17 miles southeast of Colorado City.

The Dixon field, opened in 1953, produced from pay topped at 4,255 feet, under derrick floor elevation of 2,966 feet. No shallow tops were reported for the discovery well.

Reeves Prospector Flows From Aloka

China Service Oil Co. No. 1-A Reeves, Reeves County scheduled prospecting, 1 1/2 mile northwest of the Aloka opener and one well from that pay in the Dixiland field, continued production tests through Aloka perforations at 15,895-16,220 feet.

It flowed nine hours on a 18-64-inch choke, making gas at the rate of 1.45 million cubic feet per day; four hours on a 21-64-inch choke, at the rate of 2.25 million cubic feet; six hours on a 23-64-inch choke, at the rate of 2.10 million cubic feet, and five hours on a 23-64-inch choke.

Communists Step Up Attacks In Cambodia, South Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—Tank-led North Vietnamese forces blasted into the central highlands capital of Ban Me Thuot today, battling defenders house to house and trapping nine Americans in the city, field reports said. The Communists also overran a district town 30 miles from Ban Me Thuot, the second in the highlands in three days.

In Cambodia, rebel gunners fired 50 rockets and artillery rounds into the Phnom Penh airport, damaging two domestic commercial airliners and killing five persons and wounding 22, authorities said. It was the heaviest shelling of the airport in a week, but the U.S.-financed emergency airlift continued and none of its aircraft was hit, initial reports said. The campaign to oust President Lon Nol also picked up steam.

U.S. officials in Saigon said the Americans trapped in Ban Me Thuot, including an embassy official and eight missionaries, were unharmed. "We are in touch with them," one source said. "They are in good spirits. They have food and water and they are all right. We are keeping in constant touch with them and watching the situation very carefully."

Sources said the U.S. Embassy had considered trying to evacuate the nine Americans on Monday but decided not to because of the heavy fighting and anti-aircraft guns reportedly ringing the city. They said they would reassess the situation on Tuesday.

Ban Me Thuot, 155 miles northeast of Saigon, is the chief center for the mountain tribesmen known as Montagnards, many of whom fought for the U.S. Special Forces during America's war in Vietnam. All roads into the city were cut. One report said the North Vietnamese had taken one of the city's two airstrips and were attacking the main airfield, threatening the government's only route for supplies and reinforcements.

South Vietnamese military headquarters in Pleiku, the capital of the central highlands, claimed a dozen North Vietnamese tanks had been knocked out, including five in the city. But South Vietnamese pilots in Pleiku told Associated Press newsmen Hoynh Minh Trinh they spotted at least 10 more tanks moving toward Ban Me Thuot from the northwest.

Makes Bid For Peace On Cyprus

By BARRY SCHWED

JERUSALEM (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger took a break from the Arab-Israeli crisis today and flew off to Turkey for talks on another political flashpoint: Cyprus.

In Nicosia, Cyprus President Archbishop Makarios declared he wants the full involvement of the United Nations in efforts to settle the Cyprus crisis.

Kissinger took off for Ankara after a breakfast meeting with Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin and talks with Israel's negotiating team.

Syrians Make Demands

In the Turkish capital, the secretary will discuss the prospects for getting negotiations between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots going again.

Kissinger's already difficult mediation was being hampered by the Syrians demand that any agreement between Israel and Egypt include the promise of Israeli withdrawals on the Golan Heights and along the Jordan River. An official of the Israeli foreign ministry said his government simply was not interested in linking the negotiations for a withdrawal on the Egyptian front with the Syrian demands.

Chilly Reception

U.S. officials seemed more concerned with the chilly reception given Kissinger during his stopover in Syria Sunday than with Sadat's sober assessment that "we shall be having a very tough round."

Israeli newspapers speculated that the Kissinger mission was in trouble.

The Ankara visit is a follow-up to a meeting Kissinger held in Brussels Friday with Greek Foreign Minister Dimitrios Biliolos.

Negotiations Broken Off

The Greek Cypriot government of Cyprus broke off negotiations with the leaders of the island's Turkish community last month after the Turks set up a separate state in the northern 40 per cent of the island which the Turkish army occupied during its invasion last July.

There was no indication of what, if anything, the American secretary of State might be suggesting as a way out of the impasse.

Kissinger arrived in Jerusalem on Sunday from Egypt and Syria. Just before his plane landed, a bomb exploded harmlessly in a deserted park 500 yards from the King David Hotel where he is staying.

The secretary of State discussed the prospects for a new Israeli-Egyptian agreement for two hours Sunday night with Rabin and his negotiating team. Foreign Minister Yigal Allon said afterward: "This is a very difficult situation."

"A long process is anticipated," said another Israeli leader.

Kissinger on his arrival said he wanted to see "whether we can develop jointly some ideas" (See KISSINGER Page 2A)

Late Bulletins

NEW YORK (AP)—Two former aides to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy said Kennedy told them he blocked a Central Intelligence Agency plan to use the Mafia to assassinate Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, the New York Times says in today's edition.

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators passed 29-0 and sent to the House today a bill making it a crime to sell or purchase babies.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford wants a Senate committee rather than the Rockefeller Commission to investigate allegations of CIA involvement in plots to assassinate foreign leaders, his chief spokesman said today.

Leadership Shift Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today the U.S. government should use as much pressure as is necessary in order to obtain an immediate change of leadership of the besieged government of Cambodia.

Scott said the aim of that policy is the urgent necessity of securing an agreement with a transition Cambodian government for the release of the many thousands of refugees he said would otherwise be slaughtered.

High Winds Sweep Over Most Sections Of Texas

Violent winds which inflicted injuries and property damage in some localities died down and skies cleared today in the wake of Texas' latest surge of storms.

After a brief respite, however, more unsettled weather was forecast by tonight or Tuesday.

Sweeping swiftly across the state Sunday, the wild weather raked El Paso in far West Texas with winds gusting up to 35 miles per hour, fogged the sky with sand around Lubbock for more than eight hours and dropped visibility in other parts of West Texas.

It also was windy in the Tall City Sunday as gusts up to 55 miles per hour spotted an otherwise warm and sunny West Texas day.

The high winds diminished by late Sunday and are expected to remain at a normal scale today and increase once again Tuesday.

Common Market Government Chiefs Open Dublin Summit

By CARL HARTMAN

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Government chiefs of the nine nations in the European Community. He hopes to get enough concessions to be able to recommend that the British people vote to stay in the Common Market.

They also are discussing the 35-nation European summit that the Soviet Union wants to hold.

In preparation for a referendum he is holding in June.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson is seeking a reduction in the cost of Britain's membership in the European Economic Community. He hopes to get enough concessions to be able to recommend that the British people vote to stay in the Common Market.

However, French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing is expected to oppose several items in Wilson's package.

The nine leaders and their foreign ministers, meeting amid tight security in Dublin Castle, were also to consider regulations governing the purchase of dairy products from New Zealand, international energy issues, inflation and unemployment.

Security Conference

Another major item on the agenda is the Western demands for the windup of the 35-nation Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe which has been under way for two years.

Soviet chief Leonid I. Brezhnev wants the long negotiations to end with a summit meeting to put the maximum official endorsement on the Soviet hegemony in Eastern Europe. In exchange for agreeing to this, the nine Common Market nations and their American and Canadian allies are seeking Soviet promises to:

- Permit changes in European frontiers — meaning the reunification of Germany — if they can be peacefully negotiated.
- Give advance notification of major troop movements.
- Allow more freedom for people and ideas to move between East and West.
- Brezhnev would like the conference to open in Helsinki on May 8, the 30th anniversary of Germany's surrender in World War II. West European diplomats say this is too early. But Irish Foreign Minister Garret Fitzgerald, whose country holds the presidency of the Common Market for the first six months of 1975, says the United States, Britain and France are pretty well committed to holding the summit some time this year.
- However, West Germany and some smaller countries that are not committed hope to bargain

U.S. officials put little faith in Soviet promises on such matters as easing of restrictions on emigration and travel, more freedom for foreign reporters to cover the Soviet Union and better access for Soviet-bloc citizens to Western books, newspapers and broadcasts. The Americans, along with the British and French, seem more interested in improving relations with the Soviets.

Cattlemen Eye Beefalo

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—A new breed of beef cattle—Beefalo—has drawn the interest of cattlemen in these parts.

"It will be a salvation to cattlemen," according to Dave Mueller of Atkinson, "because they can produce the animal a year sooner and cut their production costs. The other way, we'll all keep going broke."

The Beefalo is three-eighths Charolais, three-eighths buffalo and one-quarter Hereford. Mueller displayed the animals this weekend to a group of cattlemen from western Nebraska and eastern Wyoming.

Responding to questions, Scott said he preferred to define "pressure" as "persuasion" but he did not elaborate.

He said the biggest problem will be to get the refugees out safely and he said the United States, either on its own behalf or through other interested parties, should be prepared to negotiate that release with whatever government succeeds Cambodian President Lon Nol, including the Communist forces of the Khmer Rouge, should that be necessary.

Scott said he hopes Congress will quickly approve sufficient credit of 5 or 10 per cent to families that buy homes or new cars.

Such a move would provide dramatic aid to two of the nation's most depressed industries, and the effect could be a quick shot-in-the-arm for the entire economy, Long says.

Ford has proposed a $16-billion tax cut and has not stated whether he would accept a bigger one. Presidential Assistant Donald H. Rumsfeld, appearing Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," also declined to speculate on whether Ford would approve a larger tax cut. Ford would have to weigh the size of the cut against any actions taken by Congress toward communism.

R-T Starts 47th Year

The Midland Reporter-Telegram today observes another birthday anniversary, launching its 47th year of publication.

The volume number in the dateline changes to 47 with this issue.

The Reporter-Telegram was established on March 16, 1923, through a consolidation of The Midland Reporter and the Midland Daily Telegram.

The Reporter was founded as a weekly newspaper in 1895. It became a semi-weekly in 1926 and went daily on Jan. 1, 1929. The Daily Telegram started publication in July 1927.

Congress Pushes On Major Tax Cut

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is virtually certain to approve a tax cut of at least $21 billion within two or three weeks, but the final version could differ sharply from the bill passed by the House.

Several senators are pointing to the high unemployment rate and urging a tax cut in the range of $20 billion to $25 billion, compared with the $21.3 billion approved by the House.

The Senate Finance Committee resumes hearings on the tax cut today.

Sen. Robert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Sunday on CBS "Face the Nation" that he hopes action can be completed on the tax cut by the start of the scheduled Easter recess on March 21. If action hasn't been completed by then, there should be no recess, Humphrey said.

Some conservatives are using the Ford administration's argument that the House tax cut plan aims comparatively too much tax relief for families making under $10,000 a year. They say any tax cut designed to fight recession must provide more relief to families in the $10,000-to-$40,000 range — the families that would spend their rebate checks on cars and appliances to stimulate the economy.

The House-passed bill provides a $200 maximum on 1974 tax rebates, which gradually diminish in higher tax brackets.

In addition, the bill would reduce 1975 taxes through lower withholding rates.

Ford's proposed rebate would be a flat 12 per cent with a ceiling of $1,000, which would be reached by taxpayers in the $40,000-plus bracket of adjusted gross income.

Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the tax-writing Finance Committee, challenges the whole concept of rebates. Instead of mailing out tax rebates to almost everyone, it might be better to concentrate the money where it would do the most good, Long argues.

The Louisiana Democrat suggests that instead of spending $21 billion for rebates, the government should provide a tax credit of 5 or 10 per cent to families that buy homes or new cars.

Such a move would provide dramatic aid to two of the nation's most depressed industries, and the effect could be a quick shot-in-the-arm for the entire economy, Long says.

Ford has proposed a $16-billion tax cut and has not stated whether he would accept a bigger one. Presidential Assistant Donald H. Rumsfeld, appearing Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," also declined to speculate on whether Ford would approve a larger tax cut. Bean Says He Suspects $8-Million TEA Scandal

DALLAS (AP)—State Board of Education member Woodrow Bean said today an $8-million scandal may exist in the Texas Education Agency.

Bean called for immediate public disclosure of an internal audit of the agency's operations regarding a federal government guaranteed student loan program.

"I heard about it (scandal) at the state school board meeting Saturday but I didn't have enough to go on," Bean said from his El Paso home. "I got it from an excellent source, an excellent source. This ultimately will be the responsibility of the board. I want this audit turned over to the attorney general and then made public at once. This business of operating behind closed doors has got to come to a stop."

Bean said, "There may be more than $8 million involved. We don't want another Sharpstown stock fraud scandal on our hands, particularly if we can avoid it by acting now."

Bean said he made his request for disclosure of the audit to Martin Brochstein, state commissioner of education, and State School Board Chairman Joe K. Butler of Houston.

The TEA said last week it was holding up the report until Atty. Gen. John Tate decides if the report is subject to disclosure.

Deadly Saltshaker Kills Three

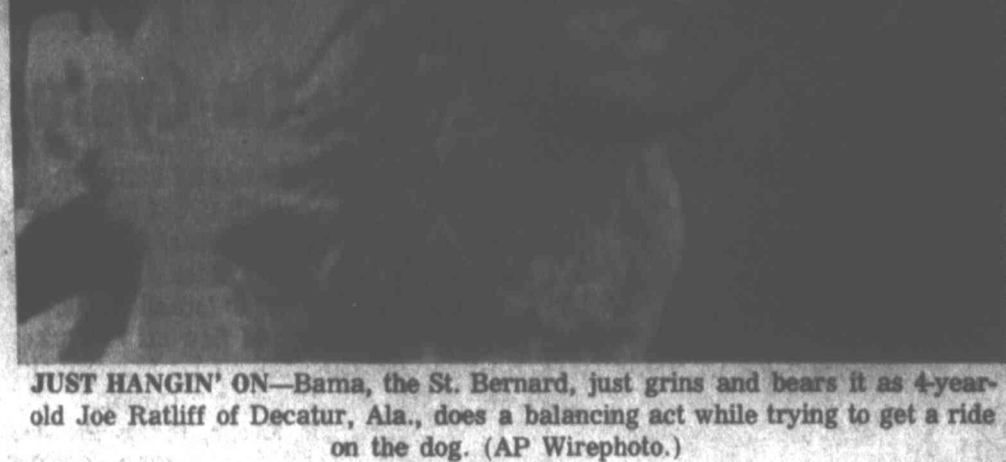

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman cleaning out her late mother's apartment inadvertently passed along to neighbors the apparent cause of her mother's death: a saltshaker full of poison.

Three persons — including the mother — died from sodium nitrite poisoning, Chicago health officials say. Initially all were thought to have suffered heart attacks because the symptoms are similar.

It was not until seven other persons became ill that sodium nitrite poisoning was suspected, hospital authorities said Sunday.

Two men in their 70s remain in critical condition. The chemical, which blocks oxygen from the blood, can kill within 30 minutes when consumed in sufficient quantities.

Health officials said the saltshaker came from the apartment of Mae Edwards, 48, who died Feb. 7 from what was first diagnosed as a heart attack.

Oil Cartel Price Front Chipped

KUWAIT (AP) — Algeria has made another slight break in the oil cartel's price front by lowering the price of its low-sulphur clean-burning crude oil by 21 cents a barrel, oil sources in Dubai report.

Meanwhile, the oil minister of the United Arab Emirates, Mana Oteiba, said today the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries should start a system of rationing production because of the excess of crude oil in the world. He said the excess is two million barrels a day.

Oteiba said in an interview before the start of the Arab Petroleum Conference in Dubai that if the producing countries do not find a unified system of rationing, they "might be obliged to resort to harmful unilateral procedures to lower prices or cut production."

When That Batch Of Chili Is Too Hot

Dear Folks: When we asked our readers how to remove the "hot" spicy taste from foods, we had no idea so many of you would take time to sit down to write us! I have been spending the last few hours poring over your letters and was surprised at some of the answers.

Many of you sweeties had a good idea: make another batch of chili (or whatever dish that is too spicy) without the seasonings, combine the two dishes and freeze the extra.

I'm not a smart idea? Now you can have another meal ready in just minutes.

Or, just add another can of cooked pinto beans, some tomato juice or canned tomatoes.

Some even suggested that a teaspoon of sugar per quart of chili will cool it down.

Even some darling cook at a Mexican restaurant wrote. He and other readers — said to add catsup or a few drops of vinegar to the food.

How about a yummy dish? Serve over shredded lettuce or over cooked macaroni, cooked rice or mashed potatoes.

If your spaghetti sauce is too spicy, stir in small curd cottage cheese. Betcha this will taste almost like lasagna!

For bland foods that are too spicy, add cream of mushroom soup. Or add salad dressing or mayonnaise to a too hot relish.

A sprinkling of ground allspice will correct over-peppered food — a banana will correct over-peppered throats.

And as one smart reader suggested, if eating out and find yourself caught with a mouthful that's too hot, a quick drink of iced tea has more cooling effect than water, soda pop, milk or any other beverage.

Aren't you all honey pies to give us all these good ideas? Maybe someone will come up with a new and delicious dish using some of these ideas.

Love to each of you all,
Heloise

Paul, we will all thank you everytime we indulge and save all those calories.

Dear Heloise: I found that the lids to the tube potato chip can makes excellent lids for the 15-ounce can of dog or cat food.

As I never use a whole can, I always use one of these lids to cover the can before placing it in the refrigerator.

Ann A. Hardy

Dear Heloise: May I offer my money-saving idea on buying top sheets for a queen-sized bed? Buy double-sized sheets. This works if you are a medium size.

But I wouldn't recommend it for a couple of "humpy dumpys."

Mrs. D.E.

LETTER OF LOVE
Dear Heloise: Thanks so much for your many services to all of us. You keep us alert, aware, and active.

You have earned your "A's!"
Mrs. M. K. Inthurn

Dear Heloise: Many people enjoy pancakes but because of health reasons must restrict their intake of sugar.

I have discovered that the pancake batter may be sweetened with a good artificial sweetener.

After cooking, just add butter and you have a very tasty pancake with no need for syrup.

Paul Leffler

What a mouth-watering idea for all of us watching our weight! (Watching it go up!) I added a dash of maple extract to the batter at the same time and it was outstanding.

No syrup needed, so you save some calories and inches.

Dear Abby

Science Offers Hope For Impotent Men

DEAR ABBY: I am a physician who reads your column in the Houston Post. A 40-year-old woman wrote to say that after four months of marriage she was still a virgin due to impotence on the part of her husband.

Your answer: "If it's physical, you have two choices—continue in a marriage without sex, or get an annulment."

From your answer, you obviously are not aware of the fact that recently a small device has been developed that can be surgically implanted into the male organ of men who are unable to effect an erection. With this device, the patient (or his partner) is able to pump fluid into the penis, thus producing an erection at will and for as long as desired.

Although the majority of our cases are men who are impotent due to physical reasons, we have also treated men whose impotence was due to psychological reasons.

This work is presently being done at various medical centers in the U.S. as well as in Europe, although it was initiated at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston. Because this is such a new development, I realize why it has not become a part of your knowledge.

Should this letter be published, please do not use my name for ethical reasons so that my letter can in no manner be construed as an advertisement for patients.

HOUSTON UROLOGIST

Dear Urologist: Because my mail has brought me so many letters from readers who need and would appreciate this information, I am publishing your letter. I recommend that those who are interested in learning more about this surgical procedure consult their local urologists. And for further information, write to St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, Department of Urology, Box 20269, Houston 77225.

DEAR ABBY: You have had letters about illegitimate children. May I add my two cents' worth?

My parents were adults, well over the age of consent, when they entered into a love affair that would eventually produce me. My father was in the Navy and due to ship out when he learned of my impending arrival. He felt that under the circumstances he didn't want the responsibility of a wife and child, so he boarded the ship and was never heard from again.

My mother realized her mistake, but she courageously faced the problems that all unwed mothers must face, and she decided to keep me.

She later married a fine man who adopted me, and now I have a whole parcel of brothers and sisters whom I love.

I wish my natural father only happiness and good fortune. I sincerely hope that the years have been kind to him, and have given him a family to love. I will not look for him, as his mistake is now over 30 years old, and I don't want to cause him any embarrassment.

When I was 18, mother told me the circumstances surrounding my birth, which I consider of little importance. I feel no guilt about the mistake of my parents. I was given a life, and what I do with that life is far more important to me than how I got here.

I am now happily married to a kind and loving man and we have children of our own. We don't have a lot of money, but we are rich in other ways. We have love. And in this life, no one has a right to ask for more. Sign me, — BLESSED

Dear Blessed: Amen!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose self-addressed envelope, please.velope, please.

All The Way, Rebs!

Coach Paul Stueckler and his Midland Lee Rebels basketball team have annexed championships this season at district, bi-district and regional levels . . . and now they are bound for the state championship tournament at Austin this coming weekend.

Rank and file Midlanders, of course, are supporting the Rebels 100 per cent, urging them on to the state basketball championship for the first time in the school's history.

The Rebels form a great team. There is no doubt about this, as evidenced by their superb, cool, if you please, play under intense pressure. Excellent coaching is much in evidence.

Reporter-Telegram sports scribe Bob Dillon refers to the Rebel cagers as the "cardiac kids," because of the effect they have on the fans as they play right down to the wire, and then forge ahead to win in the closing seconds of regular or overtime periods.

Coach Stueckler's lads have engaged in six overtime games this year, winning them all. Two of the six games came Saturday in regional play at Abilene.

This was the first time the Rebels had advanced to regional in basketball . . . and the experience seemed to agree with them. They came through like the champions which they are.

And now it's on to state. The competition at Austin will be tough, certainly, since the top Class AAAA teams of Texas will be competing for the state crown. But the Rebels undoubtedly will be equal to the occasion.

The Lee High Rebels have played great basketball and have been tremendously successful in the 1975 season. They merit the congratulations and the honors bestowed upon them to date, as well as all-out community support in the state championship competition.

Let's go, Rebels . . . All the way!

Golden Tors Repeat

And speaking of state basketball championships . . . well, this sort of thing is "old hat," more or less, for Coach O. W. Follis and his Golden Tornado basketball team of Lamesa High School.

Yes, the Golden Tornadoes did it again, winning their third state Class AAA basketball championship last Saturday at Austin.

But the 1975 championship is something special. The Lamesa lads finished the season with a perfect 34-0 mark, their first. And this puts them on the very top rung in Texas basketball. They have earned the congratulations not only of neighboring Lamesa and West Texas, but of the entire state.

And Coach Follis has to be something special himself in the realm of basketball tutoring. On top of wrapping up a perfect season with a state championship, he marked victory No. 700 in his coaching career, earlier this season. Climaxing the whole business, he was named

Nonpartisanship To Be Tested By Probe

WASHINGTON — In a short time, closed hearings will commence in the Senate investigation of the Central Intelligence Agency. No question but that Senate select committee Chairman Frank Church, a Democrat, will have his announced nonpartisanship put to severe test.

Nick Thimmesch

The Watergate investigation by eyebrow-arching Sen. Sam Ervin looked like a circus at times, and non-partisanship was the victim. Republican Sen. Howard Baker, the vice-chairman, got in a few licks, but he faded. The minority staff was outgunned and overrun by a legion of activist Democratic investigators eager to lay all manner of sin on the Nixon gang — and they succeeded.

But the investigation of the CIA should go back into several administrations, including those of the late Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. The bright young men J.F.K. brought to Washington loved that superspy stuff, and CIA Director Richard Helms was a Kennedy man.

Asked if this investigation turns out to portray Democratic administrations in a bad light, just as Watergate made the Republicans look awful, Church answered: "The only way to cope with our responsibility here is to apply the same standard to all administrations and people involved."

Church had earlier stressed that majority and minority members of his investigative staff "will co-operate, rather than collide," and that he is working for a "unified staff" so the committee can follow evidence without concern for party label.

The Idaho senator, who possesses a boy-man face in addition to a first-class brain and considerable energy, also is aware of the Establishment character of the CIA. Where the California gang of Nixon wasn't welcome in many Washington salons, the Establishment gang, indeed, has connections reaching into the high-powered communications and academic apparatus of our nation. As one wry fellow put it, "The Fordham boys joined the FBI, and the Ivy League young gentlemen were received into the CIA."

"There is a close fraternity among the men who dealt with clandestine activities," Sen. Church told me in his office last week. "It's natural that they regard themselves as a cohesive group. After working in that atmosphere for a time, they develop a taste for it, and this can result in elitism."

Recently, the editorial page of The Washington Post, edited by Philip Geyelin, once an employe of the CIA, ran a credible defense of the agency by Franklin Lindsay. Lindsay was identified as a former CIA man, and present chairman of Itak Corp. When I talked with Lindsay, he was honest enough to tell me that Itak Corp. does a substantial business with the Pentagon, which makes Itak products available for CIA use. Lindsay also told me that he issued instructions to list this latter fact in their identification of him — but somehow The Post didn't. Tsk.

Anyway, as Sen. Church says, the presidential commission headed by Vice

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON with Les Whitton

WASHINGTON — Press accounts have identified Cuba's Fidel Castro as the target of an unsuccessful CIA assassination plot. The headlines couldn't have come at a worse time for Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. He is in the thick of "most delicate negotiations," according to our White House sources, to restore some kind of diplomatic relationship with Cuba. Actually, we reported as far back as Jan. 18, 1971, that the CIA had arranged six assassination attempts against Castro in the early 1960s. Now that the story has been revived, it might be useful to recount the details.

The plot began as part of the discredited Bay of Pigs operation. The strategy was to eliminate the Cuban leader before the CIA invasion force landed on the island. Without the charismatic Castro, it was thought, the defenders would become demoralized and disorganized.

To carry out the assassination, the CIA selected an underworld figure who could be disowned. He was hawk-faced John Roselli, identified in confidential FBI files as "a top Mafia figure" who watched over "the concealed interests in Las Vegas casinos of the Chicago underworld."

Roselli's CIA contacts were William Harvey and James O'Connell, who accompanied him on hush-hush trips to Miami to line up the assassination teams. No one else was told, however, of the CIA's role in the murder mission.

Roselli represented himself as an oil man seeking revenge against Castro for his seizure of oil holdings. The assassination weapons were also carefully selected from foreign makes, mostly Belgian, to prevent any link to the United States.

Each attempt to kill Castro was meticulously planned, like an episode from the tv drama, "Mission: Impossible!" For the first try, the CIA furnished Roselli with special poison capsules to slip into Castro's food.

The poison was supposed to take three days to act. By the time Castro died, his system would throw off all traces of the poison, so he would appear to be the victim of a natural if mysterious ailment.

Roselli arranged with a Cuban, related to one of Castro's chefs, to plant the deadly pellets in the dictator's food. On March 13, 1961, Roselli delivered the capsules to his contact at Miami Beach's glamorous Fontainebleau Hotel.

A couple weeks later, just about the right time for the plot to have been carried out, a report out of Havana said Castro was ill. But he recovered in time to rout the Bay of Pigs invasion on April 17, 1961.

Although both the murder plot and the invasion failed, the CIA continued

INSIDE REPORT—

Kennedy Scenario: Menaces For Demos

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A private consensus has developed spontaneously among a remarkably wide range of Democrats that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will be drafted next year for the presidential nomination, a belief that well may contain seeds of disaster for the party.

That Kennedy should now be the front-runner after having previously withdrawn last September reflects the inability of any active candidate to fill the vacuum. Since politics abhors a vacuum, Democratic leaders — pro-Kennedy and anti-Kennedy alike — have filled it with this scenario for 1976.

The primaries, excluding non-candidate Kennedy, will be inconclusive. Since nobody will have enough delegates to be nominated, party leaders will turn to Kennedy. Having rejected the scepter at Chicago in 1968 and at Miami Beach in 1972, can he spurn it a third time? No, says almost everybody. He will accept and be elected against a demoralized Republican party.

This scenario poses two opposite menaces for the Democrats, one merely serious but the other catastrophic. The serious menace: for all his charisma, Kennedy could be the least electable Democrat in the post-Watergate era. The catastrophic menace: his closest friends honestly believe he would reject the scepter again. Meanwhile, Kennedy as an unannounced front-runner would have inadvertently inhibited the development of new Democratic talent and left the party in confusion.

When Kennedy withdrew last September, most Democrats felt more relief than dismay. Nobody asked him to reconsider. Any Democrat not burdened by Chappaquiddick, it was believed, would run better than Kennedy amid post-Watergate morality.

But nobody won over the party's dominant liberal wing. Sen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota stumbled, then dropped out. Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona is still stumbling. While alienating many moderate supporters by moving left, Sen. Henry M. Jackson has enticed few liberals.

Thus, an inactive Kennedy has reemerged as front-runner. The conventional wisdom is that Kennedy planned it that way, to turn a two-year distance race into a four-month sprint. Indeed, since September, journalistic interest in Chappaquiddick has receded. If Kennedy wanted to run, would he act in the least differently?

This scenario is enthusiastically endorsed by Democratic politicians whose future wholly depends on a Kennedy restoration. There is also one tiny piece of evidence: Paul Kirk, Kennedy's top aide, was saying after the withdrawal that he probably would be leaving the Senator; he is now staying.

But Kennedy's most intimate advisers argue, with apparent sincerity, that he would say no at the 1976 convention. Why? "For the same reasons he pulled out last year," says one Kennedy insider. "Nothing has changed since then." The most important reason is his continuing family problem: is his son's illness and his wife's difficulties. Less significantly, the danger of assassination remains a factor against running. Although Kennedy has always underestimated the residual stamina of Chappaquiddick, his advisers realize it would be a major issue — perhaps the major issue in a four-month campaign.

Nor does Paul Kirk's change of mind reveal that much. "Paul felt somebody ought to stay on board for the '76 Senate campaign," says one intimate. Richard Drayne, Kennedy's longtime press secretary, hopes to find a new job before that 1976 campaign. David Burke, Kennedy's closest political confidant who left his staff for a private business in 1971, has become top assistant to newly elected Gov. Hugh Carey of New York as a long-term commitment.

Except for a quick trip to a California charity dinner honoring a friend, Kennedy's travels now are limited to Massachusetts. His political activity is geared entirely to 1976 Senate re-election campaign preparation.

Nor has Kennedy been out front on the issues. Although his influence in the Senate has grown, he is far from a dominant figure there. Unlike Scoop Jackson, he does not attempt formulating positions on all issues.

In sum, Kennedy's resurgence as Democratic front-runner has nothing to do with what he does or says. Lacking effective candidates, Democrats have gravitated to that familiar name, face and voice with evocations of a better past. But that gravitation means new voices may go unheard.

If this is what Kennedy really wants, he should say nothing and await nomination without fighting his way through the primaries. But if he intends to reject the nomination a third time, as his closest advisers predict, perhaps he should say precisely that and open up the competition again as he did last September.

trying to get rid of Castro. The Cuban who had sneaked the poison into Havana was never seen again. Therefore, the CIA, unsure whether the plotters had failed or the poison hadn't been strong enough, decided to try again with a more powerful dose.

Roselli arranged for triple-strength capsules to be slipped into Castro's food several weeks after the Bay of Pigs. But once again, the plot failed and the conspirators disappeared.

Four more attempts were made on Castro's life, thereafter using assassination teams equipped with high-powered rifles, explosives and two-way radios. Roselli personally made midnight powderboat dashes to deliver the teams of secret landing spots on the Cuban coast. Once Roselli's boat was shot out from under him, but the occupants were quickly fished out of the murky water by companions in an accompanying boat.

The assassination teams never got a shot at Castro, although the CIA learned that the last group reached a rooftop within range. This occurred around the end of February or first of March 1963.

Nine months later, President Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas by Lee Harvey Oswald, a fanatic who had been active in the pro-Castro movement and had paid a mysterious call upon the Cuban embassy in Mexico City a few weeks before the dreadful day in Dallas.

Sources familiar with the CIA conspiracy can't shake a nagging suspicion — unsupported by the Warren Commission's findings — that Castro may have become aware of the U.S. plot upon his life and, therefore, may have recruited Oswald to retaliate against President Kennedy.

Footnote: Sources familiar with the secret review of the CIA's activities now have acknowledged that Castro, as we reported four years ago, was marked for assassination by the CIA. A CIA spokesman refused to comment.

It Happened Here—

Forty years ago (Mar. 10, 1935):

J. L. Tidwell, connected with Midland Hardware & Furniture Co. as a salesman for 17 years, was named manager of the concern.

W. L. "Billy" Holmsley, 74, veteran cowman, native Texan and former trail driver, died in his home here.

Names of four members of the city council were placed on the ticket as candidates for re-election upon urgent demand of voters. The candidates were: Mayor M. C. Ulmer, Aldermen R. M. Barron and D. H. Roetger, and City Secretary J. C. Hudson.

Thirty-five years ago (Mar. 10, 1940):

Midland Civic Theatre had completed casting Noel Coward's famous play, "Hay Fever," which was to be presented in the Yucca Theater on April 17.

Shainwold On Bridge

Count Points To Defend Well

Most bridge players find the defense more difficult than the declarer's play. That doesn't mean it's a problem to any player who has 40, since Leo Kantar's expert Middle Kantar's new giant book, on defense, should just about double anybody's defensive skill. Today's hand, lifted from Kantar's book, shows how easy it is to be a genius when you think the right way.

"Perhaps you don't agree with North's opening bid," Kantar admits, "but that's not the problem here."
"The moment West leads the queen of spades, East knows that South has the ace-king of spades, and, therefore, no ace of clubs for this weak bidding. East plays the deuce of spades at trick one to let West in on the secret. Don't give the count signal in this situation. It is far more important to tell partner that you have no honor in spades."
"At trick two a diamond is led to the queen and king. A player who hasn't bothered to work anything out will, at this point, return a spade. However, you will return a club because you know your partner has the ace."
"Notice if you do not return a club, declarer makes the hand by discarding a losing club on dummy's fourth diamond after cashing two high trumps."
If you're a normal reader of this column, you probably noticed the ace of clubs in the West hand; and you're probably saying to yourself: "What's the problem?" In actual play, however, you don't see your partner's ace; and you might not work it out unless you train yourself to think properly.

SEC Said Continuing Bell Probe

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigators have said they have sufficient reason to continue their aggressive probe of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., the San Antonio Light quoted sources close to the inquiry as saying.

The Light said Sunday that unidentified sources told it that some testimony before the SEC had disputed Bell's contention that its executives contributed voluntarily to a political fund.

However, it said other parts of the testimony reflect the telephone company's version of the fund.

Bell's head Texas lobbyist, Ward Wilkinson, has said he kept a political fund made up of contributions from various Southwestern Bell executives.

Neither Bell nor the SEC have commented on the inquiry, one of eight begun by federal and state agencies after allegations in a $89.2-million lawsuit against Bell.

Meanwhile, the San Antonio Express-News said ousted Bell executive James H. Ashley, one of the plaintiffs in the lawsuit, testified to the Missouri utility commission that Bell contributed $1 million to the new Busch Stadium complex at St. Louis entirely at the ratepayers' expense.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, March 18th, the 88th day of 1975. There are 286 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1876, the first clear telephone call was made when Alexander Graham Bell summoned his assistant from another room in Bell's house in Boston, saying: "Come here, Watson; I want you."

On this date: In 1785, Thomas Jefferson was named the U.S. Minister to France, succeeding Benjamin Franklin.

In 1864, Ulysses Grant was made Commander in Chief of Union forces in the Civil War.

In 1941, President Franklin Roosevelt signed the Lend-Lease Act, providing for transfer of military equipment to the Allies in World War II.

In 1945, U.S. B-29 bombers began their first incendiary raids on Japan, setting fire to a vast area of Tokyo.

Area Landowners To Fight Ft. Hood Expansion Plans

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP) — Two members of a 23-member steering committee of landowners opposed to an expansion of Ft. Hood were to be in Washington today to discuss the Army's plans with Texas congressmen.

Bob Melberne and Bob Scott, both of Gatesville and representing area landowners who are opposed to the Army's expansion plans, said they hope to persuade the congressmen to vote against the Ft. Hood expansion.

The steering committee was formed Friday night at a meeting in Gatesville of several hundred landowners.

City Faces Two Possible Bond Votes In Two Years

By GEORGE MAREY
City officials say they may need to call two major bond issues elections within the next two years.

One election would be for street and park improvements, and the other would be for improvements of Midland Regional Air Terminal.

It is the consensus of the city manager's office and the public works department that before any "major" street projects are undertaken, a bond issue would be necessary.

James Brown, city manager, said, "The bond issue question" for streets, airport and park improvements "has not come before the council for consideration."

Brown said it is not possible to predict whether a bond issue will be presented in the immediate future, but said, "somewhere along the road, these bond issues are going to have to be brought before the council for consideration."

He said street funds are being depleted with current projects, and past bond funds for airport improvements have been used for major work now under way at Midland Regional Air Terminal or have been designated for additional construction on the runway extension project.

The city manager's office said that the council would require additional bond funds.

Poe said those airport issues, however, were not before the council now, but could come up within the next two years.

Brown said approximately $4,000 remains in the city budget for park improvements. He said a recommendation for handling needs in the park area could not be made, however, until the Park Master Plan had been completed.

The results of that study are being compiled by a consulting firm at San Antonio and has been submitted to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in partial form recently. The master plan must meet with HUD approval if the city expects to obtain federal funds to support Midland park projects.

Brown said the consulting firm should have the plan completed within 30 days.

Poe said street and park bond issues would probably be combined on a single ballot, but as separate issues. He said the issues would be divided into individual parts also, and this would in effect give the voter a choice of approving or rejecting the issues on a more equitable basis.

Poe said the airport bond issue would be handled in a separate election.

India Emerges As Largest Buyer Of American Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — India has emerged as the largest foreign buyer of U.S. wheat this season with orders which could exceed five million metric tons at an estimated cost of more than $700 million, a trade analyst in the Agriculture Department said today.

The Indian wheat orders, mostly for cash, are the largest since that country received huge quantities of U.S. grain as aid in the mid-1960s. Unlike the present commercial sales, the earlier shipments were financed through long-term soft credit arrangements.

John B. Parker Jr. of the Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service said India's recent purchases were undertaken because of "the realities of a sharply reduced 1974-75 food grain crop and precarious stock position" in its own reserves.

Thus, Parker said in a report published by the department's Foreign Agricultural Service, India will be the largest foreign commercial buyer of U.S. wheat in the fiscal year which will end June 30.

Last season, when it bought 1.6 million tons, India was fourth in the U.S. wheat market behind China, Japan and the Soviet Union. For the current fiscal year, China is expected to take less than 1.5 million tons of U.S. wheat, Japan about 3.0 million and the Soviet Union about 1.2 million.

Clements Weds Texan Rita Bass

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a ceremony the officiating chaplain dubbed a "political Who's Who of Texas," Deputy Defense Secretary William P. Clements married Republican national committeewoman Rita Bass.

The new Mrs. Clements is from Dallas. Clements was an oil company executive in Dallas before being named to the defense post.

Present for the candlelight service Saturday were Republican Sen. John Tower, and his wife, and Texas millionaire H. Ross Perot.

Expensive Music Maker

When the Cadet Chapel organ at West Point was installed in 1911, it had 2,400 pipes and cost $10,000. Today it contains 18,000 pipes, is worth between $800,000 and $1 million and West Point says it's the largest church organ in the world.

Austin Next Stop

Captain Paul Stueckler's thrill-a-minute Midland Lee Rebels will join powerful Houston Kashmere, Fort Worth Paschal and San Antonio Highlands in the State Class AAAA Basketball Tourney in Austin Friday and Saturday after their pair of overtime victories over Lubbock Monterey and El Paso Bowie.

Maybe not playing as sharply as in the 87-69 victory over a good Wichita Falls Rider team in bi-district, the Rebels did prove one thing as if there was any doubt anyway, that they can play under pressure and play well.

Outstanding guard play by Brett Blackwell and Ronnie Farish, kept the Rebels in the running for the state crown while Gary Parson and Jeff Jackson had good performances against Monterey in the semifinals. Junior Miller, District 5-4A's Most Valuable Player, had an off tourney, but came up with key rebounds and points when they were needed. Junior was sick and not feeling too well after the 51-47 overtime win over Bowie's Bears Saturday night. The 6-5 junior, who usually scores around 14 points per game, only scored 17 points in the two games, but should be feeling better for the big tourney in Austin.

Most Tall City Wins

Lee has the distinction of having the most wins by a Midland team going into the state tourney. Midland wound up with a 32-4 mark in 1973 when the Bulldogs lost to Houston Wheatley, 84-78, in the finals and the 1972 Pack also went to the AAAA tourney with a 31-3 mark, so the Rebs with a 33-3 reading, have a shot at a 35-3 mark.

The 1972 Bulldog outfit was led by 6-8 Gary Brewster and 6-10 Ronald Taylor. Brewster, who is a junior at The University of Texas at El Paso, tallied 725 points going into bi-district play and wound up with 806 on the year. He will be leading the UTEP Miners in the opening round of the NCAA Tourney against No. 1 Indiana this week. Taylor had 431 points in the same season as a junior and took a total of 714 points into the 1973 state tourney.

Lee has even better overall balance than the 1972-73 Bulldog outfits with all five starters already having scored more than 300 points each. The Rebels are averaging 66.7 points per game which is not as high as the 72-point average of the Pack, but they don't run-and-shoot as much as the Pack did. The Rebs can run or walk and win doing both well and this could be a big factor in the state tourney.

What Next, Stueckler?

This corner wonders what Stueckler will cook up for the state tourney after coming up with all kinds of colorful combinations starting with his Rebels' 71-56 victory over Midland High.

"I may not have enough nerve to dress that way in Austin," said a happy and relaxed Stueckler Sunday afternoon. One thing's for sure—the fans are looking forward to his appearance in ancient Gregory Gymnasium at The University of Texas campus.

It's too bad the state meet can't be played in Moody Coliseum in Abilene. It is an ideal plant to watch basketball in, but then it would not be able to cope with the big crowds at the state tourney. This may be the last year the state tourney is in Gregory Gym since a new, beautiful 17,000-seat gym is being built on the UT-Austin campus and then all classifications will play on the same weekend in the big new gym.

Bulldogs Try Pecos Today

With the first annual Tourney of Champions Baseball history, the Midland Bulldogs and Lee Rebels return to non-district play this week in preparation for the District 5-4A race which opens, March 18.

Midland won three games while losing one during the two-day tourney while Lee won one and lost three, dropping a pair of close tilts to tournament winner Moore, Okla., and MHS.

Coach Arlen Dickson's Purple Pack beat Arlington Sam Houston, 7-1, Friday afternoon and then posted a 3-0 win over Lee in the feature game Friday night. The Rebs then lost to Moore, 5-0 and then turned around and blanked Putnam City West, Okla., by the same score.

Ernie Johnson's Rebels gave Moore the best game of the tourney, losing, 4-3, in the bottom of the seventh inning when third baseman Leonard Brown doubled off the wall to knock in the winning run.

Rebel pitcher Bobby Stevens tossed a one-hitter at Midland only to lose while Bulldog pitcher Terrill Littlejohn struck out 10 Sam Houston batters in throwing a three-hitter at the Texans.

Jakie Wells, senior pitcher for the Pack, set Putnam City down on three hits and Karl Brosig, 190-pound senior righthander, registered a four-hitter against Lee.

Midland, with a 6-3 record, took on the Class AAA Pecos Eagles at 4 p.m. today at the Memorial Stadium diamond while Lee, which stands 3-5, meets Lubbock Coronado at 4 p.m. Tuesday on the Lee diamond. Midland comes right back for another game Tuesday in Snyder with the

Aggies Try Bearcats Next

Cincinnati Has Taller Team Than A&M

By The Associated Press Cincinnati will field a bigger team than the Texas Aggies Saturday night in the NCAA first round playoffs in Lubbock, but the coach of the Bearcats figures his team is going to have to learn to be physical to stay with the newly-crowned Southwest Conference basketball champions.

"We are bigger than Texas A&M but the Aggies really play a physical man-for-man defense—much more than our kids are used to," said Gayle Catlett of Cincinnati. "We can field a frontline with 6-foot-11, 6-foot-8, and 6-foot-6 folks. They are freshmen, however, and must learn to get more physical in there."

Cincinnati, 20-5, has a 15-game winning streak and has several notable triumphs—like beating Houston by 20 points in the Cougar gym.

A delirious crowd of 7,181 fans was on hand in G. Rollie White Coliseum Saturday as A&M clinched the SWC title with a 74-63 victory over Texas.

Coach Shelby Metcalf of the Aggies got a fully-clothed shower mingled with an occasional cloudburst of champagne.

"This is the most dedicated group I've ever had," said Metcalf of his third SWC championship team. The 1964 and 1969 teams won titles under Metcalf.

He added, "From the first day of practice when we began running cross country and lifting weights, I've never had a team work this hard."

"We got three junior players who were all individual stars. They became team players. Everybody's individual statistics were less this year than last year. Does that tell you something? They truly are unselfish."

Metcalf was carried from the floor on the shoulders of his players and Catlett, noting the enthusiasm, said "I'm glad we're not playing here. I hope we can slow 'em down some."

Texas A&M's 20-6 overall record represented the most victories in the school's history. A&M was 12-2 in the SWC class.

Arkansas and Texas Tech tied for second in SWC play as Arkansas downed Baylor 83-64 and Texas Tech ripped Texas Christian 103-78.

Arkansas' 11-3 SWC mark and 17-9 season ledger was the best for the school since 1968.

Texas A&M will advance to the Midwest Regionals in Las Cruces, N.M. March 20 should defeat Cincinnati in Lubbock.

Only one more game remains on the SWC schedule—Houston and Rice tangling in their crosstown rivalry Tuesday night.

Rice, which finished in the cellar, upset SMU 84-82 in double overtime Saturday.

Sutton, Meyers Blast SWC Office Over No Tourney Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Ed Sutton, University of Arkansas basketball coach, blasted the Southwest Conference league office Sunday night for not getting his team or Texas Tech in a postseason tournament.

Sutton said that he and Texas Tech Coach Gerald Meyers were "extremely unhappy" that one of their teams had not been invited to the Collegiate Commissioners' Invitational Tournament in Louisville.

Arkansas and Texas Tech finished their season Saturday night tied for second place in the SWC with 11-3 records. Overall, Tech ended at 18-4, while Arkansas was 17-9.

"I talked to Gerald," Sutton said, "and he told me that Cliff Speagle (executive secretary of the SWC) had told him last Wednesday not to worry, that there would be a place for a Southwest Conference team in the commissioners tournament."

"That is what Gerald told me. I fault the Southwest Conference office more than the selection committee for one of our teams not being invited. The conference is just not basketball oriented," he added. After learning that neither

Arkansas nor Texas Tech had been invited, Sutton said he called Chuck Neinas, commissioner of the Big Eight Conference and a member of the commissioners tournament selection committee. He said he told Neinas that there was no way the committee could defend not inviting one of the Southwest Conference teams.

"They took a third place team like Drake, which is 16-10, and has been beaten in double figures," Sutton said.

Earlier in the season, the freshman Razorback coach had been critical of officiating in the conference.

Beal, Crawford Win City Titles Spencer Beal and Beth Crawford won titles in the City Racquetball Tournament at the Central YMCA Sunday.

Beal won the men's division with a 21-14, 21-7 victory over second place Gary Seth while Rick McLaughlin defeated Gary Collins for consolation honors.

Crawford won the ladies division with a 21-11, 21-16 win over Ginger Lankford and Betty Presley defeated Jan Foust for the consolation prize.

Kashmere First Lee Opponent

Unbeaten and virtually untouchable Houston Kashmere is a solid favorite to join Dimmitt and Lamasa in Texas schoolboy basketball championships this weekend.

Houston Kashmere breezed through the Region III finals to become the No. 1 pick of the Class AAAA clubs in Austin. Lee plays Kashmere in the 4 p.m. game Friday. The Rams are 44-0 on the year.

Lamasa earned its third Class AAA trophy with a tough 55-55 victory over scrappy South Grand Prairie.

Houston Kashmere, which owns the state's longest victory streak — 76 — clubbed Beaumont Charlton - Pollard 100-68 and Houston Wheatley, a former champion, 116-79, to advance to the finals.

Midland Lee went into overtime twice, beating Lubbock Monterey 82-81 and El Paso Bowie 51-47.

San Antonio Highlands defeated Brazoswood and San Antonio Jefferson by identical 72-68 results.

Price For Starts Back To Jogging

There's a price to victory in pro golf.

Lee Trevino knows it. And he'll pay it. But he doesn't have to like it.

"I hate it," Trevino said. "Starting back in November, I quit my jogging and exercising. And I played terrible. Last week I started up again. Exercising, sit-ups and such like, and jogging two miles every day."

And he won the Citrus Open Sunday with a front-running, one-under-par 71 that turned back the upset bids of Hale Irwin and Ben Crenshaw.

"That's terrible," Trevino said. "I don't jog and I play bad. I do my jogging and I win. That means I've got to keep on jogging and I hate it."

There's a reason for it. "I'm a leg-hitter," Trevino said. "I use my body and my legs to hit the ball, not my hands and arms. So I'm gonna play better if my legs are in shape. And it looks like I'm gonna have to keep jogging."

In fact, immediately after holding off U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin and young Ben Crenshaw, Trevino said he planned a quick little sprint.

"Right to the nearest bar. That's all the running I'm gonna do today. You've got to give yourself one day off," he said. The victory, Trevino's 18th official tour triumph in his storied career, came in highly unheroic fashion. He started the final round in front. He stayed in front. He finished in front, with a 277 total, 131-under-par on the 6,929-yard Pine Country Club course.

Irwin, the U.S. Open champion who now has finished sixth or better in four consecutive starts, was one stroke back at 278 after a closing 68. Trevino led by at least two until Irwin cut the gap with a birdie on the 17th hole.

Crenshaw was another shot back at 71-278. "If you give a player of Trevino's caliber the amount of room we did, he can dance with it," Irwin said.

"Everybody is gonna say, 'he didn't shoot a great round to win,'" Trevino said. "Well, I played three pretty good rounds to get in front. And I know what I had to do. I had to just hang on."

He started the final round with a two-shot advantage, birdied the first hole from five feet, bogeyed the third from a bunker, scrambled for a couple of holes—then hit the last 72 greens in regulation in a winning display of consistency. He birdied the 10th from 36 feet and parred the rest—just as he needed to do.

No one got closer than two shots until Irwin's magnificent wedge shot stopped only six inches from the cup for a birdie on the 17th.

Wolfpack Players Reject NIT Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be 16 teams in the 1975 edition of the National Invitation Tournament, but one of them won't be the defending national champion, North Carolina State.

"I don't want to play another basketball game unless it's in the NCAA," said N.C. State's Monte Towe Sunday after the Wolfpack players decided against making the trip to New York.

N.C. State lost its place in the NCAA when it was upset by North Carolina 70-66 in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship Saturday night. North Carolina received an automatic bid to the NCAA tourney, and Maryland, the regular season ACC champion, was also invited.

Last year, Maryland spurned an NIT offer. Even without N.C. State, the NIT selection committee had little trouble finding clubs to fill its 16-team field.

Named Sunday to the 38th renewal of the nation's oldest postseason tournament were Memphis State, 20-6; Pittsburgh, 17-10; Lafayette, 22-4; Providence, 17-10; Manhattan, 19-11; Connecticut, 18-9, and St. Peter's, 15-11.

They join Princeton, Oregon, Southern Illinois, Oral Roberts, Massachusetts, Holy Cross, St. John's N.Y., Clemson and South Carolina, named previously to the March 15-23 event. The pairings are to be announced today.

The NIT had informed N.C. State it would be the No. 1 seed should it accept a bid, but Coach Norman Sloan announced that his players had voted against competing. A bid was tendered Sunday morning, but was rejected by Athletic Director William Casey.

Even without N.C. State, the ACC has a strong representative in the tournament in Clemson, ranked 14th nationally. Ten of the 16 schools in the tournament are from the Northeast, and four are either located in New York or in easy commuting distance.

Purdue, the defending NIT champion, is committed to the National Commissioners Invitational Tournament at Louisville as the Big Ten runner-up.

Midland College Golf Team 4th The Midland College golf team moved into fourth place in the Western Athletic Junior College Conference race after action at Howard College and Western Texas College Friday and Saturday. Odessa College is in first place.

Price Courter had a 76-77 for Midland College and was followed by David Gage, 72-84; Terry Lester, 80-79; Fred Nobles, 78-79; and Kelly Sewell, 76-87. The MC golfers will travel to New Mexico Junior College Wednesday for an invitational tourney while the girls will open play March 17-18 in Austin at an invitational by the University of Texas.

How To Get Paid Market For Bladder

DALLAS (AP) — A 77-year-old Dallas woman will become the first patient in Texas and among the first 80 in the country to receive a newly developed pacemaker.

The device has been used most successfully on those who have been paralyzed from the waist down from either spinal injury or birth defects. It has been used also on a few patients with poor bladder control.

The operation will be done at Baylor University Medical Center this month. The pacemaker will be surgically placed in the abdomen with two electrodes attached to the muscle tissue at the side of the bladder.

The patient is given an external pocket-sized transmitter which activates the electrodes, thereby stimulating the muscles.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckles moved here from Monahan in 1948, where he entered the oil business there. They were prominent in civic, club and church affairs there.

Buckles was a member of the board of executors of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame at Midland, Tex., and served on its Hall of Fame Committee.

Survivors include the widow; a brother, Joseph H. Buckles of Sutter Creek, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Augusta Smith of Norman, Okla., and two nephews, John Bates of Fort Worth, Tex., and Bob Bates of Chickasha, Okla.

Mrs. John J. (Frances) Conry, 52, died at her residence, 3310 Mariana St., Sunday afternoon after a sudden illness.

Services are pending at the Newline W. Ellis Chapel. Mrs. Conry was born Dec. 7, 1922, at Independence, Kan., and was reared at Tulsa, Okla.
