Labor Crafts And Merchants Hold Friendship Rally

EACH PLEDGES CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER FOR BUILDING OF BIGGER CITY AND BETTER MEN

One of the greatest meetings to be held in Lubbock this season was attended by more than two hundred local union men and merchants in the basement of the Leader building last night.

The meeting was held complimentary to the merchants with the union men proving themselves splendid hosts.

Cigars were enjoyed by all present having been liberally distributed among those in attendance throughout the program, and that they were enjoyed was evidenced by the manner in which they were accepted.

"MA" IS BARRED FROM BALLOT

OFFICIAL NOTICE IS GIVEN SHERIFF JOHNSTON OF LUBBOCK COUNTY

The name of Mrs. Miriam Ferguson is temporarily barred from ratification on the official ballot of Lubbock county as a candidate for Governor of Texas by an order received by Sheriff H. L. Johnston here Wednesday.

The instrument issued out of District Court of Texas, and signed by Judge Calhoun sets forth that by virtue of an injunction to enjoin and restrain the defendant, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and James E. Ferguson, from having the name of Mrs. Ferguson placed on the official ballot, the name of the democratic nominee is withheld from the ballot pending a court decision in the matter.

The injunction suit, filed by Charles M. Dickson, of San Antonio, claims that Mrs. Ferguson cannot take the Governor's chair for the following reasons: That James E. Ferguson is the real candidate for Governor, using his wife's name with her consent, for the purpose of circumventing and evading the force and effect of the impeachment decree rendered against him Sept. 25, 1917 which Governor of Texas, which disqualified him from acting as Governor or becoming a candidate therefor; and that Mrs. Ferguson, being a woman, and the wife of James E. Ferguson, is ineligible under the constitution and laws of Texas to have her name placed on the official ballot, and is ineligible to hold the office after elected.

DRY AGENTS TO BE PRESENT HILL'S "CIDER PARTY"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Dry agents, disguised as nothing but dry agents, are expected to be among those present at the "cider party" to be staged by Representative Hill, of Maryland, at his Baltimore home Saturday, and may turn the affair into a "surprise party."

Though the prohibition of officers are not likely to quaff the brock of the "wet" Maryland congressman, which he has manufactured in his own cellar, they are expected to avail themselves of samples, and if the kick is found to have the expected strength of about 2.75 per cent—something likely to happen.

Hill has invited prohibition agents to attend his party, and has given the world, including prohibition Commissioner Haines, here, full notification of the cider ceremonies. In his ultimatum to Haines, Hill said if the commissioner did not order his arrest it would be regarded as an admission on Haines part that 2.75 per cent cider was not intoxicating, and that he would compel the dry heads to testify before the house judiciary committee.

Haines, himself, is more silent than the well-known Egyptian Sphinx. Information Wednesday indicated that there will be appropriate action if Hill stages his party and there's little doubt that he will.

W. Fortenberry delivered the welcome address in which he assured the merchants that the union men appreciated the large attendance and pledged their continued co-operation in any project that would result in the common good and the further development of Lubbock.

C. H. Elliott was master of ceremonies, and introduced Curtis A. Keen, who made an enjoyed talk, commending the union men upon the progress they have made in selling their services to the public collectively.

O. Kelly, secretary of the carpenters and joiners union delivered an enjoyed and appreciated, instructive short address on "Union Labor, its Object, What it Does, How it Does and Why." Much comment was made by the merchants on the instructiveness of this talk, and the following speakers assured Mr. Kelly that he had given them a higher conception of Union Labor and its place in the community.

A. B. Davis, representing the Retail Merchants Association, spoke of the functions of that organization and how it could serve every one interested in a better Lubbock. He urged buying at home, and told how this could be encouraged by the merchants and union men becoming better acquainted one with the other.

Attorney Jack M. Randall made a splendid talk on "Co-operation from the union man's standpoint," in which he declared that the obligations of co-operation between merchants and union men were mutual, and that anything that tended to intimidate labor, had its ill effect upon business.

"Co-operation from the Merchant's Standpoint," was the subject assigned J. W. Gamek, of the Minton-Gamel store, who spoke frankly and without any showing of timidity upon what the merchant owes to his customers and was equally frank in stating what he believed the customer owes to the merchant. Mr. Gamek's long experience in dealing with people was reflected in the understanding of their tendencies that was so ably exhibited, and he proved not only to be a great entertainer but drove home to his hearers a better appreciation of the value of confidence in one's fellow men, and its wholesome influence upon business.

Mr. Gamek's denunciation of unfairness was so frankly and plainly made that none could disagree with him, and the blame was so evenly distributed among both merchants and customers that it was hard to determine whom he represented until near the close of his speech he presented so forcefully the beauty in good citizenship that his hearers made it known that he represented "just common folks—merchants and their patrons alike."

The many hearty cheers given the speaker throughout his address bespoke the appreciation of his hearers, and that the principles advocated by him will be long remembered by all is assured.

It was the unanimous opinion of all the guests of the union men that the meeting was one that will have far reaching effect upon cementing the ties of friendship between all concerned, that will result in a united effort in working for a better and bigger Lubbock.

WALL STREET BETTING ODDS GIVE COOLIDGE 3 TO 1 FAVORITISM

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Three to one are the Wall street betting odds in favor of President Coolidge's election and 1 to 3 1/2 are the odds against the other two candidates. The Wall street firm of W. L. Darnell and company have just placed a bet of $10,000 to $4,000, or at odds of 2 1/2 to 1, that John W. Davis democratic nominee for president will defeat Senator LaFollette, farm or labor candidate.

An additional $30,000 has been deposited with the Darnell firm to bet the same way. The firm also has $30,000 that says at 3 to 1 odds, that President Coolidge will be re-elected.

21 BODIES ARE RECOVERED IN WYOMING MINE

14 OTHERS SIGHTED BUT RESCUE PARTY UNABLE TO REACH THEM

KEMMERER, Wyo., Sept. 17.—A dimly lighted little noogie was turned into a temple of sorrow Wednesday night as wives, sweethearts and mothers gathered in solemn groups vainly attempting to identify the bodies of 21 of their "men folks" who met death in an explosion at Sublet Mine No. 5, Tuesday.

Identification of many of the bodies probably will never be made, authorities said, especially those found in the seventh entry which were badly mutilated and some burned almost to a crisp.

Rescue workers continued to brave death or serious injury Wednesday night in an attempt to bring to the surface the bodies of the remaining fourteen miners who were located late in the afternoon.

Their work was made hazardous by the collapse of walls undermined by the explosion.

The line of sorrow extended from the mine shaft to the morgue. Relatives of the victims huddled about the mouth of the pit hoping that their loved ones had been spared, even after mining experts had told them that only by a miracle could anyone have survived the blast.

So the women are waiting for their men.

No explanation of the cause of the blast has been given out by the company officials. Unless present plans are changed one large funeral will be held Friday when, all the bodies will be buried in a nearby cemetery.

Following an interesting two day meeting here, members of the Panhandle Medical Society concluded their week in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon, and many departed for their homes. Others left on early morning trains and several are still in Lubbock but plan to return their homes today.

Every effort was put forth by local doctors to make the meeting as enjoyable as possible. The society of having voted to meet in Lubbock and due to the fact that the society officials were able to secure some of the ablest men in the profession in the south to appear on the program, the meeting was said to be one of inestimable value to those interested in both medicine and surgery.

Dr. W. H. Flamm, of Amarillo, was chairman of the final meeting Wednesday afternoon, and Dr. John T. Moore, of Houston, who spoke on "The Opportunity for Advance in Treatment of Cancer of the Breast," was the principal speaker.

OLD MINING FEUD IS BELIEVED CAUSE OF WOMAN'S DEATH

YREKA, Cal., Sept. 17.—A mining feud which started more than 15 years ago, is believed to be responsible for the death of Mrs. John Pepper, 55, who was found hanging to a tree near here.

A coroner's inquest found Wednesday that the woman had been strangled to death, and then hanged in an attempt to hide the crime. Fifteen years ago a son of the Peppers was shot and killed and a member of the Shanks family was sent to prison for the crime.

Round up of the Shanks family has been started by the peace officers, in an attempt to solve the mystery. Shanks died recently while serving his sentence for the Pepper killing.

LEAGUE ADOPTS TWO WAY PLAN

WOULD MAKE IT POSSIBLE TO FORCE PEACE WITHOUT ENTRANCE U. S.

By United News.
GENEVA, Sept. 17.—The door was left open for the participation of the United States in the League of Nations new project for compulsory arbitration and security when the league disarmament commission Wednesday inserted in article eight of the Benes project a clause permitting League of Nations members to make defensive alliances with states which are not members of the league.

The clause renders possible an Anglo American agreement to force peace without the United States joining the league.

League of Nations members can only enter such alliances however, providing the non-league state ratifies the league what forces it is disposed to contribute toward carrying out league sanctions against any state refusing arbitration.

Earlier in Wednesday's discussion the league disarmament commission passed a resolution asking the league council to invite the United States to send delegates to the league's temporary disarmament commission which is discussing the question of government control of the private manufacture of arms and war munitions preliminary to summoning an international conference on this subject.

The sub-committee, composed of representatives of 12 leading countries who are handling the arbitration and security project outlined by foreign minister Bines of Czechoslovakia spent the day in discussing article 8 of the plan which provides for regional defensive alliances.

The British delegates have opposed such agreements while the French have insisted that while the league should not encourage further group alliances those already formed and registered with the league secretariat should be included in the league's security pact.

The French won their point when Article 8 was adopted late Wednesday by the sub-commission. The defensive alliances referred to are the pacts of a type similar to those now existent between the nations of the little entente, and between France and Belgium, France and Poland, and France and Czechoslovakia.

Thus under the plan France retains the powerful alliances she has built up, particularly in central Europe, and the Balkan peninsula.

The agreements will form part of the league's arbitration, security and disarmament project on condition that the league secretariat and left open for the signature of any other powers that may wish to join in the regional agreements.

MOUNTAIN FIRES FANNED INTO ACTIVITY

PASADENA, Sept. 17.—A change in the wind Tuesday sent the San Gabriel mountain fire back into the higher districts, adding new difficulties to the task of fire fighters who have been battling the blaze for nearly three weeks.

In other sections, the fire was reported as less serious with numerous fire breaks having the effect of halting advance of the flames. The only development here on the fire line fear is the freshening of the wind which would fan the blaze further into the heavy timber of the Angeles preserve.

The entire situation Tuesday was regarded as being more favorable than to any other time in the last week with the experienced fire fighters brought in from Arizona and New Mexico achieving splendid results.

GIVEN FREEDOM AFTER SERVING SEVEN YEARS OF LIFE TERM 49 STILL REMAIN IN PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas, Sept. 17.—After seven long years of confinement and anxious waiting, five former members of the 24th infantry, sentenced to life imprisonment December 16, 1917, in connection with the Houston riots walked out of the federal prison here Wednesday free men.

The five released on parole Wednesday are negroes. Along with sixty seven others of the regiment they were convicted of disobedience in time of war and assault with intent to murder. Thirteen who took part in the riots were hanged and fifty-nine still remain in prison.

Four of the men died during their incarceration and others have been released on parole. Prison authorities said Wednesday that the remaining would be eligible for parole, their sentences having been reduced on the recommendation of the special clemency board which reviewed the sentences of all military prisoners last March.

Those paroled are:

Ruben Baxter, of Washington; Douglas T. Bolden, Iowa; Gerald Dixon, Missouri; and Roy Tyler, and Joseph Williams, of Illinois.

Warden W. I. Biddle had nothing but the highest praises for the conduct of the five negroes during the seven years they spent behind the prison walls. He made special mention of Roy Tyler, powerful and best athlete in the institution, who kept peace in the segregation ward where the unruly and dangerous are kept in close confinement.

Records at the prison show that Tyler saved the life of L. J. Fletcher, ex-deputy warden, when an infuriated convict leaped upon Fletcher or who officer was least suspecting it. Tyler came to his aid and subdued the prisoner.

Only one delinquent was marked up against any of the five men and that came when one carrying a can of milk to the kitchen forgot himself so far as to take a drink from it. Warden Biddle said:

FINAL PLAN FOR TRIP COMPLETE

VERY LITTLE RAIN REPORTED FROM TERRITORY TO BE COVERED

Officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and secretary A. B. Davis met at a late hour last night and made final plans for the trade trip to Hopewell, Mendon, Brownfield, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahola and Wilson.

Because of the rain it was first thought that the trip would not be made, but upon investigation it was learned that five miles south of Lubbock the roads are in fine condition, and it did not rain as far south as Brownfield.

The report that the trip would not be made was not given any circulation, however, and as the committee for the Junior Chamber of Commerce phoned all who had promised to make the trip and reminded them of it, it is expected that a large delegation will go.

Remember to be at the court house lawn promptly at seven o'clock in order to have a chance to draw for a place in the line of cars.

WOMAN OPENS FIGHT TO SAVE NEGRO FROM DEATH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Mabel Bassett, state commissioner of charities and corrections, has started a fight for clemency for one of the four youthful prisoners in "death row" in the state prison at McAlester.

She is asking that the death sentence of Elias Ridge, 18 years old, negro, be commuted to life imprisonment. Ridge was convicted of murdering a woman.

"If Leopold and Loeb, possessing college degrees, were too young to die at 19 years of age for murdering a woman, for the thrill of it, then this ignorant negro boy certainly is too young to die for a crime he committed under the influence of an uncle," Mrs. Bassett said Wednesday.

She indicated she would take her case to the governor.

WHEELER TAKES CUT AT REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 17.—Three of the nine members of the United States supreme court were placed there by Harry M. Daugherty who was "ousted from office because of corruption shown in his department of justice," Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate told a meeting in Labor Hall here Wednesday night.

Wheeler opened his campaign in the home state of the former attorney general by denouncing Daugherty in vituperous terms and charging that "the Ohio gang" is planning to stage a blackmail suit against him. "As he arrives in Columbus Thursday," a person from Butte, Mont., is to file suit against him in connection with an automobile accident there five years ago, Wheeler announced.

He had been informed. He charged that Daugherty, Wm. J. Burns, and the republican national committee were back of the movement.

Citing thirteen progressive principles advocated by Senator La Follette which have become laws, Wheeler told his audience:

"In the face of this constructive record, our opponents searched through our progressive platform to find something they could attack. They found it. The attack began. The bullhoo men of the republican party were especially happy because they said to themselves we can make the people forget Harry M. Daugherty for a few weeks and take the public mind off the real business at hand."

"LaFollette proposes to tear down the constitution," they said. "But I don't think their charge leads away from Daugherty because three of the nine members of the present supreme court were placed there by Daugherty. They are now there for life, if they choose to remain. We cannot remove them."

"But they attack us because we favor submitting to the people for their consideration a constitutional amendment providing that congress may by re-patenting a statute make it effective over a judicial veto."

"Who can consider that an attack upon the constitution is an effort to force the courts to live up to the constitution if the people of this country adopt our amendment and decide that the courts must?"

Wheeler made three speeches in Cleveland and received reports from his political lieutenants who confidently assured him an independent would carry Cleveland.

REDUCTION IN GAS PRICE GIVEN IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 17.—The price of natural gas for industrial consumption in Oklahoma was reduced to 15 cents a thousand cubic feet on an order by the state corporation commission late Wednesday. Under the new order the rate is 38 cents for the first thousand cubic feet and 15 cents a thousand thereafter. The rate is effective immediately.

FARMER PROSPERS TO DETRIMENT OF COWMAN

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 17.—The farmer's gain is the stockman's loss. This is the way the sudden prosperity the farmers are enjoying is affecting that large army of cattlemen in Kansas and the Southwest, according to J. H. Mercer, Kansas livestock commissioner.

Prices being paid for corn are so much out of line with the prices being offered for cattle and hogs that many farmers are not feeling—and as a result, feeder cattle have been going on the market in such numbers that some observers are disheartened over the future, according to Mercer. The only chance for better prices for feeding cattle is that there will be such a severe frost in the Northern part of the corn belt as to injure the corn materially. Such a frost, the livestock commissioner pointed out, would make a part of the corn crop unmerchantable and the corn growers would have to buy a feeder cattle in order to dispose of it.

Corn Crop Hits Buying KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—Until the farmer knows just what the value of the corn crop will be, he is sure to be careful about buying feeder cattle, according to F. M. Simpson, manager of the livestock producers commission association at the Kansas City stockyards.

"The farmer does not feel that he wants to buy cattle for the feed lot until he knows what the crop will be," said Simpson.

"Naturally he does not want to feed his cattle high priced corn when the cattle market is so uncertain. It is just one of those instances when one profits and the other loses."

Some alienists' idea of "sane man is anyone who can still write a check."

SHERROD BROTHERS HARDWARE COMPANY

YOUTH IS CLEARED OF $17,000,000 BOND THEFT

By United Press.
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 17.—Stealing "for a thrill; money intoxication," and tender years have saved "Wee Willie" Walton from the age of 17 walked away with about $17,000,000 in bonds belonging to the Northern Trust company from going to prison.

The youthful bank robber, said to be the youngest ever to steal such a sum in the history of American jurisprudence, was found not guilty by a jury at the conclusion of his third trial here Wednesday.

Dalton, modestly attired, enthusiastically shook with friends and his lawyers when the jury announced its verdict.

"I know I never would be set up for that stunt," he said, referring to his crime. "I took the bonds all right but I did not realize what I was doing and I have gone straight since, and always will."

Dalton had been at liberty most of the time during the past three years on bond. In two previous trials the juries had disagreed.

Michael J. Ahern, chief counsel for "Wee Willie," in his summing up, spoke of the robbery as a "boyish impulse."

"Why, is this boy to be punished for something he did three years ago? Then everyone should be punished for pranks committed when they were boys," he said.

"He simply stole for a thrill," Thomas D. Nash, associate defense counsel said.

"This lad, then 17 years old and earning $40 a month, was simply and literally intoxicated by the sight of millions of dollars in cash and bonds which it was his job to handle daily.

"This crime was no more than a boyish prank," Nash continued. "The temptation was too great and the boy I am defending fell a victim to it. He did not mean evil. There was no harm in his mind. No criminal intent can be found in this case."

One of the things "Wee Willie" did after he walked out, the testimony showed was to cash one of the $500 bonds and purchase an automobile. The bank later recovered the securities with the exception of this one bond. The last two years Dalton had been taking courses in Crane technical high school. He expects to finish his course there in another year.

ROTARY CLUB HAS INTERESTING MEETING

The midweek Rotary Luncheon was well attended this week, and the program was splendidly arranged and interestingly carried out. It was in charge of Richard L. Douglas and Rev. W. P. Jennings, pastor of the First Christian church, and the subject for discussion was a story of the constitution. District Judge Mulligan and Attorney E. L. Klett were on the program for speeches and so well did they deliver the message that it was pronounced as one of the very best programs that has ever been given.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church, and it was a very enjoyable repast.

Jed Elix announced that the next minstrel show that the club would put on would be on the 25th of this month, and urged all those who would participate in the show to get heartily into the spirit of the occasion and put it over in fine shape.

PREFERS PEN WITH RICE PUDDING TO COUNTY JAIL

By United Press.
KANSAS CITY, Kas., Sept. 17.—If there's one delicacy that John Miller, 25, a truck driver, enjoys more than rice pudding, it's more rice pudding.

And largely because of this he'll spend the next year in the state penitentiary at Lansing instead of languishing in the county bastille here.

It was this way. John was certain he had to do a little stretch somewhere in some hoagow because the police said he was drunk when he drove his motor car into a fire truck killing George Berry, a fireman. So he took his attorney Roy R. Hubbard, to Lansing to see if he'd like it better there than in the jail here where he had just completed a 30 day sentence for drunkenness.

Hubbard tells this story of their visit:

"A prison guard showed Johnny the clean, well lighted and well ventilated cell house No. 2.

"This beats the jail," Johnny declared.

"Then he showed us the isolated ward and Miller said:

"I'll never be in there."

"We went to the kitchen and Johnny began sniffing. Rice pudding! Suddenly his eyes fell on "Whitey" Gibbs who is doing a turn for larceny.

"Well, there's Whitey he exclaimed and started toward him but the guards stopped him.

"Well, if Whitey is the cook here and he's making the rice pudding, hell, I'm coming here."

Miller was arraigned in court Wednesday, pleaded guilty to manslaughter, and was sentenced to a year in Lansing.

"Now for the rice pudding," he said after kissing his mother good bye.

COLLEGE GRADUATE GETS SENTENCE FOR HIS CARELESSNESS

By United Press.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—John W. Nicholas, 25, college graduate and millionaire's son, Tuesday was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin, prison for causing the death of Misses Myrtle and Bessie Whitman in an automobile accident last December.

According to testimony and Nicholas' admissions, he drove his car into an intersection at high rate of speed, crashing into the sisters, who had just alighted from a street car, their arms loaded with Christmas bundles.

ENMITY EXISTS BETWEEN THE DEPARTMENTS

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United News Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—The constantly simmering row between navy officers and air officials as to the relative merits of their branches of the service in these modern days of warfare has broken out afresh here. The new register was brought about by the position taken by President Coolidge as favoring greater attention to aviation and less to the navy.

Air service officials as a result are jubilant and are looking forward to the president's championing of their cause as bringing larger appropriations from congress this year. The navy already given a set back by the budget bureau which has knocked $50,000,000 off the amount it asked this year, is preparing for a stiff fight for what it considers its due.

The president has not deserted the navy. He intends that it shall have all that it needs, and is in favor of an adequate appropriation.

But on the other hand, he has come to believe from comment of officers as a result of the round the world flight that the battleship is on its way to extinction and that the airplane will play a large part in warfare in the future.

In the president's mind, it is simply a question as to whether more money should be spent on ships which will become obsolete in time and have to be scrapped or whether this money should be applied to developing the air service.

"THE MAN PAYS" SAYS HUSBAND AFTER ARGUMENT

By United Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—It is not always the woman who pays.

Take the word of Samuel B. Devins, an optician, for that refutation of the well known opinion. Devins raised only mild objections when his wife decided to have her trousers shorn—but they grew louder in the ensuing argument on the much mooted question of "what should be the hair line."

Mrs. Devins, according to her divorce petition, filed late Tuesday, insisted the hair line should be above the cheek bones. Devins disliked the immediate showing of ears, she said. But the tempest in the Devins household was stilled Wednesday. Devins told newspapermen he and his wife had "gessed and made up," and that he had lost. He'll pay the costs of the divorce action, he said and added:

"It's the man who pays."

TREE PLANTING WORK OF LEGION PRAISED

By United Press.
ST. PAUL, Sept. 17.—The American Legion's Memorial tree planting throughout the country is highly praised in a letter today at convention headquarters from the American Tree Association of Washington, D. C., which reviews the Legion's work.

Bulletin 234, to all posts, in 1920, signed by Franklin D. Oliver, the then commander, is being observed in fine fashion, the letter from Charles La-chron Pack, president of the Tree Association, says. The association has sent out thousands of tree-day programs and planting suggestions as a result of the continued co-operation of the American Legion Weekly and the headquarters division of organization at Indianapolis.

Many posts have taken up the town forest and the memorial park idea, the letter adds in calling the Legion's work one of the most constructive in the country.

MUTE ABLE TO HEAR JUDGE'S SENTENCE

By United Press.
HOUSTON, Sept. 15.—Although "deaf and dumb" on the streets, E. W. Ferguson was able to hear perfectly in a corporation court here, when the judge gave him the limit fine, $50 for being drunk.

Officers found Ferguson passing out cards on the streets soliciting aid because he was deaf and dumb and doing a brisk business in collecting contributions. In addition he was more or less intoxicated, the officers allege.

In corporation court he was still "deaf" and still "dumb" until he heard the maximum fine for intoxication. At the city farm where he is working out 60 days it is said that he hears and speaks well.

WHICH IS TO BE THE CITY?

Is Amarillo's supremacy as the big city of Northwest Texas to be challenged? The Abilene Reporter says:

"West Texas is growing faster than ever before. Scarcely a county that is not showing remarkable growth all down the line—new towns springing up, thousands of acres of new land being put under the plow, and hundreds of homeseekers coming in from all directions. As the country grows, so will the cities grow. Somewhere in West Texas a big city will be built. Will it be Abilene or Lubbock or Amarillo or Stamford or Sweetwater or San Angelo?"

Lubbock and Abilene are growing and that they will become large and prosperous cities is not questioned but most well-posted business men agree that Amarillo is destined to be the big city of the northwest plains.

Amarillo with its three trunk line railroad lines is so situated it cannot help but become the large city. Also it is certain to become a big industrial center. Amarillo's industrial payroll is large now and with all the other manufacturers that will come here to consume the cheap gas, its payrolls will become enormous.

The larger the city the farther it reaches in attracting more and more people and more and more business. The larger Amarillo becomes, the better the service that will be rendered by its distributors and its business and Amarillo will attract business from greater distances.

Amarillo has the "jump" and if it is ever outdistanced or even seriously challenged by any of the other cities in West Texas, it will be most surprising to intelligent business men.

Amarillo prides itself on its wide-awake, energetic, progressive citizenship. But to be honest with ourselves, we must admit they are not more energetic or progressive or more public-spirited than the business men of Lubbock and other cities in West Texas.

Amarillo has the location. Amarillo has the railroad advantages, Amarillo has the fuel and Amarillo has the oil. Amarillo has the water but it will have some day. Amarillo has the vitality to meet any and settle any difficulty.

Forward Amarillo, forward. — Amarillo Globe.

We are not going to start any argument about this big city question, and we are not going to fall out with Amarillo, Sweetwater, or any other town for believing that it is going to be the biggest town in the whole country. We believe in a fellow "sticking up" for his home town. We believe it is right that he should, but some times the odds are against him, and we are rather of the opinion that this is the case of Amarillo.

Amarillo has the "jump" the Globe says, but she has been a long time jumping that far. When Lubbock had less than a hundred population Amarillo had five thousand, and that was twenty years ago. Lubbock now has 11,000 or more and Amarillo has less than 18,000 according to recent estimates. That is some gain if we know anything about ratio, proportion or percentage.

Lubbock has more people in the county outside of Lubbock than she has in the city. Amarillo has not and likely never will have. That's a knock out! Lubbock is in the middle of as rich agricultural section of country that the soil of which will produce all of the feed crops of the South, including cotton, which yields to its very highest production. Amarillo cannot boast of this. Lubbock has plenty of good water. Amarillo has hers to get. Lubbock is the home of the Texas Technological College, that will mean many, many thousands of people for this city, and this is certain for they are coming even now, and getting ready for the school. Dr. Horn is receiving letters from prospective students from Mexico, from Florida and from Maine, and many intermediate points, which shows that they are interested in the college of the Southwest.

Lubbock is the hub of railroads, and while they are all of the Santa Fe type yet, we are getting fine service, and the trade territory is well taken care of.

Lubbock today is the biggest wholesale center of this section of the state, and we expect that she "puts it over" Amarillo in amount of business along this line. True we do not have as much "gas" as Amarillo but we have the cheapest electricity in the state, and we can light the way for many million people with electric lights. We may not have railroad shops, and division points, but our payroll is climbing along other lines, and we are of the opinion that Lubbock will be sitting on the top of the world with twenty years allotted for the show down that Lubbock will be sitting on the top of the world with those other mentioned towns proudly looking up to her as the queen city of the southwest.

If you think some praise is due him, Now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot read his tombstone. When he's dead.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

The Rotary Clubs throughout the United States are observing constitution week, and the programs of this week in Lubbock, as well as all other clubs in the United States, if they are following up the idea of headquarters, and if all of the clubs are fortunate in having a good strong speaker—one who is capable to handle the subject like the Lubbock club had in the persons of District Judge Mullican and Attorney E. L. Klett, of this city, the good that will result from the discussion of the Constitution of the United States will be far reaching.

The constitution was given a sensible review by these two gentlemen, and will no doubt stimulate a number of the Rotarians to take down the old history or the encyclopedia and study the rules of the government of the great country in which we live.

This is a very wise move on the part of the Rotary club. It is a very important matter and one that a distressingly small percentage of the people of the United States know anything about scarcely. It would be a good thing if there could be a general teaching of the constitution of America. Few Americans know anything about the constitution, and they make no effort to learn about it. It should be the topic of discussion in many more public gatherings than it is. It may be dry reading to some, but it is really interesting when one gets into it, and carries along the thought of its magnitude and scope, and the wonderful privileges that the American people have compared with those of other countries. It is remarkably pleasing to those who read it with the thought of it being the rules and regulations that govern the people of this great country, and to know that we as citizens are safe-guarded by so many protective rules of government. And being written, we know exactly what we may expect of those in authority, and just how far they can go and what is expected of them. Unlike many of the nations of the land where the people cannot tell just what is coming next or how it is going to come.

The American people would be better citizens and better satisfied if they knew more about their government than they do. It should be one of the courses in the school, and not merely to read it over but to be studied out and memorized to remember substantially, and voters should be required to know the greater part of the constitution before they are considered legal voters.

The more you know of America in comparison to other governments the better American you are, and for that reason it should be known by American subjects.

The reason that so many of the foreign people are anxious to come to America is because of the liberties and general conditions that exist over what they have in the homeland.

Know your constitution and be a better citizen of this country.

FIRE PREVENTION

Soon fire prevention week will be observed. Of course, we should always be careful about fire, but especially during the week that will be designated soon will this question be repeatedly brought to your mind and attention. The matter should not end with this but you should heed the precautions that are set forth, and in that way eliminate to considerable extent at least the destruction of millions of dollars by fire.

This matter should have the closest attention of business men, who are in a habit of allowing hazards to exist in and around their place of business, and the home should also be kept as nearly fire proof as possible, and remove all the rubbish, keep matches away from children, and the mice, do not empty hot ashes into wooden containers, etc. and this precaution should likewise spread to all the public buildings, and remove every chance of a conflagration.

Most of the school buildings of this town, we believe are pretty well equipped with outside fire escapes, except the Junior High, which is probably the most dangerous of any since the old white frame building has been torn away. We are of the opinion that this building should be provided with adequate fire escapes. True the fire drills are a means of safety, and the buildings can be emptied in a few seconds, if there is no obstructions, but fires pull some very peculiar stunts some times, and it might be possible to block the way of escape, and then hundreds of children with no means of escape.

This is a matter that should be discussed, and remedied before another month. There is danger in this condition, and while it might be fifty years before a fire started in that building, it only takes one fire to wipe the building and it only takes one to burn a large number of children if such a thing was to happen.

HUMAN OR HOG

E. K. Hall, vice president in charge of the personnel and public relations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in discussing the human factor that enters into business and which cannot be handled as a mechanical proposition, says:

"What is the difference between an animal and a man? The difference is that man has everything an animal has plus the ability to record his experience and the experience of other men and profit by the same. A hog is a hog today, just as he was a thousand years ago. If a human being cannot profit by experience of others and help to make this world a little better place in which to live, he might as well be a hog."

The vital factor in business is the human element. If the human factor is not mobilized for all it is worth we cannot do a hundred per cent job. This human factor has been too much overlooked in the past as we drove along building up the physical and mechanical end of industry."

AVALANCHE WEEKLY IS 24 YEARS OLD

"BOY SCOUTS AND SCOUTING"

So few people understand just what the Boy Scout organization is or the advantage that a boy derives from being a member. Some think that this organization is only a play ground and lose sight of the four fold purpose—to develop the boy mentally, physically, morally and spiritually. It is the taking hold of the boy in the early adolescent age, when he needs assistance, most, when he is changing from boyhood to manhood, that period when the greatest crisis comes, to give him development that it is hard to give in the home, school or church.

However, the Boy Scout movement is not antagonistic to any civic enterprise, but rather seek to cooperate with all other good movements in the interests of the boy. The movement is wholly non-sectarian and works with every sect and creed alike. It is non-military and seeks to promote peace, scouting and to develop educational character building for good citizenship. It is wholly non-partisan. It cannot favor one interest against another and cannot pronounce interference on any debatable questions, whether social, religious or political. It is purely a supplement to other civic organizations.

Scouting gives a boy something to do, something he likes to do, something worth doing. It has succeeded in doing all these things. A boy who has been in the organization of education had done—made the boy want to learn. It organizes the gang spirit into group loyalty. It provides a sane and happy substitute for occupations such as saton, gambling and other idle amusements. A famous juvenile judge once said that he never had a scout up in court for his judgment, and if all boys in his city were Boy Scouts the court might just as well close. Scouting offsets the defects and neutralizes the dangers wrought by our over-civilized modern world.

With "scouting" the "good old times" come back again, alike for the country and the city boy. The scout learns to know and love the great outdoors intelligently. He camps and hikes and swims; studies birds and trees and stars; knows how to care for himself in the open, how to build fires and make camp cookery; how to set up tents and make himself comfortable and safe even under open skies, if necessary, how to tie knots and how to use an ax and knife. He is prepared in the scout motto, and preparedness of this kind is good training for any man.

Incidentally a scout also learns self-reliance, resourcefulness, contract-fair play, courage, loyalty, and other so-called "old fashioned" virtues, which are as valuable in the 20th century as they were in the past. Thousands of scouts served splendidly in our American Expeditionary Forces, and it is the verdict of officers both in the British and Canadian as well as our own forces.

The scout's agreement "to be helpful to all people at all times" is not an idle phrase. The scout reputation for service is well earned, and the fact of scout co-operation in government and community activities during the past few years.

Every boy who becomes a member of the Boy Scouts of America takes an oath and subscribes to the Scout Law of the movement. He also takes oath of allegiance to the flag. Before he becomes a scout the boy must promise:

"On my honor I will do my best—to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the scout law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself, physically, mentally, awake, and morally straight."

A scout is required to know the scout oath and law and to subscribe to both. But his obligation does not end here. He is expected not only to forget his oath and law, but to live up to them in letter and spirit from first to last.

We have just re-organized the Boy Scout movement here in Lubbock, and the outlook is promising, but we need the co-operation of Lubbock citizens in making this work a success. We want and need the assistance of the schools, churches, Sunday Schools, the different clubs of Lubbock, and especially the parents and all citizens that have the boys work at heart. If your son is past his 12th birthday and if you want him to have the advantages of this work please communicate with us. We invite you at all times to our meetings every Friday night at the high school. We would be glad for you to advise us as to any special development of your boy.

Now let us all work together to

NELL BUYS A MAH JONGG SET

Said I to Jeff: "Where common sense is, I don't care about expenses; But there's times I get real foolish; When I think she's downright foolish; Money's mighty hard to get. Now she's bought a mah jongg set.

"Home she comes and proudly shows it. Says she's learned the game and knows it; Tells me in her way emphatic Mah jongg's so aristocratic; Chinese money, tiles and dice; Thirty dollars was the price!

"Thirty dollars!" I exploded. "Nell," said I, "if I was loaded Like a cherry tree with cherries, And if money grew like berries, Thirty dollars I'd not pay For some Chinese game to play."

Later on I stopped my rowing; Watched and heard 'em punning, chowing; Building walls, discarding, drawing, And in spite of all my jawing I forgot the cost and sat In and played, and that is that!

YANKS TIE SENATORS WHILE NATIONALS REMAIN IDLE

The entire National league shut up shop for the day because of rain along the eastern shore line but the Yanks of the American league transacted some business in St. Louis that sent them forward into another tie with the Washington Senators for the first position.

The Yanks had to win both games in order to haul up even with the Senators who played only one game with the Indians in Cleveland, and won that, 3 to 2.

The Yanks beat the Browns, 7 to 3, in the first. White Sox, the ancient school boy who belongs to the Yonder era of Willie Hopper, Bobby Jones, Vincent Richards and other venerable athletes, outpitched Urban Shocker of the Browns in the first game. In the second both clubs swatted with enthusiasm, and seven pitchers took turns, the Yankees using two and the Browns five. The Yanks finally prevailed, 8 to 7.

Walter Johnson pitched for the Senators in the Cleveland entertainment.

Although the Tigers have been invited to sit in at the conference board in New York, at which time arrangements will be made for world series, there is no likelihood that they will have any active interest in the grand show of the season. They lost to the Athletics in Detroit 8 to 9. This just about confirmed them as non-participants in the world series.

The White Sox beat the Red Sox in Chicago, 3 to 2.

SARAZEN DEFEATED IN GOLF PLAY BY OHIO YOUTH

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 17.—Gene Sarazen of Briarcliffe, N. J., dropped his chances to retain the national professional golf championship Wednesday on the champion French Lick course.

In the second round of match play in the National protem, Sarazen was outplayed and outgamed by Larry Nabholz, youthful player of Lima, Ohio, who won the 36 hole match two and one.

It was a big surprise to the large gallery that followed the match throughout the day, Sarazen having been doped for an easy win over his youthful opponent.

Jim Barnes of Pelham, N. Y., was victorious over Edditt Towns, of Pittsburgh, ten and nine. Towns was hopelessly outclassed. Barnes showed much better golf than in yesterday's match when he won out only after three extra holes of play.

Johnny Farrell, Mamaroneck, N. Y., low scorer in the medal play of the tournament, eliminated Willie McFarland, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., 2 and 1.

Walter Hagen, British open champion, was too much for Al Waltrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., who put up a battle for 27 holes. At the 27th hole, Hagen and Waltrous were all square.

Bobbie Cruikshank, Westfield, N. J., was pitted out in the 39th hole by Ray Derr, Philadelphia, after being up most of the day. A strong finish by Derr was spectacular.

16 CONTENDERS PRO GOLF MEET PASS FROM PLAY

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Sept. 17.—Sixteen of the thirty-two contenders in the professional golfers association tournament passed from the competition Tuesday in some of the most phenomenal plays ever witnessed.

The game between Jim Barnes, of Pelham, New York, and Mike Brady, of Mamaroneck, New York, was the feature of the day's play. Barnes beating Brady one up in 39 holes.

The morning round had been a dash for Brady and he finished 3 up.

At the end of the 32nd hole Brady was 3 up and 4 to go. He took a five against Barnes four on the 33rd. On the 34th and 35th he carried into traps and arnes won with par golf.

They hit the 36th, 37th and 38th holes and arnes won the 39th with sensational playing.

Brady's drive was to the left of the green and a mashie shot away Barnes hit a long straight drive which rooted in a trap. When shot out of the trap his ball landed on the green five feet away from the pin. Brady's mashie shot was 12 feet away and he rimmed the cup for the putt. Barnes then curved his putt into the cup for a win.

The other results were:

Willie McFarland, of Tuckahoe, New York, won from Daw George, of Minneapolis, 5 and 4. Johnny Farrell, of Mamaroneck, New York won from Neil Christian of Yakima, Washington, 2 and 1. Al Altrous, of Grand Rapids, beat Geo. Aulbach of Winthrop, Mass., 3 and 1. Walter Hagen beat Tom Harmon, of Yonkers, 6 and 5. Al Espinosa, of Chicago was the victor over Arthur Ham, of Detroit, 4 and 3. Francis Gallett, Laurelton Long Island beat Wm. Melhorn, St. Louis, 4 and 3. Bobby Cruikshank won from Willie Ogg, Worcester, Mass., 7 and 5. Henry Giel, of White Plains, best Chas. Hoffer, Philadelphia 4 and 2. Dan Williams, Westfield, New Jersey, beat Fred Baroni, Pittsburgh, 6 and 4. Gene Sarazen present title holder, beat Fred McLeod, Washington, D. C., 5 and 4. AMATEUR GOLFERS DROPPING IN FOR NATIONAL MEET

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Ambitious amateur golfers seeped into Philadelphia from all directions Wednesday joining the home guard amateur golfers and the advance delegation of British players already on the ground for the national amateur tournament which begins next Saturday morning and will run until Saturday the 27th.

The weather was rainy, but some of the players explored the Merion championship course, and learned the worst about the grips which they must encounter when the play gets under way. The English team, by no means wobbly from the defeat in the international Walker cup matches at Garden City, L. I., last week, came to Philadelphia early in a group and got in their first practice Tuesday.

Although a tournament involving as this one does, 166 starters and a squad of 32 qualifiers, is bound to be a main bag affair, Bobby Jones of Atlanta is the one player who is mentioned more often than all the others as the probable winner. Jones came to Merion when he was only 14 years old and became famous by going into the third round of the national amateur class. That was the last time the championship show was held at Merion.

Yuan Plans Offensive. LONDON, Sept. 17.—Chi Hsieh Yuan's offensive against Shanghai will be resumed soon, according to cables from Shanghai correspondent of the Morning Post.

The attacking forces about Shanghai outnumber Lu Yung Hsiang's troops 5 to 1, according to the correspondent who reports that it is generally believed that Lu's forces will collapse before an aggressive attack.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News states that there has been virtually no change in the fighting area.

Lu's army is busy strengthening its lines of life from Tsingtau to Luho, while Chi Hsieh Yuan is rushing to the line with additional reinforcements sent him by Fu. Lu's success in holding off the attack in the Hsiang sector enabled him to dispatch more troops to the Hwang Da front.

Central News dispatches from Mukden where Chang Tso Lin's Manchurian forces are concentrated for an attack on Peking state that the Manchurian war lord has threatened to send airplanes to Peking to bomb Tsao ju, president of the Peking government.

LORD WIMBORNE GIVEN BLAME FOR DEFEAT IN POLO

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Verbal brick bats are being hurled at Lord Wimborne, backer of the English polo team, following the English defeat in the International matches on Long Island.

Lord Wodehouse, prominent British sportsman, has declared in an interview that Wimborne is to blame for the British defeat.

Lord Wodehouse said that Lord Wimborne took to America only one player of international class namely Luis Lacey, and left five of England's best players at home.

MANCHURIAN FORCE PREPARE ATTACK ON PAKING

SINGAI, Sept. 17.—The Manchurian main force and the outer guards of Pekin's defenders are jockeying for position in the expected battle that will determine Changs Tso Lin's ability to break through to the central capital.

Chang's advance along the Manchurian frontier continues slowly but relentlessly. He is closing up his lines, preparing for the final thrust of his forces which he expects will shatter Wu Pei Fu's army.

Reports from Peking state that two Peking editors have been executed. They were accused of publishing Chang Tso Lin's letter

FORBES - THOMPSON TRIAL SET FOR OCTOBER

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson probably will go on trial on charges of graft in connection with the Veterans Bureau some time during the first week in October instead of November 3, as had been urged by former U. S. Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

Aside from the apparent intention of Federal Judge Carpenter to force an early trial however, Tuesday when arguments on a demurrer were given, was said by court observers to have been favorable to the defendants.

Severe reprimands for ordering that the personal records of Thompson be impounded by the United States district court clerk instead of continuing in the hands of the prosecution where they have been since last January were made by the judge to the prosecution.

The records are of vital importance in establishing the alleged swindling operations which the government contends existed between the two defendants.

Upon being told by the defense that the government had seized Thompson's records on subpoena issued for a federal grand jury which at the time was not in existence, Judge Carpenter described the action as "intolerable."

"The man in the street has as much right in this court as the attorney general of the United States," the judge said. "The subpoenaing of evidence for submission to a grand jury before the indictment of the jury will be stopped in this court."

GIGANTIC PARADE A GREAT FEATURE LEGION MEET

ST. PAUL, Sept. 16.—Delegates to the sixth convention of the American Legion were so enthused Tuesday night over the big parade which they held that executives considered it doubtful whether any real business would be transacted before late Wednesday.

The parade was five miles long and the tail end of the procession did not reach the end of the line of march until nearly 10 o'clock Tuesday.

Brigadier General Adams, who had been invited to sit in the reviewing stand, declined to be a reviewer and marched with his former comrades in the service, awes received an enthusiastic greeting whenever he was recognized. He marched with the Illinois contingent.

Earlier in the day he had put a quietus on plans to do by some republican leaders to feature him in connection with the legion demonstration. Just what he said about the parade was not divulged but it was known that his refusal was etched in vigorous and characteristic language.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 legionnaires were said to be in the line of march.

SEEK WIVES AMONG PRISONERS JOLIET PRISON

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 17.—Two young men who spoke broken English and gave their names as Thomas Sebastian and Frank Crono asked officers at the headquarters of the women's prison here to show them a few marriageable women.

"We heard that some of the ladies here would like to marry and leave and we want wives," Sebastian explained. Miss Darris Steinberg, receiving clerk, replied that she could not recommend any of the prison inhabitants as possible wives. "We have forty-six prisoners and at least half of them have killed their husbands," Miss Steinberg said.

Undaunted, the visitors begged that they be allowed to see any women who might like to marry them. Finally they were granted permission to go through the institution.

"One of the first women they saw was Kittie Malin, formerly Chicago's 'Tiger Woman' who helped murder a night watchman. She was working in the prison kitchen.

"Is she a good cook?" Sebastian asked.

"Informed that she already was married he appeared disappointed.

In the laundry the visitors saw Mrs. Tillie Klimek, who poisoned a whole series of husbands to get their insurance. They were not interested in her.

When the visitors, in quest of wives, finished their tour, they declared they would ask Warden Whitman to release two women they had seen so that they might marry them. They refused to tell who the women were they had decided upon as future wives.

The warden said the two had left the prison without making any requests of him.

SWEETWATER CHILD DROWNS IN STREET EXCAVATION

SWEETWATER, Sept. 17.—After a lengthy search by frantic parents and many volunteers, the body of Travis Hunter, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hunter, was found under 4 feet of water in a ditch on Nueces street near the Williams and Miller gin Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. L. G. Morony at the First Baptist Church Wednesday, with interment at the City Cemetery. The hour of the funeral has not been set.

The child was first missed at 4 o'clock and it was supposed by his parents that he was playing with the neighborhood children. He failed to return home at the supper hour, however, and a search for him was started. The mother of the boy had a premonition that he was drowned, it was stated, and she is reported as having told the searchers that he would be found in the water.

A search at the water hole revealed the child's shoes near the edge and the water was promptly dragged with a seine and the body was brought to the surface. The body had probably been under water for two or three hours, it was thought, and all efforts failed to restore life to the child. A pulmotor rushed from the fire station was used for two hours without avail.

The details of the drowning are not known, but it is supposed that the child either went wading and got beyond his depth or fell from a small raft that children had constructed for the tank.

The hole was formed when Street Department men excavated for filling the draw on Nueces street. Recent rains had filled it. Boys of the vicinity had built a raft and used the pool for a general good time.

It is believed that the child was alone when he entered the water. A man reported seeing a lone boy playing about the water hole late Monday afternoon.

This is the second Sweetwater child to meet death by drowning within a month.

WOULD SPEED UP MAIL THROUGH STATE CENTERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 17.—Measures for Congressional action to speed up the mails by relieving congestion at terminal post offices was to be discussed by members of the National Association of Postmasters here today in the 24th annual convention.

The session is to continue through days.

Among the principal speakers today were Postmaster General Harry S. New, and Frank J. Beck, postmaster at Newark, N. J., and president of the association.

At tomorrow's session proposed salary increases for postmasters will be one of the principal topics under discussion. John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general will be the principal speaker.

Thursday's session will be given over to discussion of service problems.

It was the belief of some of the postmasters here today that the best way to relieve congestion at the terminal post office would be the establishment of a terminal in each state and have the mail distributed from there.

The present bill now before Congress to increase salaries of postal employees does not provide for small raft that children had constructed for the tank.

A bill providing for increased charges on c. o. d. parcel post was also to be discussed for presentation to Congress.

DOG BITES MASTER TO SAVE HIM FROM BURNING BUILDING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Winston escaped probable death here when they were awakened by a 11-month-old bird dog after the entire roof of their home was in flames. The dog barked without awakening the couple and then bit Winston on the leg to wake him up. A few moments after the couple and the dog left the building the entire structure was ablaze.

"TELL IT TO THE JUDGE" HOUSTON'S CHIEF DECLARES

HOUSTON, Sept. 15.—"Tell it to the judge," may be a stock "hoax" for the humorists, but it's cold facts for Houston policemen who are threatened with suspension if they take it on their own shoulders to discuss questions of legal import. Chief Tom Goodson has notified all cops that the practice of arguing with arrested persons must cease.

Any policeman who argues with his man (or woman) will be a sufficient violation for discharge. "Tell them to tell it to the judge," Goodson ordered.

SANGER BROS. MAKE ADDITION TO PROPOSED PLANS

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14.—Plans were in the process of formation here today for an eight story building to take the place of a proposed six-story structure for Sanger Bros.

Addition of the two extra stories will increase the estimated cost of the building from $400,000 to approximately $400,000, it was stated.

MARKETS

HEAVY TURNOVER MARKS STOCKS WEDNESDAY ON PEKING

By EDWARD J. CONDLON.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The stock market on Wednesday gave an impressive exhibition of strength, the like of which has been all too rare since the reaction in the market set in during the closing days of August. Fresh buying appeared in practically every section of the list, with the industrials leading the rails by a wide margin.

Not only the steel issues responded at the opening but a better feeling pervaded the industrial list as a whole, and the rail issues as well. An easier tone in the market market whipped up the market in the later dealings with special groups such as the banking shares and tobacco stocks substantially higher levels. There appeared to be a general revival of the mid-summer bullishness as if some traders had been only holding back long enough to obtain standard issues at the lowest possible prices for their strong boxes.

Recent declines in petroleum shares are believed to have fully discounted the cut. There is, however, little likelihood of a bull movement in oil stocks at this time, but the even tone which characterized these issues following the announcement of the reductions in crude was reassuring.

The cotton market performed somewhat in the manner of stocks following a series of almost unbroken decline since the last government condition report; the market came back with a snap on news of heavy rains in Georgia and the Atlantic in the past ten days it will be remembered cotton has declined approximately $10 a bale so that prices are beginning to get to levels where they look cheap to speculative interest and once hedge selling cases up for a brief period, cotton futures should take a decided brace.

Fort Worth Livestock.—Cattle receipts 4,000; calves 1,000; market steady; heaves $3.50@6.50; cows $3.00@4.25; heifers $3.00@5.00; calves $2.00@5.50; stockers $3.00@5.25; cutters $2.50@3.00; canners $1.75@2.25; baby $2.00@3.50; yearlings $3.00@7.75. DAVIS OPENS INVASION OF IOWA WITH VIGOROUS ASSAULT ON REPUBLICAN TAXATION POLICY BEFORE BIG CROWD

By United News.
DES MOINES, Sept. 17.—Invading Iowa where even democcratic leaders admit the fight for the thirteen presidential electoral votes of the state at present is between Coolidge and LaFollette, John W. Davis democratic standard bearer sought to make it a real three cornered battle by a vigorous assault on republican taxation policies.
In an address to a capacity audience in the city coliseum Wednesday night, Davis outlined his personal views and his party's policies on taxation tariff, and governmental economy in contrast with the personal views of President Coolidge and republican policies in an effort to prove his contention that the democratic party was the real friend of the farmers and small business man.
"The democratic theory," he said, "is a maximum of revenue with a minimum of tax. The republican doctrine is a minimum of revenue with a maximum of subsidy."
Davis assailed the Fordney-Me-Cumber tariff law. In comparing the act with the Underwood-Simmons law, he said the latter was the "only tariff law of this generation to which no taint of corruption or undue political influence attached."
In describing the framing of the republican tariff law, he said:
"Lobbies representing greedy manufacturers swarmed into the nation's capital and wrote their own excessive and extortionate rates, in utter disregard of every theory whether that of revenue or protection itself."
Because of the constant fluctuations of exchange and of prices, he said, it was not a favorable time to frame a tariff measure and quoted former Senator Mc-Cumber of North Dakota, co-author of the measure, as saying that "of all times in our history, this is the worst time in which to formulate and put into effect a new tariff measure."
"That it should raise the cost of living and exploit the public for the manufacturers benefit was of course what was intended," said Davis.
"Its effect on agriculture was immediate and disastrous."
Davis went into the effect of the tariff on farm products, contending that a high tariff fails to create a sound prosperity but breeds artificial conditions and does not cure panics. On the contrary, he pointed out that every panic since 1873 had occurred under a republican administration or under republican tariff laws.
After enumerating a long list of inequalities which he said were created by the republican tariff law, Davis added that Mr. Coolidge and his party pledged themselves to maintain the existing law.
"As against this legislative monstrosity and in substitution for it he continued, "the democratic party proposed to reform the tariff by revising downward the existing duties to a reasonable basis, and by eliminating all favoritism and the evils that flow from it."

But Davis made it clear that he had no intention to cut ruthlessly any rates to gratify "political anti-monies or class antagonism. He said the democratic party had no resentment but only friendliness toward business, but it has no intention of extending an invitation to business to gain monopolistic control of production, markets and prices through exorbitant rates.
Referring to income tax reductions, Davis said the democratic law passed at the last session of congress was "but a beginning."
In this connection he made it plain that he did not believe in high surtaxes "for the sake of high surtaxes," but declared that "common justice dictates that when reductions come, they shall be given first to those who feel the burden most severely."
While he said that he had no desire to take credit from the Harding-Coolidge administration, Davis recalled that within a few days after the armistice that the democratic administration sounded the slogan of war tax reduction. One of the acts of congress under Wilson was to cut taxes $2,000,000,000. Later in 1919 when Wilson called an extra session and urged further reductions, he said the demand was "ignored for purely partisan reasons."
With an ironical reference to the statement of President Coolidge in his acceptance speech, that the management of the treasury under secretary Mellon has been "unmatched" since the days of Alexander Hamilton, Davis compared the reduction of the public debt under three and one-half years of the Harding-Coolidge administration and during the last 18 months of the Wilson administration. While the republicans reduced the debt by the amount of $2,700,000,000 or at the rate of $67,500,000 per month, he said the reductions of $2,500,000 under the Wilson administration was at the rate of $140,000,000 per month.

TYPHOON DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN SOUTH JAPAN

By United News.
TOKIO, Sept. 17.—Heavy damage has been done by the combined disasters of a typhoon in Southern Japan, and a cloudburst in Tokyo.
Rising waters have flooded low lying districts of the city and it is estimated that 43,600 houses are submerged in Tokio and the vicinity.

Only fatalities reported however, are the deaths of eight coolies who were drowned in the Tama river near Tokio.
Parts of Yokohama were flooded after the typhoon and landslides have blocked the railroad to Kobe.
In Tokio, the rising waters short cir-cued the electric light system, plunging the capital into darkness for an hour.

GERMANS TO ENTER AMERICAN FLIVVER MARKET

By United News.
FRIEDRICHSHAVEN, Germany, Sept. 17.—While Henry Ford is invading the German market with cheap cars, a counter invasion of America with high-priced homemade cars, is being launched from here.
The Maybach concern, makers of the motors which drove the ZRS on its transatlantic flight, have sent their representative, F. von Meister, to New York to start a campaign aimed at giving Germany, for the first time since the war, a real hold on the "flivver car" trade in America.
The Maybach people prepared well for their drive, first sending young von Meister to learn the auto industry from the shop up in America. F. von Meister, holding dual British and German citizenship, looks like an American college lad, and speaks a pure English—an inheritance from his British mother.
The new competitor on the American market has a number of features especially in connection with reversing and braking which will be seen in the New York auto show in January.
Jack White was up from his farm in Lyon county yesterday and stated that the farmers of that section would wade into the cotton patch this week, as the fleecy staple is now beginning to open.
To keep a bob in shape takes lots of pin money, but no pins.

STEEL FIRMS DROP PITTSBURGH PLUS PRICE BASIS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The nine steel corporations which were ordered recently by the federal trade commission to abandon the Pittsburgh plus practice of price making, have agreed to conform to the order, and will abandon the practice they have notified the trade commission
here.
"Respondent, without admitting the validity of said order or the jurisdiction of the commission to make the same have determined to conform thereto, and will hereafter conform thereto, in the sale of their various products, insofar as it is practicable to do so," the report from the steel corporations read.
There was some indication after the issuance of the order that the order might be contested, particularly by the U. S. Steel corporation, which controls 50 percent of the steel industry and is most affected.
The companies which were cited by the trade commission and which have agreed to conform to the order abolishing the practice besides the U. S. Steel Corporation, are:
American Bridge company,
American Sheet and Tin Plate company, Carnegie Steel company, National Tube company, American Steel and Wire company, Illinois company and the Tennessee Coal,

FINED 300 FRANCS FOR BACK TALK BY JOCKEY

By United Press.
DEAUVILLE, Sept. 17.—George Garner, American Jockey, was too sharp with his tongue and not sharp enough on this horse to suit M. Man-tacheff, owner of Bou Jeloud, in a race on the Deauville track. M.
Mantacheff reproached the jockey for not winning a race, and said he did not ride according to instructions.
"The next time you can ride him yourself," answered Garner.
The owner protested this conduct to the track commission, and the jockey was fined 300 francs.

GIVES FORMULA TO THOSE WHO WISH TO REACH 92 YRS.

HOUSTON, Sept. 15.—"Hard work, early rising, regular habits and no worry" is formula to follow if you desire to live to be 92, according to Mrs. Susan Elizabeth Townsley who recently celebrated her ninety-second birthday. She deplores cigaret smoking among women and encourages young girls to take up pipe smoking for a start—as a sure cure against the smoking habit. She recalled that an old dress sufficed for a bathing suit back in 1860.

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:
"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."
"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."
"I would get depressed and out of heart."
"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse. I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good result."
"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."
"Thousands of other women have written to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others."
