ABUNDANCE OF HONEY-MAKING MATERIALS OF EXCEPTIONAL QUALITY ENCOURAGES THOSE INTERESTED

FIVE COLONIES SET PRODUCTION RECORD

Whether or Not They Can Stand the High Winds of the Spring Season Is To Be Determined—Much Hope Held That Adequate Protection Can Be Provided For High Wind Months.

The development of the Plains lies not alone in the development of the well known industries which we seek to build up, but as much in the discovery of the institutions that will prosper in this climate.

The Lubbock County Demonstration farm, superintended by R. E. Karper, is maintained for that purpose as much as for the development of the already well-known industries, and we are glad to know that Mr. Karper is enjoying success in his many attempts to acquaint different institutions to this country, as was shown in his experiment with five colonies of Italian Bees, which were placed on the farm last May.

Just last week Mr. Karper gathered more than three hundred pounds of honey from the five colonies, the extraordinary quality of nature's original sweet being especially noticeable. Mr. Karper bought the bees and housed them in the very best equipment obtainable, and has thus far produced enough honey to pay for the bees and the equipment. That is progress. The bee, while it may be considered as a small asset to a country, is one of the things that will add pleasure to life in Lubbock county. The honey gathered from a few colonies will go a long way in reducing the grocery bill, and in placing them on his place he is taking one step away from the method of living out of paper sacks, a practice which threatens the very foundation of the farming industry.

We do not want anyone to take this article to say that keeping bees on the plains has been proven successful. It has not as yet, as the above mentioned bees were not brought here until in May, and it is known to all members of the plains family who have been here very long that the spring winds are practically over at that time, and just whether or not the bees can be kept here in spite of the wind is not known. Mr. Karper however, sounded an optimistic note while discussing this phase of keeping bees here, declaring that he thought it possible to build adequate protection for them for those trying days when the wind is so high.

The constitution of the bee's wings is so weak that unless something can be done to protect it from the winds in March and April, its existence on the plains would be an up-hill proposition, yet should that phase of the problem be solved, we are sure it will be but a few years until every garden lot will be the scene of the bee hives so well known to South Texas.

The catclaw and mesquite bloom are especially fine for the honey bees, and the material he gathers from those plants is the very best for the making of good honey, according to reports from expert beekeepers, and as Mr. Karper stated while discussing the possibilities of getting the little workers established on the plains, the cotton bloom, sweet clover, and a good many plants abundantly grown here furnish ideal material for his work.

Dr. M. C. Tanbury, Bee expert for the State Department of Agriculture, visited Mr. Karper recently, and expressed great surprise in finding such splendid collection of honey from the five colonies, and declared that "if the professional bee keepers could receive such splendid returns per colony they would figure themselves exceptionally lucky," proving that the little pioneer honey makers on the plains have made a noticeable amount of their short visit on the Experimental Farm, and set an enviable record in honey-making.

In so far as we know the honey gathered from the five above mentioned colonies is the first to be placed on the market on the plains, and as Mr. Karper made extensive investigations into the matter before buying the bees in May, we are sure that had he been kept here at a profit before some news of the venture would have been gathered by him.

Mr. Karper expressed his opinion that the introduction of that bunch of bees to the plains is of great importance to this section, and we vie with him in that opinion. We are sure that anything designed to help the farmer produce more of the necessities of life on the farm is of unestimable value to him, and we are glad to welcome Mr. Honey Bee and his tribe to Lubbock County.

We are going to devote a great deal of space to the activities of Mr. Karper in experimental work of this nature, believing that he is rendering a great service to the farmers, and desiring to further that good work in any manner possible. Keep an eye on Mr. Karper and his Italian Honey Bees, and if he devises some means of protecting them from the spring winds, and thereby enables them to go about their work from day to day unharmed by that only hindering element of nature in this ideal climate, be assured that you can also add a few colonies to your place that will add pleasure and profit to the year's work.

MOTHER OF LOCAL MAN DIED AT BROWNWOOD

The many friends of George W. Brewer, who has been in Lubbock for some time with the Claude B. Hurlbut Loan Company, and who is now assistant to the County Clerk, Herbert Stubbs, regret very much to learn of the death of his mother, Mrs. E. G. Brewer, at her home at Brownwood, July 22.

Mrs. Brewer was called home at the time she began to grow dangerously ill, and reached home several hours before the end came.

The Avalanche extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

PROMINENT MIDLAND MAN WEDS LAST SUNDAY P. M.

Horace H. Eiland and Miss Alyce Taylor were united in marriage at the Baptist church in Sweetwater Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the Rev. G. C. Farris officiating.

Mr. Eiland is connected with the First National Bank of Midland where the couple expect to make their future home.

Miss Taylor came in on the afternoon Santa Fe from Denton. Good wishes were extended the couple by Mr. Woodward, Mrs. Farris and Miss Opal Prater.—Sweetwater Reporter.

ROAD BONDS ARE CARRIED AT SLATON BY MAJORITY

Slaton, Aug. 21.—In a heated contested election Saturday the bond issue of $25,000 for the building of two hard-surfaced roads thru Yellowhouse Canyon, north of Slaton, carried 186 to 93, just the required two-thirds vote.

The vote in Slaton precinct was 170 for and 93 against, while the McClung box showed 16 for and none against.

The majority by which these bonds were carried reflects well the progressiveness of Lubbock county people, and the Avalanche is glad to know that the roads of the county are to be improved.

Slaton, it seems, is awakened to a spirit of aggressiveness which is helping her come to the front in a great hurry, and we are glad that through the betterment of their roads the people of that vicinity are going to start the foundation work for building up Lubbock county in an admirable manner.

There are so many prospectors touring the Plains at this time that we should be very careful about our roads, as by on other means is a county judged more than the roads and we are in hopes no one will have occasion to remain in a State of disgust at the condition of our roads very long.

LUBBOCK COUNTY BUSINESS MEN PROVING CONFIDENCE IN PLAINS

THEY REALIZE THAT THERE IS SOMETHING TO THE PLAINS—EXPRESSING CONFIDENCE IN COUNTRY

LUBBOCK COUNTY FARMS ARE NOT RUINED

Cotton Acreage is Large Enough to Make Total Production Greater Than Last Year—Some Feed Already Made—Good Rain Would Improve Prospects Greatly.

REALTORS STILL ON THE JOB DEVELOPING THE PLAINS

We are afraid that the much deplored real estate agent is not given his just dues as a developer, and we believe that anyone well acquainted with the local land peddlers, will admit that they are certainly adding their lot to bringing the people to the plains who shall take an active part in the development of this section.

Three tracts of land were sold near Sudan the first of the week by the Texas Land Exchange to Dickens County men, who will start making improvements, and placing the land under cultivation in a short time.

The realtors realize that their work has been on the bum for some time on account of the continued drought, but they have remained optimistic through it all, and are now realizing the advantage of staying on the job though land was not selling very well, as some of the men who visited them and who were taken about over the country to return to their homes without taking any action in buying lands, are now coming back with the idea that the Plains is the place for them, and the realtors are getting their part in the business they missed when conditions were more adverse.

Stay in there realtors. It takes all kinds of people to make a world, and if none of our people did less than a good many of our real estate men, this country would be so densely populated within a few months that we would have to go west for more room.

The Avalanche sees in the development of the plains a gigantic undertaking, and is willing to cooperate with the realtors in every manner possible to interest the fellows from "back East," "out west," "up north" and "down south" that Lubbock is the Hub of the Plains, and the most ideal place in which to live anywhere, and there are untold possibilities in this country for making money by exerting enough effort and putting enough gray matter into the proposition.

Let's go.

If there is anything the matter with the plains it is all in us folks who populate this section.

Lubbock County's prospects for a bumper crop are somewhat reduced by the dry weather, but building in Lubbock and about the county continues to go on in spite of the fact that there are some people who think this country is doomed insofar as financial conditions are concerned.

The writer took an automobile trip over a section of the county a few days ago, that being our first one for several days, and we were astonished to see the cotton and a great deal of the feed standing up so well under the continued drought.

There are farms about over the county that are greatly damaged by the continued drought, while there are others which have splendid chances to make good yields, and still others that are practically already made. This condition is not any indication that the plains are not alright. We believe in Lubbock county just as faithfully as we did in the early spring when it looked like a bale of cotton to the acre and an over-production of all kinds of feed stuff was inevitable.

We believe that the farmers will wind up their business this fall with a good profit on the right side of the ledger, as though the cotton may have deteriorated to some extent, the increased acreage will place the total number of bales far above last fall's total, and after all, though cost of production is a little heavier than last year, that is pretty good as compared with conditions elsewhere.

It has never failed to rain on the plains some twenty-four hours before it was too late, and we are confident that it never will. We believe that the man in Lubbock county who is spending more time worrying about conditions than trying to improve them is a piker if there is any such animal in existence, and will advise the poor creature that that method of getting by will never work, or at least as far as we know it never has, and we don't care if it never does.

Anyone may know that a businessman is going to survey his surroundings in every conceivable manner before dabbling down with a big investment in the way of putting up a new brick building or improving and remodeling the older ones, at least all of them we know anything about do, yet we have not heard of a single man in Lubbock or Lubbock county canceling his building contracts because it didn't come a three-inch rain last week. Those fellows who are doing the building have been here so long that they know the plains. They know Lubbock, and they know Lubbock county. They realize that a few weeks down in the mouthedness will not buy anything, and that the genuineness of this country is not to be doubted.

They know that Lubbock county is going to make a showing when the harvest records can be shown, and they know that there is another year coming when things will in all probability be even better than now. That's why they are building, remodeling and keeping it up.

Down to brass tacks and facts that are worth considering—you and I are about the luckiest fellows on earth that we are living in Lubbock—the Hub of the Plains.

Cheer up.

Intercity Meeting of the Rotary Clubs of Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock Held in Plainview Last Tuesday

Members of the Rotary Clubs at Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock enjoyed an intercity meeting at Plainview last Tuesday, when a luncheon was given at the Ware Hotel. About forty attended from the Amarillo Club and ten were present from the Lubbock Club. It was a very enthusiastic meeting, and those who attended were very much pleased with the spirit of the meeting, and it was the general opinion among those present that the intercity movement is a mighty fine thing and it is expected that these three clubs will continue this practice in the future, interchanging the meetings and in that way it is expected that a better general feeling can be developed among the builders of these three splendid and important cities in this section of the plains.

One of the outstanding features of the meeting was the presence of the District Governor, John V. Singleton, who addressed the members of the various clubs, giving them words of encouragement and offering some splendid suggestions for the consideration of the various Rotary clubs. His home is in Waxahachie, and he has supervision over all the Clubs in Texas which comprises the 13th District. He stated that this was his first visit to this section of the State, and is the case with everyone who has never seen the wonderfulness of this part of the Lone Star State. He was well pleased with the progress of the clubs in this part of the state, and the most generous reception accorded him. Other members of the three clubs spoke and the program was full of good thought, interspersed with fun and music in a way that made it real interesting. In the afternoon a ball game was played between Amarillo and Plainview Rotarians, and the Amarillo staff correspondent has this to say about the game:

"As a fitting close to a big Intercity Rotary Day at Plainview today the Amarillo Rotary team battled the Rotary team from Plainview through three long hours of strenuous baseball in which several pitchers were used as well as all utility men available and at times it seemed necessary for one side to have to "put out" their opponents. A world's record, so far as is known, was laid up today in that there were a total of one hundred and five hits secured during the nine innings, fifty-nine by Amarillo, and forty-six by Plainview. It is understood that the official scorekeeper did not attempt to keep track of the errors after the first hour and a half.

"The final score showed that Amarillo had twenty-three tallies, while Plainview scored seventeen. For the Amarillo team Bill Smith tallied six runs, but some of the fans seem to think that great credit is due to "Doc" Parcells who got only seven hits out of seven times at bat and drove in ten scores ahead of him.

"There were only two pitchers used by either side, possibly because no others were available. Horn and Harbut pitching for Plainview, with Jesse Rogers and Parcells twirling for Amarillo. Don Johns received for the visitors, and John Trolinger for the visitors, both going the entire route of necessity. Dr. E. L. Dye performed as referee to the entire satisfaction of both sides.

"Score by innings:
Amarillo 195 234 422—23
Plainview 301 007 222—17

"The game was called at 4 o'clock, terminating along about 8 o'clock after which the Amarillo delegation drove back to Amarillo voicing appreciation of their reception and visit with the Plainview and Lubbock Rotarians.

"Thirty-five Rotarians and five guests registered for Amarillo, and ten from Lubbock."

KU-KLUX VISIT NEGRO TOWN, GIVING WARNINGS

"Nigger town" was about the busiest place in all the city late Tuesday evening when, it is reported, about a dozen and a half masked and armed Klansmen entered that section of the city, left a few warnings to the dusky citizens that it would be better for their physical welfare to get jobs and stay on them if possible. The Klansmen, it is reported, harmed no one while in that section, other than scaring a few of the darkeys out of several months' growth.

It is claimed by a local boot-black that two carloads of the fellows felt that their activities in lawlessness might be revealed to the Klansmen, and fearing their actions if such news reached them, "blew town."

Ten or twelve negroes are reported to have occupied the cars.

MEN WHO ROBBED STORE AT BROWNFIELD CAPTURED

Word has been received in Lubbock that the men who robbed the Bird & Dean store at Brownfield some time ago have been arrested and were returned to Brownfield last week.

It is not known whether or not the goods can be returned to the store, and whether the capture of the thieves is to result in any material gain to the store owners is to be learned.

LONE DEPUTY SHERIFF GETS MAN AND STILL

John Plesha of the Upper Wyntonchee is resting in the county jail for a period of 90 days and has had the pleasure of being fined $500 by Justice Lewis B. Bignold, when he pleaded guilty to a manufacturing charge early Thursday morning.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Inmon laid out in the woods all night Wednesday near Plesha's still, and when Plesha came around and started up the fire Thursday morning the deputy arrested him and brought him to Montezuma.

The still is about 30-gallon capacity and there was a small quantity of moonshine on hand.—Montezuma Vidette (Washington).

Deputy Sheriff Roy Inmon is a nephew of J. T. Inmon of Inmon's Grocery, and we are glad indeed to have knowledge of his success in suppressing the lawless effort in that section of Washington.

The deputy is only about twenty-four years of age, yet his success in that work has gained an enviable reputation in that section of the state where run runners are menacing the towns, and we are sure that from accounts received of his activities in that work, he is one of the substantial citizens of that section.

BROWNFIELD

From The Herald
Just about the entire business population of the city of Meadow was in our village Monday trying to settle the question of whether or not the public well should be moved right out of the middle of the street—if we understood the matter. Some of them were for removal, but others just as strenuously opposed, as they could not sell the old well for post holes at this time of year.

Aut Graham returned this past week from Eddie, Texas, where he was called to attend the funeral of his brother, J. L. Graham, who died of paralysis July 30, and was buried August 1. He was older than A. E. of this place. Aut said people all over the black land belt were suffering for rain just the same as the plains people, if not more so. He says cotton men say it will take from six to seven acres to make a bale in Bell county.
Mrs. Fred Smith was painfully but not seriously burned Monday about noon when she undertook to start a fire in the kitchen range. There was some fire in the range from breakfast cooking, and she poured kerosene on the embers which created a gas, and when she undertook to light it, the hot caps were blown up into her face. Her face, eyebrows, throat and chest suffered the most. She was resting quite well Tuesday morning.

E. A. Morgan drove down from Lubbock early Sunday morning—before breakfast, after his family who had been visiting Mrs. Morgan's sister, Mrs. Stricklin for a week. They returned home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Percy Spencer and children, of Lubbock, were here last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randall.
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. May of Lubbock, were down last week visiting their son and daughter, Tom May and Mrs. W. B. Downing. This was the first time they had been in Brownfield for quite awhile.

Guthrie Cook, of the dry goods firm of A. B. Cook & Son, received the contract to carry mail between Brownfield and Lubbock each Sunday, leaving here at 10:00 a. m. and returning at 4:00 p. m. The contract price, we understand, was in the neighborhood of $600.00 per year. In order that everything should go just right and to get Guthrie started out just right, Postmaster T. G. Price accompanied him on the first trip last Sunday.
Last Sunday was the first time in the history of Brownfield that the citizens were able to go to the postoffice and get their dailies, and the patrons of that office have the postmaster to thank to a great extent for the service, as he has worked tirelessly for it.

A semi-floating rear-axle is now provided, embodying the latest ideas in rear axle design. The main housing is 75 per cent stronger. One large Timken bearing at the hub replaces two small bearings and gives 100 per cent greater carrying capacity. BATTERY DEALER NOW HANDLES ESSEX & HUDSON

J. E. Conner, of the Lubbock Battery Company, is now handling Essex and Hudson automobiles, making his already busy place one of the big business institutions of the city.

Mr. Conner's persistence in advertising and boosting his business is equaled only by the efforts he places back of his work in meeting the requirements of a well advertised business, and we are sure that with the same principles applied to selling cars as was put back of the battery business, the Essex and Hudson people will find that their Lubbock dealer is one of the big numbers in the Texas territory.

We are glad to know that Mr. Conner's business has been expanded to such extent, and are confident of his success in the new venture.

Indications are for a general revival of business in many lines here, and we are glad that the people of Lubbock who desire the Essex and Hudson cars will not be obliged to go to Plainview or elsewhere for them, as has been the custom heretofore.

The automobile business in Lubbock is conducted on a high plane of friendly competition among the dealers, and the utterance of one of the dealers a few days ago, "We have a good many car salesmen here, but it seems that they are all doing well, and I guess the people of Lubbock are glad to have so many such distributors located here," is certainly in line with public sentiment, and we are sure the gradual improvement of financial conditions throughout the plains will make that business all the better.

We feel that Mr. Conner is getting into the automobile business in Lubbock at the proper time, and that he will demonstrate the fact before many months have passed.

H. S. FOOTBALL TEAM DOING CONDITIONING WORK

O. F. Sensabaugh, coach of the Lubbock High School Football team, announced Saturday that beginning Monday at seven p. m. the team was started on conditioning workout, principal exercise to be taken in swimming, running and such work as will gradually toughen the team in order that at the beginning of the season they will be in shape to get down to work.

Sensabaugh is without parallel in footballdom as a coach, and the work his team did last year speaks for his ability in that work. He says he is going to make those old boys tougher than prize fighters before the season opens, as last term some of the fellows were so soft at the opening, that in getting into the hard work, playing in a few games without sufficient practice, they were put at great disadvantage, and suffered untold agony from the bruises received on their undeveloped muscles.

"Swimming is the greatest exercise of all, and before that bunch gets through with the pool they will be tough enough to get into the hardest battle of the season without doing themselves any irreparable harm," is about the way Mr. Sensabaugh summed up the advantage of giving that extra drilling.

"I guess I will have to get someone to make me acquainted with my homefolks in order that they will let me spend Sunday at home," he said, declaring that the boys would be drilled each day. As he kept on "the go with" the Boy Scouts, extra Rotary work and other activities that demand much of his time, plus his efforts at the express office, there is little time dragging

TAHOKA

From Lynn County News

Rev. J. S. Upton, pastor of the M. E. Church, was called to Lubbock Wednesday to hold the funeral services for Mrs. D. C. Ross, who died in that city Tuesday. Mrs. Ross is the wife of Rev. D. C. Ross, Methodist minister, well known to many Tahoka people. The passing away of this good Christian lady will be learned with deep regret by our people. It will be remembered that a liberal donation was made by the local Methodist people to erect a home in Lubbock for this aged couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Greene, of Post, were in Tahoka a short while Tuesday on their return trip from Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Green formerly resided in Tahoka, and have many close friends here. He is now agent for the Packard automobile.

Although the dry weather continues, feed and cotton crops are reported to be holding up well in Lynn county, especially in this true of the cotton crop. It is estimated by reliable farmers from different communities that the yield will be anywhere from one-third to one-half bale to the acre and this without any more moisture. Foster's Weather Bureau predicts rain for the western portion of Texas, the latter part of the present month. It is estimated that Lynn county has planted a larger cotton acreage this year than ever before and the yield will be bigger than ever before in its history. Sometime during the night, Thursday, August 10, a thief broke into an immigrant car containing the household goods of G. L. Stephens, and made away with a number of barber tools belonging to a son of Mr. Stephens. At this writing no trace of the thief or stolen goods had been found by the local officers.

The Methodist denomination of Tahoka, closed a fine series of seven days meetings at the city tabernacle last Sunday night with large crowds and considerable interest manifested. Rev. C. V. Williams, of Melrose, N. M., ably presented the gospel in its power and simplicity to large audiences during the entire meeting, and many members were received into the church. A liberal contribution was made up and presented to Bro. Williams at the eleven o'clock service Sunday, and also for the singer, Ernest Patterson, and pianist, Mrs. S. E. Reid, at the evening service. Rev. Williams returned to his home Monday for a few days rest, after which he will begin another meeting near his home town.

Jno. J. Stokes, of O'Donnell, passed through town Wednesday en route to Lubbock on a business trip. While here he placed an order for candidate cards in his race for Public Weigher of the O'Donnell precinct. Mr. Stokes received a nice plurality over the other candidates for this office in the first primary, but liked a few votes of getting a two thirds majority which compelled him to run it off in the second primary.

Oscar Sumner bought a bunch of cows and calves from Hal Singleton at O'Donnell and were shipped in from that point over the Santa Fe Monday. Mr. Sumner branded the calves at the stock pens Monday afternoon.

The News has been requested to announce that Rev. S. J. Upton, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach at the City Tabernacle Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. No services at either the Methodist or Baptist church Sunday night. Both Rev. Upton and Rev. Dasher will be out of town holding meetings Sunday night. The public is invited to attend the eleven o'clock services Sunday at the city tabernacle.

PLAINVIEW

From The News

John V. Singleton of Waxahachie, governor of the Rotary clubs of Texas, will deliver an address at the Rotary luncheon here next Tuesday at noon. About fifty Rotarians from Amarillo, and twenty-five from Lubbock will attend the luncheon, and Tom Galtaher of Amarillo, will preside at the luncheon. Matters pertaining to the three large towns of the Plains will be discussed. In the afternoon there will be a base ball game between the Amarillo and Plainview Rotary teams, the proceeds to be used for the Boy Scout work of the clubs. The people of Plainview are urged to attend the game, for it will be a very interesting one.

Dr. S. J. Underwood of Hale Center, was in town today and said a rain of three-fourths an inch fell southwest of that town yesterday noon.

The editor of the News has a post card from J. B. Maxey, postmarked on the Mexican side of the border of California, saying that he and his family are having a wonderful trip in their car, visiting Southern California points. Mrs. A. H. Lindsay of Amarillo, is with them on the trip from Los Angeles to San Diego, the card says.

The annual week's outing of the Plainview boy scouts will be held in the canyons, in J. H. Leach's pasture, thirty-three miles east of the city, beginning Monday August 28. Mr. Kilinger tells us that it is a very beautiful place and convenient, and many visitors are expected to go from here to see the boys during the outing.

CROSBYTON

From The Review

The West Texas Primitive Baptist Association convened last night under an arbor prepared for the occasion near the depot, with Rev. T. A. Dunn as moderator. A very large delegation was present and a very interesting and profitable meeting is predicted. About ten preachers are in attendance, we are told, and there will be three services each day, running to Sunday night, commencing at 10 a. m., 3 p. m., and 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

President W. M. Romane of the Crosby County Fair Association, has informed the Review that the dates for holding the Crosby County Fair in Crosbyton had been set for September 21st, 22nd and 23rd. These dates were selected for the convenience of the public, so that the fair may be held just before the county fair to enable them to bring their exhibits on to Crosbyton and at the close of the County Fair all of our exhibits would be carried to the Lubbock Fair and then on to

J. S. Boyd, one of the trustees of the Wake school, was in town Monday afternoon on business for his school district. They have just recently let the contract for a new school building and work on same is now under good headway. The building will be a three room L-shape, 24x128 structure and will be a credit to that progressive community. The School Board will sell at public auction the two small houses they have been using for school purposes, an advertisement of which appears elsewhere in the Review.

The Baptist revival meeting as announced in the Review last week commenced Sunday with services by the pastor, Rev. B. N. Shepherd, and Monday afternoon Evangelist W. H. Sims and his singer, W. G. Ashford, both of Abilene, arrived and services are being held at 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. each day. Large crowds are in attendance each service and the interest has been keen from the start, with twenty-six additions to the church up-to-date, five by letter and twenty-one by baptism. Interest continues to grow and the meeting will last all next week. Come out if you want to hear some good preaching and singing, and also bring a friend with you.

ALL ABOARD FOR A CLEANER LUBBOCK!

Keeping the moral atmosphere of a place clean and untainted, is one of the greatest things that can be accomplished for a town. The fact that a town has a reputation of this kind has a tendency to bring people of the higher class, while on the other hand, vice versa. A town can easily get a reputation for being tough, but it is a much more difficult job to maintain its reputation the other way. In order that we may keep Lubbock in the higher class; we should be very careful what kind of people we urge to come here. Choosing citizenship is a privilege that most towns have. If the business men of a community will show a strong disposition to encourage only the higher type of business associates, and rather frown upon that class that is likely to discredit the high-class business standing in the community we can keep it thus, and the same is true of the citizenship in private life. The city authorities can like wise be of great help in keeping the moral atmosphere pure. We are glad to know that our present mayor and council, is making efforts along this line. We have learned that of late a number of men and women have been given to understand that their presence are not only desired, but it has been frolicably impressed upon them that their actions in Lubbock is not going to be tolerated, and as a result our city has been rid of several very undesirable characters within the past few weeks. Our officials should certainly have the wholesale backing of the citizenship of this city in this work, and not only back them up in the work, but assist them in every way possible, to carry out the program of cleaning out this class of folks. A few putrid spots still exist in and around Lubbock, according to reports, what is generally considered the high-class homes, and these too, should be handled without gloves and in an uncompromising way. As long as this high-class set is allowed to operate, unmolested, it will bring reproach upon the name of the city and community, and certainly the report should be ferreted out by the officials of this town, and such rottenness brought to an abrupt end. If there is any way in the world to rid the town of such characters or straighten them up, let's have the remedy applied.

DEMOCRATIC PROSPERITY VS. REPUBLICAN DISASTER

The estimated wealth of the United States when President Wilson went into office in 1913 was $185,000,000,000; it increased to $300,000,000,000 in eight years of Democratic rule—a gain of $115,000,000,000. The present estimated wealth of the United States is $225,000,000,000—a loss of $75,000,000,000 in fifteen months under Republican rule.

Since the Republican power was voted into power in November, 1920, the American farmer alone have suffered a loss of near $30,000,000,000.

The Republicans promised the country PROSPERITY; they have given it ADVERSITY.

They promised to stimulate agriculture and business; they have given an industrial panic and destroyed our foreign markets. Foreign trade declined from $13,500,000,000 in 1920 to near $6,000,000,000 in 1922.

They promised to reduce taxes; they have shifted taxes of the multi-millionaire and profiteering class to the smaller taxpayers without lifting taxes or reducing them. Repeal of the Excess Profits Tax relieved the Big Interests of paying $450,000,000 in taxes; reduction of the highest surtax relieved them of paying $61,500,000.

They promised to reduce the high cost of living; they have given a Profiteers' tariff bill which increases the high cost of living, and makes the farmer pay $5 on everything he buys for each $1 of "protection" he gets.

They promised to reduce the expenses of the government; they have increased the expenses of running the various departments of the government (1923 budget), three years after the war $536,000,000 compared to 1915, three years before the war, with an estimated deficit of $500,000,000 in addition—or $1,000,000,000 increase.

A poultry buyer told us yesterday that chickens were hard to buy just at this time. He drives through the country and says the farmers are using a great many of their chickens for family consumption, and not offering many for sale. We are quite confident that there will be a greater demand for chickens this fall than ever before. Most of the people in this section will have an abundance of feed stuff and will profit much by the raising of poultry.

DO NOT FAIL TO VOTE

Too many we fear will remain at home tomorrow and not express their preference of the various candidates for the various offices to be supplied. There is just as much importance attached to the primary tomorrow, as there was on the 22nd of July. The race for United States Senator is waging hot. Mayfield and Ferguson are snapping at each other, and many people are undecided which to support. Jim Ferguson is an advocate of light wine and beer, which is only a stepping stone to the open saloon. He tried to get this proposition submitted to the people in the primary, but could not get by the State Executive Committee. He bolted the Democratic party two years ago, and tried to put his American party over, and if for no other thing to cripple the Democrats and put Republicans in power. He has a zig zag record on matters of moral nature and the people of Texas should see to it that it is not allowed to go to the United States Senate. It is a dead cinch that his followers will vote tomorrow and his vote will be heavy, and it is very important that those who are against him should poll their vote. The women of the State should rise up in their might, and cast a decisive vote against him.

PROFANITY ON BALL GROUNDS

In our opinion there is entirely too much profanity on the ball grounds. Language that should never be used in the presence of ladies and children, and which a great number of men do not appreciate, is freely indulged in on the Lubbock lot. In the last game that was played here between the Hubbers and an opposing team, there seemed to be an unusual amount of sulphur and brimstone in the air, and the dirty oaths and limeric slang of various and sundry brands was being hurled back and forth among the players, and relayed by some of the fans till the atmosphere was dense with its violence. There is no necessity for this. Most all Americans enjoy base ball and attend the game for the purpose of seeing it played; and just why one has to be forced to listen to such a fusillade of stuff, we cannot understand. If common decency and a desire to be gentlemanly will not control a man, then there should be pressure brought to bear that will eliminate the practice. No gentleman will remain as such, to their minds, who will swear in the presence of ladies. A few women will listen to it and smile. Put a stop to "cussin'" on the ball grounds if you want to hold the respect of the decent people of the community.

The Fair Committee is working long hours just now to get everything in shape for the fair. The premium list has been arranged and is now in the hands of the Avalanche job department where it is being rushed to completion, and will be ready for the public in a short time. Other arrangements are being rushed along, and the fair this fall will put on an altogether different appearance to what it has ever had. It will be larger, the buildings will be better, and there will be a much larger range of exhibits than ever shown. More county exhibits will be entered and there will be more community and individual exhibits this year than last. The fair is growing, and Lubbock is going to be the fair city of the Plains. The people of Lubbock are standing by the directors, and while it will be a hard pull for several years, when it is once established, and this stage is rapidly developing, it will be one of the great attractions of the Southwest. Stay in there directors, you will see a fair that will stand high in rank with the big fairs of the State in the very near future.

The Lynn County News complains that the Chamber of Commerce in the city of Tahoka is not functioning. It is very important to the growth and development of a community that the machinery that keeps the town moving, be kept in first class working order. The Chamber of Commerce is certainly one of the most important organizations of the community for the furtherance of the general interests of the town. Even if some of the old mossbacks do claim that it is wrong to have a paid secretary to look after the business of the community, it does not necessarily make it a true statement. "Everybody's business is nobody's business" hence is never done, applies to community work about the best of anything we know of. Tahoka or no other town can expect to grow and develop as it should without the aid of some organized effort.

Don Biggers, formerly of Cisco, of Colorado, of Abilene, of Lubbock, of Eastland and possibly other places, but now of Fort Worth, is on the Republican ticket as a candidate for the office of Agricultural Commissioner. The Rotan Advance has the following to say regarding Don and his candidacy: "Mr. Biggers has been affiliated with most of the political parties and radical movements, except the Ku Klux Klan, once or more times, but this is, we believe, his first or second Republican line-ups. Don is one of these sports who will 'try anything once.'"

The Chamber of Commerce is receiving some as fine samples of farm produce, fruit and vegetables as one ever saw, and there is going to be stuff on exhibition at the fair from this and other counties around here that will open the eyes of folks who do not realize the wonderful productiveness of the South Plains.

After all, in the Lubbock section the prospects for crop yield is just about as good, if not a little better than most any other section. There is going to be a heavy demand for farms this fall. Fact of the matter there are people in our office every week now wanting to rent land on which to farm next year.

People who have rooms to rent, furnished or unfurnished, should let it be known through the columns of the Avalanche. We could not do it every room in town if we had a list of them. Our classified columns are result getters.

More business houses will be needed to take care of those who want to enter business here. There is more building going on here now than any other town on the Plains, but the more we build, the more we need.

ROTARY NOTES

By L. T. Martin

The Lubbock Rotary Club is now out of the infant class and into the intermediate class. Division D, of Rotary Clubs in the State of Texas are those clubs who have forty members and less than fifty. With Dr. H. C. Duering coming into the club puts us in the fifty class, which now moves our place to C. We will have to go some before we can get in Class B. There are only fifteen clubs in Class C, which are those clubs having from fifty to one hundred members. Now that the Lubbock Rotary Club has got into a higher class let us try to have better attendance. We are now in Amarillo's class and the writer served notice on the Amarillo Club at the Mineral Wells convention that the Lubbock club was going after the Rotary Wheel they were putting up as an attendance prize. Lets all get in line with Butterflake and make our attendance 100 per cent. This contest started May 1, but we were not officially notified that the contest was on.

The program was changed this week from a Fair program to a program given for the benefit of District Governor John Singleton, whom we knew had a good message for the club. After the invocation, C. L. Griffin, our song leader, had the members sing community songs before allowing them to sit down to eat. This is not a bad idea as it just makes a better feeling among the club members. If you can get a man to sing or laugh he always enjoys his luncheon better.

Skeeter Hunt introduced the visitors, a list of which will be given in these notes. He read a letter to the club from Lawrence B. Martin, Jr., thanking the club for flowers sent him while he was in the hospital. Lawrence said that while his wounds were not all healed up he had gone back to work, and that he was feeling all right; just that the flowers made things just look a little brighter for him while he was away from home and in the hospital.

Roscoe Wilson was called upon to instruct Joe Griffith into the knowledge of Rotary, which he did in well chosen language. If a man joining Rotary pays strict attention to what Roscoe tells him he can not help but become a better citizen and a better man. The Home Brew Quartette rendered one of their songs, which always brings applause from the club members. Chairman of the entertainment committee had to put a taboo on encores, or they would have kept the Home Brew Quartette singing all through the luncheon hour. John Singleton, District Governor of Rotary, in the State of Texas, whose home is in Waxahachie, was then introduced. His talk to the club was not only very instructive but interesting as well. The first club organized in Texas, was at Dallas in May, 1911.

There are now sixty-four clubs in Texas, with a membership of over four thousand. His talk along boys work was fine and the Rotary clubs all over this section of Texas are carrying out his program for the boys' work. In the matter of attendance he said that we should not try to build up our club unless we could properly sell Rotary to the individual before he comes into the club. The man that just came to the luncheon often enough to hold his membership should resign so as to leave his classification open to a man who would make the attendance better. The individual who was lacking in his attendance kept the percentage of the attendance down in the club. The club that did not insist that the individual attend all meetings was also, keeping the Division or classification in the state from making good showing, and the different classes did not show a good percentage of membership was keeping the District back, which made it hard on the District Governor to make a good showing internationally. The most of us can make our attendance to 100 per cent. If by any chance we happened to be away from home on club day we should attend some other town at their regular meeting which would count for attendance in the home club. District Governor Singleton was at Plainview on Tuesday in attendance of the Inter-city meeting of the Rotary Club composed of Plainview, Amarillo and Lubbock. Plainview entertained royally with one of the best luncheons it had been his pleasure to eat for some time. There were talks by our president, Jed Rix, of Lubbock; H. C. Pipkin of Amarillo, and address by John V. Singleton, Governor of the 13th District of Rotary. All those hearing these men talk could not help but be better citizens of Rotarians. I am sorry that space will not allow me to give the individual talks of these men. Vocal selections by a mixed quartette, composed of Mrs. Arilla Peterson, Mrs. E. W. O'Keefe, Mr. Matt Cram and Mr. Jacob Burkett, with Mrs. Guy Jacob as accompanist, were rendered. It is well worth one's drive from here to Plainview and back to hear these good people sing. Tickets were furnished all Rotarians to attend the picture show. A ball game between Amarillo Rotarians and the Plainview Rotarians at the ball park was an interesting feature of the day. The score for nine innings, was 23 to 17, in favor of Amarillo. Jed Rix issued a challenge for the winning team to come to Lubbock, and play the Lubbock Rotarians. Don't take this score as a criterion for their playing, for believe me, they are some ball players, and Lubbock will have to whip themselves into line to ever get to first base.

that he had a new road to come back to Lubbock, which would take us around all of the newly worked roads between Abernathy and Hale Center. When we got to Hale Center he drove us down past the Texas Kid's Rodeo shows and the depot in between the track and the water tank, inspected the elevator, but no road could be found out of Hale Center except the one which we had come over, which he finally decided we would have to take. Now we will vouch for Jed's being strictly sober, and I don't feel that you could pry the lid off in Plainview for anything that would make a man drive crooked. However, when we got to Abernathy, the stuff seemed to be still working, for he drove us to the depot and down to the water tank and elevator in Abernathy. He was informed by the bunch that whenever he got through making a survey of these little towns that we were ready to go to Lubbock. We got through Monroe all right and reached Lubbock about ten o'clock p. m. All reported a very enjoyable day.

The following visitors attended the Lubbock Rotary Luncheon: A. D. Montgomery, Mr. Peters, Mrs. L. C. Montgomery, Lubbock, guests of L. C. Montgomery; Roy Gamble, Lubbock, guest of F. N. Payne; Drees, Wilson, Wendell, Holland, all guests of L. T. Martin; Rev. H. W. Burwell, guest of Neil Wright; Temple Ellis, Lubbock, guest of W. B. (Frog) Hilton; J. Frank Carter, Temple, guest of Lubbock Rotary Club; J. Rankin Dow, Lubbock, guest of J. L. Dow; Dr. Krueger, Lubbock, J. E. Griffith, Lubbock, John V. Singleton, Waxahachie, all guests of Jed Rix.

CHAS. W. ROBERTS THANKS LUBBOCK CO. SUPPORTERS

Seagraves, Texas, Aug. 15, 1922. To my Friends and Supporters: To every man and woman of the 119th Legislative District who cast their ballot for me for Representative in the recent primary election, I wish to extend my sincerest thanks and appreciation. Although I did not receive the nomination I did make new friends enough to more than repay me for all the time and effort put forth. I shall never forget you nor the encouragement you so heartily gave me. And some day, if the time and circumstances seem favorable, I may again place my political destiny into your hands, and perhaps next time the gods of politics will smile more kindly upon my efforts. To those who voted against me I bear no malice or ill will. I probably deserved to lose. Ella Wheeler Wilcox summed up my philosophy of life when she said, "What Ever Is, Is Best." I have no swan song to sing. I made a clean race and lost. I shall go to the University as intended, and there try to prepare myself for a larger and broader field of service to the people of West Texas. I shall be glad indeed to be counted as a humble private in the ranks of those who are seeking to build a great civilization on these broad and fertile plains. It shall be my aim and purpose to help uphold the hands of our Representative in his fight for a fair and just consideration of the needs of West Texas. I remain, gratefully yours, CHAS. W. ROBERTS.

REVIVAL MEETING AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The revival meeting at the First Presbyterian church opened Wednesday evening under most favorable circumstances. A splendid first night congregation assembled to hear Dr. Burwell preach, and it is gratifying to note that he seems to be at his very best at this time. His sermon Wednesday was taken from Romans 1:1 and he preached a very forceful message to his hearers, urging them to align themselves under the banner of Jesus, encouraging them in every way possible to continue doing great work. Services will continue for some time, beginning promptly at ten o'clock in the morning and at eight o'clock in the evening. We will appreciate your coming out and worshipping with us, and assure you that Dr. Burwell has a message that will do you good. You are cordially invited to attend, and we will exert every effort to make you comfortable. Church Reporter.

JOIN HANDS TO BUILD UP

By Leonard Withington in Star Telegram.

Democracy is a form of government deriving its powers from the people, controlled and managed by the people in the interests of the people. Under a democracy the interests of all the people are paramount. They precede the interests of any particular class or section of the people.

In its practical working, democracy is the rule of the majority with the rights of the minority protected. In spirit it must not be the government merely in the interests of the majority but government in the interests of all the people. In practice the majority has the power to decide what is best.

But the rights of minorities must be respected. Else we would have a tyranny of the majority. Certain great principles of the government and human freedom and the rights of man have been agreed upon. They are enshrined in the constitution and protect the rights of the minority against aggression by the majority of the moment.

The present industrial situation is a test to democracy. The vital principle of our government is being tried from more than one angle. We must decide whether the rights and the interests of the vast majority of the people are to be trampled upon in a contest between two comparatively small sections of our citizenship.

At the same time we must determine whether might and power and the accumulation of wealth can flout the laws of the people with impunity and jeopardize the rights of those who toil. But we also must settle the question as to whether force and violence, used by a small minority are to jeopardize the peace of America and the interests of the law abiding citizens in whose alleged behalf foolish men are using them.

Even though we are in the midst of a great industrial crisis there is a sound foundation for the hope that we are here to see in the relations between capital and labor and between both great constructive elements in our life and the people as a whole.

The world is earnestly trying to find a practical way to international peace and the abolition of war. It should strive as earnestly after industrial peace. Great as are the losses of war, the losses of industrial warfare are mounting to almost unbelievable figures.

Industrial peace can only come through mutual respect and an understanding of each other's problems and through a firm determination to arrive at a state of absolute justice and co-operation. It cannot be reached through discord, mutual recriminations and efforts to put something over on the other side.

It will come through the granting of fair and adequate wages and just working conditions by the employers and through co-operation and honest production on the part of the employees. Organization and discipline will be necessary on both sides—smashing the unions will not bring peace and good feeling, sabotage on materials or time will not do it. Americans have established a high standard of living. They prefer high wages and the high prices that are the inevitable result to low wages and low prices. Few employers will not pay high wages if they are assured of a reasonable and steady production—if they can be sure of efficiency.

Here lies the possibility of achieving industrial peace. Let the spirit of mutual respect and co-operation be fostered. Then let organized labor undertake to maintain standards of craftsmanship and of production while organized capital works out plans of industry that will give steady work throughout the year under just working conditions and at a fair and liberal wage.

That is a simple solution, easy of attainment, except for one thing—human nature. Yet human nature, at bottom, is sound and just. The spirit of God has been on the earth and in the hearts of men. It is manifested here and there every day. Is it not worth bringing to lift the burden from a weary world?

The leaders of labor and capital have an unmatched opportunity today. They can defeat the machinations of the radicals—employers and employees—who would perpetuate the spirit of the jungle. They can bring to naught the conspiracies against law and order, against public peace and welfare that selfish men would concoct for selfish ends.

Join hands to build up, gentlemen! Worst thing about bad habits are they are so nice.

Interesting Account of the Early Settlement of Donley County and the Life of Some of the Pioneers

It is not allotted to every man to live out his four score years and still remain hale and hearty. Thos. S. Bugbee, pioneer and wealthy cattleman of Donley county enjoys this distinction. Recently he and his wife celebrated their Golden Wedding at their spacious home in this city.

Starting out at the tender age of thirteen to make his way in the world, naturally under these circumstances he received most of his education in the University of Hard Knocks.

When the war between the States was declared Mr. Bugbee enlisted and was placed in the tenth Regiment of Maine. He took part in a number of decisive engagements, among them being the second battle of Bull Run, at Antietam, Fredricksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and Look-Out Mountain. In one engagement his regiment suffered a loss of 547 men out of 760. At this time he received a flesh wound that incapacitated him for service only a short while and he was soon back on the firing line, where he remained until his time of enlistment expired.

In 1864 Mr. Bugbee cast his first vote. It was for Lincoln. His fortunes seemed to be linked with those of Lincoln in a way he little dreamed. Leaving Washington the night that Lincoln was assassinated, he was passing through Boston when he was apprehended on suspicion of being John Wilkes Booth. He was able to prove his identity by showing his war discharge papers and was permitted to go on his way.

Arriving in Texas in 1869, Mr. Bugbee saw a great future for the cattle industry which was then in its infancy. He bought up many steers and drove them to eastern markets or to further western plains for grass. These trips often covered as many as twenty two hundred miles and occupied three or four months. The lure of the west had his grip on his heart and in 1876, he and his wife and family came to the Panhandle country and settled on the Canadian river on what is now known as Bugbee Creek.

Mrs. Bugbee who is a typical western woman was always a friend to the cowboy. They knew they had a home with the Bugbees and they felt that Mrs. Bugbee had real interest in their personal welfare, often giving them a word of cheer that meant so much for one who was homesick for the "folks back home."

Mr. Bugbee and his wife have seen the onward march of the Indian and buffalo as they beat out a new trail to the far west to give way to the coming forward of civilization which is the heritage of youth of today. They have endured the inconveniences typical of all new countries and especially peculiar to the development of a cattle range into a land of farms and happy homes. Throughout all these trying times they were never too busy with their own affairs to minister to the needs of their neighbors. No truly worthy person ever came to Mr. Bugbee for help and went away disappointed. Many incidents are familiar to his friends when some man was almost to the point of complete failure financially, at this critical moment Mr. Bugbee came to the rescue. Few ever betrayed his trust and friendship. His life is an index to the fact that he considered his wealth a trust and he the steward and when he could use it to benefit humanity he was happy.

From 1900 to 1908 Mr. Bugbee was president of the Panhandle Cattlemen's Association. In the summer of 1908 he was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention which met in Chicago to nominate Taft for president of the United States.

In 1912 he attended a reunion of the ninth and twenty-ninth regiments of Maine, which met in Portland, Maine.

In this community which has been the home of the Bugbees for many years their friends are numbered by the number of their acquaintances. It is the wish of all of these that this pioneer couple may be spared many years to enjoy the love and esteem of their children and neighbors, and that the going down of their western sun may be many months away.—Clarendon News.

A WORD WITH THE VOTERS

It is reported that I am a wealthy man, that I have a 240 acre farm, and rent houses that are bringing me $250 per month, and that all I want with the office of Treasurer is a place to loaf.

I do not own any rent houses, nor a farm of 240 acres. My property consists of three 5-acre blocks two miles from the court house, and a six room home. You do not have to take my word for this—go to the county records and see.

I am not making a poverty plea. I just want to correct some things which have been said that are not true. I have made a success of everything I have tried, by attending to my own business. I believe that anyone who has made a success with his personal affairs is more likely to do the same with the affairs of a county office, and will appreciate your investigating my record.

J. S. SLOVER, Candidate for County Treasurer, Lubbock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Second Primary, August 26. (Now serving by appointment). 48-1f

HORSE DRAWN CARS HAVE COME BACK TO ROBY, TEXAS

Roby, Aug. 21.—Things are a little reactionary here. A few years ago prediction was freely made that the auto would take the place of the horse and mule and that the latter would disappear from the face of the earth. The opposite happened here. Mule-power usurped the place of the steam engine, when the Roby & Northern railway locomotive was superseded by a mule to shove boxcars from North Roby to this place. The locomotive—the only one owned by the company—was condemned. The new owners of Dallas have ordered a brand new locomotive which on its arrival will displace "donkey power" in the transportation system between here and a connection with the Katy railroad.

The Roby and Northern railway is probably the shortest short-line in Texas. It has five miles of track. It was built several years ago and recently was acquired by Dallas capital which, it is hinted, is contemplating an extension of the line to Sweetwater or Snyder.

ORIENT WILL NOT STOP SOON SAYS RAIL BOARD MAN

Austin, August 17.—There will be no immediate shut down on the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, Clarence E. Gilmore of the Texas railroad commission said in a statement issued here today, following receipt of telegrams from officials of the Orient, and Clyde M. Reed, chairman of the Kansas Utilities Commission.

"I feel safe in assuring the people along the Orient railroad in Texas that there will be no shut down at present and that business may continue as it has been with hopes of improved service," the statement said.

Gilmore also expressed the opinion that train service employees of the Orient will not walk out under present conditions of the road and in view of the fact that such action would prevent movement of Texas cotton and other grains to market.

TWO MURDER CASES IN HALE COUNTY DIST. COURT

Plainview, Aug. 17.—Two murder cases will be called for trial in the Hale County District Court next week, and two special venues have been summoned from which juries to set in these cases will be selected. The W. H. Mason case, transferred here from Floyd county, is set for Monday. The W. D. Jordan case will come up for trial shortly after this case is disposed of. Jordan is indicted for murder in connection with the killing early last spring of O. L. Duncan in the Crystal Cafe.

Mason is charged with murder in connection with the killing of Elder Morris in Floyd county. His son, Grady, was first indicted for murder, but the charge was later changed to that of manslaughter, and his case will be tried before the regularly empaneled jury for the week.

I shall not say anything about rain this time, for it seems that we are not going to get any rain until our time comes.

Crops seems to be standing the drouth pretty well and we are living on that great pacifier, "hopes."

Miss Berl Cheney spent Wednesday with Miss Robbie Swofford.

Mrs. Lillie Swofford returned last Wednesday from a month's visit with her parents at Topeka, Kansas. She reports a very nice visit and says she never saw so much fruit at one time before, as she saw on her visit.

Several Moody people attended the meeting in progress at Ropesville, Tuesday night.

Miss Robbie Swofford visited Miss Beryl Cheney Sunday evening.

The people enjoyed a singing last Sunday night at the Harry Patner home.

Mrs. Clofus Elliott went to Ropesville Friday, where she expects to take a teacher's examination, but she was greatly disappointed to learn that no provision had been made for the holding of the examination. No examiners have been appointed and not even the questions gotten.

Saturday was noted for prairie fires. The lightning set them. One originated in the Slaughter pasture Saturday evening, which did considerable damage by burning a great amount of grass, a windmill, scorching cattle, etc. The people fought manfully to put out the fire but only got it under control about sundown, when it reached the green fields south of Moody. By that time two more fires had sprung up, one east and one north of Moody. The

PERHAPS YOU MAY THINK WE SAVE TOO MUCH FOR LIFE INSURANCE—

Here are some expenses we have as a nation: We squander every year:

- $2,100,000,000 for smokes.
- $1,000,000,000 for movies
- $2,230,000,000 for candy and sweets.
- $1,950,000,000 for looks and smells.

These figures are from the report of the Secretary to United States Treasurer Houston.

In luxuries we spend $22,000,000,000
In Life Insurance we save $1,000,000,000

Out of the twenty three billion dollars, 95 cents is wasted on smokes, sweets, looks and smells—less than a nickle is saved in Life Insurance.

Life insurance is primarily for those who realize that death comes without warning; that their dependents are worthy of protection, however Life Insurance is a great saving faculty.—Let me explain to you personally.

men left, without supper to put out these fires. It was 12 o'clock at night before the crew returned from the fire north, in the Elwood pasture.

Ullis King is leaving this week for a trapping expedition on the Boyd ranch. He is being offered $5.00 per head for each coyote he kills, as they are killing so many of Mr. Boyd's calves.

Another Strike Possibility

Walter E. Taylor, Local Architect Having a Great Time in California; Has Trouble With News "Boy"

Los Angeles, Aug. 14, 1922.

With the big red letter banner containing the words, "LUBBOCK, TEXAS" on the back of my car and the big buck horns on the front end, I attract more attention around here than I have since I was a young gallant of twenty-one.

In consequence of a desire to get on top, we scaled Mt. Low yesterday. This mountain reaches 3500 feet above sea level; stands on the beach overlooking the Pacific Ocean. From there we coasted on an electric car down—30 miles to the port of Los Angeles, and on by steamship to and around Cataline Islands, which is 30 miles from the mainland. The Islands consists of 50,000 acres of little mountains, some of them 1,000 feet high. This bunch of earth and rocks settled down two feet into the sea one night last year when a slight earthquake occurred. For fear it would have another fit and sink out of sight, I declined to stay there all night, so I left my comrades there and went back to the mainland.

I went to Santa Monica bathing beach today and saw something less than 50,000 people bathing in the waves. I thought that ladies bathing suits in Lubbock were too scant. But they are very modest compared to those worn here. Two or three ladies bathing suits such as they wear here, could be made out of a pocket handkerchief. I could fold one up and put it into my vest pocket. Eve modestly used fig leaves for cover but these women would want nothing larger than a willow leaf. Seriously speaking, if society here is not rotten, it is surely mortifying. Thousands of seemingly intelligent women—and girls wear these little transparent spider web cloths (and nothing more) to the hotels, at the dinner table and on pleasure drives with their fellows. If you look at one critically, she seems peeved; if you decline or fail to observe her, she shows disappointment. Evidently, they are trying to find some lawful way to discontinue the use of clothes altogether, and have about succeeded. There is no longer any of the one time imaginary mystery about them. The only consolation is—they can go no farther.

Belshazzar and Babylon in all their extreme luxury were moderate and modest compared to the fast set here. If you ever drive out here, be sure you do not accept any of the many free things offered to you. They prove to be very expensive in the end. You need not try to escape being skinned. Their business is skinning tourists and they know their business.

WALTER E. TAYLOR.

It was following out "Daily Papers from all over the United States. Get your Home Paper." I approached and asked for the Lubbock Avalanche. It said there was no such paper published. Then the following dialogue:

"I said, 'I pity your ignorance sir.'"

"Don't sir me. I am a lady."

"I never would have thought it."

"You are brazenly impudent."

"I have to be to keep up with you fellows, who are ignorant of the fact that the Lubbock Avalanche is the leading paper of the best city in the biggest State in the world."

"Say, old man, your mind is wandering."

"Sure it is wandering at the dense ignorance of newspaper sellers out here."

I could tell that it was getting angry, so I sneaked out of it's sight. There are killed and twenty-one crippled by automobiles each week on an average in this city. I would not live in this city at all. It is not safe or sane for real human beings.

WALTER E. TAYLOR.

"MINERAL RESOURCES OF TEXAS."

In our monthly Magazine Section, which will be issued by the Avalanche on September 1, S. H. Sellards, geologist of the University of Texas will discuss under the title of "Mineral Resources of Texas," our coal and lignite fields. Texas has vast natural fuel resources, and in view of the impending scarcity of coal this winter, it might be well for us to read up on our coal and lignite possibilities.

EX-GOV. STUBBS' HEREFORDS AT AUCTION AT HEREFORD

One of the best known herds of Hereford breeding cows in the entire southwest will be dispersed at at W. R. Stubbs' ranch near Hereford, Texas, on Monday and Tuesday, September 11 and 12. This herd of 2800 head of cattle was started thirty-five years ago by Jeff Thompson in the use of registered Hereford cows and bulls. Nothing but the best females were used for replacement purposes, the balance finding their way into the feed lot to be converted into beef.

In later years Ex-Governor W. R. Stubbs, of Kansas, purchased the entire herd, continuing the policy adopted by Mr. Thompson. From the records made in both the show yard and the feed lot this herd has established the enviable reputation of becoming one of the most noted breeding plants in the great State of Texas. For many years the crop of bull calves has been returned to range for breeding purposes at prices from $75.00 to $150.00 per head.

It is indeed too bad that conditions have made it necessary for Governor Stubbs to dispose of this breeding herd in which he has taken so much pride. His loss undoubtedly will be other stockmen's gain.

SEVENTY-FIVE PER CENT OF TEXAS FIRES PREVENTABLE

T. Alfred Fleming, supervisor of the conservation department of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, addressed this week the Summer School of the University of Texas on fire waste and its bearing upon the public welfare. Mr. Fleming is widely known in Texas, also as National authority on fire wastes, visited this State in the Spring of 1920 and again in the fall of 1921, when he spoke to the business men and in the schools of several of the larger cities in Texas.

Mr. Fleming told the students at the Summer School that statistics compiled by him disclosed that fully 75 per cent of the fires that entered into the colossal record were easily preventable and the results of carelessness—carelessness of the individual citizen in failing to construct and equip buildings to minimize the possibility of fire, carelessness of the public officials who fail to provide adequate fire fighting facilities and to enact and enforce proper fire prevention ordinances, and carelessness of the people as a whole about ordinary fire danger. He also stressed the importance of education as a means of reaching and correcting the fire waste problem of the country.

ELECTION LAW PROVIDES FOR MAJORITY

Austin, Aug. 20.—That the State primary election law plainly provides for a majority before a candidate for State or district offices may be declared the nominee, was the ruling of the Attorney General's Department and announced by L. C. Sutton, assistant attorney general. As to county offices, it is held to be optional with the county executive committee whether a majority or only a plurality shall prevail for county candidates to be declared nominees.

This ruling was made in connection with an announcement made at Waco by Joe W. Hale, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, in which he was quoted as having said that a second primary is not authorized by law in the nomination of district offices. He is said to have ruled that candidates receiving pluralities in the first primary are nominees of their party in their respective districts, judicial districts included. This ruling, however, is contrary to the holding of the Attorney General's department.

KANSAS CITY MARKET

Kansas City Stock Yards, August 21.—With receipts in all divisions about normal for this season of the year, trade in live stock opened the week active with prices firm to slightly higher. Hogs were quoted a dime higher than last week's close, with the top price $9.10 and bulk of sales $8.60 to $9.05. Cattle were steady to strong some cases of fed steers higher. Sheep and lambs sold readily at firm prices, top lambs $12.85.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 25,000 cattle, 8,000 hogs, and 4,000 sheep, compared with 29,000 cattle, 11,000 hogs and 6,000 sheep a week ago, and 23,325 cattle, 7,300 hogs and 18,825 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

This week opened with demand for live stock showing broad proportions. Good to prime fed steers ruled strong to higher, the best steers offered early bringing $10.50 to $10.70, yearlings up to $10.35, or practically as much as they would have brought at the best time last week. Grass fed and wintered summer grazed steers ruled steady to strong. A large number of straight grass steers sold at $5.75 to $7.75 and wintered grades at $8.75 to $9.75. Cows and heifers were steady and the demand for veal calves was active at strong prices, top $11.

Stockers and Feeders

Demand for stock and feeding cattle was large and for all classes. Prices ruled strong. Several large bunches of fleshy feeders sold early at $7.50 to $7.85. Plain thin grades brought $5 to $5.75. Offerings of stock calves are increasing.

Hogs.

Moderate receipts brought an advance in hog prices and the downward tendency in the market is checked temporarily at least. Advance reports indicate light loadings for this week's market, so that a further rise in prices is expected. The top today was $9.10, and bulk of sales $8.60 to $9.05. Pigs and stock hogs sold at $7.75 to $8.75.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs in some cases were 10 to 15 cents higher, with native grade selling at $12.75 and Western lambs up to $12.85. Light weight ewes sold up to $7. Fat weathers and feeding lambs were scarce at firm prices.

Horses and Mules.

Demand for horses and mules is on the increase and larger supplies are needed. Prices at the opening this week were considered stronger.

Market Correspondent.

POWER OF MOTHER LOVE

It is strikingly displayed in Mia May's "The Wife Trap."

Just what measures a mother will adopt to keep her child, and just how strong her love for that child can be, are strikingly illustrated in Mia May's latest Paramount picture "The Wife Trap," which will be featured at the R. & R. Lindsey Theatre Friday.

Here is the story of a mother, her life wrapped up in the happiness and future of her child, who finds that her husband has laid a dastardly trap in order that he may be free from her and obtain possession of the child. She struggles against the taunts and sneers which drag her closer and closer into the trap, and then, when her struggles seem to be hopeless and of no avail, her mother instinct rises and she strikes blindly and fiercely for her child. Is she justified? Or is she a cold heartless murderer in whom there is not a single redeeming feature? These are questions which are fully answered in the dramatic denouement of the picture, recording with a force which must surely strike home to every fair-minded person that there are crimes which seem at times quite justifiable.

TEMPLE MAN WILL MAKE HOME IN LUBBOCK SOON

J. F. Carter, of Temple, who has been in Lubbock several weeks visiting L. C. Ellis and other Temple friends, has become so thoroughly sold on Lubbock that he announced Wednesday morning that he would make arrangements to dispose of his home in Temple and farm land near the city, and would make his home here.

Mr. Carter is a live, energetic man, and we are sure that if arrangements can be made for his making his home in Lubbock, Temple will be the loser.

Mrs. J. A. Hughes and children returned Tuesday from Hereford, where they have been visiting her parents, and other relatives.

SMITH SHAW ARRIVED BACK HOME SAFE AND SANE

Well, we made our journey back home safe and sound without the loss on one. Was entertained highly by our former friends of Lubbock county—never knew we had so many until our visit with them. You have a wonderful people. We never expect to find any as good. Can't say we enjoyed the trip either going over or coming back. It was so dry and hot and dusty. We have our "fill" of being tourists. It is just about 700 miles the way we traveled from Siloam Springs to Lubbock, and by taking our time we made it in just about four days. Well, this part of Arkansas is dry. No rain in about 5 weeks—but crop conditions very good, and the big, red apples are beginning to ripen. September would be a fine time for your visit to this part of Arkansas and one more time in your life get close to nature, and nature's God.

Come over "Old Top" and let us show you how a former Lubbock "jake" can entertain you in Arkansas.

Your old friend,
SMITH SHAW.

GEO. W. BRIGGS IS SOME ORCHARDIST—FRUIT PROVES

Geo. W. Briggs is some orchardist if one is to judge by the fruit gathered from his orchard.

A basket of peaches was given to the home demonstration agent to be prepared for exhibit at the September fair, which will no doubt make a few of the fellows who have drunk deep of the cup of ignorance and believed the stories of the plains being a treeless waste, set up and take notice, as one of those peaches measured ten and a half inches in circumference one way, and eleven inches the other, proving beyond any reasonable doubt that Briggs is a fruit grower of real knowledge of that art.

The plains country is coming to the front in a hurry, and the orchards, gardens and farms are adding their lot in getting recognition for this section as a producer of unquestionable greatness.

REVIVAL MEETING CLOSED AT ABERNATHY SUNDAY

Elder O. M. Reynolds of Plainview, and O. C. Homer of Abernathy, singer, closed the revival meeting they had been holding at Abernathy Sunday night.

The meeting was a success throughout, and a great spiritual revival in that city experienced.

Twenty-seven persons were added to the church membership, and some of the members gained a stronger hold on the church and a keener realization of their duties as members.

THREE WARD BUILDINGS ARE RUSHED TO COMPLETION

Ernest Lee, contractor, who has the job of erecting the three ward buildings in the Lubbock Independent School District, was in the Avalanche office Monday and announced that work on the buildings is progressing nicely.

Brick work on one of the buildings is about completed, the foundation for the other is completed, and brick layers can go ahead with their work, and the foundation on the third will be completed within a few days.

Lubbock county is taking a leading place in educational development, her people realize that the foundation of our citizenship rests entirely upon the education of the young generation, and we are glad to know that those buildings will be ready for use within a few weeks, enabling our people to go ahead with their school work better equipped to take care of the fast increasing population.

"A Daughter of the Desert" to Be Presented by L. H. S. Seniors at the Community Auditorium Sat. Sept. 9

The Seniors of the Lubbock High School are to stage a four-act play at the Community Auditorium Saturday evening, Sept. 9th.

The play is entitled "A Daughter of the Desert" and is a good one throughout, there being ten characters represented by the able seniors.

Proceeds of the play, is to go to pay debts accumulated throughout the past term, the lacking a little of meeting all obligations, this was thought to be the best manner possible to raise the necessary amount.

The many delightful entertainments offered by the seniors throughout the term were indicative of what they can do, and we are sure that everyone acquainted with the characters will be glad to patronize the class by attending the play.

We are not sure at this time just what the admittance will be, but assure our readers that they will get their money's worth, and that the proceeds will go to paying indebtedness accumulated through worthy work.

The annual was the biggest and best of its kind in West Texas.

stands out as bold emphasis of the things those pupils did last term, and we are sure that had they charged for the books anything like what they were worth, all debts would have been paid with a surplus to be held over for other uses.

We are proud of the work the seniors accomplished last year, and regret very much that on account of the extra work they had to do in finishing the term they were unable to give sufficient time to offer such plays to tide them over financially, but believe that the people of Lubbock see that they have spent the term doing good work, and will be glad to attend their play.

"A Daughter of the Desert" is a splendid play, and together with interesting interludes, in which the seniors have proven themselves splendid actors, that will be one of the best entertainments one could wish to attend.

We are in hopes success will crown their efforts, and that they will have occasion to believe that the people of Lubbock appreciate the things they have done throughout the past several months.

THRIFT

Is based on common sense. Thrift is not stinginess. A stingy man is not thrifty; he is merely mean.

The need for thrift—real thrift is evidenced by facts.

A very small percentage of men reach old age possessed of independent means

It is true that most wage-earners do not make enough money in the course of a lifetime to save enough to be even moderately wealthy at old age. Nevertheless hundreds of thousands of payroll men and women do save enough during their productive years to keep the wolf from the door in their old age and have comforts and even luxuries that would not be theirs had they frittered away small and seemingly insignificant sums of money in the earlier years.

The late James J. Hill, master railroad builder, declared that the man who could not or would not save money did not have the seed of success within him; he was foredoomed to failure and might as well drop out of the race.

But the mere saving of money and its accumulation is only a means to the end, and the building of even a modest fortune requires that a man should have the judgment to discern investment opportunities.

The ambitious man wants to increase his income and when he has spare money he should seek the investments that will give him the best return.

WORK BEING RUSHED ON CALVARY HORSES STABLES

The stables for the horses of Battery C. 131st Field Artillery, material sheds and storage warehouse are being rushed to completion, and according to H. H. Griffith, will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

These buildings are being erected on the Fair Grounds, and will add materially to the appearance of the place. The sheds, we understand, will be used by the Fair Association for exhibit use during the Fair, as the horses can be cared for in private stables during the fair days, this being the consideration made by the fair management and Army officers in getting a suitable location for the stables.

We are glad indeed that the people of Lubbock have taken hold of the work of erecting the necessary buildings in getting the Battery located here, and that is one of the most creditable pieces of work that has been accomplished by our businessmen in some time.

Just when the horses and pieces of artillery will be brought here is not known, but the officers are eager to have all preparations complete for caring for them, and it is possible that as soon as a report of the completion of the stables can be sent to the department the animals and equipment will be rushed here.

AMARILLO MAY DAM THE PALO DURO CANYON

Amarillo, Aug. 23.—Like Abilene, like Stamford, Amarillo must solve its water problem or remain stationary as a city—a city with possibly the brightest future of any city in the Southwest.

H. Bank Jones, city engineer of Amarillo, in an address before the Kiwanis club a few days ago advanced his opinion as to the means of settling the unsavory situation. Bank Jones would dam the Palo Duro canyon south of Amarillo where the stream is 780 feet wide with a 60-foot dam that would impound conservative-estimate three billions gallons of surface water. The Palo Duro has two freshets a year that would twice annually fill the great reservoir. The water could be pumped to Amarillo economically. The total cost of the project as estimated by Mr. Jones would be about $1,100,000.

Amarillo has 22 deep wells, which are only partly supplying the expanding needs of the city. These wells are yielding only about 60 per cent of their potential capacity. Efforts to develop wells north of Amarillo to supplement the supply have proved ineffectual, he said.

The city commission is now giving exigent study to the needs of the city and will shortly take some action to relieve the distressing situation, it was intimated. Amarillo is one of the fastest growing cities in Texas. In every part of the city new buildings are being erected and large manufacturers desire to establish plants but are continually harassed by the bugbear of scant water.

YOUNG MAN SLASHED ACROSS BACK IN KNIFE FIGHT SAT.

J. A. Rix, of the Rix Furniture & Undertaking Company, motored over to Brownfield and Plains Saturday on business. Mr. Rix learned while in Tokio that two young men had gotten in a quarrel over fifty cents difference in the price of a pair of spurs, one of them used his pocket knife in trying to win the argument, making three almost fatal slashes across the back of his victim. The names of the boys are not known to us, but the one who did the cutting got away from the crowd, saddled his horse and was away before officers had time to catch him. He was found at Wilson later and returned to his home.

Rix's going to Brownfield and Plains of course had no bearing upon the fight, only that he brought us the news of its happening.

SIMMONS PURCHASED STOCK TO BE PLACED IN NEW BLDG.

E. C. Simmons, manager of the Simmons Furniture & Undertaking Company, returned last week from Evansville, Indiana, and other market points, where he purchased a full and complete stock of merchandise to add with his already well selected stock to make that business show up when placed in the new building being completed on Broadway.

According to Mr. Simmons, the building will be ready for occupancy about the first of September, and he is going to have everything rushed into the new location, and made ready for the inspection by their customers in the least time possible.

Simmons is one of the young businessmen of Lubbock, who is going after business in an aggressive manner, and we are sure the people will appreciate the many new and beautiful articles he purchased for this stock.

He recently purchased a beautiful ambulance and pall bearers coach, which is one of the most beautiful motor vehicles of its kind in West Texas, and inasmuch as there is a great demand for the use of such vehicle here, Mr. Simmons will no doubt find that he made a wise investment in its purchase.

LAMESA HOUSE OF RIX CO. IS GETTING ON THE MAP

Clyde Brannon, of the Rix Furniture & Undertaking Company of Lamesa, was here Sunday, and took home a motor hearse for use in Lamesa.

The Rix Company is among the aggressive business firms of West Texas, and it may be known that wherever they go they put a little more go and pep into business than usual, and we are sure the people of Lamesa are glad to have a Rix house located there.

According to Jed Rix, manager and originator of the Lubbock house, which has outgrown the original house at Big Spring, the company is to keep the Lamesa house stocked with the very latest goods at all times, and the prices will be in line just the same as in the two houses at Lubbock and Big Spring.

Mr. Brannon is a live wire, and has that same enthusiasm so well known in all the Rix employees. We assure the people of Lamesa that in the organization there of a Rix Furniture store, another business has started in that city which will mean only to the development of that city.

The Livery Stable at One Time So Necessary and Popular, Is Now Like Ancient History, Says Joe Sappington

The livery stable and the saloon were contemporaneous institutions, and went hand in hand into the great silent beyond, some fifteen years ago. Prohibition closed the saloons and the automobiles put the "For Rent" sign over every livery stable door in this broad land. There is something positively sad and sacred about an old deserted livery stable and I never look upon one now that I do not become reminiscent. Some of the happiest moments of my life were spent around these now almost-forgotten institutions, listening to heated political arguments. All I know about the tariff was picked up around Uncle Jack Higgins' livery stable when I was a young man. I am not quite settled today in my mind over the question of baptism. Sometimes I think emersion is the right way and again I'm inclined to the pouring or sprinkling method. And why am I undecided in this great matter? Simply from hearing it argued pro and con more times than I have fingers and toes by Uncle Tom Hughes and Old Bill Mercer at the Higgins livery stable.

The old time livery stable played a prominent part in the affairs of men and was sort of an open forum for free and untrammeled discussion with every tub standing upon its own bottom. If a fellow wanted to say something in a loud and vehement way, back in the good old days he would go to the livery stable to say it. If he had trouble with his wife, neighbor, or mother-in-law and earnestly desired to give vent to his pent-up feelings, he would bend his steps to his favorite livery stable and get it off his chest.

The Higgins stable was not only a place where a fellow could cuss and discuss things in general, but a sporting center as well. Some of the most exciting poker games I ever took part in were pulled off in the loft of Uncle Jack's barn. Also some of the hardest dog, badger and chicken fights I ever witnessed was at the back of that same barn.

The old time livery stable proprietor had to be a man of many parts, of great courage and much patience. Uncle Jack Higgins filled in a high degree all essential requirements of the successful livery stable proprietor. I have known him to act as a peace-maker in political or religious arguments among some of his friends and then turn and whip the whey out of some fellow for driving one of his teams almost to death. Uncle Jack was a just man in all his dealings with his fellowmen, and would not suffer anyone to be imposed upon around his place. As an illustration of his love for fair play, take the time he had whipped a fellow who made a bet with a young man on a crooked horse race. They had come to Uncle Jack to hold the stakes and he proceeded to tell the young man that the race was a cut and dried affair and the fellow he was betting with was a deacon's crook. The fellow took exception to Uncle Jack's bold statements and he had no more sense than to tell him to his face he was a liar.

The fellow lived on nothing but soup for three months after disputing Uncle Jack's word, on account of a tonic.

GUARDSMEN ARE GRATEFUL TO AVALANCHE FOR PAPERS

The following letter received from H. H. Griffith, when he was with the Lubbock guardsmen at Ft. Sill, is self-explanatory, and we are glad to print it verbatim:
Mr. James L. Dow, Editor-Manager Avalanche, Lubbock, Texas.
Dear Mr. Dow:
We find it seemingly impossible to express to you the appreciation we feel for your kindly furnishing the men with several copies of the Avalanche which were received.

The boys were elated over receiving the papers, and you may be assured that each and every column was read with enthusiasm, and it was encouraging for us to know that you would be so thoughtful in sending them.
Assuring you again and again that the papers were appreciated, and trusting to be in Lubbock again within a few days, I am
Gratefully yours,

FT. WORTH RECORD MAN HERE WORKING CIRCULATION

L. H. Welsh, district circulation manager of the Fort Worth Record, and his subscription hustling crew composed of F. B. Jones and B. M. Reagan, are in Lubbock working this section of the country in interest of the Record.

Mr. Welsh and his crew are a bunch of live wires, and we are sure that in them the Record has representatives who know how to acquaint the many people they meet with the merits of that paper, and inasmuch as Fort Worth is interested in Lubbock, and the citizens of this city are greatly interested in Ft. Worth, we are glad to have that paper's circulation enlarged here.

The Record and Star-Telegram are newspapers of which the city of Fort Worth should be proud, and when circulated in this section of the country the advertisers may be assured that their messages are reaching the most progressive and enlightened people anywhere.
An aggressive campaign for expanding the circulation of the Record in West Texas is launched by the above-named gentlemen, and from here they are going to Crosbyton, Plainview, Lockney and Floydada, spending much time in each place.
The fact that the Fort Worth Record is catering to the trade of the people of this section is a good indication that they are wanting to keep Fort Worth in the minds of our people so well that it will seem that that fair city is a real unit to West Texas, which we hope she is. If Fort Worth will pull for the Plains in the manner that we can pull for Fort Worth if the capital of that city will be used in giving us a chance, there is unestimable developments ahead for all concerned, and we are in hopes it will be but a few months until the work that town is trying to do for the Plains can be seen. Paper railroads and paper agreements on the part of the Plains and Fort Worth will never do anything toward bettering conditions at either place, and the sooner that fact is realized, and something tangible is done to link the interests of the two together, the better for all concerned.
Let's go.

E. T. Daniell, ginner and cotton buyer of Idalou, was here Saturday on business, and called on the Avalanche to place an order for job printing.
He says the cotton yield per acre will be a little short this year, though the increased acreage will make the number of bales ginned in the county exceed last year's total.

is the way a delegation of Oklahoma men expressed their opinion of this section to an Avalanche reporter Saturday morning.

C. W. Castleberry, realtor, G. W. Varner, farmer, and three other men composed the delegation, and we are glad to know that after a trip over the city, they were so well pleased with it that they will no doubt have to return in the near future to realize their newly inspired ambition—to become citizens of this great country.

It was through the courtesy of J. E. Alexander of the Texas Land Exchange, that we were given an opportunity to accompany the crowd on their tour of Lubbock, and we believe that anyone would be converted to the advantages of Lubbock to take a few minutes off to give this town the once-over, for the rapidity with which new homes are going up in the residential section makes it necessary for one to make the trip quite often to know just how big Lubbock really is.

The homes that were only a few months ago under construction are now beautiful with the splendid lawns, flower beds, and even the young trees are making a great showing, adding substantially to Lubbock in a manner that is pleasing indeed.

The home wherein a man lives is certainly an index to character, not that it is necessary to live in one made of finest materials, but the general appearance of the place can be taken as indicative of what kind of surroundings he wishes to have, and when we see that the people of Lubbock are spending much effort in beautifying their homes we realize that before many years this will certainly be the "City Beautiful" on the plains. The Oklahoma men have acquaint-

TO THE VOTERS OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

November 26, 1920.
Hon. J. H. Moore,
County Judge,
Lubbock, Texas.

Dear Sir:
The Attorney General is just in receipt of yours of the 15th inst. in which you state among other things that at the last general election C. A. Holcomb received 54 votes as Sheriff and 8 votes as Tax Collector and 1260 votes as Sheriff and Tax Collector of your county. You also state that S. C. Spikes received 1087 votes as Tax Collector. From previous correspondence we understand that the 1910 United States census showed your county to have a population of less than 10,000. But after the primary election and before the general election, a certificate was issued by the Director of Census showing your county to have a population in excess of 10,000 inhabitants. Under these circumstances you propounded the following questions:

1—This being the case, whose bond should the Commissioners approve for this office, and to whom should I, as County Judge, issue certificate of election for these offices?

2—Should I issue certificate of election to C. A. Holcomb as Sheriff and Tax Collector, or should I issue certificate to him as Tax Collector? Should I issue certificate of election to S. C. Spikes as Tax Collector?

3—In the event that bonds are presented to the court, should they approve bonds in accordance with the votes cast, or should they approve bonds as stated below.

(a) Holcomb as Sheriff and Tax Collector, or as Tax Collector, should he present a bond made out in that form; in other words could he under the present status choose which of the two offices he would assume duties?

(b) Should he approve the bond of Spikes as Tax Collector?

(c) Or should he approve all of the bonds and let the court decide which is entitled to which office?

Under the facts here stated your county was not entitled to elect or could not legally elect one and the same person to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector. There being no such office to be filled in your county by election or otherwise at such election.

On the contrary the county was required to elect and have two different persons for these respective offices. That is, one as Sheriff and the other as Tax Collector. (State Constitution, Sec. 23, Art. 5; State Constitution Sec. 16, Art. 8; R. C. S. 1911, Arts. 7119, 7120, 7605, 7606, 7607.)

Under these facts you are advised that in the opinion of the Attorney General, Mr. Holcomb is entitled to the office of Sheriff of

You are also advised in the opinion of the Attorney General, S. C. Spikes, is entitled to a certificate of election to the office of Tax Collector in your county, and has the right to qualify as such in the manner prescribed by law. For your further information we are enclosing herewith a copy of the opinion No. 20249, rendered by this Department September 11th, 1920, addressed to Peyton B. Randolph, and there is in which the question raised by your inquiry are discussed at some length.

Yours very truly,
W. W. CAVES,
Assistant Attorney General.

To The Voters of Lubbock County Greeting:

The above and foregoing article, speaks for itself, and shows clearly that I was elected to the office of Tax Collector of this County, during the year of 1920. I was installed as Tax Collector of the County however, after a long hard-fought suit for the office was decided in my favor, and have actually had possession of said office since in April of this year.

Being a lifelong Democrat, I am naturally a candidate for re-election for a second term to the office, solely upon my own merits, and not upon the DEMERITS of some one else, and because I know that I am competent and qualified to fill the duties of the office.
At my OWN EXPENSE, I have employed a competent and reliable assistant, for NO MAN can be at the office every hour in the day, six days a week, twelve months a year, therefore the necessity of an office assistant, in order that I may give you the VERY BEST SERVICE POSSIBLE, and give it when you come for it, so that it will not be necessary for you to call a second time for the same service.
Considering the means at my command, I have contributed liberally to all worthy causes presented to me, or coming to my notice, including needy individuals, churches, schools and railroad bonuses, and only regret that I was not able to give more.

Lubbock is my future home, whether elected or defeated, and whether or not Lubbock County is the BEST COUNTY IN TEXAS, it is good enough for me, as is proven by the fact that I have lived in Lubbock continuously for 21 years, during which time I have had no desire to move away, and I hope to see Lubbock County continue to develop and come into notice and prominence more and more each and every year in the future.
I am indeed thankful to every one that voted for me during the year of 1920, and at the July Primary of this year, and believe that you will by your majority vote, nominate me again for a Second Term of office in the Second Primary Election on August 26th, and for which I shall again feel very grateful, for the office is a gift of the people and I desire to be your obedient servant for another Two Year Term, and am sincerely yours.
45-8t S. C. SPIKES.

SAME OLD STORY BUT A GOOD ONE.

Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savannah, Missouri, relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to my family and friends. I first used it and shall continue to do so for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. A. V. "Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. TEACHERS' INSTITUTE WEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL SEPT. 4

Canyon, Texas, Aug. 17.—Professor H. W. Morelock, conductor of the Consolidated Teachers' Institute, announces that the Institute will begin at the West Texas State Normal College on Monday, September 4, and continue through Friday, Sept. 8. This convention will be attended by the teachers of twenty-one counties in the Panhandle and will be the largest institute in point of attendance in this section of the State.

The best possible program and one that is more complete than any that has ever been planned for a previous institute has been arranged, and everything will be done to make it the very best institute in Texas. The teachers will be paid their regular salaries while in attendance at the institute. The Attorney General of the State has ruled that all teachers must attend an institute, and Miss Annie Webb Blain, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has ruled that they must be paid for such attendance.

The West Texas Teachers' Association has secured reduced rates for all teachers who attend this institute. Those who expect to secure the reduced railroad fares should ask their local ticket agent for a receipt when they buy tickets, and these receipts when countersigned by the Secretary of the West Texas State Normal College and presented to the ticket agent at Canyon, will secure a reduction of one-half on the fare for the return trip.

Judging from the interest that is being manifested and from the program that has been planned, this will be the best institute that has ever been held at the West Texas State Normal College.

ALL YIELDS GOOD SAVE WHEAT CROP

Dallas, Aug. 9.—With the exception of a light wheat crop, the year 1922 bids fair to go down as a prosperous one in the agricultural history of Texas, according to figures collected from various sources by the research department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

It is yet too early to predict the cotton crop, which, according to the best indications at present, will be around 3,500,000 bales. Crops of more advanced season of harvest all bid fair to turn out well. The latest statistics approximating the production of Texas crops this year are as follows:
Torn, 122,000,000 bushels; wheat, 11,300,000 bushels; oats, 41,000,000 bushels; barley 1,800,000 bushels; rice, 5,300,000 bushels; all hay, 1,000,000,000 bushels; grain sorghum, 55,000,000 bushels; potatoes, 2,400,000 bushels; sweet potatoes, 9,100,000 bushels; rye, 144,000 bushels; apples, 209,000 bushels; peaches, 1,700,000 bushels; pears, 400,000 bushels; sorghum syrup, 2,800,000 gallons; peanuts, 113,000,000 lbs.; broom corn, 15,000 tons.

Truck crops have done well this year, and indications are that final figures upon Texas production will closely approximate the following: Cabbage, 3,638 carloads; cantaloupes, 125 carloads; mixed vegetables, 1,800 carloads; tomatoes, 1,650 carloads; watermelons, 9,000 carloads; onions, 4,800 carloads.

ADVANCES TO COTTON AND WHEAT GROWERS MADE

Washington, Aug. 10.—Applications from cotton and wheat growers aggregating $17,000,000 were approved today by the War Finance Corporation.

The corporation approved the application of the Staple Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association of Mississippi for an advance of not exceeding $7,000,000 to assist in the orderly marketing of cotton. The association, the corporation said, has received propositions from banks to assist in financing its operations and it expects that private banking resources will finance a large part of its requirements.

The other advances approved were as follows: Washington Wheat Growers' Association, $2,000,000; Idaho Wheat Growers' Association, $1,500,000; Montana Wheat Growers' Association, $1,500,000 and North Dakota Wheat Growers' Association, $5,000,000.

CAUSE OF APPENDICITIS

When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestines become packed with refuse matter, that is made up largely of germs. BETTER SEED-WHEAT CAMPAIGN BEING URGED
The American Wheat Growers Association is waging a national campaign for better grade planting wheat, through the use of posters, letters, speakers and newspaper space.
The Lubbock Poster Company, operated by Bill McKinley, a run-off candidate for County Treasurer, donated four poster boards or the equivalent of $25 for this campaign in Lubbock county and large attractive posters are already on these boards.
Better grade livestock, better grade planting seed and an improved marketing system are the three problems before the farmers of the United States. For many years the Department of Agriculture, the agricultural papers and speakers have stressed the importance of this kind of improvement in farming practices. But it is only within the past five years that the farmers themselves, the actual producers through their various local, state and national organizations have started active work looking toward the realization of the increased profits that will come from better grade livestock, planting seed and improved marketing systems and the results they are getting are worth while.
The business of farming is growing in importance and prestige with each passing year and the importance of the farmer is already recognized as the first necessity to the development of any section of the nation.
CALOMEL SALIVATES EVEN WHEN CAREFUL
Treacherous Drug can not be Trusted and Next Dose may Start Trouble
Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue, and excessive salivary dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel! It is mercury; quicksilver.
If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.
If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 11-11
SCHOOL MAN AND BOOSTER OF RALLS HERE SATURDAY
R. L. Travis of Ralls, was here Saturday on business. Mr. Travis is one of the most substantial citizens of that city, having taken an active part in school work, is one of the board of trustees of the Ralls school, and an enthusiast in that work. He was here last fall when the Emma team, which is in the Ralls district, took off the District championship basketball loving cup after a hard tussle with the Plainview team and others. He is a live wire for athletics in the school, and said he would be in Lubbock for all the games this fall.
According to Mr. Travis, a good rain was received between Lorenzo and Ralls Saturday night, enough, he said, to do the crops a great deal of good. The shower at Ralls was about the same received here, just enough to wet the top of the ground good, but insufficient to make any change on crop conditions.
We are glad to have Mr. Travis visit Lubbock, and it is a source of pleasure for us to hear him boost Ralls. He was accompanied by his daughters, Misses Betty and Connie, well known school teachers, whose work in West Texas schools has been commendable.

Those favoring the repeal of the prohibition amendment are outnumbered four to one.
The summary of the voting, with 617,838 ballots tabulated on the prohibition question, and about 6,000 less tabulated on the bonus question, is as follows:
Prohibition—Those favoring continuance and strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law, 236,329.
Those favoring a modification of the Volstead law to permit light wines and beer, 253,009.
Those favoring repeal of the prohibition amendment, 128,500.

My Garden
Not just this little garden with its hollyhocks is mine—its phlox, its pinks, its pansies, and its flights of columbine. Mine is the park at Blenheim; mine the woods at Fontainebleau; mine that old moat at Warwick where the rhododendrons grow. The rosearies at Portland are mine, too, and I shall keep their fragrant beauty always; mine the dazzling flame-drifts deep of glory at Magnolia; mine, beneath purple skies, that jasminted Creole garden where I watched the gold moon rise. Mine all dear planted places—ours, oh, heart, because we care—We've loved our bit of bare, brown earth so much, flowers blossom there!

Knights Templar Chicken Barbecue
The society editor has such a hard time finding anything to write about during the summer months that she welcomes any event that is announced—but when the announced event turns out to be such an occasion as the Knights Templar Annual Picnic held Monday evening at Cottonwood Springs on the Boles ranch—why then she more than welcomes it—she adores it.

The Lubbock Commandery of Knights Templar celebrated its tenth anniversary Monday evening with a chicken barbecue and picnic to which all of its members, their families, officials from neighboring Commanderies and Masonic bodies, and other distinguished guests were invited. At 3:30 in the afternoon more than a hundred cars left Lubbock for the famous Cottonwood Springs, down on the canyon in George Boles ranch—pasture.

And such a paradise of beauty, such a wealth of towering trees, green grass, rugged cliffs, everything that is required to make a perfect picnic grounds—including a pure, fresh cool stream of spring water bursting out of the side of the canyon—something that is seldom found in the great plains country.

Workmen had gone on before and had long trenches prepared, filled with burning live coals over which the half chickens were to be roasted. Each new comer was called upon to poke the fire—to break up the coals—and had a very, very definite warning as to what Eternity might hold for a man that did not care for his spiritual welfare on this earth.

A truck load of ice cream, light-bread, pickles, potato salad, potato chips, coffee, paper plates, spoons, tin cups, two huge barrels of dressed chickens on ice fruit, cakes—everything in the world to eat came shortly after four o'clock and the cooking started.

Chicken barbecue may be an old story with some folks but most of the bunch gathered there Monday evening were to taste their first bite of this rare accomplishment of outdoor cooking. In preparing the finished dish—chickens are dressed in halves, chilled on ice, then dipped in a mixture of melted butter, vinegar, Tabasco and Worcester sauce, salt, pepper, and what not else, and laid on a hot wire suspended across the trench of live, glowing coals. Every four minutes the pieces are turned over and dabs of mixture mentioned above applied to the upturned side.

They are turned ten times—on an average—and doped each time—until the finished piece is barbecued a delicate, delicious brown-flavored tough and through with the highly seasoned mixture cooked into the meat.

Toast is browned on the same wire—and touched with the same highly seasoned mixture. In the meantime paper plates have been helped with potato salad, potato chips, pickles and sliced tomatoes. The halves of barbecued chicken and hot toast are placed on each plate and a steaming cup of delicious coffee with pure cream is handed each visitor.

Talk about good—why it is better than that! The truth would not be believed by anyone not present at the affair—and they don't need to be told for they ate just as much themselves. Lots of folks are too polite and cultured to admit that they can eat half of a good sized chicken at one meal—yet if it is just about dark and everybody else is doing it—they don't seem to have a bit of trouble caring for the entire half—and even going back for a second half—not to mention potato salad, chips, pickles, coffee, cake and ice cream.

Before passing from the wonderful repast served we must mention the fact that Messrs. Shaw, Duggan, Blackwell and one or two other Littlefield men came down to supper and, and boss the barbecuing of the more than 200 chickens—also a product of Lamb County—for Chicken Barbecues are bi-weekly events in the Littlefield community and every man in the town is a Past Master of the art of cooking them. They brought their wives with them, of course, and Lubbock Commandery and ladies enjoyed having them for the picnic—not to mention the chicken.

After everyone had convinced themselves that the supply of chicken and cake and ice cream could not be eaten up, several speakers were called upon for short talks. O. E. Radford, Past Commander of the Lubbock Commandery acted as toast master of the occasion—but like every other one of the speakers he admitted that he was "Too Full for Utterance."

Recorder Stapleton of the Khiva Shrine of Amarillo, spoke along a happy line of the work done in Lubbock, the growth of the town and section and his pleasure at being present on the occasion. George Briggs, present Commander, expressed the appreciation of the Commandery to Mr. Boles for the courtesy shown them in allowing them to hold their tenth annual picnic at the Springs. (Incidentally George was very handsome in his wife's long, white cook apron.)

Sometime after dark the party broke up—and the visitors, guests, members and their wives, wound their way to their several homes—most of them in Lubbock, many from Slaton, a number from Post City, Spur, Littlefield, Plainview and other surrounding towns, a tired but well fed and happy bunch.

We are all eagerly waiting for the Eleventh Anniversary of the Lubbock Commandery, and we hope they will make it another Chicken Barbecue.

Jack Griswold from Clarendon, returned to his home after several days visit with Royce Waters. Jack is well known in Lubbock, being the son of Rev. Griswold, formerly pastor of the Methodist church of this city. The boys were pals in school and Royce returned as far as Canyon with Jack, where they were met by Rev. Griswold, and as guests of the Country Club, spent several days fishing.

Mrs. V. H. Collins of Floydada, Mrs. Brooks Nelson and little son, Robert Lee, Mrs. W. L. Sullina and daughter, Josephine, of McKinney, Texas, sisters of H. O. Waters, our well known citizen, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Waters of this city.

Mesdames Earl Hunt, Spikes and George, motored to Tahoka Tuesday of this week to visit friends, thence to Post City with a party from Tahoka, where they spent a day or two fishing and camping, returning to Lubbock Thursday.

There were any number of swimming and camping parties during the past week but for some reason no one seems to want to tell the society editor about these trips. Folks of the town are always interested in the little pleasures their friends have through the summer months as well as the more pretentious parties of the winter, and we will appreciate having anyone call up and tell us about these little picnics, camping parties, etc.

Mrs. W. B. Cummings and little daughter, Bilye Clayton, have returned to their home in Dallas, after spending the summer months at the home of Mrs. Cummings' mother, Mrs. A. H. Hussey.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Entertain
These are ideal days for those who love the out-of-doors, and none proved more pleasant than last Saturday when several Lubbock families motored to the J. W. Dalton ranch, fifteen miles east of town.

A great fish-fry and picnic dinner had been prepared and promptly at the noon hour everyone gathered around the large table that had been placed on the lawn. The afternoon was spent in kodaking, pleasant conversation and music. As it was growing late, it was with deep regret that the guests departed to their various homes, but not before each had declared Mr. and Mrs. Dalton an ideal host and hostess.

The all-day guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Twitty, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones, Raymond Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Royalty and family, and Mrs. C. H. West. The afternoon guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Dalton, Mrs. A. H. Hussey and daughter, Annette.

I have not called on the voters of the town of Lubbock because you all know me anyway. I will appreciate your vote and what ever you can do to help me to be elected. Will McKinley, candidate for County Treasurer. 52-1

Yesterday is as tomorrow is the forever.

Vote for Will McKinley for County Treasurer. 52-1

Mills will not grind if you give them no water.

I am running for the office of County Treasurer, because I want the office and need it. Vote for me Saturday and I will certainly appreciate it. Will McKinley. 52-1

There is no shame in poverty or in slavery if we neither make ourselves poor by our own improvidence nor slaves by our venality.

Will McKinley, candidate for County Treasurer, will appreciate your vote. 52-1

Talk about starting in business on a shoe string, an Illinois robber escaped on a bicycle.

Vote for Will McKinley for County Treasurer, in the election Saturday. He will appreciate your vote. 52-1

Days are getting shorter. Right after supper it is dark enough to go see your best girl.

Vote for Will McKinley for County Treasurer. 52-1

Many a man who thinks he belongs to the upper class only belongs to the upish class.

TO THE VOTERS

I believe that nothing can be of greater value to Lubbock County than the best of roads. To get these at the least possible cost it may be necessary to place all roads in one district or unit and all work and improvements should be in the hands of some man who has made a study of road work and is competent and proficient along this line.

The time has long past when a commissioner should be allowed to use County Funds to the benefit of one section to the detriment of another portion of the County. We need Commissioners who are broad minded and unselfish and are in sympathy with the development of our entire County and not one who wants to pave the road around his farm while the other roads in his precinct are impassable and are a disgrace not only to Lubbock County but to West Texas.

We have a magnificent court house and I believe that this building and the jail should be kept in the best of order and repair. Dirty floors, littered offices, and the odors from toilets are absolutely inexcusable.

I am a young man with a wife and two children and am entering my thirtieth year. My farm and all my interests are here. I have never sought or held office before.

Believing that we have the greatest people on earth, I stand for progress along all lines.

I am under no promise or obligation of any character whatsoever to any person or association of persons that will in any way interfere with me in the fearless, faithful and impartial discharge of my official duty to every citizen alike.

If you voted for me before, I shall appreciate your vote again, and solicit the vote of those who chose to support other candidates in the first primary. Investigate my record and qualifications.
