"Need An Attitude Adjustment?"

By Vanda Anderson Creech Editor

Have you ever found yourself completely surrounded by insurmountable problems (so you've convinced yourself)?

You've laid awake at night trying to think of a solution or some way to "fix it", only to get up the next morning feeling exhausted. and defeated.

During this time of trials, you have almost depleted your circle of friends asking for their advice. They probably cringe at the sound of your voice, thinking, "Oh, no, it's her again!!!!"

Why do we do this to ourselves, when we could simply turn these problems over to the Lord? However, even if you engage all your friends who are prayer warriors into praying for your situation, their good efforts are futile if you don't let go and let the Lord handle the problem.

A dear friend handed me a Joyce Meyer tape and stated, "You know that old saying about you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink? Well, I'm offering you what you need, but you have to be willing to listen.'

Talk about an attitude adjustment!!! Joyce Meyer is a straight-shooting lady who tells it like it is. After listening to the tape I realized what I had been doing. Then I remembered that my daughter, Blandye, had given me a set of four tapes for Christmas that I had listened to a long time ago. I got the set out and started listening to them on my way to work or where ever I am

If you are not familiar with Joyce Meyer, she has a television and radio ministry and she is a powerful speaker indeed. One of her tapes is on "Where the Mind Goes, The Man Follows". Just give that a little thought and it certainly makes sense. She makes it clear that if you don't keep your mind focused on the Lord, then Satan will control your thoughts. Your thoughts can make your physical body ill. I can testify to that. However, once you realize what your doing, you can change the direction of events.

On another tape she tells about a man who listed 10 things he was thankful to God for before getting out of bed each morning. The idea was starting your day off positive and laying the foundation for a wonderful day. It has been working for me. I've always known that happiness is a choice, but sometimes we caught up in ourselves and lose sight of all the blessings.

If you recognize yourself herein, remember not to lose faith, because undo worrying becomes a sin. Fight the good fight of faith.

Texas Farm Service Agency (FSA) will begin accepting applications for the new Livestock Compensation Program (LCP). According to John Fuston, State Executive Director, LCP will only be available to counties within the state that were designated primary disaster areas for drought in 2001 or 2002. LCP provides direct payments, per head to producers who suffered livestock losses as a result of severe drought conditions. The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized to provide approximately $752 million in LCP assistance nationwide.

"Eligibility for LCP is not a pasture loss issue, but rather a livestock loss program that provides financial assistance to farmers and ranchers who would otherwise have no opportunity for loss compensation," said Fuston. "We recognize that individuals who raise livestock only, and those who raise livestock in

Baptist Church Holds Successful Fifth Sunday Singing Celebration

The Cottonwood Baptist Church enjoyed a well-attended and happy crowd last Sunday night as the congregation hosted its Fifth Sunday singing festival. The congregation and visitors enjoyed hamburgers and trimmings after the songfest.

Abilene Book Event Draws Cottonwood Attention

Charles and Lou Rodenberger, fresh from their recent nation's capitol adventure where Lou participated in the White House Symposium on Women of the West, spent most of the past week involved in West Texas Book and Author Festival. It was the second annual outing of this literary venue for readers, writers, librarians and other book lovers.

Lou's presentation at the Brown Bag Luncheon series on Wednesday concerned her editorial work on Lawrence Clayton's, "31," a collection of stories about West Texas and West Texans.

"Late Texas folklorist and histo- 31. rian Lawrence Clayton found beauty where many might see only mesquite and limestone; he found humor in unlikely places, and he found nobility in the hard lives of cowboys and roughformer friend of Clayton's and a former editor of Abilene's McWhiney Foundation Press. Lou Rodenberger put the final Clayton's death, and after David Coffey's move to Tennessee.

Dr. Lou Rodenberger, Professor Emeritus of English at McMurry University, was a longtime friend and professional colleague of Lawrence Clayton. She has written extensively about women authors and other western subjects.

Lou also served as moderator of a panel discussion and book-signing activity of the week-long literary festivities.

I was happy to journey one of the Brown-bag luncheons with my old friend, Jack Tunnel of Jacque Childress (725-6866.)

Cross Plains. We both enjoyed Dr. Lou Rodenberger's presentation on Wednesday.

Jack has written, designed and published a few copies of his own book about his experiences as a B-29 pilot during WWII. He has donated a copy of the book to the Public Library of Cross Plains, and has allowed me to read his personal copy.

If you want to experience feelings of sitting in the cockpits of several training planes and those of actual bombing raids over Japan; emotions of "sheer terror," and those of the extreme delight of walking away from "every landing' then this book by Jack is a good book to read. The book is well written, well organized and gives a blow-by-blow of each mission Jack and his crew flew.

" A Cuppa Joe"

Once a long time ago---I heard a little tale, concerning an immigrant, which I thought was quite humorous.

It went like this: A young man (we'll call him Joe) named Joseph, an immigrant to America, could speak no English. He had just arrive in New York City.

You can just imagine how overcome he was with all the wonders and glamour there. After wandering the streets for two days, taking in the sights, Joe began to realize that he was hungry. The country from which he came was very poor and Joe wasn't used to eating very much or very often, hence, he was able to go sometimes three or four days without eating.

He had a little money to hopefully take care of meals until he found work. So he began to notice all the food vendors, shops and restaurants and would stop and observe them. Finally he got up the nerve to go in a small sandwich shop, but they were unable to understand him since he spoke a foreign language. He left and went to sit on a grassy knoll in a park to think. Finally after several hours, he decided on a plan.

The next morning he stopped by the little sandwich shop and listomers placed their orders. At long last, the realization came to him that there was one item which seemed to be the favorite of many different people. Next he went out and walked around practicing saying it.

As he grew hungrier, the more he practiced. Before he knew it, the time had come when it was going to be now or never for him and his quest. Just imagine how very hungry he must have been. That evening right about 6:30 p.m. Joe went to the little sandwich shop again. This time he went up to the counter and confidently climbed up on the stool, ready to try for some nourishment. When the counter clerk asked for his order and he bravely responded, "Apple pie and coffee, please." He enjoyed the food and drink very much. Then every day he went there and had apple pie and coffee.

By Kay Mosley

Soon he was able to find work loading pipe onto a large truck. He worked hard every day and saved some money back from his paychecks. Sure as clockwork every day and night he went to the little diner and had apple pie and

After a while he began to tire of the same items every day and night. So-oo-o, he began to listen once again to the orders of those around him. Finally he decided he knew enough to order something else for a change.

Soon the counter clerk came to take his order. Joe very confidently said, "Ham and cheese sandwich." The counter clerk said, "Mayonnaise or mustard; smoked or cured ham; Swiss, cheddar or monterey jack cheese; whole wheat, rye, white or pumpernickel bread?"

Joe considered all this for a few moments and then replied, "Apple pie and coffee, please!"

It might not be what he wanted in life, but sometimes we just have to accept the inevitable. Apple pie and coffee---Anyone?

The Cross Plains Chuparosas met at the greater Dairy Queen, Tuesday, September 24th for its first non-meeting. The Exhausted Queen Mother, Barbara Powell, never opened the meeting. (She was probably too exhausted.

Attending the non-meeting was Anti-Parliamentarian, Barbara Black, who made sure we didn't make any rules, and if we did, we had to break them; Barristress, Barbara Robinson, made sure we didn't pass any laws; Lena Gage, our E-Mail Female, didn't inform us of any E-Mail; Jo Anne Murdock regally joined us wearing a red sequined hat and red boots. We didn't know whether to bow or to salute and click our heels. Tammy Odom, Laverne melon rinds, THAT'S US!

Hutton and Olena Ezzell from the Pioneer Quilting Club, joined us. If we had thought about it, which we didn't, we might have agreed to send Wallace Bennett a round tuit, but we probably would never have gotten around to it.

By Bob Pipes Cross Plains Church of Christ 433 N. Main (254) 725-6117

I used an illustration in my last Sunday night's sermon that I will share with all who read this weekly Breakthru: A man was walking down a dark street one night and saw a pinpoint of light far ahead, coming toward him - though in a faltering sort of way. He thought that the one with the light had to be drunk but as the one carrying the ligh got closer, he could see that the man who had the flashlight also had a white cane. Obviously he was blind!

"Why does a blind man carry a flashlight?" he thought - then asked the man. The blind man answered, "I carry a light, not so I can see, rather so others can see and not stumble over me. I can't help being blind, you see, but I can keep from being a stumbling block."

It is sad that the Man that came as the Light, John 1:1-9, to be 'the Light" to the world, John 8:12, so we would not have to "walk in darkness but have the light of life," verse 13, was considered by some to be "a stone of stumbling and a rock of offense," I Peter 2:8 (Isaiah 8:14). But Peter explains that the reason why Jesus was a stumbling block to some was because they were disobcient to the Word. What do we allow Him to be - the Light or a stumbling block?

And Jesus said that Christians are to be "the light of the world," Matthew 6:14, "to shine before men as a good example, and allow God to be glorified," verse 16. How's our light? Let us "carry" the Light, both in order to see and in order for others to be able to see. Come learn more about the Light with us, in order to follow Him more closely. We care about you, too.

A Service of Cross Plains Library

When you read books written by members of the Western Writers of America, you can count on their historical accuracy. I have just finished reading Thin Moon and Cold Mist by Kathleen O'Neal Gear. This novel is set during the Civil War and Robin Walkingstick Heatherton is a 25 year old woman with Cherokee blood, married to a southern aristocrat, over the objections of his mother. They both serve the Confederate States, he in the service and she as a high level spy. Gear argues in her prologue that over 400 women served as combatants in the armed forces during that war on both sides. Robin infiltrates the Northern forces disguised as a young black man by coloring her skin. In this way she is able to discover plans of battle and forewarn General Lee.

The knowledge of her exploits causes great concern in the Yankee security forces and one Colonel blames her directly for the killing of his brother in battle and plans a personal vendetta against her. When her husband is captured as a spy and summarily executed while she watches from hiding, she takes her six year old son and on instructions from her husband be fore he died, she flees to the West taking a new identity. Along the way she wins a gold mine in a poker game on a riverboat. She slips away by swimming ashore with her son and makes her way to her claim, with authorities and men she had scammed in hot pursuit.

When Lincoln is assassinated, she is charged as a conspirator and now has the Union Army looking for her. She is saved from her plight by a former Union Major, that her son calls a damned Yankee. This is an adventure filled book with narrow escapes, emotional stresses caused by war experiences and political intrigue almost as good as Clancey's nov-

Written in 1995, this book inaugurated the Women of the West series, historically accurate tales of women who lived before 1880. Gear has written other books with her husband Michael Gear. They are both trained archeologists and have written some fascinating novels about the prehistoric American Indians. I have read most of them and they all have extensive bibliographies, but are written as the stories of real people so that you don't know you are getting a history lesson at the same time. Their prehistory book titles all start with The People of the- followed by Wolf, Fire, Earth, River, Sea and Lightning. They also have a new series on the Anasazi Indians of the West. Michael's books are also excellent historical novels of the early 1800s.

You can find these books and other fascinating Westerns, romances, history and biographies at your Cross Plains Public Library as well as internet service for the public.

The Rural Housing Service (RHS) offers loans and grants to very-low, low, and moderateincome persons in towns and cities meeting certain population requirements. CARD OF THANKS

On behalf of the family of Leif Hunter, we would like to extend our deepest gratitude for the outpouring of love, sympathy, and support over the past week. We feel that Leif was honored by the presence of each and everyone who offered their condolence Tuesday afternoon and the days that followed. We appreciated all of the cards, food, flowers, memorials and shared memories of Leif. A special thanks to the EMS from Cross Plains and Coleman for doing all that they did. We would like to thank Joe Tabor, Debbie Edington, Allen Phillips, the anonymous donor who contributed money for Leif's funeral, and the many others what lifted the load at our most difficult time. We would also like to thank the room moms who gave their time to allow the teachers to attend Leif's funeral and especially May Jones for taking care of Terri's

We appreciate Joe Coppinger holding the funeral, the coaches and all of Leif's brothers for sharing special memories, and for Dustin Meiron for providing the beautiful music. During a time of such loss, our family has felt comforted by the shared stories of Leif. He was such a special person to us all and an important part of our family.

God Bless You All, Ken, Terri, Kristin, and all of the Family

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to everyone for all your cards, visits and prayers for J.D. during and after his surgery. Your many acts of kindness are greatly appreciated.
