LUBBOCK, LUBBOCK COUNTY, TEXAS, TUESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1922.

PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL COURSE TO BE GIVEN FARMERS

R. C. MOWERY, HIGH SCHOOL INSTRUCTOR IN ANIMAL HUSBANDRY, TO SUPERVISE COURSE

HOGS AND DAIRY COWS MAIN SUBJECTS

Course Will Be Instrumental in Interesting Farmers in Raising More and Better Hogs, and Will Increase Dairy Production Through Proper Feeding of Cattle.

The Avalanche contained an article on the front page some time ago setting forth the merits of a short course in Vocational Agriculture to be conducted here August 14th, and we are of the opinion that most of the farmers of this section understand to some extent the value of such a course to them, but nevertheless, we believe that the proposition merits further publicity, and wish to urge every progressive farmer in this section to get in touch with Farm Agent Jennings and get details as to what is required of entrants.

The school will be conducted by Prof. R. C. Mowery of the Lubbock High School, whose understanding of the work certainly should have its bearing upon those interested in bettering hog and dairy cattle breeds, and we are sure that the term will be a success under his direction.

Prof. Mowery will return to Lubbock Friday, August 11th, and will immediately set to work making all preparations to open the school the 14th. He has sufficient text books on hand at this time, and nothing has been left undone in the attempts of the County Agent and others interested in the course to make it a success throughout.

August 14th was chosen as the date to begin the school owing to the fact that at this time there will be so many of the farmers whose crops are laid by that they will have sufficient time to attend the classes, and we are sure that with plenty of time in which to take the instruction Lubbock county farmers will take another long step forward in developing hog raising and dairy cattle keeping on the farms of this vicinity.

Owing to the fact that hogs and dairy cattle are the most profitable animals to be raised on the plains, and that the climatic and physical conditions of the country assist in every way possible to make their growing a profitable industry, lessons on proper breeding and feeding of those animals will consume the entire study periods.

Fred Boerner, Lubbock county's most successful grower of thoroughbred hogs, told the writer Thursday while discussing the merits of the short course in vocational agriculture that Lubbock county is with out parallel insofar as being a fertile field for the development of the hog raising industry is concerned, and expressed the belief that if farmers are given a better idea as to how to care for them in such manner that they will easily discern the better type from the offbreed, they will soon be equipped to go into the business in a winning fashion, as a result of which that industry will be stimulated to such extent that a peep at freight shipments from Lubbock county will be increased beyond the expectations of our most optimistic citizens.

The farmers of Lubbock county are given one of the greatest opportunities that was ever offered an agriculturist in this short course, and the Avalanche is hopeful that they will grasp that opportunity with enthusiasm, and accept it as a stepping stone to better conditions throughout the county.

Wonder how many thousands of pounds of meat could be raised on the feed that is wasted in Lubbock county each year through improper feeding, plus feeding to improperly bred swine?

That question is unanswerable so far as mathematical correctness is concerned, but we are sure that the average Lubbock county farmer is smart enough to admit that there are wrong ways and right ways to raise hogs, and that with but few exceptions the average farmer is missing the right track by a few degrees.

That is just what close application of the work which will be issued to the farmers by Prof. Mowery will eliminate. The matter of breeding for superiority is one thing and feeding for superiority is another, and by combining the two correctly, Lubbock county farmers can produce thousands upon thousands of pounds of pork annually which has heretofore been wasted through inefficient feeding and haphazard breeding, and it is high time that they realize the mistakes of the past and get down to work out a systematic feeding and breeding plan which will result in keeping better hogs on the farms of Lubbock county.

The same thing that applies to the hog raising industry is also applicable to the dairy cattle industry, and the farmer who thinks it takes a pen full of cattle to produce a bucketful of milk is missing his guess. There is more profit in keeping one good cow on proper ration than a half dozen fed in a haphazard manner, and Prof. Mowery has spent a young life-time learning the lessons that that subject involve, and he will be glad to assist the farmers in getting hold of the cold facts as he has learned them. He is an admirable young fellow whose knowledge in vocational agriculture was thoroughly demonstrated by the work his team in the last term of High School did in gaining high honors as State Champions in stock-judging, and other tests requiring a complete understanding of the work.

Mr. Mowery is more practical than theoretical in applying vocational education to the farms of today, and the fact that he learned a great deal of what he knows about the subjects involve from actual experience equips him doubly well for the task of instructing the local farmers.

If you farm, farm intelligently. The United States Bureau of Agriculture, through the State Department represented by Mr. Mowery, is offering the farmers of Lubbock county an opportunity to learn hog and cattle breeding and feeding from a scientific standpoint, and every farmer should avail himself of the opportunity to receive those instructions.

the book of registration, and a badge of local Christian Endeavor colors for this occasion. This will be a great day for the young people of our church.

Now listen, please make a sacrifice and let us just spend this day in social as well as spiritual services.

Plenty of ice water and ice-cold lemonade and a genuine old fashion Cumberland Presbyterian welcome. Come and let us have a sure enough good time.

AGED WOMAN RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE SATURDAY

Mrs. A. M. Rhodes, an old time citizen of Lubbock, is in a local sanitarium suffering with a broken ankle and other bruises as a result of being run over by an automobile driven by W. L. McDill, at the corner of Avenue I and 12th Street, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Rhodes had started across the street toward the courthouse, and was unable to get out of the way of the speeding automobile, which bystanders claim to have been going about twenty-five miles per hour.

SHALLOWATER SCHOLASTIC POPULATION INCREASED

J. H. Roles of Shallowater, principal of the school at that place, was in Lubbock Thursday on business. He reports the scholastic population of that immediate section somewhat improved over last year's census, and that provision has been made to care for the extra number in the most successful manner possible.

Act well your part—there all the honor lies.

Outing and Educational Features On Program of Club Boys and Girls Two Day Encampment at Post City

Post City is getting down to doing things as a town, and from the accounts we have had of the activities of that city we are prone to believe that a sure enough live citizenship peoples that city.

The next thing for Post City is a Club Boys and Girls Encampment, to be held there two days, Thursday and Friday, August 17th and 18th, which is to consist of an outing for the boys and girls, mixed with many educational features, which will make the encampment profitable as well as entertaining.

A desirable camping ground has been provided, and that will be one of the biggest and most interesting occasions the Club Boys and Girls of this section have enjoyed for some time, and we are sure that their impression of Post City will be that that is one of the dandiest towns in West Texas.

Lubbock, Dawson, Dickens, Crosby and Motley County Club members will attend, with Miss Mable Marsh, Home Demonstration Agent of Lubbock county, and Miss Mable Spann, Home Demonstration Agent of Nolan County, to chaperone the girls, and have charge of their work.

The following agents will attend: J. W. Jennings and Miss Marsh, of Lubbock; J. W. Jackson of Falls; C. T. Watson of Lamesa; J. B. Johnston of Spur, and T. P. Metcalfe of Matador.

Miss Murray, Poultry expert of the Extension Department of A. & M. College, and Sterling Evans, of A. & M. College, State Club leader, will attend and assist with the work.

Miss Murray has accomplished some great work through the local county and home demonstration agents, and many of the Lubbock County Club boys and girls will deem her part of the program worth the time spent at the encampment, and are looking forward to the time when they may get first hand instructions in their work from her.

Post City citizens, we understand, are co-operating with the agents in every way possible to make the encampment just as pleasant for the participants as it is at all possible, and we assure every reader of the Avalanche that when that Post City crowd attempts a thing they usually succeed, and we are glad indeed that our local Club boys and girls will be entertained there.

Nearly One Thousand Attend the Third Baptist Encampment On the Palo Duro Camp Grounds

Between 600 and 1,000 people were camping at the Baptist Encampment Grounds southeast of the city yesterday, according to a statement given the News by Rev. B. F. Fronbarger, general manager of the assembly.

The Third Annual Assembly program opened yesterday with great interest and enthusiasm, and will continue until August 11.

Mr. Fronbarger states that there are representatives from every town from Vernon to the New Mexico line on the north; from Higgins and Clovis, and as far south on the Santa Fe as Post City. Cars started to arrive Monday, and there has been a continual stream coming in from every direction, and will continue to do so throughout this week. There were 33 tents for rent on the grounds, all of which were soon taken. Most of the campers brought their own outfits.

Sunday will be open day on the grounds, no admission charges being made. Rev. Fronbarger expects at least 2,500 people to attend the services Sunday. He cautioned Canyon people coming out Sunday to bring their dinners, as it would be impossible to feed them at the one eating place on the grounds.

The people are highly pleased with the Assembly grounds, according to the words of praise Mr. Fronbarger has heard. The water is especially fine and is being highly appreciated. The dam is 36 feet wide, 14 feet high, and nearly filled to the top with water. Water is backed up for a half a mile. The place is fed by 500 springs, and water, ice cold, is to be had in abundance.

There will be no services at the local Baptist church Sunday in order that the congregation may attend the Assembly meetings.—Canyon News.

Plains Visited by Local Showers Sunday Night, Which Will Mature Crops in Communities Near Lubbock

Telephone reports prove the rain that fell Sunday night to have consisted mostly of local showers, as there was practically no rain here, but from the various communities over the county reports are that from one to as much as three inches of rain fell.

Between Lubbock and Abernathy sufficient rain was received to with in five miles of Lubbock to mature the crops. Olton, Lamb county, reported that there was a general all over the north end of Lamb county, but no rain was received at Litterfield. Amarillo, reports show was visited by heavy showers.

All indications Sunday night were that a heavy cloud would sweep over the Plains, and it was disappointing indeed to learn that only local showers were received. Heavy clouds have hovered over the Plains for the last eighteen hours, and all indications are that the rain man has not forgotten this section.

BRICK RESIDENCE ON 13TH STREET ADDS BEAUTY TO CITY

Benny Hilburn, of the Lubbock Printing Company, is making things look mighty prosperous on 13th street, where workmen are erecting a nice seven-room brick residence. The building will be finished in a few days and when completed will be one of the most attractive residences in Lubbock. It is located near the fourteen thousand dollar home of J. B. Pryor, which makes that part of the city look mighty prosperous indeed.

Rev. Hardesty, pastor of the Slaton Baptist church, was in Lubbock Monday on business.

PANHANDLE-SOUTH PLAINS FAIR ASSOCIATION OFFICERS ARE BUSY

THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS ARE SUPERINTENDED BY COMPETENT PERSONS—WILL SELECT ASSISTANTS

SEPTEMBER FAIR WILL BE A GREAT EVENT

The Prize List Has Been Prepared for Publication, Which Will Attract Many Exhibitors, As Sums Offered for Winners Will Encourage Producers to Exhibit Their Animals.

Officers and directors of the Panhandle and South Plains Fair Association are getting down to real business in efforts to put over the big event in September, and we are glad to report that they are meeting with much helpful assistance from every angle of the country, the various organizations doing everything possible to further the work.

Putting a fair as big as the September one will be, into running order is no small job, and the fellows realize that they know that something must be done, and done quick, if the thousands of visitors from all over Texas and in parts of other states are not disappointed in what Lubbock is capable of doing, and certainly they are not going to let the job lag under those circumstances. Something must be done and they are devising means and ways of doing it in the least time with maximum efficiency.

A meeting of the Board of Directors was held at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, and task of drawing up a contract that would be favorable to the Association with a large Carnival company representative, was left to President Klett and Secretary Martin.

The prize list as it will be printed in the catalogue has been arranged, and we are glad to report it looks mighty good, as many of the prizes run into a good many dollars which will make exhibiting here a thing of profit to those holding winning exhibits. The Association has worked that phase of the fair out systematically, making the things which it costs the exhibitor most to present receive the highest prize awards, which will stimulate showing hogs, cattle, sheep, horses and other animals on which transportation to and from the fair will cost the exhibitor a great deal of money.

Following is a list of the officers and members of the Board of Directors: E. L. Klett, president; O. L. Slaton, treasurer; L. T. Martin, secretary; Directors: Louie E. Moore, L. C. Ellis, E. L. Robertson, A. W. May, Geo. W. Foster, E. C. Simmons, and D. M. Holland of Slaton.

The following departments have been organized: Hog department, J. W. Jennings, superintendent; Industrial department, Earl Hunt, superintendent; Agricultural department, Geo. W. Briggs, superintendent; Floral department, Mrs. Lon Mullikan, superintendent; Culinary department, Mrs. J. C. Morris, superintendent; Textile department, Mrs. Fred Boerner superintendent; Fine Arts department, Mrs. Walter Myrick, superintendent; Red Cross department, Miss Mina Ellis, superintendent; Public Schools department, E. R. Haynes, superintendent; Poultry and Pet Stock department, L. C. Ellis, superintendent; Automobile and Truck department, Geo. Benson, superintendent; Fire Works display, H. H. Griffith superintendent. It is pointed out at the office of the secretary that those in charge of the various departments are at liberty to choose who they please to assist in that special work, the responsibility of the department's success falling upon them.

Fireworks material has been purchased, and that part of the program will be the best ever. It is believed that the success of the Association to make the fireworks interesting is one of the greatest assets to the program, and Mr. Griffith's experience in that work will enable him to entertain the spectators in the best fashion possible.

Miss Mable Marsh, county home demonstration agent, will have charge of the ladies' building, and will do everything possible to make the rest room a source of pleasure for them, as well as to assist the various department superintendents arrange their displays with the most exacting care.

What we want to impress upon the minds of our readers is that the Fair Association officers and directors are sparing nothing in making this one of the greatest occasions for many moons in Lubbock county, which will rival in interest the laying of the first road steel across the plains.

If you as an individual can find a place to work for the betterment of the fair, take off your coat and get into the shuffle. The officers and directors are going to muster every available ounce of energy in the county to make that fair a success, and they will appreciate the assistance of anyone in a position to do anything.

Boost, back and boom the September Fair. Let's go.

VICKERS IS SAVED FROM GALLOWAYS AT LAST HOUR

Austin, Texas, Aug. 4.—Governor Neff today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Ernest Vickers, convicted of the murder of J. B. Loper in Ft. Worth last year. Vickers was sentenced to hang in Fort Worth tomorrow morning after a week's stay of execution granted by the governor.

Governor Neff said that after a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case—that he was of the opinion that the punishment for the crime committed will be "properly administered" by confining this defendant at hard labor in the penitentiary during all the years of his life.

Vickers, according to evidence in the case, shot Loper, a railroad special agent, one night last August when he refused to hold up his hands after Vickers had commanded him to do so. The attempted robbery occurred in the Fort Worth railroad yards.

Both registration and mileage banners are being offered by the entertaining societies which send the first 100 per cent registration, as well as for the greatest total number of miles traveled by the entire number of delegates from any single society.

The program will include such speakers as Rev. Paul J. Merrill, of Tampa; Rev. Garland Shell, of Childress; Dr. R. H. Thomsen and Rev. Emmett Moore, of Amarillo, and Jack Hupers, the state secretary, of Dallas. All persons desiring further information should address Mr. Miller, in care of the Central Presbyterian Church, Amarillo.

Some people are never satisfied. Here's where a cook's husband is suing her for divorce.

EASTLAND MAN SAYS THE PLAINS LOOK GOOD TO HIM

J. D. Hilton and daughter of Eastland, who have been visiting A. J. Hilton of New Home, Lynn county, and G. H. Hilton, of Lubbock, returned to their home Sunday.

Mr. Hilton is highly pleased with the plains, and we are not at all surprised to know that he was, for a comparison of the oil fields section and the plains, so far as agricultural and ranching possibilities are concerned, places the plains far ahead, and after figuring the worth of the two sections one might have to admit that that section certainly needs oil fields to make things even up with the lands of the great south plains, of which Lubbock is the "Hub."

State Tax Reaches Limit of 75c School Needs Funds

Austin, July 29.—The state tax rate for 1922 was fixed at 75 cents on $100 valuation, the constitutional limit, by the State Tax Board today. This is an increase of thirteen cents over last year, the increase being in ad-valorem tax from twenty-two cents to thirty-five cents, the constitutional limit.

The school tax, thirty-five cents, and Confederate pensions five cents which are the constitutional limit, were not changed.

The tax rate was made on estimates assessed valuations aggregating $3,350,000,000 compared with a total valuation last year of $3,455,360,089, a decrease of $105,360,089.

The Tax Board in announcing the rate, stated "the Board was brought face to face with the necessity of either placing the rate at the constitutional limit in order that other provision may be made for the public schools or the adoption of a lower rate which would have imperiled the efficiency of our school system."

The Board reported a large decrease in revenue under the gross tax receipts law, due principally to decreased production and price of oil, and also increase in delinquent and unpaid taxes for the last fiscal year.

Final figures were announced today by the State Tax Board on valuations of intangible properties of railway, bridge and ferry companies operating in Texas subject to ad-valorem tax, show a total of $72,627,568, an increase over last year of $1,491,078. The assessed valuations of physical properties of Texas Railroads, exclusive of terminal railways for the year 1921, as assessed by county tax assessors and reported to the State Tax Board, show an increase over preceding year of $5,088,732.

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED AT PLAINVIEW

Plainview, July 31.—In order to promote an extension of the town's trade territory and help in the development as a market for the products of the farm, the merchants of this city have organized a Merchants' Association, to which the majority of the merchants have subscribed.

It is the aim of the association to co-operate with farmers, poultry and hog raisers, assisting them in their problems relative to marketing and buying at proper prices. It plans to promote better roads into Plainview from the sections that trade thereto help the farmers get better mail and telephone service. Chas. Reinkin is president of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Graves and Miss Harriet Ray, motored over to Plainview Sunday, to visit with friends.

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

November 26, 1920.
Hon. J. H. Moore,
County Judge,
Lubbock, Texas.

Dear Sir:—
The Attorney General is just in receipt of yours of the 15th inst., in which you state among other things that at the last general election C. A. Holcomb received 54 votes as Sheriff and 8 votes as Tax Collector and 1260 votes as Sheriff and Tax Collector of your county. You also state that S. C. Spikes received 497 votes as Tax Collector.

From previous correspondence we understand that the 1910 United States census showed your county to have a population of less than 10,000. But after the primary election and before the general election, a certificate was issued by the Director of Census showing your county to have a population in excess of 10,000 inhabitants. Under these circumstances you propounded the following questions:

1—This being the case, whose bond should the Commissioners approve for this office, and to whom should I, as County Judge, issue certificate of election for these offices?
2—Should I issue certificate of election to C. A. Holcomb as Sheriff and Tax Collector, or should I issue certificate to him as Tax Collector? Should I issue certificate of election to S. C. Spikes as Tax Collector?

3.—In the event that bonds are presented to the court, should they approve bonds in accordance with the votes cast, or should they approve bonds as stated below.
(a) Holcomb as Sheriff and Tax Collector, or as Tax Collector, should he present a bond made out in that form; in other words could he under the present status choose which of the two offices he would assume duties?
(b) Should he approve the bond of Spikes as Tax Collector?
(c) Or should he approve all of the bonds and let the court decide which is entitled to which office?

Under the facts here stated your county was not entitled to elect or could not legally elect one and the same person the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector. There being no such office to be filled in your county by election or otherwise, at such election.

On the contrary the county was required to elect and have two different persons for these respective offices. That is, one as Sheriff and the other as Tax Collector. (State Constitution, Sec. 23, Art. 5; State Constitution Sec. 16, Art. 8; R. C. S. 1911, Arts. 7119, 7120, 7605, 7606, 7607.)

Under these facts you are advised that in the opinion of the Attorney General, Mr. Holcomb is entitled to the office of Sheriff of that county, and is entitled to a certificate of election to that office, and has the right to qualify as Sheriff of that county, in the manner prescribed by law, but that he is not entitled to a certificate of election to the office, nor to a certificate of election as Tax Collector, also that he has not the right to choose between these two offices, as to which he will accept. You are also advised in the opinion of the Attorney General, S. C. Spikes, is entitled to a certificate of election to the office of Tax Collector in your county, and has the right to qualify as such in the manner prescribed by law. For your further information we are enclosing herein a copy of the opinion No. 20249, rendered by this Department September 11th, 1920, addressed to Peyton B. Randolph, and there is in which the question raised by your inquiry are discussed at some length.

Yours very truly,
W. W. CAVES,
Assistant Attorney General.

Does your car lose "pep" on the hills?

If your engine falters on a stiff grade—if you must shift gears on hills you once easily climbed on high—your oil is probably to blame.

Hill-climbing power depends largely on your oil—its ability to hold compression and prevent friction drag on the bearings.

Compression-tight, leak-proof cylinders are assured in your engine by using SUNOCO Motor Oil.

Look for a dealer who displays the SUNOCO sign. He will give you the type of SUNOCO scientifically refined for your particular engine.

STAMFORD DROPS FIRST GAME TO THE HUBBERS

Lubbock took the first of the series from the Stamford Colonels Thursday afternoon on the local park, 6 to 5, jumping on Dutch Meyers delivery in the fourth for a total of five runs before he could get them out. The Colonels had a three run lead in the fourth. Mitchell, Stamford ace, went to the aid of Meyers in the fourth with two down, but he allowed one more run in the sixth, and the Colonels couldn't overcome the lead.

Morgan, for the locals went all the way, allowing only ten hits and three earned runs, the others being made on errors.

Swede Swenson made his first appearance since hurting his finger several days ago. He got two safeties out of three, Battle following for a close second for two out of four. The score:

HUBBERS ANNEX SECOND FROM STAMFORD ORPHANS

Lubbock made it two straight from the Stamford Orphans by taking Friday's exhibition 4 to 2. Ed Edgar held the visitors to nine hits which were well scattered, while his team mates were garnering ten off the delivery of Meyers.

Fast and spectacular fielding featured from both sides, Langford and Speegle taking the honors for the locals, making seemingly impossible catches. York led in hitting for the locals, getting two out of three, with Flagg, Langford and Brown close seconds with two out of four. The score:

NEW THIRD SACKER IS SIGNED UP BY HUBBERS

Gober has decided that baseball is a little too strenuous exercise for him, and has accordingly asked for his release from the staff of Hubbers, which request has been granted, and in his stead Harry Davis has been signed to work around the third sack.

Davis' home is in San Antonio, but he has been playing amateur ball around Del Rio for the greater part of this season, and comes to us with recommendations of the best kind. He is looking mighty good around third, and is hitting a high mark.

SAM LANGFORD SOLD TO NEW YORK YANKEES

Bob Connery, scout for the New York Yankees has closed a contract with Sled Allen, manager of the Hubbers, for E. L. (Sam) Langford, outfielder of the Hubbers, the stipulation not having been made public. Langford will report to the Yankees at the end of this season.

This is the second youngster that Skipper Allen has sent to the Majors from the Hubber staff this season, and there is yet a possibility of more to follow, as scouts seem to be well pleased with the lineup of youngsters he has.

Besides producing a winning ball club, the Skipper has shown good judgment in securing these youngsters, inasmuch as he can show a winning club, and send some of them up to the Majors, while the other clubs of the league are practically all playing old heads that have either been up and are coming back down, or haven't a chance to go up on account of their age, by such methods putting our club more in the spotlight of baseballdom than by any other method, besides getting the club a long way toward easy street financially, for the opening of next season. The Skipper knows baseball, and we believe that nothing will stand in his way when it comes to acting for the best interests of the club.

LUBBOCK HANDS LAST TO STAMFORD SATURDAY

Woodridge was weak from the mound Saturday, getting in a hole in almost every inning, and the Stamford Orphans took the third and last of the series, 9 to 5. Long hits for extra bases from both divisions were numerous, there being a homer, two three baggers and four doubles in the matinee, and but for fast and snappy fielding on the part of Woodridge's team mates, hits would have been more frequent. Fifteen were chalked against him. The fielding of Speegle and Brown in the outer rim and their perfect throws added to the thrills.

Flagg led the hitting for the locals, getting a single, a double and a triple out of four. The score:

ABILENE TAKES FIRST GAME BY 5 TO 3 SCORE

Abilene took a pitcher's battle between Cantrell and McAbee from the Hubbers Sunday on the local lot, 5 to 3, Cantrell giving up seven hits while McAbee allowed six, but four of Abilene's hits were for extra bases. However, errors were largely accountable for the runs, Abilene getting only two earned runs.

The first and only count of the Hubbers came in the fifth. Langford led off with a blue darter to right center for a double. York walked, Brown singled, scoring Langford. Speegle flied out to shortstop, Earnshaw took first on an error, filling the bases; Davis singled scoring York, and Brown scored on Allen's foul fly out to Etheridge; Cantrell went out, White to Lyall.

Both pitchers were hit hard but spectacular fielding kept the hit column looking lean. Davis led the locals in hitting, getting two out of four. The score:

AGNES AYRES, STAR, WARNED BY MOTHER TO AVOID VILLIAN!

Clarence Burton, Genial Chap. Shocked Her by Portrayal in "The Ordeal"

It was long ago said that mothers often are strange beings! They just won't understand, that the fellow who is mean to their daughter might, under certain circumstances, be a really decent sort of a chap.

It is related that the mother of Agnes Ayres came on the set of "The Ordeal," coming to the R. & R. Lindsey Theatre, just as the Paramount star and Clarence Burton, as her worthless husband, were going through a rough scene. Burton wasn't treating the girl at all right. But that's his business on the screen, and in real life he's a mild and peaceable citizen.

After the scene was finished, Mrs. Ayres wouldn't have a thing to do with Burton. She left him flat, although ordinarily she's a sweet, elderly person who is nice and kind to every one.

That night she took Agnes to one side. "I don't think you ought to see much of that Mr. Burton," solemnly advised Mrs. Ayres. "I think he's the most terrible, brutal man I've ever seen!"

And no amount of arguing has served to change the fond maternal judgment that Mr. Burton, in real life, must be just as "awful" as Mr. Burton, the actor who makes his money by "playing 'em mean." "The Ordeal" is W. Somerset Maugham's first original story for the screen. Paul Powell directed from the scenario by Beulah Marie Dix. Conrad Nagel is the leading man.

PLAINVIEW MILL OWNER RUN OVER BY CAR AND HURT

Plainview, Texas, July 31.—Albert W. Hinn, prominent West Texas miller, was seriously injured here this morning when a car ran over him. His head and face were badly bruised and cut, and it is feared that he suffered internal injuries. He was carrying a large package from the local depot when the car backed over him. He was rushed to a sanitarium for surgical attention, and physicians express hope that his injuries will not prove fatal.

Hinn owns extensive milling interests in Plainview, Crosbyton, Falls and other west Texas towns.

Barrier Brothers' buyer has left for St. Louis, Chicago and New York to be away several weeks.

This man who hung himself because he feared the loss of his fortune realized his fears.

Tulia May Get Another Railroad In Near Future

In the early part of the summer of 1919 several men from different parts of the United States came to the Plains country seeking an opportunity to invest latent capital. Among these men was Clement H. Powell of Chicago, who spent several weeks investigating the various resources of the central Plains. And while traveling over the country he conceived the idea, as most of the forward thinking men of this vicinity had done, that the most vital need was a railroad from Fort Worth to this territory. And he went back to his office intent on constructing such a line. After much work had already been accomplished, among which was making a preliminary survey of the route, the project had to be abandoned on account of financial depression that started early in 1920.

But before the project was entirely dropped Mr. Powell had retained E. J. Noonan, engineer of the Chicago Railway Terminal Commission, as the engineer for it. During this time Mr. Noonan came to Texas and went carefully over the proposed route making suggestions as to directions and territory that must be served. And also while here the place for coming on and going off the Plains was gone over to ascertain its possibilities. It was soon seen that by coming up the cap over practically the same old trail that Gen. McKenzie brought a part of the U. S. Army up in 1831, the road could be built with a grade easily accessible. And by following the Apache Canyon down to the mesa leading far out in the country towards Tucumcari, that a practical route could be secured for going off the cap on the West.

Nothing was heard from Mr. Powell by the public in general, though many of his close friends knew he was constantly at work on the project, and only waiting until conditions would warrant the carrying out of the well formulated plans.

Details of the Route

Comes out of Seymour in a north-western direction, crosses the Wichita River and through Ford county via Crowell across the northern part of Cottle county, up the Pease River Valley into Hall county, thence via Turkey, Quitaque up the cap east to Silverton, across Briscoe to Tulia, thence west through Nazareth, Dimmitt, to Farwell, thence northwest through Grady, N. M., off the cap to Tucumcari. It connects with the G. T. & W. at Seymour for Fort Worth. The G. T. & W. only goes to Mineral Wells, but it is proposed to build a direct line from there into Fort Worth.—Tulia Herald.

SANTA ANNA VOTES BONDS TO INCREASE WATER SUPPLY

Santa Anna, July 31.—This city recently voted bonds in the sum of $18,000 for the creation of a water supply. A dam 482 feet long will impound water over an area of 85 acres with a maximum depth of 40 feet. A dual pumping system will be installed to furnish the city with adequate water for domestic, industrial and fire purposes. The discovery of vitreous clay about Santa Anna, together with the natural gas already available in large quantities, insures in the near future a large brick works. Santa Anna has the largest sand mountain in West Texas, the sand being used in glass making.

LUBBOCK AS A FAIR TOWN

Lubbock is to be the future Fair town of the South Plains. This is a recognized fact, by fifteen or twenty counties in this section, as is indicated by the expressions heard from people from these counties, and Lubbock people might just as well get down to their knitting, and prepare to take advantage of the opportunity of making it such. Fact of the business is, that Lubbock is the only town on the South Plains that has a permanent fair organization, and has permanent buildings, and equipment. The people of the various towns and counties look forward each year to the fair at Lubbock, and in the counties where arrangements are being made for county fairs, the dates are being set so as not to conflict with the South Plains Fair at Lubbock, and with a view of coming here with exhibits, many of them entering as county contestants for the prizes that are to be offered in this department. The fair last year was well attended. It was bigger in every way than ever before and its scope is increasing with each year, hence the necessity of increasing the buildings, improving the grounds, etc. Lubbock people will have to do this—that is the greater part of it at least, and we should not shirk the responsibility of providing adequate buildings, pens, and such like, to take care of the demands of the counties surrounding us. A certain amount of money will have to be paid into the treasury of the Association in order to provide these necessary buildings, etc., and every citizen who is really interested in making Lubbock the fair city of the Plains should contribute as liberally as possible to the development of the fair. Lubbock, as we have stated before, is the only town that is making any pretensions of going beyond a county proposition, and hence we are looked upon as the place where a real South Plains Fair will be built. Lubbock is the place to have it and in order for us to maintain this fair we must have funds, and the close co-operation of the people of the City of Lubbock. Only a short time remains in which to complete the program for the fair, and to add the necessary facilities for carrying on the work, to the satisfaction of the people of this South Plains section. Get in behind the fair and if there is any beefing to be done, leave it to the butchers. Your investment in the fair may not bring you any immediate returns, but we are confident that it will prove one of your greatest investments in years to come.

SENSITIVENESS

Sensitiveness, such an abominable thing it is when applied to some people. Sensitiveness makes fools of some people. It makes others ridiculous. It makes some pitiful. Some folks are always going around with their feelings all tuned up to a point where the least little thing will touch them off, and they imagine that such and such a thing is done because of a personal matter. They think somebody has "got it in for them." We presume that the newspaper man hears this more than any other one class of folk—we hear it on every hand. We hear it every issue of the paper. It is impossible for a newspaper representing a city of the size of Lubbock to report everything that happens, and report it correct, yet we are pounced upon by what most people believe intelligent men and women who want to know why certain things were not printed and wonder who "has it in for them down there." Now somebody will "get their back up" about this, because it has not been three days since this actually happened. Just because certain things failed to show up, just as they thought they should, they knew that some one had a grudge at them personally, and so it goes. This just shows just how far some people's imagination can carry them and how innocent people are often wrongly accused. Newspapers are probably the broadest institutions in the world. They are far from being narrow—most of them. They give uncolored news items about people who are far from being friendly to them, and without prejudice, and that is much more than can be said about individuals in other lines of work or professions. Few people know the workings of a newspaper, and how the copy and material for newspapers is assembled, hence they do not understand and while they may be honest in their belief—yet we doubt the sincerity of ninety-nine percent of them. They cause newspapers a lot of inconvenience and unpleasantry by their attitude toward us. The Avalanche would be glad to have the people come to our office and see just how things are handled here, and they would be much more charitable toward us in the mistakes that occur, and which is a waste of time to try to explain how they happened.

IN THE OTHER FELLOWS' SHOES

In the other fellows' shoes, or what people would do if in some other man's business or place, is something that none of us think about as seriously as we might, at least we are led to believe this from observation and experience with people. Especially have we found this true in the newspaper work. We have on certain occasions omitted things from the columns of the paper, feeling that by doing so we have done a Christian act, and have kept the stain from spreading and becoming an unsightly blot on the character of some unfortunate person, and those most interested have appreciated it very much, and have gone on mending their ways and possibly have become upright, honest people, while if their mistakes had been paraded before the public, they might not have been able to overcome the opinions formed. While on the other hand a lot of people blame the newspaper for not doing this and not doing that. We are often approached with a question something like this: "Why didn't you publish the story of that scandal that was committed?" and like questions. We have sometimes, when we felt just right answered with this question: "If it had been your family, your boy, or your girl, would you have wanted the truth to have been told about it, if anything was said?" To this we usually receive a horrified look and if answered at all they were very positive that they would not have had it reported for anything. It all depends upon whose "ox is gored" as to how a great many people feel about it if it were you. If you will do that, nine a wonderful difference. Oh, that we would take the other fellow into consideration more. What a wonderful change there would be in this world. People do not give enough time to good honest thinking or thought as they should, which accounts for much uncalled for criticism, and injustice in many instances. Just think of being in the other fellows' shoes, and think of how you would feel about it if it was you. If you will do that, nine times out of ten you will not be so bold in your desires to have the other fellow's faults, weakness and misfortunes paraded before the public, and there would be a great decrease in the amount of grief and troubles that often result by a misunderstanding of the truth. Try this the next time you must criticize or cuss the newspaper editor or reporter for not doing some things that you would not do yourself.

BOOST THE HUBBERS

When the Stamford team wins there is a howl from the Ganges and back from old man "I-Told-You-So." Also his wife, her kin and others. When the Stamford team loses, that some gang is heard from the hillsides to the valley depths and up the other side. Why not? This is Stamford's ball team and if we can't knock it or blow it, who can?—Stamford Leader. We did not know this was the case anywhere except in Lubbock. We supposed that people were better sports than that. We have found however that the Lubbock fans are not by themselves. We have noticed, however, to our utter disgust, that our fans do not stand up to the team as they should and if they make a bad play they are given a deluge of criticisms, and the howl of "rotten," "give us a pitcher," "give us a first or second baseman or short stop" whatever it happened to be that "bobbled," and there is a general murmur just about like the Stamford Leader gives an example of above. We have noted too, that when an exceptionally good play is made by the home team, that very seldom a chirp is heard from the grand stand. This is calculated to cause the players to become disinterested and indifferent. They figure that if the home people do not appreciate their efforts it is useless. Boost the home team. Make them win. This is possible by cheering them along. If they make a mistake, they know it, and hate it as badly as anybody, but there is no use to "rub it in" on them, and make bad worse. It is the home team and they deserve our support. Be on the side lines and toot 'em up. They will win more games and play better. Now get on the job. Kwitzy-akin and Boost the Hubbers.

DO WE WAIT TOO LONG?

Laymen of the Baptist church, accompanied by a number of people from other denominations, went to the county jail last Sunday afternoon and held religious services for the benefit of the prisoners. There is nothing wrong in this—fact of the business we look upon it as a commendable act, and no doubt the service impressed those prisoners more than any that they ever attended, but the question arises in our mind: Do we wait too long to become vitally interested in the lives of our boys and girls, and their Christian welfare? We believe we do, and for that reason our jails contain a larger number of young men than they otherwise would. It is well and good to become interested in the souls of those who are unfortunate and have gotten behind the bars, but how much better it would have been to become as vitally interested in them or others, who may turn out equally as unfortunate from our own community, unless there is some means of checking the present trend of the young folks of this city. This is a question that certainly deserves more consideration at the hands of the parents of this city than they are giving it. Of course it is always the other fellow's children that are bad, but your child must associate with the other fellow's children too, therefore it behooves us to become interested in our neighbors and their children. Think about this and do not wait for some dire calamity to befall you or your neighbor's children before you become interested in the correction of their wrong doings. Make the community a good place to raise your children and your neighbor's children and the necessity for such an anxiety and grief will not exist.

If one is to use the speeches being made by the two opposing candidates for United States Senator, as a criterion, we will not have a very good representative in the Senate which ever is elected. They are both mighty bad men to hear their opponent talk, and mighty fine fellows upon their own recommendation. Mayfield is our preference, however, of the two left in the race, even if it is all true what he has said of his opponent or if his opponent has said against him. We may not vote for Earl, but we know we are going to vote against Jim.

W. Matthews

Editor's Note: Rev. Matthews is a Presbyterian Minister in the First Church at Seattle, Wash.

The Presbyterian Church has been one of the greatest forces for liberty, education, and evangelism America has ever had. I think. It is the author of modern representative government. I think America owes much of her government to the Presbyterian Church. She has been one of this government's greatest examples and most powerful defender. In the old days the Presbyterian church's adherence to doctrines and principles, added to the strength, character, and integrity of American citizenship. In these latter days, it seems to me she has come upon perilous times. FIRST — The Presbyterian Church commits a folly and sin if she permits infamous heretics who deny the deity of Christ and the infallibility of the Bible to stand in her ranks and to occupy her pulpits. I insist she has no right to allow such enemies of God, of home and of government to carry her name. I think a Presbyterian minister who denies the deity of Christ or the infallible Word of God and continues to occupy a Presbyterian pulpit is drawing his money under false pretenses. We have all taken oath to teach the deity of Christ and the infallibility of God's Word, and for that we receive position and compensation. SECOND — The Presbyterian Church commits a folly when she becomes a meal ticket for faddists and place-hunters who constantly devise schemes and plots and organizations to increase their power, patronage and patrimony. They live and work exclusively that they may subsist upon such efforts. THIRD — The Presbyterian Church commits a folly when she permits her enemies to begin to build machinery and centralize her government, thereby detracting from her power. I don't believe Presbyterians will submit to centralized power nor to dictation by agents and machines. They crushed that kind of power once. I hope they will crush it again. It must be crushed in governments and it must be crushed in the church. The Presbyterian Church should return to the sovereignty and power and supremacy of her Presbyterian government and to the control by her presbyteries. Hear my plea! Awake, grand old Church of Liberty, righteousness and evangelism.

Many Voters Made Mistakes in Casting Ballots in Primary

Members of the election board have called attention to the large number of mistakes which were made in the primary election July 22, with the hope that these mistakes may be avoided August 26.

Many voters brought marked copies of the election ballot taken from the news and other newspapers to the booth. This cannot be. The law requires that no guide be taken to the polls by the voter.

In case of two or more names, several voters failed to scratch out all but one name, thus making the ballot void so far as that particular.

And the words scratched out in the above case are to be taken literally. A pencil mark must be run through the name of every candidate for whom the voter does not want to cast his vote. The only name left is the choice of the voter.

It is the law of many states that the voter checks the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to cast his vote. Not so in Texas. A pencil mark must be run through the name of every candidate that is not the choice of the voter.

Do not sign your name on the ticket. The election judges do not want to know how you vote.

After you have voted, deliver your ticket to the clerk who will write a number on the ticket and place it in the box. Four persons voted in Canyon July 22, laid their ballots on the table and walked out. The ballots were void.

Practically every election judge in the county found errors, and many ballots had to be declared void.—Randall County News.

PLAINS NEED RAIN AND WIND, SAYS RANCHMAN

S. J. Dixon, ranchman of Plains, is in Lubbock having his eyes treated by a specialist.

He reports grass land in that section needing rain at this time, and that he has installed a gasoline engine to pump stock water owing to the fact that there has not been sufficient wind to keep his mills going, which is indeed exceptional in that country. West Texas is being hit pretty hard by the drought, but it will be broken before many days, as all indications are that the weather man has his eye on the plains with a view of relieving the situation.

Mr. Dixon is not discouraged by conditions at all, and remains of the opinion that West Texas is unequalled insofar as agricultural and ranching advantages are concerned, but realizes that a near crisis is at hand, and isn't denying the fact.

CALDWELL SECTION VISITED BY SHOWERS SUNDAY NIGHT

J. C. Shaw, S. F. Landren and J. L. McDonald, of the Caldwell community, were in town Monday on business and reported a one-half inch rain fell in that section Sunday night, with more than an inch falling on farms one mile north of them. Crop prospects are looming up in that section, they say.

R. L. McKinney of Dallas, field director for the Lions Clubs, was here Wednesday and Thursday looking after the interest of that work with the view of establishing a club here. He has organized clubs in Eastland, Colorado and Snyder since July 1, and says he is hopeful of continuing the organization work in West Texas. He is making his way by automobile, and will tour New Mexico before fall.

Attorney R. A. Baldwin, representative of this district, was here Friday from his home in Slator. He is representative of the grand jury cast for him in the July primary, and we are sure he is still in his fighting garments as far as getting into a scrap for West Texas interests is concerned.

John Gelin Will Build 5 Modern Dwellings Soon

John Gelin, local architect, recently acquired a half block of ground in the northwest part of town, and has plans drawn, and will let the contract for building five dwelling houses on this property.

This is a good business proposition on the part of Mr. Gelin, as well as being mutually beneficial to people who want to buy nice cottages all ready, nice and new, to move into.

Mr. Gelin stated to a representative of this paper that he would build five or six room houses with modern conveniences, and buildings that would make comfortable and attractive homes.

A few more men like Mr. Gelin would soon solve the housing problems of the city, and we hope that others will build a number of good houses, which are very greatly needed now, and will be needed even worse between now and the fall months.

McCULLOCH COUNTY MAN HAS HAD AN EYE ON THE PLAINS

M. C. Smith of McCulloch county, left Friday for his home after a few days visit with his daughter, Mrs. S. J. Foster. He has been a visitor to the plains on many occasions, and declared that the rapid growth that Lubbock is making, and the agricultural and industrial developments of this section have not been at all surprising to him, as he realized many years ago that West Texas and the plains would take a leading place as a wealth producing section of the country.

He reports everything in his section of the country as being very promising at this time, and though rain is needed to some extent crops are not seriously damaged at this time.

FORT WORTH PEOPLE VISITING NEAR LUBBOCK

Mrs. L. C. Eden and son, E. A., and daughter, Mrs. Ward Garrett, and Will McVean, all for Fort Worth, are visiting Mrs. W. J. Henderson and sons at their farm near Mendow.

The men folks were in Lubbock Saturday and took dinner at the home of J. E. Henderson, of the Avalanche, that being the first time the entire "gang" had had an opportunity to be together in some time.

They are planning a vacation tour into New Mexico, to spend the remainder of the hot days in the mountains of that state.

TRACTOR SALESMAN SAYS FALL BUSINESS PROMISING

E. P. Williamson, tractor salesman for the Lubbock Auto Company, left Friday for Dallas, where he will transact business concerning the company's tractor sales. Mr. Williamson has been in Lubbock only a short time, but has found business mighty good and is optimistic about what will be done here in the tractor sales line in the fall.

The Lubbock Auto Company is Ford and Fordson agent in this section, and is aggressive and alert to the needs of the trade, and is found on the job at every opportunity to advance the merits of the popular tractors.

Garden City Banker and Ranchman Takes Own Life August 1st

The announcement of the death of E. P. Teele of Garden City, came as a great shock to a host of friends throughout West Texas. He came to his death as a result of a gunshot wound, self-inflicted in the First State Bank building at Garden City about nine o'clock Tuesday morning, August 1st. He left notes to members of his family and friends, these messages written at different times the past few weeks.

Mr. Teele who was aged 58 years, was one of the best known bankers and ranchmen in West Texas and had made his home in Glasscock county for many years. He had served as cashier and manager of the First State Bank of Garden City for the past seven years; had served as Sheriff and Tax Collector of Glasscock County prior to being selected as cashier of the Garden City bank, and formerly looked after ranching interests in Glasscock county.

Mr. Teele was a big hearted and genial gentleman, a typical West Texan, and was loved and esteemed by everyone. If he had faults they were such as to revert to his credit, for he was ever ready to aid those in distress and it was not in him to refuse aid to those who appealed to him.

There can be but one cause for Mr. Teele's rash act and that was worry over business matters as he must have felt that he might be blamed for losses the bank might be called upon to suffer as a result of inability to collect cattle loans that had been made during the trying times West Texas has been undergoing for several years past.

Funeral services were conducted at Garden City Wednesday morning by Rev. Cox of Sterling City, and the Masonic fraternity. The funeral was attended by a host of friends not only from Glasscock county, but from all adjacent counties as well.

He is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter, Edward, Walter and James Teele, of Glasscock county, and Mrs. Ira Driver of Big Spring, and to these who mourn for one dearly beloved is extended the deepest sympathy of the many friends throughout West Texas.—Big Spring Herald.

VAN ZANDT COUNTY LOSES OLD TIMER TO LUBBOCK

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spier of Van Zandt county, have spent the past month in Lubbock county visiting her cousins, J. B., and E. A. Sides, and their son, W. D. Lawler of the Canyon community, and after becoming well acquainted with Lubbock county's possibilities they have decided to return to Van Zandt, sell out their property there and move to Lubbock county.

Mr. Lawler is a great believer in keeping good thoughtbred cattle, hogs and poultry on the farm, and declared that the possibilities of making money by combining those industries with farming here is enough to make anyone set up and take notice.

He has sufficient teams and force to work six hundred acres of land, but said that three hundred and fifty acres of crop, plus the work of caring for more than thirty milk cows, a bunch of hogs and a flock of White Leghorns will be about all they wish to do here, and he declared it his belief that by cutting down the acreage and increasing the yield by close work and diversification, the farmer can make that work a business on the plains.

"I have been a resident of Van Zandt for many years, and like that section fine, but the plains is the country for me," he said, and declared that Lubbock county's splendid schools show the proper community spirit, and that he would be glad to cast his lot with people who take care of the educational facilities of their children.

Lubbock county is taking her place among the fast developing sections of the country because her people are looking after every phase of community interest. Fine schools, civic agencies, schools and other organizations which tend to make life worth while out here are doing their lot in attracting the better class of people to this section, and we are sure that the next ten years will reveal wonderful development in this section.

HOW TO CAPONIZE

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College)

At this time of the year cockerels are not worth much on the market. In fact at his writing, they have dropped down to only 20 cents per pound, so that a one and a half pound broiler will not bring much more than thirty cents each, which is less than they have cost to produce. This brings up the problem what to do with the surplus males at this time of the year. The extra choice individuals may be saved, and sold for breeding purposes but the greatest number must be disposed of in some satisfactory manner.

We know of no better way than to caponize them. By caponizing them, they will grow about two months longer, they will grow a little larger, the meat will bring more per pound, they will make a more economical gain and may be sold at a time of the year when all poultry meat is worth more on all markets. It is true that at the present time capons are a scarce and more or less unknown article on the market, yet we believe that by the time people generally practice caponizing they, will have made a place for themselves on all markets. In fact, more and more the markets are calling for them.

Size
There appears to be a general impression that capons grow to being twice as large as unsexed males. This is not true because experience and experimental data clearly shows that they increase in size only about at the rate of one pound per six pound bird. By that we mean a six pound cockerel will grow into a 7 pound capon and a 10 or 12 pound cockerel will grow into a 12 pound capon. The increased size is not so much as the increased quality of the meat is what makes capon growing profitable.

Markets
We might as well be frank here and as stated before say that the capon market in Texas has not been developed. All indications however are that this will not much longer be true. People are learning about the superiority of capons very fast. Some markets call for them. It is also possible to develop a market. In New Orleans we already have a good market for capons.

Breeds
The small breeds, like the Leghorns do not make as good capons as the larger breeds. The surplus cockerels, even in Leghorns however, may be caponized to advantage. We have caponized hundreds of Leghorn cockerels and sold them as choice six and seven pound capons. At some seasons of the year the small capon is in good demand. The Rock, Reds, Wyandottes, Orpingtons, and the Asiatic breeds, are all excellent for caponizing.

Operation
The operation is easy and any body may learn to do it successfully. Most of the birds that die, due to the operation, die on the operating table by bleeding to death. In this case they are perfectly good and may be eaten. We always recommend trying the operation first on a few dead cockerels, that have just been killed.

Operate on a clear day, and in the sunshine, because you need all the light you can get. Sunshine is better than an artificial light.

Time to Operate
The size of the cockerel more than the age will determine as to when to caponize. Development, also is important. We find it best to caponize when the comb and wattles have developed a trifle, but not too much. They are more difficult to caponize when they are too large than when they are too small. Leghorn cockerels at the age of 7 to 8 weeks are about the right age, and Rock and Red cockerels at the age of 12 weeks are about the right age, to be caponized.

Starve the birds from 36 to 48 hours before the operation. This gives the bird time to empty the intestines, giving more room for the operation. Perform the operation as follows: Fasten the bird to a table, barrel or bench on its left side, with wings drawn together over the back. Pass one of the cords that accompany every set of instruments, round the base of the wings and drop weighted end over the edge of the table, barrel or stand. Wrap the other cord twice around the legs, just above the knee joint, taking care that it is drawn back further than the lower one; drop the weight over the edge of the table opposite to the cord fastening the wings. Have your instruments well sharpened, clean and within easy reach. It is also well although not necessary to have handy, some absorbent cotton and a dish of water to which has been added a few drops of carbolic acid. A few feathers should be plucked just in front of the thigh laying bare a small space just over the last rib. Wet the feathers with cold water, just where the cut is to be made; this helps to stop the flow of blood, and also parts the feathers out of the way so that the skin is exposed. With the left hand, slide the flesh down towards the thigh and make the incision between the last two ribs, holding the edge of the knife away from you as you stand back of the fowl. Be careful to get the right leg muscle out of the way before you make the incision; if you cut into this, lameness will result. You can easily distinguish this leg muscle because it is tougher and redder than the surrounding flesh. Make the incision from an inch to one and a half inches long, quickly with one motion, not slowly and painfully. Take care to follow the direction of the ribs and do not cut them off. Next insert the spreaders carefully in the incision, taking care that each hook is against a rib. Spread the incision as far apart as possible without tearing the flesh. If the opening is not large enough cut a little toward the back, but be careful not to cut too far and into the kidneys. With the hook end of the probe, tear away the thin membrane that covers the intestines. Tearing this membrane will not hurt the bird in the least, as there is no feeling in this thin membrane. Tearing this membrane as described will expose the parts to be removed. Just above the testicles are the kidneys, over which passes a large vessel, that constitutes practically the only source of danger in the operation. If this is injured the bird bleeds to death in a few minutes.

I would recommend a beginner to make an incision on each side removing the organs from the nearer incision. Experts customarily remove both from the right side, taking the lower one first, otherwise the flow of blood may make it hard to locate this one. Remove the organs by a twisting motion of the forceps and not by a straight pull. All the skill in caponizing comes in grasping the organs to be removed without also grasping a blood vessel or the surrounding tissue. Be careful to remove every particle of the organs, because if only a small piece remains, it will grow and instead of a capon, you will have a so-called "Slip," which is neither a capon nor a cockerel and brings no better price than a cockerel.

Remove all the blood clots feathers, or other foreign matter then take out the spreaders, allowing the skin to slip over the incision. If the incision has been properly made the skin will slip over in such a way that it will entirely cover the opening. Make sure that no feathers are held fast in the opening side of the skin. Release the bird, and place in a clean, dry pen, away from all the other fowls. Supply all the water they want and for the next few days, keep them confined, feeding only soft feed. A few of them will blot during the first week or two but this is not serious and can easily be remedied by pricking the skin with a coarse needle. The wound generally heals up in a few days and in a few weeks it will be hard to find the scar.

Temperament
True capons become very docile, and quiet; their comb and wattles begin to grow and develop and to take on added lustre. The head appears small in size and if anything appears weak and sickly, the comb and wattles appearing very pale in color. Sometimes capons develop a desire to brood chicks and those that do will make excellent mothers. They never fight and do well in large or small flocks. Caponizing instruments may be purchased from Pilling and Son, of Philadelphia, Pa. They may be also purchased from poultry supply houses.

Do not become discouraged if you lost an occasional bird. You can expect a mortality of about 4 to 5 per cent. Those that die in the operation should be eaten, thus preventing a loss.

Norfleet Swindler Dies in the Penitentiary, Ending a Spectacular Career—Interesting Record of Furey

Joe Furey "bunko king" and master mind of the Norfleet swindle, is dead in the penitentiary at Huntsville. We quote the Fort Worth Star-Telegram of July 30:

Furey's Record

Joe Furey—Led the fake stock market scheme that cost J. Frank Norfleet $45,000. Spent $17,000 trying to evade Norfleet, who trailed him 14 months from ocean to ocean—from Mexico to the Canadian border. Leaped from fast moving train in futile attempt to escape after arrested by Norfleet. Pleading guilty and received maximum in two cases, a total of 20 years. Nationally known in police circles as the Nation's bunko king.

Went to penitentiary, became model prisoner and taught largest Sunday school class organized at Huntsville. Became insane recently, suffered from tumor and died. The hand of death has written another chapter in the famous Joe Furey case. Furey is dead. From the State Penitentiary at Huntsville came information Friday that the "master mind" in the fake oil stock scheme that cost J. Frank Norfleet of Hale Center, $45,000, had died. Furey's body is enroute to San Francisco, his former home. One year in the penitentiary saw Furey's health break. He weighed 200 pounds when he began to serve his 20-year sentence. He weighed only 125 at death.

Mind Unbalanced

Recently Furey's mind became unbalanced and he was placed in the insane ward, according to information received Saturday by the Star-Telegram in a long distance telephone conversation with the Huntsville warden. He also suffered a tumor which was the direct cause of his death.

"An ideal prisoner" was the phrase used by the warden in speaking of Furey, who nationally was known as the "bunko king" and leader of a number of unlawful stock market lures which involved many thousands of dollars. His good conduct won for him a clerical position at Huntsville. Shortly after his arrival at the penitentiary he became superintendent of the largest Sunday School class ever seen there. He remained at the head of the class and held his clerical position until his health became broken.

Countrywide Chase

In November 1919 Norfleet, Hale Center ranchman and deputy sheriff, came to Fort Worth and was swindled out of $45,000. He soon after began a man-hunt for the men he had trusted with his money. He spent fourteen months searching for them in eighteen states and Mexico. During that time Furey spent $17,000 "dodging." He even went into England, France and Germany trying to evade Norfleet, who finally arrested him after his return to Jacksonville, Fla., in January, 1921.

Handcuffed and held by Norfleet, Furey leaped through a window of a fast moving train in an unsuccessful attempt to gain freedom while he was being returned to Ft. Worth. He was brought into Criminal District Court walking on crutches several months later, still suffering from injuries he received in his jump from the train.

Statements made by Furey later resulted in bribery charges being filed against several deputy sheriffs in California, where Furey had been arrested a few weeks before he went to Florida and where he "bought" his way out.

Furey is the second man convicted in connection with the Norfleet case to die. E. J. Ward, given ten years as a confederate in the swindle, was later taken to Washington to face a similar charge there. While in the Washington jail he killed himself. A third man convicted in the Norfleet case, Chas. Gerber, is serving his sentence in the Texas penitentiary.

The Signs of the Times

The fact that today the Ford Motor Company is making more cars than ever before is an indication that the fundamental conditions of our country are on the upgrade. It proves beyond a doubt that thrift is being practiced. Just so long as people in all stages of life find the Ford delivering dependable transportation in its usual economical manner, satisfied with millions of others, that the Ford is the best car money can buy where thrift is considered, just so long will prosperity reign.

Reflection will bring to your mind the period of inflation when everyone was spending wastefully, and it will also show many Ford owners turning to more extravagant cars. Today they have begun or are beginning over—and a lesson of great good has been learned.

Do as Heury Ford Has Said--
"Buy a FORD and Spend the Difference"

CAUTION

Once a man becomes acquainted with the principles applied by the Ford Motor Company in its desire to keep up the service of its cars, it is seldom he ever buys a part for a Ford car only from the authorized agency, and in Lubbock and in the Lubbock trade territory, we are sole agents.

POST

From Post City Post

The religious debate is now running full time and large crowds are attending. The gentlemen will discuss Baptism for the remission of sins and justification by faith on Friday and Saturday; and the mode of Baptism the rest of the time. The debate will close about Tuesday night. Discussions being held about 3:30 to 6:30 in the afternoon and from 8:00 to 10:00 at night. Of course, both sides are winning according to the friends of the speakers.

Last Saturday a man who gave his name as W. B. Terry, walked into Post and stated that he was walking from Savannah, Georgia, to San Francisco for a wager. He had been on the road 40 days.

Rev. J. W. King and son, J. D. King, went to Jayton today in response to a telegram that Rev. Lee King, a nephew was drowned at Jayton yesterday and his body had not been recovered. Young King was pastor of the Baptist church at Derratt, Scurry county.

A party of Lubbock people, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pinkerton; Messrs. Donald Jones and Jack Daane, and Misses Adline Bellah and Yancy Lee, spent Saturday and Sunday picnicing at Two Draw Lake. They report a most enjoyable time swimming, fishing and boating.

Misses Anna and Leta King left on the noon train Monday for a short visit in Tulia, from there Miss Anna will go to Boulder, Colorado, where she will finish her M. A. degree in the Colorado State University. She is one of the teachers in the Post School for 1922-23. From Tulia Miss Leta will return to her home at Post.

Our picture show manager, H. F. Lloyd informs us he has purchased the buildings of Pete Thrane, where the Nathan and Krauss Store and W. N. Gore are now and will convert them into a swell picture show house. Mr. Lloyd is to be complimented on furnishing the public with such splendid pictures and no doubt will make them better when he gets into the new building. Since the courthouse bonds carried by such a handsome majority, we look for a building boom in Post.

W. C. Barrett and family, and O. V. Bagwell and family, were among the Lubbock people who spent Saturday and Sunday at Two Draw Lake.

The Baptists of Justiceburg have just closed a great meeting, baptized eight and have one waiting baptism, it was a time when men and women decided for God and stepped out and took a stand with the church to let their light shine to glorify their Savior. Those that joined ranged in ages from fifteen to sixty one. The pastor did the preaching and the workers worked like heroes and God gave the increase.

TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE
 Whereas, by deed of trust dated June 7, 1921, recorded volume 15, page 562, deed trust records Lubbock County, Texas, Annie Ater and husband A. B. Ater, did convey in trust to me lot 12, block 106, town of Lubbock, Lubbock county, Texas, to secure E. P. Earhart in the payment of a balance of a certain judgment in Cause No. 1712, district court of Hale county, Texas, appointed by said Annie Ater and husband A. B. Ater, on the supersedeas bond therein the said E. P. Earhart was surety and a judgment on appeal was rendered against the said makers of the said deed of trust and E. P. Earhart, and the balance remaining on such judgment of approximately $750.00 the said E. P. Earhart agreed to pay, and the makers thereof to repay him on June 1, 1922, with interest from date of such payment at 10 per cent per annum interest, with 10 per cent attorneys' fees, and on August 1, 1921, the said E. P. Earhart paid the balance of said judgment amounting to $751.20; and whereas said deed of trust further provided that the said Annie Ater and A. B. Ater should well and truly discharge all taxes and assessments, when due, against the said lot, and that if said taxes or assessments became delinquent the said beneficiary might so discharge and be entitled to receive interest thereon at 10 per cent from date of such discharge and be immediately due; and whereas, the said deed of trust provided that if the makers of said deed of trust should fail or refuse to repay said sum on the judgment aforesaid, or should fail or refuse to discharge all taxes and assessments before they became delinquent, that at the request of the legal holder of the obligations described, the said Trustee, or his substitute, should sell the property, as and in the manner required by law.
 And whereas, the said property had legally laid and levied against same Paving Certificate No. 132, issued to the Panhandle Construction Company in the sum of $254.30 for paving abutting said property, and there was delinquent on August 9, 1921, the sum of $84.76, and on May 22, 1922, the sum of $98.82, which said sums were on said dates paid by the said E. P. Earhart, and whereas, the said Annie Ater and

A. B. Ater have failed and refused to discharge said sums or any of them, or any interest accruing thereon, though all said sums are past due and unpaid, the said E. P. Earhart has requested that I execute said trust, as provided in such instrument:
 Therefore, on the First Tuesday in September, 1922, the same being the 5th day of September, 1922, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., at the courthouse door of Lubbock county, in Lubbock, Texas, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash said lot 12, in block 106, town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, to satisfy the sums aforesaid and interest, and apply the proceeds as directed in said deed of trust, executing to the purchaser or purchasers a deed binding the said A. B. Ater and Annie Ater, their heirs and legal representatives to warrant and defend the title to the same against all lawful claims.
 Witness my hand at Lubbock, Texas, August 4th, 1922.

IN MILADY'S REALM

BY MRS. CURTIS A. KEEN
Residence 1119 Fourteenth St.

Furneaux-Duggan
For the Furneaux-Duggan wedding on August 1, 1922, no more beautiful setting could have been inspired than the pretty bungalow of Mr. Chris Furneaux, brother of the bride at Sudan, Texas.

The exterior with trees and garden flowers seemed but an oasis on the wide stretch of plains where this little town is located. The interior of the home was beautifully decorated with trailing vines of smilax and ferns, with here and there pretty white roses nodding their heads in graceful beauty. An improvised altar, decked with garlands of roses, smilax and fern, was erected, where the nuptial knot was tied.

Promptly at eight o'clock Mrs. Elmer Conley of Lubbock, Texas, in her charming way, sang most impressively "At Dawning" after which Mrs. Arthur Duggan, of Littlefield, announced the coming of the bridal party with Lohengrin's Wedding March.

Mrs. Chris Furneaux of Sudan, Texas, dressed in a pretty white georgette with French embroidered dots of pink, carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses led the bridal party. She was followed by baby Mary Frances Furneaux, flower girl, dressed in a fluffy dress of white organdy and baby Chris Furneaux ring bearer, dressed in a white linen suit.

Mrs. S. F. Greene of Dallas, sister of the bride, wearing an imported gown of white georgette and carrying pink rosebuds, was next in the bridal party.

Then came the bride on the arm of her father. She was gowned in white duchess satin, beautifully trimmed in imported lace with a fish-tail train. Her fan shaped veil was held in place by a bandeau dotted with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley with strings of knotted ribbon.

The groom in conventional black, with his best man, Mr. Elmer Conley, of Lubbock, met the bride at the altar where the beautiful ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Lewis, Presbyterian minister of Lubbock, Texas.

After congratulations and many good wishes were given the newly weds, a salad course with coffee was served to the guests.

A fitting climax for the evening was the cutting of the beautiful bride's cake, after which the bride and groom departed for their new home in Lubbock, Texas. Mr. Lee Duggan is a prosperous young business man in Lubbock, and has a host of friends that cordially greeted them.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Duggan of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Furneaux of Carrollton, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Greene of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. John Furneaux, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Furneaux, Fred Furneaux and John Furneaux, Jr., of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duggan and Miss Alice Duggan of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Myrick; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conley, Misses Mary Meador, Mary Dickinson, Pansy Posey, and Mr. Charles Ferguson, of Lubbock.

Friday Afternoon Needle Club

A very enjoyable afternoon was spent with Mrs. Bill Spikes as hostess to the Friday Afternoon Needle Club, on July 28.

The following members and guests were present: Mesdames McSpadden, L. H. Simpson, J. D. Lindsey, W. H. Long, W. C. Bryan, M. K. Foster, J. M. Denman, J. E. Alexander, Lewis Murfee, F. K. Mitchell, Bill Spikes, Ed Wilson, and Misses Bertie Lee Groce and Blanche Bacon.

The club will meet with Mrs. Frank Barclay on August 11th.

Miss Laura Jones of Fort Worth, is here visiting her sisters, Mrs. R. I. Tubbs, Mrs. Joe Baldridge, Mrs. C. A. Burrus and Miss Lula Jones.

Last Thursday at the home of Mrs. W. R. Specker, Mrs. T. B. Duggan, Mrs. Jed Rix and Mrs. Spencer received a large number of their friends from four to six, in honor of Mrs. Lee Duggan, a recent bride.

The Spencer home was charmingly decorated in gladiolus and other summer flowers. In the receiving line besides the hostess and honoree were Mrs. Furneaux and Mrs. Greene, of Dallas, mother and sister of the bride; Mrs. Chris Furneaux of Sudan and Mrs. A. E. Pool of Abilene, the house guests of Mrs. Rix.

Mesdames Perkins, Merriweather, Wright and Percy Spencer assisted the hostesses in entertaining the guests, and in the dining room they were delightfully served to iced tea, chicken sandwiches, potato chips, olives and mints by Mesdames Guy McAfee, Russell Murick, Elmer Conley and Miss Mary Meador.

Miss Idalou Ellis is attending a house party at Shamrock, Texas, as the guest of Miss Irma Zeigler. Following this house party she will go to Wheeler, Texas, to be the guest of Miss Bess Stiles. Miss Ellis will be out of town probably two weeks. Misses Stiles, Zeigler and Ellis were room mates at Clarendon College.

AT THE CHURCHES

Baptist Church

Sunday School was well attended, and as some of the classes are composed of earnest workers whose intentions are to build the school up a little better at each service, the effects of their work is much in evidence.

Rev. Bowen preached a splendid sermon to an attentive audience at the morning hour the largest crowd that has assembled for the morning service in some time.

Evening services were not so well attended, but another good sermon was preached, and gladly received. The T. E. L. Class has invited the young business men's and young married ladies classes to meet with them next Sunday morning at 9:45 as an interesting program is to be rendered, and the regular lesson as outlined in the class books discussed by members of the three classes. These classes have been instrumental in developing the Sunday school, and are continuing the good work with enthusiasm.

Laymen Meet at Jail

The Laymen of the Baptist Church, and some of the laymen of the Methodist church, conducted a beautiful service at the county jail Sunday afternoon. The boys appreciated the services, joining in the singing, and gave undivided attention to the good talks and prayers rendered. Those boys need the sympathy, love and prayers of the Christian people of Lubbock. Christ can reach them there as well as elsewhere, and is willing and ready to save them, and who knows but in the lives of some of those unfortunate boys there are wonderful possibilities of glory for God. Let's not neglect them.
