K. Carter Parent Teachers Club Met Thursday

The K. Carter Parent-Teachers Club met Thursday afternoon at four o'clock at the school with a special program on "Humane Education." Mrs. J. D. Johnson was leader for the afternoon.

Miss Richmond read a paper on "Humane Education, its Importance in Home and School." Miss McCollon's pupils had charge of the program and rendered a much enjoyed chorus.

Two very clever little girls gave charming readings, Miss Peggy Leonard and Miss Charlotte Hopkins. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Wolfarth. The club voted to install six modern pieces of play ground equipment made of the best of steel.

On the girls play ground there will be a slide, a combination of six swings and the largest type of "Ocean Wave." The boys will have an ocean wave a slide and "giant slide."

This is a large undertaking but the K. Carter club will without a doubt prove equal to it and the play ground will be one of the best equipped in West Texas.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY ROTARIANS MUCH ENJOYED

Mr. and Mrs. Mae Cravens and Mrs. Alice Johnson.

"I ain't Married No more," a clever con solo, was rendered by Clever Innon, and was a striking contrast to the following vocal solo, "Love's Garden of Roses" by H. E. Blocker. The variety of offerings was an enjoyed and noticed feature of the entertainment.

O. L. Peterman received hearty applause following his catalogue "Now, I Won't Scared."

The program committee was right in naming Mr. Sander's selection that followed a "rank" musical specialty. It was indeed in a class by itself in entertainment features. Those interested in the Tech College are assured that it will be a well equipped institution, at least Daddy Dickinson's interpretation of Dr. Horn's address before the board of control at Austin last month carried such an appeal as to soften the heart of the most stolid.

The "Fiddling specialty" by Big Boy Hall, fiddler, and L. J. McLean, pianist, was a knock-out.

Mrs. Carl Scroggins rendered a beautiful vocal solo, with violin accompaniment by Miss Owens and piano accompaniment by Miss Leonard.

"The Dance of the Nymphs" as interpreted by Lucille Eileen Walker, was one of the most beautiful numbers on the program.

Words cannot describe the fun that was created in public presentation of that most comical of farcical comedies, "Suppressed Desires" by Mrs. Wm. D. Green, Harold Griffith and Mrs. Sid Wells. This play was given under the direction of Mrs. James Goodman.

Though this was the second time this play was presented in Lubbock it carried entertainment for those who had witnessed it before and will not be forgotten for many many days.

The artists played their parts well, in fact it was hard for the spectators to realize that such talent could be found right here at home.

Had had the players spent weeks or even months in preparation for their appearance on the program, they could not have executed their parts with greater efficiency.

Filman Suggs, well known local croquet, offered dance specialties between acts that were screams.

The entertainment was greatly enjoyed by all, and the Rotarians are assured another full house when they offer another program this evening.

WOMAN FINED $1 BUT EMARRASSED FOR FUNDS

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Samuel Goodman, a pretty young matron, was fined $1 in traffic court for parking in a restricted zone. Blushing she walked to the rear of the court room where her husband was waiting. In a moment she returned blushing more than ever but without the dollar. John Malloy, court patrolman, paid her fine. It was noticed that Goodman had already disappeared when his wife prepared to leave the court room.

ZR-3 SAILS FOR U.S. NEXT WEEK

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE FOLLOWING SUCCESSFUL TEST FLIGHT

LAKEHURST, Sept. 26.—The giant dirigible ZR-3, which has been built in Germany for the United States will sail for this country next week probably on Wednesday according to Commander J. P. Klein, jr. head of the naval air station here, who is now in Friedrichshafen.

Klein made this announcement in reporting by cable the successful flight and completion of the ZR-3's 34 hour test.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—After a 34 hour endurance test in which she flew the length of Germany, flew over the Baltic sea, and hovered over Denmark and Sweden the giant dirigible ZR-3, built for the United States, returned successfully to her hanger at Friedrichshafen at 7:50 p. m. Friday.

As the great shimmering cigar-shaped craft floated over northern Europe like a silver cloud she was greeted everywhere with tremendous enthusiasm.

Crowds gathered in streets of cities along the route, and school children were given a holiday to see the craft. In Berlin thousands filled squares and parks, while president Ebert broadcast a speech of welcome to the ship. Airplanes flew in to meet the Zeppelin and the crowd sang "Deutschland Uber Alles" as she passed.

Commander Echenberg, who will fly the ZR-3 to America, is anxious to start the trans-Atlantic hop as soon as possible, but no definite decision has yet been reached on the question of when the flight will be made. Favorable weather is, of course, the first determining factor of the flight.

Garage Doors That Roll Overhead Save Space and Repair Bills

Garage, factory and warehouse doors that roll up overhead are being manufactured to replace the ordinary hinged or sliding door. They are constructed in panels, somewhat like the roll top of an office desk, and slide on flanged rollers and steel tracks. When the door is opened, it is hoisted where it cannot be damaged by the weather and cannot blow shut. It is counterbalanced by strong steel springs, locks automatically when closed, fits flush with the floor and is not hard to install. As it does not project beyond the building, it is convenient where the garage or other structure is erected in limited space.

Standard copper wire makes a spark-plug cleaner that can be used without taking the plug apart and is harmless to the porcelain. It will not clean the insulator as well as when the plug is taken apart and polished with steel wool, but will serve in an emergency. The best results are obtained when a length of lamp cord is doubled over and both ends used. The remains of the wire should not be removed for more than 1/2 in. as it differs the rest of the wire. If left on...

Paint for Cardboard Panels and Coils

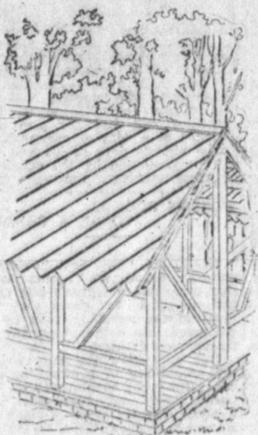

An insulating paint, which has been found serviceable for painting cardboard panels and coils in radio work, can be made by anyone at practically no cost. A pint of denatured alcohol is obtained, and an old phonograph record, which is broken up into many small pieces, is dropped into the alcohol. This can be done best in a fruit jar. The cap is screwed down tightly and the mixture allowed to stand for a few days until the pieces of record have been thoroughly dissolved. The mixture is stirred well before it is used and is applied with a brush. The work must be done fast, as the paint dries rapidly, leaving a black film on the surface. Two coats are sufficient for any material. The application stiffens the cardboard considerably and produces a fine, dull finish. One pint of the mixture will cover from 15 to 20 sq. ft., and sometimes more.

Rifle Range Target in Golf Net Improves Player's Accuracy

To teach accuracy in driving, a steel golf-net on 24 has been installed in a Los Angeles club. It has the ball-eye and circles of a rifle-range target, at which the ball is driven. "Shooting or pulling" is accurately shown, and distance also may be gauged by the spot the sphere strikes. Being of metal, the net will withstand much abuse and the strongest drives.

Novel Roof Economizes Lumber

Temporary buildings can be roofed much more quickly and with less lumber if the roofing boards are laid across the rafters diagonally, as shown in the illustration. Each board overlaps the one below it in order to shed rain, making the roof practically waterproof. Rafters made in this way have been found quite satisfactory.

Three comets are due to approach near the earth in 1924, astronomers at the observatory have announced. They are the Encke and Tempel, which will appear in November, and the Tuttle, coming in December. Special preparations are to be made to study them. It is said, as scientists have no means of determining what may have happened to them since they passed out of sight.

CONLEY LEADS IN THE SALE OF FAIR TICKETS

Ernest Conley, of the A. B. Conley, Jr., Store, has led the field in the number of fair tickets sold, and was seen working at the job thru the week after the check-up had been made showing that he was ahead by a good margin.

Conley led the list in the number of tickets sold last year, and unless some one makes it mighty snappy today, he will hold first place in that field this year.

Practically all of the business men of Lubbock are backing the sale of fair tickets and the campaign has gone over good.

INDEPENDENTS BE PLACED ON KANSAS BALLOT

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 25.—The general election ballots in Kansas will contain the names of LaFollette and Wheeler at the head of the independent ticket. Secretary of State Frank Ryan, in making this ruling refused to permit the socialist presidential electors to use the names of the two men on their ticket which, it is believed, will bring about the withdrawal of the socialists. Attorney General Griffith recently held that LaFollette and Wheeler could not place their names on the Kansas ballot.

SMITH NOMINATED FOR RE-ELECTION BY DEMOCRATS

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Sept. 26.—Arousing the same wild enthusiasm that was accorded him by his supporters at the National convention, Gov. Al Smith has been nominated by the state democratic convention to re-elect against Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Smith was chosen by acclamation. His choice was unanimous. There were no other candidates and as the roll was called for the vote, a series of lusty yells for "Alfred E. Smith" flowed forth in an uninterrupted succession. Smith now assumes the task of beating Young Roosevelt and the still heavier burden of carrying New York for John M. Davis, appearing before the convention late Friday afternoon. Smith accepted the nomination. He was greeted with a thunderous roar of cheers and applause that resounded the tumult he caused at Madison Square Garden.

The governor told hesitancy over accepting the nomination. "I feel that I would like to take a rest," he said, "and not make the race a fourth time. However, I was unable to answer the arguments of certain of our leaders. I know how much the country needs the democratic party and I know how this state needs a continuance of it. I never ran away from a fight and I never will. I will make the race and I accepted the nomination." Smith will run on a platform which contains unequivocal condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan and insists on modification of the Volstead act to permit beer and light wines, subject to the approval of the people of the state. He then launched into an attack on the republicans in Washington and the republican party in general. "We will have four solid weeks in which to show up the record. Nominate a myth in Washington and a name in New York, and expect to get away with it. It can't be done," he said. "And when I heard of the ac-

RESOLUTION AGAINST MARRIAGES AT BAYLOR

WACO, Sept. 26.—Rambblings of protest are being heard about the campus here following the official ban on student marriages at Baylor University.

Two resolutions were passed to the faculty for the benefit of those matrimonially inclined. They were:

1. If any undergraduate student gets married he or she shall be discontinued from the university for a period of one year.
 2. If any undergraduate student gets married secretly, immediately upon the facts being known, he or she shall be discontinued from the university for an indefinite period.
- There was no specific motive, "except being for the best" in the marriage ban according to faculty members.

A group of Armenians plan to erect a funicular railway up the slopes of Mount Ararat, the mighty snow-capped summit of which at an altitude of 17,055 feet marks the dividing line between Armenia, Turkey and Persia. They plan to make it a sort of "Pike's Peak" pleasure resort and will charge a small fee for making the ascent to the summit, from which an excellent view can be had of the entire Caucasus region.

More than forty thousand miles of hard surfaced road were built in 1923 in the United States.

WHEN FARMERS MAKE THEIR RAISING CROPS A BUSINESS

The Farm and Ranch is fortunate in having an able and sensible editorial writer and he gives out much good, honest, helpful things, and among them is the statement regarding the farmer and business methods? The writer in a recent article in that paper begins by saying:

"Figures never lie, but liars do figure." The clever statistician can prove almost anything with figures, but the conclusions drawn from his presentation do not always prove themselves when practically applied. Two young men argue the question, "Is it cheaper to rent than to buy a home?" One presents figures to show that it is cheaper to rent. His presentation seems flawless. The other, while unable to meet the argument in like manner, has an inherent desire to rest in the shade of his own fig tree. In ten years he owns a home worth several thousand dollars. The other fellows owns nothing but a basket full of rent receipts.

One of the great American games of today, and especially during a political campaign, is to sit down with a pencil and paper and prove that farming does not pay and that it never has paid since the first colonists traded, with a string of glass beads, the Indians out of a few leagues of land. Yet, in every state in the union and in every section of every state are men comfortably well off with this world's goods who dug it out of the soil and who have not profited by the increase in the value of the land, for they yet own the land they started with. There are thousands of others who are making a good living farming and who own automobiles and many of the other necessities and luxuries of modern times.

Farming is not different from other industries. There are many engaged in agriculture wholly unfitted for the work. They are failures because they lack initiative and business judgment. The same is true in other lines of business. While the figures are not available, if the mortgages, bonds and other debts of men in commercial lines, manufacturing and otherwise, were stacked up against any one year's profits, as is done in comparing the profits of agriculture, the debts would undoubtedly top the profits by many millions of dollars.

The agricultural industry is handicapped as a whole by having to carry a large class of inefficient farmers who create a surplus without adding anything to net profits. The one-crop farmer; the farmer who produces in a haphazard manner; who sneers at scientific methods of production; who fails to recognize the importance of producing the best, and marketing only the best of what he produces; who fails to exercise even ordinary judgment in the conduct of his business, belongs to the class who throw the agricultural industry of the country out of balance. There are too many trying to make a living out of farming who are not considered competent to make a success in any other line, and when an industry, under such a handicap, produces more than $22,000,000,000 of new wealth in twelve months' time, that industry certainly is deserving of the active interest of capable and industrious men.

The agricultural industry will show surplus profits instead of surplus production when men engaged in it look upon it as a business instead of a speculation, or a mere way of securing a poor living. Men who scorn to give even passing notice to the results of experience, or of experiments, and remain wrapped up in the blanket of their own self-conceit, will continue to importune congress for help. Those who build fertility back into their soil and keep informed regarding general conditions of their industry as closely as does the merchant and manufacturer, producing accordingly, do not find farming any more hazardous than any other business.

THE ROTARY BOYS FUND.

The Rotarians of this city are showing an interest in the boys of the community, that is worthy of consideration on the part of the people of Lubbock. When ten or fifteen busy men—Rotarians will volunteer their services to practice a play in order to raise funds to help in the education of worthy boys, you can depend upon it that they are not doing so for any other reason than that they want to help the young men of today, and are willing to sacrifice and place into action the slogan of the club, "Service above self," for if those Rotarians who are putting on the two night entertainments for the benefit of the club loan fund, would consult their own feelings and their best interests, they would be at their place of business. Now, since the club is doing this much, the people of this city should certainly back them up in the effort, and make the entertainment a wonderful success in a financial way.

If you did not buy tickets last night attend to-night and help them in the move.

THE CHANGING OF LUBBOCK CONDITIONS

Dr. Horn in an article that appeared in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche last Sunday drew a contrast of the things that were happening now, and as they would be a year hence, and the picture was very forcefully put. It carried more than ordinary significance. It did not merely mean that there would be boys and girls coming to Lubbock to attend the great Technological school, in large numbers, but it means that there is a great amount of work for the people of this city to do, and we should not wait till the last moment to do it. It means that hundreds of families will move to Lubbock not only to send their boys and girls here to be educated but they will come here to educate them. They will take advantage of the wonderful opportunity and they will come to Lubbock with a view to completing the education of the family. Those of the family that may be too young to enter the college they will place in the splendid public schools of this city, which schools have made a reputation that is second to none in the state, and which are even at this time attracting attention of people far and near.

It means that a tremendous building program must be launched here within the next few months. The school is scheduled to open eleven months from now and there is much to do. Large rooming houses must be built to take care of the students. Many new homes must be built to take care of the families that want to come here. Hundreds of apartment houses must be supplied if the demand is filled. A thorough and successful transportation service must be supplied too, either auto busses, or electric cars. All these things should have the immediate attention of the people of Lubbock. They are actual necessities, and are not pipe dreams or imaginary objects in the mind of the editor inspired by the excitement or the result of over enthusiasm for the town, but we have a vision of the needs of the community, and we believe that it is not any too soon to begin to make these arrangements.

THE BLINDNESS OF PREJUDICE.

The editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman has discovered that prejudice is blind, and that it is hard to make people understand even if it is written in plain English. The Oklahoma editor says: "A few weeks ago I said something on this page under the heading of 'Klan and Anti-Klan.' Some of the folks have written letters about it. A part of them who wrote accused me of being a Klansman, and wanted me to come out into the open and help fight the battles of that organization. Others think I am anti-Klan and want me to jump into the fray on that side. All of them missed the real object I was aiming at. It is hard to write words plainly enough so that the prejudiced will understand.

"I stand with neither the Klan nor the anti-Klan. One side attacks. The other side defends and then attacks in turn, and Oklahoma is divided into two hostile camps like a couple of roosters out behind the barn. And it is all just as foolish as the fighting of the roosters.

"Every important religion in the world, and the progress of the world as well, is built on a foundation of brotherly love and tolerance, and the spirit of good will by one man for another. Both Klan and anti-Klan have forgotten these fundamentals of life, and communities and families have been split and towns and cities harmed beyond repair because of the forgetting.

The Man of Galilee laid down two commandments. First you are to love God. Second, you are to love your neighbor. I wonder whether it is possible for any man to meet the first commandment without having accomplished the second!

"Let's forget fighting, quit bating, drop intolerance, stop prejudice, mind our own business, look for the good in our neighbors, develop our spirit of brotherly love, help those who are needy, and get back on a basis of common sense.

"That goes for both Klan and anti-Klan."

OUR GOVERNMENT!

For one day the city government of McKinney was turned over to the De Molays and all offices and departments were filled by boys. Such a course could be followed with profit by other cities. However it need not be confined to any special lodge or organization. In fact the idea can be elaborated to the extent of arranging for some sort of election, in order that the most popular boys and girls may hold office, and at the same time give them a taste of practical politics.

There are many advantages in turning over the city government, now and then, to the youngest. Perhaps the greatest benefit is the interest in government that will be fostered. The character of the city governments of tomorrow, will be determined by the character and education of the young people of today.

The complaint is heard everywhere that the ballot box no longer represents the real will of the majority of the citizens because not many more than half of the qualified voters go to the polls. One cause for this failure to vote is because there is little done to interest boys and girls in civic affairs. The time to interest them is in the formative periods of their character. The duties of citizenship should be taught more, and one of the best ways to teach such duties is by the practical experience of occasionally turning the city government over to the young people. This ought to be an annual affair.

Such experience would make the boys and girls much more interested in their city, and such interest would not be confined to government but would lead them to look to the city's welfare along other lines.

Develop a sense of civic responsibility in the young people. Let them get acquainted with the policies and needs of their city by actual experience and it will be as bread cast upon the waters, to bless the city's future.

People who say nothing is impossible have never tried having a good time broke.

If love is blind, all the world loves a blind man.

WORLD'S ROOF IS TO BE A GARDEN

By United Press
MINTURN, Colo., Sept. 25.—Agricultural experiment agents, have just completed a season's test near here destined to prove that the "roof of the world" is soon to be converted into a "roof" garden by enterprising farmers.

Not only have the tests shown the practicability of growing numerous farm crops at altitudes of between 7,000 and 9,000 feet, but analysis of these crops in many instances have shown them to far-exceed in quality anything grown in lower lands.

For example, Ross C. Thompson, superintendent in charge of the experimental farm in the season just rounding to a close, points to the results with canning peas. Five hundred pounds were shipped to a packing concern. "Could we obtain such peas as those in quantity," the canner reported, "we could easily top every market in the United States."

Turnips, potatoes, peas and lettuce all showed remarkable results. In each case the judgment of experts who had the produce not only unexcelled, but unequalled well by anything they have ever seen.

So with the coming of increased population, Thompson predicts that sightseers "traveling through the Rockies may, in every reasonably level valley, up almost to the timberline, see great expanses of truck farms."

Experiments have been conducted on the 160-acre farm of Charles Stone in upper Eagle valley, at an altitude of 7,900 feet. Thompson expressed belief that within a few years the state agricultural college at Fort Collins will have proved that farming may be profitably conducted thousands of feet higher than heretofore believed.

LEATHER SHOES ARE NOT WANTED BY VEGETARIANS

LONDON (United Press)—Boots for vegetarians! That's the latest problem confronting English shoekeepers who find themselves pestered by women—and some men—who, objecting to leather because it comes from animals, demand shoes made from substitutes.

During the war 14 different substitutes for leather were evolved, but only two, it is understood, have survived. From these two substitutes "boots for vegetarians" are now being made and placed upon the market.

They cost between five and six dollars a pair and, despite the shoe-

HIS MASTER'S VOICE—WHICH?

By MORRIS

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

THE HOUSE MADE UGLY
"I want a home of loveliness," he told the architect;
"I want the finest building which your workmen can erect."
Let every window seem to smile to greet the morning sun,
And let there be no jarring note when once your work is done."
The house was built. No cost was spared. No jarring note was there.
That which the eye finds beautiful was smiling everywhere;
And then the decorators came, and once again the man
Said: "Furnish now this home for me as richly as you can."
They tapestried his stately walls;
They stretched upon the floor
Such rugs as Kings of Persia knew,
They searched the country o'er
For treasures rare with which to grace each room, and when 'twas done
If ever home held loveliness that structure was the one.
And yet when he came home at night he sneered at her who smiled,
He had an ugly temper and spoke harshly to his child;
And none beneath that roof was glad where happiness should be,
For 'tis the spirit makes the home and not the things you see."

maker's familiar insistence to the contrary, are declared to be as good as leather, though their soles are somewhat stiffer, with somewhat less "give."

There is no market for them, except among those who have conscientious objections against leather on humanitarian grounds. But that market is no inconsiderable one according to a shoekeeper who has begun to cater to it.

Oxford and Cambridge universities are embarrassed in the great number of wealthy young Americans who are applying for admission in October. For the most part these young graduates are sons of wealthy parents who desire to spend a few months in Europe and have no serious intentions of studying. However, these universities welcome gladly those Americans who wish to follow the regular degree courses and who will study hard to win their degrees.

In the past ten years, it is said, farmers have paid in as membership fees nearly $25,000,000 for organization expenses—salaries, commissions, office rent, propaganda and other overhead—Stuart Hay in Country Gentleman.

AMERICA LEADS AGAIN

Just returned from Europe where he remained seven weeks visiting the leading radio engineers and scientists in governmental and private radio circles abroad, David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, says:

"I investigated the broadcasting systems of England, France and Germany, and met the principal persons, both in governmental and private circles, responsible for the development of radio in Europe. My conclusions are that broadcasting, which was initiated in our own country, has advanced in the United States, both as a public service and as an industry, to so great extent as to make comparisons with European countries almost impossible.

"In France, it is just beginning, and in Germany, it has hardly begun. In England greater progress has been made than in other European countries, but even there it cannot be said to compare favorably with the United States either as to quality or variety of programs, or as to effectiveness, simplicity or small cost of receiving apparatus manufactured and sold for home use.

"Governmental regulations and restrictions retard the growth of the broadcasting art in Europe, and at the same time deprive the listening public of the freedom, enjoyment and instructive information available in the United States."

Once again has the private initiative and inventive ingenuity of America gained for the common citizen benefits far in advance of the government-owned, government-controlled or government-regulated services in Europe.

CHICKS REPEAT FOR SECOND WIN OVER CATS 2-1

PANTHERS COUNT FIRST, BUT AS ON PREVIOUS DAY CHICKS RALLY IN LATE STAGES FOR RUNS NECESSARY TO WIN

Special to the Avalanche
MEMPHIS, Sept. 26.—Duplicating Thursday's performance, the Memphis Chicks wrested another victory from the Fort Worth Panthers here today for the second game of the series which will decide the championship of the south in Class A ball. This was a play-off of the first exhibition, which was halted at darkness with the score tied. The score today was 2 to 1, and as in yesterday's game, the visitors again took the lead in counting, holding the Chicks scoreless until the seventh. Jimmy Walkup, the youngster who has been going good in the Texas loop this season was allotted mound duty by the Cats. He was opposed by "Gallatin" Tom Rogers.

Rogers was relieved in the seventh when it came his turn to hit with three men on bases and two out. A pinch hitter was installed, and the Chicks squeezed in a run to tie the count. He was replaced by Kelly. "Big Boy" Kraft, the sensational home run king of the Texas league, scratched out a safe hit in the second inning today—his third hit in twelve attempts during his performance here. Smith, Chick leftfielder, was the sensation to day with the stick, getting two doubles out of three trips. Yaryan veteran catcher, drove out two singles out of four trials.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning.
Fort Worth: Sears doubles to right; Kraft flew out to center; Palmer then drove a hot one to LaMotte, who fumbled, Palmer reaching first and Sears taking third; Edgington drives one to deep center for a sacrifice, scoring Sears; Tavenor flew out to left. One run, one hit, no errors.

SENATORS LOSE AS YANKS WIN TO CUT LEAD IN HALF

By United Press
The baseball mania of New York and Washington grew purple in the face as the Washington club lost a game to the Red Sox in Boston Friday, 2 to 1, with the great Walter Johnson pitching for the Senators while the New York Yanks were beating the Athletics 7 to 1 in Philadelphia. The cut in half the lead of the Senators over the Yanks. If the Senators should lose and the Yanks win Saturday, they would be tied with two games remaining as a virtual play-off for the pennant.

By a freakish whim of fate, the Senators were whipped Friday by a pitcher who had every reason to wish that they would win the pennant from the Yanks. Alec Ferguson, who pitched for the Red Sox, was traded away from the Yanks about the time they began to collect their world series purses and he certainly has no reason or wishing to help them collect again. The Giants did not play. Neither did the Dodgers. The Braves played, however, and won two games from the Cubs 9 to 3 and 10 to 6.

John McGraw and a bevy of Giant stockholders spent the day at the race track. McGraw is not yet sure that Hank Frisch and Henie Groh will recover from their hurts in time to play their best in the world series. Incidentally the Giants although they have certainly won the pennant, have not yet had their world series tickets printed. McGraw was just about to win his fourth consecutive pennant ten years ago and had the tickets printed, where on the club lost out. The Braves, in a recent season, had temporary stands built at Forbes field, Pittsburgh expecting to entertain a world series and then lost the pennant. The Tigers beat the White Sox 8 to 2 in Chicago.

BOBBY JONES MEETS VON ELM IN FINAL GOLF ROUND
BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
MERION CRICKET CLUB, HAV-ERFORD, Pa., Sept. 26.—George Von Elm, late of Salt Lake City, but now of Los Angeles, will tour the Packard campus of Merion Cricket Club with Bobby Jones Saturday afternoon in a match for one of the few important championships that neither of them has ever held, the national amateur title.

Von Elm waived Max Marston out of the champions league Friday when they played one of the semi-final matches of a tournament which has been scuffing the turf of Merion ever since last Saturday morning. George won, 7 to 6, and the Microphones are still bending an ear to the winds to catch any public walking over the dismissal of the champion. Not a wail has been heard at a late hour and perhaps the crowd will be able to control its grief altogether for Marston seems to have been the Leach Cross of the golf racket, a man who drew the gallery largely because the gallery knew he was bound to get his some time, and wished to see him get it.

Just what was the matter with Marston any way, is hard to set at. He is accused of being an aristocrat, there's no law by which a man can be hanged for not hanging around

COACHES WILL NOT DISCUSS GAME WITH FANS

CANYON, Texas, Sept. 26.—On the eve of the first big game of the season things are getting rather tense around the Teachers College Campus with everyone except the coaches. That the coaches do not like to talk about the probable outcome is evidenced by the following conversation between Coach Burton and one of the fans:
Fan: "Do you expect to have a very hard game with the Oklahoma Rangers Saturday?"
Coach: "I was up at the Tri-State Fair the other night and it sure is some fair. Have you been up yet?"
Fan: "Yes I was no. Nearly every one up there is betting on the Buffaloes Saturday how badly do you think we will beat that Oklahoma crew?"

Coach: "When you were up there did you go through the poultry exhibit?"
Fan: "I think the have some fine chickens up there."
Coach: "By the way, I saw Panthers when I was up there and he said that he believed there was more interest in the coming game than in most of any of the attractions that would be pulled off. He was wanting some dope and said that every one was asking him about the Buffaloes and said for you to send him some home. What do you want to tell him?"

Coach: "Tell him that my chickens d'd better at the fair than I expected. I got second and third, cockerel and second pen too. Don't you think that's good?"
The above conversation is typical of those held with the coaches. Neither of them will tell anything or make any predictions. Practice has been behind closed gates ever since "normal practice has been going on. No one except players and coaches is permitted to watch the Buffs do their stuff. It is believed however that the team is in fair condition and that a real battle will be staged at the fair grounds Saturday when the Rangers meet the Buffaloes.

COCKROACHES AND RATS GET BLAME FOR MANY FIRES
HOUSTON, Sept. 26.—Ravenous cockroaches and frolicsome rats rank high in the list of firebugs, according to a decision of Fire Chief Ollire, in explaining the possible origin of several mysterious fires in Houston recently.
Cockroaches have an affinity for sulphur tipped matches, local firemen say. Rats, too, are fond of a toothsome meal of sulphur, guardians of the public safety declared. One firefighter said he witnessed a cockroach gnaw a match head and although the insect paid with its life for the meal, the match was entirely consumed.

SIR JOHN FRENCH HAS A BIRTHDAY
LONDON, Sept. 26.—Field Marshal, the Earl of Ypres (better known by his former title of Sir John French) former commander-in-chief of the British armies in France, celebrates his 72nd birthday Sunday, and is receiving congratulations from all over the world. The famous soldier has not been much in public life since relinquishing the Vice-regency of Ireland three years ago, but he has to spend considerable time traveling war monuments, attending dinners, etc., in which he is always willing to participate.
French had fought all over the world, and was a field married be-

SECOND STRING ELEVEN OF LUBBOCK HIGH BATTLES TO VICTORY AT SLATON FRIDAY; PLAY OF WILSON SPECTACULAR

"Pinky" Lowery, coach of the second string, Westerners, took his bunch down to Slaton and defeated the Slaton second team 22 to 0. The game was a hard fought one from the start to the finish. Wilson of the Lubbock Westerners was said by far to be the stellar player of the game. In the second quarter of the game Wilson fumbled the ball, but picked it up and ran for 95 yards scoring the first touchdown. In the third quarter of the game Wilson intercepted a pass and ran for 55 yards scoring the second and last touchdown.

Scott of the Westerners crew played a good game at quarter and showed great ability in generalship of the team. He shows that he can give some big Westerners of the first squad a run for the money. Payne and Roark did some remarkable work on the line. Harold Bowen returned the Slaton punts with good returns every other running form 30 to 40 yards on each return. Irvin Wolfarth also showed up well at half yesterday gaining consistently thru the Slaton defense.

The game was freer from fumbles and squabbling than the game that was played on the local grid in the earlier part of the week. During the entire game the Lubbock boys played the Slaton team off their feet.

The coaches seem to think there will be changes made in the line up for the next game since the second team showed up so well there will probably be some of the first squad loose their places.
The Westerners next game will be played during the fair with the Floydada Whitebirds, and they are blowing pretty strong and will give the Westerners many hard plays that will be hard for the Westerners to overcome.

REMEDY SUGGESTED FOR DEAD SPOTS IN COTTON
VICTORIA, Texas, Sept. 26.—Texas A. and M. College authorities have caused the puzzlement of planters in this section as to the appearance of so many patches of dead cotton in their fields. The experts declared a fungus disease had been discovered known as Texas Root Rot which attacks the roots of the plants.

An early fall clean-up of all cotton stalks and clean cultivation during the winter are recommended for the disease. Crop rotation is also urged.

MUCH AT STAKE AS PROBE INTO THE RELATIVE MERITS OF BATTLESHIPS, AIRPLANES AND SUBMARINES OPENS

(Editor's Note. The following is the first of a series of articles dealing with the investigation by a special board into the relative merits of the battleships, airplane and submarine, about which a controversy is now raging. Later articles will give the viewpoints of the various branches of the service.)

By THOMAS L. STOKES.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The special board of officers which has been designated to study the relative merits for national defense of the battleship, airplane and submarine, will begin its investigation next week with much at stake.

Whatever the investigating officers decide, their findings will have a major influence in shaping the future defense policy of the government. The size of the appropriations for the various services certainly will be affected by the report of the inquiring board.

The recent pronouncement from the white house favoring more attention to the airplane and the navy has stirred up quite a rumpus among officers of the army and navy. It can be heard all around another campaign of speech making, such as always resulted from a reversal of the old question before, is under way.

The opening gun was fired by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett who happens to be chief of the bureau of aeronautics of the navy, but defended the battleship in a speech Thursday night at the University of Michigan. It is expected to be followed by others between now and the time congress assembles.

Despite the attitude taken by the president, the battleship appears to have much the edge as the investigation begins. The board appointed to make the study is composed almost exclusively of admirals, who have unshaken opinions as to the battleships place. They contend that the battleship is the "backbone" of the fleet, though they grant willingly enough that the airplane is a necessary adjunct in this day of modern warfare.

The battleship also is forced by the material upon which the investigation will be based is concerned. The last actual tests, the bombing of obsolete, ex-German battleships took place in 1921, and the report of those tests by a special board headed by General Pershing upheld the old time supremacy of the battleship, while giving due credit to the airplane.

The investigation will also cover the submarine and try to determine its status as related to the battleship. The United States has more small type submarines less than 1,000 tons each, than any other power, but fewer of the larger types than either Great Britain or Japan. The navy is seeking more of the latter type.

Members of the board, as president for an investigation, and his apparent partiality to the airplane, the board's findings will have considerable weight in establishing a future policy, and determining just how much money should be allotted to each branch.

CONDITIONS IN DAVIS' MAIN CAMP NOT OF THE BEST

By United News.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—John W. Davis, will devote part of his time in Washington Saturday to boosting the morale of those in charge of national campaign headquarters here. Conditions in the nerve center of the campaign organization have not been as good as had been hoped with the result that the burden of the fight has fallen pretty much on the lone shoulders of Davis as it did on Cox four years ago.

Barly a month of the campaign remains and it is the most critical month of all, the one which will decide the outcome, hence the concern of Davis that the full force of his organization be made effective. The campaign machinery has never recovered entirely from the disorganizing effect of the long bitter factional fight in Madison Square Garden. McAdoo has just returned but the hope that his coming inspired, has been somewhat dampened by the defeated California candidate did not warm up to the ticket as the Davis workers had expected.

Davis was most cordial in sending McAdoo a radio as the steamer was coming in. But on arrival McAdoo was somewhat uncertain as to his speaking plans. He called for a bundle of Davis' speeches and when he did make his statement, he devoted most of his attention to advocating the League of Nations. Friends of Davis had expected McAdoo to come forth with a two-fisted declaration for the ticket and were a little disappointed at the faint praise.

YOUNG TO FACE TRIAL IN MURDER OF MRS. TREWETT

By United News.
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—Wm. T. Young, 39 a widower and the father of four children will be tried soon for the murder of Mrs. Jonnie Trewett, Covina matron, with whom he was involved in an illicit romance, and for whose killing he has taken the blame.

Oscar Trewett, the slain woman's husband signed the complaint earlier in the day a coroner's jury, sitting at Covina, near where Mrs. Trewett was shot down after she had refused to ride in Young's car, decided that she died as the result of a gunshot wound "fired by Wm. Young with the intention to kill her."

DAVIS CAMPAIGNING IN WEST VIRGINIA GETS BIG CROWDS

By United News.
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 26.—In a brief address before a crowd of 20,000 John W. Davis, democratic candidate for president urged voters to choose "the road to equity and of special privilege to none."

Davis was introduced by Wm. A. McCopie former governor of West Virginia. He was given an enthusiastic reception. Speaking under a strain with a damaged voice Davis quoted the lines of the poet:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead," and alluded to his first visit to Charleston when he came as a green member of the state legislature.

He asked that the people return to the government of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland, Wilson to lead us out of the wilderness. "I came here for several reasons" he said. "One of them was to answer the rumor that I had disappeared from the campaign. As far as that is concerned there is only

ONE CANDIDATE WHO HAS ADOPTED A POLICY OF ALIENACE. IT SEEMS THAT THERE IS ONE OF THE CANDIDATES WHO WANTS THE RECED OF HIS PARTY REMEMBERED. THE OTHER WANTS IT FORGOTTEN."

Davis said that the republican party has been a "great creator of political scoundrels." He referred to the "bloody shirt" and "the panic" and said the latest hoggy is the claim that there is a "red neck" or a bolshevist around each corner with a bomb in his hand.

AVERAGE LIFE HAS BEEN LENGTHENED TWENTY YEARS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 26.—The average life has lengthened 20 years in the past century, and will be lengthened 20 more during the next century, Dr. Eugene Lyman Fish, medical director of the Life Extension Institution has declared here.

His health and death caused the wastage of $300,000 annually, he said. The average life, Dr. Fish said is worth $5,000; the life of a baby, $180 while an eighty year old man represents a deficit of $1400. A man aged 55 is a semi-invalid, he declared, in comparison to a youth of 21.

ANOTHER INDICATION EARLY APPROACH OF WINTER

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26.—On the heels of the "old-timers" prediction that winter was near at hand because of the early migration of ducks, there comes to notice headquarters further indication that winter is on its way. Thieves entered seven houses and stole seven stoves in one night here when the first drop in temperature hit the city, police records show.

AYALANCHER SAYS SLATON FAIR IS BIG SHOW

"The biggest community project put over in the most satisfactory manner possible," is G. R. Scott's description of the Slaton Fair which he attended Friday.

Scott who is circulation manager of the Avalanche publications, declared that the people of the entire plains country could justly be proud of the Slaton Fair. He described the agricultural, livestock fine arts and in fact all of the exhibits shown as being of the first class, and is looking forward to the united effort of all of the communities of Lubbock county making a clean-up of all the first prizes at the great state fair at Dallas.

"If the Slaton Fair is an example of what can be done in Lubbock county, I'm convinced we can take the prize in all the big exhibitions of the state," Scott said upon returning to the office late last night.

He described the attitude of the business men of Slaton as evidencing their confidence in the possibilities of the fair and declared that such gathering of the best products of the county for comparison could but result in betterment of all interests represented by exhibits.

Mr. Scott described the agricultural exhibits as being equal to the best he had ever viewed even at the state fair, and declared that the people of Lubbock county have positive proof of the superiority of our farm lands and the fitness of this climate to the production of better crops of all kinds.

Mr. Scott spent the entire day taking in the big fair and said that upon arriving in Slaton he could readily see that the fair season spirit gripped every individual evidencing the fact that the Slaton fair really means something to that community.

REHEARING DENIED LA FOLLETTE IN CALIFORNIA

By United News.
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—The state supreme court's order barring the Robert M. LaFollette ticket of presidential electors from the California ballot was made final today when the court, by a vote of 4 to 3, denied a re-hearing of the case.

Butler Opens Probe
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Wm. M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee has started an investigation of the circumstances which resulted in court action in California, by which the LaFollette presidential electors were denied a place on the ballot in the independent progressive column.

"The republican national committee" Butler said Friday "and no one in its behalf had any part whatever in the proceedings nor anything in the nature of an advance information."

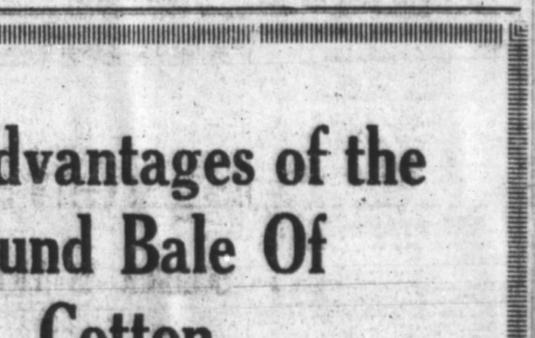

"I am advised today that the republican state organization and the Coolidge and Dawes organization in California of which Mr. Mark Requa is director nor the national committee of California nor republican officials connected with the local campaign, were parties in any manner to the proceedings in any way."

Lesson for September 23

REVIEW — OPENING PERIOD OF CHRIST'S MINISTRY

GOLDEN TEXT—For God so loved the world, that He gave His only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.—John 3:16

PRIMARY TOPIC—Christ's Ministry

JUNIOR TOPIC—Christ's Ministry

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christ's Ministry

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Opening Period of Christ's Ministry

Two methods of review are suggested:

1. Have the pupils go over the quarter's lessons and bring in reports which will picture Jesus as to His daily life, His teaching, His miracles, and the reports should be written out clearly and distinctly and restricted to a certain number of minutes, according to the size of the class and time allotted for the review.

2. The Summary Method. This consists in a statement of the principal facts and leading lessons. The following suggestions are offered:

Lesson 1. That which Jesus the prophet foretold some 700 years before and Gabriel announced to Mary and Joseph took place in Bethlehem and was made known to the shepherds. When the shepherds had investigated they went back praising the Lord and telling the good tidings to others. Those who hear the Gospel must tell it to others.

Lesson 2. Though Jesus Christ was the Son of God, therefore divine, and had taken upon Himself the human nature, which the Holy Ghost had created, He developed as a normal human being.

Lesson 3. While Jesus was absolutely sinless, He submitted to baptism which is a sinner's ordinance, because He took the place of sinners. It was an act of dedication of Himself to the task of bringing in a righteousness which was accomplished on the cross of Calvary.

Lesson 4. Jesus was led into the wilderness by the power and ability of the devil in order to demonstrate the reality of the union of the human and divine natures—in order that man might have a real foothold upon which his faith might rest in order to save Christ and defeat Satan by the use of the Scriptures.

Lesson 5. When John the Baptist pointed out to his disciples the Lamb of God, they left him and followed Jesus. When they came to know Him as the Messiah, they brought others to Him. The natural desire of the one who has found Christ is to bring others to Him for salvation.

Lesson 6. Marriage was ordained by God and the first wedding was sanctioned by His presence. John the Baptist, who was baptizing about His Father's business, set a trap for Satan upon the marriage feast with His presence. The presence of John there killed the ordinance of marriage to its proper dignity and beauty. The design was to show the divine glory.

Lesson 7. When Jesus, the Lord of the temple, found it defiled, He drove out the money-changers and the sellers of doves. To use the Lord's image as a place of merchandise is to pollute it. Because He was zealous for God He could not rest while God's house was polluted.

Lesson 8. Though Nicodemus was a man of high station, a ruler among the Jews, even a religious teacher, he needed to be regenerated before he could see the Kingdom of God.

Lesson 9. Because Jesus' supreme business was to save, and to save the lost, He "must needs go through Samaria" to save the immoral woman who came to Jesus' well.

Lesson 10. Sickness of the nobleman's son brought him to Jesus. Because the nobleman believed Jesus he had the joy of seeing his son alive.

Lesson 11. Jesus' habit was to go to God's house to worship. While in the synagogue He read and expounded the Scriptures. It was not only His custom to attend God's house, but to take part in the worship.

Lesson 12. Though Jesus was divine He needed the solitude for the renewal of His strength in communion with His Father.

DALLAS, Sept. 26.—C. J. Bezzina, 27, of Waco was seriously wounded when stabbed with a six-inch mattress needle. The needle pierced the middle of his back. He refused to reveal his assailant.

GOOD SPEECHES FROM CITY DADS FEATURE THURSDAY KIWANIS LUNCHEON; MEETING NEXT WEEK CALLED OFF ACCOUNT FAIR

An enjoyed and instructive program was rendered at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Friday, with Halesh Martin, of Group No. 7, acting chairman. Group No. 7 planned the members of the club by presenting the members of the city commission, who made good talks throwing a great deal of light upon the building program that is under way.

Two hundred and fifty traffic lights and electric lights through the residential section one hundred feet apart will be installed before the present improvement program has been completed, the city manager told his guests. "Lubbock will be one of the best lighted little cities in the country when this program has been carried to completion," Manager Kelly said.

Mr. N. Roberts, of the firm of Kelly & Roberts, consulting engineers, made a report on the work that has been done, and pointed to such improvements as have been carried on in other cities. Mr. Roberts pointed out that 25 per cent of the feature of the sewer system has been laid, and due to the fact that this includes all of the city's main, the job from a standpoint of work to be done is considered completed.

Mr. Roberts pointed out that 25 per cent of the feature of the sewer system has been laid, and due to the fact that this includes all of the city's main, the job from a standpoint of work to be done is considered completed.

He stated that two hundred thousand square yards is now under construction, with four percent of the job completed. He also stated that one-third of the work now under way has been completed, with good progress made in this work at this time.

He stated that five per cent of the work for the project, have been completed. He also stated that one-third of the work now under way has been completed, with good progress made in this work at this time.

LITTLEFIELD SHOWS LABOR GOVERNMENT IN BRITAIN NEAR END, IS BELIEF

BY CHARLES M. McCANN (Copyright, 1924, by United News)

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Britain's first labor government is sliding to the end of its career.

Conservatives and liberal alike today are preparing for a general election which observers believe will mark a futile and mild "finis" to the regime which entered into power with the vision of building a new world.

There is everything indicating that the general election may be precipitated within the next few weeks. New developments may possibly delay the election until next spring, but Britain knows the days of the labor rulers are already numbered.

The laborites are attempting to prolong their stay in office in the hope that their waning prestige may flame up again. The opposition is awaiting what seems to be the fitting moment for scuttling labor's craft.

In the early months of their period in power the labor leaders called a triumphant course. Now they are among the rocks of a half dozen questions on any one of which they may be wrecked. However, they found that governing Britain was not as easy as it seemed. Labor began by boasting that it would solve the country's problems on a simple power. But when the moment of assumption came the labor leaders found it impossible to change the governmental system without "ruining the country."

Within a few months after that day, when with beating drums and challenging colors, labor entered office, one of the labor's ministers, backed by opposition troops, pleaded that "we can't solve the problem like a politician pulling rabbits out of a hat."

The opposition knew this. The opposition and the country in general realized that labor had done its best. But members of the labor leaders even partly failed to see why labor had not built its new world.

K. C. GIRLS SEEKING USEFUL EDUCATION

By Charles M. McCann

KANSAS CITY, MO., Sept. 26.—Regardless of whether or not girls "just marry" anyway, Kansas City mothers and fathers believe in giving their daughters a useful education. They are not only interested in the household arts of cooking, sewing and dusting.

This year, 7,821 girls against 6,841 boys were enrolled in the high schools here. Figures tend to show that the women are going to take their own money in business along with their brothers and fathers. And, too, painting and music courses. The girls look to studies such as typewriting, shorthand and the commercial arts—something they know will bring financial remuneration.

In the elementary schools between 100,000 and 150,000 girls are being educated.

PRACTICAL JOKERS MEET AND BOTH ENJOY LAUGH

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 26.—Two practical jokers met here recently—the joke was played—and strangely enough, neither got peevish. J. C. Lewis of Vicksburg, Miss., a visitor here, strolled out on a pleasure pier bridge to enjoy a look up and down the ship channel. He found a chair atop the bridge and sat down to rest. It suddenly became a mass of burning, sensational electricity and Lewis continued his observations—standing.

Investigating later he found Edgar Brown, bridge tender, conducts a queer zoo of snakes, rats, pelicans, etc., near the bridge. He also found that Brown controls a little button with wires leading to the chair. Both had a good laugh at the visitor's expense.

Certain kinds of flowers are affected by music. Where there is a steady volume of sound for long periods during the day certain sensitive blossoms develop a leaning tendency away from the direction from which the music comes.
