ARMISTICE DAY PARTY HERE TO BE STATE-WIDE

EX-SERVICE MEN PLAY BIG PART IN CELEBRATION

OVER 3,000 DISTINGUISHED VISITORS INVITED; NEFF TO BE PRESENT

On November 11th, Armistice Day, Lubbock is going to stage another big party at the corner stone laying of the Tech, and the men listed herewith are the chairmen of the various committees...

They were originally appointed by the local Chamber of Commerce to work with the Tech Board in planning for this great celebration, but after one or two meetings and consulting with members of the board they decided that the job was too big for them alone to handle...

Under this plan, each chairman will select a number of assistants or sub-committees to work with him, and each committee will see to it that the job assigned is carried out as it should be.

This original committee, or the chairman of the various committees constitute the executive committee, which meets every Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce to report progress and discuss plans for the next week.

At last Friday's meeting a number of the committee chairman reported the appointment of their committee members and by next Friday night every chairman has promised to have his committee to be complete and at work.

These committees will be completed by the chairman this week, and it is expected that each committee will hold a separate meeting to plan its own program.

Big Job Ahead. The chairman realize that they have a big job ahead and they are planning their activities with enthusiasm, at the same time seeing to it that not a detail is missed.

Many of the committees will have a large number of ladies on them, it is more than likely, while others will be constituted entirely of men. For instance, the traffic and parking committee will more than likely be composed of men only.

November 11th this year is going to be another mile stone in Lubbock's progress and the general committee solicits the assistance and cooperation of the entire citizenship of this section in making this celebration a success.

Distinguished Visitors. Over 3,000 distinguished visitors are being invited to the celebration by the Tech Board, including all of the State Officials, Governors of adjoining States, leaders in the educational world both in and out of Texas and many others.

Arrangements must be made to care for these visitors and the entire duties of a number of the committees has to do entirely with this phase of the celebration.

Hundreds of Lubbock's good friends and neighbors of this immediate section with these loyal men and women, who worked so loyally to help Lubbock secure the Tech will be here and every arrangement is being made that their convenience may be looked after.

Board Makes Program. As far as the program and ceremonies connected with the cornerstone laying is concerned, the local committee has nothing to do, for the Tech Board arranges all this, but the local committee do have to make arrangements for the parade to the

FIRST PHOTOGRAPH OF DISASTROUS RUSSIAN FLOOD.

The most disastrous floods in Russia for the past hundred years nearly inundated Leningrad (old St. Petersburg) and for a time cut the city off from the rest of the world. At points the water was 12 feet over the city. This photograph shows one of the first photographs ever taken of the city covered with debris, after the water had partially subsided.

TAXES UNEQUAL WALLACE SAYS

ONE OF BIG PROBLEMS NOW FACING TEXAS, REPORT POINTS OUT

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Prominent among outstanding problems in Texas is the one of inequalities in the distribution of the tax burden, State Tax Commissioner John Wallace declared in his biennial report filed Saturday with the governor.

"In truth," the tax commissioner said, "our taxing system is in need of thorough overhauling."

2 VILLAGES BURNED BY IDLE TROOPS OF CHEKIANG

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—Two villages near Shanghai were burned today by defeated Chekiang troops, who have nothing to do, little to eat, and no money with which to return to their homes.

There was extensive looting in the suburbs of Shanghai, the Kiangsu forces under Sun Chuan Fang attempting to stop depredations as far as possible.

Lives of foreigners in the settlements are now so well protected, however, that American sailors from warships were permitted to leave this afternoon and return to their ships.

They expect to depart for Chefoo Monday.

Sun Chuan Fang has ruled merchants of Shanghai shall raise enough money to supply each Chekiang soldier with $10 and transportation to his home. In this way, he hopes to get rid of the enemy troops in the city.

The two associations will meet jointly at Austin in 1925.

DAVIS CLOSES WESTERN TRIP

EQUAL RIGHTS AND EQUAL JUSTICE IS PROMISED IN CLOSING SPEECH

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 18.—John W. Davis closed his western campaign here with a pledge to laborers, farmers and business men that his democratic administration would guarantee them "equal rights and equal justice in government."

Speaking in East-St. Louis this afternoon and in the coliseum here tonight, the democratic presidential nominee laid down his principles of equal opportunities in government to all classes.

Parties must be judged by their records, he said. Republicans, he continued, must answer for their crimes of omission and of commission in the present administration.

"The democratic party wasn't a labor party, and it is not a labor party now," he said. "But it wrote into law that the labor of a human being was no longer an article of commerce, recognizing the right of bargaining collectively for their own welfare, and recognized the eight hour day."

"Will you laboring men tell me what more you could expect from a labor party?"

"It is not a farmer party although over the broad acres of this land, the men whose steady efforts feed not only themselves, but all peoples, are democrats. For the farmers the democratic administration established the farm loan system, expanded the activities of the agricultural department and founded the parcels post."

"For the business men, the democrats passed the Underwood tariff bill contrasting with the present tariff law which has raised the price of commodities so high that in New England you will find the textile industry bleeding and stricken."

Davis continued his answers to the statements of Secretary of State Hughes contending that Hughes was attempting to raise two "hoecorn" in his campaign.

"The first is that the republican administration is the sole divinely"

NOTED EASTERN BUSINESS MEN WILL BE CALLED

WALSH CHARGES FUNDS BEING RAISED TOTAL OVER $10,000,000

Nearly a dozen others on the list that Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Senator LaFollette head of the independent ticket, who made the slash fund charge, need to be subpoenaed may be called later.

They will be asked to throw light on the party's national campaign.

In addition to the foregoing witnesses, the American Federation of Labor will be asked to tell how much money it is spending in the campaign.

Walsh, at today's session of the committee, said that the republicans were raising three campaign funds which he said Senator LaFollette told him would total $10,000,000 and possibly $12,000,000.

One letter stated that the bankers of the country had decided to contribute to the republican campaign one-twentieth of the one percent of the capital of the national bank.

President Coolidge was brought into the investigation by Walsh Walsh charges the president with keeping silent on the question of forcing the sugar interests to reduce the price of sugar.

Speaking before the tariff committee in an effort to keep prices up Walsh charged.

"This is a scandal of national importance in itself," Walsh told the committee.

Walsh charged that the Pennsylvania Railroad in conducting a campaign for the Coolidge-Dawes ticket by printing on its dining car menus advice to vote against LaFollette.

MUSICIANS CALLED TO MEET AT ARMORY THIS AFTERNOON 3-30

Replicating the great need of a more thorough band organization in the city, and believing that with the start that has been made one of the best bands in the western part of the state can be completed, a meeting of all those who are interested in perpetuation of the organization has been called by J. C. Davis for this afternoon at the Armory at 3:30.

R. Borden, who has been in charge of the band has tendered his resignation, and the meeting this afternoon is for the purpose of reorganizing and election by the members of a director.

It is especially urged that all musicians of the city be present, and that they bring their instruments, for a rehearsal will be held immediately following the transaction of business.

WOMAN DROWNS NEAR PLAINVIEW

CAR PLUNGES FROM HIGHWAY AND OVERTURNS INTO SMALL LAKE

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Cannon, whose home is said to be near Hale Center, was drowned on the Olton highway about eight miles west of here today when the light car in which she and her three children were riding plunged from a dump on the highway and overturned into a small lake of water beneath.

The accident happened, it is said, when Miss Wilmer Cannon, who was driving, overtook suddenly in an effort to miss an oncoming car, and both were forced off the embankment. The occupant of the other car, a Mr. Silfvee, who said he lived near Olton, was not seriously injured.

The body of Mrs. Cannon is being held in a local undertaking establishment pending word from her husband, who had not been reached at a late hour tonight.

The other two children, both very young, escaped with only minor injuries.

LEAGUE TAKES UP DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY

GENEVA, Oct. 18.—The dispute between Great Britain and Turkey over the boundary of Iraq, a dispute which has to do primarily with possession of the wealthy oil region of Mosul, will be taken up by the League of Nations council at a special session at Brussels Oct. 27.

Paul Hymans, president of the council called the session today. Both parties to the dispute agreed to submit their differences to the council and to abide by its decision, so far as possible.

RULES AGAINST DICKSON RIGHT TO BRING SUIT

NO PROVISION FORBIDS A WOMAN TO HOLD OFFICE DECISION SAYS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, democratic nominee for governor, was given stamp of approval and the right to hold office under the statutes of Texas in decision handed down by the state supreme court here today upon an injunction suit attacking her right to the office.

There is no constitutional provision, the court ruled, that may be invoked in the case of the woman nominee to forbid her filling the office of governor in event of victory in the November election.

Today's decision definitely ended litigation proceedings instituted after the run-off primary several weeks ago by Charles Dickson, of San Antonio, attacking the eligibility of the woman nominee and seeking to keep her name off the November election ballot.

The court ruled against the right of Dickson to bring the suit and held that the fifty-third district court there acted in assuming jurisdiction in the case.

The highest state court ruled that Mrs. Ferguson was not ineligible on account of her sex, status as a married woman, as the wife of an impeached governor and declared that there was no evidence that the former governor was using his wife's name as a substitute to evade the law and secure his return to power.

The opinion also ruled that the use of the masculine pronoun "he" and "his" referring to the governor in the statutes were used to describe the office and could not be construed as a provision against a woman holding office.

Refutes Butte Statements

TEMPLE, Texas, Oct. 18.—Campaign statements of Dr. Geo. C. Hutto, republican nominee for governor, were denounced by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic gubernatorial nominee, in a statement issued here tonight, directed to the "people of Texas."

In the first declaration since she was declared eligible to hold office by the state supreme court Mrs. Ferguson vehemently denied that she was unfavorable to prohibition and declared in favor of the Dean law and the Volstead Act.

The woman nominee also took exception to alleged statements by able parole, patronage and appointment trafficking.

"These charges and insinuations would be ill-lad taste as coming from anyone but coming from one who describes himself as 'standing on the mountain top of broad patriotism' are both infamous and contemptible," the statement said.

Women Vindicated "Ma" Says. TEMPLE, Texas, Oct. 18.—"That is fine. The woman of America have been vindicated. Now I can go ahead with my plans." Mrs. Ferguson, the Texas, democratic nominee for governor, declared here today when advised by the United States Supreme Court.

NORTHWEST TEXAS DOCTORS CONDEMN POLICY OF FERGUSON IN STRAW VOTE TAKEN IN SESSION AT MINERAL WELLS

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 18.—Declaring themselves in favor of clean political government and opposed to corrupt practices in the supreme office of the state, the Northwest Texas District Society annual banquet resolved itself into a political hot bed of discussion when a straw vote taken revealed the fact that 86 of the 99 doctors assembled from nine counties and from all parts of the state favored the candidacy of Butte for governor.

Discussion led by Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple and Dr. C. M. Rosser of Dallas, brought out numerous political facts in which they stated that the candidacy of James Ferguson, which was only a subterfuge for Jim, endangered the lives of those dependent upon the medical aid as offered by the state and was detrimental to the medical society itself.

"They ask you about the pledge said Dr. Scott, "but let me tell you a pledge which I have made which stultifies my conscience to fulfill mine to fill it here his speech was broken into by applause from those present. "I come from Temple he continued, the home of ex-governor Ferguson. The people of that community know him and he will not carry his home town."

The culmination of the political discussion came toward the end when Dr. Rosser had completed a stirring speech in which he brought out the difficulties encountered by the medical profession under the former regime of Ferguson. "A white man," he declared, "you were asked to raise if you favored the candidacy of James Ferguson, and none of you did. I am now going to ask you to raise if you favor clean government. A clean man in office who will conduct the government in an honest and righteous manner with out a shadow of doubt on his constituents."

Hardly had he uttered the words when the entire assembly with the exception of three, swept to their feet amid the applause of those present.

The respect that the law makes hold for Texas representatives and a resume of the work that has been accomplished by them in Washington was given by W. H. Mercer, secretary to Senator Mayfield. Mr. Mercer asserted that he thought the big reason for him being placed on the program was in order that the assembly might learn what Dr. McCracken did while on his visit to Washington. Mr. Mercer said that he would be glad to relay the details but that there was something in the atmosphere there which made one forget.

Dr. J. E. King, of Breckenridge, president of the association, made a short talk in which he expressed a few purposes of the Northwest Texas Association. Music for the afternoon was furnished by the Crazy Hotel Orchestra.

Rev. Chas. D. Poston, formerly of Lubbock, pastor of the First Christian church, gave the invocation.

SPECIAL POLICE PATROL HUGE KLAN GATHERING

WORCHESTER, Mass., Oct. 18.—Special police precautions were taken tonight to prevent trouble at the largest Klansville in New England history when 122,000 members of the KKK jammed the New England state fair grounds.

Klansmen poured into town by train and automobile throughout the day. The speakers' program consisted of the reading of the names of the various candidates. Many of those present wore white silken robes and some rode white canopied horses.

Tech grounds, for the parking of the cars, for the platform arrangements, and many of the other details.

Governor Neff has already accepted the Board's invitation to be present on this occasion and his presence is expected daily from the board advising of acceptances from other prominent people.

Lubbock's Job.

While the program will be arranged by the Tech Board, Lubbock in a way has the biggest job of all, and it is to the men, maidens, boys and their loyal committees that every one must lend every assistance and cheer show to the world. "The Lubbock Spirit" which accomplishes things.

Our hotel facilities are not sufficient to care for the guests we will have on hand for this occasion. Prof. Dugre's committee will have to ask for accommodations from citizens. Give them to him.

Automobiles will be needed to carry our visitors to and from the trains and to and from the Tech Grounds. Judge Pharr's committee will need hundreds of cars. Volunteer your cars to him.

It will take money, and lots of it, to pay the expenses of this celebration, but this money will be the best investment our people can make and not a donation. Mr. Blair's committee will see you about this. Do your part the first time.

Everybody Not Fed.

While it is up to Lubbock to put the big pot in the little one for the distinguished visitors, the general committee has decided that it is impossible and impracticable, because of the probability of bad weather, to attempt to have a big barbecue and feed every one as was done last August when we held our first Tech Celebration.

Present plans contemplate that those invited by the Tech Board, including the Board itself, will be given a dinner in the evening and that the ex-servicemen will be given a regular army feed with a special entertainment at the same time, but separate and apart from the other dinner.

Ex-Servicemen to Help.

As November 11th is Armistice Day, the day set aside especially for the ex-servicemen and the celebrating the signing of the armistice, the local post of the American Legion has been called and is responding nobly to being out every feature of the patriotic nature that can be worked into the celebration.

American Legion posts of surrounding cities are being invited to be present and all ex-servicemen will be welcome.

Those who will take a prominent part in the parade and will have at least one representative on the speaking program at the Corner Stone, laying itself.

Then in the evening, as has already been mentioned, they will be given a special feed and certain main where they will enjoy their away days and enjoy themselves much as they did during these hectic times.

From now until November 11th every citizen has a job to do in his own part to make this celebration a success and the various committees appreciate suggestions, cooperation and assistance of all kinds.

PATIENCE

Lack of patience ruins more great enterprises than lack of ideas, or lack of knowledge, or even lack of energy. Impatience begets hopelessness, driving men alternately to ill-considered activity or deadening apathy. We fail and blame the conditions in which we live, the difficulties of our own temperament, when the true secret of our distressing ineffectiveness is impatience. It may be doubted whether many of us recognize what patience really is. We mistake its character and office. We may easily condemn it as being merely passive, quiescent and submissive. Even Shakespeare blundered when he attempted to describe it. Rarely does he show less insight than when he pictures "Patience sitting on a monument, smiling at Grief." It would have been truer if he had presented it as strong, active, courageous, resolute in fellowship to bear the ills and checks of life with a settled purpose of faithfulness to duty. Ruskin is more in correspondence with fact when he declares that "the Patience who really smiles at grief usually stands, or walks, or even runs: she seldom sits." But even this is inadequate. Let us call patience "the King of Virtues," or adopt Tertullian's description and regard it as "God's foster-daughter." Patience is more than endurance. It is hopefulness made constant by the confidence of faith. It has the ideal in its heart, and knows that what it treasures there will some day become a fact of life, if only men are faithful. Truth, fellowship, loyalty, virtue cannot be manufactured by the ingenuity or industry of men. They must grow and for this time is necessary; time, with all its contrariant experiences in the dull dark night of winter, its stinging winds and cruel cold, as well as in the bright days of spring and the glory of the summer's sun. Without patience men settle down to no continuous effort. Committing themselves to an enterprise deserving the enthusiasm with which they enter it, when the immediate results are disappointing they slacken effort and abandon their resolution. They will not wait for further developments, and, stricken with the instability of the double-minded, they sink into despair. But the worst results of impatience are not found in the failure of great and noble work. They are seen in the character of those who have become the victims of its scorn and fretfulness. Starting by being impatient with the conditions in which they live and work, they end by becoming impatient with themselves. Soon they impute the ineffectiveness of their lives to an ineradicable weakness in their character, for which they are not responsible and against which it is useless to struggle, but on account of which they are forever complaining. They not only blunt the instrument by which alone good work can be done, but go on to assert that the work is impossible. As we regard the special needs of our national life and international relations, we cannot doubt the supreme need of patience. It is true we need the leadership of men with vision, energy and resource, but they must also be men of long views, patient men, able to teach their fellows how to endure in times of deferred hope. Lord Roseberry, in his "Life of Pitt," records a conversation in which Pitt took part as to the quality required in a prime minister. While one said eloquence, another knowledge, another toil, Pitt said patience. There is great wisdom in that statement.

THERE IS A REASON

There was some complaint of the scarcity of water in Lubbock last summer. There is always a reason for things, and the reason is very plain in this case when the City Manager tells us that the water consumption has increased eight hundred per cent in the past six years, during which time he has had active charge of the water system of this city. Mr. Ruby is possibly one of the most efficient city managers in the South. He has had much to contend with. He has had many big problems to take care of, such as mentioned above. The electric light plant is also under Mr. Ruby's care, as well as the sewer plant, in fact all of the management of the city, and each have increased in proportion to the water plant, yet the service has been exceptionally good, and the price has been kept down to a small minimum. In fact people who come from other sections of the state and other cities are really surprised at the splendid service we get at such a remarkably low rate.

Mr. Ruby in his capacity of City Manager was recently awarded full membership in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. From an original investment of less than $50,000 the city plant has increased to a present valuation of $325,000 in the six years of his management and with only one $50,000 bond issue for the purchase of additional equipment of any kind. The number of customers has increased more than 800 per cent within that time.

BRITISH LABOR PARTY IS OUT

The English governmental system is quite different from that of the United States. In England if the political party representing the King meets a vote censure or a negative vote on some important government proposition, then the cabinet ministers all resign and a new parliament must be elected. It is a referendum back to the people. This is what has happened to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and the Labor Party.

The first political crisis was occasioned by the withdrawal of a prosecution against the editor of a communist newspaper. The second was because of the terms in the Anglo-Russian treaty. On both of these propositions the Labor Party has met strenuous opposition and Mr. MacDonald has asked for a new election.

The house of Parliament has 615 members, of this number the Conservatives have 250 votes, the Liberals about 155, and the Labor party 200. It has been only by the effort of the Liberals that the Labor Party has been in power. England had a general election in 1922, another in 1923, and now must have another, though it is very doubtful if the election will give any party an absolute majority. The Labor Party derives its fighting strength from its program of radical industrial reform. Yet so long as it is a minority government it is debarred from attempting to carry out these policies which has nearest at heart, and is compelled to behave as an orthodox liberal government. This much Labor opinion thinks, is not only bad for its own morale but it is also bad politics. Its leaders think it is better for the party to be in a minority fighting for its own ideals than in opposition with its hands tied and welcomes the issues in the belief that the time will soon come when its majority will be a fact.

The country, and world in general, is well satisfied with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald. He has done much for European peace, and most people would probably like to see him carry through the work he has begun.

STATE OF TEXAS IN THE RED

When the State Treasury opened for business Friday morning the deficiency in the general fund was $1,757,991 and will easily reach over $2,000,000 by the end of the month, as the State pay roll for one month is $515,000.

At least $750,000 net will be received in November to the credit of the general fund and this will materially reduce the deficiency, which is expected to be wiped out by the first of the year. The large income next month is from the quarterly gross tax receipts, which includes that from oil production.

It seems strange that an institution as big as the State of Texas should be in the red so much of the time. Big business institutions make arrangements to take care of their indebtedness on a par value, and not force the creditors of the state to discount their warrants. The State expects people to work for them at the same price as individuals, and then about half of the time a discount of two to eight per cent must be deducted before any money can be drawn on the warrants. No doubt there is much duplicated work that should be eliminated. No business firm will allow duplication in work like the state and the federal government, for the simple reason that it is not good business, and they consider it foolish to allow such and why the government cannot be operated on a sensible, sane basis along with other business institutions we see no real sensible reason.

THE SUPPRESSION OF FIREARMS

Notwithstanding all the arguments, pro and con, regarding the licensing and limiting or prohibiting the manufacture and sale of pocket firearms, the members of Congress seem to be in a hypnotic condition and hesitate to interfere with an industry that seems to be more dangerous than either whiskey or narcotics. The larger question of the supervised manufacture of armament has no immediate relation that regarding public safety and the suppression of crime. Of one thing there is not the least possibility of doubt. It is that a concealed weapon, so called, on the person or in the hands of any person, is a menace, and that this menace, nine times out of ten, is to the person who believes he is in rightful or lawful possession thereof.

It is a question of the greatest good to the greatest number just as other police regulations apply. The end sought is the disarming of the vicious and the predatory and when that is done the prudent and sane will have far more protection than is now afforded. If it should be concluded that reasonable and law-abiding persons will be called upon to relinquish no reasonable right or privilege by being deprived of these weapons, surely there will be few who will insist that the vested rights of the highwaymen must be considered.

SOME PEOPLE TAKE WELL

The Librarian has reported that some people are unthoughtfully taking from the library the magazines that are coming to that place for the use of the public. The magazines are bought by the library for the use of the public, and the public is welcome to them, to read, but they are not supposed to be taken from the library room, but if by mistake they are taken away for a few minutes, they should be returned to the library. They should, however, not be taken away from the room. The librarian stated to the Avalanche Saturday afternoon that the library has received regularly several of the leading magazines each month, but at this time they do not have one later than the August number. The practice of carrying magazines away must stop, and steps will be taken to correct the practice immediately.

The Argentine government retains a firm grip on its oil business, controlling 90 per cent of the production. During the past ten years the government has invested about $3,000,000 in developing territory and now has about $24,000,000 in the bank. Last year the government sold more than 2,000,000 barrels of crude oil besides nearly another million of gasoline, kerosene and by-products. Most of this came to the United States.

JUST PARENTS

The crying need of the world today is parents. There has never in the history of the world been such a need for parents.

We see the divorce courts overcrowded with business and we raise our hands in holy horror and declare that divorces should not be granted and what should be done with divorces and yet we have no remedy but that it ought not so to be.

The difficulty does not lie in the divorce. The divorce is only the first escape. It is the fire that needs to be remedied. No use to tear down the fire escape. Put out the fire or stop the cause of the fire.

The parents of today are responsible for the divorce not the courts. It is nonsense to rave about an effect. It is cause that needs to be remedied.

A child is born in a home and often the mother of that child raves for weeks before the child is born because she does not want to be a mother. Too often a child is murdered before it can be born in the natural way. If it is not then there is the disposition to do so and the effect is laid on the mind of the embryo and it comes into the world with a desire to commit murder.

Suppose it is born and suppose that no desire is there to destroy it, and it is perfectly normal happy little child. The greatest blessing and source of joy that ever came to any home is a child. There is nothing greater than a sweet baby.

But this child has come to the home of a so-called society woman who has so many clubs, and various other outside duties that she has to leave the child to the care of servants. It grows up to understand it has no right to be expected to perform any household duties. It constantly hears its mother discussing clubs and entertainments and society affairs. It comes to understand that society demands its time and not home-making for a husband and children. Its greatest ambition is to be a butterfly. To be admired for its beauty only. With powder and paint her mother begins before she can talk plainly to stand before the glass and paint up.

What is she going to become in the world of vast responsibilities? Nothing just what her mother. Her mother means nothing before her, and she is just what her mother was only worse.

Her father was taught that divorce was a disgraceful thing and hence he tolerates all manner of mistreatment and lives out his life. But not so with this girl. She marries a modern man.

He has heard his mother say if her husband demanded so and so she would divorce him. That she would not stand for the domination of any man. So when this little society butler marries a man who has acted been taught the selfishness of a marriage vow and he finds he is still a boarder when he married to get out of a boarding house and have some one that would love him and make him a home he promptly carries out his training and he gets a divorce. Love is the only real asset of a home and the greatest in life. When a person forgets the little evidences of love that means self sacrifice and a devotion about all else to the man or the woman he or she does marry then there will always be trouble and the divorce courts are not to blame for it. The lack of principle on the part of one or the other parties to the marriage pack is responsible.

Then a man gets the big idea of money making in his head. He is going to die rich and he does not allow his home to enter into his thoughts. He has a good wife who is helping all she can to forward his financial interests who sacrifices to make his home all it should be. Who tells his children, papa could not be with us here or there and he could not be at Sunday School or church and all this because the main thing with papa is to make money. The children grow up with the idea that the greatest thing in all the world is money and they never think of marrying for love, it is money and when they marry a poor boy by mistake it is but a matter of time till there is a separation. Loose morals it does not matter what it grows out of is the tap root of all the business of the divorce courts and you as parents are directly responsible for it in its origin. Of course you may have reared your child as it should have been reared but the divorce comes to your child because the parent of the other and at last it falls back to the parent. Children are also reared to understand that to be familiar with men and women by joy riding and so on is all right even though they are married is all right. Then a step further, then six shooters and shot guns and divorces. And all because of loose morals. Miseducated people who have never been taught that a marriage can never be a success unless based upon love.

Today you have a nation of people at the head of affairs who were reared to understand these things but we are gradually emerging from these old traditions, old foggies as you call your children and God knows what this nation will be twenty five years hence when these children raised without a moral or religious foundation shall step into authority. You had enough in Texas who did not think enough of the moral standards of the man to vote Jim Ferguson a majority. Loose morals is all. Just a gradual drifting. A preacher of twenty years ago would have been disgraced to have voted for such a man and yet today it is all right. They are doing it and calling it Democracy. They made a bad pledge but they are sticking to it even though it leads to the disgrace of the Fair name of Texas.

Your trouble is not the divorce it is the lax moral condition of the home from whence that child came or the home of the person your innocent child properly raised, married into.

If you love a dollar better than you or your wife and your home then your wife should have a divorce. There is no reason moral or otherwise why she should have her life made miserable by you. The Courts and the constitution of the United States give her the right to the pursuit of happiness, not pleasure but happiness which is always built upon the purest principles.

If you as a wife don't love your husband well enough to be a wife to him and you think more of flitting around society's light than you do of him and his happiness then he ought to have a divorce so he can find a mate that will do so. The trouble is not with divorce law. If there was no divorce laws it would result in those who are getting divorces just to chase some other man or woman, in their living in adultery any way.

So that it would not prevent the thing you hope to prevent but make the matter all the worse. At the same time all kinds of abuse would have to be tolerated by an innocent party that is trying to do right and the guilty parties to the divorce would be the beneficiaries of the non-divorce law.

It is the moral training at the bottom of it all that needs a remedy. Just a short while ago if we are correctly informed the case of a little mincing headed woman who married a poor preacher wanted to be a society butterfly and he could not buy her fine clothes another wealthy preacher could so she allowed herself carried away with the second preacher and the second one committed suicide and the first got a divorce and she is out in the broad world alone now. The divorce law had nothing to do with this case, the part of a preacher and another preacher's wife. It was just the uninitiated hell in that pair that produced the divorce.

No man is expected to live with a woman or a woman a man whose affections are centered upon another and who is living in adultery with another. Without the divorce what could the man have done. He could not have gotten possession of his child and all and they would have had to be raised by a woman of ill repute.

Change the divorce laws. Try every case before a jury. When a person has been guilty of bringing about a condition that compels a divorce out that party in the penitentiary for a number of from 5 to 20 years and let the innocent one go free. And when we say free we mean free. Today a divorce is granted and the real cause of the divorce takes a shot at the party that is perhaps innocent or the innocent party shoots the guilty and they are not free at all. They are menaced. Try it out in the courts and expose to public view and parents will be more guarded in raising children and children will be more careful in their marriage. —Zimston Reporter.

PUBLIC OPINION

An Historical Fact

For many long years, way back in ancient times, it is a historical fact that the anti-protestants have been against the protestants and the protestants against the anti-protestants. For many long years, with sword in hand, this one issue, has caused more bloodshed, horrors, wars and dismemberment of governments, than any issue known in history. When our Federal Constitution was being formulated, it was the express intent to protect by the letter of Constitutional law all religious organizations, faiths, just and equal. For long years this rigid law has given our country peace and quietude, as a religious controversy, and the horrors that have existed heretofore in other countries. Why not by fair and lawful methods keep it that way? Our laws are so perfect and just, that there can be no open fight for one to regulate or limit the rights or belief of the other. But there can be an inner suspicion by one, that the other by hidden methods is planning, seeking to destroy and that should be thought a criminal and should be thought a criminal, if not a criminal, only, of the appearance of danger, then is it not natural for the other to acquire itself for self-defense, as the law forbids, an open fight—defense—not now if one even thinks, he is attacked by a hidden method, is it not natural, that he should use the same method for self-defense?

If one by naughty means seeks governmental power, so he can track the other side, is it not natural for the other side to use naughty means for self-defense? GEO. L. BEATTY.

DRAWN 30 DAYS AND $25 FINE FOR WHIPPING HIS WIFE

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 17.—Whipping took a bullwhip turn on the docket market in Corporation court here recently when an offender drew 30 days and a fine of $25 with added costs. The man admitted he whipped his better half several times every week principally because he was partially deaf and could not hear what his wife and a neighbor woman were talking about. "I just got mad when I saw them talking so I whipped her," he said. The judge gave him the jail sentence in which to change his mind about using the lash.

ILLINOIS YOUTH BREAKS MICHIGAN DEFENSE AND MORALE WINNING EASILY LONEHANDED BY BRILLIANT LONG RUNS

By HENRY FARRELL
ILLINOIS MEMORIAL STADIUM URBANA, Ill., Oct. 18.—Upon the stanch columns that support a handsome $2,000,000 pile of brick and concrete in the New Illinois Memorial Stadium, are engraved in tablets the names of dead heroes who brought fame to Illinois on the battlefield of France.

Upon the mental tablets of 70,000 spectators here was engraved tonight the memory equally perpetual of a living hero who had brought great fame and great glory to Illinois.

In letters as brilliant as his red-etched youthful head, and as big as his five-feet-ten of brawn, "Red" Grange went down as one of the immortals of Illinois, when lone-handed, he gave Michigan a magnificent victory—Michigan by a score of 39 to 14 today.

Unless the figures of the experts are all wrong, the victory of Illinois this afternoon meant that Illinois is the western conference champion of 1924.

To fervent mind that had been sent into delirium by the greatest individual performance ever seen upon any gridiron in a championship game, it is impossible to find words to describe the brilliance of Harold Grange of Wheaton, Illinois.

Red Grange didn't give 70,000 witnesses time to get settled before he began to pile up facts for future history, a succession of deeds that will make him an immortal with the Thorp of Carlisle, the Heston of Michigan, the Poe and the White of Princeton.

The plunk of a Michigan toe against the opening kick off hardly had been heard when Grange had the ball on Illinois 7 yard line.

With a fan-like formation in front of him, that worked like a snow-plow, Grange was off tearing down the field. He overran his line, he side-stepped and danced from right to left and the red-topped hero was off again and over the goal line for a 65-yard run to a touchdown.

The Michigan team was demoralized and the Michigan stands speechless when Grange again took a pass from his quarterback and ran 96 yards for a third touchdown.

Making fiction even stronger fiction, the "red" was again away in a few minutes for a fourth touchdown.

Rockwell the Michigan quarterback fumbled a punt on his 45-yard line and the huge release of the Illinois Champion, was on the field.

"Give it to Red," the Illinois gang must have said when they huddled behind the line to catch signals that could not have been given any other way.

VISOR WAS STAR OF BULLDOG DEFENSE

AMARILLO, Oct. 18.—The Golden sandstorm raged in the first conference game this afternoon and when the dust had cleared the Plainview Bulldogs had smothered 63 to 0.

SURPRISES FEATURE OPENING GAMES ON GRIDIRON

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—When dusk descended on the gridirons of the western conference tonight, myriads, fans, hoarse throated were in ecstasy and myriads more were brokenhearted.

The fate that directs universities in the championship race had de-behaved himself with perhaps more regularity than in his custom. But he ushered in his first day, full of giant encounters with a liberal share of surprises too.

KANSAS U. FALLS BEFORE AGGIES SATURDAY 6 TO 0

Notre Dame Beats Heavy Army Cadets Handily 13 to 7

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The fighting Irish of Notre Dame outplayed a heavier army team today, and beat the cadets handily, 13 to 7. Knute Rockne's team was faster and speedier than the soldiers, who presented the most ponderous and weighty lineup in West Point history to no avail.

Captain Walsh was called back from his position at center to grind through the line for half a yard, and score Notre Dame's first touchdown in the second quarter.

BAYLOR BEARS RUSH ARKANSAS FOR EARLY LEAD

WACO, Texas, Oct. 18.—The Baylor Bears rushed the powerful Arkansas Razorbacks off their feet in the early part of the game and won their first conference victory of the season by a score of 13 to 0.

The Arkansas team was over confident and Coach Bridges flashed a couple of his famous tricks to score early, using a short on-side kick and a criss-cross. Pitman and Walker starred for Baylor, while Bagby shone for Arkansas.

BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST

WORK BEING RUSHED BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST; MEMBERS OF CONGREGATION DESERVE CREDIT FOR ITS BEING ENLARGED

Every member of the Broadway Church of Christ, especially the elders, deacons and the minister, are to be commended upon the progressiveness exhibited in the enlargement and completion of the church, a cut of the structure as it will appear when completed being shown.

T. M. Carney is minister of the church at this time and is doing a great work. He has had charge of the work here since September, 1923, and has been very aggressive and faithful in carrying forward the church program, and when he leaves Lubbock on or about November 1st he will take with him the very best wishes of his congregation, all members of which would be pleased to have him remain in the work here.

The church at Waxahachie is fortunate to secure him as the leader, and has fully qualified to carry on the work here.

F. F. and J. T. Brown, J. K. Shipman and Raleigh Martin are the church elders, while the board of deacons is composed of Albert Darby, Gus Niblack, Albert Clark, Billie Clark, C. W. Hayes and Frank Bowler; of his whom have been especially faithful in carrying on the work assigned them, and their efforts are largely responsible for the progress that has been made by the church in recent years.

As can be seen from the cut shown herewith the Broadway Church of Christ, when completed, will reflect credit upon the citizenship of Lubbock, and is one of several splendid church buildings that add so much to the moral influence in Lubbock.

Work is being rushed on the church building and much interest in its completion is being shown by all members of the congregation.

AL SMITH BITTERLY DENOUNCES KLAN AT BUFFALO

By United Press.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Vigorously denouncing the Ku Klux Klan and the republican party's attitude toward it, Governor Alfred E. Smith, democratic candidate to succeed himself, said in his speech here tonight that the whole idea of the Klan "is so abhorrent to intelligent thinking Americans of all denominations that it must in time fall of its own weight."

On the Klan question, Smith said in part:

"The Catholics of the country can stand it; the Jews can stand it; our citizens born under foreign skies can stand it; the negro can stand it; but the United States of America cannot stand it; nor can it countenance a policy of silence in regard to it on the part of the man who has a special commission to speak from the heart and conscience of the American people."

"Witness the attitude of the president of the United States," the leader of the republican party in the country, who maintains a silence unrequited upon this question, and he is the man in the United States that all Americans without regard to party expect to hear denounce in no uncertain terms—the one groan in this country—from whom the very purpose of their organization would do violence to the fundamental principle of American democracy—that all men are equal."

TRAIN BOYS TO BE GOOD HUSBANDS SAYS EXPERT

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 16.—Train boys as well as the girls for matrimonial contests.

Organize—home on 50-50 basis or it will perish.

Wives should go out more, association with seamy causes shriveling of personality.

Divide the family income equally between the mother and the father after all bills are paid.

Make the home more attractive or the intelligent man will quit marrying.

These are some of the demands of the modern age Dr. Edith Hale Swift, social hygiene exponent, pointed out to the United Press.

The man with a matrimonial education will be able to find his collar buttons as well as mind the baby in a pinch, Dr. Swift declared.

"The part time wife and the part time husband will be the feature of the new home," she asserted. "The old order of the husband being stimulated by his eight hours work and diverse list associations while the wife, tied to drudgery of household tasks is changing in a short time the husband wonders why his wife's view point is so different from his."

"It's time we did something to train boys to be good husbands."

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

Two Cars in One— An open and closed car combined

STUDEBAKER Duplex—a closed and open car combined. An entirely new-type car—developed by Studebaker and available from no other maker.

It is the most sensational—most talked-of car in America.

One minute you are enjoying the comfort and protection of a closed car—next the untingered freedom that the open car so popular. And change can be made in 30 seconds simply lowering the roller side valances.

Yet with all this two-fold convenience, the Duplex-Phaeton sells for no more than an open car.

The new Studebaker Big Six is strikingly beautiful—with long, low sweeping lines. It is especially designed and powered for seven-passenger service.

The Big Six Duplex-Phaeton is delivered to you with complete equipment. This even includes two highest grade bumpers, extra balloon tire, tube and tire cover—there is nothing else to buy.

But to appreciate this car you must inspect it—drive it. Test its delightful ease of operation—steering mechanism especially designed for its full-sized balloon tires.

Notice the new location of the lighting switch on the steering wheel—and many other new and unusual features.

See this car that has definitely solved the open-closed car problem.

"TO MY FORMER CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC GENERALLY."

Many, if not most of you, I feel sure, know personally, or in a business way, the firm Hemphill-Price Co., now located in the Lewis-Spencer building adjoining the house of Rice at corner of 12th and Ave. D. While I have had personal knowledge of the management of this firm until recently, I have known of its enviable reputation for successful merchandising for some time; and, as we have erected a building of ample size, well-lighted, conveniently comfortable, and having ready stock of complete and varied stock of dependable merchandise, I feel safe in saying that this is now, and destined to become more and more, a most desirable place to trade. If you are and have been a customer of this enterprising firm, you need no word from me. But if you have not met them, I wish to say that you visit this firm at its new location, and if you see it as I do, I believe, you will realize that it is well equipped to serve your interests, and will line up with it, make it your store. Feeling that in a certain way interests are mutual, I shall duly appreciate any favors you may show this firm along consistent lines. Very respectfully, Jno. P. Lewis. 304-2

Woman Convicted As Accomplice in Willow Slaying

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., Oct. 18.—The same verdict given to Ralph Shadle, the farm boy who killed Harvey Willow was returned by the jury late today in the trial of Mrs. Anna Willow as an accessory to the crime.

She was convicted of second degree murder which calls for from 10 to 20 years in the penitentiary. The jury deliberated six hours.

Counsel filed a motion for a new trial, and the court reserved decision until Monday. Mrs. Willow had to be assisted from the court room to her cell when she heard the verdict. She had made a dramatic plea that she became of the circumstances of her life of torture with Willow and because Ralph Shadle had implicated her unjustly as the instigator of the murder. She claimed to have no previous knowledge of the murder.

KANSAS COURT DENIES HOWAT A RE-HEARING

TOPEKA, Kans., Oct. 18.—The Kansas Supreme Court today denied a re-hearing to August Dorchy, convicted with Alexander Howat, president of District No. 14, United Mine Workers of America, of violating the anti-strike section of the Kansas Industrial Court Law.

Dorchy had taken his case to the Supreme court after the United States Supreme Court declared a part of the industrial court law unconstitutional. The high court's action did not apply to the anti-strike section that Dorchy was charged with violating, the court held.

HOYT CAMP IS WINNER OF GOLD-MEDAL THAT IS OFFERED AT DALLAS

LAMESA, Oct. 18.—Hoyt Camp, fifteen year old Dawson County boy, not only won the gold medal, offered by the State Fair at Dallas, for the winner in the Grain Judging contest, held during the fair, but he also distinguished himself as a leader among the boys of the Educational Encampment.

At the conclusion of the encampment, the boys presented W. H. Stratton, Secretary of the Fair with a token of their appreciation for the favors extended them by the management.

Young Camp was selected from the four hundred boys to make the speech of presentation and reports are that he did well at the undertaking.

Hoyt Camp is an enthusiastic club boy and creditable student of the Lamesa Public School. He is the son of Mrs. J. J. Camp, of Midway, in Dawson county.

DR. WORKS POINTS OUT HIS VIEW OF THE TEXAS STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION; IS VERY LIBERAL

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 16.—Too many provisions relating to education have been written into the Texas constitution, says Dr. George A. Works, director of the Texas School Survey. The prescription in the constitution of methods of raising school revenue and the apportionment of it; the determining of the type of State Board of Education, and the placing of the power in the hands of the Legislature to establish independent districts are cited as examples of unnecessary provisions. The changes suggested by Dr. Works would be possible only by amending the constitution.

"These questions are certain to need modification in the light of experience," says Dr. Works, "and it is suggested that detailed provision should not be made in the constitution because of the difficulty of securing modifications. The constitution should place upon the Legislature the obligation to provide for a system of education and then leave it free to determine, by means of legislation the methods of raising and apportioning school revenues." "Experience of states and local communities have shown that with the development of education the executive board is not the most desirable type of administrative organization. It is suggested that Texas make provision for an appointive State Board of Education to consist of nine members to serve for nine years each. Provision should be made so that only one term will expire annually thus preserving continuity.

"The State Board of Education should be assigned by law certain responsibilities relating to the school system. One of its most important duties would be the selection of the State Superintendent. It should also have the general administration of the municipal junior colleges. The duty of this board should be advisory legislative within the prescriptions of law and policy making in character. To secure these desirable changes in additional organization in Texas will call for changes in its constitution."

Airplane passenger and freight service is to be established between Leopoldville and Elizabethville, Belgian Congo, a distance of 1,200 miles.

NEFF TO ASSIST DAVIS IN TOUR OF ADDRESSES

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—Governor Pat M. Neff, accepting invitation from the national democratic executive committee, will leave Austin, Sunday morning for Kentucky to spend some time in speaking in behalf of the campaign for John W. Davis for president, filling dates previously arranged by the campaign of the national speakers bureau. The Texas governor goes direct to Maysville, where he will speak on the night of October 20th. Other speaking dates Hartford, October 21; Lebanon Oct. 22; Mount Sterling Oct. 23, and Columbia Oct. 24.

WOMAN REQUESTS A SEPARATE TRIAL TO HIGHT

MOUNT VERNON, Wis., Oct. 18.—Once lovers, now enemies, Lawrence H. Hight unfrocked Methodist Episcopal minister of Ina, and Elsie Sweetin, confessed poisoners of their spouses, tonight in Jefferson county jail planned separate rescue from the threatening gallows. Elsie cut the final bond between them today when, after pleading not guilty to the joint indictment charging she and Hight with murder in the slaying with arsenic of Anna Hight and Wilfred Sweetin, she filed a motion for a separate trial.

The motion will be argued Wednesday at which time the former circuit rider minister will plead supporting her motion. Elsie filed an affidavit charging Hight was a "willing tool" of the prosecution, and that she could not get a fair hearing if tried with him on the joint trial bill.

Both defendants were in the crowded court room. The woman was very nervous. Her affidavit also charged Hight's confession, made to several members of the church conference, blamed her too much.

Hight in the court room was intensely interested in the crowd. He talked about everything to those near him and reiterated his "sorrow" for his crime, saying it was "the devil" in him which indicted him on the two arsenic love-murders.

SHENANDOAH IS ANCHORED AFTER GAS RELEASED

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., Oct. 18.—Anchored to her mooring mast here late this evening after a day of circling over it, unable to descend without releasing helium gas, the navy's dirigible, Shenandoah, will be refueled tonight and leave at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for San Diego, California.

Captain Zachary Lansdowne, commander of the airship and Rear Admiral Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, and the Shenandoah crew will spend the night at Camp Lewis to be ready for the start early Sunday.

Arrangements made to fly over Seattle and the Puget Sound naval station are dependent upon weather conditions, unfavorable weather being considered a cause of leaving for the south without the "uncertainty" of the dirigible.

The dirigible maneuvered up to the mooring mast, while a battery of searchlights and smoke bombs guided the giant ship to her fastenings.

It was not until 7:15 p. m. Pacific Coast time that the Shenandoah was made fast. A gang plank was lowered to the tower, which let Rear Admiral Moffett and his crew, held captives of the sky all day long unable to descend.

BUREAU ISSUES STORM WARNING ON SOUTH COAST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The weather bureau late tonight issued a hurricane warning as follows: "Hurricane central about 20 north and 86 west apparently moving at most directly northward attended by dangerous shifting gales. Vessels bound for southeastern Gulf of Mexico and Yucatan channels should exercise every precaution." "The hurricane probably will pass through Yucatan channel or over extreme western Cuba tonight or Sunday morning. Storm warnings extended northward to Cedar Keys and Titusville, Fla."

GIGANTIC PROGRAM UNDER WAY FOR TECH

DIRECTORS OF COLLEGE PLAN GREATEST INSTITUTION IN NATION WITH THE FIRST UNITS OF PLANT NOW WELL UNDER WAY

CHILDREN NOTE: Helpmate that the great institution... (text continues)

If you have ever made a study of the ground layout for the Texas Technological College as it has been prepared by the architects and as it has been printed several times in the papers, you must have been impressed with the number of buildings provided for and the extensiveness of the plans already made.

When the entire plan is completed by the erection of all the buildings provided for there will be between forty and fifty buildings on the campus. Of course these will not all be completed for many years to come. The point is that in years to come as additional buildings are needed and provided, there need be no question as to where these buildings should be placed. Every building that will be needed during the next twenty-five or even fifty years has already a place provided for it.

The fact that there are two thousand acres in the site makes it possible to plan on so extensive a scale. The University of Texas today would be greatly delighted if, instead of having a campus of only a few city blocks inside the city of Austin, it could have a site of even a fraction of the size of that of the Texas Technological College.

The Georgia Institute of Technology is confined within the limits of a few city blocks. They have overwhelming need of buildings and they have no place to put the buildings even when the money is available for the buildings themselves.

Such a congested condition can never prevail at the Texas Tech. The two thousand acres of ground and the extensive planning already done make it possible to provide here during the years to come for a school of ten thousand students if that many should desire attendance.

Some idea of the vastness of the scale may be obtained from the number of the present administration building. This building when completed and equipped will cost about one-half million dollars. It will be the largest and best single school building owned by any of the higher institutions of learning of the State of Texas; and yet, this building when completed will be only one-fourth of the size of the administration building may eventually grow to be.

The completed building will be built around the four sides of a hollow square. Only one of these buildings is now being erected. Accordingly, large as this building will be, it will be only one-fourth of what the administration building may become in future years.

It is designed that all of the buildings shall be constructed eventually on the patio plan, that is, around a hollow square with court inclosed. This makes it possible for one building of the group to be erected first, and then for second or third or fourth to be added as needs may arise.

The dominating building of the group, when the entire layout is finished, will be the auditorium. This will sit squarely across Broadway, and will be the most prominent building as viewed by a person looking down Broadway from the courthouse. This building will in architecture resemble the Alamo. It is planned to make it reminiscent of the early days of Texas history and to emphasize in it the teaching of citizenship and patriotism. This will be the dominating building of the entire group.

As you approach the campus on Broadway from the east the most of the campus to the left will be given to the buildings for women, and that make Spanish one of the outstanding subjects in this curriculum. This is because Texas is a near neighbor to Mexico and therefore the use of Spanish has special appeal to young people from the Southwest.

Inquiry Received from Mexico
It is worth of note that already inquiries have been received from the City of Mexico in connection with the entrance credits, expecting to enter this institution this September. Likewise there have been inquiries from South America, showing the institution is of interest to Latin America as well as to the United States.

The subject of citizenship will be stressed in the colleges of liberal arts as well as in all other departments. History, economics, civics and practical citizenship will be among the subjects stressed. It is hoped eventually to have a course in city planning, which will give to those who are interested, instruction at the hands of those who have been successful in actual work along this important line.

Chemistry and physics are two subjects that are of vital importance to the work in agriculture, in engineering and likewise in home economics. For that reason these subjects will be strongly stressed in the school. Eventually there will be separate buildings for chemistry and also for physics. For the time being these subjects are to be housed in laboratories in the administration building. When separate buildings are provided for these subjects, the space now devoted to them in the administration building will be cut up into regular class rooms.

Mathematics Courses Emphasized
Mathematics also is one of the subjects fundamental to engineering work. For this reason courses in mathematics will be emphasized in the colleges of liberal arts.

English comes nearer of being an universal subject in the college curriculum of America than does any other subject. The very best teachers of English will be secured, and this work will be strongly emphasized. An effort will be made to connect the institution both in its departments of English Literature and of History with the great Southwest region in which the great institution is situated.

Since will be given in later issues of this paper to a discussion of the other three colleges into which the Texas Technological College will be organized.

PRESENT HEAD C. I. A. TO CARRY OUT PLANS OF DECEASED HEAD

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 18.—An avowed to carry out the plans conceived for the College of Industrial Arts by Dr. F. M. Bralley, late president, is implied in a communication received at C. I. A. this week by the secretary of the faculty from Dr. Lindsey Blayney, Rice Institute professor and newly elected head of the state college for women. The communication was in response to a resolution recently adopted by students and faculty members endorsing Dr. Blayney for the presidency. An excerpt from the letter follows:

"Please accept the expression of my deep appreciation of the cordial acts of confidence in me conferred in by both faculty and students at assembly, October 7. This generous testimonial of their loyalty, co-operation and support gives me renewed courage to face the great responsibilities imposed upon me by the regents. The enthusiasm with which I understand this splendid resolution was passed, assures me that faculty, students and president have but one common thought unpermeated in their mind, the determination to carry out, so far as is humanly possible, the finely conceived plans of Mr. F. M. Bralley.

After a deer had charged an auto mobile driven by John Wotring on a Montana forest road, the deer was without horns and the car was minus a fender.

PLANS BEING MADE TO PLACE MEMORIAL MONUMENT ON C. I. A. CAMPUS

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 18.—Plans for the proposed Bralley memorial for the campus of the College of Industrial Arts were expected to receive their initial impetus Thursday afternoon when a committee of faculty members, students, townspeople and residents of the state at large were scheduled to meet here late that afternoon. Names of the committee members have not been made public pending their acceptance and appointment.

THREE SCOUT TROOPS ARE IN PROCESS OF ORGANIZATION

A meeting of Troop 1, of the local Boy Scouts of America, was held at the high school gymnasium Friday evening, with L. S. Harkey in charge. Organization of the troop was completed, there being sixty-six scouts present, thirty-two of whom comprise Troop 1. A meeting will be held at Armory building next Friday evening at which time Troop No. 2 will be organized, the scoutmaster for which will be named early this week.

Mr. Harkey was unable to state definitely who would have charge of the scouts, but said he believed an experienced scout leader could be induced to accept the responsibility involved in heading this troop.

At a recent meeting at the First Methodist Church of the old scout organization, the troop was reorganized with Edgar Innon, scoutmaster. Application for charter has been made and within a few weeks this organization will be functioning properly.

Mrs. Geo. Brewer Complimented by Business Women with Shower

One of the prettiest social events of the season was a miscellaneous shower given by the Business and Professional Women's Club at the beautiful home of J. B. Pryor, 1212 Avenue M Thursday evening, honoring Mrs. George Brewer, formerly Miss Mary Barker.

The receiving rooms were artistically decorated in streamers of green and white, the club colors, and in bouquets of white carnations, the club flower.

The guests were received at the door by Miss Irma Pryor and Miss Gladys McSpadden and were ushered into an adjoining room where Mrs. E. E. Halley presided over a hand-painted guest book, where each guest registered with a wish for the bride.

Miss Edith Wheelock gave a very beautiful piano solo, followed by the popular song, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," harmonically sung by Miss Lois Tubbs, Miss Frances Snelzer read the little poem, "Just Like Other People," which was very appropriate for the occasion. Miss Sue Cook in her pleasing manner served the guests with punch from a lovely centerpiece, using a lacy design of unusual design and attractiveness.

Miss Gladys McSpadden was toast-mistress and her cleverness was largely responsible for the success of the program.

Mrs. J. J. Smelser, president of the club, offered a toast to the bride, Mrs. C. F. Stubbs gave a toast to the groom, a toast to the bride's mother, Mrs. C. N. Barker, by Miss Mac Murfee. These were indeed clever, and occasioned no little merriment among all present.

At the opportune moment the door slowly opened and little Johnnie Overton came in, attired in pioneer garb depicting the sentiment of the days of the covered wagon, and pulling a miniature covered wagon, laden with gifts, singing "Goodbye, Susanna, Don't Cry for Me," indicating directions to the home of Mrs. George Brewer. Needless to say, their request was granted, and within due time the covered wagon was stationed near the chair occupied by the bride. The little travelers then removed the cover from the wagon, revealing an exquisite selection of gifts.

A salad course of pressed chicken and jelly, fruit salad, cheese straws, saltine wafers, olives, macaroni and hot tea, with plate favors of tiny painted brides, was served to the following members of the club: Mrs. E. E. Halley, Mrs. W. C. Mathis, Mrs. Clark Griffin, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Christine Hall, Mrs. J. J. Smelser, Miss Gladys McSpadden, Miss Xephia Clark, Miss Irma Pryor, Miss Sue Cook, Miss Mac Murfee, Miss Lois Tubbs, Miss Ann Mallard, Miss Sarah Jackson, Miss Lucille Robinson, Miss Mary Tinker, Mrs. Brown and the honor guest, Mrs. George Brewer. The guests were: Mrs. C. N. Parker, Mrs. M. T. Warwick, Mrs. Herbert Stubbs, Mrs. J. B. Pryor, Miss Thelma Trimble, Miss Ann Ford, Miss Edith Wheelock, Miss Gladys Pryor, Miss Floy Pryor, Miss Ruth Starnes, Miss Frances Snelzer, John Rossen Pierce and Nann Margaret Overton.

Sunday School Class Enjoy Picnic and Weiner Roast

A most enjoyable picnic party was held last Monday evening at the Tumble N. Pool when Mr. James Hartley entertained his Sunday School class, which is one of the liveliest classes in the Sunday School of the First Christian church.

The season for out of door pleasures is almost over and many picnics and parties are planned for next week.

Dr. Horn Speaks in San Antonio on Geography and World Peace

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—President P. W. Horn of the Texas Technological College will make an address before the Geography teachers of the state when the Texas State Teacher's association convention meets in San Antonio, November 27 to 29. His subject has been announced as "Geography and World Peace."

The Golden Cocoon

All Texas are invited in Ruth Cross, the author of the Golden Cocoon as she has brought honor to the state thru the success of her book.

The Lubbock Public Library has two copies which have been well thumbed by library members and which will doubtless be read by every one before the year is over.

The book has been counted as one of the best of the year and will be entered in a contest for the two thousand dollar prize offered by Harper Brothers, the writer of the "best book of fiction," Margaret Wilson won the prize last year with her "Able MacLaughlins." A brief review written by Anna Gough Hunter for the Federation News is given below:

"If the way of fiction we have 'The Golden Cocoon,' by Ruth Cross. While the book is in no sense autobiographical, Miss Cross has put the story in the setting of the whole state, Texas, the cotton fields, the state university, lifting its Gothic spires against a turquoise sky, and the campus covered with bluebonnets like a far flung scarf of lapis lazuli.

She writes of the capital itself and of the whole state, and it is evident that she loves it—its bigness, its freedom, its picturesque history.

Miss Cross puts into the book some of her own philosophy too, which she has formulated after years of struggle and achievement.

Success and failure are first of all and above all states of mind, she brings out. Like the cocoon, we spin our webs out of ourselves. Everything comes from within. Nothing merely happens. The world is a mirror which gives us scorn for scorn, pessimism for pessimism, success for courage, and faith in the thing for which we are working.

Information for Club Women Attending Convention

The Federated clubs throughout the state are electing delegates to the state convention to be held in Amarillo November 11 to 14 and many clubs in the Seventh district are planning large attendance of individual members.

The Texas Federation News in its Convention Number prints information of value and interest to all who are planning to attend, and we are glad to publish it for the benefit of those who may not be subscribers.

Especially it is important that all who attend get their Certificate Receipt in order that reductions in fare may be given. It means more to those who come from other districts than those who are near by, but reductions will be welcome to all.

The dates of sale will be November 9 to 11 inclusive and the final honoring date, November 18th. The program chairman reports splendid progress and some noted speakers who will address us. In the list which she sends are: Mrs. Edith McClure-Patterson, Dayton, Ohio, Budget Specialist of the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, of St. Louis, Chairman of Public Welfare in the General Federation; Mrs. Gertrude Brown of Hollywood, California, nationally known artist and composer of the music for the Pilgrimage Play; Miss Charl Williams of Washington, D. C., and a former president of the National Educational Association.

Among those who are invited are also the following: Mrs. Percy V. Panybacker; Dr. W. M. W. Splawn Pres. of the University of Tex. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter chairman of International Relations in the General Federation; Governor Pat M. Neff; Dr. Malone Duggan, and Mrs. John D. Sherman, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Important Notice to Members.
A rate of one and one-half tickets for the round trip of the "Certificate Plan" will apply for members (also dependent members of their families) attending the meeting of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held at Amarillo, Texas, on November 11 to 14, 1924. The arrangement will apply from the following territory: From all points in Texas. The following directions are submitted for your guidance:
1. Tickets at the normal one-way tariff fare for the going journey must be purchased on any of the following dates (but not on any other date).
Dates of sale for going tickets, November 9-11, inclusive.
2. Be sure when purchasing your going ticket to ask the ticket agent for a Certificate Receipt. Each delegate should have a separate certificate covering ticket. If, however, it is impossible to get certificate receipt from local agent, a regular receipt will be satisfactory and should be secured when ticket is purchased. See that the ticket reads to the point where the convention is to be held, and no other. See that your Certificate Receipt is stamped with the same date as your ticket. Sign your name to the Certificate or Receipt in ink. Show this to the ticket agent.
3. Call at the railroad station for ticket and certificate at least 30 minutes before departure of train.
4. Certificates are not kept at all stations. Ask your home station whether you can secure certificates and through tickets to the place of meeting. If not, buy a local ticket to the nearest point where a certificate and through ticket to place of meeting can be purchased.

5. Immediately upon your arrival at the meeting, present your certificate to the endorsing officer, Mrs. J. L. Scott, as the reduced fares for the return journey will not apply unless you are properly identified as provided for by the certificate.
6. Joint Agent of the carriers will be in attendance on November 11-16, inclusive, 1924, to validate certificates. No refund of fare will be made on account of failure to either obtain a proper certificate or on account of failure to have the certificate validated.
7. The reduction for the return trip is contingent on an attendance of not less than 250 members of the organization holding regularly issued certificates, showing payment of normal one-way tariff fare of no less than 67 cents on the going trip.
8. If you comply with all requirements you will be entitled to a return ticket, via the same route as the going journey, at one-half of the normal one-way tariff fare from place of meeting to point at which your certificate was issued up to and including November 18, 1924.

Canyon Church Social A Success

The church social held in the Canyon community Friday evening was a huge success, a total of $145.00 being received for the church. The Lubbock Circuit quilt was auctioned off by Mr. W. C. Rylander who with his usual cleverness entertained the crowd and sold chances to the amount of thirty-one dollars.

The quilt was awarded to Horace Siles who held the lucky number. Mrs. F. R. Pickens pieced and quilted it and it contained three hundred and sixty-five names and advertisements.
The total amount raised from the quilt being one hundred and fifty dollars. The proceeds, in addition toward paying the passage debt and conference claim.
A supper was held in connection with the quilt social, sandwiches, coffee, and chocolate being sold. In this way thirty-five dollars was raised for the superannate endowment fund.
A short program was rendered, Mrs. Sid Wells and Mr. G. K. Watkins favoring with well received readings and Mrs. O. B. Trinkle and Miss Hallie Wall furnishing music.

Club Girls Leave For Fair Today

NEAR EAST RELIEF NEWS

Fourteen thousand men, women and children crammed into a half dozen windowless, doorless, decaying barracks far from water and food sources on the bare plain of Salonika; such is the typical picture of refugee conditions in Macedonia drawn by Frank Chapin Bray, American editor, now on an inspection tour of the Near East.

"Try to imagine six persons living and dying in each family's allotted square of floor space about six feet by six in these shacks, originally designed to hold 300 people," he says. "Then you may have some faint idea of the conditions of life in Lembeh Camp built by the French to house polios to fight the Turk and the Bulgars on the Thracian front during the world war. Four similar camps at Salonika raise the destitute refugee population in that area to 40,000. There are 50,000 more in separate plight in Greece and 150,000 additional are coming from Turkey.

"Here, as always, ninety-five percent of the refugees are women and children. Under leaky roofs and rotting walls they sit with swarms of flies buzzing through the paneless windows. There are no beds. Those fortunate enough to have saved something snatched in their hurried flight from their homes squat on a Turkish rug.

"The women look tired and tormented but the innocent children smile with happiness as if realizing they are safe in a friendly land. Most of these people came only in the clothes they wore in their flight; many have since been able to procure clean garments to replace their tattered ones from the workrooms established by the Near East Relief where refugees are engaged in knitting socks and making over old clothes contributed by the people of America.

"The sanitary arrangements are of the most primitive character. Some attempts at privacy were made by stretching pieces of burlap around each six feet of space to screen it from the neighbors. Water famine discourages any idea of devoting it for whole days thereto not a drop of water in the entire camp) to any purpose other than drinking or cooking.

"Under such conditions the ravages of disease can easily be imagined. Happily the epidemics which finished off hundreds of boys and girls who were mere little starving skeletons have subsided. There remain in every camp hundreds of sick and overcrowded hospital wards. Mothers can no longer feed their children, being themselves insufficiently nourished.

"The influx of 150,000 more refugees from Anatolia is increasing the disease and misery and taxing the resources of the government and the American and other foreign relief agencies. Lack of housing, due to successive fires which have half razed Salonika, and all the evil consequences that result, have increased the cost of living to an incredible degree and reduced the population to extreme misery.

"There are conditions from which children should be taken and never allowed to return. They cannot, therefore, be any relaxation of relief effort until these conditions are permanently remedied. It is truly a 'Macedonian Cry' that comes to us; it is a vision of thousands, chiefly women and children, homeless, hungry, sick, dying who need the ministry of the generous-hearted American people. The only hope for children bred under such conditions is that they be snatched from the evil despairing, influences of overcrowd-

FREDERICKSBURG TO HAVE MEMORIAL IN STADIUM

By MILTON COBB

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Citizens of Fredericksburg have raised a fund to erect a monument in the new Memorial Stadium at the University of Texas in honor of their star athlete, Louis J. Jordan, who lost his life in the world war.

The unveiling ceremonies will be held Thanksgiving Day when the Aggies and Longhorns play their annual football classic. This will be the first monument to be placed in the memorial stadium.

A bronze tablet on a steel pole 100 feet high, with appropriate base, will be erected. In memory of First Lieutenant Louis J. Jordan, University of Texas, 1911-15, who died in the service of his country in the great world war, 1914-1918. Erected by the citizens of Fredericksburg. Dedicated Nov. 27, 1924. A. D. will be inscribed on the tablet.

Louis J. Jordan was one of the greatest and most popular athletes in the history of the University of Texas. He was a member of the Longhorn track team in 1913, 1914 and 1915. He played on the football teams of 1912, 1913 and 1914, and was captain of the team of '14. He also was selected by Walter Camp for his All-American team.

He was among the first Texans to volunteer for the world war, and was killed in action March 5, 1918. He was killed in the Luneville sector in France. There is a bronze tablet in the Education Building at the University in memory of the University athletes who died in the war. Jordan is first on the list of former Texas athletes mentioned. The following inscription is on the tablet: "1917-1918. In Memoriam. This tablet is erected to honor the 'T' men of the University of Texas who gave their lives for freedom's cause. Louis John Jordan, '15, died in Luneville Sector, March 5, 1918. The Eyes of Texas are upon you."

"Louis Jordan was a very rare and lofty character," stated Dean T. U. Taylor of the engineering college. "He was a giant in character, a giant in body, a giant in mind, a giant in courage, and a giant in patriotism." Jordan graduated from the college of engineering in 1915.

RESCUED FROM POOR-FARM, BARON DIES NEAR HIS GERMAN CASTLE

By UNITED PRESS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 18.—Baron Herman von Goldschmidt whose presence more than a year ago on the local county poor farm caused immediate assistance from nobleman relatives in Germany died within a few miles of his wealthy relatives.

This case was divulged in a letter received here by M. D. Hexter, in reply to an inquiry as to the Baron's health.

Baron Goldschmidt's career in Colorado Springs just after the war was a dazzling round of unstinted entertainment, spotlights and night life. Unable to realize that the ravages of his home country had cut his income to a mere fraction of its previous size, the baron continued the revelry until creditors stepped in and salvaged what remained of his squandered fortune.

Broken in health and in purse through his twelve months of strenuous living, the German nobleman silently submitted to being taken to the poor farm. None of those friends who had helped him feast and dance away half a million dollars within the year offered a penny to rescue him from the climax.

Hexter took up the baron's case, communicated with relatives in Germany, and finally obtained passage money to send him home.

On April 24, 1924, the baron sailed, but ill health, augmented by the disgrace he felt had befallen him, caused his condition to grow worse. At Bremen, just a few hours travel from his castle at Cassel, the baron became too ill to continue his travels, and a day later died.

Baron Goldschmidt was at one time a member of the Prussian Imperial guard and passed several years in attendance on former Kaiser Wilhelm.

Rev. McMickin Will Leave Work Here In Near Future

W. P. McMickin, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Lubbock, received an appointment in the West Texas Conference, of which he is a member, Tuesday, October 21st, and will not be identified with the local church more than two or three weeks longer, according to statements made at the Avalanche office Saturday afternoon.

Rev. McMickin succeeded the late Rev. C. N. N. Ferguson, and during the several months he has been pastor here has made numbers of friends in Lubbock, both among members of his congregation and the many other church members of the city. He has received the heartiest co-operation of the other pastors of the city and the work he has done here has been of a substantial character and his wholesome influence upon the entire community has had far-reaching effects.

Mrs. McMickin has been equally valuable to the church, assisting the pastor in every way possible with his work, has been active in the ladies' clubs in the church, an efficient worker in the Sunday school and a leader of the young people, being especially active in Epworth League work.

The departure from Lubbock of these valuable workers will occasion keen disappointment among many local people.

MEKLE GIRL ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SCRIBE CLUB

DENTON, Texas, Oct. 18.—Miss Loyce Dry of Merkel was elected president of the Journalism Club at the College of Industrial Arts at the initial meeting of that organization this week. Miss Dry, who is a senior in the college, is specializing in journalism and linotype work. Other officers elected at the meeting were, vice-president, Miss Mary Ellen Darling of Temple; secretary-treasurer, Miss Volney Thorne of Houston; and reporter, Miss Gertrude Paul of Omaha.

The club will follow a custom established last year of inviting to the campus at frequent intervals newspaper men of prominence in Texas and other states. These visitors will be entertained at luncheon in the college cafeteria and they will address the club briefly on various phases of newspaper work. Dean Walter Williams of the school of Journalism at the University of Missouri was among the visitors last year.

REGISTRAR STATISTICS SHOW HOW EACH SCHOOL STANDS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—According to statistics recently compiled in the office of Registrar E. J. Mathews at the University of Texas, the average freshman who entered the University in the fall of 1923 from accredited Texas high schools passed the equivalent of four and seven-tenths courses with an average grade of "D".

Of the accredited schools sending only one freshman, Childress and Greenville tied for first place with an average of seven and eight-tenths each. Among the schools sending from two to nine freshmen to the University, Mason received first with

LYRIC THEATRE (Monday and Tuesday)

There is no phantom justice in England.

Nowhere on the face of the earth is the majesty of the law respected as it is on the "light little isle."

There are two reasons. This is because it is very difficult to add a new statute to the books. The House of Commons has other things to do besides make criminal laws, especially when the statute books of Britain fully cover ever "who shall not" compatible with human happiness.

Now American criminals escape the net of the police after they are caught in the meshes of the law is graphically described in "Richard Thomas" great photoplay, "Phantom Justice," which comes to the Lyric Theatre Monday soon for a limited showing.

Estelle Taylor, who heads the all-artist cast in "Phantom Justice" was born in Delaware of Pennsylvania Dutch parentage.

Bob LaRocca, the young hero in "Phantom Justice" is an authority on Balzac.

(Friday and Saturday)

Independent Pictures Corporation announces the release of "Calibre 45," the fifth in their series of big Western features starring Franklin Farnum.

In this new release, Mr. Farnum creates his first character role. It is said that as "Yaqui Dan," the mysterious Mexican, his work may be favorably compared with that of Holbrook Blinn in "The Bad Man."

Mr. Farnum is excellent in the part of this Mexican gunman, who is feared even by the worst desperadoes in the surrounding country. He dares anything, fears nothing, and shows, under the circumstances, a most amazing side to his character—some of kindness and humanity to a girl who is at the mercy of a cold blooded villain and his cohorts.

"Yaqui Dan," by his cleverness and foresight, outwits their devilish schemes, and although, through his gallant rescue of the girl, he himself falls into the hands of the sheriff, his unselfishness is rewarded when a mysterious murder is solved—a murder which tended to alter the circumstances of his entire life.

Those who enjoy pictures with an element of mystery, and who does not will be glad to know that "Calibre 45" is scheduled to open at the Lyric Theatre next Friday.

LINDSEY THEATRE (Monday and Tuesday)

Two girls with but a single thought—how to find happiness. That just about sums up the theme of "Changing Husbands," the new Paramount picture featuring Leatrice Joy, at the Lindsey Theatre Monday in a murder. The story is an adaptation by Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin of the Saturday Evening Post serial "Lulu" by Eliza Follen Alexander. Frank Urson and Paul Iles directed the production under the personal supervision of Cecil B. De Mille. "Changing Husbands" is, incidentally, their first directorial achievement.

"Changing Husbands" is first of all a comedy, and in such a way that it is really different to the screen. Victor Varconi, the young Hungarian actor recently seen in "Triumph" and who was brought to this country by Cecil B. De Mille, has the principal male role. Raymond Griffith, of "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," also has a prominent part.

It is said that we live to learn, and after seeing "Changing Husbands" you'll be willing to admit that Griffith is a real comedian as well as an actor. The Dawn of Tomorrow proved the latter beyond a shadow of a doubt. But Griffith's art is peculiar to him alone. Just one facial expression and he has the crowd in a roar. There is no slouch at the height of the crowd either, and Zeke Pitts is always funny, no matter what her role.

Others in the strong supporting

LEADERS OF CHINESE FACTIONS REACH AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—An end of the Chinese long war which has caused bloodshed in several cities is expected as a result of an agreement here by local members of the Hip Sing and On Leong factions who were brought together by officials of the Chinese legation.

One section in the agreement provides that local leaders will use their offices and influence to check spread of the trouble throughout the country.

The Chinese legation summoned representatives of the two factions and informed them that their government desired abandonment of their warfare. Both factions submitted to demands of the legation and will gather shortly to sign written agreements to cease hostilities.

Although there have been no outbreaks here between the two tong police continue to patrol the Chinese settlement on Pennsylvania avenue in the shadow of the capital. The written agreement to be submitted to the executive boards of the opposing factions contains three provisions:

1. That hostilities cease immediately.

2. That local factional leaders use their offices and influence to check spread of trouble throughout the country.

3. That differences be arbitrated in a peaceful and orderly manner.

A possible hitch in the cessation of hostilities developed with the demand of the Hip Sing that the On Leong pay half the expenses incurred by the arrest and detention of Chinese apprehended by the police for carrying arms.

Denial of this demand, Yung Kwai, secretary of the legation, declared that the promises of both factions to stop fighting were unconditional. He believes that the disputed matter can be best settled by an impartial board which is suggested in the "peace pact."

George Wein, secretary of the On Leong Chinese Merchants' Association, offered a reward of $1,000 to any one proving that the group he represents had ever directed or thought of doing anything that might cause murder.

"The vast majority of our members," said George, "are business men and it is to their interests that peace be obtained and secured. As long as there is fomentation their

THE COMPLETE LIFE

"We get out of life exactly what we put into it," says Harvey S. Firestone, a man who knows by experience.

"Life gives back to us more than we bring, it is true; but if we bring nothing it gives us nothing in return."

Interest, sympathy, a love for earnest work, the human touch—a conscientious wish to close each day with at least some little addition to the structure we are building; the pleasure of knowing that something we have done has benefited the other fellow on his way—these are the things that make life worth while.

No man is important in himself, except as he is able to influence others. Any one individual is a mighty small atom in the universe.

It is only as we are able to develop others, to bring out the best things in them; to guide them to things to which they would not have found their way alone; and only as we are able to receive from them what they have to give, that we can

Where The Word "Justice" Comes From

In 528 B. C. the Roman Emperor Justinian appointed ten persons as a commission to compile a law code incorporating the constitutions, rescripts and edicts. This work was completed in fourteen months and it was then declared that the new code should supersede the older compilations. The code of Justinian is still of great importance as it forms the ground work of the entire legal structure of our present day civilization. As Justinian was the first of a notable line of lawgivers the latin word "justice" was incorporated in the Roman tongue in his honor.

Whether or not "phantom justice" existed in the days of the Caesars is a question archeologists have been unable to discover, but that it does exist today is a known fact, easily proven by Richard Thomas' great photoplay "Phantom Justice" coming to the Lyric Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Also a Semon Comedy.

About Women.
After the men of the town had failed to secure outside capital to build a hotel, Miss Beatrice Cobb, editor of the News-Herald, Morgantown, N. C., aroused public sentiment through a stirring series of editorials then organized a local company and put the project over with "home money." This a town with less than 2,000 people.
Mrs. Pauline Urdang, of New York who celebrated her 114th birthday a few days ago, has three living children over 80 years and a brother over 100. Her father lived to be 98 and her mother died at 102.
Mrs. R. P. Glazier, of Boggs, Okla. on her 68th birthday drove an automobile 207 miles, which is believed to be a record for a woman of her age.
Mrs. Orris S. Wyman has been appointed municipal judge of Anson, Minn., being the first woman ever appointed to a judicial position in that state.
Miss Loretta Delaney of Skaneateles, N. Y., entering Syracuse at the age of 14, is probably the youngest university co-ed in America.
Mrs. John S. Morris of Talladega county has the distinction of being the first woman honored by a state office in the Alabama Farm Bureau.

She is an ardent advocate of co-operative marketing.
Miss Beulah Henry, a young woman of Raleigh, N. C., has been granted patents on 47 inventions, most of which are practical devices for home and office, such as an electric fan guard, rubber sponge in which a cake of soap is carried, telephone memorandum pads and the like.
Mrs. Louise Kirwin Thiers, oldest member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, celebrated her 110th birthday at Milwaukee on October 2. Her father, Seth Caperton, was a corporal under Washington.
Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, president of the American College for Girls in Constantinople, Turkey, since 1890 has retired and returned to America at the age of 74. She is a native of Gantebury, N. H., and served more than 52 years as teacher in the Near East.
General Leonard Wood has asked Attorney General Stone to review the decision of the State Department on the question of admitting liquor to the Philippine Islands. The State Department holds that ships carrying beverages to the Philippines shall be refused clearance papers, no matter from what port they sail.

NATION-WIDE NAVAL DEFENSE RALLY IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Another nation-wide defense rally will be staged on October 27th, when the country celebrates its third annual Navy Day.
The sea-fighting wing of the army, not to be outdone by the army which led the Defense Test on September 12, has secured the cooperation of President Coolidge, the Secretary of the Navy, governors of the states and the leading nautical and fraternal societies to make the observance a success in every state in the union.
The Navy League of the United States, which originated Navy Day in 1922 is the chief sponsor of the movement. Organized in 1915, it is in the hands of Navy League officials, who are arranging for local parades and speeches.
In cities where there is no league chapter, the American Legion is taking the initiative in securing a full turnout of Chambers of Commerce, Rotary, Kiwanis and other clubs. Participation by the women of the land will be the special responsibility of the Daughters of the American Revolution, whose organization is being extended into the smallest hamlets.
The purpose of Navy Day is described by its sponsors as "commemoration of the deeds of American sailors in the World War and in our country's other struggles and to bring before the attention of the public the value of the Navy to the nation in peace and in war."
The celebration will reach its height in the seaport cities. On the Atlantic and Pacific coasts the fleets will be distributed as widely as possible so that one or more ships will be in port.
"Open house" will be the order of the day on every U. S. Navy ship where officers and crews will act as hosts to the visiting public. The Gobs will initiate inquiring landlubbers into the mysteries of fighting craft. The big guns will be unlimbered and the boys put through their snappy drills. And Dive Dog marines will keep the crowds from falling overboard.
Automobile caravans are being arranged at nearby inland towns to bring crowds into the ports to see the ships put through their paces.
Sixteen million people, or twice as many as last year, are expected to listen-in on the radio speeches. The Navy cannot expect to get out the 6000 communities that participated in Defense Day, because it lacks the wide-spread reserve organization of work in Journalism at C. I. A. are included in the group. They are Blanche Beane, of Lubbock; Lageson, Dr. of Meriel, Nell—Plumery of Collinsville, Mary Ellen Darling of Temple, Joyce Gage of Elgin, Elizabeth Bowles of Houston, Volney Thomas of Houston, Dorothy Taylor of Van Alstyne, Louise Duke of Coppell, Artelle King of Bronson, Alice Wright of Denton and Mrs. Kate Grand Fleming of Freeport.

GROCERYMEN WILL MEET TUESDAY EVENING

Miss Gladys McSpadden, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association, has announced that a meeting of all the grocery men of Lubbock, including both members and those who are not members of the association, at the Chamber of Commerce offices Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

This will be the first of a series of group meetings, at which status of various accounts will be discussed in an effort to eliminate slow collections and bad accounts.
All grocery merchants of the city are urged to attend this meeting and are urged to have their co-operation will be appreciated by officers of the association.

Views in Brief
Written for the Avalanche
By Marce B. Darvall
Mrs. Lomere Lindsay, of Toledo, Ohio, who has been under suspicion for nine years in connection with the disappearance of $24,000 worth of bonds belonging to an organization of which she was secretary has been vindicated by the finding of the safety deposit box in which they were placed. One more proof of the unreliability of circumstantial evidence, no matter how conclusive it may appear.

Just as a reminder that industry and thrift are more important than mere luck, it may be mentioned that William Knox, new president of the American Banker's Association came to America as a poor boy immigrant from Ireland.
Regrettable as the latest baseball scandal was, it will not seriously affect the great national game, which is too strongly entrenched in the affections of the American people to be disturbed by a few dishonest persons. Players like Sand who promptly exposed the attempt to bribe him will always be found to save the game from manipulation by crooked men.

Leaders of all political parties admit that throwing of the presidential election into Congress is a possibility many think it a probability and others declare it to be a certainty. This situation makes the present campaign one of the most interesting ever witnessed by the American people, although little enthusiasm among the rank and file of voters is in evidence so far.

LYCEUM PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT

The first of a series of programs to be offered by the White-Brown Lyceum will be presented at the High school Auditorium Monday evening under the auspices of the Senior Class of the High School.
The Wateau Girls a musical program that will be enjoyed and appreciated here, will be offered as the first of the series of programs.
This program is well carried out, those participating being highly trained artists and the character of the entertainment will be enjoyed.
The High school seniors have worked diligently in selling tickets, assuring a large attendance, and those wishing to be well entertained for an evening could not find a more splendid opportunity than will be offered on this occasion.
The school seniors will appreciate a large attendance and everyone is urged to witness this program.

THESE INDIANS ONLY GET $100 EACH

WASHINGTON (United Press)—In contrast with the wealthy Osage Indians of Oklahoma and Texas, whose treaty rights to land on which the "White Man" found oil brings them millions of dollars annually, the St. Croix Indians of Wisconsin will receive $100 each.
The Department of the Interior has authorized distribution of $9,000 appropriated by Congress in order to fulfill treaty obligations to 90 St. Croix Indians.
Members of this tribe reside in widely scattered localities. Few of them now own land and the payment is being made to help support them through the winter, the department said.

She has written a book "Picture Stories for Children" and served as critic for "The Physical Culture Magazine" and publications affiliated with it. She has written for members of prominent national periodicals.

Fat Stage Actors Get Knock From German Art Critic

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Germany's actor Komeos, are a lot of fat, bowlegged, knock-kneed, round-shouldered, chicken-breasted, folk, opines Walter von Hollaender, young Berlin writer and art critic. Disgusted with present German stage tendencies, he says it is revolt ing to find ninety out of a hundred great actors in Pabst's rotund, stoutly, churning their love songs to as many fat and flabby Juliettes.
Actors and also actresses, nowadays are too lazy, he declares. They have long since given up the ambition to become models for Kinky poise and wit. Nowadays, they are content with imitating the slovenly and carelessly walking man in the street.
Hollaender challenges everybody who thinks he is exaggerating to name for each stage in Berlin only one actor or actress with a fairly perfect body, or who walks pitiable conditions Hollaender properly.
As the first step to remedy these ills he says that the Berlin theatres should dispense one of their too many "Recessure" (assistant producers) and employ instead a gymnastic teacher claiming that a staff without such teacher is ridiculous. His second suggestion is all that producers undergo a three months training in a gymnasium so that thereafter, they may be able to see for themselves what deplorable figures hop about their stages.

No Vibration

Ever since automobiles have been built, engineers have been everlastingly striving to conquer engine vibration. Now the new Willys-Knight achieves positive engine smoothness by a device so simple and efficient that all engineers are wondering why it wasn't invented years ago.
The Lanchester Balancer... the discovery of Dr. F. W. Lanchester, F. R. S., builder of one of the most expensive motor cars in Great Britain. By securing the United States rights for the use of this remarkable invention, Willys-Knight introduces in America an entirely new conception of enjoyable motoring.
This is still another triumph for a car already famous for its engine. The Willys-Knight sleeve-valve engine actually improves with use. Never needs valve-grinding. Never needs carbon-cleaning. Owners report 50,000 miles and more without an engine adjustment.
Everybody is talking about Willys-Knight's vibrationless performance—and everybody who rides talks of the thrill of it. If only for the sake of a new experience, drive a Willys-Knight over the road today at all speeds.

MINISTER BROADWAY CHURCH OF CHRIST ACCEPTS WORK IN WAXAHACHIE AND WILL LEAVE HERE ABOUT FIRST OF NOVEMBER

T. M. Carney, minister of the Broadway Church of Christ, who took up work here in September, 1923, will go to the church of Christ at Waxahachie on or about November 1st, he announced at the Avalanche office Saturday.

Mr. Carney, who has been faithful in conducting the work of the Broadway Church of Christ, has been following in Lubbock and news of his intentions to leave here will be received with keen disappointment by them.

The work of the church at Waxahachie is very important, inasmuch as the school students of this city are permitted to attend church school one day each week when they will be instructed in Bible work, and his other fine qualifications added to his ability as a

COLLIER BROTHERS MONUMENT WORKS WELL EQUIPPED

Collier Brothers, proprietors of the South Plains Monument Company, manufacturers of marble and granite monuments, have enjoyed success in the development of their business, since it was established at Plainview, April 1st, 1914, with a very small stock. Business in Hale county only was looked after until in the latter part of 1920 when they bought out the Lubbock Monument Works that was owned by J. K. Shipman.

Mr. Shipman continued in the service of the company after the purchase and is now manager of the Lubbock yard.

Today, Collier Bros own and operate two of the best equipped and most thoroughly stocked yards in the state, and sell monuments over the Western part of Texas, covering New Mexico and parts of Oklahoma.

Some items of the price of territory served by the company may be gained from the fact that during the last month they delivered and are now preparing for delivery monuments to Winters, California; Big Spring, Stanton, Millard, Basile, Hasford, Sanger, Alliance, Verona, Tatum, New Mexico and many other points too numerous to mention.

The business of the company has been increasing in these months, due to Collier Bros, making an honest effort to do each job better than that particular kind of job was ever done before. One of the most noticeable features of their business is that after a monument is sold by them they endeavor to see how well they can furnish in place of how well they can do to it.

Through this policy a material increase in sales is effected.

The subsequent results are that a minimum price is placed upon such volume of work.

Just recently a telegram from Abilene citizen asking of a monument could be delivered to that place. A favorable answer was immediately given and two later the party visited their plant here where he selected a nice granite monument which is now already ready for delivery.

Collier Bros use only high grade materials, some from Llano, Texas, but a larger portion of their materials are shipped from quarries in Massachusetts and Georgia.

The firm is composed of Marvin Collier, of Lubbock, and Oscar Collier, of Plainview.

TWENTY-ONE STUDENTS IN WENTWORTH COLLEGE ARE TEXAS BOYS

LEXINGTON, Mo., Oct. 18.—Twenty-one cadets enrolled at the Wentworth Military Academy here claim Texas as their home. The Lone Star State ranks fifth in enrollment at the academy.

Nineteen states, and two foreign countries, New Mexico and Cuba, are represented at Wentworth this year. Two hundred and sixty-seven cadets have enrolled for the fall term. Missouri ranks first in enrollment, with Oklahoma second, Nebraska third, and Kansas fourth. A two-year college course has been introduced and about fifty cadets are enrolled in that department.

The names of the Texas students are: Clarence Rolfe, Frank Yager, Melvin Dow, Xen Brown, and C. R. Russell, of Lubbock; H. Barnes, San Antonio; Earl Biggs, Amarillo; Webster Finley, El Paso; Joe Epps, Paducah; Lehman Goodwin, Stephenville; C. H. Jones, of Abilene; Frank Jones Houston, Leslie Mitchell, Crosbyton; David Tador, Plainview; Henry Wilson, of Memphis.

C. I. A. ENROLLMENT IS INCREASED 15 PER CENT

DENTON, TEXAS, Oct. 18.—An enrollment of 1888 students, an increase of 15 per cent over that of last year and the largest in the history of the college, was announced this week-end at the College of Industrial Arts. More than 200 seniors, and increase of 40 per cent over the number last year, have enrolled. Exclusive of these numbers there are fifty training school students on the college roster.

Class rooms, dormitories and boarding houses are taxed to their capacity to accommodate the record enrollment. A wing has been added to Los Alamos, senior house, and twelve new rooms are being rushed to completion on San Cuidado, another dwelling place for seniors. Added tables have been moved into the dining rooms of the dormitories.

The large graduating class this year, indicates that more upper classes are returning to the college to complete their education than in the past," said Dean E. V. White, acting president, in commenting upon the registration. More students are expected to enroll during the year, especially at the beginning of the winter and spring terms.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT RADIO ROAD CONSTRUCTION REPORT

All State Highways are reported passable and little inconvenience to tourists is had except following rains near detours. Construction work is extensive and progressing nicely, due to fair weather.

Detours which should be guarded against after heavy rains, on the main highways are:

Between Paris and Bonham on State Highway No. 7.

Between Bonham and Sherman on State Highway No. 5, near the Grayson-Panola county line.

On State Highway No. 2 in Johnson and Hill counties, these may be avoided by going via Ciebura and Meridian to Waco over State Highway No. 97.

In Palo Pinto county from Mineral Wells to Eastland on State Highway No. 1. Route via Mineral Wells reported rough, due to construction work. Ask at Weatherford for best route, or at Eastland in going to Fort Worth.

Between Marshall and Carthage on State Highway No. 7, construction work has a detour near Carthage.

Between Orange and Houston, on State Highway No. 3, detours between Beaumont and Devers, due to construction work.

The detour in Bowie county on State Highway No. 1 from Grand to the Morris county line, which now goes via State Highway No. 77 by way of Douglasville to the same point, is not an ordinary detour, but another State Highway used as a detour. It is a good gravel road in fair condition.

Vicksburg to Dallas—Dixie Overland Highway via Talliech, Delhi, Monroe, Ruston, Arcadia, Minden, Shreveport, La., to Texas state line.

From Texas state line take State Highway No. 15, Marshall to Dallas via Longview, Gladewater, Big Sandy, Mineola, Grand Saline, Wills Point and Terrell. Hard surfaced thru Marshall and Longview. Ask about State Highway No. 15 in Van Zandt county which is under construction. State Highway No. 31 may be taken to Tyler and State Highway No. 64 to Wills Point by way of Canton. The latter is a much better highway being hard surfaced and gravel. Construction work between Wills Point and Dallas county line passable.

Dallas to Corpus Christi—Take State Highway No. 68 over hard surfaced and gravel road to Abilene. After heavy rains go to Cleburne, Meridian and thence to Waco over good gravel roads, but in dry weather take State Highway No. 2 by Itasca and Hillsboro to Waco over hard surfaced roads except near construction work in Johnson and Hill counties.

Construction work in northern part of McLennan County passable at all times.

Continue on State Highway No. 2 over hard surfaced and gravel roads to San Antonio via Waco, Temple, Belton, Georgetown, Austin and San Marcos. Construction work near Eddy, Georgetown and Round Rock.

From San Antonio take State Highway No. 16 over hard surfaced roads entire route except in Wilson and Karnes counties. This is unimproved highway except from Kennedy on. Route leads through Beeville, Sildmore, Ston, and Gregory to Corpus Christi.

Dallas to Alpine—Take State Highway No. 1 to Pecos, Pecos to Malmorhea, State Highway No. 17, Malmorhea to Alpine, State Highway No. 3. From Dallas to Alpine roads on State Highway No. 1 are in excellent condition in Dallas and Tarrant counties. A passable detour may be found in Palo Pinto county near Mineral Wells, as construction work is now in progress.

Roads excellent to fair in Eastland and Callahan counties. Gravel roads are found in Taylor county and fair roads in Mitchell within about 19 miles of the county line where unimproved roads are found. Only one place near the Howard county line is impassable in bad weather.

Good gravel roads are found in Howard, Martin, Midland and Ector counties via State Highway No. 1 through Roscoe, Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Monahans to within a few miles of Barstow, rough roads are found between Barstow and Pecos.

The last 6 miles of highway in Ward county is impassable in wet weather. The present traveled road crosses the railroad track at Barstow and back again at Pecos.

State Highway No. 17 is an unimproved road to Balmorhea except for a gravel road in that locality. Construction work is under way on State Highway No. 3 near Fort Davis and the road is impassable after heavy rains.

Austin to Bastrop—Take State Highway No. 71 over gravel and unimproved roads for few miles. Construction work near Bastrop county line, but road passable and in fair condition. Gravel road into Bastrop.

Austin to La Grange—Follow "Austin to Bastrop" route over State Highway No. 71 and continue to La Grange on same road. From Bastrop to Fayette county line good gravel road. Unimproved road fair for five miles. Detour near construction work just out of La Grange, in fair condition and passable.

Austin to Cisco—Take State Highway No. 2 as far as Waco, over hard surfaced highway, except for a few miles of gravel roads. From Waco to Meridian take State Highway No. 67 and continue on this highway as far as Eastland. Then take hard surfaced.

road, State Highway No. 1 to Cisco. Rough roads will be encountered between Meridian and Dublin, but this is gravel road and passable at all times.

Austin to Houston—Take State Highway No. 20 over unimproved and gravel stretches of road to within ten miles of Bastrop county line. In Bastrop county via Mitchell and Childress in Lee county, gravel and fair. Construction work near Burton impassable after heavy rains. Hard surfaced roads in Washington county good.

In Waller county five miles from county line, impassable after rains. Rough roads near Hempstead, but gravel roads to Hockley. Good hard surfaced roads in Harris and Galveston counties.

New Wonders—Col. G. H. R. Green, multimillionaire son of the late Hetty Green and her first husband, has succeeded in running motion pictures sixty feet by wireless. Two experts from Boston "feet" have been detailed to assist him in perfecting the wonderful invention to cover greater distances and it is predicted that moving pictures will ultimately be broadcasted as music is broadcasted now.

Ragnor Coletade, a Swedish engineer, has invented a device for opening and closing regulating valves of various kinds, which is perhaps the most sensitive apparatus yet devised. Valves may be worked by the breath of a child or by the warmth of a man's hand held near a metal strip. By this apparatus a room may be automatically kept within a quarter of a degree of the desired temperature; steam pressure can be maintained within two ounces per square inch of the desired amount; electric current can be regulated and many similar results may be obtained.

An airplane suspended from a derrick was launched in mid-air at Dayton, Ohio, during the recent international air races and after being released flew away under its own power. Major General Fairchild, chief of the Army Air Service, declared this to be another epoch-making feat to the credit of American aviation.

George Butterworth and Pearl Huntlinger were married at the Genesee, Ind., fair grounds in the presence of a monster crowd. The groom weighs 414 pounds and the bride 230.

A resolution by the ministerial association of Huntington, W. Va., prohibits members from performing marriages for divorced persons.

TO WIPE OUT PARTY LINES IN NEBRASKA—LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17—An amendment to the constitution abolishing party lines in all primaries is to go before the voters of Nebraska on November 4th.

Under the provisions of the amendment, the party circle would be banished in all elections and in primaries candidates for nomination to of-ice, would be required to run as individuals.

Following the primaries of last spring when the majority of the nominations to the progressive party ticket were circulated, the signatures were validated and the amendment ordered placed on the ballot by Secretary of State Charles W. Pool recently.

Gov. Charles W. Bryan, democratic vice presidential candidate, who is one of the most active endorsers of the elimination of party lines in the primaries.

An admiral wants a Broadway play banished because its admittedly true picture of men at war may "discourage recruiting". Doubtless the admiral would be highly offended if someone suggested he was recruiting uninformed boys under false pretences.

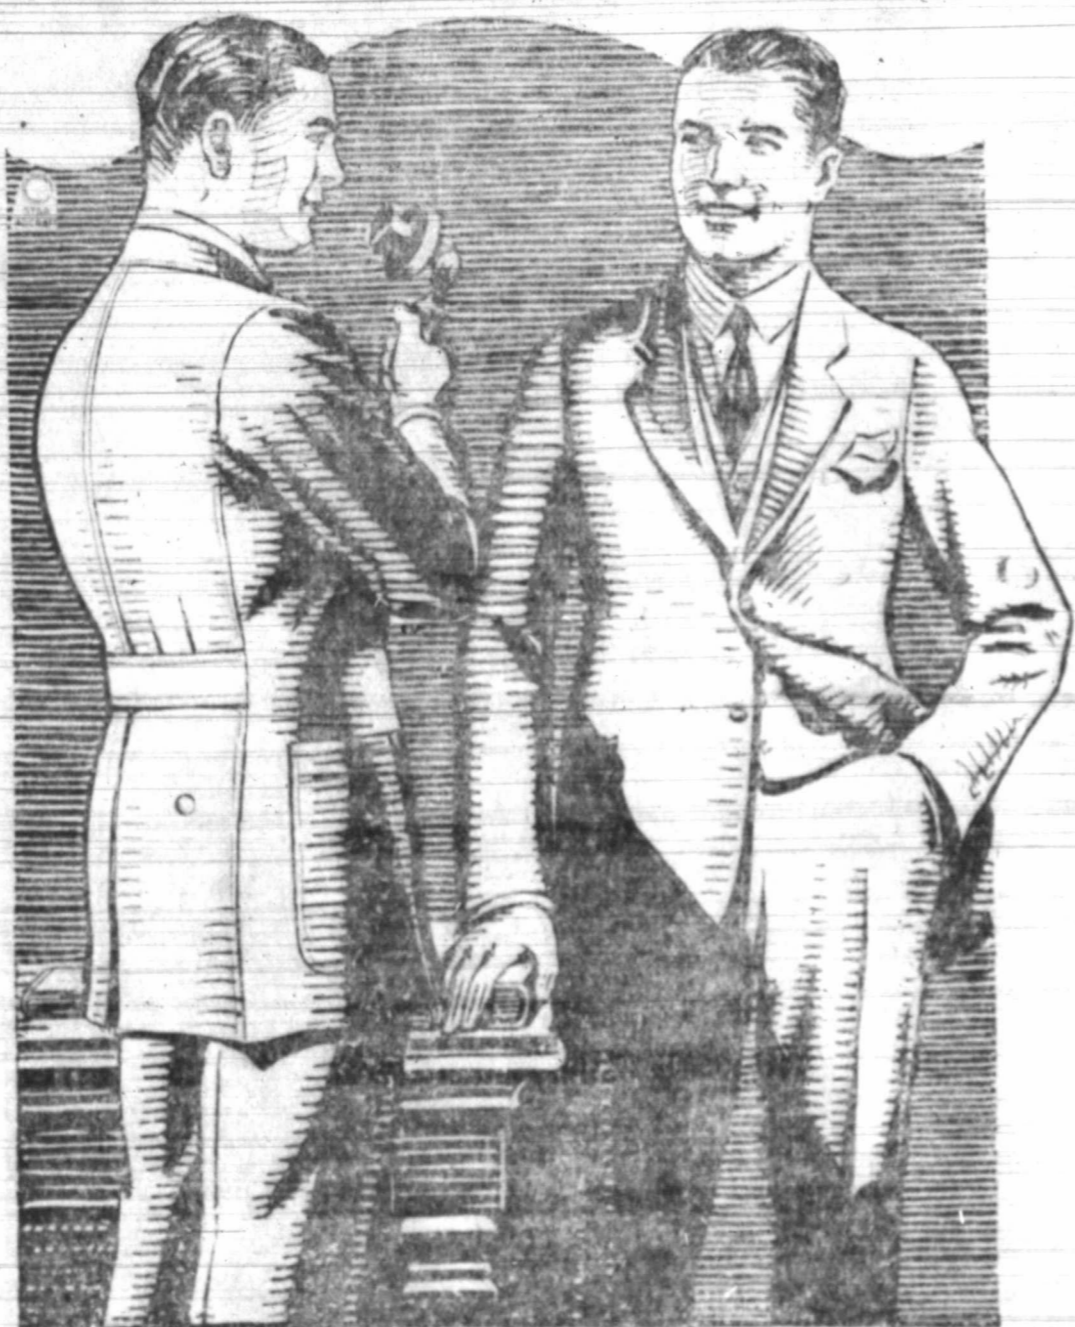

PUT-OVER FORGERY ON THE SCIENTISTS—BERLIN, Oct. 17—The Prussian academy of science has been the dupe of a clever forger. Six years ago, in 1918, a "Plautus parchment" was offered for sale to the State library in Berlin and purchased after the academy had given its approval of the deal.

Professor H. Deyring, the director of the manuscript department of the library, discovered that the precious document contained fifty or sixty unknown verses of a lost Roman comedy by Plautus. He emphasized his discovery in one of the academy's publications in which he declared that the Berlin parchment was a copy made in the fourteenth century A. D.

A French scientist, Chatelet, questioned the authenticity of the document, but it took six years till the academy tested the ink of the mysterious document only to discover that it was made of antiseptic which was not invented until the middle of the 19th century.

RADIO IN RUSSIA—MOSCOW (United Press)—The great House of Minin here is to be equipped with a radio broadcasting outfit and receiving sets will be installed in local trade union headquarters and workmen's clubs. A campaign has been opened for the enrollment of more laborers in the Society of Radio Fans. Meanwhile a host of hotels and restaurants in Moscow and Leningrad have applied for permits to build receiving sets.

WHY EAT AN APPLE A DAY?

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

City folks deny themselves a delicious and palatable food by eating too few apples. There are fifty varieties of this fruit of commercial importance. How many do you know about and how many apples do you eat in a year?

Apples constitute a world-wide item of the diet. They are fine for youth and old age when properly prepared. Eaten in the form of old-fashioned apple sauce or baked in a sugar pan, apples are fit for the gods.

Feeding experiments conducted recently proved that the protein content is low, although of an especially fine quality. The juice of the apple is of great dietetic value. Taken freely, the apple is a laxative and acts favorably on the intestinal tract.

Unfortunately, as is true of other fruits, some persons are sensitive to the protein in the apple. Fortunately, these are few and far between.

Not only is the apple valuable on account of its protein and roughage or fibre content, but it also contains the agreeable malic acid. This is claimed by eminent dietitians to be an excellent anti-fermentative, preventing trouble in the intestines. The free use of apples appears to combat the tendency to acidosis. The apple contains vitamins which are necessary to promote growth and to maintain good health. This fruit is worthy of a more prominent place in the dietary. Usually, it is regarded as a luxury to be indulged in when convenient or when it can be afforded. As a matter of fact, the apple should be considered an essential part of the menu.

Nature has distributed the various forms of food which make a complete ration that is necessary to include in our diet all parts of the plant—leaves, buds, roots, seeds and fruits. When this is done, we can be certain that nature has been overlooked. You can see that the apple is out of the plant foods which should be regularly eaten.

The apple supplies in a more palatable, though less concentrated form, much the same food essentials that are found in roots. There are particularly the alkaline salts. We need a considerable amount of these to neutralize the acid wastes of our bodies.

In the commercial field, the apple is put to many uses. The dried apple is used in the manufacture of jams, jellies, apple butter and sweet meats in the form of candy and pastries.

Eat fruit every day, especially the apple.

Houston Police Can See The Difference Of Prohibition Days

HOUSTON, Oct. 18. And here's another way of describing the difference between Volstead and prohibition days.

Pat O'Leary, police officer when a policeman was a vital factor in Houston, but for the past several years connected with the constable's department, recently returned to a law. "Pounding a police beat is nothing like the old days. When the saloons were wiced up a cop had to work for a living; now he dresses up."

Yes, Americans fell all over themselves when the Prohibition came. And the English fell all over themselves when Jackie Coogan arrived.

100 SINGERS TO SING AT METHODIST MEETING IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 17.

A preachers' chorus of 100 trained voices will be a feature of the program of the meeting of the Kansas City Area Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church to be held here at Grand Avenue Temple, Tuesday, October 22, according to an announcement made here today by Bishop E. L. Wendorf. The preachers' chorus of each of the seven conferences of the area will be organized into one large chorus for the occasion. The conferences represented will be the St. Louis, Missouri, Kansas, Northwest Kansas, Southwest Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf, representing 600 churches, and six states—Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas.

The Area Council will be composed of the pastor and the chairman, secretary and treasurer of the World Service Council from each of the nearly 2,000 churches in the area, besides the conference, district, and branch officers of the women's societies of the church—the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the Woman's Home Missionary Society and the Ladies Aid Society.

Among the speakers to address the Council will be the following: Dr. R. E. Duffendorfer, New York; Dr. R. J. Wade, Chicago; Dr. C. C. Wilson, Washington, D. C.; Dr. W. S. Bovard, Chicago; Bishop B. F. Bailey, India; Bishop Edgar Blake, Paris.

The session of the Council will precede the Methodist Men's Convention to be held in Convention Hall, October 22-23 at which an unusually large attendance of men is expected, the total having been set at 15,000 delegates.

The preachers' chorus will sing at several sessions of the Men's Convention. Two of the G. O. P.'s larger problems are its irregular regulars and its regular irregulars.

TOWN CHARACTER TRIED HIMSELF EXECUTED SENTENCE

LIBERTY, Mo., Oct. 18. Gone is Bob Carruthers, town character.

Like a ghost in the days of old, Bob, who had been in the town since the time appointed when he was to be sentenced for one of his too frequent rendezvous with liquor and by an act of his own, regained his self respect in his own eyes and in the eyes of his fellow townsmen.

Educated in the best college for the ministry, handsome, tall, respected and silver-tongued a score of years ago, Bob Carruthers had slipped into the character of the town wag and virtually succumbed to a weakness for drink.

Arrested for drunkenness, Carruthers arranged for his own bond and promised to appear before the judge. Unforeseen developments demanded that the judge and his staff leave town the afternoon the trial was set. His case was forgotten.

When Carruthers appeared the court room was deserted except for a janitor. With a puzzled air he approached the judge's desk, glancing furtively from side to side.

Then the man that Carruthers was returned and with only the mystified janitor for witness he conducted the complete trial of his own case. He played in the rolls of judge, prosecuting attorney, attorney for the defense, and witness, pleading scornfully, and imitating the judge's cold judicial tones.

The sentence the defendant for banishment forever. Carruthers announced in the roll of judge.

Looking neither to the left or to the right, with straight steps like the new man he was, Bob Carruthers left the court room.

He has not been seen in Liberty since.

SOUTH SHOULD USE SOUTHERN PRODUCTS

We believe every season living in the South is interested in the things produced in the South that he wants to help himself and his neighbor by showing his faith in the things grown and produced at home, and it has occurred to us to bring to your attention something that is most important as it affects a great Southern industry. The necessity is present for greater consumption of cotton seed products.

It has come to our attention that efforts are being made by the manufacturers of compound lard to substitute other materials for cotton seed oil. These substitutions have already been made to such an extent that the identity of cotton seed oil as the base of compound lard is being threatened, and the consumption of this home product is seriously reduced. The manufacturers are able to make these substitutions within the law as their packages are labeled "Made From Pure Vegetable Oil." This broad description covers anything that can be classed as a vegetable oil. Coconut, soy bean, peanut oil, and sesame oil are substitutes referred to; but with the exception of coconut which is imported from the Philippines and is also produced to some extent in this country from imported raw materials, an important tax is imposed and coconut has now become the chief substitute for cotton oil in compound lard.

Cotton seed oil has long since been recognized as superior to any kind of cooking fat, and the foundation compound lard. It would now seem criminal that the manufacturers of compound should betray the confidence of their customers by introducing inferior ingredients into a manufactured product with which it won its preferred place with the consumer as a cotton seed oil lard compound.

You are a consumer of lard or compound. We believe it is to your interest to use compound lard, but you can and should insist that the compound that you buy is guaranteed to be made from "Pure Cotton Seed Oil." The packages should be so labeled. Do not accept a salesman's statement that "vegetable oil" means cotton seed oil. He either doesn't know, or might tell you anything to sell, but if the package bears a label, "Made from Cotton Seed Oil," they can't substitute. If you can't buy pure cotton seed oil compound lard then buy cotton seed cooking oil which is pure, just as good if not better than any kind of lard, and will go further toward your pound than any fat you can use.

Don't lay this aside and forget it. It is not advertising. We want your cotton seed to be worth the price of your labor. You are going to buy your supplies in the neighborhood, and it won't cost you any more to remember when you buy cotton seed oil for your cooking fat you are benefitting yourself and your neighbor.—Big Spring Herald.

STERLING COLLEGE MEN CALL HALT ON FISH CO-ED DISCIPLINE SUIT

STERLING, Kansas, Oct. 18.—Freshman discipline is all right but officials of Sterling College have called a halt on that part of it applying to the fair co-eds.

It all started when the yearling girls were ordered to appear in green head covering. But freshman came out for freshman discipline, so the upperclass co-eds decided to imitate their masculine colleagues and provide padding for rebellious girls who refused to obey the head gear edict.

During a recent football game here between Sterling and Fairmount, one freshman girl was punished so severely that another offend or who was awaiting punishment started to flee. In pursuing her, Mae Connery, a senior, stepped into a gopher hole, breaking her ankle. Since then there has been no more padding of freshman girls.

ular for 200 years—a style that is always in good taste. Practically the Colonial style because of its simplicity in detail and construction may be built economically.

The features that contribute most to reasonable building cost are exemplified by this design. The plan is straightforward and easy to build. Work done may proceed without waste of time. The original character of the style is brought about through the use of heavy masonry. Thus the style is really responsible for lower building cost. Furthermore, in houses of this type, the costs of upkeep are always lower than those for houses of a more elaborate style.

Unquestionably this design owes much of its success to its simplicity and grace. Terraces have been suggested at the front, as an effect to bring the house close to the ground. As there is no basement under the living room, the terraces do not obstruct light to the basement. Along the sides and rear there are screened windows of regulation size to insure well lighted laundry and furnace rooms.

Important Facts About This Design

Material—Use the best construction material available. Wood siding 1 inch.

Finish—The plan is shown as shown, are designed to face west or north. Reverse plans should be prepared for other settings.

Special Features—Breakfast nook in kitchen, fireplace in living room, large closets and ample storage space, attic accessible by means of attic stairs in hall.

The cost to build this house will depend upon what the house is made of and what you put into it. The cost will also be affected by the locality in which it is built. In certain areas costs are much higher than in others. Rough estimation will increase the cost—extensive equipment and materials will increase the cost.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The plans for small homes are furnished by the Regional Bureau of the Architect's Small Home Service Bureau of the United States, Inc., an organization made up of the representative practicing architects from leading architectural offices throughout the United States. ## Possibilities in Pecans; Information Relative to Growth and Proper Care.

As the time draws nearer for planting trees this fall we want to urge on all who contemplate planting any kind of shade trees to plant a goodly number of pecans. We have made careful investigation and have found that pecans can be easily grown here on the Plains and where we have no trees to start with, surely we should give preference to the pecan. First they make the best shade and then they are long lived, as we showed in a recent issue that there is one in Mississippi that is known to be 400 years old and is still bearing. Then it requires fewer trees to fill out the space desired to be planted, as it is well established that the trees should not be closer than 50 or 60 feet, and with fewer trees better care will be given them. We have found that all our school grounds are bare of shades, and we think nothing could be of more importance than for the trustees to buy enough trees to plant out the entire school grounds. With the aid of the children in planting out the trees, and given full instruction as to the importance of their looking after them and protecting them, let them feel that they have a special interest in them and let the teachers frequently mention to them the benefits that will likely come to them from the trees. This done, within a few years these Plains will be dotted with some of the finest groves and shades to be found anywhere in this state.

Who would want a better monument than to know that they had helped to plant and ornament one or more of the many beautiful school parks on these Plains? There should be such an inspiration about the planting of the trees that all should be glad to engage in the work and not only plant, but see that they were looked after and brought into early and rapid bearing.

We had the pleasure of meeting and talking to several of the teachers of the different schools in the county at the fair and suggested that we would like to visit the schools and give any encouragement at our command to the planting and growing of these valuable trees. Some might want to try walnuts, which is not a bad idea, but as our acquaintance is more with the pecan, it is why we are such a strong advocate of them.

The teachers with whom we have talked suggested that the schools were being discontinued for the present in order for the children to help in gathering the cotton crop, and as soon as the schools were again in session they would be glad for us to visit them and present the importance of planting the trees and improving and beautifying the grounds.

We submit some further reasons why it is good to plant pecans and as we explained our views to many of the ladies, several gave the names for the number of trees wanted.

Now we will try to find where we can secure the best trees and at the best prices so that all can buy together or rather pool their orders, so that we can secure the trees at the lowest prices possible and secure good stock. We will be glad to hear from any who contemplate joining our earnest campaign to make this a great shade and pecan section of Texas.

Our Interview with Dr. Short of the A. B. Extension Service

We mentioned last week of having met and talked with our old time friend, Mr. A. K. Short, who is a member of the extension work of our A. B. M. College. After reviewing the nice time we had together while he was industrial agent for the Fort Worth and Denton E. B., and we were with the state department of agriculture (we had several dates and places where we lectured together, and our association was indeed pleasant, especially to us. Our acquaintance with Mr. Short warranted us in knowing Mr. Short was good authority on all the matters pertaining to pecans in Texas. I turned the conversation and said to him, "you will be surprised to know that I am studying and advocating the planting of pecans all over these Plains, but before I would undertake and advocate such a project I must investigate and have found that they will do as well here as down on the creeks in Central and South Texas."

Dr. Short, to our surprise, said he was not surprised at our doing this. The only surprise with him was that some one had not undertaken this before. He said that pecans will grow anywhere that cotton will grow and of all places in Texas, this was the best place for them as we have to plant the trees we want for shade anyway. With a pleasant smile the doctor said, if nature had not planted the trees on the creeks in East and Southern Texas, and the overflows had not taken them, on down stream the people of that section would today be more doubtful about growing pecans than your people on these Plains are.

He said that now since they had found out that pecans will grow where that cotton will grow, that the people in the pecan growing sections of East and Southern Texas were planting them away from the streams and that they were growing as well away out on the hills as on the streams.

Dr. Short went a little further and said that we were in a very important work, not second to any, among agricultural lines, but we might be dead before the people realized what great service we were rendering but even if that was to happen we would have placed the greatest monument we could possibly place to our memory by urging the planting of the beautiful and useful pecans.

We were indeed glad to have such encouragement from such recognized authority as Dr. Short. We are not the distinguished title of doctor, as the title is getting to be so common, but with these good things said about our new work of urging the planting of pecans, we want here to urge all to look over the other papers we have mentioned who urge the importance of planting these trees for we have seen much good experience of others along these important lines.

Probably nothing in agriculture offers greater returns to the man who is willing to work and wait than pecan culture. Many roseate statements not justified by the facts have been made about the profits to be made from pecans, but when full allowance is made for losses it seems safe to say that a well-tended pecan orchard 10 years old should produce for its owner an income of $100 per acre. Pecans bid fair to be profitable for generations to come for the reason that there are so few persons who are willing to work and wait this necessary ten years for a commercial crop.

While pecan trees may be depended upon to bear a commercial crop in ten years, they really bear much earlier than that. It is nothing uncommon for nursery trees to bear the year after they are transplanted and in rare instances they have been known to bear two or three nuts the same year. It is the rule for pecans originating in the West to bear in their native section the second season after transplanting and the Eastern varieties begin the third or fourth season.

Contrary to the popular belief that pecans bear best in river and creek bottoms, the ideal condition for heavy pecan crops is to have the roots in moderate, but perpetual moisture, and the top in constant sunshine. This condition is most nearly attained in the valleys of the Southwest. The weight of opinion among pecan authorities seems to be that pecan growing is more profitable in the semi-arid sections than in the moist sections of Texas.

Root System of Pecan

The tap root of a pecan tree is useful chiefly to anchor it in place and enable it to resist opposing winds. This root absorbs little, if any, water. It is the hair roots, themselves almost too small to be seen, that take up both the water and the mineral elements from the soil. Near Fort Worth, on the banks of Clear Fork, stands a pecan tree whose tap root has been partly buried by erosion. The tap root of this tree actually stood in water one season when the crop on the tree suffered badly from drought. This should be conclusive evidence that a pecan does not send its tap root in search of water.

The best pecan land is fertile, deep loose soil, having some sand and underlaid by a porous clay subsoil. As the pecan tree feeds chiefly in the surface soil the need of such soil near the top is evident. A clay subsoil tends to hold the moisture near the surface, where it is available for the tree. Pecans should not be expected to grow in soil less than two feet deep nor in soil which is subject to either to too much water or alternate floods and droughts. Sticky black land is not good for pecans because in dry weather it cracks and dries out. Also, it offers too much resistance to the movement of the root hairs. Creek banks, usually consisting of rich soil and having a fairly constant supply of water, usually grow pecans well.

The period during which pecans grow their wood extends from the opening of spring until June 15. After that the energy of the tree is devoted mainly to developing the new wood. In soils or in climates where July and August are uniformly dry the tree can not fully develop its new growth and the buds for next years are likely to be immature and weak. The nuts come from the terminal buds of second-year wood.

Seed Versus Nursery Stock

The question of whether it is more profitable to plant nursery trees or grow the trees from the seed is a much debated one. Since nursery trees bear from one to three years earlier than trees planted from seed, the answer to the question depends upon whether one has the money to buy the nursery trees and upon how old the prospective grower is. It is undoubtedly more profitable in the long run to plant nursery trees—provided they are good ones—but a young man with little money will often choose to wait longer for his returns.

But in either case, constitutional vigor should be given all due weight. If nursery trees are bought they should have been rapid growers and have a heavy bunch of fibrous roots. If those are planted, they should be chosen from trees known to be vigorous. Fall is the time for transplanting nursery stock and either fall or spring will do for the nuts. If kept over winter until planting time, the nuts should be stratified in sand and moistened occasionally.

Before nursery trees are transplanted a space three by three feet (or two by five, if more convenient) should be dug out to a depth sufficient to accommodate the roots. The tree should then be set upright, all the lateral roots straightened out, rich top soil placed around them with the hands and then packed by pouring on of water. The remainder of cavity should then be filled, more water poured on and the dirt loosened up around the young tree.

Preparations for Planting

In making preparation for the planting of nuts, dig out a cavity about two feet deep and two feet square, pour the top soil back in first, put two or three nuts into the soil three or four inches deep and two or three inches apart, water and cover with a dirt mulch. Mark the place with one or more substantial stakes. On the second year bud or graft the most vigorous of the seedlings with wood of the desired variety and pull out the less vigorous seedlings. Wait until the grafted one begins growing, however.

Under ordinary conditions sixty feet is the best distance to have between bearing trees. But this seems so woefully far and it takes the young trees so long to profitably utilize this space that various schemes for using the intervening space in the meantime have been devised. One of these is to plant trees every thirty feet with the intention of cutting out every other one (or three-fourths of them) after the trees have borne a few years. Another plan is to plant peach trees at intervals of fifteen or twenty feet in line with the pecans. But for the farmer who does not care to become an orchardist it will be most satisfactory to protect the young pecans by heavy stakes and go on cultivating the land in field crops. They interfere very little with cultivation, but care should be taken to see that the pecans are not skinned by singletrees.

In some cases on land that bakes in the summer, sun scald will result on the south side where reflected and direct heat meet. This can be prevented by frequent cultivation, by straw mulch or by putting wide stakes on the south and west.

Pruning

After the grafted or budded tree begins to branch, pruning will be necessary. The tree should be headed at a height of four or five feet, care being taken not to leave any two branches directly opposite so as to form a weak crotch.

A line run from Denton to Houston would separate Texas into two fairly definite pecan areas. East of this line and on the coastal belt as far west as Victoria the Schley, Money-maker, Fortscher, Success and Bradley will be found suitable. West of this line the Hubert, Burkett, Texas Prolific and San Saba Improved will likely give satisfaction. There is no all-around best variety for every section of Texas. The parent tree of each variety has adapted itself to the locality where it was found and no large scale attempt should be made to grow it out of its natural conditions.

Why Not Prepare Some Baby Beef For The Lubbock Market?

All the best writers have for a long time suggested the importance of farmers, first of all, studying their own home markets and trying to supply it first. We think this is a very sound policy to pursue, and we want to suggest the importance of some of our young farmers feeding some fine young stock for the spring market for Lubbock.

Our market here is now getting to be one of considerable magnitude, and we have noticed for the last 25 years that from about January 1st to June 1st, the butchers in even smaller towns than Lubbock, have great difficulty to secure enough good cattle to supply their need. There is no better place to raise and feed some fine baby beef than around Lubbock, and the boy or man who will secure a few for the first effort and feed them out in good shape, will find ready market for them, and do the country and the city a favor. If the one who will undertake the project will see some of our enterprising cattle men, we are sure they can buy the calves or yearlings for this effort without having to pay for the stock until they are sold, if they should desire to buy that way.

We have found that the best way to weaning time and run in fields for a time and then put up on full feed, make very good growth and mature into fine beef in three or four months. They can be finished off and sold before time to begin the main farming operations in the spring. This is the best way to market such calves and avoid the risk of carrying them through the summer.

With the oil mill right here, surely this kind of feeding will prove a sure winner and Lubbock will need lots of that kind of beef by spring. The where the parties own the land on which such cattle are fed, they will receive the second profit by having high grade fertilizer left on the land.

We have selected for such feeding a place where we could sow Sudan grass for pasture and break the land before the feeding began and during the time we were feeding, and this plan surely puts the land in excellent shape for the crop that follows. The best pasture crop of Sudan we have ever seen was grown on the lot where we had fed 100 calves the spring of 1921.

Then there is another good thing about such feeding, if one has any cows or heifers that are not profitable to keep to get them ready for the way to get the real value for them. We have made some nice little money feeding this way and have never known the market at that time and with that kind of stock be overdone. If only a few head are fed on such a farm it will be found profitable and every farm on these Plains should have lots of rough feed that can be well marketed that way, being marketed on the hoof.

We will be glad to give our experience and suggestions to any boy or man who will undertake such a project.

Improved Light & Power Facilities For Lubbock

Already the Texas Utilities Plant is known as one of the best in the West. Our present plans are to double its present capacity for the producing of electric current within the next twelve months.

Lubbock will have reason to be proud of such a plant. We want it to be so.

We are also increasing our ice storage capacity to about six times its present size. The installation of more modern and efficient ice making machinery will insure Lubbock and the South Plains the very highest quality of ice. The City Delivery service in Lubbock will be enlarged and bettered.

All in all it means that we intend to lead and assist Lubbock in becoming a bigger and better town and the Southplains a better place in which to live.

THE PASSING DAY

By WILL H. MAYES, Department of Journalism, University of Texas

The people of the United States have been vicarious with each other in the effort to show the Prince of Wales that we are pleased to have him visit this country, as indeed we are. The Prince is a nice sort of a fellow and a democratic kind of a fellow in spite of his inherited title. He knows how to make himself agreeable in a truly American fashion and seems to be without that affectation that we have learned to expect in Englishmen generally. That being true, he must at times have a feeling of disgust at the propensity of the average American to bow down and worship royalty. Doubtless he would much prefer to be accepted for what he is rather than for his title, but Americans will not have it so.

are not constantly endeavoring to lift themselves by their own bootstraps. Certainly if you are not in good favor in the community in which you live—and you can learn your own standing if you really want to know it—it behooves you to examine yourself to see just where the trouble lies and then to correct it. Every one owes it to himself and those about him to do his best to hold the favor of others. He is justified in having a pride in his community standing, but should take care not to develop a spirit of arrogance a holier than thou, or better than thou attitude.

INTERESTS ARE MUTUAL

In spite of our democratic ideals, we are not far enough removed from monarchical government to keep from toying to royalty and seem to delight in paying homage to those highest in authority. This is shown so often in the character of our entertainments. The most popular spectacles which we have are pageants depicting the crowning of a king and queen, with great royal processions of dukes and duchesses, ladies in waiting and attendants. In spite of the almost ludicrous mimicry of such affairs people turn out in great numbers to witness these processions of imitations of royalty and the royal performers pay immense sums to bedeck themselves in what they regard as royal apparel. The spectacle would be amusing if it were not so pitiful.

Five thousand letters and telegrams are said to have been received by President Coolidge and Secretary of Commerce Hoover protesting against the proposal of the Radio Corporation of America to construct a system of super-power broadcasting stations in the United States. Opposition to the proposed plan for establishing new high-power stations came up at a meeting of a sub-committee of the third national radio conference considering limitations upon broadcasting stations. The operator of a relatively small station in Illinois charged that if the plan of radio concerns were carried out, small operators would be forced to "increase the power of their equipment."

We are too much disposed to truckle to those in authority. Every citizen is under obligation to support and should delight in supporting those to whom the affairs of government are entrusted, but this does not carry with it even a suggestion that those in service are a whit better personally than other citizens. It is interesting to watch the almost servile attention we give to a president or even a governor and then to see how quickly and how far he can drop from public sight as soon as his term of office expires, and that in spite of the fact that his service has in most cases made him a really greater man. A governor is a great man so long as he is governor; an ex-governor is merely a man who is down and out so far as the people are concerned.

This is not the first instance of opposition to progress in invention and science. Owners of blacksmith shops along the National Pike between Washington and Columbus O. opposed the building of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad because steam power would ultimately drive stage coaches off the highway and ruin the business of horseshoers and repairmen. When the London Times substituted steam power for the old hand press its offices were mobbed by workmen who feared the loss of their jobs.

A man handicapped by what he has been unless he is constantly striving to go forward to greater things. He can't live on past achievements and hold that position in public esteem which those achievements won for him. The more he accomplished the more the public expects and has a right to expect. The things done in the past indicate his capacity for greater undertakings, and unless he is willing to make the effort to carry on he soon finds himself losing his grip as well as the confidence of his friends. On their part there comes a feeling that perhaps he has been over-estimated. There is no stopping-place in life at which one can hold all that he has gained in the way of public favor.

Investigation by a curious policeman disclosed a neatly packed radio outfit, antennae, tubes, batteries, and everything. "What next?" asked the guardian of the law and he sauntered on down his beat.

100 GIRLS NOW IN THE NEW HELEN MARR KIRBY HALL AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Nearly 100 girls are residing in the Helen Marr Kirby Hall, the newest dormitory at the University of Texas. The building was made possible by the Methodist women of five conferences, and was named for the late Mrs. Helen Marr Kirby, for many years dean of women in the University.

Members of the executive staff of the dormitory are the following: Director, Mrs. A. S. Whitehurst, of Sherman; business manager, Mrs. Alma Hume, of Austin; and assistant director, Mrs. Georgia Bridges, of Temple. The building was erected at a cost of $125,000 and is said to be complete in every detail. On the first floor are a large reception room and two smaller reception rooms are located, as well as a splendidly equipped library, apartments for three members of the executive staff, of fices, dining room and kitchen. On the other two floors are the bedrooms for one hundred girls, most of these being double rooms. Regular vesper services will be held in the dormitory, as well as numerous social entertainments for the girls. It is announced by Mrs. Whitehurst, who says that the directors will put forth every effort to make the dormitory a real Christian home for the University girls.

TEXAS CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WELFARE

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—The Texas Conference of Social Welfare, an organization made up of people in the State of Texas who are interested in improving living conditions and the care of those who cannot take care of themselves, is to meet in Austin, October 26 to 29. At this meeting four great problems are to be discussed; first the problem of relating to the maintenance of family life and care and attention given to the various members of the family when it cannot be held together. This problem will be discussed in its various aspects by people in the State of Texas as well as by individuals prominent in family work outside the state. Among these will be Mr. W. B. Guin of the American Red Cross and Mr. E. H. Steger of the American Association for Organizing Family Social Work.

The next problem to be discussed will be that of child welfare. Here also in addition to speakers from the state there will be Dr. R. R. Reeder, superintendent of the Marsh Foundation Home, Van Wert, Ohio, and Dr. C. C. Carsons, executive director of the Child Welfare League. The third problem that will come in for a great deal of attention is that of health. Dr. C. M. Rosser, president of the State Medical Association; Dr. Marvin L. Graves, professor of medicine in the University of Texas; Dr. Merchant Colgin, pediatrician and Dr. Alys E. Green will discuss various aspects of the problems of health confronting the State of Texas.

Finally the question of delinquency and the care of the delinquent will come in for a great deal of discussion. It is hoped that the conclusions of the survey just completed of the prisons of the state will be presented at one of the evening meetings of the conference. An equally interesting presentation will be made of the recently completed survey of the eleemosynary institutions of the State of Texas. An attempt will be made to make the stay of the delegates to the conference just as pleasant as possible and the resources of the city of Austin will be placed at their disposal. Governor Neff will probably address the meeting and Mrs. Neff will extend the hospitality of the Mansion Home at a reception given in honor of the delegates during an afternoon of the conference. Trips to the various state institutions have been arranged for and the civic organizations of the city will do their best to entertain the delegates.

UNWISE INVESTMENTS

We sometimes wonder why the public year in and year out gives billions of its hard-earned money to stock swindlers. Everybody knows the country is polluted with wildcat securities and still these gullible ones give their money to a stranger on his unsupported statement that the stock he is selling is not a gamble and is the shortest route to wealth. Some shrewd stock salesmen have even admitted their investments are a gamble and thus appealed to the gambling instinct in their victims. Perhaps our national weakness for backing stocks is partially explained in the report of the United States treasury that there are $19,000,000 in government securities, of which the redemption date have expired and no longer draw interest, which have not been redeemed by their holders. The government does everything within its power to draw its bonds in for redemption but such efforts can not succeed among bond holders who are oblivious to the interruption of their interest payments.

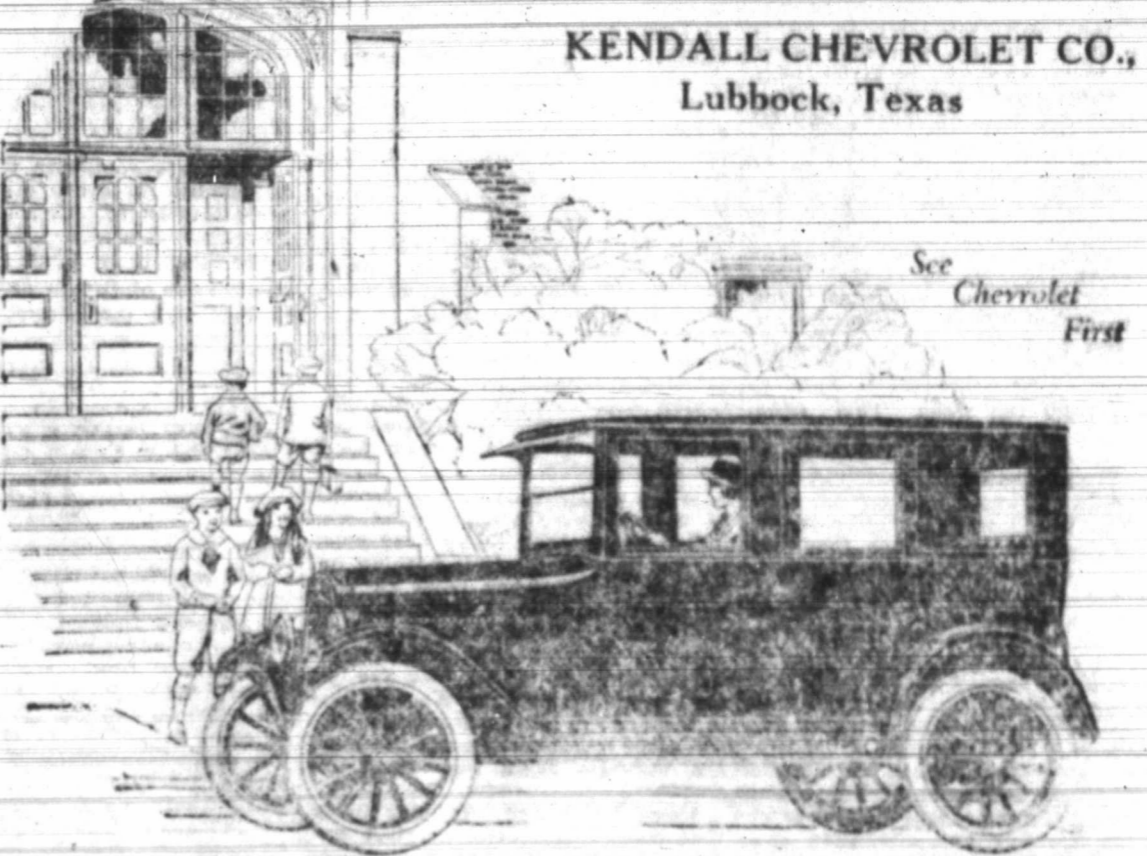

The experience of the treasury department and the prosperity of the dealers in worthless stocks make it manifest that the public is exceedingly gullible, is swayed by a passion for gambling against odds or loses more money than it knows what to do with. All three may contribute equally but the amount of unredeemed government securities seems to tip the scales a little more in favor of the third and last reason. And it is no secret that the American people spend their money on many other things as foolish as wildcat stocks.

The Chinese war already begins to bear a marked resemblance of the Occidental pattern. It's running up a deficit.

See the Children Safely to School

Why worry about the safety of your little ones on the highways or crossing city streets on the way to school?
The low price and small upkeep of a Chevrolet is cheap insurance against such risks.
Then, too, driving the children to and from school gives mother or big sister pleasing relief from household duties, and shopping can be done at the same time.
Chevrolet 5-passenger Sedan is the ideal all-year family car, combining the comforts and atmosphere of home with high grade body construction, mechanical reliability, ease of handling and low purchase and operating costs. Every home garage should house a Chevrolet regardless of whether or not another car is owned.

THINGS TO WEAR DURING THE IN-BETWEEN SEASON

By HEDDA HOYT
NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Now comes the in-between season, when we all feel that we have nothing to wear. The fall season has well enough advanced for styles to be actually established and women are wearing left-overs from spring and casting eager eyes at the shop windows before buying heavy fall garments.

For only long hair remains strictly straight this season. According to one of the most popular New York hair-dressers, hair grows shorter and earlier every day. At most every second woman one sees has a permanently waved bobbed head. The latest bob is cut very short—about three inches long at the front and sides of the head, with the boyish trim in back.

for peace, however, the democratic standard-bearer said: "But while we will not retreat to others the power of making up our mind for us, we ought at least to exercise that power for ourselves. We ought to be able to make up our mind as to the course we will pursue in foreign affairs, and make it up in time to protect our own interests and perform our own duty in the world. We cannot escape our responsibility by saying that if we are to cooperate we must be permitted to do so without the sacrifice of our right to determine our own policies."

THE COLORED VOTE
There has been a constant stream of negroes to the North during the past two years and statistics show that there are nearly 1,000,000 colored voters, male and female, in eleven northern doubtful states. It is also admitted that if these votes should concentrate on any one candidate for president, it would change the political complexion of several state maps, and the negro would be the real balance of power politically.

ALL-NIGHT FLYING LINE
BERLIN (United Press)—Germany, pushing aviation development insofar as that is permitted by the Versailles treaty, has now opened a night line running from Berlin over Stuttgart, Copenhagen. The first trips prove that this night route is feasible. The Dornier all-metal plane is being used. Incidentally American officers who have been in Germany intend to recommend to the United States government the purchase of such planes, as being the safest machines now in existence.

ANALYZING THE HOME COMMUNITY

By Phoebe K. Warner

Whoever happens to read this, it is for YOU. If you are alive and able to read, you belong in some community. And you owe something to that community. And it makes no difference whether you are a man or a woman. Whether you are young or old. Whether you are rich or poor. If you are living and occupy space in the community, if you are enjoying the benefits of the school and church, and the roads and the streets, the postoffice and the courthouse, the convenience of having neighbors, and a doctor when you are sick. The comfort of having a partner or when your spirit is sick, the advantage of exchanging work with your neighbors when you have a job you cannot do alone and the hundred and one other things that community life provides, then YOU OWE something to that community and you cannot get out of it honestly any more than you can borrow money at the bank and never pay that and be an honest citizen. And you not only pay your note at the bank but you pay interest on that note at your bank.

We are wondering how many people in your community even TAKE any INTEREST in your community when it is held out to you. That would be a right good question for the banker of any community to ask himself. Do YOU as the community banker take as much INTEREST in your community as you take from it? And do you TAKE as much interest in your individual patrons as you TAKE INTEREST FROM them? If you did more of them might pay their notes sooner.

There is no use trying to deny it. Not one of us can live our life alone in any community. Not one of us can build the whole school or the whole church for our own use. It takes co-operation to build anything and it is just as much YOUR duty to help to do those things as the other fellow's.

But I am not a taxpayer, one man says. All right, you may not own a dollar's worth of property in the community. But you may have more energy and more time to give to the cause than the taxpayer and you may have twice as many children in school getting the benefit of the other fellow's taxes than he has himself. But he has to pay his taxes to build a school for your children, whether he wants to or not. Therefore, if time and talent give to the children are your chief assets, then YOU ought to be made to give a part of YOUR assets to the welfare of the community the same as the taxpayer. There are 24 hours in every day for everybody. Time is perhaps the most democratic commodity in all the universe. You may have more hours of work in the 24 hours than the other man or woman but if you are getting the benefit of all the taxes that every taxpayer in the community is paying then you certainly owe a little of your time and thought and energy to your community if you have to steal it from your rest hours. And you have no right to stay at home and sleep when all the other folks in your community are over at the church or the school house trying to make that community a fit, safe place for you and your family. If it were possible to ever make the people see this fact the world would soon be safe for little children and democracy.

Now, let's just imagine we live in a community where every adult citizen takes an interest in his or her community. And a meeting is called to make plans to carry on the work of our community for the new school year. The roll is called and 100 per cent of the people answer present. Here is one thing you may depend on. If you are enough interested to be there and answer to the roll call, there is an idea in your mind waiting to exercise itself. And right there is the first step to success. There is not a community in this State or any other State in which here does not live enough folks with enough fine ideas to make that community an ideal place to live if they would only get together and express their ideals and then go to work to get together to sort out the most practical ideas and plan a way to make them real. NOT ONE. The power to do is there. But it has not been located, organized and hitched to the task to be done. The power is there just the same as there is power in a young horse to help pull a plow across the field to make a crop possible but that young horse power has to be harnessed first and hitched to something to pull.

And the first thing to do when we get together as a community is to look over the field and analyze it. What needs to be done first and worst in your community? There is practically every problem to be solved in every rural school district that is to be solved in the whole Nation only on a much smaller scale. But the problem is the same. It involves human life and its interests are just as important. And the reason the Nation cannot solve its problems today is because the home community has failed to solve its problems where just a few lives are involved. Every community has its social problems, its amusements and religious problems. Its domestic and commercial problems. Its industrial and transportation and marketing problems. Every community has its problems of production and consumption, of economy and waste. Why this business of solving our community problems is the biggest, the most important, and the most neglected business in all this Nation. And we will never solve the world problems of peace, patriotism, prosperity, politics or anything else until we take those problems up one by one in our home communities and work them out there first. What is YOUR community doing to solve its own problems? And is not most of the trouble in this old world and most of our failures in life due to the fact that the great majority of us are community slackers?

BETTER METHODS OF COMBATING DEATH NEAR, IS BELIEF

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 18.—Armed with the many and radical advances in medical science of recent years, the family doctor enters the sick room these days slinging down the orders death has given him for centuries. And more startling discoveries of means of treating illness and disease and combating death are certain to come, according to leading physicians and surgeons of the southwest in annual conference here.

Probably the greatest step forward taken in the last decade, the physicians were agreed, is the increasing use of insulin for the treatment of diabetes. Persons lying at the point of death who formerly usually were incurable, now have hope, alive and eventually may be cured through the use of this extract of the pancreas discovered two years ago by Dr. F. G. Banting, a Canadian physician, it was pointed out.

Insulin, the physicians showed, within the reach of rich and poor alike, costing only one cent a unit, retail, and the average patient requiring only twenty units a day.

Metallic splints to keep bones in place, x-ray photographs for diagnosis, local anesthetics and serum therapy are other advances that various physicians considered invaluable as an aid to them in their practice.

Dr. W. H. Addington, Altoona, Kansas, retiring president of the medical association of the Southwest, said that local anesthetics had come to be regarded as important in the field of the general practitioner, especially for the performance of minor surgical operations.

An interesting sidelight on the "good old days" was given by Dr. Geo. T. Palmer, director of research of the American Child Health Association, which is holding its second annual meeting here in conjunction with the southwest medical.

"Talk about your 'good old days' if you want to, but I'm glad I didn't live in that day so cherished by reformers," said Dr. Palmer. "Why, my grandmother had every tooth in her head extracted before she was 21 years old. Some of her teeth had decayed and the medical advisers of that period told her it was best to have all them taken out.

"The teeth of the present generation are better as the result of better care. Our death rate is about two-thirds of what it was in 1900 and the infant mortality rate is about one-half now of what it was at that time. No, I wouldn't have wanted to have lived in the 'good old days.'"

PHI BETA KAPPA ANNOUNCES ELECTION OF TRANSFER STUDENTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 18.—Phi Beta Kappa, honorary academic fraternity of the University of Texas, has just announced the election of four transfer students, twelve students from the graduating class of August, 1924, and six students holding the highest rank in the senior class of the current session. It is considered remarkable that two of the students receiving this high honor never attended a long session of the University. Miss Mary Crutchfield, a teacher in the Sherman public schools, completed all of her work leading to a B. A. degree in the University during summer sessions. Miss Estella Ballew, of Houston, completed her work principally by means of correspondence courses from the University Bureau of Extension, by taking courses in the Houston extension teaching center of the University, and by attending some summer sessions of the University.

The six highest ranking students in the 1925 class are announced as Miss Siddle R. Armstrong, of La Grange; Miss Josephine Bennett, of Austin; Royall Calder, of Hillsboro; Joe L. Dorroh, of Rosebud; Miss Rosemary Walling, of Austin; and Gordon F. Whyburn, of Lewisville.

Transfer students elected on the basis of exceptional records made during their stay in the University are Miss Polly Pearl Crawford, of Corpus Christi; Miss Helen Mar Hunicutt, of Austin; F. H. Newlee, of San Antonio; and Miss Nellie Parramor, of Abilene.

Students elected from the graduating class of 1924 are Perry C. Baird, Jr., of Dallas; Miss Estella Ballew, of Houston; John E. Conner of Austin; Miss Mar Crutchfield, of Sherman; Miss Kate Eppright, of Manor; Miss Vera Heffner, of Weatherford; Miss Florise Isaac, of Fort Worth; Miss Elizabeth Lovell of Austin; Roscoe C. Martin, of Kirbyville; Walter A. Schultze, of Denton; and Mrs. Coral H. Tullis, of Austin.

Founder's Day will be celebrated by members of Phi Beta Kappa at the University of Texas on December 5. Officers of the Texas chapter are: president, E. W. Winkler; vice president, Miss Clara Parler; secretary-treasurer, H. Y. Benedict. Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society and election to membership is considered the highest honor conferred by American universities.
