LOCAL RETAILERS DO BIG BUSINESS

REGARDLESS OF WAR AND ADVERSE CONDITION THROUGHOUT WORLD OUR BUSINESS MEN PROSPER.

BANKS OF LUBBOCK SHOW VERY HEAVY DEPOSITS

They Have Taken Care of the Interests of the Lubbock Territory in a Way That Has Made Them More Business and Enabled Every Legitimate Business to Move Right Along.

Retail and financial conditions in the Plains country with Lubbock as a distributing and commercial center are better than ever before in the history of the Great Southwest. Bountiful crops and general prosperity are responsible for these conditions which are rapidly placing the Plains country in the limelight of the commercial world.

For three years West Texas battled against the adversity brought on by the elements. It was a sturdy and determined class of people who looked failure in the face with a smile and tried again. Today the country is reaping the benefits as though the power on high had been testing their ability to withstand adversity. The bank deposits are increasing with amazing rapidity. Crops are being harvested and the farmers are receiving the highest market price ever accorded before. The crops raised were better than for several years and everything indicates a repetition of the same conditions for next year. Much land is producing four or more times its value in crops, for this one season. Farmers are liquidating their indebtedness and it is generally characteristic of Western people to always pay up first before personal luxuries are considered. The banks of Lubbock report that many farmers have virtually liquidated all their indebtedness and still have substantial bank deposits to their credit. Their grocers have been taken up. Their grocery bills and other indebtedness for life's necessities have been paid and automobiles are being purchased. Trade is at an advancement. The stores of Lubbock are always crowded with happy purchasers as a result of the prosperous conditions which exist.

Another attractive feature of these excellent financial and retail conditions is the fact that they are not brought on by any temporary boom. It is merely the results of physical success. It will again be repeated next year unless something radically unforeseen arises to prevent it. This is not at all likely, judging from past history of the Plains country.

There are four banks in Lubbock with aggregate deposits at the close of business on October 21, of $1,501,372.75, with the principle deposits from the marketing of the fall crops yet to come. These banking institutions have been very effective in the developing of this country, for during the period of adversity their heads of these institutions cast their lot with the farmers and business interests, placing the funds of the banks at their disposal so far as it was consistent with good banking and showing the real value of a bank to a community in standing behind the business interests in the face of adversity and in this manner enabling them to pull through. The result is that the banks, like the farmers, are reaping their reward and those living in this section know that Lubbock has a set of banking institutions always ready to stand behind them and encourage their success. This materially makes the financial conditions of this section good. There were no mortgage foreclosures. There were no sacrifices of crops for ready money. The farmers who have worked so diligently in Lubbock county have been able to realize maximum money from their production which also has a very material effect on the conditions as they exist here today in a financial way.

Merchants of Lubbock report excellent business. There is a greater demand for merchandise. Not only is this true of the immediate vicinity, but the surrounding cities of the Plains, are making greater demands upon the merchandise centered at Lubbock, showing that the prosperous conditions are not alone confined to the city of Lubbock. Larger and better stocks of merchandise are to be found and a visit to the commercial institutions of the city will convince the most skeptical that just as good and extensive a line of merchandise is to be found in Lubbock as is to be found anywhere in the larger cities of the state.

"We have done more business in the last three months than in many entire years in the past," stated one of the leading merchants of Lubbock. "A significant feature of this extensive business is the fact that people are not buying trashy merchandise or luxuries but are investing their money in a substantial manner in the west in the market affords. This will be shown if a glance is but given to our stock which includes some of the most expensive nationally advertised lines."

Many merchants of Lubbock and the entire Plains country, for that matter, earlier in the season did not realize that the demand was going to be so large and as a result hurried trips to market have been forced, to meet the demands placed on the business institutions for this class of merchandise.

The conditions which have existed in Lubbock and the Plains country this year, and with the future prospects ahead Lubbock has rapidly brought to the front as the leading commercial center of the Plains country. New business institutions have been established and still more are coming to the city. Plans are being made for the erection of new business blocks and old buildings have been repaired. Today there is not a city with a more up-to-date business section in the entire state of Texas with the population of Lubbock. Wholesale houses report that their territory is rapidly being extended and more help is necessary to handle the trade which comes to the city. Railroad officials announce that the freight shipments both in and out are larger than in preceding years. With this demand for more business there is a field of opportunity here for the commercial man who wishes to establish a business house to assist in caring for this extensive development. There are now here, three wholesale grocery houses, one wholesale hardware house, one wholesale produce house, and many wholesale hay, feed and grain houses. In fact the surrounding cities can receive from Lubbock for the retail trade practically all the commodities that could possibly be required for the carrying on of their business.

The reader may get some idea of the extensiveness of the business section of Lubbock by the listing of the business houses which now exist here and comparing this with conditions twelve years ago, before there were any railroads into this section. The decision will be unanimous that the growth and development of this section in a business and financial way has been little short of phenomenal. Following are the business houses which are making this a commercial center:

Four banks, two large sanitariums, doctors and surgeons, dentists, five hotels, four of these smaller institutions; one extensive land and development company; four drug stores; fifteen grocery stores; three hardware stores; four furniture stores; three men's outfitters, five life insurance companies maintaining branch headquarters here; twenty-five real estate dealers, four candy stores, two saddlerys; five large lumber yards; one creamery; one laundry; two power plants; one ice plant; one newspaper and job printing department; one exclusive job printers; four extensive feed dealers; one poultry and produce house; two produce houses; six garages; seven automobile dealers; five retail oil companies; six extensive coal dealers; two news stands; one bakery; two racket stores; two boot making shops; five barber shops; one wagon yard; one trade barn; blacksmiths; two gins; one compress; one machine shop; one mattress factory; four extensive dry goods stores; three meat markets; and other business institutions which are far more extensive in the stock of merchandise and general appearance than the average reader would surmise.

Co-operation among the business interests of the city is one of the important factors in the extension of Lubbock as a commercial center. Legitimate competition is recognized among all the institutions. The city is free from factions and factional fights. Every business man has the idea in mind of pulling with the other fellow to bring about maximum development and with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce, which is one of the strongest organizations of its kind in the State the city is rapidly gaining an enviable reputation for the standpoint of being the leading commercial center of the Plains country.

TO INSTALL UP-TO-DATE DAIRY EQUIPMENT

Ed Vaughn made a business trip to Amarillo the past week, where he investigated dairying equipment and purchased a complete Leico Sany Dairy Milker plant at a cost of about $2000. Mr. Vaughn expects to have this plant installed immediately on his dairy farm northwest of Lubbock. It is a two unit user equipment and is the only one of its kind in this section of the country and is strictly up to date in every respect.

Rev. Shearer, presiding elder of the Lubbock District, will preach at Lorenzo next Sunday.

WILSON AND SPIKES BUY LUBBOCK GROCERY

The stock of the Lubbock Grocery was bought this week by Wilson and Spikes and is being moved to their store on the West Side of the Square. R. B. Smith, who has been manager for the Lubbock Grocery for some time, will be with Wilson & Spikes in the future.

Mrs. B. M. Paul and seven months old daughter, Nell Graves, of Oakland, Cal., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. E. E. Low.

Lacking six Lubbock was unanimous for paving.

SOME IMPORTANT POINTS IN PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I sincerely regret that I cannot be present at the opening of this session of the Congress. I am thus prevented from presenting in as direct a way as I could wish the many questions that are pressing for solution at this time. Happily, I have had the advantage of the advice of the heads of the several executive departments who have kept in close touch with affairs in their detail, and whose thoughtful recommendations I earnestly second.

In the matter of the railroads and the readjustments of their affairs growing out of Federal control I shall take the liberty at a later date of addressing you.

Favors Budget System.
I hope that Congress will bring to a conclusion at this session legislation looking to the establishment of a budget system.

That there should be one single authority responsible for the making of all appropriations, and that appropriations should be made not independently of each other, but with reference to one single comprehensive plan of expenditure properly related to the nation's income, there can be no doubt.

Trusts that the Congress will give its immediate consideration to the problem of future taxation.
Simplification of the income and profits taxes has become an immediate necessity. These taxes performed indispensable service during the war. They must, however, be simplified, not only to save the taxpayers inconvenience and expense, but in order that his liability may be made certain and definite.

With reference to the details of the revenue laws, the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue will lay before you for your consideration certain amendments necessary for desirable in connection with the administration of law, recommendations which have my approval and support.

It is of the utmost importance that in dealing with this matter the present law should not be disturbed so far as regards taxes for the calendar year 1920, payable in the calendar year 1921.

The Congress might well consider what the higher rates of income and profits taxes can in peace times be effectively productive of revenue, and whether they may not on the contrary, be destructive of business activity and productive of waste and inefficiency.

Problem is Complex.
There is a point at which in peace times high rates of income and profits taxes discourage energy, remove the incentive to new enterprise, encourage extravagant expenditure, and produce industrial stagnation, with consequent unemployment and other attendant evils.

The problem is not an easy one. A fundamental change has taken place with reference to the position of America in the world's affairs. The prejudice and passions engendered by decades of controversy between two schools of political and economic thought, the one believers in protection of American industries, the other believers in tariff for revenue only, must be subordinated to the single consideration of the public interest in the light of utterly changed conditions.

War Effect on Commerce.
Before the war America was heavily the debtor of the rest of the world, and the interest payments she had to make to foreign countries on American securities held abroad, the expenditures of American travelers abroad, and the ocean-freight charges she had to pay to others about balanced the value of her prewar favorable balance of trade.

During the war America's exports have been greatly stimulated and increased prices have increased their value.

On the other hand, she has purchased a large proportion of the American securities previously held abroad, has loaned some $9,000,000,000 to foreign governments, and has built her own ships. Our favorable balance of trade has thus been greatly increased and Europe has been deprived of the means of meeting its hitherto existing claims.

Aid for Soldiers.
There are other matters of importance upon which I urged action at the last session of Congress which are still pressing for solution. I am sure it is not necessary for me again to remind you that there is one immediate and very practicable question resulting from the war which we should meet in the most lenient spirit.

It is a matter of recognition and relief to our soldiers. I can do no better than to quote from my last message urging this very action:

"We must see to it that our returning soldiers are assisted in every practicable way to find the places for which they are fitted in the daily work of the country. This can be done by developing and maintaining upon an adequate scale the admirable organization created by the Department of Labor for placing men seeking work; and it can also be done, in at least one very great field by creating new opportunities for individual enterprise."

Fraser Lane's Plan.
The Secretary of the Interior has pointed out the way by which returning soldiers may be helped to find and take up land in the hitherto undeveloped regions of the country which the Federal Government has already prepared or can readily prepare for cultivation and also on many of the cut-over or neglected areas which lie within the limits of the older States; and I once more take the liberty of recommending very urgently that his plans shall receive the immediate and substantial support of Congress."

In the matter of tariff legislation, I beg to call your attention to the statements contained in my last message urging legislation with reference to the establishment of the chemical and dyestuffs industry of America:

"Among the industries to which special consideration should be given is that of the manufacture of dyestuffs and related chemicals. Our complete dependence upon German supplies before the war made the interruption of trade a cause of exceptional economic disturbance. The close relation between the manufacture of dyestuffs, on the one hand, and of explosive and poisonous gases on the other, moreover, has given the industry an exceptional significance and value. Although the United States will gladly and unhesitatingly join in the program of international disarmament, it will, nevertheless, be a policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants. The German chemical industry, with which we will be brought into competition, was, and may well be again, a thoroughly knit monopoly capable of exercising a competition of a peculiarly insidious and dangerous kind."

To Encourage Production.
During the war the farmer performed a vital and willing service to the nation. By materially increasing the production of his land he supplied America and the Allies with the increased amounts of food necessary to keep their immense armies in the field. He indispensably helped to win the war. But there is now scarcely less need of increasing the production in food and the necessities of life. I ask the Congress to consider means of encouraging effort along these lines. The importance of doing everything possible to promote production along economical lines, to improve marketing and to make rural life more attractive and healthful is obvious. I would urge approval of the plans already proposed to the Congress by the Secretary of Agriculture to secure the essential facts required for the proper study of this question, through the proposed enlargement of the program for farm management studies and crop estimates.

I would urge, also, the continuance of Federal participation in the building of good roads, under the terms of existing law and under the direction of present agencies; the need of further action on the part of the States and the Federal Government to preserve and develop our forest reserves, especially through the practice of better forestry methods on private holdings and the extension of the publicly owned forests; better support for country schools, and the more definite direction of their courses of study along lines related to rural problems; and fuller provision for sanitation in rural districts and the building up of needed hospital and medical facilities in these localities.

Political Restlessness.
Perhaps the way might be cleared for many of these desirable reforms by a fresh, comprehensive survey made of rural conditions by a conference composed of representatives of the farmers and of the agricultural agencies responsible for leadership. I would call your attention to the widespread condition of political restlessness in our body politic. The causes of this unrest, while various and complicated, are superficial rather than deep seated.

Broadly, they arise from or are connected with the failure on the part of our Government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace, permitting return to normal conditions; from the transference of radical theories from seething European centers, pending such delay; from heartless profiteering, resulting in the increase in the cost of living, and, lastly, from the machinations of passionate and malevolent agitators.

Punishment for Radicals.
With the return to normal conditions, the unrest will rapidly disappear. In the meantime, it does much evil.

It seems to me that in dealing with this situation Congress should not be impatient or drastic, but should seek rather to remove the causes. It should endeavor to bring our country back speedily to a peace basis, with ameliorated living conditions under the minimum of restrictions upon personal liberty that is consistent with our reconstructed problems.

And it should arm the Federal Government with power to deal in its criminal courts with those persons who, by violent methods, would abrogate our time tested institutions.

With the free expression of opinion and with the advocacy of orderly political change, however fundamental, there must be no interference, but toward passion and malevolence tending to incite crime and insurrection under guise of political evolution there should be no leniency.

Legislation to this end has been recommended by the Attorney General and should be enacted.

Would Reduce H. C. L.
In this direct connection I would call your attention to my recommendations on Aug. 8, pointing out legislative measures which would be effective in controlling and bringing down the present cost of living, which contributes so largely to this unrest. If the Government's campaign is to be effective, it is necessary that the other steps suggested should be acted on at once.

"I renew and strongly urge the necessity of the extension of the present food control act as to the period of time in which it shall remain in operation."

The Attorney General has submitted a bill providing for an extension of this act for a period of six

PAVING BONDS CARRIED MONDAY

PEOPLE ALMOST A UNIT ON THE PROPOSITION. ONLY SIX VOTES WERE CAST AGAINST THE BOND ISSUE.

WATER BONDS ALSO CARRIED—CHARTER AMENDED

Two Hundred-Fifty-Two Votes Were Cast and Only Six of These Were Against the Paving Proposition—Lubbock People are for Progressiveness on All Lines.

Last Monday the people of Lubbock went on record almost unanimously that they were in favor of Lubbock going right along with the program of improvements in the future. The election to determine whether or not $100,000 of paving bonds be issued and $10,000 for waterworks extension purposes resulted in almost every voter casting a ballot in favor of each proposition.

The vote was as follows:
For paving bonds ..... 246
Against paving bonds ..... 6
For Water works bonds ..... 231
Against Water Works Bonds ..... 16
For Amendment to Charter ..... 227
Against Amend. to Charter ..... 15

The amendment to the Charter was as follows:
Resolved, that Section 30 of Article IX of the Charter adopted at the election held in this city on the 27th day of December, 1917, by the voters thereof, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 30.—The Mayor shall give an official bond in the sum of Five Thousand ($5000.00) Dollars, and each commissioner shall give an official bond in the sum of Twenty-five hundred ($2500.00) dollars, and the person exercising the duties of City Tax Collector shall give an official bond in the sum of Ten thousand ($10,000.00) dollars, and the City Secretary shall give an official bond in such sum as the commission may, from time to time, prescribe. All bonds referred to in this charter shall be made payable to the City of Lubbock, Texas, and shall, in each instance, be conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of such office or employee, and for the faithful accounting of all moneys and things of value coming into the hands of such officer or employee. All such bonds shall be procured from some regularly accredited surety company, authorized to do business under the laws of the State of Texas, and the premiums therefor shall be paid by the City of Lubbock; provided, that the commission may require months. As it now stands, it is limited in operation to the period of the war, and becomes inoperative upon the formal proclamation of peace. It is imperative that it should be extended at once.

The Department of Justice has built up extensive machinery for the purpose of enforcing its provisions; all of which must be abandoned upon the conclusion of peace unless the provisions of this act are extended.

Labor Conditions.
No one who has observed the march of events in the last year can fail to note the absolute need of a definite program to bring about an improvement in the conditions of labor.

There can be no settled conditions leading to increased production, and a reduction in the cost of living if labor and capital are to be antagonists instead of partners.

Sound thinking and honest desire to serve the interests of the whole Nation, as distinguished from the interests of a class, must be applied to the solution of this great and pressing problem.

The failure of other nations to consider this matter in a vigorous way has produced bitterness and jealousies and antagonisms, the food of radicalism.

The only way to keep men from agitating against grievances is to remove the grievances.

An unwillingness even to discuss the matters produces only dissatisfaction and gives comfort to the extreme elements in our country which endeavor to stir up disturbances to embark upon a course of retaliation and repression.

Capital and Labor.
It is with this purpose in mind that I called a conference to meet in Washington on Dec. 1, to consider the problems in all their broad aspects, with the idea of bringing about a better understanding between these two interests.

The great unrest throughout the world, out of which has emerged a demand for an immediate consideration of the difficulties between capital and labor, bids us put our own house in order.

Frankly, there can be no permanent and lasting settlement between capital and labor which does not recognize the fundamental concepts for which labor has been struggling through the year. The whole world gave its recognition and endorsement to these fundamental purposes in the League of Nations.

GOVERNMENT APPROVES PLAN FOR TUBERCULAR HOSPITAL

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 2.—Approval of the War Department for a $1,000,000 hospital for tubercular soldiers to be located at Fort Bliss has been obtained, according to advices to the local Chamber of Commerce from its Washington representative.

An appropriation from Congress for the hospital will be asked soon, it is expected.

official bonds from any other appointive officer or employee of the city in such amounts and conditions as they deem best for the efficiency of the public service. All official bonds shall be approved by the Commission and filed and recorded with the person exercising the duties of City Secretary.

The result of this election will have much to do with the future progress and development of Lubbock. You can tell to the world that the people of Lubbock are almost unanimous for the upbuilding of the city, and are ready at all times to back up every proposition that stands for a greater Lubbock.

Now that paving is assured, and extension of the water system too, people will come to our city with confidence that she is to make the city of the Plains that we have predicted many years, and it will be the means of bringing new enterprises here and new people, who wish to reside in a city as progressive as Lubbock.

Many new firms have Lubbock in view as a future location, and will now lose no time in making their final arrangements for launching their enterprises here. There are many good things in store for our city in the near future, and only the most optimistic of the citizenship can picture the real progress that the town will make within the next twelve months.

Just at present the extreme high cost of building material and the scarcity of labor is holding many back, who would build new homes and business houses, but it is to be hoped that this trouble will in some manner be gotten around in time for much building to be begun early in the coming year, and the building program of this city will mean a great deal if carried out and it is generally expected that there will be little or even a greater list of building than has yet been anticipated or figured on.

TO ENCOURAGE SALE OF LOW PRICED FLOUR

New York, Dec. 2.—Encouraging the sale of the lower priced wheat flours and urging the purchase of "United States Grain Corporation standard pure wheat flour," Julius H. Barnes, United States Wheat Director, tonight in an open letter to the housewives of America asked that they co-operate in the adjustment of the present flour situation.

Mr. Barnes said that within the next two weeks the Government will place on the market "straight flour" in small packages at a nominal cost. This flour, he asserted, was being sold in order to get the "individual consumer and our backers to re-adapt their consumption to use of the product which is in ample supply this year."

The re-adaption of the habits of "our flour consumers" is necessary, Mr. Barnes explained, because of the increase in flour and bread consumption and "a shrinkage in the crop yield of spring sown hard wheats by 150,000,000 bushels and a corresponding increase in the yield of winter wheats." He said this made it necessary for "a balanced consumption, a shifting of part of the demand from one kind to the other."

Although flour production has increased in this country in five months over 10,000,000 barrels above last year, all of which has been either eaten or stored away. Mr. Barnes declared "our large crop of wheat" will care for the increased consumption.

The new standard flour to be placed on the market by the Government, Mr. Barnes explained, will be sold "at about 75¢ for one-sixteenth barrel (twelve and one-quarter pounds). The Bureau of Labor retail price reports indicated, he said, that for twenty months the average price of flour in this country for the same quantity has been 81¢ to 89¢.

CATTLE FEVER TICK LOSES STRONGHOLDS IN TEXAS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 30.—The Federal quarantine against the cattle fever tick will be removed on December 1 from the following counties in Texas: Bowie, Hamilton, Llano, Madison, Menard, Tarrant, and Van Zandt; and the remainders of Jack, Johnson, Hood, McCulloch, and Parker.

This is provided in an order issued by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture. The area in Texas released from quarantine totals 8,847 square miles. The area released from quarantine in all States this year is 50,555 square miles.

A feature of great importance in Texas is that Tarrant County goes into the free area. The Fort Worth Stock Yards, the great cattle market of Texas and the southwest, are in Tarrant County, and thus this market ceases to offer an advantage, as in the past, to tick-infested cattle. Cattle from tick-free areas now will have the market advantage. This fact, it is expected, will remove one of the most important obstacles to tick eradication in Texas.

Whole State Free in Few Years. Through the operation of the State wide tick eradication law, Texas is expected to be made wholly free from the tick within a few years. The State law divides Texas into three zones. In the first zone, which includes Tarrant and other counties in the northern end of the State, dipping of cattle became required by law this year. Dipping will become required in Zone 2 on the first day of 1920, and in Zone 3, the southern end of the State, on the first day of 1922. This arrangement was made in order that cattle owners might adjust their operations as the effective dates approach, but many of the counties in zones 2 and 3 already are conducting tick-eradication work under local option, just as some of the counties in Zone 1 decided not to wait for the operation of the law before driving out the tick.

The releases this year place 40 per cent of Texas in the non-quarantined area. In 1906 the tick-infested area was 191,885 square miles, and the area released will be, on December 1, 77,539 square miles. The counties released from quarantine will number 71, with four partly released, and the counties remaining under quarantine will be 123, with four partly quarantined.

Work in South Texas. Heavy rainfall—estimated by the Weather Bureau at seven feet in the year preceding October 16, 1919—more difficult and expensive than under normal conditions, did not prevent successful results in south Texas. In addition to Zone 2, the east wing of which comprises the southeast portion of Texas, starting work next year, Brazos and Lee Counties have voted in favor of tick eradication and thus have decided to start anti-tick campaigns in 1920 instead of waiting until 1922, when the zone law becomes effective in zone 3. Other counties in Zone 3 which have called tick eradication elections are Waller, Grimes, and Burleson. Tick eradication sentiment is believed to be largely a result of the good effects seen in counties that have taken up the work and also to the fact that cattle are worth not four or five times as much as they were a few years ago, making the financial loss from ticks more noticeable than when cheap prices prevailed.

SUGAR SHORTAGE TO LAST SEVERAL WEEKS

New York, Nov. 26.—The sugar famine predicted last September is here. It will continue with increasing severity until well toward the end of January. By the practice of rigid conservation, sufficient sugar will be available for a half-pound per week ration per person for the next two or three weeks.

The day of cheap sugar is drawing near to an end and the day of plentiful sugar is already passed. Sugar will continue to be scarce all through next year, and the price will advance several cents a pound. There is no restoration of normal sugar conditions in sight in the United States before 1921.

This does not mean, however, that the present famine conditions will continue throughout next year. By the middle of next February it should be possible to purchase sugar comparatively freely, but indications are that it will be necessary to exercise some control of the distribution and sale of sugar throughout the year if a repetition of this year's acute shortage is to be avoided.

The total consumption of sugar in the United States this year up to Nov. 1, was 3,528,000 long tons, against 2,885,000 for the same period in 1918, an increase of 643,000 long tons.

The exports for October were 52,766 long tons, against 29,537 long tons the same month in 1918. The refineries reported shipments to the Royal Commission of 51,385 long tons last month. This sugar, however, was contracted for by the Royal Commission early this year, and was not drawn from the American reserves.

SOME APPALLING FIGURES ON THE COST OF THE WAR

"The figures presented in this summary are both incomprehensible and appalling, yet even these do not take into account the effect of the war on life, human vitality, economic well-being, ethics, morality or other phases of human relationship and activities which have been disorganized and injured. It is evident from the present disturbances in Europe that the real costs of the war cannot be measured by the direct money outlays of the belligerents during the five years of its duration, but that the very break down of modern economic society might be the price exacted."

So runs the summing up of a 338-page volume from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, which presents an approximate idea of the direct cost of the world war, but which confesses the utter inability of its author to envisage or estimate the tremendous collateral losses that humanity has borne, growing out of this great conflict. The author is Ernest L. Bogert and he has gone back to all modern wars, from those of the Napoleonic area to the Balkan wars that sowed the germ of the recent conflict. The loss of life in all those wars was 4,449,300; the estimated dead of the five years from 1914 to 1918 he places at the staggering total of 9,928,771.

Mr. Bogert puts an arbitrary monetary value on each human unit of the different races involved in the war. The highest value he gives to Americans, at $4,720 each; English next at $4,140; Germany third at $3,380; France and Belgium $2,900; Austria-Hungary $2,720; Russia, Italy, Serbia, Greece and the other nationals at $2,020 each. Figuring on this cold basis, he places the losses of the countries involved in human life thus:

Russian	$8,000,000,000
Germany	6,750,000,000
France	4,800,000,000
England	3,500,000,000
Austria Hungary	3,000,000,000
Italy	2,384,000,000
Serbia	1,500,000,000
Turkey	1,000,000,000
Roumania	800,000,000
Belgium	800,000,000
United States	500,000,000
Bulgaria	200,000,000
Greece	75,000,000
Portugal	8,300,000
Japan	600,000

The loss in human lives in cold dollars and cents, then, was $33,551,276,280 in the pick of the young men of every nation, for it was they up on whom fell the bulk of the fighting and the suffering of most of the battle deaths. The total property loss Professor Bogert puts at $29,960,000,000, one-third of which was suffered by France alone with a total of $10,000,000,000. Belgium's property losses were $7,000,000,000. The remaining twelve billions were scattered among the other belligerents thus:

Italy	$2,710,000,000
Serbia and Balkans	2,000,000,000
British Empire	1,750,000,000
Germany	1,750,000,000
Poland	1,500,000,000
Russia	1,250,000,000
Austria Ukraine	1,000,000,000
Roumania	1,000,000,000

The losses of ships and cargoes is estimated at $6,800,000,000. The total direct costs of the war are put at $186,336,638,097. The indirect losses from the war—they include the $45,000,000,000 loss in production, a billion in war relief and $1,750,000,000 to neutral nations—are put at $151,612,542,560. The stupendous grand total is $337,949,179,657—a figure quite beyond human comprehension.

NEW WAGE SCALE FOR MINERS AGREED UPON

Washington, Dec. 3.—Representatives of all the larger coal mining corporations in the United States today reached an agreement on a new wage scale for mine workers, after an all-day session here, and announced it would be submitted to the fuel administration for ratification tomorrow. It embodies, it was said, a little more than the 14 per cent increase for the men suggested by Fuel Administrator Garfield as the government proposal for dealing with the strike, which the miners rejected.

Meanwhile the operators were keeping in touch with developments at Indianapolis, where the federal court on the application of department of justice agents cited 84 general and district officials of United Mine Workers for contempt of Federal Judge A. B. Anderson's order calling off the coal strike. Some optimistic reports reached the operators indicating that at several points in the central competitive field, around the strike centers, miners were going back to work.

Attorney General Palmer would not discuss tonight the steps taken at Indianapolis in advance of the hearing to be given the miners' officials on Tuesday.

MANY TELEPHONE POLES DOWN IN WEST TEXAS

The extent of damage to telephone and telegraph lines in West Texas as a result of the severely cold weather of Thanksgiving is beginning to be determined as company linemen and laborers report from the scene.

According to the Southwestern Telephone & Telegraph company offices, 500 poles were pulled down in the immediate Ranger territory. In the Burk Burnett-Wichita region the demoralization included the felling of about 200 poles. The greatest damage was done between Brownwood and Dublin were, instead of 200 poles being down, as previously reported, 2,000 poles were smashed. The company has an immense force of men employed in erecting poles and getting the wires out of the snarl. More than 250 extra men are working in West Texas to relieve the situation.

U. S. WOULD SEIZE MEXICO BORDER TOWNS

Many thousands of American troops are lined up along the Mexican frontier, ready to cross the border and seize Mexican border cities in case a break between the Washington and Mexico City governments. It is the general opinion that in case of a break the places to be occupied will be Nogales, Juarez, Piedras Negras, Nuevo Laredo and Matamoras. Regularly established army posts along the international boundary now total more than two score, with probably as many more outpost positions, each accommodating a troop of cavalry or an infantry platoon.

C. W. Alexander, of the Texas Land and Oil Exchange, who has been spending several days in the oil fields of Ranger, Eastland and other points returned home this week. He reports very bad weather in that section of the state.

PRODUCTION OF COAL DWINDLES; MORE WORKERS QUIT

Washington, Dec. 2.—The coal situation is becoming more serious. Telegraphic reports to the National Coal Association indicate that fewer miners are at work today than at any time since the strike was called.

The Georges Creek district is completely closed and last week it was running nearly normal. The West Virginia fields and New River fields are producing about 15 per cent less than last week. Other fields report similar conditions.

At Work in Kansas.
Only in Kansas, where volunteers worked in the strip pits under protection of State and Federal troops, and in the New River field of West Virginia was there prospects today of increased production. In Kansas seven pits were worked.

In Wyoming new labor troubles threatened to decrease the small amount of coal being brought out.

Members of the railroad brotherhoods in Kansas today were expected to act on a resolution adopted last night to request authority to refuse to handle coal mined by nonunion workers.

Under the sweeping order of Fuel Administrator Garfield limiting delivery of fuel or power only to essential consumers in the first five classes of the war priorities list, curtailment of production was in prospect in factories turning out boots and shoes, brass and bronze manufacturers, clothing, machinery (except where specifically exempted), iron and steel, jewelry, marble and stone products, musical instruments, paper goods, cigars, wagons and carriages, wood manufacturers, sheet and metal products, leather goods, mattress, paints and varnishes, photographic supplies and miscellaneous nonessentials.

To Close Theaters.
Theaters, motion picture shows and all other places of amusement, faced complete shutdowns. Churches and schools also were included in that category, although efforts were being made to postpone closing the schools as long as possible.

Bakeries, except those producing only bread, also fell under the ban, as did confectioners and certain packing plants.

In some of those industries, however, an immediate shutdown might be forestalled if the regional coal committee permitted them to operate until their present supply of fuel was exhausted.

Suspension of all traffic over the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad out of Oklahoma City today was said to be only a matter of hours unless coal was supplied. All railroad traffic might be tied up at Oklahoma City by the end of the week, railroad officials there said.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR CONGRESSIONAL HELP

Washington, Dec. 2.—General recommendations on the cost of living, labor unrest, radicalism and readjustment of the nation to a peace basis were the features of President Wilson's annual message to congress delivered today.

The peace treaty, the president told congress, will be discussed in a separate message later, as will the railroad question. For the second time only since the president established the practice of addressing congress in person, his message was read by the clerks.

The president's principal recommendations were the establishment of a budget system for national finances, reorganization of the taxation system with simplification of the income and excess profit taxes; readjustment of the tariff system to conform with the fact that the United States is the greatest capitalist in the world; recognition and relief for veteran soldiers of the world war, particularly in the way of government farms as proposed by Secretary Lane; proper measures to foster dye-stuffs industry built up during the war to keep the United States independent of foreign supply; enlarged program for rural development, in recognition of the farmers' part in the war.

Measures which will "remove the causes of the political restlessness in our body politic." At this point the president made his most extensive reference to the peace treaty by saying that the causes for unrest "are superficial rather than deep-seated," and that they "arise from or are connected with the failure on the part of our government to arrive speedily at a just and permanent peace permitting return to normal conditions from transfusion of radical theories" from the seething European centers, pending such delay, from heartless profiteering, resulting from the increased cost of living, and lastly from the machinations of passionate and malevolent agitators. With return to normal conditions this unrest will rapidly disappear.

The president renewed his recommendations for legislation to deal effectively with "those persons who by violent methods will abrogate our time-tested institutions."

Several recommendations and some renewals of previous ones were made by the president to bring down the cost of living. Among them were extension of the food control law to peace times for emergency, regulation for the transportation of foods in interstate commerce; a cold storage law modeled after the law in New Jersey, the law requiring marks to show the length of time foods are kept in storage, and a law to secure "competitive selling and to prevent unconscionable profits" by federal license of corporations selling food in interstate commerce.

A long portion of the message was devoted to a discussion of the condition and rights of labor. "A definite program to bring about improvement in conditions of labor and a genuine democratic industry," was recommended.

SOME LOCAL ITEMS FROM THE SLATONITE

Although the crops have just begun to move around Slaton the bank deposits are climbing rapidly, which indicates that prosperity is with us. It is estimated that less than half the cotton has been marketed and very little grain has moved on account of lack of thrashers and laborers to put it in shape for the market. Despite these facts there is now about $700,000.00 on deposit in the two Slaton banks, as compared with $233,870 on September 12th this year.

F. L. Wilber received a message Monday stating that his father, W. R. Wilber, had died at his home in Omaha, Nebraska. He left Tuesday for that city to attend the funeral and burial. Before returning Mr. Wilber will visit a married daughter at Dow City, Iowa.

This week Joe Garland sold a nice piece of residence property in South Slaton Addition to J. A. Harris, of Aransas, who will move here in a short time and occupy it. The deal was handled by A. M. Watson Co.

Messrs. Joe Montgomery and Geo. McCarty have just returned from Justiceburg, where they have oil properties and where there is much excitement and speculation over the prospect of bringing in a gusher in a few days. These gentlemen are very much pleased with the prospect of realizing excellent returns on their holdings in the Justiceburg field, and are making preparations to develop a section of land they hold.

BIG SPRING FEELS SHORTAGE OF COAL

LUBBOCK, TEXAS

Although the crops have just begun to move around Slaton the bank deposits are climbing rapidly, which indicates that prosperity is with us. It is estimated that less than half the cotton has been marketed and very little grain has moved on account of lack of thrashers and laborers to put it in shape for the market. Despite these facts there is now about $700,000.00 on deposit in the two Slaton banks, as compared with $233,870 on September 12th this year.

F. L. Wilber received a message Monday stating that his father, W. R. Wilber, had died at his home in Omaha, Nebraska. He left Tuesday for that city to attend the funeral and burial. Before returning Mr. Wilber will visit a married daughter at Dow City, Iowa.

This week Joe Garland sold a nice piece of residence property in South Slaton Addition to J. A. Harris, of Aransas, who will move here in a short time and occupy it. The deal was handled by A. M. Watson Co.

Messrs. Joe Montgomery and Geo. McCarty have just returned from Justiceburg, where they have oil properties and where there is much excitement and speculation over the prospect of bringing in a gusher in a few days. These gentlemen are very much pleased with the prospect of realizing excellent returns on their holdings in the Justiceburg field, and are making preparations to develop a section of land they hold.

MR. LODER ADDRESSED AUDIENCE AT CHURCH

The value of hospitals to the American nation and their sacrifices during the period of the War in the interest of humanity was presented through an address at the Lubbock Methodist Church on Sunday evening last, November 30th, by Mr. Cornelius S. Loder of New York City. Mr. Loder showed a familiarity with his subject and his statements were listened to with profit and benefit by those who were present.

It was clearly proved that the American hospitals are monumental in all aspects, especially in investment, buildings, persons engaged, and services rendered. The total investment in lands, buildings, equipment, and furnishings exceeds $2,750,000,000.00. The average daily population of doctors, nurses, employees, and patients is more than 1,250,000. The number of men, women, and children admitted annually is about 8,000,000.

There are 8500 hospitals in the United States containing 850,000 beds. Of the above institutions 1500 are public, that is, institutions operated by the state, county, or city in which they are located and including also those operated by the Federal Government. The remaining 7000 hospitals are privately owned and operated and included are those institutions financed by persons who are philanthropically inclined.

When church hospitals were mentioned Mr. Loder showed how Protestants, Catholics, and Hebrews conducted their work on a strictly non-sectarian basis. A person needing a hospital bed is never questioned on their religious faith and belief except for the purpose of compiling the required history of a case. There is no other one line of activity that is so broad and generous in this respect although splendid examples of this principle was shown continually in connection with Red Cross work and other activities made necessary on account of the War.

There are today hospitals specializing in one class of service only, such as those admitting mental and nervous cases, women's and children's institutions, incurable hospitals, tuberculosis, surgical, etc., making in all about 16 to 20 classifications.

There has been a wonderful growth in hospital work. Forty-five years ago there were 149 hospitals with a total bed capacity of 35,453 beds. Today there are 25 hospital beds to one bed forty-five years ago. Within the coming few years the growth will be more rapid with more interest shown in the institutional work by a larger number of persons than at any previous period in our history. This progress is traceable directly to the War for the hospital work was brought most closely to the hearts of all of our people on account of the splendid service performed.

The sacrifices of the hospital is something worthy of special comment and is a thing that should be remembered always by the American people and also by them cordially appreciated. On every side and in every way the hospitals sacrificed without stint or limit. No other activity of national scope can compare porticularly with the splendid work done by the hospitals during the war. The professional workers, namely, the doctors and nurses, answered the call to service. Many physicians and surgeons relinquished highly profitable clientele. But these women nurses did not know what they might expect because of the atrocious conduct of the enemy toward all womanhood, yet they answered the call largely. Food values advanced and the bills for surgical supplies were greatly increased. The kitchen, laundry, and cleaning helpers left the hospitals in large numbers seeking employment where wages were larger than those paid by the hospitals. It would seem as though the above losses would more than suffice in breaking the spirit of the institution but in addition to all of the above, many thousands of persons accustomed to supporting local institutions ceased helping them so that their available funds could be used for national causes where great needs were shown. The climax came when the influenza epidemic crowded in upon us to an hitherto unknown extent. Everyone can recall its effect on our lives and interests and we recall those days with great sorrow. But what would the loss of life have been if we had had no hospitals. They saved us, for what we needed most was organization. It has been estimated by reliable authorities that in connection with our war work and when facing this epidemic that the life savings exceeded 1,000,000. Our hospitals stood the test; they squarely faced every obligation and today they are stronger and we as a people are better informed on their work and the benefits to be derived through their use—due entirely to their great heart service in the interest of us all.

It is, therefore, right that we should recall with feeling of deepest gratitude on how we were saved and helped through these thousands of health centers in our land. They represent the conservation of health and the better control of disease.

In closing, I would like to urge on you people of Texas that you show more largely your interest in hospitals and that you support them more generously. It should be noted that in Texas there are about 350 institutions with a total bed capacity of about 16,000. But your State is backward and its volume of work does not compare favorably with many other states. Throughout the United States there is one hospital bed for every 170 of population while in Texas there is one hospital bed for every 468 of population. Other states are engaged now in increasing their bed capacity and it is time for this great State to arouse herself and to go into this work in a modern way.

The fuel situation is getting serious, and there is no immediate prospect of relief. The city officials, in connection with the coal dealers are doing all possible to get fuel. We are going to do our best to get relief, but it will be necessary for everyone to co-operate with us.

We want those who are using furnaces to equip themselves with stoves at once. Folks with furnaces in residences will be the last to get fuel. There are others who are burning two or more stoves. This is wrong. Keep a fire in one stove only, at a time. Do your cooking on oil and electric stoves as far as possible. Burn all the old lumber, sticks and roots or grubs around the place. In fact, do everything in your power to save fuel. Don't waste one pound. Don't ask for coal when you have five hundred pounds or more at home. Be fair, help us, and with the help of all, we can avert any suffering, but must have the help of all.

If you are fortunate to have more coal than you need, lend or sell some of it to those who are out. Don't wait to be asked, but seek out some one that is out.

Report to me all cases of suffering.

Just a word to the Farmers. Burn all the corn cobs out of your hog pens. Grub some stumps. Burn everything in the way of scrap lumber you have. Help to conserve fuel in every way possible.

Money cuts no figure. There is a scarcity of fuel caused by the strike, that we cannot help.

Now in closing, let's pledge ourselves to do everything possible to conserve fuel.

Respectfully,
C. E. PARKS, Mayor.

To the Coal Dealers of Lubbock, city. Gentlemen:

In view of the scarcity of coal, I wish you would adhere to the following instructions, in distributing coal when you get a car:

Do not let any one family have over 500 pounds at one time.

Do not let anyone have coal who has over 500 pounds on hand.

Do not let any residence owner have coal who operates a furnace. Make sure they have done away with furnaces and equipped themselves with stoves before letting them have coal.

Do not let any business house have coal until all the homes are supplied.

Do not furnish schools, churches and places of amusement until you are sure all homes are supplied.

Do not let anyone have coal that operates more than two stoves, namely, one heating stove and one cooking stove.

U. S. CENSUS NOTES.

The Constitution of the United States requires that a census of the United States be taken every ten years. It is by this means that the apportionment of members of the House of Representatives is made as to States.

The Bureau of the Census is a part of the Department of Commerce. It was established as a permanent Bureau in 1902. Prior to that time the census work was done by a temporary organization known as the Census Office.

A census of the country's manufacturers was made for the first time in 1810. Under the present law a manufacturers census is to be taken in connection with the Fourteenth Decennial Census and every two years thereafter.

The Department of Agriculture assisted the Census Bureau in preparing the list of questions to be asked of every farmer at the coming census.

United States marshals acted as enumerators at the first nine decennial censuses. Each marshal had as many assistants as were necessary to properly cover his allotted territory. About 650 people were engaged in taking the first census of the United States. The 1920 census will require the services of 90,000.

The statistics of the first census of the United States were published in one small volume consisting of 56 pages. The statistics of the 1910 census required 12 volumes having an aggregate of more than 40,000 pages.

The Census Bureau prints a special supplement for each State in the Union containing all the census figures relating to the State in question.

Congress extended the scope of the approaching 1920 census by providing that a census of forestry and forest products should be taken. These subjects were never specifically covered by any past census act.

It required 18 months to complete the enumeration work for the first decennial census in 1790. In 1920 the Census Bureau plans to complete the enumeration work for the entire country in from two to four weeks and announce the population figures in less than three months from the date the enumeration work is completed.

A heavy concentration on ages ending in five and zero are always reported at a census. The Census Bureau has made many efforts to overcome this inaccurate tendency on the part of the people when stating ages.

In 1914, the year the last manufacturers census was taken, there were 275,000 manufacturing establishments reported. The Census Bureau expects about 300,000 establishments to be listed in 1920.

The statistics gathered by the Census Bureau in regard to farms are used quite extensively by the Department of Agriculture in its work of aiding farmers.

Plainview News:

Thursday about noon Mrs. G. V. Smith, wife of one of the proprietors of the Texas Variety Co., was struck by a car driven by Grady Dunaway, and dragged some distance, and was quite painfully bruised. She was crossing the street at the Ware Hardware Co. store, and the ice on the pavement caused her to fall in the path of the car as she had quickness of mind to grab the radiator and hang onto the car, which saved her from being run over.

Mrs. Fred Crawford fell on the ice Friday afternoon, at the ranch in the country, striking on her back, seriously injuring her spine. She was at once brought to the Crawford home in town. Saturday and yesterday she suffered intense agony and had several convulsions, but today is much better. Her sister, Mrs. Ed S. Hall and Mr. Hall, came in yesterday from Eastland to be with her.

Mrs. D. L. Miller received a message Saturday afternoon saying her six-year-old nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wood, of Texarkana, had just been run over by a car, dying within a few minutes.

Edwin McMath left Sunday for San Antonio in response to a message saying his father had died. He had many friends here who regret to know of his death. Burial was in that city.

Henry E., 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Preston, died of diphtheria Saturday, and was buried in the cemetery that afternoon. Dr. E. E. Robinson conducted the funeral.

Mrs. W. C. Rylander was elected superintendent of Mission Study and publicity last Monday in the annual election of officers of the Methodist Missionary society. The book for the quarter is "John, the greatest gospel," and is proving a great inspiration to all who availing themselves of the study.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church had a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. W. R. Spencer Monday, Nov. 24. This was the "Dollar Social". Each lady told how she made her dollar. Some of the ladies had been to the cotton patch. The ladies are studying the Home Mission book, Christianizing Christendom. They are meeting each Monday at the home of Mrs. Spencer and any of the ladies who care to come will be welcome.

A delightful social was given by the young men's Baraca class of the Baptist Church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Waters last Wednesday evening, at which the class entertained the members of the B. Y. P. U. and other friends. Despite the inclement weather a number of young people were present. The game of the evening consisted of one similar to that of hearts in which the letters of the name of the class were substituted and printed upon small wooden cubes. There were seven tables of players and after an interesting and exciting period they were accorded a delightful diversion in the form of a mock banquet on the dainty printed menus of which the items were so cleverly camouflaged that few of the guests had even an inkling of what their order would consist until it reached them. Shortly after the delightful refreshments of pimento sandwiches, fruit salad and hot tea were served. Followed singing and much merry-making in which old king gloom suffered a crushing defeat. Just prior to their departure the guests were served with novel favors of the occasion in the form of miniature diplomas conferring upon the holder the degree of Doctor of Social Graces. All who attended voted the occasion a signal success and one of which the members of the class should be justly proud.

They were pleased to have as their visitor, Mrs. Patterson, of Mt. Vernon, Texas, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Sid Rouse, at the Rouse home on Cedar St.

Solving the Heat Question.
Note from newspapers that some of our people are suffering from cold or about to, for want of fuel, coal or wood. This can be remedied to a great extent by using an oil heater. select your warmest room, make it as close as possible, and when heater burning place and keep pan of steaming water on top of heater. This will help to take the dryness and scent out of room. The main point of an oil heater is to warm (take the cold out of the room) about a gallon of oil will last a day. Keep the wick clean, also the burner. Cooking can be done on heater, boiling frying and hot-cakes, enough to keep away hunger. With care there is no danger in a coal oil heater. I write from experience.

Will Not be One Day Without PE-RU-NA

This Lady TELLS Her FRIENDS

Mrs. Mary Fricke, 507 Borman St., Belleville, Ill., is just one of the many thousands of ladies throughout the country who, after an agony of years, have at last found health, strength and vigor in PE-RU-NA.

MRS. MARY FRICKE

Her own words tell of her suffering and recovery better than we can do it: "I suffered with my stomach, had awful cramps and headaches so I often could not lay on a pillow. Saw your book, tried PE-RU-NA and got good results from the first bottle. To be sure of a cure I took twelve bottles. I have recommended PE-RU-NA to my friends and all are well pleased with results. I will not be one day without PE-RU-NA. Have not had a doctor since I started with PE-RU-NA, which was about fifteen years ago. I am now sixty-three years old, hale, hearty and well. Can do as much work as my daughters. I feel strong and healthy and weigh near two hundred pounds. Before, I weighed as little as one hundred. I hope lots of people use PE-RU-NA and get the results I did." An experience like that of Mrs. Fricke is an inspiration to every sick and suffering woman.

If you have catarrh, whether it be of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, or other organs, PE-RU-NA is the remedy. It is not new; it is not an experiment. PE-RU-NA has been tried. PE-RU-NA has been used by thousands who once were sick and are now well. To prevent coughs, colds, grip and influenza and to hasten recovery there is nothing better.

PE-RU-NA will improve the appetite and digestion, purify the blood, soothe the irritated mucous linings, eradicate the waste material and corruption from the system. It will tone up the nerves, give you health, strength, vigor and the joy of living. Do what Mrs. Mary Fricke and thousands more have done—try PE-RU-NA. You will be glad, happy, thankful.

NO ACTION TAKEN YET ON CHARITY ORGANIZATION

Some weeks ago, the Avalanche suggested and urged that there be a well organized body formed in the nature of a United Charities for this city, but we have failed so far to get action in the matter, but the weather conditions have brought on an urgent demand for some sort of action.

There are cases in our city that should have attention even now, and the severe winter weather has not well begun, and no organization perfected and not even worked out plans whereby action can be taken in an intelligent way.

The president of the charity organization, that Lubbock now has, says they are out of funds and cannot do anything worth while till their treasury is replenished, and some they have solicited funds from do not feel inclined to respond because they say the organization is not complete enough. Well, then for the sake of humanity, get organized. The young ladies worked faithfully last winter and helped a great deal many who were unfortunate and needed help, but they are at their rows end now, and it is up to the older heads to take up the work and carry it on.

"Charity propositions are things that should have careful attention and investigation. There are impostors throughout the country who are living solely off the kindheartedness of good people, while others who are really in need suffer much rather than make application to charitable orders.

There should be a well officered organization in Lubbock to take charge of all the funds that can be raised, and there should be raised a thousand or fifteen hundred dollars at least and a committee named to investigate every case and have power to act in the case upon their own judgment and the merits of the case. Now is the time to get busy.

REV. SHEARER PREACHED TWO SPLENDID SERMONS

Rev. Geo. W. Shearer, presiding elder of the Lubbock district, arrived here last week, and preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening to large audiences. Rev. Shearer delivered two strong addresses, which were highly appreciated. He and family are now living in the building formerly occupied by Rev. W. E. Lyon, and will remain there till the building he has rented is vacated.

Rev. Lyon and family have rooms over the C. H. Grollman store.

WOODMEN CIRCLE HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The Woodmen Circle held its regular meeting Thursday evening, Nov. 20. After an absence in Waco attending the Cotton Palace our guardian, Mrs. W. C. Bryan was again with us. She tells us that possibly at the very hour that Heaven, Earth and Hell were in our midst and young footpads were depleting our bank accounts she was in the realms of Royalty, witnessing the Old World splendor of crowning the king and queen.

A plan whereby we confidently expect to increase our nightly attendance was adopted at this meeting. During one regular session each month a name of a member of Lubbock Grove will be drawn from the list of those present and the lucky one will receive a receipt for his or her dues for one month. This plan will go into effect the first Thursday night in December.

CARBON!

Rid System of Clogged-up Waste and Poisons with "Cascarets."

Like carbon clogs and chokes a motor, so the excess bile in liver, and the constipated waste in the bowels, produce foggy brains, headache, sour, acid stomach, indigestion, sallow skin, sleepless nights, and bad colds.

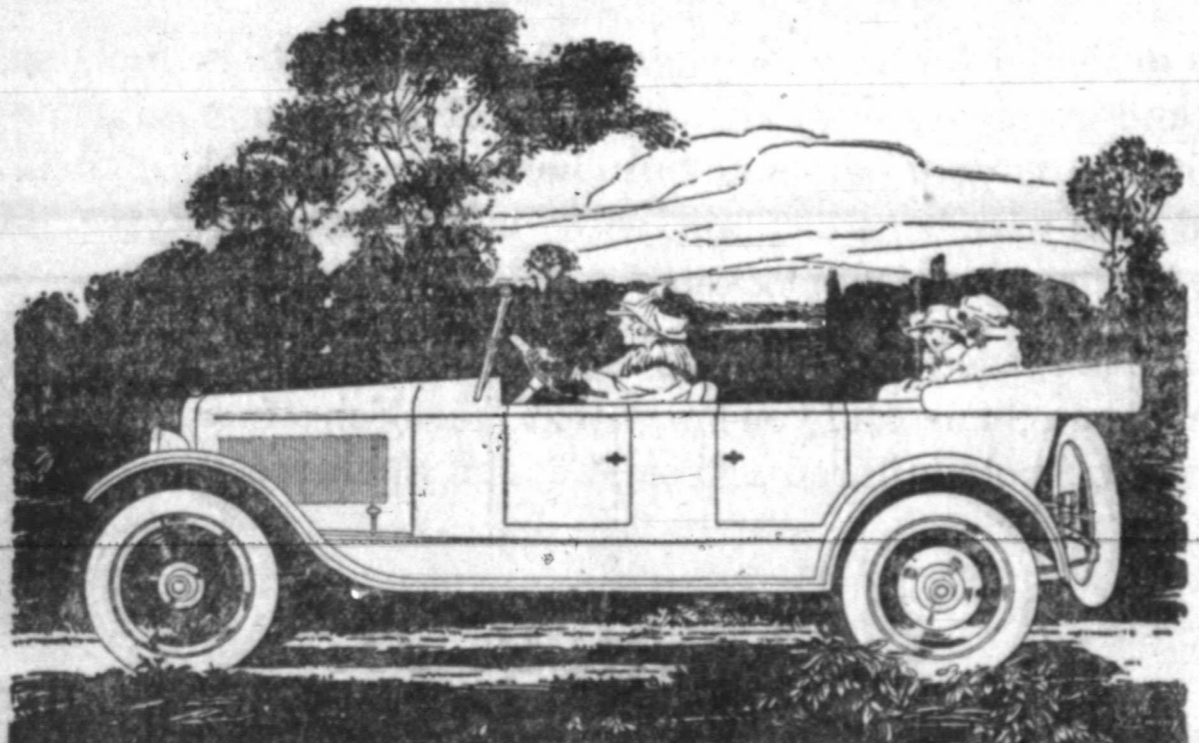

Let gentle, harmless "Cascarets" rid the system of the toxins, acids, gases, and poisons which are keeping you upset.

Take Cascarets and enjoy the nicest, gentlest laxative-cathartic you ever experienced. Cascarets never gripe, sicken, or cause inconvenience. They work while you sleep. A box of Cascarets costs so little too.

IDALOU NEWS ITEMS OF THE PAST WEEK

The Idalou School was given a holiday on Thanksgiving day. All the teachers spent their holiday in Lubbock. Miss Martin and Miss Paige failed to get back Friday so Mr. Beene and Miss Breatcher had the privilege of teaching the whole school.

Miss Paige and Miss Breatcher spent the week-end at Miss Breatcher's home, near Monroe.

There was singing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McCurdy, Sunday night. It was rather unsuccessful on account of the misbehavior of some of the young folks.

Mr. Lasater has his new bungalow nearly finished. It will be the most beautiful home of Idalou when completed. Mr. Tucker is also building a new home.

Mr. C. S. McCurdy has been "flying high" since last Wednesday. He drove his little Ford into Lubbock and drove his new Oakland Six home.

The streets of Idalou have been named. Main is the street running south from the depot. Chestnut street is one block west of Main and Walnut is one block west of Chestnut.

Mrs. Rosenbaum has gone to Dallas to receive special medical treatments.

Mr. C. W. Beene has moved over on Walnut Street.

Several of the Idalou youngsters enjoyed themselves at the Monroe box supper Saturday night.

Again we wish to announce the box supper here the night of Dec. 12.

LOCAL NEWS FROM THE LORENZO ENTERPRISE

Cotton continues to pour into Lorenzo in ever increasing quantities and our gins are kept busy day and night. It is estimated by reliable parties that the crop is hardly half gathered and that probably as much as 7000 bales will be picked in this immediate section.

Chas. Ellis, prominent citizen of our town, purchased the cafe last Saturday formerly owned and operated by L. H. Martin. Mr. Martin informs us that he will probably remain here a month or so, or at least until his business is wound up.

While hauling cotton Wednesday afternoon Mr. Hamlin happened to a painful accident. While on the way from the yard to the car with a load of cotton, a tie on a bale broke and struck Mr. Hamlin on the forehead just above the left eye, thereby causing an ugly wound which to close required several stitches.

The two weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cartwright died last Friday after having contracted pneumonia. Interment was made in the city cemetery Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Wilkins officiating.

A farewell dinner was given in honor of Rev. Wilkins and family last Sunday evening by Miss Bessie Lay. Among other guests on this occasion were Messrs. Jim Duncan and Arthur Lay; Misses Pearle Powers and Tierce Mathis.

SOME POST CITY POST NEWS ITEMS

Rev. C. R. Kidd, the new Methodist minister, arrived in Post last Tuesday. He authorized us to announce that he will fill the pulpit at both hours next Sunday and invites you out to hear him. He was accompanied by his wife, and they are located in the Methodist parsonage.

Judge Spencer came in Monday and opened District Court in the afternoon. All jurors have been excused, both grand and petit for this term of court and the work of gathering crops will not be interfered with. The court after trying a few divorce cases adjourned after three days session.

Last Thursday the Boren well No. 1 at Justiceburg produced a good showing of oil when drilling had to stop on account of defective casing—yesterday (Wednesday) when more casing was put down there was a strong showing of gas and the roaring could be heard several feet away. Looks like a winner doesn't it? The Post-City-Oil-Development-Company's well was to have spudded in Tuesday but some little trouble arose and we have not heard whether they have begun drilling or not. Boren well is down around 250 feet.

MAN KILLED IN SANTA FE YARDS WEDNESDAY

J. H. Perry, of Clarendon was ground to death beneath the wheels of a fast moving freight train in the local Santa Fe freight yards about 5:45 this morning.

Mr. Perry was moving from Clarendon to Snyder and it was while his car was in yards waiting for a south-bound freight train that the accident occurred. He had gone to the yard office to ascertain what time his train would leave and while returning to the car he was caught beneath the wheels of a moving train.

There were no eyewitnesses to the accident. Shortly after he had left the yard office his body was found, mangled beyond recognition, by one of the switching crews working in the yards.

The body was taken to Griggs Undertaking Parlor, where it is being held pending the arrival of relatives. —Amarillo News.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Ida Louise Ellis.)

Mr. Napre has returned from Houston where he attended the State Teachers' Association. While there he witnessed the Thanksgiving game between Rice Institute and Arkansas University and says that he "rooted" as much as anybody.

Miss Stella Thurman spent Thanksgiving at her home in Hamlin. Everyone enjoyed the four days holiday for Thanksgiving. All were cordially "invited" to pick cotton, but on account of the bad weather the invitation was not accepted.

Miss Lena Cole spent the holiday with her parents in Crosbyton. The game which was to be played here Thursday between Farwell and Lubbock was postponed indefinitely on account of the weather.

Miss Pauline von Rosenberg was an absentee from school two days this week. Since the season for football is over, basketball will be taken up with as much interest as football.

The High School Choral Club, directed by Mrs. Gelin, is practicing songs for the institute, which will meet here Dec. 15.

Rushon-Hankins and Loraine Hankins, of Lorenzo, Murlin Hawes, of Littlefield, and Beulah Davis, of Bovina, entered high school this week.

COLLINGSWORTH PEOPLE USE COTTON SEED FOR FUEL

The coal situation in Wellington became very acute during the recent cold spell. With a brisk norther blowing, a cold mist and the thermometer standing below freezing point, a great many people suffered for want of fuel.

In numerous cases cotton seed and corn was being used for fuel. The local dealers have no coal whatsoever and the supply of the M. K. & T. Railroad has been confiscated.

Rev. L. B. Hankins, preacher in charge of the Lorenzo Methodist church was here this week arranging to put his two children in the Lubbock City Schools. He will probably move to Lubbock in the near future, in order to take care of his children while here in school. The Lorenzo school does not carry the grade his children are in, we understand, is the reason for him placing them here.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Frezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation. Frezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR THE FARMERS

Having recently called your attention to the fact that cotton seed for next years planting are going to be very scarce, we wish to emphasize that fact by telling you that we are getting three times as many listings to buy seed as we are to sell them. Do not sell good seed suitable for planting to gins or mills, but store them away as you are likely to get more for them and at the same time render your fellow farmer a valuable service by selling him your good seed for planting.

How to Proceed to Sell your Cotton Seed.

First, put them in a dry barn or house.

Second, write to T. S. Minter, Director of the Bureau of Markets, Austin, and ask him to list them free in the Market Journal and repeat this request monthly till all your seed are sold. He does not handle the money nor the seed, but simply finds you a buyer, and his services are free.

The press has very kindly given publication to our former letter and you should take advantage of the opportunity of getting more for your good planting seed and at the same time render other farmers good service by selling them your cotton seed for planting purposes.

Yours truly,

T. S. MINTER,

Director of Markets.

FLOYDADA WINS FROM MATADOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Floydada, Texas, Nov. 21.—The Floydada High School Football Squad and Matador High, clashed in what is given up by the lovers and fans of the pigskin sport, to be the classiest and hardest fought game ever witnessed on the local gridiron. The local boys were outweighed by their opponents, but through using good head-work and the old time pep one of the characteristics of the team, in general, managed to nose out with a 7 to 0 victory. The only score of the game was made by Fullback Moore, who had shifted to end in this particular point of the game, and made one of the classiest catches and the longest run after a forward pass ever pulled off in this part of the State. Fullback Hollis Moore, is not unknown in Lubbock, having worked here last summer in the Lubbock Drug, and is a brother of Louis F. Moore, and Mrs. J. M. Denman, of Lubbock, and is well remembered by all who have ever played on an opposing team. It is rumored that Tulsa High and Floydada High, will play in Floydada on Thanksgiving, and the local team has been watched by many critics of the game, though light in weight, are always in the game. ### DIFFERENT WAYS OF BEING NEIGHBORLY

We have heard of compounded felony, double pneumonia, double mastoiditis, etc., but we heard of something a short time ago for which we can find no appropriate name unless it be double unneighborliness. Perhaps a better name for it would be two-way unneighborliness, for it was unneighborly "going and coming." The story related to us in a conversation was to the effect that a certain man had been getting a very fine country product from a hill farmer at a very reasonable price, in these days of the high cost of living. This farmer lived in a somewhat inaccessible place and did not keep very close touch with the doings of the big world outside. He was, therefore, selling this particular produce at but little advance over pre-war prices. A friend of the purchaser, having tested the excellent quality of the goods, wanted to know where he could procure it. The buyer refused to tell where it could be bought, because he feared a greatly stimulated demand would cause the farmer to advance the price, or else would exhaust the supply.

In taking such a stand he was unneighborly in two ways; unneighborly toward his friend, who merely wanted to know where he could buy, and unneighborly toward the farmer, whom he thus deprived of a good customer. Now this was a man who prided himself on his strict honesty. By "honesty" he would mean that he never defrauded a man by misrepresentation, or by failing to keep his pledged word. He would have been in a fine fury of indignation if he had discovered another man trying to defraud him. Was he, or was he not, defrauding the farmer? To be sure, he had violated no pledged word he had told no lies; but he had kept silent to his neighbor's hurt, or, rather, to the inconvenience of one neighbor and the financial loss of another. Is it any more harm to defraud a man by misrepresentation than by withholding information which you are asked, or expected, to give? We are sure that many of our readers will say at once: "One is just as bad as the other." It should be understood, however, that such an admission is a considerable advance over prevailing ethica ideals. If "one is just as bad as the other," then it is just as bad to refuse to do a neighbor a service as it is to do him a disservice. In other words, a negative wrong is just as wrong as a positive one.

I think we shall all agree that the refusal to render a service in cases where that service may, of right be expected, is just as much a failure to fulfill the law of love as the doing of a positive wrong. We once talked with a horse jockey who made that discrimination. We asked him if he never told a lie about a horse. He promptly said he never had, but added, with a sly smile: "I have sometimes lacked a lot of telling all the truth." He then said, very seriously, that he had never withheld the truth about a horse in dealing with a man who was not supposed to be a judge of horses, but that he had often said nothing about the defects of his horse when dealing with a man who made a business of trading in horses, who asked him no questions and whom he asked none. They were supposed to be equals, matching their wits against one another. That horse jockey showed a finer moral sensibility than many a man who boasts of his high honor exhibits in business. The average man who goes out to buy is not asking what the thing he desires is really worth, so much as what it can be bought for. In selling, it is not so much what price would yield him a fair profit, as what he can get. Like the man whose story started this chat, they count themselves fortunate if, without telling a positive falsehood, they can buy for less than a thing is worth and sell for more than it is worth. That is what makes profiteering possible.—Presbyterian Advance.

R. R. EMPLOYEES MAY REFUSE TO HANDLE COAL

Pittsburgh, Kansas, Dec. 2.—First coal taken from the strip mines of southeastern Kansas by volunteer coal diggers was to be loaded on railroad cars today. Whether the coal will reach the shivering populace of the state, remains to be seen.

Outcropping of opposition to the state receivership's operation of the strip mines, last night culminated in a report that union officials had appealed to railroad brotherhood members to refuse to move the coal cars. It was understood early today that local trainmen had wired their brotherhood chief for instructions. If no reply is received, a local strike of railroad men was considered a possibility.

It was believed that cars will be placed at the mine pits, but would not be moved until a decision is reached by the railway men.

Six strip mines in northern and southern parts of Crawford county were expected to operate today. Volunteers had been placed in five camps and the news that 400 others entrained for Pittsburgh last night, gave rise to the hope by receivers that six mines would be producing much needed fuel before night.

COLD WEATHER AND COAL SHORTAGE IN LUBBOCK

During the past week the South Plains has experienced more icy weather, and the shortage of coal has been most keenly felt. Many families are entirely out of coal, and have been keeping warm by various means, and there seems no relief of the situation in sight so far as the coal part is concerned, though the weather may change for the better and relieve the situation in that way.

O. P. Baker was in to see us this week, and said he had recently purchased a tract of land four miles northwest of Brownfield, and would move there soon after the first of the year, and expects to make a crop there next year.

Hold for the Farmers' Price

45c

(By the State Department of Agriculture.) Manufacturers' profits exposed. You are also entitled to a better price, based upon manufactured goods, as shown by President Wainmaker of the American Cotton Association in the Cotton and Cotton Oil News of December 1st, page 8, wherein he says: "A profit of $100 per bale or 20 cents per pound on cloth sold this week on a basis that would give the manufacturer a profit of 30 cents per pound or $150.00 per bale. Wide print cloth sold on a basis that would provide a profit in excess of 35 cents per pound or $175.00 per bale. We find in our investigation a few cases in which goods of a special construction which for this reason were quite scarce, are returning a profit of 74 cents per pound or $370.00 per bale. The cotton used in the manufacture of these special goods is strict middling one-inch cotton." On the three grades of manufactured products quoted herein, the manufacturers are receiving an average profit of 46 1-3 cents per pound, above all cost of manufacturing, and yet the farmers have not received an average price of 45 cents per pound. The manufacturer gets the amount above 46 1-3 cents clear profit while the farmer has not yet received cost of production, with no profit. More than $10,000,000 saved. The present campaign, estimated two weeks ago to be worth $10,000,000 to West Texas alone, put the lid on and let us make it a $100,000,000. Yours respectfully, FRED W. DAVIS, Commissioner of Agriculture.

Deliciously Combined

Under the Renown Label

Two vegetables every southerner knows and genuinely likes are deliciously combined in every can of Renown Brand Okra and Tomatoes. Young, tender Okra and red, ripe Tomatoes—grown in Louisiana—are used in packing this wholesome food product.

There are a great number of uses for okra and tomatoes. Here are two delightful ways to prepare it:

VEAL GUMBO

One knuckle of veal; one can Renown Okra and Tomatoes; one chopped onion; one and one half qts. water; one teaspoon salt.

Cut veal from bone in small cubes; put bones in kettle, the meat on top; pour over cold water and cover. Cook slowly for half hour; add other ingredients and cook another half hour; remove bones and serve as soup.

If you wish a quick addition to your menu, just heat Renown Okra and Tomatoes and serve—you'll find them delightful.

You can get Renown Brand Okra—cut or whole—the same sizes as Renown Brand Okra and Tomatoes. You'll find it as fresh and appetizing as the fresh vegetable itself.

Respect for the Child's Possessions (By Helena Wilson.)

It is no wonder that during infancy and early childhood life's lessons are so difficult for the small beginner when the laws which govern them must seem to him just or unjust, consistent or inconsistent, according to the knowledge or the caprice of the adult administering them.

One of the first lessons which the little child should learn is the proper care of his own possessions and respect for those of others, and a mother has the first opportunity to inculcate this important life lesson.

Since one of the strongest instincts of the child is to imitate, there seems no more logical way to teach this lesson than by example. If a mother teaches her child not to touch the articles on her desk or dressing table without her permission, then has she the right to dispose of his toys without his permission?

The writer recalls an instance where a mother secretly put away a doll which had been given to her little girl, and, for no reason except that the child already had a number of dolls and this particular one was "too beautifully dressed to be played with until the child was older."

Another common way of disregarding children's rights is to force them to give up some new or much-prized possession. For example, a little girl of six, who was delighted with the gift of a doll's fan, was obliged by her mother to hand it to her screaming baby in order to quiet him. In his excitement he soon crushed the tiny toy, his screams increased, and his little sister was broken-hearted! Nor had the unjust and short-sighted mother "saved the scene" which she had hoped to avert.

In each of these cases the child should have been consulted and her permission given before the mother disposed of the plaything. In this way the mother could have explained the reasons for her own action, and the child, in her turn, would have had an opportunity of expressing herself, a habit which should be encouraged. Then, too, personal responsibility for her possessions and the recognition of the right of ownership would have emphasized the difference between "mine" and "thine."

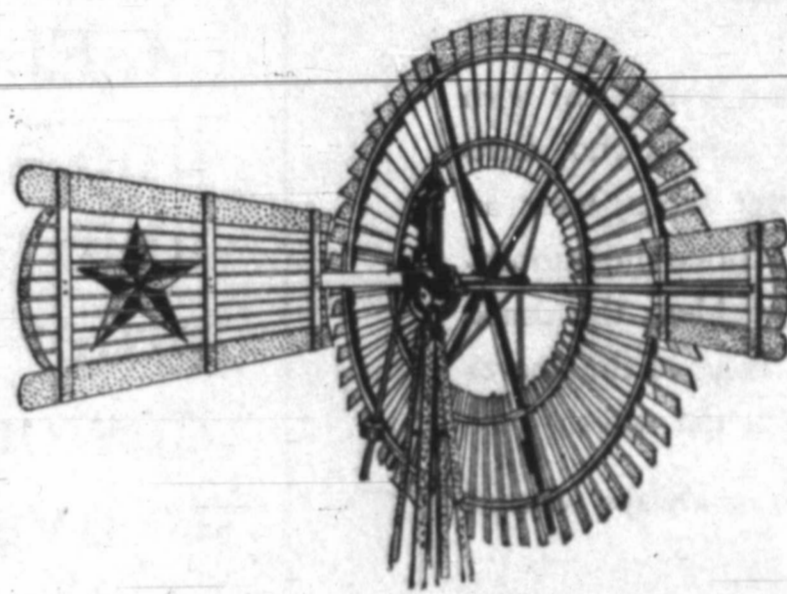

There is no better way to create habits of orderliness and a sense of responsibility than by giving the child a place for keeping his playthings and then allowing him full control of these possessions.

Show him how to use his books, how to take care of his toys, how to protect his pets, and then see to it that he has a shelf or a small bookcase for his books, a play corner for his toys, and an appropriate home for his pets.

After playtime require him to put away whatever he has been using, and let him understand the necessity for regular attention to his pets. Such training will of necessity react upon his character since possession entails responsibilities. Ownership also teaches generosity, for without possessions how can a child learn to share?

It may not be out of place in advising parents to respect their children's possessions to add a warning on behalf of the children. Do not surround them with numberless ready-made toys. Give them blocks, boards, nails, a few tools, hammers, saws, planes, spools, scissors, thread, cloth, dolls, paper, crayons, clay, sand, and books. They will get more happiness from these possessions of constructive possibilities than from all the finished toys of the biggest toy shops in the land.

"Childhood has its own way of seeing, thinking, and feeling, and nothing is more foolish than to try to substitute our own for them."

Respect your child's right to his possessions and he will learn to respect the rights of others, and, with such recognition, there will be no fear for the outcome of his place in society. Help to reach all the parents of the country by cutting this out and passing it on to a friend.

Lame back may come from overwork, cold settled in the muscles of the back, or from disease. In the two former cases the right remedy is BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It should be rubbed in thoroughly over the affected part, the relief will be prompt and satisfactory. Sold by All Druggists.

Prof. M. M. Dupre returned from Houston, where he attended the Texas State Teachers Association.

TWELVE HUNDRED TEXAS SCHOOLS WITHOUT TEACHERS

Houston, Tex., Nov. 29.—Twelve hundred public schools in Texas are without teachers because of low salaries paid, Professor A. Caswell Ellis, of the University of Texas, told the Rotary Club at a meeting here.

"Unless the people of the State act upon the gravity of the public school situation in Texas the next generation of Texas will be only half-educated and unfit to compete with the children of other states where adequate educational facilities are provided," Dr. Ellis said.

Dr. Ellis pointed out that teachers salaries have been increased only 25 per cent, whereas the cost of living has increased 125 per cent. The result, he said, is that more than one-third of the trained teachers in the public schools have quit, and their places cannot be filled.

Low salaries, Dr. Ellis said, not only have caused loss of many teachers, but have forced boards of education to employ inefficient teachers.

33,200,103 ALIENS CAME TO U. S. IN LAST CENTURY

Washington.—While Congress is considering closing America's door to immigrants as a means of preventing the spread of red propaganda, it is interesting to note that 33,200,103 immigrant aliens were admitted to the United States within the past hundred years. This is one-third of our population.

Since the war there has been a decided drop in immigration. The second biggest immigrant year in American history was 1914, when 1,218,480 were admitted. The record year was 1907 with 3,285,349. Immigration that year totaled 1.45 per cent of the total population.

There were fewer immigrants admitted during the 1918 and 1919 fiscal years than in any year since 1863. But 110,618 foreigners were admitted in 1918 and only 141,132 in 1919.

The 1918 entries were but one-tenth of one per cent. The 1919 admissions were only thirteen-hundredths of one per cent.

Europe has been America's heaviest contributor in the past century. 29,552,198 having come from that continent. Asia contributed 788,290 and British North America 1,883,267.

The United Kingdom ranks first as a source of American immigration since 1820. Germany, Italy, Austria-Hungary, Russia and British North America come in the order named.

France has not contributed heavily to the American melting pot, sending but 523,820 persons in the past hundred years.

Since the advent of the A. E. F., however, and the splendid impression it made upon the French population, chances are French immigration will increase rapidly.

Ireland's contribution to the United States in the last 100 years has been 4,348,759 immigrants, a number practically equal to its present population of 4,390,219.

England proper has sent 2,434,144 inhabitants.

During the past century Germany sent 5,494,038 immigrants to the United States, the bulk of them coming soon after the Civil War, although 1882 established the high record with 250,630. Since then there has been a sharp decline in German immigration. Indications are that it will be many years before Congress permits German immigration in any large numbers.

Italian immigration is of comparatively recent growth. The total of arrivals prior to 1855 was insignificant, but by 1880 there was an ever increasing number, rising to 100,135 in 1900. The high record was in 1907 when it was 285,731 or twenty-two per cent of the total immigration for that year. In all arrivals from Italy in the past century total 4,100,735.

Austria-Hungary has sent 4,068,461 persons to America, while European Russia has contributed 4,068,471.

Of a total of 788,290 Asiatics admitted to the United States since 1820, 345,008 were Chinese and 232,749 Japanese, while 180,834 came from Turkey in Asia.

Congress is determined, however, to ring down the curtain on all of this heavy immigration and hereafter unless a European or an Asiatic has good reason to come to America, he will not be admitted.

Rev. Geo. W. Shearer went over to Crosbyton Tuesday and held the first Quarterly Conference of the Crosbyton Station Wednesday, returning home today.

GIRLS! DRAW A MOIST CLOTH THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluffy, bright and so easy to manage.

Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cent at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottle.

SNYDER COMPANY TO RESUME DRILLING IN WELL AT DUNN

Snyder, Texas, Nov. 29.—O. E. Guinn, of Wichita Falls, has become associated with the Oklahoma Snyder Oil Company and says that he has just gotten in a supply of casing and will proceed with the Dunn well, which is now a little better than 700 feet. The drill has passed through a rock 18 feet thick.

J. T. Harris of the same company says that he has sold a block of acreage in the Dunn territory in the field to C. M. Powers and J. E. Ernberg, of Joplin, Mo., who have established a drilling location in Big Sulphur Creek and the rig is reported now enroute.

The Snyder Oil Association has procured an abundant supply of water at its location, seven miles northwest of Snyder and has reset the drill in the Walker well and is ready to proceed.

REVENUE LAWS WILL UNDERGO REVISION

Washington, Nov. 30.—Republican leaders have indicated there would be no general revision of the revenue laws until after the general election, although it is admitted by members of both parties that the law needs revision badly. Notwithstanding this determination, effort is to be made during the forthcoming session of Congress to bring about a repeal of the luxury and the excess profits taxes, the former on the ground of being a needless imposition and the latter as being indefensible. Merchants are already complaining about the poor prospect in holiday trade, partly due to the luxury tax. Goods are already high enough by reason of the conditions, they say.
 Business is badly crippled by the statements of members of Congress, and some desire has been manifested for its repeal. Trading on a large scale is said to have been brought to a standstill, owing to the Government's tax, which determines the excess profit compared with the cost or value in 1913.
 A Texas ranch owner went to New York a few weeks ago to purchase a ranch property adjoining his own, for which he was prepared to pay $100,000. He took the cash in his pocket. The owner of the place desired said that he would be willing to sell at the Texas price were it not for the fact that he would have to pay the Government $60,000 in taxes. He did not need the $40,000 which he would have received out of the transaction, so he declined to trade. The prospective purchaser, it appears, did not know of the tax requirement, and came to Washington with a loud protest. He was told that the Government needed the money to pay

A Mouse in the House

Is like a hole in your pocket for there is nothing more destructive and annoying about a home than mice. In these days of high prices, this destructiveness becomes a really serious matter; besides this wastefulness, they are filthy and unsanitary, and it is now a proven fact that rats and mice are dangerous disease carriers.
 It is absolutely unnecessary to tolerate this pest, because it is a fact that a good trap kept set and well baited will catch every rat or mouse on the premises.

Aside from the Great Fundamental Principle, of Faith in Almighty God and His Son; Life Insurance is Man's best friend.
 It is the "poor mans" ONLY hope of leaving his wife and babies sufficient money to buy bread and meat for very long.
 For the man of "moderate means" it is the BEST collateral on earth. It may save his estate to the family at his death, or in case that Estate is swept away by misfortunes, Life Insurance may be the ONLY think left them except debts and an unhappy memory.
 The "real rich man" was wise enough by economy and thrift to create or build a fortune, and now he is WISE enough to INSURE his life in large sums, BECAUSE it takes about ONE-SIXTH of large fortunes to pay the INHERITANCE TAX (this tax payable in cash) before that said fortune can pass to the heirs at law.
 Therefore, Life Insurance rightfully belongs to every man between the ages of 15 and 60, who is able to stand the Examination and make the Annual Deposit required by the Company insuring.

COTTON PRICES THE ONLY DANGER
 Resulting from decreased acreage, bad season, insect pests, lack of labor and world demand for cotton coupled with same holding and slow marketing, the price of cotton is good and likely to go higher.
 The only danger is with any fall in quotations forced by sales on the gambling exchanges of future contracts (they have no cotton), causing farmers to stampede to sell as they have done in former years.
 So we frankly say to the farmers, that the bankers, the merchants, and all good citizens are ready to back us in our effort to get value for our cotton, and if there is failure it will be our fault. Therefore, we earnestly urge you to refuse absolutely to sell a pound of your cotton on a declining market, and if you do this the price of your cotton will rise again and we shall win the fight for right and justice.

COAL MINES TO BE OPERATED BY STATE AT PITTSBURGH
 Pittsburgh, Kans., Dec. 1.—Production of coal in the strip pits of the Pittsburgh field, by volunteer workers under the state's receivership plan began this evening and before dark operations were in full swing in four strip pits in the district, with three others organized and ready to work by morning. Cars were standing on side tracks ready to be loaded, and tomorrow will see the first coal mined by the state in its crusade to meet the fuel situation arising from the strike of bituminous coal miners, speeding on its way to western Kansas, where Governor Henry J. Allen decided the first shipment be sent.

 The strip pit mines in the northern and southern districts of Crawford county were under military control tonight.
 Colonel Perry M. Holsington, commanding the fourth Kansas infantry, was in charge. Companies of state guards had been distributed at the various pits for the protection of workers, while the federal troops remained on the grounds of the state manual training school here. This city is not affected by the order establishing military control.

The State Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Indiana

LIFE INSURANCE as an institution, has served the public and this nation as no other instrumentality could. Since its inception INSURANCE has been the greatest of all Agencies inculcating habits of saving and thrift. No other one force has been so important a factor in moulding our true national character, without the fundamental teachings of insurance our magnificent record as a nation in supporting with ease the staggering totals in LIBERTY and VICTORY WAR SAVINGS would have been difficult if not impossible of achievement.

In the re-construction period of the future it will be through LIFE INSURANCE that the people will increasingly reveal their higher appreciation of the value of a sound investment and protection of all those they hold dear. Bear in mind that when a man is converted to the ideas and ideals of LIFE INSURANCE he at once becomes a better Citizen by reason of his awakening to the responsibilities that are his of dependants! Guinn & Oliver go further by saying that "The thought of those dependent leads naturally and logically to their future and in turn to the future of his country."

Our PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON, says: "If a man does not provide for his children, if he does not provide for all those dependent upon him, and if he has not that vision of conditions to come, and that care for the days that have not yet dawned, which we sum up in the whole idea of thrift and saving then he has not opened his eyes to any adequate conception of human life. We are in this world to provide not for ourselves, but for others and that is the basis of economy."

THE STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of INDIANAPOLIS, IND., is one of the few OLD LINE MUTUAL COMPANIES that remained in the State of Texas following the passage of the ROBERTSON LAW. This company has one of the most remarkable careers in the INSURANCE world today. Twenty-five years ago THE STATE LIFE started doing business with Five Hundred Dollars borrowed money. Today they have assets of more than TWENTY-ONE MILLION DOLLARS. No other insurance company ever organized has achieved such remarkable results from such a humble beginning.

S. Lester Guinn is a Native West Texan. After completing his education, served four years with a West Texas bank. Attended the first officers training school at Leon Springs, but on account of a slight physical defect was unable to complete, later entering the army at Camp Bowie he served his country as a private, receiving an honorable discharge late in November, and came to our city in January this year, and since April Mr. Guinn has materially assisted in the production of over TWELVE MILLION DOLLARS of STATE LIFE INSURANCE written in the State of Texas so far this year.

Fred C. Oliver is well known on the South Plains of West Texas, having spent the past few years as a representative of the Drivers National Bank of Kansas City, Missouri. Realizing the necessity and importance of OLD LINE LIFE INSURANCE, its increasing stability of the business world, and important factor in raising its moral tone, creating those habits of thrift and saving which are so essential to the welfare of the people, severed his connection with the bank, and together with S. Lester Guinn, will represent the old reliable STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, as District Managers in this territory.

The STATE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY is now celebrating its "Silver Jubilee" and Mr. Guinn just recently attended the annual convention held at Indianapolis.

This Company is purely Mutual and write some exceedingly attractive policies which include all of the modern features of perfect protection.

LIFE INSURANCE is one of the necessities, and if a man does not carry Old Line Life Insurance he is overlooking the best investment of his life. The time is NOW when a man can not afford to be without LIFE INSURANCE.

These men are members of the Chamber of Commerce and are always ready to identify themselves with any public enterprise for the betterment of our city and community; their responsibility proves the class of business they handle, is "REAL INSURANCE."

You need insurance, you should appreciate its merits "SEE US BEFORE YOU DIE."

NORMAL CREWS AT WORK LIVESTOCK PRICES HIGHER

Saturday at 4:00 P. M. close to 1400 union switchmen in the various terminal yards at Kansas City, went on strike. They were acting on their own initiative and officials of the switchmen's union declared it irregular and called the men back to work Sunday afternoon. Today the entire force reported for duty, and freight of all kinds is moving in normal volume. The strike, though of only twenty-four hours duration, cut down receipts of live stock and resulted in a higher market in all divisions today.

Today's Receipts.
Receipts today were 800 cattle, 3500 hogs, and 2000 sheep, compared with 90,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 8000 sheep a week ago, and 31,957 cattle, 31,000 hogs, and 14,800 sheep a year ago. Elsewhere receipts were liberal, especially at other Missouri River markets.

Beef Cattle.
With less than one-third as many cattle here as a week ago, and the run showing less than a normal percent of fat cattle, beef grades were in active demand at strong to 25 cents higher prices. The advance applied to butcher grades as well as steers. Some choice steers sold at $18.00, short fed steers sold up to $15.50, and grass fat steers up to $13.50. The bulk of the killing steers, which were grass fat, sold at $10.50 to $12.50. Cows, exclusive of canners, brought $7.50 to $12.50, canners, $5.50 to $6.00, veal calves were 50 cents higher.

Stockers and Feeders.
Trade in stock and feeding cattle was active and the moderate supply brought firm prices. Quality was fairly good. All outgoing shipments were handled on regular schedules and railroads reported a normal supply of stock cars available. Fleshy feeders sold at $12 to $13.50, lighter weights good quality $10 to $11.50, and ordinary to fair kinds $8.75 to $10.

Hogs.
The 3500 hogs here today were snapped up at 50 to 75 cents higher prices, and the big margin that existed here last week over other markets was extended still further. The top price today was $14.80, and the bulk of the hogs sold at $14.25 to $14.65, making a $1.25 advance compared with the low day last week. Packers bought most of the offerings and paid the maximum advance.

Sheep and Lambs.
Early estimate was for 600 sheep but 2000 finally arrived, and sold at 25 cents higher prices. Quality of the offerings was plain. Lambs brought $14.50 to $15. Choice grades would have brought $15.25 or better. Ewes sold at $7.75 to $8.50, and yearlings $11 to $11.75. Few feeders were offered.

BUDGET TOTAL IS PRACTICALLY FIVE BILLIONS

Washington, Dec. 1.—The record $1,000,000,000 congresses of ordinary peace times faded into the past today when Secretary Glass presenting the annual estimates proposed appropriations of practically five billion dollars for conducting the peace time activities of the government during the fiscal year, 1921.

According to these figures, it will cost more than five times as much to conduct the peace time affairs of the government as it did in the year immediately preceding the world war. The greatest individual estimates for expenditures, of course, go to the army and navy. The yearly interest on the war debt, however, is $1,017,500,000 which sum alone is greater than all the appropriations for all purposes whatsoever of any peace time congress.

All in all, the estimates justify the predictions made on the floor of congress during consideration of the war tax bills that the present generation would not see the government conducted at an expense of less than four billions a year.

The estimated appropriations for the principal government departments were presented as follows:

Legislative (congress)	$9,925,297.25.
Executive (White House and governments)	$149,111,463.77.
Judicial	$1,634,190.
Army	$898,578,657.20.
Navy	$542,031,804.80.
Pensions	$215,030,000.
Public works	$283,921,810.17.
Miscellaneous	$833,717,637.96.
Foreign intercourse	$11,243,250.91.

The total of all estimates including some comparatively minor items not included in the foregoing is $4,865,410,031.62, the greatest sum ever asked of any congress when the country was not actually at war.

Rivers and harbors estimate include: flood control Mississippi River $10,000,000; southwestern pass, Mississippi River $2,191,000; waterway, Mississippi River to Sabine River, $332,000; Galveston harbor $203,000; Galveston channel $1,203,000; channel, Galveston to Texas City $88,000; channel, to Port Bolivia $34,000; Houston ship channel $700,000; Freeport harbor $471,000.

REGULAR SESSION OF CONGRESS CONVENED MONDAY

Washington, Dec. 1.—Congress is at work again.

House and senate met today at noon for the regular session. There were many vacant chairs in both houses.

In the senate at Vice-President Marshall's call to order the chaplain prayed that the "integrity of Abraham and the wisdom of Solomon" might guide that body in framing a reconstruction program.

With the routine organizing resolutions out of the way both houses passed resolutions for separate committees to notify President Wilson that the congress is awaiting any communication he may wish to make on the state of the union.

Because the President is not able to receive the delegation the usual language of the resolution was changed by omitting instructions to the committee to wait upon the President. They were simply told to notify him. Senator Newberry of Michigan, indicted Saturday by a federal grand jury at Grand Rapids in connection with alleged irregularities in his election, was in his seat and answered "present."

The House met with only about one-third of the members on the floor. Galleries were then half filled.

Usual Formalities Observed.

Washington, Dec. 1.—With the usual brief, time honored formalities, congress convenes today in regular session.

The business ahead of the legislators comprises a program rated by leaders as the most important in years, if not the nations history, including what are considered some of the most puzzling and complicated domestic problems ever presented.

As the House and Senate met today there was a disposition among members to "feel their way rather carefully with respect to the vital new legislation on big questions, rather than to accept the first solution offered. Speed, they indicated, is to be sacrificed to safety in legislating.

The day's program in the House included handing down of the huge estimates sent in by various government departments of money needed to run the government for the next fiscal year; the usual first day presentation of bills, passage of resolutions necessary to get committee machinery in motion and other routine.

In the Senate Carter Glass is to be sworn in as the new senator from Virginia, taking the place made vacant by the death of Senator Martin.

Following the opening both houses expect to adjourn until Tuesday, when President Wilson's message on the state of the union—his annual report, in effect—is to be read. Because of conditions in industry, the high cost of living and related questions, the message is awaited with the greatest interest. Administration forces in the Senate intend to begin today working toward the peace treaty compromise which they predict will be reached within a few weeks, bringing ratification soon after the new year.

Discussion of the Mexican question may break out at once in either body. Some members are considering the advisability of demanding im-

The Statement of This Snyder Resident Will Interest Our Readers.

Mrs. E. F. Hargrove, Church St., Snyder, Tex., says: "My back was in terrible shape. My feet and limbs were swollen and I had dizzy spells and frequent headaches. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they did me more good than anything else I had ever taken. I don't have near so much trouble now as I used to. I occasionally notice weakness in my back or my kidneys are irregular in action, but it doesn't take many of Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me. I advise anyone to get a box of Doan's if troubled in that way." Price 60c, at all dealers. YOU WOULDN'T TRY TO TAME A WILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition, and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

RESIDENCES IN GREAT DEMAND IN LUBBOCK

Rent houses are in great demand in Lubbock. There are people here every day seeking residence or rooming apartments. There are very few residences in the city that are vacant, and those are buildings that are in need of repair, to the extent that people cannot live in them. People who have buildings of this kind would do well to give them a little touching up, and make them more desirable and they can rent them for a good rental and accommodate many people who are wanting to come to our city.

The Association is in Splendid condition, the membership has now reached 885, or more than double the number we had this time last call, and more are coming in fast at this time. The Patient Mules.

Once upon a time there was a man who had a span of fine mules. They could haul big loads over poor highways. But one day the man piled on so much that the mules couldn't budge the wagon, although they pulled hard. He got out behind, grabbed a wheel and pushed, and the patient mules got started and the journey was negotiated successfully.

Moral: Savings won't do it all. They need the interest to help. Buy War Savings Stamps, the interest will grab that wheel and give the wagon a start.

The Mindless Monkey.

Once upon a time there was a frolicsome monkey who played all day in the cocoanut trees. A wise Gink stationed himself under the leafy foliage, made a face at the monkey and threw a big rock at him. The enraged Simian reached about him and showered cocoanuts at the man below. The wise Gink picked 'em up and sold them.

Moral: Don't throw your valuables away. Nobody would want your War Savings Stamps if they were not worth something. Hold them and get the benefit yourself.

The Bolshewiki Fly.

Once upon a time there was a gay, young fly who buzzed around all day long, bothering folks and doing no work. The lady of the house spied him, picked up her swatter and there was a vacant chair at the fly family table that night.

Moral: If you don't work and get in the way. Old High Cost of Living is going to sweat you a death blow. Better mend your way and buy War Savings Stamps.

The Careful Camel.

Once upon a time there was a wise old Camel who started out to cross the Desert Wastes. He took aboard his complete eight-day supply of water. The desert was wide and it took him a week to get across, but he arrived at his destination, fresh as a college graduate. He had taken time by the forelock.

Moral: Put your savings in War Savings Stamps. You may have to cross the Desert of Want. Prepare for a possible emergency.

50,000 NORTHERN CATTLE TO WINTER ON TEXAS PLAINS

About 50,000 head of cattle are being sent to Texas from Montana, Wyoming and Utah because of the severe drouth, E. P. Spiller, secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, says.

The drouth in these states has completely destroyed the hay and feed crops, Spiller says, and cattle raisers are looking to Texas ranges to help them through the Winter. The ranges in this State are in good condition for Winter feeding. All the Texas ranges have had plenty of rainfall this year, and cattle in all sections of the State are fat.

Spiller says that most of the cattle from the three drouth-stricken states are being shipped to the South and Central Plains section of Texas. Ranch owners will reap big profits as a result of the importations. The cattle will feed all Winter and be shipped out in the Spring. While many of the cattle will be sold in Texas, the majority of them will be sent back to the states from which they came for the Winter, Spiller believes.

Senator Kendrick of Wyoming, who is a big cattle raiser in that state, has already shipped between 7,000 and 8,000 head of cattle to Texas because of the drouth.

"Texas ranges have ample room for the thousands of cattle coming in," Spiller said, "as the drouth happened in a year when the Texas ranges were in especially good condition."

The losses to the states where the drouth is the worst will be comparatively small, Spiller stated, as the cattle raisers are shipping their stock to this State before a loss has been sustained.

"Completely Discouraged"

In the feeling and plaint of women who are "run-down" so low that work drags, head aches, back aches, dragging down feelings, dizzy pale and weak little things annoy and "everything goes wrong."

Look the other way just a minute and see what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for more than a million women in the last fifty years.

What it has done for others it can do for you.

A helping hand to lift up weak, tired, over-taxed women—that's what you'll find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives you just the help that you need. To be had in liquid or tablets. Tablet form, 60 cents, at all drug stores.

It is a medicine that's made especially to build up women's strength and to cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing, cordial and bracing nerve; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless.

PADUCAH, KY.—"After first becoming a mother, I was in miserable health. I developed a severe case of woman's trouble, and suffered with backaches and pains in my side. I got so bad that I was a complete nervous and physical wreck and had given up hopes of getting better when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I soon started to improve and was convinced that I had found the right medicine for my trouble. I kept on taking the 'Prescription' and my health was completely restored. I am always ready to speak a good word for this wonderful woman's medicine."—Mrs. ANNIE SMITH, 1119 N. 15th Street.

LOCAL ITEMS FROM THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

The rush of "business is so great here for the last month or two and especially on Saturday's that our merchants have had quite a time keeping enough clerks to wait on them.

Rev. M. D. Williams has sold his residence in the western part of town and will in about two weeks leave for Gallop, N. M., where he will make his home in the future. This is one of the oldest residents in the county, he and family arriving here about fourteen years ago, and it is with many regrets that we see them go.

Old Terry is sure filling its destination as a feeder of the world for the last few days, as turkeys and chickens, as well as maize and other products are going out in a whoop now. Saturday and Monday two of our local poultry dealers shipped a little more than 2700 turkeys to the market, and more if they could have gotten coppers. Larger shipments of these birds will go out along about Christmas.

Geo. Tieman carried Frank Rickles to the Lubbock Sanitarium one day this week. Mr. Rickles is troubled with some kind of eczema on his face, that was pronounced poison-ivy by the sanitarium physicians, who say that they have had several similar cases lately. But we wonder how they get that in this country.

Arthur Sawyer, one of our hustling stock raisers, received a solid car of hogs from one of the farmers near Lubbock, one day last week, and informed us that he had bought this car of hogs at prices so that he could retail them at a low figure and still make something himself. Hog and hominy is no lie in Terry.

BAPTIST CAMPAIGN IS NEARING VICTORIOUS END

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 26.—The Baptist $75,000,000 campaign is moving toward complete victory in a great way, according to reports coming to state headquarters here daily from all sections of Texas. Scores of the smaller churches and a few of the larger ones either have made or are making their canvass for pledges before victory week, Nov. 30-Dec. 7, and in no instance to date has there been a failure to reach the goal. State Director Groner feels that victory is not only in the air, but assured if the army of 50,000 organized and trained church workers do their duty, and he believes they will.

State Organizer T. V. Neal has tabulated reports in his office showing that over 98 per cent of the churches are ready for victory week, and showing also that a large percentage of the 120 Baptist associations of the state are 100 per cent organized. Among the counties that have registered 100 per cent are Dallas, Marion, Cass, Cottle, King, Briscoe, Floyd, Crosby, Motley, Harris, Baylor, Knox, Throckmorton, Archer, Panola, Gregg, Harrison, Brewster, Washington, Austin, Waller, Fort Bend, Brazoria, Galveston, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth, Pecos, Upton, Crane, Wilson, Gonzales, Kendall, Reeves, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Ward, Collingsworth, Childress, Lee, Bastrop, Bexar, Atascosa, Karnes, Hutchinson, Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore, Hansford, Oldham, Potter, Howard, Borden, Mitchell, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Roberts, Hemphill, Grimes, Travis, Gaines, Andrews, Dawson, Martin, Midland, Glasscock, Cooke, Fannin, Madison, Jones, Scurry, Henderson, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Tarrant, Freestone, Leon, Burleson, Williamson, Runnels, Coleman and Parker.

The action of Baylor University may be cited as illustrative of the spirit of the $75,000,000 campaign in its closing days. Having been given a quota of $50,000, the faculty and student body put on their canvass a few days ago and in a few hours subscribed over $100,000 in cash and five-year pledges. The seminary at Fort Worth expects to oversubscribe its $30,000, and reports made to headquarters indicate that all the

A. your smokesong in a makin's cigarette will outlast any phonograph record you ever heard! Prince Albert is a cinch to roll. It's crimp cut and stays put like a regular pal!

Prince Albert upsets any notion you ever had as to how delightful a jimmy pipe can be! It is the tobacco that has made three men smoke pipes where one was smoked before. It has won men all over the nation to the joys of smoking.

Awaiting your say-so, you'll find toppy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and that messy, practical pound crystal glass humidior with sponge moisture top that keeps Prince Albert in such perfect condition!

The pass word to the best thick corn flakes you ever ate

You know what you like—just try

Kellogg's
(Roasted)
KORN KRISP

Say, Boys—and Girls, Too!

Isn't it the best ever? Just like roasting ears. Helps you build muscle, too—and "oh, boy" how good it tastes.

Korn Krisp hits the spot. Rich, golden-brown, crackling, Krispy Krisps. Something worth while!

Remember, anything as good as Kellogg's Korn Krisp has imitators. But they are not the real thing. They haven't the taste—the goodness.

So go to the grocer yourself or insist that mother buys the big "waxtite" package. The one with the roasting ear on it—don't forget the name Kellogg.

That name guarantees you the best thick corn flake you ever ate—or money back.

Better buy at least a half-dozen packages. They keep fresh in large "waxtite" package (goodness-preserving).

At Baptist headquarters here the officials and working force, together with the special workers, have subscribed $31,520 to the success of the campaign, and there is more to come in victory week. The church at the Buckner Orphans' home, whose membership is made up mostly of children of the Home, has subscribed its $3,000 quota, and the boys and girls are now picking cotton daily to help make the first cash payment of $600. Churches that have oversubscribed their quotas in advance of victory week include: West Dallas, Forest Avenue at Sherman, Josephine in Collin County, Valdosta in Collin County, West Paris, Kennedale in Tarrant County, Fort Davis, Jean in Young County, Knox City in Haskell County, Concord in Hunt County, Mt. Carmel in Johnson County. Churches that gave less than $150 to all causes last year are subscribing into the thousands this year.

Among the notable gifts to the campaign announced in Texas the past week are: C. M. Caldwell, of Breckenridge, $50,000; Mrs. Lou F. White, Lancaster, $25,000; J. L. Smith and wife, Amarillo, $15,000; W. K. Ward, Waxahachie, $10,000; Dr. J. J. Dean, Waco, $10,000. Pledges under $10,000 run into the hundreds weekly.

All Baptists have been requested and urged to remain in their homes Sunday, Nov. 30, from 2 until 6 o'clock P. M. Between these the church teams will call on them for their cash gifts and pledges. In all churches a prayer service will begin at sunrise that day. All churches will report results to state headquarters Sunday night, the 30th, Wednesday night Dec. 3, and Sunday night, Dec. 7.

OIL INDICATIONS GOOD FOR LUBBOCK-BRIDGEPORT CO.

The following from the Wise County Messenger will be interesting reading for a number of Lubbock people at least:

J. E. Chase, manager of the Rominger well, which is being sunk southwest of Bridgeport by the Lubbock-Bridgeport Company, was in Decatur Monday and made the Messenger a pleasant call. Mr. Chase is very optimistic concerning his well and he states that the drillers are now doing good work and making fine progress. Last week a strong gas pressure was struck in the well and as the drill goes deeper the gas is getting stronger. Mr. Chase stated that taking into consideration all the formations being found in the well and the indications prevailing, he believes that he will uncover a good oil field within the next few hundred feet. He does not believe that it will be necessary to go the contract depth before oil will be found in paying quantities. Several Decatur citizens visited the well during the past week, and all are very enthusiastic over the prospects found there.

Robinson Furniture Company

There are numerous business institutions created for the purpose of making money only. Probably the owner of these institutions do not enjoy the kind of business; or do not like the particular kind of work that is necessary for the successful operation of it, but stay in the business just for the profits that are to be realized from the effect of sales.

Then again you find people who are in business and love the work that is necessary for promoting its business qualities. They are constantly applying every possible means wherein their immediate business will best serve the people. Generally these last named will eventually specialize on certain makes or stocks that they admire most and we find them doing a business that is enviable to their competitors.

The Mrs. W. E. Robinson Furniture Company was established in our city in 1907 in a small iron building on the space now occupied by Martin & Wolcott's store on West Broadway. They have embraced the qualities from the very foundation of their business here that is now placing them among the highest in the estimation of our citizenship.

This Furniture Company is now located in one of the finest buildings in Lubbock on West Broadway with a floor space of about eight thousand square feet.

A complete stock of the very finest grades of furniture and other things of furniture nature that is necessary for your home, from the best room on down. Artistic arrangement of the goods kept on display only serve to show the public that the management has more interest in the business that it maintained, than just the perfection of sales. It is a common incident to see people who visit our city and look over the displays of different business houses, to stop, when they come to the Robinson Furniture establishment. The windows are in neat appearance all the time displaying some fine quality and beautiful furniture.

A careful study of furniture and furnishing stock by the management has given it a class that is distinctive, as much so as the display that we have spoken of above. For instance the following lines are carried here, you no doubt realize that they are the world renowned for quality and smart appearance:

Bedroom Suits of the latest styles; also living room suits complete, made of best materials; McDougall Cabinets; Sealy Mattresses; Globe-Wernicke Book Cases; Electric Bartlett Sewing Machines; Wilton Velvet Rugs, with the best grades of Axminster; New Perfection Oil Stoves and the Roos Line of Cedar Chests; Draperies of all kinds, including silk, net, and Cretonne; Kirsch rods for draperies.

Picture framing and molding work is done by the Robinson Furniture Company, the work being in charge of an artist in that line, who will please the most particular.

When you come to do business with the Robinson Furniture Company you will be assured of courteous treatment, furniture of the best quality, with prices as reasonable as can be found anywhere, and last but not least, you are assured of a square deal.

All these things combined make the Robinson Furniture Store one of the finest and largest institutions on the South Plains and one that Lubbock should be justly proud of.
