She spoke of God as a Father, men as brethren, and the spirit of sacrificial love which finds its truest earthly expression in a home was to be the prevalent principle in the kingdom.

ROCKSPRINGS P.-T. A. IS DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Mrs. S. T. Gilmore President Sixth District Dear Mrs. Gilmore:

This year we have a membership of 112 (11 men). We have accomplished a number of things, the outstanding project is the kindergarten.

Through the efforts of the Parent-Teacher Association we have a first-class kindergarten established in connection with the public schools. This kindergarten is well equipped, tables, chairs, a piano and all material necessary to carry on the work. While the P.-T. A. does no more for the kindergarten than for the other grades now, we feel like it is our "Very Own Child."

We put on the Summer Round Up with an examination of all children that would enter the kindergarten and first grade in September. We had the "follow up work" in the Fall. A few parents neglected to have the defects of their children corrected or given medical attention. The majority profited greatly by the Round Up.

We put on a "Beautification campaign" and have paid out seven hundred dollars for work, filling an immense ditch between street and campus as well as other work on the campus and shrubbery and work on plants for same.

We bought fifty dollars worth of library books for the lower grades, a ten dollar basket ball and other small things, and of course our attendance and most interesting meetings.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Joan R. Bannister,
Pres. Rocksprings P.-T. A.

This report is being handed in by the District president that the surrounding neighboring towns might see just what is being done throughout the district, and it is for the interchange of ideas that these conferences are held and are worth while as reports and outstanding educators and speakers from the state are present to give inspiration and information.

Mexican Charged With Possession of Liquor Gives Notice for Appeal

Paul Garza, Sonora Mexican, was given eighteen months in the penitentiary on a charge with possession of intoxicating liquor. Garza was arrested several months ago and lodged in jail. Notice has been filed for an appeal, according to court records.

In the case of the State of Texas vs. R. J. Powell, transportation of liquor, resulted in a hung jury. It is said that nine of the jurors were in favor of acquittal while three stood for conviction.

Powell was arrested last year at a tourist camp with his wife and Henry Long, deceased.

Four divorces were granted. The jury was dismissed Tuesday afternoon.

JUDGE WEAVER BAKER WAS HERE THURSDAY

Weaver H. Baker, member of the law firm of Stephenson, Baker & Knetsch of Junction, was here Thursday from Fort Stockton where he had been on legal business. Mr. Baker is a candidate for the office of district attorney of the 112th judicial district, composed of Sutton, Kimble, Crockett and Pecos counties.

He said that he would, at a later date, make a tour of the district in the interest of his candidacy. He is confident of victory over his opponent, Ed Yarbrough who is now serving, having been appointed when the new district was created.

Judge Baker is well known in this section of the country, and is said to be a very able jurist and capable of handling the office of district attorney.

Wherever the electric transmission line extends, there is instantly available an army of servants to shoulder the burden of human labor.

Housework, farm chores, commercial activities and industrial operations are thus speeded and made easier. The productivity of electric servants is greater than human labor on the farm and ranch, in the home and in the factory.

By thus increasing the productive power of its customers, the West Texas Utilities Company is contributing to the prosperity of the area which it serves and adding to the material comfort of the people.

FAST AND BEST

Taking the whole nation into consideration, it is probable that we spend more money every year for education than for anything else beyond the necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter.

Henry Ford has recently announced that he plans to spend upward of one hundred million dollars on education. Mr. Ford has a very practical theory, which is that the average boy ought to be taught a trade after he has gone as far in the general schools as his circumstances permit.

That is one purpose of education—to enable its recipient to develop his talents to the best economic advantage to himself and society. Another purpose is to enable him to get the greatest possible enjoyment out of life.

There is no compilation available of the amounts of money which private contributors have given for educational purposes in America. George Washington set the example when he founded and endowed a free school in Alexandria, Va., which is still going.

The only cure for the troubles of humanity is education. It is the slow but sure method of changing human nature. No revolution, no legislation, no "reform" movement, ever gave humanity a new outlook on life.

THE VALUE OF LITTLE THINGS

The story is being told of a lazy man who got a job on an English railroad. He started "at the bottom" but didn't like the hard work. He asked the management for a "thinking job" and was told that if he would think of one idea a year which would save the company money they would give a salary proportioned to what he saved them.

Velvet Hammer

(By Harvey Walker)

Well, all that I know I see in the papers and can't believe but a small part of that so there is much that I am not certain about.

Just when I was about to withdraw from the race Jim visits the cattlemen at Angelo without coming around and recognizing me, the leader of the great multitude of members of the Frijole party.

Jim proposes in one plank of his platform to repeal the landlord's lien law so that renters may dispose of their crops without hindrance.

My latest opponent, one Robinson of Waco, gets rampant at the outset and announces that he has thrown his coat in the road with a platform of the unheard of issue of economy in the administration of the affairs of state.

If Dan is able to find anything else upon which to levy a tax he will probably be a candidate for a third term. He has been handicapped for the past four years because levies would not produce more than fifty millions per year which is only pocket change for him.

Believing that all West Texas should stand together we would be glad if its only candidate for the United States Senate would add a plank to his platform providing for the annexation of Mexico to the U. S. along with the one he now sponsors for the annexation of the Dominion of Canada.

With some twelve or thirteen candidates for governor already in the race, prospects of more later, we would not be surprised that so much political thunder will often fool our stockmen and make them think that rain clouds are approaching and get their goats under the shed.

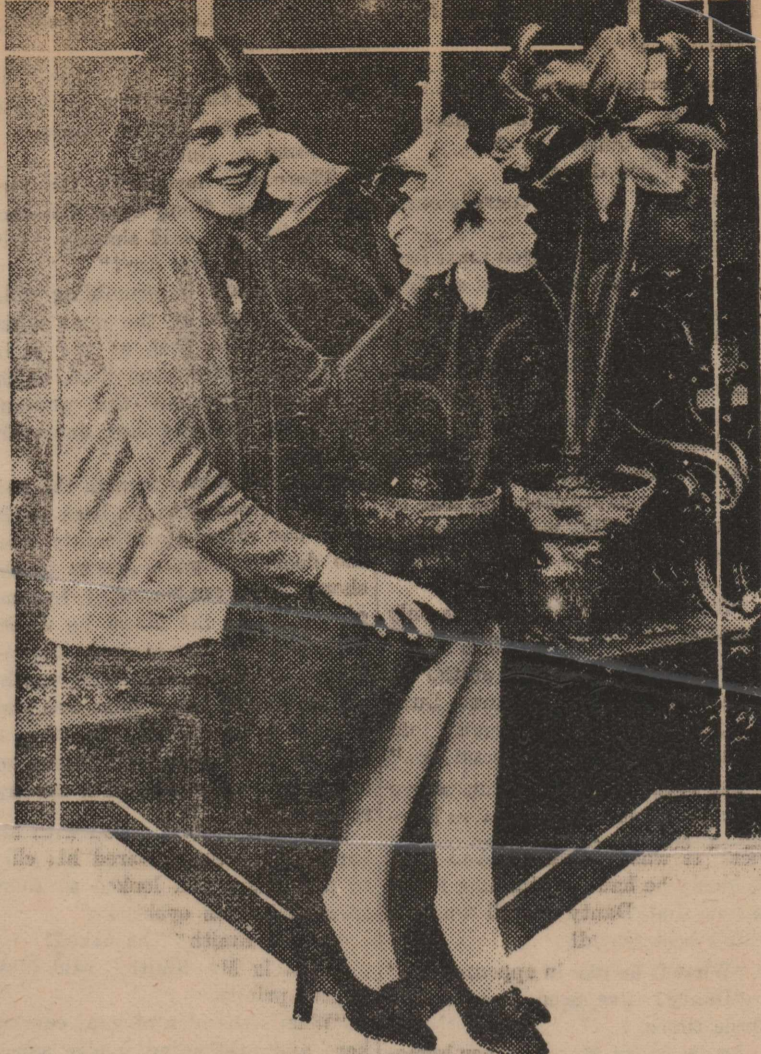

One thing it seems always leads to another. Just when we have a wool co-op beginning to function with a promising percentage of the growers as members along comes a warehouse co-op almost 100 per cent strong which it seems is organized to prevent growers from a severe loss in their pooling proposition.

lazy young man's salary is $3,000 a year.

A famous economist once calculated that one inch added to the shirt-tail of every inhabitant of China would make some millions of profit annually for the Manchester cotton mills. A boy in the stationery stock room of a big manufacturing concern worked out a plan for reducing all printed forms to a few standard sizes and grades of paper and saving the company $25,000 a year.

Sometimes it pays to spend money liberally. It always pays to cut off unnecessary expense.

Weaver Baker Out for District Attorney

Junction Attorney Will Oppose Ed Yarbrough in 112th Judicial District

Weaver Baker, Junction attorney and well known West Texas jurist, will oppose Ed Yarbrough in the race for district attorney of the 112th Judicial District composed of Kimble, Sutton, Crockett and Pecos counties.

"My candidacy is respectfully submitted to the electorate of the 112th Judicial District, on the proposition that I can and will perform the duties of the office.

"My education was obtained in the public schools and University of this State. I served Kimble county as county attorney from the 13th day of June, 1919, to the 1st day of December, 1920, and as county judge from the 1st day of December, 1920, to the 1st day of January, 1925.

Judge Baker is well known in Sutton county, and has a number of friends supporting his candidacy. It will be his aim to try to see every voter in the county personally, and will appreciate any support given him in the July primary.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM

La Vista Theatre has billed for the next six nights three of the best pictures produced. No expense has been spared by the management of this theatre to bring to movie fans here the best and latest productions.

The management of La Vista is to be congratulated for the effort and expense in securing such productions as will be shown beginning tonight and continues until Tuesday night. If you see any of these pictures, let Mr. Elliott know whether or not you appreciate them.

will not allow them to destroy themselves, though they try.

The severe winter, with heavy feed bills followed by a hard spring with a low percentage of lambs and kids along with low prices, is a rather severe blow to the old ranchmen but they are a hardy set who never know when they are bested and though they wear their Stetsons until the brims flop and perhaps their boots with holes in the toe they will survive; and when a revival of good times is again at hand they will still be the jolly boys as of yore.

The Very Latest

(By Mary Marshall)

The tuck-in blouse no longer looks like a flapperish affectation, and instead of asking ourselves, as we did six months ago: "Will the tuck-in blouse be accepted?" we ask: "How long before the over-blouse will look out of date?"

Of course no one can answer this question but certainly fewer over-blouses and more tuck-in blouses are sold at the present time. There are blouses made to be worn beneath the skirt band, others that may be worn either way and the tendency is to shorten the over-blouse so that it extends only a few inches below the normal waistline.

At the same time there is a new type of blouse, that hardly seems like a blouse at all, because it is even longer than dresses of twelve months ago. This is the new over-blouse and the first time you see it—with the skirt appearing several inches below the hem—you may be inclined to think that it is really a last season's frock with a skirt worn beneath to give needed length. On second glance you will see, by the cut of the sleeves and the shoulders and by the placing of the belt, that it is really quite up-to-date.

Harold Lloyd will be at La Vista Theatre Sunday afternoon and Monday night. Harold's best picture.—Adv.

Today and Tomorrow

(By Frank Parker Stockbridge)

EDISON

Think for a minute of what one man, still active in his 84th year, has done to change the world in a single lifetime. He made the telephone a practical instrument. He invented the incandescent light. He invented the phonograph. He invented the motion picture. Imagine a world without those inventions. It is impossible, except to those whose memories, like my own, go back to the time when Edison was known only as the inventor of the multiplex telegraph.

Now he has found a way to get rubber out of goldenrod, not as a commercial product but as a war reserve resource. And he is still working.

"A man can't die so long as he keeps busy," he told me once.

MUSIC

Good music is increasing in popularity, but there are more musicians out of work than ever before. We are getting our music more and more by mechanical methods of reproduction.

First the phonograph, then the radio, now the sound motion pictures, have brought the very best music, played and sung by the highest grade of musical talent, within reach of everybody. The largest piano company in America went into bankruptcy recently. Pianos are still sold, and always will be. There will always be youngsters with talent coming along to produce the good music of tomorrow. And there are more "freak" instruments being sold than ever—saxophones, ukeleles and the like. There are probably more first-class singers of American birth and training, appearing in public now than ever before. But the second-rate and hopelessly third-rate musicians no longer command audiences. The American people have developed a higher taste in music.

CHURCHES

"I could empty every country church and half the city churches on Sunday mornings by broadcasting better sermons and services than all but a few great churches offer," the head of one of the great broadcasting chains said to me the other day.

The time is coming when small town churches will install radio sets and get their music and their sermons out of the air. They will need no local preacher, but instead will become centers for community work in the name of God, making it their charge to protect the moral and physical health of their communities, to inspire the amusements and elevate the educational standards of their young folk.

RUBBER

Rubber gets its name because its first use was to rub out pencil marks. The Spanish conquistadores found Mexican and Brazilian children playing with balls of this peculiar gum, but it was three hundred years before it became a commercial product. Mackintosh, the Scotchman, used it first to waterproof cloth; Goodyear, the American, found how to take the stickiness out while retaining the elasticity.

A very small amount of commercial rubber is grown in the United States, in California and Arizona, where it is produced from the guayule shrub. Most of it comes from the East Indies and South America. Harvey Firestone is planting a million acres to rubber trees in Liberia, Africa. Unskilled cheap labor is necessary to keep the price of rubber down. A difference of 50 cents a pound in the price of crude rubber may mean a difference of $10 in the price of automobile tires.

The next step will be the discovery of a method of reclaiming old rubber and using it again.

LAWS

It ought to be apparent by this time that the effort to make people good by passing laws is a failure. The other day a judge in New York sentenced a young woman to prison for life. He had no option; it was her fourth conviction for larceny and under the Baumes law a fourth offender must be locked up until he or she dies. That isn't going to do this girl or society any good. The time when something could have been done about her case was when she was a child. She grew up without education, without moral sense, without any feeling of responsibility.

The only reason we put people in prison or execute them is because we are afraid of them. Our prison population has doubled in twenty years. As we grow more prosperous we become more afraid of the unprosperous. It might be a good plan to spend as much money trying to keep people out of prison as we spend now to keep them in it.

see what Connor says to that! He'll be here in five minutes."

Verdi glanced uneasily at the door.

"Bluff," he said. "Anyway, Connor can't complain if we come around to make a few inquiries. We're entitled to a bit of information."

"Do you want to see me any more?" said Luke, and moved toward the door.

Curly Smith stood squarely in his way.

"We want to know—" began Verdi.

"You know all you're likely to know," said Luke curtly.

He took another step forward, but Smith did not move. Suddenly Luke's hand shot up, gripped the little man and swung him across the room. It was not a moment to compromise or to argue; instinctively he knew he was taking the right line as he pulled the door wide open.

"Get outside, both of you!" he said.

Verdi shrugged his broad shoulders.

"That's all right," he said. "We don't want any unpleasantness."

He was smiling when he came abreast of Luke; but Mrs. Fraser had slipped to the other side of the table, and saw the life preserver he carried in his right hand.

"Look out!" she cried shrilly.

As the deadly little stick rose, Luke struck for the man's jaw, and he went over with a crash against the wooden partition which separated the shop from the parlor.

For a moment he was stunned, and in that time Luke had jerked the life preserver from the man's hand (a leather cord attached to it was twisted around his wrist) and had dropped it into his pocket.

"Come on, you," he beckoned Curly Smith, and the little man sidled nimbly past him.

Verdi was on his feet by now, a little dazed, blinking with his pale blue eyes at the man who had knocked him down.

"All right," he said, and went heavily after his companion.

MASON IS DESCENDANT OF LAFAYETTE'S AIDE

Cleveland, Ohio.—E. N. Newbury, a Scottish Rite Mason, is a grandson of the late David Lewis, who as a lad of 16 years of age, accompanied LaFayette as an aide when the famous French general came to America to assist the colonists in their struggle for liberty.

Following the Revolution he settled in Charleston, S. C., and some of his descendants fought in the Civil War.

E. N. Newbury, the grandson, came to Cleveland about twenty-seven years ago and is president of the E. N. Newbury Co. He is a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Davidson Criticizes Moody and Ferguson

Former Lieutenant Governor Says Moody a "Petulant Boy" and Ferguson "Political Pug"

Houston, March 27.—Calling Dan Moody a "petulant boy" and James E. Ferguson a "political pug," former Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson issued a statement today urging Texas voters to "put an end to the personal and factional strife which is swallowing up all hope of state progress."

Recalling past warnings, Mr. Davidson said that "unless Texans this year use their thick stub pencils to sweep from the political picture every man who tunes his campaign music to the Assassin's Song, we cannot justly hope for sound state government."

"The Marathon Legislature has ended with a requiem for prison concentration, judicial reform, tax equalization, farm relief and a score of other achievements so often pledged," said Mr. Davidson's statement.

"On the one hand we see a petulant boy, blaming the legislature for damage to his playthings, which he himself has broken up; on the other, that crafty old political pug, James E. Ferguson, fondly hoping that this statehouse bout will be but the 'preliminary' to a knockout political victory for himself."

"This is at once absurd and distressing. But it is not surprising. It is the inevitable result of a weakness in our primary system which allows a handful of voters, blinded by the flares of spectacular combat, to dictate our choice of officers without a single fleeting glimpse of the real issues, hidden in the smoke."

"Thoughtful men and women all over our state foresaw this in 1924 and again in 1926. They pleaded for a new day. I joined my voice with them. From one end of the state to the other, in my 1926 campaign for governor, I warned of the danger of putting passions ahead of judgment. For just one example, take this excerpt from an Associated Press dispatch, from Denton, July 10, 1926:

"Lynch Davidson declared in an address here Friday night that the election of either Governor Miriam A. Ferguson or Attorney General Dan Moody as governor will mean two years of factionalism at the State Capitol. Bitterness bred during the present campaign, he insisted, will continue, forbidding a business administration, which, he said, was becoming vitally necessary for the economic salvation of the State."

"I lay no claim to prophecy. The above was merely what all those who looked past the smoke and fire could see. I repeat it now in the very earnest hope that Texans everywhere, in the coming campaign, will see the same significant warning. And I repeat it with the urgent hope that they will put an end to the personal and factional strife that is swallowing up all hope of state progress."

Much Development in West Texas

Forty-Five Counties Served by West Texas Utilities Get New Enterprises

Abilene, March 27.—Nearly 90 industrial enterprises were established in West Texas during 1929, according to a report compiled by the Industrial Department of the West Texas Utilities Company over 45 counties they serve. This department is maintained to aid chambers of commerce and other organizations in locating industries in West Texas.

The report consisted of major industrial concerns such as carbon black plants, gins, airports, hotels, produce companies, supply companies, compresses and other productive concerns which, though just beginning business activities during 1929, have materially added to West Texas progress. The location of these business enterprises has not only gone a great way in adding to the creative or manufacturing volume of West Texas but has also served to relieve the general unemployment condition. The new concerns have given employment to nearly 2,100 persons. This averages approximately 25 employees per concern.

Industrial development in this territory must necessarily be different from that of companies operating in large populated centers and in manufacturing areas. The towns in West Texas are small only two having a population of 25,000 or larger, the average being 2,500. In view of these facts, it has been logical to build semi-large industries which go hand in hand with the major sources of income in this area.

Progress is trading at home.

CLEANING AND PRESSING

"Have It Done at Home"

Does everything others do — plus SPINNING drying

Washes fast, safe, clean—like every good washer. But that's less than half the work it does. The SPINNER does away with slow, tedious, piece-by-piece feeding through the wringer to the first rinse; through the wringer to the second rinse; through the wringer to the line. It washes, rinses, starches—then dries for the line every piece without a wringer—in a fast revolving porcelain SPINNER that cannot break buttons, crush snaps, snag silks or press in deep creases so hard to iron out. Match it, pit it against all the washer world has to offer. Nowhere will you find a worthy challenger for the SPINNER—for it does almost everything but hang out the clothes. Why waste washing, wringing, ironing, mending time the old fashioned way? Change now. Free home demonstration and pay-as-you-use plan.

HAPPY TO TELL ALL THE WORLD ABOUT KONJOLA

St. Louis Citizen Found New Medicine to Be Only One That Made Good

MR. THOMAS J. BIRGE

After all is said and done, every medicine must meet this test: Does it Make Good? Konjola has made good in so many cases when all else tried has failed that it is the most talked of medicine in America today. Take the case of Mr. Thomas J. Birge, 2632 Chateau street, St. Louis, for instance. Read what he says about this master medicine:

"I am sixty years old, and most of my life—at least as long as I can remember—I had stomach trouble, and nothing helped me until I found Konjola. Imagine my astonishment when the very first bottle of this wonderful remedy started me on the road to complete recovery. Today I can eat whatever I like, no matter how rich and heavy the food, without the least discomfort. Fact is, I feel like a new man, and many of my friends to whom I recommend Konjola are as enthusiastic about it as I am."

Konjola is sold in Sonora at the Corner Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

STOKES WILL ASK 233 QUESTIONS IN TAKING CENSUS

Who and how old are your grandparents? How many sheep and goats do you own? How much butter did you churn last year? And two hundred and thirty other questions will be asked ranchmen and farmers of this county when "Buzzy" Stokes approaches them in taking the 1930 census.

Each individual will answer 32 questions relative to their parents. Mr. Stokes will appreciate all information given him, and stated that all information will be treated confidentially. This is the fifteenth time the government has taken census and all information should be given as near correctly as possible.

Much time and patience will be required in getting all data in the county, Mr. Stokes said. He would appreciate every person knowing parents' initials, name, age, nationality and place born. These are the most important questions in the population census.

CREDIT

Is the Badge of Honesty

Credit came in with civilization—when man began to have faith in his fellowman. To revert to a no-credit plan would be equivalent to redersion to savagery. Germany lost the faith of humanity when she abused the faith all nations held in The Hague and other treaties.

The entire financial system is based on the faith men have in each other's honesty. YOU are a more or less important cog in the financial system of the country.

If you pay your bills promptly the whole set of machinery works right—if you don't pay promptly the machinery is disrupted and a certain cog may have to be removed.

CREDIT IS FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE!

It is the easiest thing in the world to get—if you play square—the hardest if you shirk your responsibilities.

Credit is based solely and absolutely on past performances.

If you have always paid your bills promptly you can obtain credit easily anywhere in Sonora or United States. It will make you feel better—it will strengthen your credit—and the financial machinery will function properly.

If you have evaded payment, even though your intentions are ever so good, you will be listed far and wide as "bad pay" and your credit is gone.

THIS IS THE TWENTY-EIGHTH OF MARCH— HAVE YOU PAID YOUR BILLS?

Halbert Purchases Polled Herefords

Adds Eight Registered Polled Herefords to His Already Fine Herd

Robert A. Halbert, prominent local stockman with ranching interests in the Sonora, the Mertzson and other sections of Southwest Texas, accompanied by his family, attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show recently. The Halbert children had entries in the baby beef exhibit, which were sold at the prevailing fancy prices during the show.

While in Fort Worth, Mr. Halbert made another draft, as he has done the last three years, from the world's largest double standard polled Hereford herd owned by Johnson Bros., of Jacksboro and secured six herd bulls and a cow and calf. In the bunch of bulls were Beau Blanchard 43d, a son of the national grand champion Beau Blanchard, and Willdale's Master, of the grand champion Bonnie Russell blood. The cow is Princess Dale 2d, a prize winner and champion during the last two years in shows extending from Canada to Florida.

The various additions made by Mr. Halbert to his double standard herd during the past few years has made it one of the prominent and well known polled Hereford establishments of Texas.

First Game of Season Will Be Called Sunday Afternoon at Two-Thirty Sonora Mustangs, town team, will clash in the first game of the season here Sunday afternoon in the school park with the Big Lake town team. The game will be called promptly at two-thirty in order to give the oilers time to get home that evening.

Big Lake is said to have a pretty fair team, and will make a strenuous effort to cop their first title. "Snake Shed" Shelton is skipper for the Big Lake outfit and stated in a long distance conversation that "Sonora had better be cocked and primed for the game."

"Bud" Smith and Floyd Ridley will both likely see mound duty in the game here, with Smith starting. Brown will be in harness for the Mustangs. A number of the Sonora Bronchos, high school players, will be called for service. Sally Chalk, Sloak Turney, Ted White and others not in the school team will also play.

Proceeds derived from the game will go into the athletic treasury for the Bronchos. The game will be played on a 60-40 basis.

Rain Delays Work on School Building

Contractors Will Soon Be Ready to Start Brick Laying Work

The weather yesterday prohibited progress of cement and foundation work in the construction of Sonora's $83,000 new high school building. Practically all of the foundation work has been completed, according to A. E. Suggs, one of the contractors who is supervising the work.

Brick laying will commence in about two weeks, it is thought. Mr. Suggs stated that all necessary time would be taken to complete the building, and in this manner he could do a much better job.

The building will be modern in every respect and will contain new furniture and equipment throughout.

The West Texas Lumber Company is furnishing the material for the job.

Sheriff A. W. Billingsley and deputy, Harrison Hamer, were here Tuesday afternoon on official business.

All parents and friends of Scouting are cordially invited to attend the jamboree.
