Just - For - Fun.

We do not advertise just for fun, but a little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest of men.

it ran about as follows:

Dear Ma, I don't hear all rite aint had time to Sometimes I get tired of writing advertisements, and sometimes you get tired of reading them, so just for a change we are going to fill up our space this week with a small squib or two or anything else but shoes and buttons and shirts and ribbons and rags and tags etc. You see I want to take a rest and give my customers a rest and we have to fill up this space because we pay Mr. Dillard for it by the year. Newspaper men are all contrary, we never have found one yet that would advertise for us unless we paid for it and if it were not for ruining the looks of the paper we would leave this space blank and give you a rest and take one ourself. However, we are not going to bother you about the cheapest lot of stuff in all the world, of course we have it (so has the other fellow. We are all blowing our own horn and bragging like a lot of drunk politicians but you have the happy privilege of not having to believe everything that is said in dry goods and patent medicine ads., if you did you would be as full all the time as a 10 year old boy in a water melon patch. Speaking of boys reminds me of one I use to know many years ago, who took a trip into the country to visit relatives. His mother did not hear anything from him for more than a week, and was becoming very anxious, when she received a letter that the youngster had promised to write as soon as he reached his destination. The mother anxiously tore open the letter and about me. I am real well. Me and another boy went out in a boat and the boat tipped over and when they got me out I didn't know nothing for a long time, and wuz plum full of water, they are going burry the other boy when they find him. His ma come over and cried a hole lots. The well I fell into was but 11 feet deep and wuz dry and had tin kans and buckets in it. Uncle Bill got me out all right. I've got a lot of toad frogs and a rattle-snake in my trunk to bring home. Me and some more boys found a big stick of dynamite of Uncle Bill's and tonight we are going to set her off under an old barn and if we don't have some fun I am the biggest liar in the country. Dont worry about me cause Uncle Bill will take care of me. I want to stay three weeks more, Please send me some money to pay the doctor for mending my head where the mule kicked it open.

Lovingly your boy,
Johnnie.

P. S.—Uncle Bill gets mad some times and says he is going to send me home but I wont go, will I?

Well, so much for a boy. I heard that that boy caught it when he got home, but not where the chicken got the ax. Sbeaking of axes reminds me of when I, as a 10 year old boy, contracted to cut a large pile of sound live oak poles for 25c., it took me 8 days to cut those poles. I have never been fond of axes since and have never got over not charging enough for things, for I am now accused of selling things for less than wholesale prices, and it must be sense my want you to sell cheap because I like you and all our kind, with a few exceptions. For the world is but a race course, the crown for which we strive is happiness, which we think is only obtained with the cash; in this race there is no contentment, the aged sigh and ward, fly backward, in your flight the youth years for locks and age's carriage envied the light hearted boy and free boy longs for man's palace. kick if it does if it rains two or three weeks we kick and yell stop. I guess that got it stopped as we have dry weather to most. Did you ever think it, the farmer and stockman has a right to work. It requires nerve as well as on the facing cannon. The horse cut one the old cow to tail up the cotton to plant over ruining your orchard dogs eating your crop, note to pay at bank, and you want to stretch a long way and get lots of goods for the money and the place

LITTLE INTEREST IN ELECTION.

List of Offices to be Filled and names of those Who Have Announced.

- For Governor—S. W. T. Lanham.
- Lieutenant governor—Geo. D. Neal.
- Attorney General—D. E. Simmons, L. S. Schullter, R. V. Davidson, W. C. Weir.
- Comptroller—J. W. Stephens, Lee Blanchette.
- State Treasurer—John W. Robbins, Sterling P. Strong.
- Commissioner Land Office—J. J. Terrell.

- R. R. Commissioner—Allison Mayfield.

Assistant Justice of the Supreme Court — T. J. Brown.

Assistant Justice Court of Criminal Appeals—M. M. Brooks.

Judge F. S. Bell has just made an extensive trip through Northwest Texas and reports the people to be very apathetic on the subject of the next election.

There have been hundreds of prominent men in Austin from every part of the state during the past month or so who made the same statement as to the indifference of the people.

In past years general elections have been by no means dull, nor have the campaigns which preceded them. An explanation of the present want of interest among the people is a little hard to find, unless it be there are no issues between candidates, and the election will be merely a choice between men.

When a man teaches a thing and then refuses to defend that teaching, when called upon to do so, shows very evident signs of cowardice. We care not what his theme is, whether socialistic, economic, scientific or religious, that teacher who pads locks the mouths of his hearers and will not allow his utterances questioned is either devoid of courage or has no confidence in his position.

ship. An individual with a dwarfed intellect, a breech-wearing bipedal burro, a tobacco-sucking toady, a long-nosed lobster, a relic of prehistoric monstrosities that bears so marked a resemblance to Darwin's missing link as to be easily mistaken for that hombra, will come prowling round and insert his long nasal proclivity into business men's private affairs and when he learns something that he thinks he can use to his own benefit or to the hurt of the business man, braying he will go forth all his kith and kin will take up the asinine chant till the sound is heard in all the regions round about. The fact that a man is a public spirited man and enters heartily into every enterprise for the advancement of the town, does not make him immune against the sly sallies of these shrivelled-souled bubbles who betray every trust imposed in them and sometimes give legitimate enterprises a black eye and seriously injure a man's business and sometimes cripple his credit.

Democratic Mass Meeting.

At the mass meeting which met according to call on Friday afternoon the following proceedings were was overwhelmingly against Parker.

Our streets are in the same dreadful fix they were in last week.

A number of people have expressed themselves as being pleased with our editorials lately, especially the one on the school.

If we would look more closely at our own faults and defects, instead of forever and eternally picking out and magnifying the faults of others, we would grow larger hearted, and, with a feeling of true magnanimity, we would view the failings of our fellow mortals thru the little end of truth's telescope, and love for man, so prone to err, would prompt us to say, "he is but human, poor man."

Let us keep our own yard clean, the beam from our eyes, then let us aid our fellows to sweep the trash from their door step and rid their eye of the mote, not using criticism's sharp lash or the Slanderer's vile ways, but let us talk to them and with the mild power of loving words woo them from their error.

There is nothing that arouses a feeling of utter contempt for an individual more than to find him prying into the private affairs of one for whom he professes to have a feeling of friend-

House called to order by Jno. R. McGee Chairman.

Upon motion duly made and carried the following test for qualification of voters was adopted. "I am a Democrat, I believe in majority rule, I voted for the regular Democratic nominees at the last general election for state officers and voted for the regular Democratic nominees at the last presidential election. I obligate myself to support and vote for all the regular democratic nominees at the ensuing general election."

Motion to reconsider the motion adopting the above test carried and the following test adopted instead:

"I am a democrat, I believe in majority rule, I voted for the regular democratic nominees at the last general election for state officers and if in the convention in 1900 voted for the regular democratic nominees in the last presidential election. I obligate myself to support and vote for the regular democratic nominees at the ensuing general election.

Hon. Geo. L. Beatty was elected delegate to the State convention at San Antonio, without instructions.

J.J. Dillard was elected chairman of the democratic executive committee.

Meeting adjourned sine die.

M. G. Abernathy,
Secretary.

A Picnic.
A picnic was held on the Canyon Saturday. Those who went were: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robinson, Mrs. Jack Alley, Misses Estelle Clayton, Ethel Cook, Mabelle Hudson and Sallie Wilkinson; Messrs. A. M. Clayton, Kid Powell, Chas. Clayton and Oscar Tubbs.

The hearts of the anticipants highly elated while the vicissitudes of fortune smiled on us.

Our hearts were filled with joy which found vent in laughter as we went whirling through the suburbs of the metropolis (to be.) The chattering birds along the wayside were singing jaunty airs to jollyett, while the whizzing whickles seemed to say get off the town section.

We landed at the Jim Robinson division of the O6 ranch. We had plenty of fish for supper, after which we had a callisthenic drill, Irish wake or something of that nature, then 30 minutes rough house, the game being panic boys vs. ladies. The boys won the game and cornered on sugins. All parties came out all right but didn't look like anything.

Caught plenty of fish. Ladies caught dry land suckers mystly. Returned Sunday afternoon with smiling faces but dreamy eyes. Everyone seemed to have a lovely time.

As we were coming home the scene reminded one of the "dirty dozen," we were one short, however.

The following ranch boys were with us: Jim Robinson, Sam Sterges, Jim Johnston, Will Robinson, Ruby Clayton, Chas. Roy, and Jno. Rocket.

The other named conventions will be called and the location be determined later.

J. J. Dillard, Chairman Democratic Executive Committee, Lubbock County.

A Member.

Acuff Articles.

Another nice rain since last writing, but would be proud to see more.

W. A. Bacon left the latter part of last week for Dickens county after some cattle.

J. W. Dalton left the first of this week for Emma to get his cattle.

Mrs. J. T. Brown left this week for Del Rio to visit her brother who is dangerously sick.

J. F. Bacon and wife attended meeting at Estacado Sunday.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the singing at the school house Sunday.

I suppose Sorry Jack is offended because Happy Jack won't claim kin with him. Now perhaps Happy Jack is a little wrong, but he will pay half the expense and we will get some Lubbock lawyer to investigate the matter and he finds he is wrong he will give it up and say no more.

J. T. Brown attended Commissioners' court Monday.

We learn that Eld. S. A. Ribble, christian preacher, of Brownwood, will be here and hold us a meeting in August. The time will be announced definitely later.

Mrs. W. A. Bacon is visiting in Lubbock

J. J. Baker has been on the sick list last week.

Miss Estelle Clayton has been visiting friends at Lubbock lately.

Next Sunday is Bro. Arnett's day out here. He will preach to us in the morning on Acts of the Apostles. We will have dinner on the grovnd and two servicas.

HAPPY JACK.

Meadow Mutterings.

Taylor Calison and wife visited Tahoka last Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Bess was around putting up election notices the first of last week.

Rev. Lovelady preached an interesting sermon Sunday on "Quench not the spirit."

W. E. Bradshaw paid a flying visit to Gomez last Saturday.

Two of Mr. Lindsey's children were quite sick the latter part of last week.

A heavy rain and hail fell south and southwest of Meadow last Friday, knocking out several window panes for Mr. Long. The hail is said to have drifted in places to a depth of three feet. Hail is pretty bad on the crops but it is also bad on the "pore" rabbits that happen to get caught away from home.

Mr. Bradshaw will move his cattle this week to the south side of the county.
