Michael Rollert looks towards the endzone.

By Ray Glasscock

When a district champion meets a fourth place team in the playoffs, the fans probably have an idea of how the fourth place team will play. The first of the game went according to script as the Broncos jumped out to a 20 to 0 lead. Toward the end of the first quarter and through most of the second quarter, the Ballinger Bearcats played well and gave their fans some fun football to remember. At halftime, the Monday Morning Defensive Experts wondered the stands offering their wisdom on how to stop the Bearcats. All of their great ideas weren't needed as the Broncos and Bearcats got back on script. The Broncos won by a score of 67 to 28 with the final points being scored by mostly JV players. As far as I could find, the 67 points was second only to 74 points scored by the 1954 Broncos against Eden.

On the third play of the game, Andres Acevedo ripped the ball out of a Bearcat's hands. Michael Rollert rolled to his left and threw a touchdown pass to Ricky Martinez. After Martinez kicked the PAT, the Broncos led 7 to 0 with less than two minutes of game time expired.

The Bronco onslaught continued after a Bearcat punt. Most of the yardage for the drive came from great blocking and tough running by Chance Campbell. Campbell got the touchdown on a three yard run around the right side of the line. The Bearcats blocked the PAT making the score 13 to 0.

After a three and out, the Broncos scored quickly. Acevedo took the handoff, broke several tackles, and gained 21 yards. Elijah Cross, Rollert, and Campbell took turns running the ball. Campbell found the endzone from seven yards out. After Martinez kicked the PAT, the score was 20 to 0 with 3:18 left in the first quarter.

From 3:18 left in the first until 10:38 left in the second, the Bearcats scored 14 points on passing touchdowns and trailed Sonora by six points with the score being 20 to 14.

The Broncos responded quickly. Rollert ran into the middle of the line. Somehow, he came out of the pile and raced down the right sideline for an 83 yard touchdown. With 9:01 left in the half, the Broncos led 27 to 14.

Ballinger put together another multi-play drive using mostly short passes. They reached the redzone where the Broncos held until they scored on a fourth and goal pass play. With 3:17 left in the half, the Broncos led by 27 to 20.

The Broncos answered with a long drive running the ball. Success running the ball causes the defense to inch closer and closer to the line of scrimmage. With 1:01 left in the half, Rollert faked the run and threw a 25 yard touchdown pass to Acevedo. When the PAT run failed, the score was 33 to 21.

Ballinger tried to answer, but Martinez intercepted stopping the last of Ballinger's magic.

To start the second half, Campbell carried twice on the opening drive. The first run gained 24 yards and the second one was a 46 yard rushing touchdown. After the kick missed, the score was 39 to 21 with only 39 seconds expired.

Martinez kicked off short and high. Jonathon Gutierrez tipped the football into the air and then recovered it at the Bearcats' 20 yard line. Rollert rolled to his left looking for a receiver, but all he saw was an unexpected Bearcat defender in his face. Rollert juke and then scrambled 14 yards to the one yard line. Rollert followed his great line into the end zone on a sneak. After Martinez kicked the point after, the Broncos led 46 to 21 with 9:23 left in the third.

On the next Bronco possession, Bryan Garcia took Campbell's place as the deep back.

Editors Note

Each year 4th grade teacher Katy Crain works with her students on their writing skills. Over the next few editions we will be sharing the missives of these talented young writers.

This week we are highlighting Sophia Gutierrez and her description of a dance performance. Ms. Gutierrez' use imagery to describe not only the external parts of performing, but the subtle mixture of nervousness and excitement all dancers must face. Much like the chorus of a well written song, she repetitively describes her process of counting the steps of the dance in her head. I think this is an excellent description of the art of dance. She showed me that dance viewed from the outside is bright, colorful, and often seemingly chaotic, but on the inside it is discipline and control.

"I repeated the steps in my head, one, two, three and four"

By Sophia Gutierrez

I was standing there, ready to dance. Butterflies flew through my stomach. I knew I was going to be good though. As the curtains opened I got in my passions. The bright blue spotlights shimmered on the black stage. I have never been so nervous! The jungle music suddenly went on. I started to dance. Step by step, and counting one to four. I kicked and spun around. The feathers from the cave man costume itched like crazy! I ignored it and continued to dance. Cameras flashed black and red. The music went on, and I repeated the steps in my head, one, two, three and four. The dance finally ended. The crowd cheered wildly. We all stepped off of the stage and searched for our parents. Gasping for air after the dance, a woman appeared in front of me and hugged me. To my surprise, it was my mom! My parents came and congratulated me. "Awesome Job!" my dad said. He handed me flowers. I took a big whiff of the roses. I smiled and said, "Thanks".

The Lady Bronco Basketball team started the season by keeping up their winning ways with a 74-25 victory Tuesday night against Grape Creek. The TABC #4 state ranked Sonora team shot over 50% for the game and had 40 steals for the team highlights on offense and defense. Captains Kylie Love (17 points, 11 rebounds) and Gracie Dozier (15 points, 10 steals) led the attack that typified the Lady Broncos relentless pressure. Katie Hartman (3 points, 3 assists and only 2 turnovers) had a stellar game at point guard. Zella Powers (4 points, 4 rebounds) turned in a solid performance. Logan Smith and Tyler Hampton both tallied 13 points and Tyler led the team in assists with 8. Everyone on the team played extended minutes and everyone got in on the scoring party - Naomi Dozier (2 points, 3 steals), JoJo Gutierrez (5 points, 8 steals) and Janelle Vasquez (2 points, 2 steals) played well in their roles as super subs. Katie, Gracie, JoJo and Tyler all hit 3 pointers. The JV team defeated Grape Creek 43-24. Coach Mathew's team hit 8 three pointers in the game that featured 12 players all playing important roles.

On Sunday, October 27, Father Lionel Fernando and the parishioners of St. Ann Catholic Church in Sonora gathered with others in the community for their fall festival. For the first time in quite a few years, it took place on the grounds of the church. With the opening of the new parish hall in the past year, there was a wonderful indoor space for the silent auction, sweet booth and country store, as well as an area for people to eat and relax. Under beautiful blue skies outdoors, food booths beckoned visitors with the delicious aromas of grilled hamburgers, gorditas, chalupas, sausage wraps, tacos, bar-b-que sandwiches, hot wings and enchilada dinners. Nachos and fresh fruit cups were also available. Snow cones were a popular treat as the warm afternoon progressed. Agua frescas were a big hit...fruity drinks iced down to quench your thirst! There was a cake walk, bounce house, Plinko, dunking booth, jail and the very popular barrel train. From 4pm until 6pm, Mariachi Alma Mexicana from San Angelo entertained young and old alike. Winners of the raffle were announced at 5pm. The first six prizes were Visa gift cards. $1,000-Ariana Alviso; $750-Kathy Hardgrave; $500-Joseph Ivan Abrego; $250-Victor Hernandez; $250-Jessica Chavez; $250-Kathy Hardgrave. The two quilts were won by Elvira Gallegos and Fidencio Ramirez.

Two high school students vied for the title of Queen of the festival. Kali Mendez and Kamrie Martinez, with the help of their families, raised money through many fund raisers in advance, to support the festival efforts. Kamrie was announced as the Queen during the Mass at 10am. Congratulations to both young women in your dedication to St. Ann's.

Many thanks to our sponsors: Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Peter W. Bradley; Fidencio and Susie Ramirez; Randy, Janell and Holly Sparks; Juan and Elvira Alvarez; Jaime and Andrea Chavez; The Bank and Trust; Arcelia and Ed Carrasco; Ada E. Castilleja, Sammy and Sonia Castro; Gary and Kathy Hardgrave; Mungia Southwest Heating and Cooling; Jimmy and Mary Jean Sims; Albert and Cynthia Ward Ranch; Sonora Bank and La Mexicana Restaurante. Others who contributed to the success of the festival include Sonora Main Street, Lowe's Super Market, Dairy Queen and Basic Energy Services. Many hours were given by volunteers who organized and worked at the festival, as well as in preparing the church grounds. Their efforts were much appreciated.

Just as wheat is not the same food it once was, neither is milk. Milk drinkers of Biblical times would have been drinking raw, unpasteurized milk. In other words, straight from the animal and with all of its nutrients still in tact. Today, milk endures all kinds of processes to keep it shelf stable, to remove the fat from it, to make it sweeter with added sugar, etc. These processes destroy important vitamins and enzymes and render the milk very hard for the body to digest. Many people drink milk in order to get calcium but, actually, the body does not assimilate calcium from milk very well because of the nutrients destroyed during pasteurization. The body absorbs calcium much more efficiently from foods like homemade chicken broth, green vegetables, nuts, and fish. Those concerned with bone health should eat these calcium rich foods and drink fewer sodas. Sodas trigger our bones to lose calcium. As a general rule, the more processed the food, the less nutritious it is. Stick to the real food God created for us to eat.

He...ate the produce of the field, and suckled with him honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock, Curds from the herd, and milk from the flock, with fat of lambs, rams of Bashan goats, with the very finest of the wheat-and you drank foaming wine made from the blood of the grape. Deuteronomy 32:13-14

Selecting Pecan Trees Requires Some Thought

By Pascual Hernandez,
Sutton County Agricultural Extension Agent

If you are thinking about planting a pecan tree, there are some things to consider. Not all varieties do well in our area, so selection is important. The ability to bear early, limb structure, strength of tree, quality, kernel percentage and size of the nuts, and the production record must all be considered when selecting a variety. Another thing to keep in mind is pollination.

In areas of West Texas located miles from any native pecan trees, pollination becomes critical in variety selection. The male flowers, or catkins, produce pollen which fertilize the female nutlets. There are two types of flowering patterns in pecans: those producing pollen first (protandrous), and those producing nutlets first (protogynous). Pecans are wind-pollinated and can cross-pollinate with trees up to 1/4 mile away. If inadequate pollination is probable, plant at least one early- and one late-pollen shedding variety in your landscape.

The following early-pollen-shedding varieties should do well in our area: Western can grow and bear nuts with less management than any other variety in the far west. The tree is strong, easy to train and productive, coming into production in 7 to 8 years. However, it is highly susceptible to scab disease. There are 52 nuts/lb.

Caddo is an excellent yard tree because of strong limbs, scab resistance, early ripening and attractive foliage. Its nuts are very small but have high-quality kernels. The trees begin to bear in 5 to 6 years and tend to bear well annually. There are 63 nuts/lb.

Cheyenne is a very productive, smaller tree which begins to bear a high quality nut in only 5 to 7 years, but it is particularly susceptible to aphids. There are 51 nuts/lb.

These are late-pollen-shedding varieties:

Sioux is an outstanding yard tree because of its strong, easy-to-train limb structure and extremely high-quality, small nut. This tree is well adapted for use as a shade tree due to its dense foliage and strong limb structure. There are 62 nuts/lb.

Wichita is one of the most productive pecan grown in Texas. The tree is vigorous, productive and begins to bear in only 5 to 7 years. Wichita develops "V" limb angles that split and require careful training. It tends to be a poor-bearing, unattractive tree if not well managed. There are 43 nuts/lb.

Choctaw is a good yard tree because of its beautiful foliage, scab resistance and high yields of large, high-quality pecans. Unfortunately, Choctaw requires the very best soil and management; otherwise, it will fail. There are 38 nuts/lb.

Kiowa has good limb structure, attractive foliage and large nuts. It begins to bear at about 6 years of age and bears good crops, but nut quality has been inconsistent. There are 39 nuts/lb.

Applications for Conservation Programs Being Accepted at Sonora NRCS Office

USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) District Conservationist Tom Payton announces applications for funding opportunities with the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) and Wildlife Habitat Incentive Program (WHIP) are currently being accepted at the NRCS offices located at 301 Crockett.

NRCS in Texas has received its initial allocation of EQIP and WHIP funding for 2014 and will begin ranking and obligating contracts after January 17, 2014. All agriculture producers interested in submitting a contract application for 2014 should do so before this ranking deadline.

EQIP — one of the largest programs in the Farm Bill — is a voluntary conservation program that promotes environmental quality and assists producers to meet local, state and federal regulations.

"EQIP is a valuable tool to help Sutton County's agricultural producers implement conservation practices that provide environmental benefits to help sustain agricultural operations," says Payton.

"WHIP helps landowners restore and improve fish and wildlife habitats, and benefit at-risk species," says Payton. "This funding will give landowners across the state the opportunity to address wildlife concerns in Texas."

EQIP and WHIP are continuous sign-up programs that allow landowners or operators to apply for financial and technical assistance for the application of specific conservation practices; but the deadline for the first 2014 funding allocation is January 17, 2014. Contracts are offered periodically depending on budgetary allocations. Applications made after the deadline will be considered in the next funding cycle. Higher priority will be given to those applications that address national, state and local priorities and provide higher cost efficiency.

EQIP offers technical and financial help to install or implement structural, vegetative, and management practices that can benefit the soil, water, air, plants, livestock, and wildlife. WHIP applications must address traditional natural resource issues such as water quantity, water quality, grazing lands, forest health, soil management, emerging natural resource issues, and climate change.

Each county in the state is funded yearly to assist producers financially with these land management practices.

Last year, NRCS in Texas funded over 4,500 EQIP contracts with $91 million to accomplish conservation practices such as irrigation efficiency, minimum tillage, brush management and more on 3.6 million acres across the entire state. Additionally, NRCS funded 200 WHIP contracts with $7.1 million to improve wildlife habitat on over 380,000 acres in Texas.

In addition to helping our environment, Farm Bill conservation program funds support rural communities. In Texas, it is estimated that each dollar of NRCS and private matching expenditures on NRCS conservation programs generates an additional $2.54 in sales of goods and services locally.

For more information, including eligibility requirements, call the USDA Service Center office in Sonora at (325) 387-2730. Service center locations and program information can be found on the Texas NRCS Web site at www.tx.nrcs.usda.gov.
