Barter Day Is Here Monday, March 20th

SWAPPING WHAT YOU HAVE FOR THINGS YOU WANT, ORDER OF DAY FREE AUCTIONEER SERVICE GIVEN

Hundreds of Rural and Urban Citizens To Be Given Opportunity of Disposing Of Articles They Don't Need.

Much interest is being manifest all over Bailey and adjoining counties regarding Barter day in Muleshoe, the first one to be held Monday of next week.

For several weeks past both farmers and townsmen have been interested in the inauguration of some such day where and when they could dispose of numerous articles they have and do not need, also perhaps obtain some they need and do not have.

As spring advances the need of a "swap" day becomes more imperative. Plenty of folks in this and adjoining counties have odd pieces of furniture taking up needed space and would be glad to get rid of it at the same time getting something for it. Farm implements are going to be needed, and there are many farmers who have more and of certain kinds they are not going to need the coming crop year, and might just as well get a little money from the surplus.

Indications are there will be plenty of livestock of different kinds for swap next Monday. Several farmers have already been in this week making enquiries as to the swapping and selling of stock. It is understood an auctioneer will be furnished to auction off free any articles that may be brought here next Monday.

$450 Of $1,800 R. F. C. Fund Check Is Received By Brown

R. L. Brown, Bailey county chairman of relief work, Tuesday night received a check of $450.00 from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, representing one-fourth of the R. F. C. funds allotted to Bailey county for the month of March. The balance of the total of $1,800 will be forwarded a little later, the letter said.

It is confidently expected that another sum of $1,800 will also be received by this county for the month of April.

Mr. Brown stated the committee was exceedingly glad to receive this check as there was considerable work waiting its arrival. About $60 is due for past labor, he said, and will be paid as fast as applications are made for it. Some new work is to be done on the park, and some of the funds will be used toward surveying expenses on the north and south highway between Muleshoe and Mesquite.

STATE SCHOOL INSPECTOR FAVORS TAX ON COMMODITIES

The principal features of the Kewanee club meeting Friday of last week were the superb meal spread by Manager Cecil McLaury, of the Onyx cafe, and talk made by E. H. Patton, state school inspector. There was a good attendance of club members present.

Mr. Patton spoke at length on the features of the consolidated school system and urged the establishment of district high schools in Bailey county in the near future. He told of the forward steps being taken by State Superintendent Woods in an educational way and of drastic expense cuts already made in the State Department of Education.

Patton spoke strongly in favor of tax measures on sulphur, gas and crude oil, and urged McLaury present to write the senator and representative urging they support such measures in the legislature in session.

Brief talks were also made by Superintendent W. C. Cox, Judge J. E. Adams and Fred Jenkins.

ELECT SCHOOL DIRECTORS THIS DISTRICT APRIL 1

An election of school trustees, Muleshoe district, will be held April 1 at the school house, two to be elected.

The terms of C. W. Wimberly and D. L. Hobbs expire this year, necessitating two others to take their place. Trustees H. A. E. Cox, J. E. Adams, Neil Rocky, Levi Cox and Walter White hold office.

WITHHOLD COURT DECISIONS

Governor Ferguson has issued a proclamation withholding all trial courts to desist from the entry of money judgements in any litigation.

She has also requested that such a moratorium be respected by the courts up to March 25.

TEAGUE KISTLER

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Teague, of Cross Roads, N. M., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Joyce, to Eugene Kistler, of Muleshoe.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kistler and a teacher in the Texico school.

Mrs. Kistler is a graduate of Tech. college and now employed as Home Economics teacher in Texico High school. She is the niece of Mrs. E. C. Raney this city and not a stranger in Muleshoe as she has visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Raney several times.

Hood and Others Are Charged With Cattle Theft In New Mex.

Joe E. Brown and F. N. Hood were charged jointly with cattle theft in a complaint filed this morning in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connolly's court. A 2nd district court grand jury which reconvened this morning was expected to consider the case.

Brown and Hood were arrested Sunday near Portales, and brought to county jail here. Two milk cows, identified as stolen from near Idalou, the sheriff's department report.

A man accused of participating with Brown and Hood in thefts was arrested by the sheriff's department Sunday at Idalou. Some blacksmith tools were recovered there in connection with arrest of the third man, a deputy sheriff said.

Two of the three suspects were said to be former county commissioners in South Plains counties.—Lubbock Journal.

TECH STUDENTS WEAVE CLOTH

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, March 14.—Textile students in Texas Technological college are weaving white woolen suiting which will be suitable for summer wear. The wool has been scoured, carded and spun by the students, and they are combining it with rayon which is twisted into the wool.

STORK SPECIALS

Born Monday, March 13, a boy, to Mr. and Mrs. Clay Buchanan.

Born Saturday, March 11, a girl, to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alsop.

MULESHOE GETS A 15 PER CENT FIRE CREDIT

The Journal, this week received notice that Muleshoe was entitled to another 15 per cent reduction on fire insurance premiums because of its past good fire record. The notice is as follows:

"Statements showing that the loss ratio of Muleshoe, for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932 is .177 have been filed with, checked and approved by the Fire Insurance Department. Under provisions for credit for good fire record in cities and towns shown on pages 27 and 28 of the 1932 edition of the Texas General Basis Schedule, this record entitles Muleshoe to a credit of 15 per cent which local agents are to deduct from the final premium on all policies written on or after March 1, 1933, to February 28, 1934, only, and covering property located within the corporate limits of Muleshoe."

P.-T. A. Will Meet Monday; Carrie J. Bond Program Given

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association to be held at the High school auditorium next Monday night, beginning promptly at eight o'clock.

Following the business session, under direction of Mrs. Clay Beavers, president, a feature of the program will be the presentation of a number of vocal numbers by four pupils of Mrs. Fred Reynolds, rendering compositions from the well known author, Carrie Jacobs Bond, as follows:

"Las Lou Res," Mrs. Pat Bobo. "Just Lonesome," Miss Adella Beavers.

"God Remembers When the World Forgets," Miss Reva Mae Williams. "I Love You Truly," Justin Danner. "Just a Wearin' for You," Mrs. Pat Bobo.

"A Perfect Day," "I've Done My Work," Miss Adella Beavers. All patrons of the school and all citizens generally are urged to attend this meeting and enjoy the renditions of these beautiful numbers from the pen of one of the world's sweetest song writers.

MONEY CIRCULATION INCREASED

Washington.—Circulation of money in the United States increased $906,000,000 to a total of $6,945,716,139 in the month of February. Gold in circulation increased from $478,837,314 to $71,337,850 and the per capita circulation of the country jumped from $45.00 to $52.23, the highest per capita circulation since October 31, 1929 while the total circulation was the highest on record up to that time.

The New Mexico legislature has voted down the 1 cent sales tax.

130 Dead, 5,000 Injured, Property Loss 50 Million Dollars In Earth Quake Friday in Sou. California

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—Fear of disease getting a foothold in the earthquake torn area of the metropolitan district through water pollution or unregulated sanitation added more woe Sunday to the predicament of homeless thousands.

United relief agencies went into action on a wide front, however, and first aid, hospitalization, good distribution, and even reconstruction work gathered momentum while the earth was still shaking.

The 35th major shock occurred about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, approximately 34 hours after the first concussion at 5:55 P. M., Friday which wrought the greatest damage. The continuing shocks did little damage, however, except to shake down more bricks, glass and masonry, but they kept the populace nervous.

A great portion of Long Beach's 140,000 residents refused to return to their homes, fearing for their lives. They stuck to the open spaces, tenting where they could, but many sleeping with only a blanket for shelter. The weather was warm, however.

Bread Lines
Bread lines stretched for blocks in the City Park and food camps elsewhere passed out emergency rations.

Church services were held in the open throughout the area of greatest destruction, which extended from Huntington Park, just south of Los Angeles, down to Long Beach, a stretch of some 20 miles.

A peculiarity of the later shocks was their damage in direction of movement. Friday night, during the heaviest tremors, those lying in beds running east and west were rolled sidewise sometimes violently. Saturday night the motion seemingly changed, with sleepers lying east to west being shaken endwise.

Casualty and damage figures remained generally unchanged, although the Long Beach figures were subject to alteration. The aggregate toll still stood at approximately 130 dead, 5,000 injured, 4,000 of these cases being first aid matters, and property damage roughly $50,000,000.

While a score of cities Saturday dug out from under the wreckage and havoc caused by earthquakes which Friday night and Saturday morning shook Southern California, the remainder of the state quickly mobilized to give relief.

Action began, although authorities of Los Angeles and Long Beach had declined with thanks offers of outside aid as unneeded.

Governor James Rolph, Jr., hurried by airplane from Sacramento, to Los Angeles, and, with his emergency relief committee, survey the devastated area. Rhea Crawford Spivaco, state director of social welfare, ordered all available social and welfare workers of San Francisco and Sacramento to report to her at Long Beach, where she has established a missing persons and welfare bureau.

The Red Cross started relief work, James L. Fieser, vice-chairman of the National Red Cross at Washington, D. C., wired A. L. Schafer, Pacific area manager, who went to Los Angeles last night to direct the work, that $25,000 had been appropriated for immediate relief.

Telegraph offices of further aid poured into headquarters from chapters of the organization in numerous California communities.

Recurring earth shocks, in addition to the 23 major convulsions that killed many and maimed and harassed the densely populated metropolitan area, kept rasping at the already raw nerves of the two million persons who escaped unscathed.

As afternoon wore on into the night the less severe shocks got beyond count. Grief, sorrow and fear edged into the wide picture of death and destruction as the survivors watched the corpses hunters fill the marble slabs of the morgues, read the casualty list and inspected the far-flung ruins, all the while keeping on edge for shocks which scientists said might continue for days or even weeks.

Long Beach apparently was the heaviest sufferer with its business districts laid waste and reports by radio saying hundreds were killed.

Reports of deaths came from widely separated suburban towns. The first shock struck at 5:55 p. m. Downtown streets in Los Angeles were thronged. Buildings swayed violently, from north to south. Lights flickered. Bricks crashed from the fronts of old

CARRUTH-CHESTER

Lloyd H. Chester, Chevrolet salesman at Sudan, and Miss Lillie Mae Carruth of that city, slipped off to Muleshoe last Saturday and obtained a marriage license from County Clerk J. B. Burkhead, the wedding to take place sometime this week after the legal notice time has expired.

Lloyd is the son of J. W. Chester, proprietor of the Garden theatre in Sudan, and is a young man of fine character and outstanding ability. The bride is the daughter of J. M. Carruth, one of the leading business men of that city, and having many friends who extend their best wishes to the newly weds.

Lack of Federal Aid Holds Up Paving On State Highway No. 7

That there will be some delay in completing the paving of State Highway No. 7 through Bailey, Farmer and Lamb counties, is the information coming to the Journal this week from Senator Arthur P. Duggan, of this district, who forwards a copy of a letter from Judge R. C. Ely, chairman of the State Highway Commission, stating that lack of Federal funds is holding up work on other state projects also. The letter is as follows:

"Dear Senator Duggan: "Regarding construction work on state Highway No. 7, about which you spoke to me this morning, I have made inquiry from our Plans Department and find the following:

"Through Hockley County, plans for Unit 1 (grading and drainage structures) are in the office inked, and nearly all of the right-of-way has been secured.

"In Lamb County, from the Hockley County line to Amberst, plans for Unit 1 (grading and drainage structures) are in the office inked, and seem to be in good shape, and we are informed that practically all of the right-of-way has been secured.

"From Amberst to 3.5 miles north of Sudan, plans were made in pencil and returned to the County of January 28th for correction; and at that time about sixty per cent of the right-of-way had been obtained; plans will be corrected and inked and sent back to this office.

"The Department at this time is without Federal Aid as the last session of Congress did not make the usual appropriation of Federal Aid. Plans of the above projects cannot be submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads until Federal Aid has been appropriated. Construction will, of course, depend on the amount of Federal Aid that is made available to Texas and the time that it will be available. At this time there are not sufficient State funds to make the projects State Aid projects."

Preliminaries For The Interscholastic League Start Friday

Events held under auspices of the Interscholastic League in Bailey county will begin this week, according to Superintendent W. C. Cox, director general of the league.

The first event will be the playing of tennis at Muleshoe, Friday.

Elimination for boys and girls playground ball will also be held here Saturday of this week, the playing to be by straight elimination games down to the last two girls' teams and last two boys' teams. The first two games will be played at the county meet March 25 for first and second places, while losers to the teams playing for first and second place will play for third place.

Prof. Cox says there have been several inquiries regarding the different phases of the League, especially pertaining to the Tiny Tot story telling. There may be a boy and a girl from each of the primer, first, second and third grades, and there is no age limit.

There has been some talk for a contest in quartet, trio and duet singing. Cox said. The committee has taken no action on these events. However, if there is enough in favor, a contest of this kind will be worked out, he said.

"We are calling for a meeting of the Executive committee of the Bailey County Interscholastic League to be held at the Muleshoe High school building, Saturday, March 18, at 2:00 o'clock. If any member of the committee fails to receive a notice of this meeting, they may take this as their official notice. There will be several matters to be considered pertaining to the final rounding out of the county meet. Items, such as getting judges, programs, etc. Any suggestion any member has for the good of the League work will be considered," Cox said.

DISTRICT MEETING AT OLTON

Several people from the Methodist church here attended the District meeting of the church held at Olton Tuesday day of last week.

Muleshoe delegation contributed two numbers to the program: Mrs. Clay Beavers, giving a talk on "Stewardship" and Mrs. Levi Churchill, accompanied by Mrs. Faye Erod at the piano, sang a duet.

ZANGARA TO DIE FOR MURDER

Boastfully shouting his undoing and defying the Court, Giuseppe Zangara, the assassin who tried President Roosevelt and died by shooting Mayor Anton Cegulski of Chicago, was sentenced last week at Miami, Fla. to electric chair.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

A new heart will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you; and I will take away your stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.—Ezekiel 36:26.

Compassion, the fairest associate of the heart.—Paine.

LITTLE RED SCHOOLS

Last week a state school supervisor was in Bailey county making the rounds of inspection of both independent and common school districts. All of whom received favorable reports, some of them highly commendable.

The Supervisor spoke highly in favor of the consolidated school district and of the county High school plan, both which are working more or less adequately in this and other states, and will doubtless prove efficient in Bailey county.

It is a notable fact, however, that the consolidated school idea is not gone over everywhere with a bang; but several states still cling to original one-room school building idea. The situation, as we see it, is largely a case of tax cost vs. educational efficiency, and while there are plenty of property owners who believe strongly in educational efficiency, yet they hesitate in that direction because of the increased taxes it brings.

Figures recently gathered by the Federal Bureau of Education show that in only one-third of the states are one-room school buildings in the minority, and it will doubtless come as a surprise to the average Bailey county citizen to learn that instead of being wiped out by new educational ideas the little red school house is actually holding its own, particularly in New England, some of the Pacific coast states, as well as in the south and southwest areas—and all regardless of the idealism and efficiency urge of learned educators.

Middle western states have largely shown a tendency to go in for the "centralized school" idea, and this is largely true also in West Texas where rapid settlement is in progress and districts are being originally carved out of the rough. Modern brick structures, of commodious proportions, generally heavily bonded for their erection, are being built at advantageous points, and to which school buses haul the children quickly. Such is quickly putting the red schoolhouse out of business, and so rapid has been the spread of this plan—recently that some have erroneously thought the one-room school house was to quickly pass from the scene and forever. However, that danger point has not yet arrived, and with the trend of present economic conditions the era of the one-room school may be prolonged some time yet.

Take the State of Ohio, for instance, where the centralized movement was welcomed with open arms: federal figures show there are still 4,258 one-room school houses out of a total of 7,751 there. Indiana educational conditions follow with a close second, and Illinois is also changing numerous districts annually from centralized to de-centralized plan. In Iowa during the past five years there have been more school districts that gave up the consolidated school plan than there were to take it up—practically all the reason was because of increased cost of the centralized school system.

The Journal is strong for educational efficiency and would like to see about four county high schools in Bailey county. From the standpoint of educational efficiency we believe they would be worth while. But we realize at the same time there are hundreds of other taxpayers in Bailey county whom the idea of tax expense appeals greater than does that of education, and probably for some reason, it is going to be largely a question of which is the cheapest, and who have to foot the bill. In many instances the cost for the one-room school is some time yet to not struck Muleshoe very seriously. We don't favor the notion a bit. A woman's a woman no matter what she wears, and the notion of imitating a man can't be put over successfully. Most men want women to be womanly, not mannish. No normal man appreciates a mannish woman any more than that sex has any use for a sissy man. They are both repugnant not only to real men but also to sensible women, and we predict that the feminine sex will eventually rue their silliness.

The Journal makes bold to accuse every Muleshoe man of hoarding during the past two weeks. It's got the goods on 'em this time and they can't deny it. No, they are not hoarding gold. The probabilities are not a one of them have seen a single gold piece in so long a time they'd recognize one if they found it in the road. But they have been hoarding checks and by the dozens, and checks are supposed to represent the gold specie under lock and key at Washington. Of course, they have done it unwillingly, 'cause the banks wouldn't take 'em; but what is President Frankie going to do about it!

The Tucuman (N. M.) Daily News in commenting upon present economic conditions declares itself in favor of retrenching on words, a suggestion we offered the women folks some time ago. He insists that such repetitions as Walls Walls, Sing Sing, tom tom and dum dum might be cut in two and the last two left off of Carrizozo. Fortunately much talk don't cost most people anything except an editor who occasionally spouts off too strong in print and gets a libel suit filed against him for his trouble. But while cutting down repetitions of monosyllabic terms, considerable energy might be saved some folks, including a few around Muleshoe, who waste much verbal profanity in denouncing the government and preemptorily consigning all state-aid men to the nether regions. Such wasted energy properly directed would add money to their pocketbooks.

Jaunty Journalettes

When you hear a Muleshoe girl say she loves the smell of a pipe that means she hasn't married one yet.

Those Muleshoe forecasters who predicted an "open" winter were certainly right. It was open to plenty of criticism.

Blessed are they that around Muleshoe. It's only our rich that salt down money which should be kept in circulation.

We've already decided that it'll take a lot of 3.05 per cent beer, when it is finally obtained, to make a Bailey county man so dumb that paying taxes won't hurt.

The discovery of America is figured to have cost about $7,000, and occasionally we find some one around Muleshoe who still questions whether or not it was worth it.

We've occasionally had cause to wonder if some of our modern Muleshoe girls wouldn't contract pneumonia if they went around without their powder on.

There are a few motorists in and around Muleshoe fortunate enough to own cars of the "F" wheeling type; but we have noticed they are on paying the gas tax just the same.

A bank holiday is one kind of holiday we haven't found anyone around Muleshoe is anxious to celebrate and none of our business men hung their flags out (even half mast) to commemorate it.

Pavement Pickups

G. C. Danner says the reason most lion-tamers never get married is because they don't believe in taking any unnecessary chances.

Elmo Head says cheese-and-cracker salaries wouldn't be so bad after all if some folks wouldn't keep on trying to satisfy portehouse appetites on it.

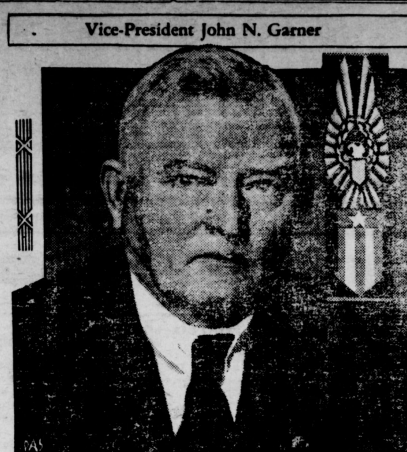

At Asyaqueh, a financial exchequer pauses to observe that a good plan for solving the unemployment problem would be to give the rich fellows a tax reduction for every job they provide.

Mrs. F. C. Moeller says she knows of a good many housewives around Muleshoe who will really be glad when beer does come back, as they'll have more crocks available for skim milk, sauer kraut, plum butter and other provender.

Coach Stevens did some wonderful work with Muleshoe athletic clubs the past year; but he declares he had nothing to do with the smaller attendance than usual at the games played, as most people preferred staying at home and doing their own kicking.

Wm. Posthosen says that among the farmers who need relief the most are a lot of those who made the mistake a few years ago of moving to town. Bill has a couple of fine irrigation wells on his place north-east of town and is going to "stay put."

County Clerk Burk J. B. head says he has already been in office long enough to learn the difference between a hunting license and a marriage license, the first entitling a man to a certain number of deer while the other means just one deer a time. Another strange thing he has learned is that hunting license fees are used in

Vice-President John N. Garner of Texas, president of the Senate in the Roosevelt administration, is expected to play an important part as contact man between the White House and the legislative halls of the capitol while the party is getting organized for important legislation proposed during the next year.

Muleshoe, but most folks around here go to Clovis for the other kind.

The Journal carried a news item last week regarding a fine girl being born to Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Malone. Since then it has been learned the fond parents are having difficulty in choosing an appropriate and suitable name for their first born. Numerous and varied suggestions have been offered by solicited friends and acquaintances, and the Journal is going to make bold a suggestion. Why not call the charming miss Mora Torium Malone. Since the young lady made her debut into the realm of civilized humans during a period when banks were closed and folks were thinking more about moratoriums, depressions, deflations and prorations than anything else, we believe it would not be significant but appropriate.

Spain's Capital City Madrid, the capital of Spain, has a population of close to 900,000. Many homes in the city have only one story. Balconies jut out from the sides of the houses; and we may fancy a prettily "sonorita" sitting on such a balcony during a warm summer evening, listening to the guitar played by one of her admirers who stands on the ground below.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY COUNTERPARTY OF BAILEY COUNTY—GREETING: YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED TO SUMMON Morrell W. Yanatta, by making publication of this citation once each week for four consecutive weeks, previous to the return day hereof, in the Muleshoe Journal, a newspaper published in Bailey County, Texas, to appear before Wm. S. Matthews, J. E. Arnold and Roy Sheriff, Special Commissioners, heretofore appointed by J. E. Adams, County Judge of Bailey County, Texas, to appear on the 1st day of April, A. D. 1933, at 10 o'clock A. M. at the office of J. E. Adams, County Judge, aforesaid, then and there to offer any evidence that he may desire as to the amount of damages to be assessed against the State of Texas, and to be paid to the defendant Morrell W. Yanatta, Abbie G. Patterson, Lester D. Moss, and wife, Harriet E. Moss, Byron R. Healea, and wife Helen Zow Healea, Grover I. Scott, and wife, Myrtle A. Scott, John A. Roberts, and wife, Ellen E. Roberts, for the right of way and strip of land described in Plaintiff's Original Petition filed in the County Court of Bailey County, Texas, on the 10th day of December, A. D. 1932, in case Number 192. Wherein, The State of Texas, acting by and through the Commissioners Court of Bailey County, Texas, composed of J. E. Adams, County Judge and A. J. Hicks, Commissioner Precinct Number 1, D. W. Danielson, Commissioner Precinct Number 2, N. Hood, Commissioner Precinct Number 3, and W. R. Carter, Commissioner Precinct Number 4, of said County, referred to as Petitioner, and Morrell W. Yanatta, Abbie G. Patterson, Lester D. Moss, and wife Harriet E. Moss, Byron R. Healea, and wife Helen Zow Healea, Grover I. Scott, and wife, Myrtle A. Scott, John A. Roberts, and wife, Ellen E. Roberts, defendants, That the Petitioner and defendants aforesaid, have failed to agree on damages for the land being acquired, in the above styled and numbered suit, wherein the State of Texas, instituted suit, against the above named defendants for the condemnation of right of way and strip of land described in Plaintiff's Original Petition filed in said above case Number 192. Herein fail not, but have you before said Special Commissioners, aforesaid, on the 1st day of April, A. D. 1933, at 10 o'clock A. M., this writing showing how you have executed the same. J. B. Give the Job to Phillips 66
Get MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

You see in this cartoon one of the most sensational facts ever presented in any gasoline advertisement.

If you wonder why we sell this super-volatile gasoline at the same price as ordinary motor fuel... just remember that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline.

You pay less for it, because we make more of it. Day in and day out, cold weather and warm, will actually feel the difference it makes in your engine—more power, pep, and pick-up. More miles and sweeter running. On every score, from instant starting to reduced crankcase dilution, this outstanding gasoline always delivers outstanding performance.

Phillips 66 is honest high test; that's why! Right now its gravity ranges from 65.6° to 80.5°. This gives it 78% more volatility than any other leading gasoline.

And every gallon you buy is matched to your weather by CONTROLLED VOLATILITY, the climax of all Phillips achievements.

We ask you to stop for a trial tankful the very next time you see the Orange and Black 66 shield... because we give you facts and figures in place of confusing claims... because seven million experienced drivers have been won to it solely on merit... because you get higher test and anti-knock without paying a penny of higher price. And while you're at the Phillips Service Station, why not drain and refill with instant-flowing Phillips 66 Motor Oil, the perfect partner of instant-starting Phillips 66 Gasoline!

What is CONTROLLED VOLATILITY? Everyone knows that weather affects ordinary gasoline, that temperature affects engine performance. Obviously the weather cannot be controlled; so Phillips insures perfect performance by CONTROLLING the VOLATILITY of the gasoline. Phillips pioneered this scientific method of matching gasoline to driving conditions. Always, it means full allowance for differences caused by climate and geographical location. Whatever any fine in any city needs to control maximum efficiency, Phillips performance offers the same conditions, in exactly controlled Volatility puts into Phillips 66.

Also Phillips 66 Ethyl at the regular price of Ethyl Gasoline. UNIQUE. A gasoline of U. S. Motor grade at a competitive price. BIG TANKS! This is the difference between a 66 and a 67.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT OUTLINES BANK PROCEDURE, EXPLAINS CASH STATUS CONGRATULATES PUBLIC ON GOOD WILL

The text of President Roosevelt's address Sunday night follows: I want to talk for a few minutes with the people of the United States about banking...

steps are going to be. I recognize that the many proclamations from state capitols and from Washington, the legislation, the treasury regulations, etc. couched for the most part in banking and legal terms should be explained for the benefit of the average citizen.

Money Goes To Work First of all let me state the simple fact that when you deposit money in a bank the bank does not put the money into a safe deposit vault. It invests your money in many different forms of credit—bonds, commercial paper, mortgages and many other kinds of loans.

What, then, happened during the last few days of February and the first few days of March? Because of undiminished confidence on the part of the public, there was a general rush by a large portion of our population to turn bank deposits into currency or gold—a rush so great that the soundest banks could not get enough currency to meet the demand.

A question you will ask is this—why are all the banks not to be reopened at the same time? The answer is simple. Your government intend that the history of the past few years shall be repeated. We do not want and will not have another epidemic of bank failures.

As a result we start tomorrow, Monday with the opening of banks in the 12 Federal Reserve Bank cities—those banks which on first examination by the Treasury have already been found to be all right. This will be followed on Tuesday by the reopening of all other functions by banks already found to be sound in cities where there are sound clearing houses. That means about 250 cities of the United States.

On Wednesday and succeeding days banks in smaller places all through the country will resume business subject, of course, to the government's physical ability to complete its survey. It is necessary that the reopening of banks be extended over a period in order to permit the banks to make applications for necessary loans, to obtain currency needed to meet their requirements and enable the government to make common sense check-ups.

Let me make it clear to you that if your bank does not open the first day you are by no means justified in believing that it will not open. A bank that opens on one of the subsequent days is in the same financial status as the bank that opens Monday.

I know that many people are worrying about state banks not members of the federal reserve system. These banks can and will receive assistance from member banks and from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. These state banks are following the same course as the national banks except that they get their licenses to resume business from the state authorities, and these authorities have been asked by the secretary of the treasury to permit their good banks to open up on the same schedule as the national banks.

It is possible that when the banks resume operations a very few people who have not recovered from their fear may again begin withdrawals. Let me make it clear that the banks will take care of all needs—and it is my belief that hoarding during the past week has become an exceedingly un-fashionable pastime. It needs no prophet to tell you that when the people find that they can get their money—that they can get it when they want it for all legitimate purposes—the phantom of fear will soon be laid aside. People will again be glad to have their money where it will be safely taken care of and where they can use it conveniently at any time. I can assure you that it is safe to keep your money in a reopened bank than under the mattress.

The success of our whole great national program depends, of course, upon the cooperation of the public—on its intelligent support and use of a reliable system. Remember that the essential accomplishment of the new legislation is that it makes it possible for banks more readily to convert their assets into cash than was the case before. More liberal provision has been made for banks to borrow on these assets at the reserve banks and more liberal provision has also been made for issuing currency on the security of these good assets. This currency is not fiat currency. It is issued only on adequate security—and every good bank has an abundance of such security.

panic prices far below their real value. Meratorium Hits By the afternoon of March 3 scarcely a bank in the country was open to do business. Proclamations temporarily closing them in whole or in part had been issued by the governors in almost all the states.

It was then that I issued the proclamation providing for the nationwide bank holiday, and this was the first step in the government's reconstruction of our financial and economic fabric. The second step was the legislation promptly and patriotically passed by the Congress confirming my proclamation and broadening my powers so that it became possible in view of the requirement of time to extend the holiday and lift the ban of that holiday gradually. This law also gave authority to develop a program of rehabilitation of our banking facilities. I want to tell all our citizens in every part of the nation that the National Congress—Republicans and Democrats alike—showed by this action a devotion to public welfare and a realization of the interest our country has in it.

The third stage has been the series of regulations permitting the banks to continue their functions to take care of the distribution of food and household necessities and the payment of salaries. This bank holiday while resulting in many cases in great inconvenience to supply the currency necessary to meet the situation. No sound bank is a dollar weaker than it was when it closed its doors last Monday. Neither is any bank which may turn out not to be in a position for immediate opening. The new law allows the 12 Federal Reserve Banks to issue additional currency on good assets and thus the banks which reopen will be able to meet every legitimate call. The new currency is being sent out by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in large volume to every part of the country. It is sound currency because it is backed by actual, good assets.

A question you will ask is this—why are all the banks not to be reopened at the same time? The answer is simple. Your government intend that the history of the past few years shall be repeated. We do not want and will not have another epidemic of bank failures.

New York Stylist For Penny Co. Is Here For Exhibit

Wednesday morning at the High school members of the Muleshoe Home Economics class, other pupils of the High school and a large number of women in Muleshoe had the rare and delightful privilege of witnessing a demonstration put on by Miss Edith Mott, of New York City, who for the past years has been in the employ of the J. C. Penney Co., as advanced stylist, being accompanied here by M. B. Kuntz, manager of the J. C. Penney store at Clovis, N. M.

The principal theme of Miss Mott's demonstration was to show the girls and women present that cotton goods could be made to look practically as fine and as nice as the highest priced silks and other expensive weaves. Some of the local girls were used as models. Miss Mott explained designing, cutting and seaming, showing how the kind and quality of workmanship put into a given garment meant as much toward its particular attractiveness as the kind of cloth used in making the dress. She carried with her a large assortment of the cheaper dresses, all of which impressed one as being worth many times more than their real sale value. The girls who wore real dresses could be made at the low cost of from $1.00 to $1.75 each, yet in many instances looking like creations that would sell on the market at from $3.00 to $5.00.

The girls and women here were very appreciative of the demonstration, gaining many new thoughts toward the compiling of their own wardrobes, and on how to really judge ready-to-wear made clothing purchased at the stores. Similar demonstrations are being made by Miss Mott in all the towns surrounding Clovis.

One more point before I close. There will be, of course, some banks unable to reopen without being reorganized. The new law allows the government to assist in making these reorganizations quickly and effectively and even allows the government to subscribe to at least a part of new capital which may be required.

I hope you can see from this elementary recital of what your government is doing and that the picture is not so radical in the process. We had a bad banking situation. Some of our bankers had shown themselves either incompetent or dishonest in their handling of the people's funds. They had used the money entrusted to them in speculations and unwise loans. This was of course not true in the vast majority of our banks but it was true in enough of them to put them into a frame of mind where they did not differentiate, but seemed to assume that the acts of a comparative few had tainted them all. It was the government's job to straighten out this situation and do it as quickly as possible—and the job is being performed.

I do not promise you that every bank will be reopened or that individual losses will not be suffered, but there will be no losses that possibly can be avoided, and there would have been, more and greater losses had we permitted to drift. I can even promise you salvation for some at least of the sorely pressed banks. We shall be engaged not merely in reopening sound banks, but in reorganization of sound banks through reorganization.

Wonderful Confidence It has been wonderful to me to catch the note of confidence from all over the country. I am never sufficiently grateful to the people for the loyal support they have given me in their acceptance of the judgment that has dictated our course, even though all our processes may not have seemed clear to them. After all there is an element in the readjustment of our financial system more important than currency, more important than gold, and that is the confidence of the people. Confidence and courage are the essentials of success in carrying out our plan. You people must have faith; you must not be stampeded by rumors or guesses. Let us unite in banishing fear. We have provided the machinery to restore our financial system. It is up to you to support and make it work. It is your problem no less than it is mine. Together we cannot fail.

THE CENTER OF INTEREST

The Samaritan woman at Jacob's well stopped short, her interest challenged in spite of herself; she set down the pitcher and looked at the stranger. It was a burning hot day; the well was far from the city; she was heated and tired. What did Jesus mean by such a remark? She started to speak, checked herself and burst out impulsively, her curiosity overleaping her caution.

"What are you talking about? Do you mean to say you are greater than our father Jacob who gave us this well? Have you some magic that will save us this long walk in the sun?" Dramatic, isn't it?—a simple sentence achieving triumph, arousing interest and creating desire. With sure instinct Jesus followed up his initial advantage. He began to talk to her in terms of her own life, her ambitions, her hopes, knowing so well that each of us is interested first of all and most of all in himself. When the disciples came up a few minutes later they found an unbelievable sight—a Samaritan listening with rapt attention to the teaching of a Jew.

He prepared to go but she would not allow it. Running back to the city she summoned her brothers and relatives. "Come," she cried, "and see a man who told me all things that ever I did." They followed her out to the well—these prejudiced, reluctant men and women who, an hour before, would have thought it incredible that they should ever hold conversation with one of their traditional enemies. It is said that great leaders are born, not made. The saying is true to this degree, that no man can persuade people to do what he wants them to do, unless he genuinely likes people and believes that he will do what he wants them to do to his own advantage.

The secret of Jesus' success was an affection for folks which so shone in his eyes and rang in his tones, that even the commonest man in a crowd felt instinctively that here was a friend. The afternoon shadows lengthened while he talked. It came time for the evening meal; again he prepared to go. They would not hear of it. He must be their guest, meet their neighbors, let them more, persuade them further! "They sought him to abide with them and he bode there two days."

The FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M. D.

"HOW BILL" GETS BY

Bill lives in a hole in your foot. If the Billa in the hand were organized they would make a formidable political party. There are some fifteen doctors in my town. When Bill moved here he engaged around for the most popular doctor and retained him as his family physician—as long as the doctor would do his work without pay, which was over two years. The doctor became too impatient about his pay to suit Bill. Then you have sought the formidable competitor of the leading doctor—and recited the two years of "robbery" that he had endured. The ambitious competitor swallowed the hook, line and sinker! he treated Bill's infirmities as long as he could afford to without remuneration; some competitors are that way. Then Bill sought the doctor that lived farthest away from his neighborhood, who had never heard of the experience of his contemporaries with the new patron. He grabbed Bill with open arms. Out of this doctor, Bill got a couple of tonsillectomies, two obstetrical services and several bedside influenza cases, before the doctor awakened to the real situation.

Every physician that ever touched Bill came away with a water-haul! At last Bill moves to another town, full of invective for his last place of abode. It was a hick town, with the meanest people in it in the world!

Those of my readers who are acquainted with Bill, know that he can tell you just how the United States Senate ought to perform! It will take a long time to educate some folks to the point of getting above the tactics of Bill—the fellow that public opinion alone can remove from our midst.

Are You A Well-Informed Person? Every week this newspaper is filled with news, and our experience is that the news which interests you most is the news which affects you most. When one of your friends has participated in a minor accident, you are more interested in that than in a major accident in another city. Advertising, too, is news of the first importance. It affects you. It is intimate local news addressed to you. It deals with your comforts, your pleasure and your business. It saves you time by telling you where the merchandise is. It saves you money by announcing fair prices. It is the guide to efficient spending. When you fail to read the advertisements you do not keep up with the news that is most important to you. You miss many opportunities. The best informed people are those who read advertisements regularly. In fact, in this modern age, when each day brings forth new things which directly affect you, you cannot ignore the advertisements in your weekly newspaper and still be well informed!

Tips on Taxes

AUSTIN—There is a very noticeable lessening of talk about the need for new taxes in order to balance the State budget within the last few days.

Chances of a sales tax are generally regarded as having disappeared. There is less talk of an income tax.

Another new tax measure made its appearance in a bill which would levy a tax of 2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas.

Natural gas at present pays a gross production tax of 2 cents. The proposed bill would heavily increase this tax on exported gas.

A State budget of less than $30,000,000, as compared with an eight-year average of $45,000,000 and last year's figure of $42,000,000 is in prospect.

Efforts to abolish eight State colleges are apparently defeated. The Senate killed a bill to that effect.

WATCH THE WATER SUPPLY

Most farmers, whether of the irrigating or so-called "dry-land" type, do not realize how much moisture is really necessary for raising any particular crop.

Scientists agree that to produce one pound of dry matter in vegetables 300 pounds or more of water is required.

Most vegetables contain an average of 90 per cent water and 10 per cent dry matter, some more some a little less.

Any soil to produce well must contain organic matter. Vegetables, not crops of any kind, can not be produced in large quantities and of highest quality without adding to the soil, rotting manure, or some other spongy, water-holding material each year.

Tenants Are Seeking Farms On Plains For Occupancy This Year

LUBBOCK, March 14.—Literally hundreds of tenant farmers are seeking rent farms in the vast reaches of virgin tillable soil on the South Plains of Texas.

Dealers in real estate and big land owners have received from 12 to 100 applications from tenants for every farm that has been rented in Hockley, Cochran, Howard, Borden, Terry, Youkum, Gaines and Bailey counties. A good many farms are being sold, but the number of buyers is small in comparison with those waiting "a place to live and chance to make a living." Real estate dealers report that most of the applicants were formerly farmers and would make good tenants.

Some of the landowners are taking advantage of the situation and colonizing tracts of from 1,500 to 1,800 acres with from 10 to 15 tenants to the tract. The plan cannot be interpreted as community farming, but the fact that the land is subdivided and improved in one operation makes a good many savings possible in the drilling of wells, building of fences, and the purchase of equipment.

Real estate dealers claim that the price of raw land has declined but little and that improved farms still are commanding a good price.

ENTERTAINS BASKETBALL GIRLS

Miss Evelyn Boone, coach, entertained members of the Muleshoe High school basketball team Friday night of last week at the home of Mrs. Beulah Motherall.

It was known as a "hobo" party, and on the center table of the entertaining room was some item representative of some game played by the girls during the past season.

After the bunch had all arrived they went "hobbing," begging for something to eat from neighboring homes. Prof. Stevens fed them on state biscuits, Prof. Cox gave them left-over crackers, while Prof. Bryant and Morgan each turned down with the statement that "nothing was left from supper."

Returning to Mrs. Motherall's home, and following several interesting games of entertainment, those present were served a delicious plate lunch consisting of meat salad, pickle, two kinds of sandwiches, tea, ice cream and cake.

Members of the basketball attending were Eula Faye Waller, Twila Farrell, Carrie Agnes Lee, Hazel and Betty Nelson, Lucille Long, Crystal Kennedy, Mary Frances Willis, Maida Chandler, Visitors present were Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Cox, Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Stevens Mr. and Mrs. Trostle, Miss A. Everett Motherall, Mr. and Mrs. Hub Motherall, and the hostess, Miss Boone.

Make Every Farm a Factory Every Day of the Year MOBILIZING YOUR Spending Power Mobilization is a military term. It means having soldiers equipped and ready for instant action. There are some people whose money is never mobilized. It is scattered out in various investments. In case a cash bargain appears and they want and need to take advantage of it, they are helpless, without borrowing, because too much of their funds are tied up. It pays real dividends, in satisfaction, in peace of mind, in dollars saved through ability to catch fleeting bargains when they pass—if you keep a few hundred extra dollars mobilized in your Checking Account. Boy Scout News The Boy Scouts met at their regular meeting place Thursday night of last week with many visitors present. Each patrol brought several boy visitors. On one side of the room we had a large table covered with arrowheads, pottery, flints, maps, and other things made or found by the Scouts. A short business session was held. Some of the boys demonstrated some first knot tying and bandaging to the visitors. The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung while the Scouts stood at attention and held the Scout Salute. After the song was ended, we played a variety of games and held some contests. Everyone enjoyed the play, although one of the boys was slightly injured. When everyone became tired of playing, refreshments were served. The meeting was finished with the Scout oath. We hope all of the visitors enjoyed themselves and will come again. We are looking for you to join our Junior Coy or our Boy Scout for details. Wandering Buffalo Patrol The Wandering Buffalo patrol met Monday, March 6. We checked the roll which showed there were six present. We discussed some business. Because of unexpected happening, we are forced to put off our play for a while. After some more business, we went west of town and played a few games. When we returned, we dismissed with Scout oaths. Fox Patrol News The Fox patrol met at the regular hour last Wednesday night. We discussed plans of showing pictures and mounting arrowheads. We were eager for the weather to get warmer, so we can have our meetings out in the open by a camp fire. Fire has a place in a man's heart. It furnishes necessities and adds joy to life. One does not know the joy of a camp-fire until he really experiences it. After all a fire has a relationship to man that is very hard to explain. Spring is nearly here, watch the Foxes go. -Reporter

Wilson News Items The Muleshoe Missionary Society, church, called to order with a regular meeting next Friday night, March 17. We are hoping to be in the new tabernacle. Everyone is given a hearty welcome to attend. The ladies of the W. M. S. society met with Mrs. Byler for an all day meeting, Wednesday, March 8. For Bible study they had the first and third chapter of Genesis which was very interestingly led by Mrs. Joyce Weis. There were sixteen present and they quitted two quilts. Everyone reported a nice time. Next meeting will be with Mrs. S. P. James. They will quilt a quilt for her as they are planning on leaving soon. They are going to the Davis mountains for Mr. James health. We regret to give up these good people but hope he will soon be well and will come back to our community. The State school inspector, accompanied by Judge J. E. Adams, visited our school Thursday, of last week. Mr. Eubanks was rushed to a hospital in Lubbock last week. He is seriously ill and not expected to live. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rackley and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Rackley were called to Clarendon, Friday, on account of death among relatives. They will return home in a few days. -Reporter

Correct English An authority on correct English speaks as follows in regard to the position of personal pronouns connected by the conjunction, "When two or more personal pronouns in the singular are connected by 'and' the second person precedes the first and the third, and the third person precedes the first, when the pronouns are used together in the plural number, the first person precedes the second and the third, and the second person precedes the third."

EXPERT LAUDS WEEKLIES One of the highest compliments ever paid the weekly newspapers of the country comes from James O'Shaughnessy, formerly executive secretary of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, who declared in a Boston address that "country weeklies are the cornerstone of American Journalism."

"The weekly in a small town talks to its readers more intimately and confidentially than any other medium," Mr. O'Shaughnessy said.
Such a tribute from one of America's leading advertising authorities is gratifying to the thousands of country publishers, many of whom are struggling under adverse conditions to faithfully serve their communities.
It should also impress town and small city merchants with the fact that the weekly newspaper offers the most effective medium for placing his store message before the people upon whom he must depend for his business existence.

POPULATION OF THE EARTH QUADRUPLED IN 300 YEARS In less than three centuries the population of the earth has nearly quadrupled. Up to 1900 the rate of increase was accelerating but since the turn of the century the rate of increase slackened although of course there are millions more on earth now than in 1900.

The best estimate of the earth's population is 1,800,000,000 as of 1929. Dr. Walter F. Wilcox, Cornell's professor of economics and statistics, arrives at this figure after an extensive study of earth population, past and present, reported in an extensive research, all international migration just published under his editorship by the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Asia, with the teeming hordes of China, is the most populated continent, with 584,000,000, or over half of the earth's inhabitants. Incidentally, even for the present time it is most difficult to fix a reliable figure for China's population, due to the lack of census data and the turmoil of the Orient.

Europe has 478,000,000 persons on 3,800,000 square miles and is the most densely populated continent. Asia's population lives on a continent of 16,700,000 square miles.
North America, with a population of 162,000,000 outranks Africa's 140,000,000, although it is slightly smaller in area. South America has 77,000,000 and Australia and Polynesia together are credited with 9,600,000.

There is now more American Indian blood in the Western hemisphere than there was in 1650 when 13,000,000, practically all Indians, lived in the New World. One estimate is that the present number is 26,600,000, of whom two-fifths are in Mexico and about half in each of the two continents.

Trucks Saved $9,091 Hauling Bailey Co. Cotton Crop, Claim

AUSTIN, Texas, March 14.—Truck-compelled reduction in the cost of hauling Bailey county's 1932 cotton crop of 11,364 bales saved farmers $9,091.20 according to figures compiled from State records by the Texas Motor Transportation association, showing cotton production by counties together with the difference in railroad rates applying in Texas up to June 15, 1931, and the temporary rates now in effect.

Based on the difference between the old and the new rates, the total savings that went directly into the pockets of Texas cotton producers, as shown by the Association's analysis, amounted to $6,338,871 on a crop of 4,167,937 bales.

The difference in temporary rates now in effect and those applying two years ago is, in some instances, in excess of 75 per cent.

That every penny saved in transportation costs goes to the producer is said to be so well established as to be beyond question or debate, it being an inviolable practice of cotton buyers to pay the farmer the port price less the cost of transportation from shipping point to port.

Ginnings in Bailey county up to January 16, 1933 were 11,364 bales. The old rail rate from Muleshoe to seaboard was $1.90 per hundred, while the new rate is 84 cents and based on 11,364 bales of 500 pounds each, this means a saving of $9,091.20 to the county.

The analysis also shows that commercial motor vehicles contributed $1.66 per capita, or $2,599,271 to the state public school fund in the form of one fourth of the gasoline tax paid by trucks which in this county was $2,795.44, based on 1,684 children of scholastic age.

Hams What Am Will Be Sold at the Plains Meat Show at Lubbock LUBBOCK, Texas, Mar. 14.—"Good Old Ham," like "papa" used to have, will be available for sale at the Quality Meat Show at Lubbock, March 23 and 24, this year.

From 150 to 200 hams and about the same number of bacon, country cured, under the standard principles endorsed by the Texas A. & M., "collie," will go into a sale at the show. Hams and bacon, to qualify for the sale, must pass inspection of Roy W. Sawyer, meat specialist, of the Texas Extension Service and be pronounced a standard product. The hams and bacon will be wrapped with ham rag, glassine and vegetable parchment paper.

Regular market prices will be charged for the hams and bacon. The market on country cured meats being slightly higher than the premium packer hams. The hams and bacon winning second and third places in the show, will be sold in the auction sale with the calves and pigs on the afternoon of March 24. Last year, the grand champion ham was bought by the Garner for President Club at one dollar per pound and was then shipped to John Garner at Washington where a feed was prepared for the Texas delegation at the national capitol—with turnip greens on the side.

RULES FOR RAISING CHICKS Most everybody will agree that if chicks are to make money they must be grown rapidly and kept healthy. They will do so if these rules are followed.

Move brooder house to a new ground. Thoroughly clean and disinfect it. Start chicks at temperature of 95 degrees for first week, gradually lower to 85 degrees, reducing lower as chicks grow older.

Place no more than 250 chicks in 16x12 house. For each 50 chicks provide one large drinking fountain and two foot feeding space. Provide more feeder space after three weeks.

Feed good commercial starter, or one that has been mixed at home. Buy good, healthy chicks to start with.

To kill germs and control spread of disease through drinking water use one-third teaspoonful of potassium permanganate per gallon of drinking water.

A pageant of Plains life will be given at Canyon by Panhandle youth, under auspices of the Historical Society museum, April 14.

In five or 10 minute intervals new shocks added terror to the panic-stricken inhabitants of the entire region, some two million people.

quickly established. From the battle fleet in Los Angeles harbor, a large emergency force of marines and sailors was dispatched to Long Beach.

Fires flared out in many communities, chiefly those between Los Angeles and its harbor district, 20 miles away. Panic and destruction, fire and death spread through the great metropolitan area as the shocks recurred.

The first and most severe caught tens of thousand of homeless bound citizens in the downtown area. White-faced, they rushed here and there seeking safety.

Reports of the destruction wrought by the first quake were just beginning to come in when a second one struck, at 6:06 P. M. Four minutes later there was a third, and the fourth shock was only two minutes behind that. At 6:16 P. M., the fifth quake shook the area. Then there was a pause until 6:28. The seventh shock came while reports of the dead, dying and injured were beginning to stream in.

Long Beach, which was believed to have been at the epicenter of the shock, was isolated.

The quake had been expected by seismologists for years but their forecasts had not been made public.

SAYS MRS. HOUSEWIFE! My Cost of Electric Service Is the very least of my worries—for electricity does more household jobs, adds more comfort and convenience to the home than any other item included in the family budget. There was a time when electricity was a luxury, but that time has long since passed. It is now very much of a necessity, being vital to my family's health, doing my work, saving valuable time, providing real comfort, and brightening up the home—which incidentally helps a lot towards clearing away the "depression made" gloom so prevalent in homes now. And the cost—you scarcely would believe it. About 10c a day is all it averages—Would I grumble about that? Well, I should say not! Texas Utilities YOUR ELECTRIC SERVANT
